yatha-as much as; anilah-the air; sthavara-of the nonmoving living entities; jangamanam-and of the moving living entites; atma-svarupena-by His expansion as the Supersoul; nivishöa-entered; ishet-controls; evam-thus; parah-transcendental; bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; vasudevah-the shelter of everything; kshetrajna-known as ksetrajna; atma-the vital force; idam- this material world; anupravishöah-entered within.

"He is full of all opulences, and He is the resting place of everything material. He is therefore known as Vasudeva, the Supreme Personality of Godhead. By His own potency He is present within the hearts of all living entities, just as the air or vital force is within the bodies of all beings, moving and nonmoving. In this way He controls the body. In His partial feature the Supreme Personality of Godhead enters all bodies and controls them."*

Text 3

atma-svarupena prana-rupena nivishöa ished ishita niyamayati. idam vishvam.

atma-svarupena-atma-svarupena; prana-rupena-in the form of the vital force; nivishöa-entered; ishet-controls; ishita-is the controller; niyamayati-controls; idam-this; vishvam.-universe.

Here the word "atma-svarupena" means "in the form of the vital force", "nivishöa ishet" means "He enters and controls", and "idam" means "this material universe".

Text 4

shrutish ca

vayur yathaiko bhuvanam pravishöo rupam rupam pratirupo babhuva ekas tatha sarva-bhutantaratma rupam rupam pratirupo bahish ca iti kaöhake.

shrutih-the Sruti-sastra; ca-also; vayuh-air; yatha-as; ekah-one; bhuvanam-world; pravishöah-entered; rupam-form; rupam-form; pratirupah-in every form; babhuva-was; ekah-one; tatha-so; sarva-bhutantaratma-the Supersoul in the hearts fo all living beings; rupam-form; rupam-form; pratirupah-in every form; bahih-outside; ca-also; iti-thus; kaöhake--in the Katha Upanisad.

A similar example is given in these words of the Kaöha Upanishad (2.2.10):

"As the air that enters all living beings is one, so the Supersoul who enters the hearts of all living beings is a single person."

Text 5

shri-brahmano rahuganam.

shri-brahmanah-a brahmana; rahuganam-to King Rahugana.

The verse quoted in the beginning of this anuccheda was spoken by a brahmana to King Rahugana.

Anuccheda 6

Text 1

tatha

eka eva paro hy atma
sarvesham eva dehinam
naneva grihyate mudhair yatha jyotir yatha nabhah tatha-so; eka-one; eva-indeed; parah-t; hi-indeed; atma-Supersoul; sarvesham-of all; eva-indeed; dehinam-embodied beings; nana-many; iva-as if; grihyate-is accepted; mudhah-by fools; yatha-as; jyotih-light; yatha-as; nabhah-the sky.

That the many forms of the Supersoul are all one person only is also confirmed by the following example given in Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.54.44):

"Bewildered fools think that the Supersoul, who resides in all embodied beings, is many different persons. The truth is that He is a single transcendental person. As the sky is one, and as a flame is one, so the Supersoul is a single person."

Text 2

dehinam jivanam. atma paramatma. shri-baladevah shri-rukminim.

dehinam-dehinam; jivanam.-of the individual spirit souls; atma-atma; paramatma.-the Supersoul; shri-baladevah-Shri Baladeva; shri-rukminim-to Shri Rukmini.

Here the word "dehinam" means "of the individual spirit souls", and the word "atma" means "the Supersoul". This verse was spoken by Lord Balarama to Shrimati Rukmini.

Anuccheda 7

Text 1

evam

eka eva paro hy atma
bhuteshv atmany avasthitah yathendur uda-patreshu bhutany ekatmakani ca

evam-thus; eka-one; eva-indeed; parah-transcendental; hi-indeed; atma-Supersoul; bhuteshv-in the living beings; atmani-in the heart; avasthitah-situated; yatha-as; induh-the moon; uda-patreshu-in bodies of water; bhutani-elements; eka-one; atmakani--of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; ca-also.

That the Supersoul is a single person is also confirmed by the following words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (11.18.32):

"As the moon reflected in many bodies of water is a single moon, and as the entire material creation is the energy of the single Supreme Lord, so the Supersoul residing in the hearts of all living beings is a single person."

Text 2

bhuteshu jiveshu eka eva para atma. na tv asau jiva-vat tatra tatra lipto bhavaty aha atmani sva-svarupa evavasthitah. bhutani jiva-deha api yena karana-rupenaikatmakani. shri-bhagavan uddhavam.

bhuteshu-bhuteshu; jiveshu-in the individual spirit souls; eka-one; eva-indeed; para-t; atma.-Supersoul; na-not; tv-but; asau-He; jiva-vat-like the individual soul; tatra-there; tatra-there; liptah-anointed; bhavati-is; iti-thus; aha-said; atmani-in the Supersoul; sva-svarupa-in His own form; eva-indeed; avasthitah-situated; bhutani-the material elements; jiva-deha-the body of the individual soul; api-even; yena-by which; karana-rupena-as the cause; eka-one; atmakani-self; iti-thus; shri-bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; uddhavam-to Uddhava.

Here the word "bhuteshu" means "in the individual spirit souls". The Supersoul residing in those souls is a single person (eka eva paro hy atma). However, the Supersoul is not like the individual souls, who are contaminated by the touch of material nature. "Atmani" means "situated in His own form", and "bhutani" means "the material bodies of the individual souls". "Atmakani" indicates that the Supreme Lord is the creator of the material bodies.

Anuccheda 8

Text 1

evam ekasya purushasya nanatvam upapadya tasya punar amsha vivriyante. atra dvi-vidha amshah svamsha vibhinnamshash ca. vibhinnamshas taöastha-shakty-atmaka jiva iti vakshyate. svamshas tu guna-lilady-avatara-bhedena vividhah. tatra lilady-avatara-prasanga-sangatya shri-krishna-sandarbhah vakshyante.

evam-thus; ekasya-of one; purushasya-purusa-avatar; nanatvam-variety; upapadya-is explained; tasya-of Him; punah-again; amsha-parts; vivriyante-are explained; atra-here; dvi-vidha-two kinds; amshah-parts; svamsha-own parts; vibhinnamshah-separated parts; ca.-also; vibhinnamshah-separated parts; taöastha-shakty-atmaka-marginal potency; jiva-individual souls; iti-thus; vakshyate.-will be explained; svamshah-own parts; tu-but; guna-lilady-avatara-bhedena-with differences of guna and lila avatars; vividhah.-various; tatra-there; lilady-avatara-beginning with lila avatars; prasanga-sangatya-by contact; shri-krishna-sandarbhah-in Shri Krishna-sandarbhah; vakshyante.-will be explained; gunavatara-guna avatars; yatha-as.

In this way it has been explained that although the purusha-avatara is a single person, He nevertheless expands in many different forms. The Supreme Personality of Godhead has two kinds of expansions: 1. svamsha (personal expansions), and 2. vibhinna-msha (separated expansions). The Lord's separated expansions are the individual spirit souls, who are all the Lord's marginal potency (tāḥastha-shakti). The Lord's personal expansions are His many incarnations, such as His guna-avatars and lila-avatars. The Lord's lila-avatars and other incarnations will be described later in the Shri Krishna-sandarbha.

Text 2

gunavatara yatha

adav abhuc chata-dhriti rajasasya sarge vishnuh sthitau kratu-patir dvija-dharma-setuh rudro 'py ayaya tamasa purushah sa adya ity udbhava-sthiti-layah satatam prajasu gunavatara-guna-avatars; yatha-as; adav-in the beginning; abhuc-was; chata-dhriti-Brahma; rajasa-with passion; asya-of whom; sarge-in the creation; vishnuh-Lord Vishnu; sthitau-in the situation; kratu-patih-the Lord of sacrifice; dvija-dharma-setuh-the religious duties of the brahmanas; rudrah-Lord Siva; api-also; apayaya-for destruction; tamasa-with ignorance; purushah-the purusa avatara; sa-He; adya-transcendental; iti-thus; udbhava-creation; sthiti-maintenance; layah-and destruction; satatam-always; prajasu-in the living entities.

The guna-avatars are described in these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (11.4.5):

"In the beginning of creation the Supreme Personality of Godhead manifested the incarnation of Brahma to create the world through the mode of passion, Vishnu, the master of sacrifices and the object of the brahmanas' worship, to maintain the world through the mode of goodness, and Shiva to destroy the world through the mode of ignorance. In this way the residents of the material world are always subject to creation, maintenance, and destruction."

Text 3

sa yugapat guna-trayadhishtatadyah purushah prithak prithag api tat-tad-gunadhishtatana-lilayaiva adau rajasa asya jagatah sarge visarge karye shata-dhritir brahmabhut. sthitau vishnuh sattveneti sheshah.

sa-He; yugapat-at the same time; guna-trayadhishtatadyah-beginning with the controllers of the three modes; purushah-the purusa; prithak prithag-specific; api-also; tat-tad-gunadhishtatana-lilaya-by the pastime of controlling the modes; eva-indeed; adau-beginning; rajasa-by passion; asya-of that; jagatah-universe; sarge-in creation; visarge-in secondary creation; karye-in action; shata-dhritih-Brahma; brahma-Brahma; abhuc.-was; sthitau-in maintenance; vishnuh-Vishnu; sattvena-with goodness; iti-thus; sheshah-the remainder.

This verse means that the purusha-avatara (adyah purushah) is the controller of all three modes of nature. In His pastime of controlling the various modes, He first becomes Brahma (shata-dhritih) and with the modes of passion (rajasa) engages in the activities of secondary creation (sarge). Then He becomes Vishnu who employs the mode of goodness. In this way the remainder of the verse is to be understood.

Text 4

tatra sakshad gunanuktish ca tasyati-rohita-svarupataya tat-sambandhopacarasyapy uööankanam ayukтам ity abhiprayena. palana-kartritvena kratu-patis tat-phala-data. yajna-rupas tu lilavatara-madhye eva shri-brahmana dvitiye ganitah.

tatra-there; sakshat-directly; guna-mode; anukti-non-statement; ca-and; tasya-of that; ati-rohita-svarupataya-with an expanded form; tat-sambandha-in relation; upacarasya-of worship; api-also; uööankanam-binding; ayukтам-improper; iti-thus; abhiprayena.-the meaning; palana-kartritvena-by protection; kratu-patih-kratu-pati; tat-phala-data.-the giver of results; yajna-rupah-the form of yajna; tu-indeed; lilavatara-madhye-among the ilavataras; eva-indeed; shri-brahmana-by Brahma; dvitiye-in the second; ganitah-considered.

Note that in this verse the mode of goodness is not specifically stated in relation to Lord Vishnu. This is because Lord Vishnu is beyond all the modes of material nature and it is not really proper to say that He has contact with the material modes. Because He is the protector, Lord Vishnu gives the results of all sacrifices. That is the meaning of the word "kratu-patih". This is explained by Lord Brahma in the Second Canto of Shrimad-Bhagavatam.

Text 5

dvijanam dharmanam ca setuh palaka ity arthah. tamasa tasyapy apyayaya rudro 'bhud ity anena prakarenodbhava-sthiti-laya bhavantiti. atra brahma-rudrayor avataravasaro moksha-dharme vivikto 'sti. yatha dvijanam-of the Brahmanas; dharmanam-of duties; ca-and; setuh-the bridge; palaka-the protector; iti-thus; arthah.-the meaning; tamasa-by ignorance; tasya-of Him; api-also; apyayaya-for destruction; rudrah-Rudra; abhut-was; iti-thus; anena-by Him; prakarena-by the way; udbhava-creation; sthiti-maintenance; laya-destruction; bhavanti-are; iti-thus; atra-here; brahma-rudrayoh-of Brahma and Siva; avataravasarah-the occasion of being incarnations; moksha-dharme-in the Moksha-dharma; viviktah-distinguished; asti-is; yatha-as.

The word "dvija-dharma-setuh" means "the protector of the brahmanas' duties". The Lord also becomes Shiva to destroy the universe by employing the mode of ignorance (tamasa apyayaya rudrah). In this way the creation, maintenance, and destruction of the universes is performed (udbhava-sthiti-layah). The position of Brahma and Shiva as guna-avatars is described in the following words of the Moksha-dharama:

Text 6

brahme ratri-kshaye prapte tasya hy amita-tejasah prasadat pradurabhavat
padmam padma-nibhekshana brahme-of Brahma; ratri-kshaye-the end of the day; prapte-attained; tasya-of him; hi-indeed; amita-tejasah-limitless power; prasadat-from the mercy; pradurabhavat-was manifested; padmam-lotus; padma-nibhekshana-O lotus-eyed one.

"O lotus-eyed one, at the end of Brahma's day a lotus flower is manifested from the mercy of the limitlessly powerful Lord.

Text 7

tato brahma samabhavat sa tasyaiva prasada-jah ahnah kshaye lalaôac ca suto devasya vai tatha krodhavishôasya samjajne rudrah samhara-karakah. iti.

tatah-from that; brahma-Brahma; samabhavat-born; sa-he; tasya-of him; eva-indeed; prasada-jah-born from the mercy; ahnah-of the day; kshaye-at the end; lalaôat-from the forehead; ca-and; sutah-son; devasya-of the Lored; vai-indeed; tatha-so; krodha-anger; avishôasya-entered; samjajne-is born; rudrah-Rudra; samhara-karakah.-the destroyer; iti.-thus.

"From this lotus is born Brahma. Thus Brahma is born from the Supreme Lord's mercy. At the end of his day Brahma becomes angry and from his forehead Shiva is born."

Text 8

shri-vishnos tu tritiye drishyate tal-loka-padmam sa u eva vishnuh pravivishat sarva-gunavabhasam tasmin svayam vedamayo vidhata svayambhuvam yam sma vadanti so 'bhut. iti.

shri-vishnoh-of Lord Vishnu; tu-indeed; tritiye-in the third; drishyate-is seen; tat-that; loka-universal; padmam-lotus flower; sa-He; u-certainly; eva-factually; vishnuh-the Lord; pravivishat-entered into; sarva-all; gunavabhasam-reservoir of all modes of nature; tasmin-in which; svayam-in person; vedamayah-the personality of Vedic wisdom; vidhata-controller of the universe; svayambhuvam-self-born; yam-whom; sma-in the past; vadanti-do say; sah-He; abhut-generated; iti.-thus.

Lord Vishnu is described in the following words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (3.8.15):

"into that universal lotus flower Lord Vishnu personally entered as the Supersoul, and when it was thus impregnated with all the modes of material nature, the personality of Vedic wisdom, whom we call the self-born, was generated."*

Text 9

asyarthah tal-lokatmakam padmam. sarva-gunan jiva-bhogyan arthan avabhasayatiti tatha. tad yasmaj jatam sa shri-narayanakhyah purusha eva vishnu-samjnah san sthapana-rupantaryamitayai pravivishat. prakarshenalupta-shaktitayaivavishat. svarthe nic. tasmin shri-vishnuna labdha-sthitau padme punah shrishöy-artham svayam eva brahmabhut. sthitasyaiva mrd-ader ghaôaditaya shrishöh.

asya-of that; arthah-the meaning; tal-lokatmakam-of that world; padmam.-the lotus; sarva-gunan-all modes; jiva-bhogyan-the soul's experience; arthan-meaning; avabhasayatimanifests; iti-thus; tatha.-so; tat-that; yasmāt-from whom; jātām-born; sa-He; śhrī-narayanakhyah-named Śhrī Narayana; puruṣha-the puruṣa; eva-indeed; viṣṇu-samjnah-named Viṣṇu; san-being so; sthāpana-rūpa-the form of maintaining; antaryāmītai-to the Supersoul; pravivishat.-entered; prakarshena-pulling; alūpta-not omitted; śhaktitaya-with the potency; āvivishat-entered; svarthe-meaning; nic.-nic; tasmin-in that; śhrī-viṣṇuna-by Lord Viṣṇu; labdha-attained; sthītau-in maintenance; padme-lotus; punah-again; śhrīśhōy-artham-for creation; svayam-personally; eva-indeed; brahma-Brahma; abhūt-was; sthītya-situated; eva-indeed; mrd-adeh-beginning with clay; ghaḍādītya-beginning with a pot; śhrīśhōh-of creation.

Here the word "tal-loka-padmaṁ" means "that lotus world", "sarva-guṇavabhasam" means "the manifestation of the modes of nature experienced by the individual souls", "viṣṇuḥ pravivishat" means Lord Viṣṇu, who is known as Narayana, entered to become the maintainer and the Supersoul". The Lord entered by the power of His invincible potency. Here is used the grammatical form called nic. Then, in order to create the material world, Lord Viṣṇu entered this (tasmin) lotus flower and personally (svayam) became Brahma. Then, as a potter fashions pots and other things from clay, the Lord fashioned the material universe from the various material ingredients.

Text 10

ata eva sthīty-adāye hari-virinci-hareti samjnah ity anyatrāpi.

ata eva-therefore; sthīty-adāye hari-virinci-hareti samjnah iti-Śhrīmad-Bhagavatam 1.2.23; anyatra-in another place; api-also.

This is also described in the following words of Śhrīmad-Bhagavatam (1.2.23):

"The transcendental Supreme Personality of Godhead is indirectly associated with the three modes of material nature, namely passion, goodness, and ignorance, and just for the material world's creation, maintenance, and destruction He accepts the three qualitative forms of Brahma, Viṣṇu, and Shiva."*

Text 11

śhrī-dravido nimim.

śhrī-dravidah-Śhrī Dravida; nimim-to Nimi.

The verse quoted in the beginning of this anuccheda was spoken by Śhrī Dravida to King Nimi.

Anuccheda 9

Text 12

evam yo va aham ca girishash ca vibhuh svayam ca ity adau tripāt iti.

evam-thus; yo va aham ca girishash ca vibhuh svayam ca ity adau tripāt iti-Śhrīmad-Bhagavatam 3.9.16.

This is also described in the following prayer addressed to Lord Vishnu (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 3.9.16):

"Your Lordship is the prime root of the tree of the planetary systems. This tree has grown by first penetrating the material nature in three trunks-as me, Shiva, and You, the almighty-for creation, maintenance, and dissolution, and we three have grown with many branches. Therefore I offer my obeisances unto You, the tree of the cosmic manifestation."*

Text 13

öika ca yo vai ekas tripat trayo brahmadayah padah skandha yasya ity esha.

öika-commentary; ca-and yo vai ekas tripat-yo vai ekas tripat; trayah-three; brahmadayah-beginning with Brahma; padah-padas; skandhah-trunks; yasya-of whom; iti-thus; esha-it.

Shrila Shridhara Svami comments:

"The words `yo vai ekas tripat' mean `the guna-avatars headed by Brahma are three trunks from Him'."

Text 14

vriksha-rupatvena tad-varnanad esham skandhatvam. brahma shri-garbhodashayinam vriksha-rupatvena-with the form of a tree; tad-varnanat-from that description; esham-of them; skandhatvam.-the status of trunks; brahma-Brahma; shri-garbhodashayinam-to Shri Ga4rbhodakashayi Vishnu.

Thus they are described as trunks of a tree. This verse was spoken by Brahma to Shri Garbhodakashayi Vishnu.

Anuccheda 10

Text 1

tesham avirbhavo yatha

tapyamanam tri-bhuvanam pranayamaidhasagnina nirgatena muner murdhnah samikshya prabhavas trayah tesham-of them; avirbhavah-the manifestation; yatha-as; tapyamanam-while practicing austerities; tri-bhuvanam-the three worlds; pranayama-practice by breathing exercise; edhasa-fuel; agnina-by the fire; nirgatena-issuing out; muneh-of the great sage; murdhnah-the top of the head; samikshya-looking over; prabhavas trayah-the three great gods (Brahma, Vishnu, and Maheshvara).

The guna-avatars are also described in these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (4.1.21-22):

"When Atri Muni was engaged in these severe austerities, a blazing fire came out of his head by virtue of his breathing exercise, and that fire was seen by the three principal deities of the three worlds.*

Text 2

apsaro-muni-gandharvasiddha-vidyadharoragaih vitayamana-yashasas
tad-ashrama-padam yayuh. ity adi.

apsarah-heavenly society women; muni-great sages; gandharva-the inhabitants of the Gandharva planet; siddha-of Siddhaloka; vidyadhara-other demigods; uragaih-the inhabitants of Nagaloka; vitayamana-being spread; yashasah-fame, reputation; tat-his; ashrama-padam-hermitage; yayuh.-wen; iti-thus; adi.-beginning.

"At that time, the three Deities approached the hermitage of Atri Muni, accompanied by the denizens of the heavenly planets, such as the celestial beauties, the Gandharvas, the Siddhas, the Vidyadharas, and the Nagas. Thus they entered the ashrama of the great sage, who had become famous by his austerities."*

Text 3

muner atreh. shri-maitreya viduram.

muneh-muneh; atreh.-of Atri; shri-maitreyah-Shri Maitreya; viduram-to Vidura.

Here the word "muneh" means "of Atri Muni". This verse was spoken by Shri Maitreya to Vidura.

Anuccheda 11

Text 1

yatha va

sarasvatyas taöe rajan rishayah satram asate
vitarkah samabhut tesham trishv adhisheshu ko mahan ity adi itihisah.

yatha-as; va-or; sarasvatyah-of the Sarasvati; taöe-on the bank; rajan-O king; rishayah-sages; satram-sacrifice; asate-do; vitarkah-sipute; samabhut-arose; tesham-of them; trishv-in the three; adhisheshu-demigods; kah-who?; mahan-the greatest; iti-thus; adi-beginning; itihisah-the story.

This is also described in the story narrated in Shrimad-Bhagavatam, Canto Ten, Chapter Eighty-nine, which begins with this verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.89.1):

"Long ago there was an assembly of great sages on the bank of the river Sarasvati, and they performed a great sacrifice of the name Satrayajna. In such assemblies, the great sages present usually discuss Vedic subject matters and philosophical topics, and in this particular meeting the following question was raised: The three predominating deities of the material world, namely Lord Brahma, Lord Vishnu, and Lord Shiva, are directing all the affairs of this cosmos, but who among them is the Supreme?"*

Text 2

atra shri-vishnoh sthanam ca kshirodadikam padmottara-khandadau jagat-palana-nimittika-nivedanartham brahmadayas tatra muhur gacchantiti prasiddheh. vishnulokataya prasiddhesh ca. brihat-sahasra-namni ca kshirabdhi-mandira iti tan-nama-gane paöhyate. shvetadvipa-pateh kvacid aniruddhataya khyatish ca. tasya sakshad evavirbhava ity apekshayeti. shri-shukah.

atra-here; shri-vishnoh-of Lord Vishnu; sthanam-the position; ca-and; kshirodadikam-beginning with the milk ocean; padmottara-khandadau-beginning with the Padma Purana, Uttara-khanda; jagat-of the worlds; palana-protection; nimittika-cause; nivedana-request; artham-for the purpose; brahmadayah-headed by Brahma; tatra-there; muhuh-again and again; gacchanti-go; iti-thus; prasiddheh.-from the proof; vishnulokataya-as the planet of Lord Vishnu; prasiddheh-from the proof; ca.-also; brihat-sahasra-namni-in the Brihat-sahasra-namna; ca-also; kshirabdhi-mandira-in the abode of the milk ocean; iti-thus; tan-nama-gane-in chanting His holy names; paöhyate-is read; shvetadvipa-pateh-of the master of Svetadvipa; kvacit-somewhere; aniruddhataya-as Aniruddha; khyatih-celebrated; ca.-and; tasya-of Him; sakshat-directly; eva-indeed; avirbhava-manifestation; iti-thus; apekshaya-in relation; iti.-thus; shri-shukah-Shri Sukadeva Gosvami.

This truth (that Lord Vishnu is the Supreme) is also proved by the fact that Brahma and the other demigods again and again go to the milk-ocean and the other abodes of Lord Vishnu to beg the Lord for protection, and also by the fact that the transcendental realm of Lord Vishnu is celebrated above all others. For example, the Lord's abode is glorified in the Brihat-sahasra-nama, which counts "kshirabdhi-mandira" (He whose palace is on the milk-ocean) among Lord Vishnu's names. In some places in the scriptures, Lord Aniruddha is called "shvetadvipa-pati" (the master of Svetadvipa). Lord Aniruddha is a direct incarnation of Lord Vishnu. The verse quoted in the beginning of this anuccheda was spoken by Shrila Shukadeva Gosvami.

Anucchedas 12 and 13

Text 1

evam parikshaya tatra tri-devyas taratamyam api sphuöam. tatha canyatra dvayenaha

evam-thus; parikshaya-by a test; tatra-there; tri-devyah-the three demigods; taratamyam-the various statuses; api-also; sphuöam.-clearly seen; tatha-so; ca-also; anyatra-in another place; dvayena-by two verses; aha-said.

In this story (Shrimad-Bhagavatam, Canto Ten, Chapter Eighty-nine) a certain test clearly determines the relative importance of the three Deities (Vishnu, Brahma, and Shiva). The relative of importance of these three Deities is also explained in two verses of Shrimad-Bhagavatam. The first of these verses is given here

Text 2

sattvam rajas tama iti prakriter gunas tair yuktah parah purusha eka ihasya dhatte sthity-adaye hari-virinca-hareti-samjnah shreyamsi tatra khalu sattva-tanor nrinam syuh sattvam-goodness; rajah-passion; tama-the darkness of ignorance; iti-thus; prakriteh-of material nature; gunah-qualities; tair-by them; yuktah-associated with; parah-transcendental; purushah-the personality; eka-one; iha asya-of this material world; dhatte-accepts; sthity-adaye-for the matter of creation, maintenance, and destruction, etc.; hari-Vishnu, the Personality of Godhead; virinca-Brahma; hara-Lord Shiva; iti-thus; samjnah-different features; shreyamsi-ultimate benefit; tatra-therein; khalu-of course; sattva-goodness; tanoh-form; nrinam-of the human being; syuh-derived.

"the transcendental Personality of Godhead is indirectly associated with the three modes of material nature, namely passion, goodness, and ignorance, and just for the material world's creation, maintenance, and destruction He accepts the three qualitative forms of Brahma, Vishnu, and Shiva. Of these three, all human beings can derive ultimate benefit from Vishnu, the form of the quality of goodness."*

Text 3

iha yadyapy eka eva parah puman asya vishvasya sthity-adaye sthiti-shrishöi-layartham tair sattvadibhir yuktah prithak prithak tat-tad-adhishöhata. tathapi paras tad-asamslishöhah san hari-virinci-hareti samjna bhinna dhatte. tat-tad-rupenavirbhavatity arthah. tathapi tatra tesham madhye shreyamsi dharmartha-kama-moksha-bhakty-akhyani sattva-tanor adhishöhita-sattva-shakteh shri-vishnor eva syuh.

iha-here; yadyapi-although; eka-one; eva-indeed; parah-supreme; puman-person; asya-of this; vishvasya-universe; sthity-adaye-beginning with maintenance; sthiti-shrishöi-laya-maintenance, creation, and destruction; artham-the meaning; tair-by them; sattvadibhih-beginning with goodness; yuktah-engaged; prithak prithak-separately; tat-tad-adhishöhata-the controller of them; tathapi-nevertheless; parah-supreme; tad-asamslishöhah-not touched by them; san-being so; hari-virinci-hara-Brahma, Vishnu, and Shiva; iti-thus; samjna-names; bhinna-different; dhatte.-places; tat-tad-rupena-in these forms; avirbhavati-manifests; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; tathapi-still; tatra-theer; tesham-of them; madhye-in the midst; shreyamsi-the best; dharmartha-kama-moksha-bhakty-akhyani-called religion, economic development, sense gratification, liberation, and devotional service; sattva-tanoh-of the form of goodness; adhishöhita-manifested; sattva-shakteh-of the power of goodness; shri-vishnoh-of Lord Vishnu; eva-indeed; syuh.-are.

This verse means: "Even though (api) He employs goodness and the other modes of material nature (tair) to create, maintain, and destroy (sthity-adaye) the material universe, the one (ekah) Supreme Person (parah) remains always untouched by these three modes. In this way He appears as the three forms Vishnu, Brahma, and Shiva (hari-virinca-hareti-samjnah). Nevertheless, the best results are obtained from Lord Vishnu, who is the master of the potency of goodness (sattva-tanoh). These best results are religion, economic development, sense gratification, liberation, and devotional service."

Text 4

ayam bhavah upadhi-drishöya tau dvau sevamane rajas-tamasor ghora-vimudhatvat bhavanto 'pi dharmartha-kama nati-sukhada bhavanti. tathopadhi-tyagena sevamane bhavann api moksho na sakshan na jaöhiti. kintu katham api paramatmamsha evayam ity anusandhanabhyasenaiva paramatmana eva bhavita.

ayam-this; bhavah-the meaning; upadhi-drishöya-by the sight of designations; tau-they; dvau-both; sevamane-serving; rajas-tamasor-of passion and ignorance; ghora-vimudhatvat-because of being horribly bewildered; bhavantah-being; api-even; dharmartha-kama-religion, economic development, and sense gratification; na-not; ati-great; sukhada-bringing happiness; bhavanti-are; tatha-so; upadhi-tyagena-by renouncing designations; sevamane-serving; bhavann-being so; api-even; mokshah-liberation; □na-not; sakshat-directly; na-not; jaöhiti.-at once; kintu-however; katham api-in some way; paramatmamsha-a part of the Supersoul; eva-indeed; ayam-this; iti-thus; anusandhanabhyasena-by searching; eva-indeed; paramatmana-of the Supersoul; eva-indeed; bhavita-will be.

Here is the meaning: One who worships Brahma or Shiva with the idea that they are the deities of the modes of passion and ignorance obtains only religion, economic development, and sense gratification, which bring only very little happiness, as his result. He obtains only this because he is completely bewildered by the modes of passion and ignorance. Even if he abandons the idea that Brahma and Shiva are the Deities of specific modes, such a person cannot at once attain true liberation. Only when he understands that Brahma and Shiva are partial expansions of the Supersoul, and when he strives to find the Supersoul, can that person attain true liberation.

Text 5

tatra tatra sakshat paramatmakarenaprakashat tasmāt tabhyam shreyamsi na bhavanti. athopadhi-drishöyapi shri-vishnum sevamane sattvasya shantatvat dharmartha-kama api sukhadah.

tatra tatra-there; sakshat-directly; paramatma-of the Supersoul; akarena-as a form; aprakashat-because of non manifestation; tasmāt-from that; tabhyam-by them; shreyamsi-the best; na-not; bhavanti-are; iti-thus; atha-then; upadhi-drishöya-by seeing the designation; api-also; shri-vishnum-Lord Vishnu; sevamane-serving; sattvasya-of goodness; shantatvat-because of being peaceful; dharmartha-kama-religion, sense gratification, and liberation; api-also; sukhadah.-giving happiness.

If one does not see them as expansions of the Supersoul, one will not attain auspiciousness by worshipping Brahma and Shiva. However, even thinking Him only the Deity of the mode of goodness, if one worships Lord Vishnu, one will attain auspiciousness. Such a person will easily attain whatever happiness may be obtained from religion, economic development, and sense gratification. He obtains this because of the peaceful and auspicious nature of the mode of goodness.

Text 6

tatra nishkamatvena tu na sevamane sattvat sanjayate jñanam iti. kaivalyam sattvikam jñanam iti cōkter mokshash ca sakshat.

tatra-there; nishkamatvena-without material desires; tu-but; na-not; sevamane-serves; sattvat sanjayate jñanam iti-Bhagavad-gita 14.17; kaivalyam sattvikam jñanam iti-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.25.24; ca-and; ukteh-of the statement; mokshah-liberation; ca-and; sakshat-directly.

Thus by worshiping Lord Vishnu without any material desires one attains true liberation. This is hinted by the following words of Bhagavad-gita (14.17):

"From the mode of goodness, real knowledge develops."*

It is also hinted by these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (11.25.24):

"The mode of goodness brings spiritual knowledge."

Text 7

ata uktam skande

bandhako bhava-pashena bhava-pashac ca mocakah kaivalyadah param brahma vishnur eva sanatanah. iti.

atah-then; uktam-said; skande-in the Skandna Purana; bandhakah-bondage; bhava-pashena-by the ropes of birth and death; bhava-pashat-from the ropes of birth and death; ca-and; mocakah-releasing; kaivalyadah-giving liberation; param-the Supreme; brahma-Absolute; vishnuh-Lord Vishnu; eva-indeed; sanatanah.-eternal; iti.-thus.

That the worship of Lord Vishnu brings liberation is also confirmed by the following words of the Skanda Purana:

"He binds the souls with the ropes of birth and death. He unties the ropes of birth and death that bind the souls. Eternal Lord Vishnu, the Supreme Personality of Godhead, brings liberation."

Text 8

upadhi-parityagena tu pancama-purushartho bhaktir eva bhavati. tasya paramatmakarenaiva prakashat. tasmāt shri-vishnor eva shreyamsi syur iti.

upadhi-parityagena-by abandoning the designation; tu-but; pancama-purusharthah-the fifth goal of life; bhaktih-devotional service; eva-indeed; bhavati.-is; tasya-of Him; paramatmakarena-as a form of the Supersoul; eva-indeed; prakashat.-from the manifestation; tasmāt-from Him; shri-vishnoh-from Lord Vishnu; eva-indeed; shreyamsi-the best; syuh-are; iti-thus.

By giving up the idea that Lord Vishnu is merely the Deity of the mode of goodness one becomes eligible to attain devotional service, which is the fifth goal of life (superior to the other four goals: religion, economic development, sense gratification, and liberation). Such a person attains devotional service because he understands that Lord Vishnu is identical with the Supersoul. In this way all good things (shreyamsi) come from worshiping Lord Vishnu.

Text 9

atra tu yat-trayanam abheda-vakyaenopajapta-matayo vivadante. tatredam kramah yadyapi taratamyam idam adhishöhana-gatam eva. adhishöhata tu parah purusha eka eveti bhedasambhavat. satyam evabheda-vakyam tathapi tasya tatra tatra sakshattvasakshattva-bedena prakashena taratamyam durnivaram eveti sadrishöantam aha atra-here; tu-but; yat-which; trayanam-of the three; abheda-vakyaena-by the declataionm of non-difference; upajapta-matayah-they who declare the idea; vivadante-debate; tatra-there; idam-thus; kramah-in sequence; yadyapi-although; taratamyam-relative importance; idam-this; adhishöhana-establishment; gatam-attained; eva.-indeed; adhishöhata-the establisher; tu-indeed; parah-superior; purusha-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; eka-one; eva-indeed; iti-thus; bhedasambhavat-because of non0difference; satyam-truth; eva-indeed; abheda-of non difference; vakyam-statement; tathapi-nevertheless; tasya-of Him; tatra-there; tatra-there; sakshattva-directly; aasakshattva-not directly; bhedena-by difference; prakashena-manifestation; taratamyam-relatuve importance; durnivaram-dififcult to prevent; eva-certainly; iti-thus; sadrishöantam-with an example; aha-said.

Some philosophers, claiming that the three Deities Brahma, Vishnu, and Shiva are identical in all respects, may dispute these conclusions. Here is the explanation given in Shrimad-Bhagavatam (1.2.23): Although the three modes of nature are not equal, and are indeed situated in different levels of merit, nevertheless, they are all manifested and controlled by the one Supreme Personality of Godhead (parah purusha ekah). Therefore the controllers of the modes are not different from Lord Vishnu. These words are certainly the truth. However, Brahma, Vishnu, and Shiva are still different in the sense that some are direct manifestations of the Supreme Personality of Godhead and others are indirect manifestations of the Lord. Therefore one cannot reject the idea that the modes and their Deities are situated in different levels of importance. This is described in the following example given by Shrimad-Bhagavatam (1.2.24):

Text 10

parthivad daruno dhumas tasmad agnis trayimayah tamasas tu rajas tasmad sattvam yad brahma-darshanat parthivat-from earth; darunah-firewood; dhumah-smoke; tasmad-from that; agnih-fire; trayi-Vedic sacrifices; mayah-made of; tamasah-in the mode of ignorance; tu-but; rajah-the mode of passion; tasmad-from that; sattvam-the mode of goodness; yat-which; brahma-the Absolute Truth; darshanat-realization.

"Firewood is a transformation of earth, but smoke is better than the raw wood. And fire is still better, for by fire we can derive the benefits of superior knowledge (through Vedic sacrifices). Similarly, passion (rajas) is better than ignorance (tamas), but goodness (sattva) is best because by goodness one can come to realize the Absolute Truth."*

Text 11

parthivan na tu dhumavad amshenagneyat. tata eva vedokta-karmanah sakshat pravritti-prakasha-rahitad daruno yajniyan mathana-kashöhat sakashad amshenagneyo dhumas trayimayah purvapekshaya vedokta-karmadhikyavirbhavaspadam. tasmad api svayam agnis trayimayah sakshat tad-ukta-karmavirbhavaspadam. evam kashöha□-sthaniyat sattva-guna-vidurat tamasah sakashad dhuma-sthaniyam kincit sattva-sannihitam rajo brahma-darshanam. vedokta-karma-sthaniyasya tat-tad-avatarinah purushasya prakasha-dvaram.

parthivat-from earth; na-not; tu-but; dhumavat-like smoke; amshena-by a part; agneyat-frpm fire; tata-from that; eva-indeed; vedokta-spoken in the Vedas; karmanah-of duties; sakshat-directly; pravritti-action; prakasha-manifestation; rahitat-without; darunah-firewood; yajniyan-suitable ofr yajnas; mathana-kashöhat-by rubbing the wood; sakshat-in the presence; amshena-by a part; agneyah-possessing fire; dhumah-smoke; trayimayah-consisting of the three Vedas; purvapekshaya-in relation ot the previous; vedokta-spoken in the Vedas; karma-actions; adhikya-superiority; avirbhava-manifestation; aspadam-abode; tasmāt-from that; api-even; svayam-personally; agnih-fire; trayimayah-the three Vedas; sakshat-directly; tad-ukta-karmavirbhavaspadam-the manifestation of the activities described there; evam-thus; kashöha□-sthaniyat-the situation of wood; sattva-guna-vidurat-far from the mode of goodness; tamasah-of ignorance; sakshat-in the presence; dhuma-sthaniyam-the situation of smoke; kincit-something; sattva-sannihitam-with goodness; rajah-passion; brahma-the Absolute Truth; darshanam-seeing; vedokta-described in the Vedas; karma-actions; sthanyasya-of the situation; tat-tad-avatarinah-incarnations; purushasya-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; prakasha-dvaram-by the manifestation.

Firewood manifested from earth (parthivat) is not like smoke, for smoke has some fire within it. In the same way the mode of ignorance does not manifest the duties described in the Vedas, but in the mode of passion the duties described in the Vedas may be partially manifested. By rubbing two wooden sticks one may create some and then a fire that may be used to perform a yajna. In this way smoke may lead to performance of Vedic duties (trayimayah). In this way smoke, or passion, is considered to be a better resting place for the duties described in the Vedas. Better than smoke, however, is fire. In this way it is seen that in the mode of goodness the duties described in the Vedas are directly manifested. Therefore goodness is better than passion. As wood is far from actual fire, so ignorance is far from goodness. As smoke is not as far from fire, so passion is not as far from goodness. From the mode of goodness one may attain brahma-darshanam (the realization of the Absolute Truth). Thus by following the duties described in the Vedas one comes to have realization of the Supreme Personality of Godhead.

Text 12

tu-shabdena layatmakat tamasah sakashad rajasah sopadhika-jnana-hetutveneshat tad-guna-cchavi-pradurbhava-rupam kincid brahma-darshana-pratyasatti-matram uktam. na tu sarvatha. vikshepakatvat.

tu-shabdena-by the word tu; layatmakat-the nature of destruction; tamasah-of ignorance; sakshat-in the presence; rajasah-of passion; sa-with; upadhika-designation; jnana-knowledge; hetutvena-by the cause; ishat-from the Supreme Personality of Godhead; tad-guna-of those modes; cchavi-light; pradurbhava-manifestation; rupam-form; kincit-something; brahma-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; darshana-the sight; pratyasatti-nearness; matram-only; uktam.-said; na-not; tu-but; sarvatha-in all respects; vikshepakatvat-because of throwing.

By the word "tu" (but) is hinted the truth that the mode of ignorance brings destruction. Because it brings some material knowledge, the mode of passion brings a little light to see the Supreme. In other words, in the mode of passion one comes closer to seeing the Supreme. However, because it is so agitating and troublesome, the mode of passion does not allow one to see the Supreme properly.

Text 13

yad agni-sthaniyam sattvam. tat sakshad brahmano darshanam. sakshad eva samyak tat-tad-guna-rupavirbhava-dvaram. shanta-svaccha-svabhavatmakatvat. ato beahma-shivayor asakshattvam shri-vishnau tu sakshattvam siddham iti bhavah.

yat-what; agni-sthaniyam-the place of fire; sattvam.-goodness; tat-that; sakshat-directly; brahmanah-of the Supreme; darshanam.-the sight; sakshat-directly; eva-indeed; samyak-properly; tat-tad-guna-rupa-the nature of that mode; avirbhava-dvaram-by the manifestation; shanta-peaceful; svaccha-clear; svabhavatmakatvat-because of the nature; atah-then; beahma-shivayoh-of Brahma and Siva; asakshattvam-the nature of nnot being direct; shri-vishnau-in Shri Vishnu; tu-but; sakshattvam-directness; siddham-proved; iti-thus; bhavah-the meaning.

In this verse goodness is compared to fire. This is because in goodness one can directly see the Supreme. Because goodness is by nature peaceful and pure, goodness enables one to directly and properly see the Supreme. In this way it is proved that Brahma and Shiva are indirect incarnations and Lord Vishnu is a direct incarnation of the Supreme Personality of Godhead. That is the meaning.

Text 14

tatha ca shri-vamana-purane brahma-vishnv-isha-rupani trini vishnor mahatmanah brahmani brahma-rupah sa shiva-rupah shive sthitah prithag eva sthito devo vishnu-rupi janardanah. iti.

tatha-so; ca-and; shri-vamana-purane-in Shri Vamana Purana; brahma-vishnv-isha-rupani-the forms of Brahma, Vishnu, and Shiva; trini-thre; vishnoh-of Vishnu; mahatmanah-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; brahmani-in Brahma; brahma-rupah-the form of Brahma; sa-he; shiva-rupah-the from of Siva; shive-in Siva; sthitah-situated; prithag-separately; eva-indeed; sthitah-situated; devah-the Lord; vishnu-rupi-in the form of Vishnu; janardanah.-who rescues His devotees from troubles and sufferings; iti-thus.

The ruth that Lord Vishnu is directly the Supreme Personality of Godhead is also explained in these words of Shri Vamana Purana:

"The three forms of Brahma, Vishnu, and Shiva are all manifested from Lord Vishnu, who is the Supreme Personality of Godhead. Brahma appears in the form of Brahma, and Shiva appears in the form of Shiva. Lord Vishnu, however, is different from either Brahma or Shiva, for Lord Vishnu is the Supreme Personality of Godhead Himself, the Lord who delivers His devotees from distress."

Text 15

tad uktam brahma-samhitayam bhasvan yathashma-sakaleshu nijeshu tejah sviyam kiyat prakaöayaty api tadvad atra brahma ya eva jagadanda-vidhana-karta govindam adi-purusham tam aham6 bhajami

tat-that; uktam-said; brahma-samhitayam-in Brahma-samhita; bhasvan-splendid; yatha-as; ashma-sakaleshu-in all jewels; nijeshu-own; tejah-light; sviyam-own; kiyat-how much?; prakaöayati-manifests; api-even; tadvat-like that; atra-here; brahma-Brahma; ya-who; eva-indeed; jagadanda-vidhana-karta-the creator of the universe; govindam-Lord Krishna; adi-purusham-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; tam-Him; aham-I; bhajami-worship.

The relative natures of Brahma, Shiva, and Vishnu are also described in these words of Brahma-samhita (5.49, 5.45, and 5.46):

"I adore the primeval Lord Govinda from whom the separated subjective portion Brahma receives his power for the regulation of the mundane world, just as the sun manifests some portion of his own light in all the effulgent gems that bear the names of suryakanta etc.

Text 16

kshiram yatha dadhi-vikara-vishesha-yogat sanjayate na tu tatah prithag asti hetoh yah sambhutam api tatha samupaiti karyad
govindam adi-purusham tam aham6 bhajami

kshiram-milk; yatha-as; dadhi-vikara-vishesha-yogat-the transformastion of yogurt; sanjayate-is born; na-not; tu-but; tatah-then; prithag-separat; asti-is; hetoh-from the reason; yah-whom; sambhutam-born; api-even; tatha-so; samupaiti-attains; karyat-from trhe action; govindam-Krishna; adi-purusham-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; tam-Him; aham-I; bhajami-worship.

"Just as milk is transformed into curd by the action of acids, but yet the effect curd is neither the same as, nor different from, its cause, viz. milk, so I adore the primeval Lord Govinda of whom the state of Shambhu is a transformation for the performance of the work of destruction."

Text 17

diparcir eva hi dashantaram abhyupetya dipayate vivrita-hetu-samana-dharma yas tadrig eva hi ca vishnutaya vibhati govindam adi-purusham tam aham6 bhajami. ity adi.

diparcih-the light of a lamp; eva-indeed; hi-indeed; dashantaram-another lamp; abhyupetya-expanding; dipayate-illuminates; vivrita-hetu-samana-dharma-the equally powerful expansion; yah-who; tadrig-like that; eva-indeed; hi-indeed; ca-also; vishnutaya-as Lord Vishnu; vibhati-is manifested; govindam-Lord Krishna; adi-purusham-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; tam-Him; aham-I; bhajami-worship.

"The light of one candle being communicated to another candle, although it burns separately in them, is the same in its quality. I adore the primeval Lord Govinda, who exhibits Himself equally in the same mobile manner in His various manifestations."

Text 18

na ca dadhi-drishöantena vikaritvam ayatam. tasya shrutes tu shabda-mulatvat iti nyayena muhuh parihritatvat.

na-not; ca-qand; dadhi-drishöantena-by the4 example of curd; vikaritvam-transformation; ayatam.-attained; tasya-of that; shruteh-of the Sruti; tu-indeed; shabda-mulatvat-because of being the root of the scriptures; iti-thus; nyayena-by the Vedanta-sutra; muhuh-again and again; parihritatvat-because of being refuted.

The example of curd given in this verse does not support the impersonalists' theory of transformation, for that theory is again and again refuted by the scriptures, and the scriptures' opinion should be accepted, as is declared by the Vedanta-sutra (2.1.27):

shrutes tu shabda-mulatvat

"The scriptures are the root of knowledge."

Text 19

yathoktam yata udayastamayo vivriter mrd ivavikritat iti.

yatha-as; uktam-said; yata udayastamayo vivriter mrd ivavikritat iti-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.87.15.

An example of the scriptures refutation of the impersonalists' theory of transformation is given in these word of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.87.15):

"As many things may be created from clay and then again dissolved into the original clay, but the original clay itself remains unchanged, in the same way the Supreme Personality of Godhead creates and annihilates the worlds, but He Himself remains always unchanged."

Text 20

drishöanta-trayena tu kramenedam labhyate. suryakanta-sthaniye brahmopadhau suryasyeva tasya kincit prakashah. dadhi-sthaniye shambhupadhau kshira-sthaniyasya na tadrq api prakashah. dasantara-sthaniye vishnupadhau tu purna eva prakasha iti. shri-sutah.

drishöanta-trayena-by three examples; tu-indeed; kramena-in sequence; idam-this; labhyate-is obtained; suryakanta-of suryakanta; sthaniye-in the place; brahmopadhau-the designation of Brahma; suryasya-of the sun; iva-like; tasya-of Him; kincit-something; prakashah.-manifestation; dadhi-sthaniye-in the place of curd; shambhupadhau-the designbation of Shiva; kshira-sthaniyasya-of the place of milk; na-not; tadrq-like that; api-even; prakashah-manifestation; dasantara-sthaniye-in the place of lamps; vishnupadhau-the designation of Vishnu; tu-but; purna-full; eva-indeed; prakasha-manifestation; iti-thus; shri-sutah-Shri Suta Gosvami.

The three examples given in the verses from Brahma-samhita may be understood in the following way. The example of the sun and the suryakanta jewels describes Brahma. In this way it is seen that Brahma is a very limited manifestation of the Supreme Lord. The example of milk and curd describes Shiva. In this way it is seen that Shiva is not like the Supreme Lord. The example of one lamp lighting other lamps describes Lord Vishnu. In this way it is seen that Lord Vishnu is the Supreme Personality of Godhead Himself in all fullness. The verse quoted in the beginning of this anuccheda was spoken by Shri Suta Gosvami.

Anuccheda 14

Text 1

evam evaha tribhih

shivah shakti-yutah sakshat tri-lingo guna-samvritah vaikarikas taijasash ca tamasash cety aham tridha evam-thus; eva-indeed; aha-says; tribhih-by three; shivah--Lord Shiva; shakti-yutah-associated with material nature; sakshat-eternally; tri-lingah-in three features; guna-samvritah-covered by the modes of nature; vaikarika-one is called vaikarika; taijasas ca-another is called taijasa; tamasas ca-as well as tamasa; iti-thus; aham-egotism; tridha-three kinds.

The relative status of Brahma, Vishnu, and Shiva is also described in these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.88.3-5):

"The truth about Lord Shiva is that he is always covered with three material coverings: vaikarika, taijasa, and tamasa. Because of these three modes of material nature, he always associates with the external energy and egotism itself.*

Text 2

tato vikara bhagavan shodashamishu kincana upadhavan vibhutinam sarvasam ashnute gatim

tatah-from that; vikara-transformations; abhavan-were; shodasha-sixteen; amisu-among them; kincana-something; upadhavan-pursuing; vibhutinam-of opulences; sarvasam-of all; ashnute-enjoys; gatim-goal.

"From egotism are manifested the sixteen elements. Pursuing these elements, the living entity enjoys various opulences.

Text 3

harir hi nirgunah sakshat purushah prakriteh parah sa sarva-drig upadrashöa tam bhajan nirguno bhavet harih-the Supreme Personality of Godhead, Vishnu; hi-certainly; nirgunah-transcendental to all material qualities; sakshat-directly; purushah-the supreme enjoyer; prakriteh-material nature; parah-beyond; sa-He; sarva-drik-the seer of everything; upadrashöa-the overseer of everything; tam-Him; bhajan-by worshiping; nirgunah-transcendental to material qualities; bhavet-one becomes.

"Shri Hari, the Supreme Personality of Godhead, is □situated beyond the range of material nature. Therefore He is the supreme transcendental person. He can see everything inside and outside. Therefore He is the supreme overseer of all living entities. If someone takes shelter at His lotus feet and worships Him, he also attains a transcendental position."*

Text 4

shashvac-chakti-yutah prathamatas tavan nityam eva shaktya guna-samyavastha-prakriti-rupopadhina yuktah. guna-kshobhe sati tri-lingo guna-trayopadhih. prakaöaish ca sadbhis tair gunaih samvritash ca.

shashvac-chakti-yutah-shashvac-chakti-yutah; prathamatah-first; tavan-then; nityam-always; eva-indeed; shaktya-by the potency; guna-modes; samyaa-equality; avastha-situation; prakriti-of matter; rupa-form; upadhina-with the designations; yuktah.-with; guna-kshobhe-in agitation of the modes; sati-being so; tri-lingah-three features; guna-trayopadhih.-designatuions of the htree modes; prakaöaih-manifested; ca-and; sadbhih-being so; taih-by them; gunaih-by the modes; samvritah-with; ca-also.

The word "shashvac-chakti-yutah" means "In the beginning Lord Shiva is accompanied by his eternal potency." That is to say he is accompanied by the material feature where the modes of nature are balanced equally against each other, and no one of them dominates the others. The word "tri-lingah" means "when the modes are agitated, the equilibrium is broken, and the three material modes manifest their individual natures."

Text 5

nanu tama-upadhitvam eva tasya shruyate. katham tat-tad-upadhitvam. tatraha vaikarika iti.

nanu-is it not so?; tama-upadhitvam-the designation of ignorance; eva-indeed; tasya-of that; shruyate.-is heard; katham-how?; tat-tad-various; upadhitvam-the state of having designation; tatra-there; aha-says; vaikarika iti-the word vaikarika.

Here someone may ask: "The scriptures declare that Lord Shiva associates with the mode of ignorance. Why do you say, then, that he associates with all the modes?"

To this question this passage of Shrimad-Bhagavatam answers with the word "vaikarikah" (Lord Shiva associates with goodness, passion, and ignorance).

Text 6

aham ahan-tattvam hi tat-tad-rupena tridha. sa ca tad-adhishöhatety arthah. mukhyataya nastam namanyad guna-dvayam. gaunataya tv asta evety arthah.

aham-aham; ahan-tattvam-egotism; hi-indeed; tat-tad-rupena-in various forms; tridha.-three kinds; sa-he; ca-and; tat-of that; adhishöhata-the controller; iti-thus; arthah.-the meaning; mukhyataya-primary meaning na-not; astam-may be; nama-name; anyat-another; guna-dvayam.-two modes; gaunataya-with the secondary meaning; tv-but; aste-is; eva-indeed; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning.

Here the word "aham" means "egotism", and "tridha" means "that egotism is manifested in three forms". The meaning is that Lord Shiva is the presiding deity of these three kinds of egotism. In this passage the direct meaning should not be accepted. The secondary meaning should be accepted in its place.

Text 7

tatas tena bhagavat-pratinidhi-rupenadhishöhitad ahan-tattvat shodasha vikara ye abhavann amishu vikareshu madhye sarvasam vibhutinam sambandhi kincana upadhavan. tad-upadhikatvena tam upasino gatim prapyam phalam labhate.

tatah-then; tena-by this; bhagavat-pratinidhi-rupena-as the representative of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; adhishöhitat-established; ahan-tattvat-from egotism; shodasha-sixteen; vikara-transformations; ye-which; abhavann-were; amishu-among them; vikareshu-transformations; madhye-in the midst; sarvasam-of all; vibhutinam-opulences; sambandhi-relationship; kincana-something; upadhavan-pursuing; tad-upadhikatvena-by that designation; tam-that; upasinah-worshipping; gatim-goal; prapyam-to be attained; phalam-result; labhate-obtains.

In this way Lord Shiva acts as a the representative of the Supreme Personality of Godhead. From egotism are manifested the sixteen (shodasha) transformations (vikarah) that are the material elements. The living entities pursue (kincana upadhavan) all (sarvasam) the opulences (vibhutinam) manifested among these elements. By worshipping Lord Shiva, they attain their goals (gatim).

Text 8

hi prasiddhau hetau va. haris tu prakriter upadhitah paras tad-dharmair asprishöah. ata eva nirguno 'pi kutas tri-lingatvadikam iti bhavah. tatra hetuh sakshad eva purusha ishvarah. na tu pratibimbavad vyavadhanenety arthah.

hi-hi; prasiddhau-in proof; hetau-in reason; va.-or; harih-Lord Krishna; tu-indeed; prakriteh-of matter; upadhitah-designated; parah-transcendental; tad-dharmaih-by those natures; asprishöah.-untouched; ata eva-therefore; nirgunah-nirguna; api-also; kutah-from where?; tri-lingatvadikam-beginning with the three features; iti-thus; bhavah.-the meaning; tatra-there; hetuh-the reason; sakshat-directly; eva-indeed; purusha-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; ishvarah.-the controller; na-not; tu-but; pratibimbavat-like a reflection; vyavadhanena-by separation; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning.

In the last of these verses the word "hi" means either "it is certainly well known" or "it is certainly proved". The words "harih purushah prakriteh parah" mean "Lord Hari is never touched by the material energy". For this reason, Lord Hari is said here to be "nirgunah" (beyond the modes of material nature). This being so, how is it possible that Lord Hari can come under the influence of the material modes? (It is not possible.) the reason Lord Hari never comes under the influence of the material modes is given in the words "sakshat purushah", which mean that He is the Supreme Personality of Godhead, the supreme controller. He is not a reflection of something else that is the true Supreme. He is the Supreme.

Text 9

atah vidyavidye mama tanu itivat tanu-shabdopadanat kutracit sattva-shaktitva-shravanam api prekshadi-matrenopakaritvad iti bhavah. ata eva sarvesham shiva-brahmadinam drik jnanam yasmāt tatha-bhūtaḥ sann upadrashōa tad-adi-sakshi bhavati. atas tam bhajan nirguno bhaved gunatita-phala-bhag bhavatiti. shri-shukah.

atah-therefore; vidyavidye mama tanu itivat-as in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.11.3; tanu-shabdopadanat-from the word "tanu"; kutracit-somewhere; sattva-shaktitva-the goodness potency; shravanam-hearing; api-even; preksha-with seeing; adi-beginning; matrena-merely; upakaritvat-because of helping; iti-thus; bhavah.-the meaning; ata eva-therefore; sarvesham-of all; shiva-brahmadinam-beginning with Siva and Brahma; drik-seeing; jnanam-knowledge; yasmāt-from which; tatha-bhūtaḥ-in that way; sann-being so; upadrashōa-the over-seer; tad-adi-of the living entities beginning with them; sakshi-the witness; bhavati.-is; atah-therefore; tam-Him; bhajan-worshiping; nirgunah-beyond the modes of nature; bhaved-may become; guna-the modes; atita-beyond; phala-the result; bhag-possessing; bhavati-is iti-thus; shri-shukah-Shri Sukadeva Gosvami.

Here the word "tanuh" is used in the same way as in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.11.3. In various places in the scriptures the potency of the Lord is described. In this way, merely by glancing, Lord Hari can perform various activities. That is the meaning. The word "upadrashōa" here means that Lord Hari is the witness. "Sarva-drik" means that Lord Hari has direct knowledge of Shiva, Brahma, and all other living entities. The words "tam bhajan nirguno bhaved" mean that a person who worships Lord Hari also transcends the influence of the material modes. The verses quoted in the beginning of this anuccheda were spoken by Shrila Shukadeva Gosvami.

Anuccheda 15

Text 1

ata eva vishnor eva parama-purushena sakshad abhedoktim aha

ata eva-therefore; vishnoh-Lord Vishnu; eva-indeed; parama-purushena-as the Supreme Personality of Godhead; sakshat-directly; abhedat-non-difference; uktim-statement; aha-says.

That Lord Vishnu is the Supreme Personality of Godhead Himself is confirmed by the following words, where the demigod Brahma describes Lord Vishnu (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 2.6.32):

Text 2

shrijami tan-niyukto 'ham haro harati tad-vashah vishvam purusha-rupena paripati tri-shakti-dhrik. iti.

shrijami-do create; tat-by His; niyuktah-appointment; aham-I; harah-Lord Siva; harati-destroys; tad-vashah-under His subordination; vishvam-the whole universe; purusha-the Personality of Godhead; rupena--by His eternal form; paripati-maintains; tri-shakti-dhrik-the controller of three energies; iti.-thus.

"By His will, I create, Lord Shiva destroys, and He Himself, in His eternal form as the Personality of Godhead, maintains everything. He is the powerful controller of these three energies."*

Text 3

aham brahma. shrutish catra sa brahmana shrijati. sa rudrena vilapayati. so 'nutpattir alaya eva harih parah paramanandah iti mahopanishadi.

aham-I; brahma.-Brahma; shrutih-The sruti-sastra; ca-also; atra-here; sa-He; brahmana-by Brahma; shrijati.-creates; sa-He; rudrena-by Siva; vilapayati-destroys; sah-He; anutpattih-never born; alaya-the abode; eva-indeed; harih-Lord Hari; parah-the Supreme; paramanandah-full of transcendental bliss; iti-thus; mahopanishadi-in the Maha Upanisad.

Here the word "aham" (I) refers to Lord Brahma. That Lord Hari is the Supreme Personality of Godhead is also confirmed by the following words of the Maha Upanishad (2.3.14):

"Using Brahma as His agent, Lord Hari creates the material universe. Using Shiva as His agent, Lord Hari destroys the material universe. Lord Hari is the blissful Supreme Personality of Godhead. He was never born. He is the shelter in which everything rests."

Text 4

shri-brahma shri-naradam

shri-brahma-Shri Brahma; shri-naradam-to Shri Narada.

The verse quoted in the beginning of this anuccheda was spoken by Shri Brahma to Shri Narada.

Anuccheda 16

Text 1

tathaivaha

atranuvarnyate 'bhikshnam vishvatma bhagavan harih yasya prasada-jo brahma rudrah krodha-samudbhavah. iti.

tatha-so; eva-indeed; aha-said; atra-here; anuvarnyate-is described; abhikshnam-again and again; vishvatma-the soul of the universes; bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; harih-Hari; yasya-of whom; prasada-jah-born from the mercy; brahma-Brahma; rudrah-Siva; krodha-samudbhavah-born from the anger; iti-thus.

In Shrimad-Bhagavatam (11.5.1) it is also said:

"In this book the Supreme Personality of Godhead, Lord Hari, is described again and again. Lord Hari is the soul of the universe. From His mercy Brahma is born, and from His anger Shiva is born."

Text 2

atra shri-vishnur na kathita iti tena sakshad abheda evety ayatam. tad uktam sa u eva vishnuh iti.

atra-here; shri-vishnuh-Lord Vishnu; na-not; kathita-said; iti-thus; tena-by Him; sakshat-directly; abheda-not different; eva-indeed; iti-thus; ayatam-attained; tat-that; uktam-said; sa-He; u-indeed; eva-indeed; vishnuh-Vishnu; iti-thus.

Although the word "vishnu" is not expressly used here, Lord Vishnu is meant, for Lord Vishnu is not different from Lord Hari. This is confirmed by the following words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (3.8.15):

"Lord Vishnu personally entered as the Supersoul."*

Text 3

shrutish ca purusho ha vai narayano 'kamayata. atha narayanad ajo 'jayata. yatah prajah sarvani bhutani.

shrutih-the Sruti-sastra; ca-laos; purushah-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; ha-indeed; vai-indeed; narayanah-Narayana; akamayata-desired; atha-then; narayanat-from Lord Narayana; ajah-Brahma; ajayata-was born; yatah-from whom; prajah-the living entities; sarvani-all; bhutani-elements.

In the Narayana Upanishad (1) it is said:

"Narayana is the Supreme Personality of Godhead. He desired, 'I shall create children'. From Narayana Brahma was born. From Narayana the living entities and material elements were manifested."

Text 4

narayanah param brahma
tattvam narayanah param
shritam satyam param brahma purusham krishna-pingalam. iti.

narayanah-Narayana; param brahma tattvam-the Supreme Truth; narayanah-Narayana; param-Supreme; shritam-manifested; satyam-eternal; param brahma purusham-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; krishna-pingalam-with a dark complexion; iti-thus.

In the scriptures it is also said:

"Narayana is the Supreme Brahman. He is the Supreme Truth. He is the real, eternal Supreme Spirit. He is a person with a dark complexion."

Text 5

eko narayana asin na brahma na ca shankarah. sa murtir bhutva samacintayat. tata evaite vyajayanta vishvo hiranyagarbho 'gnir varuna-rudrendrah iti ca.

ekah-one; narayana-Narayana; asit-was; na-not; brahma-Brahma; na-not; ca-and; shankarah-Siva; sa-this; murtih-form; bhutva-manifesting; samacintayat-thought; tata-then; eva-indeed; ete-they; vyajayanta-were born; vishvah-the universe; hiranyagarbhah-Brahma; agnih-Agni; varuna-rudrendrah-Varuna, Siva, and Indra; iti-thus; ca-also.

It is also said:

"In the beginning of creation there was only the Supreme Personality of Godhead, Narayana, and there was no existence of Brahma or Shiva.* Manifesting His transcendental form, Narayana began to think, and from His thinking were born the universe and the demigods Brahma, Agni, Varuna, Shiva, and Indra."

Text 6

tasmat tasyaiva varnaniyatvam api yuktam. shri-sutah.

tasmat-therefore; tasya-of Him; eva-indeed; varnaniyatvam-the state of being worthy to be described; api-also; yuktam-endowed; shri-sutah-Shri Suta Gosvami.

Therefore, for these reasons one should describe the glories of Lord Narayana. The verse quoted in the beginning of this anuccheda was spoken by Shrila Suta Gosvami.

Anuccheda 17

Text 1

nanu trayanam eka-bhavanam yo na pashyati vai bhidam. tatha na te mayy acyute 'je ca bhidam anv api cakshate ity adav abheda eva shruyate. puranantare ca vishnutas tayor bhede narakah shruyate. satyam. vayam api bhedam na brumah. parama-purushasyaiva tat-tad-rupam ity ekatmatvenaivopakrantatvat.

nanu-is it not so?; trayanam eka-bhavanam yo na pashyati vai bhidam-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 4.7.54; tatha na te mayy acyute 'je ca bhidam anv api cakshate ity adau-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 12.10.22; abheda-not different; eva-indeed; shruyate-described in the scriptures; puranantare-in another pUra; ca-also; vishnutah-from Lord Vishnu; tayoh-of them both; bhede-in difference; narakah-a resident of hell; shruyate-is described in the scriptures; satyam-truth; vayam-we; api-also; bhedam-difference; na-not; brumah-say; parama-purushasya-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; eva-indeed; tat-tad-rupam-various forms; iti-thus; ekatmatvena-as one person; eva-indeed; upakrantatvat-from what was begun.

Here someone may protest: Is it not so that Shrimad-Bhagavatam (4.7.54) declares:

"One who does not consider Brahma, Vishnu, and Shiva, or the living entities in general, to be separate from the Supreme, and who knows Brahman, actually realizes peace. Others do not."*

Is it not also so that in Shrimad-Bhagavatam (12.10.22) Lord Vishnu Himself declares:

"The devotees do not think that I am different from the demigod Brahma."

In another Purana it is also said that anyone who thinks that Brahma and Shiva are different from Lord Vishnu becomes a resident of hell.

To this protest I give the following reply: That is true. We also say that Brahma and Shiva are not different from Lord Vishnu. From the very beginning we have said that even though He manifests many different forms, the Supreme Personality of Godhead remains one person.

Text 2

shivo brahma ca bhinna-svabhavaditaya drishyamano 'pi pralaye shrishöau ca tasmāt svatantra evanya ishvara iti na mantavyam. kintu vishnv-atmaka eva sa sa iti hi tatrarthah. tad uktam brahmani brahma-rupah sah ity adi.

shivah-Shiva; brahma-Brahma; ca-and; bhinna-svabhavaditaya-beginning with possessing a different nature; drishyamanah-being seen; api-also; pralaye-in annihilation; shrishöau-in creation; ca-also; tasmāt-from that; svatantra-independent; evanya-personally; ishvara-the controller; iti-thus; na-not; mantavyam-to be considered; kintu-however; vishnu-Lord Vishnu; atmaka-the Self; eva-indeed; sa-he; sa-he; iti-thus; hi-indeed; tatra-there; arthah-the meaning; tat-that; uktam-said; brahmani-in Brahma; brahma-rupah-the form of Brahma; sah-he; iti-thus; adi-beginning.

Although Shiva and Brahma may seem to be independent of Lord Vishnu, they are not truly independent in their duties of cosmic creation and annihilation. They are dependent on Lord Vishnu. That is the meaning of the word "vishnv-atmaka" applied to them. The word means that they are dependent on Lord Vishnu. This is also described in the following words of the Vamana Purana:

"The demigod Brahma takes shelter of the Supreme Personality of Godhead."

Text 3

na ca prakashasya sakshad-asakshad-rupatvadi taratamyam vayam kalpayamah. param shastram eva vadati. shastram tu darshitam. evam bhagavad-avataranukramanikasu trayanam bhedom angi-krityaiva kevalasya shri-dattasya ganana. soma-durvasasos tv aganana.

na-not; ca-and; prakashasya-of manifestation; sakshat-direct; asakshat-indirect; rupatva-having the form; adi-beginning with; taratamyam-gradations of higher and lower; vayam-we; kalpayamah-consider; param-best; shastram-scripture; eva-indeed; vadati-says; shastram-scripture; tu-but; darshitam-shown; evam-thus; bhagavad-avatara-of the incarnations of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; anukramanikasu-in the sequence; trayanam-of the three; bhedom-difference; angi-kritya-accepting; eva-indeed; kevalasya-transcendental; shri-dattasya-of Lord Dattatreya; ganana-consideration; soma-durvasasoh-of Siva and Durvasa Muni; tv-but; aganana-not consideration.

Brahma and Shiva are not direct incarnations of the Supreme Personality of Godhead. they are indirect incarnations. We consider that the Lord has different grades of incarnations, some direct and other indirect. This is explained in the best of scriptures. Among the varying grades of incarnations the guna-avatars Shiva and Brahma are accepted as different from the Supreme Lord. Dattatreya is counted among the direct incarnations, but Shiva and Durvasa Muni are not counted among the direct incarnations.

Text 4

kim ca brahma-vaivarte ca brahma-vakyam naham shivo na canye ca tac-chakty-ekamsha-bhaginah bala-kriidanakair yadvat kridate 'smabhir acyutah. iti.

kim-furthermore; ca-also; brahma-vaivarte-in the Brahma-vaivarta Purana; ca-also; brahma-vakyam-the words of Brahma; na-not; aham-I; shivah-Shiva; na-not; ca-also; anye-others; ca-and; tac-chakty-ekamsha-bhaginah-parts of a part of His potency; bala-kriidanakaih-with childhood pastimes; yadvat-when; kridate-plays; asmabhih-with us; acyutah-the infallible Lord; iti-thus.

This is also confirmed in the Brahma-vaivarta Purana, where Brahma says:

"I am not the Supreme, Shiva is not the Supreme, and the other demigods are not the Supreme either. We are parts of the parts of one of the Supreme Lord's potencies. As an adult plays with children, so the infallible Supreme Personality of Godhead plays with us."

Text 5

ata eva shrutau yam kamaye tam ugram krinomi. tam brahmanam tam rishim tam sumedham ity uktva mama yonir apasv antah iti shakti-vacanam.

ata eva-therefore; shrutau-in the Sruti-sastra; yam-which; kamaye-desire; tam-that; ugram-horrible; krinomi-I do; tam-that; brahmanam-to Brahma; tam-him; rishim-the sage; tam-him; sumedham-intelligence; iti-thus; uktva-said; mama-of me; yonih-the birth; apasv-in water; antah-at the end; iti-thus; shakti-of the potency; vacanam-the words.

In the Shruti-shastra, Shakti says:

"The Supreme Personality of Godhead says: When I desire to destroy the universe, I employ ferocious Shiva. When I desire to create the universe, I employ saintly intelligent Brahma. When I desire to maintain the universe, I Myself appear. I manifest a form that lies down on the Karana waters."

Text 6

apasv antar iti karanodashayi sucyate apo nara iti proktah ity adeh. yonih karanam.

apasv antah-in the water; iti-thus; karanodashayi-Karanodakashayi Vishnu; sucyate-is indicated; apah-apa; nara-nara; iti-thus; proktah-is said; iti-thus; adeh-beginning; yonih-yoni; karanam-cause.

Here the words "apasv antah" refer to Lord Karanodakashayi Vishnu. Here "apah" means "water" and yoni" means "cause" (karana).

Text 7

evam eva skande

brahmeshanadibhir devair yat praptum naiva shakyate tadvat svabhavah kaivalyam sa bhavan kevalo harih. iti.

evam-thus; eva-indeed; skande-in the Skanda Purana; brahmeshanadibhih-beginning with Brahma and Siva; devaih-by the demigods; yat-what; praptum-to attain; na-not; eva-indeed; shakyate-is able; tadvat-to that extent; svabhavah-own nature; kaivalyam-liberation; sa-He; bhavan-Your Lordship; kevalah-alone; harih-Lord Hari iti..

In the Skanda Purana it is said:

"O Lord Hari, You alone are the Supreme Personality of Godhead. If Brahma, Shiva, and the demigods cannot accomplish something, then only You can accomplish it."

Text 8

tatha vishnu-samanya-darshinam doshash ca shruyate. yatha vaishnava-tantre tatha-so; vishnu-samanya-equality with Lord Vishnu; darshinam-of they who see; doshash-the defect; ca-also; shruyate-is explained in the scriptures; yatha-as; vaishnava-tantre-in the Vaishnava Tantra

Persons who think Brahma and Shiva equal to Lord Vishnu make a great mistake. This is explained in the following words of the Vaishnava Tantra:

Text 9

na labheyuh punar bhaktim harer aikantikim jadah ekagrya-manasash capi vishnu-samanya-darshinah iti.

na-not; labheyuh-attain; punah-again; bhaktim-devotional service; hareh-to Lord Hari; aikantikim-pure; jadah-dull; ekagrya-single-pointed; manasah-mind; ca-also; api-and; vishnu-samanya-darshinah-seeing to be equal to Lord Vishnu; iti-thus.

Fools who think Brahma and Shiva equal to Lord Vishnu do not attain pure devotion to Lord Hari."

Text 10

anyatra ca

yas tu narayanam devam brahma-rudradi-daivataih samatvenaiva viksheta
sa pashandi bhaved dhruvam. iti.

anyatra-in another place; ca-also; yah-any person who; tu-however; narayanam-the Supreme Personality of Godhead, the master of such demigods as Brahma and Siva;; devam--the Lord; brahma-Lord Brahma; rudra-Lord Siva; adi-and others; daivataih-with such demigods; samatvena-on an equal level; eva-certainly; viksheta-observes; sa-such a person; pashandi-pasandi; bhavet-must be; dhruvam-certainly; iti-thus.

In another place in the scriptures it is said:

"A person who considers demigods like Brahma and Shiva to be on an equal level with Narayana is to be considered an offender, a pashandi."*

Text 11

tatha ca mantra-varnah madhye vamanam asinam vishve deva upasate iti.

tatha-so; ca-also; mantra-varnah-the words of the mantra; madhye-in the midst; vamanam-Lord Vamana; asinam-seated; vishve-in the universe; deva-the demigods; upasate-worship; iti-thus

This is also confirmed by the following words of the Mantra-varna:

"Then Lord Vamana sat in the middle and all the demigods worshiped Him."

Text 12

nanu kvacid anya-shastre shivasyaiva parama-devatvam ucyate.

nanu-is it not so; kvacit-somewhere; anya-shastre-in another scripture; shivasya-of Lord Shiva; eva--indeed; parama-devatvam-the position of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; ucyate-is said.

Here someone may protest: Is it not true that in other scriptures it is said that Lord Shiva is the Supreme Personality of Godhead?

Text 13

satyam. tathapi shastrasya sarasaratva-vivekena tad badhitam iti. tatha ca padma-saivayor umam prati shri-shivena shri-vishnu-vakyam anukritam satyam-true; tathapi-nevertheless; shastrasya-of scripture; sara-important; asaratva-and not important; vivekena-by distinguishing; tat-that; badhitam-refuted; iti-thus; tatha-so; ca-also; padma-saivayoh-in the Pamda Purana and Shiva Purana; umam-to Goddess Partvati; prati-to; shri-shivena-by Lord Siva; shri-vishnu-vakyam-the words of Lord Vishnu; anukritam-repeated

That is true. Still, when the scriptures consider what is good and true, they reject that idea. For example, in both the Padma Purana (Uttara-khanda 42.105-106) and the Shiva Purana, Lord Shiva repeats to Parvati the following words originally spoken by Lord Vishnu:

Text 14

tvam aradhya tatha shambho grahishyami varam sada dvaparadau yuge bhutva
kalaya manushadishu

tvam-you; aradhya-worshiping; tatha-so; shambhah-O Shiva; grahishyami-I will accept; varam-a boon; sada-always; dvapara-of Dvapara-yuga; aadau-in the beginning; yuge-in the yuga; bhutva-becoming; kalaya-by a part; manusha-human; adishu-beginning.

"O Shiva, I will accept this service from you: When the Dvapara-yuga has ended and the Kali-yuga has begun, I want you to incarnate among the human beings.

Text 15

svagamaih kalpitais tvam tu janan mad-vimukhan kuru
mam ca gopaya yena syat shrishöir eshottarottara. iti.

sva-own; agamaih-with scriptures; kalpitaih-imagined; tvam-you; tu-indeed; janan-the people; mad-vimukhan-averse to me; kuru-make; mam-Me; ca-also; gopaya-conceal; yena-by which; syat-may be; shrishöih-creation; esha-this; uttarottara-more and more; iti-thus.

"In Kali-yuga, mislead the people in general by propounding imaginary meanings for the Vedas to bewilder them.* In this way turn the people away from Me. Make them averse to Me. Hide Me from them."

Text 16

varahe ca
esha moham shrijamy ashu yo janan mohayishyati tvam ca rudra maha-baho moha-shastrani karaya

varahe-in the Varaha Purana; ca-and; esha-he; moham-illusion; shrijami-create; ashu-quickly; yah-who; janan-the people; mohayishyati-will be bewildered; tvam-you; ca-and; rudra-Shiva; maha-bahah-O mighty armed one; moha-shastrani-bewildering scriptures; karaya-please do.

In the Varaha Purana Lord Vishnu says:

"I will create a situation where the people will be bewildered. O mighty-armed Shiva, please write books that will bewilder the people.

Text 17

atathyani vitathyani darshayasva maha-bhuja prakasham kuru catmanam aprakasham ca mam kuru

atathyani-without the truth; vitathyani-with lies; darshayasva-please show; maha-bhuja-O mighty-armed one; prakasham-manifestation; kuru-do; ca-and; atmanam-yourself; aprakasham-unmanifested; ca-also; mam-Me; kuru-please do.

"O mighty-armed Shiva, please write books that preach many lies and conceal the real truth. Make yourself prominent, and conceal Me."

Text 18

purananam ca madhye yad yat sattvika-kalpa-kathamayam tat tat shri-vishnu-mahima-param. yad yat tamasa-kalpa-kathamayam tat tac chivadi-mahima-param iti shri-vishnu-pratipadaka-puranasyaiva samyag-jnana-pradatvam sattvat sanjayate jnanam iti darshanat.

purananam-of the Puranas; ca-and; madhye-in the midst; yad yat-whatever; sattvika-kalpa-kathamayam-descriptions that are true and good; tat tat-they; shri-vishnu-mahima-param-devoted to the glories of Lord Vishnu; yad yat-whaetver; tamasa-kalpa-kathamayam-descriptions manifested from the mode of ignroance; tat tat-that; shivadi-mahima-param-the glories of Siva and others; iti-thus; shri-vishnu-pratipadaka-puranasya-of a Purana that describes the glories of Lord Vishnu; eva-indeed; samyag-jnana-pradatvam-giving true knowledge; sattvat sanjayate jnanam iti darshanat-from the description in Bhagavad-gita 14.17.

The Puranas in the mode of goodness glorify Lord Vishnu, whereas the Puranas in the mode of ignorance glorify Lord Shiva and others. Therefore the Puranas that glorify Lord Vishnu present the actual truth. This is also confirmed by the following words of Bhagavad-gita (14.17):

"From the mode of goodness real knowledge develops."*

Text 19

tatha ca matsye
sattvikeshu ca kalpeshu mahatmyam adhikam hareh rajaseshu ca mahatmyam adhikam brahmano viduh tatha-so; ca-and; matsye-in the Matsya Purana; sattvikeshu-in goodness; ca-also; kalpeshu-in determination; mahatmyam-glory; adhikam-better; hareh-of Lord Hari; rajaseshu-in passionm; ca-and; mahatmyam-glorification; adhikam-better; brahmanah-of Brahma; viduh-they know.

In the Matsya Purana (53.67-68) it is also said:

"The sages know that the glorification of Lord Hari, which is contained in the goodness Puranas is better than the glorification of Brahma, which is contained in the passion Puranas.

Text 20

tadvad agnesh ca mahatmyam tamaseshu shivasya ca sankirneshu sarasvatyah pitrinam ca nigadyate. iti.

tadvat-in the same way; agneh-of Agni; ca-and; mahatmyam-the glorification; tamaseshu-in ignorance; shivasya-of Shiva; ca-also; sankirneshu-expanded; sarasvatyah-of Sarasvati; pitrinam-of the Pitas; ca-also; nigadyate-said; iti-thus.

"The sages also say that the glorification of Lord Hari is better than the glorification of Shiva and Agni, which is contained in the ignorance Puranas, and the glorification of Lord Hari is also better than the glorification of Sarasvati and the Pitas, which is contained in a host of miscellaneous scriptures."

Text 21

vaishnavam naradiyam ca tatha bhagavatam shubhe garudam ca tatha padmam varaham shubha-darshane vaishnavam-Vishnu; naradiyam-Narada; ca-and; tatha-so; bhagavatam-Shrimad-Bhagavatam; shubhe-O beautiful one; garudam-Garuda; ca-also; tatha-so; padmam-Padma; varaham-Varaha; shubha-darshane-O beautiful one.

In the Matsya Purana, Lord Shiva also says:

"O beautiful one, it is said that the Puranas in the mode of goodness are: 1. Vishnu, 2. Narada, 3. Shrimad-Bhagavatam, 4. Garuda, 5. Padma, and 6. Varaha.

Text 22

brahmandam brahma-vaivartam markandeyam tathaiva ca bhavishyam vamanam brahmyam rajasani nigadyate brahmandam-Brahmanda; brahma-vaivartam-Brahma-vaivarta; markandeyam-Markandeya; tatha-so; eva-indeed; ca-also; bhavishyam-Bhavishya; vamanam-Vamana; brahmyam-Brahma; rajasani-in the mode of passion; nigadyate-is said.

"It is said that the Puranas in the mode of passion are: 1. Brahmanda, 2. Brahma-vaivarta, 3. Markandeya, 4. Bhavishya, 5. Vamana, and 6. Brahma.

Text 23

matsyam kurmam tatha laingam shaivam skandam tathaiva ca agneyakam tathaitani tamasani nigadyate. ity adi.

matsyam-Matsya; kurmam-Kurma; tatha-so; laingam-Linga; shaivam-Siva; skandam-Skanda; tatha-so; eva-indeed; ca-and; agneyakam-Agni; tatha-so; etani-they; tamasani-in ignorance; nigadyate-is said; iti-thus; adi-beginning.

"It is said that the Puranas in the mode of ignorance are: 1. Matsya, 2. Kurma, 3. Linga, 4. Shiva, 5. Skanda, and 6. Agni."

Text 24

ata uktam skande shanmukham prati shri-shivena shiva-shastreshu tad grahyam bhagavac-chastra-yogi yat paramo vishnur evaikas taj jnanam moksha-sadhanam shastranam nirnayas tv eshas tad anyan mohanaya hi. iti.

ata-therefore; uktam-said; skande-in the Skanda Purana; shanmukham-Karttikeya; prati-to; shri-shivena-by Lord Siva; shiva-of Siva; shastreshu-in the scriptures; tat-that; grahyam-to be accepted; bhagavac-chastra-yogi-appropriate for the scriptures of Lord Vishnu; yat-what; paramah-Supreme; vishnuh-Lord Vishnu; eva-indeed; ekah-one; taj-that; jnanam-knowledge; moksha-sadhanam-bringing liberation; shastranam-of scriptures; nirnayah-the conclusion; tv-indeed; eshas-this; tat-that; anyan-another; mohanaya-for bewilderment; hi-indeed; iti-thus.

In the Skanda Purana, Lord Shiva tells Karttikeya:

"The statements of the Shiva scriptures should be accepted only when they agree with the Vishnu scriptures. Lord Vishnu is the only Supreme Lord, and knowledge of Him is the path to liberation. That is the conclusion of all the scriptures. Any other conclusions are meant only to bewilder the people."

Text 25

tathaiva ca drishöam moksha-dharme narayaniyopakhyane. vaishampayana uvaca

tatha-so; eva-indeed; ca-also; drishöam-seen; moksha-dharme-in the Moksha-dharma; narayaniyopakhyane-in the story of Lord Narayana; vaishampayana uvaca-Vaishampayana said.

This is also seen in the following passage of the Moksha-dharma, Narayaniyopakhyana, where Vaishampayana says:

Text 26

sankhyam yogah pancaratram vedah pashapatam tatha jnanany etani rajarshe viddhi nana-matani vai

sankhyam-sankhya; yogah-yoga; pancaratram-Pancaratra; vedah-Vedas; pashapatam-Saiva-sastras; tatha-so; jnanani-knowledges; etani-these; rajarshe-O saintly king; viddhi-please know; nana-matani-various opinions; vai-indeed.

"O saintly king, please know that there are many different philosophies, such as the sankhya, yoga, pancaratra, Vedic, and Shaiva philosophies.

Text 27

sankhyasya vakta kapilah paramarshih sa ucyate hiranyagarbho yogasya vetta nanyah puratanah

sankhyasya-of sankhya; vakta-the speaker; kapilah-Kapila; paramarshih-the great sage; sa-he; ucyate-is said; hiranyagarbhah-Brahma; yogasya-of yoga; vetta-the know; na-not; anyah-another; puratanah-ancient.

"The great sage Kapila is the propounder of the sankhya philosophy. Ancient Brahma is the knower of yoga. No one is like him.

Text 28

apantarathamash caiva vedacaryah sa ucyate pracinagarbham tam rishim pravadanti hi kecana

apantarathamah-Apantaratama; ca-also; eva-indeed; veda-of the Vedas; acaryah-the teacher; sa-he; ucyate-is said; pracinagarbham-Pracinagarbha; tam-him; rishim-the sage; pravadanti-call; hi-indeed; kecana-some.

"The sage Apantaratama is said to be the teacher of the Vedas. Some call him by the name Pracinagarbha.

Text 29

uma-pator bhuta-patih shrikanöho brahmanah sutah uktavan idam avyagro
jnanam pashupatam shivah

uma-patoh-of the husband of Parvati; bhuta-patih-the master of the ghosts; shrikanöhah-who has a beautiful neck; brahmanah-of Brahma; sutah-the son; uktavan-said; idam-this; avyagrah-detached; jnanam-knowledg; pashupatam-Shaiva; shivah-Lord Shiva.

"Lord Shiva, who is Brahma's son, Parvati's husband, and the ghosts' master, and who has a glorious neck and is detached from material life, spoke the Shaiva philosophy.

Text 30

pancaratrasya kritsnasya vakta tu bhagavan svayam sarveshu ca nripa-shreshöha jnaneshv eteshu drishyate pancaratrasya-of pancaratra; kritsnasya-entire; vakta-the speaker; tu-indeed; bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; svayam-Himself; sarveshu-in all; ca-also; nripa-shreshöha-O best of kings; jnaneshv-in knowledges; eteshu-in these; drishyate-is seen.

"The Supreme Personality of Godhead is Himself the speaker of the pancaratra philosophy. O best of kings, the pancaratra philosophy is seen as the best of all the philosophies.

Text 31

yathagamam yatha-jnanam nishöha narayanah prabhuh na cainam evam jananti tamo-bhuta visham-pate yatha-as; agamam-scripture; yatha-as; jnanam-knowledge; nishöha-faith; narayanah-Narayana; prabhuh-the Lord; na-not; ca-also; enam-to Him; evam-thus; jananti-know; tamobhuta-manifested in the mode of ignorance; visham-pate-O king.

"To whatever extent one understands the scriptures and knows the truth of spiritual life, to that extent one will have faith that Lord Narayana is the Supreme Personality of Godhead. O king, persons who are trapped in the mode of ignorance cannot understand that Narayana is the Supreme Lord.

Text 32

tam eva shastra-kartarah pravadanti manishinah nishöham narayanam rishim nanyo 'stiti vaco mama

tam-Him; eva-certainly; shastra-kartarah-the authors of the scriptures; pravadanti-say; manishinah-wise; nishöham-faith; narayanam-Narayana; rishim-sage; na-not; anyah-another; asti-is; iti-thus; vacah-words; mama-of me.

The wise authors of the scriptures declare that Narayana is the Supreme Lord. The sages place their faith in Lord Narayana. None but Him is the Supreme. Those are my words.

Text 33

nihsamshayeshu sarveshu nityam vasati vai harih samshayad dhetu-valanan nadyavasati madhavah

nihsamshayeshu-without doubt; sarveshu-in all; nityam-always; vasati-resides; vai-indeed; harih-Lord Krishna; samshayat-from doubt; hetu-cause; valanat-from the action; na-not; adhyavasati-resides; madhavah-Lord Krishna.

"Lord Hari always stays with persons who have faith in Him. He does not stay among the faithless.

Text 34

pancaratra-vido ye tu
yathakrama-para nripa ekanta-bhavopagatas
te harim pravishanti vai pancaratra-the pancaratra; vidah-know; ye-who; tu-indeed; yatha-as; krama-sequence; para-devoted; nripa-O king; ekanta-bhavopagatah-pure devotees; te-they; harim-Lord Krishna; pravishanti-attain; vai-indeed.

O king, the pure devotees, who know the truths explained in the Pancaratras, attain the company of Lord Hari.

Text 35

sankhyam yogash ca sanatane dve vedash ca sarve nikhile 'pi rajan sarvaih samastair rishibhir nirukto narayanam vishvam idam puranam. iti.

sankhyam-sankhya; yogah-yoga; ca-and; sanatane-eternal; dve-two; vedah-the Vedas; ca-and; sarve-all; nikhile-all; api-also; rajan-O king; sarvaih-by all; samastaih-by all; rishibhih-the sages; niruktah-said; narayanam-Narayana; vishvam-universe; idam-this; puranam-ancient; iti-thus.

"Sankhya and yoga are both eternal. All the Vedas are also eternal. All the sages declare that Lord Narayana is the ancient Supreme Personality of Godhead, the master of all the worlds."

Text 36

atra apantarata mah it i sh ri-krish na-dvaipayana sya i va jan man ta ra-na ma-vish esha it i ta tra i va j ne ya m. a tra i va m vy ak hye ya m pa n ca ra tra-sa m ma ta m sh ri-na ra ya na m e va sar vott a ma t ve na va k tum na na-ma ta m dar shay a ti san khy a m it i. ta tra pa n ca ra tra m e va ga ri shö ham a ca shö e pa n ca ra tra sye ty a da u bha ga van svay a m it i.

atra-here; apantarata mah-apantarata ma; it i-thus; sh ri-krish na-dvaipayana sya-of Sh ri Kr ish na-dvaipayana Vyasa; e va-cer tain ly; jan ma-birth; an ta ra-in an oth er; na ma-na me; vi sh esha-spe ci fic; it i-thus; ta tra-there; e va-in deed; j ne ya m-to be known; a tra-here; e va-m thus; vy ak hye ya m-to be ex plained; pa n ca ra tra-of the Pan ca ra tras; sa m ma ta m-the con clu sion; sh ri-na ra ya na m-Sh ri Na ra ya na; e va-in deed; sar vott a ma t ve na-as the best of all; va k tum-to say; na na-ma ta m-var ious op in ions; dar shay a ti-reveal; san khy a m-san khy a; it i-thus; ta tra-there; pa n ca ra tra m-Pan ca ra tra; e va-in deed; ga ri shö ham-the best; a ca shö e-says; pa n ca ra tra sya-of Pan ca ra tra; it i-thus; a da u-beg in ning; bha ga van-the Su pre me Per son ality of God head; svay a m-per son ally; it i-thus.

Here the word "apantarata ma" is Sh ri Kr ish na-dvaipayana Vyasa's name in a previous birth. These verses explain that all these different philosophies ultimately lead to the Pan ca ra tra philosophy, which declares that Lord Na ra ya na is the su pre me mas ter of all. The verse quoted here in text 30 specifically declares that the Pan ca ra tra philosophy is the best of all philosophies.

Text 37

atha dvau bhuta-sargau loke 'smin daiva asura eva it i sh ri-gi ta su shru ya te.

atha-now; dvau bhuta-sargau loke 'smin daiva asura eva it i sh ri-gi ta su-in Bhagavad-gi ta 16.6; shru ya te-is heard.

In Bhagavad-gi ta (16.6) the Su pre me Per son ality of God head de clares:

"O son of Pritha, in this world there are two kinds of created beings. One is called the divine and the other the demoni c."*

Text 38

yad e va ta ni na na-ma ta ni it y uk ta m tat tva su ra prak ri ty-anu sa re ne ty e va j ne ya m. da i va-prak ri ta ya s tu tat-tat-sar va va lo ka ne na pa n ca ra tra-pra ti pa dye sh ri-na ra ya na e va pa ry a va sy an ti ty a ha sar vesh v it i. asu ra m tu ni n da ti na ca i na m it i.

yad e va-there fore; ta ni na na-ma ta ni it y uk ta m-said in the pas sage be gin nignw ith the words "na na-ma ta ni"; tat tva-truth; asura-asura; prak ri ty-anu sa re na-following mat ter; it i-thus; e va-in deed; j ne ya m-to be known; daiva-prakritayah-who have a spiritual nature; tu-but; tat-tat-various; sarva-all; avalokanena-by seeing; pancaratra-pratipadye-explained in the Pancaratra; shri-narayana-Shri Narayana; eva-indeed; paryavasyanti-comes to the conclusion; iti-thus; aha-said; sarveshv iti-in the passage beginning with the word sarvesu; asuramh-the demons; tu-but; nindati-criticizes; na cainam iti-the passage beginning with the words "na cainam".

In these verses (beginning with text 26) the demonic and saintly natures are both described. In the words beginning with the verse quoted here in text 30 it is said that the final conclusion of the Pancaratra philosophy is the understanding that Lord Narayana is the Shri Supreme Personality of Godhead. In the verse quoted here and in text 31 the demons are criticized.

Text 39

tad uktam vishnu-dharmagni-puranayoh dvau bhuta-sargau loke 'smin daiva asura eva ca vishnu-bhaktah smrito saiva asuras tad-viparyayah. iti.

tat-that; uktam-said; vishnu-dharmagni-puranayoh-in the Vishnu, Dharma, and Agni Puranas; dvau-two; bhuta-of the living beings; sargau-dispositions; loke-in the world; asmin-in this; daiva-godly; asura-demonic; eva-certainly; ca-and; vishnu-bhaktah-a devotee of Lord Vishnu; smritah-remembered; daiva-godly; asurah-demonic; tad-viparyayah-the opposite of that; iti-thus.

In the Vishnu Purana, Dharma Purana, and Agni Purana it is said:

"There are two classes of men in the created world. One consists of the demonic and the other of the godly. The devotees of Lord Vishnu are the godly, whereas those who are just the opposite are called demons."*

Text 40

nanu tatra tatra mataya eva drishyante. tatraha tam eveti. pancaratretara-shastra-kartaro hi dvi-vidhah kincij-jnah sarva-jnash ca. tatradya yatha sva-sva-jnananusarena yat kincit tattvaika-desham vadanti. tat tu samudraika-desha-varnanam samudra iva purna-tattve shri-narayana eva paryavasyatiti te tam eva kincid vadanti.

nanu-is it not so; tatra tatra-there; mataya-opinions; eva-indeed; drishyante-are seen; tatra-there; aha-said tam eva iti-the words "tam eva"; pancaratra-Pancartara; itara-other; shastra-scriptures; kartarah-authors; hi-indeed; dvi-vidhah-two kinds; kincij-jnah-they who have some knowledge; sarva-jnah-they who have all knowledge; ca-also; tatra-there; adyah-the former; yatha-as; sva-sva-jnana-one's own knowledge; anusarena-according to; yat-what; kincit-something; tattva-truth; eka-only; deshah-place; vadanti-say; tat-that; tu-but; samudra-ocean; eka-only; desha-place; varnanam-description; samudra-ocean; iva-like; purna-full; tattve-truth; shri-narayana-Shri Narayana; eva-indeed; paryavasyati-concludes; iti-thus; te-they; tam-Him; eva-indeed; kincit-something; vadanti-say.

Here someone may protest: Is it not true that there are many different philosophies, and they are all valid in their own way?

To this protest a reply may be given by quoting the verse given here in text 32. Aside from the author of the Pancaratras, the authors of the scriptures are of two kinds: 1. persons who have some knowledge, and 2. persons who have all knowledge. The first of these, the persons who have some knowledge, can describe some portions of the truth, according to what they have the power to understand of it. It is very difficult to describe the entire ocean, but one may describe a portion of it. The glories of Lord Narayana are vast like an ocean. Therefore these authors of scripture are able to describe only a certain portion of them.

Text 41

ye tu sarvajnas te caivam abhiprayanti nasmabhir asuranam mohanartham eva kritani shastrani. kintu daivanam vyatirekena bodhanartham.

ye-who; tu-but; sarvajnah-knowing all; te-they; ca-and; evam-thus; abhiprayanti-intend; na-not; asmabhih-by us; asuranam-of demons; mohanartham-for bewilderment; eva-indeed; kritani-done; shastrani-books; kintu-however; daivanam-of godly; vyatirekena-by contrast; bodhanartham-for enlightening.

Scripture authors who have all knowledge do not think 'Let us write misleading things to bewilder the demons'. On the contrary, they think 'Let us write things to enlighten the godly'.

Text 42

te hi rajas-tamah-shavalasya khandasya ca tattvasya tatha klesha-bahulasya sadhanasya ca pratipadakany etani shastrani drishöva vedamsh ca durgaman drishöva ca nirvidya sarva-vedartha-sarasya shuddhakhanda-tattva-shri-narayanasya sukhamaya-tad-aradhanasya ca sushöhu pratipadake pancaratre eva gadham pravekshyantiti.

te-they; hi-indeed; rajah-passion; tamah-ignorance; shavalasya-barbarian; khandasya-broken; ca-and; tattvasya-truth; tatha-so; klesha-bahulasya-of many troubles; sadhanasya-of the method; ca-and; pratipadakani-proved; etani-these; shastrani-scriptures; drishöva-seeing; vedamsh-the Vedas; ca-and; durgaman-difficult to follow; drishöva-seeing; ca-and; nirvidya-being dissatisfied; sarva-all; veda-Vedas; artha-the meaning; sarasya-of the best; shuddha-pure; akhanda-unbroken; tattva-truth; shri-narayanasya-of Lord Narayana; sukhamaya-consisting of happiness; tat-of Him; aradhanasya-of the worship; ca-and; sushöhu-clearly; pratipadake-proved; pancaratre-in the Pancaratra; eva-indeed; gadham-firmly; pravekshyanti-will explain; iti-thus.

Seeing that the imperfect scriptures in the modes of passion and ignorance bring only a host of troubles, and also seeing that the original Vedas are very difficult to follow properly, and thus being very dissatisfied with both of them, the all-knowing scripture authors affirm the superiority of the Pancaratras, which describe the pure absolute truth, Lord Narayana, and the worship of Lord Narayana, which is very easy to perform.

Text 43

tad etad aha nihsamshayeshv iti. tasmät jhaöiti vedartha-pratipattaye pancaratram evadhyetavyam ity aha pancaratreti. yata evam tata upasamharati sankhyam ca yogash ceti.

tat-this; etat-that; aha-said; nihsamshayeshv iti-in the verse beginning with the word nihsamsayesu; tasmāt-from that; jhāñiti-at once; vedārtha-the meaning of the Vedas; pratipattaye-to establish; pancaratram-thew Pancaratra; eva-certainly; adhyetavyam-to be studied; iti-thus; aha-said; pancaratra iti-the verse beginning with the word "pancaratra; yata-from that; evam-thus; tata-from that; upasamharati-concludes; sankhyam ca yogash ca iti-the verse beginning with the words "sankhyam ca yogash ca".

This is confirmed in the Moksha-dharma verse quoted here in text 33. In the Moksha-dharma verse quoted here in text 34, it is said that to quickly understand the true meaning and purpose of the Vedas one should study the Pancaratras. That conclusion is given its final form in the Moksha-dharma verse quoted in this anuccheda in text 35.

Text 44

tad evam pancaratra-pratipadya-rupasya shri-bhagavata evam utkarshe sthite atmaramash ca munayah ity ady asakrid apurvam upadishata shri-bhagavatena pratipadya-rupasya tasya kim utety api vivecaniyam.

tat-that; evam-thus; pancaratra-of the Pancaratras; pratipadya-to be established; rupasya-of the form; shri-bhagavata-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; evam-thus; utkarshe-position of being most exalted; sthite-situated; atmaramash ca munayah ity adi-in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.7.10; asakrit-many times; apurvam-unprecedented; upadishata-shows; shri-bhagavatena-by Shrimad-Bhagavatam; pratipadya-rupasya-the form to be proved; tasya-of that; kim uta-how much more?; iti-thus; api-also; vivecaniyam-to be said.

That the form of the Supreme Personality of Godhead is the original, the highest feature of the Supreme is the truth taught in the Pancaratras. This truth is also confirmed by the following words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (1.7.10):

"All different varieties of atmaramas (those who take pleasure in atma, or spirit self), especially those established on the path of self-realization, though freed from all kinds of material bondage, desire to render unalloyed devotional service unto the Personality of Godhead. This means that the Lord possesses transcendental qualities and therefore can attract everyone, including liberated souls."*

What more need be said?

Text 45

tad etad uktanusanena sada-shiveshvara-tri-devi-rupa-vyuhā 'pi nirastah. tasmad eva ca shri-bhagavat-purushayor eva shaivagame sadashivadi-samjñe tan-mahima-khyapanaya dhṛite iti gamyate. sarva-shastra-shiromanau shri-bhagavate tu tri-devyam eva tat-taratamya-jijnāsa. puruṣa-bhagavato tu tat-prasanga eva naṣṭi.

tat-this; etat-that; ukta-said; anusarena-following; sada-shiveshvara-of Lord Sadashiva; tri-devi-rupa-vyuhah-the forms of the three goddesses; api-also; nirastah-rejected; tasmāt-therefore; eva-indeed; ca-also; shri-bhagavat-purushayor-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead and the puruṣa-avatara; eva-indeed; shaivagame-in the Shiava scriptures; sadashiva-with Lord Sadashiva; adi-beginning; samjñe-names; tan-mahima-khyapanaya-for describing His glories; dhṛite-held; iti-thus; gamyate-is attained; sarva-shastra-shiromanau-in the crest jewel of all scriptures; shri-bhagavate-in Shrimad-Bhagavatam; tu-but; tri-devyam-in the three goddesses; eva-indeed; tat-taratamya-of the gradations of higher and lower; jijnāsa-the desire to understand; puruṣa-bhagavato-of the puruṣa-avatara and the Supreme Personality of Godhead; tu-but; tat-prasanga-in association with Him; eva-indeed; na-not; asti-is.

In may also be noted in the context of these words that Lord Shadashiva is not the same as the demigod Shiva of the three guna-avatars. In the Shiva scriptures it is clearly said that Lord Sadashiva is an expansion of the purusha-avatara and the Supreme Personality of Godhead. In Shrimad-Bhagavatam (in Canto Ten. Chapter Eighty-nine), the crest jewel of all scriptures, the question "Who is the most exalted of the three guna-avatars?" is raised. In the answer given there it is clear that the demigod Shiva is not an expansion of the Supreme Personality of Godhead and the purusha-avatara.

Text 46

brahmadayo yat krita-setu-pala yat karanam vishvam idam ca maya ajna-kari yasya pishaca-carya aho vibhumnash caritam vidambanam brahmadayah-demigods like Brahma; yat-whose; krita-activities; setu-religious rites; palah-observers; yat-one who is; karanam-the origin of; vishvam-the universe; idam-this; ca-also; maya-material energy; ajna-kari-order carrier; yasya-whose; pishaca-devilish; carya-activity; ahah-O my Lord; vibhumnah-of the great; caritam-character; vidambanam-simply imitation.

The demigod Lord Shiva is described in the following words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (3.14.29):

"Demigods like Brahma also follow the religious rites observed by him (Shiva). He (Shiva) is the controller of the material energy, which causes the creation of the material world. he is great, and therefore his devilish activities are simply imitation."*

Text 47

ity asya tritiye gunavataratvena parameshvarabheda-drishöya tathatvam uktam iti jneyam.

iti-thus; asya-of this; tritiye-in the Third Canto; gunavataratvena-as a guna-avatar; parameshvarabheda-drishöya-by the explanation that he is different from the Supreme Personality of Godhead; tathatvam-the state of being like that; uktam-said; iti-thus; jneyam-to be known.

From these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam it should be understood that the demigod Shiva is one of the guna-avatars. He is different from the Supreme Personality of Godhead.

Text 48

nanu

na te giritrakhila-loka-pala-virinca-vaikunöha-surendra-gamyam jyotih param yatra rajas tamash ca sattvam na yad brahma nirasta-bhedam ity asya tasya paratvam shruyate evashöame.

nanu-is it not said?; na-not; te-of your Lordship; giritra-O king of the mountains; akhila-loka-pala-all the directors of departments of material activities; virinca-Lord Brahma; vaikunöha-Lord Vishnu; surendra-the king of heaven; gamyam-they cann understand; jyotih-effulgence; param-transcendental; yatra-wherein; rajah-the mode of passion; tamash ca-and the mode of ignorance; sattvam-the mode of goodness; na-not; yad brahma-which is impersonal Brahma; nirasta-bhedam -without distinction between demigods and human beings; iti-thus; asya-of Him; tasya-of Him; paratvam-supremacy; shruyate-is heard; eva-indeed; ashöame-in the Eighth Canto.

Here someone may protest: Is it not so that the following words are found in the Eighth Canto of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (8.7.31):

"O Lord Girisha, since the impersonal Brahman effulgence is transcendental to the material modes of goodness, passion, and ignorance, the various directors of the material world certainly cannot appreciate it or even know where it is. It is not understandable even to Lord Brahma, Lord Vishnu, or the King of heaven, Mahendra."*

These words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam's Eighth Canto clearly show that Lord Shiva is the Supreme Personality of Godhead.

Text 49

maivam. mahimna stuyamana hi deva viryena vardhate iti vaidika-nyayena tad-ayukteh. sa hi stavah kalakuöa-nashartham eva.

ma-not; evam-like that; mahimna-glory; stuyamana-praising; hi-indeed; deva-demigods; viryena-with power; vardhate-increase; iti-thus; vaidika-of the Vedas; nyayena-by the example; tad-ayukteh-not logical for that; sa-that; hi-indeed; stavah-prayer; kalakuöa-nashartham-to destroy the kalakuta poison; eva-indeed.

To this protest I reply: It is not so. The idea that Lord Shiva is the Supreme Personality of Godhead is disproved by the following words of the Vedas:

"By glorifying Lord Vishnu, the demigods become powerful."

The Shrimad-Bhagavatam verse you quoted was an appeal to Lord Shiva begging him to destroy the ocean of Kalakuöa poison.

Text 50

tatraiva prite harau bhagavati priye 'ham sa-caracarah iti.

tatra-there; eva-indeed; prite harau bhagavati priye 'ham sa-caracarah iti-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 8.7.40.

In that same chapter of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (8.7.40) Lord Shiva himself affirms the supremacy of Lord Vishnu. Shiva says:

"My dear gentle wife Bhavani, when one performs benevolent activities for others, the Supreme Personality of Godhead, Hari, is very pleased. And when the Lord is pleased, I am also pleased, along with all other living creatures."*

Text 51

tatha navame

vayam na tata prabhavama bhumni.
yasmin pare 'nye 'py aja-jiva-koshah bhavanti kale na bhavanti hidrishah sahasrasho yatra vayam bhramamah. iti.

tatha-so; navame-in the Ninth Canto; vayam-we; na-not; tata-O my dear son; prabhavama-sufficiently able; bhumni-unto the great Supreme Personality of Godhead; yasmin-in whom; pare-in the Transcendence; anye-others; api-even; aja-Lord Brahma; jiva-the living entities; kosha-the universes; bhavanti-can become; kale-in due course of time; na-not; bhavanti-can become; hi-indeed; idrishah-like this; sahasrashah-many thousands and millions; yatra-wherein; vayam-all of us; bhramamah-are rotating; iti-thus.

That Lord Shiva is not the Supreme Personality of Godhead is also confirmed by these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (9.4.56) where Lord Shiva himself explains:

"My dear son, I, Lord Brahma, and the other demigods, who rotate within this universe under the misconception of our greatness, cannot exhibit any power to compete with the Supreme Personality of Godhead, for innumerable universes and their inhabitants come into existence and are annihilated by the simple direction of the Lord."*

Text 52

ete vayam yasya vashe mahatmanah sthitah shakunöha iva sutra-yantritah iti ca tad-vakya-virodhat.

ete- vayam yasya vashe mahatmanah sthitah shakunöha iva sutra-yantritah iti-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 5.17.23; ca-also; tad-vakya-virodhat-because of refuting those words.

In Shrimad-Bhagavatam (5.17.23) Lord Shiva himself affirms:

"Therefore, I worship the Supreme Personality of Godhead, who is greater than any of us and under whose control are situated all the demigods, material elements, and senses, and even Lord Brahma and I myself, like birds bound by a rope."*

These two verses of Shrimad-Bhagavatam clearly refute the idea that Lord Shiva is the Supreme Personality of Godhead.

Text 53

athava yat shivasya jyotis tatra sthitam paramatmakhyam chaitanyam tat-samyag-jnane tasyapy akshamata yuktaiva.

athava-or; yat-which; shivasya-of Lord Shiva; jyotih-effulgence; tatra-there; sthitam-situated; paramatmakhyam-called the Supersoul; chaitanyam-conscious; tat-samyag-jnane-in right knowledge; tasya-of Him; api-also; akshamata-inability; yukta-proper; eva-indeed.

Or, considering this from another point of view, it may be said that Lord Shiva's effulgence, which is described in the verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 8.7.31, quoted here in text 48) previously quoted by you, is the home of all-knowing Lord Vishnu, who is known as the Paramatma, or Supersoul. Understood in this way, it is quite proper that Lord Shiva's effulgence is beyond the living entities' understanding.

Text 54

yad uktam dyu-pataya eva te na yayur antam anantataya tvam api yad antaranda-nicaya nanu savaranah iti.

yat-what; uktam-said; dyu-pataya eva te na yayur antam anantataya tvam api yad antaranda-nicaya nanu savaranah iti-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.87.41.

That Lord Vishnu is the Supreme Personality of Godhead is also confirmed by the following words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.87.41), where the Personified Vedas pray to Lord Vishnu:

"Our dear Lord, although Lord Brahma, the predominating deity of the highest planet, Brahmaloka, and King Indra, the predominating demigod of the heavenly planet, as well as the predominating deities of the sun planet, the moon planet, etc. are all very confidential directors of this material world, they have very little knowledge about You. And what to speak of ordinary human beings and mental speculators? It is not possible for anyone to enumerate the unlimited transcendental qualities of Your Lordship. No one, including the mental speculators and the demigods in the higher planetary systems is actually able to estimate the length and breadth of Your form and characteristics."*

Text 55

brahma-samhita-mate tu bhagavad-anga-vishesha eva sadashivah. na tv anyah. yatha tatraiva sarvadi-karana-govinda-kathane

brahma-samhita-mate-in the opinion of Brahma-samhita; tu-indeed; bhagavad-anga-vishesha-as a limb of Lord Krishna's body; eva-indeed; sadashivah-Lord Sadashiva; na-not; tv-but; anyah-another; yatha-as; tatra-there; eva-indeed; sarvadi-karana-the original cause of all causes; govinda-of Lord Krishna; kathane-in the description.

In the words of Brahma-samhita it is said that Lord Sadashiva is a direct expansion of Lord Vishnu. However, the other Shiva, the demigod Shiva, is not a direct expansion of Lord Vishnu. This is described in the following words of Brahma-samhita (5.8 and 5.10) where Lord Krishna's status as the original cause of all causes is described in these words:

Text 56

niyatih sa rama devi
tat-priya tad-vashamvada niyatih-regulatrix; sa-she; rama-goddess Rama; devi-goddess; tat-priya-dear to him; tad-vashamvada-under control.

"Ramadevi, the spiritual (cit) potency, beloved consort of the Supreme Lord, is the regulatrix of all entities."

Text 57

tal-lingam bhagavan shambhur jyoti-rupah sanatanah ya yonih sa para shaktih ity adi.

tal-lingam-the emblem of Him; bhagavan-Lord; shambhuh-Shambhu; jyoti-rupah-the form of light; sanatanah-eternal; ya-which; yonih-place of birth; sa-she; para-divine; shaktih-potency; iti-thus; adi-beginning.

"The divine plenary portion of Krishna creates the mundane world. at creation there appears a divine halo of the nature of His own subjective portion (svamsha). This halo is divine Shambhu, the masculine symbol or manifested emblem of the Supreme Lord. This halo is the dim twilight reflection of the supreme eternal effulgence . This masculine symbol is the subjective portion of divinity who functions as progenitor of the mundane world, subject to the supreme regulatrix (niyati). The conceiving potency in regard to mundane creation makes her appearance out of the supreme regulatrix. She is Maya, the limited non-absolute (apara) potency, the symbol of mundane feminine productivity."*

Text 58

tasminn avirabhul linge maha-vishnuh ity ady-antam.

tasmin-in that; avirabhut-manifested; linge-emblem; maha-vishnuh--Lord Maha-Vishnu; iti-thus; adi-beginning; antam-end.

"the Lord of the world Maha-Vishnu is manifest in him (Shiva) by His subjective portion in the form of His glance."

Text 59

tad etad abhipretya sadashivatvadi-prasiddhim apy akshipyaha

tat-this; etad-that; abhipretya-understanding; sadashivatva-the status of Lord sadashiva adi-beginning; prasiddhim-proof; api-also; akshipya-throwing away; aha-said.

Lord Sadashiva is thus a direct expansion of Lord Vishnu. Therefore the words of the following verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.18.21) refer not to Him, but to the demigod Shiva:

Text 60

athapi yat-pada-nakhavashrishöam jagad-virincopahritarhanambhah sesham punaty anyatamo mukundat ko nama loke bhagavat-padarthah atha-therefore; api-certainly; yat-whose; pada-nakha-nails of the feet; avashrishöam-emanating; jagat-the whole universe; virinca-Brahmaji; upahrita-collected; arhana-worship; ambhah-water; sa-along with; isham-Lord Shiva; punati-purifies; anyatamah-who else; mukundat-besides the Personality of Godhead, Shri Krishna; kah-who?; nama-name; loke-within the world; bhagavat-Supreme Lord; pada-position; arthah-worth.

"Who can be worthy of the name of the Supreme Lord but the Personality of Godhead, Shri Krishna? Brahmaji collected the water emanating from the nails of His feet in order to award it to Lord Shiva as a worshipful welcome. This very water (the Ganges) is purifying the whole universe, including Lord Shiva."*

Text 61

spashöam. shri-sutah.

spashöam-clear; shri-sutah-Shri Suta Gosvami.

The meaning of this verse is clear. The verse quoted in the beginning of this anuccheda was spoken by Shrila Suta Gosvami.

Anuccheda 18

Text 1

tasmat naham shivo na canye ca tac-chakty-ekamsha-bhaginah ity evam sadhv eva uktam ity aha tasmat-therefore; na-not; aham-I; shivah-Shiva; na-not; ca-and; anye-others; ca-also; tat-shakti-of His potencies; eka-one; amsha-bhaginah-part; iti-thus; evam-thus; sadhv-well; eva-indeed; uktam-spoken; iti-thus; aha-said.

That Lord Shiva is not the Supreme Personality of Godhead is also very eloquently said in these words of the Brahma-vaivarta Purana, where Lord Shiva himself declares:

"I, Lord Shiva, am not the Supreme Personality of Godhead, and the other demigods are not the Supreme Personality of Godhead either. We are all parts of one of the Supreme Lord's transcendental potencies."

Text 2

brahma bhavo 'ham api yasya kalah kalayah iti.

brahma bhavo 'ham api yasya kalah kalayah iti-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.68.37.

That Lord Shiva is not the Supreme Personality of Godhead is also confirmed by the following words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.68.37) where Lord Balarama declares:

"Brahma, Shiva, and I are parts of the parts of Lord Krishna."

Text 3

spashöam. shri-baladevah.

spashöam-clear; shri-baladevah-Lord Balarama.

The meaning of this verse is clear. This verse was spoken by Lord Balarama

Anuccheda 19

Text 1

atha paramatma-parikareshu jivas tasya ca taöastha-lakshanam kshetrajna etah iti atroktam svarupa-lakshanam padmottara-khandadikam anushritya shri-ramanujacarya-matacarya-varena parama-vriddha-shri-vaishnava-sampradaya-guruna shri-jamatri-muninopadishöam.

atha-now; paramatma-of the Supersoul; parikareshu-among the associates; jivah-the individual spirit soul; tasya-of Him; ca-and; taöastha-lakshanam-considered the marginal potency; kshetrajna etah iti-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 5.11.12; atra-here; uktam-said; svarupa-lakshanam-the nature of His own form; padmottara-khandadikam-beginning with the Padma Purana, Uttara-khanda; anushritya-following; shri-ramanujacarya-of Shri Ramanuja Acarya; mata-the opinion; acarya-varena-by the great acarya; parama-great; vriddha-increased; shri-vaishnava-sampradaya-of the Shri Vaishnava sampradaya; guruna-by the spiritual master; shri-jamatri-munina-by Shri Jamatr Muni; upadishöam-taught.

The individual spirit soul is the marginal potency of the Lord. The soul is counted among the associates of the Supersoul. This is explained in the following words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (5.11.12)

"The individual soul bereft of Krishna consciousness has many ideas and activities created in the mind by the external energy. They have been existing from time immemorial. Sometimes they are manifest in the waking state and the dream state, but during deep sleep (unconsciousness) or trance, they disappear. A person who is liberated in this life (jivan-mukta) can see all these things vividly."

That the individual spirit soul is the marginal potency of the Supreme Lord is confirmed by the statements of Padma Purana, Uttara-khanda, by the statements of the great Shri Vaishnava acarya Shri Ramanujacarya, and also by the statements of the sage Jamata Muni.

Text 2

tatra pranava-vyakhyane padmottara-khandam yatha jnanashrayo jnana-gunas cetanah prakriteh parah na jato nirvikarash ca

eka-rupah svarupa-bhak

tatra-there; pranava-vyakhyane-in the commentary on Omkara; padmottara-khandam-the Padma Purana, Uttara-khanda; yatha-as; jnanashrayah-the shelter of knowledge; jnana-gunah-the quality of knowledge; cetanah-consciousness; prakriteh-from nature; parah-above; na-not; jatah-born; nirvikarah-unchanging; ca-and; eka-rupah-one form; svarupa-bhak-situated in His original form.

That the individual spirit soul is the marginal potency of the Supreme Lord is confirmed by these words of Padma Purana, Uttara-khanda, Chapter 90:

"The individual spirit soul is full of knowledge, virtuous, beyond the touch of matter, unborn, unchanging, and naturally situated in a single spiritual form.

Text 3

anur nityo vyapti-shilas
cid-anandatmakas tatha
aham-artho 'vyayah kshetri bhinna-rupah sanatanah

anuh-atomic; nityah-eternal; vyapti-shilah-all-pervading; cid-anandatmakah-full of spiritual bliss; tatha-so; aham-arthah-ego; avyayah-unchanging; kshetri-tyhe knower of the field of activities; bhinna-rupah-a separated form; sanatanah-eternal.

"He is atomic in size, all-pervading within the material body, full of spiritual bliss, a separate and distinct person, unchanging, the knower of the field of activities, eternal, and different from others.

Text 4

adahyo 'cchedya akledya ashoshyo 'kshara eva ca evam-adi-gunair yuktah shesha-bhutam parasya vai adahyah-not burn; acchedya-not cut; akledya-not moistened; ashoshyah-not withered; akshara-imperishable; eva-indeed; ca-and; evam-thus; adi-beginning; gunaih-with qualities; yuktah-endowed; shesha-bhutam-the remainder; parasya-of the Supreme; vai-indeed.

"He cannot be burned, cut, moistened, dried, withered, or killed. He has these and many other spiritual virtues. He is part and parcel of the Supreme.

Text 5

makarenocyate jivah kshetrajnah paravan sada dasa-bhuto harer eva nanyasyaiva kadacana. iti.

makarena-by the syllable ma; ucyate-is said; jivah-the individual spirit soul; kshetrajnah-the knower of the field of activities; paravan-superior; sada-always; dasa-bhuta-a servant; hareh-of Lord Hari; eva-indeed; na-not; anyasya-of another; eva-indeed; kadacana-ever; iti-thus.

"In the sacred syllable Om, the letter m stands for the individual spirit soul. The individual soul is the knower of the field of activities. He is transcendental, and he is, in his original spiritual nature, a servant of Lord Hari. He is not a servant of anyone else."

Text 6

shri-jamatri-muninapy upadishöam yatha atma na devo na naro na tiryak sthavarö na ca na deho nendriyam naiva manah prano na napi dhih

shri-jamatri-munina-by Shri Jamata Muni; api-also; upadishöam-taught; yatha-as; atma-the soul; na-not; devah-a demigod; na-not; naro -a human; na-not; tiryak-an animal; sthavarah-stationary; na-not; ca-and; na-nto; deha-body; na-not; indriyam-senses; na-not; eva-indeed; manah-the mind; pranah-the life breath; na-not; na-not; api-also; dhih-the intelligence.

Shri Jamata Muni teaches:

"The soul is not a demigod, not a human being, not a animal, not an unmoving plant, not the material body, not the senses, not the mind, not the life breath, and not the intelligence.

Text 7

na jado na vikari ca
jnana-matratmakö na ca svasmai svayam-prakashah syad eka-rupah svarupa-bhak
cetano vyapti-shilash ca
cid-anandatmakas tatha

na-not; jadah-material; na-not; vikari-subject to change; ca-and; jnana-knowledge; matra-only; atmakah-self; na-not; ca-and; svasmai-to himself; svayam-prakashah-personally manifested; syat-may be; eka-rupah-one form; svarupa-bhak-having his own original form; cetanah-conscious; vyapti-shilah-all-pervading; ca-and;

cid-anandatmakah-full of spiritual knowledge; tatha-so.

"The soul is not made of matter, nor is he subject to the changes matter imposes. His knowledge is not limited to the perception of the material world. He is conscious. He is all-pervading within the material body. He is self-manifest. He has his own original spiritual form, which is full of spiritual knowledge and bliss.

Text 8

aham-arthah pratikshetram bhinnō 'nūr nitya-nirmalah tatha jnatritva-kartritva-bhoktritva-nija-dharmakah paramatmaika-sheshatvasvabhavah sarvada svatah. iti.

aham-arthah-ego; pratikshetram-every field; bhinnah-different; anuh-atomic; nitya-nirmalah-always pure; tatha-so; jnatritva-the state of being the knower; kartritva-the state of being the doer; bhoktritva-the state of being the enjoyer; nija-own; dharmakah-nature; paramatmaika-sheshatva-svabhavah-part and parcel of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; sarvada-always; svatah-himself; iti-thus.

"he is an individual person, different from other persons. He is atomic in size. He is eternally pure. In his original spiritual nature he is a knower, a doer, and an enjoyer. Eternally he is a part and parcel of the Supreme Personality of Godhead."

Text 9

shri-ramanuja-bhashyanusarena vyakhya ceyam. tatra devaditvam nirastam evasti tattva-sandarbhe

shri-ramanuja-bhashya-the commentary of Shri Ramanuja Acarya; anusarena-according to; vyakhya-commented; ca-also; iyam-this; tatra-there; devaditvam-beginning with attaining the position of a demigod; nirastam-rejected; eva-indeed; asti-is; tattva-sandarbhe-in the Tattva-sandarbha.

In his commentary, Shri Ramanuja Acarya gives the same explanation. In this way the idea that the individual soul is a demigod or other kind of material identity within this material world is clearly rejected. This idea is also rejected in the following words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (11.3.39), which I have previously quoted in Shri Tattva-sandarbha:

Text 10

andeshu peshishu tarushv avinishciteshu prano hi jivam upadhavati tatra tatra sanne yad indriya-gane 'hami ca prasupte kuöastha ashayam rite tad-anusmritir nah andeshu-in eggs; peshishu-in embryos; tarushv-in plants; avinishciteshu-undetermined; pranah-life; hi-indeed; jivam-soul; upadhavati-follows; tatra tatra-whenever; sanne-merged; yat-what; indriya-gane-senses; ahami-in ego; ca-and; prasupte-sleeping; kuöastha-unchanging; ashayam-covering of contaminated consciousness; rite-without; tad-anusmritih-remembering that; nah-of us.

"The spirit soul is born in many different species of life within the material world. Some species are born from eggs, others from embryos, others from the seeds of plants and trees, and others from perspiration. But in all species of life the prana, or vital air, remains unchanging and follows the spirit soul from one body to another. Similarly the spirit soul is eternally the same despite its material condition of life. We have practical experience of this. When we are absorbed in deep sleep without dreaming, the material senses become inactive, and even the mind and false ego are merged into a dormant condition. But although the senses, mind, and false ego are inactive, one remembers upon waking that he, the soul, was peacefully sleeping."*

Text 11

ity anena dehaditvam nirasyann aha

iti-thus; anena-by this; dehaditvam-the nody or other things; nirasyann-rejecting; aha-says.

The idea that the soul is the material body or some other material thing is again rejected by these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (11.10.8):

Text 12

vilakshanah sthula-sukshmad dehad atmekshita sva-drik yathagnir daruno dahyad dahako 'nyah prakashakah vilakshanah-different; sthula-sukshmat-from subtle and gross; dehat-body; atma-the soul; ikshita--is seen; sva-oneself; drik-seeing; yatha-as; agnih-fire; darunah-firewood; dahyat-to be burned; dahakah-the burner; anyah-another; prakashakah-manifestation.

"As fire is different from firewood, so the soul, the seer of things, is different from the subtle and gross material bodies."

Text 13

vilakshanatve hetuh ikshita tasya tasya drashöa prakashash ca. svayam tu sva-drik sva-prakasha iti. shri-bhagavan.

vilakshanatve-in difference; hetuh-the reason; ikshita-the seer; tasya-of that; tasya-of that; drashöa-the seer; prakashah-the light; ca-also; svayam-personally; tu-but; sva-drik-self seeing; sva-prakasha-self manifest; iti-thus; shri-bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead.

The reason why the soul is different from the material body is given in the word "ikshita" which means "he who sees". The word "sva-drik" means "self-manifest". This verse was spoken by the Supreme Personality of Godhead.

Anuccheda 20

Text 1

jadatvam nirasyann aha

jagrat-svapna-sushuptam ca gunato vridhhi-vrittayah tasam vilakshano jivah sakshitvena vinishcitah

jadatvam-material status; nirasyann-rejecting; aha-says; jagrat-svapna-sushuptam-waking, dreaming, and dreamless sleep; ca-and; gunatah-from the modes of nature; vridhhi-vrittayah-causes of increase; tasam-of them; vilakshanah-different; jivah-the soul; sakshitvena-because of being a witness; vinishcitah-determined.

The idea that the soul is material is again rejected in these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (11.13.27):

"The soul is different from whatever the modes of nature perform in waking, dreaming, or dreamless sleep, for the soul is a witness only."

Text 2

ya tu mayi turye sthito jahyat ity adau parameshvare 'pi turyatva-prasiddhih.

ya-which; tu-indeed; mayi turye sthito jahyat ity adau-in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.13.28; parameshvare-in the Supreme Lord; api-also; turyatva-transcendental nature; prasiddhih-proof.

In Shrimad-Bhagavatam (11.13.28), the Supreme Personality of Godhead advises:

"The soul should renounce the material world and find Me, who am always situated in transcendence."

In this way it is proved that the Supreme Personality of Godhead is always beyond the touch of the material world.

Text 3

sanyathaiva

viraö hiranyagarbhash ca karanam cety upadhayah ishasya yat tribhir hinam turiyam tat padam viduh sa-that; anyatha-in another way; eva-indeed; viraö-Kshirodakashayi Vishnu; hiranyagarbhah-Garbhodakashayi Vishnu; ca-and; karanam-Karanodakashayi Vishnu; ca-and; iti-thus; upadhayah-designations; ishasya-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; yat-what; tribhih-by three; hinam-without;

turiyam-transcendence; tat-that; padam-state; viduh-know.

The word "turiya" here can also be interpreted in a different way, as Shrila Shridhara Svami explains in these words (Shri Bhavartha-dipika, commentary on Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.15.16):

"The Lord has three forms: 1. Kshirodakashayi Vishnu, 2. Garbhodakashayi Vishnu, and Karanodakashayi Vishnu. His fourth form is Lord Vasudeva. That is why Lord Vasudeva is called 'turiya' (the fourth)."

Text 4

ity ady-ukte vasudevasya catur-vyuhe turya-kakshakrantatvad va. shri-bhagavan.

iti-thus; adi-beginning; ukte-said; vasudevasya-of Lord Vasudeva; catur-vyuhe-in the four expansions; turya-kakshakrantatvat-because of being situated in transcendence; va-or; shri-bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead.

Or, the word "turiya" may mean: Among the four Catur-vyuha forms of the Lord, Lord Vasudeva is the fourth. That is why He is called 'turiya' (the fourth)."

Anuccheda 21

Text 1

vikaritvam nirasyann aha

visargadyah shmashananta bhava dehasya natmanah kalanam iva candrasya kalenavyakta-vartmana

vikaritvam-being subject to change; nirasyann-refuting; aha-said; visargadyah-beginning with creation; shmashananta-ending with cremation; bhava-states; dehasya-of the body; na-not; atmanah-of the soul; kalanam-of different phases; iva-like; candrasya-of the moon; kalena-in time; avyakta-unmanifest; vartmana-by the pathway.

That the soul is subject to change is refuted by these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (11.7.48):

"Although the invisible movements of time push it through different phases, the moon is always unchanged. In this same way, although the body is pushed through many changes, which begin with birth and end with death and cremation, the soul is always unchanged."

Text 2

candrasya jalamaya-mandalatvat kalanam surya-praticchavi-rupa-jyotir-atmakatvad yatha kalanam eva janmadya nashanta bhavah. na tu candrasya. tatha dehasyaiva te bhava avyakta-vartmana kalena bhavanti.

na tv atmana ity arthah. shri-dattatreya yadum.

candrasya-of the moon; jalamaya-mandalatvat-because of being a circle made of water; kalanam-of the phases; surya-from the sun; praticchavi-reflected; rupa-jyotih-light; atmakatvat-because of; yatha-as; kalanam-of the phases; eva-indeed; janmadya-beginning with birth; nashanta-ending with death; bhavah-states of being; na-not; tu-but; candrasya-of the moon; tatha-so; dehasya-of the body; eva-indeed; te-those; bhava-states; avyakta-unmanifest; vartmana-by the path; kalena-by time; bhavanti-are; na-not; tv-but; atmana-of the soul; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; shri-dattatreya-Shri Dattatreya; yadum-to King Yadu.

Because the moon is composed of water, and because it shines with light reflected from the sun, the moon itself is not changed when it goes through different phases. In the same way the soul is not changed when time forces the material body to go through the changes that begin with birth and end with death. This verse was spoken by Shri Dattatreya to King Yadu.

Anuccheda 22

Text 1

jnana-matratmakō na ca iti. kim tarhi jnana-matratve 'pi jnana-shaktitvam prakashasya prakashana-shaktitvat tadrishatvam api.

jnana-matratmakah-only knowledge; na-not; ca-also; iti-thus; kim-whether?; tarhi-then; jnana-matratve-in the state of being only knowledge; api-also; jnana-shaktitvam-the state of being the knowledge potency; prakashasya-of light; prakashana-manifestation; shaktitvat-because of being the potency; tadrishatvam-the state of being like that; api-also.

The phrase "jnana-matratmakō na ca" in the verse from Jamata Muni's teachings (quoted in this book in anuccheda 19, text 7) means that the individual soul is not only the potency of transcendental knowledge, but the soul is also the potency of transcendental glory. The soul is described in the following words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (11.3.38):

Text 2

natma jajana na marishyati naidhate 'sau na kshiyate savana-vid-vyabhicarinam hi sarvatra shashvat-anapayy-upalabdhi-matram prano yathendriya-balena vikalpitam sat na-not; atma-the soul; jajana-is born; na-not; marishyati-will die; na-not; edhate-grows; asau-he; na-not; kshiyate-diminishes; savana-vit-the knower of the the phases of time; vyabhicarinam-in changing things; hi-indeed; sarvatra-everywhere; shashvat-always; anapayy-the companion; upalabdhi-knowledge; matram-only; pranah-life force; yatha-as; indriya-of the senses; balena-by the power; vikalpitam-imagined; sat-what.

"The soul was never born. It will never die. It never grows. It never decays. The soul is the witness, observing the changes time forces on changeable things. The soul is consciousness, existing always and in every situation. As, influenced by the senses, one mistakenly thinks the life force changes, so the soul, bewildered about his own nature, thinks that he also changes."

Text 3

ity anena tattva-sandarbha eva darshitam. atra upalabdhi-matratve 'pi savanavittvenokteh spashöam eva tadrisha-jnana-shaktitvam.

iti-thus; anena-by this; tattva-sandarbha-in the Tattva-sandarbha; eva-indeed; darshitam-revealed; atra-here; upalabdhi-matratve-only consciousness; api-even; savana-of time; vittvena-as the knower; uktehfrom the statement; spashöam-clear; eva-indeed; tadrisha-like this; jnana-of knowledge; shaktitvam-the state of being the potency.

This is also shown in the explanations of Shri Tattva-sandarbha. Here the words "upalabdhi-matram" and "savana-vit" clearly show that the individual soul is the potency of transcendental knowledge.

Text 4

ata eva shuddho vicashöe hy avishuddha-kartuh ity uktam.

ata eva-therefore; shuddho vicashöe hy avishuddha-kartuh ity uktam-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 5.11.12.

In Shrimad-Bhagavatam (5.11.12) the souls is also described in these words:

"A person who is liberated in this life (jivan-mukta) can see all these things vividly."*

Text 5

prakarantarenapi tad aha

gunair vicitrah shrijatim sarupah prakritim prajah vilokya mumuhe sadyah
sa iha jnana-guhaya

prakarantarena-with a different kind; api-also; tat-that; aha-says; gunaih-by the threefold modes; vicitrah-variegated; shrijatim-creating; sarupah-with forms; prakritim-material nature; prajah-living entities; vilokya-having seen; mumuhe-was illusioned; sadyah-at once; sa-the living entity; iha-in this world; jnana-guhaya-by the knowledge-covering feature.

Different from the liberated soul is the conditioned soul. The conditioned soul is described in these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (3.26.5):

"Divided into varieties by her threefold modes, material nature creates the forms of the living entities, and the living entities, seeing this, are illusioned by the knowledge-covering feature of the illusory energy."*

Text 6

atra vilokya ity anena. mumuhe ity anena. jnana-guhaya ity anena ca parag-bhutayah prakrites tat-kritad ajnanac ca pratyag bhutam yaj jnanam tat tasya svarupa-shaktir eva syad iti gamyate.

atra-here; vilokya ity anena-by the word "vilokya"; mumuhe ity anena-by the word "mumuhe". jnana-guhaya ity anena-by the word "jnana-guhaya"; ca-also; parag-bhutayah-the unfavorable potencies; prakriteh-of matter; tat-kritat-done by that; ajnana-from ignorance; ca-also; pratyak-bhutam-favorable; yaj-what; jnanam-knowledge; tat-that; tasya-of that; svarupa-own form; shaktih-potency; eva-indeed; syat-may be; iti-thus; gamyate-is attained.

Here the words "vilokya", "mumuhe", and "jnana-guhaya" point to the actions of the inauspicious material potency. Different from that material potency is the Lord's internal spiritual potency, which brings transcendental knowledge.

Text 7

shri-gitopanishadash ca tatha ajnanenavritam jnanam tena muhyanti jantavah iti.

shri-gitopanishadah-in Shri Bhagavad-gita; ca-also; tatha ajnanenavritam jnanam tena muhyanti jantavah iti-verse 15.15.

The inauspicious material potency is also described in these words of Bhagavad-gita (5.15):

"Embodied beings are bewildered, however, because of the ignorance that covers their true knowledge."*

Text 8

shri-kapiladevah.

shri-kapiladevah-Shri Kapiladeva.

The verse quoted in the beginning of this anuccheda was spoken by Lord Kapiladeva.

Anuccheda 23

Text 1

shakty-antaram cahuh

sa yad ajaya tv ajam anushayita gunamsh" ca jushan bhajati sarupatam tad anu mrityum apeta-bhagah iti.

shakty-antaram-another potency; ca-and; ahuh-said; sa-that; yat-which; ajaya-unbron; tv-indeed; ajam-unbron; anushayita-lies down; gunamshmodes; ca-and; jushan-engaging; bhajati-worships; sarupatam-having that nature; tat-that; anu-following; mrityum-death; apeta-bhagah-whose virtues are stolen; iti-thus.

The material potency is also described in these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.87.38):

"The illusory material nature attracts the minute living entity to embrace her, and as a result he assumes forms composed of her qualities. Subsequently, he loses all of his spiritual qualities and must undergo repeated deaths."

Text 2

öika ca sa tu jivo yad yasmad ajaya mayaya ajam avidyam anushayita alinget. tato gunamsh" ca dehendriyadin jushan sevamana atmataya adhyasyan tad anu tad-anantaram sarupatam tad-dharma-yogam ca jushann apeta-bhagah pihitanandadi-gunah san mrityum samsaram bhajati prapnoti ity esha.

öika-commenryary; ca-and; sa-this; tu-indeed; jivah-soul; yat-what; yasmat-from which; ajaya-by the unborn; mayaya-maya; ajam-to the unborn; avidyam-ignorance; anushayita-anusayita; alinget-embraces; tatah-from that; gunamsh-modes; ca-and; dehendriyadin-beginning with the body and senses; jushan-engaging; sevamana-engaging; atmataya-as the self; adhyasyan-attaining; tat-that; anu-following; tad-anantaram-after that; sarupatam-with a form; tad-dharma-yogam-connecting to that nature; ca-and; jushann-engaging; apeta-bhagah-apeat-bhagah; pihita-covered; ananda-bliss; adi-beginning; gunah-qualities; san-being so; mrityum-death; samsaram-the material world; bhajati-attains; prapnoti-attains; iti-thus; esha-the meaning.

Shrila Shridhara Svami comments:

"Here the words `sa tu' mean `the individual spirit soul', `ajaya' means `by the unborn maya potency', `ajam' means `unborn material ignorance', `and `anushayita' means `embraces'. `Gunam' means `the material body and senses', `jushan' means `acting as if they were the self', `tad anu' means `after that', `sarupatam' means `with a nature like that', `jushann apeta-bhagah' means `his bliss and other spiritual qualities are covered over', `mrityum' means `the material world of repeated birth and death', and `bhajati' means `he attains'."

Text 3

shrutayah.

shrutayah-the Personified Vedas.

This verse was spoken by the Personified Vedas.

Anucheda 24

Text 1

tatha

tat-sanga-bhramshitaishvaryam samsarantam kubharyavat tad agatir abudhasyeha kim asat karmabhir bhavet

tatha-so; tat-sanga-by association with the prostitute of intelligence; bhramshita-taken away; aishvaryam-the opulence of independence; samsarantam-undergoing the material way of life; kubharyavat-exactly like a person who has a polluted wife; tad-agatih-the movements of the polluted intelligence; abudhasya-of one who does not know; iha-in this world; kim asat karmabhir bhavet-what can be the benefit of performing temporary fruitive activities?

The inauspicious life of the conditioned soul is again described in these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (6.5.15):

"If one becomes the husband of a prostitute, he loses all independence. Similarly, if a living entity has polluted intelligence, he prolongs his materialistic life. Frustrated by material nature, he must follow the movements of the intelligence, which brings various conditions of happiness and distress. If one performs fruitive activities under such conditions, what will be the benefit?"*

Text 2

tasyah pumshcali-rupaya mayayah sangena bhramshitam aishvaryam kincit sviya-jnanadi-samarthyam yasya tam. tasya gatih. samsarantam gacchantam jivam sva-svarupam abudhasyajanata ity uttarenanvayah. haryashvah.

tasyah-of this; pumshcali-rupaya-in the form of a prostitute; mayayah-maya; sangena-by the association; bhramshitam-destroyed; aishvaryam-opulence; kincit-something; sviya-own; jnana-knowledge; adi-beginning with; samarthyam-ability; yasya-of whom; tam-him; tasya-of him; gatih-the movement; samsarantam-traveling; gacchantam-going; jivam-the soul; sva-svarupam-own form; abudhasya-abudhasya; ajanatah-not knowing; iti-thus; uttarena-by the last; anvayah-the sequence; haryashvah-the Haryasvas.

This verse explains how, by associating with the prostitute named Maya (material illusion) one loses his spiritual knowledge and other spiritual opulences (aishvaryam). Such a soul wanders (samsarantam) without any good destination (agatih). That soul is very foolish (abudhasya).

Anuccheda 25

Text 1

tatha ishvarasya vimuktasya karpanyam uta bandhanam iti.

tatha-so; ishvarasya vimuktasya karpanyam uta bandhanam iti-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 3.7.9.

Shrimad-Bhagavatam (3.7.9) also declares:

"Certain conditioned souls put forward the theory that the Supreme Brahman, or the Personality of Godhead, is overcome by illusion, or maya, and at the same time they maintain that He is unconditioned. This is against all logic."*

Text 2

ishvarasya kincij jnanadi-shaktimatah. shri-maitreyah.

ishvarasya-isvarasya; kincit-something; jnanadi-beginning with transcendental knowledge; shakti-the potencies; matah-possessing; shri-maitreyah-Shri Maitreya.

Here the word "ishvarasya" means "of He who is the master of the knowledge potency and other transcendental potencies also". This verse was spoken by Shri Maitreya.

Anuccheda 26

Text 1

tatha

vipralabdho mahishyaivam sarva-prakriti-vancitah necchann anukaroty ajnah klaibyat krida-mrigo yatha tatha-so; vipralabdhah-captivated; mahishya-by the queen; evam-thus; sarva-all; prakriti-existence; vancitah-being cheated; na icchann-without desiring; anukaroti-used to imitate; ajnah-the foolish king; klaibyat-by force; krida-mrighah-a pet animal; yatha-just like.

The inauspicious life of the conditioned soul is also described in these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (4.25.62):

"In this way, King Puranjana was captivated by his nice wife and was thus cheated. Indeed, he became cheated in his whole existence in the material world. Even against that poor foolish king's desire, he remained under the control of his wife, just like a pet animal that dances according to the order of its master."*

Text 2

mahishya puranjanya vipralabdhah puranjanah sarvaya prakritya jnanadi-rupaya vancitas tyajitah san necchan tad-icchayaivety arthah. anukaroti tad dharmam atmany adhyasyeti.

mahishya-mahisya; puranjanya-by the wife of King puranjana; vipralabdhah-cheated; puranjanah-Puranjana; sarvaya-all; prakritya-by nature; jnanadi-rupaya-beginning with knowledge; vancitah-cheated; tyajitah-abandoned; san-being so; na-not; icchan-desiring; tad-icchaya-without desire; eva-indeed; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; anukaroti-follows; tat-that; dharmam-nature; atmani-in the heart; adhyasya-practicing; iti-thus.

Here the word "mahishya" means "by King Puranjana's queen", "vipralabdham" means "Puranjana was cheated of his knowledge and all other opulences", and "necchan" means "without desiring". That is the meaning. "Anukaroti" means "in his heart he imitated that nature".

Text 3

tatra jivasya shaktimattayam parabhidhyanat tu tirohitam tato hy asya bandha-viparyayau ity etat sutram apy anusandheyam.

tatra-there; jivasya-of the individual soul; shaktimattayam-in the state of being the paster of potencies; para-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; abhidhyanat-by the will; tu-but; tirohitam-withdrawn; tatah-tyhen; hi-indeed; asya-of him; bandha-viparyayau-bondage and its opposite; iti-thus; etat-this; sutram-sutra; api-also; anusandheyam-may be considered.

The relationship between the individual soul and the Supreme Lord, who is the master of all potencies, is described in these words of Vedanta-sutra (3.2.5):

"By the will of the Supreme Personality of Godhead, the illusory potency maya is withdrawn. Indeed, bondage and liberation both come from the Supreme Lord."

Text 4

shri-naradah shri-pracinabarhisham.

shri-naradah-Shri Narada; shri-pracinabarhisham-to Shri Pracinabarhi.

The verse quoted in the beginning of this anuccheda was spoken by Shri Narada to Shri Pracinabarhi.

Anuccheda 27

Text 1

purvoktam evartham vyanjayitum svasmai svayam-prakasha ity uktam. tatha-bhutatvam ca vilakshanah ity ady-ukta-padya eva sva-drik ity anena vyaktam asti.

purva-previously; uktam-said; eva-indeed; artham-meaning; vyanjayitum-to manifest; svasmai-to Himself; svayam-personally; prakasha-manifest; iti-thus; uktam-the meaning; tatha-bhutatvam-the state of being like that; ca-and; vilakshanah-distinguished; iti-thus; adi-beginning; ukta-spoken; padye-in the verse; eva-certainly; sva-drik-sva-drik; iti-thus; anena-by this; vyaktam-manifested; asti-is.

The individual soul is self manifest. This is confirmed by use of the words "svayam-prakasha" and "sva-drik" in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.10.8 (quoted here in anuccheda 19, text 12).

Text 2

tatra prakashas tavad guna-dravya-bhedena dvi-vidhah. prathame nijashrayasya sphurti-rupah. dvitayah sva-para-sphurti-nidanam vastu-visheshah.

tatra-there; prakashah-manifest; tavat-then; guna-dravya-bhedena-with the difference of the three material mdoes; dvi-vidhah-two kinds; prathame-in the first; nija-own; ashrayasya-of the shelter; sphurti-manifestation; rupah-form; dvitayah-the second; sva-own; para-other; sphurti-manifestation; nidanam-cause; vastu-thing; visheshah-specific.

Manifestation is of two kinds. 1. self-manifestation, where one is the seer and 2. manifestation where one is the object that is seen.

Text 3

tatratmano dravyatvad ayam eva grihyate. yatha dipash cakshuh prakashayan sva-para-sphurtim svayam eva karoti. na tu ghaöadi-prakasha-vat tad-adi-sapekshah. tasmad ayam svayam-prakashah. tathapi svam prati na prakashate. yata eva jada ity ucyate. atma tu svam param ca prakashayan svatmanam prati prakashamanatvat svasmai svayam-prakashah. yata eva cid-rupa ucyate.

tatra-there; atmanah-of the self; dravyatvat-because of being a thing; ayam-this; eva-indeed; grihyate-is accepted; yatha-as; dipah-lamp; cakshuh-eyes; prakashayan-manifesting; sva-para-sphurtim-manifested by another; svayam-personally; eva-indeed; karoti-does; na-not; tu-but; ghaöadi-beginning with a pot; prakasha-manifestation; vat-like; tat-that; adi-beginning; sapekshah-in relationship; tasmad-from that; ayam-this; svayam-prakashah-self-manifested; tathapi-nevertheless; svam-oneself; prati-to; na-not; prakashate-is manifested; yata-from which; eva-indeed; jada-matter; iti-thus; ucyate-is said; atma-self; tu-but; svam-own; param-another; ca-another; prakashayan-manifesting; svatmanam-own self; prati-to; prakashamanatvat-because of manifesting; svasmai-to himself; svayam-prakashah-self-manifest; yata-because; eva-indeed; cid-rupa-the spiritual form; ucyate-is said.

The spirit soul should be understood in this way: The spirit soul has the power to light the lamp of the eyes and see various objects. A clay pot or other inanimate object has no such power. In this way the soul is "self-manifest" (svayam-prakasha), which means it has the power to manifest things before himself, or in other words to perceive sense objects. Whatever does not have that power of perception is called "inanimate matter". Because it thus has the power to perceive itself and others, the soul is called "self-manifest". That is why the soul is said to be spiritual in nature.

Text 4

tad uktam anyair api svayam-prakashatvam sva-vyavahare paranapekshatvam. avedyatve saty aparoksha-vyavahara-yogyatvam veti.

tat-that; uktam-said; anyaih-by others; api-even; svayam-prakashatvam-the state of being self-manifest; sva-vyavahare-in one's own actions; para-others; anapekshatvam-the state of being without reference to; avedyatve-in being unable to know; sati-being so; aparoksha-visible to the senses; vyavahara-of activities; yogyatvam-suitableness; va-or; iti-thus.

Other thinkers say that "self-manifest" means "the soul is independent in its actions", and still other thinkers say that "self-manifest" means "when something is not understood, the soul can act to try to understand it".

Text 5

tatra purvatra paranapekshyatva-svarupa-lakshane dipa-sadharmya-jadatva-varanaya svasmai-padam apekshyam. paratva-lakshane dipader vedyatva-rupa-vailakshanyam. uttaratra tu spashöartham. atah svadrik svasmai svayam-prakasha ity arthah.

tatra-there; purvatra-previously; para-other; anapekshyatva-without relation; svarupa-lakshane-nature; dipa-lamp; sadharmya-sameness; jadatva-material status; varanaya-for rejecting; svasmai-padam-the word svasmai; apekshyam-in relation to; paratva-the state of being another; lakshane-in the nature; dipa-lamp; adeh-beginning with; vedyatva-to be known; rupa-of the form; vailakshanyam-difference; uttaratra-in a later place; tu-but; spashöa-clear; artham-meaning; atah-from that; svadrik-svadrk; svasmai-to oneself; svayam-prakasha-personally manifest; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning.

In the first of these two ideas the idea of the soul's independence refutes the idea that the soul is material, like a material lamp. This idea also affirms that the word "svayam" in "svayam-prakasha" means "to oneself". Because the soul is thus different from a material lamp, it is clear that the word "svayam" here means "to oneself". The second of these two ideas is clear in its meaning. In this way it is clear that the word "svayam-prakasha", meaning "manifest to oneself" here has the same meaning as the word "sva-drik".

Text 6

na casau paramatma-prakashyatve ghaöa-vat para-prakashyah. paramatmanas tat-parama-svarupatvena para-prakashyatvabhavat. evam evaha dvabhyam

na-not; ca-also; asau-he; paramatma-of the Supersoul; prakashyatve-in the state of being able to be manifested; ghaöa-vat-like a clay pot; para-prakashyah-visible to others; paramatmanah-of the Supersoul; tat-parama-svarupatvena-because of being the Supreme Personality of Godhead; para-prakashyatva-to be manifested by others; abhavat-because of the non-existence; evam-thus; eva-indeed; aha-said; dvabhyam-with two verses.

The Supersoul is not manifested by a source outside Himself, as clay pots or other material objects are. Because He is the Supreme Personality of Godhead, the Supersoul is not dependent on others for His being manifested. The Lord Himself explains this in the following words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (11.22.30-31):

Text 7

mamanga maya guna-mayy anekadha vikalpa-buddhish ca gunair vidhatte vaikarikas tri-vidho 'dhyatmam ekam athadhibhutam adhidaivam anyat mama-of Me; anga-O dear one; maya-maya; guna-mayy-consisting of the modes of material nature; anekadha-many; vikalpa-buddhish-perceptions; ca-also; gunaih-by the modes; vidhatte-placed; vaikarika-transformations; tri-vidhah-three kinds; adhyatmam-adhyatma; ekam-one; atha-then; adhibhutam-adhibhuta; adhidaivam-adhidaiva; anyat-another.

"My dear Uddhava, My material energy, comprising three modes and acting through them, manifests the varieties of creation along with varieties of consciousness for perceiving them. The manifest result of material transformation is understood in three aspects: adhyatmika, adhidaivika, and adhibhautika.

Text 8

drig-rupam arkam vapur atra randhre parasparam sidhyati yah svatah khe atma yad esham aparo ya adyah svayanubhutyakhila-siddha-siddhih drig-rupam-the form of the eyes; arkam-the sun; vapuh-form; atra-here; randhre-opening; parasparam-mutual; sidhyati-is established; yah-who; svatah-personally; khe-in the sky; atma-soul; yat-which; esham-of them; aparah-another; ya-who; adyah-beginning; svaya-personally; anubhuty-perceiving; akhila-all; siddhamanifest; siddhih-source.

"Sight, visible form, and the reflected image of the sun within the aperture of the eye all work together to reveal one another. But the original sun standing in the sky is self-manifested. Similarly, the Supreme Soul, the original cause of all entities, who is thus separate from all of them, acts by the illumination of His own transcendental experience as the ultimate source of manifestation of all mutually manifesting objects."

Text 9

vikalpam bhedom tad-buddhih ca. anekadhatvam prapancayati vaikarika iti. aneka-vikaravan apy asau sthula-drishöya tavat tri-vidhah. traividhyam aha adhyatmam ity adina. tani kramenaha drg-adi-trayena.

vikalpam-manifestation; bhedom-difference; tad-buddhih-the conception of that; ca-and; anekadhatvam-plurality; prapancayati-creates; vaikarika-transformations; iti-thus; aneka-vikaravan-many transformations; api-also; asau-this; sthula-gross; drishöya-by vision; tavat-then; tri-vidhah-three kinds; traividhyam-three kinds; aha-said; adhyatmam-adhyatma; iti-thus; adina-beginning; tani-them; kramenaha-with the sequence; aha-said; drg-adi-trayena-by the three beginning with the word drk.

This verse describes vikalpa (manifestation), bheda (difference), and tad-buddhih (the conceptions of things). In this way many different manifestations are created. This is described with the word "vaikarika". The word "tri-vidhah" indicates that three kinds of transformations are present before the gross material vision. These three kinds of manifestations are described in the passage beginning with the word "adhyatmam" (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.22.30, quoted here in text 7). They are described, one after the other, in the three verses Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.22.31-3.

Text 10

vapur amshah. atra randhre drig-goloke pravishöam tat trayam ca parasparam eva sidhyati. na tu svatah. yas tu khe akashe arko vartate. sa punah svatah sidhayti. cakshur-vishayatve 'pi sva-virodhinah pratiyogyapekshabhava-matrena svata ity uktam.

vapuh-vapuh; amshah-part; atra-here; randhre-randhra; drig-goloke-eye; pravishöam-entered; tat-that; trayam-three; ca-and; parasparam-mutual; eva-indeed; sidhyati-is proved; na-not; tu-but; svatah-personally; yah-what; tu-indeed; khe-in the sky; akashe-sky; arkah-sun; vartate-is; sa-that; punah-again; svatah-personally; sidhayti-is established; cakshur-vishayatve-in the eye's sphere of perception; api-even; sva-virodhinah-self contradicting; pratiyogi-opposing; apeksha-relation; abhava-absence; matrena-only; svata-svatah; iti-thus; uktam-said.

Here the word "vapuh" means "part", "atra randhre" means "on the eyeballs", The three manifestations thus work together (parasparam) to reveal each other (sidhyati) on the eyes. Therefore, they are mutually dependent. They are not self-manifested and independent. However, the sun (arkah) in the sky (khe) is self-manifested (svatah sidhyati). Even in the eye's sphere of perception the sun does not need any other thing in order to be manifested. Therefore it is self-manifested (svatah).

Text 11

evam yatha mandalatmarkah svatah sidhayti. tathatmapity aha yad yatah purvokta-drishöanta-hetor atma esham adhyatmadinam yo 'para adyas tesham ashrayah. so 'pi svatah sidhyati. kintu svayanubhutyeti cid-rupatvad visheshah. na kevalam etavad api tv akhilanam paraspara-prakasha-siddhanam siddhir yasmat tatha-bhutah sann iti. shri-bhagavan.

evam-thus; yatha-as; mandala-circle; atma-self; arkah-sun; svatah-personally; sidhayti-manifested; tatha-so; atma-the Supersoul; api-also; iti-thus; aha-said; yat-what; yatah-from which; purva-previously; ukta-said; drishöanta-example; hetoh-cause; atma-Supersoul; esham-of them; adhyatmadinam-beginning with adhyatma; yah-who; apara-another; adyah-first; tesham-of them; ashrayah-the shelter; sah-He; api-indeed; svatah-personally; sidhyati-is manifested; kintu-however; svayanubhutyeti-by being self manifested; iti-thus; cid-rupatvad-because of being spieitual in nature; visheshah-specific; na-not; kevalam-alone; etavat-in that way; api-also; tv-indeed; akhilanam-of all; paraspara-prakasha-siddhanam-mutually manifested; siddhih-manifestation; yasmat-from which; tatha-bhutah-in that way; sann-being so; iti-thus; shri-bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead.

This verse explains: "As the sun is self-manifested, so the Supersoul is self-manifested also." Here the word "yat" means "because of the previously stated example". "esham" means "of the three things that begin with adhyatma", and "yo 'para adyah" means "the shelter of them". In this way the Supersoul is self-manifested. The Lord thus acts by His own transcendental experience (svayanubhutyeti) because He is perfectly spiritual in nature. He is not only the cause of His own manifestation, but He is also the cause of the manifestation of the many mutually-dependent beings. That is His nature. The verse quoted in this anuccheda were spoken by the Supreme Personality of Godhead.

Anuccheda 28

Text 1

yasmat svarupa-bhutayaiva shaktya tatha prakashate. tasmad eka-rupa-svarupa-bhaktvam api dipavad eva. natma jajana ity adau upalabdhi-matram ity anenaivoktam matra-padam tad-dharmanam api svarupanativratatvam dhvanayati.

yasmat-from which; svarupa-bhutaya-internal; eva-indeed; shaktya-potency; tatha-so; prakashate-mqanifests; tasmad-from that; eka-rupa-one form; svarupa-bhaktvam-hjaving His own nature; api-also; dipavat-like a lamp; eva-indeed; natma jajana ity adau-in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.3.38; upalabdhi-matram ity anena-by th words "upalabdhi-matram; eva-indeed; uktam-said; matra-padam-the word matra; tad-dharmanam-of that nature; api-also; svarupa-own nature; anantiriktatvamthje state of not being different; dhvanayati-declares..

Therefore the soul is manifested from the Lord's internal potency. Each soul has one nature, like a lamp. The nature of the soul is described in these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (11.3.38, which were previously quoted in this book in anuccheda 22, text 2):

"The soul was never born. It will never die. It never grows. It never decays. The soul is the witness, observing the changes time forces on changeable things. The soul is consciousness, existing always and in every situation."

Text 2

atha cetanatvam nama svasya cid-rupatve 'py anyasya dehadesh cetayitritvam dipadi-prakashasya prakashayitritva-vat. tad etat vilakshanah ity adav eva drishöantenoktam. prakashakah iti cetayitritve hetuh.

atha-now; cetanatvam-consciousness; nama-indeed; svasya-own; cid-rupatve-spiritual nature; api-also; anyasya-of another; dehadesh-beginning with the body; cetayitritvam-the maker of consciousness; dipadi-prakashasya-manifestation of lamps and other like things; prakashayitritva-vat-like the manifester; tat-that; etat-this; vilakshanah-different; iti-thus; adav-beginning; eva-indeed; drishöantena-with the example; uktam-said; prakashakah-manifestation; iti-thus; cetayitritve-in the maker of consciousness; hetuh-the reason.

Thus the soul is spiritual and conscious. As a lamp or other luminous object lights up a certain place, so the soul lights up the body with consciousness. This example is given in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.10.8. In that verse the word "prakashah" means "the source of consciousness".

Text 3

vyapti-shilatvam udaharishyamane atma ity adau shri-prahlada-vakye vyapaka ity anenoktam vyapti-shilatvam ati-sukshmataya sarva-cetanantah-pravesha-svabhavatvam jnana-matratmako na ca ity atra cid-anandatmaka ity api hetv-antaram.

vyapti-shilatvam-the nature of being all-pervading; udaharishyamane-to be explained; atma ity adau-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 7.6.2; shri-prahlada-vakye-in the words of Shri Prahlada; vyapaka- ity anenoktam-spoken with the word "vyapaka"; vyapti-shilatvam-the nature of being all-pervading; ati-sukshmataya-with great subtlety; sarva-cetanantah-pravesha-svabhavatvam-the nature of entering everyone's heart; jnana-matra-simply knowledge; atmakah-self; na-not; ca-also; iti-thus; atra-here; cid-anandatmaka-spiritual and full of bliss; iti-thus; api-also; hetv-antaram-another reason.

That the Supersoul is all-pervading will be explained later, in this book, when Shri Prahlada's words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam 7.6.19-23 will be quoted. Here the word "vyapaka" means that the Supersoul subtly enters the hearts of all living beings. One reason this is so is that the Lord's nature is like that, as explained in the words "jnana-matratmako na ca" (He is not only transcendental knowledge). Another reason is that because He is spiritual and full of bliss, therefore the Lord appears as the Supersoul.

Text 4

tasya tasya jada-pratīyogitvena jñanatvam duḥkha-pratīyogitvena tu jñanatvam anandatvam ca. jñanatvam tudāhritam. anandatvam ca nirupadhi-premaspadatvena sadhayati

tasya-of Him; tasya-of Him; jada-pratīyogitvena-because of not being material in nature; jñanatvam-the nature of transcendental knowledge; duḥkha-pratīyogitvena-because of being free of suffering; tu-indeed; jñanatvam-the nature of knowledge; anandatvam-the nature of bliss; ca-also; jñanatvam-the nature of knowledge; tu-indeed; udāhritam-declared; anandatvam-bliss; ca-and; nirupadhi-spiritual and limitless; prema-of love; aspadatvena-because of being the resting place; sadhayati-establishes.

Because He is free from any trace of matter, the Supersoul is filled with transcendental knowledge. Because He is free from suffering, the Supersoul is filled with knowledge and bliss. Because He is thus filled with transcendental knowledge and bliss, the Supersoul is the abode of limitless transcendental love. This is explained in the following words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.14.54):

Text 5

tasmat priyatamah svatma
sarvesham eva dehinam
tad-artham eva sakalam jagac caitac caracaram

tasmat-therefore; priyatamah-most dear; svatma-own self; sarvesham-of all; eva-indeed; dehinam-embodied beings; tad-artham-for his sake; eva-indeed; sakalam-all; jagac-the universe; ca-and; etat-this; caracaram-with moving and nonmoving beings.

"Therefore it is the Supersoul that is most dear to every embodied living being, and it is simply for the satisfaction of the Supersoul that the whole material creation of moving and nonmoving entities exists."

Text 6

spashōam. shri-shukah.

spashōam-clear; shri-shukah-Shri Shukadeva Gosvami.

The meaning of this verse is clear. This verse was spoken by Shrila Shukadeva Gosvami.

Anuccheda 29

Text 1

tasmimsh canandatmake jñane pratibimbam yushmad-arthatvam na bhavati. kintv atmatvad asmad-arthatvam eva. tac casmad-arthatvam aham-bhava eva. tato 'ham ity etac chabdabhidheyakaram eva jñanam shuddha atma prakṛty-avesho 'nyatha nopapadyate. yata evaveshat tadiya-sanghata eva ity aham-bhavantaram prapnoti. tad etad abhipretya tasya-aham-arthatvam aha tasmin-in this; ca-and; anandatmake-blissful self; jnane-knowledge; pratibimbam-reflection; yushmat-of you; arthatvam-the purpose; na-not; bhavati-is; kintv-however; atmatvat-because of the self; asmad-arthatvam-for our sake; eva-indeed; tac-that; ca-and; asmad-arthatvam-for our sake; aham-bhava-ego; eva-indeed; tatah-therefore; aham-I; iti-thus; etac-this; shabda-word; abhidheyakaram-to be said; eva-indeed; jnanam-knowledge; shuddha-pure; atma-soul; prakriti-matter; aveshah-entrance; anyatha-otherwise; na-not; upapadyate-is attained; yata-from which; eva-indeed; aveshat-from entrance; tadiya-like that; sanghata-combination; eva-indeed; aham-I; iti-thus; aham-bhava-false ego; antaram-after; prapnoti-attains; tat-this; etat-that; abhipretya-knowing; tasya-of him; aham-arthatvam-false ego; aha-says.

When that blissful spiritual consciousness is pervertedly reflected in material consciousness, the individual soul thinks, "I will not act for your benefit. I will only act for my benefit". In this way the individual soul comes under the grip of materialistic false-ego. Thus influenced by false-ego, the pure soul enters the material world. Without this false-ego it would not be possible for the soul to enter the material world. In this way the individual soul comes under the grip of false-ego. This is described in the following words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (3.26.6):

Text 2

evam parabhidhyanena
kartritvam prakriteh puman karmasu kriyamaneshu gunair atmani manyate

evam-in this way; para-other; abhidhyanena-by identification; kartritvam-the performance of activities; prakriteh-of the material nature; puman-the living entity; karmasu kriyamaneshu-while the activities are being performed; gunaih-by the three modes; atmani-to himself; manyate-he considers.

"Because of his forgetfulness, the transcendental living entity accepts the influence of material energy as his field of activities, and thus actuated, he wrongly applies the activities to himself."*

Text 3

parabhidhyanena prakrity-aveshena prakritir evaham iti mananena prakriter gunaih kriyamaneshu karmasu kartritvam atmani manyate. atra niraham-bhavyasya parabhidhyanasambhavat paravesha-jatahankarasya cavarakatvad asty eva tasminn anyo 'ham-bhava-visheshah. sa ca shuddha-rupa-matra-nishohatvan na samsara-hetur iti spashoam.

parabhidhyanena-arabhidhyanena; prakrity-aveshena-by entering the material world; prakritih-matter; eva-indeed; aham-I; iti-thus; mananena--thinking; prakriteh-of matter; gunaih-by the modes; kriyamaneshu-being done; karmasu-ac tions; kartritvam-the doer; atmani-in the self; manyate-is thought; atra-here; niraham-bhavyasya-freedom from false ego; parabhidhyana-by the false identification; asambhavat-because of being impossible; paravesha-entrance; jata-born; ahankarasya-of false ego; ca-also; avarakatvat-because of covering; asti-is; eva-indeed; tasminn-in that; anyah-another; aham-bhava-visheshah-false ego; sa-that; ca-also; shuddha-rupa-matra-nishohatvan-because of confidence in the spiritual form; na-not; samsara-of the material world; hetuh-the cause; iti-thus; spashoam-clear.

Here the word "parabhidhyanena" means "by entering the material world and thinking 'I am made of matter'." In this way the transcendental living entity accepts the influence of material energy as his field of activities, and thus actuated, he wrongly applies the activities to himself (prakriter gunair kriyamaneshu karmasu kartritvam atmani manyate). A person who is free of false-ego does not think in this way. Only when a person is covered by materialistic false-ego does he think in this way. A soul who is convinced of his spiritual identity has no reason to enter the material world. That is clear.

Text 4

tad evahankara-dvayam sanne yad indriya-gane 'hami ca prasupte kuöastha ashayam rite tad anusmritir nah ity atra darshitam.

tat-that; eva-indeed; ahankara-dvayam-two kinds of false ego; sanne yad indriya-gane 'hami ca prasupte kuöastha ashayam rite tad anusmritir nah ity atra-in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.3.39; darshitam-revealed.

The two kinds of false-ego are described in these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (11.3.39):

"When the living entity sleeps and the senses, false-ego, and material consciousness are all dormant, the unchanging soul still remembers that he had slept."

Text 5

upadhy-abhimanatmakasyahankarasya prasuptatvat tad anusmritir nah ity anena sukham aham asvapsam ity atmano 'hantayaiva paramarshac ca. ata eva mam aham najnasisham ity atra paramarse 'pi upadhy-abhimanino 'nusandhanabhavah. anyasya tv ajnana-sakshitvenanusandhanam iti dik. shri-kapiladevah.

upadhy-abhimanatmakasyahankarasya-of the soul covered by false ego; prasuptatvat-because of the sleeping condition; tat-of that; anusmritih-memory; nah-of us; iti-thus; anena-by this; sukham-happily; aham-I; asvapsam-slept; iti-thus; atmanah-of the self; ahantaya-by false ego; eva-indeed; paramarshac-from consideration; ca-and; ata eva-therefore; mam-myself; aham-I; na-not; ajnasisham-understood; iti-thus; atra-here; paramarse-in consideration; api-also; upadhy-abhimaninah-with material misidentification; anusandhana-searching; abhavah-non-existence; anyasya-of another; tv-but; ajnana-of ignorance; sakshitvena-because of being the witness; anusandhanam-consideration; iti-thus; dik-the direction; shri-kapiladevah-Lord Kapiladeva.

Even though he was asleep, and even though he was in the grip of materialistic false-ego, the soul still remember his activity of sleeping (tad-anusmritir nah). Thus, even though he is in the grip of false-ego, the soul thinks, "I slept happily." Even though he is in the grip of false-ego, the soul does not think, "I was completely unaware of myself as I slept". The conclusion is that the soul is never in a state of unawareness. The verse quoted in the beginning of this anuccheda was spoken by Lord Kapiladeva.

Anuccheda 30

Text 1

tatha

nrityato gayatah pashyan
yathaivanukaroti tan
evam buddhi-gunan pashyann aniho 'py anukaryate

tatha-so; nrityatah-dancing; gayatah-singing; pashyan-seeing; yatha-as; eva-indeed; anukaroti-imitates; tan-them; evam-thus; buddhi-of intelligence; gunan-qualities; pashyann-seeing; anihah-inactive; api-even; anukaryate-is made to imitate.

The soul's nature is also described in these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (11.22.53):

"Seeing others singing and dancing, one may be inclined to imitate them. In the same way, seeing the material intelligence, the inactive spirit soul may be inclined to imitate it."

Text 2

purvavat. shri-bhagavan.

purvavat-as before; shri-bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead.

This verse is harmonious with the previous explanations. This verse was spoken by the Supreme Personality of Godhead.

Anuccheda 31

Text 1

evam eva swapna-drishöantam api ghaöayann aha

yad-arthena vinamushya
pumsa atma-viparyayah
pratiyata upadrashöuh
sva-shirash-chedanadikah

evam-thus; eva-indeed; swapna-drishöantam-the example of the dream; api-also; ghatayann-doing; aha-says; yat-thus; arthena-a purpose or meaning; vina-without; amushya-of such a one; pumsa-of the living entity; atma-viparyayah-upset about self-identification; pratiyata-so appear; upadrashöuh-of the superficial onlooker; sva-shirah-own head; chedana-adikah-cutting off.

The example of the dream is further elaborated in these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (3.7.10):

"The living entity is in distress regarding his self-identity. He has no factual background, like a man who dreams that he sees his head cut off."*

Text 2

upadrashöur amushyeti svapna-drashöra amuna jivenety arthah. shri-maitreyah.

upadrashöuh-seer; amushya-of him; iti-thus; svapna-drashöra-seeing in a dream; amuna-by him; jivena-by the spirit soul; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; shri-maitreyah-Shri Maitreya.

Here the words "upadrashöur amushya" mean "of the spirit soul who sees something in a dream". This verse was spoken by Shri Maitreya.

Anuccheda 32

Text 1

sadhite ca svarupa-bhute 'ham-bhave pratikshetram bhinnatvam api sadhitam. yat tu sadhite-attained; ca-and; svarupa-bhute-own nature; aham-bhave-in false ego; pratikshetram-every field of activities; bhinnatvam-difference; api-also; sadhitam-established; yat-what; tu-but.

Someone may say that it is only because of the influence of the false-ego that one thinks there are many different souls, each the witness of a particular field of activities. This mistaken idea is refuted by the Lord Himself in a passage of Shrimad-Bhagavatam that begins with these words (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.13.22):

Text 2

vastuno yady ananatvam atmanah prashna idrishah katham ghaöeta vo vipra vaktur va me ka ashrayah vastunah-in truth; yadi-if; ananatvam-the absence of variety; atmanah-of the soul; prashna-the question; idrishah-like this; katham-how?; ghaöeta-it may be; vah-of you; vipra-O brahmanas; vaktuh-the speaker; va-or; me-of Me; ka-what?; ashrayah-the shelter.

"If your question assumes that all variety is ultimately an illusion, then how can such a question be at all meaningful? O brahmanas, what is the truth about you and about Me, who am now speaking to you?"

Text 3

ity adau jnani-laukika-guru-ritim tadiya-prakrita-drishöim vanushritya svasya jivantara-sadharanya-kalpanamaye shri-hamsadeva vakye jivatmanam ekatvam. tat khalu amsa-bhede 'pi jnanecchun prati jnanopayogitvena tam avivicyaiva samanakaratenabheda-vyapadesho yatha tatraiva iti-thus; adau-beginning; jnani-of the impersonalists; laukika-ordinary; guru-guru; ritim-method; tadiya-of this; prakrita-material; drishöim-vision; va-or; anushritya-following; svasya-own; jiva-souls; antara-other; sadharanya-common nature; kalpanamaye-imagination; shri-hamsadeva-Shri Hamsadeva; vakye-in the words; jivatmanam-of the individual souls; ekatvam-oneness; tat-that; khalu-indeed; amsa-of parts; bhede-in difference; api-even; jnana-knowledge; icchun-desiring; prati-to; jnana-knowledge; upayogitvena-with appropriateness; tam-that avivicya-not separating; eva-indeed; samana-equal; akaratvena-with form; abheda-not different; vyapadeshah-teaching; yatha-as; tatra-there; eva-indeed.

Here Lord Hamsadeva refers to the materialistic idea of the impersonalist gurus who claim that all individual souls are one and there is no true difference between them. Lord Hamsadeva rejects this idea and instead explains that the spirit souls, who are part-and-parcel of the Lord, are distinct individuals. He then says (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.13.23):

Text 4

pancatmakeshu bhuteshu samaneshv api vastutah
ko bhavan iti vah prashno vacarambho hy anarthakah pancatmakeshu-made of five elements; bhuteshu-beings; samaneshv-equal; api-even; vastutah-in truth; kah-who?; bhavan-you; iti-thus; vah-of you; prashnah-the question; vacarambhah-beginning of words; hi-indeed; anarthakah-meaningless.

"If your question 'Who are You?' referred to the material body made of five elements, elements that are in truth all alike, then your question was only a meaningless collection of words."

Text 5

tatapy amsha-bhedo 'sty eva. ata uktam svayam-bhagavata shuni caiva shvapake ca panditah samadarshinah iti nirdosham hi samam brahma ity adi ca.

tatapi-still; amsha-of parts and parcels; bhedah-difference; asti-is; eva-indeed; ata-then; uktam-said; svayam-bhagavata-by theSupreme Personality of Godhead Himself; shuni caiva shvapake ca panditah samadarshinah iti-Bhagavad-gita 5.18; nirdosham hi samam brahma- ity adi-Bhagavad-gita 5.19; ca-also.

Therefore, even though they are all parts-and-parcels of the Supreme Personality of Godhead, the individual spirit souls are individual, distinct persons, different from the Lord and from each other. The Lord describes the individual souls in these words (Bhagavad-gita 5.18-19):

"The humble sage, by virtue of true knowledge, sees with equal vision a learned and gentle brahmana, a cow, an elephant, a dog, and a dog-eater (outcaste).*

"Those whose minds are established in sameness and equanimity have already conquered the conditions of birth and death. They are flawless like Brahman, and thus they are already situated in Brahman."*

Text 6

atra brahmeti jiva-brahmaivocyate. yatha yayaham etat sad-asat sva-mayaya pashye mayi brahmani kalpitam pare iti.

atra-here; brahma-Brahman; iti-thus; jiva-brahma-the spirit soul; eva--indeed; ucyate-is said; yatha-as; yayaham etat sad-asat sva-mayaya pashye mayi brahmani kalpitam pare iti-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.5.27.

Here the word "brahma" indicates the spiritual nature of the individual soul. That the individual soul is spiritual and transcendental is described in these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (1.5.27):

"As my taste developed, I could realize that it was only in my ignorance that I had accepted gross and subtle material coverings, for both the Lord and I am transcendental."*

Text 7

mayi brahmani dehatmakam pare brahmani ca jagad-atmakam sad asat karya-karana-sanghatam sva-vishayaka-mayaya jiva-mayakhyaya deha evaham tatha indra-candrady-atmakam jagad eveshvara itidam kalpitam eva. yaya matya pashye pashyamity arthah. samanakaradvat eva purvavat anyatra ca so 'ham sa ca tvam iti. tad evam sarvesham eva jivanam ekakaratve sati mayi-mayi; brahmani-brahmani; dehatmakam-body; pare-pare; brahmani-brahmani; ca-and; jagad-atmakam-the universe; sad asat-sad asat; karya-karana-sanghatam-cause and effect; sva-vishayaka-in the range of perception; mayaya-by maya; jiva-soul; maya-potency; akhyayanamed; deha-body; eva-indeed; aham-I; tatha-so; indra-candrady-atmakam-beginning with Indra and Candra; jagat-universe; eva-indeed; ishvara-controller; iti-thus; idam-this; kalpitam-considered; eva-indeed; yaya-by which; matya-idea; pashye-I see; pashyami-I see; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; samana-equal; akaratvat-because of having a form; eva-indeed; purvavat-as before; anyatra-in another place; ca-also; sah-he; aham+I; sa-he; ca-also; tvam-you; iti-thus; tat-that; evam-thus; sarvesham-of all; eva-indeed; jivanam-souls; ekakaratve-in the state of having a form; sati-being so.

Here the words "mayi brahmani" mean "the soul that resides in the material body", "pare brahmani" mean "He who is the soul of the entire universe", and "sad asat" mean "cause and effect". In this way the individual spirit soul, who is called the "jiva-maya" (the potency that is the individual soul) resides in the material body. (Here Narada says) "I am such an individual soul". As the individual spirit soul resides in a particular material body, in the same way the Supreme Personality of Godhead, who is the controller of the entire universe, also resides in the bodies of Indra, Candra, and all others. "Kalpitam" here means "with this understanding", "yaya" means "with this idea", and "pashye" means "I see". In this way, in the previous statements of this book, and in many other places also in the scriptures, it is seen that the nature of the individual souls is in many ways like the nature of the Supreme Personality of Godhead Himself. That is why in some places the scriptures declare, "The Supreme Personality of Godhead is like that, I am like that, and you are also like that". That all spirit souls have the same kind of spiritual nature is also confirmed by these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (11.10.32):

Text 8

yavat syad guna-vaishamyam tavan nanatvam atmanah nanatvam atmano yavat paratantryam tadaiva hi

yavat-as; syat-is; guna-vaishamyam-difference of modes; tavan-then; nanatvam-variety; atmanah-of the soul; nanatvam-variety; atmanah-of the soul; yavat-as long as; paratantryam-superiority; tada-then; eva-indeed; hi-indeed.

"As long as one thinks the different modes of material nature create different kinds of souls, one will think that the souls have many different kinds of natures. As long as one thinks the souls have many different kinds of natures, one will remain in the grip of material illusion."

Text 9

ity adishu devadi-deha-bheda-kritagantuka-nanatvam nindyate iti-thus; adishu-beginning; deva-demigods; adi-beginning with; deha-of material bodies; bheda-differences; krita-done; agantuka-attaining; nanatvam-variety; nindyate-is criticized.

In these words the idea that the different species of living entities, beginning with the demigods, and descending to the lowest forms of life, house different kinds of souls is strenuously refuted.

Text 10

venu-randhra-vibhedena bhedah shadjadi-samjnitah abheda-vyapino vayos
tatha tasya mahatmanah

venu-of a flute; randhra-holes; vibhedena-with differences; bhedah-difference; shadjadi-samjnitah-with the different notes, beginning with shadja; abheda-vyapinah-not different; vayoh-of wind; tatha-so; tasya-of that; mahatmanah-of the soul.

The idea that a different Supersoul resides in the material bodies of the different living entities is refuted by these words of Shri Vishnu Purana (2.14.32):

"A flute has many holes, which produce different notes and scales, beginning with shadja. However, the wind that blows through the flute is one. In the same way it is the same Supersoul, His identity always unchanged, who stays in different material bodies of the conditioned souls."

Text 11

ity adikam tu paramatma-vishayakam eva. tad etat sarvam abhipretya jivanam prati-kshetram bhinnatvam sva-pakshatvena nidarshayanti iti-thus; adikam-beginning; tu-but; paramatma-vishayakam-the sphere of the Supersoul; eva-indeed; tat-this; etat-that; sarvam-all; abhipretya-knowing; jivanam-of soul; prati-kshetram-in every body; bhinnatvam-difference; sva-pakshatvena-own side; nidarshayanti-show.

These words of Shri Vishnu Purana describe the Supersoul. Although the Supersoul residing in the different material bodies is one person, the individual spirit souls in the different material bodies are all different persons. This is described in the following words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.87.30):

Text 12

aparimita dhruvanubhrito yadi sarva-gatah iti.

aparimita dhruvanubhrito yadi sarva-gatah iti-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.87.30.

"O Supreme Eternal! If the embodied living entities were eternal and all-pervading like You, then they would not be under Your control. But if the living entities are accepted as minute energies of Your Lordship, then they are at once subject to Your supreme control. Therefore real liberation entails surrender by the living entities to Your control, and that surrender will make them happy. In that constitutional position only can they be controllers. Therefore, men with limited knowledge who advocate the monistic theory that God and the living entities are equal in all respects are actually misleading themselves and others."*

Text 13

atra yadi-shabdat purva-paöhenaparimitatvam dhruvatvam casandigdham iti tatra svapakshatvam pashcat paöhena sarva-gatatvam tu sandigdham iti tatra para-pakshatvam spashöam eva.

atra-here; yadi-shabdat-from the word "yadi"; purva-paöhena-by the previous quotation; aparimitatvam-the state of being limitless; dhruvatvam-the state of being eternal; ca-also; asandigdham-untouched by matter; iti-thus; tatra-there; svapakshatvam-own nature; pashcat-then; paöhena-by the quotation; sarva-all; gatatvam-pervading; tu-but; sandigdham-in contact; iti-thus; tatra-there; para-pakshatvam-the state of being with others; spashöam-clear; eva-indeed.

The words that follow the word "yadi" affirm that the Supreme Personality of Godhead is limitless, eternal, and untouched by matter. That is the Supreme Lord's nature. The words that follow that description affirm that the Supreme Personality of Godhead is present everywhere in the material world. That act establishes the Lord's relationship with the living entities. This is clearly stated.

Text 14

ata eva eko devah sarva-bhuteshu gudhah ity adikam paramatma-param vakyam jivanam anekatvam bodhayati. shrutayah.

ata eva-therefore; eko devah sarva-bhuteshu gudhah ity adikam-Shri Svetasvatara Upanisad 6.11; paramatma-param-teh Supersoul; vakyam-statement; jivanam-of the individual spirit souls; anekatvam-plurality; bodhayati-teaches; shrutayah-the Personified Vedas.

The Supersoul is also described in these words of Shvetashvatara Upanishad (6.11):

"The Supreme Personality of Godhead manifests Himself as the all-pervading Supersoul, the witness present in the hearts of all living entities. He witnesses all activities of the living entity. He is the supreme living force, and yet He is transcendental to all material qualities."*

Anuccheda 33

Text 1

pratikshetra-bhinnatve ketv-antaram anuh iti. anuh paramanur ity arthah. paramanush ca yasya dig-bhede 'py amsho na kalpayitum shakyate. sa evamshasya para kashöheti tad-vidah. anor apy akhanda-deha-cetayitritvam prabhava-vishesha-rupad gunad eva bhavati. yatha shira adau dharyamanasya jatu-jhaöitasyapi mahaushadhi-khandasyakhanda-deha-pushöi-karanadi-hetuh prabhavah. yatha vayas-kantader loha-calanadi-hetuh prabhava eva. tadvat. tad etad anutvam aha sukshmanam apy aham jivah iti.

pratikshetra-in every field of activities; bhinnatve-in difference; ket-reason; antaram-another; anuh-atomic; iti-thus; anuh-atomic; paramanuh-an atom; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; paramanuh-atom; ca-and; yasya-of which; dik-direction; bhede-in difference; api-also; amshah-a part; na-not; kalpayitum-to conceive; shakyate-is able; sa-that; eva-indeed; amshasya-of a part; para kashöha-highest point; iti-thus; tat-that; vidah-understanding; anoh-of an atom; api-also; akhanda-unbroken; deha-of the body; cetayitritvam-the state of being conscious; prabhava-vishesha-rupad-from the specific power; gunad-from the quality; eva-indeed; bhavati-is; yatha-as; shira-head; adau-in the beginning; dharyamanasya-holding; jatu-jhaöitasya-at once; api-also; mahaushadhi-great medicine; khandasya-broken; akhanda-unbroken; deha-body; pushöi-of nourishment; karana-cause; adi-first; hetuh-cause; prabhavah-power; yatha-as; vayas-kantadeh-beginning with a magnetic; loha-people; calana-moving; adi-beginning; hetuh-cause; prabhava-power; eva-indeed; tadvat-in that way; tat-this; etad-that; anutvam-atomic nature; aha-said; sukshmanam-of small things; api-also; aham-I; jivah-the individual soul; iti-thus.

Another reason why the individual souls in the different material bodies are all different persons and are not the same is given in the word "anu", which means "atom". No one can count the number of atoms present in all directions. The atom is the smallest of all small things. This is known by the wise. Therefore the soul, atomic in size, fills the entire material body with consciousness. That is the soul's nature. As medicine placed in the mouth strengthens the entire body, and as a magnet moves pieces of iron, so the soul exerts its influence over the material body. The atomic nature of the soul is described by the Lord Himself in these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (11.16.11):

"Of atomic particles, I am the soul."

Text 2

tasmat sukshmata-parakashöha-prapto jiva ity arthah. durjneyatvad yat sukshmatvam tad atra na vivakshitam. mahatam ca mahan aham sukshmanam apy aham jivah iti paraspara-pratiyogitvena vakya-dvayasyanantaryoktau svarasya-bhangat. prapanca-madhye hi sarva-karanatvan mahat-tattvasya mahattvam nama vyapakatvam. na tu prithivy-ady-apekshaya sujneyatvam yatha tadvat prapance jivanam api sukshmatvam paramanutvam eveti svarasyam.

tasmat-therefore; sukshmata-parakashöha-praptah-being the smallest of particles; jiva-the individual soul; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; durjneyatvad-because of being difficult to understand; yat-what; sukshmatvam-smalness; tat-that; atra-here; na-not; vivakshitam-desired to be said; mahatam-of the large; ca-also; mahan-the largest; aham-I; sukshmanam-of the smallest; api-also; aham-I; jivah-the soul; iti-thus; paraspara-mutual; pratiyogitvena-opposites; vakya-dvayasya-of the two statements; anantarya-not within; uktau-in the words; svarasya-appropriateness; bhangat-because of breaking; prapanca-madhye-in the midst of the material world; hi-indeed; sarva-karanatvan-because of being the cause of all; mahat-tattvasya-of the mahat-tattva; mahattvam-the largeness; nama-indeed; vyapakatvam-the state of being all-pervading; na-not; tu-indeed; prithivy-ady-apekshaya-in relation to the material elements, which begin with earth; sujneyatvam-to be easily understood; yatha-as; tadvat-so; prapance-in the material world; jivanam-of the individual spirit souls; apialso; sukshmatvam-smallness; paramanutvam-atomic nature; eva-indeed; iti-thus; svarasyam-appropriate.

In this way it is said that the individual soul is the smallest of the small. Because it cannot be easily understood, we will not here describe the great smallness of the soul's size. In Shrimad-Bhagavatam (11.16.11):the Supreme Personality of Godhead declares:

"Of great things I am the mahat-tattva, and of small things I am the spirit soul."

These two statements seem to be mutually contradictory. Because the Supreme Personality of Godhead is the original cause of everything, He is all-pervading in the material world. In this way he is the greatness of the mahat-tattva. He is also the smallness of the individual souls. which should not be considered material, like earth or the other material elements. Understood in this way, the Lord's statement is appropriate and logical.

Text 3

shrutayash ca esho 'nuratma cetasa veditavya yasmin pranah pancadha samvivesha iti. balagra-shata-bhagasya shatadha kalpitasya ca bhago jivah sa vijneyah iti. aragra-matro hy aparo 'pi drishöah iti ca.

shrutayah-the Srutis; ca-and; eshah-he; anuh-atomic; atma-soul; cetasa-by the mind; veditavya-to be known; yasmin-in which; pranah-the breath; pancadha-in five ways; samvivesha-entered; iti-thus; balagra-of the tip,of a hair; shata-bhagasya-of a hundredth part; shatadha-in a hundred parts; kalpitasya-considered; ca-also; bhagah-part; jivah-the soul; sa-he; vijneyah-to be known; iti-thus; agra-matrah-the tip; hi-indeed; aparah-not great; api-also; drishöah-seen; iti-thus; ca-also.

The Shruti-shastras also describe the atomic nature of the individual soul. In the Mundaka Upanishad (3.1.9) it is said:

"The soul is atomic in size and can be perceived by perfect intelligence. The atomic soul is floating in five kinds of air (prana, apana, vyana, samana, and udana), and is situated within the heart."*

In the Shvetashvatara Upanishad (5.9) it is said:

"When the upper point of a hair is divided into one hundred parts, and again each of such parts is further divided into one hundred parts, each such part is the measurement of the dimension of the spirit soul."*

In the Shvetashvatara Upanishad (5.8) it is also said:

"The spirit soul is atomic in size."

Text 4

shri-bhagavan.

shri-bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead.

The verse quoted in the beginning of this anuccheda was spoken by the Supreme Personality of Godhead.

Text 1

tatha aparimita dhruvanubhrito yadi sarva-gata tarhi na shasyateti niyamo dhruva-netaratha ajani ca yan-mayam tad avimucya nityantri bhavet samam anujanatam yad amatam mata-dushöataya tatha-so; aparimita-countless; dhruva-eterna; tanubhritah-emobodied souls; yadi-if; sarva-gata-all-pervading; tarhi-then; na-not; sasyata-rulership; iti-thus; niyamah-rule; dhruva-O eternal Lord; na-not; itaratha-otherwise; ajani-born; ca-and; yan-mayam-consisting of whom; tat-that; avimucya-not becomign free; nityantri-controller; bhavet-may be; samam-equality; anujanatam-of they who know; yat-what; amatam-misunderstood; mata-opinion; dushöataya-because of falseness.

That the individual souls are different from the Supreme Personality of Godhead is confirmed by these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.87.30):

"O Supreme Eternal! If the embodied living entities were eternal and all-pervading like You, then they would not be under Your control. But if the living entities are accepted as minute energies of Your Lordship, then they are at once subject to Your supreme control. Therefore real liberation entails surrender by the living entities to Your control, and that surrender will make them happy. In that constitutional position only can they be controllers. Therefore, men with limited knowledge who advocate the monistic theory that God and the living entities are equal in all respects are actually misleading themselves and others."*

Text 2

ayam arthah paramatmano 'mshatvam tasmaj jayamanatvam ca jivasya shruyate. tatra mamaivamsho jiva-loke ity adi siddhe 'msatve tavat tasya vibhutvam ayuktam ity ahuh aparimita vastuta evananta-sankhya nityash ca ye tanu-bhrito jivas te yadi sarva-gata vibhavah syus tarhi tesham vyapyatvabhavena samatvat shasyateti niyamo na syat. ishvaro niyanta jivo niyamya iti veda-krita-niyamo na ghatata ity arthah.

ayam-this; arthah-the meaning; paramatmanah-of the Supersoul; amshatvam-the status of a part; tasmaj-from that; jayamanatvam-the status of being born; ca-also; jivasya-of ths soul; shruyate-is heard; tatra-there; mamaivamsho jiva-loke ity adi-in Bhagavad-gita 15.7; siddhe-proved; amsatve-the status of being a part; tavat-then; tasya-of Him; vibhutvam-all-powwefulness and all-pervasiveness; ayuktam-improper; iti-thus; ahuh-said; aparimita-aparimita; vastutah-in truth; eva-indeed; ananta-limitless; sankhya-in number; nityah-eternal; ca-and; ye-who; tanu-bhritah-emobidied souls; jivah-souls; te-they; yadi-if; sarva-gata-all-pervading; vibhavah-all-pervading; syuh-are; tarhi-then; tesham-of them; vyapyatvabhavena-with the absence of being all-pervading; samatvat-because of equality; shasyata-the state of being the controller; iti-thus; niyamah-the controller; na-not; syat-is; ishvarah-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; niyanta-the controller; jivah-the individual soul; niyamya-the controlled; iti-thus; veda-krita-niyamah-the conclusion of the Vedic scriptures; na-not; ghatata-is; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning.

Here is the meaning: the Shruti-shastras declare that the individual soul is a part-and-parcel of the Supreme Personality of Godhead. This is confirmed in Bhagavad-gita (15.7), where the Supreme Lord declares:

"The living entities in this material world are M<y parts and parcels."*

Because they are parts of the Lord, it is not possible for the individual souls to be all-pervading. This verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.87.30) declares: "O Supreme Eternal! If the embodied living entities were eternal and all-pervading like You, then they would not be under Your control." The truth is, however, that the Supreme Personality of Godhead is clearly the controller, and the individual spirit souls are clearly under His control. It cannot be claimed that this is not the conclusion of the Vedic literatures.

Text 3

he dhruva itaratha jivasyanutvena vyapyatva-bhave tu sati na tan-niyama iti na. api tu sa ghatata evety arthah.

he-O; dhruva-eternal; itaratha-otherwise; jivasya-of the individual soul; anutvena-with atomic size; vyapyatva-bhave-the state of being all-pervading; tu-but; sati-being so; na-not; tan-niyama-under Your control; iti-thus; na-not; api-also; tu-but; sa-he; ghatata-may be; eva-indeed; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning.

The verse therefore affirms, "If the embodied living entities were eternal and all-pervading like You, then they would not be under Your control." Therefore it is not possible that the individual spirit souls are all-pervading. That is the meaning.

Text 4

atha yato va imani bhutani jayanta iti jayamanatvavasthayam api vyapya-vyapakatvenaiva niyamyaniyantritvam bhavati.

atha-now; yatah-from whom; va-indeed; imani-these; bhutani-living entities; jayanta-are born; iti-thus; jayamanatva-of being born; avasthayam-in the state; api-even; vyapya-as what is pervading; vyapakatvena-as He who is all-pervading; eva-indeed; niyamyathe controlled; niyantritvam-the state of being the controller; bhavati-is.

That the individual souls are manifested from the Supreme Personality of Godhead is explained in these words of Taittiriya Upanishad (3.1.1):

"All created beings emanate from the Absolute Truth, the Supreme Personality of Godhead."*

Because the individual spirit souls are manifested from the Lord the relationship between the individual soul and the Lord is that of controlled (the individual soul) and controller (the Supreme Lord) or the object in which all-pervasiveness is manifested (the individual soul) and the person who is all-pervading (the Supreme Lord).

Text 5

sarvatraiva karya-karanayos tathabhava-darshanad ity ahuh ajaniti. yan-mayam yad-upadanakam yaf ajani jam jayata ity arthah. tad-upadanam kartri tasya jayamanasya yasmin niyantri bhavet tad avimucya kincid apy anuktva vyapyaivety arthah.

sarvatra-everywhere; eva-indeed; karya-karanayoh-of cause and effect; tathabhava-darshanat-from seeing like that; iti-thus; ahuh-said; ajaniti-ajani; yan-mayam-consisting of which; yad-upadanakam-the cause; yaf-what; ajani-was born; jatam-born; jayate-born; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; tad-upadanam-the cause of that; kartri-the creator; tasya-of that; jayamanasya-being born; yasmin-in which; niyantri-the controller; bhavet-is; tat-that; avimucya-not being free; kincit-something; api-also; anukta-not saying; vyapya-pervading; eva-indeed; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning.

Seeing everywhere the chain of causes and effects are manifested in this way, the speaker of this verse says "ajani" (was born. The word "yan-mayam" means "consisting of this", and ""yad ajani" means "was born". The phrase "yan niyantr bhavet tad avimucya" means "He is the creator". Although not explicitly stated, here it is hinted "He is all-pervading".

Text 6

kim ca yad-upadana-rupam paramatmakhyam tattvam kenapy aparena samam samanam ity anujanatam yah kashcit tatha vadati. tatranujnam api dadatam amatam jnanam na bhavatity arthah. tatra hetuh mata-dushöataya tasya matasyashuddhatvena. tatrashuddhatvam shrutya ca virodhat.

kim ca-furthermore; yad-upadana-rupam-in the form of the creator; paramatmakhyam-called the Supersoul; tattvam-truth; kenapi-somehow; aparena-by another; samam-equal; samanam-equal; iti-thus; anujanatam-of they who know; yah-who; kashcit-someone; tatha-so; vadati-says; tatra-there; anujnam-knowledge; api-also; dadatam-gives; amatam-opinion; jnanam-knowledge; na-not; bhavati-is; iti-thus; arthah.-the meaning; tatra-there; hetuh-cause; mata-dushöataya-mata-dustaya; tasya-of that; matasya-idea; ashuddhatvena.-with impurity; tatra-there; ashuddhatvam-impurity; shrutya-by the srutis; ca-and; virodhat-because of contradiction.

Some thinkers claim that the individual souls are equal to the Supersoul, who is the creator of the the worlds. This idea is not true. It is not real knowledge (amatam). The word "mata-dushöataya" means "this idea is impure, for it contradicts the conclusions of the Shruti-shastras".

Text 7

shrutish ca asamo va esha paro na hi kashcid evam drishyate.sarve tv ete na va jayante ca mriyante ca chidra hy ete bhavanty atha paro na jayante na mriyate sarve hy apurnash ca bhavanti iti catur-veda-shikhayam.

shrutih-the Sruti-sastra; ca-and; asamah-not equal; va-indeed; esha-he; parah-the Supreme; na-not; hi-indeed; kashcit-someone; evam-thus; drishyate-is seen;.sarve-all; tv-indeed; ete-they; na-not; va-indeed; jayante-are born; ca-and; mriyante-die; ca-and; chidra-faults; hi-indeed; ete-they; bhavanti-are; atha-then; parah-supreme; na-not; jayante-born; na-not; mriyate-dies; sarve-all; hi-indeed; apurnah-inferior; ca-also; bhavanti-are; iti-thus; catur-veda-shikhayam-in the Catur-veda-shikha.

In the Shruti-shastra, in the Catur-veda-shikha, it is said:

"No individual soul is equal to the Supreme Personality of Godhead. All individual souls are born, die, and are filled with many faults. The Supreme Personality of Godhead is never born and never dies. All the individual souls are imperfect and subordinate to the Lord."

Text 8

na tat-samash cabhyadhikash ca drishyate iti.

na-not; tat-samah-equal to Him; ca-and; abhyadhikah-greater; ca-and; drishyate-is seen; iti-thus.

In the Shvetashvatara Upanishad (6.8) it is said:

"No one is greater than the Supreme Personality of Godhead. No one is equal to the Supreme Personality of Godhead."

Text 9

atha kasmad ucyate brahma brimhati brihmayati ca iti canyatra.

atha-now; kasmad-from whom?; ucyate-is said; brahma-the Supreme; brimhati-creates; brhmayati-sustains; ca-and; iti-thus canyatra.

In the scriptures it is also said:

"Who created all the worlds? The Supreme Personality of Godhead creates and sustains all existence."

Text 10

brihatvad brmhanatvac ca yad brahma paramam viduh iti shri-vishnu-purane.

brihatvat-because of greatness; brmhanatvac-because of making great; ca-and; yat-what; brahma-Supreme; paramam-Su"reme; viduh-know; iti-thus; shri-vishnu-purane-Shri Vishnu Purana.

In the Shri Vishnu Purana (1.12.57) it is said:

"The wise know that the Supreme Personality of Godhead is the master of all, for it is He who creates and sustains all existence."

Text 11

atah paramatmana eva sarva-vyapakatvam. eko devah sarva-bhuteshu gudhah sarva-vyapi sarva-bhutantaratma ity adau. tasmad anur eva jiva iti.

atah-then; paramatmana-of the Supersoul; eva-indeed; sarva-vyapakatvam-all-pervasiveness; eko devah sarva-bhuteshu gudhah sarva-vyapi sarva-bhutantaratma ity adau-Svetasvatara Upanisad 6.11; tasmad-therefore; anuh-atomic; eva-indeed; jiva-the soul; iti-thus.

The Supersoul's all-pervasiveness is described in these words of Shvetashvatara Upanishad (6.11):

"The Supreme Personality of Godhead manifests Himself as the all-pervading Supersoul, the witness present in the hearts of all living entities. He witnesses all activities of the living entity. He is the supreme living force, and yet He is transcendental to all material qualities."*

From these words the truth that the individual spirit souls are atomic in size may also be inferred.

Text 12

yat tu shri-bhagavad-gitasu nityah sarva-gatah sthanuh ity adina jiva-nirupanam. tatra sarva-gatah shri-bhagavan eva tat-sthas tad-ashritash casav anush ceti sarva-gatah sthanur jivah proktah. shrutayah.

yat-what; tu-indeed; shri-bhagavad-gitasu-in Bhagavad-gita; nityah sarva-gatah sthanuh ity adina-in Bhagavad-gita 2.24; jiva-nirupanam-description of the individual souls; tatra-there; sarva-gatah-all-pervading; shri-bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; eva-indeed; tat-sthah-staying there; tad-ashritah-taking shelter there; ca-and; asau-He; anuh-atomic; ca-and; iti-thus; sarva-gatah-all-pervading; sthanuh-staying; jivah-the soul; proktah-said; shrutayah-the personified Vedas.

The soul is also described in these words of Bhagavad-gita (2.24):

"The soul is everlasting, all-pervading, unchangeable, immovable, and eternally the same."*

In this verse the word "sarva-gatah" (all-pervading) refers to the Supreme Personality of Godhead. The word "sarva-gata" may also refer to an unchanging atomic individual soul who takes shelter (gata) of the the Supreme Personality of Godhead, who is everything (sarva). The verse quoted in the beginning of this anuccheda was spoken by the Personified Vedas.

Anuccheda 35

Text 1

atha shuddha-svarupatvan nitya-nirmalatvam udahritam eva shuddho vicashöe hy avishuddha-kartuh ity anena.

atha-now; shuddha-svarupatvan-because of purity; nitya-nirmalatvam-eternal purity; udahritam-said; eva-indeed; shuddho vicashöe hy avishuddha-kartuh ity anena-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 5.11.12.

That the individual soul is eternally pure in its nature is described in these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (5.11.12):

"A person who is pure and liberated in this life can see all these things vividly."

Text 2

tatha tenaiva shuddhasyapi jnatrtvam apy udahritam. jnanam ca nityasya svabhavika-dharmatvan nityam. ata eva na vikriyatmakam api. tatha chaitanya-sambandhena dehadeh kartritva-darshanat. kvacid acetanasya kartritvam ca.

tatha-so; tena-by that; eva-indeed; shuddhasya-pure; api-also; jnatrtvam-the status of being the knower; api-also; udahritam-said; jnanam-knowledge; ca-and; nityasya-eternal; svabhavika-dharmatvat-because of his own nature; nityam-eternal; ata eva-therefore; na-not; vikriyatmakam-subjected to change; api-also; tatha-so; chaitanya-sambandhena-by consciousness; dehadeh-beginning with the material body; kartritva-of beingthe doer; darshanat-because of the sight; kvacit-somewhere; acetanasya-unconscious; kartritvam-the status of being the doer; ca-also.

These words explain that a soul who is pure can understand the truth. A soul who is eternally pure knows the eternal truth. Such a soul is not subjected to various kinds of material transformations. In this way a soul who is conscious of the truth acts in a particular way in relation to his material body and the various things of this world. A person who is not aware of the truth acts in a different way in relation to these things.

Text 3

na rite tvat kriyate kincanare ity adav antaryami-chaitanya-sambandhena bhavatity angi-karac ca shuddhad eva kartritvam pravartate.

na-not; rite-without; tvat-you; kriyate-is done; kincana-anything; are-Oh; iti-thus; adav-beginning; antaryami-of the Supersoul; chaitanya-sambandhena-with awareness; bhavati-is; iti-thus; angi-karac-from accepting; ca-and; shuddhat-from purity; eva-certainly; kartritvam-the state of being the doer; pravartate-does.

In the scriptures it is said:

"O Lord, without Your help no one has the power to do anything."

In this way the pure soul understands the position of the Supersoul, the the Supersoul is, ultimately, the real doer of activities.

Text 4

tad uktam dehendriya-prana-mano-dhiyo 'mi yad-amsha-viddhah pracaranti karmasu iti.

tat-that; uktam-said; dehendriya-prana-mano-dhiyo 'mi yad-amsha-viddhah pracaranti karmasu iti-
Shrimad-Bhagavatam 6.16.24.

This is also described in the following words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (6.16.24):

"As iron has the power to burn when made red-hot in the association of fire, so the body, senses, living force, mind, and intelligence, although merely lumps of matter, can function in their activities when infused with a particle of consciousness by the Supreme Personality of Godhead. As iron cannot burn unless heated by fire, the bodily senses cannot act unless favored by the Supreme Brahman."*

Text 5

tat tupadhi-pradhanyena pravartamanam upadhi-dharmatvena vyapadishyate.

tat-that; tu-but; upadhi-designation; pradhanyena-by prime importance; pravartamanam-being so; upadhi-dharmatvena-by the nature of the designation; vyapadishyate-will be explained.

The superior position of the material nature is described in these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (3.26.8):

Text 6

yatha karya-karana-kartritve karanam prakritim viduh ity adau.

yatha karya-karana-kartritve karanam prakritim viduh ity adau-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 3.26.8.

"The cause of the conditioned soul's body and senses and the senses' presiding deities, the demigods, is the material nature. This is understood by learned men. The feelings of happiness and distress of the soul, who is transcendental by nature, are caused by the spirit soul himself."*

Text 7

paramatma-pradhanyena pravartamanas tu nirupadhikam evety aha paramatma-pradhanyena-the ultimate superiority of the Supersoul; pravartamanah-being so; tu-indeed; nirupadhikam-free from matter; eva-indeed; iti-thus; aha-said.

Above the material nature is the Supersoul. By understanding the ultimate superiority of the Supersoul, the individual soul attains the transcendental state where he is freed from the touch of matter. This is described in Shrimad-Bhagavatam (11.25.26). where the Supreme Personality of Godhead declares:

Text 8

sattvikah karako 'sangi ragandho rajasah smritah tamasah smriti-vibhrashöo nirguno mad-apashrayah

sattvikah-in the mode of goodness; karakah-a worker; asangi-unattached; ragandhah-blinded by passion; rajasah-in the mode of passion; smritah-considered; tamasah-in the mode of ignorance; smriti-vibhrashöhah-destruction of memory; nirgunah-freed from the three modes; mad-apashrayah-one who takes shelter of Me.

"A worker free of attachment is in the mode of goodness, a worker blinded by personal desire is in the mode of passion, and a worker who has completely forgotten how to tell right from wrong is in the mode of ignorance. But a worker who has taken shelter of Me is understood to be transcendental to the modes of nature."

Text 9

spashöam. shri-bhagavan.

spashöam-clear; shri-bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead.

The meaning of this verse is clear. This verse was spoken by the Supreme Personality of Godhead.

Anuccheda 36

Text 1

atha bhoktritvam samvedana-rupatvena yatha tatha tatraiva cid-rupe paryavasyatity aha

atha-now; bhoktritvam-the state of being the enjoyer; samvedana-rupatvena-by perception; yatha-as; tatha-so; tatra-there; eva-indeed; cid-rupe-in consciousness; paryavasyati-concludes; iti-thus; aha-said.

That the spirit soul experiences the various perceptions offered in the material world is described in these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (3.26.8):

Text 2

bhoktritve sukha-duhkhanam purusham prakriteh param iti.

bhoktritve sukha-duhkhanam purusham prakriteh param iti-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 3.26.8.

"The feelings of happiness and distress of the soul, who is transcendental by nature, are caused by the spirit soul himself."*

Text 3

karanam viduh iti purvenaivanvayah. shri-kapiladevah.

karanam-the cause; viduh-the learned understand; iti-thus; purvena-by the previous; eva-indeed; anvayah-the meaning; shri-kapiladevah-Lord Kapiladeva.

The phrase that precedes these words is "karanam viduh" (learned men know this is the cause). This verse was spoken by Lord Kapiladeva.

Anuccheda 37

Text 1

atha paramatmaika-sheshatva-sva-bhavash ceti vyakhyeyam. ekah paramatmano 'nyah shesho 'mshah. sa casau sa ca eka-sheshah. paramatmana eka-sheshah paramatmaika-sheshah. tasya bhavas tattvam tad eva sva-bhavah prakritir yasya sa paramatmaika-sheshatva-sva-bhavah. tatha-bhutash cayam sarvada moksha-dashayam apity arthah. etadrishatvam casya svatah sva-rupata eva. na tu paricchadadina.

atha-now; paramatma-of the Supersoul; eka-sheshatva-sva-bhavah-an ekasesa-samasa; ca-also; iti-thus; vyakhyeyam-explained; ekah-one; paramatmanah-of the Supersoul; anyah-another; sheshah-the remaining one; amshah-the part; sa-also; ca-and; asau-he; sa-he; ca-and; eka-sheshah-ekasesa; paramatmana-of the Supersoul; eka-sheshah-ekasesa; paramatmaika-sheshah-an ekasesa of the Supersoul; tasya-of Him; bhavah-the nature; tattvam-the truth; tat-that; eva-indeed; sva-bhavah-own nature; prakritih-nature; yasya-of whom; sa-He; paramatmaika-sheshatva-sva-bhavah-an ekasesa of the Supersoul; tatha-bhutah-like that; ca-also; ayam-He; sarvada-always; moksha-dashayam-in the condition of being liberated; api-also; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; etadrishatvam-the state of being like that; ca-also; asya-of him; svatah-personally; sva-rupata-by his own nature; eva-indeed; na-not; tu-but; paricchada-limitation; adina-beginning.

Shrila Shridhara Svami comments on this verse:

"This is an ekashesha-samasa with the Supersoul as the first member of the compound."

In this ekashesha-samasa the eka is the Supersoul and the shesha is the part-and-parcel living entity. In this compound word the nature of the Supersoul is described. Here it is said that the Supersoul is eternally free from the touch of matter. That is His nature. He is never subjected to material limitations.

Note: An ekashesha-samasa is a single word that refers to two persons. The word "purusham" (the person) in the previous text quoted from Supreme Personality of Godhead is the ekashesha-samasa referred to here. This word refers to both the Supreme Personality of Godhead and the individual spirit soul.

Text 2

tadiya-svabhavikacintya-shaktya svabhavika-tadiya-rashmi-paramanu-sthaniyatvat aupadhikavasthayam tv amshena prakriti-sheshatvam api bhavati ca svata ity asya bhavah.

tadiya-of Him; svabhavika-nature; acintya-inconceivable; shaktya-with the potency; svabhavika-nature; tadiya-of Him; rashmi-rays of light; paramanu-atom; sthaniyatvat-of the condition; aupadhika-of matter; avasthayam-in the condition; tv-indeed; amshena-as a part; prakriti-nature; sheshatvam-the ending; api-also; bhavati-is; iti-thus; ca-also; svata-personally; iti-thus; asya-of this; bhavah-the meaning.

By His inconceivable potency the Supreme Personality of Godhead manifests the individual souls, who are His parts and parcels and who are like atomic particles of light manifested from Him. Because the individual souls are thus parts of the Supreme Lord, the use of an ekashesha-samsa here is appropriate.

Text 3

shakti-rupatvam casya taöastha-shakty-atmakatvat. tatha tadiya-rashmi-sthaniyatve 'pi nitya-tad-ashrayitvat tad-vyatirekena vyatirekat hetur jivo 'sya sargadeh ity anusarena jagat-shrishöau tat-sadhanatvat. dravya-rupatve 'pi pradhana-samyac cavagamyate.

shakti-rupatvam-the nature of the potency; ca-and; asya-of Him; taöastha-shakty-atmakatvat-because of being the marginal potency; tatha-so; tadiya-rashmi-sthaniyatve-because of being particles of light; api-also; nitya-tad-ashrayitvat-because of taking shelter of Him eternally; tad-vyatirekena-by being different from Him; vyatirekat-because of difference; hetuh-the cause; jivah-the individual spirit soul; asya-of Him; sargadeh-beginning with creation; iti-thus; anusarena-by following; jagat-shrishöau-in the creation of the material world; tat-sadhanatvat-because of that method; dravya-rupatve-in the nature of the thing; api-also; pradhana-of the most important; samyat-because of likeness; ca-also; avagamyate-is known.

The individual spirit soul is the marginal potency of the Supreme Lord. The soul is a particle of light manifested from the Lord. The soul eternally rests within the Lord. In these ways the individual soul is different from the Supreme Lord. Still, in other ways, the individual soul is certainly like the Lord. The individual soul even shares, to an extent, the Lord's activity of creating the material world. This is seen in the following words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (12.7.18):

"Out of ignorance the living entity performs material activities and thereby becomes in one sense the cause of the creation, maintenance, and destruction of the universe."

Text 4

uktam ca prakriti-visheshatvena tasya shaktitvam vishnu-shaktih para prokta kshetrajnakhya tathapara avidya karma-samjnanya tritiya shaktir ishyate. iti.

uktam-said; ca-also; prakriti-visheshatvena-a specific potency; tasya-of Him; shaktitvam-the state of being a potency; vishnu-shaktih-the potency of Lord Vishnu; para-spiritual; prokta-it is said; kshetrajnakhya-the potency known as ksetrajna; tatha-as well as; para-spiritual; avidya-ignorance; karma-fruitive activities; samjna-known as; anya-other; tritiya-third; shaktih-potency; ishyate-known thus; iti-thus.

The individual spirit souls are also a specific potency of the Supreme Lord. This is described in the following words of Vishnu Purana (6.7.61 and 63):

"The potency of Lord Vishnu is summarized in three categories: namely the spiritual potency, the living entities, and ignorance. The spiritual potency is full of knowledge, the living entities, although belonging to the spiritual potency, are subject to bewilderment, and the third energy, which is full of ignorance, is always visible in fruitive activities."*

Text 5

taya tirohitatvac ca
shaktih kshetrajna-samjnita sarva-bhuteshu bhupala
taratamyena vartate

iti ca vishnu-purane.

taya-by her; tirohitatvac-from being freed from the influence; ca-also; shaktih-the potency; kshetrajna-ksetrajna; samjnita-known by the name; sarva-bhuteshu-in different types of bodies; bhupala-O king; taratamyena-in different degrees; vartate-exists; iti-thus; ca-and; vishnu-purane-in Vishnu Purana.

"This living entity, covered by the influence of nescience, exists in different forms in the material creation. O king, he is thus proportionately freed from the influence of material energy, to greater or lesser degrees."*

Text 6

bhumir apo 'nalo vayuh ity adau bhinna prakritir ashöadha ity antaram.

bhumir apo 'nalo vayuh ity adau bhinna prakritir ashöadha ity antaram-Bhagavad-gita 7.4-5).

That the individual spirit souls are a potency of the Lord also described by the Lord Himself in these words (Bhagavad-gita 7.4-5):

"Earth, water, fire, air, ether, mind, intelligence, and false-ego, altogether these eight comprise My separated material energies.*

Text 7

apareyam itas tv anyam prakritim viddhi me param jiva-bhutam maha-baho yayedam dharyate jagat

iti shri-gitopanishatsu ca.

apara-inferior; iyam-this; itah-besides this; tv-but; anyam-another; prakritim-energy; viddhi-just try to understand; me-My; param-superior; jiva-bhutam-the living entities; maha-bahah-O mighty-armed one; yaya-by whom; idam-this; dharyate-being utilized or exploited; jagat-the material world; iti-thus; shri-gitopanishatsu-in Bhagavad-gita; ca-also.

"Besides this inferior nature, O mighty-armed Arjuna, there is a superior energy of Mine, which are all living entities who are struggling with material nature and are sustaining the universe."*

Text 8

vishnu-shaktih para prokta ity adi vishnu-purana-vacane tu tishrinam eva prithak-shaktitva-nirdeshat kshetrajnasyavidya-karma-sambandhenaiva shaktitvam iti parastam. kintu sva-rupenaivetya ayatam.

vishnu-shaktih para prokta ity adi vishnu-purana-vacane-in the statement of Vishnu Purana 6.7.61; tu-but; tishrinam-of three; eva-indeed; prithak-shaktitva-nirdeshat-because of the description of distinct potencies; kshetrajnasya-of ksetrajna; avidya-of ignorance; karma-sambandhena-in relationship with fruitive actions; eva-indeed; shaktitvam-the status of potency; iti-thus; para-superior; astam-is; kintu-however; sva-own; rupena-form; eva-indeed; iti-thus; ayatam-attained.

In Vishnu Purana 6.7.61 (quoted here in text 4 of this anuccheda) three distinct potencies are described. There it is stated that even when it is in contact with the potency of ignorance and fruitive activities, the kshetrajna potency, or the individual souls, are always part of the Lord's spiritual (para) potency.

Text 9

tatha ca shri-bhagavad-gitayam mamaivamshah iti.

tatha-so; ca-and; shri-bhagavad-gitayam-in Shri Bhagavad-gita; mamaivamshah iti-Bhagavad-gita 15.7.

Indeed, the individual spirit souls are all part-and-parcel of the Supreme Lord Himself. This is confirmed in Bhagavad-gita (15.7), where the Supreme Lord declares:

"The living entities in this conditioned world are My eternal fragmental parts."*

Text 10

ata eva apareyam itas tv anyam ity uktam.

ata eva-therefore; apareyam itas tv anyam iti-in Bhagavad-gita 7.5; uktam-said.

That the individual spirit souls are a spiritual potency of the Lord is again affirmed by the Lord in these words (Bhagavad-gita 7.5):

"Besides this inferior nature, O mighty-armed Arjuna, there is a superior energy of Mine, which are all living entities who are struggling with material nature and are sustaining the universe."*

Text 11

kshetrajna eta manaso vibhutih ity adau kshetrajna-sabdash ca shuddhe 'pi pravartate. kshetra-shabdasyopalakshana-matratvat.

kshetrajna eta manaso vibhutih ity adau-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 5.11.12; kshetrajna-sabdah-the word ksetrajna; ca-also; shuddhe-pure; api-indeed; pravartate-is; kshetra-shabdasya-of the word ksetra; upalakshana-matratvat-because of being a single one standing for the whole.

In Shrimad-Bhagavatam 5.11.12 the word "kshetrajna" is used to describe the individual spirit souls. Even the liberated souls are described there by that word. The word "kshetrajna" is here in the singular, even though all the spirit souls are meant.

Text 12

tad evam shaktitve 'py anyatvam asya taöasthatvat. taöasthatvam ca maya-shakty-atitatvat. asyavidya-para-bhavadi-rupena doshena paramatmano lepa-bhava-cobhaya-koöav apraveshat.

tat-that; evam-thus; shaktitve-as a potency; api-also; anyatvam-being another; asya-of him; taöasthatvat-because of being the marginal potency; taöasthatvam-the state of being the marginal potency; ca-and; maya-shakty-atitatvat-because of being beyond the maya potency; asya-of him; avidya-para-bhava-the state of being beyond ignorance; adi-beginning; rupena-by the form; doshena-with the defect; paramatmanah-of the Supersoul; lepa-conmtact; abhava-because of the absence; ca-and; ubhaya-both; koöau-on the border; apraveshat-because of not entering.

Because He is the marginal potency, the individual soul is different from the Lord. Because he is superior to the maya potency of material ignorance, the individual soul is called the marginal potency. Because his position is on the border between the nature of the potency of material ignorance and the nature of the Supreme Personality of Godhead, the individual spirit soul is called the marginal potency.

Text 13

tasya tac-chaktitve saty api paramatmanas tal-lepabhavash ca yatha kvacid eka-desha-sthe rashmau chayaya tiraskrite 'pi suryasyatiraskaras tadvat.

tasya-of him; tac-chaktitve-as the potency of the Lord; sati-being so; api-even; paramatmanah-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; tal-lepabhavah-without contact; ca-also; yatha-as; kvacit-somewhere; eka-desha-s-the-in one place; rashmau-in light; chayaya-by shadow; tiraskrite-eclipsed; api-eveb; suryasya-od the sun; atiraskarah-not eclipsed; tadvat-then

Even though he is the Lord's potency, the individual soul is not like the Lord in all respects. As an ordinary object may sometimes be covered by a shadow, but the sun is never covered by a shadow, in the same way the individual soul may be bewildered by the illusory potency maya, but the Supreme Personality of Godhead is never bewildered.

Text 14

uktam ca taöasthatvam shri-narada-pancaratre yat taöastham tu cid-rupam sva-samvedyad vinirgatam ranjitam guna-ragena sa jiva iti kathyate. ity adau.

uktam-said; ca-also; taöasthatvam-the state of being the marginal potency; shri-narada-pancaratre-in Shri Narada-pancaratra; yat-what; taöastham-marginal; tu-indeed; cid-rupam-spiritual in nature; sva-samvedyat-because of self-awareness; vinirgatam-gone away; ranjitam-agitated; guna-of the modes; ragena-by desire; sa-he; jiva-the individual spirit soul; iti-thus; kathyate-is said; iti-thus; adau-beginning.

That the individual soul is the Lord's marginal potency is also confirmed by these words of Shri Narada-pancaratra:

"The Lord's marginal potency, which is spiritual, conscious, and liable to the contamination of the material modes, is called the individual soul."

Text 15

ato vishnu-purane 'py antarala eva pathito 'sau. anyatvam ca shrutau asman mayi shrjate vishvam etat tasmimsh canyo mayaya sanniruddhah. tayor anyah pippalam svadv atti ity adau.

atah-the n; vishnu-purane-in Vishnu Purana; api-also; antarala-marginal; eva-indeed; paöhita-read; asau-this; anyatvam-the state of being someone else; ca-also; shrutau-in the Sruti-sastra; asman-from Him; mayi-ther master of maya; shrjate-creates; vishvam-the universe; etat-this; tasmimh-in this; ca-and; anyah-another; mayaya-bythe maya potency; sanniruddhah-stopped; tayoh-of them; anyah-another; pippalam-the pippala fruit; svadv-sweet; atti-eats; iti-thus; adau-beginning.

That the individual soul and the Supreme Personality of Godhead are different is also confirmed by the following words of the Shvetashvatara Upanishad (4.9):

"Simply by studying the Vedas it is very difficult for the conditioned soul, illusioned by maya and trapped in the material world, to understand the Supreme Personality of Godhead, the controller of the illusory potency and the creator of the material universes."*

This is also confirmed by the following words of Mundaka Upanishad (3.1.1) and Shvetashvatara Upanishad (4.6-7):

"In the individual spirit soul and the Supersoul, Supreme Personality of Godhead, are like two friendly birds sitting on the same tree. One of the birds (the individual atomic soul) is eating the fruit of the tree (the sense gratification afforded by the material body), and the other bird (the Supersoul) is not trying to eat these fruits, but is simply watching His friend.*

Text 16

ata evoktam vaishnave

vibheda-janake 'jnane nasham atyantikam gate atmano brahmano bheda asantam kah karishyati. iti.

ata eva-therefore; uktam-said; vaishnave-in the Vishnu Purana; vibheda-of bewilderment; janake-in the cause; ajnane-ignorance; nasham-destruction; atyantikam-great; gate-attained; atmanah-of the self; brahmanah-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; bheda-difference; asantam-not true; kah-who?; karishyati-will do; iti-thus.

This is also confirmed by the following words of Vishnu Purana (6.7.94):

"When the false ideas about the difference of the soul are completely dispelled, who will refute the statement that the individual soul and the Supreme Personality of Godhead are different?"

Text 17

devatva-manushyatvadi-lakshano visheshato yo bhedas tasya janake 'py ajnane nasham gate brahmanah paramatmanah sakshad atmano jivasya yo bhedah svabhavikas tam bhedam asantam kah karishyati. api tu santam vidyamanam eva sarva eva karishyati arthah.

devatva-manushyatvadi-beginning eith the status of a demigod or a human being; lakshanah-nature; visheshatah-distinguished; yah-which; bhedah-difference; tasya-of that; janake-the creator; api-even; ajnane-ignorance; nasham-destruction; gate-attained; brahmanah-of the Brahman; paramatmanah-of the Supersoul; sakshat-directly; atmanah-of the self; jivasya-individual soul; yah-which; bhedah-difference; svabhavikah-nature; tam-that; bhedam-difference; asantam-untrue; kah-who; karishyati-will make; api-also; tu-indeed; santam-true; vidyamanam-being so; eva-indeed; sarva-all; eva-indeed; karishyati-will make; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning.

Here the words "vibheda-janake 'jnane nasham gate" mean "when the illusion of thinking that the demigods, human beings, and other species of life have different kinds of souls is completely dispelled". Here "brahmanah" means "of the Supreme Personality of Godhead", and "atmanah" means "of the individual spirit soul". "Bhedam asantam kah karishyati" means "That the individual soul and the Supreme Personality of Godhead are different is the truth. Everyone knows that it is true."

Text 18

uttaratra paöhe nasantam ity etasya vidheyatvad anyatharthah. kashöa-shrishöa eveti moksha-dashayam api tad-amshatvavyabhicarah sva-bhavika-shaktitvad eva.

uttaratra-later; paöhe-in the reading; na-not; asantam-untrue; iti-thus; etasya-of this; vidheyatvad-to be stated; anyatha-another; arthah-meaning; kashöa-of evil and suffering; shrishöa-created; eva-indeed; iti-thus; moksha-dashayam-in the condition of the liberated; api-also; tad-amshatva-being a part and parcel fo the Supreme Personality of Godhead; avyabhicarah-not changing; sva-bhavika-shaktitvad-because of being a potency of the Lord; eva-indeed.

An alternate reading of this text gives the words "nasantam" instead of "asantam" If this alternate reading is accepted, the last part of this verse should be interpreted in a different way. Then it means, "Because he is one of the Lord's potencies, even after attaining liberation the soul remains always part-and-parcel of the Lord."

Text 19

ata evavidya-vimoksha-purvaka-svarupavasthiti-lakshanayam muktau tal-linasya tat-sadharmyapattir bhavati

ata eva-therefore; avidya-ignorance; vimoksha-liberation; purvaka-before; svarupa-own form; avasthiti-situation; lakshanayam-in the nature; muktau-liberated; tal-linasya-merged into Him; tat-sadharmyapattih-attainment of His nature; bhavati-is.

When he becomes free from ignorance and situated in his original constitutional position, the soul is said to be liberated. In this liberated condition his spiritual nature is like that of the Lord Himself. This is described in the following words of Mundaka Upanishad (3.2.9):

Text 20

niranjanah paramam samyam upaiti ity adi shrutibhyah.

niranjanah-free from matter; paramam-supreme; samyam-equality; upaiti-attains; iti-thus; adi-beginning; shrutibhyah-from the Sruti-sastras.

"When he is liberated from the grip of matter, the individual soul attains a spiritual nature like that of the Supreme Lord Himself."

Text 21

idam jnanam upashritya
mama sadharmyam agatah
sarge 'pi nopajayante
pralaye na vyathanti ca

iti shri-gitopanishadbhyash ca.

idam-this; jnanam-knowledge; upashritya-taking shelter of; mama-My; sadharmyam-nature; agatah-attained; sarge 'pi-even in the creation; na-never; opajayante-comes in ; pralaye-in the annihilation; na-nor; vyathanti-disturbed; ca-also; iti-thus; shri-gitopanishadbhyah-from Shri Bhagavad-gita; ca-also.

This is also confirmed by the following words of Bhagavad-gita (14.2), where the Supreme Personality of Godhead declares:

"By becoming fixed in this knowledge, one can attain to the transcendental nature, which is like My own nature. Thus established, one is not born at the time of creation nor disturbed at the time of dissolution."*

Text 22

ata eva brahma veda brahmaiva bhavati ity adishu ca brahma-tadatmyam eva bodhayati. svenacintaniya-jnanam bhavati.

ata eva-therefore; brahma-the supreme; veda-knows; brahma-like the Supreme; eva-indeed; bhavati-becomes; iti-thus; adishu-beginning; ca-also; brahma-tadatmyam-a nature like that of the Supreme; eva-indeed; bodhayati-teaches; svena-own; acintaniya-inconceivable; jnanam-knowledge; bhavati-is.

This is also confirmed by the following words of Mundaka Upanishad (3.2.9):

"A person who understands the Supreme attains a spiritual nature like that of the Supreme."

These words teach that the soul attains a spiritual nature like that of the Supreme. In this way one comes to understand something of the inconceivable Lord.

Text 23

tat-svabhavyapattih upapatteh iti-vat.

tat-svabhavya-of His nature; apattih-attainment; upapatteh-Vedanta-sutra 3.2.36; iti-thus; vat-like.

That the liberated soul attains a spiritual nature like that of the Lord is also confirmed by the following words of Vedanta-sutra (3.2.36):

"This is true, for it is reasonable and logical."

Text 24

tad evam shaktitve siddhe shakti-shaktimatoh parasparanupraveshat shaktimad-vyatireke shakti-vyatirekat cittvavisheshac ca kvacid abheda-nirdesha ekasminn api vastuni shakti-vaividhya-darshanad bheda-nirdeshash ca nasamanjasah. shri-ramanujiyas tu adhishöhanadhishöhatror api jiveshayor bheda-vyapadesho vyakti-jatyor gavadi-vyapadesha-vad iti manyante.

tat-that; evam-thus; shaktitve-in the position of being a potency; siddhe-proved; shakti-shaktimatoh-of the potency and the master of potencies; paraspara-mutual; anupraveshat-from entrance; shaktimat-from the master of potencies; vyatireke-different; shakti-vyatirekat-different from the potency; cittva-considering; avisheshac-from non-difference; ca-and; kvacit-somewhere; abheda-of non-difference; nirdesha-teaching; ekasminn-in one place; api-also; vastuni-thing; shakti-of potencies; vaividhya-variety; darshanat-from seeing; bheda-nirdeshah-teaching of difference; ca-also; na-not; asamanjasah-improper;. shri-ramanujyah-the followers of Shri Ramanujacarya; tu-but; adhishöhana-of the established; adhishöhatroh-of the person who establishes; api-also; jiva-of the individual soul; ishayoh-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; bheda-of difference; vyapadeshah-teaching; vyakti-manifestation; jatyoh-of birth; gavadi-beginning eith cows; vyapadesha-teaching; vat-likew; iti-thus; manyante-considered.

In this way it is proved that the individual souls are potencies of the Supreme Lord. The potency and the master of potencies have a close relationship. Still, the potencies are different from the master of potencies, and the master of potencies is different from His potencies. Then again, in another sense they are not different from each other. Then again, because there are many different potencies, and thus spiritual variety is very real, it is not wrong to discuss the differences that exist within the spiritual reality. The followers of Shri Ramanujacarya also affirm that the creator and His creation are certainly different, that the Supreme Personality of Godhead and the individual spirit soul are certainly different, that the whole and the part are different, and that, for example, a single cow and the sum total of all cows are different.

Text 25

yatah shri-vishnu-purane yo 'yam tavagato deva samipam devata-ganah sa tvam eva jagat-srashöa yatah sarva-gato bhavan. iti.

yatah-because; shri-vishnu-purane-in Shri Vishnu Purana; yah-who; ayam-he; tava-to You; agatah-approached; deva-O Lord; samipam-near; devata-ganah-demigods; sa-he; tvam-You; eva-indeed; jagat-srashöa-the creator of the universe; yatah-because; sarva-gatah-all-pervading; bhavan-You; iti-thus.

That the individual spirit souls and the Supreme Personality of Godhead are different is also confirmed by the following prayer in Shri Vishnu Purana (1.9.69):

"Whoever comes before You, be he a demigod, is created by You, O Supreme Personality of Godhead."*

Text 26

shri-gitasu ca sarvam samapnoshi tato pi sarvah iti.

shri-gitasu ca sarvam samapnoshi tato pi sarvah iti-in Bhagavad-gita 11.40.

This is also confirmed by the following words of Shri Bhagavad-gita (11.40):

"O Supreme Personality of Godhead, You are all-pervading, and thus You are everything!"*

Text 27

tatra jñanecchun prati shastram abhedam upadishati bhakticchun prati tu bhedam eva. kvacit tu paramatma-pratibimbatvam yad asya shruyate yatha tatra-there; jñana-knowledge; icchun-desiring; prati-to; shastram-scripture; abhedam-not different; upadishati-teaches; bhakti-devotional service; icchun-desiring; prati-to; tu-but; bhedam-difference; eva-indeed; kvacit-somewhere; tu-but; paramatma-of the Supersoul; pratibimbatvam-reflection; yat-what; asya-of Him; shruyate-is heard; yatha-as.

To persons who desire impersonal knowledge, the scriptures teach that the Supreme and the individual souls are not different. To persons who desire to serve the Lord in devotional service, the scriptures teach that the Supreme and individual souls are different. In some places the scriptures declare that the individual souls are reflections of the Supreme. An example of this is found in the following words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (4.28.63):

Text 28

yatha purusha atmanam
ekam adarsha-cakshushoh dvidhabhutam aveksheta tathaivantaram avayoh. iti.

yatha-as; purusha-the living entity; atmanam-his body; ekam-one; adarsha-in a mirror; cakshushoh-by the eyes; dvidhabhutam-existing as two; aveksheta-sees; tatha-similarly; eva-certainly; antaram-difference; avayoh-between ourselves; iti-thus.

"As a person sees the reflection of his body in a mirror to be one with himself and not different, whereas others actually see two bodies, so in our material condition, in which the living being is affected and yet not affected, there is a difference between God and the living entity."*

Text 29

tad api jñānecchun praty abheda-drishōi-poshanartham evocyate. na vastava-vṛittyai va pratibimbatvena.

tad api-nevertheless; jñānecchun prati-to persons who desire impersonal knowledge; abheda-drishōi-the vision of being not different; poshanartham-in order to increase; eva-indeed; ucyate-is said; na-not; vastava-vṛittyai-with reality; eva-indeed; pratibimbatvena-the state of being a reflection

Although, in order to encourage the impersonalists in their idea that they are not different from the Lord, it may sometimes be said that the individual souls are reflections of the Lord, that idea is not really true. The individual souls are not reflections of the Lord.

Text 30

advaya-vāda-guru-mate 'pi ambu-vad āgrahanat iti nyaya-virodhat vṛiddhi-hrasa-bhaktvām antar-bhavad ubhaya-samanjasyad evam iti nyayena yathā-kathāncit pratibimba-sadrishya-matrāṅgi-karac ca.

advaya-vāda-guru-mate-in the opinion of the impersonalist gurus; api-even; ambu-vad āgrahanat iti-Vedānta-sūtra 3.2.19; nyaya-Vedānta; virodhat-because of contradiction; vṛiddhi-hrasa-bhaktvām antar-bhavad ubhaya-samanjasyad evam iti nyayena-Vedānta-sūtra 3.2.20; yathā-kathāncit-somehow; pratibimba-reflection; sadrishya-similarity; matrā-angī-karac-because of accepting; ca-also.

This idea of the impersonalist gurus, that the individual souls are reflections of the Supreme, is refuted by the following words of Vedānta-sūtra (3.2.19-20):

"The individual souls are not reflections of the Supreme, like reflections of the sun in various bodies of water. The scriptures' example of a reflection is merely meant to show the greatness of the Supreme and the smallness of the individual soul. It is not meant to be taken literally."

In this way the Vedānta-sūtra affirms that the individual soul is only like a reflection of the Supreme. The soul is not literally a reflection of the Supreme.

Text 31

tad etat tasya paramatmamśha-rūpataya nityatvam śhri-gītopaniṣadbhir api darśhitam mamaivamśho jīva-loke jīva-bhūtaḥ sanātanaḥ iti.

tat-that; etat-this; tasya-of him; paramatmamśha-rūpataya-as a part and parcel of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; nityatvam-eternal nature; śhri-gītopaniṣadbhir-by Śhri Bhagavad-gītā; api-also; darśhitam-revealed; mamaivamśho jīva-loke jīva-bhūtaḥ sanātanaḥ iti-Bhagavad-gītā 15.7.

That the individual spirit souls are eternally parts-and-parcels of the Supreme Personality of Godhead is confirmed by the Lord Himself in these words of Śhri Bhagavad-gītā (15.7):

"The living entities in this conditioned world are My eternal fragmental parts."*

Text 32

tad evam amshatvam tavad aha. tatra samashöeh esha hy ashesha-sattvanam atmamshah paramatmanah adyo 'vataro yatrasau

bhuta-gramo vibhavyate

tat-that; evam-thus; amshatvam-the status of parts and parcels; tavat-so; aha-said; tatra-there; samashöeh-of the totality; esa-this; hi-certainly; ashesha-unlimited; sattvanam-living entities; atma-self; amshah-part; paramatmanah-of the Supersoul; adyah-the first; 'vatarah-incarnation; yatra-whereupon; asau-all those; bhuta-gramah-the aggregate creations; vibhavyate-flourish.

That the sum total of all individual souls is a part and parcel of the Lord is confirmed by these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (3.6.8):

"The gigantic universal form of the Supreme Lord is the first incarnation and plenary portion of the Supersoul. He is the self of an unlimited number of living entities, and in Him rests the aggregate creation, which thus flourishes."*

Text 33

öika ca ashesha-sattvanam praninam atma. vyashötinam tad-amshatvat. amsho jivah. avataroktis tasmin narayanavirbhavabhiprayena ity esha.

öika-commentary; ca-also; ashesha-sattvanam-asesa-sattvanam; praninam-of living entities; atma-self; vyashötinam-of the aggregates; tad-amshatvat-because of being a part; amshah-part; jivah-individual soul; avatara-incarnation; uktih-statement; tasmin-in Him; narayana-of Lord Narayana; avirbhava-manifestation; abhiprayena-by the meaning; iti-thus; esha-it.

Shrila Shridhara Svami comments:

"In this verse the word 'ashesha-bhutanam' means 'of the living entities'. This is so because the totality of living entities are part and parcel of the Lord. The word 'amshah' means 'the individual spirit soul', and the word 'avatara' means 'the incarnation of Lord Narayana'."

Text 34

shri-shukah.

shri-shukah-Shri Sukadeva Gosvami.

This verse was spoken by Shrila Shukadeva Gosvami.

Anuccheda 38

Text 1

atha vyashöeh

ekasyaiva mamamshasya jivasyaiva maha-mate bandho 'syavidyamanadir vidyaya ca tathetarah

atha-now; vyashöeh-of the individual; ekasya-one; eva-indeed; mama-of Me; amshasya-part; jivasya-of the soul; eva-indeed; maha-mate-O noble-hearted one; bandhah-bondage; asya-of him; avidyaya-by ignorance; anadih-without beginning; vidyaya-by knowledge; ca-also; tatha-so; itarah-the other.

That each individual soul, taken for himself, is a part and parcel of the Lord is confirmed by these words spoken by the Supreme Lord Himself (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.11.4):

"O most intelligent Uddhava, the living entity, called jiva, is part and parcel of Me, but due to ignorance he has been suffering in material bondage since time immemorial. By knowledge, however, he can be liberated."

Text 2

itaro mokshah. atra rashmi-paramanu-sthaniyo vyashötih. tatra sarvabhimani kashcit samashötir iti jneyam. shri-bhagavan.

itarah-itarah; mokshah-liberation; atra-here; rashmi-paramanu-sthaniyah-of the atomic particles of sunlight; vyashötih-the individual; tatra-there; sarvabhimani-in conseration of the totality; kashcit-something; samashötih-totality; iti-thus; jneyam-to be known; shri-bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead.

Here the word "itarah" means "liberation". Here the individual soul is like a single particle of sunlight, and the sum total of all individual souls is like the sum total of all sunlight. In this way it should be understood. This verse was spoken by the Supreme Personality of Godhead.

Anuccheda 39

Text 1

tatra shaktitvenaivamshatvam vyanjayanti tatra-there; shaktitvena-because of being a potency; eva-indeed; amshatvam-the status of being a part and parcel; vyanjayanti-reveals.

That the individual soul's nature is to be both a potency of the Lord and a part and parcel of the Lord is confirmed by the following prayer (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.87.20):

Text 2

sva-krita-pureshv amisv abahir-antar-asamvahanam tava purusham vadanty akhila-shakti-dhrito 'msha-kritam. iti.

sva-krita-created by Him; pureshv-in the bodies; amisv-in them; abahir-antar-asamvahanam-neither within nor without; tava-of You; purusham-the living entity; vadanti-says; akhila-shakti-dhritah-the master of all potencies; amsha-kritam-manifested as a part and parcel; iti-thus.

"It is explained in the Vedic literatures that the living entities entrapped in different species of life are part and parcel of the Supreme Lord."*

Text 3

abahir-antara-samvahanam bahir bahirangani karyani. antah antarangani karanani tair asamvaranam karya-karanair asamshprishöam. amsha-kritam amsham ity arthah. akhila-shakti-dhritah sarva-shakti-dharasyeti visheshanam jiva-shakti-vishishöasyaiva tava jivo 'msho na tu shuddhasyeti gamayitva jivasya tac-chakti-rupatvenaivamshatvam ity etad vyanjayanti.

abahir-antara-samvahanam-abahir-antara-samvahanam; bahir-bahir; bahirangani-external; karyani-actions; antah-antah; antarangani-internal; karanani-actions; taih-by them; asamvaranam-not covered; karya-karanaih-by causes and effects; asamshprishöam-untouched; amsha-kritam-made a part; amsham-part; iti-thus; arthah.-the meaning; akhila-shakti-dhritah-akhila-shakti-dhritah; sarva-shakti-dharasya-possessing all potencies; iti-thus; visheshanam-specific; jiva-shakti-vishishöasya-specifically the potency that is the individual spirit souls; eva-indeed; tava-of You; jivah-the soul; a'mshah-part and parcel; na-not; tu-but; shuddhasya-pure; iti-thus; gamayitva-brining; jivasya-of the soul; tac-chakti-of His potency; rupatvena-with the nature; eva-indeed; amshatvam-the nature of being a part; iti-thus; etad-this; vyanjayanti-reveal.

In the compound word "abahir-antar-asamvahanam" the word "bahir" means "external activities", "antah" means "internal activities", and "asamvaranam" means "untouched by cause and effect". "Amsha-kritam" means "part and parcel", and "akhila-shakti-dhritah" means "of He who possesses all potencies, especially the potencies that are the individual spirit souls". Here the prayers says, "O Lord, You do not send a pure soul into the material world". This verse thus affirms that the individual spirit souls are potencies of Lord and parts and parcels of the Lord.

Text 4

atha taöasthatvam ca sa yad ajaya ajam anushayita ity adau vyaktam asti. ubhaya-koöav apravishöatvad eva. shrutayah shri-bhagavantam.

atha-now; taöasthatvam-the nature of being the marginal potency; ca sa yad ajaya ajam anushayita ity adau-in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.87.38; vyaktam-manifested; asti.-is; ubhaya-koöau-on the boundary of both; apravishöatvat-because of not having entered; eva.-indeed; shrutayah-the Vedas; shri-bhagavantam-to the Supreme Personality of Godhead.

That the individual souls are the marginal potency of the Lord is described in these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.87.38):

"The illusory material nature attracts the minute living entity to embrace her, and as a result he assumes forms composed of her qualities. Subsequently, he loses all of his spiritual qualities and must undergo repeated deaths."

In this way it is said that the individual souls are on the border between the spiritual and material worlds. This verse was spoken by the Personified Vedas to the Supreme Personality of Godhead.

Anuccheda 40

Text 1

atha jñānecchum prati jiveshayor abhedam aha

atha-now; jñānecchum prati-to they who desire impersonal knowledge; jiveshayoh-of the individual soul and the Supreme Personality of Godhead; abhedam-non difference; aha-says.

To describe the way in which the individual spirit soul and the Supreme Personality of Godhead are not different, the Shrimad-Bhagavatam (4.28.62) gives the following explanation to those persons who desire impersonal knowledge:

Text 2

aham bhavan na canyas tvam tvam evaḥam vicakshva bhoh na nau pashyanti kavayas chidram jatu manag api

aham-I; bhavan-you; na-not; ca-also; anyah-different; tvam-you; tvam-you; eva-certainly; aham-as I am; vicakshva-just observe; bhoh-my dear friend; na-not; nau-of Us; pashyanti-do observe; kavayah-learned scholars; chidram-faulty differentiation; jatu-at any time; manag-in a small degree; api-even.

"My dear friend, I, the Supersoul, and you, the individual soul, are not different in quality, for we are both spiritual. In fact, My dear friend, you are qualitatively not different from Me in your constitutional position. Just try to consider this subject. Those who are actually advanced scholars, who are in knowledge, do not find any qualitative difference between you and Me."*

Text 3

spāṣhām śhri-paramatma purāṇjanam.

spāṣhām-clear; śhri-paramatma-the Suoersoul; purāṇjanam-to King Purāṇjana.

The meaning of this verse is clear. This verse was spoken by the Supersoul to King Puranjana.

Anuccheda 41

Text 1

tatra purvokta-ritya prathamam tavat sarvesham eva tattvanam parasparanupravesha-vivikshayaikyam pratiyate. ity evam shaktim iti paramatmani jivakhya-shakty-anupravesha-vivakshaiva tayor aikya-pakshe hetur ity abhipraiti shri-bhagavan.

tatra-there; purvokta-ritya-by the previous statement; prathamam-first; tavat-then; sarvesham-of all; eva-indeed; tattvanam-truths; paraspara-mutual; anupravesha-entrance; vivikshaya-with the desire to describe; aikyam-oneness; pratiyate.-is accepted; iti-thus; evam-thus; shaktim-potency; iti-thus; paramatmani-in the Supersoul; jivakhya-called the individual spirit soul; shakti-potency; anupravesha-entrance; vivaksha-the desire to say; eva-indeed; tayoh-of them both; aikya-pakshe-in oneness; hetuh-the reason; iti-thus; abhipraiti-attains; shri-bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead.

In the previous quote it was affirmed that every things is present in every other thing. In this way it is affirmed that the potency that is the individual spirit soul is present within the Supreme Personality of Godhead, who is the Supersoul and the master of all potencies. It is in this way that the Supreme Personality of Godhead and the individual spirit souls are one. That every thing is present in every other things is described in these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (11.22.7):

Text 2

parasparanupraveshat
tattvanam purusharshabha paurvaparya-prasankhyanam yatha vaktur vivakshitam paraspara-mutual; anupraveshat-because of entrance; tattvanam-of things; purusharshabha-O best of men; paurvaparya-causes and effects; prasankhyanam-sounding; yatha-as; vaktuh-of the speaker; vivakshitam-desired to be said.

"O best of men, because every thing is present in every other thing, philosophers may calculate the different causes and effects in different ways, according to their personal desire."

Text 3

oika ca anyonyasminn anupraveshad vaktur yatha vivakshitam tatha purva alpa-sankhya apara adhika-sankhya tayor bhavah paurvaparyam tena prasankhyanam gananam ity esha.

oika-commentary; ca-and; anyonyasminn-mutually; anupraveshad-because of entering; vaktuh-of the speaker; yatha-as; vivakshitam-desired to be said; tatha-so; purva-previous; alpa-sankhya-small number; apara-another; adhika-sankhya-greater number; tayoh-of them; bhavah-the nature; paurvaparyam-cause and effect; tena-bythat; prasankhyanam-counting; gananam-counting; iti-thus; esha-this.

Shrila Shridhara Svami comments:

"Here the words 'parasparanupraveshad yatha vaktur vivakshitam' mean 'because they enter each other, it may be as one wishes to describe it'. 'Paurvaparya-prasankhyanam' means 'one may count the causes and effects as few or many, as one likes'."

Text 4

shri-bhagavan.

shri-bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead.

This verse was spoken by the Supreme Personality of Godhead.

Anuccheda 42

Text 1

athavyatirekena cid-rupatvavisheshenapi tayor aikyam upadishati atha-not; avyatirekena-with non-difference; cid-rupatva-spiritual status; avisheshena-not different; api-also; tayoh-of the two of them; aikyam-oneness; upadishati-teaches.

Now will be explained the truth that the individual spirit soul and the Supreme Personality of Godhead are, because they are both spiritual nature, qualitatively one. In Shrimad-Bhagavatam (11.22.11) it is said:

Text 2

purusheshvarayor atra
na vailakshanyam anv api tad-anya-kalpanapartha jnanam ca prakriter gunah. iti.

purusha-of the individual spirit soul; ishvarayoh-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; atra-here; na-not; vailakshanyam-difference; anv-slight; api-even; tad-anya-of being other; kalpana-imagination; apartha-useless; jnanam-knowledge; ca-and; prakriteh-of matter; gunah.-the modes; iti.-thus.

"According to knowledge in the material mode of goodness, there is no qualitative difference between the living entity and the supreme controller. The imagination of qualitative difference between them is useless speculation."

Text 3

oika ca katham tarhi pancavimshati-pakshah. tatraha purusheti. vailakshanyam visadrishatvam nasti.

dvayor api cid-rupatvat. atas tayor atyantam tad-anyatva-kalpanapartha ity esha.

öika-commentary; ca-and; katham-how?; tarhi-then; pancavimshati-pakshah-the 25 elements; tatra-there; aha-says; purusha-purusa; iti-thus; vailakshanyam-difference; visadrishatvam-difference; na-not; asti-is; dvayoh-of both; api-also; cid-rupatvat-because of spiritual nature; atah-then; tayoh-of both; atyantam-great; tad-anyatva-kalpanapartha-useless speculation of being different; iti-thus; esha-it.

Shrila Shridhara Svami comments:

"Someone may ask: What is the nature of the 24 material elements? That question is answered in this verse. The words "na vailakshanyam" mean "the two of them are not different, for they are both spiritual in nature. The word "anya-kalpanapartha" means "the idea that they are different is a useless speculation."

Text 4

atra sadrishatvananyatvabhyam tayoh shakti-shaktimattvam ca darshitam. tenavyatireko 'pi. shri-bhagavan.

atra-here; sadrishatva-likeness; ananyatvabhyam-and not being different; tayoh-of them both; shakti-shaktimattvam-the potency and the master of potencies; ca-also; darshitam-revealed; tena-by this; avyatyirekah-not different; api-also; shri-bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead.

The individual soul and the Supreme Personality of Godhead are similar and not different because one is the potency and the other is the master of all potencies. That is how they are not different. This verse was spoken by the Supreme Personality of Godhead.

Anuccheda 43

Text 1

atha bhakticchun prati tayor bhedam upadishati atha-now; bhakticchun-to they who desire devotional service; prati-to; tayoh-of the two of them; bhedam-difference; upadishati-teaches.

To persons who desire devotional service, the scriptures teach that the individual spirit soul and the Supreme Personality of Godhead are different. The Supreme Personality of Godhead (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 3.9.33) explains:

Text 2

yada rahitam atmanam
bhutendriya-gunashayaih sva-rupena mayopetam
pashyan svarajyam icchati

yada-when; rahitam-freed from; atmanam-self; bhuta-material elements; indriya-material senses; gunashayaih-under the influence of the material modes of nature; sva-rupena-in pure existence; maya-by Me; upetam-approaching; pashyan-by seeing; svarajyam-spiritual kingdom; icchati-enjoy.

"When you are free from the conception of gross and subtle bodies and when your senses are free from all influences of the modes of material nature, you will realize your pure form in My association. At that time you will be situated in pure consciousness."*

Text 3

bhutadibhir virahitam atmanam jivam svarupena tasya jiva-shakter ashraya-bhutena shaktimata mayopetam yuktam. svarajyam sarishöy-adikam. shri-garbhodashayi brahmanam.

bhutadibhih-beginning with the material elements; virahitam-without; atmanam-self; jivam-individual spirit soul; svarupena-in his original form; tasya-of him; jiva-of the individual spirit soul; shakteh-of the potency; ashraya-bhutena-as the shelter; shaktimata-of the master of all potencies; maya-by Me; upetam-approached; yuktam.-engaged; svarajyam-spiritual kingdom; sarishöy-adikam-beginning with sarsti liberation; shri-garbhodashayi-Lord Garbhodakashayi Vishnu; brahmanam-to Brahma.

"Virahitam atmanam svarupena" means "the individual spirit soul freed from the material elements and other material encumbrances", "mayopetam" means "in the association of Me, the master of all potencies and the shelter of the potency that is the individual spirit soul", and "svarajyam" means "the various kinds of liberation, which begin with the liberation of having opulences like the Lord (sarshöi)." This verse was spoken by Lord Garbhodakashayi Vishnu to Brahma.

Anuccheda 44

Text 1

tatra bhede hetum aha

anady-avidya-yuktasya purushasyatma-vedanam svato na sambhavad anyas tattva-jno jnana-do bhavet tatra-there; bhede-difference; hetum-reason; aha-said; anadi-beginningless; avidya-ignorance; yuktasya-possessing; purushasya-of the individual spirit soul; atma-of the self; vedanam-knowledge; svatah-personally; na-not; sambhavad-may be; anyas-another; tattva-jnah-knowing the truth; jnana-dah-giving knowledge; bhavet-should be.

The reason why the individual spirit soul and the Supreme Personality of Godhead are different is given in these words (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.22.10):

"Because a person who has been covered by ignorance since time immemorial is not capable of effecting his own self-realization, there must be some other personality who is in factual knowledge of the Absolute Truth and can impart this knowledge to him."

Text 2

öika ca svato na sambhavati. svatah sarva-jnah parameshvaro 'nyo bhaved iti sad-vimshati-tattva-pakshabhiprayah ity esha.

öika-commentary; ca-and; svatah-personally; na-not; sambhavati-is possible; svatah-personally; sarva-jnah-all-knowing; parameshvarah-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; anyah-another; bhaved-is; iti-thus; sad-vimshati-tattva-pakshabhiprayah-knowing the 26 elements; iti-thus; esha-it.

Shrila Shridhara Svami comments:

"Here the words `svato na' mean `it is not possible for him', and the words `sambhavat anyah' mean `for another person it is possible'. That other person is the Supreme Personality of Godhead, who is omniscient and knows everything about the 26 elements of this world."

Text 3

jnanadatvam atra jnanaj jnatuh ca vailakshanyam ishvarasya bodhayaty eveti bhavah. evam tvatto jnanam hi jivanam pramoshas te 'tra shaktitah ity uddhava-vakyam cagre jnanadatvam-the state of being the giver of transcendental knowledge; atra-here; jnanat-from knowledge; jnatuh-the knower; ca-also; vailakshanyam-difference; ishvarasya-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; bodhayati-teaches; eva-indeed; iti-thus; bhavah-the meaning; evam-thus; tvatto jnanam hi jivanam pramoshas te 'tra shaktitah iti-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.22.28; uddhava-vakyam-the statement of Uddhava; ca-also; agre-in the beginning.

The meaning here is that the Supreme Personality of Godhead is the knower and teacher of transcendental knowledge. In that way He is different from the individual spirit souls. This is explained in the following words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (11.22.28), where Uddhava tells the Supreme Lord:

"From You alone the knowledge of the living beings arises, and by Your potency that knowledge is stolen away. Indeed, no one but Yourself can understand the real nature of Your illusory potency."

Text 4

atra yadi jivajnana-kalpitam eva tasya parameshvaratvam syat tarhi sthanu-purushavat tasya jnanadatvam api na syad ity atah satya eva jiveshvara-bheda ity evam shrimad-ishvarenaiva svayam svasya paramarthikeshvarabhimanitvenaivastitvam mudhan prati bodhitam iti spashöam.

atra-here; yadi-if jiva-of the individual soul; ajnana-ignorance; kalpitam-considered; eva-indeed; tasya-of him; parameshvaratvam-the status of being the Supreme Personality of Godhead; syat-may be; tarhi-then; sthanu-steady; purusha-person; vat-like; tasya-of him; jnanadatvam-giving knowledge; api-also; na-not; syat-may be; iti-thus; atah-then; satya-true; eva-indeed; jiveshvara-bheda-difference of the individual soul and the Supreme Personality of Godhead; iti-thus; evam-thus; shrimad-ishvarena-by the Supreme Personality of Godhead; eva-indeed; svayam-personally; svasya-of Him; paramarthika-the spiritual goal; ishvara-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; abhimanitvena-proudly considering himself; eva-indeed; astitvam-the state of being so; mudhan-fools; prati-to; bodhitam-taught; iti-thus; spashöam-clear.

If an individual spirit soul is so bewildered that he thinks himself the Supreme Personality of Godhead, that individual spirit soul does not have the power to teach knowledge of the real truth. The real truth is that individual spirit soul and the Supreme Personality of Godhead are different. However, when speaking to bewildered fools, the Supreme Personality of Godhead Himself may sometimes teach this arrogant idea that the individual soul is identical with the Supreme Lord.

Text 5

bheda-vadinash catraiva prakarane yatha viviktam yad-vaktram grihnimo yukti-sambhavat ity atra parama-viveka-jas tu bheda eveti. tatha mayam madiyam udgrihya vadatam kim nu durghatam ity atra. tathapi bhagavac-chaktyaiva tatra tatra nana-vadavakasha iti ca manyante.

bheda-vadinah-speaking of the difference; ca-and; atra-here; eva-indeed; prakarane-in the same chapter; yatha viviktam yad-vaktram grihnimo yukti-sambhavat iti-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.22.9; atra-here; parama-viveka-jah-from true knowledge; tu-indeed; bheda-difference; eva-indeed; iti-thus; tatha-so; mayam madiyam udgrihya vadatam kim nu durghatam iti-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.22.4; atra.-here; tathapi-nevertheless; bhagavac-chaktya-by the potency of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; eva-indeed; tatra-there; tatra-there; nana-vadavakasha-in many different philosophies; iti-thus; ca-also; manyante-are considered.

The truth is that the Supreme Personality of Godhead and the individual spirit soul are different. Nevertheless, the Lord Himself declares (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.22.9):

"Therefore, no matter which of these thinkers is speaking, and regardless of whether in their calculations they include material elements within their previous subtle causes or else within their subsequent manifest products, I accept their conclusions as authoritative, because a logical explanation can always be given for each of the different theories/"

The Lord also said (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.22.4):

"Because all material elements are present everywhere, it is reasonable that different learned brahmanas have analyzed them in different ways. All such philosophers spoke under the shelter of My mystic potency, and thus they could say anything without contradicting the truth."

In this way it is seen that the different philosophies are ultimately manifested by the potency of the Supreme Personality of Godhead.

Text 6

nanu

shrutih pratyaksham aitihiyam anumanam catushöayam pramanaeshv anavasthanad vikalpat sa virajyate

nanu-is it not so?; shrutih-scripture; pratyaksham-direct p"erception; aitihiyam-Itihasa; anumanam-logic; catushöayam-four; pramanaeshu-among the sources of knowledge; anavasthanat-flickering; vikalpat-from material illusion; sa-also; virajyate-becomes detached.

Here someone may say: In Shrimad-Bhagavatam (11.19.17) it is said:

"From the four types of evidence: Vedic knowledge, direct experience, traditional wisdom, and logical deduction, one can understand the temporary, insubstantial nature of the material world, by which one becomes detached from the duality of this world."

Text 7

ity atra bheda-matram nishidhyate. vikalpa-shabdasya samshayarthatvat. samshayam parityajya vastuny eva nishöham karotity arthah.

iti-thus; atra-here; bheda-matram-only difference; nishidhyate.-is forbidden; vikalpa-shabdasya-of the world "vikalpa"; samshaya-doubt; arthatvat-because of the meaning; samshayam-doubt; parityajya-abandoning; vastuni-in a thing; eva-indeed; nishöham-faith; karoti-does; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning.

This verse refutes the idea that the scriptures' teachings are different. Here the word "vikalpa" means "doubt". When one becomes free from doubt, one has full faith and trust. That is the meaning.

Text 8

ata eva

karmanam parinamitvad avirincyad amangalam vipashcin nashvaram pashyed adrishöam api drishöavat

ata eva-therefore; karmanam-of karmas; parinamitvat-because of the transformation; avirincyat-from Brahma; amangalam-inauspicious; vipashcin-a wise person; nashvaram-temporary; pashyet-should see; adrishöam-what was not seen; api-even; drishöa-what was seen; vat-like.

Shrimad-Bhagavatam (11.19.18) continues:

"An intelligent person should see that any material activity is subject to constant transformation and that even on the planet of Lord Brahma there is thus simply unhappiness. Indeed, a wise man can understand that just as all that he has seen is temporary, similarly, all things within the universe have a beginning and an end."

Text 9

ity atrasyottara-shloke 'pi virincyam evavadhim kritva nashvaratva-drishöir ukta. na tu vaikunöhadikam apiti. shri-bhagavan.

ity-thus; atra-here; asya-of this; uttara-shloke-later verse; api-also; virincyam-Brahma; eva-indeed; avadhim-up to; kritva-doing; nashvaratva-drishöih-seeing the temporary nature; ukta.-said; na-not; tu-but; vaikunöhadikam-beginning with Vaiku.n/.thaloka; api-also; iti-thus; shri-bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead.

In this, the following verse, it is said that one may see the temporary nature of the material worlds, even up to the world of the demigod Brahma. However, the world of Vaikunöhaloka and the other spiritual worlds are not temporary. The verse quoted in the beginning of this anuccheda was spoken by the Supreme Personality of Godhead.

Anuccheda 45

Text 1

anyatrapi shri-jamatri-munibhir upadishöasya jiva-lakshanasyaivopajivyatvena tam lakshayati tribhih anyatra-in another place; api-also; shri-jamatri-munibhih-by Shri Jamata Muni; upadishöasya-taught; jiva-of the individual soul; lakshanasya-of the nature; eva-indeed; upajivyatvena-by the way of maintenance; tam-that; lakshayati-describes; tribhih-by three.

In another place in this book (anuccheda 19), Shri Jamtata Muni has described the nature of the individual spirit soul. The soul's nature is also described in these three verses of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (3.25.16-18):

Text 2

aham-mamabhimanoththaih kama-lobhadibhir malaih vitam yada manah shuddham aduhkham asukham samam

aham-I; mama-mine; abhimana-from the misconception; utthaih-produced; kama-lust; lobha-greed; adibhih-and so on; malaih-from the impurities; vitam-freed; yada-when; manah-the mind; shuddham-pure; aduhkham-without distress; asukham-without happiness; samam-equiposed.

"When one is completely cleansed of the impurities of lust and greed produced from the false identification of the body as `I' and bodily possessions as `mine', one's mind becomes purified. In that state he transcends the state of so-called material happiness and distress.*

Text 3

tada purusha atmanam
kevalam prakriteh param nirantaram svayam jotir animanam akhanditam

tada-then; purusha-the individual soul; atmanam-himself; kevalam-pure; prakriteh param-transcendental to material existence; nirantaram-non-different; svayam jotih-self effulgent; animanam-infinitesimal; akhanditam-not fragmented.

"At that time the soul can see himself to be transcendental to material existence and always self-effulgent, never fragmented, although very minute in size.*

Text 4

jnana-vairagya-yuktena bhakti-yuktena catmana paripashyaty udasinam
prakritim ca hataujasam

jnana-knowledge; vairagya-renunciation; yuktena-equipped with; bhakti-devotional service; yuktena-equipped with; ca-and; atmana-by the mind; paripashyati-one sees; udasinam-indifferent; prakritim-material existence; ca-and; hataujasam-reduced in strength.

"In that position of self-realization, by practice of knowledge and renunciation in devotional service, one sees everything in the right perspective. He becomes indifferent to material existence, and the material influence acts less powerfully upon him."*

Text 5

spashōaiva yojana. tatrahā iti pādyaṇa sa ātma nitya-nirmala iti. ātmanam ity anenaivaham artha iti. anyatha hy ātmatva-pratīty-abhavaḥ syāt. kevalam ity anena eka-rūpa-svarūpa-bhag iti. prakriteh param ity anena vikāra-rahita iti. bhakti-yuktenety anena paramatma-prasādhina-tat-prakāśatvat nirantaram ity anena nityatvat paramatmaika-shēśatvam iti. svayam-jyotir ity anena svasmai svayam-prakāśa iti. jñana-matratmakā na ca iti ca. animanam ity anenānūr eveti. prati-kṣhetram bhinnā iti ca. akhanditam ity anenāvicchinna-jñanādi-śaktitvat jñātritva-kartritva-bhoktritva-nijā-dharmaka iti vyanjitaṁ. śrī-kapiladevaḥ.

spashōa-clear; eva-indeed; yojana.-meaning; tatra-there; aham- iti pādyaṇa-by the verse beginning with "aham"; sa-he; ātma-ātma; nitya-eternally; nirmala-pure; iti.-thus; ātmanam-ātmanah; iti-thus; anena-by this; eva-indeed; aham-I; artha-meaning; iti.-thus; anyatha-otherwise; hi-indeed; ātmatva-the nature of the soul; pratīti-belief; abhavaḥ-non-existence; syāt.-may be; kevalam-kevalam; iti-thus; anena-by this; eka-rūpa-svarūpa-bhag-possessing a single spiritual identity; iti.-thus; prakriteh param-prakrteḥ param; iti-thus; anena-by this; vikāra-rahita-without material transformations; iti.-thus; bhakti-devotional service; yuktena-with; iti-thus; anena-by this; paramatma-prasāda-of the mercy of the Supersoul; ādhina-subordinate; tat-prakāśatvat-because of that manifestation; nirantaram-nirantaram; iti-thus; anena-by this; nityatvat-because of eternity; paramatmaika-shēśatvam-only the Supersoul remaining; iti.-thus; svayam-jyotih-svayam-jyotih; iti-thus; anena-by this; svasmai-to Himself; svayam-prakāśa-self-manifest; iti.-thus; jñana-matra-only knowledge; ātmakah-self; na-not; ca-also; iti-thus; ca.-also; animanam-animanam; iti-thus; anena-by this; anuh-atomic; eva-indeed; iti-thus; prati-kṣhetram-to every field of actions; bhinnā-different; iti-thus; ca.-and; akhanditam-unbroken; iti-thus; anena-by this; vicchinna-unbroken; jñana-knowledge; ādi-beginning; śaktitvat-because of the potency; jñātritva-the state of being the knower; kartritva-the state of being the dower; bhoktritva-the state of being the enjoyer; nija-own; dharmaka-nature; iti-thus; vyanjitaṁ-manifested; śrī-kapiladevaḥ-Lord Kapiladeva.

The meaning of these verses is clear. These verses are explained by Jamata Muni in the passage quoted in this book in anuccheda 19, texts 6-8. The soul described in the first of these Shrimad-Bhagavatam verses is explained to be "nitya-nirmala" (eternally pure) in the parallel passage of Jamata Muni. The word "atmanam" (the self) in the second of these Shrimad-Bhagavatam verses is explained to be "aham-arthah" (conscious of his identity as an individual person) in the parallel passage of Jamata Muni. The word "kevalam" (only) in the second of these Shrimad-Bhagavatam verses is explained to be "eka-svarupa-rupa-bhak" (he has his own original spiritual form) in the parallel passage of Jamata Muni. The words "prakriteh param" (above matter) in the second of these Shrimad-Bhagavatam verses are explained to be "na vikari" (not subject to the changes matter imposes) in the parallel passage of Jamata Muni. The word "bhakti-yuktena" in the third of these Shrimad-Bhagavatam verses is explained by the affirmation that the Lord manifests Himself by His own kindness in the parallel passage of Jamata Muni. The word "nirantaram" in the second of these Shrimad-Bhagavatam verses is explained by the word "paramatmaika-sheshatvam" (he is part and parcel of the Supreme Personality of Godhead) in the parallel passage of Jamata Muni. The word "svayam-jyotih" in the second of these Shrimad-Bhagavatam is explained by the words "svasmai svayam-prakashah" (he is self-manifest) and "jnana-matratmakō na ca" (his knowledge is not limited to the perception of the material world) in the parallel passage of Jamata Muni. The word "animanam" in the second of these Shrimad-Bhagavatam verses is explained by the words "anuh" (he is atomic in size) and "pratikshetram bhinnah" (he is different from other persons) in the parallel passage of Jamata Muni. The word "akhanditam", which means that the potency of knowledge and the other potencies are not limited or incomplete, in the second of these Shrimad-Bhagavatam verses is explained by the word "jnatritva-kartritva-bhoktritva-nija-dharmaka" (in his original spiritual nature he is a knower, a doer, and an enjoyer) in the parallel passage of Jamata Muni. In this way the meaning of these words is explained. These verses of Shrimad-Bhagavatam were spoken by Lord Kapiladeva.

Anuccheda 46

Text 1

tathedam api praktana-lakshanaviruddham

tatha-so; idam-this; api-also; praktana-previous; lakshana-qualities; aviruddham-without contradictiong.

The previously described qualities of the soul are described in the same way in these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (7.7.19-20):

Texts 2 and 3

atma nityo 'vyayah shuddha ekah kshetrajna ashrayah avikriyah sva-drigh ghetur vyapako 'sangy anavritah etair dvadashabhir vidvan atmano lakshanaih paraih aham mamety asad-bhavam dehadau mohajam tyajet

atma-the spirit soul, the part and parcel of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; nityah-without birth or death; avyayah-with no possibility of dwindling; shuddha-without the material contamination of attachment and detachment; ekah-individual; kshetrajna-who knows and is therefore different from the material body; ashrayah-the original foundation; avikriyah-not undergoing changes like the body; sva-drig-self-illuminated; hetuh-the cause of all causes; vyapakah-spreading throughout the body in the form of consciousness; asangi-not depending on the body (free to transmigrate from one body to another; anavritah-not covered by material contamination; etaih-by all these; dvadashabhih-twelve; vidvan-a person who is not foolish but fully aware of things as they are; atmanah-of the spirit soul; lakshanaih-symptoms; paraih-transcendental; aham-I ("I am this body."); mama-mine ("everything in relationship with this body is mine") iti-thus; asad-bhavam-a false conception of life; dehadau-identifying oneself with the material body and then with one's wife, children, family, community, nation, and so on; mohajam-produced from illusory knowledge; tyajet-must give up.

" `Atma' refers to the Supreme Lord or the living entities. Both of them are spiritual, free from birth and death, free from deterioration, and free from material contamination. They are individual, they are knowers of the external body, and they are the foundation or shelter of everything. They are free from material change, they are self-illuminated, they are the cause of all causes, and they are all-pervading. They have nothing to do with the material body, and therefore they are always uncovered. With these transcendental qualities, one who is actually learned must give up the illusory conception of life, in which one thinks, `I am this material body, and everything in relationship with this body is mine'."*

Text 4

avyayo 'pakshaya-shunyah. ekah na tu dehendriyadi-sanghata-rupah. kshetrajna jnatritvadi-dharmakah. indriyadinam ashrayah. svabhavika-jnatritvad eva avikriyah. svadrik svasmai svayam-prakashah. hetuh sargadi-nimittam.

avyayah-avyayah; apakshaya-shunyah-without decay; ekah-one; na-not; tu-but; dehendriyadi-sanghata-rupah-the form of the body, senses, or other like things; kshetrajnah-ksetrajna; jnatritvadi-dharmakah-the nature of being the knower of the field of activities and other things; indriyadinam-of the senses; ashrayah.-the shelter; svabhavika-jnatritvat-because of self knowledge; eva-indeed; avikriyah-not subject to change; svadrik-svadrik; svasmai-to himself; svayam-prakashah.-self manifest; hetuh-reason; sargadi-beginning with creation; nimittam-the cause.

In this verse "avyayah" means "without decay", "ekah" means "not the material body, senses, or other material things", "kshetrajnah" means "the knower of the field of activities", "ashrayah" means "the resting-place of the material senses", "avikriyah" means "because he is the knower of the field of activities he is not subject to material transformations", "sva-drik" means "self-manifest", and "hetuh" means "the creator of the material world and other things".

Text 5

tad uktam shri-sutena hetur jivo 'sya sargader avidya-karma-karakah iti.

tat-that; uktam-said; shri-sutena-by Shri Suta Gosvami; hetur jivo 'sya sargader avidya-karma-karakah iti-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 12.7.18.

That the individual spirit soul is also, in one sense, the creator of the material world is corroborated by the following words of Shri Suta Gosvami (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.7.18):

"Out of ignorance the living being performs material activities and thereby becomes, in one sense, the cause of the creation, maintenance, and destruction of the universe."

Text 6

vyapako vyapti-shilah. asangi anavritash ca. svatah prakasha-rupatvat. aham-mamety-sambhavam dehadau mohajam tyajet. iti dehady-adhikaranakasya mohajasyaiva tyago na tu svarupa-bhutasyety aham-artha iti vyajyate. tad evam jivas tad-amshatvat sukshma-jyoti-rupa ity eke. tathaiva hi kaustubhamshatvena vyanjitam. tatha ca skanda-prabhasa-khande jiva-nirupane vyapakah-vyapaka; vyapti-shilah.-all pervading; asangi-untouched; anavritah-uncovered; ca.-also; svatah-personally; prakasha-rupatvat-because of being manifest; aham-mamety-sambhavam-the ideas of I and mine; dehadau-beginning with the material body; mohajam-illusion; tyajet-should abandon; iti-thus; dehady-adhikaranakasya-beginning with the material body; mohajasya-born from illusion; eva-indeed; tyagah-rejection; na-not; tu-but; svarupa-bhutasya-of the original form; iti-thus; aham-artha-false ego; iti-thus; vyajyate.-is manifested; tat-that; evam-thus; jivah-the soul; tad-amshatvat-because of being a part and parcel; sukshma-jyoti-rupa-the form of a tiny particle of light; iti-thus; eke.-some; tatha-so; eva-indeed; hi-indeed; kaustubhamshatvena-by a part of the kaustubha jewel; vyanjitam-manifested; tatha-so; ca.-also; skanda-prabhasa-khande-in the Skanda Purana, Prabhasa-khanda; jiva-nirupane-in the description of the individual spirit soul.

In the two verses quoted in the beginning of this anuccheda, the word "vyapakah" means "all-pervading", "asangi anavritah" mean "because it is self-manifest, the soul is neither dependent on the material body nor covered by material contamination", and "aham mamety asad-bhavam dehadau mohajam tyajet" means "One should renounce the illusions that begin with the material body, but one should not renounce his individual identity as a spirit soul." Some thinkers say that the individual spirit souls are tiny particles of light. It is sometimes said that the individual spirit souls are particles of light from the Supreme Lord's Kaustubha jewel. The individual souls are thus described as tiny particles of light in these words of Skanda Purana, Prabhasa-khanda:

Text 7

na tasya varno rupam va pramanam drishayte kvacit na shakyah kathitum vapi sukshmah cananta-vigraha

na-not; tasya-of him; varnah-class; rupam-form; va-or; pramanam-evidence; drishayte-is seen; kvacit-anywhere; na-not; shakyah-able to be done; kathitum-to speak; va-or; api-also; sukshmah-tiny; ca-and; ananta-limitless; vigraha-form.

"The individual soul has no material form and no material status. No evidence for these ideas can be found in any scripture. No one can speak words to prove these ideas. The infinitesimal soul enters a limitless number of material bodies.

Text 8

balagra-shata-bhagasya shatadha kalpitasya ca tasmāt sukshmataro jivah sa canantya kalpate

balagra-shata-bhagasya-one hundredth part of the tip of a hair; shatadha-a hundred times; kalpitasya-considered; ca-and; tasmāt-from that; sukshmatarah-smaller; jivah-the individual spirit soul; sa-he; ca-and; anantya-for limitlessness; kalpate-is considered.

"When the upper point of a hair is divided into one hundred parts and again each of such parts is further divided into one hundred parts, each such part is the dimension of the spirit soul.*

Text 9

aditya-varnam sukshmaḥ
ab-bindum iva pushkare nakshatram iva paśyanti yogino jñāna-cakṣuṣaḥ. iti.

aditya-varnam-splendid like the sun; sukshmaḥ-a tiny particle of light; ab-of water; bindum-a drop; iva-like; pushkare-on a lotus flower; nakshatram-a star; iva-like; paśyanti-sees; yoginah-yogis; jñāna-cakṣuṣa-with eyes of knowledge; iti.-thus.

"With eyes of knowledge the yogis see that that the individual soul is like a tiny particle of sunlight, like a star shining in the sky, like a drop of water on a lotus flower."

Text 10

śrī-prahlāda 'sura-bāḥan.

śrī-prahlādaḥ-Śrī Prahlāda; asura-of the demons; bāḥan-to the sons.

The verse quoted in the beginning of this anuccheda was spoken by Śrī Prahlāda to the demons' sons.

Anuccheda 47

Text 1

tad evam ananta eva jīvakhyas tāṣṭhah śaktayah. tatra tasam varga-dvayam. eko vargo 'nadita eva bhagavad-unmukhaḥ. anyas tv anadita eva bhagavat-paranmukhaḥ. svabhavatas tadya-jñāna-bhavat tadya-jñānabhavac ca.

tad-that; evam-thus; ananta-limitless; eva-indeed; jīvakhyas-called individual souls; tāṣṭhah-marginal; shaktayah.-potencies; tatra-there; tasam-of them; varga-dvayam.-two groups; ekah-one; vargah-group; anadita-from time immemorial; eva-indeed; bhagavad-unmukhah.-favorable to the Supreme Personality of Godhead; anyah-others; tv-but; anadita-from time imemorial; eva-indeed; bhagavat-paranmukhah.-averse to the Supreme Personality of Godhead; svabhavatah-by nature; tadiya-of Him; jnana-knowledge; bhavat-because of the nature; tadiya-of Him; jnana-the knowledge; abhavat-because of the absence; ca-also.

Thus the Lord's marginal potencies, who are called the individual spirit souls are limitless in number. Still, they may be divided into two groups: 1. the souls who, from time immemorial, are favorable to the Supreme Lord, and 2. the rebellious souls who, from time immemorial, are averse to the Supreme Lord. This is because one group is aware of the Lord's glories and the other group is not aware of them.

Text 2

tatra prathamam 'ntaranga-shakti-vilasanugrihito nitya-bhagavat-parikara-rupo garudadikah. yathoktam padmottara-khande tri-pad-vibhuter lokas tu ity adau bhagavat-sandarbhodahrite. asya ca taöasthatvam jivatva-prasiddher ishvaratva-koöav apraveshat.

tatra-there; prathamam-first; antaranga-shakti-internal potency; vilasa-pastimes; anugrihitah-attained the mercy; nitya-eternal; bhagavat-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; parikara-rupah-the form of associates; garudadikah.-beginning with Garuda; yatha-as; uktam-said; padmottara-khande-in thje Padma Purana, Uttara-khanda; tri-pad-vibhuteh-of three fourths of the Lord's potencies; lokah-the world; tu-indeed; iti-thus; adau-beginning; bhagavat-sandarbhodahrite-described in the Bhagavat-sandarbha; asya-of this; ca-also; taöasthatvam-the state of ebing the marginal potency; jivatva-prasiddheh-of the proof of being the individual spirit souls; ishvaratva-of the status of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; koöau-on the edge; apraveshat-because of not entering.

The first group consists of Garuda and the other eternal associates of the Lord, These devotees take shelter of the Lord's internal potency and enjoy pastimes with Him. They reside in the spiritual world, which will be described in the Bhagavat-sandarbha (anuccheda 78) where the following words of Padma Purana, Uttara-khanda are quoted:

"Countless blissful spiritual planets are in the spiritual sky, which is three fourths of the entire creation."

Thus, although the nature of the individual souls is on the borderline of the nature of the Supreme Personality of Godhead, the individual souls do not enter that nature. Thus they remain different from the Lord.

Text 3

aparas tu tat-paranmukhatva-doshena labdha-cchidraya mayaya paribhutat samsari. yathoktam hamsa-guhya-stave sarvam puman veda gunamsh ca taj-jno na veda sarvajnam anantam ide iti.

aparah-others; tu-but; tat-paranmukhatva-doshena-with the defect of being averse to the Supreme Personality of Godhead; labdha-cchidraya-faulty; mayaya-by the illusory potency; paribhutat-defeated; samsari.-residing in the material world; yatha-as; uktam-said; hamsa-guhya-stave-in theHamsa-guhya Prayers; sarvam puman veda gunamsh ca taj-jno na veda sarvajnam anantam ide iti-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 6.4.25.

The other individual souls, the rebellious souls who are averse to the Supreme Lord, become conquered by the illusory potency maya and must live in the material world. They are described in the following words of the Hamsa-guhya Prayers (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 6.4.25):

"But the living being, because of his spiritual nature, can know his body, then life airs, the senses, the elements, and the sense objects, and he can also know the three qualities that form their roots. Nevertheless, although the living being is completely aware of them, he is unable to see the Supreme Being, who is omniscient and unlimited. I therefore offer my respectful obeisances unto Him."*

Text 4

ekadashe ca bhayam dvitiyabhiniveshatah syat ity adi.

ekadashe-in the Eleventh Canto; ca-ALSO; bhayam dvitiyabhiniveshatah syat ity adi-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.2.37.

The rebellious individual spirit souls averse to the Supreme Lord, souls who must then reside in the material world, are also described in these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (11.2.37):

"When the living entity is attracted by the material energy, which is separate from Krishna, he is overpowered by fear. Because he is separated from the Supreme Personality of Godhead by the material energy, his conception of life is reversed. In other words, instead of being the eternal servant of Krishna, he becomes Krishna's competitor. This is called viparyayo 'smritih.'"

Text 5

yathoktam vaishnave

taya tirohitatvac ca.

shaktih kshetrajna-samjnitah

sarva-bhuteshu bhupala

taratamyena vartate. iti.

yatha-as; uktam-said; vaishnave-in the Vishnu Purana; taya-by her; tirohitatvac-being freed from the influence; ca.-also; shaktih-the potency; kshetrajna-ksetrajna; samjnitah-known by the name; sarva-bhuteshu-in different types of bodies; bhupala-O king; taratamyena-in different degrees; vartate.-exists; iti.-thus.

The rebellious souls averse to the Lord and thus residing in the material world are also described in these words of Shri Vishnu Purana (6.7.63):

"The living entity, covered by the influence of nescience, exists in different forms in the material condition. O king, he is thus proportionately freed from the influence of material energy, to greater or lesser degrees."*

Text 6

tad-varga-dvayam evoktam shri-vidurenapi tattvanam bhagavams tesham katidha pratisankramah tatremam ka upasiran ka u svid anusherate. ity anena.

tad-varga-dvayam-these two groups; eva-indeed; uktam-said; shri-vidurena-by Shri Vidura; api-also; tattvanam-the elements of nature; bhagavan-O great sage; tesham-of them; katidha-how many?; pratisankramah-dissolutions tatra-thereupon; imam-unto the Supreme Lord; ke-who are they?; upasiran-being saved; ka-who are they?; u-who; svid-may; anusherate-serve the Lord while he sleeps; iti-thus; anena.-by this.

The two groups of individual souls are hinted in these words of Shri Vidura (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 3.7.37):

"Please describe how many dissolutions there are for the elements of material nature and who survives after the dissolution to serve the Lord while He is asleep."*

Text 7

tatra parameshvara-paranmukhanam jivanam shuddhanam api tac-chakti-visishöat parameshvarat sopadhikam janma bhavati. tac ca janma nijopadhi-janmana nija-janmabhimana-hetukadhyatmikavavastha praptir eva.

tatra-there; parameshvara-paranmukhanam-averse to the Supreme Personality of Godhead; jivanam-of the individual spirit souls; shuddhanam-pure; api-even; tac-chakti-vishishöat-because of being one the the Supreme Lord's potencies; parameshvarat-from the Supreme Personality of Godhead; sopadhikam-with a material body; janma-birth; bhavati.-is; tac-that; ca-also; janma-birth; nijopadhi-janmana-by birth of the material body; nija-janma-own birth; abhimana-idea; hetuka-cause; adhyatmikatva-of the body; avastha-state of being; praptih-attainment; eva-indeed.

The rebellious pure spirit souls averse to the Lord thus take birth in a material body. When the body is thus born, the bewildered soul thinks he is born. He thinks that his existence begins at that point.

Text 8

tad etad ahuh

na ghaöata udbhavah prakriti-purushayor ajayor ubhaya-yuja bhavanty asu-bhrito jala-budbuda-vat tvayi ta ime tato vividha-nama-gunaih parame sarita ivarnave madhuni lilyur ashesha-rasah tat-this; etat-that; ahuh-they say; na-not; ghatata-is; udbhavah-birth; prakriti-purushayoh-of matter and spirit; ajayoh-unborn; ubhaya-yuja-with both; bhavanti-are; asu-bhritah-living bodies; jala-budbuda-vat-like bubbles in the water; tvayi-in You; ta-they; ime-they; tatah-then; vividha-nama-gunaih-with many different names; parame-in the Supreme; sarita-rivers; iva-like; arnave-in the ocean; madhuni-in honey; lilyuh-are merged; ashesha-rasah-all flavors.

The Personified Vedas describe the birth of these rebellious souls in these words addressed to the Supreme Personality of Godhead (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.87.31):

"Neither material nature nor the soul who tries to enjoy her are ever born, yet living bodies come into being when these two combine, just as bubbles form where water meets the air. And just as rivers merge into the ocean or the nectar from many different flowers blends into honey, so all these conditioned beings eventually merge back into You, the Supreme, along with their various names and qualities."*

Text 9

prakritais traigunyam. purushah shuddho jivas tayor dvayor apy ajatvat udbhavo na ghaöate. ye casu-bhrita adhyatmika-rupah sopadhayo jiva jayante. te tat-tad-ubhaya-shakti-yuja paramatmanaiva karanena jayante. prakriti-vikara-pralayena supta-vasanatvat shuddhas tah paramatmani lina jivakhyah shaktayah shrishöi-kale vikarinim prakritim asajya kshubhita-vasanah satyah sopadhikavastham prapnavantya eva vyuccartantity arthah.

prakritaih-material; traigunyam.-the three modes; purushah-person; shuddhah-pure; jivah-soul; tayoh-of them; dvayoh-two; api-also; ajatvat-because of being unborn; udbhavah-birth; na-not; ghaöate.-is; ye-who; ca-also; asu-bhrita-living bodies; adhyatmika-rupah-the form of the self; sopadhayah-with material designations; jiva-souls; jayante.-are born; te-they; tat-tad-ubhaya-shakti-yuja-with those two potencies; paramatmana-by teh Supersoul; eva-indeed; karanena-by the cause; jayante.-are born; prakriti-of matter; vikara-transformations; pralayena-by destruction; supta-sleeping; vasanatvat-because of past material desires; shuddhah-pure; tah-they; paramatmani-in the Supersoul; lina-merged; jivakhyah-called souls; shaktayah-potencies; shrishöi-kale-at the time of material creation; vikarinim-transformation; prakritim-matter; asajya-being attached; kshubhita-agitated; vasanah-desires; satyah-being so; sopadhikavastham-with material designations; prapnavantya-attaining; eva-indeed; vyuccaranti-transgress; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning.

Here the word "prakritih" means "the three modes of material nature", "purushah" means "the pure spirit soul". Because neither the individual souls nor the material world of the three modes are ever born, the verse declares, "na ghaöata udbhavah" (they are not born). "Asu-bhritah" means "the souls who take birth in material bodies", the Supreme Personality of Godhead Himself causes these two potencies (the potency that is the individual soul and the potency that is the material energy) to take birth. When the various transformations of matter finally destroy the material world, the potencies known as the pure individual souls, their material desires now dormant, enter the Supreme Personality of Godhead. However, when the material world is created again, these souls become attracted to the various transformations of matter. Their material desires thus aroused, they again take birth in material bodies. That is the meaning of this verse.

Text 10

etat abhipretyaiva bhagavan eka asedam ity adi tritiya-skandha-prakarane

etat-this; abhipretya-intending; eva-indeed; bhagavan eka asedam ity adi tritiya-skandha-prakarane-in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 3.5.22.

This is also described in the following words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (3.5.23):

"The Supreme Personality of Godhead, the master of all living entities, existed prior to the creation as one without a second. It is by His will only that creation is made possible and again everything merges in Him."*

Text 11

kala-vrittya tu mayayam
guna-mayyam adhokshajah
purushenatma-bhutena
viryam adhatta viryavan

kala-the eternal time; vrittya-by the influence; tu-but; mayayam-in the external energy; guna-mayyam-in the qualitative modes of nature; adhokshajah-the Transcendence; purushena-by the purusha incarnation; atma-bhutena-who is the plenary expansion of the Lord; viryam-the seeds of the living beings; adhatta-impregnated; viryavan-the Supreme Living Being.

The creation is again described in these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (3.5.26):

"The Supreme Living Being in His feature as the transcendental purusha incarnation, who is the Lord's plenary expansion, impregnates the material nature of three modes, and thus by the influence of eternal time the living entities appear."*

Text 12

ity anena virya-shabdoktasya jivasya prakritav adhanam uktam. evam shri-gitopanishatsv api mama yonim mahad brahma tasmin garbham dadhamy aham ity atroktam. öika-karaish ca brahma-shabdena prakritir vyakhyata. garbha-shabdena jiva iti.

iti-thus; anena-with this; virya-shabdoktasya-of the word "virya"; jivasya-of the individual soul; prakritau-in the material world; adhanam-placing; uktam.-is said; evam-thus; shri-gitopanishatsv-in Bhagavad-gita; api-also; mama yonim mahad brahma tasmin garbham dadhamy aham iti-Bhagavad-gita 14.3; atra-here; uktam-said; öika-karaish-by the author of the commentary; ca-also; brahma-shabdena-by the word Brahma; prakritih-matter; vyakhyata.-explained; garbha-shabdena-by the word garbha; jiva-the soul; iti-thus.

The word "virya" here describes the individual soul's entrance into the material world. This is also described by the Supreme Personality of Godhead Himself in these words of Bhagavad-gita 14.3):

"the total material substance, called Brahman, is the source of birth, and it is that Brahman that I impregnate, making possible the births of the living beings, O son of Bharata."*

In his explanation of this verse, the commentator says that here the word "brahma" means "the material world" and the word "garbham" means "the individual spirit soul".

Text 13

punar esha eva tritiye daivat kshobhita-dharminyam svasyam yonau parah puman adhatta viryam sasuta mahat-tattvam hiranmayam

punah-again; esha-he; eva-indeed; tritiye-in the Third Canto; daivat-by the destiny of the conditioned souls; kshobhita-agitated; dharminyam-whose equilibrium of the modes; svasyam-His own; yonau-in the womb (material nature); parah puman-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; adhatta-impregnated; viryam-semen (His internal potency); sa-she (material nature); asuta-delivered; mahat-tattvam-the sum total of cosmic intelligence; hiranmayam-known as Hiranmaya.

This is also described in the following words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (3.26.19):

"After the Supreme Personality of Godhead impregnates material nature with His internal potency, material nature delivers the sum total of the cosmic intelligence, who is known as Hiranmaya. This takes place in material nature when she is agitated by the destinations of the conditioned souls."*

Text 14

ity atra viryam cic-chaktim iti öikayam vyakhyatam atah shaktitvam apy asya öika-sammatam. tato 'kasmad udbhava-matramshe drishöantah jala-budbuda-vad iti. atah punar api pralaya-samaye ta ime sopadhika jivas tvayi bimba-sthaniya-mula-cid-rupe rashmi-sthaniya-cid-eka-lakshana-shuddha-jiva-shakti-maye. tata eva svam apito bhavati ity adi shrutau sva-shabdabhidheye parame paramatmani vividha-nama-gunair vividhabhir devadi-samjnabhir vividhah shubashubha-gunaish ca saha lilyur liyante.

iti-thus; atra-here; viryam-viryam; cic-chaktim-the spiritual potency; iti-thus; öikayam-in the commentary; vyakhyatam-explained; atah-then; shaktitvam-the status of a potency; api-also; asya-of this; öika-sammatam.-the conclusion of the commentary; tatah-then; akasmat-suddenly; udbhava-born; matra-only; amshe-part; drishöantah-example; jala-budbuda-vat-like foam on the water; iti.-thus; atah-then; punah-again; api-also; pralaya-samaye-at the time of cosmic destruction; ta-they; ime-they; sopadhika-with material bodies; jivah-souls; tvayi-in You; bimba-sthaniya-as a circle; mula-root; cit-spirit; rupe-in the form; rashmi-sthaniya-rays of light; cid-eka-lakshana-spiritual nature; shuddha-jiva-pure souls; shakti-maye-consisting of potency; tata-then; eva-indeed; svam-personally; api-aso; itah-then; bhavati-is; iti-thus; adi-beginning; shrutau-in the Sruti; sva-sva; shabda-word; abhidheye-to be named; parame-supreme; paramatmani-in the Supreme Personality of Godhead; vividha-nama-gunaih-with various names and qualities; vividhabhih-various; devadi-samjnabhih-with the name of the demigods and others; vividhah-various; shubashubha-gunaih-with auspicious and inauspicious qualities; ca-and; saha-with; lilyuh-lilyuh; liyante.-merge.

Here Shrila Shridhara Svami explains that the word "virya" means "the spiritual potency". Thus the conclusion of the commentator is that the individual souls are potencies of the Supreme Lord. Here the word "jala-budbuda-vat" (like bubbles in the water) is given to describe the souls' birth in the material world. Then again, the verse explains, "At the time of cosmic annihilation the embodied souls again enter You, O Lord". Thus the pure individual souls are a potency of the Lord. They are like rays of light emanating from the sun that is the Lord. This is confirmed in the Shruti-shastra in the words:

"The living entities are manifested from the Lord."

Here the word "parame" means "from the Supreme Personality of Godhead", "vividha-nama-gunaih" means "with the names of the various demigods and other living beings and with their auspicious and inauspicious qualities also, and "lilyuh" means "they merged".

Text 15

purvavat pralaye 'pi drishöantah sarita ivarnave iti. ashesha-rasa iva madhuni iti ca purvavat-as before; pralaye-in devastation; api-even; drishöantah-example; sarita-rivers; iva-like; arnave-in the ocean; iti.-thus; ashesha-all; rasa-flavors; iva-like; madhuni-in honey; iti-thus; ca-and.

This verse gives two example to describe the period of cosmic devastation. One example is the example of rivers entering the ocean and the other is the example of the nectar of different flowers blending into honey.

Text 16

atra deva-manushyadi-nama-rupa-parityagena tasmin line 'pi svarupa-bhedo 'sty eva. tat-tad-amsha-sambhavadity-abhiprayah.

atra-here; deva-manushya-demigods and human beings; adi-beginning; nama-names; rupa-and forms; parityagena-by abandoning; tasmin-in Him; line-entered; api-even; svarupa-bhedah-difference of forms; asti-is; eva.-indeed; tat-tad-amsha-sambhavadity-abhiprayah-because they are all various parts and parcels of Him.

In this way the souls abandoning their names and forms of demigods, human beings, or other species of life and merge into the body of the Lord. However, because they are all in truth parts and parcels of the Lord, they all retain their individual identities, even when they are merged in the Lord's body.

Text 17

atra shrutayah hantemas tisro devata anena jivenatmananupravishya nama-rupe vyakaravani iti.

atra-here; shrutayah-the Sruti-sastras; hanta-indeed; imah-they; tisrah-three; devata-demigods; anena-by this; jivena-by the individual soul; atmana-by the soul; anupravishya-enterinf; nama-rupe-names and forms; vyakaravani-I will make; iti-thus.

This is also described in the following words of Chandogya Upanishad (6.3.2):

"Then the Supreme Personality of Godhead thought: Let me create the names and forms of the three kinds of material bodies and let me place the conditioned souls in those bodies."

Text 18

ajam ekam lohita-shukla-krishnam bahvih prajah shrijamanam sa-rupah ajo hy eko jushamano 'nushete jahaty enam bhukta-bhogam ajo 'nyah. iti.

ajam-unborn; ekam-one; lohita-shukla-krishnam-red, white, and black; bahvih-many; prajah-children; shrijamanam-creating; sa-rupah-with forms; ajah-unborn; hi-indeed; ekah-one; jushamanah-doing; anushete-follows; jahati-rejects; enam-her; bhukta-enjoyed; bhogam-enjoyment; ajah-unborn; anyah-another; iti.-thus.

This is also described in these words of the Shvetashvatara Upanishad (4.5):

"An unborn man enjoys and unborn red, white, and black woman who bears many children like herself. Another unborn man first enjoys and then forsakes her."

Note: The unborn woman is the material nature. The colors red, white, and black are the modes of passion, goodness, and ignorance. The many children are the ingredients of the material universes. The first unborn man is the conditioned soul. The second unborn man is the soul who, after trying to enjoy matter, finally renounces the world and attains liberation.

Text 19

yatha nadyah syandamanah samudre astam gacchanti nama-rupe vihaya tatha vidvan nama-rupad vimuktah parat param purusham upaiti divyam yatha-as; nadyah-rivers; syandamanah-flowing; samudre-in the ocean; astam-placed; gacchanti-go; nama-rupe-forms and names; vihaya-abandoning; tatha-so; vidvan-a wise person; nama-rupad-from names and forms; vimuktah-free; parat-than the greatest; param-tgreater; purusham-the Supreme Person; upaiti-attains; divyam-transcendental.

This is also described in these words of the Mundaka Upanishad (3.2.8):

"As rivers abandon their names and forms and meet with the ocean, so the wise transcendentalist abandons his material name and form and meets the glorious Supreme Person."

Text 20

yatha saumyema madhu madhu-krito nishöishöhanti nana-rupanam vrikshanam rasan samavaharam ekatam rasam gamayanti. te yatha tatra vivekam na labhante. amushyaham vrikshasya raso 'smy amushyaham vrikshasya raso 'smyt evam eva khalu saumyemah prajah sati sampadya na viduh sati sampadyamahe iti.

yatha-as; saumya-O gentle one; ima-they; madhu-honey; madhu-kritah-making honey; nishöishöhanti-enter; nana-rupanam-of various forms; vrikshanam-of trees; rasan-tastes; samavaharam-carry; ekatam-oneness; rasam-taste; gamayanti.-cause to attain; te-they; yatha-as; tatra-there; vivekam-distinction; na-not; labhante.-attain; amushya-of Him; aham-I; vrikshasya-of the tree; rasah-taste; asmi-am; amushya-of Him; aham-I; vrikshasya-of the tree; rasah-the taste; asmi-am; iti-thus; evam-thus; eva-indeed; khalu-indeed; saumya-O gentle one; imah-they; prajah-children; sati-being so; sampadya-attaining; na-not; viduh-know; sati-being so; sampadyamahe-we attain; iti-thus.

This is also described in these words of Chandogya Upanishad (6.9.1-2):

"As bees make honey from the nectar of many different kinds of trees, and as, when merged together in the honey, the different nectars do not stand up and say: 'I am the nectar from such-and-such tree', or 'I am the nectar from such-and-such tree', in the same way, when they merge into the body of the Supreme Personality of Godhead, the many different spirit souls do not say `I have come from such-and-such species of life', or `I have come from such-and-such species of life'."

Text 21

shrutayah shri-bhagavantam.

shrutayah-the Personified Vedas; shri-bhagavantam-to the Supreme Personality of Godhead.

The verse quoted in the beginning of this anuccheda was spoken by the Personified Vedas to the Supreme Personality of Godhead.

Anuccheda 48

Text 1

tad evam paramatmanas taöasthakhya shaktir vivrita. antarangakhya tu purvavad eva jneya. atha bahirangakhya vivriyate tat-that; evam-thus; paramatmanah-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; taöasthakhya-called the marginal potency; shaktih-potency; vivrita.-revealed; antarangakhya-called the internal potency; tu-indeed; purvavat-as before; eva-indeed; jneya-should be known; atha-now; bahirangakhya-called the external potency; vivriyate-is revealed.

In this way we have described the Lord's marginal potency. we have already described the Lord's internal potency. Now we will describe the Lord's external potency.

Text 2

esha maya bhagavatah
shrishöi-sthity-anta-karini tri-varna varnitas-mabhih kim bhuyah shrotum icchasi esha-she; maya-maya; bhagavatah-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; shrishöi-sthity-anta-karini-performing the activities of creation, maintenance, and destruction; tri-varna-three kinds; varnita-described; as-mabhih-by us; kim-what?; bhuyah-more; shrotum-to hear; icchasi-you wish.

The Lord's external potency is described in these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (11.3.16):

"I have now described maya, the illusory energy of the Supreme Personality of Godhead. This illusory potency, consisting of the three modes of material nature, is empowered by the Lord for the creation, maintenance, and annihilation of the material universe. Now, what more do you wish to hear?"

Text 3

bhagavatah svarupa-bhutaishvaryadeh paramatmana esha tatastha-lakshanena purvokta jagat-shrishöy-adi-karini mayakhya shaktih. trayo varna guna yasyah sa.

bhagavatah-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; svarupa-from His own nature; bhuta-manifested; aishvarya-opulences; adeh-beginning; paramatmana-of the Supersoul; esha-he; tatastha-marginal; lakshanena-with the nature; purvokta-previously said; jagat-shrishöy-adi-karini-the cause of creation, maintenance, and destruction; mayakhya-called maya; shaktih.-potency; trayah-three; varna-varnas; guna-modes; yasyah-of whom; sa-that.

Here the word "bhagavatah" means "of the Supreme Personality of Godhead, who is the master of all opulences and glories", "esha" means, "the previously described potency, which is called "maya", which is the cause of creation, maintenance and destruction, and which has a relationship with the marginal potency," and "tri-varnah" means "the three modes of material nature".

Text 4

tatha atharvanikah paöhanti sitasita ca krishna ca sarva-kama-dugha vibhoh iti.

tatha-so; ca-also; atharvanikah-the Atharva Vedas; paöhanti-read; sitasita-black and white; ca-and; krishna-black; ca-and; sarva-all; kama-dugha-fulfilling desires; vibhoh-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; iti-thus.

The three modes of nature are described in the following words of the Atharva Veda:

"From the Supreme Personality of Godhead were manifested three modes that were white, red, and black. These modes were meant to fulfill the material desires of the conditioned souls."

Text 5

uktam ca daivi hy esha gunamayi mama maya duratyaya ity atra gunamayiti.

uktam-said; ca-also; daivi hy esha gunamayi mama maya duratyaya iti-Bhagavad-gita 7.14; atra-here; gunamayiti-gunamayiti; iti-thus.

The three modes of material nature are also described by the Supreme Lord in these words of Bhagavad-gita (7.14):

"This divine energy of Mine, consisting of the three modes of material nature, is very difficult to overcome."*

In this verse the word "gunamayiti" refers to the three modes of material nature.

Text 6

antariksho videham.

antarikshah-Antariksho; videham-to Videha.

The verse quoted in the beginning of this anuccheda was spoken by Antariksha Muni to the king of Videha.

Anucchedas 49-50

Text 1

tasya mayayash camsha-dvayam. tatra guna-rupasya mayakhyasya nimittamshasya dravya-rupasya pradhanakhyasyopadanamshasya ca parasparam bhedom aha caturbhih tasyah-of this; mayayah-maya; ca-also; amsha-dvayam.-two parts; tatra-there; guna-rupasya-of the modes; mayakhyasya-called maya; nimitta-created; amshasya-part; dravya-rupasya-of a thing; pradhanakhyasya-called pradhana; upadana-of the creator; amshasya-of a part; ca-also; parasparam-mutual; bhedom-difference; aha-said; caturbhih-with four verses.

The maya potency has two parts: 1. the modes of material nature, which are the creators of the material world, and 2. the various ingredients of which the things in the material world are made. The ways these two parts are different are described in the four Shrimad-Bhagavatam verses to be quoted now in this book.

Text 2

atha te sampravakshyami sankhyam purvair vinishcitam yad vijñaya puman sadyo jahyad vaikalpikam bhramam atha-now; te-to you; sampravakshyami-I will describe; sankhyam-sankhya; purvair-previous; vinishcitam-described; yat-what; vijñaya-knowing; puman-a person; sadyah-at once; jahyat-may abandon; vaikalpikam-duality; bhramam-illusion.

In the first of these verses the Supreme Personality of Godhead declares (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.24.1):

"Now I shall describe to you the science of snkhya, which has been perfectly established the ancient authorities. By understanding this science a person can immediately give up the illusion of material duality."

Text 3

ōika ca advitīyam paramatmano mayaya prakṛiti-puruṣa-dvaya sarvaṁ dvaitam udeṭi. punaḥ tatraiva liyate ity anusandhanasya puruṣasya dvandva-bhramo nivartata iti vaktum sankhyam prastauti atheti ity eṣa.

ōika-commentary; ca-and; advitīyam-without a second; paramatmanah-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; mayaya-by maya; prakṛiti-puruṣa-dvaya-by matter and the soul; sarvaṁ-all; dvaitam-dual; udeṭi.-

is manifest; punah-again; tatra-there; eva-indeed; liyata-is merged; iti-thus; anusandhanasya-of the conclusion; purushasya-of the soul; dvandva-bhramah-bewilderment of duality; nivartata-goes; iti-thus; vaktum-to say; sankhyam-sankhya; prastauti-praises; atha-then iti-thus; iti-thus; esha-it.

Shrila Shridhara Svami comments:

"The illusory potency maya imposes material duality on the spirit souls. The sankhya philosophy is spoken to makes the souls free of material duality. In this way the Lord praises the sankhya philosophy."

Text 4

atra pradhana-paryayah prakriti-shabdah.

atra-here; pradhana-of pradhana; paryayah-synonym; prakriti-shabdah-the word prakrti.

In this context the word "pradhana" is a synonym for "prakriti" (material nature).

Text 5

asij jnanam atho artha ekam evavikalpitam
yada viveka-nipuna
adau krita-yuge 'yuge

asit-was; jnanam-knowledge; athah-then; artha-purpose; ekam-one; eva-indeed; avikalpitam-without duality; yada-when; viveka-nipuna-expert in discrimination; adau-in the beginning; krita-yuge yuge-in satya-yuga.

In the second of these verses the Supreme Personality of Godhead declares (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.24.2):

"Originally, during the Satya-yuga, when all men were very expert in spiritual discrimination, and also previous to that, during the period of annihilation, the seer existed alone, non-different from the seen object."

Text 6

öika ca atho-shabdah kartsnye. jnanam drashör tena drishya-rupah kritsno 'py arthash ca vikalpa-shunyam ekam eva. brahmany eva linam asid ity arthah ity esha.

öika-commentary; ca-also; atho-shabdah-the word atho; kartsnye.-in completeness; jnanam-knowledge; drashöh-the seer; tena-by that; drishya-rupah-the from of the seen; kritsna-complete; api-also; arthah-meaning; ca-and; vikalpa-shunyam-without duality; ekam-one; eva.-indeed; brahmani-in Brahman; eva-indeed; linam-merged; asit-was; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; iti-thus; esha-it.

Shrila Shridhara Svami comments:

"Here the word `atho" means `completely', and `jnanam' means `there was no longer any difference between seer and seen, for all was merged in Brahman'."

Text 7

tritiya-skandhe ca bhagavan eka asedam agra atmatmanam vibhuh ity adau yad bhagavattvena shabdyate. tad evatra brahmatvena shabdyate iti.

tritiya-skandhe-in the Third Canto; ca-also; bhagavan eka asedam agra atmatmanam vibhuh ity adau-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 3.5.23; yat-what; bhagavattvena-by the position of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; shabdyate.-is said; tat-that; eva-indeed; atra-here; brahmatvena-by the position of Brahman; shabdyate-is said; iti-thus.

This is also described in the following words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (3.5.23):

"the Supreme Personality of Godhead, the master of all living entities, existed prior to the creation as one without a second. It is by His will only that creation is made possible and again everything merges in Him. This Supreme Self is symptomized by different names."*

Text 8

vadanti ity adi-vad ubhayatraikam eva vastu pratipadyam.

vadanti ity adi-vat-as in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.2.11; ubhayatra-in both; ekam-one; eva-indeed; vastu-substance; pratipadyam-to be established.

This is also described in the following words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (1.2.11):

"Learned transcendentalists who know the Absolute Truth call the non-dual substance Brahman, Paramatma, or Bhagavan."*

In this way the word "Brahman" and the word "the Supreme Personality of Godhead" both signify the same transcendental Absolute.

Text 9

ante tu esha sankhya-vidhih proktah ity adau paravara-drisha maya ity anena bhagavad-rupenapy avasthitih spashöaiva.

ante-the end;tu esha-indeed; sankhya-vidhih proktah ity adau-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.24.29; paravara-drisha-seeing higher and lower; maya-maya; iti-thus; anena-by this; bhagavad-rupena-by the form of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; api-also; avasthitih-situation; spashöa-clear; eva-indeed.

At the end of this chapter of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (11.24.29) the Supreme Personality of Godhead declares:

"Thus I, the perfect seer of everything material and spiritual, have spoken this knowledge of Sankhya, which destroys the illusion of doubt by scientific analysis of creation and annihilation."

In this verse the words "paravara-drisha maya" describe the transcendental status of the Supreme Personality of Godhead.

Text 10

kadety apekshayam aha yada adau krita-yuge viveka-nipuna jana bhavanti. tasminn ayuge tat-purvasmin pralaya-samaye ity arthah.

kada-when?; iti-thus; apekshayam-in relationship with; aha-said; yada-when; adau-in the beginning; krita-yuge-in Satya yuga; viveka-nipuna-expert in discrimination; jana-people; bhavanti.-are; tasminn-in that; ayuge-not in the yuga; tat-purvasmin-before that; pralaya-samaye-at the time of devastation; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning.

Here someone may ask: "When did this occur, that the seer existed alone, non-different from the seen object? The answer is given here (in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.24.2, quoted in text 7) in the words "yada viveka-nipuna adau krita-yuge 'yuge" (Originally, during the Satya-yuga, hen all men were very expert in spiritual discrimination, and also previous to that, during the period of annihilation). Here the word "ayuge" means "previous to that, during the period of annihilation".

Text 11

tan-maya-phala-rupena kevalam nirvikalpitam van-mano-gocaram satyam dvidha samabhaved brihat tan-maya-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead's maya potency; phala-results; rupena-in the form; kevalam-only; nirvikalpitam-without duality; vak-words; manah-mind; gocaram-in the realm; satyam-truth; dvidha-in two; samabhaved-became; brihat-great.

In the next of these verses (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.24.3) the Supreme Personality of Godhead declares:

"That one Absolute Truth, remaining free from material dualities and inaccessible to ordinary speech and mind, divided Himself into two categories: the material nature and the living entities who are trying to enjoy the manifestations of that nature."

Text 12

öika ca tad brihad brahma van-mano-gocaram yatha bhavati tatha. maya drishyam. phalam tat-prakashah. tad-rupena maya-rupena vilasa-rupena ca dvidha abhut ity esha.

öika-commentary; ca-and; tat-that; brihat-great; brahma-Brahman; van-mano-gocaram-in the realm of words and mind; yatha-as; bhavati-is; tatha-so; maya-maya; drishyam.-seen; phalam-result; tat-prakashah.-

manifestation of that; tad-rupena-with that form; maya-rupena-the form of maya; vilasa-rupena-the form of pastimes; ca-and; dvidha-in two; abhut-was; iti-thus; esha-it.

Shrila Shridhara Svami comments:

"Here the words "brihad van-mano-gocaram" means `the Absolute Truth, who is beyond the mind and words'. In the word `maya-phala-rupena' `maya' refers to the visible world and `phala' refers to the seer of the material world. The word "dvidha" means "as maya and as the enjoyer of maya'."

Text 13

atra maya drishyam iti. phalam tat-prakasha iti chedah. tena brahmana yad drishyam vastu tan-maya. tasya brahmano yah prakasha-visheshah. sa phalam ity arthah.

atra-here; maya-maya; drishyam-visible; iti.-thus; phalam-result; tat-prakasha-the sweer of that; iti-thus; chedah.-difference; tena-by that; brahmana-Brahman; yat-what; drishyam-to beseen; vastu-thing; tan-maya.-that maya; tasya-of that; brahmanah-Supreme; yah-which; prakasha-seer; visheshah-sepcific; sa-that; phalam-phala; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning.

Here "maya" means "the visible world", and "phala" means "he who sees the visible world". These are the two distinctions. What is seen by the Supreme is called "maya", and the seer that is manifested from the Supreme is called "phala". That is the meaning.

Text 14

tayor hy ekataro hy arthah prakritih sobhayatmika jnanam tv anyatamo bhavah purushah so 'bhidhiyate tayoh-of the two; hi-indeed; ekatarah-one; hi-indeed; arthah-meaning; prakritih-matter; sa--that; ubhayatmika-both; jnanam-knowledge; tv-indeed; anyatamah-another; bhavah-meaning; purushah-persopn; sah-he; abhidhiyate-is called.

In the last of these verses (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.24.4) the Supreme Personality of Godhead declares:

"Of these two categories of manifestation, one is material nature, which embodies both the subtle causes and manifests products of matter. The other is the conscious living entity, designated as the enjoyer."

Text 15

öika ca tayor dvidha-bhutayor amshayor madhye ubhayatmika karya-karana-rupini ity esha.

öika-commentary; ca-and; tayoh-tayoh; dvidha-bhutayoh-two kinds; amshayoh-of parts; madhye-in the midst; ubhayatmika-both; karya-karana-rupini-cause and effect; iti-thus; esha-it.

Shrila Shridhara Svami comments:

"Here the word `tayoh' means `the two different parts-and-parcels of the Lord, one of them the cause and the other the effect'."

Text 16

evam shri-vishnu-purane vishnoh svarupat parato 'hi te 'nye rupe pradhanam purushash ca vipra evam-thus; shri-vishnu-purane-in Shri Vishnu Purana; vishnoh-of Lord Vishnu; svarupat-from the from; paratah-transcendental; hi-indeed; te-they; anye-others; rupe-in the form; pradhanam-pradhana; purushah-the person; ca-and; vipra-O brahmana.

These two potencies are also described in the following words of Shri Vishnu Purana (1.2.24):

"O brahmana, from the transcendental body of Lord Vishnu are manifested the spirit souls, the material nature, and other things also."

Text 17

ity atra tesham eva öika ca parato nirupadhir vishnoh svarupat te prag ukte pradhanam purushash ceti dve rupe anye maya-krite iti.

iti-thus; atra-here; tesham-of them; eva-indeed; öika-commentary; ca-and; paratah-of the transcendental; nirupadhih-without a material body; vishnoh-of Lord Vishnu; svarupat-from the form; te-they; prag-before; ukte-said; pradhanam-matter; purushah-person; ca-and; iti-thus; dve-two; rupe-forms; anye-other; maya-krite-created by maya; iti-thus.

Shrila Shridhara Svami comments:

"This verse means: `From the transcendental body of Lord Vishnu, which is not material, are manifested the spirit souls and the material nature, which were both described previously in this book. Other things, created by the maya potency, were also manifested'."

Text 18

shri-bhagavan.

shri-bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead.

The four Shrimad-Bhagavatam verses that form the root of these four anucchedas (49-52) were spoken by the Supreme Personality of Godhead.

Anuccheda 53

Text 1

anyatra tayor upadana-nimitta-rupayor amshayor vritti-bhedena bhedan apy aha anyatra-in another place; tayoh-of them; upadana-nimitta-rupayoh-the ingredient and the cause; amshayoh-of the two parts; vritti-bhedena-withdifferent activities; bhedan-differences; api-also; aha-said.

The different activities of these two parts-and-parcels of the Lord, which are the cause and ingredient of the material world, are described in these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.63.26):

Text 2

kalo daivam karma jivah sva-bhavo dravyam kshetram pranam atma vikarah tat-sanghato bija-roha-pravahas tan-mayaisha tan-nishedham prapadye kalah-time; daivam-demigods; karma-karma; jivah-soul; sva-bhavah-own nature; dravyam-thing; kshetram-field; pranam-life; atma-self; vikarah-change; tat-sanghatah-the totality; bija-roha-pravahah-planting the seed; tan-maya-His maya potency; esha-she; tan-nishedham-forbiddintg that; prapadye-I surrender.

"Time, fate, karma, purification, the individual soul and his propensities, the subtle material elements, the material body, the life air, false ego, the various senses, the totality of these as reflected in the living being's subtle body, all this constitutes Your material illusory energy, maya, an endless cycle like that of seed and plant. I take shelter of You, the negation of this maya."

Text 3

oika ca kalah kshobhakah. karma nimittam. tad eva phalabhimukham abhivyaktam daivam. svabhavas tat-samskarah. jivas tadvan. dravyam bhuta-sukshmani. kshetram prakritih. pranah sutram. atma ahankarah. vikarah ekadashendriyani maha-bhutani ceti shodashakah. tat-sanghato dehah. tasya ca bija-roha-vat pravahah. roho 'nkurah. dehad bija-rupam karma. tato 'nkura-rupo dehah. tatah punar evam iti pravahah. tat tvam nishedhavadhi-bhutam prapadye bhaje iti ity esha.

oika-commentary; ca-and; kalah-time; kshobhakah.-agitator; karma-karma; nimittam.-cause; tat-that; eva-indeed; phalabhimukham-bringing result; abhivyaktam-manifested; daivam.-destiny; svabhavah-nature; tat-samskarah.-purifying; jivah-soul; tadvan.-then; dravyam-thing; bhuta-sukshmani.-subtle elements; kshetram-place; prakritih.-matter; pranah-life; sutram-string; atma-atma; ahankarah.-false ego; vikarah-change; ekadashendriyani-eleven senses; maha-bhutani-great elements; ca-and; iti-this; shodashakah.-sixteen; tat-sanghatah-aggregate; dehah.-body; tasya-of that; ca-and; bija-roha-vat-like the seed; pravahah-planting; roha-growing; ankurah-sprout; dehat-from the body; bija-rupam-thej form of a seed; karma.-karma; tatah-then; ankura-rupah-the form of a sprout; dehah-body; tatah-then; punar-again; evam-thus; iti-thus; pravahah.-manifestation; tat-that; tvam-You; nishedhavadhi-bhutam-stopping; prapadye-I surrender; bhaje-I worship; iti-thus; iti-thus; esha-it.

Shrila Shridhara Svami comments:

"In this verse the word `kalah" means `the agitator', `karma' means `the cause', `daivam' means `that which brings results', `sva-bhava' means that which purifies', `jiva' means `he who possesses that', `dravyam' means `the subtle material elements', `kshetram' means `the material world', `pranah' means `the string of life', `atma' means `false ego', `vikarah' means `the eleven senses and the five gross elements, which are then considered the sixteen ingredients of the world', `tat-sanghatah' means `the material body, which is manifested from past karma as a sprout is manifested from the planting of a seed', `tat' means `to You, who stop these manifestations of maya', and `prapadye' means `I worship'."

Text 4

atra kala-daiva-karma-svabhava nimittamshah. anye upadanamshas tadvan. jivas tubhayatmakas tathopadana-varge nimitta-shakty-amsho 'py anuvartate. yatha jivopadhi-lakshane 'ham akhye tattve tadiyaham-bhavah. sa hy avidya-parinama ity adi.

atra-here; kala-daiva-karma-svabhava-kala, daiva, karma, and svabhava; nimittamshah.-causes; anye-the others; upadanamshah-ingredients; tadvan-like that; jivah-the individual spirit soul; tu-indeed; ubhayatmakah--both; tatha-so; upadana-varge-among the ingredients; nimitta-cause; shakti-potency; amshah-part; api-also; anuvartate-follows; yatha-as; jivopadhi-lakshane-the nature of the soul's material body; aham-I; akhye-called; tattve-truth; tadiya-his; aham-bhavah-false ego; sa-he; hi-indeed; avidya-parinama-transformation of ignorance; iti-thus; adi.-beginning.

Of the items mentioned in this verse, time, fate, karma, and purification are causes and the other items are the ingredients of the world. The individual spirit souls are counted in both categories. They are among the ingredients of the world, and, as one of the Lord's potencies, they are also counted among the causes. When the soul is placed in a material body and he accepts that material designation, the false ego, which is a transformation of ignorance, is manifested.

Text 5

yathoktam tritiyasya shashöhe atmanam casya nirbhinnam abhimano 'vishat padam karmanamshena yenasau kartavyam pratipadyate. iti.

yatha-as; utam-said; tritiyasya-of the Third Canto; shashöhe-in the sixth chapter; atmanam-false ego; ca-also; asya-of the gigantic form; nirbhinnam-being separately manifested; abhimanah-false identification; avishat-entered; padam-in positoon; karmana-activities; amshena-by the part; yena-by which; asau-the living entity; kartavyam-objective activities; pratipadyate-takes in; iti-thus.

The false ego is described in these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (3.6.25):

"Thereafter the materialistic ego of the gigantic form separately manifested itself, and it entered into Rudra, the controller of false ego, with his own partial activities, by which the living entity transacts his objective actions."*

Text 6

atra atmanam ahankaram abhimano rudrah. karmanaham-vritt्या iti öika ca.

atra-here; atmanam-atmanam; ahankaram-false ego; abhimanah-abhimana; rudrah.-Rudra; karmana-karmana; aham-vritt्या-with the activities of false ego; iti-thus; öika-commentary; ca-also.

Shrila Shridhara Svami comments:

"Here the word `atmanam' means `false ego', `abhimanah' means `Rudra', and `karmana' means `with the activities of the false ego'."

Text 7

atra ca yan-nirbhinnam tad-adhishöhanam vag-adindriyam tritiyanta-madhyatmam iti prakarana-nirnayah öikayam eva krito 'sti.

atra-here; ca-also; yan-nirbhinnam-nirbhinnam; tad-adhishöhanam-what is established; vag-adindriyam-the senses beginning with the voice; tritiya-third; antam-end; adhyatmam-self; iti-thus; prakarana-nirnayah-the conclusion of the chapter; öikayam-in the commentary; eva-indeed; kritah-done; asti-is.

Here the word "nirbhinnam" means "the voice and other working senses". A further explanation is found at the end of the Third Canto in the commentary on the adhyatma-prakarana chapter.

Text 8

karmano bija-rupatvam karanata-matra-vivakshaya. tad evam atrapi mula-mayayah sarvopadanamsha-mula-bhutam kshetra-shabdoktam pradhanam apy amsha-rupam ity adhigatanm.jivas tadvan ity anena shuddha-jivasya mayatitvatm bodhayati. jvarah shri-bhagavantam.

karmanah-of the activity; bija-rupatvam-the from of the seed; karanata-cause; matra-only; vivakshaya-with the desire to say; tat-that; evam-thus; atra-here; api-also; mula-root; mayayah-of the illusory potency; sarva-all; upadana-ingredients; amsha-parts; mula-root; bhutam-manifested; kshetra-ksetra; shabda-word; uktam-said; pradhanam-pradhana; api-also; amsha-rupam-the form of a part; iti-thus; adhigatanm-understood; jivah-the individual soul; tadvan-in that way; iti-thus; anena-by this; shuddha-jivasya-of the pure spirit soul; mayatitvatm-the state of being beyond the influence of the illusory potency maya; bodhayati.-teaches; jvarah-The Jvara; shri-bhagavantam-to the Supreme Personality of Godhead.

Here is described the root from which materialistic activities grow. The field of activities and the primordial state of material nature are included among the ingredients of the material world manifested by the root material potency maya. The conditioned soul is subject to maya, but the pure souls is free from maya's grip. That is taught here. The verse quoted in the beginning of this anuccheda was spoken by the Shivajvara to the Supreme Personality of Godhead.

Anuccheda 54

Text 1

atha nimitta-rupamshasya prathame dve vritti aha atha-now; nimitta-of the cause; rupa-form; amshasya-of a part; prathame-in the beginning; dve-two; vritti-activities; aha-said.

In discussing the various causes, two activities will be first discussed. These two are described in the following words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (11.11.3):

Text 2

vidyavidye mama tanu
viddhy uddhava sharirinam moksha-bandha-kari adye mayaya me vinirmite

vidya-knowledge; avidye-and ignorance; mama-My; tanu-two bodies; viddhi-please know; uddhava-O Uddhava; sharirinam-of embodied souls; moksha-liberation; bandha-and bondage; kari-doing; adye-in the beginning; mayaya-by maya; me-of me; vinirmite-created.

"O uddhava, both knowledge and ignorance, being products of maya, are expansions of My potency. Both knowledge and ignorance are beginningless and perpetually award liberation and bondage to embodied living beings."

Text 3

öika ca tany ete bandha-mokshav abhyam iti tanu shakti me mayaya vinirmite. maya-vritti-rupatvat. bandha-moksha-karity eka-vacanam dvi-vacantharthe. nanu tat-karyatve bandha-mokshayor anaditva-nityatve na syatam. tatraha adye anadi. tato yavad avidyam prerayami. tavat bandhah. yada vidyam dadami. tada mokshah sphuratity arthah. ity esha.

öika-commentary; ca-and; tani-they; ete-they; bandha-mokshav-bondage and liberation; abhyam-called; iti-thus; tanu-tanu; shakti-potencies; me-of Me; mayaya-by maya; vinirmite.-created; maya-vritti-rupatvat.-because of the activities of maya; bandha-moksha-kari-doing bondage and liberation; iti-thus; eka-vacanam-singular; dvi-vacantharthe-in the meaning of the dual; nanu-is it not so?; tat-karyatve-as the effect; bandha-mokshayoh-of bondage and liberation; anaditva-the state of being beginningless; nityatve-the state of being eternal; na-not; syatam.-attained; tatra-there; aha-said; adye-adye; anadi.-beginningless; tatra-then; yavat-as far as; avidyam-ignorances; prerayami.-I send away; tavat-then; bandhah.-bondage; yada-when; vidyam-knowledge; dadami.-I give; tada-then; mokshah-liberation; sphurati-is manifested; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; iti-thus; esha-it.

Shrila Shridhara Svami comments:

"In this verse the word `tanu' means 'the two potencies, and `me mayaya vinirmite' means `created by My maya'. Even though it is in the singular, the compound word `moksha-bandha-kari' should be understood to be in the dual. Here someone may object: `Is it not so that, because they are effects and not causes, bondage and liberation cannot be eternal?' The verse answers this objections by speaking the word `adye', which means `existing from time without beginning'. The meaning here is `When I teach untruth, I am trapped in material bondage, but when I teach the truth, then I attain liberation'. That is the meaning."

Text 4

atra maya-vritti-rupatvad iti vastuto maya-vritti eva te. vinirmitatvam tv aparanta-vritikaya taya prakashamanatvad evocyate. yato 'nadi ity arthah. tatha sphurati asya moksha ity anenaivanvayah. jivasya svato muktatvam eva. bandhas tv avidya-matrena pratitah. vidyodaye tu tat prakashate matram. tato nitya eva moksha iti bhavah.

atra-here; maya-vritti-rupatvad-in the form of maya's activities; iti-thus; vastutah-in truth; maya-vritti-maya's activities; eva-indeed; te.-they; vinirmitatvam-the condition of being created; tv-indeed; aparanta-vritikaya-limitless activities; taya-by that; prakashamanatvad-because of being manifested; eva-indeed; ucyate-is said; yatah-from which; anadi-without beginning; iti-thus; arthah.-the meaning; tatha-then; sphurati-is manifested; iti-thus; asya-of that; moksha-liberation; iti-thus; anena-by this; eva-indeed anvayah-the meaning; jivasya-of the soul; svatah-personally; muktatvam-the state of being liberated; eva.-indeed; bandhah-bondage; tv-indeed; avidya-ignorance; matrena-only; pratitah.-believed; vidyodaye-in the manifestation of knowledge; tu-but; tat-that; prakashate-is manifest; matram.-only; tatah-then; nitya-eternal; eva-indeed; moksha-liberation; iti-thus; bhavah-the meaning.

Because they are manifested from maya's activities, knowledge and ignorance are here called activities of maya. Because maya is limitless, what she creates has no beginning. That is the meaning in this verse. In this way the individual soul's liberation is manifest. From ignorance bondage is manifested and from knowledge liberation is manifested. In this way liberation is eternal. That is the meaning.

Text 5

na ca vacyam. esha maya ity adau samanya-lakshane moksha-pradatvam tasya noktam ity asamyaktvam iti. anta-karitvenatyantika-pralaya-rupasya mokshasyapy upalakshitatvat.

na-not; ca-also; vacyam.-to be said; esha maya ity adau-in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.3.16; samanya-lakshane-the same features; moksha-pradatvam-the stte of giving liberation; tasya-of this; na-not; uktam-said; iti-thus; asamyaktvam-the stte of not being equal; iti.-thus; anta-end; karitvena-because of doing; atyantika-great; pralaya-destruction; rupasya-in the form; mokshasya-of liberation; api-also; upalakshitatvat-because of being characterized.

In Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.3.16) it is said:

"I have now described maya, the illusory energy of the Supreme Personality of Godhead. This illusory potency, consisting of the three modes of material nature, is empowered by the Lord for the creation, maintenance, and annihilation of the material universe."

It should not be said that because it does not declare that the maya potency can grant liberation, this statement disagrees with the previously quoted Shrimad-Bhagavatam verse. The truth is that this statement (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.3.26) does declare that maya can grant liberation. This statement declares that maya brings the final annihilation. The final annihilation it describes is in truth liberation.

Text 6

atra vidyakhya vrittir iyam svarupa-shakti-vritti-vishesha-vidya-prakashe dvaram eva. na tu svayam eva seti jneyam. athavidyakhya bhagasya dve vritti avaranatmika vikshepatmika ca. tatra purva jiva eva tishöhanti tadiyah svabhavikam jnanam avrnvana. uttara ca tam tad-anyatha-jnanena sanjayanti vartata iti. shri-bhagavan.

atra-here; vidyakhya-called knowledge; vrittih-activity; iyam-this; svarupa-own; shakti-potency; vritti-activity; vishesha-specific; vidya-knowledge;-prakashe-in the manifestation; dvaram-the means; eva.-indeed; na-not; tu-but; svayam-personally; eva-indeed; sa-that; iti-thus; jneyam-to be understood; atha-then; avidyakhya-called ignorance; bhagasya-of the opulence; dve-two; vritti-activities; avaranatmika-covering; vikshepatmika-throwing; ca-and; tatra-there; purva-the first; jiva-the soul; eva-indeed; tishöhanti-stays; tadiyah-in his; svabhavikam-own nature; jnanam-knowledge; avrnvana.-covering; uttara-the second; ca-also; tam-that; tat-than that; anyatha-other; jnanena-by knowledge; sanjayanti-creates; vartata-is; iti.-thus; shri-bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead.

What is called "vidya" (knowledge) here is the means by which the Lord's personal potency of transcendental knowledge is manifested. The "avidya" (ignorance) here is of two kinds: 1 avaranatmika, and 2. vikshepatmika. The first of these cover's the soul's natural spiritual knowledge, and the second of these overwhelms the soul with many ideas that have nothing to do with the real truth.

Anuccheda 55

Text 1

atra nimittamshas tv evam vivecaniyah. yatha nimittamsha-rupaya mayakhyayaiva prasiddha shaktis tridha drishyate. jnaneccha-kriya-rupatvena. tatra tasyah parameshvara-jnana-rupatvam yatha tritiye atra-here; nimittamshah-the causes; tv-indeed; evam-thus; vivecaniyah.-to be described; yatha-as; nimittamsha-rupaya-as causes; mayakhyaya-called maya; eva-indeed; prasiddha-proved; shaktih-potency; tridha-so; drishyate.-is seen; jnana-of knowledge; iccha-desire; kriya-and action; rupatvena-in the forms; tatra-there; tasyah-of that; parameshvara-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; jnana-of knowledge; rupatvam-the state of having the form; yatha-as; tritiye-in the third canto.

Now the various causes will be described. The most celebrated of these is the maya potency, which has three aspects: 1. jnana (knowledge), 2. iccha (desire), and kriya (activity). Among these, knowledge of the Supreme Personality of Godhead is described in these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (3.5.25):

Text 2

sa va etasya sandrashöuh shaktih sad-asad-atmika maya nama maha-bhaga yayedam nirmame vibhuh

sa-that extenal energy; va-is either; etasya-of the Lord; sandrashöuh-of the perfect seer; shaktih-energy; sad-asad-atmika-as both cause and effect; maya nama-called by the name maya; maha-bhaga-O fortunate one; yaya-by which; idam-this material world; nirmame-constructed; vibhuh-the Almighty.

"The Lord is the seer, and the external energy, which is seen, works as both cause and effect in the cosmic manifestation. O greatly fortunate Vidura, this external energy is known as maya, or illusion, and through her agency only is the entire material manifestation made possible."*

Text 3

ity asya öikayam sa vai drashöri-drishyanusandhana-rupa. sad drishyam. asad adrishyam. atma svarupam. sad-asator atma yasyas tad-ubhayanusandhana-rupatvat iti.

iti-thus; asya-of this; öikayam-in the commentary; sa-He; vai-indeed; drashöri-the seer; drishya-the seen; anusandhana-in relation to; rupa-the form; sat-sat; drishyam-what is seen; asat-asat; adrishyam.-what is not seen; atma-atma; svarupam.-own form; sad-asatoh-of sat and asat; atma-the form; yasyah-of which; tad-ubhaya-of both; anusandhana-rupatvat-because of the form; iti-thus.

Shrila Shridhara Svami comments:

"Here the words `sa vai' mean `the seer and the seen'. The word `sat' means `what is seen', and `asat' means `what is not seen'. "Sad-asad-atmika' means `which has the nature of both sat and asat'."

Text 4

tad-iccha-rupatvam yatha tatraiva atmecchanugatav atma.

tad-iccha-rupatvam-the nature of desire; yatha-as; tatra-there; eva-indeed; atmecchanugatav atma-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 3.5.23.

The desire feature of the Supreme Personality of Godhead is described in these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (3.5.23):

"The Personality of Godhead, the master of all living entities, existed prior to the creation as one without a second. It is by His will only that creation is made possible and again everything merges in Him."*

Text 5

ity asya öikayam atmeccha maya tasyanugatau laye sati iti.

iti-thus; asya-of this; öikayam-in the commentary; atmeccha-atmeccha; maya-maya; tasya-of Him; anugatau-following; laye-in destruction; sati-being so; iti.-thus

Shrila Shridhara Svami comments:

"Here the word `atmeccha maya' means `follows the will of the Supreme Personality of Godhead'."

Text 6

tat-kriya-rupatvam caikadashe esha maya bhagavatah ity udahrta-vacane eva drashöavyam.

tat-kriya-rupatvam-the nature of activities; ca-also; ekadashe-in the eleventh canto; esha maya bhagavatah iti-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.3.16; udahrta-said; vacane-in the words; eva-indeed; drashöavyam-to be seen.

The activity feature of the Supreme Personality of Godhead is described in these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (11.3.16):

"I have now described maya, the illusory energy of the Supreme Personality of Godhead. This illusory potency, consisting of the three modes of material nature, is empowered by the Lord for the creation, maintenance, and annihilation of the material universe."

Text 7

yadyapi parameshvarasya sakshaj jnanadikam na maya. kintu svarupa-shaktir eva. tathapi taj-jnanadikam prakrite karye tu na tad-artham pravartate. kintu bhaktartham eva. pravartamanam anusangenaiva pravartata ity agre vivecaniyatvat. tat-pravrittity-abhasa-samvalitam yan-maya-vritti-rupam jnanadikam anyat tad eva taj-jnanadi-shabdenocyate.

yadyapi-although; parameshvarasya-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; sakshaj-direct; jnanadikam-beginning with knowledge; na-not; maya.-maya; kintu-however; svarupa-shaktih-own form; eva.-indeed; tathapi-still; taj-jnanadikam-beginning ewith that knowledge; prakrite-matter; karye-effect; tu-but; na-not; tad-artham-for that purpose; pravartate.-is; kintu-however; bhaktartham-for the sake of the devotee; eva.-indeed; pravartamanam-being so; anusangena-by contact; eva-indeed; pravartata-is; iti-thus; agre-beginning; vivecaniyatvat.-because of what should be said; tat-pravrittity-of that activity; abhasa-reflection; samvalitam-mixed; yan-maya-vritti-rupam-the form of maya's activcities; jnanadikam-beginning with knowledge; anyat-another; tat-that; eva-indeed; taj-jnanadi-beginning with that knowledge; shabdena-by the word; ucyate-is said.

Although the knowledge and other features of the Supreme Personality of Godhead are never maya, nevertheless maya is one of the Lord's potencies. Therefore the Lord's knowledge and other features are not directly employed for the purposes of illusion. Rather they are used to benefit the Lord's devotees. It is only the material reflection of the Lord's activities that are engaged in maya's activities. It is in that sense that the word "jnanadi" is used here.

Text 8

tatha-bhutam ca taj-jnanadikam dvi-vidham. svabhava-siddhitvat kevala-parameshvara-nishöham tad-dattatvaj jiva-nishöham ca. tatra prathamam drashöri-drishyanusandhana-sishriksha-kaladi-rupam. dvitiam vidyavidya-bhogecca-karmadi-rupam iti.

tatha-bhutam-like that; ca-also; taj-jnanadikam-beginning with knowledge; dvi-vidham.-two kinds; svabhava-own nature; siddhitvat-because of perfection; kevala-parameshvara-nishöham-transcendental faith in the Supreme Personality of Godhead; tad-dattatvaj-because of being given by Him; jiva-of the souls; nishöham-faith; ca.-also; tatra-there; prathamam-first; drashöri-drishyanusandhana-the seer and the seen; sishriksha-the desire for creation; kaladi-beginning with time; rupam-the from; dvitiyam-second; vidyavidya-knowledge and ignorance; bhoga-enjoyment; iccha-desire; karma-action; adi-beginning with; rupam-the from; iti-thus.

The Lord's knowledge and other features are of two kinds: 1. the features that, because they are the Lord's own transcendental opulences, inspire faith in the Lord Himself, and 2. the features that, because they are opulences given to the Lord's devotees, inspire faith in the Lord's devotees. The former are opulences like the relationship between the seer and seen, the Lord's desire to create the universe, the Lord's potency of time, and other like features of the Lord. The latter are like knowledge, ignorance, desire, activity, and other like features.

Text 9

athopadanamshasya pradhanasya lakshanam

yat tat tri-gunam avyaktam nityam sad-asad-atmakam pradhanam prakritim prahur avishesham visheshavat

atha-now; upadanamshasya-of the ingredients; pradhanasya-pradhana; lakshanam-the nature; yat-now further; tat-that; tri-gunam-combination of the three modes; avyaktam-unmanifested; nityam-eternal; sad-asad-atmakam-consisting of casue and effect; pradhanam-the pradhana; prakritim-prakrti; prahuh-they call; avishesham-undifferentiated; visheshavat-possessing differentiation.

The pradhana, which is an ingredient of the material world, is described in these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (3.26.10):

"The unmanifested eternal combination of the three modes is the cause of the manifest state and is called pradhana. It is called prakriti when in the manifested stage of existence."*

Text 10

yat khalu tri-gunam sattvadi-guna-traya-samaharas tad evavyaktam pradhanam prakritim prahuh. tatravyakta-samjnatve hetuh. avishesham guna-traya-samya-rupatvad anabhivyakta-vishesham. ata evavyakrita-samjnam ceti gamitam.

yat-what; khalu-indeed; tri-gunam-three modes; sattvadi-guna-traya-samaharah-the three modes beginning with the mode of goodness; tat-that; eva-indeed; avyaktam-unmanifested; pradhanam-pradhana; prakritim-prakrti; prahuh.-they say; tatra-there; avyakta-samjnatve-of the name avyakta; hetuh.-the cause; avishesham-without variety; guna-traya-samya-rupatvat-the equilibrium of the three modes of nature; anabhivyakta-not manifested; vishesham-variety; ata eva-therefore; avyakrita-samjnam-the name avyaktrta; ca-and; iti-thus; gamitam-attained.

This verse says, "The unmanifested eternal combination of the three modes is the cause of the manifest state and is called pradhana. It is called prakriti when in the manifested stage of existence."* The reason the pradhana is here called "avyaktam" (unmanifested) is given here in the word "avishesham", which means "because the three modes are situated in equilibrium, no one of them stronger than the others, there is no variety.

Text 11

pradhana-samjnatve hetuh. visheshavat svamsha-karya-rupanam— mahad-adi-visheshanam ashraya-rupataya tebhayah shreshöham.

pradhana-samjnatve-of the name pradhana; hetuh.-the reason; visheshavat svamsha-karya-the effect of variety; rupanam-of the forms; mahad-adi-beginning with the mahat-tattva; visheshanam-specific; ashraya-rupataya-as the shelter; tebhayah-than them; shreshöham-better.

The reason the material nature is called "pradhana" is given in the word "visheshavat", which means The situation where the mahat-tattva and other forces create variety is a superior situation".

Text 12

prakriti-samjnatve hetuh. sad-asad-atmakam. sad-asatsu karya-karana-rupeshu mahad-adishu karanatvad anugata atma svarupam yasya tat.

prakriti-samjnatve-the name prakrti; hetuh.-the reason; sad-asad-atmakam.-sat-asad-atmika; sad-asatsu-in sat and asat; karya-karana-rupeshu-with cause and effect; mahad-adishu-beginning with mahat-tattva; karanatvat-as the cause; anugata-followed; atma-the self; svarupam-own form; yasya-of whom; tat-that.

The reason the material nature is called "prakriti" is given in the word "sad-asad-atmika", which means "the cause of the mahat-tattva and the other causes and effects".

Text 13

atha nityam pralaye karana-matratmanavasthita-sarvamshatvena shrishöi-sthityosh capanci-kritamshatvenavikritam svarupam yasya tadrisham iti brahmatvam mahad-adi-rupatvam ca vyavrittam. brahmano nirgunatvat mahad-adinam cavyaktapekshaya karya-rupatvat.

atha-now; nityam-eternal; pralaye-in devastation; karana-cause; matra-only; atmana-by the self; avasthita-situated; sarva-all; amshatvena-as a part; shrishöi-of creation; sthityoh-and maintenance; ca-also; apanci-krita-not made of the five gross material elements; amshatvena-as a part; avikritam-not changing; svarupam-own nature; yasya-of which; tadrisham-like that; iti-thus; brahmatvam-spiritual nature; mahad-adi-rupatvam-the nature of the mahat-tattva and other like material features; ca-and; vyavrittam.-different; brahmanah-of Brahman; nirgunatvat-because of being beyond the three modes; mahad-adinam-beginning with the mahat-tattva; ca-also; avyakta-unmanifested; apekshaya-in relation to; karya-rupatvat-because of being the effect.

The reason the material nature is called "nitya" (eternal) is that the material nature remains as a cause even after the material worlds are destroyed in the cosmic annihilation. Also, when the material worlds are created or maintained, the material nature is still not in the position of being something that was created by the five gross material elements. Still, even though the mahat-tattva and other material features are great in these ways, the Supreme Lord is nevertheless different from them. The Supreme Lord is beyond the touch of the material modes. The Supreme Lord remains the original cause, and the mahat-tattva, avyakta, and other material features are all effects created by Him.

Text 14

evam ca shri-vishnu-purane avyaktam karanam yat tat pradhanam rishi-sattamaih procyate prakritih sukshma

nityam sad-asad-atmakam

evam-thus; ca-also; shri-vishnu-purane-in Shri Vishnu Purana; avyaktam-unmanifested; karanam-cause; yat-what; tat-that; pradhanam-pradhana; rishi-sattamaih-by the great sages; procyate-is said; prakritih-matter; sukshma-subtle; nityam-eternal; sad-asat-cause and effect; atmakam-nature.

This is described in the following words of Shri Vishnu Purana (1.2.19-21):

"The great sages say that the unmanifested material nature (pradhana) is the eternal and subtle cause and effect of the material world, . . .

Text 15

akshayyam nanyad-adharam ameyam ajaram dhruvam shabda-sparsha-vihinam tad-rupadibhir asamhatam

akshayyam-imperishable; na-not; anyat-another; adharam-shelter; ameyam-immeasurable; ajaram-undecaying; dhruvam-real; shabda-sound; sparsha-and touch; vihinam-without; tad-rupadibhih-by forms and other things; asamhatam-without contact.

. . . imperishable, independent, immeasurable, real, untouched by sound, touch, form, and the like, . . .

Text 16

tri-gunam taj jagad-yonir anadi-prabhavapyayam tenagre sarvam evasid vyapyam vai pralayam anu. ity adi.

tri-gunam-three modes; taj-that; jagad-yonih-mother of the universe; anadi-without beginning; prabhava-creation; apyayam-destruction; tena-by that; agre-in the presence; sarvam-all; eva-indeed; asit-was; vyapyam-pervaded; vai-indeed; pralayam-destruction; anu.-following; iti-thus; adi.-beginning.

. . . consisting of the three modes, the creator of the material universe, the beginningless origin of birth and destruction, everything, and the cause that continues to exist even after the material universes are destroyed."

Text 17

idam eva pradhanam anader jagatah suksh mavastha-rupam avyakritavyaktady-abhidham vedantibhir api parameshvaradhinataya manyate tad-adhinatvad artha-vat ity adi nyayeshu.

idam-this; eva-indeed; pradhanam-pradhana; anadeh-beginningless; jagatah-of the material universe; suksh mavastha-rupam-the subtle condition; avyakritavyaktady-abhidham-called avyakta, avyakta, and other names; vedantibhih-by the knowers of Vedanta; api-also; parameshvaradhinataya-subordinate to the Supreme Personality of Godhead; manyate-is considered; tad-adhinatvad-because of being subordinate to Him; artha-vat-like that; iti-thus; adi-beginning; nyayeshu-in Vedanta-sutra.

The unmanifested material nature (pradhana), which from beginningless time is the subtle form of the material universe, is known by many names, such as "avyakrita" and "avyakta". The knowers of Vedanta affirm that this unmanifested material nature is subordinate to the Supreme Personality of Godhead. This is affirmed in the following words of Vedanta-sutra (1.4.3):

"The unmanifested material nature (pradhana), is always subordinate to the Supreme Personality of Godhead."

Text 18

nishidhyate tu sankhya-vat svatantrataya anumanikam apy ekesham iti cen na sharira-rupaka-vinyasta-grihitair darshayati ca ity adi nyayeshu.

nishidhyate-is disproved; tu-but; sankhya-vat-like sankhya; svatantrataya-by independence; anumanikam-inference; api-also; ekesham-of some; iti-thus; cen-if; na-not; sharira-body; rupaka-metaphor; vinyasta-placed; grihitaih-because of being accepted; darshayati-reveals; ca-and; ity adi nyayeshu-in Vedanta-sutra.

The followers of the sankhya theory claim that the unmanifested material nature is independent of the Supreme Personality of Godhead. This mistaken idea is refuted by the arguments presented in Vedanta-sutra 1.4.1-15.

Text 19

shvetashvataropanishadi pradhana-shabdah ca. shruyate pradhana-kshetrajna-patir guneshah samsara-bandha-sthiti-moksha-hetih ity adau.

shvetashvataropanishadi-in Svetasvatara Upanisad; pradhana-shabdah-the word pradhana; ca.-also; shruyate-is heard; pradhana-kshetrajna-patir guneshah samsara-bandha-sthiti-moksha-hetih ity adau-Svetasvatara Upanisad 6.16.

The truth that the unmanifested material nature is subordinate to and dependent on the Supreme Personality of Godhead is also confirmed by the following words of Shvetashvatara Upanishad (6.16):

"The Supreme Personality of Godhead is the Supersoul, the master of all transcendental qualities, and He is the master of the cosmic manifestation in regard to bondage to the conditional state of material existence and liberation from that bondage."*

Text 20

shri-kapiladevah.

shri-kapiladevah-Lord Kapiladeva.

The verse quoted in the beginning of this anuccheda was spoken by Lord Kapiladeva.

Anuccheda 56

Text 1

tad evam sandarbha-dvaye shakti-traya-vivrittih krita. tatra namabhinnata-janita-bhranti-hanaya sangraha-shlokaḥ tad-that; evam-thus; sandarbha-dvaye-in two sandarbhas; shakti-traya-vivrittih-description of the three potencies; krita.-done; tatra-there; nama-names; abhinnata-non-difference; janita-birth; bhranti-mistake; hanaya-for destroying; sangraha-shlokaḥ-these verses.

In this way the three potencies of the Lord have been described in these two sandarbhas. To remove any confusion that may arise for the host of different names that may be given to these three potencies, the following verses are quoted from the scriptures:

Text 2

maya syad antaranga ya bahiranga ca sa smrita pradhane 'pi kvaśid drishōa tad-vrittir mohini ca sa maya-maya; syat-is; antaranga-internal; ya-which; bahiranga-external; ca-and; sa-that; smrita-called; pradhane-pradhana; api-also; kvaśit-somewhere; drishōa-seen; tad-vrittih-that action; mohini-bewildering; ca-and; sa-that.

"The Lord's potencies are maya, antaranga, and bahiranga. The bewildering powers of maya are seen in the pradhana (unmanifested matter).

Text 3

adye traye syat prakritis cic-chaktis tv antarangika shuddha-jive 'pi te drishöe tathesha-jnana-viryayoh

adye-in the beginning; traye-in the three; syat-is; prakritih-matter; cic-chaktih-spiritual potency; tv-indeed; antarangika-antaranga; shuddha-pure; jive-soul; api-also; te-they; drishöe-seen; tatha-so; isha-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; jnana-knowledge; viryayoh-and power.

"Maya, bahiranga, and pradhana are three names for the Lord's material potency. Cit-shakti and antaranga are names for the Lord's spiritual potency. The pure spirit souls are manifestation of the Supreme Lord's potency of knowledge and power.

Text 4

cin-maya-shakti-vrittayas tu vidya-shaktir udiryate cic-chakti-vrittau mayayam yogamaya sama smrita

cit-spiritual; maya-maya; shakti-potency; vrittayah-ofnthe activity; tu-indeed; vidya-shaktih-the potency of knowledge; udiryate-is said; cic-chakti-spiritual potency; vrittau-in thwe activity; mayayam-in maya; yogamaya-yogamaya; sama-equal; smrita-considered.

"From the spiritual potency comes the potency of transcendental knowledge. When it is engaged in activities that bring bewilderment, the spiritual potency is called Yogamaya.

Text 5

pradhanavyakritavyaktam traigunye prakritau param na mayayam na cic-chaktav ity ady uhyam vivekibhih iti.

pradhan-pradhana; avyakrita-avyakrta; avyaktam-abyakta; traigunye-three modes; prakritau-in prakrti; param-great; na-and; mayayam-in maya; na-not; cic-chaktav-in the spiritual potency; iti-thus; adi-beginning; uhyam-to be considered; vivekibhih-by the wise; iti.-thus.

"Pradhana, avyakrita, and avyakta are names of the material potency, which is made of three modes of matter. However, the wise do not use these names to refer to the spiritual potency or the Yogamaya potency."

Text 6

atha maya-karyam jagal lakshyate tatas tenanuviddhebhyo yuktebhyo 'ndam acetanam utthitam purusho yasmad udatishöhad asau viraö

atha-now; maya-karyam-the activities of maya; jagal-the world; lakshyate-is characterized; tatah-then; tena-by the Lord; anuviddhebhayah-from these seven principles, roused into activity; yuktebhayah-united; 'ndam-an egg; acetanam-unintelligent; utthitam-rose; purushah-Cosmic Being; yasmāt-from which; udatishōhat-appeared; asau-that; viraō-celebrated.

The activities of the material potency maya are described in the following words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (3.26.61-62):

"From these seven principles, roused into activity and united by the presence of the Lord, an unintelligent egg arose, from which appeared the celebrated Cosmic Being.*

Text 7

etat andam visheshakhyam krama-vrddhair dashottaraih toyadibhih parivritam pradhanenavritair bahih yatra loka-vitāno 'yam rupam bhagavato hareh

etat-this; andam-egg; visheshakhyam-called visesa; krama-one after another; vrddhah-increased; dasha-ten times; uttaraih-greater; toyadibhih-by water and so on; parivritam-enveloped; pradhanena-by pradhana; avritaih-covered; bahih-on the outside; yatra-where; loka-vitānah-the extension of the planetary systems; ayam-this; rupam-form; bhagavatah-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; hareh-of Lord Hari.

"The universal egg, or the universe in the shape of an egg, is called the manifestation of material energy. Its layers of water, air, fire, sky, ego, and mahat-tattva increase in thickness one after another. Each layer is ten times bigger than the previous one, and the final outside layer is covered by pradhana. Within the egg is the universal form of Lord Hari, of whose body the fourteen planetary systems are parts."*

Text 8

teneshvaranuviddhebhayah kshubhitebhyo mahad-adibhyo 'ndam acetanam utthitam. yasmād andad asau viraō purushas tudatishōhat. bhagavatah purushasya. śrī-kapiladevah.

tena-by Him; ishvara-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; anuviddhebhayah-anuviddhebhayah; kshubhitebhayah-agitated; mahad-adibhyah-beginnign with mahat-tattva; andam-egg; acetanam-unintelligent; utthitam.-risen; yasmāt-from which; andat-egg; asau-this; viraō-cosmic; purushah-person; tu-indeed; udatishōhat-rose; bhagavatah-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; purushasya.-the purusha; śrī-kapiladevah-Lord Kapiladeva.

Here the word "tena" means "by the Supreme Personality of Godhead", "anuviddhebhayah" means "the mahat-tattva and other material principles were agitated". From those material principles and unintelligent egg was manifested. From that egg appeared the celebrated Cosmic Being. The word "bhagavatah" means "of the purusha-avatara".

Text 1

tad evam bhagavato rupam ity uktes tasyapi pragvad aprakritatvam apatati. tan-nishedhayaha tat-that; evam-thus; bhagavatah-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; rupam-the form; iti-thus; ukteh-of the statement; tasya-of Him; api-also; pragvat-as before; aprakritatvam-the state of being non-material; apatati.-attained; tan-nishedhaya-for refutation; aha-said.

Some may say that the universal form of the Lord, as described in these two verses, is a spiritual form. That idea is refuted by the following statement about the Lord's universal form (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 2.10.35):

Text 2

amuni bhagavad-rupe
maya te hy anuvarnite ubhe api na grihnanti
maya-shrishöe vipashcitah amuni-all these; bhagavat-unto the Supreme Personality of Godhead; rupe-in the forms; maya-by me; te-onto you; hi-certainly; anuvarnite-described respectively; ubhe-both; api-also; na-never; grihnanti-accepts; maya-external; shrishöe-being so manifested; vipashcitah-the learned one who knows.

"Neither of the above forms of the Lord, as just described unto you from the material angle of vision, is accepted by the pure devotees of the Lord who know Him well."*

Text 3

amuni amu. upasanartham bhagavaty aropite jagad-atmakeshöhula-sukshmakhye viraö hiranyagarbhapara-paryaye vyashöi-samashöi-sharire ye maya tubhyam anuvarnite te ubhe api vipashcito na grihnanti. vastutaya nopasate. kim tarhi tadiya-bahirangadhishöhanatayaivety arthah.

amuni-amuni; amu.-they; upasanartham-for the purpose of worship; bhagavati-to the Supreme Personality of Godhead; aropite-imposed; jagat-universe; atmakes-self; sthula-gross; sukshma-subtle; akhye-called; viraö-universal form; hiranyagarbhapara-paryaye-called hiranyagrabha; vyashöi-samashöi-individual and universal; sharire-in the body; ye-who; maya-by me; tubhyam-to you; anuvarnite-described; te-they; ubhe-both; api-also; vipashcitah-wise; na-not; grihnanti.-accept; vastutaya-in truth; na-not; upasate-worship; kim-whether; tarhi-then; tadiya-His; bahiranga-external; adhishöhanataya-as the manifestation; eva-indeed; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning.

Here the word "amuni" means "they". The universal form of the Lord is imaginary, an artificial form in which the entire universe, consisting of the small and the great, the individuals and the various groups, are imagined to be parts of the Lord's great body. The Shrimad-Bhagavatam verse declares, "This form I have described unto you from the material angle of vision, is not accepted by the pure devotees of the Lord who know Him well." This means that the wise devotees of the Lord do not worship the universal form, for that form is composed of the Lord's external (bahiranga) material potency.

Text 4

tad uktam vaishnave

yad etad drishyate murtam etaj-jnanatmanas tava bhranti-jnanena pashyanti jagad-rupam ayoginah. iti.

tat-taht; uktam-said; vaishnave-in the Vishdnu Purana; yat-what; etat-this; drishyate-is seen; murtam-form; etaj-jnanatmanah-that knowledge; tava-of you; bhranti-jnanena-with a mistaken idea; pashyanti-they see; jagad-rupam-the universalf form; ayoginah-who are not yogis; iti.-thus.

This is also confirmed by the following words of Vishnu Purana (1.4.39):

"O Supreme Personality of Godhead filled with transcendental knowledge, fools who are not advanced in yoga mistakenly think the entire material universe is one of Your forms."

Text 5

etan-murtam jagad-bhranti-jnanenaiva tava rupam janantity arthah.shrutish ca nedam yad idam upasate iti. yad idam jagad upasate praninah. nedam brahma iti shri-ramanuja-bhashyam.

etan-murtam-thisd form; jagat-the material universe; bhranti-mistaken; jnanena-idea; eva-indeed; tava-by this; rupam-form; jananti-know; iti-thus; arthah-meaning;.shrutih-Sruti-sastra; ca-and; na-not; idam-this; yat-what; idam-this; upasate-worship; iti.-thus; yat-what; idam-this; jagat-universe; upasate-worship; praninah.-living entities; na-not; idam-this; brahma-the Supreme; iti-thus; shri-ramanuja-pf Shri Ramanujacarya; bhashyam-the commentary.

"This verse means, 'O supreme Lord, they mistakenly think the material universe is one of Your forms'. In the Kena Upanishad (1.4) it is said:

"The object of their worship is not in truth the Supreme."

Shrila Ramanujacarya comments:

"These words mean, 'The people worship the universal form, but the universal form is not a real form of the Supreme'."

Text 6

ata eva na grihnanity atra hetur maya-shrishöe. na tu svarupa-shakti-pradurbhavite. anena catur-bhujadi-lakshanasya sakshad-rupasya mayatitvatvam api vyaktam. atrasya jagato maya-mayasya purusha-rupatve purusha-gunavataranam vishnv-adinam sattvadi-mayas tad-amsha-rupaniti jneyam.

ata eva-therefore; na-not; grihnanti-accept; iti-thus; atra-here; hetuh-the reason; maya-shrishöe-created by maya; na-not; tu-but; svarupa-personal; shakti-potency; pradurbhavite-manifested; anena-by this; catur-bhujadi-lakshanasya-characteristics beinging with having four arms; sakshat-direct; rupasya-form; mayatitvatvam-the state of being above maya; api-also; vyaktam.-manifested; atra-here; asya-of this; jagatah-universe; maya-mayasya-made of maya; purusha-rupatve-in the form of the purusha-avatara; purusha-gunavataranam-of the purusha-avatars and guna-avatars; vishnv-adinam-beginning weith Lord Visshnu; sattvadi-beginning with goodness; mayah-consisting of; tad-amsha-rupani-partial expansions; iti-thus; jneyam-to be known.

the reason why the learned devotees do not accept (na grihnanti) the universal form is given in the words "maya-shrishöe" (created by maya). The universal form is not manifested by the Lord's internal spiritual potency, it is not like the Lord's other forms, which have four arms and many similar features, and it is not above the material world if maya, as the Lord's forms always are. Within the material universe the Lord's guna-avatars appear, and their forms control the three modes of material nature.

Text 7

tany apekshya cuktam markandeye vishnuh sharira-grahanam aham ishana eva ca

karitas te yato 'tas tvam kah stotum shaktiman bhavet. iti.

tani-them; apekshya-in relation to; c-also; uktam-said; markandeye-in the Markandeya Purana; vishnuh-Lord Vishnu; sharira-grahanam-the acceptance of a body; aham-I; ishana-Shiva; eva-indeed; ca-also; karitah-done; te-they; yatah-because of; atah-then; tvam-You; kah-who; stotum-to praise; shaktiman-having the power; bhavet.-is; iti.-thus.

This is described in the following words of the Markandeya Purana, where the demigod Brahma declares:

"Vishnu, Shiva, and I all accept forms in this world. O Vishnu, who has the power to properly glorify Your transcendental form?"

Text 8

sharira-shabdasya tat-tan-nija-sharira-vacitve tu tad-grahanat purvam vishnv-adi-bhedasambhavat tan-nirdeshanupapatteh. shri-shukah.

sharira-shabdasya-of the word sarira; tat-tan-nija-sharira-vacitve-with the word own body; tu-but; tad-grahanat-from accepting that; purvam-previously; vishnv-with Lord Vishnu; adi-beginning; bheda-difference; asambhavat-because of being impossible; tan-nirdeshanupapatteh-from that explanation; shri-shukah-Shrila Shukadeva Gosvami.

Here the word "sharira" means "His own body". However, the forms of Lord Vishnu and the other forms of the Supreme Personality of Godhead are different from the forms of the demigods. That is explained here. The verse quoted in the beginning of this anuccheda was spoken by Shrila Shukadeva Gosvami.

Anuccheda 58

Text 1

purvam maya-shrishöe ity uktam. tatra maya-shabdasya najnanarthatvam. tad-vade hi sarvam eva jivadi-dvaitam ajnanenaiva sva-svarupena brahmani kalpyate iti matam. nirahankarasya kenacid dharmantarenapi rahitasya sarva-vilakshanasya cin-matrasya brahmanas tu najnanashrayatvam. na cajnana-vishayatvam. na ca bhrama-hetutvam sambhavatiti.

purvam-previously; maya-shrishöe-created by maya; iti-thus; uktam.-said; tatra-there; maya-shabdasya-of the word maya; na-not; ajnanarthatvam-for ignorance; tad-vade-in that statement; hi-indeed; sarvam-all; eva-indeed; jivadi-dvaitam-different from the individual souls and others; ajnanena-by ignorance; eva-indeed; sva-svarupena-with His own form; brahmani-in the Supreme; kalpyate-is considered; iti-thus; matam.-the opinion; nirahankarasya-without false ego; kenacid-by someone; dharmantarena-without dharma; api-also; rahitasya-without; sarva-all; vilakshanasya-different; cin-matrasya-only spirit; brahmanah-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; tu-but; na-not; ajnana-of ignorance; ashrayatvam-the state of being the shelter; na-not; ca-and; ajnana-of ignorance; vishayatvam-in relation to; na-not; ca-and; bhrama-hetutvam-the cause of the mistake; sambhavatiti possible; iti-thus.

In the previously quoted Shrimad-Bhagavatam verse, in the compound word "maya-shrishöe", the word "maya" does not mean "ignorance". The understanding here is that the individual spirit souls and everything else are different from the Supreme Personality of Godhead. The understanding here is that the Supreme Personality of Godhead, who is free of false ego, who is not material, and who is different from and superior to all else, is not the resting place of ignorance or illusion. Neither is He is the grip of ignorance. Nor is he the cause of illusion for others.

Text 2

paramalaukika-vastutvad acintya-shaktitvam tu sambhavet. yat khalu cintamany-adav api drishyate. yaya shaktya tri-dosha-ghnaushadhi-vat paraspara-virodhinam api gunanam dharinya tasya niravayavatvadike saty api savayavatvadikam angi-kritam.

paramalaukika-vastutvat-because of being most extraordinary; acintya-shaktitvam-the state of inconceivable potencies; tu-indeed; sambhavet.-may be; yat-what; khalu-indeed; cintamany-adav-beginning with a cintamani jewel; api-also; drishyate.-is seen; yaya-by which; shaktya-potency; tri-dosha-three defects; ghna-destroying; aushadhi-medicine; vat-like; paraspara-virodhinam-mutually contradictory; api-also; gunanam-of qualities; dharinya-holding; tasya-of that; niravayavatvadike-beginning with not possessing limbs; sati-being so; api-also; savayavatvadikam-beginning with possessing limbs; angi-kritam.-accepted.

Because He is most wonderful and extraordinary, the Supreme Personality of Godhead is the master of inconceivable potencies. Like a miraculously powerful cintamani jewel, like a miraculous medicine that cures the three kinds of diseases, and like other miraculous things, the Lord's inconceivable potency can do all wonderful things. It can even do two mutually contradictory things at the same time. For example, it can arrange that the Supreme Lord has limbs and at the same time does not have limbs.

Text 3

tatra shabdash casti pramanam vicitra-shaktih purushah purano na canyesham shaktayas tadrishah syuh ity adikam shvetashvataropanishad-adau.

tatra-there; shabdah-word; ca-and; asti-is; pramanam-evidence; vicitra-shaktih-wonderful potency; purushah-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; puranah-ancient; na-not; ca-and; anyesham-of others; shaktayah-potencies; tadrishah-like that; syuh-are; iti-thus; adikam-beginning; shvetashvataropanishad-adau-beginning with the Svetasvatara Upanishad.

Proof of the Lord's inconceivable potencies is seen in the Shvetashvatara Upanishad and other scriptures.
There it is said:

"The ancient Supreme Personality of Godhead has wonderful powers. No one else has powers like His."

Text 4

atmeshvaro 'tarkya-sahasra-shaktih ity adikam shri-bhagavatadishu.

atmeshvaro 'tarkya-sahasra-shaktih ity adikam shri-bhagavatadishu-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 3.33.3.

The Lord's inconceivable potencies are also described in this prayer addressed to the Supreme Personality of Godhead (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 3.33.3):

"Your diverse energies can act multifariously. This is inconceivable to us."*

Text 5

tatha ca brahma-sutram atmani caivam vicitrash ca hi iti.

tatha-so; ca-also; brahma-sutram-Vedanta-sutra; atmani-in the Supreme Personality of Godhead; ca-also;
evam-thus; vicitrah-wonderful; ca-also; hi-indeed; iti-thus.

The Lord's inconceivable potencies are also described in these words of Vedanta-sutra (2.1.28):

"Many wonderful powers reside in the Supreme Personality of Godhead."

Text 6

tatra dvaitany athanupapattiyapi brahmanya-jnanadikam kalpayitum na shakyate. asambhavad eva.
brahmany acintya-shakti-sad-bhavasya yukti-labdhatvat shrutatvac ca dvaitany anupapattish ca dure gata.

tatra-there; dvaitani-different; atha-then; anupapattya-by the explanation; api-also; brahmanya-jnanadikam-beginning with knowledge of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; kalpayitum-to understand; na-not; shakyate.-is able; asambhavad-because of impossibility; eva.-indeed; brahmani-in the Supreme

Personality of Godhead; acintya-shakti-inconceivable potencies; sad-bhavya-of the transcendental existence; yukti-labdhatvat-because of logic; shrutatvac-because of the Vedic revelation; ca-and; dvaitani-different; anupapattih-illogicalness; ca-and; dure-far away; gata.-gone

It is not logical to say that the Supreme Personality of Godhead does not have inconceivable potencies that can arrange for the Lord to possess mutually contradictory qualities, for no one has the power to understand the Lord completely. The Lord must have inconceivable potencies, for that is logical and it is also confirmed by the Vedic revelation. Therefore idea that the Lord does not have such powers that can give Him mutually contradictory qualities is illogical and should be thrown far away.

Text 7

tatah cacintya-shaktir eva dvaitopapattau karanam paryavasiyate. tasman nirvikaradi-svabhavena sato 'pi paramatmano 'cintya-shaktya vishvakaratvadina parinamadikam bhavati. cintamany-ayaskantadinam sarvartha-prasava-loha-calanadi-vat.

tatah-therefore; cacintya-shaktih-inconceivable potencies; eva-indeed; dvaitopapattau-in the idea of difference; karanam-the cause; paryavasiyate-come to an end; tasman-therefore; nirvikaradi-svabhavena-the nature of not having a form and other like natures; satah-beging so; api-also; paramatmanah-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; acintya-shaktya-by the inconceivable potency; vishva-of the universe; akaratva-having the form; adina-beginning with; parinamadikam-beginning with transformation; bhavati.-is; cintamani-cintamani jewel; ayaskanta-magnet; adinam-beginning with; sarva-all; artha-meaning; prasava-creation; loha-worlds; calana-movinh; adi-beginning with; vat-like.

Therefore the conclusion is that the Lord's inconceivable potency arranges that the Lord can have many mutually contradictory attributes. Thus is because of the Lord's inconceivable potency that the Lord is changeless, and at the same time changes Himself to become the universal form and other forms. As a cintamani jewel has many wonderful powers, and as a magnet has the wonderful power to attract pieces of iron, so the Lord's potencies have many wonderful powers also.

Text 8

tad etad angi-kritam shri-badarayanena shrutes tu shabda-mulatvat iti.

tat-this; etat-that; angi-kritam-accepted; shri-badarayanena-by Shri Vyasa; shruteh-of Sruti-sastra; tu-indeed; shabda-of the words; mulatvat-because of being the root; iti-thus.

This truth is also accepted by Shri Vyasadeva, who declares (Vedanta-sutra 2.1.27):

"The Supreme Personality of Godhead may have inconceivable potencies and mutually contradictory qualities, for these truths are all described in the scriptures, which are the root of all knowledge of the spiritual reality."

Text 9

tatas tasya tadrisha-shaktitvat prakritavan maya-shabdasyendra-jala-vidya-vacitvam api na yuktam. kintu miyate vicitram nirmiyate 'nayeti vicitratha-kara-shakti-vacitvam eva. tasmad paramatma-parinama eva shastra-siddhantah. tad etac ca bhagavat-sandarbhe vivritam asti.

tatah-then; tasya-of Him; tadrisha-shaktitvat-because of having inconceivable potencies like this; prakritavan-material; maya-maya; shabdasya-of the word; indra-jala-mirage; vidya-knowledge; vacitvam-statement; api-also; na-not; yuktam.-logical; kintu-however; miyate-is arranged; vicitram-wonder; nirmiyate-is created; anaya-by that; iti-thus; vicitrartha-kara-creating wonders; shakti-potency; vacitvam-to be said; eva.-indeed; tasmāt-therefore; paramatma-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; parinama-transformation; eva.-indeed; shastra-siddhantah.-the conclusion of the scriptures; tat-that; etac-this; ca-and; bhagavat-sandarbhe-in Bhagavat-sandarbha; vivritam-revealed; asti-is.

Because they are like that, it is not logical to say that the powers of the Lord's transcendental potencies are like the magical tricks of the illusory material potency maya. However, it is proper to say that the Lord's transcendental potencies have the power to do great wonders. Therefore the conclusion of the scriptures is that the Supreme Personality of Godhead can transform Himself in any way He wishes. This is also explained in the Bhagavat-sandarbha.

Text 10

tatra caparinatasyaiva sato 'cintyaya taya shaktya parinama ity asau san-matratavabhasamana-svarupa-vyuha-rupa-dravyakhya-shakti-rupenaiva parinamate. na tu svarupeneti gamyate. yathaiva cintamaniḥ. atas tan-mulatvan na paramatmopadanata-sampratipatti-bhangaḥ.

tatra-there; ca-and; aparinatasya-unchanged; eva.-indeed; satah-being so; acintyaya-inconceivable; taya-by that; shaktya-potency; parinama-transformation; iti-thus; asau-this; san-matratavabhasamana-being manifested in that way; svarupa-own forms; vyuha-multitude; rupa-forms; dravya-things; akhya-called; shakti-potency; rupena-in the form; eva.-indeed; parinamate.-is transformed; na-not; tu-but; svarupena-by His original form; iti-thus; gamyate.-is attained; yatha-as; eva.-indeed; cintamaniḥ-a cintamani jewel; atah-then; tan-mulatvan-because of being the root of it; na-not; paramatma-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; upadanata-the state of being the ingredient; sampratipatti-admission; bhangaḥ-breaking.

Even though He is unchanging and is never transformed, by the agency of His inconceivable potency, the Supreme Personality of Godhead becomes transformed. Thus, by the agency of His inconceivable potency, the Lord can manifest many different transcendental forms. However, this does not mean that His original transcendental form is changed or lost. Thus the Lord's potency is like a cintamani jewel, which can do any wonderful thing. In this way the idea that, because He is the root of all existence, the Supreme Personality of Godhead is Himself the ingredient of the which the material world is made is clearly refuted.

Text 11

tad uktam ekadashe shri-bhagavata

prakritir hy asyopadanam
adharah purushah parah
sato 'bhivyanjakah kalo brahma tat tritayam tv aham. iti.

tat-that; uktam-said; ekadashe-in the eleventh canto; shri-bhagavata-by the Supreme Personality of Godhead; prakritih-material nature; hi.-indeed; asya-of it; opadanam-the ingredient; adharah-the resting place;

purushah-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; parah-supreme; satah-of the real; abhivyanjakah-agitating; kalah-time; brahma-the Supreme; tat-that; tritayam-the three; tv-but; aham.-I; iti.-thus.

That the material nature, and not the Supreme Personality of Godhead, is the ingredient of which the material world is made is also confirmed by the Supreme Personality of Godhead Himself, who declares in the Eleventh Canto (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.24.19):

"The material universe may be considered real, having nature as its original ingredient and final state. Lord Maha-Vishnu is the resting place of nature, which becomes manifest by the power of time. Thus nature, the almighty Vishnu, and time are not different from Me, the Supreme Absolute Truth."

Text 12

ata eva kvacid asya brahmopadanatvam kvacit pradhanopadanatvam ca shruyate. tatra sa mayakhya parinama-shaktish ca dvi-vidha varnyate. nimittamsha maya. upadanamshah pradhanam iti. tatra kevala shaktir nimittam tvad-vyuha-mayi tupadanam iti vivekah.

ata eva-therefore; kvacit-somewhere; asya-of him; brahma-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; upadanatvam-the status of the ingredient; kvacit-somewhere; pradhana-of pradhana; upadanatvam-the status of the ingredient; ca-and; shruyate.-is heard; tatra-there; sa-and; mayakhya-called maya; parinama-shaktih-the power of transformation; ca-and; dvi-vidha-two kinds; varnyate.-is described; nimittamsha-the cause; maya.-maya; upadanamshah-the ingredient; pradhanam-pradhana; iti-thus; tatra-there; kevala-alone; shaktih-potency; nimittam-cause; tvad-vyuha-mayi-consisting of Your group; tu-inded; upadanam-ingredient; iti-thus; vivekah-distinction.

In some places in the scriptures it is said that the Supreme Personality of Godhead is the ingredient of which the material world is made and in other places in the scriptures it is said that pradhana is the ingredient of which the world is made. The material transformation potency, which is called maya is described in two ways, as: 1. maya, the cause of the material world, and 2. pradhana, the ingredient of which the material world is made. In this matter the wise devotees pray, "O Lord, Your spiritual potency, which is manifested from Your four expansions of Vasudeva, Sankarshana, Pradyumna, and Aniruddha, is the real cause and ingredient of the material world."

Text 13

ata eva shrutav api vijñanam cavijñanam ca iti kasyacid bhagasyacetanata shruyate.

ata eva-therefore; shrutau-in the Shruti-shastra; api-also; vijñanam-transcendental knowledge; ca-and; avijñanam-material ignorance; ca-and; iti-thus; kasyacid-of someone; bhagasya-of a part; acetanata-lack of intelligence; shruyate.-is said.

The Supreme Personality of Godhead also created material ignorance. In the Taittiriya Upanishad (2.6.1) it is said:

"From the Supreme Personality of Godhead both knowledge and ignorance come."

Text 14

atha mula-pramane shri-bhagavate 'pi tritiyadau mukhya eva shrishöi-prastave ca jnana-vairagyangatvena ca puranantara-gati-samanya-sevitah pradhana-parinama eva sphuöam upalabhyate.

atha-now; mula-pramane-in the root of all evidence; shri-bhagavate-in Shrimad-Bhagavatam; api-also; tritiyadau-in the beginning of the third canto; mukhya-primary; eva-indeed; shrishöi-prastave-in the beginning of creation; ca-also; jnana-knowledge; vairagya-and renunciation; angatvena-as parts; ca-and; purana-Purana; antara-another; gati-goal; samanya-in general; sevitah-served; pradhana-parinama-transformation of pradhana; eva-indeed; sphuöam-clearly; upalabhyate-is perceived.

In Shrimad-Bhagavatam, which is the root of all explanations of the truth, in the Third Canto, in the description of creation, it is said that the material world is a transformation of transcendental knowledge and renunciation. However, in other Puranas is said that the material world is a transformation of pradhana.

Text 15

kva ca stuty-adau jnana-vairagyangatayaiva vivarto 'pi yah shruyate. so 'pi jagato nanyatha-siddhata-parah. kintu paramatma-vyuha-pradhana-parinamena siddhasyaiva tasya samashöi-vyashöi-rupasya yatha-yatham shuddhe paramatmani tad-amsha-rupatmani vatmatmiyatadhyaropitata-parah.

kva-where; ca-and; stuty-adau-in the beginning of the prayers; jnana-vairagyangataya-as parts of knowledge and renunciation; eva-indeed; vivartah-in transformation; api-also; yah-what; shruyate.-is heard; sah-that; api-also; jagatah-of the universe; na-not; anyatha-otherwise; siddhata-parah-conclusion; kintu-however; paramatma-vyuha-of the catur-vyuha forms; pradhana-of pradhana; parinamena-by the transformation; siddhasya-concluded; eva-indeed; tasya-of that; samashöi-of the aggregate; vyashöi-of the individual; rupasya-of the form; yatha-yatham-as it is; shuddhe-pure; paramatmani-in the Supersoul; tat-of Him; amsha-part; rupa-form; atmani-in the self; va-or; atmatmiyata-of the self; adhyaropitata-parah-imposed.

In the previously described prayer of Shrimad-Bhagavatam it was said that the material world is a transformation of impersonal knowledge and renunciation. That is the truth. It is not otherwise. Still, that transformation is effected by the pradhana, which is itself manifested from the Catur-vyuha expansions of the Lord. In this way the individuals and groups that comprise the material world are imagined to be parts of the body of the pure Supreme Lord.

Text 16

tatra paramatmani virad-upasana-vakyadi-shravanam hetur atmani tu tat-tad-avesho hetur iti vivecaniyam. anyatra siddhasya vastuna evanyatraropo yatah shuktau rajatasya. etad eva mithya-kha-pushpader aropasambhavat purva-purva-vivarta-matra-siddhanadi-parasparatve drishöantabhavac ca.

tatra-there; paramatmani-in the Supersoul; virad-upasana-vakyadi-shravanam-description of the worship of the universal form; hetuh-reason; atmani-in the Supersoul; tu-indeed; tat-tad-aveshah-entering them; hetuh-reason; iti-thus; vivecaniyam.-to be considered; anyatra-in another place; siddhasya-proved; vastuna-in truth; eva-indeed; anyatra-in another place; aropah-artificial imposition; yatah-because; shuktau-in a seashell; rajatasya.-of silver; etad-this; eva-indeed; mithya-false; kha-in the sky; pushpa-of a flower; adeh-beginning; aropa-imposition; asambhavatbecause of the impossibility; purva-flower; purva-previous; vivarta-transformation; matra-only; siddha-proved; anadi-without beginning; parasparatve-mutual; drishöanta-example; abhava-in the absence; ca-and.

It is because the Supreme Lord assumes the form of the Supersoul and thus enters the material world that it is said in the scriptures that the material universe is one of the Lord 's forms. That is the reason. The truth is that just as the silvery glitter on a seashell is not really silver, so the so-called universal form is not really a form of the Supreme Lord. As a flower imagined to float in the sky exists only in the imagination, so the Lord's universal form is only an imagination. In this way the impersonalists' idea that the universe is merely a transformation of the Supreme is clearly refuted.

Text 17

kim ca purvam khalu vari-darishnaad vary-akara mano-vrittir jatapi tad-aprasanga-samaye supta tishöhati. tat-tulya-vastu-darshanena tu jagarti. tad-visheshanusandhanam vina tad-abhedena svatantratam aropayati. tasman na vari mithya. na va tat-smaranamayi tad-akara vrittir na va tat-tulyam maricikadi vastu. kintu tad-abhedena-ropa evayatharthatvan mithya.

kim ca-furthermore; purvam-previous; khalu-indeed; vari-darishnaat-from seeing water; vary-akara-the form of water; mano-vrittih-the thought; jata-born; api-even; tad-aprasanga-samaye-at the time of non-contact; supta-sleeping; tishöhati.-stays; tat-tulya-vastu-think like that; darshanena-by seeing; tu-indeed; jagarti.-awakens; tad-visheshanusandhanam-the search for that thing; vina-without; tad-abhedena-by what is not different from it; svatantratam-independence; aropayati.-imposes; tasman-from that; na-not; vari-water; mithya.-false; na-not; va-or; tat-of that; smaranamayi-consisting of the memory; tad-akara-the form of that; vrittih-activity; na-not; va-or; tat-tulyam-equal to that; maricika-magical tricks; adi-beginning with; vastu-thing; kintu-however; tad-abhedena-not different from that; aropa-by artificial imposition; eva-indeed; ayatharthatvan-because of not being like that; mithya-false.

When one sees water, the form of water becomes impressed within the mind. Even when it is not consciously brought up in thought, that form remains dormant in the mind. However, when one sees something that resembles water, the conception of the form of water awakens in the mind. In this way one may see a mirage: something that looks like, but is not water. The real water that one saw before is not false, the thing one sees at present, even though one does not understand its true nature, is not false, and the mind's memory of water is not false. Still, one falsely thinks a piece of dry land to be a lake filled with water. In the same way some philosophers falsely think the material universe is a form of the Supreme Lord.

Text 18

svapne ca maya-matram tu kartsnyenabhivyakta-svarupatvat iti nyayena jagrad-drishöa-vastv-akarayam mano-vritttau paramatma-maya tad-vastv-abhedam aropayatiti purvavat.

svapne-in dream; ca-also; maya-matram-only maya; tu-but; kartsnyena-completely; an-not; abhivyakta-manifest; svarupatvat-because of having a form; iti-thus; nyayena-by the Vedanta-sutra; jagrat-waking; drishöa-see; vastu-thing; akarayam-the form; mano-vritttau-the minds; actions; paramatma-the Supersoul; -maya-maya; tad-vastv-abhedam-not different from that thing; aropayati-imagines; iti-thus; purvavat-as before.

This is also true of dreams. In the Vedanta-sutra (3.2.3) it is said:

"Dreams are illusions manifested by the maya potency. This is so because the forms in dreams are manifested only incompletely."

This means that when one is awake one sees the forms of various objects, and when one sleeps one recalls the memories of what he has seen. The maya potency of the Supreme Personality of Godhead causes one to think that those memories are direct perceptions. In this way, just as in the previous example of the mirage, one misunderstands what he sees.

Text 19

tasmad vastutas tu na kvacid api mithyatvam. tatah shuddha atmani paramatmani va tadrisha-tad-aropa eva mithya. na tu vishvam mithyeti. tato jagatah paramatma-jatatvena sakshat-tad-atmatvabhavad bahiranga-shakti-mayatvena ca vaikunöhadivat sakshat tad-atmiyatvabhavad abudhanam eva tatra shuddhe tat-tad-buddhih. yadyapi shuddhashrayam eva jagat. tathapi jagata tat-samsargo 'pi nasti.

tasmat-therefore; vastutah-in truth; tu-but; na-not; kvacit-anywhere; api-even; mithyatvam.-falseness; tatah-then; shuddha-pure; atmani-in the self; paramatmani-in the Supersoul; va-or; tadrisha-tad-aropa-artificially imposing the identity of one thing on another; eva-indeed; mithya.-illusion; na-not; tu-but; vishvam-the universe; mithya-an illusion; iti-thus; tatah-from this; jagatah-of the universe; paramatma-jatatvena-because of being born from the Supreme Personality of Godhead; sakshat-directly; tad-atmatva-his nature; abhavat-because of not being so; bahiranga-external; shakti-potency; mayatvena-maya; ca-and; vaikunöhadivat-like the planets beginning with Vaikunthaloka; sakshat-directly; tad-atmiyatva-own nature; abhavat-because of not being so; abudhanam-of the foolish; eva-indeed; tatra-there; shuddhe-pure; tat-tat-this and that; buddhih-the idea; yadyapi-although; shuddha-pure; ashrayam-shelter; eva-indeed; jagat.-universe; tathapi-still; jagata-of the universe; tat-that; samsargah-creation; api-also; na-not; asti-is.

Therefore the material world is not an illusion. The mistaken idea that the universe is a form of the Supreme Personality of Godhead is an illusion, but the material universe itself is not an illusion. The material universe is created by the Supreme Personality of Godhead, but that does not mean that the material universe is identical with the Supreme Personality of Godhead. The material universe is constructed of the Lord's external (bahiranga) material potency. Therefore it is not at all like the spiritual world of Vaikunöha. Fools think it is like the spiritual world of Vaikunöha.

Text 20

tad uktam asaktam sarva-bhric caiva iti gitasu.

tat-that; uktam-said; asaktam sarva-bhric caiva iti gitasu-in Bhagavad-gita 13.15.

That the Supreme Personality of Godhead is not identical with the material world is also confirmed by these words of Bhagavad-gita (13.15):

"The Supersoul is the original source of all senses, yet He is without senses. He is unattached, although He is the maintainer of all living beings. He transcends the modes of nature, and at the same time He is the master of all modes of material nature."*

Text 21

tatha deha-gehadav atmatmiyata-jnanam tesham eva syad ity ubhayatraivaropah shastre shruyate. yatha yad etad drishyate murtam ity adikam shri-vishnu-purane.

tatha-so; deha-gehadav-becginnign with body and home; atmatmiyata-as identical with the self; jnanam-knowledge; tesham-of them; eva-indeed; syat-is; iti-thus; ubhayatra-in both places; eva-indeed; aropah-artificial imposition; shastre-in scripture; shruyate.-is heard; yatha-as; yat-what; etat-this; drishyate-is seen; murtam-form; iti-thus; adikam-beginning; shri-vishnu-purane-in Shri Vishnu Purana.

Foolish materialists think their body, home, and possessions are identical with their very self. This is another kind of misidentification, much like the misidentification of the material universe for the form of the Supreme Personality of Godhead. That the material universe is not the form of the Supreme Lord is also confirmed in these words of Vishnu Purana (1.4.39):

"O Supreme Personality of Godhead filled with transcendental knowledge, fools who are not advanced in yoga mistakenly think the entire material universe is one of Your forms."

Text 22

yatha va

atmatmanam param matva paramatmanam eva ca
atma punar bahir mrigya aho 'jna-janatajnata. iti.

yatha-as; vai-indeed; atmatmanam-the soul fo souls; param-supreme; matva-thinking; paramatmanam-the Supersoul; eva-indeed; ca-and; atma-self; punah-again; bahih-outside; mrigya-to be sought; ahah-Oh; ajna-janata-of fools; ajnata-folly; iti.-thus.

That the Supersoul is different from the material universe is hinted in Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.14.27), where the demigod Brahma addresses Lord Krishna:

"If one therefore thinks that the Supersoul is something different from Your personality, and thus searches out the Supersoul somewhere else, in the forest or in the caves of the Himalayas, his condition is very lamentable. You are present in everyone's heart, and there is no need to search out the Supersoul anywhere else. If someone does so, he is merely in ignorance."*

Text 23

tvam atmanam sarvesham mula-rupam param itaram tad-viparitam matva tatha param itaram jivam eva ca mula-rupatmanam param matva sankhya-vida iva tasya tatha manyamanasya punah sa jivatma bahir mrigyo bhavati. tasya tenaiva hetuna labdha-cchidraya mayaya dehatma-buddhih karyata ity arthah. aho ajna-janataya ajnata bhramaj jnana-bhramsha ity arthah.

tvam-You; atmanam-the soul; sarvesham-of all; mula-rupam-the root form; param-supreme; itaram-another; tat-that; viparitam-different; matva-thinking; tatha-so; param-supreme; itaram-another; jivam-soul; eva-indeed; ca-and; mula-rupatmanam-the root form; param-another; matva-thinking; sankhya-vida-knowing sankhya; iva-like; tasya-of him; tatha-so; manyamanasya-thinking like that; punah-again; sa-he; jivatma-individual spirit soul; bahih-outside; mrigya-to be sought; bhavati.-is; tasya-of him; tena-by that; eva-indeed; hetuna-reason; labdha-attained; cchidraya-fault; mayaya-by the illuroy potency; dehatma-buddhih-thinking the material body to be the self; karyata-is done; iti-thus; arthah.-the meaning; ahah-then; ajna-janataya-the folly of fools; ajnata-from ignorance; bhramat-from a mistaken idea; jnana-knowledge; bhramsha-destruction; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning.

Here the word "atmanam" means "He who is the root of all", and "param" means "different". The verse then says, "One who sees that the individual spirit soul is different from the soul who is the root of all creation, and who thus understands the truth of the sankhya philosophy, but who then searches for the Supreme Souls, externally, in the material universe, is bewildered. He is bewildered in the same way a materialist, who thinks he is identical with his external material body, is bewildered by the illusory potency maya. The phrase "aho 'jna-janatajnata" means. "Such a person is simply in ignorance".

Text 24

tad uktam hamsa-guhya-stave deho 'savo 'ksha manavo bhuta-matra natmanam anyam ca viduh param yat sarvam puman veda gunamsh ca taj-jno na veda sarvajnam anantam ide. iti.

tat-that; uktam-said; hamsa-guhya-stave-in the Hamsa-guhya Prayers; dehah-this body; asavah-the life airs; aksha-the different senses; manavah-the mind, understanding, intellect, and ego; bhuta-matra-the five gross material elements and the sense objects (form, taste, sound, and so on); atmanam-themselves; anyam-any other; ca-and; viduh-know; param-beyond; yat-that which; sarvam-everything; puman-the living being; veda-knows; gunan-the qualities of the material nature; ca-and; taj-jnah-knowing those things; na-not; veda-knows; sarvajnam-onto the omniscient; anantam-the unlimited; ide.-I offer my respectful obeisances; iti.-thus.

That the Supreme Personality of Godhead is different from the material universe is also hinted in these words of the Hamsa-guhya Prayers (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 6.4.25):

"Because they are only matter, the body, the life-airs, the external and internal senses, the five gross elements and the subtle sense objects (form, taste, smell, sound, and touch), cannot know their own nature, the nature of the other senses, or the nature of their controllers. But the living being, because of his spiritual nature, can know his body, the life airs, the senses, the elements, and the sense objects, and he can also know the three qualities that form their roots. Nevertheless, although the living being is completely aware of them, he is unable to see the Supreme Being, who is omniscient and unlimited. I therefore offer my respectful obeisances unto Him."*

Text 25

tatha ca shri-bhagavad-uddhava-samvade

atma parijnanamayo vivado hy astiti nastiti bhidatma-nishöhah vyartha 'pi naivoparameta pumsam mattah paravritta-dhiyam sva-lokat. iti.

tatha-so; ca-also; shri-bhagavad-uddhava-samvade-in the conversation of the Supreme Personality of Godhead and Uddhava; atma-soul; aparijnanamayah-without knowledge; vivadah-dispute; hi-indeed; asti-is; iti-thus; na-not; asti-is; iti-thus; bhida-difference; atma-nishöhah-faith; vyarthah-useless; api-also; na-not; eva-indeed; uparameta-stops; pumsam-of the people; mattah-from Me; paravritta-dhiyam-who have turned their attention; sva-lokat.-not different from them; iti-thus.

That the Supreme Personality of Godhead is different from the material universe is also hinted in these words spoken to Uddhava by the Supreme Personality of Godhead (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.22.34):

"The speculative argument of philosophers: 'This world is real,' 'No, It is not real' is based upon incomplete knowledge of the Supreme Soul and is simply aimed at understanding material dualities. Although such argument is useless, persons who have turned their attention away from Me, the Supersoul residing in their hearts, are unable to give it up."

Text 26

kim ca vivartasya jnanadi-prakarana-paöhitatvena gaunatvat. parinamasya tu sva-prakarana-paöhitatvena mukhyatvat. jnanad-ubhaya-prakarana-paöhitatvena sandamsha-nyaya-siddha-pravalyac ca parinama eva shri-bhagavata-tatparyam iti gamyate.

kim ca-furthermore; vivartasya-of transformation; jnanadi-beginning with knowledge; prakarana-explanation; paöhitatvena-by what is read; gaunatvat-because of the secondary meaning; parinamasya-of transformation; tu-but; sva-prakarana-paöhitatvena-by what is read in that portion; mukhyatvat.-because of the primary meaning; jnanadi-beginning with knowledge; ubhaya-both; prakarana-secontions; paöhitatvena-by reading; sandamsha-pronunciation; nyaya-Vedanta-sutra; siddha-proved; pravalyat-by the power; ca-and; parinama-transformation; eva-indeed; shri-bhagavata-tatparyam-the meaning of Shrimad-Bhagavatam; iti-thus; gamyate-is obtained.

The secondary, indirect interpretation here is that the Supreme Himself becomes transformed to become the material world. However, the primary, direct interpretation is that the Lord's potencies are transformed to become the material world. That the latter of these views is the actual truth, and it is the Lord's potencies, and not the Lord Himself, that become transformed to become the material world, is confirmed by the statements of Vedanta-sutra and Shrimad-Bhagavatam.

Text 27

tac ca bhagavad-acintyaishvarya-jnanartham mithyatvabhidhanam tu nashvaratvabhidhana-vat vishvasya paramatma-bahirmukhatvapadakvatv dheyata-jnana-matrartham. na tu vastv eva tan na bhavatiti jivesha-svarupaikya-jnana-matrartham.

tat-that; ca-and; bhagavat-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; acintya-inconceivable; aishvarya-opulence; jnana-knowledge; artham-purpose; mithyatva-falistic; abhidhanam-word; tu-but; nashvaratva-temporary nature; abhidhana-explanation; vat-like; vishvasya-of the material universe; paramatma-of the Supersoul; bahirmukhatva-external nature; apadakvatv-because of being the remover; heyata-of what is not good; jnana-knowledge; matra-only; artham-purpose; na-not; tu-but; vastv-thing; eva-indeed; tan-them; na-not; bhavati-is; iti-thus; jiva-of the individual spirit soul; isha-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; svarupa-own nature; aikya-oneness; jnana-matrartham-only knowledge.

Because the Supreme Personality of Godhead has inconceivable opulences, and the material universe is temporary and filled with illusions, it is not possible that the Supreme Personality of Godhead and the material universe are identical. For similar reasons it also cannot be possible that the individual spirit soul and the Supreme Personality of Godhead are identical either.

Text 28

vaidharmyac ca na svapnadi-vat iti nyayena.

vaidharmyat-because of different natures; ca-and; na-not; svapna-a dream; adi-beginning with; vat-like; iti-thus; nyayena-by the Vedanta-sutra.

This is confirmed by the following words of Vedanta-sutra (2.2.29):

"The individual spirit soul and the Supreme Personality of Godhead cannot be identical, for they have different natures. To think they are identical is to live in a world that is like a dream."

Text 29

tatha ca naradiye

jagad vilapayam asur
ity ucyetatha tat-smriteh na ca tat-smriti-matrena layo bhavati nishcitam. iti.

tatha-so; ca-and; naradiye-in the Narada Purana; jagat-the material universe; vilapayam asuh-declasse; iti-thus; ucyeta-is said; atha-then; tat-smriteh-by the memory of that; na-not; ca-and; tat-smriti-matrena-simply by the memory; laya-destruction; bhavati-is; nishcitam.-certainly; iti.-thus.

In the Narada Purana it is said:

"They who meditate on the Supreme Personality of Godhead bring destruction to their continued residence in the material world. They who meditate on the material world bring destruction to themselves."

Text 30

tatra mukhya eva pradhana-parinamam aha tatra-there; mukhya-the primary meaning; eva-indeed; pradhana-parinamam-transformation of pradhana; aha-said.

That in the beginning of creation is the pradhana (and not the Supreme Personality of Godhead) becomes transformed into the material world is confirmed by the following words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (3.5.26-27):

Text 31

kala-vrittya tu mayayam
guna-mayyam adhokshajah
purushenatma-bhutena
viryam adhatta viryavan

kala-eternal time; vrittya-by the influence of; tu-but; mayayam-int he external energy; guna-mayyam-in the qualitative mode of nature; adhokshajah-the Transcendence; purushenatma-by the purusa incarnation; bhutena-who is the plenary expansion of the Lord; viryam-the seeds of the living entities; adhatta-impregnated; viryavan-the Supreme Living Being.

"The Supreme Living Being in His feature as the transcendental purusha incarnation, who is the Lord's plenary expansion, impregnates the material nature of the three modes, and thus by the influence of eternal time the living entities appear.*

Text 32

tato 'bhavan mahat-tattvam avyaktat kala-coditat vijñanatmatma-deha-stham vishvam vyanjams tamo-nudah. iti adi.

tatah-thereafter; 'bhavan-came into existence; mahat-supreme; tattvam-sum total; avyaktat-from the unmanifested; kala-coditat-by the interaction of time; vijñanatmatma-unalloyed goodness; deha-stham-situated on the bodily self; vishvam-complete universes; vyanjan-manifesting; tamo-nudah.-the supreme light; iti-thus; adi-beginning.

"Thereafter, influenced by the interactions of eternal time, the supreme sum total of matter called the mahat-tattva became manifested, and in this mahat-tattva the unalloyed goodness, the Supreme Lord, sowed the seeds of universal manifestation out of His own body."*

Text 33

bhagavan eka asedam iti praktananantara-granthad adhokshajo bhagavan purushena prakriti-drashōratma-bhutena svamshena dvara-bhutena kalo vrittir yasya taya mayaya nimitta-bhutaya guna-mayyam mayayam avyakte viryam jivakhyam adhatta. hantemas tisro devatah ity adi shruteh. vijñanatmaiva mahat-tattvam. tamo-nudah pralaya-gatajnana-dhvamsa-karta. shri-maitreyah.

bhagavan eka asedam iti-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 3.5.23; praktananantara-granthat-in the same book; adhokshajah-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; bhagavan-the Lord; purushena-the purusha incarnation; prakriti-drashōra-by the seer of material nature; atma-bhutena-manifested by the self; svamshena-by a part; dvara-bhutena-manifested; kalah-time; vrittih-action; yasyah-of which; taya-by that; mayaya-maya; nimitta-bhutaya-manifested as the cause; guna-of the modes of material nature; mayyam-constituting; mayayam-maya; avyakte-unmanifested; viryam-power; jivakhyam-called jiva; adhatta.-gave; hanta-indeed; imah-these; tisrah-three; devatah-demigods; iti-thus; adi-beginning; shruteh-from the Sruti-sastra; vijñanatma-vijñanatma; eva-indeed; mahat-tattvam.-mahat-tattva; tamo-nudah-tamo-nudah; pralaya-cosmic devastation; gataattained; jnana-knowledge; dhvamsa-destruction; karta-the doer; shri-maitreyah-Shri Maitreya.

In the same chapter (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 3.5.23) it is also said:

"The Supreme Personality of Godhead, the master of all living entities, existed prior to the creation as one without a second. It is by His will only that creation is made possible and again everything merges in Him. This Supreme Self is symptomized by different names."*

Here the word "adhokshajah" means "the Supreme Personality of Godhead", "purushena" means "by the seer of material energy", "bhutena" means "by His plenary expansion", "kala-vrittya" means "by maya, which acts through time", "guna-mayyam mayayam viryam adhata" means "He places the individual spirit souls in the maya energy, which consists of the three modes of nature."

This is also described in the passage of the Shruti-shastra that begins with the words "hantemas tisra devatah".

The word "vijnanatma" means "the mahat-tattva", and "tamo-nudah" means "He who destroys knowledge at the time of cosmic annihilation". The verse quoted in the beginning of this anuccheda was spoken by Shri Maitreya.

Anuccheda 59

Text 1

jnanady-angatve 'py aha

jnanadi-beginnign with knowledge; angatve-as the parts; api-also; aha-said.

That knowledge and the other parts of this world are manifested from the Supreme Personality of Godhead is confirmed in the following words of b (11.9.16-21):

Text 2

eko narayano devah
 purva-shrishöam sva-mayaya samhritya kala-kalaya kalpanta idam ishvarah eka evadvitiyo 'bhud
 atmadharo 'khilashrayah

ekah-one; narayanah-Narayana; devah-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; purva-shrishöam-before creation; sva-mayaya-by His own maya potency; samhritya-withdrawing; kala-time; kalaya-by a portion; kalpanta-at the end of the kalpa; idam-this; ishvarah-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; eka-one; eva-indeed; advitiah-without a second; abhut-was; atmadharah-the resting place of the self; akhilashrayah-the shelter of all;.

"The Lord of the universe, Narayana, is the worshipable God of all living entities. Without extraneous assistance, the Lord creates this universe by His own potency, and at the time of annihilation the Lord destroys the universe through His personal expansion of time and withdraws all of the cosmos, including all the conditioned living entities, within Himself. Thus the unlimited Self is the shelter and reservoir of all potencies. The subtle pradhana, the basis of all cosmic manifestation, is conserved within the Lord and is in this way not different from Him. In the aftermath of annihilation the Lord stands alone.

Texts 3 and 4

kalenatmanubhavana
samyam nitasu shaktishu sattvadishv adi-purushah pradhana-purusheshvarah paravaranam parama

aste kaivalya-samjnitah kevalanubhavananda-
sandoho nirupadhikah

kalena-by time; atmanubhavana-by perception of the self; samyam-equality; nitasu-attained; shaktishu-potencies; sattvadishv-beginning with goodness; adi-purushah-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; pradhana-purusheshvarah-the master of pradhana; paravaranam-of the great and the low; parama-supreme; aste-is; kaivalya-samjnitah-called kaivalya; kevala-transcendental; anubhava-perception; ananda-bliss; sandohah-abundance; nirupadhikah-without material designations.

"When the Supreme Personality of Godhead displays His own potency in the form of time and guides His material potencies, such as the mode of goodness, into a neutral condition of equilibrium, He remains as the supreme controller of that neutral state, called pradhana, as well as of the living entities. He is also the supreme worshipable object for all beings, including liberated souls, demigods, and ordinary conditioned souls. The Lord is eternally free from any material designation, and He constitutes the totality of spiritual bliss, which one experiences by seeing the Lord's spiritual form. The Lord thus exhibits the fullest meaning of the word 'liberation'.

Text 5

kevalatmanubhavana
sva-mayam trigunatmikam sankshobhyan shrijaty adau taya sutram arindama

kevalatmanubhavana-by seeing the spiritual self; sva-mayam-own maya; trigunatmikam-consisting of the three modes of material nature; sankshobhyan-agitating; shrijati-creates; adau-in the beginning; taya-by that; sutram-mahat-tattva; arindama-O subduer of enemies.

"O subduer of the enemies, at the time of creation the Supreme Personality of Godhead expands His own transcendental potency in the form of time, and agitating His material energy, maya, composed of the three modes of material nature, He creates the mahat-tattva.

Text 6

tam ahus tri-guna-vyaktim shrijantim vishvato-mukham yasmin protam idam vishvam yena samsarate puman

tam-that; ahuh-say; tri-guna-vyaktim-manifestation of the three modes; shrijantim-crweating; vishvato-mukham-everywhere; yasmin-in whcih; protam-spread; idam-this; vishvam-universe; yena-by which; samsarate-is placed in material existence; puman-the living entity.

"According to great sages, that which is the basis of the three modes of material nature and which manifests the variegated universe is called the sutra or mahat-tattva. Indeed, this universe is resting within that mahat-tattva, and due to its potency the living entity undergoes material existence.

Text 7

yathorna-nabhir hridayad urnam santatya vaktratah taya vihritya bhuyas tam grasaty evam maheshvarah

yatha-as; urna-nabhih-a spide; hridayat-from the heart; urnam-web; santatya-spreading; vaktratah-from the mouth; taya-by that; vihritya-removing; bhuyah-again; tam-that; grasati-swallows; evam-thus; maheshvarah-the Supreme Personality of Godhead.

"Just as from within himself the spider expands thread through his mouth, plays with it for some time, and eventually swallows it, similarly, the Supreme Personality of Godhead expands His personal potency from within Himself. Thus the Lord displays the network of cosmic manifestation, utilizes it according to His purpose, and eventually withdraws it completely within Himself.

Text 8

kalah kala yasyas taya svadhinaya mayaya.

kalah-time; kala-part; yasyah-of which; taya-by that; svadhinaya-subordinate; mayaya-by maya..

In this way the maya potency, of which time is a part, is under the control of the Supreme Personality of Godhead.

Text 9

shrutish ca

yathorna-nabhih shrjate grihnate ca yatha prithiviam oshadhayah sambhavanti tatha satah purushat kesha-lomani tathaksharat sambhavatiha vishvam. iti.

shrutih-Sruti-sastra; ca-and; yatha-as; urnanabhih-a spider; shrjate-creates; grihnate-and withdraws; ca-and; yatha-so; prithiviam-in the earth; oshadhayah-plants; sambhavanti-are; yatha-as; satah-from the eternal; purushat-Supreme Person; kesha-lomani-hair; tatha-so; aksharat-immortal; sambhavanti-is manifested; iha-here; vishvam-the universe.

The same example of a spider is given in these words of Mundaka Upanishad (1.1.17):

"As a spider creates and then withdraws a web, as plants sprout from the ground, and as hairs grow, so the material universe has come from the eternal Supreme Person."

Text 10

shri-dattatreya yadum.

shri-dattatreya-Shri Dattatreya; yadum-to King Yadu.

The verse quoted in the beginning of this anuccheda was spoken by Shri Dattatreya to King Yadu.

Anuccheda 60

Text 1

tad evam sukshma-cid-acid-vastu-rupa-shuddha-jivavyakta-shakteh paramatmanah sthula-cetanacenata-vastu-rupany adhyatmika-jivadi-prithivy-antani jayanta ity uktam. tatah kevalasya paramatmano nimittatvam shakti-vishishöasyopadanatvam ity ubhaya-rupatam eva manyante prakritish ca pratijna drishöantanurodhat ity adau.

tat-that; evam-thus; sukshma-subtle; cit-spirit; acit-matter; vastu-thing; rupa-form; shuddha-pure; jiva-soul; avyakta-unmanifested; shakteh-of thr potency; paramatmanah-of theSupreme Personality of Godhead; sthula-gross; cetana-conscious; acenata-unconscious; vastu-thing; rupani-forms; adhyatmika-relating to the self; jiva-individual spirit souls; adi-beginning with; prithivi-earth; antani-ending; jayanta-are born; iti-thus; uktam-said; tatah-then; kevalasya-of the transcendental; paramatmanah-Supersoul; nimittatvam-the state of being the cause; shakti-vishishöasya-of a specific potency; upadanatvam-the state of being the ingredient; iti-thus; ubhaya-rupatam-both forms; eva-indeed; manyante-are considered; prakritih-material nature; ca-also; pratijna-statement; drishöanta-example; anurodhat-in conformity with; iti-thus; adau-beginning.

In this way it is said that the gross, conscious, and inanimate ingredients of the universes, beginning with the individual spirit souls and extending to the gross elements beginning with earth, are manifested from the Supreme Personality of Godhead, who is the master of the unmanifested potency, the individual spirit souls, and all else made of spirit or matter. In this way the Supreme Personality of Godhead is original cause of the material universe and one of His potencies is the ingredient of which the material universe is constructed. In this way the nature of the Lord and His potency is understood. This is described in the following words of Vedanta-sutra (1.4.24):

"The material nature is manifested from the Supreme Personality of Godhead, for this idea is not contradicted by the statements and examples of the scriptures."

Text 2

tad evam tasya sada shuddhatvam eva. tatra shaktah shaktimad-avyatirekad ananyatvam uktam. tatha satkarya-vadangi-kare svantah-sthita-sva-dharma-visheshabhivvyakti-labdha-vikashena karanasyaivamshena karyatvam ity evam vacarambhanam vikaro namadheyam mrittikety eva satyam ity adi shruti-siddham karyasya karanad ananyatvam. karanasya tu karyad anyatvam ity ayati. tad evam jagat-karana-shakti-vishishöat paramatmano 'nanyad evedam jagatas tv asav anyā evety aha

tat-that; evam-thus; tasya-of Him; sada-always; shuddhatvam-the state of being pure; eva-indeed; tatra-there; shaktah-of the potency; shaktimat-of the possessor of the potency; avyatirekat-because of not being different; ananyatvam-the state of not being different; uktam-is said; tatha-so; satkarya-worship; vada-said; angi-kare-acceptance; svantah-in the heart; sthita-situated; sva-dharma-own nature; vishesha-specific; abhivvyakti-manifestation; labdha-attained; vikashena-by the manifestation; karanasya-of the cause; eva-indeed; amshena-by a part; karyatvam-to be done; iti-thus; evam-thus; vaca-with words; arambhanam-beginning; vikarah-transformation; namadheyam-named; mrittikety-beginning with earth; eva-indeed; satyam-true; iti-thus; adi-beginning; shruti-siddham-proved in the Sruti-sastra; karyasya-of the effect; karanat-from the cause; ananyatvam-the state of not being different; karanasya-of the cause; tu-but; karyat-from the effect; anyatvam-the state of being different; iti-thus; ayati-attains; tat-that; evam-thus; jagat-of the universe; karana-of the cause; shakti-from the potency; vishishöat-specific; paramatmanah-from the Supersoul; ananyat-not different; eva-indeed; idam-this; jagatah-of the material universe; tv-but; asau-this; anyā-different; eva-indeed; iti-thus; aha-says.

In this way it is said that the Supreme Personality of Godhead is eternally pure. It is also said that because the master of potencies is not different from his potencies, therefore the Supreme Personality of Godhead is not different from His potencies. Because the cause is also present within its effect, it is said that the cause is partially manifested as its effect. This is described in the following words of Chandogya Upanishad (6.1.4):

"A small object made of clay is not really different from its origin, the totality of clay. Any distinction between the part and the whole is a distinction that exists only in words."

In this way the Shruti-shastra declares that the cause is not different from the effect, and the effect is not different from the cause. Therefore, because a specific the potency of the Supreme Personality of Godhead is the cause of the material universe, and because the Lord is not different from His potency and the cause is not different from its effect, therefore the Supreme Personality of Godhead is, in one sense, not different from the material world. This is declared by the following words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (1.5.20):

Text 3

idam hi vishvam bhagavan ivetaro yato jagat-sthana-nirodha-sambhavaḥ tad dhi svayam veda bhavams tathapi te pradesha-matram bhavataḥ pradarshitam idam-this; hi-all; vishvam-cosmos; bhagavan-the Supreme Lord; iva-almost the same; itarah-different from; yatah-from whom; jagat-the worlds; sthana-exist; nirodha-annihilation; sambhavah-creation; tad hi-all about; svayam-personally; veda-know; bhavamh-your good self; tathapi-still; te-unto you; pradesha-matram-a synopsis only; bhavatah-unto you; pradarshitam-explained.

"The Supreme Lord Personality of Godhead is Himself this cosmos, and still He is aloof from it. From Him only has this cosmic manifestation emanated, in Him it rests, and unto Him it enters after annihilation. Your good self knows all about this. I have given only a synopsis."*

Text 4

idam vishvam bhagavan iva bhagavto 'nanyad ity arthah. tasmad itarah taöastha-shakty-akhyo jivash ca iveti purvavat. ata eva aitad-atmyam idam sarvam iti. sarvam khalv idam brahma iti shruti. yato bhagavatah. bhavato bhavantam. prati pradesha-matram kincin matram darshitam ity arthah. shri-naradah shri-vedvyasam.

idam-this; vishvam-universe; bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; iva-like; bhagavatah-from the Supreme Personality of Godhead; ananyat-not different; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; tasmad-from Him; itarah-different; taöastha-shakty-akhyah-called the marginal potency; jivah-the individual spirit soul; ca-and; iva-like; iti-thus; purvavat-as before; ata eva-therefore; aitad-atmyam-the nature of Him; idam-this; sarvam-all; iti-thus; sarvam-all; khalv-indeed; idam-this; brahma-the Supreme; iti-thus; shruti-the Sruti-sastra; yatah-from whom; bhagavatah-from the Supreme Personality of Godhead; bhavatah-being so; bhavantam-you; prati-to; pradesha-matram-only a synopsis; kincit-something; matram-only; darshitam-revealed; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; shri-naradah-Shri Narada; shri-vedvyasam-to Shri Vedavyasa.

Here the words "idam hi vishvam bhagavan" mean, "the material world is not different from the Supreme Personality of Godhead". The word "itarah" here means "the individual spirit soul, which is known as the marginal potency manifested from the Lord", and "via" means "as before". That the material world is, in one sense, not different from the Supreme Personality of Godhead is affirmed by the following words of the Chandogya Upanishad (6.8.7 and 3.14.1):

"Everything is the Supreme Personality of Godhead."

"Everything, both matter and spirit, is non-different from the Supreme Personality of Godhead who is the Supreme Brahman."*

Here the word "yatah" means "from the Supreme Personality of Godhead", "bhavatah" means "to you", and "pradesha-matram" means "only a synopsis has been revealed". This verse was spoken by Shri Narada to Shri Vedavyasa.

Anuccheda 61

Text 1

spashöam evaha

so 'yam te 'bhihitas tata bhagavan vishva-bhavanah samasesa harer nanyad

anyasmat sad asac ca yat spashöam-clearly; eva-indeed; aha-says; sah-that; 'yam-the same; te-unto you; 'bhihitah-explained by me; tata-my dear son; bhagavan-the Personality of Godhead; vishva-bhavanah-the creator of the manifested worlds; samasena-in brief; hareh-without Hari, the Lord; na-never; anyat-anything else; anyasmat-being the cause of; sat-manifested, or phenomenal; asac-noumenal; ca-and; yat-whatever there may be.

That the Supreme Personality of Godhead is the original cause of the material world is also clearly described in these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (2.7.50):

"My dear son, I have now explained in brief the Supreme Personality of Godhead, who is creator of the manifested worlds. Without Him, Hari, the Lord, there are no other causes of the phenomenal and noumenal existences."*

Text 2

so 'yam samasenaiva sankshepenabhihitah. katham taöastha-lakshanenaivety aha sat karyam sthulam ashuddha-jiva-jagad-akhyam cetanacetana-vastu. asat karanam sukshmam shuddha-jiva-pradhanakhyam cid acid vastu ca yat tat sarvam harer anyan na bhavati. sukshmasya tac-chakti-rupatvat. sthulasya tat-karya-rupatvad iti bhavah.

so 'yam samasena-so 'yam samasena; eva-indeed; sankshepena-in brief; abhihitah-explained; katham-how?; taöastha-marginal potency; lakshanena-by the nature; eva-indeed; iti-thus; aha-said; sat-sat; karyam-effect; sthulam-gross; ashuddha-jiva-jagad-akhyam-called the world of the impure souls; cetanacetana-vastu-conscious and unconscious; asat-asat; karanam-cause; sukshmam-subtle; shuddha-jiva-of the pure souls; pradhana-the cause; akhyam-called; cit-spiti; acit-matter; vastu-thing; ca-and; yat-what; tat-that; sarvam-all; hareh-of Lord Hari; anyan-another; na-not; bhavati-is; sukshmasya-subtle; tac-chakti-rupatvat-because of having the nature of His potency; sthulasya-gross; tat-karya-rupatvat-because of being the effect; iti-thus; bhavah-the meaning.

Here the words "so 'yam samasena abhihitah" mean "I have now explained in brief". Someone may ask: "What is the nature of the Lord's marginal potency?" the answer is given here in the words "sat" and "asat". Here "sat" means "the effect, the gross material world that is home to the impure spirit souls, the realm that consists of both conscious beings and inanimate matter". Here the word "asat" means "the subtle cause, the creator of the pure spirit souls". "Yat" means "all matter and spirit", and "harer nanyat" means "there is no cause other than Lord Hari". This is because the subtle spirit soul's are the Lord's potencies and gross inanimate matter is an effect caused by the Lord.

Text 3

idam eva shri-hamsadevenoktam aham eva na matto 'nyad iti budhyadhvam anjasa iti. jagatas tad-ananyatve 'pi shuddhasya tasya tad-dosha-sankaryam nastity aha anyasmat iti. shri-brahma shri-naradam.

idam-this; eva-indeed; shri-hamsadevena-by Lord hamsadeva; uktam-said; aham eva na matto 'nyad iti budhyadhvam anjasa iti-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.13.24; jagatah-of the universe; tad-ananyatve-in the state of not being different; api-even; shuddhasya-pure; tasya-of that; tad-dosha-sankaryam-that defect; na-not; asti-is; iti-thus; aha-said; anyasmat-from another; iti-thus; shri-brahma-Shri Brahma; shri-naradam-to Shri Narada.

Lord Hamsadeva also affirms this truth in these words (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.13.24):

"Within this world, whatever is perceived by the mind, speech, eyes, or other senses, is Me alone and nothing besides Me. All of you please understand this by a straightforward analysis of the facts."

Therefore the word "anyasmat" here means "even though the material world is not different from Him, the Supreme Personality of Godhead is always pure and uncontaminated".

Anuccheda 62

Text 1

tatrananyatve yuktim vivrinoti pancabhih adav ante jananam sad bahir antah paravaram jnanam jneyam vaco vacyam tamo jyotish tv ayam svayam tatra-there; ananyatve-in the state of not being different; yuktim-reason; vivrinoti-reveals; pancabhih-with five verses; adav-in the beginning; ante-at the end; jananam-of all living entities; sat-always existing; bahih-externally; antah-internally; para-transcendental; avaram-material; jnanam-knowledge; jneyam-the objective; vacah-expression; vacyam-the ultimate object; tamah-darkness; jyotih-light; tu-indeed; ayam-this one (the Supreme Lord); svayam-Himself.

The reasons why the Supreme Personality of Godhead is, in one sense, not different from the material world are explained in five verses of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (7.15.57-61). The first of these verses (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 7.15.57) declares:

"He who exists internally and externally, at the beginning and end of everything and of all living beings, as that which is enjoyable and as the enjoyer of everything, superior and inferior, is the Supreme Truth. He always exists as knowledge and the object of knowledge, as expression and the object of understanding, as darkness and as light. Thus He, the Supreme Lord, is everything."*

Text 2

jnanam dehadinam adau karanatvenante cavadhitvena yat paramatma-lakshanam chaitanyam sarva-karanam vastu sad vartamanam. tad eva svayam bahir bhogyam antar bhoktri param avaram cocca-nicam tamoh 'prakashah. jyotih prakashash ca sphurati nanyat. anyasya tad vina svatah sphurananirupyatvad iti bhavah.

jnanam-of the living entities; dehadinam-beginning with material bodies; adau-in the beginning; karanatvena-as the cause; ante-at the end; ca-and; avadhitvena-as the conclusion; yat-what; paramatma-of the Supersoul; lakshanam-nature; chaitanyam-consciousness; sarva-karanam-cause of all; vastu-thing; sat-being; vartamanam-being so; tat-that; eva-indeed; svayam-personally; bahih-outside; bhogyam-to be enjoyed; antah-inside; bhokth-the enjoyer; param-supreme; avaram-matter; ca-and; ucca-high; nicam-and low; tamah-tamah; aprakashah-the absence of light; jyotih-jyotih; prakashah-light; ca-and; sphuratimanifests; na-not; anyat-another; anyasya-of another; tat-that; vina-without; svatah-personally; sphurana-manifestation; anirupyatvat-because of not being described; iti-thus; bhavah-the meaning.

Here the word "jananam" means "beginning with material bodies", "adau" means "in the beginning He is the cause", and "ante" means "at the end He is the final conclusion". Thus the Supreme Personality of Godhead's nature is that He is all-knowing, eternally existing, and the cause of everything. "Bahih" means "externally He is that which is enjoyable", "antah" means "internally He is the enjoyer", "paravaram" means "the high and the low", "tamah" means "the absence of light", "prakashah" means "light". Nothing is different from Him. The meaning here is: "without Him as the cause, nothing is manifested".

Anuccheda 63

Text 1

nanu katham tarhi tasmad atyanta-prithag ivartha-jatam pratiyate. tatraha

nanu-indeed; katham-how?; tarhi-then; tasmad-from Him; atyanta-prithag-very different; iva-like; artha-meaning; jatam-born; pratiyate-is believed; tatra-there; aha-said.

Here someone may protest: "If this is so, then why to people believe many things are independent, not created by the Lord?" To this question the following reply is given (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 7.15.58):

Text 2

abadhito 'pi hy abhaso yatha vastutaya smritah durghatatvad aindriyakam tadvad artha-vikalpitam abadhitah-rejected; 'pi-although; hi-certainly; abhasah-a reflection; yatha-as; vastutaya-a form of reality; smritah-accepted; durghatatvat-because of being very difficult to prove the reality; aindriyakam-knowledge derived from the senses; tadvad-similarly; artha-reality; vikalpitam-speculated or doubtful.

"Although one may consider the reflection of the sun from a mirror to be false, it has its factual existence. Accordingly, to prove by speculative knowledge that there is no reality would be extremely difficult."*

Text 3

abadhitas tarka-virodhena sarvato badhitah svatantrya-sattayah sakashan nirasto 'pi yatha□ abhasah suryadi-prati-rashmir baladibhih prithak prakashamanata-darshanad vastutaya svatantra-padarthataya smritah kalpitah. tadvad aindriyakam sarvam mudhah svatantrarthatvena vividham kalpitam. tat tu na tattva-drishya. svatantrya-nirupanasya durghaotvad ity arthah.

abadhitah-abadhita; tarka-virodhena-rejected by logic; sarvatah-in all respects; badhitah-disproved; svatantrya-independence; -sattayah-of existence; sakashan-at once; nirastah-disproved; 'pi-even; yatha-as; abhasah-reflection; suryadi-beginning with the sun; prati-rashmih-rays of light; baladibhih-beginning with children; prithak-different; prakashamanata-darshanat-because of seeing the manifestation; vastutaya-as reality; svatantra-padarthataya-by the meaning of the word independence; smritah-considered; kalpitah-understood; tadvat-then; aindriyakam-of the senses; sarvam-all; mudhaih-by fools; svatantrarthatvena-by the meaning of independence; vividham-various; kalpitam-understood; tat-thqt; tu-but; na-not; tattva-drishöya-by seeing the truth; svatantrya-of independence; nirupanasya-of the description; durghaöatvat-because of the difficulty; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning.

Here the word "abadhitah" means "the idea that anything that exists can be independent of the Supreme Personality of Godhead is completely refuted by logic". "Abhasah" here means "the reflected light of the sun or other luminous objects", "vastutaya smritah" means "to think them independent realities", "tadvad aindriyakam" means "fools think the material world of the senses is not dependent on the Supreme Personality of Godhead". They who see the truth find it hard to accept the idea that anything is independent of the Supreme Personality of Godhead. That is the meaning.

Anuccheda 64

Text 1

tad evaha dvabhyam

kshity-adinam iharthanam chaya na katamapi hi tat-sanghato vikaro 'pi na prithan nanvito mrisha

tat-that; eva-indeed; aha-sasid; dvabhyam-with two verses; kshity-adinam-of the five elements beginnign with the earth; iha-inm this world; arthanam-of those five elements; chaya-shadow; na-neither; katama-which of them?; api-indeed; hi-certainly; na-nor; sanghatah-combination; vikarah-transformation; api-although; na prithak-nor separated; na anvitah-nor inherent; mrisha-all these theories are without substance.

This is further explained in the next two verses, the first of which declares (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 7.15.59):

"In this world there are five elements, namely earth, water, fire, air and ether, but the body is not a reflection of them, nor a combination or transformation of them. Because the body and its ingredients are neither distinct nor amalgamated, all such theories are insubstantial."*

Text 2

kshity-adinam panca-bhutanam chayaikya-buddhy-alambana-rupam dehadi-sanghatarambha-parinamanam madhye katamapy anyatamapi na bhavati. na tavat tesham sanghato vrikshanam iva vanam. eka-deshakarshane sarvakarshanadanupapattih. na hy ekasmin vrksha akrishöe sarvam vanam akrishyate. na ca vikara arabdho 'vayavi. api-shabdat parinamo 'pi na. kutah. sa kim avayavebhyah prithag arabhyate parinamate ca tad-anvito va. na tavat atyantam prithak. tatha apratiteh. na canvitah. sa kim praty-avayavam sarvo 'py anveti. amshena va. adye 'nguli-matre 'pi deha-buddhih syat. dvitiye tasyapy amshangi-kare saty anavastha-patah syat. ato dehadeh svatantryenavasthithir mrishaiveti.

kshity-adinam-beginning with earth; panca-bhutanam-of the five material elements; chaya-a shadow; aikya-oneness; buddhi-idea; alambana-taking shelter; rupam-form; dehadi-beginning with the body; sanghata-combination; arambha-beginning; parinamanam-transformation; madhye-in the middle; katama-which of them?; api-also; anyatama-different; api-also; na-not; bhavati-is; na-not; tavat-in that way; tesham-of them; sanghatah-combination; vrikshanam-of trees; iva-like; vanam-forest; eka-desha-in one place; akarshane-in bringing together; sarva-all; akarshana-bringing together; anupapatteh-because of not explaining; na-not; hi-indeed; ekasmin-in one; vrksha-tree; akrishoe-brought; sarvam-all; vanam-forest; akrishyate-is brought; na-not; ca-and; vikara-transformation; arabdhah-begun; avayavi-not having limbs; api-shabdat-from the word "api"; parinamah-transformation; 'pi-also; na-not; kutah-from what?; sa-that; kim-whether?; avayavebhyah-from limbs; prithag-different; arabhyate-is begun; parinamate-transforms; ca-and; tad-anvitah-with that; va-or; na-not; tavat-then; atyantam-great; prithak-different; tatha-so; apratiteh-not believed; na-not; ca-and; anvitah-with; sa-that; kim-whether?; praty-avayavam-every limb; sarvah-all; 'pi-also; anveti-follows; amshena-by a part; va-or; adye-in ther beginning; anguli-matre-in only a finger; api-indeed; deha-buddhih-the idea of the body; syat-is; dvitiye-in the second; tasya-of that; api-and; a6sha-of a part; angi-kare-in acceptance; sati-being so; anavastha-patah-without that situation; syat-is; atah-then; dehadeh-beginning with the body; svatantryena-with independence; avasthith-situation; mrisha-false; eva-indeed; iti-thus.

Here the word "kshity-adinam" means "of the five material elements", "chaya" means "thinking the material bodies and other things that have a beginning and undergo various transformations have become one", and "katamapi na" means "this is not so". Here the word "sanghatah" does not mean a combination like that of many trees combining to become a forest, for it is not possible for all existence to be brought together in one place. An entire forest cannot be brought together in a single tree. Here "na vikarah" means "the who has no beginning". "Api" means "the whole is never transformed". Why is that? Are the various parts distinct, or are they amalgamated? They are not distinct (na prithak), and neither are they amalgamated (na canvitah). Is the whole completely present in each part, or is only a part of the whole present in each part? According to the first idea the entire body is present in a single finger. According to the second idea only a part of the entire body is present in a single finger. The conclusion is that the idea that the material body and other things are independent is an illusion (mrsha).

Anuccheda 65

Text 1

evam dehadeh svatantryenanirupyatvam uktva tad-dhetunam kshity-adinam api tathaivanirupyatvam aha evam-thus; dehadeh-beginning weith the body; svatantryena-with independence; anirupyatvam-the state of not describing; uktva-saying; tad-dhetunam-of the causes of that; kshity-adinam-beginning with earth; api-also; tatha-so; eva-indeed; anirupyatvam-not to be described; aha-says.

Because the material body is not independent of the Lord, therefore the ingredients of the material body, namely the material elements, beginning with earth, are also not independent of the Lord. This is described in the following words (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 7.15.60):

Text 2

dhatavo 'vayavitvac ca
tan-matravayavair vina na syur hy asaty avayaviny asann avayavo 'ntatah

dhatavah-the five elements; 'vayavitvac-being the cause of the bodily conception; ca-and; tan-matra-the sense objects (sound, taste, touch, etc.); avayavaih-the subtle parts; vina-without; na-not; syuh-can exist; hi-indeed; asati-unreal; avayavini-in the formation of the body; asann-not existing; avayavah-the part of the body; 'ntatah-at the end.

"Because the body is formed of the five elements, it cannot exist without the subtle sense objects. Therefore, since the body is false, the sense objects are also naturally false or temporary."*

Text 3

dharayantiti dhatavo maha-bhutani. tan-matraih sukshmair avayavair vina na syuh. avayavitvat. tesham api tarhy avayava eva svatantra iti cet tatraha ukta-prakarenavayavini nirupayitum asati avayavo 'py antato nirupayitum asann eva syat. avayavi-pratity-anyathanupapattim vina paramanu-lakshanavayava-sad-bhave pramanabhavad ity arthah.

dharayanti-maintain; iti-thus; dhatavah-dhatavah; maha-bhutani-gross elements; tan-matraih-with the sense objects; sukshmaih-subtle; avayavaih-parts; vina-without; na-not; syuh-are; avayavitvat-because of the whole; tesham-of them; api-also; tarhi-then; avayava-part; eva-indeed; svatantra-independent; iti-thus; cet-if; tatra-there; aha-said; ukta-prakarena-by the previous description; avayavini-the whole; nirupayitum-to describe; asati-unreal; avayavah-part; 'pi-also; antatah-because of an end; nirupayitum-to describe; asann-being so; eva-indeed; syat-is; avayavi-whole; pratiti-belief; anyatha-otherwise; anupapattim-not to be proved; vina-without; paramanu-atoms; lakshana-nature; avayava-parts; sad-bhave-in true existence; pramana-evidence; abhavat-because of the absence; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning.

Here the word "dhatavah" means "the gross material elements. This word is derived from the verb "dhri" (to sustain). Thus the material elements sustain the material world. The words "tan-matravayavair vina na syuh avayavitvat" mean "It cannot exist without the subtle sense objects". If someone says that the material elements are independent then this verse replies: "avayavini asati avayavo 'py antatah" (the elements that comprise the body are by nature temporary). No real evidence supports the theory that the atoms that comprise the material world are not dependent on the Supreme Personality of Godhead.

Text 4

tad uktam pancame evam niruktam kshiti-shabda-vrittam ity adi.

tat-that; uktam-said; pancame-in the fifth canto; evam niruktam kshiti-shabda-vrittam ity adi-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 5.12.9.

The idea that the material atoms are independent of the Supreme Personality of Godhead is refuted by these words (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 5.12.9):

"One may say that varieties arise from the planet earth itself. However, although the universe may temporarily appear to be the truth, it ultimately has no real existence. the earth was originally created by a combination of atomic particles, but these particles are impermanent. Actually the atom is not the cause of the universe, although some philosophers think so. It is not a fact that the varieties found in this material world simply result from atomic juxtaposition or combination."*

Text 5

tasmad aikya-buddhy-alambana-rupam yat pratiyate. tat sarvatra paramatma-lakshanam sarva-karanam vastv eveti. sadhuktam adav ante jananam sad ity adina.

tasmat-therefore; aikya-of oneness; buddhi-the idea; alambana-rupam-acceptance; yat-what; pratiyate-is believed; tat-that; sarvatra-everywhere; paramatma-lakshanam-the nature of the Supersoul; sarva-karanam-the cause of all; vastv-thing; eva-indeed; iti-is; sadhu-well; uktam-said; adav-in the beginning; ante-at the end; jananam-of living entities; sat-real; iti-thus; adina-beginning

The theory of oneness is properly applied to the Supreme Personality of Godhead, who is the cause of all, and who is eloquently described in these words (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 7.15.57):

"He who exists internally and externally, at the beginning and end of everything and of all living beings, as that which is enjoyable and as the enjoyer of everything, superior and inferior, is the Supreme Truth. He always exists as knowledge and the object of knowledge, as expression and the object of understanding, as darkness and as light. Thus He, the Supreme Lord, is everything."*

Text 6

evam eva tritiye 'py uktam

iti tasam sva-shaktinam satinam asametya sah prasupta-loka-tantranam nishamya gatim ishvarah

evam-thus; eva-indeed; tritiye-in the third canto; 'pi-also; uktam-said; iti-thus; tasam-their; sva-shaktinam-own potency; satinam-so situated; asametya-without combination; sah-He (the Lord); prasupta-suspended; loka-tantranam-in the universal creations; nishamya-hearing; gatim-progress; ishvarah-the Lord.

The Lord's creation of the material world is also described in these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (3.6.1-3):

"The Lord thus heard about the suspension of the progressive creative functions of the universe due to the noncombination of His potencies, such as the mahat-tattva.*

Text 7

kala-samjnam tato devim bibhrac chaktim urukramah trayo-vimshati-tattvanam ganam yugapad avishat

kala-samjnam-known as Kali; tatah-at that time; devim-the goddess; bibhrac-destructive; chaktim-potency; urukramah-the supreme powerful; trayo-vimshati-23; tattvanam-of the elements; ganam-all of them; yugapat-simultaneously; avishat-entered.

"the Supreme Powerful Lord then simultaneously entered into the 23 elements with the goddess Kali, His external energy, who alone amalgamates all the different elements.*

Text 8

so 'nupravishöo bhagavamsh ceshöa-rupena tam ganam bhinnam samyojayam asa suptam karma prabodhayan. iti.

sah-that; 'nupravishöah-thus entering later on; bhagavamh-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; ceshöa-rupena-by His repretation of attempt, Kali; tam-them; ganam-all the living entities, including the demigods; bhinnam-separately; samyojayam asa-engaged to work; suptam-sleeping; karma-work; prabodhayan-enlightening; iti-thus.

"Thus when the Supreme Personality of Godhead entered into the elements by His energy, all the living entities were enlivened into different activities, just as one engaged in his work after awakening from sleep."*

Text 9

ata eva yasya prithivi shariram ity adi shrutau sarvasya paramatma-shariratvena prasiddhih. paramatmanas tu shariritvena. tad evam avayava-rupena pradhana-parinamah sarvatravayavi tu paramatma-vastv eveti siddham. tato 'py amithyatvam eva jagata upapadyate.

ata eva-therefore; yasya-of whom; prithivi-the earth; shariram-the body; iti-thus; adi-beginning; shrutau-in the Sruti-sastra; sarvasya-of all; paramatma-shariratvena-as the body of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; prasiddhih-celebrated; paramatmanah-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; tu-but; shariritvena-as the soul within the body; tat-that; evam-thus; avayava-rupena-in the form of the part; pradhana-parinamah-the transformation of pradhana; sarvatra-everywhere; avayavi-the whole; tu-but; paramatma-vastv-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; eva-indeed; iti-thus; siddham-celebrated; tatah-then; api-also; amithyatvam-the state of not being an illusion; eva-indeed; jagata-to the material universe; upapadyate-is attained

The universal form of the Lord is also described in these words of the Subala Upanishad (7.1):

"The earth is the body of the Supreme Personality of Godhead."

In this way it is said that the entire material world is the body of the Supreme Personality of Godhead. Thus the Supreme Personality of Godhead is the soul and the material world is His body. Thus as a material body undergoes changes while the soul within remains unchanged, so the various parts of the material world undergo changes, while the soul of the world, the Supreme Personality of Godhead, remains unchanged. In this way it is proved that the material world is not unreal.

Text 1

nanu yadi paramatma-vastv eva sarvatravayavi dehah syat tatash ca tatraiva brahmanatvadi-samjna-prappter guna-dosha-hetu-vidhi-nishedhav api syatam. tau ca na sambhavatah. tasmad anya evavayavi yujyate. ity ashankyaha nanu-indeed; yadi-if; paramatma-vastv-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; eva-indeed; sarvatra-everywhere; avayavi-the whole; dehah-body; syat-is; tatah-then; ca-also; tatra-there; eva-indeed; brahmanatva-the state of Brahmana; adi-beginning with; samjna-name; prapteh-of the attainment; guna-virtues; dosha-faults; hetu-reason; vidhi-rules; nishedhau-prohibitions; api-also; syatam-are; tau-they; ca-and; na-not; sambhavatah-possible; tasmad-from Him; anya-anoither; eva-indeed; avayavi-whole; yujyate-is engaged; iti-thus; ashankya-worrying; aha-said.

Here someone may protest: "If the Supreme Personality of Godhead is the complete whole and everything that exists is a part of Him, then the Supreme Lord possesses the virtues and faults of the brahmanas and all others, and the rules and prohibitions of the scriptures apply to Him also. Of course, these statements cannot be accepted. These are all impossible ideas. therefore it must be someone or something else that is the complete whole, for it cannot be the Supreme Lord."

Fearing that someone would speak these words, Shri Narada explained (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 7.15.61):

Text 2

syat sadrishha-bhramas tavad vikalpe sati vastunah jagrat-svapnau yatha svapne tatha vidhi-nishedhata

syat-it so becomes; sadrishha-similarity; bhramah-mistake; tavat-as long as; vikalpe-in separation; sati-the part; vastunah-from the substance; jagrat-waking; svapnau-sleeping; yatha-as; svapne-in a dream; tatha-similarly; vidhi-nishedhata-the regulatuve principles, consisting of injunctions and prohibitions.

"When a substance and its parts are separated, the acceptance of similarity between one and the other is called illusion. While dreaming one creates a separation between the existences called wakefulness and sleep. It is in such a state of mind that the regulative principles of the scriptures, consisting of injunctions and prohibitions are recommended."*

Text 3

vastunah paramatmano vikalpe samshaye satiti tasya tadrishatvena nirnayo yavan na syad ity arthah. tavad eva tasmad sarvaikya-buddhi-nidanat prithag-dehaikya-buddhih sadrishya-bhramah syat. purvaparakavayavanusandhane sati paramparam asajyaikatra sthitatvenavayavatva-sadharanyena caikya-sadrishyat praty-avayavam ekataya pratiteh. so 'yam deha iti bhrama eva bhavatity arthah. prati-vriksham tad idam vanam iti vat.

vastunah-in truth; paramatmanah-from the Supreme Personality of Godhead; vikalpe-in separation; samshaye-in doubt; sati-being so; iti-thus; tasya-of Him; tadrishatvena-being like that; nirnayah-in conclusion; yavan-as much as; na-not; syat-may be; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; tavat-to that extent; eva-indeed; tasmāt-from that; sarva-all; aikya-oneness; buddhi-idea; nidānat-from the destruction; prithag-separate; deha-body; aikya-of oneness; buddhih-the idea; sadrishya-of similarity; bhramah-the mistake; syat-is; purva-previous; apara-another; avayava-whole; anusandhane-in seeking; sati-being so; paramparam-sequence; asajya-being attached; ekatra-in one place; sthitatvena-by the situation; avayavatva-the state of being the whole; sadharanyena-by the general nature; ca-and; aikya-oneness; sadrishyat-from similarity; pratyavayavam-to every part; ekataya-with oneness; pratiteh-believed; sah-that; 'yam-Him; deha-body; iti-thus; bhrama-mistake; eva-indeed; bhavati-is; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; prati-vriksham-to every tree; tat-that; idam-this; vanam-forest; iti-thus; vat-like.

Here the words "vastunah vikalpe sati" mean "when there is doubt about the Supreme Personality of Godhead", and "tavat sadrishya-bhramah syat" mean "then the idea that all is one with Him becomes destroyed and one comes to think that his material body is separate from the Lord and has no connection with Him". When one seeks the supreme whole, then one sees the similar nature of all the parts and one understands that the parts are one in the sense that they are all parts of the whole. therefore to think, "This material body is everything" is similar to thinking, "this one tree is the entire forest".

Text 4

yathoktam svayam-bhagavata

so 'yam dipo 'rcisham yadvat srotasam tad idam jalam so 'yam puman iti nrinam mrisha dhir gir mrishayusham. iti.

yatha-as; uktam-said; svayam-bhagavata-by the Supreme Personality of Godhead; sah-this; 'yam-this; dipah-lamp; 'rcisham-of light; yadvat-as; srotasam-of rivers; tat-that; idam-this; jalam-water; sah-that; 'yam-this; puman-person; iti-thus; nrinam-of people; mrisha-illusion; dhih-intelligence; gih-words; mrisha-illusion; ayusham-of whose lives; iti-thus.

This kind of thinking is also described in the following words of the Supreme Personality of Godhead Himself (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.22.45):

"Although the illumination of a lamp consists of innumerable rays of light undergoing constant creation, transformation, and destruction, a person with illusory intelligence who sees the light for a moment will speak falsely, saying, 'This is the light of the lamp.' As one observes a flowing river, ever-new water passes by and goes far away, yet a foolish person, observing one point in the river falsely states, 'This is the water of the river.' Similarly, although the material body of a human being is constantly undergoing transformation, those who are simply wasting their lives falsely think and say that each particular stage of the body is the person's real identity."

Text 5

tatash ca tatraiva brahmanatvady-abhimane sati svapna-vishayakau jagrat-svapnav iva tad-vishayakau vidhi-nishedhau syatam ity aha jagrad iti. tatha tena prakarena vidher vidhita nishedhasya nishedhatety arthah.

tatah-then; ca-and; tatra-there; eva--indeed; brahmanatva-state of being a brahmana; adi-beginning with; abhimane-in the conception; sati-being so; svapna-dream; vishayakau-in relation to; jagrat-svapnav-waking and sleep; iva-like; tad-vishayakau-in that realm of perception; vidhi-nishedhau-rules and prohibitions; syatam-may be; iti-thus; aha-said; jagrat-waking; iti-thus; tatha-so; tena-by that; prakarena-explanation; vidheh-of the rules; vidhita-placed; nishedhasya-of prohibitions; nishedhata-prohibition; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning.

Thus the idea that one is a brahmana or member of another social class is an idea suitable for wakefulness and dream. The rules and prohibitions of the scriptures are meant for persons who stay in the two states of material conscious: wakefulness and dream. It is persons in those two states of consciousness that the scriptures order to perform certain activities and refrain from other activities.

Text 6

evam

para-svabhava-karmani na prashamsen na garhayet vishvam ekatmakam pashyan prakritya purushena ca

evam-thus; para-svabhava-karmani-others' duties; na-not; prashamsen-should praise; na-not; garhayet-should criticize; vishvam-world; ekatmakam-one soul; pashyan-seeing; prakritya-with nature; purushena-with the soul; ca-and.

Here the Supreme Personality of Godhead (11.28.1) explains:

"One should neither praise nor criticize the conditioned nature and activities of other persons. Rather, one should see this world as simply the combination of material nature and the enjoying souls, all based on the one Absolute Truth."

Text 7

ity adir ekadashashöa-vimshatitamadhyaye 'pi jneyam. tatra ca kim bhadram kim abhadram va dvaitasyavastunah kiyat ity adikam syat sadrishya-bhramas tavat ity ady anusarenaiva vyakhyeyam. avastu yad advaitam tasyety arthah. tasmāt svatantryena nirupana-shaktya paramatmano 'nanyad eva sarvam iti prakaranarthah. shri-naradah shri-yudhishöhiram.

iti-thus; adih-beginning; ekadashashöa-vimshatitamadhyaye-of the eleventh canto, twenty-0eeighth chapter; 'pi-also; jneyam-to be known; tatra-there; ca-and; kim bhadram kim abhadram va dvaitasyavastunah kiyat ity adikam-beginning with these words; syat sadrishya-bhramas tavat ity ady anusarena-according to these words; eva-indeed; vyakhyeyam-to be explained; avastu-unreal; yat-what; advaitam-oneness; tasya-of that; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; tasmāt-from that; svatantryena-with independence; nirupana-description; shaktya-by the potency; paramatmanah-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; 'nanyat-not different; eva-indeed; sarvam-all; iti-thus; prakaranarthah-the meaning of the passage; shri-naradah-Shri Narada; shri-yudhishöhiram-to Shri Yudhisthira.

This quote is from the eleventh canto, twenty-eighth chapter of Shrimad-Bhagavatam. There it is also said (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.28.4):

"That which is expressed by material words or meditated upon by the material mind is not ultimate truth. What, therefore, is actually good or bad within this insubstantial world of duality, and how can the extent of such good and bad be measured?"

It is also said (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 7.15.61):

"When a substance and its parts are separated, the acceptance of similarity between one and the other is called illusion. While dreaming one creates a separation between the existences called wakefulness and sleep. It is in such a state of mind that the regulative principles of the scriptures, consisting of injunctions and prohibitions are recommended."*

In this way it is said that the idea that the things of this world are separated from the Supreme Personality of Godhead is not the truth. Therefore everything that exists is dependent on the Lord. That is the meaning of these passages of Shrimad-Bhagavatam. The verse quoted in the beginning of this anuccheda was spoken by Shri Narada to Shri Yudhishöhira.

Anuccheda 67

Text 1

ata evaha

tvam vayur agnir avanir viyad ambu-matrah pranendriyani hridayam cid-anugrahash ca sarvam tvam eva sa-guno vigunash ca bhutam nanyat tvam asty api mano-vacaso niruktam ata eva-therefore; aha-said; tvam-You (are); vayuh-air; agnih-fire; avanih-earth; viyat-sky; ambu-water; matrah-the sense objects; prana-the life airs; indriyani-the senses; hridayam-the mind; cit-consciousness; anugrahas ca-and false ego or the demigods; sarvam-everything; tvam-You; eva-only; sa-gunah-material nature with its three modes; vigunah-the spiritual spark and Supersoul, which are beyond material nature; ca-and; bhuman-O my great Lord; na-not; anyat-other; tvam--than You; asti-is; api-although; mano-vacasah-by mind and words; niruktam-everythign manifested.

That the material world is, in one sense, not different from the Supreme Personality of Godhead is also confirmed by the following words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (7.9.48):

"O Supreme Lord, You are actually the air, the earth, fire, sky, and water. You are the objects of sense perception, the life airs, the five senses, the mind, consciousness, and false ego. Indeed, You are everything, subtle and gross. The material elements and anything expressed, either by the words or by the mind, are nothing but You."*

Text 2

hridayam antar-indriyam. mano buddhy-ahankara-cittatmakam. cit shuddho jivah. anugrahaah sva-sammukhi-karana-shaktih. kim bahuna. sa-guno mayikah. vigunash camayikah sarvarthas tvam eveti. shri-prahladah shri-nrisimham.

hridayam-hridayam; antar-indriyam-the sense within; manah-mind; buddhy-ahankara-cittatmakam-intelligence, false ego, consciousness, self; cit-cit; shuddhah-pure; jivah-soul; anugraha-anugraha; sva-sammukhi-karana-shaktih-the favorable mercy potency; kim-whether?; bahuna-more; sa-gunah-sa-guna; mayikah-made of maya; vigunah-viguna; ca-and; amayikah-free from maya; sarvarthah-all; tvam-You; eva-indeed; iti-thus; shri-prahladah-Shri Prahlada; shri-nrisimham-to Shri Nrisimha.

Here the word "hridayam" means "the sense within". This word refers to the mind, intelligence, false ego, consciousness, and spirit self. "Cit" means "the pure spirit soul", and "anugraha" means "the favorable mercy potency". What more need be said? "sa-gunah" means "what is made of maya", "vigunah" means "what is beyond maya", and "sarvam tvam eva" means "You are all this". This verse was spoken by Shri Prahlada to Lord Nrisimha.

Anuccheda 68

Text 1

atha tasya maya-shakti-karya-maya-jivebhyo 'nyatvam ca spashöayati atha-now; tasya-of that; maya-shakti-the maya potency; karya-effect; maya-maya; jivebhyah-from the individual spirit souls; anyatvam-the state of not being different; ca-also; spashöayati-clearly says.

That the Supreme Personality of Godhead, the maya potency, and the individual spirit souls are also different is clearly explained in these words (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 3.28.40-41):

Text 2

yatholmukad visphulingad dhumad vapi sva-sambhavat apy atmatvenabhimatad yathagnih prithag ulmukat

yatha-as; ulmukat-from the flames; visphulingat-from the sparks; dhumat-from the smoke; va-or; api-even; sva-sambhavat-produced from itself; api-although; atmatvena-by nature; abhimatadintimately connected; yatha-as; agnih-the fire; prithag-different; ulmukat-from the flames.

"the blazing fire is different from the flames, from the sparks, and from the smoke, although all are intimately connected because they are born from the same blazing wood.*

Text 3

bhutendriyantahkaranat
pradhanaj jiva-samjnitat atma tatha prithag drashöa bhagavan brahma-samjnitah bhuta-the five elements; indriya-the senses; antahkaranat-from the mind; pradhanaj-fromthe pradhana; jiva-samjnitat-from the jiva soul; atmathe Paramata; tatha-so; prithag-different; drashöa-the seer; bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; brahma-samjnitah-called Brahman.

"The Supreme Personality of Godhead, who is known as param brahma, is the seer. He is different from the jiva soul, or individual living entity, who is combined with the senses, the five elements, and consciousness."*

Text 4

ayam arthah sva-sambhavat svopadana-karanad ulmukat kastha-mushöy-upadhikad agner hator yo visphulingo yash ca dhumas tasmad tasmad yatha□ tat-tad-upadanam agnih prithag yatha□ ca tasmad apy ulmukat tad-upadanam asav agnih prithak.

ayam-this; arthah-the meaning; sva-sambhavat-sva-sambhavat; svopadana-karanat-rproduced from itself; ulmukat-ulmukat; kastha-of wood;-mushöi-fist; upadhikat-from the cause; agneh-of fire; hatoh-from the cause; yah-who; visphulingah-spark; yah-what; ca-and; dhumah-smoke; tasmad-from that; tasmad-from that; yatha-as; tat-tad-upadanam-various causes; agnih-fire; prithag-different; yatha-as; ca-that; tasmad-from that; api-also; ulmukat-from fire; tad-upadanam-the cause of that; asav-that; agnih-fire; prithak-different.

Here the word "sva-sambhavat" means "produced from itself", and "ulmukat" means "flames produced from wood". From this are produced sparks and some. However, even though it is the cause of the flames, the fire (agnih) is different (prithak) from the flames themselves.

Text 5

kidrisham api. tat-trayad apy atmakatvenabhimatat. tapakataya dhume 'py agny-amsha-sambhavenagni-svarupataya pratitad api. tatha visphulinga-sthaniyaj jiva-samjnitaj jivat ulmuka-sthaniyat pradhanat.

kidrisham-like what?; api-also; tat-that; trayat-from the three; api-also; atmakatvena-as the self; abhimatat-intimately connected; tapakataya-by the sources of heat; dhume-in smoke; 'pi-also; agni-of fire; amsha-part; sambhavena-by production; agni-of fire; svarupataya-with the nature; pratitad-from the understanding; api-also; tatha-so; visphulinga-sthaniyaj-from sparks; jiva-samjnitaj-called the individual spirit souls; jivat-from the individual spirit soul; ulmuka-sthaniyat-from flames; pradhanat-from pradhana.

What are these things like? Three things are mentioned here. Because it is produced from fire, smoke has a nature similar to that of fire. the sparks here are the individual spirit souls, and the flames here are the pradhana.

Text 6

pradhanopadhika-bhagavat-tejaso dhuma-sthaniyad bhutadeh sarvopadana-rupo bhgavan prithak. ya evatma svamshena tat-tad-antaryamitaya paramatma. kvacid adhikarini nirvishesha-cin-matrataya sphuran brahma-samjnitash ca. yata eva drashöa. tesham adi-madhyantavastha-sakshiti yatholmukad idanim jvalatah kashöhat sva-sambhavad agneh svarupatvenabhimatad apy atyanta-vivekino hi dhume 'py agny-abhimano 'stiti dhumad ity apy uktam. ulmukat purva-siddhad api tad-dahakah prakashakash cagnih prithag eva. tatha-bhutendriyantahkaranadibhyah paramatmatvena bhagavattvena brahma-samjnitatvena ca shabdito drashöa tad-ashesha-jnah prithag eva. tesham bahiranga-taöasthaja-shaktimayatvad ity arthah. shri-kapiladevah.

pradhana-pradhana; upadhika-cause; bhagavat-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; tejasah-potency; dhuma-sthanyat-from smoke; bhutadeh-beginning with earth; sarva-all; upadana-rupah-cause; bhgavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; prithak-different; ya-who; eva-indeed; atma-the soul; svamshena-by His own part; tat-tat-of them; antaryamitaya-as the Supersoul; paramatma-the Paramatam; kvacit-somewhere; adhikarini-the controller; nirvishesha-without variety; cin-matrataya-as spirit; sphuran-manifest; brahma-samjnitah-called Brahman; ca-and; yata-from which; eva-indeed; drashöa-the seer; tesham-of them; adi-madhyanta-beginning, middle, and end; avastha-states; sakshi-the witness; iti-thus; yatha-as; ulmukat-from flames; idanim-now; jvalatah-burning; kashöhat-from wood; sva-sambhavad-self-manifested; agneh-from fire; svarupatvena-by nature; abhimatat-intimately connected; api-also; atyanta-vivekinah-very intelligent; hi-indeed; dhume-smoke; 'pi-also; agny-abhimanah-fire; 'sti-is; iti-thus; dhumat-from smoke; iti-thus; api-also; uktam-said; ulmukat-from flames; purva-siddhat-previously explained; api-also; tad-dahakah-burning that; prakashakah-manifested; ca-also; agnih-fire; prithag-different; eva-indeed; tatha-bhuta-in that way; indriya-senses; antahkarana-mind; adibhyahbeginning with; paramatmatvena-as the Supersoul; bhagavattvena-as the Supreme Personality of Godhead; brahma-samjnitatvena-as what is called Brahman; ca-and; shabditah-called; drashöa-the seer; tad-ashesha-jnah-who knows everything; prithag-different; eva-indeed; tesham-of them; bahiranga-external; taöasthaja-marginal; shaktimayatvat-because of possessing the potencies; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; shri-kapiladevah-Lord Kapiladeva.

Manifested from the flames, which in this example stand for the Lord's potency of pradhana, is the smoke, which stands for the material elements that begin with earth. Different (prthak) from all these is the Supreme Personality of Godhead (bhagavan), who is the cause and origin of them all. The Supreme Personality of Godhead expands as the Supersoul (atma) present in the hearts of all beings, and He also expands as the varietyless impersonal Brahman (brahma-samjnitah). He is the witness (drashöa) of everything, in beginning, middle, and end. As flames are self-manifested from firewood, so He is self manifested (sva-sambhavad). When intelligent persons see smoke, they declare, "There must be a fire". In the same way, when intelligent persons see the material world, they declare, "There must be a creator". As a fire is different from its flames, so the Supreme Personality of Godhead is different from the material elements, senses, mind, and other ingredients of the material world. The Supreme Lord, who is called the Supreme Personality of Godhead (bhagavan), the Supersoul (paramatma), and the impersonal Brahman (brahma), and who is all-knowing (drashöa), is different from all else. This is because the external material energy (bahiranga), the marginal potency (taöastha-shakti) and other potencies are all His potencies. That is the meaning here. The verse quoted in the beginning of this anuccheda was spoken by Lord Kapiladeva.

Anuccheda 69

Text 1

tatra tesham manah paramatmani nasti. te paramatmatmake jagaty asad-amsham eva grihnanti. ye tu paramatma-vidas te sad-amsham eva grihnanity ahuh tatra-there; tesham-of them; manah-the mind; paramatmani-in the Supersoul; na-not; asti-is; te-they; paramatmatmake-the Supersoul; jagati-in the universe; asad-amsham-a part of the non-eternal; eva-indeed; grihnanti-accepts; ye-who; tu-but; paramatma-vidah-who understand the Supersoul; te-they; sad-amsham-a part of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; eva-indeed; grihnanti-accept; iti-thus; ahuh-they say.

Some thinkers do not accept the existence of the Supreme Personality of Godhead and His expansion as the Supersoul. they say that this material world is only an illusion. However, thinkers who know the truth about the Supersoul declare that the material world is real. This is affirmed by the following prayer addressed to the Supreme Personality of Godhead (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.87.26):

Text 2

sad iva manas tri-vrit tvayi vibhaty asad amanujat sad abhimrishanty ashesham idam atmatayatma-vidah na hi vikritim tyajanti kanakasya tad-atmataya sva-kritam anupravishöam idam atmatayavasitam sat-real; iva-as if; manah-the mind; tri-vrit-threefold; tvayi-in You; vibhati-is manifested; asat-unreal; amanujat-extending to the human beings; sad-real; abhimrishanti-think; ashesham-all; idam-this; atmatayatma-vidah-they who understand the Supersoul; na-not; hi-indeed; vikritim-transformation; tyajanti-abandon; kanakasya-of gold; tad-atmataya-as having the same identity; sva-kritam-self-made; anupravishöam-entered; idam-this; atmataya-as the same; avasitam-determined.

"The atheists think that three modes of material nature comprise everything in this world, from the simplest phenomena to the complex human body. Although these phenomena appear real, they are only a false reflection of the spiritual reality, being a superimposition of the mind upon You. Still, those who know the Supreme Self consider the entire material creation to be real inasmuch as it is non-different from the Self. Just as things made of gold are indeed not to be rejected, since their substance is actual gold, so this world is undoubtedly non-different from the Lord who created it and then entered within it."

Text 3

tvayy asad avartamanam yan-manas tat khalu tri-vrit tri-guna-karye jagati vartamanam sat tvayi sad iva vartamanam iva vibhati. darvisuparasa-nyayena svavagadhe jagati sato 'pi paramatmano grahanabhavat. na tu vartamanam eva vibhatity arthah.

tvayi-in You; asat-unreal; avartamanam-not being; yan-manah-the mind of whom; tat-that; khalu-indeed; tri-vrit-threefold; tri-guna-of the three material modes; karye-in the action; jagati-in the material universe; vartamanam-being so; sat-real; tvayi-in You; sat-real; iva-as if; vartamanam-being so; iva-like; vibhati-is manifest; darvisuparasa-nyayena-by the example of tasting darvi soup; svavagadhe-deep; jagati-in the universe; satah-being so; 'pi-also; paramatmanah-of the Supersoul; grahanabhavat-because of not accepting; na-not; tu-but; vartamanam-being so; eva-indeed; vibhati-is manifested; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning.

Here the words "sad iva manas tri-vrit tvayi vibhati" mean "the atheists think that the three modes of material nature comprise everything in this world, from the simplest phenomena to the complex human body. Although these phenomena appear real, they are only a false reflection of the spiritual reality, being a superimposition of the mind upon You." This is like the example of darvi-supa-rasa-nyaya. Because they do not accept the existence of the Supersoul, the atheists think the material world is unreal. That is the meaning.

Text 4

ata evasad-amshasya tri-guna-maya-mayatvam mano-mayatvam cuktam

ata eva-indeed; asad-amshasya-as unreal; tri-guna-maya-mayatvam-an illusion created by the three modes of material nature; mano-mayatvam-a figment of the imagination; ca-also; uktam-said.

The atheists declare that the material world is an illusion created by the three modes, or else they think that the material world is a figment of the imagination. This is described in the following statement of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (11.7.7):

Text 5

yad idam manaso vaca cakshurbhyam shravanadibhih nashvaram grihyamanam ca viddhi maya-mano-mayam. iti.

yat-what; idam-this; manasah-of the mind; vaca-by the words; cakshurbhyam-with the eyes; shravanadibhih-beginning with the ears; nashvaram-temporary; grihyamanam-being accepted; ca-also; viddhi-please know; maya-mano-mayam-an illusion created by maya; iti-thus..

"The material universe that you perceive through your mind, speech, eyes, ears, and other senses is an illusory creation that one imagines to be real due to the influence of maya. In fact, you should know that all of the objects of the material senses are temporary."

Text 6

ye tv atma-vidas tvad-vettaras te amanujat sopadhika-jiva-svarupam abhivyapya idam ashesham jagad eva atmataya svarupataya sad abhimrishanti. tesham sad-amsha eva drishöir nanyatrety arthah.

ye-who; tv-but; atma-vidah-know the Supersoul; tvad-vettarah-know You; te-they; amanujat-from human beings; sopadhika-with material bodies; jiva-svarupam-the form of the individual spirit soul; abhivyapya-pervading; idam-this; ashesham-all; jagat-universe; eva-indeed; atmataya-as the Self; svarupataya-with the form; sat-real; abhimrishanti-think; tesham-of them; sad-amsha-real; eva-indeed; drishöh-sight; nanpt; anyatra-in another place; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning.

The words "tv atma-vida amanujad idam ashesham atmataya sad abhimrishanti" mean "They who understand the truth about the Supersoul know that the Supersoul is present everywhere in the material world, that He is present in the individual soul's external material bodies, beginning with the human bodies and including all the other kinds of bodies." In this way they see that the material world is real. That is the meaning.

Text 7

tatra drishöantah na hi vikritim iti. tesham kanaka-matram mrigayamananam kanaka-vanijam hi kanaka-vikare sundara-kurupakaratayam drishöir nasti. shuddha-kanaka-matra-grahitvat. tathatma-vidam apiti bhavah.

tatra-there; drishöantah-example; na-not; hi-indeed; vikritim-transformation; iti-thus; tesham-of them; kanaka-matram-consisting of gold; mrigayamananam-of they who seek; kanaka-vanijam-gold merchants; hi-indeed; kanaka-vikare-transformations of gold; sundara-kurupakaratayam-in beautiful ro ugly forms; drishöh-sight; na-not; asti-is; shuddha-kanaka-pure gold; matra-only; grahitvat-because of accepting; tatha-in that way; atma-vidam-knowing the Supersoul; api-alos; iti-thus; bhavah-the meaning.

Here, in the passage beginning with the words "na hi vikritim", an example is given. Merchants who seek gold are not very interested whether golden objects have shapes that are beautiful or ugly. They are interested only in whether the gold itself is pure. In the same way, they who know the truth about the Supersoul, are not interested in the various beautiful or ugly shapes present in the material world. Rather, they are interested in the all-pervading Supersoul.

Text 8

darishöantike 'pi tad-atmatve hetu-trayam ahuh idam jagat svena sac-chakti-visishöena sata upadana-rupena tvaya kritam pashcat siddhe 'pi karye karanamshavyabharitayantaryamitaya ca svena tvaya pravishöam punah pralaye 'py atmataya sac-chakti-vishishöa-sad-rupatayaivavasitam ceti. evam drishöante 'pi vivecaniyam.

darishöantike-in the example; 'pi-also; tad-atmatve-as the identity; hetu-trayam-three reasons; ahuh-said; idam-this; jagat-world; svena-own; sac-chakti-visishöena-by a specific potency; sata-real; upadana-rupena-as the ingredient; tvaya-by You; kritam-created; pashcat-after; siddhe-porved; 'pi-also; karye-in effect; karana-cause; amsha-part; avyabharitaya-as unchanging; antaryamitaya-as the Supersoul; ca-also; svena-by Him; tvaya-by You; pravishöam-entered; punah-again; pralaye-in destruction; 'pi-also; atmataya-as the Self; sac-chakti-transcendental potency; vishishöa-specific; sad-rupataya-with a spiritual form; eva-indeed; avasitam-understood; ca-also; iti-thus; evam-thus; drishöante-in the example; 'pi-also; vivecaniyam-to be explained.

Three reasons are given to explain that the material universe is manifested from the Supreme Personality of Godhead. The first reason is given in the word "sva-kritam", which means "O Lord, You created the material world, by employing one of Your potencies, which then become the ingredient of which the material world was made. The second reason is given in the word "anupravishöam", which means "After the material world was created, You entered it as the Supersoul. In this way You are present in the hearts of all embodied beings". The third reason is given in the words "atmatayavasitam", which mean "when the material universe is destroyed, the entire material creation, which is Your potency, enters within You." In this way the example is explained.

Text 9

tad etat sarvam abhiprayaivoktam vaishnave jñāna-svarūpam akhīlam jagad etad abuddhayaḥ artha-svarūpam paśyanto bhramyaś te moha-saṃplava tat-this; etat-that; sarvam-all; abhipraya-knowing; eva-indeed; uktam-said; vaishnave-in the Vishnu Purana; jnana-svarupam-the form of transcendental knowledge; akhilam-all; jagat-universe; etat-this; abuddhayah-fools; artha-svarupam-the from of the meaning; pashyantah-seeing; bhramyah-bewildered; te-they; moha-samplave-drowning in bewilderment.

All of this is also explained in the following words of Shri Vishnu Purana (1.4.40-41):

"Unaware of the true nature of the material world, fools see only material things. In this way they are plunged in illusion.

Text 10

ye tu jnana-vidah shuddhacetasas te 'khilam jagat jnanatmakam prapashyanti tvad-rupam parameshvara. iti.

ye-who; tu-but; jnana-vidah-know the truth; shuddha-pure; cetasah-hearts; te-they; 'khilam-all; jagat-the universe; jnanatmakam-full of knowledge; prapashyanti-see; tvad-rupam-Your form; parameshvara-O Supreme Personality of Godhead; iti-thus.

"But the wise and pure-hearted sages see that even the material world is full of transcendental knowledge. O Supreme Personality of Godhead, they see the material world is a form of You."

Text 11

shri-shrutayah.

shri-shrutayah-the Personified Vedas.

The verse quoted in the beginning of this anuccheda was spoken by the Personified Vedas.

Anuccheda 70

Text 1

tad evam parinamadikam sadhitam. vivartash ca parihritah. tato vivarta-vadinam iva rajju sarpavan na mithyatvam. kintu ghatavan nashvaratvam eva tasya. tato mithyatvabhava 'pi tri-kalavyabhicarabhavaj jagato na sattvam. vivarta-parinamasiddhitvena tad-dosha-dvayabhavavaty eva hi vastuni sattvam vidhiyate. yatha□ paramatmani tac-chaktau va. sad eva saumyedam agra asit ity adau idam-shabdoktam jagat. suksh mavastha-lakshana-tac-chakti-brahmanor mithas tad-atmyapannayoh sac-chabda-vacanat. atah sat-karya-vadash ca karya-suksh mavastham avalambyaiva pravartate.

tat-that; evam-thus; parinamadikam-beginning with evidence; sadhitam-proved; vivartah-transformation; ca-and; parihritah-refuted; tatah-then; vivarta-vadinam-of they who preache the theory of transforamtion; iva-like; rajju-a rope; sarpavan-like a snake; na-not; mithyatvam-falsity; kintu-however; ghaōavan-like a pot; nashvaratvam-temporariness; eva-indeed; tasya-of that; tatah-then; mithyatvabhava-the absence of illusion; 'pi-even; tri-kala-the three phases of time; avyabhicara-not wrong; abhavaj-because of the absence; jagatah-of the universe; na-not; sattvam-reality; vivarta-transformation; parinama-transformation; asiddhitvena-because of not being proved; tad-dosha-dvaya-the two defects; abhava-absence; vati-possessing; eva-indeed; hi-indeed; vastuni-in the thing; sattvam-rality; vidhiyate-is placed; yatha-as; paramatmani-in the Supersoul; tac-chaktau-in His potency; va-or; sat-eternal; eva-indeed; saumya-O gentle one; idam-this; agra-before; asit-was; iti-thus; adau-beginning; idam-shabdoktam-said by the word "idam"; jagat-the universe; sukshma-subtle; avastha-state; lakshana-nature; tat-His; shakti-potency; brahmanoh-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; mithah-mutual; tad-atmyapannayoh-attaining His nature; sac-chabda-vacanat-from the word "sat"; atah-then; sat-karya-vadah-they who say it is real; ca-and; karya-sukshmaavastham-subtle condition; avalambya-accepting; eva-indeed; pravartate-is.

In this way the idea that the material world is a transformation (parinama) of the Lord's potencies is proved and the idea that the material world is a transformation (vivarta) of the Supreme Personality of Godhead Himself is refuted. They who say the material world is a transformation of the Supreme Personality of Godhead give the example of mistaking a rope for a snake. In this example the imagined snake has no real existence. However, it cannot be said that the material world is unreal in that way. What one can say is that the material world is manifested temporarily, as a clay pot is temporarily manifested from the totality of clay. Therefore the material world is not unreal. It really exists. But one can say that it is unreal in the sense that it is temporarily manifested. It is not manifested in all three phases of time. Therefore the two theories of transformation are wrong, and the conclusion is that the material world is certainly real. It is real because it rests on the Supreme Personality of Godhead and His potency. In the Chandogya Upanishad (6.2.1) it is said:

"O gentle one, in the beginning only the eternal existed."

In this passage the word "idam" (this) refers to the material world. The meaning here is that before the material world was manifested the Supreme Personality of Godhead and the subtle condition of the material world both existed eternally. Therefore it may be said that the material world is real because the subtle nature of the material world always exists.

Text 2

tad evam sthite 'pi punar ashankate nanu sad-upadanam jagat katham tadvad anashvaratam api jagan na khalu sat syat. yadi ca nashvaram syat. tarhi katham va shukti-rajata-vad avyabhicaritvena kevala-vivartantah-pati na syat. tad etat prashnam uttanka pariharanti tat-that; evam-thus; sthite-situated; 'pi-even; punah-again; ashankate-doubts; nanu-is it not so?; sat-of the eternal; upadanam-the ingredient; jagat-the material universe; katham-how?; tadvat-then; anashvaratam-not temporary; api-also; jagan-the universe; na-not; khalu-indeed; sat-eternal; syat-may be; yadi-if; ca-also; nashvaram-temporary; syat-is; tarhi-then; katham-how?; va-or; shukti-rajata-vat-like silver on a seashell; avyabhicaritvena-because of being unchanging; kevala-only; vivarta-transformation; antah-within; pati-going; na-not; syat-is; tat-this; etat-that; prashnam-question; uttanka-replying; pariharanti-refute.

Here someone may protest: "Is it not true that the Supreme Personality of Godhead is the ingredient of which the material world is made? How, then, is it possible that the material world is temporary? If the material world is temporary, then must it not be an illusion, like the illusion of thinking the glittering silverlike surface of a seashell to be real silver?". If this protest is raised, the following verse from Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.87.36) may be quoted in answer:

Text 3

sata idam utthitam yad iti cen nanu tarka-hatam vyabhicarati kva ca kva ca mrisha na tathobhaya-yuk vyavahritaye vikalpa ishito 'ndha-paramparaya bhramayati bharati ta uru-vrittibhir uktha-jadan satah-from the real; idam-this; utthitam-manifested; yat-what; iti-thus; cen-if; nanu-indeed; tarka-hatam-refuted by logic; vyabhicarati-changes; kva-where?; ca-and; kva-where?; ca-and; mrisha-illusion; na-not; tatha-so; ubhaya-yuk-with both; vyavahritaye-for ordinary activities; vikalpa-imagination; ishita-desired; andha-of the blind; paramparaya-by the disciplic succession; bhramayati-bewilders; bharati-words; ta-they; uru-vrittibhih-with elaborate activities; uktha-jadan-dulled by rituals.

"Our dear Lord, there are two classes of transcendentalists: the personalists and impersonalists. The opinion of the impersonalists is that this material manifestation is false and that only the Absolute Truth is factual. The impersonalists are called andha-parampara, or blind followers of the Vedic ritualistic ceremonies."*

Text 4

idam vishvam dharmi. sad iti sadhye dharmah. sata utpannatvat. yad yata utpannam tat khalu tad-atmakam eva drishöam. yatha□ kanakad utpannam kundaladikam tad-atmakam. tadvat. atrotthitam eva. na tu shaktau rajatam iva tataropitam iti siddhantinah sva-matam anuditam. naivety ahuh nanu tarka-hatam iti. apadana-nirdeshena bheda-pratiter viruddha-hetutvat.

idam-this; vishvam-universe; dharmi-the possessor of qualities; sat-real; iti-thus; sadhye-to be attained; dharmah-quality; sata-from the real; utpannatvat-because of being manifested; yat-what; yata-from which; utpannam-manifested; tat-that; khalu-indeed; tad-atmakam-the nature of that; eva-indeed; drishöam-seen; yatha-as; kanakat-from gold; utpannam-manifested; kundaladikam-beginning with earrings; tad-atmakam-the nature of that; tadvat-then; atra-here; utthitam-manifested; eva-indeed; na-not; tu-but; shaktau-in the potency; rajatam-silver; iva-like; tatra-there; aropitam-imagined; iti-thus; siddhantinah-they who know the conclusion; sva-matam-in their own opinion; anuditam-not said; na-not; eva-indeed; iti-thus; ahuh-said; nanu-indeed; tarka-hatam-destroyed by logic; iti-thus; apadana-nirdeshena-by the use of the ablative case; bheda-pratiteh-of difference; viruddha-hetutvat-because of refutation.

Here the word "idam" refers to the material universe, the possessor of qualities, and "sat" refers to the supreme goal, the final resting place. "Satah" means "manifested from the sat". When one thing is manifested from another, the manifested inherits something of the nature of the manifestor. Therefore, when they are fashioned from gold, earrings and other ornaments retain gold as their ingredient. Such golden ornaments are not like the silver imagined to be visible on the surface of a seashell, for that glittering is not really silver. The impression that it is silver is a mistake. The impersonalists claim that the material world is an illusion, like that imagined silver on the seashell's surface. This idea is refuted in this verse by the words "nanu tarka-hatam" (Indeed, that idea is not logical). Here the ablative cause is used to refute the idea that the manifested material world is different from its source.

Text 5

nanu nabhedam sadhayamah. kintu tata utpannatvena kundaladi-vad bhedom anudya pratishedhamah. tatrabheda eva syad ity asankyanaikantikativena hetum dushayanti vyabharati kva ca iti. kva ca kutrapi karana-dharmanugatir vyabharati. karyam karana-dharmasya sarvamshenaivanugatam bhavatiti niyamo na vidyata ity arthah. dahanady-udbhava prabhadau dahakatvadi-dharmadarshanad iti bhavah.

nanu-indeed; na-not; abhedam-non-different; sadhayamah-we prove; kintu-however; tata-from that; utpannatvena-because of being manifested; kundaladi-vat-like those things that begin with earrings; bhedom-difference; anudya-not saying; pratishedhamah-we refute; tatra-there; abheda-not different; eva-indeed; syat-is; iti-thus; asankya-doubting; anaikantikativena-because of not being one; hetum-the reason; dushayanti-refutes; vyabharati-is inconsistent; kva-where?; ca-and; iti-thus; kva-where?; ca-and; kutrapi-somewhere; karana-dharmanugatir-following the nature of the cause; vyabharati-is inconsistent; karyam-the effect; karana-dharmasya-of the nature of the cause; sarva-all; amshena-by a part; eva-indeed; anugatam-followed; bhavati-is; iti-thus; niyamah-restraint; na-not; vidyata-is; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; dahanady-udbhava-in the manifestation of fire and other things; prabha-light; adau-beginning; dahakatva-the state of burning; adi-beginning with; dharma-nature; adarshanat-from not seeing; iti-thus; bhavah-the meaning.

The word "nanu" means "Here someone may protest: 'We affirm that they are not different. We say that earrings and other ornaments made of gold are not different from gold.' Fearing that someone will use this example to prove that all existence is in all respect identical with the Supreme, the author of this Shrimad-Bhagavatam verse speaks the words "vyabharati kva ca" (this idea is inconsistent). Here the words "kva ca" mean "in some circumstances this idea is not confirmed by the truth about the cause, for the effect is a part of the cause." therefore the idea of oneness is not true. Here the example may be given that light and other qualities of fire are not identical with fire itself. This is explained in the following words of Shri Vishnu Purana (1.22.53-55):

Text 6

dve rupe brahmanas tasya murtam camurtam eva ca ksharakshara-svarupe te sarva-bhuteshv avasthite aksharam tat param brahma ksharam sarvam idam jagat ity ady antaram.

dve-two; rupe-forms; brahmanah-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; tasya-of Him; murtam-the form; ca-and; amurtam-without a form; eva-indeed; ca-and; kshara-temporary; akshara-eternal; svarupe-forms; te-they; sarva-bhuteshv-in all living entities; avasthite-situated; aksharam-eternal; tat-that; param-Supreme; brahma-Brahman; ksharam-temporary; sarvam-all; idam-this; jagat-material universe; iti-thus; adi-beginning; antaram-ending.

"The Supreme Personality of Godhead has two natures. One nature has a form, and the other nature is formless. One nature is temporary and the other is eternal. The eternal nature is the Supreme Brahman, and the temporary nature is the material world.

Text 7

eka-desha-sthitasyagner jyotsna vistarini yatha parasya brahmanah shaktis tathedam akhilam jagat

eka-desha-in one place; sthitasya-being situated; agneh-of fire; jyotsna-the illumination; vistarini-expanded everywhere; yatha-just as; parasya-of the Supreme; brahmanah-of the Absolute Truth; shaktih-the energy; tatha-similarly; idam-this; akhilam-entire; jagat-universe.

"Just as the illumination of a fire, which is situated in one place, is spread all over, the energies of the Supreme Personality of Godhead, Parabrahman, are spread all over this universe."*

Text 8

ity etad evam vyakhyatam shri-svamibhir eva shri-vishnu-purane nanv aksharasya para-brahmanas tad-vilakshanam kshara-rupam katham syad ity ashankya drishöantenopapadayati eka-desheti. pradeshikasyapy agner dipader dahakasyapi tad-vilakshana jyotsna prabha yatha□ tat-prakasha-vistasar tatha brahmanah shakti-krita-vistara idam akhilam jagat. iti.

iti-thus; etad-this; evam-thus; vyakhyatam-explained; shri-svamibhih-by Shrila Shridhara Svami; eva-indeed; shri-vishnu-purane-in Shri Vishnu Purana; nanv-indeed; aksharasya-of the eternal; para-brahmanah-Supreme Personality of Godhead; tad-vilakshanam-different from Him; kshara-rupam-the temporary form; katham-how?; syat-may be; iti-thus; ashankya-doubting; drishöantena-with an example; upapadayati-explains; eka-desheti-the verse beginnign with the words eka-desha; pradeshikasya-of one place; api-even; agneh-of a fire; dipadeh-beginning with a lamp; dahakasya-burning; api-also; tad-vilakshana-different from that; jyotsna-light; prabha-light; yatha-as; tat-prakasha-vistarah-the light spread all over; tatha-so; brahmanah-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; shakti-krita-vistara-expanded potencies; idam-this; akhilam-netire; jagat-universe; iti-thus.

Shrila Shridhara Svami comments:

"Here someone may protest: `How is it possible that the temporary material world, which is the temporary form of the Supreme Personality of Godhead, be in any way different from the Supreme Personality of Godhead Himself?' Fearing that someone would protest in this way, in this verse the author gives an example to explain the truth. He says: `A lamp or other flame may stay in one place, and its energy, in the form of light, is spread in all directions. The light is, in one sense, certainly different from the fire itself. In this same way, the entire material world, which is manifested from the Supreme Lord's potency, is different from the Supreme Lord Himself'."

Text 9

prakritam anusaramah. nanu tarhi vyabharitve shukti-rajata-vad evastu. tatraha kva ca mrisha iti. kva ca shakty-adav eva pratitika-matra-sattakam rajatadikam mrisha. anyatra yatra ubhayam pratitim artha-kriya-karitvam yunakti bhajate. tatra na tatha mrisheti.

prakritam-the original topic; anusaramah-we now return; nanu-is it not so?; tarhi-then; vyabharitve-as a transformation; shukti-rajata-vat-like a seashell and silver; eva-indeed; astu-is; tatra-there; aha-said; kva ca mrisha iti-kva ca mrsa; kva ca-somewhere; shakty-adav-beginning with the potency; eva-indeed; pratitikamatra-sattakam-the reality is accepted; rajatadikam-beginning with silver; mrisha-illusion; anyatra-in another place; yatra-where; ubhayam-both; pratitim-acceptance; artha-kriya-karitvam-doingthe meaning; yunakti-engages; bhajate-engages; tatra-there; na-not; tatha-so; mrisha-false; iti-thus.

Now we will return to the original topic of this discussion. Here someone may protest: "Is it not so that the material world is an illusion, like the illusion of silver than seems to glitter on a seashell?" To this protest the Shrimad-Bhagavatam replies with the words "kva ca mrisha" (from one point of view it is an illusion). Although the glittering on the seashell is not silver, it is not nothing. It is something else. Therefore it is not non-existent (mrisha).

Text 10

nanu kuöatamrikadishv artha-kriya-karitapi drishyate. ity ashankyahuh vyavahritaye iti. kraya-vikrayadi-lakshana-vyavaharayaiva vikalpo bhrama ishöah. na tu tat-tat-prasiddha-samyag-artha-kriya-karitayai. tad-danadau yatha-vat punya-phaladikam na bhavatiti.

nanu-is it not so?; kuöa-false; tamrika-made of copper; adishv-beginning with; artha-kriya-karita-having the meaning; api-also; drishyate-is seen; iti-thus; ashankya-fearing; ahuh-said; vyavahritaye-vtavahrtaye; iti-thus; kraya-vikrayadi-lakshana-characterized by buying and selling; vyavaharaya-for the ordinary activities; eva-indeed; vikalpah-mistake; bhrama-mistake; ishöah-desired; na-not; tu-but; tat-tat-prasiddha-samyag-artha-kriya-karitayai-for having the same meaning; tad-danadau-beginning with giving; yatha-vat-as; punya-of pious deeds; phala-results; adikambeginning with; na-not; bhavati-is; iti-thus.

Here someone may again protest: "The material world is unreal. As a less-valuable pot, not made of copper, is falsely claimed to be made of copper, so the material world is falsely claimed to be real." To this protest the Shrimad-Bhagavatam replies with the word "vyavahritaye" (in ordinary activities). This means that in the marketplace a merchant may misrepresent the nature of the pot, but that does not mean that the pot does not exist. Of course, the merchant will not gain the benefits of pious deeds by cheating in that way.

Text 11

tatha shunöhitaya prakhyapitam visha-granthy-adikam kritva shunöhi-jnanena bhakshitam api narogya-janakam. pratyuta marakam eveti. tasmāt tat-tat-prasiddha-samyag-artha-kriya-karitayaiva jagatah satyatvam angri-kriyate. ekangena sa kuöa-sarpadau bhayadi-rupa tv asty eveti. na tu tad-dhetoh.

tatha-so; shunöhitaya-sunti; prakhyapitam-called; visha-granthy-adikam-beginning with poison; kritva-purchasing; shunöhi-jnanena-without knowledge of sunti; bhakshitam-eaten; api-even; na-not; arogya-janakam-the cause of good health;. pratyuta-on the contrary; marakam-death; eva-indeed; iti-thus; tasmāt-therefore; tat-tat-prasiddha-samyag-artha-kriya-karitaya-for that reason; eva-indeed; jagatah-of the material eorld; satyatvam-reality; angri-kriyate-is accepted; ekangena-by one part; sa-that; kuöa-false; sarpa-snake; adau-beginning; bhaya-fear; adi-beginning; rupa-form; tv-indeed; asti-is; eva-indeed; iti-thus; na-not; tu-but; tad-dhetoh-the reason for that.

If by mistake one purchases the poison named sunöhi and then, not knowing its true nature eats that poison, one will not remain healthy. He will certainly die. therefore to be in illusion about the true nature of something does not mean that the thing in question ceases to exist or loses its actual identity. Therefore all the examples of mistaking one thing for another do not prove that the material world is not real. The material world is certainly real. One example of this is the story of a person's becoming frightened by mistaking a rope for a snake. The explanations given above show that this example does not prove that the material world is not real.

Text 12

kim ca andha-paramparayeti sa ca kraya-vikrayadi-lakshana-vyavaharo 'pi. na tu yatharthatamrikasyeva tad-vyavahara-kushaleshv api. kintv andha-paramparayaiva.

kim ca-furthermore; andha-paramparayeti-by the word andha-paramparaya; sa-that; ca-and; kraya-vikrayadi-lakshana-the example of buying and selling; vyavaharah-material actions; 'pi-also; na-not; tu-but; yatharthatamrikasyeva-as; tad-vyavahara-those ordinary actions; kushaleshv-in auspiciousness; api-also; kintv-however; andha-paramparaya-by the blind parampara; eva-indeed.

Here the Supreme Personality of Godhead verse uses the word "andha-paramparaya" (the disciplic succession of blind teachers). Such persons cannot understand the examples of ordinary activities of the marketplace (vyavahritaye) such as the example of the copper pot. Therefore these persons are said to be blind.

Text 13

atas tatra tadiya-kushaleshv asiddhatvena vyavaharasyabhasa-matratvat tasmad anyatha□ nanumeyam. dhumabhase hi vahni-vyabharasyaucityam eveti bhavah. tad evam artha-kriya-karitvenasty evetarasya bhrama-vastu-vailakshanyat satyatvam iti vivarta-vadini niraste punar anashvara-vadi praty uttishohate.

atah-then; tatra-there; tadiya-kushaleshv-in these auspicious things; asiddhatvena-because of not being proven; vyavaharasya-of ordinary activities; abhasa-reflection; matratvat-only; tasmad-from that; anyatha-otherwise; na-not; anumeyam-to be understood; dhuma-of smoke; abhase-the shadow; hi-indeed; vahni-of fire; vyabharasya-of the transformation; aucityam-suitableness; eva-indeed; iti-thus; bhavah-the emaing; tat-that; evam-thus; artha-kriya-karitvena-by the proper meaning; asti-is; eva-indeed; itarasya-of another; bhrama-eror; vastu-thing; vailakshanyat-because of difference; satyatvam-reality; iti-thus; vivarta-vadini-the theory of transformation; niraste-refuted; punar-again; anashvara-vadi-the theory of eternity; prati-to; uttishohate-rises.

Therefore, one should not interpret these examples in any other way. The relationship between smoke and fire is that smoke is produced by fire. That is the proper understanding. In that was one should understand that the material world is real, for it was created by the Supreme Personality of Godhead. In this way the impersonalists' theory of transformation is rejected, and the truth, that the Supreme Personality of Godhead is eternal and unchanging, is established.

Text 14

nanu apama somam amrita abhuma. akshayyam ha vai caturmasya-yajinah sukritam bhavati iti shrutyaiva karma-phalasya nityatva-pratipadanam nashvaratvam na ghatata ity asankyahuh bhramayati iti.

nanu-is it not so; apama-we have drunk; somam-soma; amrita-immortal; abhuma-we became; akshayyam-immortality; ha-indeed; vai-indeed; caturmasya-yajinah-observifn Caturmasya; sukritam-piety; bhavati-attain; iti-thus; shrutya-by teh Sruti-sastra; eva-indeed; karma-phalasya-the result of pious deeds; nityatva-eternality; pratipadanan-from the proof; nashvaratvam-temporariness; na-not; ghatata-is; iti-thus; asankya-fearing; ahuh-they say; bhramayati iti-the word "bhramayati".

Here someone may protest: "the Shruti-shastras (Rig Veda 8.48.3) declare:

"We have drunk soma, and now we are immortal. By observing Caturmasya we attained eternal piety.

In this way the Shruti-shastras affirm that material pious deeds bring results that are eternal. The results they bring are not temporary."

Fearing that someone would protest in this way, the Shrimad-Bhagavatam verse replies with the word "bhramayati" (such persons are bewildered).

Text 15

he bhagavan te tava bharati uru-vrittibhir bahvibhir gauna-lakshanadibhir vrittibhih. uktha-jadan. ukthani yajne sasyante. tatra jadah karma-shraddha-bharakranta-manda-mataya ity arthah. tan bhramayati.

he-O; bhagavan-Supreme Personality of Godhead; te-of You; tava-of You; bharati-words; uru-vrittibhih-with great actions; bahvibhih-with many; gauna-lakshanadibhih-direct and indirect; vrittibhih-with actions; uktha-jadan-uktha-jadan; ukthani-Vedic hymns; yajne-in yajna; sasyante-recited; tatra-there; jadah-dull; karma-in fruitive actions; shraddha-faith; bhara-great; akranta-overcome; manda-slow; mataya-intelligence; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; tan-them; bhramayati-bewilders

Here the words "te bharati uru-vrittibhir uktha-jadan bhramayati" mean "O Supreme Personality of Godhead, filled with many direct and indirect meanings, Your words bewilder the persons who have become feeble-minded by their great faith in the fruitive actions described in the Vedas."

Text 16

ayam bhavah. na hi vedah karma-phalam nityam abhipraiti. kinto lakshanaya prasastya-matram. anyesham vakyanam vidhy eka-vakyatvena vidhav eva tatparyat. anyatha vakya-bheda-prasangah. tad yatha iha karma-jito lokah kshiyate. evam evamutra punya-jito lokah kshiyate iti nyayopabrimhita-shruty-antara-vibodhash ca.

ayam-this; bhavah-the meaning; na-not; hi-indeed; vedah-the Veda; karma-phalam-the fruits of action; nityam-always; abhipraiti-intends; kintah-however; lakshanaya-with meaning; prasastya-matram-only praise; anyesham-of others; vakyanam-words; vidhi-please know; eka-vakyatvena-with one statement; vidhav-in the rule; eva-indeed; tatparyat-from the meaning; anyatha-otherwise; vakya-bheda-prasangah-difference of statements; tat-that; yatha-as; iha-here; karma-jitah-conquered by karma; lokah-the world; kshiyate-is destroyed; evam-thus; eva-indeed; amutra-in the next life; punya-jitah-conquered by pious deeds; lokah-the world; kshiyate-is destroyed; iti -thus; nyaya-by an example; upabrimhita-corroborated; shruti-Sruti; antara-another; vibodhash-knowleedge; ca-also.

Here is the meaning: The Vedas do not always praise the results attained by fruitive activities. Sometimes the rules and regulations for fruitive activities are described, and sometimes the results of fruitive activities are criticized. For example, in the Chandogya Upanishad (8.1.6) it is said:

"By performing fruitive deeds one may enter the higher material worlds, but then again he must also fall from those worlds. By performing pious deeds one may, in the next life, enter the higher material worlds, but then again he must also fall from those worlds."

Text 17

atah karma-jadanam idam bhrama-matram. jagat tu satyam api parinama-dharmatvena nashvaram eveti. tad uktam bhattachenaiva athavetihasa-purana-pramanyat shrishöi-pralayav apishyate iti.

atah-then; karma-jadanam-dulled by karma; idam-this; bhrama-matram-only an illusion; jagat-universe; tu-but; satyam-real; api-also; parinama-dharmatvena-with the nature of transformation; nashvaram-temporary; eva-indeed; iti-thus; tat-that; uktam-said; bhaööena-by Shri Kumarila Bhatta; eva-indeed; athava-or; itihasa-purana-pramanyat-by the evidence of the Puranas and Itihasas; shrishöi-pralayau-creation and destruction; api-also; ishyate-is manifested; iti-thus.

In this way persons whose intelligence has become dulled by fruitive activities are bewildered. The truth is that the material world is real, although, because it is always in flux, it is considered temporary. This is confirmed by the following words of Shri Kumarika Bhaööa:

"According to the Puranas and Itihasas, the material universes are again and again created and destroyed."

Text 18

athava nabhedam sadhayama ity adikam ashankya prasiddhasya satta-trayasya mitho vailakshanyad abhedam pariharanti. kva ca ghaöadau artha-kriya-kariny api vyabhicarati satteti sheshah. vastv antarasyartha-kriya-karitayam asmarthyat deshantare svayam avidyamanatvat kalantare tirobhavitvac ca.

athava-or; na-not; abhedam-non-different; sadhayama-we explain; iti-thus; adikam-beginning; ashankya-fearing; prasiddhasya-established; satta-existence; trayasya-three; mithah-mutual; vailakshanyat-because of being different; abhedam-not different; pariharanti-refutes; kva ca-somewhere; ghaöadau-beginning with a pot; artha-kriya-karini-for the meaning of the words; api-also; vyabhicarati-is transformed; satta-existence; iti-thus; sheshah-then remainder; vastv-thing; antarasya-of another; artha-kriya-karitayam-in the meaning of the words; asmarthyat-because of ability; deshantare-in another place; svayam-personally; avidyamanatvat-because of not being; kalantare-in another time; tirobhavitvac-because of disappearance; ca-also.

Here someone may protest: "Therefore we say that the material world is not different from the Supreme". Fearing that someone might make this claim, this verse of Shrimad-Bhagavatam affirms that the three existences (the Supreme Personality of Godhead, the individual spirit souls, and the external material energy) are different from each other. In this way the idea that they are not different is refuted. This is affirmed here by the words "kva ca vyabhicarati", which mean that a clay pot or other material object is limited in its existence. Thus the clay pot may exist in one place, but it does not exist in all places. It may exist at one point in time, but in another point in time it will have vanished.

Text 19

kva ca shukti-rajatadau tatrapi tadanam api mrisha. artha-kriya-karitvabhavat. ya tubhaya-yuk ubhayatra ghaöadi-sattayam shukti-rajatadi-sattayam yug yogo yasyah. sa sa labdha-pada bhavatity arthah.

kva ca-somewhere; shukti-rajatadau-beginning with a seashell and silver; tatrapī-still; tadanim-then; api-also; mrisha-false; artha-kriya-karitva-the meaning of words; abhavat-because of the absence; ya-who; tu-but; ubhaya-yuk-with both; ubhayatra-in both places; ghaṇḍi-beginning with pots; sattayam-in existence; shukti-rajatadi-sattayam-the existence of things that begin with the silver of seashells; yug-ehdowed; yogah-endowed; yasyah-of which; sa-that; sa-that; labdha-obtained; pada-condition; bhavati-is; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning.

In addition to these things, there are things that are actually illusions (mrisha). An example of an illusion is the silver that seems to exist on the surface of a seashell. In this way the material world consists of both things (ubhaya-yuk): 1. realities, such as the clay pot and other like things, and 2. illusions, such as the silver that seems to exist on the surface of a seashell.

Text 20

sa parama-karana-satta na tatha kintu sarvatra sarvadapi tat-tad-upadhy-anurupa-sarvartha-kriyady-adhishṭhāna-rupety arthah. tasmad artha-kriya-karitvena satyam api parinatatvena ghaṇḍi nashvaram eva jagat. na pratiti-matra-sattakam. na canashvara-sattakam iti paraspara-vailakshanya-darshanat katham ekam anyad bhavitum arhatiti bhavah.

sa-that; parama-karana-satta-the existence of the supreme cause; na-not; tatha-so; kintu-however; sarvatra-everywhere; api-also; sarvada-always; api-also; tat-tad-upadhy-anurupa-sarvartha-kriyady-adhishṭhāna-rupa-the form of the resting place of the various manifestations; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; tasmad-from that; artha-kriya-karitvena-by the meaning of words; satyam-truth; api-also; parinatatvena-by being transformed; ghaṇḍi-like a pot; nashvaram-temporary; eva-indeed; jagat-the material universe; na-not; pratiti-matra-sattakam-existence that depends only on belief; na-not; ca-and; anasvara-temporary; sattakam-existence; iti-thus; paraspara-mutual; vailakshanya-difference; darshanat-because of the revelation; katham-how?; ekam-one; anyat-another; bhavitum-to be; arhati-is able; iti-thus; bhavah-the meaning.

However, the prime cause of all causes is not like these two (the limited realities and the illusions), for the prime cause exists always and everywhere. Therefore 1. the material world, like the clay pot described before, is considered temporary because it is always in flux, 2. various illusions exist only because people mistakenly believe them, and 3. the prime cause is eternal and unchanging. How is it possible to say that these three are identical and not at all different from each other?

Text 21

kuṇḍa-tamrikatvam ashankyaha vyavahritaye iti. vikalpyate anyatraropya iti vikalpah. svatah-siddhas tamrikadir arthah. sa eva vyavahritaye ishita.

kuṇḍa-tamrikatvam-the false copper pot; ashankya-fearing; aha-said; vyavahritaye-vyavahritaye; iti-thus; vikalpyate-is imagined; anyatra-in another place; aropya-aropya; iti-thus; vikalpah-imagined; svatah-siddhas-self-sufficient; tamrikadih-beginning with the copper pot; arthah-the meaning; sa-that; eva-indeed; vyavahritaye-vyavahritaye; ishita-is given.

Fearing that someone may bring up the example of the pretended copper pot, the Shrimad-Bhagavatam speaks the word "vyavahritaye". Here the word "vikalpah" means "imagining the qualities of one thing to be present in another". In this way the word "vyavahritaye" is used.

Text 22

ayam arthah. atra kuöa-tamrikena yam vyavaharam manyase. so 'pi na tena sidhyati. kim tarhi satyatamrikenaiva. arthantaram vyavahartur hridi tasyaiva pratyakshatvat. kuöatamrikam atropalakshanam eva. kvacit tam vinapi tava grihe tamriko datta iti pashcad datavya iti va chala-prayoge smaryam.anenapi tena tatha vyavahara-siddhah.

ayam-this; arthah-the meaning; atra-here; kuöa-tamrikena-in the pretended copper pot; yam-which; vyavaharam-ordinary activity; manyase-you think; sah-that; api-also; na-not; tena-by that; sidhyati-is completed; kim-what?; tarhi-then; satyatamrikena-with a genuine copper pot; eva-indeed; arthantaram-another meaning; vyavahartuh-of the merchant; hridi-in the heart; tasya-of him; eva-indeed; pratyakshatvat-because of being present before the senses; kuöatamrikam-a false copper pot; atra-here; upalakshanam-implication; eva-indeed; kvacit-in one place; tam-that; vina-without; api-also; tava-of you; grihe-in the home; tamrikah-copper; datta-given; iti-thus; pashcat-after; datavya-to be given; iti-thus; va-or; chala-prayoge-in cheating; smaryam-to be remem,bered;.anena-by that api-also; tena-by that; tatha-so; vyavahara-siddhah-ordinary activity.

Here is the meaning. If the merchant thinks a false-copper pot is truly made of copper and he has not the slightest inkling that the pot is not genuine copper, and he thinks that the customer has taken home a genuine copper pot, then the merchant has not cheated the customer. The merchant must be aware that he is cheating for there to be a crime on his part.

Text 23

tasmad vyavahara-rupapy artha-kriya-karita tasyaiva bhavatiti sa satya eva. anyatha satyasya tamrikasyabhava shatam apy andhanam na pashyatiti nyayena kuöa-tamrika-paramparayapi vyavaharo 'pi na sidhyed ity ahuh andha-paramparayeti. andha-parampara-doshat sa eva vyavahritaya isita ity anvayah. yathandha-paramparaya vyavaharo na sidhyet. tatha kuöa-tamrika-paramparayapity arthah.

tasmat-therefore; vyavahara-rupa-ordinary activities; api-also; artha-kriya-karita-the meaning fo the words; tasya-of that; eva-indeed; bhavati-is; iti-thus; sa-that; satya-true; eva-indeed; anyatha-otherwise; satyasya-of true; tamrikasya-copper; abhave-in the absence; shatam-a hundred; api-even; andhanam-of blind men; na-not; pashyati-see; iti-thus; nyayena-by the example; kuöa-tamrika-of false copper; paramparaya-by the disciplic succession; api-also; vyavaharah-ordinary activity; api-also; na-not; sidhyet-becomes completed; iti-thus; ahuh-sadi; andha-paramparaya iti-the word "andha-paramparaya"; andha-parampara-doshat-because of the defect of the andha-parampara; sa-that; eva-indeed; vyavahritaya-vyavahrtaye; isita-is attained; iti-thus; anvayah-the meaning; yatha-as; andha-paramparaya-by the andha-parampara; vyavaharah-oerinary activity; na-not; sidhyet-becomes completed; tatha-so; kuöa-tamrika-the false copper pot; paramparaya-by the andha-parampara; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning.

Even a hundred blind men cannot see whether a pot is genuine copper or not. That is why the word "andha-paramparaya" (the disciplic succession of blind men) is used here. In this way this verse describes the andha-parampara's lack of ability to function in even ordinary activities (vyavahritaye). As the andha-parampara is useless in performing regular activities, so the kuöa-tamrika-parampara (disciplic succession of cheaters) is also useless. That is the meaning.

ittham eva vijnana-vado 'pi nirakritah. shankara-sharirake 'pi. anaditve 'py andha-parampara-nyayenapratishōhav anavastha-vyavahara-vilopini syan nabhipraya-siddhir ity uktva etad uktam bhavati. yathedam suvarnam kena kritam iti prasne kashcid aha anenandheneti. anena katham paricitam iti punar aha tenandhena paricayitam. tena ca katham ity aha kenapy aparenandhenety anda-paramparayapi na siddhyed vyavaharah. kintu tatrandha-paramparayam yady eko 'pi cakshushmata sarvadi-pravartako bhavati. tadaiva sidhyati. yatha ca tatra sarveshv api cakshushmata eva vyavahara-sadhakatvam. tatha kasmimsh cit-tamrike prathamam satye saty eva vyavaharah sidhyati. tatra ca satyasyaiva vyavahara-sadhakatvam. tad-anusandhanenaiva tatra pravrittesh cakshushmata iva pravartakatvat tatash ca kashcana tamrikah satya iti sthite. yatra tad-vyavahara-kushalaih parikshaya satyatavagamyate. sa eva kuōa-tamrike 'py aropyamanah satyo bhavet. tad evam artha-kriya-karitvena tasya satyatve tad-upalakshitam vishvam eva bhrama-vastu-vilakshanam satyam iti siddham. paramatmana evavayavitva-vyavahara-sadhakatvena sadhitatvad yuktam eva tat.

ittham-thus; eva-indeed; vijnana-vadah-the theory of the jnani philosophers; 'pi-also; nirakritah-refuted; shankara-of Sankaracarya; sharirake-in the commentary on Vedanta-sutra; 'pi-even; anaditve-without beginning; 'pi-even; andha-parampara-nyayena-by the example of the blind parampara; apratishōhau-in non-establishment; anavastha-not the situation; vyavahara-action; vilopini-without; syan-is; na-not; abhipraya-understanding; siddhih-attainment; iti-thus; uktva-the meaning; etad-this; uktam-said; bhavati-is; yatha-as; idam-this; suvarnam-gold; kena-by whom; kritam-purchased; iti-thus; prasne-in the question; kashcit-someone; aha-said; anena-by him; andhena- a blind man; iti-thus; anena-by him; katham-how?; paricitam-selected; iti-thus; punar-again; aha-said; tena-by him; andhena-the blind man; paricayitam-understood; tena-by him; ca-and; katham-how?; iti-thus; aha-said; kenapi-by someone; aparena-by another; andhena-by a blind man; iti-thus; anda-paramparaya-by the parampara of blind men; api-also; na-not; siddhyet-attained; vyavaharah-the activity; kintu-however; tatra-there; andha-paramparayam-in the andha-parampara; yadi-is; ekah-one; 'pi-even; caksusmata-having eyes; sarva-all; adi-beginning; pravartakah-the prompter; bhavati-is; tada-then; eva-indeed; sidhyati-is attained; yatha-as; ca-and; tatra-there; sarveshv-in all; api-also; caksusmata-having eyes; eva-indeed; vyavahara-sadhakatvam-the state of engaging in the activity; tatha-so; kasmimh-in what?; cit-tamrike-in the real copper pot; prathamam-ifrst; satye-truth; sati-being so; eva-indeed; vyavaharah-action; sidhyati-is perfected; tatra-there; ca-and; satyasya-of the truth; eva-indeed; vyavahara-sadhakatvam-the state of being qualified to perform the action; tad-anusandhanena-by pursuing that action; eva-indeed; tatra-there; pravritteh-of the action; caksusmata-having eyes; iva-like; pravartakatvat-because of inspiring; tatra-then; ca-and; kashcana-someone; tamrikah-copper; satya-true; iti-thus; sthite-situated; yatra-where; tad-vyavahara-kushalaih-with auspicious in that action; parikshaya-by examination; satyata-genuineness; avagamyate-is understood; sa-that; eva-indeed; kuōa-tamrike-true copper; 'pi-also; aropyamanah-falsely understanding; satyah-truth; bhavet-is; tat-that; evam-thus; artha-kriya-karitvena-the meaning of the words; tasya-of that; satyatve-in genuineness; tat-that; upalakshitam-understood; vishvam-matwerial universe; eva-indeed; bhrama-vastu-vilakshanam-different from an illusion; satyam-truth; iti-thus; siddham-proved; paramatmana-by the Supersoul; eva-indeed; avayavitva-the whole; vyavahara-activity; sadhakatvena-because of aspiring; sadhitatvat-because of being attained; yuktam-proper; eva-indeed; tat-that.

In this way the theory of the impersonalists is refuted. In Shankaracarya's Vedanta-commentary is found the following story, which shows the faults of the andha-parampara. There a question was asked: "Why bought this gold?" The answer was given: "A blind man bought it." then the question was asked: "Who determined that it was genuine gold?" The answer was given: "The blind man determined it." Then the question was asked: "How was he able to know that the gold was genuine?" The answer was given: "Another blind man told him." From this it may be seen that even a host of blind men, and andha-parampara (a disciplic succession of blind men) cannot understand even ordinary material things. A host of blind man cannot see the truth, but one person who is not blind, who has eyes, can see everything. A person who has eyes can discriminate between a genuine copper pot and an imitation. This example confirms the truth that the material world is real, and is not an illusion.

Text 25

tatha ca brahmadibhih stutam satyasya yonim iti. tat satyam ity acakshate iti shrutish ca.

tatha-so; ca-and; brahmadibhih-beginning with Brahma; stutam-prayer; satyasya yonim iti-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.2.26; tat satyam ity acakshate iti shrutih-tTaittiriya Upanisad 2.6; ca-also.

That the material world is real is also confirmed by the following prayer of Brahma and the demigods (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.2.26):

"O Lord, You are the active principle, the real truth, in all ingredients of creation."*

This is also confirmed by the following words of the Taittiriya Upanishad (2.6):

"Then He saw that the material world was real."

Text 26

shishöam anyat samanam. evam jagatah satyatvam angi-kritam. tac ca nashvaram iti. tatra nashvaratvam natyantikam. kintv avyaktataya sthiter adrishyata-matram eva, sat-karyata-sampratipatteh yad bhutam bhavac ca bhavishyac ca ity adi shruteh.

shishöam-remainign; anyat-other; samanam-the same; evam-thus; jagatah-of the material world; satyatvam-reality; angi-kritam-accepted; tac-that; ca-and; nashvaram-temporary; iti-thus; tatra-there; nashvaratvam-temporariness; na-not; atyantikam-great; kintv-however; avyaktataya-by the state of being unmanifested; sthiteh-of the situation; adrishyata-matram-simply because of being invisible; eva,-indeed; sat-karyata-sampratipatteh-because of the proof of bheing real; yat-what; bhutam-was; bhavac-is; ca-and; bhavishyac-will be; ca-and; iti-thus; adi-beginning; shruteh-from the Sruti-sastra.

The remainder of the previously quoted Shrimad-Bhagavatam verse is like what has already been explained. In this way it is shown that the material world, although temporary, is certainly real. Even the temporary nature of the material world is only true in a certain sense, for the material world always exists. It is temporary in the sense that it is sometimes visible and sometimes invisible, although it always exists. The fact that the material world is real is also affirmed by the following words of Brihad-aranyaka Upanishad (3.8.3):

"The material world is, always was, and always will be."

Anuccheda 71

Text 1

ata eva shuktitve rajatatvam iva tasyavyakta-rupatve jagattvam asan na bhavati. patavac ceti nyayena jagad eva hi sukshmatapannam avyaktam iti drishyatvena bhranti-rajata-kaksham api jagat-tad-vilakshanasattakam tathatma-vada-parinatatvabhavena naikavastha-sattakam ity evam artha-siddhaye tad-anantaram evahuh

ata eva-therefore; shuktitve-the state of being a seashell; rajatatvam-the state of being silver; iva-like; tasya-of that; avyakta-unmanifested; rupatve-in the form; jagattvam-the state of being the universe; asan-unreal; na-not; bhavati-is; paöavac ca-Shri Vedanta-sutra 2.1.19; iti-thus; nyayena-by the example; jagat-the universe; eva-indeed; hi-indeed; sukshmata-subtlety; apannam-attained; avyaktam-unmanifested; iti-thus; drishyatvena-by being visible; bhranti-rajata-kaksham-the mistake of thinking to be silver; api-also; jagat-the material world; tad-vilakshana-different from that; sattakam-existence; tathatma-vada-parinatatva-the theory of transformation; abhavena-because of the non-existence; na-not; aikavastha-sattakam-oneness; iti-thus; evam-thus; artha-siddhaye-for understanding the meaning; tad-anantaram-after that; eva-indeed; ahuh-they said.

Another argument of the impersonalists is that the material world is unreal because it is like the silver mistakenly thought to be present in the silverlike glittering on a seashell's surface. This argument cannot be accepted. A very different example is given in the Vedanta-sutra (2.1.19):

"The material world is like a cloth, its threads woven on the Supreme Personality of Godhead."

When the material world enters a subtle state of existence, it is said to be unmanifested. At that time, however, it does not cease to exist and become an illusion like the silver imagined to glitter on a seashell's surface. Rather, the material world becomes transformed. The material world, after all, does not have only one state of existence. The following explanation is given in Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.87.37):

Text 2

na yad idam agra asa na bhavishyad ato nidhanad anumitam antara tvayi vibhati mrishaika-rase ata upamiyate dravina-jati-vikalpathair vitatha-mano-vilasam ritam ity avayanty abudhah na-not; yat-what; idam-this; agra-before; asa-was; na-not; bhavishyat-will be; atah-then; nidhanat-destruction; anu-after; mitam-considered; antara-within; tvayi-You; vibhati-is manifested; mrisha-false; eka-rase-in one mellow; ata-then; upamiyate-is considered; dravina-jati-vikalpathaih-with various material transformations; vitatha-mano-vilasam-an imagination; ritam-without; iti-thus; avayanti-think; abudhah-fools.

"The cosmic manifestation, because of the flickering nature of its impermanent existence, appears to less-intelligent men to be false."*

Text 3

yad yadi idam vishvam agre shrishöeh purvam nasa nasid tada na bhavishyann abhavishyad eva. ad-agamabhava arshah. akasha-kusumam iveti bhavah. shrutayash casid eveti vadanti sad eva saumyedam agra asit. atma va idam agra asit ity adyah.

yat-yat; yadi-if; idam-this; vishvam-universe; agre-before; shrishöeh-created; purvam-before; na-not; asa-was; na-not; asit-was; tada-then; na-not; bhavishyann-will be; abhavishyat-would be; eva-indeed; ad-agamabhava-the affix aö; arshah-from the sages; akasha-in the sky; kusumam-flower; iva-like; iti-thus;

bhavah-the meaning; shrutayah-the Vedas; ca-and; asit-was; eva-indeed; iti-thus; vadanti-say; sat-real; eva-indeed; saumya-O gentle one; idam-this; agra-before; asit-was; atma-self; va-indeed; idam-this; agra-before; asit-was; iti-thus; adyah-beginning.

Here the word "yat" means "if", "idam" means "the material universe", "agre" means "before the material universe was created", "na asa" means "was not", and "na bhavishyat" means "would not be". Here the absence of the prefix "a" in the word that should be "abhavishyat" is an example of the poetic license of the sages. Here the impersonalists claim that the material world is like a flower imagined to float in the sky. That the material world is real is confirmed by the following words of Chandogya Upanishad (6.2.1):

"O gentle one, before the material world was manifested, the Supreme Personality of Godhead existed."

This is also confirmed by the following words of Brihad-aranyaka Upanishad (1.4.1):

"Before the material world was manifested, the Supreme Personality of Godhead existed."

Text 4

tad evam sukshmataya tattvad atmyena sthitam karanavastham idam jagat vishritataya karyavastham bhavati. ato yan-nidhanan nasha-matrad dheto shuktau rajatam iva tvayi tad idam antara shrishöi-madhya eva. na tv agre cante ca vibhatity anumitam tan mrisheti pramana-siddham na bhavaty arthah.

tat-that; evam-thus; sukshmataya-subtly; tattvat-from the truth; atmyena-as created by the Supreme Personality of Godhead; sthitam-situated; karanavastham-as thw cause; idam-this; jagat-universe; vishritataya-manifested; karyavastham-as the effect; bhavati-is; atah-then; yan-nidhanan-from the destruction ofwhich; nasha-matrat-from the destruction; dheto-from the cause; shuktau-in a seashell; rajatam-silver; iva-like; tvayi-in You; tat-that; idam-that; antara-within; shrishöi-madhya-in the creation; eva-indeed; na-not; tv-but; agre-in the beginning; ca-and; ante-in the end; ca-and; vibhati-is manifested; iti-thus; anumitam-considered; tan-that; mrisha-false; iti-thus; pramana-siddham-proved by the evidence; na-not; bhavati-is; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning.

Because the effect is also present within its cause, the material world, in its subtle form, is present in the Supreme Personality of Godhead before the time of material creation. Here the verse says, "O Lord, the idea that because at a certain point in time the material universe is destroyed, therefore the material world is unreal, like the silver imagined to exist on the glittering surface of a seashell, and the idea that although for a certain time the material universe is manifested within You, it does not exist before or after that manifestation, and therefore it is unreal, are conclusions not supported by the evidence of the scriptures."

Text 5

tatra hetum aha eka-rase iti. anubhavantaravishayananda-svada iti. yasminn anubhute sati vishayantara-sphurtir na sambhavati. tasmims tvayi shukty-adi-nikrishöa-vastuniva vishayaropah katham syad ity arthah.

tatra-there; hetum-the reason; aha-said; eka-rase-eka-rase; iti-thus; anubhava-experience; antara-within; vishaya-the range of perception; ananda-bliss; svada-tasting; iti-thus; yasminn-in which; anubhute-perceived; sati-being so; vishayantara-sphurtih-manifested within the range of perception; na-not; sambhavati-is born; tasmimh-in that; tvayi-in You; shukty-adi-nikrishöa-vastuni- the seashell and other things; iva-like; vishaya-in the field of perception; aropah-an artificial imposition; katham-how?; syat-may be; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning.

The reason for this is given in the word "eka-rase", which means "in the Supreme Personality of Godhead, who always experiences transcendental bliss". Therefore the verse declares: "the material universe rests within You, O Supreme Personality of Godhead". How, then, is it possible that the material world is unreal, like the silver mistakenly thought to exist in the glittering surface of a seashell?

Text 6

dadhati sakrin manas tvayi ya atmani nitya-sukhe na punar upasate purusha-sara-haravasathan ity asmakam evokteh.

dadhati sakrin manas tvayi ya atmani nitya-sukhe na punar upasate purusha-sara-haravasathan iti-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.87.35; asmakam-of us; eva-indeed; ukteh-from the words.

Here the Personified Vedas hint: We have already said (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.87.35):

"A Krishna conscious being becomes disinterested in family life or opulent living conditions."*

Text 7

ato 'cintya-shaktya svarupad acyutasyaiva tava parinama-svikarena dravina-jatinam dravya-matranam mrillohadinam vikalpa bheda ghaöa-kundaladayas tesham panthano margah prakaras tair evasmabhir upamiyate.
na tu kutrapi bhrama-rajatadibhih.

atah-then; 'cintya-shaktya-with inconceivable potency; svarupat-from His own form; acyutasya-of the infallible Supreme Personality of Godhead; eva-indeed; tava-of You; parinama-transformation; svikarena-by accepting; dravina-jatinam-of material things; dravya-matranam-of material things; mril-lohadinam-made of clay, iron, etc.; vikalpa-imagination; bheda-different; ghaöa-kundaladayah-clay pots, earrings, and other like things; tesham-of them; panthanah-path; margah-path; prakarah-specific; taih-by them; eva-indeed; asmabhih-by us; upamiyate-is considered; na-not; tu-but; kutrapi-somewhere; bhrama-mistake; rajatadibhih-beginning weith silver.

Here the Personified Vedas say: "Therefore we think that by the Supreme Lord's inconceivable potency the various ingredients, like iron and earth, are transformed into the various objects of this world, like earrings and clay pots. Therefore these objects are not illusions. They are not like the silver mistakenly thought to exist on the glittering surface of a seashell."

Text 8

yasmad evam tasmad vitatha mano-vilasa yatra tadrisham eva ritam tad-rupam brahmaivedam jagad ity abudha evavayanti manyante. tasya tad-adhishöhanatvasambhavad iti bhavah. rita-shabda-prayogas tatra mithya-sambandha-rahitya-vyanjanartham eva krita iti jneyam.

yasmat-from which; evam-in this way; tasmad-from that; vitatha-false; mano-vilasa-imagination of the mind; yatra-where; tadrisham-like that; eva-indeed; ritam-without; tad-rupam-that form; brahma-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; eva-indeed; idam-this; jagat-universe; iti-thus; abudha-fools; eva-indeed; avayanti-think; manyante-think; tasya-of that; tad-adhishöhanatva-the state of being the creator; asambhavat-because of the impossibility; iti-thus; bhavah-the meaning; rita-shabda-prayogah-the use of the word "rita; tatra-there; mithya-false; sambandha-relation; rahitya-being without; vyanjana-manifestation; artham-for the purpose; eva-indeed; krita-done; iti-thus; jneyam-to be understood.

Here the verse says: "Fools think that the material world is an imagination, the playing of the mind, and the material world is actually the Supreme itself. This cannot be true." Here the word "ritam" means "it is not unreal".

Text 9

atra sat-karya-vadinam ayam abhiprayah mrit-pindadi-karakair yo ghaöab utpadyate. sa sann asan va. adye pishöa-peshanam. dvitiye kriyaya karakaish ca tat-sambandhasya kha-pushpadharana-vada-sambhavat tena ca tesham anyathatvat katham tat-siddhir iti dik.

atra-here; sat-karya-vadinam-of they who say the material world is real; ayam-this; abhiprayah-the undertsanding; mrit-pindadi-beginning with balls of clay; karakaih-doing; yah-which; ghaöab-pot; utpadyate-is manifested; sa-that; sann-being so; asan-that; va-or; adye-in the beginning; pishöa-peshanam-useless labor; dvitiye-in the second; kriyaya-of action; karakaih-by the doer; ca-also; tat-sambandhasya-in relation to that; kha-in the sky; pushpa-flower; dharana-holding; vada-words; sambhavat-from the manifestation; tena-by that; ca-and; tesham-of them; anyathatvat-because of being different; katham-how; tat-siddhih-the proof of that; iti-thus; dik-the direction.

They who affirm that the material world is real say that as balls of clay are fashioned into clay pots, so the things of this material world are fashioned from the material elements. Thus there are two views: 1. that the material world is real, and 2. that the material world is not real. There is no need to elaborately discuss the first view. The second view affirms that actions, persons who perform actions, and what results from the actions are all unreal, like a flower imagined to float in the sky. How can anyone present any evidence to prove such a foolish idea? The preceding is thus the general idea of this verse.

Text 10

tasman na prakaöam eva san na catyantam asat. kintv avyaktataya mrit-pinde eva sthito 'sau yatha karaka-tan-nishpanna-kriya-yogena vyajyate. tatha parama-karane tvayi sthitam vishvam tvat-svabhavika-shakti-tan-nishpanna-kriya-yogeneti.

tasman-therefore; na-not; prakaöam-manifested; eva-indeed; san-real so; na-not; ca-and; atyantam-great; asat-unreal; kintv-however; avyaktataya-as unmanifested; mrit-pinde-a ball of clay; eva-indeed; sthitah-situated; 'sau-that; yatha-as; karaka-the doer; tan-nishpanna-kriya-yogena-connected with the action; vyajyate-is manifested; tatha-so; parama-karane-in the prime cause of all causes; tvayi-in You; sthitam-situated; vishvam-the material world; tvat-svabhavika-shakti-by Your personal potency; tan-nishpanna-kriya-yogena-in connection with the activity; iti-thus.

When it is not openly manifested, the material world does not cease to exist. Rather, it exists in an unmanifested state. In that state it is like the shapeless balls of clay that a craftsman may later shape into pots and other objects. It is in this sense that the Personified Vedas say here: "O Lord, Your personal potency has created this material world."

Text 11

atra sva-vedantitva-prakhyapakanam apy anyatha-mananam vedanta-viruddham eva. mana eva bhuta-karyam iti hi tatra prasiddham yukti-viruddham ca. mano-'hankaradinam manah-kalpitatvasambhavad. tatha hi sati veda-viruddho 'nishvara-vadash ca prasajyeta. sa ca ninditah padme atra-here; sva-vedantitva-prakhyapakanam-of the proponents of Vedanta; api-also; anyatha-mananam-thinking in a different way; vedanta-viruddham-contradicted by Vedanta; eva-indeed; mana-mind; eva-indeed; bhuta-karyam-the action of the elements; iti-thus; hi-indeed; tatra-there; prasiddham-proved; yukti-viruddham-contradicted by logic; ca-also; mano-'hankaradinam-beginning with mind and false ego; manah-mind; kalpitatva-imagination; asambhavad-because of not being so; tatha-so; hi-indeed; sati-being so; veda-viruddhah-contradicted by Vedanta; 'nishvara-vadah-the theory of atheism; ca-also; prasajyeta-is manifested; sa-that; ca-and; ninditah-criticized; padme-in the Padma Purana.

They who think otherwise, that the material world is not real, and who call themselves "Vedantists", embrace a view that is actually refuted by the words of the Vedanta-sutra. Their idea, that the material world is an imagination created by the mind, is also refuted by logic, for it is not logical to assume that the mind itself, along with false ego and the other elements, are an imagination of the mind. This being so, the theory of atheism, that there is no God, is also rejected by the Vedanta-sutra. This theory is also criticized by these words of Padma Purana:

Text 12

shrutayah smritayah caiva yuktayah ceshvaram param vadanti tad-viruddham yo vadet tasman na cadhamah. iti.

shrutayah-the Srutis; smritayah-the Smritis; ca-and; eva-indeed; yuktayah-logic; ca-also; ishvaram-God; param-the Supreme; vadanti-say; tad-viruddham-refuting that; yah-who; vadet-speaks; tasman-therefore; na-not; ca-and; adhamah-the lowest; iti-thus.

"The Shrutis and Smritis all affirm that the Supreme Personality of Godhead certainly exists. Anyone who tries to refute the existence of God is lowest of the low."

Text 13

asatyam apratishöham te jagad ahur anishvaram aparaspara-sambhutam
kim anyat kama-haitukam

asatyam-unreal; apratishöham-without foundation; te-they; jagat-the cosmic manifestation; ahuh-is said; anishvaram-with no controller; aparaspara-by mutual lust; sambhutam-caused; kim anyat-there is no other cause; kama-haitukam-it is due to lust only.

The view of the atheists is also described in these words of Bhagavad-gita (16.8):

"They say that this world is unreal, that there is no foundation, and that there is no God in control. It is produced of sex desire, and has no cause other than lust."*

Text 14

iti shri-gitopanishad-adi-drishöyaivanishvara-vadina eva vyacakshate. asatyam mithya-bhutam satyasatyabhyam anirvacaniyatvenapratishtöham nirdesha-shunyam sthanau purushatva-vat brahmanishvaratvasyajnana-matra-kalpitatvad ishvarabhimani tatra kashcin nastity anishvaram eva jagat aparaspara-sambhutam anady-ajnana-parasparasambhutam. aparasparah kriya-satatye. atah kama-haitukam manah-sankalpa-matra-jatam svapna-vad ity arthah.

iti-thus; shri-gitopanishad-of Shri Bhagavad-gita; adi-beginning; drishöya-by the view; eva-indeed; anishvara-vadina-the atheists; eva-indeed; vyacakshate-says; asatyam-unreal; mithya-bhutam-unreal; satyasatyabhyam-both real and unreal; anirvacaniyatvena-because it cannot be said; apratishtöham-without foundation; nirdesha-shunyam-without description; sthanau-in situation; purushatva-vat-like a person; brahmani-in Brahman; ishvaratvasya-of the state of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; ajnana-ignorance; matra-only; kalpitatvad-because of being an imagination; ishvara-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; abhimani-thinking; tatra-there; kashcin-someone; na-not; asti-is; iti-thus; anishvaram-atheism; eva-indeed; jagat-universe; aparaspara-sambhutam-mutually created; anady-ajnana-beginningless ignorance; paraspara-mutual; asambhutam-not created; aparasparah-not mutual; kriya-satatye-in the reality of the action; atah-then; kama-haitukam-the cause is lust; manah-sankalpa-imagination of the mind; matra-only; jatam-produced; svapna-a dream; vat-like; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning.

Thus, in these words of Bhagavad-gita and other scriptures, the philosophy of atheism is described. Here the word "asatyam" means "unreal". It cannot be said that the world is both real and unreal. Here "apratishtam" means "there is no foundation". Here the Bhagavad-gita verse says, "Because they think that God is created by the imagination, the atheists think that they are God themselves. Therefore they say that there is no God (anishvaram). They say that we have created the world (jagat) ourselves (aparaspara-sambhutam), because of our beginningless ignorance, and we have created it out of the desires in our minds (kama-haitukam), as one creates things in a dream." That is the meaning.

Text 15

atra pravrittim ca ity adina tesham samskara-dosha ukteham etam drishöim ity adina tu gatish ca nindishyata iti jneyam. ebhir eva brahmana aishvaryopadhih mayapi jivajnana-kalpita. tayaiva jagat-shrishöhä ity matam.

atra-here pravrittim ca ity adina-in Bhagavad-gita 16.7; tesham-of them; samskara-dosha-because of the fault of previous impious deeds; ukteham-from the statement; etam drishöim ity adina-in Bhagavad-gita 16.9; tu-indeed; gatish-goal; ca-and; nindishyata-is criticized; iti-thus; jneyam-to be understood; ebhir-by them; eva-indeed; brahmana-of the Supreme; aishvaryopadhih-the opulence; maya-maya; api-even; jiva-of the individual spirit souls; ajnana-by the ignorance; kalpita-imagined; taya-by that; eva-indeed; jagat-shrishöhä-the creation of the material world; iti-thus; matam-considered

The atheists and demons are also described in these words of Bhagavad-gita (16.7):

"Those who are demonic do not know what is to be done and what is not to be done. Neither cleanliness, nor proper behavior, nor truth is found in them."*

The faults of the demons are also described in these words of Bhagavad-gita (16.9):

"Following such conclusions, the demonic, who are lost to themselves and who have no intelligence, engage in unbeneficial, horrible works meant to destroy the world."*

In this way the demons' activities are criticized. The demons say that the glories of the Supreme Personality of Godhead are all an illusion (maya), that the Lord's glories are created by the imaginations of the living beings. They say that the Supreme Lord's creation of the material world is all mythology.

Text 16

yad uktam tadiya-bhashye tad-ananyatvam ity adi sutre sarvajneshvarasyatma-bhute ivavidya-kalpita nama-rupe tattvatattvabhyam anirvacaniye samsara-prapanca-bija-bhute sarvajneshvarasya maya-shaktih prakritir iti shruti-smrityor abhilapyeta iti.

yad-what; uktam-said; tadiya-bhashye-in the commentary; tad-ananyatvam ity adi sutre-in the Vedanta-sutra 2.1.14; sarvajna-all-knowing; ishvarasya-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; atma-bhute-self-manifested; iva-like; avidya-ignorance; kalpita-imagined; nama-rupe-names and forms; tattva-truth; atattva-untruth; abhyam-valled; anirvacaniye-indescribable; samsara-prapanca-bija-the seed of the material creation; bhute-manifested; sarvajneshvarasya-of the all-knowing Supreme Personality of Godhead; maya-shaktih-the maya potency; prakritih-matter; iti-thus; shruti-smrityoh-by the Sruti and Smriti; abhilapyeta-said; iti-thus.

In his commentary on Vedanta-sutra (2.1.14), Shri Shankaracarya asserts:

"The names and forms of the all-knowing Supreme Personality of Godhead are a figment of the imagination. They cannot be described with words. No one can say whether they are real or not. They are created by the souls in the material world. They are manifested from the illusory potency maya. They are material. This is described in the Shruti and Smriti."

Text 17

kintv atra vidyavidye mama tanu ity adi shri-bhagavad-vakyena tu viruddham iti.

kintv atra vidyavidye mama tanu ity adi-in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.11.3; shri-bhagavat-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; vakyena-by the words; tu-indeed; viruddham-refuted; iti-thus.

These ideas are refuted by the Supreme Lord Himself in these words (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.11.3):

"O Uddhava, both knowledge and ignorance, being products of may, are expansions of My potency. Both knowledge and ignorance are beginningless and perpetually award liberation and bondage to embodied living beings."

Text 18

ato mayavadataya cayam vadah khyayate. tad evam ca padmottara-khande devim prati pashanda-shastram ganayata shri-mahadevenoktam atah-therefore; mayavadataya-as the mayavada philosophy; ca-also; ayam-this; vadah-word; khyayate-is famous; tat-that; evam-thus; ca-and; padmottara-khande-in the Padma Purana, Uttara-khanda; devim-Goddess; prati-to; pashanda-shastram-the scriptures of the blasphemers; ganayata-considering; shri-mahadevena-by Lord Shiva; uktam-said.

This impersonalist and atheist philosophy is called "mayavada" (the philosophy of maya). In the Padma Purana, Uttara-khanda, in the course of describing the scriptures of the blasphemers and atheists, Lord Shiva tells Goddess Parvati:

Text 19

mayavadam asac chastram pracchannam baudham ucyate mayaiva kathitam devi kalau brahmana-rupina

mayavadam-the philosophy of mayavada; asac-chastram-false scriptures; pracchannam-covered; baudham-Buddhism; ucyate-is said; maya-by me; eva-only; kathitam-executed; devi-O goddess of the material world; kalau-in the age of Kali; brahmana-rupina-having the body of a brahmana.

"The mayavada philosophy is impious. It is covered Buddhism. My dear Parvati, in the form of a brahmana in Kali-yuga I teach this imagined Mayavada philosophy."*

Text 20

vedante tu maha-shastre mayavadam avidikam mayaiva vakshyate devi jagatam nasha-karanat. iti.

vedante-in Vedanta; tu-indeed; maha-shastre-the great scripture; mayavadam-mayavada; avidikam-against the Vedas; maya-ny me; eva-indeed; vakshyate-is said; devi-O goddess; jagatam-of the worlds; nasha-karanat-causeing the destruction; iti-thus.

"Similarly, in explaining Vedanta, I describe the same mayavada philosophy in order to mislead the entire population toward atheism by denying the personal form of the Lord."*

Text 21

tac casuranam mohanartham bhagavata evajnayeti tatraivoktam asti. tatha ca padma evanyatra shaive ca tac-that; ca-also; asuranam-of the demons; mohana-bewilderment; artham-for the purpose; bhagavata-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; eva-indeed; ajnaya-by the order; iti-thus; tatra-there; eva-indeed; uktam-said; asti-is; tatha-so; ca-also; padma-in the Padma Purana; eva-indeed; anyatra-in another place; shaive-in the Shiva Purana; ca-also.

In order to bewilder the demons, the Supreme Personality of Godhead Himself ordered Lord Shiva to preach the mayavada philosophy. This is confirmed by the following quote from both the Padma Purana and the Shiva Purana, where the Supreme Personality of Godhead tells Shiva:

Text 22

dvaparadau yuge bhutva
kalaya manushadishu
svagamaih kalpitaish tvam ca
janan mad-vimukhan kuru

dvaparadau yuge-after the Dvapara yuga; bhutva-becoming; kalaya-by a part; manushadishu-in human beings and others; svagamaih-by your own scriptures; kalpitaih-imagined; tvam-you; ca-and; janan-the people; mad-vimukhan-averse to Me; kuru-please make.

"In Kali-yuga, mislead the people in general by propounding imaginary meanings for the Vedas to bewilder them."*

Text 23

iti shri-bhagavad-vakyam iti dik. ata evoktam shri-nrisimha-purane yama-vakye iti-thus; shri-bhagavad-vakyam-the words of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; iti-thus; dik-the direction; ata eva-therefore; uktam-said; shri-nrisimha-purane-in Shri Nrisimha Purana; yama-vakye-in the words fo Yamaraja.

These words were spoken by the Supreme Personality of Godhead Himself. The same truth is also described in the Shri Nrisimha Purana, where Yamaraja says:

Text 24

vishadhara-kana-bhaksha-shankaroktir dashabala-pancashikhakshapada-vadan mahad api su-vicarya loka-tantram bhagavad-upastim rite na siddhir asti. iti.

visadhara-Patanjali; kanabhaksha-Kanada; sankara-of Shankara; uktih-the words; dashabala-Buddha; pancashikha-sankhya; akshapada-Gautama; vadan-philosophies; mahat-great; api-also; su-vicarya-carefully studying; loka-tantram-the materialistic Tantras; bhagavad-upastim-devotional service to the Supreme Personality of Godhead; rite-without; na-not; siddhih-perfection; asti-is; iti-thus.

"They who carefully study the philosophies of Patanjali, Kanada, Shankaracarya, Buddha, Pseudo-Kapila, Gautama, and other materialistic authors, and who neglect devotional service to the Supreme Personality of Godhead, do not attain perfection."

Text 25

sarve 'tra vada-grantha eva nirdishöah. na tu mantra-grantha iti namaksaram eva sakshan nirdishöam iti ca nanyatha mananiyam. anandamayo 'bhyasat ity adishu vedanta-sutra-kara-matam tatra dushyata iti.

sarve-all; 'tra-here; vada-grantha-scriptures; eva-indeed; nirdishöah-indicated; na-not; tu-but; mantra-grantha-mantra scriptures; iti-thus; namaksaram-obeisances; eva-indeed; sakshan-directly; nirdishöam-indicated; iti-thus; ca-and; na-not; anyatha-otherwise; mananiyam-to be considered; anandamayo 'bhyasat ity adishu-in Vedanta-sutra 1.1.12; vedanta-sutra-of Vedanta-sutra; kara-of the author; matam-the opinion; tatra-there; dushyata-is refuted; iti-thus.

In this list the scriptures of all the different philosophies are mentioned. Only the mantra-scriptures and some other scriptures are excluded. In the following words (Vedanta-sutra 1.1.12), the author of Vedanta-sutra refutes all these philosophies:

anandamayo 'bhyasat

"The Supreme Personality of Godhead is by nature full of joy."*

Text 26

ato yat kvacit tat-tat-prashamsa va syat tad api nitanta-nastika-vadam nirjityamshenapy astika-vadah sthapita ity apekshaya jneyam. tasmāt svatantra ishvara eva sarva-srashöa. na tu jivah. svajnanena sva-shaktyaivety ayatam.

atah-then; yat-what; kvacit-somewhere; tat-tat-prashamsa-praise of various scriptures; va-or; syat-may be; tat-that; api-also; nitanta-nastika-vadam-the great atheistic theories; nirjitya-defeating; amshena-with a part; api-also; astika-vadah-the religious philosophy; sthapita-established; iti-thus; apekshaya-in relation; jneyam-to be known; tasmāt-from that; svatantra-independent; ishvara-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; eva-indeed; sarva-srashöa-the creator of all; na-not; tu-but; jivah-the individual spirit soul; svajnanena-by his own knowledge; sva-shaktya-by his own power; eva-indeed; iti-thus; ayatam-attained.

By the descriptions in various parts of the scriptures, the philosophy of atheism and impersonalism is soundly refuted, and the philosophy of theism and devotion is firmly established. In this way it is seen that the Supreme Personality of Godhead is creator of all. By his own knowledge and his own power the individual spirit soul does not have the power to create.

Text 27

tad uktam shri-badarayanenapi bahutra samjna-murti-klptis tu tri-vritkurv ata upadeshat ity adishu.

tat-that; uktam-said; shri-badarayanena-by Shri Vyasadeva; api-also; bahutra samjna-murti-klptis tu tri-vritkurv ata upadeshat ity adishu-Vedanta-sutra 2.4.21.

That the Supreme Personality of Godhead is the creator of the world is confirmed by Shri Vyasadeva in the following words of Vedanta-sutra (2.4.20):

samjna-murti-klptis tu tri-vritkurv ata upadeshat

"The Supreme Personality of Godhead created the world. That is the teaching of the scriptures."

Text 28

atah tan-mano 'shrijata manah prajapatim ity adau manah-shabdena samashöi-mano-'dhishöhata shriman aniruddha eva bahu syam prajayeya tat-sankalpa eva va vacyah.

atah-then; tan-manah-the mind; ashrijata-created; manah-mind; prajapatim-Brahma; iti-thus; adau-beginning; manah-manah; shabdena-by the word; samashöi-mano-'dhishöhata-the oerigin of all minds; shriman-Shri ; aniruddha-Aniruddha; eva-indeed; bahu-many; syam-I will be; prajayeya-I will father children; tat-sankalpa-that desire; eva-indeed; va-or; vacyah-to be said

That the Supreme Personality of Godhead is the creator of the world is also described in these words of the scriptures:

"The Supreme Personality of Godhead created mind, and mind created the demigod Brahma."

Here the word "manah" (mind) refers to Lord Aniruddha, the presiding Deity who controls all minds.

That the Supreme Personality of Godhead is the creator of the world is also described in these words of the Chandogya Upanishad (6.2.3):

"The Supreme Personality of Godhead then thought: Let Me become many. I will father the many living entities."

In this way it is said that the material world was created by the Supreme Lord's desire.

Text 29

sa ca satya-svabhavikacintya-shaktih parameshvaras tuccha-mayikam api na kuryat. cintamaninam adhipatih svayam cintamanir eva va kuöa-kanakadi-vat.

sa-that; ca-and; satya-svabhavikacintya-shaktih-the inconceivable potency; parameshvarah-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; tuccha-insignificant; mayikam-maya; api-also; na-not; kuryat-may do; cintamaninam-of cintamani jewels; adhipatih-the king; svayam-personally; cintamanih-cintamani; eva-indeed; va-or; kuöa-kanakadi-vat-like false gold or other like things.

As the king of cintamani jewels does not create false gold, so the Supreme Personality of Godhead, who is master of inconceivable transcendental potencies, does not directly create the insignificant illusory potency called maya.

Text 30

tatha ca madhva-bhashya-pramanita shrutih athainam ahuh satya-karmeti satyam hy evedam vishvam ashrijata iti.

tatha-so; ca-and; madhva-bhashya-pramanita-quoted in Shri Madhva Acarya's commentary; shrutih-Sruti; atha-now; enam-Him; ahuh-say; satya-karma-whose actions are true; iti-thus; satyam-real; hi-indeed; eva-indeed; idam-this; vishvam-material world; ashrijata-created; iti-thus.

In his commentary, Shri Madhvacarya quotes the following words of the Shruti-shastra:

"the sages say that whatever the Supreme Lord creates is real. Therefore the material world is also a reality."

Text 31

evam ca

satya-vratam satya-param tri-satyam satyasya yonim nihitam ca satye satyasya satyam rita satya-netram satyatmakam tvam sharanam prapannah

evam-thus; ca-and; satya-vratam-the Supreme Personality of Godhead, who never deviates from His vow; satya-param-whom is the Absolute Truth (as stated in the beginning of Shrimad-Bhagavatam, satyam param dhimahi); tri-satyam-He is always present as the Absolute Truth, before the creation of this cosmic manifestation, during its maintenance, and even after its annihilation; satyasya-of all relative worlds, which are emanations from the Absolute Truth, Krishna; yonim-the cause; nihitam-entered; ca-and; satye-in the five factors that create this material world (namely the five elements - earth, water, fire, air, and ether); satyasya-of all that is accepted as the truth; satyam-the Lord is the original truth; rita-satya-netram-He is the origin of whatever truth is pleasing (su-nteram); satyatmakam-everything pertaining to the Lord is truth (sac-cid-ananda- His body is truth, His knowledge is truth, and His pleasure is truth); tvam-unto You; sharanam-offering full surrender; prapannah-we are completely under Your protection.

That the material world is real for it is created by the Lord is also affirmed by the following prayer (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.2.26):

"O Lord, You never deviate from Your vow, which is always perfect because whatever You decide is perfectly correct and cannot be stopped by anyone. Being present in the three phases of cosmic manifestation-creation, maintenance, and annihilation-You are the Supreme Truth. Indeed, unless one is completely truthful, one cannot achieve Your favor, which therefore cannot be achieved by hypocrites. You are the active principle, the real truth, in all the ingredients of creation, and therefore You are known as Antaryami, the inner force. You are equal to everyone, and Your instructions apply for everyone, for all time. You are the beginning of all truth. Therefore, offering our obeisances, we surrender unto You. Kindly give us protection."*

Text 32

ity atra satya-sankalpatvam satya-parayanatvam shrishöy-adi-lila-trayeshu satyatvam. satyasya vishvasya karanatvam. satya eva vishve 'sminn antaryamitaya sthitatvam. satyasya tasya satyata-hetutvam. satyavacanasyavyabhicari-drishöesh ca pravartakatvam. satya-rupatvam ity etesham arthanam akritam paripati ca sangacchate.

iti-thus; atra-here; satya-sankalpatvam-whose desires are always fulfilled; satya-parayanatvam-being devoted to the truth; shrishöy-adi-beginning with creation; lila-trayeshu-in three pastimes; satyatvam-truth; satyasya-of the truth; vishvasya-of the universe; karanatvam-the state of being the cause; satya-truth; eva-indeed; vishve-in the universe; 'sminn-in this; antaryamitaya-as the antaryami; sthitatvam-situated; satyasya-of the truth; tasya-of this; satyata-of truth; hetutvam-the state of being the cause; satya-vacanasya-of the word "truth"; avyabhicari-withotu wavering; drishöh-from the vision; ca-and; pravartakatvam-the state of being the creator; satya-rupatvam-the form of the truth; iti-thus; etesham-of them; arthanam-meanings; akritam-done; paripaöi-arrangement; ca-and; sangacchate-attains.

In this verse it is said that because the Supreme Personality of Godhead is devoted to the truth, and because all His desires are at once fulfilled, therefore the Lord's pastimes of creating, maintaining, and destroying the material worlds is a reality. It is the truth. In this verse the first "satyasya" means "of the material world, which is real because the Supreme Lord is its creator", "satye" means "in the material world, which is real because the Supreme Personality of Godhead stays within it as the Supersoul", and the second "satyasya" means "of the material world, which is real because the Supreme Lord is the origin from whence it has come". Thus it is said here that the Supreme Personality of Godhead is the creator of the material world, which is again and again described here as real (satya). That is the meaning of these words.

Text 33

anyatha satyasya yonim ity adau traye tatrapi nihitam ca satya ity atrakasmad ardha-jaratiya-nyayena kashöa-kalpanamayarthantare tu bhagavata sva-pratishrutam satya-kritam yat tat-tad-yuktam evety ato brahmadibhis tasya tatha stave svarasya-bhangah syat. prakrama-bhangash ca. tasmad satyam eva vishvam iti sthitam. shrutayah shri-bhagavantam.

anyatha-otherwise; satyasya yonim ity adau-beginning with the words "satyasya yonim; traye-in three; tatrapi-still; nihitam-entered; ca-and; satya-truth; iti-thus; atra-here; akasmat-suddenly; ardha-jaratiya-nyayena-by the analogy of the half-old lady; kashöa-kalpanamayartha-in a difficult meaning; antare-in another; tu-indeed; bhagavata-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; sva-pratishrutam-own promise; satya-kritam-made truth; yat-what; tat-tad-yuktam-with that; eva-indeed; iti-thus; atah-then; brahmadibhih-by the demigods headed by Brahma; tasya-of this; tatha-then; stave-in the prayer; svarasya-bhangah-breaking the suitability; syat-is; prakrama-bhangah-breaking the sequence; ca-and; tasmad-from that; satyam-truth; eva-indeed; vishvam-the universe; iti-thus; sthitam-situated; shrutayah-the Personified Vedas; shri-bhagavantam-to the Supreme Personality of Godhead.

The three words statements "satyasya yonim", "nihitam", and "satye" affirm that the material world is real. Only with a very labored and unnatural interpretation can one avoid accepting this truth. Also, one cannot accept the other statements of the scriptures and reject this statement. The scriptures must be accepted as a whole, without accepting some parts and rejecting others. This is explained in the example of ardha-jaratiya-nyaya. In this way it is affirmed that the Lord keeps His promise and the material world is a reality. To interpret this verse in any other way would break the logical and grammatical sense of this verse, which was spoken by Brahma and the demigods. In this way it is proved that the material world is real,. The verse quoted in the beginning of this anuccheda was spoken by the Personified Vedas to the Supreme Personality of Godhead.

Text 1

tad evam na yad idam agra asa ity anena prakrita-laye 'pi sat-karya-vade 'nugamitah. atyantike tu moksha-lakshana-laye na prithivy-adinam nashah. jiva-kritena tatha bhavana-matrena svabhavika-paramatma-shakti-mayanam tesham nashayukteh.

tat-that; evam-thus; na yad idam agra asa ity anena-in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.87.37; prakrita-laye-in material destruction; 'pi-also; sat-karya-vade-in the philosophy that the material world is real; 'nugamitah-is accepted; atyantike-greatly; tu-indeed; moksha-lakshana-laye-in destruction characterized by liberation; na-not; prithivy-adinam-of the elements beginning with earth; nashah-destruction; jiva-kritena-done by the individual spirit souls; tatha-so; bhavana-matrena-simply by imagination; svabhavika-paramatma-shakti-mayanam-consisting of the natural potency of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; tesham-of them; nasha-destruction; ayukteh-because of being illogical.

In Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.87.27) it is said:

"The cosmic manifestation, because of the flickering nature of its impermanent existence, appears to less-intelligent men to be false."*

In this way it is understood that even after the time of cosmic devastation, the material energy continues to exist. Here the word "cosmic devastation" refers to liberation from the material world. It does not describe the destruction of the element earth and the other material elements. Therefore it is not at all logical to say that the material elements, which are all potencies of the Supreme Personality of Godhead, can be destroyed by the imagination or the whim of individual spirit souls.

Text 2

labdha-moksheshu shri-parikshid-adisu tad-deha-sthanam api prithivy-ady-amsanam sthiteh shravanat tatha hiranyagarbhamsanam buddhy-adinam api bhavishyati. atas teshv adhyasa-parityaga evatyantika-laya ity ucyate.

labdha-obtained; moksheshu-liberation; shri-parikshid-adisu-beginning with Shri Pariksit; tad-deha-sthanam-the place of the body; api-also; prithivy-adi-beginning with earth; amsanam-of parts; sthiteh-from the situation; shravanat-by hearing; tatha-so; hiranyagarbhamsanam-of the parts of Hiranyagarbha; buddhy-adinam-beginning with intelligence; api-also; bhavishyati-will be; atas-then; teshv-in them; adhyasa-residence; parityaga-renunciation; eva-indeed; atyantika-great; laya-devastation; iti-thus; ucyate-is said.

In the scriptures' description of how King Parikshit and other great souls attained liberation it is said that the soul then leaves its home in the material body made of earth, intelligence, and a host of other ingredients that are part and parcel of the Hiranyagarbha (universal form). This departure of the soul from the material body is called "the great devastation".

Text 3

ata eva

ghaöe bhinne ghaöakasha akashah syad yatha pura evam dehe mrite jivo brahma sampadyate punah. ity atra.

ata eva-therefore; ghaöe-pot; bhinne-broken; ghaöakasha-the sky within the pot; akashah-sky; syat-is; yatha-as; pura-before; evam-thus; dehe-the body; mrite-dead; jivah-the soul; brahma-spirit; sampadyate-attains; punah-again; iti-thus; atra-here.

This great devastation is also described in these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (12.5.5 and 12.5.11-12):

"When a pot is broken, the portion of the sky within the pot remains as the element sky, just as before. In the same way, when the gross and subtle bodies die, the living entity within resumes his spiritual identity."

Text 4

tatha

evam samikshya catmanam atmany adhaya nishkale dashantam takshakam pade lelihanam vishananaih na drakshyasi shariram ca vishvam ca prithag atmanah tatha-so; evam-thus; samikshya-seeing; ca-and; atmanam-self; atmani-in theself; adhaya-accepting; nishkale-pure; dashantam-biting; takshakam-Taksaka; pade-in the foot; lelihanam-licking; vishananaih-with poison mouths; na-not; drakshyasi-you will see; shariram-body; ca-and; vishvam-material universe; ca-and; prithag-different; atmanah-from the self.

"Thus resigning yourself to the Supreme Soul, who is free from all material misidentifications, you will not even notice the snake-bird Takshaka when he approaches you with his poison-filled fangs and bites your foot. Nor will you see your dying body or the material world around you, because you will have realized yourself to be separate from them."

Text 5

ity atrapy upadheh samyoga eva parityajyate. na tu tasya mithyatvam pratipadyate. tatha hi buddhindriyety adi prakaranam. tatra tad-ashrayatva-tat-prakashyatva-tad-avyatiriktatvebhyo hetubhyo buddhindriyadinam paramatma-svabhava-shakti-mayatvam aha iti-thus; atra-here; api-also; upadheh-of the material designation; samyoga-contact; eva-indeed; parityajyate-is rejected; na-not; tu-but; tasya-of that; mithyatvam-falsity; pratipadyate-is accepted; tatha-so; hi-indeed; buddhindriyety adi-beginnignw ith intelligence and senses; prakaranam-explanation; tatra-there; tad-ashrayatva-the shelter of that; tat-prakashyatva-to be manifested; tad-avyatiriktatvebhyah-different from that; hetubhyah-from the causes; buddhindriyadinam-beginning with the intelligence and senses; paramatma-svabhava-shakti-mayatvam-consisting of the potency of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; aha-said.

Because the soul in this way leaves all contact with the material body, it is seen that the material body is not an illusion. In another place in Shrimad-Bhagavatam, where the intelligence, senses, and other aspects of the material body are discussed, it is said that the intelligence, senses, and other parts of the material body are all manifested from the potency of the Supreme Personality of Godhead, for they have Him as their ultimate basis and their creator, and because they are, in one sense, not different from Him. This is described in the following words (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 12.4.23):

Text 6

buddhindriyartharupena jnanam bhati tad-ashrayam drishyatvavyatirekabhyam ady-anta-vad avastu yat buddhi-intelligence; indriya-senses; artha-rupena-sense objects; jnanam-knowledge; bhati-manifests; tad-ashrayam-shelter; drishyatva-making visible; avyatirekabhyam-non-difference; ady-anta-vat-possessing beginning and end; a-vastu-insubstantial; yat-what.

"It is the Absolute Truth alone who manifests in the forms of intelligence, the senses, and the objects of sense perception, and who is their ultimate basis. Whatever has a beginning and an end is insubstantial because of being an object perceived by limited senses and because of being non-different from its own cause."

Text 7

antahkarana-bahih-karana-vishaya-rupena paramatma-lakshanam jnanam eva bhati. tasmad ananyad eva buddhy-adi-vastv ity arthah. yatas tad ashrayam tesham ashraya-rupam taj jnanam. klibatvam arsham.

antahkarana-internal senses; bahih-karana-external senses; vishaya-rupena-with the range of perception; paramatma-lakshanam-characterized by the Supersoul; jnanam-knowledgd; eva-indeed; bhati-ios manifested; tasmad-from that; ananyat-without another; eva-indeed; buddhy-adi-vastv-beginning with intelligence; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; yatah-from which; tat-that; ashrayam-shelter; tesham-of them; ashraya-rupam-as the shelter; taj-that; jnanam-knowledge; . klibatvam-neuter; arsam-the poetic license of the sages.

Here the words "jnanam bhati" means "the Supreme Personality of Godhead manifests as the internal and external senses". This means that the Supreme Lord is, in one sense, not different from them. Here the word "tad-ashrayam" means that the Supreme Lord is the shelter in which they rest. The use of the neuter gender in this word is the poetic license of the sages.

Text 8

tathapi raja-bhrityayor ivatyanta eva bhedah syat. tatra hetv-antare 'py aha drishyatvam tat-prakashyatvam. avyatirekas tad-vyatireke 'vyatirekas tabhyam.

tathapi-still; raja-of a king; bhrityayoh-and a servant; iva-like; atyanta-great; eva-indeed; bhedah-difference; syat-is; tatra-there; hetv-antare-in another reason; 'pi-also; aha-said; drishyatvam-drtsyatvam; tat-prakashyatvam-the manifestor of that; avyatirekah-not different; tad-vyatireke-different; 'vyatirekah-not different; tabhyam-by both.

As a king and a servant are very different, so the Lord is very different from these, His creations. Here the word "drishyatva" means "He who manifests", and "avyatirekah" means simultaneously one and different".

Text 9

tasmat eka-desha-sthitasyagner jyotsna vistarini yatha ity adi vad buddhy-adinam tat-svabhavika-shaktimayatvam eva setsyatiti bhavah.

tasmat-therefore; eka-desha-sthitasyagner jyotsna vistarini yatha ity adi-Shri Vishnu Purana 1.22.55; vat-like; buddhy-adinam-beginning with the intelligence; tat-svabhavika-shaktimayatvam-being His own potency; eva-indeed; setsyatiti bhavah-is the meaning.

This described in the following words of Shri Vishnu Purana (1.22.55):

"Just as the illumination of a fire, which is situated in one place, is spread all over, the energies of the Supreme Personality of Godhead, the Parabrahman, are spread all over this universe."*

In this way it is seen that the intelligence, senses, and other ingredients of the material body are all manifested from the potency of the Supreme Personality of Godhead. That is the meaning.

Text 10

yat khalv ady-antavad vanig-vithy-adau siddham shukty-adau kadacid evaropitam rajatam tat punar avastu tad-ashrayakatva-tat-prakashyatva-tad-vyatirekabhavat shukty-adi-vastu na bhavati. shukty-adibhyo 'nanyan na bhavatity arthah.tatash caika-vijnanena sarva-vijnana-pratijna virudhyeteti bhavah. evam asat-karya-vadantare 'pi jneyam.

yat-what; khalv-indeed; ady-antavat-possessing a beginning and an end; vanig-vithy-adau-beginning with the path of merhcnats; siddham-proved; shukty-adau-beginning with the seashell; kadacid-sometimes; eva-indeed; aropitam-artificial imposition; rajatam-silver; tat-taht; punah-again; avastu-insubstantial; tad-ashrayakatva-the shelter of that; tat-prakashyatva-the manifestor of that; tad-vyatireka-not different from that; abhavat-because of the non-existence; shukty-adi-vastu-things that begin with the seashell; na-not; bhavati-is; shukty-adibhyah-beginning with the seashell; 'nanyan-not different; na-not; bhavati-is; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; tatah-then; ca-and; eka-vijnanena-with one knowledge; sarva-vijnana-pratijna-all-knowing; virudhyeta-is refuted; iti-thus; bhavah-the meaning; evam-thus; asat-karya-vadantare-different from the view that the materisl world is unreal; 'pi-also; jneyam-to be understood.

Here the words "ady-anta-vad avastu" indicate that the material world is not an illusion, like the illusion of silver that glitters on a seashell. The example of the seashell is not appropriate, for the seashell is not the shelter or manifestor of the world, nor is it, in one sense, non-different from the world. Therefore this example cannot be used to describe the Supreme Personality of Godhead and the material world. In this way the theory of they who assert that the material world is unreal is refuted.

Text 1

ekasyapi vastuno "msa-bhedenashrayashrayitvam svayam eva drishöantena spashöayati

ekasya-of mone; api-aslo; vastunah-in truth; amsa-a part; bhedena-with the difference; ashraya-shelter; ashrayitvam-the status of they who take shelter; svayam-personally; eva-indeed; drishöantena-by an example; spashöayati-clarifies.

That the Supreme Lord, who is the shelter of all, is in one sense not different from all of existence, which takes shelter of Him, is clearly explained by the following example given by Shrimad-Bhagavatam (12.4.24):

Text 2

dipash cakshush ca rupam ca jyotisho na prithag bhavet evam dhih khani matrash ca na syur anyatamad ritat

dipah-lamp; cakshuh-eyes; ca-and; rupam-form; ca-and; jyotishah-of light; na-not; prithag-different; bhavet-may be; evam-thus; dhih-intelligence; khani-sky; matrash-the sense objects; ca-and; na-not; syuh-are; anyatamat-from what is different; ritat-different.

"A lamp, the eye that views by the light of that lamp, and the visible form that is viewed are all basically non-different from the element fire. In the same way, intelligence, the senses, and sense perceptions have no existence separate from the supreme reality, although that Absolute Truth remains totally distinct from them."

Text 3

dipash cakshu-rupanam maha-bhuta-jyotir-amsa-rupatvad dipadikam na tatah prithak. evam dipa-prabhritini ritat pramatmano na prithak syuh. tathapi yatha maha-bhuta-jyotir dipadi-doshena na lipyate. tatha buddhy-adi-doshena paramatmapi. tadvad asyapy anyatamatvad ity aha anyatamad iti.

dipah-lamp; cakshu-rupanam-of eyes; maha-bhuta-jyotir-amsa-rupatvad-because having the nature of a particle of light; dipadikam-beginning with the lamp; na-not; tatah-from that; prithak-different; evam-thus; dipa-prabhritini-beginning with the lamp; ritat-different; pramatmanah-from the Supreme Personality of Godhead; na-not; prithak-different; syuh-are; tathapi-still; yatha-as; maha-bhuta-jyotih-the great light; dipadi-doshena-with the defect of the lamps and other things; na-not; lipyate-is touched; tatha-so; buddhy-adi-doshena-with the fault of the things that begin with intelligence; paramatma-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; api-also; tadvat-in the same way; asya-of that; api-also; anyatamatvad-because of being different; iti-thus; aha-said; anyatamat-different; iti-thus.

Here the words "na prithak" mean "A lamp, the eye that views by the light of that lamp, and the visible form that is viewed are all basically non-different from the element fire." "Na prithak" also means "In the same way, intelligence, the senses, and sense perceptions have no existence separate from the supreme reality." Still, the Supreme Lord is not touched by any of the defects present in the lamp, the intelligence, or any other like thing. That is why this verse declares that the Supreme Lord is also different from His creation (anyatamat).

Anuccheda 74

Text 1

tad evam dhi-prabhritinam paramatma-svabhavika-shaktimayatvam uktva tathapi tebhyo bahiranga-shaktimayebhyo 'ntaranga-shakti-taöastha-shakti-vishishöa-paramatmano 'nyatamatvena tesham ashuddhatva-vyanjanaya sadoshatvam uktva teshu dhi-prabhritishu adhyasam pratiyajayitum tisrsu dhi-vrittishu tavac chuddhasyaiva jivasya sakaranam adhyasam aha tat-that; evam-thus; dhi-prabhritinam-beginning with intelligence; paramatma-svabhavika-shaktimayatvam-consisting of the potency of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; uktva-saying; tathapi-still; tebhyah-from them; bahiranga-shaktimayebhyah-made of the Lord's ecternal potency; 'ntaranga-shakti-the internal potency; taöastha-shakti-marginal potency; vishishöa-specific; paramatmanah-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; 'nyatamatvena-by being different; tesham-of them; ashuddhatva-of impurity; vyanjanaya-manifesting; sadoshatvam-defect; uktva-saying; teshu-in them; dhi-prabhritishu-beginning with intelligence; adhyasam-residence; pratiyajayitum-to abandon; tisrsu-three; dhi-vrittishu-in the actions of the intelligence; tavac-to that extent; chuddhasya-pure; eva-indeed; jivasya-of the individual spoirit soul; sakaranam-with the senses; adhyasam-redience; aha-said.

Although it has been said that the intelligence and other ingredients of the material body are all manifested from the Supreme Lord's own potency, still these ingredients of the material body are the Lord's external potency, which is different from the Lord's internal potency and from the marginal potency, which is the individual spirit souls. The external potency is impure and full of faults. That is why the pure spirit soul leaves its home in the material body. The material body is described in these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (12.4.25):

Text 2

buddher jagaranam svapnah sushuptir iti cocyate maya-matram idam rajan nanatvam pratyag atmani buddheh-of intelligence; jagaranam-wakefulness; svapnah-dream; sushuptih-drwamless sleep; iti-thus; ca-also; ucyate-is said; maya-the maya potency; matram-alone; idam-this; rajan-O king; nanatvam-variety; pratyag-different; atmani-in the self.

"The three states of intelligence are called waking consciousness, dream, and dreamless sleep. O king, these various states are all manifested from the Lord's maya potency."

Text 3

buddhi-vritti-rupam jagaranam svapnah sushuptir itidam pratyag atmani shuddha-jive vishva-taijasa-prajnatvakhyam nanatvam maya-matram maya-kritadhyasa-matrena jatam ity arthah.

buddhi-vritti-rupam-the activities of the intelligence; jagaranam-waking; svapnah-sleep; sushuptih-dreamless sleep; iti-thus; idam-this; pratyag-different; atmani-in the self; shuddha-jive-in the pure spirit soul; vishva-taijasa-prajnatvakhyam-called material consciousness; nanatvam-variety; maya-matram-made of the maya potency; maya-krita-made by maya; adhyasa-residence; matrena-only by; jatam-manifested; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning.

Here the words "jagaranam svapnah sushuptir iti idam" describe the activities of the intelligence, "pratyag-atmani" means "in the pure spirit soul", "nanatvam" means "material consciousness", and "maya-matram" means "made of the maya potency". That is the meaning.

Anuccheda 75

Text 1

tatah paramatmani buddhy-adi-mayasya jagatah sato 'pi samparkah sutaram nastity aha tatah-then; paramatmani-in the Supreme Personality of Godhead; buddhy-adi-mayasya-made of the material features that begin with the intelligence; jagatah-of the material universe; satah-real; 'pi-although; samparkah-union; sutaram-greatly; na-not; asti-is; iti-thus; aha-said.

Although the material world, which consists of the intelligence and many other like ingredients, rests within Him, the Supreme Personality of Godhead remains nevertheless untouched and unaffected by it. This is described in the following words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (12.4.26):

Text 2

yatha jaladhara vyomni bhavanti na bhavanti ca brahmanidam tatha vishvam avayavy-udayapyayat

yatha-as; jaladhara-clouds; vyomni-in the sky; bhavanti-are; na-not; bhavanti-are; ca-and; brahmani-in the Supreme Personality of Godhead; idam-this; tatha-so; vishvam-material universe; avayavi-because of creation; udayapyayat-and destruction.

"As in the sky sometimes there are clouds and sometimes there are no clouds, so in the Supreme Personality of Godhead sometimes there is a material world and sometimes there is not. This is because sometimes the material world is manifested and sometimes it is dissolved."

Text 3

yatha vyomni vyoma-karya-vayu-jyotih-salila-parthivamsha-dhuma-parinata jaladharah svesham evavayavinam udayad bhavanti drishyante. apyayan na bhavnti na drishyante ca. te ca tan na sprishantity arthah. tatha brahmanidam vishvam iti yojyam. avayavi sthula-rupam vishvam. udayah purushottama-drishöi-jatah spashöi-bhavah. apyayas tad-drishöi-nimilana-jatas tad-viparyayah. tatah sukshma-rupena tasya sthitir asty eva. jagac chakti-visishöa-karanastitvat.

yatha-as; vyomni-in the sky; vyoma-sky; karya-effect; vayu-wind; jyotih-light; salila-water; parthiva-earth; amsha-particles; dhuma-smoke; parinata-transformed; jaladharah-clouds; svesham-own; eva-indeed; avayavinam-whole; udayat-creation; bhavanti-is; drishyante-seen; apyayan-from destruction; na-not; bhavnti-is; na-not; drishyante-is seen; ca-and; te-they; ca-and; tan-to them; na-not; sprishanti-touch; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; tatha-so; brahmani-in the Supreme Personality of Godhead; idam-this; vishvam-universe; iti-this; yojyam-is appropriate; avayavi-the whole; sthula-rupam-the great form; vishvam-the universe; udayah-manifestation; purushottama-drishöi-jatah-born from the glance opf the Supreme Personality of Godhead; spashöi-bhavah-made clear; apyayah-dissolkution; tad-drishöi-nimilana-jatah-born from closing His eyes; tad-viparyayah-the opposite of that; tatah-then; sukshma-rupena-with a subtle form; tasya-of that; sthitih-continued existence; asti-is; eva-indeed; jagac-the universe; chakti-visishöa-karanastitvat-because of being one the the Supreme Personality of Godhead's potencies.

Here the words "yatha jaladhara vyomni" mean "as in the sky there are many clouds, which consist of wind, light, water, dust, and smoke manifested from the sky", "bhavanti" means "are seen to be manifested from the whole, and are thus visible", and "na bhavanti" means "are not manifested, and are thus invisible". In this way the clouds do not directly touch or affect the sky itself. that is the meaning. The words "brahmanidam tatha vishvam" are appropriate as part of this example. "Avayavi" means "the great form of the universe", "udaya" means "manifested from the Supreme Lord's glance", and "apyaya" means "dissolved when the Supreme Lord closes His eyes". Even after it is dissolved, the material world continues to exist in a subtle state. This is so because it is one of the Supreme Lord's potencies.

Text 4

ittham evoktam sato 'bhivyanjakah kalah iti.

ittham-in this way; eva-indeed; uktam-said; sato 'bhivyanjakah kalah iti-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.24.19.

This is described in the following words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (11.24.19):

"Time thus manifests the material world, which is real and eternal."

Anuccheda 76

Text 1

tad evam vaktum karanastitvam drishöantena pratipadayati tat-that; evam-thus; vaktum-to say; karanastitvam-as thw cause; drishöantena-with an example; pratipadayati-shows

That the Supreme Personality of Godhead is the cause of the material world is shown by the following example (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 12.5.27):

Text 2

satyam hy avayavah proktah sarvavayavinam iha vinarthena pratiyeran paöasyevanga tantavah

satyam-truth; hi-indeed; avayavah-whole; proktah-said; sarvavayavinam-of all parts; iha-here; vina-without; arthena-with the manifestation; pratiyeran-perceived; patasya-of cloth; iva-like; anga-O dear one; tantavah-treads.

"the Absolute truth is the origin of all. As threads may be seen as separate from the whole cloth, so the creation may be seen to be separate from the Supreme Lord."

Text 3

sarvesham avayavinam sthula-vastunam avayavah karanam satyam satyo vyabhicara-rahitah proktah. loke tatha darshanad ity aha vineti. arthena sthula-rupena patenapi vina.

sarvesham-of all; avayavinam-not the whole; sthula-vastunam-of great things; avayavah-the whole; karanam-the cause; satyam-truth; satyah-truth; vyabhicara-rahitah-without change; proktah-said; loke-in the world; tatha-so; darshanat-from seeing; iti-thus; aha-said; vina-without; iti-thus; arthena-arthena; sthula-rupena-with the gross form; paöena-by cloth; api-also; vina-without.

Here "sarvavayavinam" means of all the gross ingredients of the material world". "avayavah" means "the cause", "satyam" means "the Absolute Truth", and "proktah" means "is said to be changeless". Then an example from the material world is given. "Vina arthena" means "as the entire cloth is different".

Anuccheda 77

Text 1

tasmin kartastitvam api vyatirekena pratipadayati tasmin-in that; kartastitvam-the status as creator; api-also; vyatirekena-with different; pratipadayati-shows.

That the Lord is the Supreme Creator is also described in these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (12.4.28):

Text 2

yat samanya-visheshabhyam upalabhyeta sa bhramah

yat-what; samanya-the same; visheshabhyam-and different; upalabhyeta-is perceived; sa-that; bhramah-a mistake.

"It is a mistake to think in terms of the whole and the part."

Text 3

ayam arthah. yady evam ucyate. purvam sukshmakarenaapi jagan nasit. kintu samanyam kevalam shuddham brahmaivasit tad eva shaktya nimitta-bhutaya visheshakarena jagad-rupena parinatam iti. tad asat. yato yad eva samanya-visheshabhyam upalabhyeta sa bhramo vivarta-vada eva. tatra hi shuddham brahmaivajnana-rupaya shaktya jagat taya vivritam iti matam. na casmakam tad-abhyupapattih. parinama-vadasya sat-karyata-purvakatvad ity arthah.

ayam-this; arthah-the meaning; yadi-if; evam-thus; ucyate-is said; purvam-before; sukshmakarena-in a subtle form; api-also; jagan-the universe; na-not; asit-was; kintu-however; samanyam-equality; kevalam-only; shuddham-pure; brahma-Brahman; eva-indeed; asit-was; tat-that; eva-indeed; shaktya-with the potency; nimitta-bhutaya-the cause; visheshakarena-with a specific form; jagad-rupena-with the form of the universe; parinatam-transformed; iti-thus; tat-that; asat-asat; yatah-from which; yat-which; eva-indeed; samanya-visheshabhyam-the same and different; upalabhyeta-is perceived; sa-that; bhramah-mistake; vivarta-vada-the theory of transformation; eva-indeed; tatra-there; hi-indeed; shuddham-pure; brahma-Brahma; aeva-indeed; ajnana-of ignorance; rupaya-with the nature; shaktya-with the potency; jagat-the universe; taya-by that; vivritam-manifested; iti-thus; matam-thought; na-not; ca-and; asmakam-of us; tad-abhyupapattih-agreement; parinama-vadasya-of the theory of transformation; sat-real; karyata-the nature of the effect; purvakatvad-from before; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning.

Here is the meaning. Someone may say: "Before the creation the material world did not exist in a subtle form. At that time only the pure Supreme Brahman existed. Then, by the agency of His own potency, the Supreme Brahman transformed Himself into the material world. Therefore the material world is not real. It is an illusion." This theory, called vivarta-vada (the theory of transformation), is expounded here in the words "samanya-visheshabhyam upalabhyeta sa bhramah". According to this theory the Supreme Brahman employs His potency of ignorance to manifest the material world. We do not accept this theory of transformation. the actual truth, that the material world is indeed real, has already been proved in this book.

Anuccheda 78

Text 1

nanv apurvam eva karyam arambha-vivarta-vadinam iva yushmakam api jayatam. tatraha nanv-is it not so; apurvam-not before; eva-indeed; karyam-the effect; arambha-vivarta-vadinam-of they who say in the beginning there was a transformation; iva-like; yushmakam-of us; api-also; jayatam-is born; tatra-there; aha-said.

Here someone may protest: "The effect cannot exist before it is manifested. Therefore we agree with the vivarta-vada (theory of transformation)."

If this protest is said, then the following answer is given by Shrimad-Bhagavatam (12.5.28):

Text 2

anyonyapashrayat sarvam adyanta-vad avastu yat.

anyonya-mutual; apashrayat-because of dependence; sarvam-all; adyanta-vat-p"ossessing beginning and end; avastu-insubstantial; yat-what.

"The whole and the part depend on each other for existence. Therefore all that has a beginning and an end is insubstantial."

Text 3

yad ady-anta-vad apurvam karyam tat punar avastu nirupanasaham ity arthah. tatra hetuh anyonyapashrayat. yavat karyam na jayate. tavat karanatvam mric-chukty-ader na sidhyati. karanatvasiddhau ca karyam na jayata eveti paraspara-sapekshatva-doshat. tatah karanatva-siddhaye karya-shaktis tatravashyam abhyupagantavya. sa ca karya-suksh mavasthaiveti karyastitvam sidhyati. tathapi sthula-rupata-padakatvan mrd-adeh karanatvam api sidhyatiti bhavah.

yat-what; ady-anta-vat-possessing a beginning and an end; apurvam-not before; karyam-the effect; tat-that; punah-again; avastu-is said; nirupana-description; asaham-unable; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; tatra-there; hetuh-the reason; anyonyapashrayat-because of mutual dependence; yavat-as far as; karyam-effect; na-not produced; jayate; tavat-to that extent; karanatvam-the status of the cause; mric-chukty-adeh-beginning with the potency of earth; na-not; sidhyati-is proved; karanatva-of being the cause; asiddhau-in the lack of proof; ca-and; karyam-effect; na-not; jayata-is produced; eva-indeed; iti-thus; paraspara-sapekshatva-doshat-because of the defect of mutual dependence; tatah-then; karanatva-siddhaye-to prove the status as the cause; karya-effect; shaktih-potency; tatra-there; avashyam-unavoidably; abhyupagantavya-to be agreed; sa-that; ca-and; karya-effect; suksh mavastha-the subtle nature; eva-indeed; iti-thus; karyastitvam-the status as effect; sidhyati-is proved; tathapi-nevertheless; sthula-rupata-the gross form; padakatvan-because of the manifestation; mrd-adeh-beginning with earth; karanatvam-the status as the cause; api-also; sidhyati-is proved; iti-thus; bhavah-the meaning.

Here the words "yad ady-anta-vat" mean "the effect, which does not exist before it is manifested", "avastu" means "which cannot be described". The reason for this is given in the word "anyonyapashrayat" (because of mutual dependence). This means that as long as the effect is not manifested, the cause of earth and the other material elements, is not really complete in its existence, and if the cause does not exist, then the effect cannot be manifested. therefore cause and effect are dependent on each other. Therefore, the Lord's potency, which is the effect, must be accepted to exist along with its cause, the Supreme Lord, in order for the Lord to exist in completeness. In this way it is proved that even after the material universe is dissolved, the material world continues to exist in a subtle form. In this way it is proved that the Supreme Personality of Godhead is the original cause of the material world, which is made of the element earth and a host of other ingredients.

Anuccheda 79

Text 1

tad evam svabhavika-shaktimayam eva paramatmano jagad ity upasamharati tat-that; evam-thus; svabhavika-shaktimayam-made of His opejn potenxcy; eva-indeed; paramatmanah-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; jagat-universe; iti-thus; upasamharati-withdraws.

That the material world is manifested from the potency of the Supreme Personality of Godhead is also explained in these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (11.4.29):

Text 2

vikarah khyayamano 'pi pratyag atmanam antara na nirupyo 'sty anur api syac cec cit sama atma-vat vikarah-transformation; khyayamanah-manifesting; 'pi-even; pratyag atmanam-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; antara-without; na-not; nirupyah-to be described; asti-is; anuh-atom; api-even; syac-may be; cec-if; cit-spirit; sama-equal; atma-vat-like the Supreme.

"It cannot be said that anything, even the smallest particle, exists that was not manifested from the Supreme Personality of Godhead. if something were manifested not from him, then that something would be His spiritual equal. It would be just like Him."

Text 3

yadyapi khyayamanah prakashamana eva tathapi svalpo 'pi vikarah pratyag atmanam paramatmanam vina tad-vyatirekena svatantrataya na nirupyo 'sti. tad uktam tad-ananyatva-vivarana eva. yadi ca tam vinapi syat tada cit-samah syac cid-rupena samah sva-prakasha evabhavishyat. atmavat paramatmavann ity aikavasthash cabhavishyat.

yadyapi-although; khyayamanah-khyamana; prakashamana-manifesting; eva-indeed; tathapi-still; svalpah-slight; 'pi-eveb; vikarah-change; pratyag atmanam-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; paramatmanam-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; vina-without; tad-vyatirekena-different from Him; svatantrataya-independently; na-not; nirupyah-to be said; 'sti-is; tat-that; uktam-said; tad-ananyatva-vivarana-as different from Him; eva-indeed; yadi-if; ca-and; tam-Him; vina-without; api-aslo; syat-is; tada-then; cit-samah-equal to spirit; syac-may be; cid-rupena-with a spiritual form; samah-equal; sva-prakasha-self manifested; eva-indeed; abhavishyat-may be; atmavat-like the Self; paramatmavann-like the Supreme Personality of Godhead; iti-thus; aikavasthah-one status; ca-and; abhavishyat-would be.

Here the word "khyayamanah" means "manifested", "vikarah" means "even a slight transformation", "pratyag atmanam antara" means "without the Supreme Personality of Godhead, different from Him, or independent of Him", and "na nirupyah" means "cannot be said". In this way it is said that the Supreme Personality of Godhead is, in one sense, not different from His creation. The words "syac cec cit sama atma-vat" mean "if something were manifested not from him, then that something would be His spiritual equal. It would be just like Him."

Text 1

nanu yadi paramatmanam vina vikaro nasti. tarhi paramatmanah sopadhitve nirupadhitvam na sidhyati. tasmāt sopadher nirupadhir anyā eva kim ity atraha nanu-is it not so?; yadi-if; paramatmanam-teh Supreme Personality of Godhead; vina-without; vikarah-transformation; na-not; asti-si; tarhi-then; paramatmanah-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; sopadhitve-the state of having a material body; nirupadhitvam-teh state of not having a material body; na-not; sidhyati-is proved; tasmāt-from that; sopadheh-with a body; nirupadhih-without a body; anyā-asnother; eva-indeed; kim-whether?; iti-thus; atra-here; aha-said.

Here someone may ask: "If no material changes occur unless they are begun by the Supreme Personality of Godhead, then the transcendental Supreme Personality of Godhead and the material universe are identical. Can the transcendental Supreme Lord be different from the material universe?"

If this question is asked, a reply may be given in these words (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 12.4.30):

Text 2

na hi satyasya nanatvam avidvan yadi manyate nanatvam chidrayor yadvaj jyotishor vatayor iva

na-not; hi-indeed; satyasya-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; nanatvam-variety; avidvan-ignorant; yadi-if; manyate-thinks; nanatvam-variety; chidrayor-of the two openings; yadvaj-as; jyotishor-of the two lights; vatayor-of the two winds; iva-like.

"Nothing is separate from the Supreme Personality of Godhead. Anyone who thinks the material world is separate from the Lord is a fool. The Supreme Lord and the material world are like two skies, two lights, or two winds."

Text 3

satyasya paramatmano nanatvam na hi vidyate. yadi tasya nanatvam manyate. tarhy avidvan. yatas tasya nirupadhitva-sopadhitva-lakshanam nanatvam mahakasha-ghaōakashayor yadvat tadvad grihangana-gata-sarva-vyapi-tejasor iva bahya-sharira-vayvor iva ceti.

satyasya-satyasya; paramatmano-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; nanatvam-variety; na-not; hi-indeed; vidyate-is; yadi-if; tasya-of Him; nanatvam-variety; manyate-thinks; tarhy-then; avidvan-foolish; yatas-from whom; tasya-of Him; nirupadhitva-not having a form; sopadhitva-having a form; lakshanam-characterized; nanatvam-variety; mahakasha-of the great sky; ghaōakashayor-of the sky within a pot; yadvat-as; tadvad-so; grihangana-gata-in a house; sarva-vyapi-present everywhere; tejasor-of light; iva-like; bahya-external; sharira-within the body; vayvor-wind; iva-like; ca-and; iti.

Here the words "na hi satyasya nanatvam" mean "there is not a variety of Supreme Personality of Godheads". The verse then explains, "If someone thinks there are, then that person is a fool". The verse then explains: "The difference between the Supreme Lord and the material world is like the difference between the entire sky and small amount of sky within a clay pot, or like the great sun that shines everywhere and a small lamp shining in a room, or like the wind that blows through the sky and the breath in a single body."

Anuccheda 81

Text 1

yasmat vikarah khyayamano 'pi pratyag-atmanam antara na nirupyo 'sty anur api. tasmāt sarva-shabda-vacyo 'pi sa eveti sa-drishāntam aha yasmat-because; vikarah khyayamano 'pi pratyag-atmanam antara na nirupyo 'sty anur api-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 12.4.29; tasmāt-therefore; sarva-shabda-vacyah-to be said by all words; api-also; sa-that; eva-indeed; iti-thus; sa-with; drishāntam-an example; aha-said.

In Shrimad-Bhagavatam (12.4.29) it is said:

"It cannot be said that anything, even the smallest particle, exists that was not manifested from the Supreme Personality of Godhead. If something were manifested not from him, then that something would be His spiritual equal. It would be just like Him."

This means that all words ultimately refer to the Supreme Personality of Godhead. To explain this truth the following example is given in Shrimad-Bhagavatam (12.4.31):

Text 2

yatha hiranyam bahudha pratiyate nribhiḥ kriyabhir vyavahara-vartmasu evam vacobhir bhagavan adhokshajo vyakhyayate laukika-vaidikair janaih yatha-as; hiranyam-god; bahudha-in many ways; pratiyate-is known; nribhiḥ-by people; kriyabhiḥ-by deeds; vyavahara-vartmasu-on the paths of actions; evam-thus; vacobhiḥ-by words; bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; adhokshajah-who is beyond the material senses; vyakhyayate-is called; laukika-ordinary; vaidikaih-and Vedic; janaih-by people.

"As gold is called by different names when it is fashioned into different objects, so the Supreme Personality of Godhead is called, in the Vedas and in ordinary speech, by many different names."

Text 3

kriyabhis tat-tad-racana-bhedair bahudha kataka-kundaladi-rupena yatha svarnam eva racobhis tat-tan-namabhiḥ pratiyate. tatha lauka-vaidikaih sarvair eva racobhir bhagavan eva vyakhyayate.

kriyabhih-by actions; tat-tad-racana-bhedaih-by different kinds of creation; bahudha-in many ways; kataka-kundaladi-beginning with belts and earrings; rupena-with the forms; yatha-as; svarnam-gold; eva-indeed; racobhih-by creation; tat-tan-namabhih-by various names; pratiyate-is known; tatha-so; lauka-vaidikaih-ordinary and Vedic; sarvaih-all; eva-indeed; racobhih-by creations; bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; eva-indeed; vyakhyayate-is called.

This verse means: "As gold, when fashioned into belts, earrings, and other ornaments, is called by different names, so the Supreme Personality of Godhead is called by different names in the Vedas and in ordinary speech."

Text 4

tad uktam sarva-namabhidheyash ca sarva-vededitash ca sah iti skande.

tat-that; uktam-said; sarva-namabhidheyah-called by all names; ca-and; sarva-veda-by all the Vedas; iditah-worshiped; ca-qand; sah-He; iti-thus; skande-in the Skanda Purana.

This is also described by the following words of the Skanda Purana:

"Every word that exists may be used as a name for the Supreme Personality of Godhead, who is worshiped by all the Vedas."

Anuccheda 82

Text 1

tad evam jagatah paramatma-svabhavika-shaktimayatvam uktva tena ca jiva-kartrikena jnanena tan-nashanashamarthyam vyajya mokshartham tad-adhyasa-parityagam upadeshöum paramatma-shakti-mayasyapi tasyopadhy-adhyasatmakasyahankarasya jiva-svarupa-prakashavarakatva-rupam dosham sa-drishöantam upapadayati tat-that; evam-thus; jagatah-of the universe; paramatma-svabhavika-shaktimayatvam-the state of being a potency of the p; uktva-saying; tena-by that; ca-and; jiva-kartrikena-as the creator of the individual souls; jnanena-by knowledge; tan-nashanashamarthyam-able to destroy that; vyajya-manifesting; mokshartham-for the purpose of liberation; tad-adhyasa-parityagam-abandoning the home; upadeshöum-to teach; paramatma-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; shakti-mayasya-consisting of the potency; api-also; tasya-of that; upadhi-body; adhyasa-home; atmakasya-consisting of; ahankarasya-of false ego; jiva-of the individual spirit soul; svarupa-own form; prakasha-manifestation; avarakatva-covering; rupam-form; dosham-fault; sa-drishöantam-with an example; upapadayati-teaches.

In this way it has been explained that the material world is a potency of the Supreme Personality of Godhead. Merely by attaining transcendental knowledge, the individual soul cannot attain liberation from the material world, for even then he remains covered by the Lord's potency of false-ego. An example is given to explain this in the following words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (12.4.32):

Text 2

yatha ghano 'rka-prabhavo 'rka-darshito hy arkamsha-bhutasya ca cakshusas tamah evam tv aham brahma-gunas tad-ikshito brahmamshakasyatmana atma-bandhanah yatha-as; ghanah-cloud; arka-prabhavah-manifested from the sun; arka-darshitah-visible by the sun; hi-indeed; arkamsha-bhutasya-a part and parcel of the sun; ca-and; cakshusah-of the eyes; tamah-darkness; evam-thusd; tv-indeed; aham-false ego; brahma-gunah-a quality of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; tad-ikshitah-visibly because of Him; brahmamshakasya-a part and parcel of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; atmanah-of the soul; atma-bandhanah-bondage.

"Although a cloud is a product of the sun and is also made visible by the sun, it nevertheless creates darkness for the viewing eye, which is another partial expansion of the sun. Similarly, material false ego, a particular product of the Absolute Truth made visible by the Absolute Truth, obstructs the individual soul, another partial expansion of the Absolute Truth, from realizing the Absolute Truth."

Text 3

arka-rashmaya eva megha-rupena parinata varshanti arka-rashmayah-rays of the sun; eva-indeed; megha-rupena-in the form of clouds; parinata-transformed; varshanti-shower rains.

Indeed, the sun's rays become transformed into clouds, and as clouds they shower rains. This is described in the following words of the scriptures:

Text 4

agnau prastahutih samyag adityam upatishöhate adityaj jayate vrishöir vrishöer annam tatah prajah iti vacanat.

agnau-in fire; prastahutih-offered oblations; samyag-properly; adityam-the sun; upatishöhate-worships; adityaj-from the sun; jayate-is born; vrishöih-rain; vrishöeh-from rain; annam-food; tatah-from that; prajah-the people; iti-thus; vacanat-from the words.

"By offering oblations in the fire, one worships the sun-god, for from the sun come rains, from rains come food, and by food the people are nourished."

Text 5

ayam arthah. yatharka-prabhavo 'rkenaiva darshitah prakashitash ca ghano nivido meghe 'rkamshabhutasya cakshusas tamo divi bhumau ca mahandhakara-rupo bhavati. evam aham prakritahankaro brahma-gunah paramatma-shakti-karya-bhutas tad-ikshitas tenaiva paramatmana prakashitash ca. brahmamshakasya taöastha-shakti-rupatvat paramatmano yo hinamshas tasyatmano jivasyatma-bandhanah svarupa-prakashavarako bhavati.

ayam-this; arthah-the meaning; yatha-as; arka-prabhavah-born from the sun; arkena-by the sun; eva-indeed; darshitah-revealed; prakashitah-manifested; ca-and; ghanah-cloud; nividah-thick; meghah-cloud; arkamsha-bhutasya-a part and parcel of the sun; cakshusah-of the eye; tamah-darkness; divi-in the sky; bhumau-on the ground; ca-and; mahandhakara-rupah-great darkness; bhavati-is; evam-thus; aham-false ego; prakrita-material; ahankarah-ego; brahma-gunah-the quality of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; paramatma-shakti-karya-bhuta-created by a potency of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; tad-ikshitah-seen; tena-by that; eva-indeed; paramatmana-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; prakashitah-manifested; ca-and; brahmamshakasya-of a part and parcel of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; taöastha-shakti-rupatvat-because of being the marginal potency; paramatmanah-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; yah-who; hinamshah-a small part; tasya-of him; atmanah-the soul; jivasyatma-bandhanah-the bondage of the individual spirit soul; svarupa-own form; prakasha-manifestation; avarakah-concealing; bhavati-is.

This is the meaning: The words "yatharka-prabhavah" mean "manifested from the sun", "ghanah" means "thick clouds", "arkamsha-bhutasya cakshusas tamah" means "darkness that obscures the vision of the eye, which is a partial expansion of the sun, on the ground and in the sky", "evam aham" means "material false ego", "brahma-gunah" means "manifested from a potency of the Supreme Personality of Godhead", "ikshitah" means "manifested from the Supreme Personality of Godhead", "brahmamshakasya" means "the marginal potency, which is a tiny part-and-parcel of the Supreme Personality of Godhead", and "atmana atma-bandhanah" means "which covers the real identity of the individual spirit soul".

Anuccheda 83

Text 1

sa cadhyasa-parityagah svato na bhavati. kintu paramatma-jijnasaya tat-prabhavenaiveti vaktum purvavad eva drishöanta-paripaöim aha sa-that; ca-and; adhyasa-home; parityagah-leaving; svatah-personally; na-not; bhavati-is; kintu-however; paramatma-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; jijnasaya-by knowledge; tat-prabhavena-produced from that; eva-indeed; iti-thus; vaktum-to say; purvavat-as before; eva-indeed; drishöanta-example; paripaöim-method; aha-said.

By his own power, the individual spirit soul cannot become free of his entanglement in the material world. However, when a soul becomes eager to know the truth of the Supreme Lord, the Lord Himself frees the soul from material bondage. This is described in the following example (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 12.4.33):

Text 2

ghano yadarka-prabhavo vidiryate cakshuh svarupam ravim ikshate tada yada hy ahankara upadhir atmano jijnasaya nashyati tarhy anusmaret ghanah-cloud; yada-when; arka-prabhavah-born from the sun; vidiryate-is torn apart; cakshuh-eye; svarupam-own form; ravim-sun; ikshate-sees; tada-then; yada-when; hi-indeed; ahankara-false ego; upadhih-material designation; atmanah-of the soul; jijnasaya-with eagerness to know; nashyati-perishes; tarhi-then; anusmaret-he remembers.

"When the cloud originally produced from the sun is torn apart, the eye can see the actual form of the sun. Similarly, when the spirit soul destroys his material covering of false ego by inquiring into the transcendental science, he regains his spiritual awareness."

Text 3

ghano yadarka-prabhavo vidiryate iti drishöantamshe tad-vidaranasya na cakshuh-shakti-sadhyatvam. kintu surya-prabhava-sadhyatvam iti vyaktam. anena darishöantike 'py atmanah paramatmano jijnasaya jatena tat-prasadenahankaro nashyati palayata ity atramshe purusha-jnana-sadhyatvam ahankara-nashasya khanditam. ato vivarta-vado nabhyupagatah.

ghanah-cloud; yada-when; arka-prabhavah-born from the sun; vidiryate-is broken; iti-thusd; drishöantamshe-in part of the example; tad-vidaranasya-of the brwaking of it; na-bot; cakshuh-shakti-sadhyatvam-in the power of the eyes; kintu-however; surya-prabhava-in ther power of the sun; sadhyatvam-ability; iti-thus; vyaktam-manifested; anena-by this; darishöantike-in the example; api-also; atmanah-of the self; paramatmanah-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; jijnasaya-by the desire to know; jatena-born; tat-prasadena-by His mercy; ahankarah-false ego; nashyati-perishes; palayata-flees; iti-thus; atra-here; amshe-in the part; purusha-jnana-sadhyatvam-attainable by knowledge of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; ahankara-nashasya-destruction of the false ego; khanditam-broken; atah-then; vivarta-vadah-the theory of transformation; na-not; abhyupagatah-supported.

In the example given here with the words "ghano yadarka-prabhavo vidiryate" it is seen that the eyes themselves are powerless to dispel the clouds. Only the sun has that power. In the second part of the example the word "atmanah" means "of the Supreme Personality of Godhead", "jijnasaya" means "when the desire to know is aroused, then the Supreme Lord gives His mercy", and "ahankaro nashyati" means "then the false ego flees". This means that the false ego perishes when one understands the Supreme Personality of Godhead. The impersonalists' theory of transformation is clearly not supported by this explanation.

Text 4

atra copadhir iti visheshanena svarupa-bhutahankaras tv anya eveti spashöi-bhutam. evam yatha drishöante ghanamaya-mahandhakaravaranaabhavat tat-prabhavena yogyata-labhac ca cakshuh kartri-bhutam svarupam karma-bhutam ikshate. sva-svarupa-prakasham astitvena janati. sva-shakti-prakaöyam labhata ity arthah.

atra-here; ca-and; upadhih-material designation; iti-thus; visheshanena-by the adjective; svarupa-bhuta-personal; ahankarah-false ego; tv-indeed; anya-another; eva-indeed; iti-thus; spashöi-bhutam-made clear; evam-thus; yatha-as; drishöante-in the exqample; ghanamaya-made of clouds; mahandhakara-darkness; avarana-covering; abhavat-because of the absence; tat-prabhavena-born from that; yogyata-suitability; labhac-because of the attainment; ca-and; cakshuh-eyes; kartri-bhutam-manifested as the doer; svarupam-own form; karma-bhutam-manifested as the deed; ikshate-sees; sva-svarupa-prakasham-manifested as the original form; astitvena-by the existence; janati-knows; sva-shakti-prakatyam-manifestation of His own potency; labhata-attains; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning.

Here the words "ca upadhih" mean "the false ego covering the individual spirit soul". This example explains that when the darkness of the clouds is removed, then the eyes (cakshuh) can see (ikshate) the original form (svarupam) of the soul. By thus seeing the original form of the soul, one understands the true nature of the soul. In this way the soul's original power is again openly manifested. That is the meaning.

Text 5

kadacit tad-ikshanonmukhah san ravim cekshate. tatha darishöantike 'py anusmaret. smartum anusandhatum yogyo bhavati. atmanam paramatmanam ceti sheshah.

kadacit-sometime; tad-ikshanonmukhah-eager to see; san-being so; ravim-the sun; ca-also; ikshate-sees; tatha-so; darishöantike-in the example; api-also; anusmaret-remembers; smartum-to remember; anusandhatum-to seek; yogyah-appropriate; bhavati-is; atmanam-atmanam; paramatmanam-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; ca-and; iti-thus; sheshah-the remainder.

Sometimes a person is so eager to see the sun that he sees the sun in his memory. Thus, in the second part of this example the word "anusmaret" (he remembers) means "seeing Him in his memory, a person searches for the Supreme Personality of Godhead".

Anuccheda 84

Text 1

nigamayati yadaivam etena viveka-hetina maya-mayahankaranatma-bandhanam chittvacutatanubhavo 'vatishöhate tam ahur atyantikam anga samplavam nigamayati-the scriptures declare; yada-when; evam-thus; etena-by this; viveka-hetina-with discrimination; maya-of illusion; maya-consisting; ahankarana-false ego; atma-of the soul; bandhanam-bondage; chittva-cutting; acyuta-of the infallible Supreme Personality of Godhead; atma-self; anubhava-perception; avatishöhate-remains; tam-that; ahuh-say; atyantikam-great; anga-O dear one; samplavam-devastation.

Seeing the Supreme Personality of Godhead and attaining liberation from the material world are also described in these words (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.4.34):

"By cutting the soul's bonds of false ego with the sword of intelligence, one can at last see the infallible Supreme Personality of Godhead. The sages say this vision is final liberation."

Text 2

etena purvokta-viveka-shastrena maya-mayeti visheshanam svarupa-bhukahankarasya vyavacchedartham.

avatishöhate sva-svarupenavasthito bhavati. na kevalam etavad eva. acyutatmanubhavah. acyute 'cyuta-namny atmani paramatmany anubhavo yasya tatha-bhuta eva sann avatishöhate. shri-sukah..

etena-by this; purvokta-previously said; viveka-intelligence; shastrena-with ther weapon; maya-maya-consisting of maya; iti-thus; visheshanam-modifying; svarupa-bhuta-personal; ahankarasya-of false ego; vyavaccheda-cutting; artham-for the purpose; avatishöhate-stays; sva-svarupena-with one's original form; avasthitah-situated; bhavati-is; na-not; kevalam-only; etavat-like that; eva-indeed; acyuta-of the infallible Supreme Personality of Godhead; atma-self; anubhavah-perception; acyute-infallible; acyuta-namni-the name Acyuta; atmani-in the atma; paramatmani-in the Supersoul; anubhavah-perception; yasya-of whom; tatha-bhuta-int hat way; eva-indeed; sann-being so; avatishöhate-stays; shri-sukah-Shri Shukadeva Gosvami.

Here the word "etena" (by this) refers to the previously mentioned sword, and "mayamaya" is an adjective modifying "ahankarana". The sword is meant for cutting the false ego. "Avatishöhate" means "situated in his original form". That is not all. There is also "acyutatmanubhavah" (direct perception of the Supreme Personality of Godhead). Here "acyuta" is a name of the Supreme Lord and "atma" means "the Supersoul". This verse was spoken by Shrila Shukadeva Gosvami.

Anuccheda 85

Text 1

atrayam apy ekesham pakshah. parameshvarasya shakti-dvayam asti. svarupakhyā mayakhyā ceti. purvaya svarupa-vaibhava-prakashanam. aparaya tv indrajalavattayaiva mohitebhyo jivebhyo vishva-shrishöy-adi-darshanam.

atra-here; ayam-this; api-also; ekesham-of some; pakshah-the opinion; parameshvarasya-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; shakti-dvayam-two potencies; asti-is; svarupakhyā-called personal; mayakhyā-called maya; ca-and; iti-thus purvaya-by the former; svarupa-personal; vaibhava-power and opulence; prakashanam-manifestation; aparaya-by the latter; tv-but; indrajalavattaya-like a mirage; eva-indeed; mohitebhyah-for the bewildered; jivebhyah-souls; vishva-of the material world; shrishöi-creation; adi-beginning; darshanam-sight.

Some philosophers assert that the Supreme Lord has two potencies: 1. His personal, internal potency, and 2. His maya potency. The former manifests the Lord's glory and opulence, and the latter creates, maintains, and destroys the material world, which is like a mirage to show the bewildered conditioned souls.

Text 2

drishyate caikasya nana-vidyavatah kasyapi tatha vyavaharah. na caivam advaita-vadinam ivedam apatitam. satyenaiva kartra satyam eva drashöharam prati satyayaiva taya shaktya vastunah sphoranat loke 'pi tathaiva drishyata iti bhavativ apidam nama.

drishyate-is seen; ca-also; ekasya-of one; nana-vidyavatah-because of various kinds of knowledge; kasyapi-of someone; tatha-then; vyavaharah-action; na-not; ca-also; evam-thus; advaita-vadinam-of the monists; iva-like; idam--this; apatitam-attained; satyena-by the truth; eva-certainly; kartra-by the doer; satyam-truth; eva-indeed; drashöharam-to the seer; prati-to; satyaya-true; eva-indeed; taya-by that; shaktya-potency; vastunah-in truth; sphoranat-from the manifestation; loke-in the world; api-also; tatha-so; eva-indeed; drishyata-is seen; iti-thus; bhavativ-may be; api-also; idam-this; nama-indeed.

It is the view of one group of philosophers that even material activities are ultimately real. The idea of the impersonalists. In truth the doer in the material world is real, the seer is real, and the Lord's potency by which all this is manifested in the material world is also real.

Text 3

yatah

satyam na satyam nah krishnapadabjamodam antara jagat satyam asatyam va ko 'yam tasmin duragrahah yatah-from whcih; satyam-real; na-not; satyam-real; nah-of us; krishna-of Lord Krishna; pada-feet; abja-lotus; amodam-fragrance; antara-without; jagat-tbe material world; satyam-real; asatyam-ureal; va-or; kah-what?; ayam-this; tasmin-in this; duragrahah-foolishly obstinate.

This affirmed by the following words of the scriptures:

"Who is such a fool that he wastes his time thinking: `Is the fragrance of Lord Krishna's lotus feet real or unreal? Is the material world real or unreal?' " tad etan-mate sata idam utthitam ity adi vakyani prayo yatha-öika-vyakhyanam eva jneyani. kvacit tat-kritanumanadau bheda-matrasyasattve prasakte vaikunöhadinam api tathatva-prasaktis tan-mate syad ity atra tu tesham ayam abhiprayah. vayam hi yal-loka-pratyakshadi-siddham vastu. tad eva tat-siddha-vastv antara-drishöantena tad-dharmakam sadhayamah.

Text 4

tat-that; etan-mate-in this view; sata idam utthitam ity adi vakyani-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.87.36; prayah-mostly; yatha-öika-vyakhyanam-according to the explanation in the commentary; eva-indeed; jneyani-to be understood; kvacit-somewhere; tat-kritanumanadau-beginning with that inference; bheda-matrasya-of the difference; asattve-in the non-existence; prasakte-attached; vaikunöhadinam-beginning with the spiritual world; api-also; tathatva-being like that; prasaktih-attachment; tan-mate-in that view; syat-is; iti-thus; atra-here; tu-but; tesham-of them; ayam-this; abhiprayah-meaning; vayam-we; hi-indeed; yal-loka-of thsoe poeple; pratyaksha-direct perceotion; adi-beginning; siddham-proved; vastu-thing; tat-that; eva-indeed; tat-that; siddha-proved; vastv-thing; antara-drishöantena-with another example; tad-dharmakam-the natur eof that; sadhayamah-we attempt.

This is also explained in Shrila Shridhara Svami's commentary on Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.87.36. Some thinks claim that not only is the material world is unreal, but even the spiritual world of Vaikunöha is also unreal. We, however, affirm that the spiritual world and the visible material world are both real. Later we will give an example to demonstrate this.

Text 5

yat tu tad asiddham shastra-vidvad-anubhavaika-gamya-tadrishatvam tat punas tad drishöanta-parardhadinapy anyatha-kartum na shakyata eveti. tatha jiveshvarabheda-sthapana ca cid-rupata-matra eveti. atha svabhavika-maya-shaktya parameshvaro vishva-shrishöy-adikam karoti. jiva eva tatra muhyatity uktam. tatra sandeham prashnottarabhyam pariharaty ashöabhih yat-what; tu-indeed; tat-that; asiddham-unrpoved; shastra-vidvat-like one who knows the scriptures; anubhava-direct perception; eka-one; gamya-to be attained; tadrishatvam-being like that; tat-that; punah-again; tat-that; drishöanta-example; parardha-parardha; adina-beginning with; api-also; anyatha-kartum-to make otherwise; na-not; shakyata-is able; eva-indeed; iti-thus; tatha-so; jiva-of the individual spirit soul; ishvara-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; abheda-non-difference; sthapana-proving; ca-also; cid-rupata-spiritual nature; matrah-only; eva-indeed; iti-thus; atha-now; svabhavika-maya-shaktya-by the internal potency and the maya potency; parameshvarah-in the Supreme Personality of Godhead; vishva-of the material world; shrishöi-creation; adikam-beginning; karoti-does; jiva-the individual spirit soul; eva-indeed; tatra-there; muhyati-is bewildered; iti-thus; uktam-said; tatra-there; sandeham-doubt; prashnottarabhyam-with question and answer; pariharati-removes; ashöabhih-with eight verses.

even if they give many millions of examples, the most learned impersonalists still cannot prove their theory, or make the truth anything other than it is. The truth is that the Supreme Personality of Godhead and the individual spirit souls are one only in the sense that they are all spiritual in nature. Otherwise, they are different. For example the Supreme Personality of Godhead creates the material world, and the individual spirit souls residing in the material world are bewildered. Any doubts about the truth that the Supreme Personality of Godhead and the individual spirit souls are different will be removed by the questions and answers in the following eight verses of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (3.7.2-9) quoted and explained in this and the following anucchedas. The first of these verses is given here (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 3.7.2):

Text 6

shri-vidura uvaca

brahman katham bhagavatas cin-matrasyaavikarinah lilaya capi yujyeran
nirgunasya gunah kriyah

shri-vidura uvaca-Vudra said; brahman-O brahmana; katham-how?; bhagavatah-of the Personality of Godhead; cin-matrasya-of the complete spiritual whole; avikarinah-of the unchangeable; lilaya-by His pastime; ca-either; api-even though it is so; yujyeran-take place; nirgunasya-who is without the modes of nature; gunah-modes of nature; kriyah-activities.

Shri Vidura said: O great brahmana, since the Supreme Personality of Godhead is the complete spiritual whole and is unchangeable, how is He connected with the material modes of nature and their activities? If this is His pastime, how do the activities of the unchangeable take place and exhibit qualities without the modes of nature?"*

Text 7

he brahman cin-matrasya cin-matra-svarupasya svatah svarupa-shaktya bhagavatah shri-vaikunöhadi-gata-tadrishaishvaryadi-yuktasya ata eva nirgunasya prakrita-gunasprishöasyata eva cavikarinas tadrisk-svarupa-shakti-vilasa-bhutanam kriyanam anantanam api sadaditvatvarananta-vidha-prakashe tasminn ity asiddhatvat tat-tat-kriyavirbhava-kartus tasyavasthantara-praptatvabhavat prakrita-kartur iva na vikarapattir iti.

he-O; brahman-brhmana; cin-matrasya-spiritual; cin-matra-svarupasya-whose form is spiritual; svatah-personally; svarupa-shaktya-by His personal potency; bhagavatah-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; shri-vaikunöhadibeginning with Shri Vaikuntha; gata-attained; tadrisha-like that; aishvarya-opulences; adibeginning; yuktasya-endowed; ata eva-therefore; nirgunasya-without material modes; prakrita-guna-the material modes; asprstasya-untouched; ata eva-therefore; ca-also; avikarinah-unchangeable; tadrish-like this; svarupa-personal; shakti-potency; vilasa-pastimes; bhutanam-manifested; kriyanam-activities; anantanam-limitless; api-even; sadoditvara-quick manifestation; ananta-vidha-limitless; prakashe-manifestation; tasminnin that; iti-thus; asiddhatvat-because of being unproved; tat-tat-kriya-of various activities; avirbhavamanifestation; kartuh-doing; tasya-of that; avastha-situation; antara-another; praptatva-attainment; abhavat-because of the absence; prakrita-material; kartuh-of the creator; iva-like; na-not; vikarapattih-possessing transformations; iti-thus.

Here the word "brahmna" means "O brahmana", "cin-matrasya" means "whose form is spiritual", "bhagavatah" means "whose powers and opulences are manifested by His own internal potency in the spiritual world of Vaikunöha and in other places", "nirgunasya" means "who is not touched by the material modes of nature", and "ca avikarinah" means "whose limitless forms, potencies, and pastimes are not subject to material changes, like those of the residents of the material world".

Text 8

nirvikarasya ca katham sattvadayah prakrita-gunah. katham va tad-asanga-hetukah sthity-adayah kriyash ca yujyeran. tatash ca cin-matra-vastu-virodhad eva te ca tash ca n ayujyante. bhagavattve tu svairaceshöayapi na yujyerann ity aha lilaya vapiti.

nirvikarasya-changeless; ca-and; katham-how?; sattvadayah-beginning with goodness; prakrita-gunah-material modes; katham-how?; va-or; tad-asanga-hetukah-the reason for non-contact; sthity-adayah-beginning with maintenance; kriyah-actions; ca-and; yujyeran-take place; tatah-then; ca-and; cin-matra-spiritual; vastu-substance; virodhat-because of contradiction; eva-indeed; te-they; ca-and; tah-they; ca-and; na-not; yujyante-take place;. bhagavattve-in the status of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; tu-but; svaira-ceshöaya-with independent activities; api-even; na-not; yujyerann-take place; iti-thus; aha-said; lilaya-with pastimes va-or; api-also; iti-thus.

Here the question is asked: "How is it possible that the Lord, who is not subject to material changes, has some connection with the material modes of nature, which begin with goodness?" Then this question is asked: "If the Supreme Lord has no contact with the material modes, then how is the material universe created, maintained, and destroyed?" Because the Supreme Personality of Godhead is spiritual in nature, it cannot be said that He is in contact with the material modes, for that contact would contradict His spirituality. Still, the material modes have no power to act independently, without the influence of the Supreme Lord. These questions are answered here with the words "lilaya vapi" (this is His pastime).

Text 9

atravikaritva-nirgunatvabhyam saha cin-matratvam bhagavattvam cety ubhayam api svi-kriyaiva purvapakshina prishöam. tatash ca tasya cin-matrasvarupasya bhavatu bhagavattvam. tatrasmakam na sandehah. kintu tasya katham itara-gunadi-svikaro yujyata ity eva pricchata iti vakarthah.

atra-here; avikaritva-the state of being changeless; nirgunatva-the state of being beyond the touch of the material modes; abhyam-with both; saha-with; cin-matratvam-spirituality; bhagavattvam-the status of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; ca-and; iti-thus; ubhayam-both; api-also; svi-kritya-accepting; eva-indeed; purva-pakshina-by the opponent; prishöam-asked; tatah-then; ca-also; tasya-of Him; cin-matra-spiritual; svarupasya-nature; bhavatu-may be; bhagavattvam-the status of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; tatra-there; asmakam-of us; na-not; sandehah-doubt; kintu-however; tasya-of that; katham-how?; itara-gunadi-beginning with other modes; svikarah-acceptance; yujyata-is; iti-thus; eva-indeed; pricchata-askign; iti-thus; vakya-of the words; arthah-the meaning.

Here the person asking the question accepts the truth that the Supreme Personality of Godhead is spiritual in nature, is free of material change, and is not touched by the material modes of nature. Here he says, "We have no doubt that the Supreme Personality of Godhead is spiritual and has a spiritual form. Still, how is it that He has some contact with the modes of material nature?" That is the meaning of his question.

Anuccheda 86

Text 1

tatash cin-matratve bhagavattve ca tasya tuccha gunah kriyash ca na sambhavanty eveti dvi-guni-bhuyaiva prashnah. kim carbhakaval lilapi na yujyate vaishamyad ity aha tatah-then; cin-matratve-spiritual; bhagavattve-in the Supreme Personality of Godhead; ca-and; tasya-of Him; tuccha-insignificant; gunah-material modes; kriyah-activities; ca-also; na-not; sambhavanti-are possible; eva-indeed' iti-thus; dvi-guni-bhuya-becoming doubled; eva-indeed; prashnah-question; kim ca-furtherore; arbhakavat-like a child; lila-pastimes; api-also; na-not; yujyate-is endgaged; vaishamyat-because of being inappropriate; iti-thus; aha-said.

Because He is perfectly spiritual, the Supreme Personality of Godhead does not engage in ordinary insignificant material activities that are impelled by the modes of nature. This truth is repeated again in the following question, which asserts that it is illogical to assume that the Supreme Lord would play in the same way an ordinary material child would play (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 3.7.3):

Text 2

kridayam udyamo 'rbhasya kamash cakridishanyatah svatas triptasya ca katham nivrityasya sadanyatah

kridayam-in the matter of playing; udyamah-enthusiasm; arbhasya-of the boys; kamah-desire; cakridisha-willingness to play; anyatah-with other boys; svatas-triptasya-for one who is self satisfied; ca-also; katham-what for?; nivrityasya-one who is detached; sada-at all times; anyatah-otherwise.

"Boys are enthusiastic to play with other boys or with various diversions because they are encouraged by desire. But there is no possibility of such desire for the Lord because He is self-satisfied and detached from everything at all times."*

Text 3

udyamayati pravartayati udyamah. arbhakasya kridayam pravritti-hetuh kamo 'sti. anyatas tu vastv-antarena balantara-pravartanena va tasya krideccha bhavati. bhagavatas tu svatah svenatmana svarupa-vaibhavana ca triptasya ata evanyatah sada nivrittasya ca katham anyato jivaj jagatash ca nimittat cikridisheti.

udyamayati-is enthusiastic; pravartayati-impells; iti-thus; udyamah-enthusiasm; arbhakasya-of a boy; kridayam-in playing; pravritti-hetuh-the cause of action; kamah-desire; asti-is; anyatah-others; tu-but; vastv-antarena-another thing; balantara-other boys; pravartanena-by the cause; va-or; tasya-of him; krideccha-the desire to play; bhavati-is; bhagavatah-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; tu-but; svatah-self; svenatmana-by Himself; svarupa-vaibhavana-by His own potencies; ca-also; triptasya-satisfied; ata eva-therefore; anyatah-other; sada-always; nivrittasya-detached; ca-and; katham-how?; anyatah-others; jivaj-individual spirit souls; jagatah-of the material world; ca-and; nimittat-from the cause; cikridisha-the desire to play; iti-thus.

Here the word "udyamah" means "what impels one to act". Here it is said that desire (kamah) is the cause of boys' playing (arbhakasya kridayam). "Anyatah" means either "other things" or "other boys". In this way there is a desire to play. The verse then says, "However, the Supreme Personality of Godhead is already satisfied (triptasya) with His own (svatah) glories and opulences and powers, and therefore He is always detached from all else. How (katham), then, is it possible that He could desire to play (cikridisha) with the conditioned souls residing in the material world (anyatah)?"

Anuccheda 87

Text 1

na ca tasya te gunas tah kriyash ca na vidyanta ity apalapaniyam. tatraiva prasiddher ity aha na-not; ca-and; tasya-of Him; te-they; gunah-modes of nature; tah-they; kriyah-activities; ca-and; na-not; vidyanta-are; iti-thus; apalapaniyam-not to be said; tatra-there; eva-indeed; prasiddheh-from the proof; iti-thus; aha-said.

In this way it is affirmed that the Supreme Lord performs no material activities and is not influenced by the material modes. This is also confirmed by the following words (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 3.7.4):

Text 2

asrakshid bhagavan vishvam guna-mayyatma-mayaya taya samsthapayaty etad bhuyah pratyapidhasyati asrakshit-caused to create; bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; vishvam-the universe; guna-mayya-endowed with three modes of material nature; atma-self; mayaya-by the potency; taya-by her;

samsthapayati-maintains; etat-all these; bhuyah-then again; pratyapidhasyati-conversely dissolves also.

"By His self-sheltered potency of the three modes of material nature, the Lord has caused the creation of this universe. By her He maintains the creation and conversely dissolves it, again and again."*

Text 3

guna-mayya traigunya-vyanjinya atmashritaya mayaya samsthapayati palayati pratyapidhasyati pratilaumyena tirohitam karishyati.

guna-mayya-guna-mayya; traigunya-vyanjinya-manifesting the three modes; atmashritaya-taking shelter of the Self; mayaya-by the maya potency; samsthapayati-establishes; palayati-protects; pratyapidhasyati-dissolves; pratilaumyena-with dissolution; tirohitam-dissolution; karishyati-will do.

Here the word "guna-mayya" means consisting of the three modes", "atma-mayaya" means "by His own potency", "samsthapayati" means "He protects", and "pratyapidhasyati" means "He will dissolve".

Anuccheda 88

Text 1

jivasya ca katham maya-mohitatvam ghaëetety akshepantaram aha jivasya-of the individual spirit soul; ca-also; katham-how?; maya-mohitatvam-the state of being bewildered by the illusory potency; ghaëeta-occurs; iti-thus; akshepa-hint; antaram-another; aha-said.

The question "How is it possible for the individual soul to be bewildered by the Lord's illusory potency maya?" is hinted in these words (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 3.7.5):

Text 2

deshatah kalato yo 'sav avasthatah svato 'nyatah aviluptavabodhatma
sa yujyeta-jaya katham

deshatah-circumstantial; kalatah-by the influence of time; yah-one who; asav-the living entity; avasthatah-by situation; svatah-by dream; anyatah-by others; avilupta-extinct; avabodha-consciousness; atma-pure self; sa-he; yujyeta-engaged; ajaya-with nescience; katham-how is it so?

"The pure soul is pure consciousness and is never out of consciousness, either due to circumstances, time, situations, dreams, or other causes. How, then, does he become engaged in nescience?"

Text 3

yo 'sau deshadiibhir aviluptavabodha atma jivah. sa katham ajayavidyaya yujyeta. tatra desha-vyavadhanato desha-gata-doshato va cakshuh-prakasha iva. kalato vidyud iva. avasthatah smritir iva. svatah sukti-rajatam iva. anyato ghaöadi-vastv iva na tasyavabodho lupyate. avyahata-svarupa-bhuta-jnanashrayatvad evety arthah.

yah-who; asau-he; deshadiibhir-beginning with place; aviluptavabodha-extinct consciousness; atma-atma; jivah-individual soul; sa-he; katham-how?; ajaya-ajnaya; avidyayaby nescience; yujyeta-is engaged; tatra-there; desha-vyavadhanatah-according to place; desha-gata-doshatah-because of the defect of the place; va-or; cakshuh-prakasha-the manifestation of the eyes; iva-like; kalatah-from time; vidyut-lightning; iva-like; avasthatah-situation; smritih-memory; iva-like; svatah-personally; sukti-rajatam-seashell and silver; iva-like; anyatah-another; ghaöadi-vastv-beginning weith clay pots; iva-like; na-not; tasya-of him; avabodhah-consciousness; lupyate-is interrupted; avyahata-svarupa-bhuta-jnana-uninterrupted knowledge; ashrayatvadbecause of being the shelter; eva-indeed; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning.

This verse explains that the individual soul (yo 'sau atma) is never out of consciousness (aviluptavabodhah) in any kind of circumstances. The question is asked: "How (katham) does he (sah) become engaged (yujyeta) in nescience (ajaya)?" Here "deshatah" means because of bad circumstances, or because of situation not favorable for the eyes", "kalatah" means "because of time, which passes like lightning", "avasthatah" means "because of the various situations, such as the condition of the memory", "svatah" means "because of dreams and illusions, such as the illusion of thinking the glittering on a seashell's surface is genuine silver", and "anyatah" means "because of other causes, as are seen in the example of the clay pot and other like examples". In this way the individual soul's consciousness is never interrupted (aviluptavabodhah). That is the meaning.

Anuccheda 89

Text 1

tatraiva virodhantaram aha tatra-there; eva-indeed; virodha-problem; antaram-another; aha-said.

Another problem is described in these words (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 3.7.6):

Text 2

bhagavan eka evaisha
sarva-kshetreshv avasthitah amushya durbhagatvam va klesho va karmabhih kutah bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; eka-alone; eva esha-all these; sarva-all; kshetreshv-in the living entities; avasthitah-situated; amushya-of the living entities; durbhagatvam-misfortune; va-either; kleshah-miseries; va-or; karmabhih-by activities; kutah-what for?

"The Lord, as the Supersoul, is situated in every living being's heart. Why then do the living entities' activities result in misfortune and misery?"*

Text 3

esha eka eva bhagavan paramatmapi sarva-kshetreshu sarvasya jivasya kshetreshu deheshv avasthitah. tatra sati katham amushyaiva jivasya durbhagatvam svarupa-bhuta-jnanadi-lopah karmabhih klesash ca tasya va kuto nasti. na hy ekasmin jaladau sthitayor vastunoh kasyacit tat-samsargah kasyacin neti yujyata iti arthah.

esha-He; eka-one; eva-indeed; bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; paramatma-the Supersoul; api-also; sarva-kshetreshu-in all living entities; sarvasya-of all; jivasya-living entities; kshetreshu-in the fields; deheshv-in the bodies; avasthitah-situated; tatra-there; sati-being so; katham-how?; amushya-of him; eva-indeed; jivasya-the individual spirit soul; durbhagatvam-misfortune; svarupa-bhuta-jnanadi-lopah-interruption of natural spiritual knowledge; karmabhih-by activities; klesah-suffering; ca-and; tasya-of him; va-or; kutah-from where?; na-not; asti-is; na-not; hi-indeed; ekasmin-in one; jaladau-beginning with water; sthitayoh-situated; vastunoh-of the substance; kasyacit-of something; tat-samsargah-creation of that; kasyacin-of something; na-not; iti-thus; yujyata-is engaged; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning.

Here the words "bhagavan eka evaisha" refer to the Supersoul. "Sarva-kshetreshv avasthitah" means "situated in the material bodies of all conditioned souls". The verse then asks: "Why (kutah) then do the living entities (amushya) activities (karmabhih) result in misfortune (durbhagatvam) and misery (kleshah)?" The meaning of this verse is: "As two things cannot occupy the same point in space, either in water or land, so these two propositions cannot both be true."

Anuccheda 90

Text 1

atra kevalam cin-matratvam na sambhavatiti bhagavattvam evangi-kriya shri-maitreya uvaca atra-here; kevalam-only; cin-matratvam-spiritual nature; na-not; sambhavati-is possible; iti-thus; bhagavattvam-the nature of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; eva-indeed; angi-kriya-accepting; shri-maitreya-Shri Maitreya; uvaca-said.

The Supreme Personality of Godhead is not only spiritual in nature. He is also the master of all opulences. Shri Maitreya accepts this when he says (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 3.7.9):

Text 2

seyam bhagavato maya yan nayena virudhyate ishvarasya vimuktasya karpanyam uta bandhanam

sa iyam-such a statement; bhagavatah-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; maya-illusion; yan-that which; nayena-by logic; virudhyate-become contradictory; ishvarasya-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; vimuktasya-of the ever-liberated; karpanyam-insufficiency; uta-as also, what to speak of; bandhanam-bondage.

"Certain conditioned souls put forward the theory that the Supreme Brahman, or the Supreme Personality of Godhead, is overcome by illusion, or maya, and at the same time they maintain that He is unconditioned. This is against all logic."*

Text 3

yaya vishva-shrishöy-adikam bhavati. seyam bhagavato 'cintya-svarupa-shakter mayakhya shaktih. yad ya ca nayena tarkena virudhyate. tarkatitataya seyam apy acintyety arthah.

yaya-by which; vishva-shrishöy-adikam-beginning with the creation of the material universe; bhavati-is; sa iyam-that; bhagavatah-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; acintya-inconceivable; svarupa-personal; shakteh-of the potency; mayakhya-called maya; shaktih-the potency; yat-what; ya-which; ca-and; nayena-by logic; tarkena-by logic; virudhyate-is contradicted; tarkatitataya-beyond logic; sa iyam-that; api-also; acintya-inconceivable; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning.

Here the words "seyam bhagavato maya" mean "the Lord's potency that creates, maintains, and destroys the material worlds, a potency that is called maya and is manifested from the Lord's inconceivable internal potency". "Yan nayena virudhyate" means "This is against all logic". The meaning is that the Lord's inconceivable potency is beyond ordinary material logic.

Text 4

yadyapy evam dvayor apy acintyatvam. tathapi bhagavato mayety anena vyaktatvat svarupa-shakter antarangatvad bahirangaya mayaya gunaih sattvadibhis tat-karyaih sthapanadi-lilabhish ca nasau sprishyata ity arthah.

yadyapi-although; evam-thus; dvayoh-of the two; api-even; acintyatvam-inconceivability; tathapi-still; bhagavatah-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; maya-maya; iti-thus; anena-by this; vyaktatvat-because of being manifested; svarupa-shakteh-of the personal potency; antarangatvat-because of being internal; bahirangaya-external; mayaya-by maya; gunaih-by the modes; sattvadibhih-beginning with goodness; tat-karyaih-by their effects; sthapanadi-lilabhih-pastimes that begin with creation; ca-and; na-not; asau-this; sprishyata-is touched; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning.

Although the internal and external potencies of the Lord are both inconceivable, for the external potency maya is itself manifested from the internal potency, nevertheless the Supreme Personality of Godhead is not touched by maya's three material modes, which begin with the mode of goodness, nor is He touched by maya's pastimes of creating, maintaining, and destroying the material worlds. That is the meaning.

Text 5

tatra kevalam cin-matratvam na. tantrena cayam arthah. satyam parameshvare na te guna na ca tah kriyah. kintu yasyas te gunas tad-ashraya-balaya yaya ca kriyamanam karma tasminn aropyate. seyam tasya mayakhya bahiranga shaktih.

tatra-there; kevalam-only; cin-matratvam-spirit only; na-not; tantrena-by the arrangement; ca-also; ayam-this; arthah-the meaning; satyam-reality; parameshvare-in the Supreme Personality of Godhead; na-not; te-the; guna-modes; na-not; ca-and; tah-the; kriyah-material activities; kintu-however; yasyah-of which; te-the; gunah-modes; tad-ashraya-balaya-by taking shelter of Him; yaya-by which; ca-and; kriyamanam-acting; karma-action; tasminn-in that; aropyate-is artificially imposed; sa iyam-this; tasya-of Him; mayakhya-called maya; bahiranga-external; shaktih-potency.

The Supreme Personality of Godhead is not only spirit. Here is the meaning: Neither material activities nor the material modes have any influence over the Supreme Personality of Godhead. However because maya's material modes and material activities ultimately find their shelter in the Supreme Personality of Godhead, it is imagined that they have influence over Him. Here the words "seyam" mean "the Lord's external potency, which is called maya".

Text 6

tad uktam rte 'rtham yat pratiyeta ity adi.

tat-that; uktam-said; rte 'rtham yat pratiyeta ity adi-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 2.9.34.

The Supreme Lord describes the illusory potency maya in these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (2.9.34):

"O Brahma, whatever appears to be of any value, if it is without relation to Me, has no reality. Know it as My illusory energy, that reflection which appears to be in darkness."*

Text 7

tad eva vivrinoti yan nayeneti. yad ity avyayam. yad yaya tad-ashritayapi yena bhagavata saha na virudhyate. yaya bhagavan na virodha-vishayi-kriyata ity arthah.

tat-that; eva-indeed; vivrinoti-reveals; yan-what; nayena-by logic; iti-indeed; yat-what; iti-thus; avyayam-unchanging; yat-what; yaya-by which; tad-ashritaya-taking shelter of Him; api-also; yena-by whom; bhagavata-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; saha-with; na-not; virudhyate-is contradicted; yaya-by which; bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; na-not; virodha-vishayi-kriyata-is contradicted; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning.

The words in this verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 3.7.9, which was quoted in text 2 of this anuccheda) may also be divided "yan na yena virudhyate" instead of "yan ayena virudhyate" Interpreted in this way the word "yan" means "the maya potency, which takes shelter of the Supreme Lord", "na" means "not", "yena" means "by the Supreme Personality of Godhead", and "virudhyate" means "is contradicted." Interpreted in this way, the words mean "This is not against all logic".

Text 8

na hy abhasa-gatena kurvuratvadina calanadina va surya-mandalasya tat-tad-yogo viroddhum sakyata iti bhavah. etena vaishamya-patash ca parihritah.

na-not; hi-indeed; abhasa-gatena-attained the illusion; kurvratvadina-beginning with variety; calanadina-beginning with tricks; va-or; surya-mandalasya-of the sun; tat-tad-yogah-contacting; viroddhum-to contradict; sakyata-is able; iti-thus; bhavah-the meaning; etena-by this; vaishamya-patah-inconsistency; ca-and; parihritah-is removed.

Here (in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 2.9.34 quoted in text 6 of this anuccheda) the word "abhasah" (reflection) indicates that the rays of sunligh, even if they create colorful rainbows or bewildering mirages, never contradict or obscure the shining of the sun globe, which is their source. Thus in this interpretation of Shrimad-Bhagavatam 3.7.9, quoted in text 2 of this anuccheda) the idea of a contradiction or of illogic is denied.

Text 9

tad etat sarvam abhipretya seyam bhagavato maya ity anena ittham-bhuta-guno harih itivat tat-tat-svabhavaiveyam iti dhvanitam.

tat-this; etat-that; sarvam-all; abhipretya-intending; seyam bhagavato maya ity anena-by Shrimad-Bhagavatam 3.7.9; ittham-bhuta-guno harih iti-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.7.10; vat-like; tat-tat-svabhava-the nature of them; eva-indeed; iyam-this; iti-thus; dhvanitam-said.

In this way Shrimad-Bhagavatam 3.7.9 may be interpreted according to these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (1.7.10):

"The Lord possesses transcendental qualities and opulences."

Text 10

tad etad-arthasyanukulo 'yam api shabda-dhvani-lambhito 'rtha-visheshah sphurati. yatha nayena tarkena virudhyata iti. yat seyam bhagavato mayeti. yad yaya mayaya yena bhagavata saha na virudhyate. nasau virodha-vishayi-kriyata iti. yad va yena bhagavata na virudhyate. na sarvatha nirvishayi-kriyata iti ca.

tat-this; etat-that; arthasya-of the meaning; anukulah-favorable; ayam-this; api-also; shabda-dhvani-lambhitah-depending on the sound of the word; artha-meaning; visheshah-specific; sphurati-is manifested; yatha-as; nayena-by logic; tarkena-by logic; virudhyata-is contradicted; iti-thus; yat-what; sa iyam-this; bhagavatah-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; maya-maya; iti-thus; yat-what; yaya-by which; mayaya-maya; yena-by whom; bhagavata-Supreme Personality of Godhead; saha-with; na-not; virudhyate-is contradicted; na-not; asau-that; virodha-vishayi-kriyata-is in the realm of contradictions; iti-thus; yat-what; va-or; yena-by whom; bhagavata-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; na-not; virudhyate-is contradicted; na-not; sarvatha-in all respects; nirvishayi-kriyata-not in the realm of perception; iti-thus; ca-also.

If these words are interpreted "nayena virudhyate", they may mean "the Supreme Personality of Godhead cannot be understood by material logic". If the words are interpreted "na yena virudhyate" they may mean "the Supreme Personality of Godhead cannot be understood by taking shelter of His maya potency".

Text 11

evam eva shashöhe navamadhyaye duravabodha iva tavayam ity-adina gadyena tasya saguna-kartritvam virudhya punar atha tatra bhavan iti gadyenantaryamitaya guna-visarga-patitatvena jiva-vad bhoktritva-yogam sambhavya na hi virodha ubhayam ity adi gadyena tatra tatratarkya-shaktitvam eva ca siddhante yojitam.

evam-thus; eva-indeed; shashöhe-in the sixth canto; navamadhyaye-in the ninth chapter; duravabodha iva tavayam ity-adina-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 6.9.34; gadyena-in prose; tasya-of Him; saguna-kartritvam-the material doer; virudhya-refuting; punah-again; atha-then; tatra bhavan iti-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 6.9.35; gadyenantaryamitaya-prose; guna-visarga-patitatvena-as fallen into the world created by the material modes; jiva-vat-like the individual spirit soul; bhoktritva-yogam-the enjoyer; sambhavya-creating; na-not; hi-indeed; virodha-contradiction; ubhayam-both; iti-thus; adi-beginning; gadyena-prose; tatra-there; tatra-there; avitarkya-inconceivable; shaktitvam-with the potency; eva-indeed; ca-also; siddhante-in the conclusion; yojitam-appropriate.

In Shrimad-Bhagavatam (6.9.34) it is said:

"O Lord, You need no support, and although You have no material body, You do not need cooperation from us. Since You are the cause of the cosmic manifestation and You supply its material ingredients without being transformed, You create, maintain, and annihilate this cosmic manifestation by Yourself. Nevertheless, although You appear engaged in material activity, You are transcendental to all material qualities. Consequently, these transcendental activities of Yours are extremely difficult to understand."*

In this prose passage of Shrimad-Bhagavatam, it is clearly said that the Supreme Personality of Godhead does not perform material activities impelled by the material modes. In the next passage (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 6.9.35) it is said:

"These are our inquiries. The ordinary conditioned soul is subject to the material laws, and he thus receives the fruits of his actions. Does Your Lordship , like an ordinary human being, exist within this material world in a body produced by the material modes? Do You enjoy or suffer the good or bad results of actions under the influence of time, past work, and so forth? Or, on the contrary, are You present here only as a neutral witness who is self-sufficient, free from all material desires, and always full of spiritual potency? We certainly cannot understand Your actual position."*

In this prose passage of Shrimad-Bhagavatam the Lord's feature as the Supersoul is described and it is asked whether His presence in the material world of the three modes is like that of the conditioned souls who try to enjoy the material nature. In the next passage it is said:

"O Supreme Personality of Godhead, all contradictions can be reconciled in You. O Lord, since You are the Supreme Person, the reservoir of unlimited spiritual qualities, the Supreme Controller, Your unlimited glories are inconceivable to the conditioned souls. Many modern theologians argue about right and wrong without knowing what is actually right. Their arguments are always false and their judgments inconclusive because they have no authorized evidence with which to gain knowledge of You. Because their minds are agitated by scriptures containing false conclusions, they are unable to understand the truth concerning You. Furthermore, because of polluted eagerness to arrive at the right conclusion, their theories are incapable of revealing You, who are transcendental to their material conceptions. You are one without a second, and therefore in You contradictions like doing and not doing, happiness and distress, are not contradictory. Your potency is so great that it can do and undo anything as You like. With the help of that potency, what is impossible for You? Since there is no duality in Your constitutional position, You can do everything by the influence of Your energy."*

In this prose passage of Shrimad-Bhagavatam it is said that the Supreme Personality of Godhead has inconceivable potencies.

Text 12

tatra svarupa-shakter avitarkyatvam bhagavati ity adibhir visheshanair mayayash catma-mayam ity anena darshitam.

tatra-there; svarupa-shakteh-of the internal potency; avitarkyatvam-inconceivableness; bhagavati ity adibhih-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 6.9.36; visheshanaih-with adjectives; mayayah-of maya; ca-and; atma-mayam-atma-mayam; iti-thus; anena-by this; darshitam-shown.

That the Supreme Lord's potencies are inconceivable is confirmed by the descriptions that follow the word "bhagavati" in this prose passage of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (6.9.36).

Text 13

tatra svarupa-dvayabhavat ity asya tathapy acintua-shaktya tat-kartritvam tad-antah-patitvam vidyata ity arthah.

tatra-there; svarupa-dvayabhavat iti-in the words svarupa-dvayabhavat; asya-of this; tathapi-still; acintua-shaktya-of the inconceivable potency; tat-kartritvam-the doer of that; tad-antah-patitvam-falling within; vidyata-is; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning.

That the Supreme Lord employs His inconceivable potency to personally enter the material world is confirmed here (in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 6.9.36) by the use of the word "svarupa-dvayabhavat".

Text 14

sama-vishama-matinam iti tu gadyam tathapy uccavaca-buddhinam tatha tatha sphurasiti pratipatty-artham jneyam.

sama-vishama-matinam iti-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 6.9.37; tu-indeed; gadyam-prose; tathapi-still; uccavaca-high and low; buddhinam-who have intelligence; tatha-so; tatha-so; sphurasi-You manifest; iti-thus; pratipatty-artham-for the sake pf proof; jneyam-to be known.

In Shrimad-Bhagavatam (6.9.37) it is said:

"A rope causes fear for a bewildered person who considers it a snake, but not for a person with proper intelligence who knows it to be only a rope. Similarly You, as the Supersoul in everyone's heart, inspire fear or fearlessness according to one's intelligence, but in You there is no duality."*

The gist of this prose passage is: "O Lord, You appear in this world in order to enlighten the intelligent and the unintelligent."

Text 15

duravabodha iva iti praktana-gadye tu asharirah iti sharira-ceshōam vina. asharanah iti bhūmy-ady-ashrayam vinety arthah.

duravabodha iva iti-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 6.9.34; praktana-previous; gadye-prose; tu-but; asharirah iti-teh word "asarirah"; sharira-ceshōam-activities of the body; vina-without; asharanah-without shelter; iti-thus; bhūmy-ady-ashrayam-taking shelter of the earth or other things; vina-without; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning.

In Shrimad-Bhagavatam 6.9.34, which was quoted here (in text 11 of this anuccheda), the word "asharirah" means "free of having to perform the activities that must be performed by a material body", and "asharanah" means "not needing to take shelter of the earth or any other thing". That is the meaning.

Text 16

atha tatra ity adau sva-krite 'pi tasyapi hetu-kartritvad yojaniyam. tasmad atrapi svarupa-shakter eva pradhanyam darshitam.

atha tatra ity adau-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 6.9.35; sva-krite-done; api-even; tasya-of Him; api-also; hetu-kartritvat-because of being the creator; yojaniyam-is appropriate; tasmad-from that; atra-here; api-also; svarupa-shakteh-internal potency; eva-indeed; pradhanyam-primary importance; darshitam-is revealed.

In Shrimad-Bhagavatam 6.9.35 (quoted in text 11 of this anuccheda) it is hinted that the Lord employs His external potency to create the material world. For this reason the Lord's internal potency is superior to the external potency.

Text 17

ata eva rte 'rtham yat pratiyeta ity adau mayaya abhasa-sthaniyatvam pradarshya tad asprishyatvam eva bhagavato darshitam tvam adyah purushah sakshat ity adau mayam vyudasya cic-chaktya ity anena ca tatha jnapitam. maya paraity abhimukhe ca vilajjamana ity anena ca.

ata eva-therefore; rte 'rtham yat pratiyeta ity adau-in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 2.9.34; mayaya-of maya; abhasa-reflection; sthaniyatvam-situation; pradarshya-revealing; tat-that; asprishyatvam-untouchableness; eva-indeed; bhagavatah-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; darshitam-shown; tvam adyah purushah sakshat ity adau-in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.7.23; mayam-maya; vyudasya-vyudasya; cic-chaktya-cic-chaktya; iti-thus; anena-by this; ca-and; tatha-so; jnapitam-informed; maya paraity abhimukhe ca vilajjamana ity anena-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 2.7.47; ca-and.

In Shrimad-Bhagavatam (2.9.34) the Supreme Lord explains:

"O Brahma, whatever appears to be of any value, if it is without relation to me, has no reality. Know it as My illusory energy, that reflection which appears to be in darkness."*

In this way it is shown that the Lord's external potency, maya, is like a reflection. That the maya potency does not directly touch the Supreme Lord is described in these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (2.7.23):

"O Supreme Personality of Godhead, You have cast away the effects of the material energy by dint of Your spiritual potency."*

This also confirmed by these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (2.7.47):

"In the Supreme Personality of Godhead the illusory energy does not stand."*

Text 18

tad evam bhagavati tad-virodham parihritya jive 'py avidya-sambandhatvam atarkyatvena darshitaya tan-mayayaiva samadadhati. ishvarasyeti yad ity anenaiva sambadhyate. artha-vashad atra ca tritiyaya parinamyate.yad yaya ishvarasya svarupa-jnanadibhih samarthasya. ata eva vimuktasya jivasya karpanyam tat-tat-prakasha-tirobhavas tatha bandhanam tad-darshita-gunamaya-jala-praveshash ca bhavatiti.

tat-that; evam-thus; bhagavati-in the Supreme Personality of Godhead; tad-virodham-in contradiction; parihritya-removing; jive-in the individual spirit soul; api-also; avidya-ignorance; sambandhatvam-relationship; atarkyatvena-because of being inconceivable; darshitaya-by revelation; tan-mayaya-by His maya potency; eva-indeed; samadadhati-accepts; ishvarasya-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; iti-thus; yat-what; iti-thus; anena-by this; eva-indeed; sambadhyate-is related; artha-meaning; vashat-by the power; atra-here; ca-and; tritiyaya-by the third; parinamyate-is transformed; yat-what; yaya-by what; ishvarasya-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; svarupa-own form; jnana-knowledge; adibhih-beginning; samarthasya-able; ata eva-therefore; vimuktasya-freed; jivasya-of the individual soul; karpanyam-lowly position; tat-tat-prakasha-tirobhavah-disappearance; tatha-so; bandhanam-bondage; tad-darshita-showing that; gunamaya-consisting of the three modes of material nature; jala-in the trap; praveshash-entrance; ca-and; bhavati-is; iti-thus.

In this way any seeming contradictions in the nature of the Supreme Personality of Godhead are resolved and the inconceivable maya potency's bewilderment of the conditioned souls is described. This is shown by the words "ishvarasya" and "yan" in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 3.7.9 (quoted here in the beginning of anuccheda 90). Here the word "yan" (yat) has the force of the instrumental case and it means "by the power of His transcendental knowledge and other opulences, the Supreme Personality of Godhead (ishvarasya) is perfectly able to remain always free of the influence of maya". On the other hand, even the liberated (vimuktasya) individual soul (jivasya) is in a much inferior (karpanyam) to the Lord, and may have to enter the trap of the three modes of material nature (bandhanam).

Text 19

tad uktam tat-sanga-bhramsitaishvaryam iti.

tat-that; uktam-said; tat-sanga-bhramsitaishvaryam iti-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 6.5.15.

The state of the individual soul fallen into the material world is described in these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (6.5.15):

"If one becomes the husband of a prostitute, he loses all independence. Similarly, if a living entity has polluted intelligence, he prolongs his materialistic life. Frustrated by material nature, he must follow the movements of the intelligence, which brings various conditions of happiness and distress. If one performs fruitive activities under such conditions, what will be the benefit?"*

Text 20

tad etat sarvam abhipretya shrutayo 'py ahuh sa yad ajaya tv ajam ity adau apeta-bhagah iti ca.

tat-this; etat-that; sarvam-all; abhipretya-meaning; shrutayah-the Vedas; api-also; ahuh-said; sa yad ajaya tv ajam ity adau-in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.87.38; apeta-bhagah iti-the word apeta-bhagah; ca-and.

The fate of the individual soul fallen in the material world is also described in these words spoken by the Personified Vedas (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.87.38):

"The illusory material nature attracts the minute living entity to embrace her, and as a result he assumes forms composed of her qualities. Subsequently, he loses all of his spiritual qualities and must undergo repeated deaths."

Text 21

atra mula-padye bhagavato mayety anena bhagavattvam tv amayikam ity ayatam. indrasya mayety atra yathendratvam. evam purvatrapi jneyam.

atra-here; mula-in the original; padye-verse; bhagavatah-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; maya-maya; iti-thus; anena-by this; bhagavattvam-teh status of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; tv-but; amayikam-free from the illusory potency; iti-thus; ayatam-attained; indrasya-of Indra; maya-illusion; iti-thus; atra-here; yatha-as; indratvam-the status of Indra; evam-thus; purvatra-previously; api-also; jneyam-to be understood.

In the verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 3.7.9) quoted in the beginning of this anuccheda the words "bhagavato maya" indicate that the Supreme Personality of Godhead is free from maya's touch. As the monarch who controls maya, He is free from her power. This has been explained previously.

Anuccheda 91

Text 1

punar api jivasya vastutah sviya-tat-tad-avasthatvabhava 'pi bhagavan-mayayaiva tat-tat-pratitir iti sa-drishöantam upapadayati punah-again; api-also; jivasya-of the individual soul; vastutah-in truth; sviya-tat-tad-avasthatva-of those conditions of life; abhave-in the absence; api-also; bhagavan-mayaya-by the illusory potency of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; eva-indeed; tat-tat-pratitih-knowledge of them; iti-thus; sa-drishöantam-with an example; upapadayati-affirms.

The conditioned soul in the material world who, bewildered by the Supreme Lord's illusory potency maya, does not understand his true nature, is also described in these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (3.7.10):

Text 2

yad arthena vinamushya
pumsa atma-viparyayah
pratiyata upadrashöuh

yat-thus; arthena-a purpose or meaning; vina-without; amushya-of such a one; pumsa-of the living entity; atma-viparyayah-upset about self-identification; pratiyata-so appear; upadrashöuh-of the superficial onlooker; sva-shirah-own head; chedanadibhih-cutting off.

"The living entity is in distress regarding his self-identity. He has no factual background, like a man who dreams that he sees his head cut off."*

Text 3

yad yasya mayaya hetur arthena vinapi. yadyapi tasya tri-kalam eva so 'rtho nasti. tathapy atma-viparyaya atma-vismriti-purvaka-parabhimanenaham eva tad-dharmity evam-rupah so 'rthah syat.

yat-what; yasya-of which; mayaya-by maya; hetuh-the cause; arthena-with the meaning; vina-without; api-certainly; yadyapi-although; tasya-of that; tri-kalam-three phases of time; eva-indeed; sah-that; arthah-meaning; na-not; asti-is; tathapi-still; atma-viparyaya-upset about self-identification; atma-vismriti-forgetting the self; purvaka-previous; parabhimanena-by the conception; aham-I; eva-indeed; tad-dharmi-with those qualities; iti--thus; evam-rupah-with such a form; sah-that; arthah-the meaning; syat-is.

Here "yad" means "of maya" and "arthena vina" mean "without a purpose". Although he is eternal, always existing in the three phases of time (past, present, and future), the individual soul does not know this truth about himself. Here the word "atma-viparyayah" indicates that the conditioned soul has forgotten his true identity.

Text 4

tatha hi upadrashöur jivasya. tritiyarthe shashöhi. svapnavasthayam jivena sva-shirash-chedanadiko 'tiva-sambhavo 'rthah pratiyate.

tatha hi-furthermore; upadrashöuh-of the seer; jivasya-of the soul; tritiyarthe-in the meaning of the instrumental; shashöhi-of the genitive case; svapnavasthayam-in a dream; jivena-by the individual spirit soul; sva-shirash-chedanadikah-the cutting off of his head; ativa-sambhavah-great creation; arthah-meaning; pratiyate-is believed.

Here the word "upadrashöuh" refers to the individual spirit soul. Although this word is in the genitive case, it has the force of the instrumental. "Sva-shirash-chedanadibhih" means "in a dream he believes that his head has been cut off".

Text 5

na hi tasya shirash chinnam. na tu va sva-shirash-chedam ko 'pi pashyet. kintu bhagavan-mayaivanyatra siddham tad-rupam artham tasminn aropayatiti. maya-matram tu kartsnyenanabhivyakta-svarupatvat iti nyayena.

na-not; hi-indeed; tasya-of him; shirah-the head; chinnam-cut off; na-not; tu-indeed; va-or; sva-shirash-chedam-cutting off of his own head; ko 'pi-someone; pashyet-may see; kintu-however; bhagavan-maya-the Lord's maya potency; eva-indeed; anyatra-in another place; siddham-established; tad-rupam-the form of that; artham-the purpose; tasmin-in that; aropayati-artificially imposes; iti-thus; maya-matram-only maya; tu-but; kartsnyena-completely; anabhivyakta-not manifested; svarupatvat-because of the original form; iti-thus; nyayena-by the Vedanta-sutra.

In truth the head is not really cut off. Indeed, it is not possible for anyone to sit in one place and see his own head being cut off in another place. The sight of this is only an illusion created by the Lord's maya potency. This is described in the following words of Vedanta-sutra (3.2.3):

"It is like a dream created by the maya potency."

Anuccheda 92

Text 1

ata eva shuddhasyapi sato jivasyaupadhikenaiva rupenopadhi-dharmapattir iti drishöantantarenopapadayati

ata eva-therefore; shuddhasya-pure; api-also; satah-eternal; jivasya-of the individual spirit soul; aupadhikena-by ten material designation; eva-indeed; rupena-by the form; upadhi-of the material designatiron; dharm-qualities; apattih-attainment; iti-thus; drishöanta-example; antarena-with another; upapadayati-explains.

In this way the pure spirit soul misidentifies with the material body. This is shown by another example given in Shrimad-Bhagavatam (3.7.11):

Text 2

yatha jale candramasah kampadis tat-krito gunah drishyate 'sann api drashöur atmano 'natmano gunah

yatha-as; jale-in the water; candramasah-o fthe moon; kampadih-quivering, wtc.; tat-kritah-done by the water; gunah-quality; drishyate-is so seen; asann api-without existence; drashöuh-of the seer; atmanah-of the self; anatmanah-of other than the self; gunah-quality.

"As the moon reflected on water appears to the seer to tremble due to being associated with the quality of the water, so the self associated with matter appears to be qualified as matter."*

Text 3

yatha jale pratibimbitasyaiva candramaso jalopadhi-kritah kampadi-guno dharmo drishyate. na tv akasha-sthitasya tadvad anatmanah prakriti-rupopadher dharma atmanah shuddhasyasann api aham eva so 'yam ity aveshan mayayopadhi-tad-atmyapannahankarabhasasya pratibimba-sthaniyasya tasya drashöur adhyatmikavasthasyaiva yadyapi syat tathapi shuddho 'sau tad-abhedabhimanena tam pashyatity arthah.

yatha-as; jale-in the water; pratibimbitasya-of a reflection; eva-indeed; candramasah-of the moon; jalopadhi-kritah-on the water; kampa-quivering; adi-beginning with; gunah-quality; dharmah-nature; drishyate-is seen; na-not; tv-but; akasha-sthitasya-situated in the sky; tadvat-in that way; anatmanah-not of the self; prakriti-rupopadheh-of a material form; dharma-nature; atmanah-of the self; shuddhasya-pure; asann-being so; api-also; aham-I; eva-indeed; sah-he; ayam-this; iti-thus; aveshan-entering; mayayopadhi-of material designations; tad-atmya-identity; apanna-attained; ahankara-false ego; abhasasya-of the reflection; pratibimba-sthaniyasya-situated in a reflection; tasya-of that; drashöuh-of the seer; adhyatmika-of the self; avasthasya-situation; eva-indeed; yadyapi-although; syat-may be; tathapi-still; shuddhah-pure; asau-this; tad-abheda-not different from that; abhimanena-with the conception; tam-that; pasyati-sees; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning.

This verse explains: "As the moon reflected on water appears to the seer to tremble due to being associated with the quality of the water, so the self associated with matter appears to be qualified as matter."* The soul then thinks: "I am this material body". Although what he is sees is only a false-ego reflection, the pure soul thinks he sees his actual self.

Text 4

tad uktam ekadashe shri-bhagavata

nrityato gayatah pashyan
yathaivanukaroti tan
evam buddhi-gunan pashyann
aniho 'py anukaryate. iti.

tat-that; uktam-said; ekadashe-in the eleventh canto; shri-bhagavata-by the Supreme Personality of Godhead; nrityatah-dancing; gayatah-singing; pashyan-seeing; yatha-as; eva-indeed; anukaroti-imitates; tan-them; evam-thus; buddhi-gunan-the qualities of the intelligence; pashyann-seeing; anihah-not acting; api-even; anukaryate-is imitated; iti-thus.

The conditioned soul's misidentification with the material body is also described in these words (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.12.53) spoken by the Supreme Personality of Godhead Himself:

"As one may imitate singers and dancers, so the inactive spirit soul imitates the activities of the material intelligence."

Text 5

tathaivoktam shuddho vicashöe hy avishuddha-kartuh iti.

tatha-so; eva-indeed; uktam-said; shuddho vicashöe hy avishuddha-kartuh iti-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 5.11.12.

A liberated soul does not mistakenly identify with the material body. This is described in the following words (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 5.11.12):

"A person who is liberated in this life (jivan-mukta) can see all these things vividly."*

Text 6

vi-shabdasya catra tad-avesha eva tatparyam. tasmad bhagavato 'cintya-svarupantaranga-maha-prabala-shaktitvad bahirangaya prabalayapy acintyayapi mayayapi na sprishöih. jivasya tu taya sprishöir iti siddhantitam. shri-shukah.

vi-vi; shabdasya-of the word; ca-and; atra-here; tad-avesha-entering that; eva-indeed; tatparyam-the meaning; tasmad-from that; bhagavatah-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; acintya-svarupantaranga-maha-prabala-shaktitvat-because of the power of the internal potency of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; bahirangaya-of the external potency; prabalaya-by the power; api-also; acintyaya-inconceivable; api-also; mayaya-maya; api-also; na-not; sprishöih-touching; jivasya-of the spirit soul; tu-but; taya-by that; sprishöih-touching; iti-thus; siddhantitam-concluded; shri-shukah-Shri Shukadeva Gosvami.

Here the prefix "vi" means "entering that". This means that because he is protected by the Lord's inconceivable internal potency, the liberated soul is not touched by the inconceivable external potency maya. That is the conclusion. The verse quoted in the beginning of this anuccheda was spoken by Shrila Shukadeva Gosvami.

Anuccheda 93

Text 1

evam shrishöadi-lila-traye samanyato yojite 'pi punar visheshatah samshayya siddhantah kriyate sthunanikhanana-nyayena.

evam-thus; shrishöa-material creation; adi-beginning with; lila-pastimes; traye-in three; samanyatah-in general; yojite-ebgaged; api-even; punah-again; visheshatah-specifically; samshayya-doubting; siddhantah-the conclusion; kriyate-is done; sthunanikhanana-nyayena.-by the example of repeatedly pushing the post into the ground.

In this way it has been explained in a general way that the Supreme Personality of Godhead engages in pastimes of creating, maintaining, and destroying the material universes. Because some readers may still doubt that this is the truth, we will, as fence-maker will again and again push his fence-pots into the ground to make them secure, present more arguments to prove this truth beyond any doubts.

Text 2

nanu palana-lilayam ye ye 'vataras tatha tatraiva sva-prasada-vyanjaka-smitabhaya-mudradi-ceshöaya sura-paksha-pato yuddhadi-ceshöaya daitya-samhara ity adika ya ya va lilah shruyante. te ca tash ca svayam parameshvarena kriyante na va.

nanu-is it not so?; palana-lilayam-in the pastime of maintaining; ye ye-whatever; avatarah-incarnations; tatha-so; tatra-there; eva-indeed; sva-own; prasada-mercy; vyanjaka-manifesting; smita-smile; abhaya-fearless; mudra-gestures; adi-beginning with; ceshöaya-by the action; sura-paksha-patah-taking sides with the demigods; yuddhadi-ceshöaya-with fighting and other like activities; daitya-samhara-diminishing the demons; iti-thus; adika-beginning with; ya ya-whatever; va-or; lilah-pastimes; shruyante-are heard; te-they; ca-and;

tah-to them; ca-and; svayam-all; parameshvarena-by the Supreme Personality of Godhead; kriyante-are done; na-not; va-or.

Here someone may ask: "In His pastime of protecting the material world, the Supreme Personality of Godhead, in the forms of His many incarnations, enters the material world again and again. At these times the Lord takes the side of the devotees and, by fighting great battles and performing other like activities, diminishes the power of the demons. At these times the Lord shows His mercy to the devotees by smiling at them, gesturing that they not be afraid, and in many other ways also. Are all these activities really performed by the Supreme Lord Himself, or does He not really perform them personally?"

Text 3

adye purva-pakshas tad avastha eva. praty uta paksha-patadina vaishamyam ca. ante tesham avataram tasam lilanam ca na svarupa-bhutata sidhyatiti sampratipatti-bhangah.

adye-in the first; purva-pakshah-the first argument; tat-that; avastha-situation; eva.-indeed; praty uta-on the other side; paksha-pata-the argument; adina-beginning with; vaishamyam-difficulty; ca.-and; ante-at the end; tesham-of Them; avataram-of the incarnations; tasam-of them; lilanam-the pastimes; ca-and; na-not; svarupa-bhutata-manifestations of the Lord's actual form; sidhyati-is proved; iti--thus; sampratipatti-of the proof; bhangah-the breaking.

"The first of these views, that these activities are indeed performed by the Supreme Lord Himself, is the actual truth. However, on the other hand, it is not logical to assume that the Supreme Lord would ally Himself with one group of conditioned souls against another group of conditioned souls. The second view asserts that these incarnations and pastimes are not the forms and activities of the Supreme Lord Himself. In this way this second view is different from the first view."

Text 4

atrocyate satyam. vishva-palanartham parameshvaro na kincit karoti. kintu svena sahaivavatirnan vaikunöha-parshadan tathadhikarika-devady-antar-gatan tatha taöasthan anyamsh ca bhaktan anandayitum svarupa-shaktyavishkarenaiva nanavataran lilash casau prakashayati.

atra-here; ucyate-is said; satyam.-truth; vishva-palanartham-for the purpose of protecting the worlds; parameshvarah-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; na-not; kincit-anything; karoti.-does; kintu-however; svena-by His own; saha-with; avatirnan-descended; vaikunöha-from the spiritual world; parshadan-personal associates; tatha-so; adhikarika-devadi-beginning with the ruling demigods; antah-within; gatan-gone; tatha-so; taöasthan-marginal; anyan-others; ca-and; bhaktan-devotees; anandayitum-to please; svarupa-shaktya-with His personal potency; avishkarena-with the manifestation; eva.-indeed; nana-various; avataram-incarnations; lilah-pastimes; ca-and; asau-He; prakashayati-manifests.

To these words the following reply may be given: Yes. That is the truth. The Supreme Personality of Godhead does not descend to the this world for the purpose of granting protection to the world. Rather, He manifests the forms of His many incarnations and His many pastimes to please His associates from the spiritual world, the demigods that rule over the planets, and His many other devotees.

Text 5

tad uktam padme

muhurtenapi samhartum shakto yadyapi danavan mad-bhaktanam vinodartham karomi vividhah kriyah

tat-that; uktam-said; padme-in the Padma Purana; muhurtena-for a moment; api-even; samhartum-to destroy; shaktah-able; yadyapi-although; danavan-the demons; mad-bhaktanam-of My devotees; vinodartham-for the happiness; karomi-I do; vividhah-many; kriyah-activities.

This is also confirmed by the following words of the Padma Purana, where the Supreme Lord says:

"If I wish, I can kill all the demons in a single moment. The real reason I perform many activities is to give pleasure to My devotees.

Text 6

darshana-dhyana-samsparshair matsya-kurma-vihangamah svany apatyani pushnanti tathaham api padmaja. iti.

darshana-dhyana-samsparshaih-by seeing, meditation, and touch; matsya-kurma-vihangamah-the fish, turtle, and birds; svani-own; apatyani-children; pushnanti-maintain; tatha-so; aham-I; api-also; padmaja-O Brahma; iti.-thus.

"By vision, by meditation, and by touch only do the fish, the tortoise, and the birds maintain their offspring. Similarly do I also, O Padmaja."*

Text 7

hari-bhakti-sudhodaye

nityam ca purna-kamasya janmani vividhani me bhakta-sarveshōa-danaya tasmāt kim te priyam vada. iti.

hari-bhakti-sudhodaye-in the Hari-bhakti-sudhodaye; nityam-always; ca-and; purna-kamasya-fulfilled desires; janmani-birth; vividhani-various; me-of Me; bhakta-sarveshōa-danaya-to fulfill the desires of My devotees; tasmāt-therefore; kim-what?; te-of you; priyam-dear; vada.-please tell; iti-thus.

In the Hari-bhakti-sudhodaya, the Supreme Lord says:

"All My desires are at once fulfilled. It is to fulfill My devotees' desires that I take birth again and again in this world. Therefore, please tell Me: What is your desire?"

Text 8

tatha shri-kunti-devi-vacanam ca bhakti-yoga-vidhanartham katham pashyema hi striyah iti.

tatha-so; shri-kunti-devi-vacanam-the words of Shri Kunti; ca-and; bhakti-yoga-vidhanartham katham pashyema hi striyah iti-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.8.20.

This is also described in the following prayer, where Queen Kunti tells the Supreme Personality of Godhead (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.8.20):

"You Yourself descend to propagate the transcendental science of devotional service unto the hearts of the advanced transcendentalists and mental speculators, who are purified by being able to discriminate between matter and spirit. How, then, can we women know You perfectly?"*

Text 9

atra bhakti-yoga-vidhanam tad-artham avatirnam tvam itk öikanumatam ca.

atra-here; bhakti-yoga-vidhanam-to give devotional service; tad-artham-for that purpose; avatirnam-descended; tvam-You; itk-thus; öikanumatam-according to the commentary; ca-also.

In his commentary on these words, Shrila Shridhara Svami confirms that the Supreme Personality of Godhead does indeed descend to the material world for the purpose of teaching the science of devotional service.

Text 10

shri-brahma-vacanam ca

prapancam nishprapanco 'pi vidambayasi bhu-tale prapanna-janatananda-sandoham prathitum prabho. iti.

shri-brahma-vacanam-the words of Shri -Brahma; ca-and; prapancam-material; nishprapancanah-spiritual; api-also; vidambayasi-You imitate; bhu-tale-on the earth; prapanna-janata-of the surrendered devotees; ananda-bliss; sandoham-great; prathitum-to give; prabho.-O Supreme Personality of Godhead iti..

This is also confirmed by the following words, where Brahma tells the Supreme Personality of Godhead (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.14.37):

"I can also understand that Your appearance as a small cowherd boy, a child of the cowherd men, is not at all a material activity. You are so much obliged by their affection that You are here to enthrall them with more loving service by Your transcendental presence. In Vrindavana there is no distinction between material and spiritual because everything is dedicated to Your loving service. My dear Lord, Your Vrindavana pastimes are simply to enthuse Your devotees. If someone takes Your Vrindavana pastimes to be material, he will be misled."*

Text 11

svarupa-shaktyaivavishkarash ca shri-brahmanaiva darshitah. esha prapanna-varado ramayatma-shaktya yad yat karishyati grihita-gunavataarah ity adina.

svarupa-shaktya-by His internal potency; eva-indeed; avishkarah-manifested; ca-and; shri-brahmana-by Brahma; eva-indeed; darshitah.-revealed; esha prapanna-varado ramayatma-shaktya yad yat karishyati grihita-gunavataarah ity adina-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 3.9.23.

That the Supreme Personality of Godhead incarnates through the agency of His internal potency is confirmed by these words spoken by the demigod Brahma (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 3.9.23):

"The Supreme Lord, the Personality of Godhead, is always the benefactor of the surrendered souls. His activities are always enacted through His internal potency, Rama, or the goddess of fortune. I pray only to engage in His service in the creation of the material world, and I pray that I not be materially affected by my works, for thus I may be able to give up the false prestige of being the creator."*

Text 12

grihita gunah karunyadayao yatra tatha-bhuto 'vataro yasyety arthah. tad evam bhaktanandartham eva tan prakaöayatas tasyananusamhitam api sura-paksha-patadi-vishva-palana-rupam tan-maya-karyam svata eva bhavati.

grihita-accepted; gunah-virtues; karunyadayaah-beginning with mercy; yatra-where; tatha-bhutam-like that; avataarah-incarnation; yasya-of whom; iti-thus; arthah.-the meaning; tat-that; evam-thus; bhaktanandartham-to give pleasure to the devotees; eva-indeed; tan-them; prakaöayatah-manifesting; tasya-of Him; ananusamhitam-unrelated; api-also; sura-paksha-pata-taking sides with the demigods; adi-beginning with; vishva-palana-rupam-protecting the material world; tan-maya-karyam-done by His maya potency; svata-personally; eva-indeed; bhavati.-is.

Here the word "grihita-gunavataarah" means "the Lord's incarnations, which are merciful and have a host of other virtues". In this way it is declared that the Lord descends to the material world in order to give bliss to His devotees. He does not really descend to the world in order to take sides with the demigods and protect the world, for the protection of the world is easily accomplished by the Lord's maya potency.

Text 13

loke yatha kecid bhaktah parasparam bhagavat-prema-sukhollasaya militas tad-anabhijnan api kamshcin mardangikadin sangrihya tad-guna-gananandenonmattavan nriyanto vishvesham evamangalam ghnanti. mangalam api vardhayantiti.

loke-in the material world; yatha-as; kecid-some; bhaktah-devotees; parasparam-mutually; bhagavat-prema-love for the Supreme Personality of Godhead; sukha-happiness; ullasaya-for arousing; militah-meeting; tad-anabhijnan-not understanding; api-even; kamshcin-some; mardangikadin-beginning with mrdanga players; sangrihya-accepting; tad-guna-gana-singing about His qualities; anandenonmattavan-wild with bliss; nrityantah-dancing; vishvesham-of all; eva-indeed; amangalam-inauspiciousness; ghnanti.-destroys; mangalam-auspiciousness; api-also; vardhayanti-increases; iti-thus.

In this world some devotees of the Lord may meet in order to taste together the bliss of pure love for the Supreme Lord. In that assembly some other persons, who do not understand the truth about the Lord's glories, may also participate in the chanting, play on the mridangas and other musical instruments, and even dance in ecstatic bliss as they sing the Lord's holy names.

Text 14

tad uktam vag gadgada ity adau mad-bhakti-yogo bhuvanam punati iti.

tat-that; uktam-said; vag gadgada ity adau mad-bhakti-yogo bhuvanam punati iti-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.14.24.

The Supreme Personality of Godhead Himself explains (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.14.24):

"My devotee who weeps, laughs, dances and cries out as without shame he chants My holy names in a voice choked with ecstasy, purifies the entire world."

Text 15

evam evoktam

shrishöy-adikam harer naiva prayojanam apekshya tu kurute kevalanandad
yatha mattasya nartanam. iti.

evam-thus; eva-indeed; uktam-said; shrishöi-creation; adikam-beginning; hareh-of Lord Krishna; na-not; eva-indeed; prayojanam-need; apekshya-in relation to; tu-but; kurute-does; kevalanandat-out of transcendental bliss; yatha-as; mattasya-maddened; nartanam.-dancing; iti.-thus.

This is also described in the following words of the scriptures:

"Ignoring the material world, a great devotee dances, wild with transcendental bliss as he chants the holy names of Lord Hari."

Text 16

na ca vaktavyam svena tesham tair api svasyanandena svatas triptata-hanih syat. tathanyan parityajya ca tesham evanandena vaishamyantaram api syad iti.

na-not; ca-and; vaktavyam-to be said; svena-own; tesham-of them; tair-with them; api-also; svasya-own; anandena-with bliss; svatah-personally; triptata-satisfaction; hanih-destruction; syat.-may be; tatha-so; anyan-others; parityajya-abandoning; ca-and; tesham-of them; eva-indeed; anandena-with bliss; vaishamyanta-problem; antaram-another; api-also; syat-is; iti-thus.

Here someone may say that it is not possible for the devotees to be really happy, for they cannot ignore the sufferings of the non-devotees. Their troubles will stop the devotees' bliss.

Text 17

tatradye vishuddhorjita-sattva-tanum ashrito 'pi muni-jane svatas tripti-parakashöham prapto bhakta-vatsalya-darshanat tad-anucara evasau guno na tu tat pratighatiti labhyate.

tatra-there; adye-in the beginning; vishuddhorjita-sattva-tanum-a pure spiritual form; ashritah-taken shelter; api-even; muni-jane-sages; svatah-personally; tripti-parakastham-the greatest bliss; praptah-attained; bhakta-vatsalya-darshanat-from seeing the love for the devotees; tad-anucara-following that; eva-indeed; asau-this; gunah-virtue; na-not; tu-but; tat-that; pratighati-contradicting; iti-thus; labhyate-is attained.

Their bodies' made of pure goodness, the great sages experience the greatest transcendental bliss. Seeing the love their Lord has for His devotees, the sages follow in His footsteps. In this way the sages are very merciful to the non-devotees. The sages' bliss and mercy are not mutually contradictory qualities.

Text 18

yatha sarvan munin prati shri-parikshid-vakyam nehatha vamutra ca kashcanartha rte paranugraham atma-shilanam iti.

yatha-ass; sarvan-all; munin-the sages; prati-to; shri-parikshid-vakyam-the words of Maharaja Parikshit; nehatha vamutra ca kashcanartha rte paranugraham atma-shilanam iti-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.19.23.

The mercy of the sages is seen in the following words spoken by Maharaja Parikshit to all the great sages (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.19.23):

"You are naturally inclined to do good to others, and for this you have no interest, either in this life or in the next."*

Text 19

tatha jada-bharata-caritadäu sindhu-pataya atma-sattvam viganayatah paranubhavah parama-karunikatayopadishya ity adi.

tatha-so; jada-bharata-of Jada Bharata; carita-the activities; adäu-in the beginning; sindhu-pataya atma-sattvam viganayatah paranubhavah parama-karunikatayopadishya ity adi-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 5.13.24.

The mercy of the sages is also described by these words in the beginning of Jada Bharata's story (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 5.13.24):

"Being a Vaishnava, he was naturally very kindhearted, and he therefore told the king about the constitutional position of the soul."*

Text 20

shri-narada-purva-janmani cakruh kripam yadyapi tulya-darshanah sushrushamane munayo 'lpa-bhashini iti ca.

shri-narada-purva-janmani-in the previous birth of Shri Narada; cakruh kripam yadyapi tulya-darshanah sushrushamane munayo 'lpa-bhashini iti-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.5.24; ca-also.

The sages' mercifulness is also seen in these words from Shri Narada's description of his previous birth (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.5.24):

"Although they were impartial by nature, those followers of the Vedanta blessed me with their causeless mercy."*

Text 21

tatha shri-kunti-stave

namo 'kincana-vittaya nivritta-guna-vrittaye atmaramaya shantaya kaivalya-pataye namah. iti.

tatha-so; shri-kunti-stave-in the prayers of Queen Kunti; namah-all obeisances unto You; akincana-vittaya-unto the property of the materially impoverished; nivritta-completely transcendental to the actions of the material; modes; guna-material modes; vrittaye-affection; atmaramaya-one who is self-satisfied; shantaya-the most engentle; kaivalya-pataye-unto the master of the monists; namah-bowing down; iti.-thus.

The glories of the Lord and His devotees are described in this prayer spoken by Queen Kunti to Lord Krishna (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.8.27):

"My obeisances unto You, who are the property of the materially impoverished. You have nothing to do with the actions and reactions of the material modes of nature. You are self-satisfied and therefore You are the most gentle and are the master of the monists."*

Text 22

akincana bhakta eva vittam sarvasvam yasya iti öika ca.

akincana-poverty-stricken; bhakta-devotee; eva-indeed; vittam-wealth; sarvasvam-treasure; yasya-of whom; iti-thus; öika-the commentary; ca-and.

Shrila Shridhara Svami comments:

"Here the word `akincana-vitta' means `He who is the be-all-and-end-all of the materially impoverished devotees'."

Text 23

tato 'nyatha cakritajnata-doshash ca nirdoshe bhagavaty apatati. tatah siddhe tathavidhasyapi bhakta-vatsalye bhaktanam dukkha-hanya sukha-praptya va svanando bhavatity ayatam eva.

tatah-then; anyatha-otherwise; ca-and; akritajnata-ingratitude; doshah-defect; ca-and; nirdoshe-faultless; bhagavati-in the Supreme Personality of Godhead; apatati-entered; tatah-then; siddhe-perfect; tathavidhasya-like that; api-also; bhakta-vatsalye-affectionate to the devotees; bhaktanam-of devotees; dukkha-hanya-destroying the sufferings; sukha-praptya-attainment of happiness; va-or; svanandah-own bliss; bhavati-is; iti-thus; ayatam-attained; eva-indeed.

In this way it is proved that the Supreme Lord is not ungrateful to His devotees. He loves His devotees. He removes their sufferings and brings them transcendental bliss.

Text 24

kim ca parama-sara-bhutaya api svarupa-shakteh sara-bhuta hladini nama ya vrittis tasya eva sara-bhuto vritti-vishesho bhaktih. sa ca raty-apara-paryaya hhaktir bhagavati bhakteshu ca nikshipta-nijobhaya-koöh sarvada tishöhati.

kim ca-furthermore; parama-sara-bhutaya-of the best; api-also; svarupa-shakteh-of His internal potency; sara-bhuta-the best; hladini-Hladini; nama-named; ya-which; vrittih-action; tasya-of that; eva-indeed; sara-bhuta-the best; vritti-visheshah-specific action; bhaktih.-devotional service; sa-that; ca-and; raty-apara-paryaya-the best love; hhaktih-devotional service; bhagavati-for the Supreme Personality of Godhead; bhakteshu-in the devotees; ca-and; nikshipta-placed; nija-own; ubhaya-both; koöh-edge; sarvada-always; tishöhati-stays.

The best of the Supreme Lord's internal potencies is the potency called hladini. The best activity of this potency is devotional service. In this way the Lord and His devotees love each other eternally.

Text 25

ata evoktam bhagavan bhakta-bhaktiman iti.

ata eva-therefore; uktam-said; bhagavan bhakta-bhaktiman iti-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.86.59.

This is described in the following words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.86.59):

"The Supreme Personality of Godhead loves His devotees."

Text 26

tasmad bhakta-sthaya taya bhagavatas triptau na svatas triptita-hanih. praty uta shaktitvena svarupato bhinnabhinnaya api tasyah.

tasmat-therefore; bhakta-sthaya-staying with the devotees; taya-with that; bhagavatah-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; triptau-in the satisfaction; na-not; svatah-personally; triptita-satisfaction; hanih-destruction; praty uta-on the contrary; shaktitvena-with the potency; svarupatah-from the form; bhinnabhinnaya-different and non-different; api-also; tasyah-of that.

Devotional service thus delights the Supreme Personality of Godhead. This, of course, does not mean that the devotees are not delighted also. As one of the Lord's potencies, devotional service is simultaneously one and different from the Lord.

Text 27

ye yatha mam prapadyante tams tathaiva bhajamy aham iti nyayena.

ye yatha mam prapadyante tams tathaiva bhajamy aham iti nyayena-Bhagavad-gita 4.11.

This is confirmed by the Lord Himself in the following words (Bhagavad-gita 4.11):

"All of them, as they surrender unto Me, I reward accordingly."*

Text 28

bhakta-citta-sphuritaya bheda-vrittir eva sphuranat. bhagavato mam hridayaty asya bhatir iti. ananda-camatkaratishayash ca bhavati.

bhakta-of the devotees; citta-in the hearts; sphuritayamanifested; bheda-vrittih-different action; eva-indeed; sphuranat.-from the manifestation; bhagavatah-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; mam-Me; hridayati-delights; asya-of this; bhatih-manifestation; iti.-thus; ananda-of bliss; camatkara-wonder; atishayah-great; ca--and; bhavati-is.

Situated in the devotee's heart, devotional service manifests as many activities. Engaged in devotional service in this way, the devotee thinks, "my service to the Lord brings me great bliss". In this way devotional service brings a great wonder of transcendental bliss.

Text 29

shakti-tadvator bheda-mate 'pi visishōasyaiva svarupatvam sampratipannam. tad etat sarvam abhipretya bhanitam durvasasam prati shri-vishnuna shakti-tadvatoh-of the potency and the possessor of the potency; bheda-mate-in the opinion of difference; api-even; visishōasya-specific; eva-indeed; svarupatvam-the own form; sampratipannam-established; tat-this; etat-that; sarvam-all; abhipretya-knowing; bhanitam-spoken; durvasasam-Durvasa Muni; prati-to; shri-vishnuna-by Lord Shri Vishnu.

In this way it is seen that the potencies and the Lord, who is the master of all potencies, are different. All this is explained in these words spoken to Durvasa Muni by Lord Shri Vishnu (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 9.4.63-68):

Text 30

aham bhakta-paradhino
hy asvatantra iva dvija sadhubhir grasta-hridayo bhaktair bhakta-jana-priyah

aham+I; bhakta-paradhinah-am dependent on the will of My devotees; hi-indeed; asvatantra--am not independent; iva-exactly like that; dvija-O brahmana; sadhubhih-by pure devotees completely free from all material desires; grasta-hridayah-My heart is controlled; bhaktaih-because they are devotees; bhakta-jana-priyah-I am dependent not only on My devotee but also on My devotee's devotee (the devotee's devotee is extremely dear to Me)..

"I am completely under the control of My devotees. Indeed, I am not at all independent. Because My devotees are completely devoid of material desires, I sit only within the cores of their hearts. What to speak of My devotee, even those who are devotees of My devotee are very dear to Me.*

Text 31

naham atmanam asase
mad-bhaktaih sadhubhir vina shriyam catyantikim brahman yesham gatir aham para

na-not; aham-I; atmanam-transcendental bliss; asase-desire; mad-bhaktaih-with My devotees; sadhubhih-with the saintly persons; vina-without them; shriyam-all My six opulences; ca-also; atyantikim-the Supreme; brahman-O brahmana; yesham-of whom; gatir-destination; aham-I am; para-the ultimate.

"O best of the brahmanas, without saintly persons for whom I am the only destination, I do not desire to enjoy My transcendental bliss and My supreme opulences.*

Text 32

ye daragara-putraptan pranan vittim imam param
hitva mam sharanam yatah katham tams tyaktum utsahe ye-those devotees of Mine who; dara-wife; agara-house; putra-children, sons; aptan-relatives, society; pranan-even life; vittim-wealth; imam-all these; param-elevation top heavenly planets or becoming one by merging into Brahman; hitva-giving up (all these ambitions and paraphernalia); mam-unto Me; sharanam-shelter; yatah-having taken; katham-how?; tamh-such persons; tyaktum-to give them up; utsahe-I can be enticed in that way (it is not possible).

"Since pure devotees give up their homes, wives, children, relatives, riches, and even their lives simply to serve Me, without any desire for material improvement in this life or in the next, how can I give up such devotees at any time?*

Text 33

mayi nirbaddha-hridayah sadhavah sama-darshinah vashe kurvanti mam bhaktya sat-striyah sat-patim yatha mayi-unto Me; nirbaddha-hridayah-firmly attached in the core of the heart; sadhavah-the pure devotees; sama-darshinah-who are equal to everyone; vashe-under control; kurvanti-they make; mam-unto Me; bhaktya-by devotional service; sat-striyah-cahste women; sat-patim-unto the gentle husband; yatha-as.

"As chaste women bring their gentle husbands under control by service, the pure devotees, who are equal to everyone and completely attached to Me in the core of the heart, bring Me under their full control.*

Text 34

mat-sevaya pratitam te salokyadi-catushöayam necchanti sevaya purnah kuto 'nyat kala-viplutam

mat-sevaya-by being engaged fully in My transcendental loving service; pratitam-authomatically achieved; te-such pure devotees are fully satisfied; salokyadi-catushöayam-the four diffreent types of liberation (salokya, sarupya, samipya, and sarsti, what to speak of sayujya); na-not; icchanti-desire; sevaya-simply by devotional service; purnah-fully complete; kutah-where is the question?; anyat-other things; kala-viplutam-which are finished in the course of time.

"My devotees, who are always satisfied to be engaged in My loving service, are not interested even in the four principles of liberation (salokya, sarupya, samipya, and sarshöi), although these are automatically achieved by their service. What then is to be said of such perishable happiness as elevation to the higher planetary systems?*

Text 35

sadhavo hridayam mahyam sadhunam hridayas tv aham mad-anyat te na jananti naham tebhyo manag api. iti.

sadhavah-the pure devotees; hridayam-in the core of the heart; mahyam-of Me; sadhunam-of the pure devotees also; hridayah-in the core of the heart; tv-indeed; aham-I am; mad-anyat-anything else but Me; te-they; na-not; jananti-know; na-not; aham-I; tebhyah-than them; manag api-even by a little fraction; iti-thus.

"The pure devotee is always within the core of My heart, and I am always in the heart of the pure devotee. My devotees do not know anything else but Me, and I do not know anyone else but them."*

Text 36

atra ye daragareti-trayam akritajnata-nivarane. sadhavo hridayam mahyam iti svatas triptita-hani-parihare. bhakteh svarupa-shakti-sara-hladini-saratve ca aham bhakta-paradhinah iti dvayam.

atra-here; ye-which; daragareti-trayam-the three beginning with dara and agara; akritajnata-ungratefulness; nivarane-refuting; sadhavo hridayam mahyam iti-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 9.4.68; svatah-personally; triptita-hani-parihare.-rejection of the loss of bliss; bhakteh-of devotional service; svarupa-shakti-sara-hladini-saratve-the best of hladini-salti, the best of potencies; ca-and; aham bhakta-paradhinah-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 9.4.63; iti-thus; dvayam-two.

That the Supreme Personality of Godhead is not ungrateful to His devotees is shown here in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 9.4.65-67 (quoted here in texts 32-34). The idea that the devotees do not taste transcendental bliss is refuted by Shrimad-Bhagavatam 9.4.68 (quoted here text 35). That the hladini-shakti is the best of the Lord's potencies is affirmed by Shrimad-Bhagavata 9.4.63-64 (quoted here in texts 30-31).

Text 37

tatraiva bhakteshv api bhakti-rupena tat-praveshe sati visheshato mat-sevaya pratitam ity api jneyam.

tatra-there; eva-indeed; bhakteshv-among the devotees; api-also; bhakti-rupena-in the form of devotional service; tat-praveshe-entering; sati-being so; visheshatah-sepcifically; mat-sevaya pratitam iti-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 9.4.67; api-also; jneyam-to be understood.

That the Supreme Personality of Godhead is present as the devotional service in His devotees' hearts is described in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 9.4.67 (quoted here in text 34).

Text 38

tato na praktano doshah. dvitiye 'py evam acakshmahe. paranandane pravrittir dvidha jayate. parato nijabhishöa-sampattiyai kvacit tad-abhishöa-matra-sampattiyai ca.

tatah-from that; na-not; praktanah-the former; doshah-defect; dvitiye-second; api-also; evam-thus; acakshmahe.-we say; paranandane-transcendental bliss; pravrittih-activity; dvidha-twofold; jayate.-is manifested; paratah-from the other; nija-own; abhishöa-desired; sampattiyai-for opulence; kvacit-somewhere; tad-abhishöa-matra-sampattiyai-for the desired opulence; ca-also.

In the first of these statements it is seen that the Supreme Personality of Godhead has no faults. In the second of these statements the endeavor for happiness is seen in two ways: 1. a person may endeavor only for his own happiness, and 2. a person may endeavor to make others happy.

Text 39

tatra prathamam natrāpy upayuktah. svatmartha-matrataya kutrāpi pakṣa-patābhavat. athottara-pakṣe tu para-sukhasya para-duḥkhasya ca-anubhava-iva para-nukulyena-iva pravṛtticcha jayate. na tu yat kincij jñāna-matrena cittasya para-duḥkha-āsparshe kṛpā-rūpa-vikāra-sambhavat tatra-there; prathamam-the first; na-not; atra-here; api-even; upayuktah.-engaged; svatmartha-matrataya-for one's own self; kutrāpi-somewhere; pakṣa-patābhavat.-because of not taking sides; atha-here; uttara-pakṣe-in the other side; tu-indeed; para-sukhasya-of the other's happiness; para-duḥkhasya-of the other's sufferings; ca-and; anubhava-by experiencing; eva-indeed; para-nukulyena-because of being very favorable; eva--indeed; pravṛtticcha-desire; jayate.-is born; na-not; tu-but; yat-what; kincit-something; jñāna-matrena-simply by knowledge; cittasya-of the mind; para-duḥkha-āsparshe-beginning with other's sufferings; āsparshe-not being touched; kṛpā-mercy; rūpa-form; vikāra-transformation; āsambhavat-because of the impossibility.

In the first of these two kinds of endeavors mercy is not possible, for in that situation a person thinks only of his own benefit and he does not care about the benefit of others. In the second of these kinds of endeavor one feels happy in others happiness and unhappy in others suffering. In that situation one will desire that others may be happy. However, a person who has never been touched by the sufferings that others feel cannot experience the emotion of compassion. This is described in the following words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.10.14):

Text 40

yathā kanōka-viddhango jantor necchati tam vyatham jīva-samyam gato lingair na tathā viddha-kanōakah. iti nyayat.

yathā-as; kanōka-viddhangah-a "erson whose body has been pinpricked; jantoh-of such an animal; na-not; icchati-desires; tam-a particular; vyatham-pain; jīva-samyam gatah-when he understands that the position is the same for everyone; lingaih-by possessing a particular type of body; na-not; tathā-so; viddha-kanōakah.-a person who has not been pinpricked; iti-thus; nyayat.-by the example.

"By seeing their faces, one whose body has been pricked by pins can understand the pain of others who are pinpricked. Realizing that this pain is the same for everyone, he does not want others to suffer in this way. But one who has never been pricked by pins cannot understand this pain."*

Text 41

tataś ca sādā paramanandaika-rūpe 'pāhata-kalmashe bhagavati prakṛitasya sukha-bhidha-duḥkhasya prasiddha-duḥkhasya ca surye pecaka-cakṣur-jyotiśa iva tamasa iva catyantābhavat tat-tad-anubhavo nāsty eva.

tatah-then; ca-and; sādā-always; paramanandaika-rūpe-the form of transcendental bliss; apāhata-kalmashe-free of impurity; bhagavati-in the Supreme Personality of Godhead; prakṛitasya-material; sukha-happiness; abhidha-called; duḥkhasya-of suffering; prasiddha-duḥkhasya-celebrated suffering; ca-and; surye-in the sun; pecaka-of an owl; cakṣuh-eyes; jyotiśa-light; iva-like; tamasa-of darkness; iva-like; ca-also; atyanta-great; ābhavat-because of the non-existence; tat-tad-anubhava-perceiving various objects; na-not; asti-is; eva.-indeed

The Supreme Personality of Godhead is full of spiritual bliss and free of all material contamination. Therefore He does not make any distinction between material suffering and material so-called happiness, which is actually only a different kind of suffering. In this way the Lord is like the owl's eyes, which do not make any distinction between the light and the darkness.

Text 42

yat tu bhagavati duhkha-sambandham parijihirshanto 'pi kecid evam vadanti. tasmin duhkhanubhava-jnanam asty eva. tac ca parakiyatvenaiva bhasate. na tu sviyatveneti. tad api ghaööa-kudyam prabhatam.

yat-what; tu-but; bhagavati-in the Supreme Personality of Godhead; duhkha-sambandham-in relation to suffering; parijihirshantah-desiring to defeat; api-even; kecid-some; evam-thus; vadanti.-say; tasmin-in that; duhkhanubhava-the perception of suffering; jnanam-knowledge; asti-is; eva.-indeed; tat-that; ca-and; parakiyatvena-as belonging to another; eva.-indeed; bhasate.-is manifested; na-not; tu-but; sviyatvena-as belonging to oneself; iti-thus; tat-that; api-also; ghaööa-kudyam prabhatam-the example of the toll-collecting station.

Some philosophers assert that the Supreme Personality of Godhead has no connection at all with any material sufferings. They say that, because He is all-knowing He is certainly aware of the sufferings of others, but still He does not suffer personally. This is like the example of the person who traveled a very circuitous route in order to avoid passing a toll-station, but all his efforts only brought him to the toll-station anyway.

Text 43

duhkhanubhavo nama hy antahkarane duhkha-sparshah. sa ca sparshah svasmad bhavatu parasmad veti. duhkha-sambandhavisheshat. asarvajna-doshah ca surya-drishöantenaiva parihritah. praty uta gunatvenaiva darshitah ca.

duhkhanubhava-the perception of suffering; nama.-indeed; hi.-indeed; antahkarane-in the heart; duhkha-sparshah.-the touch of suffering; sa-that; ca-and; sparshah-touch; svasmat-personal; bhavatu-may be; parasmad-from another; va-or; iti-thus; duhkha-sambandha-in relation to suffering; avisheshat-because of being without distinction; asarvajna-doshah-the fault of not-being all-knowing; ca-and; surya-drishöantena-by the example of the sun; eva.-indeed; parihritah.-refuted; praty uta-on the contrary; gunatvena-by the quality; eva.-indeed; darshitah-revealed; ca-and.

They say that one perceives suffering when suffering touches the heart. The suffering may be one's own personal suffering or the suffering of others. There is no real distinction. Both are suffering. Any idea that the Supreme Personality of Godhead is not all-knowing is refuted by the example that compares Him to the everywhere-shining sun. Also, in this way it is seen that the Lord does have transcendental qualities.

Text 44

tasmat tasmin yat kincid duhkha-jnanam astu. duhkhanubhavas tu nasty eva. yata eva kartum akartum anyatha kartum samarthe parama-karunamaya-nicaya-shiro-manau tasmin virajamane 'py adyapi jivah samsara-duhkham anubhavanti atra nairghrinya-pariharash ca bhavati.

tasmat-from that; tasmin-in Him; yat-what; kincit-something; duhkha-jnanam-the knowledge of suffering;

astu.-may be; duhkhanubhavah-the perception of suffering; tu-nut; na-not; asti-is ; eva.-indeed; yata-because; eva-indeed; kartum-to do; akartum-not to do; anyatha-otherwise; kartum-to do; samarthe-able; parama-supremely; karunamaya-merciful; nicaya-of the multitudes; shirah-the crest; manau-jewel; tasmin-in Him; virajamane-being manifested; api-even; adya-now; api-even; jivah-the soul; samsara-duhkham-the sufferings of the material world; anubhavanti-experience; iti-thus; atra-here; nairghrinya-mercillessness; pariharah-removal; ca-and; bhavati-is.

This idea, that the Supreme Personality of Godhead personally suffers is not the truth. The truth is that even though He is aware of all suffering that every occurs, the Supreme Personality of Godhead never feels suffering personally. This is because He is all-powerful. He has the power to do anything, to undo anything, or to change anything into anything else. It is also because He is by His very nature the crest-jewel of all compassionate persons. he does not require to suffer personally in order to feel compassion for others. Thus He is not like the conditioned souls, who require to suffer in the material world before they can feel compassion for others' suffering.

Text 45

yat tu bhaktanam sukham tat tasya bhakti-rupam eva. tatha tesham duhkham ca bhagavat-prapty-antarayenaiva bhavati. tatra cadhika bhagavatya eva cittardrata jayate. sa ca bhaktir eveti.

yat-what; tu-but; bhaktanam-of devotees; sukham-happiness; tat-that; tasya-of Him; bhakti-rupam-the form of devotional service; eva.-indeed; tatha-so; tesham-of them; duhkham-suffering; ca-and; bhagavat-prapty-antarayena-by obstructing the attainment of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; eva-indeed; bhavati.-is; tatra-there; ca-also; adhika-more; bhagavati-in the Supreme Personality of Godhead; eva-indeed; cittardrata-melting of the heart; jayate.-is born; sa-that; ca-and; bhaktih-devotional service; eva-indeed; iti-thus.

Devotional service brings happiness to the devotees. Obstacles that prevent them from meeting the Supreme Personality of Godhead bring the devotees suffering. When the Lord sees these obstacles, His heart melts with compassion for the devotees. That compassion takes the form of devotional service.

Text 46

kvacid gjendradinam api prakrita eva dukhe sa eva mama sharanam ity adina tathaiva bhaktir udbhuteveti. kvacid yamalarjunadishu shri-naradadi-bhaktanam bhaktih sphuöaiveti ca sarvatha dainyatmaka-bhakta-bhakty-anubhava eva tam karunayati. na tu prakritam duhkham. yogye karane satya-yogyasya kalpananaucityat. dukhas-ambhavyasyaiva karanatve sarva-samsarocchitteh.

kvacit-somewhere; gjendradinam-beginning with Gajendra; api-also; prakrita-material; eva-indeed; dukhe-suffering; sa-that; eva-indeed; mama-of me; sharanam-the shelter; iti-thus; adina-beginning; tatha-so; eva-indeed; bhaktih-devotional service; udbhuteveti.-is manifested; kvacit-somewhere; yamalarjunadishu-beginning with the Yamalarjuna trees; shri-naradadi-bhaktanam-devotees beginning with Shri Narada; bhaktih-devotional service; sphuöa-manifested; eva-indeed; iti-thus; ca-and; sarvatha-in all respects; dainyatmaka-humble at heart; bhakta-devotees; bhakti-of devotional service; anubhava-perception; eva-indeed; tam-that; karunayati-is merciful; na-not; tu-but; prakritam-material; duhkham.-suffering; yogye-appropriate; karane-in doing; satya-yogyasya-appropriate for the truth; kalpana-concpetion; anaucityat-because of being unsuitable; dukhas-ambhavyasya-of the manifestation of suffering; eva-indeed; karanatve-as the cause; sarva-all; samsara-material existence; ucchitteh-of the destruction.

Many devotees, like Gajendra, turn to the Lord when they are troubled by material sufferings. In this condition they pray, "The Supreme Lord is my only shelter", and thus they attain devotional service. Others, like the Yamalarjuna trees, attain devotional service by the mercy of great souls, like Shri Narada. Still others attain devotional service because they are naturally humble. In these ways the Lord gives His mercy and frees them from material sufferings. He does not consider whether they are qualified to receive His mercy or not qualified to receive it. He gives His mercy without restriction. In this way He stops the sufferings of His devotees. He rescues them from the cycle of repeated birth and death.

Text 47

atha tasya parampara-karanatvam asty eveti ced astu. na kapi hanir iti. tasmad ubhayatha bhaktanandane tad-bhakty-anubhava eva bhagavantam pravartayatiti siddham.

atha-now; tasya-of Him; parampara-of the series; karanatvam-the state of being the cause; asti-is; eva-indeed; iti-thus; cet-of; astu.-is; na-not; kapi-anything; hanir-destruction; iti.-thus; tasmad-therefore; ubhayatha-in both ways; bhaktanandane-in the happiness of the devotees; tad-bhakty-anubhava-the perception of devotional service; eva-indeed; bhagavantam-to the Supreme Personality of Godhead; pravartayati-brings; iti-thus; siddham-proved.

If material sufferings had a different cause, they might never come to an end. In this way it is proved that material sufferings and material happiness are meant to bring the soul to the Supreme Lord and to the happiness of devotional service.

Text 48

tata etad uktam bhavati. yady anyasya sukha-duhkham anubhuyapi tat-parityagenetarasya sukham duhkha-hanim va sampadayati. tadaiva vaishamyam apatati.

tata-therefore; etad-thus; uktam-said; bhavati.-is; yadi-if; anyasya-of another; sukha-duhkham-happiness and suffering; anubhuya-experiencing; api-also; tat-parityagena-by rejecting that; itarasya-of another; sukham-happiness; duhkha-hanim-destruction of suffering; va-or; sampadayati-establishes; tada-then; eva-indeed; vaishamyam-problem; apatati-attains.

If the perception of happiness and suffering were something different from this description, then the attainment of happiness and the end of suffering would be attained in a way other than by engaging in devotional service. This conclusion is not at all logical or true.

Text 49

shri-bhagavati tu prakrita-sukha-duhkhanubhavabhavan na tad apatati. yatha kalpa-tarau. tad uktam shrinad-akrurena shri-bhagavati-in the Supreme Personality of Godhead; tu-but; prakrita-sukha-duhkha-of material happiness and suffering; anubhava-experience; abhavad-because of the non-existence; na-not; tat-that; apatati-attains; yatha-as; kalpa-tarau.-a kalpa-vrksha tree; tat-that; uktam-said; shrinad-akrurena-by Shri Akrura.

Thus the conclusion is that the Supreme Personality of Godhead never experiences material happiness or material suffering. He is like a spiritual kalpa-vriksha that fulfills everyone's desires. This is confirmed by Shri Akrura in these words (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.38.22):

Text 50

na tasya kashcid dayitah suhrittam na capriyo dveshya upekshya eva va tathapi bhaktan bhajate yatha tatha sura-drumo yadvad upashrito 'rthadah. iti.

na-not; tasya-of Him; kashcit-anyone; dayitah-dear; suhrittamah-best friend; na-not; ca-and; apriyah-not dear; dveshya-to be hated; upekshya-neglected; eva-indeed; va-or; tathapi-still; bhaktan-devotees; bhajate-reciprocates; yatha-ass; tatha-so; sura-drumah-a kalpa-vrksa tree; yadvat-as; upashritah-approached; arthadah.-fulfilling desires; iti.-thus.

"No one is Krishna's dearest friend. No one is His hated enemy. No one is rejected by Him. Still, He reciprocates His devotees' love. To them He is like a kalpa-vriksha tree that fulfills all desires."

Text 51

atra bhaktad anya eva kashcid iti jneyam. kah panditas tvad aparam sharanam samiyad bhakta-priyadrita-girah suhridah kritajnat ity etat tad-vakyenaiva tat-priyatva-prokteh.

atra-here; bhaktat-from a devotee; anya-another; eva-indeed; kashcit-someone; iti-thus; jneyam-to be understood; kah panditas tvad aparam sharanam samiyad bhakta-priyadrita-girah suhridah kritajnat ity etat tad-vakyena-by the words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.48.26; eva-indeed; tat-priyatva-the dearness of Him; prokteh-said.

Here the word "kashcit" means "a person who is not a devotee". that the Supreme Personality of Godhead dearly loves His devotees is confirmed by these words (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.48.26):

"My dear Lord, You are very affectionate to Your devotees. You are also a truthful and grateful friend. Where is that learned man who would give You up and surrender to someone else? You fulfill all the desires of Your devotees, so much so that sometimes You even give Yourself to them. Still, You neither increase nor decrease by such activity."*

Text 52

shri-mahadevenapy uktam na hy asyasti priyah kashcin napriyah svah paro 'pi va atmatvat sarva-bhutanam sarva-bhuta-priyo harih

shri-mahadevena-by Lord Shiva; api-also; uktam-said; na-not; hi-indeed; asya-of the Lord; asti-there is; priyah-very dear; kashcin-anyone; na-nor; apriyah-not dear; svah-own; parah-other; api-even; va-or; atmatvat-due to being the soul of the soul; sarva-bhutanam-of all living entities; sarva-bhuta-to all living entities; priyah-very, very dear; harih-Lord Hari.

That the Supreme Personality of Godhead is equal to all to also confirmed by these words of Lord Shiva (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 6.17.33-34):

"He holds no one as very dear and no one as inimical. he has no one for His own relative, and no one is alien to Him. He is actually the soul of the soul of all living entities. Thus He is the auspicious friend of all living beings and is very near and dear to all of them.*

Text 53

tasya cayam maha-bhagas citraketuh priyo 'nugah sarvatra sama-drik shanto hy aham caivacyuta-priyah. iti.

tasya-of Him (the Lord); ca-and; ayam-this; maha-bhagah-The most fortunate; citraketuh-King Citraketu; priyah-beloved; anugah-most obedient servant; sarvatra-everywhere; sama-drik-sees equally; shantah-very peaceful; hi-indeed; aham-I; ca-also; eva-certainly; acyuta-priyah-very dear to Lord Krishna, who never fails; iti-thus.

"The magnanimous Citraketu is a dear devotee of the Lord. He is equal to all living entities and is free from attachment and hatred. Similarly, I am also very dear to Lord Narayana."*

Text 54

tathoktam shri-prahladenapi citram tavehita-maho 'mita-yoga-mayalila-vishrishōa-bhuvanasya visharadasya sarvatmanah sama-drisho 'vishamah sva-bhavo bhakta-priyo yad asi kalpa-taru-svabhavah. iti.

tatha-so; uktam-said; shri-prahladena-by Shri Prahlada; api-also; citram-very wonderful; tava ihitam-all Your activities; ahah-alas; amita-unlimited; yoga-maya-of Your spiritual potency; lila-by the pastimes; vishrishōa-bhuvanasya-of Your Lordship, by whom all the universes have been created; visharadasya-of Your Lordship, who are expert in all respects; sarvatmanah-of Your Lordship, who pervade all; sama-drishah-and who are equal toward all; avishamah-without differentiation; sva-bhavah-that is Your characteristic; bhakta-priyah-under the circumstances You become favorable to the devotees; yat-because; asi-You are; kalpa-taru-svabhavah.-having the characteristic of a desire tree; iti-thus.

That the Supreme Personality of Godhead is equal to all and is like a desire tree that fulfills His devotees' desires is described by Shri Prahlada in these words (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 8.23.8):

"O Lord, Your pastimes are all wonderfully performed by Your inconceivable spiritual energy, and by her perverted reflection, the material energy, You have created all the universes. As the Supersoul of all living entities, You are aware of everything, and therefore You are certainly equal toward everyone. Nonetheless, You favor Your devotees. This is not partiality, however, for Your characteristic is like that of a desire tree, which yields everything according to one's desire."*

Text 55

arthash ca yat tvam bhakta-priyo 'si. so 'si sama-drishas tava svabhavo 'vishamo vishamo na bhavati. tatra hetu-garbha-visheshanam kalpa-taru-svabhava iti. tasmad vishama-svabhavataya pratito 'pi tvayy avaishamyam ity ativa-citram iti.

arthah-the meaning; ca-also; yat-what; tvam-You; bhakta-priyah-dear of the devotees; asi.-are; sah-He; asi-You are; sama-drishah-seeing equally; tava-of You; svabhavah-nature; avishamah-without differentiation; vishamah-differentiation; na-not; bhavati.-is; tatra-here; hetu-garbha-visheshanam-teh adjective; kalpa-taru-svabhava-the nature of a desire tree; iti.-thus; tasmad-from that; vishama-svabhavataya-by the nature of differentiation; pratitah-understood; api-even; tvayi-in You; avaishamyam-without differentiation; iti-thus; ativa-citram-very wonderful; iti-thus.

This verse means: "O Lord, You favor Your devotees (bhakta-priyo 'si), but still You are certainly equal toward everyone (sama-drishah). This is not partiality (avishamah), however, for Your characteristic is like that of a desire tree (kalpa-taru-svabhavah), which yields everything according to one's desire."*

Text 56

athava paratrapī kalpa-vrkshadi-lakshane samane evashrayaniye vastuni bhakta-paksha-pata-rupa-vaishamyā-darshanat tad-vaishamyam api samasyaiva svabhava iti labdhe tad-apariharyam eveti siddhantayitavyam.

athava-or; paratra-in another place; api-also; kalpa-vrkshadi-lakshane-with the nature of a desire tree or other like thing; samane-equal; eva-indeed; ashrayaniye-to be taken shelter of; vastuni-substance; bhakta-paksha-pata-taking sides with the devotees; rupa-in the form; vaishamyā-partiality; darshanat-from seeing; tad-vaishamyam-partiality to them; api-also; samasya-equal; eva-indeed; svabhava-nature; iti-thus; labdhe-attained; tad-apariharyam-not to be removed; eva-indeed; iti-thus; siddhantayitavyam-to be concluded.

In another interpretation of this verse it is understood that the Supreme Personality of Godhead is like a desire tree or other like things and for this reason one should take shelter of Him. Also, He is naturally partial to His devotees, and this partiality to them does not at all conflict with His natural impartiality to everyone.

Text 57

tataś ca vishama-svabhava ity eva vyakhyeyam tatha purvatrapī bhaktān bhajata iti vaishamyā eva yojaniyam iti. vastutas tu śrī-bhagavatya acintyam aishvaryam eva mukhyas tad-avirodhe hetuḥ.

tatah-then; ca-and; vishama-svabhava-vishama-svabhava; iti-thus; eva-indeed; vyakhyeyam-to be explained; tatha-so; purvatra-in another place; api-also; bhaktan-the devotees; bhajata-reciprocates; iti-thus;

vaishamya-partiality; eva-indeed; yojaniyam-appropriate; iti.-thus; vastutah-in truth; tu-but; shri-bhagavati-in the Supreme Personality of Godhead; acintyam-inbconceivable; aishvaryam-opulence; eva-indeed; mukhyah-primary; tad-avirodhe-not contradicting that; hetuh-the reason.

In some readings the word "avishama-svabhavah" (He is naturally impartial) is replaced by "vishama-svabhavah" (He is naturally partial to His devotees). His partiality to them is appropriate because in this way He reciprocates with them (bhaktan bhajate). Because the Lord has inconceivable potencies His impartiality to all and His partiality to His devotees do not contradict each other.

Text 58

yad uktam namo namas te 'stv rsabhaya satvatam ity adau dvitiyasya caturthe.

yad-what; uktam-said; namo namas te 'stv rsabhaya satvatam ity adau dvitiyasya caturthe-in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 2.4.14.

That the Lord is partial to the devotees is also confirmed by these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (2.4.14):

"Let me offer my respectful obeisances unto He who is the associate of the members of the Yadu dynasty and who is always a problem for the nondevotees. He is the supreme enjoyer of both the material and spiritual worlds, yet He enjoys His own abode in the spiritual sky. There is no one equal to Him because His transcendental opulence is immeasurable."*

Text 59

öikayam tad evam vaishamya-pratitav apy adoshatvayacintyam aishvaryam aha iti.

öikayam-in the commentary; tat-that; evam-thus; vaishamya-pratitav-in the knowledge of partiality; api-also; adoshatvaya-being free of fault; acintyam-inconceivable; aishvaryam-opulence; aha-said; iti-thus.

Shrila Shridhara Svami comments:

"Here there is no fault in the Lord's partiality to the devotees, for the Lord has inconceivable powers and opulences."

Text 60

tad uktam shri-bhishmena sarvatmanah sama-drisho hy advayasyanahankriteh tat-kritam mati-vaishamyam niravadyasya na kvacit

tat-that; uktam-said; shri-bhishmena-by Shri Bhimsa; sarvatmanah-of one who is present in everyone's heart; sama-drishah-of one who is equally kind to one and all; hi-certainly; advayasya-of the Absolute; anahankriteh-free from all material identity of false ego; tat-kritam-everything done by Him; maticonsciousness; vaishamyam-differentiation; niravadyasya-freed from all attachment; na-never; kvacit-at any stage.

That although He is equal to all, the Supreme Personality of Godhead is still partial to His devotees is confirmed by Shri Bhishma in these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (1.9.21-22):

"Being the absolute Personality of Godhead, He is present in everyone's heart. He is equally kind to everyone, and He is free from the false ego of differentiation. Therefore whatever He does is free from material inebriety. He is equibalanced.*

Text 61

tathapy ekanta-bhakteshu pashya bhupanukampitam yan me 'sums tyajatah sakshat krishno darshanam agatah. iti.

tathapi-still; ekanta-unflinching; bhakteshu-unto the devotees; pashya-see here; bhupa-O king; anukampitam-how sympathetic; yan-for which; me-my; asumh-life; tyajatah-ending; sakshat-directly; krishnah-the Personality of Godhead; darshanam-in my view; agatah.-has kindly come; iti.-thus.

"Yet, despite His being equally kind to everyone, He has graciously come before me while I am ending my life, for I am his His unflinching servitor."*

Text 62

tatha svayam shri-bhagavata

samo 'ham sarva-bhuteshu na me dveshyo 'sti na priyah ye bhajanti tu mam bhaktya mayi te teshu capy aham. iti.

tatha-so; svayam-personally; shri-bhagavata-by the Supreme Personality of Godhead; samah-equally disposed; aham-I; sarva-bhuteshu-to all living entities; na-no one; me-Mine; dveshyah-hateful; asti-is; na-nor; priyah-dear; ye-those; bhajanti-render transcendental service; tu-yet; mam-unto Me; bhaktya-in devotion; mayi-unto Me; te-such persons; teshu-in them; ca-also; api-certainly; aham.-I; iti.-thus.

This partiality to the devotees is confirmed by the Lord Himself in these words (Bhagavad-gita 9.29):

"I envy no one, nor am I partial to anyone. I am equal to all. But whoever renders service unto Me in devotion is a friend, is in Me, and I am also a friend to him."*

Text 63

tad evam tat-tad-adoshe bhakta-paksha-patasya svarupa-shakti-sara-bhutatve bhakta-vinodartham eva svarupa-shaktyaiva svayam eva ca tat-tad-avatara-lilah karoti bhagavan. tato vishva-palanam tu svayam eva sidhyatiti sthite. na vaidura-prashnas tad-avasthah.

tat-that; evam-thus; tat-tad-adoshe-in these faults; bhakta-paksha-patasya-taking the devotees' side; svarupa-shakti-personal potency; sara-bhutatve-in being the best; bhakta-vinodartham-for the sake of pleasing the devotees; eva-indeed; svarupa-shaktya-with His personal potency; eva-indeed; svayam-personally; eva-indeed; ca-also; tat-tad-avatara-lilah-His various incarnations and pastimes; karoti-does; bhagavan.-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; tatah-therefore; vishva-palanam-protecting the material universe; tu-indeed; svayam-personally; eva-indeed; sidhyati-proves; iti-thus; sthite.-situated; na-not; vaidura-prashnah-the question of Vidura; tad-avasthah-that situation.

Thus the Supreme Personality of Godhead is not at fault for being partial to His devotees. Actually He manifests His various incarnations and pastimes by His transcendental potency for the purpose of pleasing His devotees. He does not descend to this world in order to protect the material world. That was already established by Vidura's question (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 3.7.2-7) previously quoted in this book.

Text 64

atra devadinam prakritataya taih saha lilayam svatas triptata-hanis teshu tad-amshaveshadi-svikarenagre parihartavya. tatha bhakta-vinodaika-prayojanaka-svaira-lila-kaivalyena canyatra raga-dveshabhavan na vaishamyam api. praty uta pitta-dushita-jihvanam khanda vairasya iva tasman nigrahe 'py anubhuyamane tesham dushöatadi-kshapana-lakshanam hitam eva bhavati.

atra-here; devadinam-beginning with the demigods; prakritataya-material; taih-them; saha-with; lilayam-in pastimes; svatah-personally; triptata-satiation; hanih-destruction; teshu-in them; tad-amsha-His part; avesh-entrance; adi-beginning; svikarena-by accepting; agre-in the presence; parihartavya-to be refuted; tatha-so; bhakta-vinodaika-prayojanaka-only for the purpose of pleasing His devotees; svaira-independent; lila-pastimes; kaivalyena-exclusively; ca-also; anyatra-in another place; raga-dveshabhavad-because of the absence of attraction or hatred; na-not; vaishamyam-partiality; api.-also; praty uta-on the contrary; pitta-dushita-jihvanam-of tongues afflicted with jaundice; khanda-from sugar candy; vairasya-the absence of taste; iva-like; tasman-from that; nigrahe-in rejection; api-even; anubhuyamane-experiencing; tesham-of them; dushöata-wickedness; adi-beginning with; kshapana-defeating; lakshanam-nature; hitam-auspicious; eva-indeed; bhavati-is.

When He incarnates in the material world, the Lord associates with the material demigods. Because associating with them in His pastimes would ordinarily not be very pleasing to Him, He personally enters them and fills them with devotion. In this way they become acceptable companions for Him and He accepts them. When the Lord accepts the forms of His different incarnations by the agency of His internal potency, He does not lose or change His personality. He is the same person in each incarnation. The Lord incarnates only to please His devotees. Aside from His love for His devotees, He is impartial and equal to all, for He neither hates nor loves anyone. When a person has jaundice, sugar candy tastes bitter. However, eating sugar candy is the cure for jaundice. In the same way the Supreme Lord gives His association to the demons. That association is bitter for them, but it is also the cure for their continued existence in the world of birth and death. In this way the Supreme Lord acts for the demons' welfare.

Text 65

atra

na hy asya janmano hetuh karmano va mahi-pate atma-mayam vineshasya
parasya drashöur atmanah

atra-here; na-not; hi-indeed; asya-of Him (the Supreme Personality of Godhead); janmanah-of the appearance, or taking birth; hetuh-there is any cause; karmanah-or for the acting; va-either; mahi-pate-O king (Maharaja Parikshit); atma-mayam-His supreme compassion for the fallen souls; vina-without; ishasya-of the supreme controller; parasya-of the Personality of Godhead, who is beyond the material world; drashöuh-of the Supersoul, who witnesses everyone's activities; atmanah-of the Supersoul of everyone.

That the Supreme Personality of Godhead acts so that the conditioned souls may become liberated is confirmed by these words (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 9.24.57-58):

"O Maharaja Parikshit, but for the Lord's personal desire there is no cause for His appearance, disappearance, or activities. As the Supersoul, He knows everything. Consequently, there is no cause that affects Him, not even the results of fruitive activities.*

Text 66

yan-maya-ceshöitam pumsah sthity-utpatty-apyayaya hi anugrahas tan-nivritter atma-labhaya ceshyate

yat-whatever; maya-ceshöitam-the laws of material nature enacted by the Supreme Personality of Godhead; pumsah-of the living entities; sthiti-duration of life; utpatti-birth; apyayaya-annihilation; hi-indeed; anugrahas-compassion; tan-nivritteh-the creation and manifestation of cosmic energy to stop the repetition of birth and death; atma-labhaya-thus going home, back to Godhead; ca-indeed; ishyate-for this purpose the creation is there.

"The Supreme Personality of Godhead acts through His material energy in the creation, maintenance, and annihilation of this cosmic manifestation just to deliver the living entity by His compassion and stop the living entity's birth, death, and duration of materialistic life. Thus He enables the living being to return home, back to Godhead."*

Text 67

iti navamanta-stha-shri-shuka-vakyanusarena pralaye linopadher jivasya dharmady-asambhavad upadhi-shrishöy-adina. dharmadi-sampadanenanugraha iti tadiya-öikanusarena ca.

iti-thus; navamanta-stha-shri-shuka-vakyanusarena-according to Shri Sukadeva Gosvami's statement at the end of the ninth canto; pralaye-in annihilation; lina-,erged; upadheh-of the material designation; jivasya-of the individual spirit soul; dharmady-asambhavad-because of the non-manifestation of the material qualities; upadhi-shrishöy-adina.-beginning with the creation of material designations; dharmadi-sampadanena-with the manifestation of material qualities; anugraha-mercy; iti-thus; tadiya-öikanusarena-according to the commentary; ca-also.

According to these words of Shrila Shukadeva Gosvami at the end of Shrimad-Bhagavatam's Ninth Canto, the periodic dissolution of the material cosmos, material forms, and material qualities, and their subsequent re-manifestation are all the mercy of the Lord. This is also confirmed in Shrila Shridhara Svami's commentary.

Text 68

tatha

loke bhavan jagadinah kalayavatirnah sad-rakshanaya khala-nigrahanaya canyah kashcit tvadiyam atiyati nidesham isha kim va janah svakritam icchati tan na vidmah tatha-so; loka-in the world; bhavan-Your Lordship; jagadinah-the master of the world; kalaya-with Your plenary portion; avatirnah-incarnated; sad-rakshanaya-to protect the devotees; khala-nigrahanaya-to crush the demons; ca-also; anyah-another; kashcit-someone; tvadiyam-Your; atiyati-transgress; nidesham-order; isha-O Lord; kim-how?; va-or; janah-person; svakritam-personally done; icchati-desires; tan-that; na-not; vidmah-we understand.

That the Supreme Personality of Godhead comes to the material world to protect the devotees is confirmed by this prayer in Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.70.27):

"My dear Lord, You are the proprietor of all the worlds and You have incarnated Yourself along with Your plenary expansion Lord Balarama. It is said that Your appearance in this incarnation is for the purpose of protecting the faithful and destroying the miscreants. Under the circumstances, how is it possible that miscreants like Jarasandha can put us into such deplorable conditions of life against Your authority? We are puzzled at the situation and cannot understand how it is possible."*

Text 69

iti jarasandha-baddha-raja-vrinda-nivedane 'pi ishvare tvayi sad-rakshanartham avatirne 'pi ced asmakam duhkham syat tarhi kim anyah kashcid jarasandhadis tvad-ajnam api langhayati. kim ca tvaya rakshyamano 'pi janah sva-karma-duhkham prapnoty eveti na vidmah. na caitad ubhayam api yuktam iti bhavah.

iti-thus; jarasandha-baddha-raja-vrinda-nivedane-in the appeal made by the kinds imprisoned by Jarasandha; api-also; ishvare-in the Supreme Personality of Godhead; tvayi-in You; sad-rakshanartham-for the purpose of rescuing the devotees; avatirne-descended; api-also; cet-if; asmakam-of us; duhkham-suffering; syat-is; tarhi-then; kim-why?; anyah-another; kashcit-someone; jarasandhadis-beginning with Jarasandha; tvad-ajnam-Your order; api-also; langhayati.-disobeys; kim-why?; ca-also; tvaya-by You; rakshyamanah-protected; api-also; janah-perople; sva-karma-duhkham-the sufferings of their own karma; prapnoti-attains; eva-indeed; iti-thus; na-not; vidmah.-we know; na-not; ca-and; etat-this; ubhayam-both; api-also; yuktam-proper; iti-thus; bhavah.-the meaning

These words are a request sent to the Supreme Personality of Godhead by the kings imprisoned by Jarasandha. Shrila Shridhara Svami gives the following explanation:

"The gist of this verse is: `O Lord, if You have descended to this world to protect the devotees, then why do we suffer so painfully? Why do Jarasandha and others disobey Your orders? Even though You give them protection, why do the people continue to suffer the results of their past karma? We do not understand why this is so? These things are not right.' That is the meaning of this verse."

Text 70

iti tadiya-öikanusarena ca lilayah svairatve 'pi durghaöa-ghaöani mayaiva tada tada devasuradinam tat-tat-karmodbodha-sandhanam api ghaöayati.

iti-thusd; tadiya-öikanusarena-according to the commentary; ca-and; lilayah-of pastimes; svairatve-in independence; api-also; durghata--ghatani-difficult to understand; maya-maya; eva-indeed; tada tada-thne; devasuradinam-beginning with the demigods and the demons; tat-tat-karma-karma; udbodha-sandhanam-seeking; api-also; ghatayati.-causes.

In this explanation by Shrila Shridhara Svami it is seen that the Supreme Lord is supremely independent and can enjoy pastimes in any way He wishes, and it is also seen that it is very difficult to understand how the powerful maya potency awards to the demigods, demons, and other conditioned souls the results of their past fruitive actions.

Text 71

yaya sva-sva-karmana prithag eva ceshöamananam jivanam ceshöa-visheshah paraspara-shubhashubha-shakunataya ghaöita bhavantiy adikam loke 'pi drishyate.

yaya-by which; sva-sva-karmana-according to their own karma; prithag-specific; eva-indeed; ceshöamananam-acting; jivanam-of individual spirit souls; ceshöa-visheshah-specific action; paraspara-mutual; shubha-good; ashubha-and evil; shakunataya-by the omen; ghaöita-done; bhavanti-are; iti-thus; adikam-beginning; loke-in the world; api-also; drishyate-is seen.

By their own actions, the individual spirit souls in the material world bring upon themselves various kinds of good and bad results. That is clearly seen in this world.

Text 72

yatra tu kvacid esha tal-lila-javam anugantum na shaknoti. tatraiva parameshituh svairata vyakti-bhavati.

yatra-where; tu-indeed; kvacit-somewhere; esha-the maya potency; tal-lila-javam-the force of His pastimes; anugantum-to follow; na-not; shaknoti.-is able; tatra-there; eva-indeed; parameshituh-of the supreme controller; svairata-independence; vyakti-bhavati-manifests.

The maya potency cannot imitate the Supreme Lord's pastimes. The Supreme Lord is completely independent and can do whatever He likes.

Text 73

yatha guru-putram ihanitam nija-karma-nibandhanam anayasva maha-raja
mac-chasana-puraskritah.

iti yama-vishayaka-shri-bhagavad-adeshadau.

yatha-as; guru-putram-the guru's son; iha-here; anitam-brought; nija-karma-nibandhanam-the bondage of his own karma; anayasva-bring; maha-raja-O great king; mac-chasana-puraskritah.-by My order; iti-thus; yama-vishayaka-to Yamaraja; shri--bhagavat-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; adesha-the order; adau-beginning.

That Yamaraja and his servants are bound to follow the orders of the Supreme Personality of Godhead is seen in these words spoken by Lord Krishna to Yamaraja (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.45.45):

"Some time back you caused the drowning of the son of Our teacher. I order you to return him."*

Text 74

tatash ca tasyati-virala-pracaratvan na sarvatra krita-hany-akritabhyagama-prasangash ca.

tatah-then; ca-and; tasya-of that; ati-virala-pracaratvat-because of being very rare; na-not; sarvatra-everywhere; krita-hani-departed; akritabhyagama-prasangah-not arrived; ca-and.

Because it is very rare that one will receive a direct order from the Supreme Lord in this way, Yamaraja is not at fault for acting in a way contrary to his ordinary duties.

Text 75

atha yadi kecid bhaktanam eva dvishanti. tada bbakta-paksha-patantah-patitvad bhagavata seyam tad-dveshe 'pi na doshah. praty uta bhakta-vishayaka-tad-rateh poshakatvena hladini-vritti-bhutanandollasa-vishesha evasau.

atha-nor; yadi-if; kecit-some; bhaktanam-of devotees; eva-indeed; dvishanti.-hante; tada-then; bbakta-paksha-the side of the devotees; patantah-patitvat-because of taking; bhagavata-by the Supreme Personality of Godhead; sa iyam-this; tad-dveshe-in that hatred; api-even; na-not; doshah.-fault; praty uta-on the contrary; bhakta-vishayaka-tad-rateh-devotion to His devotees; poshakatvena-because of maintaining; hladini-vritti-bhuta-manifested from the activities of the hladini potency; ananda-bliss; ullasa-vishesha-great glory; eva-indeed; asau-this.

However, if some persons hate them, the Lord at once becomes the partisan of His devotees. This is not a fault on the Lord's part. The Lord loves His devotees. He protects them, and, with His hladini potency, He brings them great bliss.

Text 76

yena hi dveshena pratipada-pronmilat-sandrananda-vaicitri-samatirikta-bhaktir asamaru-sthala-brahma-kaivalyapadana-rupatvena tadiya-bhakti-rasa-maha-pratiyogitaya tato 'nyatha dushcikitsyataya ca tatrocitam.

yena-by which; hi-indeed; dveshena-hatred; pratipada-pronmilat-sandrananda-vaicitri-samatirikta-bhaktih-the wonder of great bliss of loving devotional service at every moment; a-not; sa-with; maru-sthala-the desert; brahma-kaivalya-impersonal liberation; apadana-rupatvena-because of manifesting; tadiya-bhakti-rasa-maha-pratiyogitaya-as the opposite of the great nectar of devotional service; tatah-then; anyatha-otherwise; dushcikitsyataya-by being incurable; ca-also; tatra-there; ucitam-proper.

The hatred of persons who oppose the devotees only increases the devotees' love for the Lord, and that love brings the devotees a great wonder of intense transcendental bliss at every moment, a bliss that has nothing to do with the hopeless parched desert of impersonal so-called liberation.

Text 77

tad-uttha-bhagavat-tejasa tat-svarupa-shakter api tiraskarena dhvamsabhava-tulyam svargapavarga-narakeshv api tulyartha-darshinah iti nyayenanyesham ativa duhsaham tesham api kamukanam nikamam anabhishtaam uddanda-guna-vishesham kurvaty eva bhagavati tasya sarva-hita-paryavasayi-caritra-svabhavatvad eva tat-tad-durvara-durvasana-mayashesha-samsara-klesha-nasho 'pi bhavati.

tad-uttha-bhagavat-tejasa-by the power of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; tat-svarupa-shakteh-of His personal potency; api-also; tiraskarena-by eclipsing; dhvamsabhava-tulyam-like the non-existence of darkness; svargapavarga-narakeshv api tulyartha-darshinah iti nyayena-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 6.17.28; anyesham-of others; ativa-great; duhsaham-unbearable; tesham-of them; api-also; kamukanam-filled with material desires; nikamam-without material desires; anabhishtaam-without material desires; uddanda-guna-vishesham-specific quality; kurvati-does; eva-indeed; bhagavati-in the Supreme Personality of Godhead; tasya-of that; sarva-hita-paryavasayi-caritra-svabhavatvad-because of activities that benefit everyone; eva-indeed; tat-tad-durvara-durvasana-mayashesha-samsara-klesha-nashah-the destruction of horrible material sufferings; api-also; bhavati-is.

Thus devotional service, which is manifested from the Supreme Lord's internal potency, eclipses everything else and makes it unimportant by comparison. This is described in the following words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (6.17.28):

"Devotees solely engaged in the devotional service of the Supreme Personality of Godhead, Narayana, never fear any condition of life. For them the heavenly planets, liberation, and the hellish planets are all the same, for such devotees are interested only in the service of the Lord."*

Because they have no material desires and because they are interested to work for the welfare of all living beings, the devotees of the Lord become free from the many horrible and unbearable sufferings of continued material existence.

Text 78

yah khalv abhedopasakanam ati-kricchra-sadhyah purusharthah. kvacic ca paramartha-vastv-abhijanam naraka-nirvishesham tesham kaminam tu nikamam abhishtaam viö-kiöanam ivamedhyam svarga-vishesham tebhyo dadati. sa parameshvarah.

yah-who; khalv-indeed; abheda-not different; upasakanam-of the worshipers; ati-kricchra-sadhyah-very difficult to be obtained; purusharthah.-the goal of life; kvacit-something; ca-and; paramartha-vastv-abhijnanam-understanding what is the goal of life; naraka-nirvishesham-free from hell; tesham-of them; kaminam-desiring; tu-indeed; nikamam-according to desire; abhishöam-desired; viö-kiöanam-of worms in stool; iva-like; amedhyam-not worthy; svarga-vishesham-specific heavenly world; tebhayah-to them; dadati.-gives; sa-He; parameshvarah-the Supreme Personality of Godhead.

The impersonalists find it very difficult to attain the true goal of life. Unaware of the true goal of life, the impersonalists attain impersonal liberation, which is just like hell. Materialists filled with material desires attain various so-called heavenly material worlds where they enjoy like worms in stool. The Supreme Personality of Godhead gives these destinations to the impersonalists and the materialists.

Text 79

ata evoktam naga-patnibhih ripoh sutanam api tulya-drishöer dhatse damam phalam evanusamshan iti.

ata eva-therefore; uktam-said; naga-patnibhih-by the wives of Kaliya-naga; ripoh sutanam api tulya-drishöer dhatse damam phalam evanusamshan iti-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.16.33.

That the activities of the Lord are always for the benefit of everyone is confirmed by Naga-patnis in these words (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.16.33):

"O dear Lord, You are equal to everyone. For You there is no distinction between Your sons, friends, and enemies. Therefore the punishment which You have so kindly offered to Kaliya is exactly befitting. O Lord, You have descended especially for the purpose of annihilating all kinds of disturbing elements within the world, and because You are the Absolute Truth, there is no difference between Your mercy and punishment. We think, therefore, that this apparent punishment to Kaliya is actually some benediction."*

Text 80

atra sutanam suta-vat palyanam devanam ity arthah. damam iti yato damam apity arthah.

atra-here; sutanam-of sons; suta-vat-like a son; palyanam-protected; devanam-of the demigods; iti-thus; arthah.-the meaning; damam-subduing; iti-thus; yatah-from whom; damam-subduing; api-also; iti-thus; arthah.-the meaning.

Here the word "sutanam" means "of the demigods, who are protected as if they were sons", and "damam" means "punishment".

Text 81

yat tu putanadav uttama-bhakta-gatih shruyate. tad-bhaktanukaranadi-mahatmyenaiveti tatra tatra spashöam eva yatha sa-dveshad iva putanapi sa-kula ity adi.

yat-what; tu-but; putanadav-beginning with Putana; uttama-bhakta-gatih-the destination of the greatest devotees; shruyate.-is heard; tad-bhaktanukarana-imitating the devotees; adi-beginning with; mahatmyena-by the glories; eva-indeed; iti-thus; tatra tatra-there; spashöam-clearly; eva-indeed; yatha-as; sa-dveshad iva

Even Putana and other demons attained the same destination that is attained by the greatest devotees. Thus it is seen that even artificially imitating the activities of the great devotees is glorious. This is confirmed by the following words addressed to the Supreme Personality of Godhead (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.14.35):

"I think of how You are so kind, so magnanimous that even Putana, who came to cheat You by dressing herself as a very affectionate mother, was awarded liberation and the actual post of a mother. And other demons belonging to the same family, such as Aghasura and Bakasura, were also favored with liberation."*

Text 82

atha yadi kecid bhakta eva santo bhaktantareshu kathancid aparadhyanti. tada tenaivaparadhena bhakteshu bhagavati ca vivartamanam dvesha-vadavanala-jvala-kalapam anubhuya cirat kathancit punah sa-dveshenapi bhagavat-samsparshadina sa-parikare tad-aparadha-doshe vinashöe sva-padam eva prapnuvanti. na tu brahma-kaivalyam. bhakti-lakshana-bijasyanashvara-svabhavatvat.

atha-now; yadi-if; kecit-some; bhakta-devotees; eva-indeed; santah-saintly; bhaktantareshu-to other devotees; kathancit-somehow; aparadhyanti.-commit offenses; tada-then; tena-by that; eva-indeed; aparadhena-offense; bhakteshu-to the devotees; bhagavati-to the Supreme Personality of Godhead; ca-also; vivartamanam-becoming changed; dvesha-vadavanala-jvala-kalapam-by flames from the volcano of hatred; anubhuya-experiencing; cirat-for a long time; kathancit-somehow; punah-again; sa-dveshena-with hatred; api-also; bhagavat-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; samsparsha-by the touch; adina-beginning; sa-parikare-with His associates; tad-aparadha-doshe-in the fault of an offense; vinashöe-destroyed; sva-padam-own position; eva-indeed; prapnuvanti.-attain; na-not; tu-but; brahma-kaivalyam.-impersonal liberation; bhakti-lakshana-characterized by devotional service; bijasya-of the seed; anashvara-eternal; svabhavatvat-because of the natural position.

If some devotees commit offenses to other devotees, the offenders burn for a long time in the volcanic fires of hatred to not only other devotees, but even to the Supreme Lord Himself. After some time they receive the angry touch of the Supreme Lord. In that way their offenses become destroyed, and they attain the feet of the Lord at the end. Such devotees do not attain impersonal liberation, for they are protected by the eternal nature of the devotional service they have already performed.

Text 83

teshu bhagavatah krodhash ca baleshu matur iveti. tasmāt sarvaṁ samānjasam. tatha hi śhri-rajovaca teshu-to them; bhagavatah-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; krodhash-anger; ca-and; baleshu-to children; matur-of a mother; iva-like; iti-thus; tasmāt-from this; sarvaṁ-all; samānjasam-right and just; tatha hi-furthermore; śhri-rajovaca-the king said.

In this way the Lord is like a mother angry with her children. Thus the Lord's actions are right, just, and good. This is explained in the following passage (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.7.1-12, which is discussed here in anucchedas 93-104), which begins with these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (7.1.1), where King Parikshit inquired:

Text 84

samah priyah suhrid brahman bhutanam bhagavan svayam indrasyarthe katham daityan avadhid vishamo yatha

samah-equal; priyah-beloved; suhrit-friend; brahman-O brahmana (Shukadeva); bhutanam-toward all living entities; bhagavan-the Supreme Lord, Vishnu; svayam-Himself; indrasya-of Indra; arthe-for the benefit; katham-how?; daityan-the demons; avadhid-killed; vishamah-partial; yatha-as if.

"My dear brahmana, the Supreme Personality of Godhead, Vishnu, being everyone's well-wisher, is equal and extremely dear to everyone. How, then, did He become partial like a common man for the sake of Indra, and thus kill Indra's enemies? How can a person equal to everyone be partial to some and inimical toward others?*

Text 85

paramatmatvena samah suhrit hita-kari priyah priti-vishayo bhagavan. evam sati samyenaivopakartavyatvena priti-vishayatvena ca sarveshv eva prapteshu katham vishama iva daityan avadhiti. vishamatvam upalakshanam. asuhridi va priya iva ceti.

paramatmatvena-as the Supersoul; samah-equal; suhrit-friend; hita-kari-well-wisher; priyah-dear; priti-vishayah-affectionate; bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; evam-thus; sati-being so; samyena-with equality; eva-indeed; upakartavyatvena-as the helper; priti-vishayatvena-with affection; ca-and; sarveshv-in all; eva-indeed; prapteshu-attained; katham-how?; vishama-partial; iva-like; daityan-to the demons; avadhiti-killed; vishamatvam-parity; upalakshanam.-characteristic; a-suhridi-not a friend; va-or; priya-dear; iva-like; ca-and; iti-thus.

Here the word "samah" means "because He is the Supersoul, He is equal to all", "suhrit" means "the well-wisher", and "bhagavan priyah" means "the affectionate Supreme Personality of Godhead". The question in this verse is: "If He is equal, affectionate, and helpful to all living beings, why does the Supreme Personality of Godhead show partiality by killing the demons?" Thus the Lord is partial. To some He is a dear friend, and to others He is an enemy.

Anuccheda 94

Text 1

kim ca. yasya yaih prayojanam sidhyati. sa tat-paksha-pati bhavati. yebhyo bibheti. tan dveshena hanti. na tu tad atrastity aha kim ca-furthermore; yasya-of whom; yaih-with whom; prayojanam-need; sidhyati.-is established; sa-He; tat-paksha-pati-the ally of the devotees; bhavati-is; yebhyah-from whom; bibheti.-fear; tan-them; dveshena-with hatred; hanti.-kill; na-not; tu-but; tat-that; atra-here; asti-is iti-thus; aha-said.

Here someone may say that because He has needs that require to be fulfilled, because He is partial to some living entities, and because He fears other living entities, the Supreme Personality of Godhead hatefully kills His enemies. This is not an accurate description of the Supreme Personality of Godhead. This is explained in the following words (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 7.1.2):

Text 2

na hy asyarthah sura-ganaih sakshan nihshreyasatmanah naivasurebhyo vidvisho nodvegash cagunasya hi

na-not; hi-certainly; asya-His; arthah-benefit, interest; sura-ganaih-with the demigods; sakshan-personally; nihshreyasa-of the highest bliss; atmanah-whose nature; na-not; eva-certainly; asurebhyah-for the demons; vidvishah-envy; na-not; udvegashfear; ca-and; agunasya-who possesses no material qualities; hi-certainly.

"Lord Vishnu Himself, the Supreme Personality of Godhead, is the reservoir of all pleasure. Therefore, what benefit would He derive from siding with the demigods? What interest would He fulfill in this way? Since the Lord is transcendental, why should He fear the asuras, and how could He be envious of them?"*

Text 3

nihshreyasam paramanandah.

nihshreyasam-nihshreyasam; paramanandah-transcendental bliss.

Here the word "nihshreyasam" means "transcendental pleasure".

Anuccheda 95

Text 1

atah

iti nah su-maha-bhaga narayana-gunan prati samshayah su-mahan jatas tad bhavan cettum arhati atah-then; iti-thus; nah-our; su-maha-bhaga-O glorious one; narayana-gunan-the qualities of Narayana; prati-toward; samshayah-doubt; su-mahan-very great; jatah-born; tat-that; bhavan-Your lordship; cettum arhati-please dispel.

Then it is said (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 7.1.3):

"O greatly fortunate and learned brahmana, whether Narayana is partial or impartial has become a subject of great doubt. Kindly dispel my doubt with positive evidence that Narayana is always neutral and equal to everyone."*

Text 2

gunan anugraha-nigrahadin prati tat tam samshayam.

gunan-gunan; anugraha-mercy; nigraha-and punishment; adin-beginning with; prati-to; tat-taht; tam-that; samshayam-doubt.

The doubt here is about the Lord's qualities, such as His awarding both mercy and punishment.

Anuccheda 96

Text 1

atra shri-rishir uvaca

sadhu prishöam maha-raja hareth caritam adbhutam yad-bhagavata-mahatmyam bhagavad-bhakti-varadhanam atra-here; shri-rishir uvaca -the sage Shri Sukadeva Gosvami said; sadhu-excellent; prishöam-inquiry; maha-raja-O great king; hareth-of the Supreme Lord, Hari; caritam-activities; adbhutam-wonderful; yat-from which; bhagavata-of the Lord's devotee (Prahlada); mahatmyam-the glories; bhagavad-bhakti-devotion to the Lord; vardhanam-increasing.

Then it is said (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.7.4):

"The great sage Shukadeva Gosvami said: My dear king, you have put before me and excellent question. Discourses concerning the activities of the Lord, in which the glories of His devotees are also found, are extremely pleasing to devotees. Such wonderful topics always counteract the miseries of the materialistic way of life."*

Text 2

he maharaja idam yat prishöam tat sadhu su-vicaritam eva. kintu hareth caritam adbhutam apurvam. avaishamyé 'pi vishamataya pratiyamanatvena vicaratitvat. yad yatra hareth carite bhagavad-bhakti-varadhanam bhagavata-mahatmyam bhagavatanam shri-prahladopalakshita-bhakta-vrindanam mahatmyam vartate. anena bhagavathartham eva sarvam karoti bhagavan na tv anyartham ity asyaivarthasya paryavasanam bhavishyati vyanjitam.

he-O; maharaja-king; idam-thus; yat-what; prishöam-asked; tat-that; sadhu-excellent; su-vicaritam-well-thought; eva.-indeed; kintu-however; hareth-of Lord Krishna; caritam-activities; adbhutam-wonderful; apurvam.-unprecedented; avaishamyé-wuithout partiality; api-even; vishamataya-with partiality; pratiyamanatvena-because of the understanding; vicaratitvat.-because of thus considering; yat-what; yatra-where; hareh-of Lord Krishna; carite-activities; bhagavad-bhakti-varadhanam-increasing devotion to the Supreme Personality of Godhead; bhagavata-mahatmyam-the glories of the Lord's devotees; bhagavatanam-of the devotees; shri-prahladopalakshita-like Shri Prahlada; bhakta-vrindanam-of the devotees; mahatmyam-the glory; vartate.-is; anena-by this; bhagavathartham-for the benefit of the devotees; eva-indeed; sarvam-all; karoti-does; bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; na-not; tv-but; anya-another; artham-meaning; iti-thus; asya-of this; eva-indeed; arthasya-of the purpose; paryavasana-conclusion; bhavishyati-will be; iti-thus; vyanjitam-manifested.

In this verse it is said: "My dear king, you have put before me and excellent, well-considered question. The glories of the Lord are wonderful and without precedent." The Lord's activities are wonderful because even though He is supremely impartial, the Lord is still partial to His devotees. Then the verse declares: "By hearing about the Lord's activities, a person increases His devotion of the Lord." The word "bhagavata-mahatmyam" means "the glories of Prahlada and the other devotees of the Lord". In this way it is seen that the Supreme Personality of Godhead always acts for the benefit of His devotees. It is not otherwise. This conclusion will be clearly explained in later parts of this book.

Text 3

öika ca

sva-bhakta-paksha-patena tad-vipaksha-vidaranam nrisimham adbhutam vande paramananda-vigraham. ity esha.

öika-commentary; ca-and; sva-bhakta-paksha-patena-by being partial to His devotees; tad-vipaksha-vidaranam-tearing apart the enemies of His devotees; nrisimham-Lord Nrisimha; adbhutam-wonderful; vande-I bow down; paramananda-vigraham.-whose form is filled with transcendental bliss; iti-thus; esha.-it.

In his commentary on Shrimad-Bhagavatam 7.1.1, Shrila Shridhara Svami prays:

"I bow down before Lord Nrisimha, whose wonderful form is filled with transcendental bliss, who is the partisan of His devotees, and who rips apart anyone who becomes His devotee's attacker."

Anuccheda 97

Text 1

atah

giyate paramam punyam rishibhir naradadibhih natva krishnaya munaye kathayishye hareh katham atah-then; giyate-is sung; paramam-foremost; punyam-pious; rishibhih-by the sages; naradadibhih-headed by Shri Narada Muni; natva-after offering obeisances; krishnaya-to Krishna-dvaipayana Vyasa; munaye-the great sage; kathayishye-I shall narrate; hareh-of Hari; katham-the topics;.

Then it is said (Shrimad-Bhagavatam (7.1.5):

"Therefore great sages like Narada always speak upon Shrimad-Bhagavatam because it gives one the facility to hear and chant about the wonderful activities of the Lord. Let me offer my respectful obeisances unto Shrila Vyasadeva and then begin describing topics concerning the activities of Lord Hari."*

Text 2

paramam punyam yatha syat tatha ya giyate tam katham iti yat tadoradhyaharenanvayah. atra ca tair giyamanatvena bhaktaika-sukha-prayojanatvam eva vyanjitam.

paramam-transcendental; punyam-piety; yatha-as; syat-is; tatha-so; ya-what; giyate-is said; tam-that; katham-topic; iti-thus; yat-tad-of the two words "yat" and "tat"; adhyaharenanvayah-the explanation; atra-here; ca-and; tair-by them; giyamanatvena-as being told; bhaktaika-sukha-prayojanatvam-the only happiness of the devotees; eva-indeed; vyanjitam-manifested.

Here the words "giyate paramam punyam katham" are part of a relative clause. Here the relative and co-relative pronouns "yat" and "tat" are understood although not expressed. In this way it is explained that describing the Supreme Lord's glories is the great happiness of the devotees.

Anuccheda 98

Text 1

tatra tavad vyanjitarthanurupam eva prashnasyottaram aha tatra-there; tavat-then; vyanjita-manifested; artha-meaning; anurupam-according to; eva-indeed; prashnasya-of the question; uttaram-the answer; aha-spoke.

In the following words these questions are appropriately answered (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 7.1.6):

Text 2

nirguno 'pi hy ajo 'vyakto bhagavan prakriteh parah sva-maya-gunam avishya badhya-badhakatam gatah nirgunah-without material qualities; api-although; hi-certainly; ajah-unborn; avyaktah-unmanifest; bhagavan-the Supreme Lord; prakriteh-to material nature; parah-transcendental; sva-maya-of His own energy; gunam-material qualities; avishya-entering; badhya-obligation; badhakatam-the condition of being obliged; gatah-accepts.

"The Supreme Personality of Godhead, Vishnu, is always transcendental to material qualities, and therefore He is called nirguna, or without qualities. Because He is unborn He does not have a material body to be subjected to attachment and hatred. Although the Lord is always above material existence, through His spiritual potency He appeared and acted like an ordinary human being, accepting duties and obligations, apparently like a conditioned soul."*

Text 3

yasmat prakriteh paras tasman nirgunah prakrita-guna-rahitah. tata evajo nitya-siddhah. ata eva cavyaktah prakrita-dehendriyadi-rahitatvan nanyena vyajyata iti svayam-prakasha-dehadir ity arthah. tatash ca prakriti-gunottha-raga-dveshadi-rahitash ceti bhavah.

yasmat-because; prakriteh-to matter; parah-transcendental; tasman-therefore; nirgunah-qualityless; prakrita-guna-rahitah.-without material qualities; tata-therefore; eva-indeed; ajah-unborn; nitya-siddhah.-eternally perfect; ata eva-therefore; ca-also; avyaktah-unmanifested; prakrita-dehendriyadi-rahitatvan-because of not possessing material body, senses, or other material things; na-not; anyena-by another; vyajyata-is manifested; iti-thus; svayam-prakasha-self-manifested; dehadir-beginning with the body; iti-thus; arthah.-the meaning; tatah-therefore; ca-and; prakriti-guna-material qualities; uttha-arisen; raga-attachment; dvesha-and hatred; adi-beginning with; rahitah-without; ca-also; iti-thus; bhavah-the meaning.

Here it is said that because He is transcendental to material qualities, the Lord has no material qualities. Therefore He is unborn (ajah) and eternally perfect. That is also why He is unmanifested (avyaktah) Here the word "unmanifested means "the Lord's body, senses, and everything else are not material. they are spiritual, and therefore self-manifested". This means that the Lord does not have material emotions like material love and hatred.

Text 4

evam evam-bhuto 'pi sveshu bhakteshu ya maya□ krpa tatrocito yo guno lila-kautuka-maya-vishuddhorjita-sattvakhyas tam avishyalambya bhagavan nityam eva prakashita-sad-gunaishvarya san. etad apy upalakshanam. kadacid adityadau jatah san lokendriyeshu vyakto 'pi san badhya-badhakatam gatah.

evam-thus; evam-bhuta-like this; api-also; sveshu-own; bhakteshu-to the devotees; ya-what; maya-maya; krpa-mercy; tatra-there; ucitah-appropriate; yah-what; gunah-quality; lila-pastimes; kautuka-bliss; maya-consisting of; vishuddha-pure; urjita-impelled; sattva-existence; akhyah-called; tam-that; avishya-entering; alambya-resting on; bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; nityam-always; eva-indeed; prakashita-manifested; shad-gunaishvarya-opulence of the six qualities; san.-being so; etad-that; api-also; upalakshanam-nature; kadacid-sometime; aditya-the sun; adau-beginning; jatah-born; san-being so; lokendriyeshu-the master of the senses; vyaktah-manifested; api-also; san-being so; badhya-obligation; badhakatam-the condition of being obliged; gatah-attains.

In this way the Lord is merciful to His devotees. Full with six transcendental opulences, and manifesting blissful and pure transcendental form and pastimes, the Lord enters the material world. In this way the Lord sometimes is "born", and then is openly visible to the senses of the conditioned souls in the material world. In this way the Lord acts like ordinary human being, accepting duties and obligations, apparently like a conditioned soul (badhya-badhakatam gatah).

Text 5

nija-drishöi-pathe 'pi sthatum asamartheshv ati-kshudreshu devasuradishu sva-sahayya-pratiyoddhritva-sampadanaya svayam sancaritam kincit tad-amsa-lakshanam eva tejah samashritya badhyatam badhakatam ca gatah.

nija-drishöi-pathe-in the pathway of the eyes; api-also; sthatum-to stay; asamartheshv-unable; ati-kshudreshu-very insignificant; devasuradishu-beginning with the demigods and demons; sva-sahayya-pratiyoddhritva-sampadanaya-to help and to fight; svayam-personally; sancaritam-moved; kincit-something; tad-amsa-lakshanam-the nature of a part; eva-indeed; tejah-power; samashritya-taking shelter; badhyatam badhakatam ca gatah-attained ordinary obligations.

In this way the Supreme Personality of Godhead helps the demigods and fights with the demons. Although neither the demigods nor the demons are worthy to walk on the pathway of the Supreme Lord's eyes, the Lord, manifesting only part of His original transcendental glory, pretends to be an ordinary resident of the material world.

Text 6

yuddha-lila-vaicitryaya pratiyoddhrishu tadanim yasmin prakashyamanad api tejaso 'dhikam tejaso 'msam sancarya badhyatam parajayam kadacit tu tasman nyunam sancarya badhakatam jayam prapta ity arthah. syat kripa-dambhayor maya□ iti vishva-prakashah.

yuddha-fighting; lila-pastimes; vaicitryaya-for the wonder; pratiyoddhrishu-enemy fighters; tadanim-then; yasmin-in which; prakashyamanat-because of manifesting; api-also; tejasah-of power; adhikam-superiority; tejasah-of power; amsam-part; sancarya-manifesting; badhyatam-ordinary; parajayam-victory; kadacit-sometimes; tu-but; tasman-therefore; nyunam-lesser; sancarya-manifesting; badhakatam-ordinary; jayam-victory; prapta-attained; iti-thus; arthah.-the meaning; syat-is; kripa-of mercy; dambhayoh-of trickery; maya-maya; iti-thus; vishva-prakashah-Visva-prakasa.

When the Lord manifests more of His transcendental power, He gives the demons a very stunning defeat in His pastimes of fighting with them. When the Lord manifests less of His transcendental power, He gives the demons less of a defeat. The word maya is defined in these words of the Vishva-prakasha Dictionary:

" `Maya' means either `mercy' or `trickery'."

Text 7

atra saty apy arthantare bhagavatanugraha-prayojanatvenaivopakrantatvad upasamharishyamanatvac ca gati-samanyac ca chalamaya-mayaya tat-tat-kartritve 'py adhika-doshapatac ca tan napekshate.

atra-here; sati-being so; api-also; arthantare-in another meaning; bhagavatanugraha-the mercy of the Lord; prayojanatvena-by the need; eva-indeed; upakrantatvad-because of attacking; upasamharishyamanatvac-because it will be concluded; ca-also; gati-samanyac-because of the same action; ca-and; chalamaya-mayaya-because of being a trick; tat-tat-kartritve-in the state of being the doer of these various activities; api-also; adhika-doshapatac-because of the great fault; ca-and; tan-them; na-not; apekshate-takes into consideration.

These words may also be interpreted in a different way. Because the Lord's activities must always show His mercy to His devotees, and because His activities in this world are sometimes manifested and then again unmanifested, and because the Lord is always equal to all, as the Vedanta-sutra (1.1.10) declares in the words "The Supreme Lord is always equal to all", therefore the idea that the Supreme Lord is partial to some living entities and the enemy of other living entities is an illusion created by the illusory potency maya.

Text 8

tasmad bhakta-vinodaika-prayojanaka-svaira-lila-kaivalyenanyatra raga-dveshabhavan natra vaishamyam iti bhavah. ata eva badhyatam api yatiti badhakataya sahaivoktam. tatha nija-svarupa-shakti-vilasa-lakshana-lilaviskarena sarvesham eva hitam paryavasyatiti suhrittvadikam ca napayatiti dhvanitam.

tasmat-therfore; bhakta-vinodaika-prayojanaka-only to please the devotees; svaira-independent; lila-pastimes; kaivalyena-transcendental; anyatra-in another place; raga-dveshabhavan-because of the absence of material love and hatred; na-not; atra-here; vaishamyam-partiality; iti-thus; bhavah.-the meaning; ata eva-therefore; badhyatam-as an ordinary pwrson; api-even; yati-attains; iti-thus; badhakataya-ordinary obligations; saha-with; eva-indeed; uktam-is said; tatha-so; nija-svarupa-shakti-personal potency; vilasa-pastimes; lakshana-characteristic; lila-pastimes; aviskarena-by manifestation; sarvesham-of all; eva-indeed; hitam-auspiciousness; paryavasyati-bring at the end; iti-thus; suhrittvadikam-beginning with being the friend; ca-and; na-not; apayati-leaves; iti-thus; dhvanitam-it is said.

Therefore the Supreme Personality of Godhead manifests His independent pastimes to please His devotees. If this were not so, then He would be partial. That is the meaning. In this way the Lord appears like an ordinary person and accepts the obligations of an ordinary person. In this way, with the aid of His internal potency, He manifests transcendental pastimes that in the end bring auspiciousness to everyone. In this way He is the friend of everyone. It cannot be said that He is not the friend of everyone. That is the meaning.

Anuccheda 99

Text 1

atha katham so 'pi vishuddha-sattvakhyo gunah prakrito na bhavati. kada va kutra tam viryatishayam sancarayati. katham va krita-hany-akritabhyagama-prasango na bhavatyiti adikam ashankyaha dvabhyam atha-now; katham-how?; so 'pi-He; vishuddha-sattvakhyah-pure goodness; gunah-quality; prakritah-material; na-not; bhavati-is; kada-then; va-or; kutra-where?; tam-that; viryatishayam-great power; sancarayati-manifests; katham-nhow?; va-or; krita-hani-destruction; akritabhyagama-not attacking; prasangah-in relation to; na-not; bhavati-is; iti-thus; adikam-beginning; ashankya-fearing; aha-said; dvabhyam-with two verses.

Here someone may ask: "It is said that the Supreme Personality of Godhead is situated in the mode of pure goodness. Is this goodness not material, one of the material modes of nature? When and where does the Lord manifest His great transcendental power? Why does the Lord sometimes kill the demons and sometimes not kill them?" Fearing that someone may ask these questions, Shrila Shukadeva Gosvami gives an answer in two verses (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 7.1.7-8). In the first of these verses (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.7.7) he says:

Text 2

sattvam rajah tama iti prakṛiteḥ natmano guṇaḥ na teshāṃ yugapad rājan hrasā ullasā eva ca

sattvam-the mode of goodness; rajah-the mode of passion; tama-the mode of ignorance; iti-thus; prakṛiteḥ-of material nature; na-not; atmanah-of the spirit soul; guṇaḥ-qualities; na-not; teshāṃ-of them; yugapat-simultaneously; rājan-O king; hrasā-diminution; ullasā-prominence; eva-certainly; ca-or.

"My dear King Parikṣit, the material qualities - sattva-guṇa, rajo-guṇa, and tamo-guṇa - all belong to the material world and do not even touch the Supreme Personality of Godhead. These three guṇas cannot act by increasing or decreasing simultaneously."*

Text 3

sattvādāyo guṇaḥ prakṛiteḥ eva natmanah. atmanah parameshvarasya tasya tu ye sarve 'pi nityam evollasino guṇas te tu te na bhavanti arthah.

sattvādāyah-beginning with goodness; guṇaḥ-modes; prakṛiteḥ-of matter; eva-indeed; na-not; atmanah-of the atma; atmanah-of the atma; parameshvarasya-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; tasya-of Him; tu-but; ye-who; sarve-all; api-also; nityam-always; eva-indeed; ullasinaḥ-increasing; guṇaḥ-modes; te-they; tu-but; te-they; na-not; bhavanti-are; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning.

This verse means "the material modes are never present in the Supreme Personality of Godhead".

Text 4

tad uktam sattvādāyo na santīṣa iti.

tad-that; uktam-said; sattvādāyo na santīṣa iti-Shri Vishnu Purana 1.9.43.

This is confirmed by the following words of Shri Vishnu Purana (1.9.43):

"The Supreme Personality of Godhead, Vishnu, is beyond the three qualities goodness, passion, and ignorance."*

Text 5

hlāḍīṇī sandhīṇī samvit tvayy eka sarva-samsthitau iti ca.

hlāḍīṇī sandhīṇī samvit tvayy eka sarva-samsthitau iti-Shri Vishnu Purana 1.12.69; ca-and.

This is also confirmed by these words of Shri Vishnu Purana (1.12.69):

"O Lord, You are the support of everything. the three attributes hladini, sandhini, and samvit exist in You as one spiritual energy. But the material modes, which cause happiness, misery, and mixtures of the two, do not exist in You, for You have no material qualities."*

Text 6

yasman natmanas te. tasmad eva yugapat hrasa eva va ullasa eva va nasti. kintu vikaritvena parasparam abhyupamarditvat kasyacit kadacit hrasah. kasyacit kadacid ullaso bhavatity arthah. tatash ca devadinam tat-samharye 'suradinam ca tad-yuddhe yogyatam darshayati.

yasman-because; na-not; atmanah-of the Self; te.-they; tasmad-therefore; eva-indeed; yugapat-simultaneously; hrasa-diminution; eva-indeed; va-or; ullasa-prominence; eva-indeed; va-or; na-not; asti-is; kintu-however; vikaritvena-by transformations; parasparam-mutual; abhyupamarditvat-because of refutation; kasyacit-of something; kadacit-sometime; hrasah.-diminution; kasyacit-of something; kadacit-sometime; ullasah-prominence; bhavati-is; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; tatah-then; ca-and; devadinam-beginning with the demigods; tat-samharye-in winding up; asuradinam-beginning with the demigods; ca-and; tad-yuddhe-in fighting with them; yogyatam-properness; darshayati-shows.

Because the modes of material nature neither increase nor decrease in relation to the Supreme Personality of Godhead, they never bring material transformations upon Him. They never under any circumstances increase their influence over Him, and, in the same way, they never in any circumstances decrease their influence over Him. They have no power over Him. In this way it is seen that the Supreme Personality of Godhead's protecting the demigods and fighting with the demons is perfectly appropriate, right, and just.

Anuccheda 100

Text 1

tatha sattvady-ullasa-kale tal-lilayas tad-adhinatvam iva yat pratiyate. tad anuvadan pariharati tatha-so; sattvadi-of the modes beginning with goodness; ullasa-increase; kale-in the time; tal-lilayah-of His pastime; tad-adhinatvam-the state of being subordinate to that; iva-like; yat-that; pratiyate-is understood; tat-that; anuvadan-saying; pariharati-removes.

Here someone may say: "At different times one of the modes of nature, either goodness, passion, or ignorance, become prominent. The pastimes of the Lord are then under the control of whatever material mode is then prominent." This false idea is refuted by the following words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (1.7.8):

Text 2

jaya-kale tu sattvasya devarshin rajaso 'suran tamaso yaksha-rakshamsi tat-kalanuguno 'bhajat

jaya-kale-in the time of prominence; tu-indeed; sattvasya-of goodness; deva-the demigods; rishin-and sages; rajasah-of passion; asuran-the demons; tamasah-of ignorance; yaksha-rakshamsi-the yaksas and Raksasas; tat-kalanugunah-according to the particular time; abhajat-fostered.

"When the quality of goodness is prominent, the sages and demigods flourish with the help of that quality, with which they are infused and surcharged by the Supreme Lord. Similarly, when the mode of passion is prominent the demons flourish, and when ignorance is prominent the Yakshas and Rakshasas flourish. The Supreme Personality of Godhead is present in everyone's heart, fostering the reactions of sattva-guna, rajo-guna, and tamo-guna."*

Text 3

sattvasya jaya-kale devan rishimsh cabhajat bhajati bhagavan tat-prakriti-tat-tad-deheshu sattvopadhikam nija-tejah sancarayati. yena ca tan sahayamanan karoti arthah.

sattvasya-of goodness; jaya-kale-at the time of prominence; devan-the demigods; rishimsh-teh sages; ca-and; abhajat-fostered; bhajati-fosters; bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; tat-prakriti-tat-tad-deheshu-in the various bodies of those natures; sattvopadhikam-the body of goodness; nija-tejah-own power; sancarayati-fosters; yena-by which; ca-and; tan-that; sahayamanan-helping; karoti-does iti-thus; arthah-the meaning .

Here the words "sattvasya jaya-kale devarshin abhajat" mean "When the quality of goodness is prominent, the sages and demigods flourish with the help of that quality, with which they are infused and surcharged by the Supreme Lord."

Text 4

evam rajaso jaya-kale asureshu raja-upadhikam tamaso jaya-kale yaksha-rakshahsu tama-upadhikam iti yojaniyam. tatash ca yena tan yakshadin pratiyoddhrin kurvan devadin parajitan karoti. svam api tatha darshayati arthah. tad evam bhakta-rasa-posha-lila-vaicityaya badhya-badhakatam yatiti darshitam.

evam-thus; rajasah-of passion; jaya-kale-at the time of prominence; asureshu-in the demons; raja-upadhikam-the designation of passion; tamasah-of ignorance; jaya-kale-at the time of prominence; yaksha-rakshahsu-the Yaksas and Raksasas; tama-upadhikam-the designation of ignorance; iti-thus; yojaniyam-appropriate; tatah-then; ca-and; yena-by which; tan-them; yakshadin-beginning with the Yaksas; pratiyoddhrin-enemy fighters; kurvan-doing; devadin-beginning with the demigods; parajitan-defeated; karoti-does; svam-own; api-also; tatha-so; darshayati-shows; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; tat-that; evam-thus; bhakta-devotees; rasa-mellows; posha-nourishment; lila-pastimes; vaicityaya-for wonderful variety; badhya-badhakatam-the status of an ordinary person; yati-attains; iti-thus; darshitam-revealed.

Here the words "rajaso jaya-kale" and "tamaso jaya-kale" mean "Similarly, when the mode of passion is prominent the demons flourish, and when ignorance is prominent the Yakshas and Rakshasas flourish." However, when the Supreme Personality of Godhead personally descends to the material world and pretends to be an ordinary human being, He easily defeats the Yakshas, Rakshasas, and demigods, and He also increases the devotees' mellows of love for Him. This is explained in the words "badhya-badhakatam".

Text 5

yac ca kshiroda-mathane shruyate tathasuran avishad asurena rupena tesham bala-viryam irayan uddipayan deva-ganamsh ca vishnur daivena nagendram abodha-rupah. iti.

yat-what; ca-and; kshiroda-mathane-in churning the ocean of milk; shruyate-is heard; tatha-thereafter; asuran-unto the demons; avishat-entered; asurena-by the quality of passion; rupena-in such a form; tesham-of them; bala-viryam-strength and energy; irayan-increasing; uddipayan-encouraging; deva-ganamh-the demigods; ca-also; vishnuh-Lord Vishnu; daivena-by the feature of goodness; nagendram-unto the king of serpents, Vasuki; abodha-rupah-by the quality of ignorance; iti-thus.

That the Supreme Lord makes the modes of nature enter the different classes of living beings is also confirmed by these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (8.7.11) describing the Lord's appearance at the time of churning the milk-ocean:

"Thereafter, Lord Vishnu entered the demons as the quality of passion, the demigods as the quality of goodness, and Vasuki as the quality of ignorance to encourage them and increase their various types of strength and energy."*

Text 6

tatrapī tad-vaicitryartham eva tatha tat-tad-aveshas tasyeti labhyate. nanv ayata tasya tat-tad-gunodbodha-kala-paravashyena svara-lilata-hanih. tatash ca guna-sambandhatishaye vaishamyadikam ca spashōam evety ashankyaha tat-kalanuguna iti.

tatrapī-neveretheless; tad-vaicitryartham-for that variety; eva-indeed; tatha-so; tat-tad-aveshash-entering them; tasya-of that; iti-thus; labhyate-is attained; nanv-is it not so?; ayata-attained; tasya-of that; tat-tad-gunodbodha-kala-the time of manifesting the modes of nature; paravashyena-by being under the control; svara-lilata-hanih-destruction of independence; tathah-then; ca-and; guna-of the modes; sambandha-relation; atishaye-great; vaishamyadikam-beginning with partiality; ca-and; spashōam-clearly; eva-indeed; iti-thus; ashankya-fearing; aha-said; tat-kalanuguna-the word "tat-kalanuguna"; iti-thus.

In this way it is said that the Supreme Personality of Godhead caused the different modes to enter the different kinds of living beings. Here someone may protest: "If when they are thus manifest the modes of nature bring the living beings under their control, then the living beings have no independence. In this way the Lord is unfair and unjust, for without any good reason He makes the different modes enter the different kinds of living beings. In this way He is partial to some living beings and the enemy of others." Fearing that someone would speak this protest, the Shrimad-Bhagavatam speaks the word "tat-kalanuguna" (appropriate to that particular time).

Text 7

tesham sattvadinam kala evanuguno yasya sah. bhagavac-charana itivat samasah. svairam eva kridati tasmin nityam eva tad-anugatikataya mayaya tad-anusarenaivanadi-siddha-pravaham tam jagat-karma-samudayam prairya sva-vritti-vishesha-rupatvena pravartyamanah sattvadi-gunanam kala eva tad-adhino bhavatity arthah.

tesham-of them; sattvadinam-beginning with goodness; kala-time; eva-indeed; anugunah-following; yasya-of which; sah-that; bhagavat-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; sharana-taking shelter; itivat-like; samasah-compound; svairam-independent; eva-indeed; kridati-plays; tasmin-in that; nityam-always; eva-indeed; tad-anugatikataya-by following that; mayaya-by maya; tad-anusarena-according to that; eva-indeed; anadi-beginningless; siddha-perfect; pravaham-stream; tam-that; jagat-karma-samudayam-the manifestation of the world's karma; prairya-sending; sva-vritti-vishesha-rupatvena-with the form of one's own actions; pravartyamanah-setting in motion; sattvadi-gunanam-of the modes beginning with goodness; kala-time; eva-indeed; tad-adhinah-dependent on that; bhavati-is; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning.

The word "tat-kalanugunah" means "the time is dependent on the modes beginning with goodness". Here the compound word "tat-kalanugunah" is like the compound word "bhagavat-charanah" (dependent on the Supreme Personality of Godhead). In truth the individual spirit soul retains his minute independence. The material potency maya responds to the soul's desires. The individual soul desires in certain ways and performs material actions to fulfill his desires. These materialistic actions set the modes of material nature (beginning with goodness) into motion, and the modes then set time into motion. In this way material time is dependent on the three modes of material nature.

Text 8

kalasya maya-vrittivam udahritam kalo daivam ity adau tvan-mayayaisha iti.

kalasya-of time; maya-vrittivam-a activity of maya; udahritam-said; kalo daivam ity adau tvan-mayayaisha iti-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.63.26;

That time is material in nature is confirmed by these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.63.26):

"In the material body there are actions and reactions of the three modes of material nature. The time factor is the most important element and is above all others, because the material manifestation is effected by time agitation. Thus natural phenomena come into existence, and as soon as there is the appearance of phenomena, fruitive activities are visible. As the result of these fruitive activities, a living entity takes his form. He acquires a particular type of nature which is packed up in a subtle body and gross body formed by the life air, the ego, the ten sense organs, the mind, and the five gross elements. These then create the type of body which later becomes the root or cause of various other bodies, which are acquired one after another by the transmigration of the soul. All these phenomenal manifestations are the combined actions of Your material energy. Unaffected by the action and reaction of different elements, You are the cause of this external energy, and because You are transcendental to such compulsions of material energy, You are the supreme tranquillity. You are the last word in freedom from material contamination. I am therefore taking shelter at Your lotus feet, giving up all other shelter."*

Text 9

yad va tesham kalo 'pi sadanugato bhaktanugraha-matrartha-svaira-ceshōatmaka-prabhava-lakshano guno yasya sa ity arthah. tato 'pi tac-ceshōanusarenaiva mayaya tat-tat-pravartanam iti bhavah.

yad va-or; tesham-of them; kalah-time; api-also; sadanugatah-in accordance with; bhaktanugraha-mercy to the devotees; matra-only; artha-mmeaning; svaira-independent; ceshōa-actions; atmaka-personal;

prabhava-power; lakshanah-characteristic; gunah-quality; yasya-of whom; sa -He; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; tatah-then; api-also; tac-ceshöanusarena-according to those actions; eva-indeed; mayaya-by maya; tat-tat-pravartanam-seeting them into motion; iti-thus; bhavah-the meaning.

Or, in another interpretation, the word "tat-kalanugunah" may mean "the Supreme Personality of Godhead, who mercifully makes time favorable to His devotees".

Text 10

yad uktam so 'yam kalas tasya te 'vyakta-bandho ceshöam ahush ceshöate yena vishvam iti.

yat-what; uktam-said; so 'yam kalas tasya te 'vyakta-bandho ceshöam ahush ceshöate yena vishvam iti-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.3.26.

The material nature of time is also described in these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.3.26):

"O inaugurator of the material energy, this wonderful creation works under the control of powerful time, which is divided into seconds, minutes, hours, and years. This element of time, which extends for many millions of years, is but another form of Lord Vishnu. For Your pastimes, You act as the controller of time, but You are the reservoir of all good fortune. Let me offer my full surrender unto Your Lordship."*

Text 11

tatha cobhayathapi na paravashyam ity ayatam. ittham eva shri-kapiladevo 'pi yah kalah panca-vimshakah iti. prabhavam paurusham prahuh kama eke yato bhayam iti ca.

tatha-so; ca-and; ubhayatha-in both ways; api-also; na-not; paravashyam-under control; iti-thusd; ayatam-attained; ittham-thus; eva-indeed; shri-kapiladevah-Lord Kapiladeva; api-also; yah kalah panca-vimshakah iti. prabhavam paurusham prahuh kama eke yato bhayam iti ca-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 3.26.15-16.

These two verses affirm that the Supreme Personality of Godhead is not under the control of time. This is also confirmed by Lord Kapiladeva in these words (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 3.26.15-16):

"The mixing element, which is known as time, is counted as the twenty-fifth element. The influence of the Supreme Personality of Godhead is felt in the time factor, which causes fear of death due to the false ego if the deluded soul who has contacted material nature."*

Texts 12 and 13

tatra maya-vyangyatva-purusha-gunatva-lakshana-mata-dvayam upanyastavan. atra tasya ceshöa-prabhavasya bhakta-vinodayaiva mukhya pravrittih. gunodbodhadi-karyam tu tatra svata eva bhavatiti tatra pravritty-abhasa eva. tatash ca purvo 'mshah svayam eveti svarupa-shakter eva vilasah. paras tu tad-abhasa-rupa evety abhasa-shakter mayaya evantar-gatah. yo 'yam kalah ity adau nimeshadih ity uktis tu dvayor abheda-vivakshayaiveti jneyam.

tatra-there; maya-of maya; vyangyatva-hint; purusha-purusa; gunatva-modes; lakshana-nature; mata-considered; dvayam-two; upanyastavan-said; atra-here; tasya-of that; ceshöa-prabhavasya-action; bhakta-vinodaya-for the pleasure of His devotees; eva-indeed; mukhya-primary; pravritti-action; gunodbodhadikaryam-the activities nthat begin with the manifestation of the material modes of nature; tu-but; tatra-there; svata-personally; eva-indeed; bhavati-is; iti-thus; tatra-there; pravritti-of the action; abhasa-reflection; eva-indeed; tatah-then; ca-also; purvah-previous; amshah-part; svayam-personally; eva-indeed; iti-thus; svarupa-personal; shakteh-of the potency; eva-indeed; vilasah-pastimes; parah-latter; tu-but; tad-abhasa-rupa-reflection of that; eva-indeed; iti-thus; abhasa-shakteh-of the reflected potency; mayaya-maya; eva-indeed; antar-gatah-entered; yo 'yam kalah ity adau nimeshadih ity uktih-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.3.26; tu-but; dvayoh-both; abheda-vivakshaya-by describing as not different; eva-indeed; iti-thus; jneyam-to be understood.

In the manifestation of the material world two factors are described here. The most important factor is the Supreme Personality of Godhead. The less important factor is the material potency maya. The primary purpose for the Lord's actions is the pleasure of His devotees. The secondary purpose for the Lord's activities is the creation of the material world of the three modes. When He acts to fulfill the primary purpose, the Lord personally appears in His original form or plenary expansion, enjoys transcendental pastimes, and manifests His internal, spiritual potency. When He acts to fulfill the secondary purpose, the Lord manifests His external, material potency, maya, which is the reflection of His internal, spiritual potency. Then the Lord enters the material world. These two purposes of the Lord are described, without distinguishing between them, in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.3.26 (quoted in this anuccheda in text 10).

Text 14

ata evam va vyakhyeyam yatha bhrityasyanugato bhrityoh 'nubhrityah. tathatra prabhava-lakshanasya gunasyanugata abhasa-rupena guno 'nugunah. tatha ca tesham kalo 'py anuguno na tu sakshad guno yasyeti.

ata-then; evam-thus; va-or; vyakhyeyam-to be explained; yatha-as; bhrityasya-of a servant; anugatah-follower; bhrityoh-servant; anubhrityah-servant; tatha-so; atra-here; prabhava-lakshanasya-of the power; gunasya-of the modes; anugata-following; abhasa-reflection; rupena-form; gunah-mode; anugunah-following the mode; tatha-so; ca-and; tesham-of them; kalah-time; api-also; anugunah-following; na-not; tu-indeed; sakshat-directly; gunah-mode; yasya-of whom; iti-thus.

In the word "tat-kalanugunah" (in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 7.1.8, quoted in text 2 of this anuccheda), the word "anuguna" means either "servant" or "refletion". Thus material time is a servant or reflection of the material modes. Material time is thus not the same as the material modes directly.

Anuccheda 101

Text 1

nanu teshu teshu tenaveshyamanam tejah katham na lakshyate. tatraha nanu-indeed; teshu teshu-in whatever; tena-by Him; aveshyamanam-entered; tejah-power; katham-how?; na-that; lakshyate-is characterized; tatra-there; aha-said.

Here someone may ask: "Why does the Supreme Lord not give equal powers to all living beings?" This question is answered in the following words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (7.1.9):

Text 2

jyotir adir ivabhati
sanghatan na vivicyate vidanty atmanam atmastham mathitva kavayo 'ntatah jyotih-fire; adih-and other elements; iva-just as; abhati-appear; sanghatan-from the bodies of the demigods and others; na-not; vivicyate-are distinguished; vidanti-perceive; atmanam-the Supersoul; atmastham-situated in the heart; mathitva-by discerning; kavayah-expert thinkers; antatah-within.

"The all-pervading Personality of Godhead exists within the heart of every living being, and an expert thinker can perceive how He is present there to a large or small extent. Just as one can understand the supply of fire in wood, the water in a waterpot, or the sky within a pot, one can understand whether a living entity is a demon or a demigod by understanding that living entity's devotional performances. A thoughtful man can understand how much a person is favored by the Supreme Lord by seeing his actions."*

Text 3

yadyapi teshu teshu nija-tejo-'mshenavishöo 'sau zanghatat sammishratvan na vivicyate. laukikair vivektum na shakyate. tathapi kavayo viveka-nipuna antato mathitva tasyapi sahayyam tenapi yuddham iti adikasambhavartha-nishedhena vivicya tad-amshenatma-stham tat tad atmani pravishöam atmanam ishvaram vidanti jananti.

yadyapi-although; teshu teshu-in them; nija-tejo-'mshena-with a part of His potency; avishöah-entered; asau-that; zanghatat-from the bodies; sammishratvat-because of being mixed; na-not; vivicyate-is distinguished; laukikaih-by ordinary persons; vivektum-to distinguish; na-not; shakyate-is able; tathapi-still; kavayah-the wise; viveka-nipuna-expert at distinguishing; antatah-from the end; mathitva-discerning; tasya-of that; api-also; sahayyam-help; tena-by that; api-also; yuddham-to fight; iti-thus; adika-beginning; asambhava-impossible; artha-meaning; nishedhena-by the prohibition; vivicya-discerning; tad-amshena-with a part; atma-stham-situated in the heart; tat tat-that; atmani-in the heart; pravishöam-entered; atmanam-atma; ishvaram-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; vidanti-know; jananti-know.

Although, bringing part of His transcendental potencies, the Supreme Personality of Godhead personally enters the bodies (sanghatat) of every living being, and ordinary persons cannot perceive (na vivicyate) His presence in their bodies, nevertheless the wise (kavayah), who are filled with transcendental knowledge, can understand (antato mathitva vidanti) that the Supreme Personality of Godhead (atmanam) has entered within their hearts (atma-stham).

Text 4

tatra hetu-garbho drishöantah yasmat tat tejah jyotir adih padartha ivabhati drashörishv iti visheshah. ayam arthah. yatha nedam manes tejah purvam adarshanat. kintu tad-atapa-samyogena sauram teja evatra pravishöam iti suryakantadau trinadi-dahena tad-anubhavishu tada bhati. yatha ca purvavad eva vayor ayam gandhah parthiva eva pravishöa iti teshv abhati. tathatrapiti.

tatra-there; hetu-garbhah-the reason; drishöantah-an example; yasmat-from whom; tat-that; tejah-power; jyotih-light; adih-beginning; padartha-the meaning of the word; iva-as if; abhati-is manifested; drashörishv-among the seers; iti-thus; visheshah-specific; ayam-this; arthah-meaning; yatha-as; na-not; idam-this; maneh-of a jewel; tejah-light; purvam-before; adarshanat-from not seeing; kintu-however; tad-atapa-samyogena-in connection with heart; sauram-the sun; teja-light; eva-indeed; atra-here; pravishöam-entered; iti-thus; suryakantadau-beginning with the Suryakanta jewel; trinadi-dahena-by a fire of straw ior other like things; tad-anubhavishu-by perception; tada-then; bhati-is manifested; yatha-as; ca-and; purvavat-as before; eva-indeed; vayoh-of air; ayam-this; gandhah-fragrance; parthiva-earth; eva-indeed; pravishöa-enetred; iti-thus; teshv-in them; abhati-is maniefsted; tatha-so; atra-here; api-indeed; iti-thus.

Here an example is given in the words "jyotir-adir ivabhati", which mean "as light and other things are manifested before they who can see". Here is the meaning: "As a Suryakanta jewel or other jewel has no light of its own, but only shines when the sun shines upon it, as straw or other flammable objects do not have fire of themselves, but only burst into flames when in contact with a burning object, and as the wind has no fragrance of itself, but merely carries the fragrances of the earth and other objects, so the living entities have no power unless the Supreme Personality of Godhead enters them and gives them power."

Text 5

athava nanv evam tatra tatra tatraveshitaih sva-tejobhir eva kridatity ayatam. katham tarhi tair api kridatiti drishyate. tatraha jyotir iti.

athava-or; nanv-indeed; evam-thus; tatra-there; tatra-there; tatra-there; aveshitaih-entered; sva-tejobhih-with His own power; eva-indeed; kridati-enjoys pastimes; iti-thus; ayatam-attained; katham-how?; tarhi-then; tair-with them; api-also; kridati-enjoys pastimes; iti-thus; drishyate-is seen; tatra-there; aha-said; jyotih-light; iti-thus.

Here someone may ask: "Wherever He goes, the Supreme Personality of Godhead enjoys pastimes with His transcendental potencies. In this situation how does He enjoy pastimes with them?" This question is answered here in the passage beginning with the word "jyotih".

Text 6

yatha cakshur-adi-jyotirbhih svamshe rupa-matre 'pi prakashyamane gandhadi-guna-pancaka mrid evasau prakashata iti pratiyate. yatha ca karnadi-nabhasa svamshe shabda-matre 'pi grihyamane dundubhir evasav iti pratiyate. tac ca tat-tad-gunanam sammishratvad eva bhavati. na vastutah. tatha kavaya atmanam ishvaram tat-tat-sanghata-sthatvenanyaiva viviktam api atma-stham svamsa-tejobhir eva kridantam janantity arthah.

yatha-as; cakshuh-eyes; adi-beginning; jyotirbhih-with light; svamshe-in His part; rupa-matre-in the from; api-also; prakashyamane-manifesting; gandha-fragrance; adi-beginning; guna-quality; pancaka-five; mrit-earth; eva-indeed; asau-He; prakashata-is maniefsted; iti-thus; pratiyate-is understood; yatha-as; ca-also; karna-ears; adi-beginning; nabhasa-with the sky; svamshe-in His part; shabda-matre-only sound; api-also; grihyamane-is accepted; dundubhih-a dundubhi drum; eva-indeed; asau-this; iti-thus; pratiyate-is understood; tac-that; ca-and; tat-tad-gunanam-of these qualities; sammishratvat-becauzse of the mixture; eva-indeed; bhavati-is; na-not; vastutah-in truth; tatha-so; kavaya-the wise; atmanam-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; ishvaram-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; tat-tat-sanghata-sthatvena-staying in the bopdies of the living entities; anya-another; eva-indeed; viviktam-to disecern; api-also; atma-stham-situated in the heart; svamsha-own part; tejobhih-with the potencies; eva-indeed; kridantam-enjoying pastimes; jananti-knows; iti-

thus; arthah-the meaning.

As forms are manifest before the eyes, as fragrance, form, sound, taste, and touch are separately manifest in the earth, and as the sound of a dundubhi drum is manifested in the ear, so the Supreme Personality of Godhead is manifested in the heart. The wise know that the Lord in the heart enjoys pastimes there with His transcendental potencies.

Anuccheda 102

Text 1

tad evam yuddhadi-nija-lilabhir bhakta-vinodanam eva prayojanam. vishva-palanam tu tatah svata eva sidhyatity uktva shrishöi-pralayayoh prakritikshanadav api sarvashanka-nirasartham ati-dishan teshv apy avishesham aha

tat-that; evam-thus; yuddhadi-nija-lilabhih-with pastimes beginning with fighting; bhakta-vinodanam-the pleasure pof the devotees; eva-indeed; prayojanam-need; vishva-palanam-protection of thew world; tu-indeed; tatah-then; svata-personally; eva-indeed; sidhyati-is proved; iti-thus; uktva-saying; shrishöipralayayoh-of creation and annihilation; prakritikshanadav-beginning with a glance at the material energy; apialso; sarvashanka-all doubts; nirasa-refuting; artham-purpose; ati-dishan-showing; teshv-in them; api-also;
avishesham-not specific; aha-said.

Thus, to please His devotees, the Supreme Personality of Godhead enjoys pastimes of fighting and other pastimes also. ,The Lord also maintains the material world, and, with a glance at the material energy also creates and destroys the material world. Any doubts about this are dispelled in the three verses (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 7.1.10-12) that begin with these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (7.1.10):

Text 2

yada sishrikshuh pura atmanah paro rajah shriyaty esa prithak sva-mayaya sattvam vicitrasu riramsur ishvarah shayishyamanas tama irayaty asau yada-when; sishrikshuh-desiring to create; pura-material bodies; atmanah-for the living entities; parah-the Personality of Godhead; rajah-the mode of passion; shriyati-manifests; esa-He; prithak-separately, predominantly; sva-mayaya-by His own creative energy; sattvam-the mode of goodness; vicitrasu-in various types of bodies; riramsuh-desiring to act; ishvarah-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; shayishyamanahbeing about to conclude; tama-the mode ignorance; irayati-causes to rise; asau-that Supreme.

"When the Supreme Personality of Godhead creates the different types of bodies, offering a particular body to each living entity according to his character and fruitive actions, the Lord revives all the qualities of material nature - sattva-guna, rajo-guna, and tamo-guna. Then, as the Supersoul, He enters each body and influences the qualities of creation, maintenance, and annihilation, using sattva-guna for maintenance, rajo-guna for creation, and tamo-guna for annihilation."*

Text 3

yada yatra sva-ceshōa-lakshane kale esha parah parameshvarah sva-mayaya bhakta-kripaya atmanah purah pracina-shrishōi-gata-sadhaka-bhakta-rupani svasyadhishōhanani sishrikshur bhavati. prakritya saha eteshu lineshu avirbhavanartham iksham karoti. tada prithak svarupa-shakter itarasau jiva-mayakhya shaktih purvavat tac-ceshōatmaka-prabhavabhasoddipta rajah shrijati. svamsha-bhutad guna-traya-samyad avyaktat tad vikshipati. udbodhayati va.

yada-when; yatra-where; sva-ceshōa-lakshane-characterized by His own actions; kale-in time; esha-He; parah-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; parameshvarah-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; sva-mayaya-by His own maya potency; bhakta-kripaya-by mercy to His devotees; atmanah-of the self; purah-before; pracina-shrishōi-gata-in creation; sadhaka-bhakta-rupani-the forms of His aspiring devotees; svasya-of Him; adhishōhanani-creations; sishrikshuh-desiring to create; bhavati-is; prakritya saha-with His material energy; eteshu-in them; lineshu-merged; avirbhavanartham-for the sake of manifestation; iksham-glance; karoti-does; tada-then; prithak-separate; svarupa-shakteh-of His personal potency; itarasau-another; jiva-mayakhya-called jiva-maya; shaktih-potency; purvavat-as before; tac-ceshōa-His actions; atmaka-prabhava-His powers; abhasoddipta-splendid; rajah-passion; shrijati-creates; svamsha-His own part; bhutat-manifested; guna-traya-samyat-from the equilibrium of the three modes; avyaktat-from the unmanifested; tat-that; vikshipati-manifests; udbodhayati-causes to be born; iti-thus; va-or.

Here the word "yada" means "at the time when the Lord acted in that way", "esha parah" means the Supreme Personality of Godhead", "sva-mayaya" means "with mercy to His devotees", "atmanah purah sishrikshuh" means "before the material world was manifested, the Lord desired to create residences for His aspiring devotees", "prithak asau" means "with His internal potency He manifested the potency called jiva-maya (the individual spirit souls) as it had been before", and "rajah shrijati" means "He manifested or created the mode of passion from the unmanifested (avyakta), where the three modes had been situated in equilibrium".

Text 4

yad va prithan mayanugata esha kala eva shrijati. tathasau-padena ca kala evocyate. atha vicitrasu nana-guna-vaicitri-matishu tal-lakshanasu purshu yada rantum icchur bhavati. tadasau sattvam shrijati. yada punas tabhir eva militva shayishyamanah shayitum icchur bhavati arthah.tadasau tamah shrijatiti. tato bhakta-nimittam eva sarva eva shrishōy-adi-kriyah pravartanta iti bhavah.

yad va-or; prithan-separate; mayanugata-following maya; esha-this; kala-time; eva-indeed; shrijati-creates; tatha-so; asau-He; padena-with the word; ca-and; kala-time; eva-indeed; ucyate-is; atha-then; vicitrasu-vicitrasu; nana-guna-vaicitri-matishu-in the variegated manifestation of the material modes; tal-lakshanasu-characterized in that way; purshu-manifested; yada-when; rantum-tp enjoy; icchuh-desiring; bhavati-is; tada-then; asau-He; sattvam-goodness; shrijati-creates; yada-when; punah-again; tabhih-with them; eva-indeed; militva-meeting; shayishyamanah-about to recline; shayitum-to recline; icchuh-desires; bhavati-is; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; tada-then; asau-He; tamah-ignorance; shrijati-creates; iti-thus; tatah-then; bhakta-nimittam-the cause of the devotees; eva-indeed; sarva-all; eva-indeed; shrishōy-adi-kriyah-activities beginning with creation; pravartante-are; iti-thus; bhavah-the meaning.

Here the word "vicitrasu" means "when the modes of nature are manifested in all their variety", "sattvam" means "when the Lord desires to enjoy pastimes, He creates the mode of goodness", "shayishyamanah" means "when the Lord desires to rest", and "tamah" means "then He creates the mode of goodness". These activities of creation, maintenance, and annihilation are all done for the sake of His devotees. That is the meaning.

Text 5

yathangi-kritam ekadashasya tritiye öika-kridbhir api kim artham sasarja. sva-matratma-prasiddhaye svam mimite pramimiyate ya atmanam upaste sa sva-mata. tasyatmano jivasya prakrishöayai siddhaye iti.

yatha-as; angi-kritam-accepted; ekadashasya-of the eleventh canto; tritiye-in the third chapter; öika-kridbhih-by the author of the commentary; api-also; kim artham-why?; sasarja-created; sva-matratma-prasiddhaye-sva-matratma-prasiddhaye; svam-own; mimite-created; pramimiyate-created; ya-who; atmanam-self; upaste-worshiped; sa-He; sva-mata-considered Himself; tasya-of Him; atmanah-the self; jivasya-of the individual spirit soul; prakrishöayai-to make exalted; siddhaye-for perfection; iti-thus.

Shrila Shridhara Svami explains (in his commentary on Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.3.3):

"Why did the Supreme Personality of Godhead create the material world? The answer is given here in the word 'sva-matratma-prasiddhaye', which means 'so the individual spirit souls who worship Him may attain perfection'."

Text 6

shayanam atra purushavatarasya kadacit pralayodadhau yoga-nidra kadacid bhagavat-pravesho va. yadyapi sarveshv api jiveshu antaryamitaya parameshvaras tishöhati. tathapi tatra-samsaktatvad sthita eva bhavati. tad-bhakteshu tu samashaktatvan na tatheti. na ca tat-sangadau tasyeccheti yathokta-vyakhyanam eva balavat.

shayanam-resting; atra-here; purushavatarasya-of the purusa-avatara; kadacit-sometimes; pralayodadhau-on the ocean of cosmic annihilation; yoga-nidra-mystic sleep; kadacit-sometimes; bhagavat-pravesha-the entrance of the Lord; va-or; yadyapi-also; sarveshv-in all; api-also; jiveshu-spirit souls; antaryamitaya-as the Supersoul residing in the heart; parameshvarah-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; tishöhati-stays; tathapi-nevertheless; tatra-there; asamsaktatvat-because of not being attached; sthita-staying; eva-indeed; bhavati-is; tad-bhakteshu-in His devotees; tu-indeed; samashaktatvan-because of being attached; na-not; tatha-so; iti-thus; na-not; ca-and; tat-sangadau-beginning with their association; tasya-of Him; iccha-desire; iti-thus; yatha-as; ukta-said; vyakhyanam-explanation; eva-indeed; balavat-as powerful.

Sometimes the purusha-avatara rests in mystic sleep (yoga-nidra) on the ocean of cosmic annihilation, and sometimes He personally enters the material world. Although He personally resides in the hearts of all living beings, the Supreme Personality of Godhead is not at all attached to anything in the material world. However, the Lord is attached to His devotees, and He desires their company. In this way the Lord is both attached and not attached.

Text 7

tatha ca bhagavad-upanishadah mat-sthani sarva-bhutani na caham teshv avasthitah na ca mat-sthani bhutani pashya me yogam aishvaram iti. ye bhajanti tu mam bhaktya mayi te teshu capy aham iti ca.

tatha-so; ca-and; bhagavad-upanishadah-in Bhagavad-gita; mat-sthani sarva-bhutani na caham teshv avasthitah na ca mat-sthani bhutani pashya me yogam aishvaram iti-Bhagavad-gita 9.4-5; ye bhajanti tu mam bhaktya mayi te teshu capy aham iti-bhagavad-gita 9.29; ca-and.

That He is both attached and not attached is confirmed by the Supreme Personality of Godhead Himself in these words of Shri Bhagavad-gita (9.4-5 and 9.29):

"All beings are in Me, but I am not in them. And yet everything that is created does not rest in Me. Behold My mystic opulence!"*

"But whoever renders service unto Me in devotion is a friend, is in Me, and I am also a friend to him."*

Text 8

uktam ca hari-bhakti-sudhodaye bhaktanam hridayam shantam sa-shriyo me priyam griham vasami tatra shobhaiva vaikunöhakhyadi-varnana. iti.

uktam-said; ca-also; hari-bhakti-sudhodaye-in Hari-bhakti-sudhodaya; bhaktanam-of the devotees; hridayam-the heart; shantam-peaceful; sa-shriyah-with the goddess of fortune; me-to Me; priyam-dear; griham-home; vasami-I reside; tatra-there; shobha-glory; eva-indeed; vaikunöha-Vaikunöha; akhya-called; adi-beginning; varnana-description; iti-thus.

In Hari-bhakti-sudhodaya (14.57), the Supreme Lord again explains:

"The peaceful hearts of My devotees are the homes the goddess of fortune and I like best. I reside in those homes and I call them Vaikunöha."

Anuccheda 103

Text 1

evam prasangena shrishöi-pralayav api vyakhyaya punah palanam eva vyacakshanah prakaranam upasamharati sardhena evam-thus; prasangena-by contact; shrishöi-pralayav-creation and annihilation; api-also; vyakhyaya-to be explained; punah-again; palanam-protection; eva-indeed; vyacakshanah-explanation; prakaranam-explanation; upasamharati-concludes; sardhena-with half.

Thus the Supreme Personality of Godhead arranges for the creation, destruction, and maintenance of the material worlds. The next verse gives the summary of this conclusion (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 7.1.11-12):

Text 2

kalam carantam shrijatisha ashrayam pradhana-pumbhyam nara-deva satya-krit ya esha rajann api kala ishita sattvam suranikam iva idhayaty atah tat-praty-anikan asuran sura-priyo rajas-tamaskan praminoty uru-shravah kalam-time; carantam-moving; shrijati-creates; isha-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; ashrayam-shelter; pradhana-for the material energy; pumbhyam-and the living entity; nara-deva-O ruler of men; satya-krit-true creator; ya-which; esha-this; rajann-O king; api-even; kala-time; ishita-the Supreme Lord; sattvam-the mode of goodness; suranikam-numbers of demigods; iva-certainly; idhayaty-causes to increase; atah-hence; tat-praty-anikan-inimical to them; asuran-the demons; sura-priyah-begging the friend of the demigods; rajas-tamaskan-covered by passion and ignorance; praminoti-destroys; uru-shravah-whose glories are widespread.

"O great king, the Supreme Personality of Godhead, the controller of the spiritual and material energies, who is certainly the creator of the entire cosmos, creates the time factor to allow the material energy and the living entity to act within the limits of time. Thus the Supreme Personality is never under the time factor nor under the material energy.*

"O king, this time factor enhances the sattva-guna. Thus although the Supreme Lord is the controller, he favors the demigods, who are mostly situated in sattva-guna. Then the demons, who are influenced by tamoguna, are annihilated. The Supreme Lord induces the time factor to act in different ways, but He is never partial. Rather, His activities are glorious. Therefore He is called Urushrava."*

Text 3

satya-krit svarupa-shakti-vilasenaiva svayam paramartha-satya-kriyavirbhavaka eva san sva-ceshōa-rupam kalam shrijati vyanjayati.

satya-krit-satya-krt; svarupa-shakti-vilasena-with the pastimes of His personal potency; eva-indeed; svayam-personally; paramartha-ther supreme goal; satya-kriya-activities of goodness; avirbhavaka-manifesting; eva-indeed; san-bring so; sva-ceshōa-rupam-the form of His own activities; kalam-time; shrijati-creates; vyanjayati-manifests.

Here the word "satya-krit" means "employing the pastimes of His personal potency, He manifests the true activities that lead to the supreme goal of life", and "kalam shrijati" means "He Himself manifests time".

Text 4

kim kurvantam. pradhana-pumbhyam ca carantam tat-tat-sambandhanam sadhaka-bhaktanam devadi-pravishōam nija-tejo-'mshanam ca sahayya-hetor eva shrijyamanataya utpattyaivavyakta-jiva-sanghatabhyam carantam. ata eva sannidhanenaiva tayos tat-tad-avasthanam ashrayam udbhava-hetum ca.

kim-what?; kurvantam-doing; pradhana-pumbhyam-matter and the living entity; ca-and; carantam-doping; tat-tat-various; -sambandhanam-of relationships; sadhaka-bhaktanam-of the sadhana-bhaktas; devadi-beginning with the demigods; pravishöam-entered; nija-tejah-own power; amshanam-of parts; ca-and; sahayya-hetoh-for the purpost of helping; eva-indeed; shriyamanataya-as creating; utpattya-manifesting; eva-indeed; avyakta-unmanifested; jiva-sanghatabhyam-and individfual souls; carantam-moving; ata eva-therefore; sannidhanena-by putting together; eva-indeed; tayoh-of the two; tat-tad-avasthanam-various states of being; ashrayam-shelter; udbhava-hetum-the cause of creation; ca-and.

How does the Lord do this (set time in motion)? That is answered with the words "pradhana-pumbhyam carantam", which mean "appearing in the forms of His partial incarnations, the Lord enters the demigods, who are his sadhaka devotees, and helps them in the activities of creation. Thus he brings together the unmanifested material energy and the individual spirit souls." In this way the creation (ashrayam) of various different conditions of life is created.

Text 5

naradeveti sambodhanena yatha nijehaya mukhyam eva karyam kurvatas tava tayaivanyad api kshudrataram svayam eva sidhyati. tadvad ihapiti bodhitam. tato ya esa ceshöa-rupah kalah. sa sattvam sattva-pradhanam suranikam edhayativa. tata eva tat-praty-anikan rajas-tamah-pradhanan asuran praminotiva hinastiva. ye tu deveshu bhakta asureshu bhakta-vidveshinas tan svayam palayati hinasti caiveti purvam evoktam. yasmac tac-ceshöa-lakshanasya kalasyaivam varta. tasmad ishitapi edhayativa praminotiva ceti. he rajann iti purvabhiprayam eva.

naradeva-naradeva; iti-thus; sambodhanena-in the vocative case; yatha-as; nijehaya-with His own action; mukhyam-primary; eva-indeed; karyam-action; kurvatah-doing; tava-of You; taya-by this; eva-indeed; anyat-another; api-even; kshudrataram-more insignificant; svayam-personally; eva-indeed; sidhyati-is concluded; tadvat-like that; iha-here; api-also; iti-thus; bodhitam-explained; tatah-then; ya-who; esa-He; ceshöa-rupah-the form of actions; kalah-time; sa-that; sattvam-sattva; sattva-pradhanam-the sattva unmanifested mode; suranikam-many demigods; edhayati-increasees; iva-asif; tata-then; eva-indeed; tat-that; praty-anikan-enemies; rajas-tamah-pradhanan-primarily in passion and ignorance; asuran-demons; praminoti-destroys; iva-as if; hinastiva-destroys; ye-who; tu-but; deveshu-in the demigods; bhakta-devotees; asureshu-in the demons; bhakta-vidveshinah-they who hate the devotees; tan-them; svayam-personally; palayati-deprotects; hinasti-destroys; ca-and; eva-indeed; iti-thus; purvam-before; eva-indeed; uktam-said; yasmac-from which; tac-ceshöa-His actions; lakshanasya-characetrized; kalasya-of time; evam-thus; varta-the news; tasmad-from that; ishita-the controller; api-also; edhayativa-increases; praminoti-destroys; iva-like; ca-and; iti-thus; he-O; rajann-king; iti-thus; purva-previous; abhiprayam-meaning; eva-indeed.

Here the word "naradeva", which is in the vocative case, means "simply by Your desire worthy actions are done. Actions that You do not desire to be done are unworthy and unimportant." This verse means: "This time factor enhances the sattva-guna. Thus although the Supreme Lord is the controller, he favors the demigods, who are mostly situated in sattva-guna. Then the demons, who are influenced by tamo-guna, are annihilated." In this way the Lord protects the demigods and destroys the demons, who hate the Lord's devotees. This has been explained in previous passages. These activities are carried out by time. Because He is the controller (ishita) of time, it is the Supreme Lord who protects the devotees and destroys the demons.

Text 6

nanu yadi ceshituh prayojanam na bhavati. tarhi katham kadapy asuran api sva-pakshan vidhaya devair na yudhyate. tatraha sura-priyah.

nanu-indeed; yadi-if; ceshituh-of the actor; prayojanam-need; na-not; bhavati-is; tarhi-then; katham-how?; kadapi-sometimes; asuran-demons; api-even; sva-pakshan-own side; vidhaya-placing; devaih-with the demigods; na-not; yudhyate-is fought; tatra-there; aha-said; sura-priyah-the words beginning with "sura-priyah"..

Here someone may ask: "If He is self-sufficient and never in need of anything external to fulfill His desires, why does the Supreme Personality of Godhead never take the side of the demons and fight with them against the demigods?"

This question is answered here by the word "sura-priyah" (He is the friend of the demigods).

Text 7

sureshu vartamanah priya bhakta yasya sah. sattva-pradhaneshu sureshu prayashas tesham sarvesham anugamanenaiva tasyanugamanam. kadacid brihaspaty-adishu mahatsv aparadhe tu tesham malinyena suratvacchadanat tesham tasya caiteshv ananugamanam syad iti.jaya-kale tu sattvasya ity ady uktam iti bhavah.

sureshu-among the demigods; vartamanah-being so; priya-dear; bhakta-devotees; yasya-of whom; sah-He; sattva-pradhaneshu-mainly in goodness; sureshu-in the demigods; prayashah-mainly; tesham-of them; sarvesham-of all; anugamanena-by following; eva-indeed; tasya-of Him; anugamanam-following; kadacid-sometimes; brihaspaty-adishu-headed by Brihaspati; mahatsv-great souls; aparadhe-offense; tu-but; tesham-of them; malinyena-by contamination; suratva-status as demigods; acchadanat-because of covering; tesham-of them; tasya-of Him; ca--and; eteshu-in them; ananugamanam-not following; syat-may be; iti-thus;.jaya-kale-at the time of victory; tu-but; sattvasya-of goodness; iti-thus; adi-beginning; uktam-said; iti-thus; bhavah-the meaning.

The word "sura-priyah" here means "He who has many dear devotees among the ranks of the demigods". The Lord is also favorable to the demigods because they are mostly in the mode of goodness. However, sometimes the demigods become contaminated because of offenses to Brihaspati and other great souls. When their status as true demigods is thus covered over by offenses, the Supreme Lord is no longer favorable to them. This is described in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 7.1.8 (quoted here in anuccheda 100, text 2). In this way the meaning is explained.

Text 8

nanu katham te 'pi tan nanugacchanti. tatraha rajas-tamaskan iti. atyanta-bhagavad-bahirmukhata-karayos tayor gunayor arocatvad eveti bhavah.

nanu-indeed; katham-how?; te-they; api-also; tan-them; na-not; anugacchanti-are favorable; tatra-there; aha-said; rajas-tamaskan-rajah-tamaskan; iti-thus; atyanta-great; bhagavat-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; bahirmukhata-being outside; karayoh-the causes; tayoh-of the two; gunayoh-modes; arocatvat-because of being displeasing; eva-indeed; iti-thus; bhavah-the meaning.

Here someone may ask: "Why is the Lord at that time not favorable to the demigods?" The answer is given here in the words "rajah-tamaskan" (then they are covered by passion and ignorance). The modes of passion and ignorance push one far away from the Supreme Lord. That is because these two modes are very displeasing to Him. That is the meaning.

Text 9

tarhy asau sa-daivasuranam nigraham eva karotity anyathapy asamanjasyam ity ashankyaha uru-shravah. vairena yam nripatayah iti. aho baki yam stana-kalakutam ity adibhir uru sarvato vishritam mahattamam va shravah kirtir yasya sah. tesham apy anugraham eva karotiti bhavah.

tarhi-then; asau-this; sa-daivasuranam-of the demigods and demons; nigraham-punishment; eva-indeed; karoti-does; iti-thus; anyatha-otherwise; api-also; asamanjasyam-impropriety; iti-thus; ashankya-fearing; aha-said; uru-shravah-uru-sravah; vairena yam nripatayah iti-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.5.48; ahah- baki yam stana-kalakutam ity adibhih-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 3.2.23; uru-uru; sarvatah-in all respects; vishritam-expanded; mahattamam-greatness; va-or; shravah-srava; kirtih-glory; yasya-of whom; sah-He; tesham-of them; api-also; anugraham-mercy; eva-indeed; karoti-does; iti-thus; bhavah-the meaning.

Here someone may protest: "It is not right for the Lord to punish the demigods and demons in this way." Fearing that someone may speak these words, the Lord is here described with the word "urushravah" (His activities are glorious). That the Lord is not to be faulted for punishing the demons is also confirmed by these words (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.5.48):

"Inimical kings like Shishupala, Paundraka, and Shalva were always thinking about Lord Krishna. Even while they were lying down, sitting, or engaging in other activities, they enviously meditated upon the bodily movements of the Lord, His sporting pastimes, His loving glances upon His devotees, and other attractive features displayed by the Lord. Being thus always absorbed in Krishna, they achieved spiritual liberation in the Lord's own abode. What then can be said of the benedictions offered to those who constantly fix their minds on Lord Krishna in a favorable, loving mood?"

It is also said (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 3.2.23):

"Alas, how shall I take shelter of one more merciful than He who granted the position of a mother to a she-demon (Putana) although she was unfaithful and she prepared deadly poison to be sucked from her breast?"*

In these ways it is explained that the word "uru-shravah" means "the Supreme Lord, whose glories are manifested everywhere". Thus the Lord's giving of so-called punishment is also His mercy. That is the meaning here.

Anuccheda 104

Text 1

tad evam siddhantam pradarshya tatra sva-bhaktanugraha-matra-prayojanam tat tat karoti paresha iti pratijnatarthodaharanaya prahlada-jaya-vijayadi-kripayah sucakam itihasa-vishesham aha tat-this; evam-thus; siddhantam-conclusion; pradarshya-showing; tatra-there; sva-bhakta-to His devotees; anugraha-mercy; matra-only; prayojanam-need; tat tat-that; karoti-does; paresha-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; iti-thus; pratijnata-promise; artha-meaning; udaharanaya-for the explanation; prahlada-jaya-vijayadi-kripayah-of mercy to Prahlada, Jaya, Vijaya, and others; sucakam-indication; itihasa-vishesham-specific history; aha-said.

In this way the conclusion that the Supreme Personality of Godhead acts only to show mercy to His devotees is revealed. That the Lord gives mercy to all is explained in the histories of Prahlada, Jaya, Vijaya, and many others. For example, in Shrimad-Bhagavatam (7.1.13) it is said:

Text 2

atraivodahritah purvam itihasah surarshina pritya maha-kratau rajan pricchate 'jata-shatrave. ity adi.

atra-in this connection; eva-certainly; udahritah-was recited; purvam-previously; itihasah-an old story; surarshina-by the great sage Narada; pritya-with joy; maha-kratau-at the great Rajasuya sacrifice; rajan-O king; pricchate-to the inquiring; ajata-shatrave-Maharaja Yudhisthira, who had no enemy; iti-thus; adi-beginning.

"Formerly, O king, when Maharaja Yudhisthira was performing the Rajasuya sacrifice, the great sage Narada, responding to his inquiry, recited historical facts showing how the Supreme Personality of Godhead is always impartial, even when killing demons. In this regard he gave a vivid example."*

Text 3

öikaiva drishya. shri-shukah.

öika-commentary; eva-indeed; drishya-to be seen; shri-shukah-Shri Sukadeva Gosvami..

One should look at Shrila Shridhara Svami's commentary on this verse. This verse was spoken by Shrila Shukadeva Gosvami.

Anuccheda 105

Text 1

tad evam sarve api vaishamya-nairghrinye parihritah. ishvaras tu parjanya-avad drashöavya ity asya brahma-sutra-nirgalitartha-nyayasyapy atraivantar-bhava-siddhah. iti brahma-bhagavat-paramatmano vivritah. tad evam tri-vyuhatvam eva vyakhyatam. kvacid vasudevadi-catur-vyuhaditvam ca drishyate. sa ca bhedah kasyacit kenacid abheda-vivakshaya bheda-vivakshaya ca nayuktah.

tat-that; evam-thus; sarve-all; api-also; vaishamya-partiality; nairghrinye-mercilessness; parihritah-refuted; ishvarah-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; tu-indeed; parjanya-avad-like the rain; drashöavya-to be seen; iti-thus; asya-of Him; brahma-sutra-in the Vedanta-sutra; nirgalita-manifested; artha-meaning; nyayasya-of Vedanta; api-also; atra-here; eva-indeed; antar-bhava-disappearance; siddhah-proof; iti-thus; brahma-bhagavat-paramatmanah-of Brahman, Bhagavan, and Paramatma; vivritah-revealed; tat-that; evam-thus; tri-vyuhatvam-three forms; eva-indeed; vyakhyatam-explained; kvacid-somewhere; vasudevadi-catur-vyuhaditvam-the nature of the four forms beginning with Vasudeva; ca-also; drishyate-is seen; sa-that; ca-and; bhedah-difference; kasyacit-of someone; kenacid-by someone; abheda-vivakshaya-with the desire to explain that they are different; bheda-vivakshaya-with the desire to explain that they are different; ca-and; na-not; ayuktah-improper.

In this way the idea that the Supreme Personality of Godhead is cruel or unjust is refuted. Actually the Lord is merciful to everyone. He gives His mercy to all in the same way the rain falls everywhere. This is confirmed by the following words of Vedanta-sutra (2.1.34):

"The Supreme Personality of Godhead is neither cruel nor unjust, for the scriptures reveal that the individual living entities suffer or enjoy according to their own karma."

The Lord appears as the impersonal Brahman, the all-pervading Supersoul (paramatma) and the Supreme Personality of Godhead (bhagavan). In this way the Lord has three forms. The Lord also appears as Vasudeva, Sankarshana, Pradyumna, and Aniruddha. In that way the Lord has four forms. In one sense, these are different forms. In another sense, they are not different from the Lord Himself. It is not improper, therefore, to say that these forms are different.

Text 2

tad uktam moksha-dharme narayaniye eka-vyuha-vibhago va kvacid dvi-vyuha-samjnitah tri-vyuhash capi sankhyatas catur-vyuhash ca drishyate. iti.

tad-that; uktam-said; moksha-dharme-in the Moks-adharma; narayaniye-in the Narayaniya; eka-vyuha-vibhagah-one form; va-or; kvacid-somewhere; dvi-vyuha-samjnitah-two forms; tri-vyuhah-three forms; ca-also; api-and; sankhyatah-numbering; catur-vyuhah-four forms; ca-and; drishyate-is seen; iti-thus.

That the Lord thus has many forms is explained in these words of the Moksha-dharma's Narayaniya:

"In some circumstances the Supreme Lord has one form. In other circumstances two forms, three forms, or four forms are seen."

Text 3

shrutish ca sa ekadha bhavati tridha bhavati ity adya.

shrutih-the Srutia-sastra; ca-also; sa-He; ekadha-in one form; bhavati-is; tridha-in three forms; bhavati-is; iti-thus; adya-beginning.

This is also described in the following words of Chandogya Upanishad (7.26.2):

"Sometimes the Lord has one form and sometimes He manifests three forms."

Text 4

atha purva-ritya catur-vyuhatvady-avisamvadayata yad atra tri-vyuhatvam darshitam. tatra prathamavyuhasya shri-bhagavata eva mukhyatvam. yat-pratipadakatvenaivasya maha-puranasya shri-bhagavatam ity akhya.

atha-now; purva-ritya-according to the previous explanation; catur-vyuhadvadi-beginning with the four forms; avisamvadayata-without contradiction; yat-what; atra-here; tri-vyuhadvam-having three forms; darshitam-revealed; tatra-theer; prathama-vyuhasya-of the first form; shri-bhagavata-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; eva-indeed; mukhyatvam-being the most important; yat-pratipadakatvena-with the explanation of that; eva-indeed; asya-of this; maha-puranasya-great Purana; shri-bhagavatam-Shrimad-Bhagavatam; iti-thus; akhya-called.

Thus there is no contradiction when the scriptures sometimes say the Lord has four forms and at other times the scriptures say that the Lord has three forms. When it is said that the Lord has three forms (Brahman, Paramatma, and Bhagavan) it should be understood that Bhagavan (the Supreme Personality of Godhead) is the most important of these forms. Bhagavan is very elaborately described in the Maha-purana called Shrimad-Bhagavatam.

Text 5

yathoktam idam bhagavatam nama puranam brahma-sammitam iti.

yatha-as; uktam-said; idam bhagavatam nama puranam brahma-sammitam iti-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.3.40.

This is confirmed by the following words (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.3.40):

"This Shrimad-Bhagavatam is the literary incarnation of God, and it is compiled by Shrila Vyasadeva, the incarnation of God. It is meant for the ultimate good of all people, and it is all-successful, all-blissful, and all-perfect."*

Text 6

tasya hi pradhanyena shad-vidhena lingena tatparyam api paryalocyate upakramopasamharav abhyaso 'purvata-phalam artha-vadopapatti ca lingam tatparya-nirnaye ity ukta-prakarena.

tasya-of that; hi-indeed; pradhanyena-by being most important; shad-vidhena-with six kinds; lingena-forms; tatparyam-meaning; api-also; paryalocyate-is seen; upakrama-beginning; upasamharau-and end; abhyasah-endavor; apurvata-phalam-unprecedented result; artha-vada-explanation; upapatti-logic; ca-and; lingam-sign; tatparya-nirnaye-in the conclusion; iti-thus; ukta-prakarena-by the explanation.

The six ways in which the meaning of a book is understood are described in the following words:

"The six ways in which the meaning of a book is understood are: 1. the author's preamble, 2. The author's concluding words, 3. what is repeated by the author again and again in the course of the book, 4. what is unique to the book, and thus not found in other books, 5. the author's own declaration of his intent in writing the book, and 6. the application of logic to understanding the author's intention."

Text 7

tatha hi tavad upakramopasmharayor aikyam janmady asya yato 'nvayad itaratash cartheshv abhijnah svaraö tene brahma hrida ya adi-kavaye muhyanti yat surayah tejo-vari-mridam yatha vinimayo yatra tri-sargo 'mrisha dhamna svena sada nirasta-kuhakam satyam param dhimahi tatha hi-furthermore; tavat-then; upakrama-preamble; upasmharayoh-conclusion; aikyam-oneness; janmadi-creation, sustenance, and destruction; asya-of the manifested universes; yatah-from whom; anvayat-directly; itaratah-indirectly; ca-and; artheshv-purposes; abhijnah-fully cognizant; svaraö-fully independent; tene-imparted; brahma-the Vedic knowledge; hrida-consciousness of the heart; ya-one who; adi-kavaye-onto the original created being; muhyanti-are illusioned; yat-about whom; surayah-the great sages and demigods; tejah-fire; vari-water; mridam-earth; yatha-as much as; vinimayah-action and reaction; yatra-whereupon; tri-sargah-three modes of creation, creative faculties; amrisha-almost factual; dhamna-along with all transcendental paraphernalia; svena-swif-sufficiently; sada-always; nirasta-negation by absence; kuhakam-illusion; satyam-truth; param-absolute; dhimahi-I do meditate upon.

The preamble and concluding words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam are in complete agreement. Both describe the Absolute Truth. The preamble of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (1.1.1) is:

"I meditate upon Lord Shri Krishna because He is the Absolute Truth and the primeval cause of all causes of the creation, sustenance, and destruction of the manifested universes. He is directly and indirectly conscious of all manifestations, and He is independent because there is no other cause beyond Him. It is He only who first imparted the Vedic knowledge unto the heart of Brahmaji, the original living being. By Him even the great sages and demigods are placed into illusion, as one is bewildered by the illusory representations of water seen in fire, or land seen on water. Only because of Him do the material universes, temporarily manifested by the reactions of the three modes of nature, appear factual although they are unreal. I therefore meditate upon Him, Lord Shri Krishna, who is eternally existent in the transcendental abode, which is forever free from the illusory representations of the material world. I meditate upon Him, for He is the Absolute Truth."*

Text 8

kasmai yena vibhashito 'yam atulo jnana-pradipah pura tad-rupena ca naradaya munaye krishnaya tad-rupina yogindraya tad-atmanatha bhagavad-rataya karunyatas tac chuddham vimalam vishokam amritam satyam param dhimahi kasmai-to Brahma; yena-by whom; vibhashitah-spoken; ayam-this; atulah-peerless; jnana-of knowledge; pradipah-lamp; pura-before; tad-rupena-in that form; ca-and; naradaya-to Narada; munaye-the sage; krishnaya-to Krishna; tad-rupina-with that form; yogindraya-to the king of the yogis; tad-atmana-with that nature; atha-then; bhagavad-rataya-devoted to the Supreme Personality of Godhead; karunyatah-mercifully; tac-that; chuddham-pure; vimalam-spotless; vishokam-free from suffering; amritam-eternal; satyam-truth; param-supreme; dhimahi-I meditate.

The concluding words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (12.13.19) are:

"I meditate upon the pure and spotless Absolute Truth, who is free from suffering and death. In the beginning He personally revealed this peerless lamp of knowledge to Brahma. Brahma spoke it to Naada Muni, who then spoke it to Krishna Dvaipayana Vyasa. Vyasa spoke it to Shukadeva Gosvami, the king of yogis, and Shukadeva spoke it to the great devotee Maharaja Parikshit."*

Text 9

atra purvasyarthah artho 'yam brahma-sutranam iti garudokter asya maha-puranasya brahma-sutrakritrima-bhashyatmakatvat prathamam tad upadayaiva avatarah.

atra-here; purvasya-of the previous; arthah-meaning; arthah-meaning; ayam-this; brahma-sutranam-of Vedanta sutra; iti-thus; garuda-of the Garuda Purana; ukteh-of the statement; asya-of this; maha-puranasya-maha-purana; brahma-sutra-of Vedanta-sutra; akritrima-natural; bhashya-commentary; atmakatvat-because of having the nature; prathamam-first; tat-that; upadaya-accepting; eva-indeed; avatarah-incarnation.

In the Garuda Purana it is said:

"Shrimad-Bhagavatam is the perfect commentary on Vedanta-sutra."

Thus the Garuda Maha-purana affirms that Shrimad-Bhagavatam is the natural commentary on Vedanta-sutra.

Text 10

tatra purvam athato brahma-jijnasa iti vyacashöe tejo-vari-mridam ity ady ardhenam.

tatra-there; purvam-before; atha-now; atah-then; brahma-into the Supreme; jijnasa-should be an inquiry; iti-thus; vyacashöe-says; tejo-vari-mridam ity ady ardhenam-the half-verse beginning with the words "tejo-vari-mrdam".

In this way the second half of Shrimad-Bhagavatam's first verse (1.1.1) is the natural commentary on Vedanta-sutra's first aphorism (1.1.1).

Text 11

yojanayam prathamikatvad asya purvatvam. tatra brahma-jijnaseti vyacashöe param dhimahi itiram shri-bhagavantam dhimahi dhyayema.

yojanayam-in the structure; prathamikatvat-because of being at the beginning; asya-of this; purvatvam-at the beginning; tatra-there; brahma-jijnaseti-Vedanta-sutra 1.1.1; vyacashöe-explains; param-Supreme; dhimahi-I meditate; iti-thus; ram-Supreme; shri-bhagavantam-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; dhimahi-I meditate; dhyayema-I meditate.

Here the first words of Vedanta-sutra ("Now, therefore, one should inquire about Brahman.") are explained by the first verse of Shrimad-Bhagavatam, where it is said "param dhimahi" , which mean "I meditate on the Supreme Personality of Godhead".

Text 12

tad evam mukta-pragrahaya yoga-vritt्या brihattvad brahma yat sarvatmakam tad-bahish ca bhavati. tat tu nija-rashmy-adibhyah surya iva sarvebhyah param eva svato bhavatiti mula-rupatva-pradarshanaya para-padena brahma-padam vyakhyayate. tac catra bhagavan evety abhimatam. purushasya tad-amsatvan nirvishesha-brahmano gunadi-hinatvat.

tat-that; evam-thus; mukta-pragrahaya-liberated; yoga-vritt्या-by thew actions of yoga; brihattvat-because of greatness; brahma-Brahma; yat-what; sarva-all; atmakam-self; tad-bahih-outside that; ca-and; bhavati-is; tat-that; tu-but; nija-rashmy-adibhyah-beginning with His rays of light; surya-the sun; iva-like; sarvebhyah-to all; param-supreme; eva-indeed; svatah-personally; bhavati-is; iti-thus; mula-root; rupatva-form; pradarshanaya-for revealing; para-padena-by the word "para"; brahma-padam-the word "brahma"; vyakhyayate-is explained; tac-that; ca-also; atra-here; bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; eva-indeed; iti-thus; abhimatam-considered; purushasya-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; tad-amsatvan-having a part; nirvishesha-varietyless; brahmanah-of Brahman; gunadi-hinatvat-because of not havign qualities.

The word "brahma" (in Vedanta-sutra 1.1.1) means "the greatest". Brahman is like the sun, and everything that exists is like rays of light emanating from the Brahman-sun. Therefore the word "param" (in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.1.1) explains the true meaning of the word "brahma" (in Vedanta-sutra 1.1.1). The word "param" there means "the Supreme Personality of Godhead". the conclusion, then, is that the varietyless impersonal Brahman is one aspect of the Supreme Person.

Text 13

uktam ca shri-ramanuja-caranaih sarvatra brihattva-guna-yogena hi brahma-shabdah. brihattvam ca svarupena gunaish ca yatanavadhikatishayah. so 'sya brahma-shabdasya mukhyo 'rthah. sa ca sarveshvara eva iti.

uktam-said; ca-and; shri-ramanuja-caranaih-by Shri Ramanuja Acarya; sarvatra-everywhere; brihattva-guna-yogena-with the quality of greatness; hi-indeed; brahma-shabdah-the word brahma; brihattvam-greatness; ca-also; svarupena-own form; gunaih-with qualities; ca-also; yatra-where; anavadhika-atishayah-limitless; sah-who; asya-of Him; brahma-shabdasya-of the word brahma; mukhyah-primary; arthah-meaning; sa-that; ca-and; sarveshvara-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; eva-indeed; iti-thus.

Shrila Ramanuja Acarya explains:

"The word `brahma' means `He who is in every way the greatest'. For this reason the primary meaning of the word `brahma' is `the Supreme Person, whose transcendental qualities have no limit'."

Text 14

uktam ca pracetobhih na hy anto yad vibhutinam so 'nanta iti giyase iti.

uktam-said; ca-and; pracetobhih na hy anto yad vibhutinam so 'nanta iti giyase iti-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 4.30.31.

That the qualities and glories of the Supreme Personality of Godhead have no limit is confirmed by the following words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (4.30.31):

"Dear Lord, we shall therefore pray for Your benediction because You are the Supreme, beyond all transcendence, and because there is no end to Your opulences. Consequently You are celebrated by the name Ananta."*

Text 15

ata eva vividha-manoharanantakaratve 'pi tat-tad-akarashraya-paramadbhuta-mukhyakarativam api tasya vyanjitam.tad evam murtatve siddhe tenaiva paratvena tasya vishnv-adi-rupaka-bhagavattvam eva siddham. tasyaiva brahma-shivadi-paratvena darshitatvat. atra jijnasety asya vyakhya dhimahiti. yatas taj-jijnasayas tatparyam tad-dhyana eva.

ata eva-therefore; vividha-various; manohara-charming; ananta-limitless; akaratve-having forms; api-also; tat-tat-various; -akara-forms; ashraya-shelter; parama-supreme; adbhuta-wonderful; mukhya-primary; akaratvam-having forms; api-also; tasya-of Him; vyanjitam-manifested; tat-that; evam-in this way; murtatve-having form; siddhe-proved; tena-by this; eva-indeed; paratvena-by being supreme; tasya-of Him; vishnv-Lord Vishnu; adi-beginning with; rupaka-form; bhagavattvam-the nature of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; eva-indeed; siddham-proved; tasya-of Him; eva-indeed; brahma-shivadi-beginning with Brahma and Siva; paratvena-by the supremacy; darshitatvat-because of being shown; atra-here; jijnasa-jijnasa' iti-thus; asya-of this; vyakhya-is explained; dhimahi-dhimahi; iti-thus; yatah-from which; taj-jijnasayah-of inquiry; tatparyam-the meaning; tad-dhyana-that meditation; eva-indeed.

In this way it is explained that the Supreme Personality of Godhead of a limitless variety of handsome and wonderful transcendental forms. This proves that the Supreme has many forms, such as the form of Lord Vishnu, and it also proves that the forms of the Supreme Personality of Godhead are superior to the forms of Brahma, Shiva, and the other demigods.

The word "jijnasa" (one should inquire) in the beginning of Vedanta-sutra is explained by the word "dhimahi" (I meditate) in the beginning of Shrimad-Bhagavatam. This means that one who is eager to understand the Supreme will always think of Him. In this way one meditates on the Supreme.

Text 16

tad uktam ekadashe svayam bhagavata para-brahmani nishnato na nishnayati pare yadi shramas tasya shrama-phalo hy adhenum iva rakshatah. iti.

tat-that; uktam-said; ekadashe-in the eleventh canto; svayam-personally; bhagavata-by the Supreme Personality of Godhead; para-brahmani-in the Supreme Personality of Godhead; nishnatah-learned; na-not; nishnayatah-learned; pare-in the Supreme Personality of Godhead; yadi-if; shramah-labor; tasya-of him; shrama-phalah-labor as the result; hi-indeed; adhenum-a cow without milking capacity; iva-like; rakshatah-from protecting; iti-thus.

This is also described by the Supreme Personality of Godhead Himself in these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (11.11.18):

"One may be well-versed in all the transcendental literature of the Vedas, but if he fails to be acquainted with the Supreme, it must be concluded that all of his education is like the burden of a beast or like one"s keeping a cow without milking capacity."*

Text 17

tato dhimahity anena shri-ramanuja-matam jijnasa-padam nididhyasana-param eveti sviyatvenangi-karoti shri-bhagavata-nama sarva-vedadi-sara-rupo 'yam grantha ity ayatam.

tatah-therefore; dhimahiti-the word dhimahi; anena-by this; shri-ramanuja-matam-the opinion of Ramanuja Acarya; jijnasa-padam-the word jijnasa; nididhyasana-param-meditation; eva-indeed; iti-thus; sviyatvena-by accepting; angi-karoti-accepts; shri-bhagavata-nama-called Shrimad-Bhagavatam; sarva-vedadi-sara-rupah-the best for all the Vedas; ayam-which; grantha-book; iti-thus; ayatam-attained.

In the opinion of Shrila Ramanuja Acarya, the word "dhimahi" (I meditate) is used in the beginning of Shrimad-Bhagavatam to explain the meaning of the word "jijnasa" (should be inquired about) in the beginning of Vedanta-sutra. In this way he accepts that Shrimad-Bhagavatam is the best of all Vedic scriptures.

Text 18

dhimahi bahu-vacanam kala-desha-parampara-sthitasya sarvasyapi tat-kartavyatabhiprayena ananta-koöi-brahmandantaryaminam purushanam amshi-bhute bhagavaty eva dhyanasymbhidhanat. anenaika-jiva-vada-jivana-bhuto vivarta-vado 'pi nirastah.

dhimahi-dhimahi; bahu-vacanam-plural number; kala-desha-parampara-sthitasya- in different times and places; sarvasya-of all; api-also; tat-kartavyata-to be done; abhiprayena-by the meaning; ananta-koöi-limitless millions; brahmanta-universes; antaryaminam-of residing within; purushanam-of persons; amshi-bhute-become apart; bhagavaty-in the Supreme Personality of Godhead; eva-indeed; dhyanya-of meditation; abhidhanat-from the word; anena-by this; eka-one; jiva-soul; vada-saying; jivana-life; bhutah-manifested; vivarta-vadah-the theory of transformation; api-also; nirastah-is refuted.

The word "dhimahi" (we meditate) is in the plural because many different living entities in different times and places in limitless millions of universes meditate on the Supreme Personality of Godhead. Because it thus affirms that there are many different individual souls, this word refutes the impersonalists' theory that everything that exists is only a transformation of the Supreme.

Text 19

dhyayati api bhagavato murtatvam api bodhayati. dhyanya murta evakashöarthatvat. sati ca su-sadhye pum-arthopaye duhsadhyasya purushapravrittya svata evapakarshat tad-upasakasyaiva yuktatamatva-nirnayac ca.

dhyayatih-meditation; api-also; bhagavatah-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; murtatvam-the state of having a form; api-also; bodhayati-informs; dhyanasya-of meditation; murta-form; eva-indeed; akashöarthatvat-because of the final meaning; sati-being so; ca-and; su-sadhye-easily attained; pum-artha-for the goal of life; upaye-the means of attaining; duhsadhyasya-difficult to attain; purusha-of the people; apravrittya-improper actions; svata-personally; eva-indeed; apakarshat-by rejecting; tad-upasakasya-of the worshiper; eva-indeed; yuktatamatva-because of being proper; nirnayac-because of the conclusion; ca-also.

It is said here that one should meditate on the Supreme Lord. This implies that the Lord has a form, for if the Lord did not have a form it would be very difficult to meditate on Him. By meditating on the Lord's form one easily attains the supreme goal of life. One who does not meditate on the Lord's form finds the supreme goal of life elusive and difficult to attain. Therefore the conclusion is that one should meditate on and worship the form of the Lord.

Text 20

tatha ca shri-gitopanishadah

mayy aveshya mano ye mam nitya-yukta upasate shraddhaya parayopetas te me yuktatama matah

tatha-so; ca-also; shri-gitopanishadah-from Bhagavad-gita; mayi-unto Me; aveshya-fixing; manah-mind; ye-one who; mam-unto Me; nitya-always; yukta-engaged; upasate-worships; shraddhaya-with faith; paraya-transcendental; upetah-engages; te-they; me-Mine; yuktatama-most perfect; matah-I consider.

This is confirmed by the Supreme Lord Himself in these words of Bhagavad-gita (12.2-5):

"He whose mind is fixed on My personal form, always engaged in worshipping Me with great and transcendental faith, is considered by Me to be most perfect.*

Text 21

ye tv aksharam anirdeshyam avyaktam paryupasate

te prapnuvanti mam eva sarva-bhuta-hite ratah

ye-those; tv-but; aksharam-which is beyond the perception of the senses; anirdeshyam-indefinite; avyaktam-unmanifested; paryupasate-completely engages; te-they; prapnuvanti-achieve; mam-unto Me; eva-certainly; sarva-bhuta-hite-all living entities' welfare; ratah-engaged..

"But those who fully worship the unmanifested, that which lies beyond the perception of the senses, the all-pervading, inconceivable, fixed, and immovable - the impersonal conception of the Absolute Truth - by controlling the various senses and being equally disposed to everyone, such persons, engaged in the welfare of all, at last achieve Me.*

Text 22

klesho 'dhikataras tesham avyaktasakta-cetasam avyakta hi gatir duhkham dehavadbhir avapyate. iti.

kleshah-trouble; adhikatarah-more troublesome; tesham-of them; avyakta-unmanifested; asakta-being attached; cetasm-of those whose minds; avyakta-unmanifested; hi-certainly; gatir duhkham-progress is troublesome; dehavadbhir-of the embodiments; avapyate-achieve; iti-thus.

"For those whose minds are attached to the unmanifested, impersonal feature of the Supreme, advancement is very troublesome. To make progress in that discipline is always difficult for those who are embodied."*

Text 23

ittham eva ca vivritam brahmana shreyah-shritim bhaktim udasya te vibho klishyanti ye kevala-bodha-labdhave tesham asau kleshala eva shishyate nanyad yatha sthula-tushavaghatinam. iti.

ittham-thus; eva-indeed; ca-and; vivritam-revealed; brahmana-by the demigod Brahma; shreyah-shritim-the auspicious path of liberation; bhaktim-devotional service; udasya-giving up; te-of You; vibhah-O my Lord; klishyanti-accept increased difficulties; ye-all those persons; kevala-only; bodha-labdhave-for obtaining knowledge; tesham-of them; asau-that; kleshala-trouble; eva-only; shishyate-remains; na-not; anyat-anything else; yatha-as much as; sthula-bukly; tusha-husks of rice; avaghatinam-of those beating; iti-thus.

That the worship of the Supreme Lord's transcendental form is better than the path of the impersonalists is also confirmed by these words of the demigod Brahma (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.14.4):

"My dear Lord, devotional service unto You is the only auspicious path. If one gives it up simply for speculative knowledge or the understanding that these living beings are spirit souls and the material world is false, he undergoes a great deal of trouble. He only gains troublesome and inauspicious activities. His endeavors are like beating a husk that is already devoid of rice. One's labor becomes fruitless."*

Text 24

ata evasya dhyeyasya svayam-bhagavattvam eva sadhitam. shivadayash ca vyavrittah. tatha dhimahiti lina dyotita prithag anusandhana-rahita prarthana dhyānopalakshita-bhagavad-bhajanam eva parama-purusharthatvena vyanakti. tato bhagavatas tu tathatvam svayam eva vyaktam. tatash ca yathokta-parama-manohara-murtitvam eva lakshyate.

ata eva-indeed; asya-of Him; dhyeyasya-the object of meditation; svayam-bhagavattvam-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; eva-indeed; sadhitam-attained; shivadayah-headed by Lord Siva; ca-and; vyavrittah-different; tatha-so; dhimahi-the word dhimahi; lina-form; dyotita-splendid; prithag-different; anusandhana-rahita-without search; prarthana-request; dhyānopalakshita-bhagavad-bhajanam-devotional service characterized by meditation on the Supreme Personality of Godhead; eva-indeed; parama-purusharthatvena-the highest goal of life; vyanakti-manifests; tatah-then; bhagavatah-from the Supreme Personality of Godhead; tu-indeed; tathatvam-the nature like that; svayam-personally; eva-indeed; vyaktam-manifested; tatah-then; ca-and; yathokta-parama-manohara-murtitvam-having supremely handsome forms as already described; eva-indeed; lakshyate-is characterized.

In this way it is understood that the Supreme Personality of Godhead is object of meditation described in the first verse of Shrimad-Bhagavatam. Lord Shiva and the other demigods are not the object of meditation described there. There the word "dhimahi" is in the potential mood (lin). In this way it is seen that devotional service to the Supreme Personality of Godhead, and no other activity, leads to the highest goal of life. In this way it is explained that the Supreme Personality of Godhead has a a charming, sublime, handsome transcendental form.

Text 25

tatha ca vedanam sama-vedo 'smi iti. tatra ca brihat sama tatha samnam ity ukta-mahimni brihat-samni brihad dhamam brihat parthivam brihad antariksham brihad divam brihad dhamam brihadbhyo vamam vamebhyo vamam iti. tad evam brahma-jijnaseti vyakhyatam.

tatha-so; ca-and; vedanam-of all the Vedas; sama-veda-the Sama Veda; asmi-I am; iti-thus; tatra-there; ca-and; brihat sama-the Brhat-sama; tatha-also; samnam-of the Sama-veda; iti-thus; ukta-described; mahimni-in the glory; brihat-samni-in the Brhat-sama; brihat-great; dhamam-abode; brihat-great; parthivam-earth; brihat-great; antariksham-sky; brihat-great; divam-heaven; brihat-great; dhamam-abode; brihadbhyah-from the great; vamam-on the left; vamebhyah-from the left; vamam-the left; iti-thus; tat-that; evam-thus; brahma-jijnaseti-the word "brahma-jijnasa; vyakhyatam-explained.

The Supreme Lord describes Himself in these words of Bhagavad-gita (10.22):

"Of the Vedas I am the Sama-veda."*

He also says (Bhagavad-gita 10.22):

"Of hymns I am the Brihat-sma sung to Lord Indra."*

The Supreme Lord is also glorified in these words of the Brihat-sama:

"The Supreme Personality of Godhead is the supreme abode. He is beyond the earth, beyond the sky, and beyond the material heavenly worlds. He is greater than the great. He is more handsome and glorious than the glories of this world."

In this way the word "brahma-jijnasa" has been explained.

Text 26

athata ity asya vyakhyamaha satyam iti. yatas tatratha-shabda anantarye. atah-shabdo vrittasya hetu-bhave vartate. tasmad atheti svadhyaya-kramatah prak prapta-karma-kande purva-mimamsaya samyak karma-jnanad anantaram ity arthah.

atha-now; atah-so; iti-thus; asya-of this; vyakhyamaha-explanation; satyam-truth; iti-thus; yatah-from which; tatra-there; atha-shabda-the word atha; anantarye-immediatly following; atah-shabdah-the word atah; vrittasya-being; hetu-bhave-cause; vartate-is; tasmad-from that; atha-atha; iti-thus; svadhyaya-kramatah-from study; prak-previous; prapta-karma-kande-in the karma-kanda; purva-mimamsaya-of the purva-mimasa; samyak-properly; karma-karma; jnanat-from knowledge; anantaram-following; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning.

In the first verse of Shrimad-Bhagavatam the word "satyam" explains the word "athatah" in the first sutra of Vedanta-sutra. Immediately following the word "atha" is the word "atah", which means "for this reason". The word "atha" (now) here means "after one has studied the karma-kanda section of the Vedas and the purva-mimamsa (karma-mimamsa) philosophy". That is the meaning here.

Text 27

ata iti tat-kramatah samanantaram prapta-brahma-kande tutara-mimamsaya nirneya-samyag-arthe 'dhita-carad yat kincitd anusamhitarthat kutashcid vakyad dheto ity arthah.

ata iti-the word atah; tat-kramatah-in that sequence; samanantaram-following; prapta-brahma-kande-in the Brahma-kanda; tu-indeed; tutara-mimamsaya-with tutara-mimasa; nirneya-samyag-arthe-in the conclusion; adhita-carat-by study; yat-what; kincit-somwthing; anusamhitarthat-fromthe meaning; kutashcit-somwething; vakyat-from the words; hetoh-the cause; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning.

The word "atah" means "after studying the brahma-kanda portion of the Vedas and the tutara-mimamsa (Vedanta) philosophy". The meaning is that after studying Vedanta there is still more to be studied.

Text 28

purva-mimamsayam purva-pakshatvenottara-mimamsa-nirnayottara-pakshe 'sminn avashyapekshyatvad aviruddhamse sahayatvat karmanah shanty-adi-lakshana-sattva-shuddhi-hetutvac ca tad anantaram ity eva labhyam.

purva-mimamsayam-in purva-mimamsa; purva-pakshatvena-as the opponent; tutara-mimamsa-tutara-mimamsa; nirnaya-conclusion; tutara-pakshe-in the reply; asminn-in this; avashya-inevitable; apekshyatvat-in relation to; aviruddhamse-not contradicted; sahayatvat-because of help; karmanah-of karma; shanti-peace; adi-beginning; lakshana-characteristics; sattva-goodness; shuddhi-purity; hetutvat-because of the reason; ca-and; tat-that; anantaram-after; iti-thus; eva-indeed; labhyam-to be attained.

In Vedanta-sutra the purva-mimamsa philosophy is the philosophical opponent to be defeated by the answers given by the tutara-mimamsa philosophy. The tutara-mimamsa philosophy enables one to attain peacefulness and the other virtues of goodness and purity. Therefore it comes after the purva-mimamsa.

Text 29

vakyani caitani tad yatheha karma-jito lokah kshiyata evam evamutra punya-jito lokah kshiyate. atha ya ihatmanam anuvidya vrajanty etamsh ca satya-kamamsh tesham sarveshu lokeshu kama-caro bhavati iti. na sa punar avartate iti. sa canantyaya kalpate iti. niranjanah paramam samyam upaiti iti.

vakyani-statements; ca-and; etani-these; tat-that; yatha-as; iha-here; karma-jitah-conquered by karma; lokah-world; kshiyata-perishes; evam-thus; eva-indeed; amutra-in the next life; punya-jitah-attained by piety; lokah-world; kshiyate-perishes; atha-then; ya-what; iha-here; atmanam-self; anuvidya-following; vrajanti-go; etan-them; ca-and; satya-kaman-whose desires are fulfilled; tesham-of them; sarveshu-in all; lokeshu-worlds; kama-carah-going as they wish; bhavati-is; iti-thus; na-not; sa-he; punah-again; avartate-returns; iti-thus; sa-he; ca-and; anantyaya-for limitlessness; kalpate-is qualified; iti-thus; niranjanah-untouched; paramam-supreme; samyam-equality; upaiti-attains; iti-thus.

The uttara-mimamsa philosophy is described in the following words of the scriptures. In the Chandogya Upanishad (8.1.6) it is said:

"Whatever benefits one obtains in this lifetime by good karma will ultimately perish. Whatever residence in a heavenly material world one obtains in the next life by material pious deeds will ultimately be lost. However, a person who knows the Supreme attains all his desires. He can travel to any world he likes."

In the scriptures it is also said:

"One who knows the Supreme never returns to the material world."

In the Shvetashvatara Upanishad (5.9) it is said:

"A person who understands the Supreme becomes eligible for liberation."

In the Mundaka Upanishad (3.1.3) it is said:

"A person who understands the Supreme becomes free from the material world. He becomes liberated like the Lord Himself."

Text 30

idam jnanam upashritya
mama sadharmyam agatah
sarge 'pi nopajayante
pralaye na vyathanti ca. iti.

idam-this; jnanam-knowledge; upashritya-taking shelter of; mama-My; sadharmyam-nature; agatah-attained; sarge 'pi-even in the creation; na-never; opajayante-comes in; pralaye-in the annihilation; na-nor; vyathanti-disturbed; ca-also; iti-thus.

This is also explained by the Supreme Personality of Godhead Himself in these words (Bhagavad-gita 14.2):

"By becoming fixed in this knowledge, one can attain to the transcendental nature, which is like My own nature. Thus established, one is not born at the time of creation nor disturbed at the time of dissolution."*

Text 31

tad etad ubhayam vivritam shri-ramanuja-sharirake mimamsa-purva-bhaga-jnatasya karmano 'pasthira-phalatvam tad-upari-tana-bhagavaseyasya brahma-jnanasya tv anantakshaya-phalatvam shruyate. atah purva-vrittata karma-jnanad anantaram brahma jnatavyam ity uktam bhavati. tad aha sarvadi-vritti-karo bhagavan baudhayanah vrittata karmadhigamad anantaram brahma-vividisheti iti.

tat-this; etad-that; ubhayam-both; vivritam-revealed; shri-ramanuja-sharirake-in Shri Ramanuja Acarya's commentary on Vedanta-sutra; mimamsa-purva-bhaga-purva-mimamsa; jnatasya-understood; karmanah-of karma; apasthira-phalatvam-temporary results; tad-upari-above that; tana-manifested; bhagavaseyasya-part; brahma-jnanasya-knowledge of Brahman; tv-indeed; ananta-limitless; akshaya-eternal; phalatvam-with results; shruyate-is heard in the Sruti-sastra; atah-then; purva-vrittata-from the former; karma-jnanat-knowledge of karma; anantaram-after; brahma-Brahman; jnatavyam-to be understood; iti-thus; uktam-said; bhavati-is; tat-that; aha-said; sarvadi-vritti-karah-the original cause of everything; bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; baudhayanah-Badarayana; vrittata-from the thing; karma-karma; adhigamat-understanding; anantaram-after; brahma-vividisha-the desire to understand the Supreme; iti-thus; iti-thus.

These two (purva-mimamsa and uttara-mimamsa) are also described in these words of Shrila Ramanuja Acarya's Vedanta-sutra commentary:

"The fruitive activities prescribed by purva-mimamsa bring results that are paltry and temporary. However, the knowledge of the Supreme that is attained by following the uttara-mimamsa brings results that are limitless and eternal. Therefore, after one has mastered the purva-mimamsa, one should strive to understand the Supreme, who is described in the uttara-mimamsa. Therefore in the first sutra of Vedanta, Lord Vyasadeva, who is Himself the original cause of all causes, explains: 'After understanding the fruitive activities of purva-mimamsa, one should strive to understand the Supreme'."

Text 32

etad eva puranjanopakhyane ca dakshina-vama-karnayoh pitri-hu-veda-hu-shabda-nirukto vyaktam asti. tad evam samyak karma-kanda-jnanantaram brahma-kanda-gateshu kesucid vakyeshu svargady-anandasya vastu-vicarena duhkha-rupatva-vyabhicari-sattaka-jnana-purvakam brahmanas tv avyabhicari-paratam anandatvena satyatva-jnanam eva brahma-jijnasayam hetur iti.

etad-this; eva-indeed; puranjanopakhyane-in the story of King Puranjana; ca-and; dakshina-vama-left and right; karnayoh-in the ears; pitri-hu-veda-hu-shabda-niruktah-saying pitr-hu veda-hu; vyaktam-manifested; asti-is; tat-that; evam-thus; samyak-properly; karma-kanda-jnanantaram-after knowledge of karma-kanda; brahma-kanda-gateshu-in the portion about the Supreme; kesucit-in some; vakyeshu-words; svargady-anandasya-the bliss of Svargaloka and other places; vastu-vicarena-in considering the things; duhkha-of suffering; rupatva-the form; vyabhicari-sattaka-inferior nature; jnana-knowledge; purvakam-before; brahmanah-of the Supreme; tv-indeed; avyabhicari-paratam-superiority; anandatvena-with bliss; satyatva-jnanam-knowledge of the truth; eva-indeed; brahma-jijnasayam-in the desire to understand the Supreme; hetuh-the cause; iti-thus.

This is also explained in the description of the two ears, Pitrihu and Devahu in the story of King Puranjana (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 4.25.50-51). This means that after understanding that the pleasures of Svargaloka and other places in the material world are all inferior and temporary and lead only to sufferings in the end, a person will yearn to understand the Supreme, for by understanding the Supreme one attains eternal bliss. That is why one will yearn to understand the Supreme, as described in the words "brahma-jijnasa" at the beginning of Vedanta-sutra.

Text 33

athata ity asyathe labdhe tan-nirgalitartham evaha satyam iti. sarva-sattadav avyabhicari-sattakam ity arthah. param ity anenanvayat satyam jnanam anantam brahma ity atra shrutau ca brahmety anena.

atha-atha; atah-atah; iti-thus; asya-of this; arthe-in the meaning; labdhe-obtained; tan-nirgalita-manifested; artham-meaning; eva-indeed; aha-said; satyam-satyam; iti-this; sarva-sattadav-beginning with all existence; avyabhicari-sattakam-eterbal existence; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; param-param; iti-thus; anena-by this; anvayat-the meaning; satyam-satyam; jnanam-knowledge; anantam-limitless; brahma-Brahman; iti-thus; atra-here; shrutau-in thew Sruti-sastra; ca-and; brahma-Brahman; iti-thus; anena-by this.

The words "athatah" in the beginning of Vedanta-sutra are explained by the word "satyam" in the beginning of Shrimad-Bhagavatam. the words "satyam param" there mean "He who exists eternally". That the Supreme exists eternally is confirmed by these words of Taittiriya Upanishad (2.1.2):

"The Supreme is eternal, limitless, and full of knowledge."

Text 34

tad evam anyasya tad-icchadhina-sattakatvena vyabhicari-sattakatvam ayati. tad evam atra tad etad avadhi vyabhicari-sattakam eva dhyatavanto vayam idanim tv avyabhicari-sattakam dhyayemeti bhavah.

tat-that; evam-thus; anyasya-of another; tad-iccha-His desire; adhina-subordinate; sattakatvena-existence; vyabhicari-inferior; -sattakatvam-existence; ayati-attains; tat-that; evam-thus; atra-here; tat-that; etat-this; avadhi-until; vyabhicari-inferior; sattakam-existence; eva-indeed; dhyatavantah-meditating; vayam-we; idanim-now; tv-indeed; avyabhicari-sattakam-superior existence; dhyayema-we meditate; iti-thus; bhavah-the meaning.

The entire creation is inferior to the Supreme Lord and subject to His will. The word "dhimahi" here means "fully aware of the inferior creation, we meditate on the Supreme, who is above all".

Text 35

atha paratvam eva vyanakti dhamneti. atra dhama-shabdena prabhava ucyate prakasho va. griha-deha-tviö-prabhava dhamani ity-amaradi-nanartha-vargat. na tu svarupam.

atha-now; paratvam-superiority; eva-indeed; vyanakti-manifests; dhamna-dhmana; iti-thus; atra-here; dhama-shabdena-by thew word dhamna; prabhava-glory; ucyate-is said; prakashah-splendor; va-or; griha-home; deha-body; tvit-splendor; prabhava-glory; dhamani-dhama; iti-thus; amara-Amara-kosa; adi-beginning with; nana-various; artha-meanings; vargat-from the multitude; na-not; tu-but; svarupam-own form.

The Superior position of the Supreme Personality of Godhead is described here (in Shrimad-Bhagavatam

1.1.1) by the word "dhamna". The word "dhama" may mean either "power" or glory". In the Amara-kosha the following definitions of dhama are given:

"The word `dhama' may mean `home', `body', `glory', or `power'."

These definitions are also confirmed by other dictionaries as well. We may note that the word "dhama" is not defined to mean "own nature".

Text 36

tatha kuhaka-shabdenatra pratarana-krid ucyate. tac ca jiva-svarupavarana-vikshepa-karitvadina maya-vaibhavam eva. tatash ca svena dhamna sva-prabhava-rupaya sva-prakasha-rupaya va shaktya sada nityam eva nirastam kuhakam maya-vaibhavam yasmat tam.

tatha-so; kuhaka-shabdena-by thw word "kuhaka"; atra-here; pratarana-krit-bewildering; ucyate-is said; tac-that; ca-and; jiva-of the individual spirit souls; svarupa-the original form; avarana-covering; vikshepa-karitva-throwing; adina-beginning with; maya-vaibhavam-the power of maya; eva-thus; tatah-then; ca-and; svena-own; dhamna-with glory; sva-prabhava-rupaya-own power; sva-prakasha-rupaya-own glory; va-or; shaktya-with the power; sada-always; nityam-always; eva-indeed; nirastam-sent away; kuhakam-illusion; maya-vaibhavam-the power of maya; yasmat-from whom; tam-Him.

In the first verse of Shrimad-Bhagavatam the word "kuhakam" means "that which bewilders". This word refers to the maya potency, which covers the real forms of the individual spirit souls and throws them into the material world. Then "dhamna svena" means "with the potency of His own glory" or "with His own power", "sada" means "always", and "nirasta-kuhakam" means "the power of maya is dispelled".

Text 37

tad uktam mayam vyudyasya cic-chaktya iti.

tad uktam mayam vyudyasya cic-chaktya iti.

That the Supreme Personality of Godhead dispels the power of maya is confirmed by this prayer addressed to the Lord (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.7.23):

"O Lord, You have cast away the effects of the material energy by dint of Your spiritual potency."*

Text 38

tasya api shakter agantukatvena svenety asya vaiyarthyam syat.svarupenety evam vyakhyane tu svenety anenaiva caritarthata syat. yatha kathancit tatha vyakhyane 'pi kuhaka-nirasana-lakshana shaktir evapadyate. sa ca sadhakatama-rupaya tritiyaya vyakteti. etena maya-tat-karya-vilakshanam yad vastu tat tasya svarupam iti svarupa-lakshanam api gamyam.

tasyah-of that; api-also; shakteh-potency; agantukatvena-unwelcome; svena-svena; iti-thus; asya-of this; vaiyarthyam-useless; syat-is; svarupena-with the original form; iti-thus; evam-thus; vyakhyane-in the explanation; tu-but; svena-svena; iti-thus; anena-by this; eva-indeed; carita-nature; arthata-meaning; syat-is;

yatha-as; kathancit-something; tatha-so; vyakhyane-in the explanation; api-also; kuhaka-illusion; nirasana-dispelling; lakshana-characterized; shaktih-potency; eva-indeed; apadyate-is attained; sa-that; ca-and; sadhakatama-rupaya-with the nature of the most qualified; tritiyaya-with the instrumental case; vyakta-is manifested; iti-thus; etena-by this; maya-tat-karya-vilakshanam-different from the activities of maya; yat-what; vastu-thing; tat-that; tasya-of Him; svarupam-the original form; iti-thus; svarupa-lakshanam-the nature of the original form; api-also; gamyam-to be attained.

It is not right to interpret the word "svena" to mean "independent of the Lord's own potency". Such an interpretation is useless. The right understanding is that the word "svena" means "with His original nature". In this way it is explained that the Lord's personal potency naturally dispels the illusory power of maya. This word is in the instrumental case. In this way it is seen that the Supreme Personality of Godhead is beyond the touch of the illusory potency maya.

Text 39

tac ca satyam jnanam anantam brahma iti. vijnanam anandam brahma iti shruti-prasiddham eva.

tat-that; ca-and; satyam-eternal; jnanam-knowledge; anantam-limitless; brahma-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; iti-thus; vijnanam-knowledge; anandam-bliss; brahma-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; iti-thus; shruti-prasiddham-proved by the Sruti-sastra; eva-also.

This is confirmed by the following words of Taittiriya Upanishad (2.1.2):

"The Supreme is eternal, limitless, and full of knowledge."

It is also confirmed by these words of Brihad-aranyaka Upanishad (3.9.28):

"The Supreme is blissful and full of knowledge."

Text 40

etac chruti-lakshakam eva ca satyam iti vinyastam. tad evam svarupa-shaktish ca sakshad evopakranta. tatah sutaram evasya bhagavattvam spashöam.

etat-this; chruti-lakshakam-characterized by the Sruti; eva-indeed; ca-and; satyam-eternal; iti-thus; vinyastam-established; tat-that; evam-thus; svarupa-personal; shaktih-potency; ca-and; sakshat-directly; eva-indeed; upakranta-approached; tatah-then; sutaram-clearly; eva-indeed; asya-of Him; bhagavattvam-the nature of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; spashöam-clear.

In this way the word "satyam" (eternal) is also used in the Upanishads to describe the Supreme. In this way the Lord's internal spiritual potency is described and it is also clearly declared that the Supreme Lord is the master of all opulences.

Text 41

atha mukhye satyatve yuktim darshayati yatreti. brahmatvat sarvatra sthite vasudeve bhagavati yasmin sthita-trayanam gunanam bhutendriya-devatatmakam yasyaiveshituh sargo 'py ayam amrisha shukty-adau rajatadikam ivaropito na bhavati. kintu yato va imani iti shruti-prasiddhe brahmani yatra sarvada sthitvat samjna-murti-klptas tu tri-vrit kurvata upadeshat iti nyayena yad eka-kartritvac ca satya eva.

atha-now; mukhye-primary; satyatve-in eternity; yuktim-the reason; darshayati-shows; yatra-where; iti-thus; brahmatvat-because of being thwe Brahman; sarvatra-everywhere; sthite-situated; vasudeve-Vasudeva; bhagavati-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; yasmin-in which; sthita-trayanam-three situations; gunanam-of the modes; bhuta-elements; indriya-senses; devata-demigods; atmakah-self; yasya-of whom; eva-indeed; ishithuh-of the supreme controller; sargah-in the creation; api-also; ayam-this; amrisha-unreal; shukty-adau-beginning with the seashell; rajatadikam-beginning with silver; iva-like; aropitah-artificial imposition; na-not; bhavati-is; kintu-however; yatah-from whom; va-indeed; imani-these; iti-thus; shruti-prasiddhe-proved by the Sruti-sastra; brahmani-in Brahman; yatra-where; sarvada-always; sthitvat-because of being situated; samjna-murti-klptas tu tri-vrit kurvata upadeshat iti nyayena-Vedanta-sutra 2.4.21; yat-what; eka-one; kartritvat-because of being the doer; ca-and; satya-eternal; eva-indeed.

The reason why the Supreme is the eternal Absolute Truth is given in the word "yatra" (in whom). Because He is the greatest, the Supreme Personality of Godhead, Lord Vasudeva is present everywhere. He is the controller of the material elements, senses, demigods, and others manifested by the three modes of material nature. The words "sargo 'mrisha" mean "the material world is not an illusion, like the illusion of thinking silver to be present in the glittering surface of a seashell." That everything is manifested from the Supreme is confirmed by the following words of Taittiriya Upanishad (3.1.1):

"From the Supreme all the material elements have come."

This is also confirmed by the following words of Vedanta-sutra (2.4.20):

"But the creation of the world of names and forms in the three modes of nature is done by the Supreme Personality of Godhead, for that is the teaching of scripture."

Thus, because He is the creator of the material worlds, the Supreme Personality of Godhead is the eternal Absolute Truth (satyam).

Text 42

tatra drishöantenapy amrishatvam sadhayati teja-adinam vinimayah parasparamsha-vyatayah parasparasminn amshenavasthitir ity arthah.

tatra-there; drishöantena-with an example; api-also; amrishatvam-reality; sadhayati-shows; teja-adinam-beginning with fire; vinimayah-actuion and reaction; parasparamsha-vyatayah-mutual parts; parasparasminn-mutual; amshena-by a part; avasthitih-situation; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning.

Then an example is given to prove that the material world is indeed real. There it is said: "tejo-vari-mridam yatha vinimayah", which means that fire and the other ingredients of the material world all rest within the real Supreme Lord. For this reason they must indeed be real.

Text 43

sa yatha mrisha na bhavati. kintu yathaiveshvara-nirmanam tathety arthah. imas tistro devatash tri-vrid ekaika bhavati. yad agne rohitam rupam tejasas tad-rupam yac chuklam tad-apam yat krishnam tat prithivyah.

tad annasya iti shruteh.

sa-that; yatha-as; mrisha-false; na-not; bhavati-is; kintu-however; yatha-as; eva-indeed; ishvara-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; nirmanam-creation; tatha-so; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; imah-these; tisrah-three; devatah-demigods; tri-vrit-three kinds; ekaika-one by one; bhavati-is; yat-what; agneh-of fire; rohitam-manifested; rupam-form; tejasah-of fire; tad-rupam-that form; yac-what; chuklam-white; tad-apam-of water; yat-what; krishnam-black; tat-that; prithivyah-of earth; tat-that; annasya-of food; iti-thus; shruteh-from the Sruti-sastra.

The material world cannot be false, for it is created by the Supreme Personality of Godhead Himself. This is confirmed by the following words of Chandogya Upanishad (6.3.4 and 6.4.1):

"Then the Supreme Personality of Godhead created the three demigods. One by one the Lord created the things of the material world. He created the red fire, the clear waters, and the dark earth."

Text 44

tad evam arthasyasya shruti-mulativat kalpana-mulas tv anyo 'rthah svata eva parantah. tatra ca samanyataya nirdishöanam teja-adinam visheshatve sankramanam na shabdikanam hridayam adhyarohati.

tat-that; evam-thus; arthasya-of the meaning; asya-this; shruti-of the scriptures; mulativat-being the root; kalpana-conception; mulah-the root; tv-indeed; anyah-another; arthah-meaning; svata-personally; eva-indeed; parastah-refuted; tatra-there; ca-and; samanyataya-with equality; nirdishöanam-explained; teja-adinam-beginning with fire; visheshatve-in difference; sankramanam-sequence; na-not; shabdikanam-of grammarians; hridayam-heart; adhyarohati-rules.

Thus, because the Vedanta-sutra declares that the Supreme is the root from whom the scriptures have grown, these descriptions of scripture cannot be rejected as the mere imagination or invention of some writer. Therefore it must be accepted that the material world was created by the Supreme Personality of Godhead. It did not spontaneously come into existence without a creator. They who are learned in Sanskrit grammar will never accept the idea that this statement of Chandogya Upanishad means that fire and the other material elements spontaneously came into existence without an original cause behind them.

Text 45

yadi ca tad evamamsyata. tada vary-adini maricikadishu yathety evavakshyata. kim ca tan-mate brahmatas tri-sargasya mukhyam janma nasti. kintv aropa eva janmety ucyate.

yadi-if; ca-and; tat-that; eva-indeed; amamsyata-is thought; tada-then; vary-adini-beginning with water; maricika-mirages; adishu-beginning with; yatha-as; iti-thus; eva-indeed; avakshyata-is seen; kim ca-furthermore; tan-mate-in that idea; brahmatah-from the Supreme; tri-sargasya-of the three worlds; mukhyam-primary; janma-birth; na-not; asti-is; kintv-however; aropa-artificial imposition; eva-indeed; janma-birth; iti-thus; ucyate-is said

If this view, that the material world is spontaneously created and has no creator, is accepted, then it is accepted that the water and other elements of the material world are all like a great mirage. According to this view, the material world was not created from the Supreme, for the world is only a great illusion.

Text 46

sa punar bhramad eva bhavati. bhramash ca sadrishyavalambi. sadrishyam tu kala-bhedenobhayam evadhisshöhanam karoti. rajate 'pi shukti-bhrama-sambhavat.

sa-that; punah-qagain; bhramat-from illusion; eva-indeed; bhavati-is; bhramah-illusion; ca-and; sadrishya-like that; avalambi-acceptance; sadrishyam-being like that; tu-but; kala-bhedena-with divisions of time; ubhayam-both; eva-indeed; adhisshöhanam-creation; karoti-does; rajate-in silver; api-also; shukti-bhrama-sambhavat-from the illusion of a seashell.

According to this view the entire material world is an illusion and the divisions of time are also illusory. The world is thus thought to be like the silver falsely thought to exist on the glittering surface of a seashell.

Text 47

na caikatmakam bhramadhisshöhanam. bahv-atmakam tu bhrama-kalpita ity asti niyamo mitho militeshu vidura-varti-dhuma-parvata-vriksheshv akhanda-megha-bhrama-sambhavat.

na-not; ca-also; eka-one; atmakam-self; bhrama-illusion; adhisshöhanam-creation;. bahv-atmakam-many selves; tu-but; bhrama-illusion; kalpita-imagined; iti-thus; asti-is; niyamah-niysma; mithah-mutual; militeshu-meeting; vidura-far; varti-being; dhuma-smoke; parvata-mountain; vriksheshu-among trees; akhanda-unbroken; megha-clouds; bhrama-illusion; sambhavat-from the manifestation.

To think that there is one soul is an illusion and to think that there are many different souls is also an illusion. It is an idea created by the imagination. It is like a great mass of clouds on the horizon, a mass of clouds that one may falsely think to be smoke from a faraway fire or a faraway mountain, or a faraway forest.

Text 48

tad evam prakrite 'py anadita eva tri-sargah pratyaksham pratiyate. brahma ca cin-matrataya svata eva sphurad asti. tasmad anady-ajnanakrantasya jivasya yatha sad-rupata-sadrishyena brahmani tri-sarga-bhramah syat tatha tri-sarge 'pi brahma-bhramah katham na kadacit syat. tatash ca brahmana evadhisshöhanatvam ity anirnaye sarva-nasha-prasangah.

tat-that; evam-thus; prakrite-material; api-also; anadita-beginningless; eva-indeed; tri-sargah-three material worlds; pratyaksham-direct; pratiyate-is accepted; brahma-the Supreme; ca-and; cin-matrataya-as only spirit; svata-personally; eva-indeed; sphurat-manifested; asti-is; tasmad-from Him; anady-ajnana-beginningless ignorance; akrantasya-overcome; jivasya-of the individual spirit soul; yatha-as; sad-rupata-spiritual nature; sadrishyena-like; brahmani-in the Supreme; tri-sarga-bhramah-the illusion of the three worlds; syat-may be; tatha-so; tri-sarge-in the three worlds; api-also; brahma-of the Supreme; bhramah-illusion; katham-how?; na-not; kadacit-ever; syat-may be; tatha-then; ca-and; brahmana-of the Supreme; eva-indeed; adhisshöhanatvam-establishment; iti-thus; anirnaye-not concluding; sarva-all; nasha-destruction; prasangah-in relation to.

Here someone may say: "The material world (tri-sargah) has existed from time without beginning. The spiritual Supreme has also existed from time without beginning. the conditioned individual souls are bewildered about their true spiritual identity. How is it possible, then, that the Supreme is never bewildered in this way by the illusions of the material world?" This conclusion is mistaken. It is not true. If this conclusion is accepted, then all becomes lost.

Text 49

aropakatvam tu jadasyeva. cin-matrasypa na sambhavati. brahma ca cin-matram eva tan-matam iti. tatash ca shruti-mula eva vyakhyane siddhe so 'yam abhiprayah yatra hi yan nasti. kintv anyatraiva drishyate. tatraiva tad-aropah siddhah.

aropakatvam-artificial imposition; tu-not; jadasya-of matter; iva-like; cin-matrasya-only spirit; api-also; na-not; sambhavati-is possible; brahma-the Supreme; ca-and; cin-matram-only spirit; eva-indeed; tan-matam-that idea; iti-thus; tatah-then; ca-and; shruti-mula-the root of the scriptures; eva-indeed; vyakhyane-in the explanation; siddhe-proved; so 'yam-that; abhiprayah-the meaning; yatra-where; hi-indeed; yan-what; na-not; asti-is; kintv-however; anyatra-in another place; eva-indeed; drishyate-is seen; tatra-there; eva-indeed; tad-aropah-artificial imposition; siddhah-proved.

The material world is not an illusion that exists only in the imagination. In the same way the spiritual world is also not an illusion that exists only in the imagination. The impersonalists affirm that the Supreme is pure spirit and nothing else. In the commentary on Vedanta-sutra's affirmation that the Supreme Lord is the root from whom the scriptures have grown, it is affirmed that material illusions only when one does not see his relationship with the Supreme.

Text 50

tatash ca vastutas tad-ayogat tatra tat-sattaya tat-satta kartum na shakya eva. tri-sargasya tu tac-chakti-visishöad bhagavato mukhya-vrittayaiva jatatvena shrutatvat tad-vyatirekena vyatirekat tatraiva sarvatmake so 'sti. tatas tasmin na caropitash ca. aropas tu tathapi dhamnety adi-rityaivacintya-shaktitvat tena liptatvabhava 'pi tac-chanka-rupa eva.

tatah-then; ca-and; vastutah-in truth; tad-ayogat-without contact with the Supreme; tatra-there; tat-sattaya-with that reality; tat-satta-that reality; kartum-to do; na-not; shakya-is able; eva-indeed; tri-sargasya-of the material world; tu-but; tac-chakti-visishöat-because of a specific potency of His; bhagavatah-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; mukhya-vrittaya-with the primary meaning; eva-indeed; jatatvena-because of being born; shrutatvat-because of being heard; tad-vyatirekena-with the difference; vyatirekat-from the difference; tatra-there; eva-indeed; sarvatmake-the self of all; sah-He; asti-is; tatah-then; tasmin-in Him; na-not; ca-also; aropitah-artificial imposition; ca-and; aropah-artificial imposition; tu-but; tathapi-still; dhamnety-by the word dhamna; adi-beginning; ritya-by the words; eva-indeed; acintya-inconceivable; shaktitvat-because of the potency; tena-by that; liptatva-being affected; abhave-in the absence; api-also; tac-chanka-rupa-the nature of that doubt; eva-indeed.

Material illusion thus has no power to touch the Supreme. That is the primary meaning of these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam's first verse. The scriptures declare that the material world is created by a specific potency of the Supreme Personality of Godhead, Without the Lord, the material world would not exist. The material world rests within the Lord. Therefore material illusion cannot touch the Supreme Lord. The word "dhamna" in this verse of Shrimad-Bhagavatam affirms that because He is the master of inconceivable spiritual potencies, the Lord cannot be touched by material illusion. Even though this is certainly true, some thinkers still have doubts.

Text 51

tatha ca eka-desha-sthitasyagner jnyotnsa-vistarini yatha ity anusarena tat-sattaya tat-satta bhavati.

tatha-so; ca-and; eka-desha-sthitasyagner jnyotnsa-vistarini yatha ity anusarena-according to Shri Vishnu Purana 1.22.55; tat-sattaya-by His real existence; tat-satta-His existence; bhavati-is.

Because the Supreme Personality of Godhead is real, therefore the material world created by Him must also be real. This is confirmed by the following words of Shri Vishnu Purana (1.22.55):

"Just as the illumination of a fire, which is situated in one place, is spread all over, the energies of the Supreme Personality of Godhead, Parabrahman, are spread all over this universe."*

Text 52

tato bhagavato mukhyam satyatvam tri-sargasya na mrishatvam iti. tatha ca shrutih satyasya satyam iti tatha prana vai satyam tesham eva satyam iti prana-shabdoditanam sthula-sukshma-bhutanam vyavaharatah satyatvenadhigatanam mula-karana-bhutam parama-satyam bhagavantam darshayatiti.

tatah-of this; bhagavatah-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; mukhyam-primary; satyatvam-reality; tri-sargasya-of the material world; na-not; mrishatvam-falsity; iti-thus; tatha-so; ca-and; shrutih-the Sruti-sastra; satyasya-of the real; satyam-reality; iti-thus; tatha-so; prana-life breath; vai-indeed; satyam-real; tesham-of them; eva-indeed; satyam-real; iti-thus; prana-shabda-the word "life"; uditanam-said; sthula-gross; sukshma-subtle; bhutanam-of elements; vyavaharatah-acting; satyatvena-with reality; adhigatanam-known; mula-root; karana-cause; bhutam-manifested; parama-satyam-supreme reality; bhagavantam-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; darshayati-reveals; iti-thus.

The material world cannot be false. It must be real, for it is manifested from the Supreme Personality of Godhead, who is the supreme reality. This is confirmed by the following words of Brihad-aranyaka Upanishad (2.1.20):

"The Supreme is real, and therefore the individual souls and material worlds created by Him are also real."

In this passage the word "prana" means "the gross and subtle material elements. In this way it is seen that because the Supreme Personality of Godhead is real, the material elements, which are created by Him, must also be real.

Text 53

atah tam eva taöastha-lakshanena ca tatha vyanjayan prathamam vishadarthataya brahma-sutranam eva vivritir iyam samhiteti vibodhayishaya ca tad anantaram sutram eva prathamam anuvadati janmady asya yatah iti.

atah-then; tam-that; eva-indeed; taöastha-lakshanena-characterized as marginal; ca-and; tatha-so; vyanjayan-manifesting; prathamam-first; vishadarthataya-with the pure meaning; brahma-sutranam-of the Vedanta-sutras; eva-indeed; vivritih-manifestation; iyam-this; samhita-gathered; iti-thus; vibodhayishaya-with the intention to explain; ca-and; tat-that; anantaram-after; sutram-sutra; eva-indeed; prathamam-first; anuvadati-explains; janmady asya yatah iti-the first words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam.

Shrimad-Bhagavatam is the natural commentary on Vedanta-sutra. Therefore the first statement of Vedanta-sutra (janmady asya yatah) is explained by the first verse of Shrimad-Bhagavatam.

Text 54

janmaditi shrishöi-sthiti-pralayam. tad-guna-samvijnano bahu-vrihih. asya vishvasya brahma-stamba-paryantaneka-kartri-bhoktri-samyuktasya pratiniyata-desha-kala-nimitta-kriya-phalashrayasya manasapy acintya-vividha-vicitraracana-rupasya. yato yasmad acintya-shaktya svayam upadana-rupat kartri-adi-rupac ca janmadi tam param dhimahi anvyah.

janmadi-janmadi; iti-thus; shrishöi-sthiti-pralayam-creation, maintenance, and annihilation; tad-guna-the modes; samvijnanah-knowl3edge; bahu-vrihih-a bahu-vrihi-samasa; asya-of this; vishvasya-universe; brahma-stamba-paryantaneka-of the many material universes; kartri-creator; bhoktri-enjoyer; samyuktasya-with; pratiniyata-every; desha-place; kala-time; nimitta-cause; kriya-action; phala-of results; ashrayasya-of the resting place; manasa-with the mind; api-also; acintya-unconceivable; vividha-various; vicitra-wonderful; racana-creations; rupasya-having the form; yatah-from whom; yasmad-from whom; acintya-shaktya-byHis inconceivable potency; svayam-personally; upadana-rupat-in the form of the ingredient; kartri-adi-rupac-in the form of the creator; ca-also; janmadi-beginning with birth; tam-that; param-Supreme; dhimahi-we meditate; iti-thus; anvyah-the meaning.

Here (in Vedanta-sutra 1.1.2 and Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.1.1) the word "janmadi" is a tad-guna-samvijnana bahu-vrihi-samasa that means "creation, maintenance, and annihilation". Here "asya" means "of the material universe, which is filled with a great variety of living entities, from the demigod Brahma down to the immovable plants, who all perform various actions and attain various perceptions and experiences, and a great variety of times, places, actions, causes, and results, a variety that is far beyond the power of the human mind to comprehend". Here "yatah" means "from whom the creation, maintenance, and annihilation of the material world is manifested". This means that the Supreme Personality of Godhead is both the creator and the ingredient of the material world. Then it is said, "I meditate on that Supreme Lord (param dhimahi).

Text 55

atra vishaya-vakyam ca bhrigur vai varunir varunam pitaram upasasara. adhihi bho bhagavo brahma ity arabhya yato va imani bhutani jayante. yena jatani jivanti. yat prayanty abhisamvishanti tad vijijnasasva tad brahma iti. tat tejo 'shrijata ity adi ca.

atra-here; vishaya-the range of perception; vakyam-statement; ca-and; bhriguh-Bhrgu; vai-indeed; varunih-the son of Varuna; varunam-to Varuna; pitaram-his father; upasasara-approached; adhihi-please teach; bhah-O; bhagavah-lord; brahma-the Supreme; iti-thus; arabhya-beginning; yatah-from whom; vai-indeed; imani-these; bhutani-beings; jayante-are born; yena-by whom; jatani-born; jivanti-live; yat-what; prayanti-go; abhisamvishanti-enter; tat-that; vijijnasasva-you should try to know; tat-that; brahma-the Supreme; iti-indeed; tat-that; tejah-power; ashrijata-created; iti-thus; adi-beginning; ca-also.

That the Supreme Personality of Godhead is the creator of the material world is described in these words of Taittiriya Upanishad (3.1.1):

"Bhrigu Muni approached his father, Varuna, and asked, 'O master, please teach me about the Supreme'. . . Varuna replied, 'From the Supreme all living beings have come, by His grace they remain alive, and into Him they enter at the end'. Know that is the Supreme."

This is also confirmed by the following words of Chandogya Upanishad (6.2.3):

"The Supreme created the elements of the material world."

Text 56

janmadikam ihopalakshanam. na tu visheshanam. tatas tad-dhyane tan na pravishati. kintu shuddham eva tad-dhyeyam iti. kim ca atra prag-ukta-visheshana-vishishöa-vishva-janmadesh tadrisha-hetutvena sarva-shaktitvam satya-sankalpatvam sarvajnatvam sarveshvaratvam ca tasya sucitam. yah sarvajnah sarva-vid yasya jnanamayam tapah. sarvasya vashi iti shruteh.

janmadikam-beginning weityh birth; iha-here; upalakshanam-understood; na-not; tu-but; visheshanam-adjective; tatas-then; tad-dhyane-meditation on Him; tan-that; na-not; pravishati-enters; kintu-however; shuddham-pure; eva-indeed; tad-dhyeyam-to be meditated on; iti-thus; kim ca-furthermore; atra-here; prak-previously; ukta-said; visheshana-adjective; visishöa-sepcific; vishva-universe; janma-birth; adeh-beginning; tadrisha-like that; hetutvena-because of being the origin; sarva-shaktitvam-the nature of having all potencies; satya-sankalpatvam-the nature of having all desires fulfilled; sarvajnatvam-the nature of knowing everything; sarveshvaratvam-the nature of being the master of all; ca-and; tasya-of Him; sucitam-indicated; yah-who; sarvajnah-all-knowing; sarva-vit-all-knowing; yasya-of whom; jnanamayam-consisting of knowledge; tapah-austerity; sarvasya-of all; vashi-controlling; iti-thus; adi-beginning; shruteh-from the Sruti.

The word "janmadi" here does not modify the Supreme. Here the supreme is not the person who meditates. Rather He is the supremely pure object of meditation. Furthermore, the Supreme is the creator of the material world, which was described here by the word "janmadi". Because He is the creator of the material world, the Supreme is all-powerful, all-knowing, the controller of all, and the person whose every desire is at once fulfilled. This is confirmed by the following words of Mundaka Upanishad (1.1.9):

"The Supreme is all-knowing and all-powerful."

This is also confirmed by these words of Brihad-aranyaka Upanishad (4.4.22):

"The Supreme dominates and controls everyone."

Text 57

tatha paratvena nirastakhila-heya-pratyanika-svarupatvam jnanady-ananta-kalyana-gunatvam sucitam na tasya karyam karanam ca vidyate iti shruteh.

tatha-so; paratvena-as the Supreme; nirasta-rejected; akhila-all; heya-unworthy; pratyanika-enemies; svarupatvam-nature; jnanadi-beginning with knowledge; ananta-limitless; kalyana-auspicious; gunatvam-virtues; sucitam-indicated; na-not; tasya-of Him; karyam-to be done; karanam-cause; ca-and; vidyate-is; iti-thus; adi-beginning; shruteh-from the Sruti-sastra.

Because He is the greatest, the Supreme has all virtues and no faults. he is described in these words of Shvetashvatara Upanishad (6.8):

"He does not possess bodily form like that of an ordinary living entity. There is no difference between His body and His soul. He is absolute. All His senses are transcendental. Any one of His senses can perform the action of any other sense. Therefore, no one is greater than Him, or equal to Him. His potencies are multifarious, and thus His deeds are automatically performed as a natural sequence."*

Text 58

ye tu nirvishesham vastu jijnasyam iti vadanti. tan-mate brahma-jijnasayam janmady asya yatah ity asangatam syat. niratishaya-brihad-brimhanam ca iti nirvacanat. tac ca brahma jagaj-janmadi-karanam iti vacanac ca. evam uttareshv api sutreshu sutrodahrita-shruti-gane cekshanady-anvaya-darshanat sutrani sutrodahrita-shrutayash ca na tatra pramanam.

ye-who; tu-indeed; nirvishesham-qualityless; vastu-thing; jijnasyam-to be inquired about; iti-thus; vadanti-say; tan-mate-in that opinion; brahma-jijnasayam-in the inquiry into the Supreme; janmady asya yatah iti-the words janmady asya yatah; asangatam-not attained; syat-is; niratishaya-not great; brihad-great; brimhanam-greatness; ca-and; iti-thus; nirvacanat-from the statement; tat-that; ca-also; brahma-the Supreme; jagaj-janmadi-beginning with the birth of the universe; karanam-the origin; iti-thus; vacanac-from the statement; ca-also; evam-thus; uttareshv-in the uttara-mimamsa; api-and; sutreshu-in the sutras; sutra-sutras; udahrita-said; shruti-gane-in the Sruti-sastras; ca-also; ikshana-sight; adi-beginning; anvaya-meaning; darshanat-by the view; sutrani-the sutras; sutra-by the sutras; udahrita-said; shrutayah-the Srtuti-sastras; ca-and; na-not; tatra-there; pramanam-evidence.

The impersonalists claim that the words "brahma-jijnasa" at the beginning of Vedanta-sutra refer to the qualityless impersonal Brahman. By explaining that these words of Vedanta-sutra describe someone who is the creator, maintainer, and destroyer of the material worlds (janmady asya yatah) Shrimad-Bhagavatam here refutes the impersonalists' idea. The impersonalists' idea is also refuted by these words of the scriptures:

"The Supreme is the greatest. No one is as great as He."

"The Supreme is the original cause of the material world."

The truth is that the words of Vedanta-sutra, the scripture verses quoted in Vedanta-sutra, and the Vedic scriptures themselves do not support the impersonalists' idea.

Text 59

tarkash ca sadhya-dharmavyabhicari-sadhana-dharmanvita-vastu-vishayatvan na nirvishesha-vastuni pramanam. jagaj-janmadi-bhramo yatas tad brahmeti svotpreksha-pakshe ca na nirvishesha-vastu-siddhih.

tarkah-logic; ca-and; sadhya-to be attained; dharma-nature; avyabhicari-constant; sadhana-spiritual practice; dharma-nature; anvita-with; vastu-thing; vishayatvat-because of the sphere of perception; na-not; nirvishesha-vastuni-impersonal and qualityless; pramanam-evidence; jagat-of the material world; janma-birth; adi-beginning with; bhramah-illusion; yatah-from whom; tat-that; brahma-the Supreme; iti-thus; svotpreksha-pakshe-imagining one thing to have the qualities of another; ca-also; na-not; nirvishesha-vastu-the impersonal Brahman; siddhih-proof.

Logic also refutes the impersonalists' idea. Because the Supreme must be the origin of all goals that are to be attained as well as all methods that may be adopted to attain these goals, the Supreme cannot be impersonal or qualityless. It is not appropriate to say that the material world is an illusion that is manifested from the Supreme. These words make no sense. In this way it is proved that the Supreme cannot be impersonal or qualityless.

Text 60

brahma-mulam ajnanam ajnana-sakshi brahmety upagamat. sakshitvam hi prakashaika-rasatayocyate. prakashatvam tu jadat vyavartakam svasya parasya ca vyavahara-yogyata-padan-asvabhavena bhavati. tatha sati sa-visheshatvam. tad-abhave prakashataiva na syat. tucchataiva syat.

brahma-of the Supreme; mulam-the root; ajnanam-ignorance; ajnana-of ignorance; sakshi-the witness; brahma-the Supreme; iti-thus; upagamat-from the knowledge; sakshitvam-the status of a witness; hi-indeed; prakasha-manifestation; eka-one; rasataya-with the state of existence; ucyate-is said; prakashatvam-manifestation; tu-indeed; jadat-from matter; vyavartakam-exclusion; svasya-own; parasya-of another; ca-and; vyavahara-action; yogyata-appropriateness; padan-states; asvabhavena-by what is not the nature; bhavati-is; tatha-so; sati-being so; sa-visheshatvam-with qualities; tad-abhave-in the absence of that; prakasata-manifestation; eva-indeed; na-not; syat-may be; tucchata-insignificance; eva-indeed; syat-is.

The impersonalists' idea is that the world is an illusion that has its roots in a mistaken idea, and the Supreme is the neutral, aloof witness of this material illusion. However, this very idea affirms that the Supreme is not material, and the Supreme and others perform actions. These are the symptoms of a person. They are not the symptoms of an impersonal, qualityless something. In this way it is seen that the impersonalists' idea is very foolish and insignificant. It is not worth considering.

Text 61

kim ca tejo-vari-mridam ity anenaiva tesham vivakshitam setsyati janmady asya yatah ity aprayojakam syat. atas tat-tad-visheshavattve labdhe sa ca visheshah shakti-rupa eva.

kim ca-furthermore; tejo-vari-mridam-tejo-vari-mridam; iti-thus; anena-by this; eva-indeed; tesham-of them; vivakshitam-desired to be said; setsyati-is; iti-thus; janmady asya yatah iti-janmady asya yatah; aprayojakam-inappropriateness; syat-is; atah-then; tat-tad-visheshavattve-having qualities; labdhe-attained; sa-that; ca-and; visheshah-specific; shakti-rupa-the form of potencies; eva-indeed.

The impersonalists may try to claim that the words "tejo-vari-mrdam" in this verse of Shrimad-Bhagavatam# support their idea. However, the words "janmady asya yatah" refute all their claims. Because the Supreme has many potencies, therefore He has qualities and He is a person.

Text 62

shaktish cantaranga bahiranga taöastha ceti tridha darshita. tatra vikaratmakeshu jagaj-janmadishu sakshad-dhetuta bahirangaya eva syad iti sa mayakhya copakranta. taöastha ca vayam dhimahi anena atha yadyapi bhagavato 'mshat tad-upadana-bhuta-prakrity-akhya-shakti-vishishöat purushad evasya janmadi.

tathapi bhagavaty eva tad-dhetuta paryavasyati. samudraika-deshe yasya janmadi. tasya samudra eva janmaditi.

shaktih-potency; ca-alos; antaranga-internal; bahiranga-external; taöastha-marginal; ca-and; iti-thus; tridha-three kinds; darshita-shown; tatra-there; vikaratmakeshu-with transformations; jagaj-janmadishu-beginning with the creation of the material world; sakshad-dhetuta-the direct cause; bahirangaya-of the external; eva-indeed; syat-is; iti-thus; sa-that; mayakhya-called maya; ca-and; upakranta-near; taöastha-marginal; ca-and; vayam-we; dhimahi-meditate; iti-thus; anena-by this; atha-then; yadyapi-qalthough; bhagavatah-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; amshat-because of being part and parcel; tad-upadana-the ingredient; bhuta-become; prakriti-prakrti; akhya-called; shakti-potency; vishishöat-specific; purushat-from the purusha; eva-indeed; asya-of Him; janma-birth; adi-beginning; tathapi-still; bhagavati-in the Supreme Personality of Godhead; eva-indeed; tad-dhetuta-the cause of that; paryavasyati-concludes; samudra-having the mark; eka-one; deshe-in the place; yasya-of whom; janmadi-beginning with birth; tasya-of Him; samudra-having the mark; eva-indeed; janmadi-janmadi; iti-thus.

The Supreme Personality of Godhead has three potencies: 1. antaranga (internal), 2. bahiranga (external), and 3. taöastha (marginal). The external potency, which is also called maya, creates, maintains, and annihilates the material universes. The marginal potency is we living entities, who meditate (dhimahi) on the Supreme. Although the material energy is the immediate cause of the material world, because that material potency is part-and-parcel of the Supreme Lord, it is the Supreme Lord who is the ultimate cause of the creation, maintenance, and annihilation of the material universes.

Text 63

yathoktam

prakritir hy asyopadanam
adharah purushah parah
sato 'bhivyanjakah kalo brahma tat-tritayas tv aham. iti.

yatha-as; uktam-said; prakritih-matter; hi-indeed; asya-of this; upadanam-ingredient; adharah-resting place; purushah-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; parah-supreme; satah-being so; abhivyanjakah-manifesting; kalah-time; brahma-Brahman; tat-tritayah-these three; tv-indeed; aham-I; iti-thus.

This is also confirmed by the Supreme Personality of Godhead Himself in these words (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.24.19):

"The material universe may be considered real, having nature as its original ingredient and final state. Lord Maha-Vishnu is the resting place of nature, which becomes manifest by the power of time. Thus nature, the almighty Vishnu, and time are not different from Me, the Supreme Absolute Truth."

Text 64

tasya ca bhagavato janmady asya yatah ity anenapi murtatvam eva lakshyate. yato murtasyas jagato murti-shakter nidhana-rupa-tadrishananta-para-shaktinam nidhana-rupo 'sav ity akshipyate. tasya parama-karanatvangi-karat.

tasya-of Him; ca-and; bhagavatah-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; janmady asya yatah ity anena-by Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.1.1; api-also; murtatvam-having a form; eva-indeed; lakshyate-is seen; yatah-from whom; murtasyah-havign a form; jagatah-of the world; murti-shakteh-of the potency of ther form; nidhana-rupa-resting-place; tadrisha-like this; ananta-limitless; para-transcendental; shaktinam-of potencies; nidhana-rupah-in the form of the resting place; asav-this; iti-thus; akshipyate-is rejected; tasya-of Him; parama-karanatva-supreme cause; angi-karat-because of accepting.

In this way it is seen that the words "janmady asya yatah" from Vedanta-sutra and Shrimad-Bhagavatam hint that the Supreme has a form. the material universe is one of His limbs, and His many other potencies are other limbs. They all rest within Him. Thus He is the original cause of all.

Text 65

na ca tasya murtatve saty anyato janmapatet. anavasthapatter ekasyaivaditvenangi-karat sankhyanam avyaktasyeva sa karanam karanadhipadhipo na casya kashcij janito na cadhipah iti shruti-nishedhat. anadi-siddhaprakrita-svabhavika-murtitvena tasya tat-prasiddhesh ca. tad evam murtatve siddhe sa ca murto vishnu-narayanadi-sakshad-rupakah shri-bhagavan eva nanyah.

na-not; ca-and; tasya-of Him; murtatve-the state of having a form; sati-being so; anyatah-otherwise; janma-birth; apatet-attains; anavastha-another situation; apatteh-of the attainment; ekasya-of one; eva-indeed; aditvena-beginning; angi-karat-because of accepting; sankhyanam-of the sankhya philosophers; avyaktasya-of the unmanifested; iva-like; sa-He; karanam-the cause; karana-of the cause; adhipa-of the ruler; adhipah-the ruler; na-not; ca-and; asya-of Him; kashcit-something; janitah-born; na-not; ca-and; adhipah-the ruler; iti-thus; shruti-the Sruti-sastra; nishedhat-because of contradicting; anadi-without beginning; siddha-perfect; aprakrita-not material; svabhavika-own; murtitvena-with the form; tasya-of Him; tat-prasiddheh-because of the proof of that; ca-and; tat-that; evam-thus; murtatve-havign a form; siddhe-proved; sa-He; ca-and; murtah-form; vishnu-Vishnu; narayana-Narayana; adi-beginning; sakshat-direct; rupakah-form; shri-bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; eva-indeed; na-not; anyah-anyone else.

Even though He has a from, the Supreme never takes birth. There must be an original cause of all. The idea that there is an endless series of causes and no original cause cannot be accepted. The Sankhya philosophers claim that the unmanifested material nature is the original cause, but this view cannot be accepted, for the scriptures contradict it. It is contradicted by these words of Shvetashvatara Upanishad (6.9):

"The Supreme Lord is the cause of all causes. He is the master of all masters of the senses. No one is His father. No one is His king."

In this way it is proved that the form of the Lord is not material and has no beginning. The Lord has many forms, such as the form of Lord Vishnu and Lord Narayana. These are the forms of the Lord. They are not other than the Lord.

Text 66

tatha ca dana-dharme

yatah sarvani bhutani bhavanty adi-yugagame yasmimsh ca pralayam yanti punar eva yuga-kshaye

tatha-so; ca-and; dana-dharme-in the Dana-dharma; yatah-from whom; sarvani-all; bhutani-beings; bhavanti-are; adi-yugagame-in the beginning of the first yuga; yasmin-in whom; ca-and; pralayam-annihilation; yanti-go; punah-again; eva-indeed; yuga-kshaye-at the end of the yuga.

This is also described in these words of the Dana-dharma:

"In the beginning of creation all living beings are manifested from the Supreme Lord, and at the time of cosmic devastation, all living beings enter Him again."

Text 67

ity adikam tat-pratipadaka-sahasra-namadau. tatraiva tu yathoktam anirdeshya-vapuh shriman iti.

iti-thus; adikam-beginning; tat-pratipadaka-proving that; sahasra-namadau-in the beginning the thousand names; tatra-there; eva-indeed; tu-indeed; yatha-as; uktam-said; anirdeshya-vapuh-whose form cannot be described; shriman-glorious; iti-thus.

That the Lord has a form is also confirmed in the beginning of the Vishnu-sahasra-nama, where the Lord is called by the names "anirdeshya-vapuh" (He whose form is beyond description) and Shriman" (He who is glorious).

Text 68

evam ca skande

srashöa pata ca samhartā sa eko harir ishvarah srashöritvadikam anyesham daru-yosha-vad ucyate

evam-thus; ca-also; skande-in the Skanda Purana; srashöa-creator; pata-protector; ca-and; samhartā-destroyer; sa-He; ekah-one; harih-Lord Hari; ishvarah-the supreme controller; srashöritvadikam-beginning with being the fcreator; anyesham-of others; daru-yosha-vat-like w ooden statue of a woman; ucyate-is said.

That the Supreme Lord is the creator and controller of the material world is confirmed by these words of Skanda Purana:

"Lord Hari is the only supreme controller. He is only the creator, maintainer, and destroyer of the worlds. Anyone else who may seem to be a creator, maintainer, or destroyer is only a wooden puppet in His hands.

Text 69

eka-desha-kriyavattvan
na tu sarvatmaneritam shrishöy-adikam samastam tu vishnor eva param bhavet. iti.

eka-one; desha-place; kriyavattvat-action; na-not; tu-but; sarva-all; atmana-by the Self; iritam-said; shrishöy-adikam-beginning with creation; samastam-everything; tu-but; vishnoh-of Lord Vishnu; eva-indeed; param-supreme; bhavet-is; iti-thus.

"Lord Vishnu does not stay only in one place or perform only one action. He can be everywhere and do everything. He is the creator, maintainer and destroyer of the worlds. He is the Supreme."

Text 70

mahopanishadi ca sa brahmana shrijati sa rudrena vilapayati ity adikam.

mahopanishadi-in the Maha Upanisad; ca-and; sa-He; brahmana-by Brahma; shrijati-creates; sa-and; rudrena-by Siva; vilapayati-destroys; iti-thus; adikam-beginning.

In the Maha Upanishad it is said:

"The Supreme Personality of Godhead employs Brahma to create the world and Shiva to destroy it."

Text 71

ata eva vivritam

nimitta-matram ishasya vishva-sarga-nirodhayoh hiranyagarbhah sarvash ca kalasyarupinas tava. iti.

ata eva-therefore; vivritam-revealed; nimitta-matram-only the intermediate cause; ishasya-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; vishva-of the universe; sarga-of creation; nirodhayoh-and destruction; hiranyagarbhah-Hiranyagarbha; sarvah-Indra; ca-and; kalasya-of time; arupinah-fgormless; tava-of You; iti-thus.

This is also confirmed by these words addressed to the Supreme Lord (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.71.8):

"Actually, You are creating and destroying the entire cosmic manifestation. Lord Brahma and Lord Siva are only the superficially visible causes. Creation and destruction are actually being performed by the invisible time factor, which is Your impersonal representation."*

Text 72

tava yo rupa-rahitah kalah kala-shaktis tasya nimitta-matram iti vyadhikarana eva shashöhi.

tava-of You; yah-who; rupa-rahitah-without a form; kalah-time; kala-shaktih-the potency of time; tasya-of that; nimitta-matram-the intermediate cause; iti-thus; vyadhikarana-explanation; eva-indeed; shashöhi-the genetive cause.

Here the words "tava kalasyarupino nimittam" mean "Your time-potency, which is formless, is the intermediate cause". Here time is in the genetive case.

Text 73

tatha adyo 'vatarah purushah parasya ity adi.

tatha-so; adyo 'vatarah purushah parasya ity adi-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 2.6.42.

That the Supreme Personality of Godhead is the original cause of time and the material world is also confirmed by these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (2.6.42):

"Karanarnavashayi Vishnu is the first incarnation of the Supreme Lord, and He is the master of eternal time, space, cause and effects, mind, the elements, the material ego, the modes of nature, the senses, the universal form of the Lord. Garbhodakashayi Vishnu, and the sum total of all living beings, both moving and non-moving."*

Text 74

yad-amshato 'sya sthiti-janma-nashah ity adi ca.

yad-amshato 'sya sthiti-janma-nashah ity adi-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 6.3.12; ca-also.

This is also confirmed by these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (6.3.12):

"Above me and above all other demigods, including Indra and Candra, is the one supreme master and controller. The partial manifestations of His personality are Brahma, Vishnu, and Shiva, who are in charge of the creation, maintenance, and annihilation of this universe. He is like the two threads that form the length and breadth of a woven cloth. The entire world is controlled by Him just as a bull is controlled by a rope in his nose."*

Text 75

tad evam atrapi tatha-vidha-murtir bhagavan evopakrantah. tad evam taöastha-lakshanena param nirdharya tad eva lakshanam brahma-sutre shastra-yonitvat. tat tu samanvayat ity etat sutra-dvayena sthapitam asti.

tat-that; evam-thus; atra-here; api--also; tatha-vidha-murtih-form like that; bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; eva-indeed; upakrantah-begun; tat-that; evam-thus; taöastha-lakshanena-characterized by the marginal potency; param-supreme; nirdharya-determining; tat-that; eva-indeed; lakshanam-nature; brahma-sutre-in Vedanta-sutra; shastra-yonitvat-Vedanta-sutra 1.1.3; tat tu samanvayat iti-Vedanta-sutra 1.1.4; etat-that; sutra-dvayena-with two sutras; sthapitam-proved; asti-is.

In this way the form of the Supreme Personality of Godhead is described. The way the individual spirit souls, or marginal potency, can understand the truth about the Supreme Lord is described in two statements of Vedanta-sutra (1.1.3-4):

"The Supreme Lord is the author of all revealed scriptures, and all revealed scriptures are for knowing the Supreme Lord."*

"That the Supreme Lord is the author of all revealed scriptures is confirmed by the words of the scriptures."

Text 76

tatra purva-sutrasyarthah kuto brahmano jagaj-janmadi-hetutvam. tatraha shastram yonir jnana-karanam yasya tattvat.

tatra-there; purva-sutrasya-of the previous sutra; arthah-the meaning; kutah-where?; brahmanah-of the Supreme; jagaj-janmadi-beginning with the creation of the material universe; hetutvam-the state of being the cause; tatra-there; aha-said; shastram-scripture; yonih-the cause of birth; jnana-of knowledge; karanam-the cause; yasya-of which; tattvat-from the truth.

The first of these sutras is explained in this way: Why is it said that the Supreme is the original cause of the material universe's creation, maintenance, and annihilation? This question is answered by the words "shastra-yonitvat", which mean "because the scriptures are the way to know the truth".

Text 77

yato va imani bhutani ity adi shastra-pramanakatvad iti.

yato va imani bhutani ity adi-Taittiriya Upanishad 3.1.1; shastra-pramanakatvat-because of being the evidence from a scripture; iti-thus.

Scriptural evidence for the truth that the Supreme Lord is the origin of material creation is found in these words of Taittiriya Upanishad (3.1.1):

"The Supreme Absolute Truth is that from which everything is born."*

Text 78

na tra darshanantara-vat tarka-pramanakatvam. tarkapratishtohanat. atyantatindriyatvena pratyakshadi-pramanavishayatvad brahmanash ceti bhavah.

na-not; atra-here; darshanantara-vat-like in another philosophy; tarka-pramanakatvam-the evidence of logic; tarkapratishtohanat-Vedanta-sutra 2.1.11; atyanta-greatly; ati-beyond; indriyatvena-the material senses; pratyaksha-direct perception; adi-beginning; pramana-evidence; vishayatvat-because of being in the range of perception; brahmanah-of the Supreme; cah-also; iti-thus; bhavah-the meaning.

Unlike other philosophies, the philosophy of Vedanta does not accept logic as the best kind of evidence. In Vedanta-sutra (2.1.11) it is said:

"Transcendental topics cannot be understood by argument or logic."*

The Supreme is beyond the perception of the material senses. Therefore material direct perception and other kinds of material sources of knowledge are not helpful to understand Him. that is the meaning here.

Text 79

vainashikas tv avirodhadhyaye tarkenaiva nirakarishyante. atra tarkapratishöhanam caivam ishvarah karta na bhavati. prayojana-shunyatvan muktatma-vat.

vainashikah-the Buddhists; tv-indeed; avirodhadhyaye-in a chapter that does not contradict; tarkena-by logic; eva-indeed; nirakarishyante-will be refuted; atra-here; tarkapratishöhanam-the non-acceptance of logic; ca-also; evam-thus; ishvarah-the supreme controller; karta-the creator; na-not; bhavati-is; prayojana-need; shunyatvat-because of the absence; muktatma-vat-like a liberated soul.

Still, in other places logic is used to refute the theories of the Buddhists and other atheists and heretics. However, unaided material logic cannot be used to describe the nature of the Supreme Personality of Godhead, the creator of the material world.

Text 80

nanu bhuvanadikam jiva-kartrikam karyatvat ghaöa-vat. vimati-vishayah kalo na loka-shunyah. kalatvat vartamana-kala-vad ity adi. tad evam darshananutgunyeneshvaranumanam tu darshanantara-pratikulya-parahatam iti shastraika-pramanakah para-brahma-bhütah sarveshvarah purushottamah.

nanu-is it not so?; bhuvana-the worlds; adikam-beginning; jiva-the individual spirit souls; kartrikam-the creator; karyatvat-because of being the effect; ghaöa-vat-like a pot; vimati-of fools; vishayah-in the range of perception; kalah-time; na-not; loka-shunyah-devoid of the worlds; kalatvat-because of time; vartamana-present; kala-time; vat-like; iti-thus; adi-beginning; tat-that; evam-thus; darshana-philosophy; anugunya-appropriate; ishvara-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; anumanam-logic; tu-indeed; darshana-philosophy; antara-another; pratikulya-unfavorableness; parahatam-defeated; iti-thus; shastraika-pramanakah-the scripture is the only evidence; para-brahma-bhütah-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; sarveshvarah-the controller of all; purushottamah-the Supreme Person.

Here someone may protest: "Is it not so that just as an individual soul can create a clay pot, so an individual soul can also create a material universe?"

To this protest is given the following reply: Material time does not exist outside of the material world. Outside of the material world time is manifested as an eternal present. From that spiritual perspective logic proves the truth of the Supreme Personality of Godhead and any theory that there is not Supreme Personality of Godhead is at once refuted by logic. Therefore, for the residents of the material world the only way to understand the Supreme Personality of Godhead is by accepting the revelation of scripture.

Text 81

shastram tu sakaletara-pramana-paridrishöa-samasta-vastu-vijatiya-sarvajnya-satya-sankalpatvadi-mishranavadhikatishayaparimitodara-vicitra-guna-sagaram nikhila-heya-pratyanika-svarupam pratipadayatiti na pramanantaravasita-vastu-sadharmya-prayukta-dosha-gandhah. ata eva svabhavikananta-nitya-murtrimattvam api tasya sidhyatiti.

shastram-scripture; tu-indeed; sakala-all; itara-other; pramana-evidence; paridrishöa-seen; samasta-all; vastu-things; vijatiya-different; sarvajnya-omniscience; satya-sankalpatva-having all desires at once fulfilled; adi-beginning with; mishra-mixed; anavadhika-limitless; atishaya-great; aparimita-unlimited; udara-generous; vicitra-wonderful; guna-of virtues; sagaram-ocean; nikhila-all; heya-vices; pratyanka-enemies; svarupam-form; pratipadayati-proves; iti-thus; na-not; pramana-evidenmce; antara-another; avasita-concluded; vastu-thing; sadharmya-the same nature; prayukta-engaged; dosha-of a fault; gandhah-the fragrance; ata eva-therefore; svabhavika-own; ananta-limitless; nitya-eternal; murtrimattvam-having a form; api-also; tasya-of Him; sidhyati-proves; iti-thus.

Scripture teaches that the Supreme Personality of Godhead has an ocean of wonderful good qualities. such as all-knowledge, His every wish being at once fulfilled, being free of all limits, and countless other virtues and noble qualities. he also has no faults. He has not even the slightest scent of any fault.

Text 82

athottara-sutrasyarthah brahmanah katham shastra-pramanakatvam. tatraha tat tv iti.

atha-now; uttara-sutrasya-of the latter sutra; arthah-the meaning; brahmanah-of the Supreme; katham-how?; shastra-scripture; pramanakatvam-evidence; tatra-there; aha-said; tattv iti-the words "tat tu".

Now the second sutra (Vedanta-sutra 1.1.4) will be explained. Someone may ask: "Why do you say that the studying the scriptures is the proper way to understand the Supreme?" Vedanta-sutra 1.1.4 is then spoken to answer this question.

Text 83

tu-shabdah prasaktashanka-nivrittty-arthah. tac-chastra-pramanakatvam brahmanah sambhavaty eva. kutah. samanvayat. anvaya-vyatirekabhyam upapadanam samanvayas tasmāt.

tu-shabdah-the word "tu"; prasaktashanka-nivrittty-arthah-for answering the objection; tac-chastra-of the scriptures; pramanakatvam-evidence; brahmanah-of the Supreme; sambhavati-is; eva-indeed; kutah-the reason; samanvayat-because of agreement; anvaya-vyatirekabhyam-directly and indirectly; upapadanam-reason; samanvayah-agreement; tasmāt-from that.

The sutra begins its answer with the word "tu" (but), which is a word appropriate for beginning the answer to an objection. The scriptures describe the Supreme. Someone may ask: "Why do you say that?" The answer is given in the sutra with the word "samanvayat", which means, "because all this scriptures, directly and indirectly, affirm that it is so".

Text 84

tatranvayah satyam jnanam anantam brahma iti. anando brahma iti. ekam evadvitiam brahma iti. tat

satyam sa atma iti. sad eva saumyedam agra asit iti. brahma va idam ekam evagra asit iti. atma va idam eka evagra asit purusha-vidhah iti. purusho ha vai narayanah iti. eko ha vai narayana asit iti. tad aikshata bahu syam prajayayeti iti. tasmad va etasmad atmana akashah sambhutah iti. tat tejo 'shrijata iti. yato va imani bhutani jayante iti. purusho ha vai narayano 'kamayata. atha narayanad ajo 'jayata. yatah prajah sarvani bhutani.

tatra-there; anvayah-the meaning; satyam-truth; jnanam-knowledge; anantam-limitless; brahma-the Supreme; iti-thus; anandah-bliss; brahma-the Supreme; iti-thus; ekam-one; eva-indeed; advitiyam-without a rival; brahma-the Supreme; iti-thus; tat-that; satyam-truth; sa-He; atma-the Supreme Self; iti-thus; sat-the Supreme; eva-indeed; saumya-O gentle one; idam-this; agra-before; asit-was; iti-thus; brahma-the Supreme; vai-indeed; idam-thisd; ekam-one; eva-indeed; agre-before; asit-was; iti-thus; atma-the Supreme; vai-indeed; idam-this; eka-one; eva-indeed; agre-before; asit-was; purusha-vidhah-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; iti-thus; purushah-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; ha-indeed; vai-indeed; narayanah-Narayana; iti-thus; ekah-one; ha-indeed; vai-indeed; narayana-Narayana; asit-was; iti-thus; tat-that; aikshata-glance; bahu-many; syam-I will be; prajayaya-I will father children; iti-thus; iti-thus; tasmad-from Him; va-indeed; etasmad-from Him; atmana-of the Supreme; akashah-the sky; sambhutah-born; iti-thus; tat-that; tejah-power; ashrijata-created; iti-thus; yatah-from whom; va-indeed; imani-these; bhutani-beings; jayante-are born; iti-thus; purushah-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; ha-indeed; vai-indeed; narayanah-Narayana; akamayata-desired; atha-then; narayanat-from Narayana; ajah-Brahma; ajayata-was born; yatah-from whom; prajah-the beings; sarvani-all; bhutani-beings.

Many passages may be quoted from scripture to describe the Supreme Lord and to prove that He created the material world. For example, in the Taittiriya Upanishad (2.11) it is said:

satyam jnanam anantam brahma

"The Supreme is eternal, real, limitless, and full of knowledge."

In the the Taittiriya Upanishad (3.6.1) it is said:

anando brahma

"The Supreme is full of bliss."

In the the Chandogya Upanishad (6.2.1) it is said:

ekam evadvitiyam brahma

"No one can rival the Supreme Lord."

In the the Chandogya Upanishad (6.8.7) it is said:

tat satyam sa atma

"The Supreme Lord is eternal and real."

In the the Chandogya Upanishad (6.2.1) it is said:

sad eva saumyedam agra asit

"O gentle one, before the material world was manifested, the Supreme Lord existed."

In the the Brihad-aranyaka Upanishad (1.4.10) it is said:

brahma va idam ekam evagra asit

"Before the material world was manifested, the Supreme Lord existed."

In the the Brihad-aranyaka Upanishad (6.2.1) it is said:

atma va idam eka evagra asit purusha-vidhah

"Before the material world was manifested, the Supreme Personality of Godhead existed."

In the the Narayana Upanishad (text 1) it is said:

purusho ha vai narayanah

"Lord Narayana is the Supreme Personality of Godhead."

In the the Maha-Narayana Upanishad (1.1) it is said:

eko ha vai narayana asit

"Lord Narayana is the only Supreme Personality of Godhead."

In the the Chandogya Upanishad (6.2.3) it is said:

tad aikshata bahu syam prajayaya

"The Supreme Personality of Godhead thought: Let Me become many. Let Me father many children."

In the the Taittiriya Upanishad (2.1.3) it is said:

tasmad va etasmad atmana akashah sambhutih

"From the Supreme Personality of Godhead the sky was born."

In the the Chandogya Upanishad (6.2.3) it is said:

tat tejo 'shrijata

"The Supreme Personality of Godhead created fire and the other material elements."

In the the Taittiriya Upanishad (2.1.3) it is said:

yato va imani bhutani jayante

"All created beings emanate from the Absolute Truth, the Supreme Personality of Godhead."*

In the the Maha-Narayana Upanishad it is said:

purusho ha vai narayano 'kamayata. atha narayanad ajo 'jayata. yatah prajah sarvani bhutani.

"In the beginning Lord Narayana desired to create the material world. Then from Lord Narayana the demigod Brahma was born, and from Brahma all the living entities were manifested."

Text 85

narayanah param brahma
tattvam narayanah param
ritam satyam param brahma purusham krishna-pingalam. ity adishu ca.

narayanah-Narayana; param brahma-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; tattvam-the truth; narayanah-Narayana; param-the supreme; ritam-object of worship; satyam-eternal; param brahma purusham-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; krishna-pingalam-dark; iti-thus; adishu-beginning; ca-also.

In the the Maha-Narayana Upanishad it is said:

"Narayana is the Supreme Brahman. Narayana is the supreme truth. Narayana is the supreme truth, the supreme object of worship, and the Supreme Brahman. His transcendental form is dark and splendid."

Text 86

atha vyatirekah katham asatah saj jayeta iti. ko hy evanyat kah pranyad yad esha akasha anando na syat iti. eko ha vai narayana asin na brahma na ca shankarah ity adishu.

atha-now; vyatirekah-indirect; katham-how?; asatah-from the unreal; saj-reality; jayeta-is born; iti-thus; kah-who?; hi-indeed; eva-indeed; anyat-from another; kah-who; pranyat-from life; yat-what; esha-this; akasha-sky; anandah-bliss; na-not; syat-is; iti-thus; ekah-one; ha-indeed; vai-indeed; narayana-Narayana; asin-was; na-not; brahma-Brahma; na-not; ca-and; shankarah-Shiva; iti-thus; adishu-beginning.

The Lord is indirectly described in these words of Chandogya Upanishad (6.2.2):

katham asatah saj jayeta

"How is it possible that the real world was born from something that is not real?

In the Taittiriya Upanishad (2.7.1) it is said:

ko hy evanyat kah pranyad yad esha akasha anando na syat

"Who could breathe or remain alive if the blissful Supreme Lord did not reside in his heart?"

In the the Maha-Narayana Upanishad (1.1) it is said:

eko ha vai narayana asin na brahma na ca shankarah

"In the beginning there was only Lord Narayana. there was no Brahma and no Shiva."

Text 87

anyesham ca vakyanam samanvayas tatraiva vakshyate. anandamayo 'bhyasat ity adina.

anyesham-of other; ca-and; vakyanam-statements; samanvayah-accumulation; tatra-there; eva-indeed; vakshyate-will be said; anandamayah-blissful; abhyasat-from practice; iti-thus; adina-beginning.

Many other passages from scripture may be quoted to describe the Supreme Personality of Godhead. For example, in Vedanta-sutra (1.1.12) it is said:

"The Supreme Personality of Godhead is by nature full of joy."*

Text 88

sa caivam paramananda-rupatvenaiva samanvito bhavati tad-upalabdhyai parama-purusharthatva-siddher na prayojana-shunyatvam api.

sa-He; ca-also; evam-thus; paramananda-rupatvena-with a form of transcendental bliss; eva-indeed; samanvitah-with; bhavati-is; iti-thus; tad-upalabdhyai-understanding that; eva-indeed; parama-purusha-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; arthatva-siddheh-of the perfection of meaning; na-not; prayojana-need; shunyatvam-being without; api-also.

One who thus understands that the Supreme Personality of Godhead has a form of transcendental bliss attains the supreme goal of life. Nothing remains unattained by such a person.

Text 89

tad evam sutra-dvayathe sthite tad etad vyacashöe anvayad itarataś cartheshu iti. artheshu nana-vidheshv api veda-vakyartheshu satsu anvayad anvaya-mukhena yato yasmad ekasmat asya janmadi pratyate. athetarato vyatireka-mukhena ca yasmad evasya tat pratyata ity arthah. ata eva tasya shruty-anvaya-vyatireka-darshitena parama-sukha-rupatvena parama-purusharthatvam ca dhvanitam.

tat-that; evam-thus; sutra-dvaya-of the two sutras; arthe-the meaning; sthite-situated; tat-this; etad-that; vyacashöe-said; anvayat-anvayat; itarataś-itarataś; cartheshu-carthesu; iti-thus; artheshu-in the meanings; nana-vidheshv-various kinds; api-also; veda-vakyartheshu-in the meaning of the words of the Vedas; satsu-being so; anvayat-directly; anvaya-mukhena-directly; yatah-from whom; yasmad-from whom; ekasmat-from one; asya-of Him; janmadi-beginning with birth; pratyate-is known; atha-then; itarataś-indirectly; vyatireka-mukhena-indirectly; ca-and; yasmad-from whom; eva-indeed; asya-of this; tat-this; pratyate-is known; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; ata eva-thus; tasya-of Him; shruty-anvaya-vyatireka-trhe direct and indirect meaning of the scriptures; darshitenashhown; parama-sukha-rupatvena-with the form of transcendental happiness; parama-purusharthatvam-the supreme goal of life; ca-also; dhvanitam-said.

These two sutras (Vedanta-sutra 1.1.3-4) are explained by the words "anvayad itarataś cartheshu" in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.1.1. Here "artheshu" means "the various statements of the Vedic scriptures", "anvayat" means "with the direct descriptions of He who is the cause of the creation, maintenance, and annihilation of the material world", "itarataś" means "with the indirect descriptions of Him". In this way, by understanding the direct and indirect statements of the Vedas, one easily attains the supreme goal of life.

Text 90

eko ha vai narayana asit ity adi shastra-pramanatvena prak sthapita-rupatvam ceti.

ekah-one; ha-indeed; vai-indeed; narayana-Narayana; asit-was; iti-thus; adi-beginning; shastra-pramanatvena-by the evidence of scripture; prak-before; sthapita-established; rupatvam-having the form; ca-also; iti-thus.

The Maha-Narayana Upanishad's (1.1) statement "eko ha vai narayana asit" (Before the material world was created, only Lord Narayana existed) is scriptural proof that the form of Lord Narayana existed before the material world was created.

Text 91

atha ikshater nashabdam iti vyacashöe abhijna iti.

atha-now; ikshateh-because of being seen; na-not; ashabdam-indescribable; iti-thus; vyacashöe-said; abhijna-abhijna; iti-thus.

The next sutra is (Vedanta-sutra 1.1.5) is:

ikshater nashabdam

"Because it is said that the Supreme glanced on the material nature, it is not said by the scriptures that pradhana (the unmanifested state of matter) is the cause of the material world."

This sutra is explained by the word "abhijnah" in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.1.1.

Text 92

atra sutrarthah idam amnayate chandogye sad eva saumyedam agra asid ekam evadvitiam brahma iti. tad aikshata bahu syam iti. tat tejo 'shrijata ity adi.

atra-here; sutrarthah-the meaning of the sutra; idam-this; amnayate-in the scriptures; chandogye-in the Chandogya Upanishad; sat-the Supreme; eva-indeed; saumya-O gentle one; idam-this; agre-before; asit-was; ekam-one; eva-indeed; advitiam-without a rival; brahma-the Supreme; iti-thus; tat-that; aikshata-saw; bahu-many; syam-I will be; iti-thus; tat-that; tejah-power; ashrijata-created; iti-thus; adi-beginning.

This sutra is also explained by many passages in the scriptures. In the Chandogya Upanishad (6.2.1) it is said:

sad eva saumyedam agra asid ekam evadvitiam brahma

"O gentle one, in the beginning only the Supreme existed. There was none but Him."

In the Upanishads it is also said:

tad aikshata bahu syam

"The Supreme thought" Let Me become many."

In the Upanishads it is again said:

tat tejo 'shrijata ity adi.

"The Supreme created the element fire and the other material elements."

Text 93

atra paroktam pradhanam api jagat-karanatvenayati. tac ca nety aha ikshater iti. yasmin shabda eva pramanam na bhavati. tad ashabdam anumanyam pradhanam ity arthah. na tad iha pratipadyam.

atra-here; para-Supreme; uktam-said; pradhanam-pradhana; api-also; jagat-karanatvena-as the cause of the material universe; ayati-attains; tac-that; ca-and; na-not; iti-thus; aha-said; ikshateh-iksateh; iti-thus; yasmin-in whom; shabda-sound; eva-indeed; pramanam-evidence; na-not; bhavati-is; tat-that; ashabdam-not sound; anumanyam-evidence; pradhanam-pradhana; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; na-not; tat-that; iha-here; pratipadyam-to be proved.

Here someone may protest: "Is it not said that the pradhana (unmanifested material nature) is the creator of the material world?" To this protest the words of Vedanta-sutra 1.1.5 say: "No. That is not true. The Vedic scriptures do not say that the pradhana is the ultimate cause of the material world."

Text 94

kuto 'shabdatvam tasyety ashankyaha ikshateh.

kutah-from what?; ashabdatvam-the state of not being described in scripture; tasya-of that; iti-thus; ashankyaha-fearing; ikshateh-Vedanta-sutra 1.1.5.

Fearing that someone might say "Where do the scriptures say that pradhana is not the creator of the material world?", Vedanta-sutra (1.1.5) says: "ikshateh" (Because it is said that the Supreme glanced on the material energy).

Text 95

sac-shabda-vacya-sambandhi-vyapara-visheshabhidhayina ikshater dhato shravanat. tad aikshata itikshanam acetane pradhane na sambhavet. anyatra ceksha-purtikaiva shrishöh. sa aikshata lokan nu shrija iti. sa iman lokan ashrijata ity adau.

sat-shabda-the word "sat"; vacya-to be said; sambandhi-in relation to; vyapara-action; vishesha-specific; abhidhayina-naming; ikshateh-of ikshateh; dhatoh-of the root; shravanat-from hearing; tat-that; aikshata-saw; itikshanam-seeing; ca-and; acetane-inanimate; pradhane-pradhasna; na-not; sambhavet-may be; anyatra-in another place; ceksha-purtika-the eyes; eva-indeed; shrishöh-creation; sa-He; aikshata-glanced; lokan-the worlds; nu-indeed; shrija-created; iti-thus; sa-He; iman-the; lokan-worlds; ashrijata-created; iti-thus; adau-beginning.

The word "ikshateh" here describes the activity of seeing performed by the Supreme. When the Upanishads say the creator of the world glanced (tad aikshata) on the material energy, these words cannot describe the inanimate unconscious pradhana, which does not have the power to see anything. That the creator of the material has the power to see is confirmed in these words of Aitareya Upanishad (1.1.1):

sa aikshata lokan nu shrija

"With a glance He created the material worlds."

In Aitareya Upanishad (1.1.2) it is also said:

sa iman lokan ashrijata

"By glancing He created the material world."

Text 96

ikshanam catra tad-ashesha-shrijya-vicaratmakatvat sarvajnatvam eva krodi-karoti. tad etad aha abhijna iti.

ikshanam-seeing; ca-and; atra-here; tad-ashesha-all that; shrijya-creation; vicara-consideration; atmakatvat-because of the nature; sarvajnatvam-moniscience; eva-indeed; krodi-karoti-accepts; tat-this; etad-that; aha-said; abhijna-abhijna; iti-thus.

Because He created everything with a glance, and because He thus sees everything that was created, the Supreme is all-knowing. This is described in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.1.1 by the word "abhijna".

Text 97

nanu tadaniam ekam advitiyam ity uktes tasyekshana-sadhanam na sambhavati. tatraha svarad iti.

nanu-is it not so?; tadaniam-then; ekam-one; advitiyam-without a second; iti-thus; ukteh-from the statement; tasya-of Him; ikshana-seeing; sadhanam-action; na-not; sambhavati-is possible; tatra-there; aha-said; svarad-independent; iti-thus.

Here someone may protest: "The scriptures say that the Lord is 'ekam evadvitiyam' (one without a second). This must mean that, because He is everything, the Lord cannot be so limited as to have the power to see, and because He cannot see anything, He cannot possibly be all-knowing."

By speaking the word "sva-raö" (He is independent), Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.1.1 refutes this objection.

Text 98

svarupenaiva tatha tatha rajata iti na tasya karyam karanam ca vidyate ity adau. svabhaviki jnana-bala-kriya ca ity adi shruteh.

svarupena-in His own form; eva-indeed; tatha tatha-so; rajate-is manifested; iti-thus; na-not; tasya-of Him; karyam-duty; karanam-cause; ca-and; vidyate-is; iti-thus; adau-beginning; svabhaviki-own nature; jnana-bala-kriya-knowledge, power, and action; ca-and; iti-thus; adi-beginning; shruteh-from the Sruti-sastra.

This means that the Supreme can do anything He wishes. In the Shvetashvatara Upanishad (6.8) it is said:

"He does not possess bodily form like that of an ordinary living entity. There is no difference between His body and His soul. He is absolute. All His senses are transcendental. Any one of His senses can perform the action of any other sense. Therefore, no one is greater than Him or equal to Him. His potencies are multifarious, and thus His deeds are automatically performed as a natural sequence."*

Text 99

etenekshana-van-murtimattvam api tasya svabhavikam ity ayatam. nihshvasitasyapy agre darshayishyamanatvat. tac ca yathoktam eveti ca.

etena-by this; ikshana-sight; vat-possessing; murtimattvam-having a form; api-also; tasya-of Him; svabhavikam-natural; iti-thus; ayatam-attained; nihshvasitasya-of the breath; api-also; agre-in the beginning; darshayishyamanatvat-to be seen; tac-that; ca-and; yatha-as; uktam-said; eva-indeed; iti-thus; ca-also.

In this way it is seen that the Supreme Lord has a form and that form has the power to see. The Lord also has the power to breathe, as will be shown later (text 102) in this book.

Text 100

atha shastra-yonitvat ity asyarthantaram vyacashöe tena iti.

atha-now; shastra-yonitvat iti-Vedanta-sutra 1.1.3; asya-of this; artha-meaning; antaram-another; vyacashöe-says; tene-the word "tene"; iti-thus.

Another interpretation of Vedanta-sutra 1.1.3 is given in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.1.1's word "tene" (He imparted).

Text 101

tac carthantaram yatha katham tasya jagaj-janmadi-kartritvam. katham va nanya-tantroktasya pradhanasya na canyasyeti. tatraha shastrasya veda-lakshanasya yonih karanam.

tac-that; ca-also; artha-meaning; antaram-another; yatha-as; katham-how?; tasya-of Him; jagaj-janmadi-kartritvam-the creator of the material universe; katham-how?; va-or; na-not; anya-tantroktasya-said in other scriptures; pradhanasya-of pradhana; na-not; ca-and; anyasya-of another; iti-thus; tatra-there; aha-said; shastrasya-of scripture; veda-lakshanasya-characterized by the Vedas; yonih-yoni; karanam-cause.

Now this second interpretation will be discussed. Here someone may protest: "How is it possible that the Supreme is the creator, maintainer, and destroyer of the material universes? Do the scriptures not say that the pradhana (unmanifested material energy) is the creator of the material worlds?"

To this protest the following answer is given: The Vedas affirm that the Supreme is the creator (yoni) of the material worlds.

Text 102

tad-rupatvat. evam va are 'sya mahato bhutasya nishvasitam etad yad rg-vedo yad yajur-vedah sama-vedo 'tharvangirasa itihasa-puranam vidya upanishadah shloka sutrany apy asutrani vyakhyanani iti shruteh.

tad-rupatvat-from that nature; evam-thus; va-indeed; are-Oh; asya-of Him; mahatah-the Supreme; bhutasya-manifested; nishvasitam-breathed; etat-thus; yat-which; rg-vedah-the Rg Veda; yat-which; yajur-vedah-the Yajur Veda; sama-vedah-the Sama Veda; atharvangirasa-the Stharva Veda; itihasa-puranam-the Itihasas and Puranas; vidya-knowledge; upanishadah-the Upanisads; shloka-the verses; sutrany-the sutras; api-also; asutrani-not sutras; vyakhyanani-explanations; iti-thus; shruteh-from Sruti-sastra.

That the Supreme Lord has the power to breathe is confirmed by these words of Brihad-aranyaka Upanishad (2.4.10):

"From the breath of the Supreme Being came the Rig Veda, Yajur Veda, Sama Veda, Atharva Veda, Itihasas, Puranas, Upanishads, verses, sutras, prose explanations, and Vedic commentaries."

Text 103

shastram hi sarva-pramanagocara-vivdhananta-jnana-mayam. tasya ca karanam brahmaiva shruyata iti. tad evam mukhyam shastra-jnam tadrisham sarvajnatvam vina ca sarva-shrishöy-adikam anyasya nopapadyata iti prokta-lakshanam brahmaiva jagat-karanam. na pradhanam. na ca jivantaram iti.

shastram-scripture; hi-indeed; sarva-all; pramana-evidence; agocara-not in the range of perception; vividha-various; ananta-limitless; jnana-knowledge; mayam-consisting of; tasya-of it; ca-and; karanam-the origin; brahma-the Supreme; eva-indeed; shruyata-is said in the Sruti; iti-thus; tat-that; evam-indeed; mukhyam-primary; shastra-of scripture; jnam-the knower; tadrisham-like that; sarvajnatvam-being all-knowing; vina-without; ca-and; sarva-all; shrishöi-creation; adikam-beginning with; anyasya-of another; na-not; upapadyate-is established; iti-thus; prokta-described; lakshanam-nature; brahma-the Supreme; eva-indeed; jagat-karanam-the cause of the material universe; na-not; pradhanam-pradhana; na-not; ca-and; jivantaram-another soul; iti-thus.

Scripture brings knowledge of a limitless variety of things, including many things that cannot be known in any other way. The scriptures themselves declare that the Supreme Himself is their original author. Therefore the Supreme is all-knowing. Also, if He were not all-knowing, it would not be possible for Him to create, maintain, and annihilate the material universes. In this way it is proved that the Supreme is the original creator of the material world. Neither pradhana nor any individual soul is the creator.

Text 104

tad eva vivrityaha tene brahma hrida ya adi-kavaye iti brahma vedam adi-kavaye brahmane brahmanam prati hridantahkarana-dvaraiva. na tu vag-dvara. tene avirbhavitavan.

tat-this; eva-indeed; vivritya-revealing; aha-said; tene brahma hrida ya adi-kavaye-tene brahma hrda ya adi-kavaye; iti-thus; brahma-brahma; vedam-the Vedas; adi-kavaye-adi-kavaye; brahmane-the demigod Brahma; brahmanam-Brahma; prati-to; hrida-hrda; antahkarana-the heart; dvara-by; eva-indeed; na-not; tu-but; vag-dvara-by words; tene-tene; avirbhavitavan-manifested.

That the Supreme is the original author of the Vedic scriptures is also described in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.1.1 in the words "tene brahma hrida ya adi-kavaye" (It is He only who first imparted the Vedic knowledge unto the heart of Brahmaji, the original living being). Here the word "brahma" means "the Vedic scriptures", "adi-kavaye" means "to the demigod Brahma", "hrida" means "not by words, but through the heart", and "tene" means "manifested".

Text 105

atra brihad-vacakena brahma-padena sarva-jnanamayatvam tasya jnapitam. hridety anenantyamitvam sarva-shaktimayatvam ca jnapitam. adi-kavaya ity anena tasyapi shiksha-nidanatvac chastra-yonitvam ceti.

atra-here; brihad-vacakena-by the meaning "great"; brahma-padena-by the word "brahma"; sarva-jnanamayatvam-consisting of all knowledge; tasya-of that; jnapitam-is informed; hrida-hrda; iti-thus; anena-by this; antaryamitvam-the nature of the Supersoul; sarva-shaktimayatvam-the nature of having all potencies; ca-and; jnapitam-taught; adi-kavaya-adi-kavaye; iti-thus; anena-by this; tasya-of this; api-also; shiksha-instruction; nidanatvat-because of giving; shastra-of scripture; yonitvam-the nature of being the author; ca-and; iti-thus.

The word "brahma" is derived from the word "brihat" (great). In this way it is said that the scriptures (brahma) are the "great knowledge" or the "knowledge of everything". The word "hrida" here teaches us that the Supreme Lord is the Supersoul in everyone's heart and the master of all potencies. Because He is the original teacher of all knowledge, the Supreme Lord is thus the original author of the Vedas, as Vedanta-sutra 1.1.3 (shastra-yonitvat) explains.

Text 106

shrutish catra

yo brahmanam vidadhati purvam yo vai vedamsh ca prahinoti tasmai tam ha devam atma-buddhi-prakasham mumukshur vai sharanam aham prapadye. iti.

shrutih-the Sruti; ca-and; atra-here; yah-wgo; brahmanam-Brahma; vidadhati-gave; purvam-formerly; yah-who; vai-certainly; vedamsh-the Vedas; ca-also; prahinoti-gave; tasmai-to him; tam-to Him; ha-certainly; devam-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; atma-buddhi-prakasham-the original source of all enlightenment; mumukshuh-desiring liberation; vai-certainly; sharanam aham prapadye-let me surrender; iti-thus.

This is also described in the following words of Shvetashvatara Upanishad (6.18):

"Because I desire liberation, let me surrender unto the Supreme Personality of Godhead, who first enlightened Lord Brahma in Vedic knowledge through Lord Brahma's heart. The Lord is the original source of all enlightenment and spiritual advancement."*

Text 107

mukta-jiva api tat-karanam nety aha muhyantiti. yatra brahmani vedakhye surayah sheshadayo 'pi. anena ca shayana-lila-vyanjita-nishvasitamaya-vedo brahmadi-vidhanacanash ca yah padmanabhas tad-adi-murtikah shri-bhagavan evabhihitah.

mukta-jiva-the liberated souls; api-even; tat-karanam-the original source of that; na-not; iti-thus; aha-said; muhyanti-muhyanti; iti-thus; yatra-where; brahmani-in the Brahma; vedakhye-called the Vedas; surayah-the demigods; sheshadayah-headed by Lord Shesha; api-even; anena-by that; ca-and; shayana-of sleep; lila-pastimes; vyanjita-manifested; nishvasitamaya-consisting of the breath; vedah-the Veda; brahmadi-headed by Brahma; vidhanacanah-giving; ca-and; yah-who; padmanabhah-the lotus-navel Lord; tad-adi-murtikah-with forms that begin with that; shri-bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; eva-indeed; abhihitah-named.

The liberated individual souls are certainly not the original authors of the Vedic scriptures. This is confirmed by the word "muhyanti" (even the great sages and demigods are placed into illusion) in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.1.1. This means that even the great demigods, such as Lord Shesha, are not the authors of the Vedas. The Vedas were manifested from the breathing of Lord Garbhodakashayi Vishnu, who is one of the many forms of the Supreme Personality of Godhead, as He enjoyed pastimes of sleep. At that time the Vedas were revealed to the demigod Brahma.

Text 108

vivritam caitat pracodita yena pura sarasvati ity adina.

vivritam-manifested ca-and; etat-that; pracodita yena pura sarasvati ity adina-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 2.4.22.

That the Supreme Lord taught the Vedas to the demigod Brahma is confirmed by the following words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (2.4.22):

"May the Lord, who in the beginning of the creation amplified the potent knowledge of Brahma from within his heart and inspired him with full knowledge of creation and of His own Self, and who appeared to be generated from the mouth of Brahma, be pleased with me."*

Text 109

atha tat tu samanvayat ity asyarthantaram. yatha shastra-yonitve hetush ca drishyate ity aha tat tv iti. samanvayo 'tra samyak sarvato-mukho 'nvayo vyutpattir vedartha-pariñjanam yasmat tat tu shastra-yoni-nidanatvam nishciyata iti jive samyak jñanam eva nasti. pradhanatva-cetanam eveti bhavah.

atha-now; tat tu samanvayat ity asya-of Vedanta-sutra 1.1.4; arthantaram-an alternate explanation; yatha-as; shastra-yonitve-the author of the scriptures; hetuh-the cause; ca-and; drishyate-is seen; iti-thus; aha-said; tat tv iti-the words "tat tu"; samanvayah-samanvayah; atra-here; samyak-everywhere; sarvato-mukhah-in all directions; anvayah-meaning; vyutpattih-manifestation; veda-of the Vedas; artha-the truth; pariñjanam-knowledge; yasmat-from whom; tat-that; tu-but; shastra-yoni-nidanatvam-the nature of teaching the Vedas; nishciyate-is ascertained; iti-thus; jive-to the individual soul; samyak-complete; jnanam-knowledge; eva-indeed; na-not; asti-is; pradhanatva-cetanam-consciousness; eva-indeed; iti-thus; bhavah-the meaning.

Now an alternate interpretation of Vedanta-sutra 1.1.4 (tat tu samanvayat) will be discussed. After it is seen that the Supreme is the original author of the Vedic scriptures (shastra-yonitvat), the next sutra, beginning with the words "tat tu", is spoken. In the word "samanvayat", the prefix "sam" means "all" and "anvayat" means "the truths described in the Vedas". In this way it is concluded that the Supreme must be the author of the Vedas, for only He has all-knowledge. Because the individual soul does not have all knowledge, he cannot be the Vedas' author.

Text 110

sa vetti vishvam na hi tasya vetta iti shruteh.

sa vetti vishvam na hi tasya vetta iti shruteh-Shvetashvatara Upanishad 3.19.

That the Supreme Lord has all knowledge and the individual spirit soul does not is confirmed by these words of Shvetashvatara Upanishad (3.19):

"The Supreme Lord knows everything, but no one knows Him."*

Text 111

tad etad asya tadiya-samyag-jnanam vyatireka-mukhena bodhayitum jivanam sarvesham api tadiya-samyag-jnanabhavam aha muhyantiti. surayah sheshadayo 'pi yad yatra shabda-brahmani muhyanti.

tat-this; etad-that; asya-of Him; tadiya-samyag-jnanam-all knowledge; vyatireka-mukhena-indirectly explained; bodhayitum-to explain; jivanam-of the individual souls; sarvesham-of all; api-also; tadiya-samyag-jnanabhavam-the absence of all knowledge about Him; aha-said; muhyanti-muhyanti; iti-thus; surayah-the demigods; sheshadayah-headed by Shesha; api-even; yat-what; yatra-where; shabda-brahmani-in the words of the Vedas; muhyanti-are bewildered.

In Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.1.1 the word "muhyanti" (By Him even the great sages and demigods are placed into illusion) indirectly affirms that the Supreme Lord has all knowledge and no individual soul has all knowledge like the Lord. The words "surayo muhyanti" mean "even the demigods like Lord Shesha are bewildered to understand the true meaning of the Vedas".

Text 112

tad etad vivritam svayam-bhagavata

kim vidhatte kim acashöe

kim anudya vikल्पayet

ity asya hridayam loke

nanyo mad veda kashcana. iti.

tat-this; etat-that; vivritam-revealed; svayam-bhagavata-by the Supreme Personality of Godhead Himself; kim-what?; vidhatte-direct; kim-what?; acashöe-declare; kim-what?; anudya-taking as the object; vikalpayet-may conjecture; iti-thus; asya-of the Vedic literature; hridayam-intention; loke-in this world; na-not; anyat-other; mat-than Me; veda-knows; kashcana-anyone; iti-thus.

The Supreme Lord Himself affirms (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.21.42):

"What is the direction of all Vedic literatures? On whom do they set focus? Who is the purpose of all speculation? Outside of Me no one knows these things."*

Text 113

anena ca sakshad-bhagavan evabhihitah. atha ikshater nashabdam ity asyarthantaram abhijna ity atraiva vyanjitam asti.

anena-by this; ca-also; sakshad-bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; eva-indeed; abhihitah-declared; atha-now; ikshater nashabdam ity asya-of Vedanta-sutra 1.1.5; arthantaram-another meaning; abhijna-abhijna; iti-thus; atra-here; eva-indeed; vyanjitam-manifested; asti-is.

In this way the Supreme Lord is described. Now an alternate interpretation of Vedanta-sutra 1.1.5 (ikshater nashabdam) will be discussed.

Text 114

atra sutrarthah. nanu ashabdam asparsham arupam avyayam ity adi shruteh katham tasya shabda-yonitvam. tatraha prakritam brahma shabda-hinam na bhavati. kutah ikshateh tad aikshata bahu syam prajayeya ity atra bahu syam iti shabdatmakeksha-dhatoh shravanat.

atra-here; sutrarthah-the meaning of the sutra; nanu-is it not so?; ashabdam-not heard; asparsham-not touched; arupam-without a form; avyayam-eternal; iti-thus; adi shruteh-Katha Upanisad 1.3.15; katham-how?; tasya-of Him; shabda-yonitvam-the author of the Vedas; tatra-there; aha--said; prakritam-natural; brahma-the Supreme; shabda-hinam-without sound; na-not; bhavati-is; kutah-why?; ikshateh-from a glance; tat-that; aikshata-saw; bahu-many; syam-I will become; prajayeya-I will give birth to children; iti-thus; atra-here; bahu-many; syam-I will become; iti-thus; shabda-sound; atmaka-nature; iksha-dhatoh-from the root iksha; shravanat-from the Sruti-sastra.

Here someone may protest: In Kaöha Upanishad (1.3.15) it is said:

"The Supreme is aloof from all sound and touch. He has no form. He is eternal and unchanging."

If this is so, how can the Supreme be the author of the Vedas?

To this protest the following reply is given: It is not true that the Supreme is aloof from all sound and other objects of sense perception. For example, in the Chandogya Upanishad (6.2.3) it is said:

"Then the Supreme glanced at the material energy. He thought: Let Me become many. I will father many children."

Here it is said that the Supreme can see, so it is not unreasonable to assume that He can also hear. Therefore He is not aloof from sound and other objects of sense perception.

Text 115

tad etad aha abhijnah. bahu syam ity adi-shabdatmaka-vicara-vidagdhah. sa ca shabdadi-shakti-samudayas tasya na prakritah. prakriti-kshobhat purvatrapi sad-bhavat. tat-svarupa-bhuta evety aha svarad iti. atra purvavat tadrisham sadharmatvam murtimattvam api siddham.

tat-this; etad-that; aha-said; abhijnah-abhijna; bahu-many; syam-I will become; iti-thus; adi-beginning; shabda-sound; atmaka-nature; vicara-consideration; vidagdhah-expert; sa-that; ca-and; shabdadi-shakti-samudayah-the potencies that begin with sound; tasya-of Him; na-not; prakritah-material; prakriti-kshobhat-from the agitation of matter; purvatra-previously; api-also; sad-bhavat-from spiritual nature; tat-svarupa-from His own form; bhuta-manifested; eva-indeed; iti-thus; aha-said; svarad-svarat; iti-thus; atra-here; purvavat-as before; tadrisham-like that; sadharmatvam-having a like nature; murtimattvam-having a form; api-also; siddham-proved.

This is explained by the word "abhijnah" (he is conscious of all manifestations) in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.1.1. Therefore, as Chandogya Upanishad (6.2.3) explains, the Supreme Lord is conscious of all sounds and all other sense objects. Still, these powers of the Lord are not at all material, for the Lord is perfectly spiritual in nature. He existed before the material world was even manifested. The nature of the Lord is then explained in the word "svaraö" (He is independent) in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.1.1. In this way, as has already been explained in this book, it is proved that the Supreme Lord has a form. That is His nature.

Text 116

yathahuh sutra-karah antas tad-dharmopadeshat iti.

yatha-as; ahuh-said; sutra-karah-the author of Vedanta-sutra; antah-within; tat-of Him; dharmathe nature; upadeshat-because of the teaching; iti-thus.

This is also affirmed by the author of Vedanta-sutra in these words (Vedanta-sutra 1.1.20):

antas tad-dharmopadeshat

"The person within the sun and the eye is the Supreme Personality of Godhead, because the Vedic literatures explain that His nature fits the description of the Lord."

Text 117

ato 'shabdatvadikam prakrita-shabda-hinatvadikam eveti jneyam. atrottara-mimamsadhyaya-catushöayasyapy artho darshitah. tatra anvayad itaratash ca iti samanvayadhyayasya muhyanti yat surayah ity a virodhadhyayasya dhimahi iti sadhanadhyayasya satyam param iti phaladhyayasyeti. tatha gayatry-artho 'pi spashöah. tatra janmady asya yatah iti pranavarthah. shrishöy-adi-shaktimattva-vacitvat.

atah-then; ashabdatvadikam-beginning with sound; prakrita-shabda-hinatvadikam-without being material sound; eva-indeed; iti-thus; jneyam-to be understood; atra-here; uttara-mimamsadhyaya-catushöayasya-of the fourth chapter of Vedanta-sutra; api-also; arthah-meaning; darshitah-revealed; tatra-there; anvayat-directly; itaratah-indirectly; ca-also; iti-thus; samanvaya-all; adhyayasya-of the chapter; muhyanti-are bewildered; yat-what; surayah-the demigods; iti-thus; avirodhadhyayasya-not contradicting; dhimahi-I meditate; iti-thus; sadhana-of sadhana; adhyayasya-of the chaoter; satyam-truth; param-supreme; iti-thus; phala-result; adhyayasya-of the chapter; iti-thus; tatha-so; gayatry-arthah-the meaning fo gayatri; api-also; spashöah-clearly; tatra-there; janmady asya yatah iti-janmady asya yatah; pranava-of the sacred syllable Om; arthah-the meaning; shrishöy-adi-beginning with creation; shaktimattva-the nature of having the potency; vacitvat-because of the statement.

Therefore when the scriptures say the Supreme is aloof from sound and other sense objects, it means that His sense powers are not material. In this way the first four sutras of Vedanta are explained by the first verse of Shrimad-Bhagavatam. Vedanta-sutra 1.1.4 is explained by the words "anvayat itaratas ca". The avirodha portion of Vedanta-sutra is explained by the words "muhyanti yat surayah" in the first verse of Shrimad-Bhagavatam. The sadhana portion of Vedanta-sutra is explained by the word "dhimahi" in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.1.1. The phala portion of Vedanta-sutra is explained by the words "satyam param" in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.1.1. The first verse of Shrimad-Bhagavatam also explains the meaning of the Gayatri-mantra. The syllable Om in the Gayatri-mantra is explained by the words "janmady asya yatah" in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.1.1, for Om describes the Lord's power to create, maintain, and annihilate the material universes.

Text 118

tad evam evagni-purane gayatri-vyakhyane proktam taj-jyotir bhagavan vishnur jagaj-janmadi-karanam iti.

tat-that; evam-thus; eva-certainly; agni-purane-in the Agni Purana; gayatri-vyakhyane-in the explanation of the Gaqyatri-mantra; proktam-said; taj-jyotih-His effulgence; bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; vishnuh-Lord Vishnu; jagaj-janmadi-karanam-the cause of matwerial creation, maintenance, and annihilation; iti-thus.

This is explained in the Agni Purana's description of the Gayatri-mantra:

"Lord Vishnu is the Supreme Personality of Godhead. From Him comes the Brahmajyoti effulgence. He is the creator, maintainer, and destroyer of the material worlds."

Text 119

yatra tri-sargo 'mrisha iti vyahriti-trayarthah. ubhayatrapi loka-trayasya tad-ananyatvena vivakshitatvat.

yatra tri-sargo 'mrisha iti-"yatra tri-sargo 'mrisha"; vyahriti-traya-of the three words "bhur bhuvah svah"; arthah-the meaning; ubhayatra-in both places; api-also; loka-trayasya-of the three worlds; tad-ananyatvena-by not being different from that; vivakshitatvat-because of being the speaker's intention.

The words "yatra tri-sargo 'mrisha" in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.1.1 explain the words "bhur bhuvah svah" in the Gayatri-mantra. This is because both texts refer to the three material planetary systems.

Text 120

svarad iti savitri-prakashaka-parama-tejo-vaci. tene brahma hrida iti buddhi-vritti-prerana-prarthana sucita. tad evam kripaya sva-dhyanayasmakam buddhi-vrittih prerayatad iti bhavah.

svarad-svarad; iti-thus; savitri-of the sun; prakashaka-illuminating; parama-supreme; tejah-light; vaci-describing; tene brahma hrida iti-tene brahma hrda; buddhi-vritti-prerana-prarthana-the prayer to enlighten the intelligence; sucita-indicated; tat-that; evam-thus; kripaya-by mercy; sva-dhyanaya-own meditation; asmakam-of us; buddhi-vrittih-activities of the intelligence; prerayatad-because of impelling; iti-thus; bhavah-the meaning.

The word "svaraö" in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.1.1 explains the Gayatri-mantra's description of the sun's effulgence. The words "tene brahma hrida" in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.1.1 explain the Gayatri-mantra's prayer for enlightenment. That prayer is: "May the Lord mercifully engage our thoughts in meditation on Him."

Text 121

evam evoktam gayatrya ca samarambhah iti. tac ca tejas tatra antas tad-dharmopadeshat ity adina sampratipannam yan-murtam tad-ady-ananta-murtimad eva dhyeyam iti.

evam-thus; eva-indeed; uktam-said; gayatrya-of Gayatri-mantra; ca-and; samarambhah-begun; iti-thus; tac-that; ca-also; tejah-light; tatra-there; antah-within; tad-dharmopadeshat ity adina-Vedanta-sutra 1.1.20; sampratipannam-established; yan-murtam-whose form; tad-adi-beginning with that; ananta-limitless; murtimat-having forms; eva-indeed; dhyeyam-to be meditated on; iti-thus.

Vedanta-sutra 1.1.20 and the passage of the Agni Purana beginning with the words "gayatrya ca samarambhah" both refer to the Gayatri-mantra and both describe meditation on the limitless form of the Supreme Lord.

Text 122

tatha cagni-puranasya kramastha-vacanani evam sandhya-vidhim kritva gayatrim ca japet smaret gayatry-ukthani shastrani bhargam pranams tathaiva ca

tatha-so; ca-also; agni-puranasya-of the Agni Purana; kramastha-vacanani-words; evam-thus; sandhya-vidhim-the duties at the three times of day; kritva-doing; gayatrim-Gayatri; ca-and; japet-should chant; smaret-should remember; gayatry-ukthani-the words of Gayatri; shastrani-the scriptures; bhargam-the effulgence; pranamh-life-breath; tatha-so; eva-indeed; ca-also.

The Gayatri-mantra is described in these words of the Agni Purana (Chapter 216):

"One should perform the duties of sunrise, noon, and sunset. At those times one should chant the Gayatri-mantra and one should meditate on the words of the Gayatri-mantra, on the transcendental effulgence, and on the life-breath.

Text 123

tatah smriteyam gayatri savitri yata eva ca prakashini sa savitur
vag-rupatvat sarasvati

tatah-then; smrita-remembered; iyam-this; gayatri-gayatri; savitri-Savitri; yata-from which; eva-indeed; ca-and; prakashini-manifested; sa-that; savituh-of the sun-god; vag-rupatvat-from the from of speech; sarasvati-Sarasvati..

"One should meditate on Gayatri, on Savitri, the sun-goddess (savituh), and on Sarasvati, the goddess of speech.

Text 124

taj-jyotih paramam brahma bhargas tejo yatah smritah bhargah syad bhrajata iti bahulam chandasiritam

taj-jyotih-His effulgence; paramam-supreme; brahma-Brahman; bhargah-light; tejah-light; yatah-from whom; smritah-remembered; bhargah-bhargha; syat-is; bhrajata-shining; iti-thus; bahulam-many; chandasiritam-said by the Vedic hymns.

"One should meditate on the spiritual effulgence (bhargah) of the Supreme Lord, which is described in many Vedic hymns.

Text 125

varenyam sarva-tejobhyah shreshöham vai paramam padam varenyam-varenyam; sarva-tejobhyah-of all lights; shreshöham-the best; vai-indeed; paramam-supreme; padam-abode.

"Then one should meditate on the Lord's supreme abode, which is the best (varenyam) of all that is effulgent.

Text 126

svargapavarga-kamair va varaniyam sadaiva hi

svarga-Svargaloka; apavarga-and liberation; kamaih-by they who desire; va-or; varaniyam-to be desired;

sada-always; eva-indeed; hi-indeed.

"This abode is the best of all attainments that may be desired (varenyam). It is better than Svargaloka and better than impersonal liberation.

Text 127

vrinoter varanarthatvat jagrat-svapnadi-varjitam vrinoteh-of the word "vrnoti"; varanarthatvat-because of the meaning of choosing a boon; jagrat-svapnadi-varjitam-without wakefulness, sleep, or any other condition of material consciousness.

The word "varenyam" comes from the verb "vrin" (to choose). Thus the spiritual world described here is the highest blessing one may wish to attain, for the spiritual world is above the world of matter, where material wakefulness, dream, and unconscious sleep dominate.

Text 128

nityam shuddham buddham ekam nityam bhargam adhishvaram aham brahma param jyotir dhyayema hi vimuktaye

nityam-eternal; shuddham-pure; buddham-wise; ekam-one; nityam-eternal; bhargam-effulgence; adhishvaram-the Supreme Lord; aham-I; brahma-Brahman; param-Supreme; jyotih-effulgence; dhyayema-meditate; hi-indeed; vimuktaye-to attain liberation.

"To attain liberation (dhimahi) I meditate on the eternal, effulgent, pure, all-knowing, Supreme Lord, who is the controller of all.

Text 129

taj jyotir bhagavan vishnur jagaj-janmadi-karanam

taj-that; jyotih-effulgence; bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; vishnuh-Lord Vishnu; jagaj-janmadi-karanam-the cause of what begins with creation of the material world.

"The origin of the impersonal Brahmajyoti is Lord Vishnu. He is the Supreme Personality of Godhead. He is the creator, maintainer, and destroyer of the material universes.

Text 130

shivam kecit paöhanti sma

shakti-rupam paöhanti ca kecit suryam kecid agnim daivatany agni-hotrinah shivam-Lord Shiva; kecit-some; paöhanti-read; sma-indeed; shakti-rupam-the form of Shakti; paöhanti-read; ca-indeed; kecit-some; suryam-Surya; kecit-some; agnim-Agni; daivatani-demigods; agni-hotrinah-performing agnihotra-yajnas.

"Some performers of yajnas offer prayers to Shiva, some to Durga, some to Surya, and some to Agni.

Text 131

agny-adi-rupi vishnur hi vedadau brahma giyate

agni-Agni; adi-beginning; rupi-the form; vishnuh-Lord Vishnu; hi-indeed; vedadau-beginning with the Vedas; brahma-the Supreme; giyate-is said.

"However, the Vedas declare that Lord Vishnu is the Supreme Lord. He is the father of Agni and all the demigods.

Text 132

tat padam paramam vishnor devasya savituh smritam tat-His; padam-abode; paramam-supreme; vishnoh-of Lord Vishnu; devasya-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; savituh-of the Deity of the sun; smritam-considered.

"The words `savitur varenyam' mean `the abode of Lord Vishnu, the Supreme Personality of Godhead'.

Text 133

dadhater va dhimahiti
manasa dharayemahi

dadhateh-of the word dadhati"; va-or; dhimahi-I meditate; iti-thus; manasa-with the mind; dharayemahi-we hold.

"The word `dhimahi' here means `we meditate' or `we hold within the mind'.

Text 134

no 'smakam yac ca bhargas tat sarvesham praninam dhiyah codayat prerayad buddhim bhoktrinam sarva-karmasu drishöadrishöa-vipakeshu vishnuh suryagni-rupa-bhak

nah-nah; asmakam-of us; yac-what; ca-and; bhargah-effulgence; tat-that; sarvesham-of all; praninam-living entities; dhiyah-intelligence; codayat-codayat; prerayat-may inspire; buddhim-intelligence; bhoktrinam-of the enjoyers; sarva-karmasu-in all karmas; drishöadrishöa-seen and unseen; vipakeshu-ripe; vishnuh-Lord Vishnu; suryagni-rupa-bhak-in the forms of Surya, Agni, and the other demigods.

"Here the words "dhiyo yo nah pracodayat" mean "May Lord Vishnu, whose representatives are Surya, Agni, and all the demigods, inspire the intelligence of us, the living entities subject to past karma, which sometimes is visible and sometimes waits unseen'.

Text 135

ishvara-prerito gacchet svargam va shvabhram eva va ishvara-by the Supreme Lord; preritah-inspired; gacchet-may go; svargam-to Svargaloka; va-or; shvabhram-to hell; eva-indeed; va-or.

"Because of their karma the Supreme Lord sends the living entities to Svargaloka or to hell.

Text 136

ishavasyam idam sarvam mahad-adi-jagad-dharidh svargadyaih kridate devo yo hamsah purushah prabhuh ishavasyam-controlled and owned by the Lord; idam-this; sarvam-everything; mahad-adi-beginnign with the mahat-tattva; jagat-universe; dharidh-maintaining; svargadyaih-beginnign with Svarga; kridate-enjoys pastimes; devah-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; yah-who; hamsah-the supreme swan; purushah-the Supreme Person; prabhuh-the master.

"Everything within this universe is controlled and owned by the Lord. He is the maintainer of the mahat-tattva and the material universes. He enjoys pastimes in His spiritual abode. He is the swanlike Supreme Person. He is the Supreme Master.

Text 137

dhyanena purusho 'yam ca drashöavyah surya-mandale satyam sadashivam brahma vishnor yat paramam padam dhyana-by meditation; purushah-person; ayam-this; ca-and; drashöavyah-to be seen; surya-mandale-in the circle of the sun; satyam-truth; sadashivam-Shiva; brahma-Brahma; vishnoh-Vishnu; yat-what; paramam-supreme; padam-abode.

"Thus one should meditate on the Supreme Person. He may be seen in the circle of the sun. He is Sadashiva. He is Brahman. He is Vishnu. His realm is the supreme abode.

Text 138

devasya savitur devo
varenyam hi turiyakam

devasya-of the Lord; savituh-residing in the sun; devah-the Lord; varenyam-the best; hi-indeed; turiyakam-the spiritual world.

"Thus the words `savitur devasya varenyam' refer to the spiritual world of the Supreme Lord.

Text 139

yo 'sav aditya-purushah so sav aham anuttamam jananam shubha-karmadin pravartayati yah sada. ity adi.

yah-who; asau-He; aditya-purushah-the person in the sun; sah-He; sau-He; aham-I; anuttamam-peerless; jananam-of people; shubha-karmadin-beginnign with auspicious deeds; pravartayati-impells; yah-who; sada-always; iti-thus; adi-beginning.

"I am the servant of the Supreme Person, the person who resides in the sun and who inspires the living entities to perform pious deeds."

Text 140

yatradhikritya gayatrim varnyate dharma-vistarah vritrasura-vadhotsiktam tad bhagavatam ucyate. ity adina ca.

yatra-here; adhikritya-with reference to; gayatrim-Gayatri; varnyate-is described; dharma-vistarah-religion; vritrasura-of Vritrasura; vadha-the killing; utsiktam-increased; tat-that; bhagavatam-Shrimad-Bhagavatam; ucyate-is said; iti-thus; adina-beginning; ca-and.

It is also said (Agni Purana 217.6):

"The Gayatri-mantra is also described in the Purana called Shrimad-Bhagavatam, which narrates the story of Vritrasura's death and describes the true path of religion."

Text 141

tasmad bharga-brahma-para-vishnu-bhagavac-chabdabhinna-varnataya tatra tatra nirdishöa api bhagavat-pratipadaka eva jneyah. madhye madhye tv ahan-grahopasana-nirdeshas tat-samya iva labdhe hi tad-upasana-yogyata bhavatiti.

tasmat-from this; bharga-effulgence; brahma-Brahman; para-above; vishnu-Vishnu; bhagavat-Bhagavan; shabda-word; abhinna-not different; varnataya-by the description; tatra tatra-there; nirdishöa-indicated; api-also; bhagavat-pratipadaka-describing the Supreme Personality of Godhead; eva-indeed; jneyah-to be understood; madhye madhye-in the midst; tv-indeed; ahan-grahopasana-nirdeshah-the teaching of ahangrahopasana; tat-samya-like that; iva-like; labdhe-attained; hi-indeed; tad-upasana-ayogyata-not proper for that worship; bhavati-is; iti-thus.

The words "bharga", "brahma", "para", and "vishnu" here are all names of the Supreme Personality of Godhead. The impersonalists' idea of "ahangrahopasana", where they imagine they are one with the Supreme, is not an appropriate way to worship the Supreme Lord.

Text 142

tatha dasa-lakshanartho 'py atraiva drishyah. tatra sarga-visarga-sthana-nirodhah. janmady asya yatah ity atra manvantareshanukatha ca sthanantargate. poshanam tene ity adau. utih muhyanti ity adau. mukta-jivanam api tat-sannidhye sati kuhaka-nirasana-vyanjake dhamna ity adau. ashrayah satyam param ity adau.

tatha-so; dasa-lakshana-five topics; arthah-meaning; api-also; atra-here; eva-indeed; drishyah-to be seen. tatra-there; sarga-creation; visarga-secondary creation; sthana-maintenance; nirodhah-destruction; janmady asya yatah iti-janmady asya yatah; atra-here; manvantara-the manvantaras; isha-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; anukatha-topics; ca-and; sthanantargate-within maintenance; poshanam-nourishment; tene ity adau-the passage beginning with tene; utih-mercy; muhyanti ity adau-the passage beginning with muhyanti; mukta-jivanam-of the liberated souls; api-also; tat-sannidhye-near; sati-being so; kuhaka-nirasana-vyanjake-free from material illusions; dhamna ity adau-the passage beginning with dhamna; ashrayah-the shelter; satyam param ity adau-the passage beginning with satyam param.

Now the ten subjects of Shrimad-Bhagavatam will be discussed. Of these ten subjects, "sarga" (creation of the ingredients of the cosmos), "visarga" (the creations of Brahma), "sthana" (the maintenance of the creation), and "nirodha" (the winding up of the creation) are described in the words "janmady asya yatah". "Manvantara" (prescribed duties for law-abiding men), "ishanukatha" (description of the incarnations of the Lord), and "poshana" (special favor given to the faithful) are described in the words "tene brahma hrida ya adi-kavaye". "Uti" (impetuses for activity) are described in the words "muhyanti yat surayah". "Mukti" (liberation from gross and subtle material existence) is described in the words "nirasta-kuhakam dhamna". "Ashraya" (the ultimate shelter, the Supreme Personality of Godhead) is described in the words "satyam param".

Text 143

sa ca svayam-bhagavattvena nirnitatvat shri-krishna eveti purvokta-prakara eva vyakta iti. tad eva yasminn upakrama-vakye sarveshu pada-vakya-tatparyeshu tasya dhyeyasya sa-visheshatvam murtimattvam shri-bhagavad-akaratvam ca vyaktam. tac ca yuktam. svarupa-vakyantara-vyaktatvat.

sa-He; ca-and; svayam-bhagavattvena-as the Supreme Personality of Godhead; nirnitatvat-because of the conclusion; shri-krishna-Shri Krishna; eva-indeed; iti-thus; purvokta-prakara-in the previous statement; eva-indeed; vyakta-manifested; iti-thus; tat-that; eva-indeed; yasminn-in whom; upakrama-vakye-in the statement; sarveshu-in all; pada-of the verses; vakya-of the words; tatparyeshu-in the meanings; tasya-of Him; dhyeyasya-the object of meditation; sa-visheshatvam-with variety; murtimattvam-having a form; shri-bhagavad-akaratvam-teh from of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; ca-and; vyaktam-manifested; tac-that; ca-and; yuktam-proper; svarupa-own form; vakya-statement; antara-within; vyaktatvat-because of being manifested.

Therefore the conclusion of the scriptures is that Lord Shri Krishna is the Supreme Personality of Godhead. In all the verses of the scriptures it is said that He is the proper object of meditation, that He has a great multitude of transcendental qualities, and that He has a transcendental form glorious with a host of transcendental opulences. In this way the Lord is described.

Text 144

yo 'syotprekashaka adi-madhyam-nidhane yo 'vyakta-jiveshvaro yah shrishövedam anupravishya rishina cakre purah shasti tah yam sampadya jahaty ajam anushayi suptah kulayam yatha tam kaivalya-nirasta-yonim abhayam dhyayed ajasram harim. iti.

yah-who; asya-of Him; utprekashaka-watching over; adi-madhyam-nidhane-beginning, middle, and end; yah-who; avyakta-of the unmanifested; jiva-and of the individual souls; ishvarah-the master; yah-who; shrishöva-creating; idam-thids; anupravishya-entering; rishina-by the sage; cakre-did; purah-before; shasti-taught; tah-them; yam-whom; sampadya-surrendering; jahati-renounces; ajam-the unborn; anushayi-resting; suptah-asleep; kulayam-the body; yatha-as; tam-to Him; kaivalya-nirasta-yonim-the source of liberation; abhayam-fearless; dhyayet-I meditate; ajasram-always; harim-Lord Krishna; iti-thus.

The Supreme Personality of Godhead is also described in these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.87.50):

"He is the Lord who eternally watches over this universe, who exists before, during, and after its manifestation. He is the master of both the unmanifest material energy and the spirit soul. After sending forth the creation He enters within it, accompanying each living entity. There He creates the material bodies and then remains as their regulator. By surrendering to Him one can escape the embrace of illusion, just as a dreaming person forgets his own body. One who wants liberation from fear should constantly meditate upon Him, Lord Hari, who is always on the platform of perfection and thus never subject to material birth."

Text 145

ato dharma-projjhita-ity-adav anantara-vakye 'pi kim vaparaih ity adina tatraiva tatparyam darshitam.
tathopasamhara-vakyadhinarthatvad upakrama-vakyasya nati-kramaniyam eva.

atah-then; dharma-projjhita-ity-adav-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.1.2; anantara-vakye-following statement; api-also; kim vaparaih ity adina-beginning with the words "kim va paraih; tatra-there; eva-indeed; tatparyam-the meaning; darshitam-revealed; tatha-so; upasamhara-concluding; vakya-words; adhina-subordinate; arthatvat-because of the meaning; upakrama-vakyasya-of the preamble; na-not; ati-kramaniyam-superceding; eva-also.

In Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.1.2 it is said:

"Completely rejecting all religious activities which are materially motivated, this Bhagavata Purana propounds the highest truth, which is understandable by those devotees who are fully pure in heart. The highest truth is reality distinguished from illusion for the welfare of all. Such truth uproots the threefold miseries. This beautiful Bhagavatam, compiled by the great sage Vyasadeva (in his maturity), is sufficient in itself for God-realization. What is the need of any other scripture? As soon as one attentively and submissively hears the message of Bhagavatam, by this culture of knowledge the Supreme Lord is established within his heart."*

For revealing the author's intention, the opening words of a book are most important, even more important than the book's concluding words.

Text 146

kasmai yena vibhasito 'yam ity adi darshitam tasya tadrisha-visheshavattvadikam.

kasmai yena vibhasito 'yam ity adi-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 12.13.19; darshitam-shown; tasya-of that; tadrisha-visheshavattva-the nature of that; adikam-beginning with.

The true subject of Shrimad-Bhagavatam is also revealed in these, its concluding words (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 12.13.19):

"I meditate upon the pure and spotless Absolute Truth, who is free from suffering and death. In the beginning He personally revealed this peerless lamp of knowledge to Brahma. Brahma spoke it to Naada Muni, who then spoke it to Krishna Dvaipayana Vyasa. Vyasa spoke it to Shukadeva Gosvami, the king of yogis, and Shukadeva spoke it to the great devotee Maharaja Parikshit."*

Text 147

yathaiva atma-grihitir itara-vad uttarat ity atra shankara-sharirakasyaparasyam yojanayam upakramoktasya sac-chabda-vacyasyatmatvam upasamhara-sthad atma-shabdal labhyate. tadvad ihapi catuh-shloki-vaktur bhagavattvam. darshitam ca shri-vyasa-samadhav api tasyaiva dhyeyatvam.

yatha-as; eva-indeed; atma-grihitir itara-vad uttarat ity atra-in Vedanta-sutra 3.3.17; shankara-sharirakasya-of Sankaracarya's Vedanta commentary; aparasyamanother; yojanayam-in the grammatical construction; upakramoktasya-of the preceding statement; sac-chabda-vacyasya-of the word "sat"; atmatvam-the nature; upasamhara-s-that-conclusion; atma-shabdal-frpom the word "atma"; labhyate-is obtained; tadvat-in that way; iha-here; api-also; catuh-shloki-vaktuh-of the speaker of the four verses; bhagavattvam-the status of Shrimad-Bhagavatam; darshitam-is revealed; ca-and; shri-vyasa-of Shri Vyasa; samadhau-in the mystic trance; api-also; tasya-of Him; eva-indeed; dhyeyatvam-the proper object of meditation.

In His commentary on Vedanta-sutra 3.3.17, Shankaracarya explains that the word "atma", which comes at the conclusion, should be interpreted to mean the same thing as the word "sat" in the beginning, for the words of the beginning are most important. Therefore the Supreme Personality of Godhead is the true topic of Shrimad-Bhagavatam, for He is described in its beginning. He is the speaker of the four most important verses of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (2.9.33-36), and He is the Lord the sage Vyasa saw in mystic trance (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.7.1-7).

Text 148

tad etad eva ca sva-sukha-nibhrita-ity-adi-shri-shukadeva-hridayanugatam iti. shri-vyasah.

tat-this; etad-that; eva-indeed; ca-also; sva-sukha-nibhrita-ity-adi-shri-shukadeva-hridayanugatam iti-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 12.12.69; shri-vyasah-Shri Vyasa.

The Supreme Personality of Godhead is also described at the conclusion of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (12.12.69), where it is said:

"I offer my respectful obeisances unto Shrila Shukadeva Gosvami, the son of Vyasadeva. He is the destroyer of all sinful reactions and is full of self-realization and bliss. Because of this, he has no other desire. Still, he was attracted by the transcendental pastimes of the Supreme Personality of Godhead, and out of compassion for the people he described the transcendental historical literature called Shrimad-Bhagavatam. This is compared to the light of the Absolute Truth."*

Text 149

athopasamhara-vakyasyapy ayam arthah. kasmai garbhodashayi-purusha-nabhi-kamala-sthaya brahmane tatraiva yena maha-vaikunöham darshayata dvitiya-skandha-varnita-tadrisha-shri-murty-adina bhagavata vibhasitah prakashitah. na tu tadapi racitah.

atha-now; upasamhara-vakyasya-of the concluding statement; api-also; ayam-this; arthah-the meaning; kasmai-kasmai; garbhodashayi-Garbhodakashayi Vishnu; purusha-of the purusha-avatara; nabhi-navcel; kamala-lotus; sthaya-staying; brahmane-to the demigod Brahma; tatra-there; eva-indeed; yena-by whom; maha-vaikunöham-the spiritual world; darshayata-revealed; dvitiya-skandha-in the second canto; varnita-described; tadrisha-like that; shri-murty-the Lord's transcendental form; adina-beginning with; bhagavata-by the Supreme Personality of Godhead; vibhasitah-manifested; prakashitah-manifested; na-not; tu-but; tada-then; api-also; racitah-written.

Here is the meaning of Shrimad-Bhagavatam's (12.13.19) concluding words: The word "kasmai" here means "to the demigod Brahma, who stayed on the lotus flower grown from the navel of the purusha-avatara Lord Garbhodakashayi Vishnu", and "yena" means "by the Supreme Personality of Godhead whose transcendental form was described in the second canto and who there revealed His spiritual abode of Maha-Vaikunöha". "Vibhasitah" means "manifested". It does not mean "written".

Text 150

ayam shri-bhagavata-rupah pura purva-parardhadau tad-rupena brahma-rupena tad-rupina shri-narada-rupina yogindraya shri-shukaya tad-atmana shri-krishna-dvaipayana-rupena. tad-atmanety asyottarenapy anvayah. tatra tad-atmana shri-shuka-rupeneti jneyam.

ayam-this; shri-bhagavata-rupah-Shrimad-Bhagavatam; pura-before; purva-parardhadau-in the prwevious parardha; tad-rupena-by that form; brahma-rupena-by Brahma; tad-rupina-in that form; shri-narada-rupina-by Shri Narada; yogindraya-to the king of yogis; shri-shukaya-to Shri Suka; tad-atmana-by him; shri-krishna-dvaipayana-rupena-by Shri KrishnaDvaipayana Vyasa; tad-atmana-by him; iti-thus; asya-of that; uttarena-by the latter; api-also; anvayah-the meaning; tatra-there; tad-atmana-by him; shri-shuka-rupeneti-by Shri Suka; jneyam-to be known.

"Ayam" means "this Shrimad-Bhagavatam", "tad-rupena" means "by the demigod Brahma", "pura" means "in the previous parardha", "tad-rupina" means "by Narada Muni", "yogindraya" means "to Shrila Shukadeva Gosvami", "tad-atmana" means "by Shrila Krishna Dvaipayana Vyasa", and, in the next phrase of the sentence it also means "by Shrila Shukadeva Gosvami".

Text 151

tad-rupenety adibhis tribhih padair na kevalam catuh-shloky eva tena prakashita. kim tarhi. tatra tatravishöenakhandam eva puranam iti dyotitam. atra mad-rupena ca yushmabhyam iti sankocananukto 'pi shri-suta-vakya-shesho gamyah.

tad-rupeneti-the word "tad-rupena; adibhih-beginning with; tribhih-three; padaih-quarters; na-not; kevalam-only; catuh-shloki-the four verses; eva-indeed; tena-by Him; prakashita-manifested; kim-whether?; tarhi-then; tatra tatra-there; avishöena-entered; akhandam-unbroken; eva-indeed; puranam-Purana; iti-indeed; dyotitam-splendid; atra-here; mad-rupena-in the form of me; ca-and; yushmabhyam-to us; iti-thus; sankocana-withdrawing; anuktah-unsaid; api-even; shri-suta-vakya-sheshah-the remainder of Shri Suta's statement; gamyah-to be attained.

The last three quarters of Shrimad-Bhagavatam 12.13.19 explain the four most important verses of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (2.9.33-36). By these verse the entire Shrimad-Bhagavatam Purana is explained. At the end of Shrimad-Bhagavatam, Shri Suta Gosvami says: "now I have explained the Shrimad-Bhagavatam to all of you."

Text 152

evam sarvasyapi shri-bhagavata-guror mahima darshitah. sankarshana-sampradaya-pravrittis tu shri-krishna-dvaipayana-kartrika-prakashanantargataiveti prithan nocyste. tat param satyam shri-bhagavatakyam tattvam dhimahi.

evam-thus; sarvasya-of all; api-also; shri-bhagavata-guroh-of the teacher of Shrimad-Bhagavatam; mahima-the glory; darshitah-revealed; sankarshana-sampradaya-pravrittih-the origin of the Sankarsana sampradaya; tu-but; shri-krishna-dvaipayana-Shri Krishna Dvaipayana Vyasa; kartrika-the author; prakashana-manifestation; antargata-within; eva-indeed; iti-thus; prithak-different; na-not; ucyste-is said; tat-that; param-Supreme; satyam-truth; shri-bhagavatakyam-called the Supreme Personality of Godhead; tattvam-on the truth; dhimahi-I meditate.

In this way the glories of Shrimad-Bhagavatam's teacher are revealed. Shri Krishna Dvaipayana Vyasa manifested Shrimad-Bhagavatam, which was passed down through the disciplic succession from Lord Sankarshana. In this way there is no difference in Shrimad-Bhagavatam's teachings.

Text 153

yat tat param anuttamam iti sahasra-nama-stotrat para-shabdena ca shri-bhagavan evocyate. adyo 'vatarah purushah parasya iti dvitiyat.

yat-what; tat-that; param-Supreme; anuttamam-peerless; iti-thus; sahasra-nama-stotrat-in the thousand names; para-shabdena-by the word "opara"; ca-and; shri-bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; eva-indeed; ucyate-is said; adyo 'vatarah purushah parasya iti dvitiyat-in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 2.6.42.

The word "para" (the Supreme) is a name of the Supreme Personality of Godhead. In the Sahasra-nama Prayers it is said:

"The Supreme (para) has no equal or superior".

The word "para" is also used as a name of the Supreme Personality of Godhead in these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam 2.6.42):

"Karanarnavashayi Vishnu is the first incarnation of the Supreme Lord (para)."

Text 154

brahmadinam buddhi-vritti-prerakatvenabhidhanad gayatri-arthopalakshitenā dhimahiti gayatri-padenaiva yathopakramam upasamharan gayatrya apy artho 'yam grantha iti darshyaati.

brahmadinam-beginning with Brahma; buddhi-vritti-prerakatvena-as He who enlightens the intelligence; abhidhanat-by the name; gayatri-of Gayatri-mantra; artha-of the meaning; upalakshitenā-seen; dhimahiti-the word "dhimahi"; gayatri-padena-by the words of Gayatri-mantra; eva-indeed; yatha-as; upakramam-beginning; upasamharan-ending; gayatrya-by Gayatri; api-also; arthah-meaning; ayam-this; grantha-book; iti-thus; darshyaati-shows.

By speaking the word "dhimahi", at its beginning (1,1.1) and end (12.13.19), Shrimad-Bhagavatam refers to the Gayatri-mantra, which is a prayer for enlightenment spoken by the demigod Brahma and other saintly persons. In this way it is seen that Shrimad-Bhagavatam is actually a commentary on the Gayatri-mantra.

Text 155

tad uktam gayatri-bhashya-rupo 'sau bharatartha-vinirnayah iti.

tat-ttha; uktam-said; gayatri-bhashya-rupah-a commentary on the Gayatri-mantra; asau-thus; bharatartha-the meaning of Mahabharata; vinirnayah-the conclusion; iti-thus.

That Shrimad-Bhagavatam is actually a commentary on the Gayatri-mantra is confirmed by these words of the Garuda Purana:

"The meaning of the Vedanta-sutra is present in Shrimad-Bhagavatam. The full purport of the Mahabharata is also there. The commentary on the Brahma-gayatri is also there and fully expanded with all Vedic knowledge."

Text 156

shri-sutah.

shri-sutah-Shri Suta Gosvami.

The verse quoted in the beginning of this anuccheda was spoken by Shri Suta Gosvami.

Anuccheda 106

Text 1

athabhyasena

kali-mala-samhati-kalano 'khilesho harir itaratra na giyate hy abhikshnam iha tu punar bhagavan ashesha-murtih paripaöhito 'nupadam katha-prasangaih atha-now; abhyasena-by repetition; kali-mala-samhati-kalanah-destroying the impurities ofg the Kali-yuga; akhileshah-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; harih-Lord Hari; itaratra-in other places; na-not; giyate-glorified; hi-indeed; abhikshnam-always; iha-here; tu-but; punah-again; bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; ashesha-complete; murtih-form; paripaöhita-described; anupadam-in every verse; katha-prasangaih-with stories.

The Supreme Personality of Godhead is the only topic of Shrimad-Bhagavatam is again described in these words (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 12.12.66):

"Lord Hari, the supreme controller of all beings, annihilates the accumulated sins of the Kali age, yet other literatures do not constantly glorify Him. But that Supreme Personality of Godhead, appearing in His innumerable personal expansions, is abundantly and constantly described throughout the various narrations of this Shrimad-Bhagavatam."

Text 2

kalano nashanah. itaratra karma-brahmadi-pratipadaka-shastrantare akhilesho virad antaryami narayano 'pi tat-palako vishnur vapi na giyate. kvacid giyate va. tatra tv abhikshnam naiva giyate. tu-shabdo 'vadharane. sakshat shri-bhagavan punar iha shri-bhagavate evabhikshnam giyate.

kalanah-kalanah; nashanah-destruction; itaratra-in another place; karma-brahmadi-pratipadaka-teaching about karma, Brahman, and other like things; shastrantare-in other scriptures; akhileshah-the master of all; virad-the universal form; antaryami-the Supersoul; narayanah-Lord Narayana; api-also; tat-palakah-the protector of that; vishnuh-Lord Vishnu; va-or; api-also; na-not; giyate-is sung; kvacit-somewhere; giyate-is sung; va-or; tatra-there; tv-indeed; abhikshnam-at every moment; na-not; eva-indeed; giyate-is sung; tu-shabdah-the word "tu"; avadharane-in attention; sakshat-directly; shri-bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; punah-again; iha-here; shri-bhagavate-in Shrimad-Bhagavatam; eva-indeed; abhikshnam-at every moment; giyate-is sung.

Here the word "kalanah" means "destruction", "itaratra" means "in other scriptures, which describe karma, Brahman, and other like topics", "akhileshah" means "the universal form, the Supersoul, Lord Narayana, and Lord Vishnu, the protector of the universe", "na giyate" means either "is not described" or "may be described in some places", "na giyate abhikshnam" means "is not described at every moment", "tu" means "indeed", "bhagavan punar iha evabhikshnam giyate" means "in Shrimad-Bhagavatam the Supreme Personality of Godhead is described at every moment".

Text 3

narayanadayo va ye 'tra varnitas te 'py ashesha eva murtayo 'vatara yasya sah. tatha-bhuta eva giyate. na tv itaratreva tad-avivekenety arthah.

narayana-with Lord Narayana; adayah-beginning; va-or; ye-who; atra-here; varnitah-described; te-they; api-also; ashesha-all; eva-indeed; murtayah-forms; avatara-incarnations; yasya-of whom; sah-He; tatha-bhuta-in that way; eva-indeed; giyate-is sung; na-not; tv-but; itaratra-in other places; iva-like; tad-avivekenety-by the unintelligent; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning.

Here "na tv itaratra" means "in these other scriptures the foolish authors do not describe the Supreme Personality of Godhead, who appears in the forms of many incarnations, such as the form of Lord Narayana".

Text 4

ata eva tat-tat-katha-prasangair apy anupadam padam padam api lakshi-kriya bhagavan eva pari sarvato-bhavana paöhito vyaktam evokta iti. anenapurvatapi vyakhyata. anyatranadhigatatvat. shri-sutah.

ata eva-therefore; tat-tat-katha-prasangaih-by these different topics; api-also; anupadam-in every verse; padam padam-verse after verse" api-also; lakshi-kriya-describing; bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; eva-indeed; pari-pari; sarvato-bhavana-in all respects; paöhita-written; vyaktam-manifested; eva-indeed; ukta-said; iti-thus; anena-by this; apurvata-unprecedented; api--also; vyakhyata-explained; anyatra-in another place; anadhigatatvat-because of not being understood; shri-sutah-Shri Suta Gosvami.

Here the words "bhagavan paripaöhito 'nu-padam katha-prasangaih" mean "the Supreme Personality of Godhead is described in every verse of Shrimad-Bhagavatam". This explanation I have given is original and is not taken from a previous source. The verse quoted in the beginning of this anuccheda was spoken by Shrila Suta Gosvami.

Anuccheda 107

Text 1

atha phalenapi

pibanti ye bhagavata atmanah satam kathamritam shravana-puöeshu sambhritam punanti te vishaya-vidushitashayam vrajanti tac-carana-saroruhantikam atha-now; phalena-with the result; api-also; pibanti-who drink; ye-those; bhagavata-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; atmanah-of the most dear; satam-of devotees; kathamritam-the nectar of the messages; shravana-puöeshu-with the earholes; sambhritam-fully filled; punanti-purify; te-their; vishaya-material enjoyment; vidushitashayam-polluted aim of life; vrajanti-do go back; tat-the Lord's; carana-feet; saroruhantikam-near the lotus.

The result one obtains by hearing Shrimad-Bhagavatam is described in these words (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 2.2.37):

"Those who drink through aural reception, fully filled with the nectarean message of Lord Krishna, the beloved of the devotees, purify the polluted aim of life known as material enjoyment and thus go back to Godhead, to the lotus feet of Him (the Personality of Godhead)."*

Text 2

satam atmanah praneshvarasya. yad va vyatirekena shashöhi. satam atmanah svasya yo bhagavams tasyety arthah. tesham bhagavati svamitvena mamataspadatvat. atra kathamritam prakramyamanam shri-bhagavatakyam eva mukhyam yasyam vai shruyamanayam ity adikam ca tathaivoktam iti. shri-shukah.

satam atmanah-satam atmanah; praneshvarasya-of the Lotrd of life; yat-what; va-or; vyatirekena-indirectly; shashöhi-thegenetive case; satam atmanah-satam atmanah; svasya-own; yah-who; bhagavamh-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; tasya-of Him; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; tesham-of them; bhagavati-in the Supreme Personality of Godhead; svamitvena-as the master; mamataspadatvat-the oboect of possesion; atra-here; kathamritam-the nectar of topics; prakramyamanam-doing; shri-bhagavatakyam-called Shrimad-Bhagavatam; eva-indeed; mukhyam-primarily; yasyam-in which; vai-indeed; shruyamanayam-hearing; iti-thus; adikam-beginning; ca-also; tatha-so; eva-indeed; uktam-said; iti-thus; shri-shukah-Shri Shukadeva Gosvami.

Here the words "satam atmanah" may mean "of the Lord of life", or, if the genitive case is accepted, they may mean "the Supreme Personality of Godhead". The Lord is described by these words because He is simultaneously the master and the property of His devotees". The word "kathamritam" (the nectarean message) refers primarily to Shrimad-Bhagavatam. Shrimad-Bhagavatam is also described in these words (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.7.7):

"Simply by giving aural reception to this Vedic literature, the feeling for loving devotional service to Lord Krishna, the Supreme Personality of Godhead, sprouts up at once to extinguish the fire of lamentation, illusion, and fearfulness."*

The verse quoted in the beginning of this anuccheda was spoken by Shrila Shukadeva Gosvami.

Anuccheda 108

Text 1

athartha-vadana

yam brahma-varunendra-marutah stunvanti divyaih stavair vedaih sanga-pada-kramopanishadair gayanti yam sama-gah dhyanaavasthita-tad-gatena manasa pashyanti yam yogino yasyantam na viduh surasura-gana devaya tasmai namah atha-now; artha-vadena-with the meaning; yam-whom; brahma-varunendra-marutah-Brahma, Varuna, Indra, and the Maruts; stunvanti-praise; divyaih-with glorious; stavaih-prayers; vedaih-with the Vedas; sanga-with the parts; pada-krama-with the sequence of verses; upanishadaih-with the Upanisads; gayanti-sing; yam-whom; sama-gah-the singers of Sama Veda; dhyana-in meditation; avasthita-situated; tad-gatena-attained; manasa-with the mind; pashyanti-see; yam-whom; yoginah-the yogis; yasya-of whom; antam-the end; na-not; viduh-know; surasura-gana-the demigods and demons; devaya-to the Supreme Personality of Godhead; tasmai-to Him; namah-obeisances.

This purpose of Shrimad-Bhagavatam is described in these words (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 12.13.1):

"I offer my respectful obeisances to the Supreme Personality of Godhead, whom Brahma, Indra, Shiva, and the Maruts glorify with splendid prayers, whom the chanters of the Sama Veda glorify by singing the Vedas with their parts, pada-kramas, and Upanishads, whom the yogis see in their hearts rapt in meditation, and whose limit neither the demigods nor the demons can ever find."

Text 2

stavair vedaish ca stunvanti stavanti. dhyanaenavsthitam nishcalam tad-gatam yan-manas tena. shri-sutah.

stavaih-with prayers; vedaih-with the Vedas; ca-and; stunvanti-praise; stavanti-praise; dhyanaenavsthitam-asituated in meditation; nishcalam-unwavering; tad-gatam-attained that; yan-manah-whose minds; tena-by that; shri-sutah-Shri Suta Gisvami.

Here the words "stavair vedaih stunvanti" means "they glorify with prayers and with the Vedas", and "dhyanaavasthita-tad-gatena manasa" means "with minds fixed in unwavering meditation".

Anuccheda 109

Text 1

athopapattya

bhagavan sarva-bhuteshu lakshitah svatmana harih drishyair buddhy-adibhir drashöa lakshanair anumapakaih

atha-now; upapattya-with the conclusion; bhagavan-the Personality of Godhead; sarva-all; bhuteshu-in the living entites; lakshitah-is visible; svatmana-along with the self; harih-the Lord; drishyaih-by what is seen; buddhy-adibhih-by intelligence; drashöa-one who sees; lakshanaih-by different signs; anumapakaih-by hypothesis.

The use of logic in understanding the Supreme Personality of Godhead is described in these words (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 2.2.35):

"The Personality of Godhead Lord Shri Krishna is in every living being along with the individual soul. And this fact is perceived and hypothesized in our acts of seeing and taking help from the intelligence."*

Text 2

prathamam drashöa jivo lakshitah. kaih. drishyair buddhy-adibhih. tad eva dvedha darshayati drishyanam jadanam buddhy-adinam darshanam sva-prakasham drashöaram vina na ghaöata ity anupapatti-dvara lakshanaih sva-prakasha-drashöri-lakshakaih. tatha buddhy-adini kartri-prayojyani karanatvad vasyadi-vad iti vyapti-dvaranumapakair iti.

prathamam-first; drashöa-the seer; jivah-the individual spirit soul; lakshitah-is described; kaih-by whom?; drishyaih-visible; buddhy-adibhih-beginning with the intelligence; tat-that; eva-indeed; dvedha-in two ways; darshayati-shows; drishyanam-of the visible; jadanam-of matter; buddhy-adinam-beginning with the intelligence; darshanam-sight; sva-prakasham-self-manifested; drashöaram-the seer; vina-without; na-not; ghaöata-occurs; iti-thus; anupapatti-dvara-by logic lakshanaih-by features; sva-prakasha-drashöri-lakshakaih-by the self-manifested seer; tatha-so; buddhy-adini-beginning with intelligence; kartri-prayojyani-the doer; karanatvad-because of being the cause; va-or; asya-of that; adi-beginning; vat-like; iti-thus; vyapti-dvara-by the manifestations; anumapakair-by they who infer; iti-thus.

Here the words "drashöa lakshitah" mean "first, the individual spirit soul is the seer". The question may then be asked: "How does he see?" The answer is given in the words "drishyair buddhy-adibhih" (by seeing and taking help from the intelligence). Here there are two considerations. Without the presence of the seer the act of seeing the visible material world does not occur. Therefore it is by the seer, who sees with the help of intelligence and other like tools, that seeing occurs.

Text 3

atha bhagavan api lakshitah. kena. sarva-bhuteshu sarveshu bhuteshu drashörishu pravishöena svatmana svamsha-rupenantaryamina. adau sarva-drashöribhir antaryami lakshitah. tatas tena bhagavan api lakshita ity arthah.

atha-now; bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; api-also; lakshitah-described; kena-by what?; sarva-bhuteshu-in all living entities; sarveshu-in all; bhuteshu-living entities; drashörishu-seers; pravishöena-entered; svatmana-personally; svamsha-rupena-with His expansion; antaryamina-as the Supersoul; adau-beginning; sarva-drashöribhih-in all living beings; antaryami-the Supersoul; lakshitah-characterized; tatah-then; tena-by that; bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; api-also; lakshita-characterized; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning.

Then the Supreme Personality of Godhead is described. How is He described? he is described as the Supersoul in the hearts of all the seers. In this way He is seen by them. That is the meaning of the words "bhagavan sarva-bhuteshu lakshitah svatmana harih".

Text 4

sa ca sa ca purvavat dvidhaiva lakshyate. tatha hi kartritva-bhoktritvayor asvatantrya-darshanat karmano 'pi jadatvat sarvesham api jivanam tatra tatra pravrittir antah-prayojaka-vishesham vina na ghaõata ity anupapatti-dvarantaryami lakshyate.

sa-he; ca-and; sa-He; ca-awnd; purvavat-as before; dvidha-in two ways; eva-indeed; lakshyate-is seen; tatha hi-furthermore; kartritva-the doer; bhoktritvayoh-and the enjoyer; asvatantrya-lack of independence; darshanat-because of the sight; karmanah-of karma; api-also; jadatvat-because of being inanimate matter; sarvesham-of all; api-also; jivanam-souls; tatra tatra-there; pravrittih-action; antah-prayojaka-vishesham-being within; vina-without; na-not; ghaõate-occurs; iti-thus; anupapatti-dvara-by logic; antaryami-the Supersoul; lakshyate-is seen.

As was said before, the presence of the Supersoul is understood in two ways. Because the living entities are not independent in their actions and in their encounters with either pleasure or pain, and because the living entities cannot act without external help, one can understand by logic and intelligence that the Supersoul must exist.

Text 5

esha hy anenatmana cakshusha darshayati. srotrena shravayati. manasa manayati. buddhya bodhayati. tasmad etav ahuh shritir ashritih iti bhallaveya-shrutish ca.

esha-He; hi-indeed; anena-by this; atmana-atmana; cakshusha-by the eyes; darshayati-shows; srotrena-by the ears; shravayati-causes to hear; manasa-by the mind; manayati-causes to think; buddhya-by the intelligence; bodhayati-teaches; tasmad-from that; etav-these two; ahuh-said; shritih-going; ashritih-not going; iti-thus; bhallaveya-shrutih-the Bhallaveya-sruti; ca-also.

Here the word "atmana" means "by eyes". By giving him eyes, the Supersoul enables the individual soul to see. By giving him ears He enables the soul to hear, by giving him a mind He enables the soul to think, and by giving intelligence He enables the soul to understand. This is confirmed by the following words of the Bhallava-shruti: "shritir ashritih".

Text 6

atha tasmai cantaryamitvaishvaryaya teshu yadi sarvamshenaiva pravishati. ko 'pi paras tada svatah purnatvabhavad anishvaratvam eva syad ity anupapatti-dvarantaryami-rupena tasyamshena bhagavan api lakshitah.

atha-now; tasmai-to that; ca-and; antaryamitva-the statusa of the Supersoul; aishvaryaya-to the opulence; teshu-in them; yadi-if; sarvamshena-with a part of all; eva-indeed; pravishati-inter; ko 'pi-someone; parah-the Supreme; tada-then; svatah-personally; purnatva-perfection; abhavad-because of the absence; anishvaratvam-not being the Supreme Personality of Godhead; eva-indeed; syat-is; iti-thus; anupapatti-dvara-by intelligence; antaryami-of the Supersoul; rupena-by the form; tasya-of Him; amshena-by a part; bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; api-also; lakshitah-is seen.

Also, by seeing that the Supersoul has entered all living beings, one can understand that these Supersouls are all expansions or parts of a great person. In this way one can infer the existence of the Supreme Personality of Godhead.

Text 7

ata eva shri-gitopanishatsu athava bahunaitena

kim jnatena tavarjuna

vishöabhyaham idam kritsnam ekamshena sthito jagat. iti.

ata eva-therefore; shri-gitopanishatsu-in Bhagavada-gita; athava-or; bahuna-many; etena-by this kind; kim-what?; jnatena-knowing; tava-your; arjuna-O Arjuna; vishöabhya-entire; aham-I; idam-this; kritsnam-all manifestation; eka-one; amshena-part; sthitah-situated; jagat-in the universe; iti-thus.

That the Supersoul is a partial expansion of the Supreme Lord is confirmed by the Lord Himself in these words (Bhagavad-gita 10.42):

"But what need is there, Arjuna, for all this detailed knowledge? With a single fragment of Myself I pervade and support this entire universe."*

Text 8

vishnu-purane ca sva-shakti-leshavrita-bhuta-sargah iti.

vishnu-purane-in the Vishnu Purana; ca-qand; sva-shakti-leshaa-with a fragment of His power; avrita-pervaded; bhuta-sargah-the material world; iti-thus.

This is also confirmed by the following words of Shri Vishnu Purana:

"Manifesting only a fragment of His power, the Supreme Personality of Godhead pervades the material world."

Text 9

tatha jiva-prayojaka-kartri-preritavyaparah. asvatantryat. takshadi-karma-kara-jana-vad ity evam antaryamini tattve vyapti-dvara siddhe punas tenaiva bhagavan api sadhyate. tuccha-vaibhava-jivantaryami-svarupam ishvara-tattvam nijamshi-tattvashrayam. tathaiva paryapteh. raja-prabhutvashrita-takshadi-karma-kara-prayojaka-prabhutvadi-vad iti.

tatha-so; jiva-the individual spiri souls; prayojaka-impelling; kartri-the doer; prerita-sent; vyaparah-actions; asvatantryat-because of not being independent; taksha-cutting wood; adi-beginning with; karma-actions; kara-doing; jana-people; vat-like; iti-thus; evam-thus; antaryamini-in the Supersoul; tattve-ijn the truth; vyapti-dvara-by the manifestation; siddhe-proved; punah-again; tena-by that; eva-indeed; bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; api-also; sadhyate-is attained; tuccha-insignificant; vaibhava-power; jiva-souls; antaryami-svarupam-the form of the Supersoul; ishvara-tattvam-the nature of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; nijamshi-His own parts; tattva-truths; ashrayam-the shelter; tatha-so; eva-indeed; paryaptehattained; raja-of a king; prabhutva-the state of being a master; ashrita-taken shelter; taksha-cutting wood; adi-beginning with; karma-actions; kara-doing; prayojaka-impelling; prabhutva-matsery; adi-beginning with; vat-like; iti-thus.

the individual spirit souls are dependent on others in the course of their activities, such as chopping wood or a host of other activities. They are not independent. In this way the existence of the Supersoul is proved, and it is also proved that the Supersoul is a partial expansion of the original Supreme Personality of Godhead. As an ordinary person is subject to the rule of a king of a country, even more so is the individual spirit soul subject to the rule of the Supreme Personality of Godhead.

Text 10

athavatra

yathendriyaih prithag dvarair artho bahu-gunashrayah
eko naneyate tadvad
bhagavan shastra-varmabhih athava-or; atra-here; yatha-as; indriyaih-by the senses; prithag-dvaraih-in different ways; arthah-an object; bahu-guna-many qualities; ashrayah-endowed with; ekah-one; nana-differently; iyate-is perceived; tadvat-similarly; bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; shastra-varmabhih-according to different scriptural injunctions.

The Supreme Personality of Godhead and His many direct expansions, such as His expansion of the Supersoul, is described in these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (3.32.33):

"A single object is appreciated differently by different senses due to its having different qualities. Similarly, the Supreme Personality of Godhead is one, but according to different scriptural injunctions He appears to be different."*

Text 11

ity evodaharaniyam. anenaiva gati-samanyam ca sidhyatiti. shri-shukah. pratyavasthapitam vadanti-ity-adi padyam.

iti-thus; eva-certainly; udaharaniyam-to be said; anena-by this; eva-indeed; gati-samanyam-equal paths; ca-and; sidhyati-is proved; iti-thus; shri-shukah-Shri Suka; pratyavasthapitam-established; vadanti-ity-adi padyam-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.2.11.

Thus it is proved that all the forms of the Lord are the same person, the same Supreme Personality of Godhead. The verse quoted in the beginning of this anuccheda was spoken by Shrila Shukadeva Gosvami. These truths are also confirmed by the following words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (1.2.11):

"Learned transcendentalists who know the Absolute Truth call the non-dual substance Brahman, Paramatma, or Bhagavan."*

Thus ends Shri Paramatma-sandarbha.

Shri Krishna-sandarbha

Some Words of Acknowledgement tau santoshayata santau shrila-rupa-sanatanau dakshinatyena bhattacha punar etad vivicyate tasyadyam granthana-lekham kranta-vyutkranta-khanditam paryalocyatha paryayam kritva likhati jivakah tau-them; santoshayata-pleasing; santau-saintly devotees; shrila-rupa-Shrila Rupa Gosvami; sanatanau-and Shrila Sanatana Gosvami; dakshinatyena-from south India; bhattacha-by Shrila Gopala Bhatöa Gosvami; punar-again; etad-this; vivicyate-is described; tasya-his; adyam-original; granthana-lekham-writing; kranta-vyutkranta-various fallacious arguments; khanditam-refuting; paryalocya-considering; atha-now; paryayam-systematic arrangement; kritva-having done; likhati-writes; jivakah-Jiva Gosvami.

Shrila Gopala Bhaööa Gosvami, the great philosopher from the southern provinces who greatly pleased Shrila Rupa Gosvami and Shrila Sanatana Gosvami, left many valuable notes which defeat various philosophical misconceptions. Systematically arranging these notes, and considering their content, Jiva Gosvami writes this book, Krishna-sandarbha.

Anuccheda 1

Text 1

atha purvam sandarbha-trayena yasya sarva-paratvam sadhitam, tasya shri-bhagavato nirdharanaya sandarbho 'yam arabhyate.

atha-now; purvam-previously; sandarbha-trayena-by the three Sandarbhas; yasya-of whom; sarva-paratvam-the position as the ultimate phase of the absolute truth superior to everything and any other conception of God; sadhitam-conclusively demonstrated; tasya-of Him; shri-bhagavatah-the Personality of Godhead, full of all opulences and powers; nirdharanaya-for the specific description; sandarbhah-essay; ayam-this; arabhyate-is begun.

In the previous three sandarbhas the conception of God as the Supreme Person full of all powers and opulences is proved to be the ultimate phase of the Absolute Truth, superior to every other conception of God. This essay is written to give a specific description of that Supreme Personality of Godhead.

Sarva-samvadini Comment

atha iti nirdharanam. bahushv ekasya nirnayah atha iti-beginning with the word atha; nirdharanam-the word nirdharana; bahusu--among many; ekasya-of one; nirnayah- conclusion.

By the word nirdharana it is intended that Bhagavan is the ultimate feature of the Absolute Truth.

Text 2

atha tatra prathamasya dvitiye vadanti ityadina tad ekam eva tattvam brahmaditaya shabdyate ity uktam.

atha-now; tatra-in this connection; prathamasya-of the First Canto of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (1.2.11);

"Learned transcendentalists who know the Absolute Truth call this non-dual substance Brahman, Paramatma or Bhagavan."*

Text 3

tad eva brahmadi-trayam tasya tritiye vivicyate. brahma tv iha yatrema sad-asad-rupe pratishiddhe sva-samvida avidyayatmani krite

iti tad brahma-darshanam

tat-that; eva-certainly; brahma-adi-beginning with Brahman; trayam-three feature; tasya-of that; tritiye-in the Third Canto; vivicyate-is delineated; brahma-Brahman; tu-also; iha-here; yatra-whenever; ime-in all these; sat-asat-gross and subtle; rupe-in the forms of pratishiddhe-on being nullified; sva-samvida-by self-realization; avidyaya-by ignorance; atmani-in the self; krite-having been imposed; iti-thus; tat-that is; brahma-darshanam-the process of seeing the Absolute.

These three features of the Absolute are described in the Third Canto of Shrimad-Bhagavatam. The following verse (1.3.33) describes the Lord's Brahman feature:

"Whenever a person experience, by self-realization, that both the gross and subtle bodies have nothing to do with the pure self, at that time he sees himself as well as the Lord in His Brahman feature."*

Text 4

ity-adina tatra viviktam apy ekakaravirbhavataya samshayabhavat tat-tan-nirdharanartham tat-tad-vacanam niddhriyate.

iti-adina-by this and other verses; tatra-in this connection; viviktam-discerned; api-manifestation; samshaya- of doubt; abhavat-because of the absence; tat-tat-various; nirdharana of discrimination; arthamfor the purpose; tat-tat-various; vacanam-descriptions; na-not; uddhriyate-should be raised.

According to this verse and other descriptions in the Vedic literatures, the Brahman feature of the Absolute has only one unvariegated aspect, and therefore, without any doubt, it does not require an elaborate description in many words.

Text 5

shri-bhagavat-paramatmanos tu nanavirbhavatvat tani vacanani tat-tan-nirdharanartham uddhriyante.

shri-bhagavat-of the all-opulent Personality of Godhead; paramatmanoh-and of His localized expansion as the all-pervading Supersoul; tu-however; nana-variegated; avirbhavatvat-because of manifestation; tani vacanani-many words; tat-tat-various; nirdharana-of discriminations; artham- for the purpose; uddhriyantemay be raised.

However, the Paramatma and Bhagavan features of the Absolute manifest a great variety of qualitties, and therefore they require an elaborate description.

Text 6

tatreshvaro nirakaro nastiti pran niritam tatra-inthis connection; ishvarah-the Supreme Controller; nirakarah-without form or qualitties; na-not;

asti-is; prak-previously; niritam-conclusively demonstrated.

Here we may note that in the final conclusion the Supreme Controller is not without form and qualities.
This has been proved in the earlier portion of this book (the previous Sandarbhas).

Text 7

paramatma-shabdena ca sarvantaryami-purushah pratipaditas teshv eva sandarbhesu. tatha ca sati tasmins tritiyadyayarambhe evam abhashyam.

paramatma-shabdena-by the word Paramatma; ca-also; sarva-antaryami-all-pervading; purushah-Supreme Person; pratipaditah-described; teshu-in these; eva-certainly; sandarbhesu-in the Sandarbhas; tatha-in the same way; ca- also; sati-being; tasmin-in this; tritiya-adhyaya-of the Third Chapter; arambhe-in the endeavor; evam-in this way; abhashyam-I described.

The Paramatma, or all-pervading expansion of the Supreme Person present in everyone's heart and in every atom, I have already described in the Third Chapter (Paramatma-sandarbha) of this book.

Text 8

nanu purvam brahmaditaya tridhaiva tattvam ekam uktam tatra brahmanah kim lakshanam bhagavat-paramatmanor va, tatra tatra visheshah kashcid va kim astiti shri-shaunakadi-prashnam ashankya shri-suta uvaca nanu-Is it not so?; purvam-previously; brahma-adi-yaya- beginning with Brahman tridha-in three ways; eva-certainly; tattvam-the Absolute Truth; ekam-single; uktam-is described; tatra-in this connection; brahmanah-of Brahman; kim-what?; lakshanam-characteristic; bhagavat-of Bhagavan; paramatmanoh-of Paramatma; va-or; tatra tatra-in various points; visheshah-specific distinction; kashcit-certain; va- or; kim-what?; asti-is; iti-thus; shri-shaunaka-adi-of Shaunaka and the other sages; prashnam-query; ashankya-guessing; shri-sutah-Suta Gosvami; uvaca-said.

"Formerly you said that althout the Absolute Truth is one, It is manifestated in three features. What are the qualities of these three features: Brahman, Paramatma and Bhagavan?" Thimking that this question might arise in the minds of Shaunaka and the other sages, Suta Gosvami said (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.3.1):

Text 9

jagrihe paurusham rupam bhagavan mahad-adibhih sambhutam shodasha-kalam adau loka-sishrikshaya

jagrihe-accepted; paurusham-plenary portion as the purusha incarnation; rupam-form; bhagavan-the Personility of Godhead; mahad-adibhih-with the ingredients of the material world; sambhutam-thus there was the creation of; shodasha-kalam- sixteen primary principles; adau-in the beginning; loka-the universes; sishrikshaya-on the intention of creating.

"In the beginning of the creation, the Lord (Bhagavan) first expanded Himself in the universal form of the purusha incarnation and manifested all the ingredients for the material creation. And thus at first there was the creation of the sixteen principles of material action. This was for the purpose of creating the material universe."*

Text 10

yah shri-bhagavan purna-sad-aishvaryatvena purvam nirdishöah, sa eva paurusham rupam purushatvenamnayate yad rupam tad evadau sargarambhe jagrihe. prakrita-pralayeshv asmin linam sat-prakaöataya svi-kritavan.

yah-who; shri-bhagavan-Bhagavan; purna-full; sat- six; aishvarya-vena-by possessing the opulences; purvam- previously; nirdishöah-described; sah-he; eva-certainly; paurusham-of the Purusha incarnation; rupam-the form; purushatvena-as a person; amnayate-is considered; yat-which; rupam-form tat-that; eva-certainly; adau-in the beginning; sarva-arambhe-at the time of creation; jagrihe-accepted; prakrita-of the material manifestation; pralayeshu-at the times of dissolution; asmin-in Him; linam-dissappearance; sat--of reality; prakaöataya-by manifestation; svi-kritavan- accepted.

This verse says that Shri Bhagavan, who was described in the previous chapter as the possessor of six opulences in full perfection, accepts the personal form of the purusha incarnation at the beginning of the material creation. At the time of annihilation, the material world enters again within the purusha incarnation and only the eternal spiritual reality is manifest.

Text 11

kim artham? tatraha--loka-sishrikshaya. tasminn eva linanam lokanam samasti-vyasty-upadhi-jivanam sishrikshaya pradurbhavanartham ity arthah.

kim artham?-why?; tatra-in this connection; aha-he says; loka-the universes; sishrikshaya-on the intention of creating; tasmin-in Him; eva-certainly; linanam-of the merged; lokanam-universes; samsasti-distinct; vyasti-as one; upadhi-deceptively appearing; jivanam-of living entities; sishrkshaya-on the intention of creating; pradurbhavana-of manifesting; artham-for the purpose; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning.

The question may be raised: "Why does Bhagavan accept the form of the purusha-incarnation?" To answer this question. Suta Gosvami uses the word loka-sishrikshaya (for the purpose of creating the material universe). Along with the material universes, the eternally individual living entities entered the Lord's body at the time of devastation, and appeared to have become one with Him, although their individuality actually remained intact. In order to again manifest the living entities and universes, Bhagavan expands Himself as the purusha incarnation.

Text 12

kidrisham sat tad rupam linam asit tatraha--mahad-adibhih sambhutam militam antar-bhuta-mahad-adi-tattvam ity arthah.

kidrisham-like what?; sat-real; tat-that; rupam-form; linam-disappearance; asit-was; tatra-in this connection; aha-he says; mahat-adibhih-with the ingredients of the material world; sambhutam-thus there was the creation of; militam-assembled together; antah-bhuta-entered within; mahat-adi-ingredients of material creation; adi-beginning with; tattvam-principle; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning.

One may ask what form the material universes took when they became merged within the body of the purusha-incarnation. To answer this question, Suta Gosvami used the word "mahad-adibhih" (with the ingredients of the material world). The mahat-tattva and other ingredients of the material world were thus contained within the body of the purusha-incarnation.

Text 13

sambhuyambhodhim abhyeti mahanadyo nagapagah ity adau hi sambhavatir milanarthah. tatra hi mahad-adini linany asann iti.

sambhuya-having come into existence; ambhonidhim-the oceans; abhyeti-attains; maha-nadi-adyah-the great rivers; naga-from the mountains; apagah-flowing; iti-thus; adau- beginning; hi-certainly; sambhavatih-creation; milana- meeting; arthah-purpose; tatra-there; hi-certainly; mahat- the mahat-tattva; adini-etc.; linani-merged; asan- become; iti-thus.

The merging of the creation into the Supreme is described in the Vedic literatures: "The creation enters the Supreme as rivers flow from the mountains and enter the ocean." In this way the mahat-tattva and other ingredients of the material world enter the form of the purusha-incarnation.

Text 14

tad evam vishnos tu trini rupani ity adau mahat-srashöritvena prathamam purushakhyam rupam yacchayate, yac ca brahma-samhitadau karanarnavashayi-sankarshanatvena shruyate, tad eva jagrihe iti pratipaditam.

tat-therefore; evam in this way; vishnoh-of Vishnu; tu-certainly; trini-three; rupani-forms; iti-thus; adau-in the beginning; mahat-of the mahat-tattva; srashöritvena-by being the creator; prathamam-first; purusha-purusa incarnation; akhyam-named; rupam-form; yacchayate-is presented; yat- which; ca-also; brahma-samhita-in the Brahman-samhita; adau-and other Vedic literatures; karana-arnava-shayi- resting on the causal ocean; sankarshanatvena-as Lord Sankarshana; shruyate-is heard from authorized sources; tat-therefore; eva-certainly; jagrihe iti-the verse beginning with the word jagrihe; pratipaditam-is established.

The first purusha-incarnation is described as the original creator of the ingredients of the material world. This is confirmed in the Satvata Tantra:

"Vishnu, has three forms called purushas The first, Maha-Vishnu, is the creator of the total material energy (mahat), the second is Garbhodakashayi, who is situated within each universe, and the third is Kshirodakashayi, who lives in the heart of every living being."

That first purusha-incarnation, Lord Sankarshana, who lies down on the causal ocean is described in the Brahma-samhita and other Vedic literatures, as well as the verse beginning with the word "jagrihe" which was quoted in Text 9.

Text 15

punah kidrisham tad rupam. tatraha shidasha-kalam tat-shrishöy-upayogi-purna-shaktity arthah.

punah-again; kidrisham-like what?; tat-that: rupam- form; tatra-in this connection; aha-he explains; shodasha-kalam-with the 16 elements of creation; tat-that; shrishöi-for creation; upayogi-suitable; purna-perfect and complete; shakti-potencies; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning.

To further explain the nature of the Lord, Suta Gosvami uses the word "shodasha-kalam" (with the 16 elements of creation). This word shows that the Lord possesses all potencies required to manifest the material cosmos.

Text 16

tad evam yas tad rupam jagrihe, sa bhagavan. yat tu tena grihitam tat tu sva-shrijyanam ashrayatvat paramatmeti paryavasitam.

tat-that; evam-in this way; yah-who; tat-that; rupam- form; jagrihe-accepted; sah-He; bhagavan-Bhagavan; yat- because; tu-indeed; tena-by Him; grihitam-accepted; tat- therefore; tu-certainly; sva-shrijyanam-of that created by Him; ashrayatvat-because of being the shelter; parama-atma- Paramatma; iti-thus; paryavasitam-determined.

In conclusion, it is Bhagavan who accepts the form of the first purusha-incarnation (Karanodakashayi Vishnu) described in this verse (Text 9). When the Lord enters the universes He assumes the feature known as Paramatma.

Anuccheda 2

Text 1

tasya purusha-rupasya visarga-nidanatvam api pratipadayitum aha sardhena tasya-of Him; purusha-rupasya-in the form of the purusa incarnation; visarga-the secondary phase of creation; nidanatvam-the state of giving; api-also; pratipadayitum-to conclusively describe; aha-speaks; sardhena-the following one and a half verses.

To describe how the second purusha-incarnation arranges the activities of the secondary phase of creation within each universe, (Suta Gosvami) speaks the next one and a half verses (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.3.2-3):

Text 2

yasyambhasi shayanasya yoga-nidram vitanvatah nabhi-hradambujad asid

brahma vishva-shrijam patih yasyavayava-samsthanaih kalpito loka-vistarah

yasya-whose; ambhasi-in the water; shayanasya-lying down; yoga-nidram-sleeping in meditation; vitanvatah-ministering; na-bhi-navel; hrada-out of the lake; ambujat-from the lotus; asit-was manifested; brahma-the grandfather of the living beings; vishva-the universe; shrijam-the engineers; patih-master; yasya-whose; avayava-bodily expansion; samsthanaih- situated in; kalpitah-is imagined; loka-planets of inhabitants; vistarah-various;

"A part of the purusha lies down within the water of the universe. From the navel lake of His body sprouts a lotus stem, and from the lotus flower atop this stem, Brahma, the master of all engineers in the universe, becomes manifest. It is believed that all the universal planetary systems are situated on the extensive body of the purusha."*

Text 3

yasya purusha-rupasya dvitiyena vyuhena brahmandam pravishya ambhasi garbhodake shayanasyety adi yojyam.

yasya-of whom; purusha-rupasya-in the form of the purusha incarnation; dvitiyena in the second; vyuhena-expansion; brahma-andam-the material universe; pravishya-having entered; ambhasi-on the water; garbhodake-on the Garbhodaka ocean; shayanasya-resting; iti-thus; adi-beginning; yojyam- suitable.

This verse describes how the second purusha-incarnation (Garbhodakashayi Vishnu) enters the universes and lies down (shayanasya) on the Garbhodaka ocean (ambhasi).

Text 4

yasya ca tadrishatvena tatra shayanasya avayava-samsthanaih sakshac chri-caranadi-sanniveshair lokasya vistaro virad-akarah prapancha kalpitah.

yasya-of whom; ca-also; tadrishatvena-by the state of being like this; tatra-there; shayanasya-resting; avayava- bodily expansions; samsthanaih-situated in; sakshat- directly; shri-carana-of the lotus feet; adi-and other parts of the Lord's transcendental form; sanniveshaih-by contact; lokasya- of the material world; vistarah-the expansion; viraö-akarah-the universal form prapancha-the material cosmos; kalpitah-imagined.

In these verses the words "shayanasya" (resting) and "avayava-samsthanaih" (situated on the limbs of His transcendental form) show that the transcendental feet and other limbs of the Lord were spread throughout the material universe. Because of this entrance of the Lord into the universe it is sometimes considered that the entire universe is the body of the Lord (viraö-rupa).

Text 5

yatha tad-avayava-sanniveshas tathaiva patalam etasya hi pada-mulam ity adina navinopasakan prati manah-sthairyaya prakhyapitah, na tu vastutas tad eva yasya rupam ity arthah.

yatha-just as; tat-His; avayava-bodily expansion; sanniveshah-contact; tatha-in the same way; eva-certainly; patalam-the planets at the bottom of the universe; etasya-of His; hi-exactly; pada-mulam-soles of the feet; iti-thus; adina-beginning with; navina-neophyte; upasakan-devotees; prati-to; manah-of the mind; sthairyaya-for fixing; prakhyapitah-described; na-not; tu-but; vastutah-real; tat-that; eva-certainly; yasya-of Him; rupam-form; iti- thus; arthah-the meaning.

The entrance of the transcendental form of the Lord within the material universe is the cause of the conception of the universe as the Lord's form. This conception of the universal form if the Lord is described in the Shrimad-Bhagavatam (2.1.26):

"Persons who have realized it have studied that the planets known as Patala constitute the bottoms of the feet of the Universal Lord, and the heels and the toes are the Rasatala planets. The ankles are the Mahatala planets, and His shanks constitute the Talatala planets."*

This conception of the Lord's Universal form is meant to help the neophyte devotees fix their minds on the Lord's form. The Universal Form is not actually real. It is only an imagination.

Text 6

yad va, candrama manaso jatah ity arabhya padbhyam bhumir dishah shrotrat tatha lokan akalpayat iti shrutes tair hetu-bhutair loka-visöaro racita ity arthah.

yad va-perhaps; candramah-the moon; manasah-from the mind; jatah-born; iti-thus arabhya-beginning; padbhyam- with His two feet; bhumih-the earth; dishah-the directions; shrotrat-from the ear; tatha-in the same way; lokan-the varieties of material manifestation; akalpayat-created; iti- thus; shruteh-from the Shruti-shastra (Rg Veda 10.90.13-14); taih-by these; hetu-bhutaih-as the cause; loka-of the material world; vistarah-the expanse; racitah-created; iti- thus; arthah-the meaning.

The conception of the Lord's Universal Form may also be understood in the following way: Because the different varieties of the material manifestation have emanated from the different limbs of the Lord's form, the universe may be considered a form of the Lord. This is confirmed in the Vedic hymns:

"the moon is born from the mind of the Supreme Personality of Godhead."
-Rig Veda 10.90.13

"The Supreme Personality of Godhead created the earth from His two lotus feet. He created the different directions from His sense of hearing. He created the different parts of the material world from the parts of His transcendental body."
-Rig Veda 10.90.14

Text 7

tatha ca bharate moksha-dharme narayaniye garbhodake shayanasya rupantarena shvetadvipa-pater vakyam tatha-in the same way; ca-also; bharate-in the Mahabharata; moksha-dharme-in the Moksha-dharma; narayaniye-in the Narayaniya; garbha-udake-in the Garbhodaka ocean; shayanasya-resting; rupa-the form; antarena-by being within; shvetadvipa-pateh-of Lord Vishnu, the master of Shvetadvipa; vakyam-the statement.

In the Mahabharata's Moksha-dharma Narayaniya (Shanti-parva 339.12-14), Lord Garbhodakashayi Vishnu, in His form as the master of Shvetadvipa, confirms this explanation in the following verses:

Text 8

asman-murtish caturthi ya sashrijac chesham avyayam sa hi sankarshanah proktah pradyumnam so 'py ajijanat pradyumnad aniruddho 'ham sargo mama punah punah

aniruddhat tatha brahma tan-nabhi-kamalodbhavah brahmanah sarva-bhutani sthavarani carani ca

asmat-My; murtih-form; caturthi-fourth; ya-which; sa-it; ashrijat-created; shesham-Shesha; avyayam-imperishable; sah-He; hi-certainly; sankarshanah- Sankarshana; proktah-described; pradyumnam-to Pradyumna; sah-He; api-certainly; ajijanat-gave birth; pradyumnat- from Pradyumna; aniruddhah-Aniruddha; aham-I; sargah- creation; mama-My; punah puhah-again and again; aniruddhat- from Aniruddha; tatha-in the same way; brahma-Brahma; tat- from His; nabhi-from the navel; kamala-from the lotus flower; udbhavah-born; brahmanah-from Brahma; sarva-all; bhutani-material elements and living entities; sthavarani-non-moving; carani-and moving; ca-also.

"From My fourth expansion the eternal form of Lord Shesha is manifest. Then Lord Sankarshana is manifest and from Him Lord Pradyumna appears. From My appearance as Lord Pradyumna I again appear as Lord Aniruddha. From the lotus flower of Lord Aniruddha's navel, Brahma is born, and from Brahma all the material elements as well as the moving and non-moving living entities appear."

Text 9

tatraiva vedavyasah

paramatmeti yam prahuh sankhya-yoga-vido janah

maha-purusha-sam jnam sa labhate svena karmana tasmāt prasutam avyaktam pradhanam tad vidur budhah avyaktad vyaktam apannam loka-shrishöy-artham ishvarat aniruddho hi lokeshu mahan atmeti kathyate

yo shau vyaktatvam apanno nirmame ca pitamaham

paramatma-Paramatma; iti-thus; yam-whom; prahuh- describe; sankhya-yoga-vidah-learned in the sankhya-yoga philosophy; janah-persons; maha-purusha-of the Supreme Person; samjnam-name; sah-He; labhate-attains; svena-by His own; karmana-transcendental activities; tasmāt-from Him; prasutam-is born; avyaktam-unmanifest; pradhanam-primordial elements of material creation; tat-that; viduh-understand; budhah-those who are learned; avyaktat-from that unmanifested material nature; vyaktam-manifestation; apannam- attained; loka-of the material world; shrishöi-of the creation; artham-for the purpose; ishvarat-from the Supreme Controller; aniruddhah-Aniruddha; hi-certainly; lokeshu-within all living entities; mahan atma-the Supersoul; iti-thus; kathyate-is described; yah asau-He; vyaktatvam-manifestation; apannah-attained; nirmame-created; ca-also; pitamaham-Brahma.

Vedavyasa also explains:

"They who are learned in sankhya-yoga declare that Lord Aniruddha is the all-pervading Supersoul. Lord Sankarshana's transcendental deeds have expanded His reputation as the Supreme Personality of Godhead. The wise know that the unmanifest origins (pradhana) of material creation have emanated from Lord Sankarshana, and because of Him this original form of matter evolves into the manifest material world. Lord Aniruddha, the all-pervading Supersoul present in each universe, appears from Lord Sankarshana, and He creates Brahma, the grandfather of all living entities."

Text 10

tad evam sankarshanasya vaibhavam uktvaniruddhasyapy aha aniruddho hiti, lokeshu pratyekam brahmandeshu mahatma paramatma. vyaktatvam prakaöyam pradyumnad iti sheshah.

tat-therefore; evam-in this way; sankarshanasya-of Lord Sankarshana; vaibhavam-the glory; ukta-having described; niruddhasya-of Lord Aniruddha; api-also; aha-describes; aniruddhah-Aniruddha; hi-certainly; iti-thus; lokeshu-in the worlds; pratyekam-in each; brahmandesu-universe mahatma- the word mahatma; paramatma-is Paramatma; vyaktatvam- vyaktatvam; prakaöyam-manifestation; pradyumnat-from Pradyumna; iti-thus; sheshah-the remainder of the verse is clear.

The first part of this passage describes the glories of Lord Sankarshana, and the second part, beginning with the words "aniruddho hi", describes the glories of Lord Aniruddha. The word "lokeshu" means "in each universe" and the word "mahatma" means the all-pervading Supersoul (paramatma). The word "vyaktatvam" means "manifested from Lord Pradyumna." The rest of the verse is clear and requires no comment.

Text 11

sutena tv abheda-vivakshaya pradyumnah prithan noktah vishnos tu trini rupani itivat.

sutena-by Suta Gosvami; tu-indeed; abheda-the non-difference of the forms of Lord Vishnu; vivakshaya-with a desire to explain; pradyumanah-Lord Pradyumna; prithak- specifically; na-not; uktah-described; vishnos tu trini rupani-the verse beginning vishnos tu trini rupani; itivat-just as.

Because Suta Gosvami wanted to emphasize that all Vishnu-forms are actually the same single Personality of Godhead, he did not place Lord Pradyumna's name in this verse. The same reason prompted the author of Satvata Tantra to avoid specifically naming the various the various purusha-incarnations when he spoke the verse beginning "vishnos tu trini rupani" (which has been quoted in Anuccheda 1, Text 14).

Text 12

seyam prakriya dvitiyasya shashöhe drishyate, yatha-sa esha adyah purushah.

sa iyam-this same; prakriya-activity of creation; dvitiyasya-of the Second Canto of Shrimad-Bhagavatam; shashöhe-in the Sixth Chapter (verse 39) ; drishyate-is observed; yatha-just as; sah eshah adyah purushah-in the verse sa esha adyah purushah kalpe kalpe shrijaty ajah atmatmany atmanatmanam sa samyacchati pati ca.

The same description of the Supreme Personality of Godhead's creation of the material world is found in the following verse of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (2.6.39):

"The Supreme original Personlity of Godhead, Lord Shri Krishna, expanding His plenary portion as Maha-Vishnu, the first incarnation, creates this manifested cosmos, but He is unborn. The creation, however, takes place in Him, and the material substance and manifestations are all Himself. He maintains them for some time and absorbs them into Himself again."*

Text 13

ity adi-padye öika sa esha adyo bhagavan yah purushavataarah san shrishöy-adikam karoti ity esha.

iti-thus; adi-padye-in the first line of the verse; öika-commentary; sah eshah adyah-the phrase beginning with these words; bhagavan-refer to Bhagavan; yah-who is; purusha-avataarah-the purusha incarnation; san-being so; shrishti-adikam-the creation, maintenance and anihilation of the material world; karoti-performs; iti-thus; esha-the commentary.

In his commentary on the first line of this verse, Shridhara Svami explains:

"The phrase `sa esha adyah' refers to Bhagavan, the Supreme Personality of Godhead, who appears as the purusha-incarnation, and thus creates, maintains and annihilates the material worlds."

Text 14

evam adyo 'vatarah purushah parasya.

evam-in the same way; adyah avatarah purushah parasya-the verse adyo 'vatarah purushah parasya kalah svabhavah sad-asana-manash ca dravyam vikaro guna indriyani viraö svaraö sthasnu carishnu bhumnah.

The first purusha-incarnation is also described in Shrimad-Bhagavatam (2.6.42):

"Karanarnavashayi Vishnu is the first incarnation of the Supreme Lord, and He is the master of eternal time, space, cause and effects, mind, the elements, the material ego, the modes of nature, the senses, the universal form of the Lord, Garbhodakashayi Vishnu, and the sum total of all living beings, both moving and nonmoving."*

Text 15

ity atra öika parasya bhumnah purushah prakriti-pravartako yasya sahasra-shirsha ity ady ukto lila-vigraha sa adyo 'vatara ity esha.

iti-thus; atra-for this verse; öika-commentary; parasya-of the word parasya; bhumnah-means the Supreme Personality of Godhead; purushah-the word purusha prakriti-pravartakah yasya-means the creator of the material manifestation; sahasra-shirshah ity-adi-uktah-the verse sahasra-shirshah purushah sahasrakshah sahasra-pat sa bhumim vishvato vritvatyatishöhad dashangulam; lila-for pastimes; vigraha-form; sah-He; adyah avatarah-the word adyah avatarah; iti-thus; esa-it.

Shridhara Svami explains in his commentary:

"In this verse the word `parasya' means `of the Supreme Personality of Godhead' and the word `purushah' means `the purusha-incarnation, who creates the material world'.

"This first purusha-incarnation (Karanodakashayi Vishnu) is described in the Rig Veda (10.90.1): `The Supreme Personality of Godhead then appeared as the first purusha-incarnation, who had thousands of faces, eyes and feet. Expanding in all directions, the purusha-incarnation exceeded the dimensions of the universe by the measurement of ten fingers.'

"We may also note in the connection that the Lord accepts the form of the purusha-incarnation (adyo 'vatarah) in order to enjoy transcendental pastimes."

Text 16

tatha tritiyasya vimshe daivena ity adikam.

tatha-in the same way; tritiyasya-of the Third Canto of Shrimad-Bhagavatam; vimshe-in the Twentieth Chapter; daivena iti adikam-the verse daivena durvitarkyena parenanimishena ca jata-kshobhad bhagavato mahan asid guna-trayat.

In the same way, in Shrimad-Bhagavatam (3.20.12) it is said:

"When the equilibrium of the three modes of nature was agitated by the unseen activity of the living entity, by Maha-Vishnu, and by the force of time, the total material elements were produced."*

Text 17

so 'nu ity antam sa-öikam eva prakaranam atranusandheyam.

so 'nu-iti-antam-the verse so snuvishöo bhagavata yah shete salilashaye loka-samstham yatha-purvam nirname samsthaya svaya; sa-along with; öikam-the commentary of Shridhara Svami: yah salilashaye garbhodakasyantah shete tena bhagavatanuvishöo `dhishöhita san sa svaraö svaya samsthaya nama-rupadi-kramena; eva-certainly; ; prakaranam-subject for discussion; atra-in this matter; anusandheyam-should be carefully studied.

The next verse from Shrimad-Bhagavatam (3.20.27) along with Shridhara Svami's commentary, should be carefully studied.

Note: The verse and commentary are given below.

Shrimad-Bhagavatam: "When that Supreme Personality of Godhead who is lying on the Garbhodaka ocean entered the heart of Brahma, Brahma brought his intelligence to bear, and with the intelligence invoked he began to create the universe as it was before."*

Shridhara Svami's Commentary: "This verse explains that the Lord lies down on the waters (salilashaye) of the Garbhodaka ocean (garbhodakasyantah) and enters (adhishöhita) the heart of Brahma. By his own intelligence the seemingly independent Brahma then created all the forms and names of the material universe."

Text 18

tasmad viraötvena tad-rupam na vyakhyatam.

tasmat-from this study; viraötvena-as the Universal Form; tat-His; rupam-form; na-not; vyakhyatam-should be described.

From the study of this verse and commentary it will become clear that the Universal Form is not actually a form of the Lord.

Text 19

tasmaç ca vasudeva-sthaniyo bhagavan purushad anya evety ayatam.

tasmat-from this study; ca-also; vasudeva-sthaniyah- the Lord; s appearance as Vashudeva; bhagavan-His Bhagavan feature; purushat-from the purushaincarnation; anyah- different; eva-certainly; iti-thus; ayatam-follows.

From the careful study of this verse it will also become clear that the Lord's Bhagavan feature, who is also known as Vasudeva, is separately manifested from His appearance as the purusha-incarnations.

Anuccheda 3

Text 1

atha tasya rupa-dvayasya samanyata aika-vidhyena sva-rupam aha tad vai bhagavato rupam vishuddham sattvam urjitam iti.

atha-now; tasya-His; rupa-forms; dvayasya-of the two; samanyate-are the same; aika-vidhyena-with the same quality; sva-rupam-the Lord's form; aha-he describes; tat-vai-but that is; bhagavatah-of the Personality of Godhead; rupam- form; vishuddham-purely; sattvam-existence; urjitam- excellence; iti-thus.

These two forms (Bhagavan-Vasudeva and the purusha-incarnation) possess the same spiritual quality. This is described (by Suta Gosvami in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.3.3):

"The body of the Supreme Personality of Godhead is eternally in spiritual existence par excellence, and has nothing to do with the created material ingredients."*

Text 2

tat shri-bhagavatah paurusham rupam vai prasiddhau vishuddhorjita-sattvabhivyaktatvac chakti-svarupayor abhedac ca tad-rupam evety arthah.

tat shri-bhagavatah-the phrase tat shri-bhagavatah; paurusham-of the purusha incarnation; rupam vai-the phrase rupam vai; prasiddhau-in perfection; vishuddha-pure; urjita-excellence; sattva-existence; abhivyaktatvat-because of the manifestation; shakti-of the potency; svarupayoh-and of His own transcendental form; abhedat-because of non-difference; ca-also; tat-His rupam-form; eva-certainly; iti-

thus; arthah-the meaning.

In this verse the phrase "tad vai bhagavato rupam" describes the form of the purusha-incarnation. This verse describes the Lord's supremely pure spiritual form, which, in one sense, is not different from His transcendental potency.

Text 3

uktam dvitiam purusha-vyuham adhikritya svarupatvam tad-rupasya natah param parama yad bhavatah svarupam ity atra.

uktam-previously described; dvitiam-second; purusha-vyuham-purusha incarnation; adhikritya-with reference to; svarupatvam-the nature; tat-of His; rupasya-form; na-do not; atah-hereafter; parama-O Supreme; yat-that which; bhavatah-of Your Lordship; svarupam-eternal form; iti-thus; atra-in this connection.

The transcendental nature of the form of the Supreme Personality of Godhead is described in the following prayer offered by Brahma to Garbhodakashayi Vishnu (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 3.9.3):

"O my Lord, I do not see a form superior to Your present form of eternal bliss and knowledge."*

Text 4

vishuddham jadyamshenapi rahitam, svarupa-shakti-vrittivat. urjitam sarvato balavat, paramananda-rupatvat.

vishuddham-pure; jadya-of inert matter; amshena-by a fragment; api-even; rahitam-devoid; svarupa-of His own form; shakti-of the potency; vrittivat-because of existence; urjitam-powerful and glorious; sarvatah-under all conditions; balavat-powerful; parama-supreme; ananda-bliss; rupatvat- because of possessing a form.

In the Shrimad-Bhagavatam verse (1.3.3) quoted in Text 1, the word "vishuddham" (pure) means that because the Supreme Personality of Godhead has all transcendental potencies, He can therefore remain always pure and free from even the slightest trace material contamination. The word "urjitam" (powerful and glorious) means that because the Lord's form is full of supreme spiritual bliss, He remains always powerful and glorious and His spiritual prowess never becomes diminished under any circumstance.

Text 5

ko hy evanyat kah pranyad yad esha akasha anando na syat iti shruteh.

kah-who?; hi-certainly; eva-indeed; anyat-from another (from the material world); kah-who? pranyat-from transcendence; yat-if; eshah-He; akashah-the unlimited Personlility of Godhead; anandah-full of bliss; na-not; syat-is; iti-thus; shruteh-from the Taittiriya Upanishad (2.7.1).

The Taittiriya Upanishad (2.7.1) says:

"The Personality of Godhead must be full of transcendental bliss, for if He were not, then how would it be possible for anyone to find any kind of spiritual or even material happiness?"

Anuccheda 4

Text 1

tad evam purushasya dvidha sthana-karmani uktva svarupavad-akaram tv eka-prakaram aha tat-therefore; evam-in this way; purusashya-of the purusha incarnation; dvidha-in two ways; stana-place; karmani-and activities; uktva-having described; svarupavat-akaram-the Lord's transcendental form; tu-also; eka-one; prakaram-nature; aha-describes.

In the first three verses of the First Canto, Third Chapter of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (quoted in Anuccheda 1, Text 9, Anuccheda 2, Text 2, and Anuccheda 3, Text 1), the place of residence and the activities of the purusha-incarnation were described by Suta Gosvami. Then, in Verse 4, he described the Lord's transcendental form in the following way:

Text 2

pashyanty ado rupam adabhra-cakshusha sahasra-padoru-bhujanadbhutam sahasra-murdha-shravanakshi-nasikam sahasra-mauly-ambara-kundalollasat pashyanti-see; adah-the form of the purusha; rupam- form; adabhra-perfect; cakshusha-by the eyes; sahasra-pada- thousands of legs; uru-thighs; bhuja-anana-hands and faces; adbhutam-wonderful; sahasra-thousands of; murdha-heads; shravana-ears; akshi-eyes; nasikam-noses; sahasra- thousands; mauli-garlands; ambara-dresses; kundala-earrings; ullasat-all glowing.

"The devotees, with their perfect eyes, see the transcendental form of the purusha who has thousands of legs, thighs, arms and faces-all extraordinary. In that body there are thousands of heads, ears, eyes and noses. They are decoreated with thousands of helmets and glowing earrings and are adorned with garlands."*

Text 3

adah paurusham rupam, ahabhra-cakshusha bhakty-akhyena, purushah sa parah partha bhaktya labhyas tv ananayaya ity ukteh, bhaktir evainam nayati bhaktir evainam darshayati ity-adi-shrutesh ca.

adah-the form of the purusha; paurusham-of the purusha incarnation; rupam-form; adabhra-perfect; cakshusha-by the eyes; bhakti-akhyena-known as pure devotional service; purushah-the Supreme Personality; sah-He; parah-the Supreme, than whom no one is greater; partha-O son of Pritha; bhaktya-by devotional service; labhyah-can be achieved; tu- but; ananyaya-unalloyed, undeviating devotion; iti-thus; ukteh-from the statement; bhaktih-devotional service; eva- certainly; enam-Him; nayati-leads to; bhaktih-devotional service; eva-certainly; enam-Him; darshayati-reveals; iti- thus; adi-beginning; shruteh-from the shruti-shastra; ca- also.

In this verse the words "ado rupam" indicate the form of the purusha-incarnation, and the words "adabhra-cakshusha" mean "eyes made perfect by pure devotional service".

That one is able to see and understand the Supreme Personality of Godhead by the process of devotional service is confirmed by the following quotes:

"The Supreme Personality of Godhead, who is greater than all, is attainable by unalloyed devotion."*
-Bhagavad-gita 8.22

"Pure devotional service leads the worshiper to the Supreme Personality of Godhead and makes the Lord visible to His devotee."
-Shruti-shastra

Text 4

tatra prathamasya sahasrapad-aditvam paramatma-sandarbhe vyanjitam.

tatra-in this connection; prathamasya-of the first purusha incarnation; sahasrapad-aditvam-the Universal form with thousands of faces, eyes and feet; paramatma-sandarbhe-in the Paramatma Sandarbha; vyanjitam-has been elaborately described.

The Lord's Universal Form, manifested from the first purusha-incarnation, and displaying thousands of faces, eyes and feet, has already been described in the Paramatma-sandarbha.

Text 5

tritiyasyashöame tu dvitiya-purushasya vyuham upalakshya shri-maitreyena tritiyasya-of the Third Canto of Shrimad-Bhagavatam; ashöame-in the Eighth Chapter; tu-also; dvitiya-purushasya- of the second purusha incarnation; vyuham-the form; upalakshya-with reference to; shri-maitreyena-by Maitreya Muni.

In the following verses from the Third Canto, Eighth Chapter of Shrimad-Bhagavatam, Maiteya Muni describes the form of the second purusha-incarnation (Garbhodakashayi Vishnu).

Text 6

preksham kshipantam haritopaladreh sandhyabhra-niver uru-rukma-murdhnah ratnodadharaushadhi-saumanasya vana-srajo venu-bhujanghripanghreh preksham-the panorama; kshipantam-deriding; harita- green; upala-coral; adreh-of the hell; sandhya-abra-niveh- of the dress of the evening sky; uru-great; rukma-gold; murdhnah-on the summit; ratna-jewels; udadhara-waterfalls; aushadhi-herbs; saumanasya-of the scenery; vana-sraja-flower garland; venu-dress; bhuja-hands; anghripa-trees; anghreh-legs.

"The luster of the transcendental body of the Lord mocked the beauty of the coral mountain. The coral mountain is very beautifully dressed by the evening sky, but the yellow dress of the Lord mocked its beauty. There is gold on the summit of the mountain, but the Lord's helmet, bedecked with jewels, mocked it. The mountain's waterfalls, herbs, etc., with a panorama of flowers, seem like garlands, but the Lord's gigantic body, and His hands and legs, decorated with jewels, pearls, tulasi leaves and flower garlands, mocked the scene on the mountain."*

-3.8.24

Text 7

parardhya-keyura-mani-pravekaparyasta-dordanda-sahasra-shakham avyakta-mulam bhuvananghripendram ahindra-bhogair adhivita-valsham parardhya-very valuable; keyura-ornaments; mani-praveka-highly valuable jewels; paryasta-disseminating; dordanda-arms; sahasra-shakham-with thousands of branches; avyakta-mulam-self-situated; bhuvana-universal; anghripa- trees; indram-the Lord; ahi-indra-Anantadeva; bogaih-by hoods; adhivita-surrounded; valsham-shoulders.

"As a sandalwood tree is decorated with fragrant flowers and branches, the Lord's body was decorated with valuable jewels and pearls. He was the self-situated tree, the Lord of all others in the universe. And as a sandalwood tree is covered with many snakes, so the Lord's body was also covered by the hoods of Ananta."*

-3.8.29

Text 8

caracarauko bhagavan-mahidhram ahindra-bandhum salilopagudham kiriöa-sahasra-hiranya-shringam avirbhavat kaustubha-ratna-garbham cara-moving animals; acara-nonmoving trees; okah-the place or situation; bhagavat-the Personality of Godhead; mahidram-the mountain; ahi-indra-Shri Anantadeva; bandhum- friend; salila-water; upagudham-submerged; kiriöa-helmets; sahasra-thousands; hiranya-gold; shringam-peaks; avirbhavat-manifested; kaustubha-the Kaustubha jewel; ratna-garbham-ocean.

"Like a great mountain, the Lord stands as the abode for all moving and nonmoving living entities. He is the friend of the snakes because Lord Ananta is His friend. As a mountain has thousands of golden peaks, so the Lord was seen with the thousands of golden-helmeted hoods of Ananta-naga; and as a mountain is sometimes filled with jewels, so also His transcendental body was fully decorated with valuable jewels. As a mountain is sometimes submerged in the ocean water, so the Lord is sometimes submerged in the water of devastation."*

-3.8.30

Text 9

tatha navamasya caturdashe shri-shukena sahasra-shirasah pumso nabhi-hrada-saroruhah jatasyasit suto dhatuh atrih pitri-samo gunaih

tatha-in the same way; navamasya-of the Ninth Canto; catudash-in the fourteenth chapter; shri-shukena-by Shukadeva; sahasra-shirasah-who has thousands of heads; pumsah-of Lord Vishnu (Garbhodakashayi Vishnu); nabhi-hrada-saroruhah- from the lotus produced from the lake of the navel; jatasya-who appeared; asit-there was; suto-a son; dhatuh-of Lord Brahma; atri-by the name Atri; pitri-samah-like his father; gunaih-qualified.

In Shrimad-Bhagavatam (9.14.2) Shukadeva Gosvami says:

"Lord Vishnu (Garbhodakashayi Vishnu) is also known as Sahasra-shirsha Purusha. From the lake of His navel sprang a lotus, on which Lord Brahma was generated. Atri, the son of Lord Brahma, was as qualified as his father."*

Text 10

tatra shri-bhagavantam sushöhu spashöi-kartum garbhodakasthasya dvitiasya purushasya vyuhasya nanavatatvam vivrinoti tatra-in this matter; shri-bhagavantam-Shri Bhagavan ; sushthu-nicely; spashöi-kartum-to clarify; garbhodakasthasya- resting on the Garbhodaka ocean; dvitiasya-of the second; purushasya-purusha incarnation; vyuhasya-of the form; nana- various; avatatvam-the source of the other incarnation; vivrinotidescribes.

in order to clarify the exact nature of Shri Bhagavan, Suta Gosvami says that the second purusha-incarnation (Garbhodakashayi Vishnu) is the origin from whom the other incarnations of Godhead emanate. He says (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.3.5):

Anuccheda 5

Text 1

etan nanavataranam
nidhanam bijam avyayam yasyamshamshena shriyante deva-tiryan-naradayah

etat-this (form); nana-multifarious; avataranam-of the incarnations; nidhanam-source; bijam-seed; avyayam- indestructible; yasya-whose; amsha-plenary portion; amshena- part of the plenary portion; shriyante-create; deva-demigods; tiryak-animals; nara-adayah-human beings and others.

"This form [the second manifestation of the purusha] is the source and indestructible seed of multifarious incarnations within the universe. From the particles and portions of this form, different living entities, like demigods, men and others, are created."*

Text 2

etat iti brahmamda-stham ity arthah. nidhanam sarovaranam samudra iva sadaivashrayah. ata evavyayam anapakshayam bijam udgama-sthanam. na kevalam avataranam bijam jivanam apity aha-yasyamshamsheneti.

etat-this; iti-thus; brahmamda-stham-situated in the material universe; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; nidhanam- the word nidhanam; sarovaranam-of bodies of water; samudrah-the ocean; iva-as; sada-always; ashrayah-the shelter; ata eva-therefore; avayam-the word avayam (this); anapakshayam-imperishable; bijam-the word bijam (seed); udgama-sthanam-place of origin; na-not; kevalam-exclusively; avataranam-of the incarnations; bijam-the seed; jivanam- of the individual living entities; api-also; iti-thus; aha-he describes. yasya amsa-amsena iti-by the phrase yasyamshamshena.

In the verse the word "etat" means "that form which is situated within the material universe". The word "nidhanam" indicates that Garbhodakashayi Vishnu is the source of all other incarnations of the Supreme Lord just as the ocean is the large reservoir of water, which is the original source of the other smaller bodies of water. The word "avyayam" means "indestructible" and the word "bijam" means "origin".

The second purusha-incarnation is not only the source of the vishnu-tattva forms of the Supreme Lord, but is also the source of the individual living entities (jivas). This is confirmed by the phrase "yasyamshamshena".

Text 1

etat iti yasya shaktitvenamshau prakriti-shuddha-samashöi-jivau. tayor amshena parampara-samyuktena vritti-samuha-dvayena

na ghaöata udbhavah prakriti-purushayor ajayor
ubhaya-yuja bhavanty asu-bhrito jala-budbudavat ity uktatvat.

etat iti-the verse beginning with the word etat (Bhagavatam 10.87.31) yasya-of whom; shaktitvena-by the state of the two potencies; amshau-two parts; prakriti-shuddha-samasti-of the material energy; jivau-and the individual living entitiy; tayoh-of them; amshena-by the part and parcel; parampara-series; sam yuktena-endowed; vritti-samuha-of activities; dvayena-by the pair; na-not; ghaöate-occurs; udbhavah-manifestation; prakriti-of the material energy; purushayoh-and the ocntroller; ajayoh-unborn; ubhaya-with both; yuja-endowed; bhavanti-are; asu-bhritah-living entities; jala-of water; budbhudavat-like bubbles; iti-thus; uktatvat-from the statement.

That the Supreme Lord is the creator of the individual living entities (jivas) is confirmed by the following statement of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.87.31):

"The living entities are created by the contact of the Supreme Controller with His material energy, just as bubbles and foam are produced on the surface of the water."*

Anuccheda 6

Text 1

atha pracuryena tad-avataran kathayams tad-aikya-vivakshaya tad-amshamshinam apy avirbhava-matram ganayati vimsatya

atha-now; pracuryena-elaborately; tat-His; avataran- incarnations; kathayan-describing; tat-His; aikya-non- difference; vivakshaya-with a desire to explain; tat-of Him; amsha-of the parts; amshinam-of the parts; api-also; avirbha/va-manifestation; matram-only; ganayati-enumerates; vimshatya-by twenty.

Although desiring to elaborately describe the innumerable incarnations of the Supreme Personality of Godhead (vishnu-tattva), and His potencies (jiva-tattva), Suta Gosvami briefly summarizes the list of these incarnations, and only describes twenty incarnations in this chapter of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (Canto One, Chapter Three).

Text 2

sa eva prathamam devah kaumaram sargam ashritah cacara dushcaram brahma brahmacaryam akhanditam sah-that; eva-certainly; prathamam-first; devah- Supreme Lord; kaumaram-named Kumaras (unmarried); sargam- creation; ashritah-under; cacara-performed; dushcaram-very difficult to do; brahma- in the order of Brahman; brahmacaryam- under discipline to realize the Absolute (Brahman); akhanditam-unbroken.

The description of the Lord's incarnations begins with the following verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.3.6):

"First of all, in the beginning of creation, there were the four unmarried sons of Brahma [the Kumaras], who, being situated in a vow of celibacy, underwent severe austerities for realization of the Absolute Truth."*

Text 3

yo 'mbhasi shayano yash ca sahasra-pad-adi-rupah sa eva purushakhyo devah. ete camsha-kalah pumsah ity upasamharasyapi samvadat. kaumaram catuhsana-rupam. brahma brahmano bhutva.

yah-who; ambhasi-on the Garbhodaka ocean; shayanah- resting; yah-who; ca-also; sahasra-pat-of the Universal Form with thousands of faces and feet; adi-beginning with; rupah- with forms; sah eva-He indeed; purusha-akhyah-known as the purusha incarnation; devah-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; ete camshah kalah pumsah-the verse beginning with the phrase ete camsha-kala-pumsah; iti-thus; upasamharsya-of the conclusion; api-also; samvadat-from the statement; kaumaram-the word kaumaram; catuhsana-rupam- consisting of the Four Kumaras; brahma-the word brahma; brahmanah-qualified Brahmanas; bhutva-having become.

In this stanza the phrase "sa eva devah" refers to the second purusha incarnation who lies down on the Garbhodaka ocean and who appears in many forms, beginning with the Universal Form who manifests thousands of faces and thousands of feet. At the conclusion of this summary account of the Lord's incarnations, Suta Gosvami explains (1.3.28):

"All the above-mentioned incarnations are either plenary portions or portions of the plenary portions of the Lord, but Lord Shri Krishna is the original Personality of Godhead."*

We may also note that the word "kaumaram" in this verse refers to the Four Kumaras, and the word "brahma" means "having become qualified brahmanas".

Anuccheda 7

dvitiyam tu bhavayasya rasatala-gatam mahim uddharishyann upadatta yajneshah saukaram vapuh

asya vishvasyodbhavaya

dvitiyam-the second; tu-but; bhavaya-for the welfare; asya-of this earth; rasatala-of the lowest region; gatam- having gone; mahim-the earth; uddharishyan-lifting; upadatta-established; yajeshah-the proprietor or the supreme enjoyer; saukaram-hoggish; vapuh-incarnation; asya-of this; vishvasyo-universe udbhavaya-for the welfare.

The Lord's second incarnation is described in Shrimad-Bhagavatam (1.3.7):

"The supreme enjoyer of all sacrifices accepted the incarnation of a boar [the second incarnation], and for the welfare of the earth He lifted the earth from the nether regions of the universe."*

We may note that the Lord accepted this incarnation for the welfare of the earth.

Sarva-samvadini Comment

Text 1

dvitiyam ity anena prithivy-uddharanam dvir api kritam. lila-sajatyena tv ekavad varnyate.

dvitiyam iti-the verse beginning with the word dvitiyam; anena-by this; prithivi-of the earth; uddharanam-lifting; dvih-twice; api-even; kritam-done; lila-of the pastime; sajatyena-because of sameness; tu- although; ekavat-as one; varnyate-is described.

Although the Lord assumed the form of a boar and lifted the earth on two separate occasions, these two incarnations of the Lord as described together, because they performed almost exactly the same pastime.

Text 2

purvam hi svayambhuva-manvantaradau prithivi-majjane tam uddharishyan pashcac ca shashöha-manvantara-jata-pracetasa-daksha-kanyaya aditer garbhodbhavana hiranyakshena saha yuddhe 'shöama-manvantara-jata-prithivi-majjane tam uddharishyann ity arthah.

purvam-in the beginning; hi-certainly; svayambhuva-of Svayambhuva manvantara-of the Manvantara; adau-in the beginning; prithivi-of the earth; majjane-in the immersion; tam-the earth; uddharishyan-lifting; pashcat-afterwards; ca-also; sashöha-in the sixth; manvantara-manvantara period; jata-born; pracetasa-daksha-of the progenitor Daksha; kanyayah-of the daughter; diteh-of Diti; garbha-from the womb; udbhavena-born; hiranyakshena-Hiranyaksha; saha- with; yuddhe-in the fight; ashöama-in the eighth; manvantara- manvantara period; jata-produced; prithivi-of the earth; majjane-in the immersion; tam-the eart; uddharishyan-lifting; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning.

In the beginning of the creation, during the reign of Svayambhuva Manu, the Lord first assumed the form of a boar to lift the earth, which had fallen into the waters of the Garbhodaka ocean. Later, the progenitor Daksha, who was born in the reign of the sixth Manu, gave birth to a daughter named Diti who in turn became the mother of the demon Hiranyaksha. During the reign of the sixth Manu, the Lord assumed the form of a boar for the second time, fought with Hiranyaksha, and again lifted the earth from the Garbhodaka ocean.

Text 3

tatradau vidher ghrianad ante nirat iti puranantaram ayam kvacic catuspat syat kvacit syan nri-varahakah kadacij jalada-shyamah kadacic candra-pandurah tatra-in this connection; adau-in the beginning; vidheh-of Brahma; ghranat-from the nostril; ante-in the end; nirat-from the water; iti-thus; purana-antaram-within the Puranas; ayam-He; kvacit-sometimes; catuspat-in the form of a four-legged animal; syat-may appear; kvacit-sometimes; syat-may appear; nri-varahakah-as a boar; kadacit- sometimes; jalada-as a rain-cloud; shyamah-dark; kadacit- sometimes; candra-as the moon; pandurah-pale.

The Lord's incarnations are summarily described in this verse from the Puranas:

"In the beginning of the creation the Lord appeared from Brahma's nostril (as Varaha), and at the end of the creation He appeared as a fish in the water (as Matsya)."

The following explanation also appears in the Puranas:

"The Supreme Personality of Godhead sometimes assumes the form of a four-legged animal, and sometimes He appears as a boar. Sometimes His form is white as the moon, and sometimes it is dark as a monsoon cloud."

Text 4

uktash ca pralayash cakshushadau devadi-shrishöish ca caturthe cakshushe tv antare prapte prak-sarge kala-vidrute yah sasara praja ishöh sa daksho daiva-coditah

uktah-described; ca-also; pralayah-annihilation; cakshusha-adau-in the beginning of the reign of Cakshusha Manu; deva-of the demigods; adi-beginning with; shrishöh- creation; ca-also; caturthe-in the Fourth Canto of Shrimad-Bhagavatam; cakshushe-named Cakshusha; tu-but; antare-the manvantara; prapte-when it happened; prak-previous; sarge- creation; kala-vidrute-destroyed in due course of time; yah- one who; sasarja-created; prajah-living entities; ishōah- desirable; sah-he; dakshah-Daksha; daiva-a-by the Supreme Personality of Godhead; coditah-inspired.

Although everything had been destroyed at the end of the fifth Manu's reign, in the beginning of Cakshusha's (the sixth Manu) reign, Daksha (the grandfather of Lord Varaha's opponent, Hiranyaksha) helped to re-create the class of living entities known as demigods. This is confirmed in the Shrimad-Bhagavatam (4.30.49):

"His previous body had been destroyed, but he, the same Daksha, inspired by the supreme will, created all the desired living entities in the Cakshusha manvantara."*

Anuccheda 8

Text 1

tritiyam rishi-sargam vai devarshitvam upetya sah tantram satvatam acashōa naishkarmyam karmanam yatah tritiyam-the third one; rshi-sargam-the millennium of the rishis; vai-certainly; devarshitvam-incarnation of the rishi amongst the demigods; upetya-having accepted; sah-he; tantram-exposition of the vedas; satvatam-which is especially meant for devotional service; acashōa-collected; naishkarmyam-nonfruitive; karmanam-of work; yatah-from which.

The third incarnation is described in Shrimad-Bhagavatam (1.3.8):

"In the millennium of the rishis, the Personality of Godhead accepted the third empowered incarnation in the form of Devarshi Narada, who is a great sage among the demigods. He collected expositions of the Vedas which deal with devotional service and which inspire nonfruitive action."*

Text 2

rishi-sargam upetya tatrapī devarshitvam śhri-naradatvam upetya. satvatam vaiṣṇavam tantram pancaratragamam. karmanam karmakarenapi satam śhri-bhagavad-dharmanam yatas tantran naishkarmyam karma-bandha-mocakatvena karmabhyo nirgatatvam tebhyo bhinnatvam pratiyata iti sheshah.

rishi-sargam upetya-these words; tatrapī-nevertheless; devarshtitvam-this word; śhri-naradatvam-the state of being Narada Muni; upetya-in relation to; satvatam-this word; vaiṣṇavam-in relation to Lord Vishnu; tantram-Tantra; pacaratra-agamam-the Narada-pancaratra; karmanam-this word; karma-of karma; akarena-with form; api-although; satam-of the transcendental śhri-bhagavat-dharmanam- activities of devotional service to the Lord; yatah-this word; tantrat-from this scripture; naishkarmyam-this word; karma-of karma; bandha-of the bondage; mocakatvena-because of releasing; karmabhyah-from karma; nirgatatvam-the state of having left; tebhyah-of them; bhinnatvam-the state of being different; pratiyate-is known; iti-thus; sheshah-the remainder of the verse.

In this verse the word "rishi-sargam" means "the millenium of the rishis", and the word "devarshitvam" refers to Narada. The words "tantram satvatam" means the Vaishnava scripture Narada-pancaratra. "karmanam" means "the transcendental activities of devotional service". The words "naishkarmyam yatah" explain that the activities of devotional service release the performer from the bondage of karmic reaction, and are therefore very different from ordinary material activities."*

Anuccheda 9

Text 1

turye dharma-kala-sarge
nara-narayanav rishi
bhutvatmopashamopetam
akarot dushcaram tapah

turye-in the fourth of the line; dharma-kala-wife of Dharmaraja; sarge-being born of; nara-narayanau-named Nara and Narayana; rishi-sages; bhutva-becoming; atma-upashama-controlling the senses; upetam-for achievement of ; akarot-undertook; dushcaram-very strenuous; tapah-penance.

The Lord's fourth incarnation is described in Shrimad-Bhagavatam (1.3.9):

"In the fourth incarnation, the Lord became Nara and Narayana, the twin sons of the wife of King Dharma. Thus He undertook severe and exemplary penances to control the senses."*

Sarva-samvadini Comment

turye iti dharmasya bhagavata-mukhyasya kalayah shraddha-pushöy-adi-sahityena paöhityayah shri-bhagavac-chakti-lakshanaya muktesh ca sarge pradurbhave. anayor ekavataratvam hari-krishnabhyam sodarabhyam api saha.

turye iti-in the verse beginning with the word turye; dharmasya-of Dharma; bhagavata-mukhyasya-the great devotee of the Lord; kalayah-of the wife; shraddha-ushöi-adi-sahityena-with great faith and learning; paöhityayah- learned; shri-bhagavat-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; shakti-lakshanayah-empowered with the potency; mukteh- named Mukti; ca-also; sarge-the word sarge; pradurbhave- appeared; anayoh-of the two of them; eka-avataratvam-the state of being a single incarnation; hari-krishnabhyam-Nara Narayana Rishis; sodarabhyam-two brothers; api-and; saha- with.

In this verse, which begins with the word "turye", the word "dharma" is the name of a great devotee of the Lord, and the word "kalayah" refers to Mukti-devi, his faithful, learned wife, who was full of all good qualities and specifically empowered by the Personality of Godhead. The word "sarge" means that the Lord appeared as Nara Narayana Rishis, the two sons of Dharma and Mukti.

Anuccheda 10

pancamah kapilo nama
siddheshah kala-viplutam provacasuraye sankhyam tattva-grama-vinirnayam

asuri-namne vipraya

pancamah-the fifth one; kapilah-Kapila; nama-of the name; sid-dheshah-the foremost amongst the perfect; kala- time; viplutam-lost; provaca-said; asuraye-unot the brahmana named Asuri; sankhyam-metaphysics; tattva-grama- the sum total of the creative elements; vinirnayam-exposition; asuri-Asuri; namne-named; vipraya-to the Brahamana.

The Lord's fifth incarnation is described in the Shrimad-Bhagavatam (1.3.10)

"The fifth incarnation, named Lord Kapila, is foremost among perfected beings. He gave an exposition of the creative elements and metaphysics to Asuri Brahmana, for in course of time this knowledge had been lost."*

Sarva-samvadini Comment

pancamah iti

kapilo vasudevakhya tattvam sankhyam jagada ha brahmadibhyash ca devebhyo bhrigu-adibhyas tathaiva ca tathaivasuraye sarvavedarthair upabrimhitam sarva-veda-viruddham ca kapilo 'nyo jagada ha sankhyam asuraye 'nyasmai kutarka-paribrimhitam

pancamah iti-in this verse beginning with the word pancamah; kapilah-Lord Kapilah; vasudeva-akhyah-known as Vasudeva; tattvam-philosophy; sankhyam-sankhya; jagada ha-spoke brahma-adibhyah-headed by Brahma; ca-and; devebhyah-to the demigods; bhrigu-adibhyah-headed by Bhrgu; tatha-in same way; eva-certainly; ca-also; tatha-in the same way; eva-certainly; asuraye-to Asuri Brahmana; sarva-veda-of all the Vedas; arthaih-by the conclusions; upabrimhitam-substantiated; sarva-veda-all Vedic instructions; viruddham-opposed; ca-also; kapilah anyah-another Kapila; jagada ha-spoke; sankhyam-sankhya philosophy; asuraye anyasmai-to another Asuri Brahmana; kutarka-with faulty logic; paribrimhitam-expanded.

The original Lord Kapila, and a later imposter who assumed the same name, are both described in the following verses of Padma Purana:

"The Supreme Personality of Godhead appeared as Lord Kapila and spoke the original Sankhya philosophy, which eloquently presents the same philosophy expounded in all the Vedic literatures. This incarnation of the Lord instructed the Brahmana Asuri, many great demigods headed by Brahma, and many sages, headed by Bhrgu.

"An imposter later assumed the name Kapila and spoke an illogical, atheistic theory opposed to the Vedas. He spoke this theory, to his disciple named Asuri, and claimed his atheism to be the actual Sankhya philosophy. In this way there are two contradictory philosophies, both bearing the same name of Sankhya."

Anuccheda 11

Text 1

shashöham atrer apatyatvam vritah prapto `nasuyaya anvikshikim alarkaya prahladadibhya ucivan

shashtham-the sixth one; atreh-of Atri; apatyatvam- sonship; vritah-being prayed for; praptah-obtained; anasuya; anvikshikim-on the subject of transcendence; alarkaya-unto Alarka; prahlada-adibhyah-unto Prahlada and others; uvivan-spoke.

The sixth incarnation is described in Shrimad-Bhagavatam (1.3.11):

"The sixth incarnation of the purusha was the son of the sage Atri. He was born from the womb of Anasuya, who prayed for an incarnation. He spoke on the subject of transcendence to Alarka, Prahlada and others [Yadu, Haihaya, etc]."*

Text 2

atrina tat-sadrisha-putrotpatti-matram prakaöam yacitam iti. caturtha-skandhady-abhiprayah.

atrina-by Atri Muni; tat-Him; sadrisha-like; putra-of a son; utpatti-matram-appearing; prakaöam-manifested; yacitam-begged; iti-thus; caturtha-skandha-of the Fourth Canto of Shrimad-Bhagavatam; abhiprayah-meaning.

The Fourth Canto of Shrimad-Bhagavatam relates the story of Atri Muni's prayer to have a son exactly like the Supreme Personality of Godhead.

Text 3

etad-vakyenanasuyaya tu dadacit sakshad eva shrimad-ishvarasyaiva putra-bhavo vrito 'stiti labhyate.

etat-this; vakyena-by the words; anasuyaya-by Anasuya; tu-also; kadacit-at some time; sakshat-directly; eva-certainly; shrimat-ishvarasya-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; eva-certainly; putra-bhavah-the status as a son; vritah-begged; asti-it is; iti-thus; labhyate-is attained.

After Atri Muni offered his prayer, his wife, Anasuya also prayed that the Supreme Personality of Godhead become her son.

Text 4

uktam ca brahmamda-purane pati-vratopakhyena anasuyabravim natva devan brahmesha-keshavan yuyam yadi prasanna me vararha yadi vapy aham prasadabhimukhah sarve mama putratvam eshyatha iti.

uktam-spoken; ca-also; brahmamda-purane-in the Brahmanda Purana; pati-vrata-of the devoted wife; upakhyena-in the story; anasuya-Anasuya; abravim-spoke; natva-offering obeisances; devan-to the lords; brahma- Brahma; isha-Shiva; keshavan-and Keshava; yuyam-You; yadi-if; prasannah-pleased; me-with me; vara-arhah-grantee of benedictions; yadi-of; va-or; api-also; aham-I; prasada-abhimukhah-favored by you; sarve-all of You; mama--my; putratvam-the status of son; eshyatha-please accept; iti- thus.

This is described in the Pati-vrata narration of the Brahmanda Purana:

"Anasuya offered obeisances and prayed before Lords Brahma, Vishnu and Shiva: My Lords, if you are pleased with me, and if you desire me to ask from you some sort of blessings, then I pray that you combine together to become my son."

Text 5

anvikshikim atma-vidyam. shri-visnor evavataro `yam dattah.

anvikshikim-the word anvikshikim; atma-vidyam-on the subject of transcendence; shri-vishnoh-of Shri Vishnu; eva-certainly; ; avatah-incarnation; ayam-this; dattah- Dattatreya.

In this verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.3.11, quoted at the beginning of this anuccheda) the word "anvikshikim" means "on the subject of transcendence". This incarnation of the Lord as the son of Atri Muni is known as Dattatreya.

Anuccheda 12

tatah saptama akutyam
rucer yajno `bhyajayata sa yamadyaih sura-ganair apat svayambhuvantaram

sa yajnas tada svayam indor `bhud ity arthah tatah-after that; saptame-the seventh in the line; akutyam-in the womb of Akuti; ruceh-by Prajapati Ruci; yajnah-the Lordsh incarnation as Yaja; abhyajayata- advented; sah-He; yama-adyaihj-with Yama and others; sura-gannaih-with demigods; apat-ruled; svayambhuva-antaram-the change of the period of Svayambhuva Manu; sah yajnah-the words sah yajna; tada-then; svayam-personally; indrahy-King Indra; abhut-become; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning.

The Supreme Lord's seventh incarnation is described in the following verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.3.12):

"The seventh incarnation was Yajna, the son of Prajapati Ruci and his wife Akuti. He controlled the period during the change of the Svayambhuva Manu and was assisted by demigods such as His son Yama."*

The words "sa yajnah" indicate that the Supreme Personality of Godhead personally assumed the post of Indra.

Sarva-samvadini Comment

tatah ity ayam eva matamahena manuna harir ity anuktah.

tatah iti-the verse beginning with the word tatah; ayam-He; eva-certainly; matamahena-by His maternal Grandfather; manuna-Manu; harih-Lord Hari; iti-thus; anuktah-repeated.

This verse, beginning with the word "tatah", narrates Lord Hari's appearance as Lord Yajna, at the end of His maternal grandfather Svayambhuva Manu's reign.

Anuccheda 13

ashöame merudevyam tu
nabher jata urukramah darshayan vartma dhiranam sarvashrama-namaskritam urukrama rishabho jatah ashöame-the eighth of the incarnations; merudevyam tu-in the womb of Merudevi, the wife of; nabheh-King Nabhi; jatah-took birth; urukramah-the all-powerful Lord; darshayan-by showing; vartma-the way; dhiranam-of the perfect beings; sarva-all; ashrama-orders of life; namaskritam-honored by; urukramah-the word urukrama; rishabhah-as Lord Rishabhadeva; jatah-appeared.

The Supreme Lord's eighth incarnation is described in Shrimad-Bhagavatam (1.3.13):

"The eighth incarnation was King Rishabha, son of King Nabhi and his wife Merudevi. In this incarnation the Lord showed the path of perfection, which is followed by those who have fully controlled their senses and who are honored by all orders of life."*

This verse describes the incarnation of the Supreme Lord as Lord Rishabhadeva.

Sarva-samvadini Comment

ashöame ity ayam evavesha ity eke.

ashöame iti-in the verse beginning with the word ashöame; ayam-He; eva-certainly; aveshah-empowered incarnation; iti-thus; eke-some.

Some say that the person described in this verse is an avेशa (empowered) incarnation.

Anuccheda 14

rishibhir yacito bheje navamam parthivam vapuh dugdhemam oshadhir vipras tenayam sa ushattamah

parthivam vapu raja-deham prithu-rupam dugdha adugdha. ushattamah kamaniyatamah.

rishibhih-by the sages; yacitah-being prayed for; bheje-accepted; navamam-the ninth one; parthivam-the ruler of the earth; vapuh-body; dugdha-milking; imam-all these; oshadhih-products of the earth; viprah-O brahmanas; tena-by; ayam-this; sah-he; ushattamah-beautifully attractive; parthivam vapuh-these words; raja-of the kings; rupam-in the form; prithu-rupam-as King Prithu; dugdha-the word dugdha; adugdha-milked; ushattamah-the word ushattamah; kamaniyah tama-beautifully attractive.

The Lord's ninth incarnation is described in Shrimad-Bhagavatam (1.3.14):

"O brahmanas, in the ninth incarnation, the Lord, prayed for by sages, accepted the body of a king [Prithu] who cultivated the land to yield various produces, and for that reason the earth was beautiful and attractive."*

In this verse the words "parthivam vapuh" mean "the body of a king", and the word "dugdha" means "milking" and the word "ushattamah" means "beautifully attractive."

Text 1

rupam sa jagrihe matsyam cakshushodadhi-samplave navy aropya mahi-mayyam apad vaivasvatam manum

rupam-form; sah-He; jagrihe-accepted; matsyam-of a fish; cakshusha-Cakshusha; udadhi-water; samplave- inundation; navi-on the boat; aropya-keeping on; mahi-the earth; mayyam-drowned in; apat-protected; vaivasvatam- Vaivasvata; manum-Manu, the father of man.

The Lord's tenth incarnation is described in Shrimad-Bhagavatam (1.3.15):

"When there was a complete inundation after the period of the Cakshusha Manu and the whole world was deep within water, the Lord accepted the form of a fish and protected Vaivasvata Manu, keeping him up on a boat."*

Text 2

cakshusha-manvantare tad-ante ya udadhi-samplavas tasmin. vaivasvatam iti bhavini samjna satyavratasya. prati-manvantaravasane 'pi pralayah shruyate.

cakshusha-of Cakshusha Manu; manvantare-in the reign; tat-of that; ante-at the end; yah-which; udadhi-of the oceans; samplavah-inundation; tasmin-in which; vaivasvatam- the word "vaivasvata"; iti-thus; bhavini-considered; samjna-a name; satyavratasya-of Satyavrata; prati-of each; manvantara-Manu's reign; avasane-at the conclusion; api-also; pralayah-partial devastation; shruyate-is heard in the revealed scriptures.

We may note in this verse the description of the great inundation at the conclusion of Cakshusha Manu's reign. Vaivasvata is another name of Satyavrata. At the end of each Manu's reign there is a partial devastation. This is described in the revealed scriptures.

Text 3

shri-vishnu-dharmottare prathama-kande manvantare parikshine kidrishi dvija jayate ity adi, shri-vajra-prashnasya manvantare parikshine ity adi shri-markandeya-dattottare urmi-mali maha-vegah sarvam avritya tishohati bhurlokam ashritam sarvam tada nashyati yadava

na vinashyanti rajendra vishrutah kula-parvatah naur bhutva tu mahi-devi ity adi shri-vishnu-dharmottare-in the Vishnu-dharmottara Purana; prathama-kande-in the First Canto; manvantare-when Manu's reign; parikshine-is over; kidrishi-what?; dvija-O Brahmana' jayate-happens; iti-thus; adi-beginning with; shri-vajra-of Maharaja; prashnasya-of the question; manvantare parikshine-when Manu's reign is ended; iti-thus; adi-beginning with; shri-markandeya-by Markandeya Muni; datta-given; uttare-in the reply; urmi-mali-the wave-filled ocean; maha-vagah-very powerful and violent; sarvam-everything; avritya-covering; tishohati-is situated; burlokam-the middle planetary system; ashritam-taking shelter; sarvam-everything; tada-then; nashyati-becomes destroyed; yadava-O descendent of Maharaja Yadu; na-not; vinashyanti-become destroyed; raja-indra- O best of kings; vishrutah-celebrated; kula-parvatah-the seven great sages; nauh-a boat; bhutva-constructing; tu-also; mahi-devi-the earth; iti-thus; adi-beginning.

This partial devastation is described in the First Canto of the Vishnu-dharmottara Purana, where Maharaja Vajra asks Markandeya Muni:

"O learned brahmana, please tell me what happens at the end of Manu's reign?"

Markandeya replied:

"O descendent of Maharaja Yadu, O best of kings, at the end of Manu's reign the oceans expand and cover the middle and lower planetary systems with ferocious waves. At that time all living entities on those planets perish, and only the celebrated seven sages survive, protected in a boat."

Text 4

evam eva manvantareshu samharah ity adi prakaranam shri-hari-vamshe tadiya-öikasu ca spashöam eva.
tatash cakshushety upalakshanam eva jneyam.

evam-in this way; eva-certainly; manvantareshu-in the periods of manvantara; samharah-the end; iti-thus; adi- beginning; prakaranam-subject; shri-hari-vamshe-in the Hari-vamsha; tadiya-if it; öikasu-in the commentaries; ca-also; spashöam-clear; eva-certainly; tatah-from this; cakshusha- Cakshusha Manu; iti-thus; upalakshanam-characteristic; eva- certainly; jeyam-may be known.

This description of the partial devastation at the end of the reigns of Cakshusha and the other Manus is also found in the Hari-vamsha and its commentaries.

Sarva-samvadini Comment

Text 1

rupam ity ayam api varahavat prathama-shashöha-manvantarayot avatarat. tadvad eva ca dvitiya ekatayaiva varnitah.

rupam iti ayam-in this verse beginning with word "rupam"; api-also; varahavat-just as Varaha; prathama-in the first; shashöha-and sixth; manvantarayoh-manvanatara period; avatarat-descended-two; ekataya-as one; eva-certainly; varnitah-described.

We may note that, just as Lord Varaha does, Lord Matsya appears first at the end of the first Manu's reign, and secondly He appears at the end of the sixth Manu's reign. The description in the scriptures often combines the accounts of both incarnations into one narrative.

Text 2

matsyo yuganta-samaye manunopalabdhah kshonimayo nikhila-jiva-nikaya-ietah visramsitan uru-bhaye salile mukhan me adaya tatra vijahara ha veda-margan matsyah-incarnation of the fish; yuga-anta-at the end of the millennium; samaye-at the time of; manuna-the would-be Vaivasvata Manu; upalabdhah-seen; kshonimayah-up to the earthly planets; nikhila-all; jiva-living entities; nikaya-ketah-shelter for; visramsitan-emanating from; uru-great; bhaye-out of fear; salile-in the water; mukhat-from the mouth; me-mine; adaya-having taken to; tatra-there; vijahara-enjoyed; ha-certainly; veda margan-all the Vedas.

Lord Matsya (the fish incarnation) is described in the next verse from Shrimad-Bhagavatam (2.7.12):

"At the end of the millennium, the would-be Vaivasvata Manu, of the name Satyavrata, would see that the Lord in the fish incarnation is the shelter of all kinds of living entities, up to those in the earthly planets. Because of my fear of the vast water at the end of the millennium, the Vedas come out of my [Brahma's] mouth, and the Lord enjoys those vast waters and protects the Vedas."*

Anuccheda 16

surasuranam udadhim
mathnatam mandaracalam dadhre kamaöha-rupena prishöha ekadashe vibhuh

spashöam

sura-the theist; asuranam-of the atheists; udadhim-in the ocean; mathnatam-churning; mandaracalam-the Mandaracala Hill; dadhre-sustained; kamaöha-tortoise; rupena-in the form of; prishthe-shell; ekadashe-the eleventh in the line; vibhuh-the great; spastam-the meaning is clear.

The eleventh incarnation is described in the next verse of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (1.3.16):

"The eleventh incarnation of the Lord took the form of a tortoise whose shell served as a pivot for the Mandaracala Hill, which was being used as a churning rod by the theists and atheists of the universe."*

Sarva-samvadini Comment

sura ity ayam eva sura-prarthanat kshaunim dadhre iti padme. anyatra tu tad-artham kalpadau ca pradurabhavad iti.

sura iti ayam-in this verse beginning with the word "sura"; eva-certainly; sura-of the demigods; prarthanat-because of the prayers; kshaunim-Mandara Mountain; dadhre-held; iti-thus; padme-in the Padma kalpa; anyatra-at another circumstance; tat-artham-for the same purpose; kalpa-of the kalpa; adau-at the beginning; ca-also; pradurabhavat-appeared; iti-thus.

Prayed to by the demigods, the Lord appeared as Kurma-avatara and held up the Mandaracala Hill. Some commentators say Lord Kurma appeared during the Padma-kalpa, and others say He appeared at the beginning of the kalpa.

Anuccheda 17

Text 1

dhanvantaram dvadashamam trayodashamam eva ca apayayt suran anyan
mohinya mohayan striya

dhanvantaram-the incarnation of Godhead named Dhanvantari; dvadashamam-the twelfth in the line; trayodashamam-the thirteenth in the line; eva-certainly; ca-and; apayat-gave to drink; suran-the demigods; anyan-others; mohinya-by charming beauty; mohayan-alluring; striya-in the form of a woman.

The twelfth and thirteenth incarnations are described in the next verse of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (1.3.17):

"In the twelfth incarnation, the Lord appeared as Dhanvantari, and in the thirteenth He allured the atheists by the charming beauty of a woman and gave nectar to the demigods to drink."*

Text 2

bibhrad ity uttarenanvayah. dvadashamam dhanvanataram rupam bibhrat, trayodashamam ca mohini-rupam bibhrat. suran apayayat sudham iti sheshah. kena rupena. mohinya striya tad-rupenety arthah. kim kurvan anyan mohayan. dhanvantari-rupena sudham copaharann iti sheshah. ajitasyavatara ete trayah.

bibhrat-assumed the form; iti-thus; uttarena anvayah- should be understood; dvadashamam dhanvantaram-Lord Dhanvantari, the twelfth incarnation; rupam-the form; bibhrat- assumed; suran-the demigods; apayat-gave to drink; sudham- nectar; iti sheshah-should be added to complete the sentence; kena-with what? rupena-form; mohinya-by charming beauty; striya-in the form of a woman; tad-rupena-by this form; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; kim-what; kurvan-activities did the Lord perform?: anyan-others; asuran-the demons; mohayan--alluring; dhanvantari-of Lord Dhanvantari; rupena-with the form; sudham-the nectar; ca-also; upaharah-brought; iti- thus; sheshah-the remainder of the verses; ajitasya-of the unconquerable Supreme Personality of Godhead; avatarah- incarnations; ete-these; trayah-three.

In this verse the word "bibhrat" (assuming the form) should be understood (although unexpressed). The Lord assumed the form of Dhanvantari in the twelfth incarnation, and He also appeared in the form of Mohini-devi in the thirteenth incarnation. In the phrase "suran apayayat" (gave drink to the demigods), the word "nectar" should be understood, although unexpressed. What was the form of Mohini-devi like? This is answered by the words "mohinya striya" (by the charming beauty of a woman). What activities did the Lord perform in this incarnation? The Lord allured and bewildered the atheists. In this way three incarnations of the unconquerable Supreme Personality of Godhead are described.

Sarva-samvadini comment

dhanvantaram ity ayam samudra-mathanat shashöhe kashi-rajat saptame iti jneyam.

dhanvantaram iti ayam-in the verse beginning with the word "dhanvanataram" samudra-of the ocean; mathanat-from the churning; shashöhe-in the sixth manvantara; iti-thus; jneyam-should be understood.

During the reign of the sixth Manu, Lord Dhanvantari appeared from the churning of the milk-ocean. He also appeared as the son of the king of Kashi during the reign of the seventh Manu.

Anuccheda 18

caturdasham narasimham bibhrad daityendram urjitam dadara karajair urav erakam kaöa-krid yatha

narasimham rupam bibhrat caturdasham-the fourteenth in the line; nara-simham-the incarnation of the Lord as half-man and half-lion; bibhrat- advented; daitya-indram-the king of the atheists; urjitam- strongly built; dadara-bifurcated; karajaih-by the nails; urau-on the lap; erakam-canes; kaöa-krit-carpenter; yatha-just like; narasimham-of Lord Narasimha; rupam-the form; bibhrat- assumed.

The Lord's fourteenth appearance, in the form of Lord Nrisimha, is described in the next verse of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (1.3.18)

"In the fourteenth incarnation, the Lord appeared as Nrisimha and bifurcated the strong body of the atheist Hiranyakashipu with His nails, just as a carpenter pierces cane."*

Anuccheda 19

pancadasham vamanakam
kritvagad adhvaram baleh pada-trayam yacamanah pratyaditsus-tri-pishöapam kritva prakaöayya.

pancadasham-the fifteenth in the line; vamanakam-the dwarf-brahmana; kritva-by assumption of; agat-went; adhvaram-arena of sacrifice; baleh-of King Bali; pada-trayam- three steps only; yacamanah-begging; pratyaditsuh-willing at heart to return; tri-pishöapam-the kingdom of the three planetary systems; kritva-the word "kritva"; prakaöayya-means "assuming the form".

The fifteenth incarnation is described in the following verse of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (1.3.19):

"In the fifteenth incarnation, the Lord assumed the form of a dwarf-brahmana [Vamana] and visited the arena of sacrifice arranged by Maharaja Bali. Although at heart He was willing to regain the kingdom of the three planetary systems, He simply asked for a donation of three steps of land."*

Sarva-samvadini Comment

panca ity ayam kalpe 'sminn adau vaskaler adhvaram agat, tato dhundhos tato baler iti jneyam. tathaiva trishu trivikramatvam ca.

panca iti ayam-in this verse beginning with the word "panca"; kalpe-in the millenium; asmin-in this; adau-in the beginning; vashkaleh-of Maharaja Bali; adhvaram-to the sacrifice; agat-went; tatakundhoh tatakundhoh baleh-of Maharaja Bali; iti-thus; jneyam-should be understood; tatha-in the same way; trishu-in the three planetary systems; trivikramatvam-the incarnation of the Lord as Trivikrama; ca- also.

This verse describes the incarnation of Lord Vamanadeva, who entered the sacrificial arena of Maharaja Bali, and later assumed the gigantic form of Lord Trivikrama, which crossed over the three planetary systems.

Anuccheda 20

avatare shodashame

pashyan brahma-druho nripan trih-sapta-kritvah supito nih-kshatram akaron mahim avatare shri-parashuramabhidhe.

avatare-in the incarnation of the Lord; shodashame-the sixteenth; pashyan-seeing; brahma-druhah-disobedient to the orders of the brahmanas; nripan-the kingly order; trih-sapta-thrice seven times; kritvah-had done; kupitah-being engaged; nih-negation; kshatram-the administrative class; akarot-did perform; mahim-the earth; avatare-in the incarnation of the Lord; shri-parashurama-abhidhe-known as Lord Parashurama.

The sixteenth incarnation of the Lord is described in the following verse from Shrimad-Bhagavatam (1.3.20)

"In the sixteenth incarnation of the Godhead, the Lord [as Bhrigupati] annihilated the administrative class [kshatriyas] twenty-one times, being angry with them because of their rebellion against the brahmanas [the intelligent class].

We may note in this connection that the sixteenth incarnation is known as Lord Parashurama.

Sarva-samvadini Comment

avatare ity ayam saptadashe catur-yuge dvavimshe tv iti kecit. avesha evayam.

avatare-incarnation; iti-thus; ayam-he; saptadashe-seventeenth; catur-yuge-cycle of four yugas; dvavimshe-twenty-second; tu-indeed; iti-thus; kecit-some; aveshah-empowered incarnation; eva-indeed; ayam-he.

Some say the incarnation of Lord Parashurama appears in the seventeenth cycle of four yugas, and others say He appears in the twenty-second cycle. Lord Parashurama is an avesha (empowered) incarnation.

Anuccheda 21

tatah saptadashe jatah satyavatyam parasharat cakre veda-taroh shakha drishöva pumso 'lpa-medhasah tatah-thereafter; saptadashe-in the seventeenth incarnation; jatah-advented; satyavatyam-in the womb of Satyavati; parasharat-by Parashara Muni; cakre-prepared; veda-taroh-of the desire tree of the Vedas; shakhah- branches; drishöva-be seeing; pumsah-the people in general; alpa-medhasah-less-intelligent. spashöam-the meaning is clear.

The seventeenth incarnation is described in the next verse of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (1.3.21):

"Thereafter, in the seventeenth incarnation of Godhead, Shri Vyasadeva appeared in the womb of Satyavati through Parashara Muni, and he divided the one Veda into several branches and sub-branches, seeing that the people in general were less intelligent."*

Sarva-samvadini Comment

tatah ity asya purva-janmany apantaratamatva-shravanad avesha iti kecit. tat-samyujyad ayam sakshad amsha evety anye.

tatah iti asya-in this verse beginning with the word "tatah"; purva-janmani-in his previous birth; apantaratamatva-within the water; shravanat-from the scriptures; aveshah-empowered incarnation; iti-thus; kecit-some; tat-samyujyat-from being one with the Lord; ayam-he; sakshat- directly; amshah-a part; eva-certainly; iti-thus; anye- others.

Some say Vyasa is an empowered incarnation because there is description of his previous birth as the sage Apantaratama, as described in some scriptures, and others claim that he is actually vishnu-tattva, a direct expansion of Lord Vishnu.

Anuccheda 22

Text 1

nara-devatvam apannah sura-karya-cikirshaya samudra-nigrahadini
cakre viryany atah param

nara-human being; devatvam-divinity; apannah-having assumed the form of; sura-the demigods; karya-activities; cikirshaya-for the purpose of performing; samudra-the Indian Ocean; nigraha-adini-controlling, etc.; cakre-did perform; viryani-superhuman powers; atah param-thereafter.

The Lord's eighteenth incarnation is described in the next verse of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (1.3.22):

"In the eighteenth incarnation, the Lord appeared as King Rama. In order to perform some pleasing work for the demigods, He exhibited superhuman powers by controlling the Indian Ocean and then killing the atheist King Ravana who was on the other side of the sea."*

Text 2

naradevatvam raghava-rupena. atah param ashöadashe. asya sakshat purushasya skandhe shri-rama-gitayam vishva-rupam darshayato brahma-vishnu-rudra-krita-stutih shruyate.

naradevatvam-the word "naradevatvam"; raghava-rupena- in the form of the descendent of Maharaja Raghu; atah param- thereafter; ashöadashe-in the eighteenth cycle of four yugas; asya-of Him; sakshat-directly; purushasya-of the purusha incarnation; skandhe-in the Skandha Purana; shri-rama-gitayam-in the Rama-gita; vishva-rupam-the Universal Form; darshayatah-revealing; brahma-by Brahma; vishnu-by Vishnu; rudra-and by Rudra; krita-offered; stutih-prayers; shruyate-are heard.

The word "naradevatvam" in this verse refers to Lord Ramacandra, the descendant of Maharaja Raghu, and the word "atah param" indicates that Lord Rama appeared in the eighteenth cycle of four yugas. Lord Rama is directly the Supreme Personality of Godhead. The chapters of the Skanda Purana known as the Rama-gita recount Lord Rama's revelation of His Universal Form as well as the prayers offered to Him by Brahma, Vishnu and Shiva.

Sarva-samvadini Comment

naradeva ity ayam caturvimshe catur-yuge tretayam.

naradeva ity ayam-the verse beginning with the word "naradeva"; caturvimshe-in the twenty-fourth; catur-yuge-in the cycle of four yugas; tretayam-in the Treta-yuga.

Some commentators think Lord Ramacandra appeared in the Treta-yuga of the twenty-fourth cycle of four yugas.

Anuccheda 23

Text 1

ekonavimshe vimshatime vrishnishu prapya janmani rama-krishnav iti bhuvo bhagavan aharad bharam

ekonavimshe-in the nineteenth; vimshatime-in the twentieth also; vrishnishu-in the Vrishni dynasty; prapya- having obtained; janmani-births; rama-Balarama; krishnau- Shri Krishna; iti-thus; bhuvah-of the world; bhagavan-the Personality of Godhead; aharat-removed; bharam-burden.

The next verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.3.23) describes the nineteenth and twentieth incarnations:

"In the nineteenth and twentieth incarnation, the Lord advented Himself as Lord Balarama and Lord Krishna in the family of Vrishni [the Yadu dynasty], and by so doing He removed the burden of the world."*

Text 2

bhagavan iti sakshat shri-bhagavata evavirbhavo 'yam, na tu purusha-samjnasyaniruddhasyeti vishesha-pratipatty-artham.

bhagavan-the word "bhagavan"; iti-thus; sakshat- directly; shri-bhagavatah-of Shrii Bhagavan; eva-certainly; avirbhavah-manifestation; ayam-He; na-not; tu-but; purusha-samjnasya-of the purusha incarnation; aniruddhasya-of Lord Aniruddha; iti-thus; vishesha-specific; pratipatti-perception; artham-meaning.

By using the word "bhagavan" in this verse, Suta Gosvami says that Lord Krishna is directly Bhagavan, the original form of the Personality of Godhead. He is not an expansion of the purusha-incarnation Lord Aniruddha.

Text 3

tatra tasya sakshad rupa-tvat shri-krishna-rupena, nijamsha-rupa-tvad rama-rupenapi bhara-haritam bhagavata evety ubhayatra-pi bhagavan aharad bharam iti shlishöam eva.

tatra-there; tasya-of Him; rupa-tvat-because of the form; shri-krishna rup/ena-in the form of Lord Krishna; nija-own; amsa-plenary portion; rupa-tvat-because of having the form; rama-rupena-in the form of Lord Balarama; api- also; bhara-of the burden; haritam-the position of taking away; bhagavatah-of the Personality of Godhead; eva-certainly; iti-thus; ubhayatra- in both; api-also; bhagavan aharat bharam-the Lord removed the burden of the earth; iti-thus; shlishöam-two meanings; eva-certainly.

Lord Krishna is directly the original form of the Supreme Personality of Godhead, and Lord Balarama is His immediate plenary expansion. Both Krishna and Balarama removed the burden of the earth, so the phrase "bhagavan aharad bharam" may refer to either of Them.

Text 4

ato ramasyapy aniruddhavataratvam pratyakhyatam. shri-krishnasya vasudevatvat shri-ramasya ca sankarshanatvad yuktam eva ca tad iti.

atah-from this; ramasya-of Lord Balarama; aniruddha-of Lord Aniruddha; avataratvam-the state of being an incarnation; pratyakhyatam-is rejected; shri-krishnasya-of Lord Krishna; vasudevatvat-from the state of being Lord Vasudeva; shri-ramasya-of Lord Balarama; ca-also; sankarshanatvat- from the state of being Lord Sankarshana; yuktam-proper; eva- certainly; ca-also; tat-therefore; iti-thus.

We may note here that Lord Balarama is not an expansion of Lord Aniruddha. Just as Lord Krishna is directly the original form of Lord Vasudeva, in the same way, Lord Balarama is the original form of Lord Sankarshana. This is the proper understanding of the transcendental forms of Lord Krishna and Balarama.

Anuccheda 24

tatah kalau sampravritte sammohaya sura-dvisham buddho namnanjana-sutah kikaöeshu bhavishyati

kikaöeshu gaya-pradeshe.

tatah-thereafter; kalau-the age of Kali; sampravritte- having ensued; sammohaya-for the purpose of deluding; sura- theists; dvisham-those who are envious; buddhah-Lord Buddha; namna-of the name; anjana-sutah-whose mother Anjana; kikaöeshu-in the province of Gaya (Bihar); bhavishyati-will take place; kikatesu-the word "kikatesu"; gaya-pradeshe-means in the province of Gaya.

The next verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.3.24) describes the twenty-first incarnation:

"Then, in the beginning of Kali-yuga, the Lord will appear as Lord Buddha, the son of Anjana, in the province of Gaya, just for the purpose of deluding those who are envious of the faithful theist."*

Sarva-samvadini Comment

tatah ity ayam kaler abda-sahasra-dvitiye gate vyaktah. mundita-munditah paöala-varno dvi-bhujah.

tatah iti ayam-in the verse beginning with the word tatah; kaleh-of the age of Kali; abda-years; sahasra-thousand; dvitiye-in the second; gate-passed; vyaktah-manifested; mundita-with shaved; mundah-head; paöala-varnah-with a ruddy complexion; dvi-bhujah-with two arms.

Lord Buddha appears when two thousand years of the Kali age have passed. He appears in a human-like form with two hands, a ruddy complexion and a shaved head.

Anuccheda 25

athasau yuga-sandhyayam dasyu-prayeshu rajasu janita vishnu-yashaso namna kalkir jagat-patih yuga-sandhyayam kaler ante.

atha-thereafter; asau-the same Lord; yuga-sandhyayam-at the conjunction of the yugas; dasyu-plunderers; prayeshu-almost all; rajasu-the governing personalities; janita-will take His birth; vishnu-named Vishnu; yashasah-surnamed Yasha; namna-in the name of; kalkih-the incarnation of the Lord; jagat-patih-the Lord of the creation; yuga-sandhyayam-the words yuga-sandhyayam; kaleh ante-mean at the end of the age of Kali.

The twenty-second incarnation is described in the next verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.3.25):

"Thereafter, at the conjunction of two yugas, the Lord of the creation will take His birth as the Kalki incarnation and become the son of Vishnu Yasha. At this time the rulers of the earth will have degenerated into plunderers."*

The phrase "at the conjunction of the two yugas" here means "at the end of Kali-yuga."

Sarva-samvadini Comment

Text 1

atha iti ayam kalkir buddhash ca prati-kali-yuga evety eke. etau caveshav iti vishnu-dharma-matam. tatha hiatha iti ayam-in the verse beginning with the word "atha"; kalkih-Kalki; buddhah-Buddha; ca-and; prati-in each; kali-yuga-Kali-yuga; eva-certainly; iti-thus; eke-each; etau-they; ca-also; aveshau-empowered incarnations; iti-thus; vishnu-dharma-of the Vishnu-dharma; matam-opinion; tatha hi-it is explained.

Lord Buddha and Lord Kalki are both empowered (avesha) incarnations who appear in every Kali-yuga. This is confirmed in Vishnu-dharma Purana:

Text 2

pratyaksha-rupa-drig devo drishyate na kalau harih kritadishv eva tenaisha triugah paripaöhyate

pratyaksha-visible to the eyes; rupa-form; drik-manifesting; devah-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; drishyate-is seen; na-not; kalau-in the Kali-yuga; harih-Lord Hari; kritadishu-in the Satya, Treta and Dv/papara-yugas; eva-certainly; tena-by that; eshah-He; triugah-who appears in three yugas; paripaöhyate-is described in the scriptures.

"The Supreme Personality of Godhead, Lord Hari, does not personally appear in the Kali-yuga. Because He only appears in the Satya, Treta, and Dvapara-yugas, and not in the Kali-yuga, the scriptures call Him Triyuga (He who appears in three yugas).

Text 3

kaler ante ca samprapte kalkinam brahma-vadinam anupravishya kurute vasudevo jagat-sthitim

kaleh-of the Kali-yuga; ante-at the end; ca-and; samprapte-attained; kalkinam-Kalki; brahma-vadinam-self-realized and a learned preacher of Krishna consciousness; anupravishya-having entered; kurute-creates; vasudevah-Lord Vasudeva; jagat-of the universe; sthitim-the auspicious condition.

At the end of Kali-yuga, the Supreme Personality of Godhead, Vasudeva, enters the body of the learned brahmana Kalki and gives him extraordinary powers. Through the agency of Kalki, the Supreme Lord restores the universe to an auspicious condition.

Text 4

purvotpanneshu bhuteshu teshu teshu kalau prabhuh kritva pravesham kurute yad abhipretam atmanah iti.

purva-previously; utpanneshu-born; bhuteshu-in the living entities; teshu teshu-in all of them; kalau-in the Kali-yuga; prabhuh-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; kritva-having done; pravesham-entrance; kurute-performs; yat-what; abhipretam-intention; atmanah-of the self; iti-thus.

The Supreme Personality of Godhead then enters the hearts of all the great sages who were born before the Kali-yuga and grants extraordinary powers to them. In this way the Lord executes His purpose at the end of the Kali-yuga."

Anuccheda 26

atha shri-hayagriva-hari-hamsa-prishnigarbha-vibhu-satyasena-vaikunöhajita- sarvabhauma-vishvak-sena-dharmasetu-sudhama-yogeshvara-brihadbhanu-adinam shukladinam canuktanam sangrahartham aha atha-now; shri-hayagriva-Hayagriva; hari-Hari; hamsa-Hamsa; prishnigarbha-Prishnigarbha; vibhu-Vibhu; satyasena-Satyasena; vaikunöha-Vaikunöha; ajita-Ajita; sarvabhauma-Sarvabhauma; vishvak-sena-Vishvak-sena; dharmasetu-Dharmasetu; sudhama-Sudhama; yogeshvara-Yogeshvara; brihadbhanu-Brihadbhanu; adinam-beginning with; shukla-Shukla; adinam-beginning with; ca-also; anuktanam-not described; sangraha-multitude; artham-for the purpose; aha-spoke.

Wishing to indicate the Lord's other innumerable other incarnations not described in this passage, such as Hayagriva, Hari, Hamsa, Prishnigarbha, Vibhu, Satyasena, Vaikunöha, Ajita, Sarvabhauma, Vishvak-sena, Dharmasetu, Sudhama, Yogeshvara, Brihadbhanu, Shukla, and many others, Suta Gosvami spoke the following verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.3.26):

Text 2

avatara hy asankhyeya
hareh sattva-nidher dvijah yathavidasinah kulyah sarasah syuh sahasrashah avatarah-incarnations; hi-certainly; asankhyeyah-innumerable; hareh-of Hari, the Lord; sattva-nidheh-of the ocean of goodness; dvijah-the brahmanas; yatha-as it is; avidasinah-inexhaustible; kulyah-rivulets; sarasah-of vast lakes; syuh-are; sahasrashah-thousands of.

"O brahmanas, the incarnations of the Lord are innumerable, like rivulets flowing from inexhaustible sources of water."*

Text 3

herer avatara asankhyeyah sahasrasah sambhavanti, hi prasiddhau. asankhyeyatve hetuh-sattva-nidheh sattvasya sva-pradurbhava-shakteh sevadhi-rupasya.

hareh avatarah asankhyeyah sahasrashah-these words; sambhavanti-are manifested; prasiddhau-in fame; asankhyeyatve-in the matter of being innumerable; hetuh-the reason; sattva-nidheh-the words "sattva-nidheh"; sattvasya-of transcendental existence; sva-own; pradurbhava-manifestation; shakteh-potency; sevadhi-of a great treasure; rupasya-in the form.

In this verse the words "harer avatara asankhyeyah sahasrashah" indicate the innumerable celebrated incarnations of Lord Hari. Why the incarnations of the Lord are innumerable is described in the word "sattva-nidheh" (transcendental treasure). The Lord is like an immeasurably valuable jewel that has the power to appear in an unlimited number of forms.

Text 4

atraiva drishöantah-yatheti; avidasino 'pekshaya-shunyat sarasah sakashat kulyas tat-svabhava-krita nirjhara avidasinyah sahasrashah sambhavanti.

atra-in this connection; eva-certainly; drishöantah-an example; yatha iti-in the phrase beginning with the word "yatha"; avidasinah-inexhaustible; apekshaya-shunyat-because they never dwindle; sarasah-of vast lakes; sakshat-directly; kulyah-rivulets; tat-svabhava-kritah-by their own nature; nirjharah-rivulets; avidasinyah-inexhaustible; sahasrashah-thousands of; sambhavanti-come into existence.

In this verse an appropriate example is given: the incarnations of the Personality of Godhead are compared to innumerable (sahasrashah) rivulets (kulyah) flowing from inexhaustible (avidasinah) sources of water (sarasah).

Text 5

atra ye 'mshavataras teshu caisha vishesho jneyah. shri-kumara-naradadishv adhikarikeshu jnana-bhakti-shakty-amshaveshah, shri-prithu-adishu kriya-shakty-amshaveshah, kecit tu svayam aveshah. tesham bhagavan avaham iti vacanat.

atra-in this connection; ye-those who; amsha-partial; avatarah-incarnations; teshu-among them; ca-also; eshah-one; visheshah-specific group; jneyah-should be known; shri-kumara-the four Kumaras; narada-Narada Muni; adishu-and others; adhikarikesu-devotees; jnana-with transcendental knowledge; bhakti-and devotional service; shakti-with the potencies; amsha-aveshah-empowered incarnations; shri-prithu-King Prithu; adishu-and others; kriya-shakti-with the potency to perform remarkable deeds; aveshah-invested; kecit-others; tu-also; svayam-personally; aveshah-entrance; tesham-of them; bhagavan-the Personality of Godhead endowed with all powers and opulences; eva-certainly; aham-I am; iti-thus; vacanat-the words of scripture.

"Some of the incarnations mentioned in this list of Shrimad-Bhagavatam are living entities empowered with certain potencies of the Lord. The Four Kumaras, Narada, and others are empowered with transcendental knowledge and devotional service. King Prithu and others are specifically empowered with the potency to perform remarkable deeds (kriya-shakti). Some of these listed incarnations are personal appearances on the Lord's part. This is confirmed in the Lord's own declaration:

"I am the Supreme Personality of Godhead, endowed with all powers and opulences."

Text 6

atha shri-matsyadevadishu sakshad amshatvam eva. tatra camshatvam nama sakshad-bhagavattve 'py avyabhicari-tadrisha-tad-iccha-vashat sarva-daivaikadeshatayaivabhivyakta-shakty-adikatvam iti jeyam. tathaivodaharishyate- ramadi-murtishu kala-niyamena tishöhan iti.

atha-now; shri-matsyadeva-of Lord Matsya; adishu-and others; sakshat-directly; amshatvam-incarnations; eva-certainly; tatra-there; ca-also; amshatvam-the state of being an incarnation; nama-certainly; sakshat-directly; bhagavattve-the state of being the Personality of Godhead; api-also; avyabhicari-without diminution; tadrisha-like this; tat-His; iccha-by the desire; vashat-because of the control; sarva-all; daiva-the demigods; ekadeshataya-by being in one place; iva-as it were; abhivyakta-manifested; shakti-potency; adikatvam-beginning with; iti-thus; jeyam-should be understood; tatha-in the same way; eva-certainly; udaharishyate-may be quoted; rama-adi-the incarnation of Lord Rama etc.; murtishu-in different forms; kala-niyamena-by the order of plenary portions; tishöhan-existing; iti-thus.

Included in this list of incarnations are Lord Matsya and other direct incarnations of the Supreme Lord, who appears with all divine opulences and potencies. These direct incarnations of the Lord are described in the following verse of Brahma-samhita (5.39):

"I worship Govinda the primeval Lord, who by His various plenary portions appeared in the world in different forms and incarnations such as Lord Rama, but who personally appears in His supreme original form as Lord Krishna."*

Sarva-samvadini Comment

Text 1

avatarah iti-tatra caisha vishesha ity atraitad uktam bhavati-bhavan khalu tridha prakashate- 1. svayam-rupeh; 2. tad-ekatma-rupah; 3. aveshah-rupash ceti. tatra 1. ananyapeksha-rupah svayam-rupah; 2. svarupabhede 'pi tat-sapeksha-rupadih tad-ekatma-rupah; 3. jiva-visheshavishöa aveshah-rupah. 2. tad-ekatma-rupo 'pi dvi-vidha- 2a. tat-samah 2b. tad-amshash ca. 3. avesho 'pi tridhah 3a. bhakti- 3b. -jana- 3c.

kriya-shakti-pradhanyena.

avatarah iti-in the verse beginning with the word "avatarah"; tatra-there; ca-also; eshah-He; visheshah-specific; iti-thus; atra-gere; etat-this; uktam-is described; bhavati-is; bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; khalu-certainly; tridha-in three features; prakashate-is manifest; svayam-rupah-personal form; tat-ekatma-rupah-a form almost like His original form; avesha-rupah-an empowered living entity; tatra-in this connection; ananya-apeksha-rupah-not at all different from His original form; svayam-rupah-is known as "svayam-rupa"; svarupa-abhede api-although not different from His original form; tat-sapeksha-rupa-adih-forms emanated from His original form; tat-eka-atma-rupah-known as "tad-ekatma-rupa"; jiva-vishesha-avishöah-an empowered living entity; avesha-rupah-kinown as "avesha-rupa"; tat-eka-atma-rupah-the tadekatma-rupa forms; api-also; dvi-vidha-in two features; tat-samah-equal to the original form; tat-amshah-an expansion of the original form; ca-also; aveshah-empowered incarnations; api-also; ; tridhah-three varieties; bhakti-devotional service; jnana-knowledge; kriya-activities; shakti-with the potencies; pradhanyena-principally.

The Supreme Personality of Godhead appears in three kinds of incarnations: 1. svayam-rupa, or His original form; 2. tad-ekatma-rupa, or forms appearing slightly different from His original feature; and 3. avesha-rupa, or individual living entities granted some extraordinary power by the Lord.

The tad-ekatma-rupa incarnations are of two kinds: 1. tat-sama, or those directly like the Lord's original form; and 2. tad-amsha, or incarnations expanded from the Lord's form and manifesting only part of His qualities.

The avesha-rupa empowered living entities are divided into three categories, those empowered with: 1. pure devotional service, 2. transcendental knowledge, and 3. extraordinary prowess to perform remarkable deeds.

Text 2

tatra svayam-rupo yatha shri-brahma-samhitayam ishvarah paramah krishnah sac-cid-ananda-vigrahah anadir adir govindah sarva-karana-karanam

tatra-in this connection; svayam-rupah-the svayam-rupa incarnation; yatha-just as; brahma-samhitayam-in the Brahma-samhita; ishvarah-the controller; paramah-supreme; krishnah-Lord Krishna; sat-eternal existence; cit-absolute knowledge; ananda-absolute bliss; vigrahah-whose form; anadih-without beginning; adih-the origin; govindah-Lord Govinda; sarva-karana-karanam-the cause of all causes.

The original svayam-rupa feature of the Supreme Lord is described in the Brahma-samhita (5.1):

"Krishna, who is known as Govinda, is the supreme controller. He has an eternal, blissful, spiritual body. He is the origin of all. He has no other origin, for He is the prime cause of all causes."*

Text 3

tat-samo yatha tasyaiva paravyoma-nathah iti pratipatsyate; yatha paravyomavarana-sthas tasya vasudevah. tad-amsho yatha-tada paramavyomavarana-sthah sankarshanadih matsyadish ca. aveshash ca tat-sthah-narada-catuhsana-shesha-prithvadayah.

tat-samah-"tat-sama"; yatha-just as; tasya-of Him; eva-certainly; paravyoma-nathah-the Lord of Vaikunöha; iti-thus; pratipatsyate-is understood; yatha-just as; paravyoma-avarana-sthah-remaining away from the Vaikunöha world; tasya-of Him; vasudevah-Vasudeva; tat-amshah-the tad-amsha avarana-sthah-remaining away from Vaikunöha; sankarshana-adih-beginning with Lord Sankarshana; matsya-adih-beginning with Lord Matsya; ca-also; aveshah-empowered incarnations; ca-and; tat-sthah-remaining in the material world; narada-Narada Muni; catuhsana-the Four Kumaras; shesha-Shesha; prithu-Maharaja Prithu; adayah-and others.

Examples of the Lord's tat-sama incarnation are: 1. Narayana, the Lord of Vaikunöha, and 2. Lord Vasudeva, who appears within the material world.

Examples of the Lord's tad-amsha incarnations are: 1. Lord Sankarshana, and the many forms of the Lord expanded from Him, and 2. Lord Matsya, and many similar other incarnations.

Examples of the aveshah incarnations are: 1. Narada, who is empowered with pure devotional service, 2. the Four Kumaras, who are empowered with transcendental knowledge, and 3. Shesha and Maharaja Prithu, who are empowered with extraordinary power to perform remarkable deeds.

Text 4

sa ete svayam-rupadayo yadi vishva-karyartham apurva iva prakaöi-bhavanti, tada avatara ucyante. te ca kadacit svayam eva prakaöi-bhavanti; dvarantarena ca; dvaram ca kadacit svarupam, bhaktadi-rupam ca bhavati. tatra ca svayam-rupa-tat-samau-paravasthau; amshantaratamya-kramena prabhavah

Text 5

tatra svayam-rupah krishnah. tat-sama-prayau- shri-nrisimha-ramau. vaibhava-rupau- kroda-hayagrivau. anye prabhava-prayah.

tatra-there; svayam-rupah-"svayam-rupa"; krishnah-Krishna; tat-sama-prayau-"tat-sama"; shri-nrisimha-ramau-Lord Nrisimha and Lord Ramacandra; vaibhava-rupau-"vaibhava-rupa"; kroda-hayagrivau-Varaha and Hayagriva; anye-others; prabhava-prayah-principally prabhava-rupa forms.

The Lord's original form (svayam-rupa) is Shri Krishna. Examples of the Lord's tat-sama incarnations are Lord Nrisimha and Lord Ramacandra. Examples of the Lord's vaibhava-rupa are Lord Varaha and Lord Hayagriva. Most of the other incarnations are considered to be prabhava-rupa forms of the Lord.

Text 6

te cavatarah karya-bhedena tri-vidhah-purushavatarah, gunavatarah, lilavatarash ceti. tatradya ubhaye-shri-paramatma-sandarbhe darshitah, atyantash ca-sa eva prathamam devah ity adinatraiva prakrantah. ete punah panca-vidhah- dviparardhavatarah, kalpavatarah, manvantaravatarah, yugavatarah, svecchamaya-samayavataras ceti. tat-tad-adhikari-lilatvat te ca kramena-purushadayah, kshirodashayy-adayah, yajnadayah, shukladayah,shri-krishna-ramadayash ca.

te-they; ca-also; avatarah-incarnations; karya-of activities; bhedena-by differences; tri-vidhah-three types; purusha-avatarah-purusha-incarnations; guna-avatarah-incarnations of the modes of material nature; lila-avatarah-pastime incarnations; ca-and; iti-thus; tatra-there; adyah-the first; ubhaye-both; shri-paramatma-sandarbhe-in the Paramatma-sandarbha; darshitah-described; atyantah-limitless; ca-also; sah eva prathamam devah-iti adina-in the Shrimad-Bhagavatam, 1.3.6, quoted in Anuccheda 6; prakrantah-powerful; ete-the y; punah-again; panca-vidhah-of five types; dvaiparardha-avatarah-incarnations remaining for the lifetime of Brahma; kalpa-avatarah-incarnations remaining for a kalpa; manvantara-avatarah-incarnations remaining for the lifetime of Manu; yuga-avatarah-incarnations appearing in each yuga; sva-icchamaya-samaya-avatarah-incarnations who appear whenever They wish; ca-also; iti-thus; tat-tat-adhikari-lilatvat-because of various pastimes; te-they; ca-also; kramena-one after another; purusha-adayah-the purusha-incarnations and similar forms of the Supreme Lord; kshirodashayi-adayah-Kshirodakashayi-Vishnu and similar forms; yajna-adayah-Lord Yajna and others; shukla-adayah-Lord Shukla and others; shri-krishna-rama-adayah ca-Rama, Krishna, and other forms.

Because of Their different activities, the incarnations of the Lord are divided into three categories: 1. purusha-avatars, 2. guna-avatars (incarnations in charge of the modes of material nature) and 3. lila-avatars (pastime-incarnations). These incarnations of the Lord have been elaborately described both in the Paramatma-sandarbha (2.18), and in the verses of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (1.3.6-28) already quoted in the first portion of this Krishna-sandarbha.

These incarnations of the Lord are further divided into five categories: 1. dvaiparardha-avatara (incarnations who appear in each lifetime of Brahma), 2. kalpa-avatara (incarnations who appear in each kalpa), 3. manvantara-avatara (incarnations who appear in the reign of the Manus), 4. yuga-avatara (incarnations who appear in each yuga), and 5. svecchamaya-samaya-avatara (incarnations who appear whenever They wish).

Examples of these kinds of incarnations follow: 1. The purusha-avatars are dvaiparardha-avatars, 2. Lord Kshirodakashayi Vishnu and similar incarnations are kalpa-avatars, 3. Lord Yajna and similar incarnations are manvantara-avatars, 4. Lord Shukla and similar other incarnations are yuga-avatars, and 5. Lord Shri Krishna, Lord Balarama, and other forms of the Lord are svecchamaya-samaya-avatars.

Text 7

eshu manvantaratavarash ca- yajna-vibhu-satyasena-hari-vaikunöhajita-vamana-sarvabhauma-rshabha-vishvaksena-dharmasetu-sudhama-yogeshvara-brihadbhanavah kramena caturdasha. rishabho 'yam ayushmat-putrah, nabhi-putras tv anyah. esu yajnah praya aveshah- tasya prithu-pada-graha-shravanat. hari-vaikunöha-vamanas tu paravasthopama vaibhavasthah; tadrishatvena varnanat. anye prayah prabhavavasthah, nati-varnanat.

eshu-among them; manvanata-avatarah-the manvantara incarnations; ca-also; yajna-Yajna; vibhu-Vibhu; satyasena-Satyasena; hari-Hari; vaikunöha-Vaikunöha; ajita-Ajita; vamana-Vamana; sarvabhauma-Sarvabhauma; rishabha-Rishabha; vishvaksena-Vishvaksena; dharmasetu-Dharmasetu; sudhama-Sudhama; yogeshvara-Yogeshvara; brihadbhanavah-and Brihadbhanu; kramena-caturdasha-fourteen; rishabhah-Rishabha; ayam-this; ayushmat-putrah-the son of Ayushmat; nabhi-putrah-the son of Nabhi; tu-but; anyah-another; eshu-among them; yajnah-Yajna; prayah-principally; aveshah-an empowered living entity; tasya-of him; prithu-many; pada-words; graha-accepting; shravanat-from hearing; hari-Hari; vaikunöha-Vaikunöha; vamanah-Vamana; tu-but; paravastha-upamah-almost like the most powerful incarnations; vaibhavasthah-vaibhava-rupa forms of the Lord; tadrishatvena-like Them; varnanat-because of the description; anye-others; prayah-principally; prabhavavasthah-prabhava-rupa forms of the Lord; na-not; ati-from the elaborate; varnanat-description.

A list of the manvantara-avatars follows: 1. Yajna, 2. Vibhu, 3. Satyasena, 4. Hari, 5. Vaikunöha, 6. Ajita, 7. Vamana, 8. Sarvabhauma, 9. Rishabha, 10. Vishvaksena, 11. Dharmasetu, 12. Sudhama, 13. Yogeshvara, and 14. Brihadbhanu.

The Rishabha mentioned here is the son of Ayushmat. The Rishabha who is the son of Maharaja Nabhi is a different person.

Lord Yajna is an empowered living entity (avesha-rupa). This is confirmed by ample evidence in the Vedic literature.

The Vedic literature states that Lord Hari, Lord Vaikunöha, and Lord Vamana, are vaibhava forms of the Lord. Most of the other incarnations in this list are prabhava-rupa forms of the Lord, although there is not a very elaborate description of Their status.

Text 8

atha yugavataarah shukla-rakta-shyama-krishnah.

atha-now; yugavataarah-the yugavataaras; shukla-Lord Shukla; rakta-Lord Rakta; shyama-Shyama; krishnah-and Krishna.

The yuga-avatars are: 1. Shukla, 2. Rakta, 3. Shyama, and 4. Krishna.

Text 9

atra purusha-bhedanam brahmadinam cavarbhava-samayo brahma-kalpa-pravritteh purvam eva. catuhsana-narada-varaha-matsya-yajna-nara-narayana-kapila-datta-hayash/ irsha-hamsa-prishnigarbha-rshabhadeva-prithunam svayambhuve; varaha-matsyayoh punash cakshushiye ca; nrisimha-kurma-dhanvantari-mohininam cakshushe; kurmah kalpadav api; dhanvantarir vaivasvate 'pi; vamana-bhargava-raghavendra-dvaipayana-rama-krishna-buddha-kalkinam vaivasvate; manvantara-yugavataranam tada tadaiva jneyah.

atra-in this connection; purusha-bhedanam-of the purusha-incarnations; brahma-of Brahma; adinam-and others; ca-and; avirbhav-of appearance; samayah-time; brahma-kalpa-of the Brahma-kalpa; pravritteh-the beginning; purvam-before; eva-certainly; catuhsana-the Four Kumaras; narada-Narada; varaha-Varaha; matsya-Matsya; yajna-Yajna; nara-narayana-Nara-Naraya/ba Rishis; kapila-Kapila; datta-Dattatreya; hayashirsha-Hayagriva; hamsa-Hamsa; prishnigarbha-Prishnigarbha; rishabhadeva-Rishabhadeva; prithunam-Prithu; svayambhuva-in the reign of Svayambhuva Manu; varaha-matsyayoh-of Varaha and Matsya; punah-again; cakshushiye-in the reign of Cakshusha Manu; ca-also; nrisimha-Nrisimha; kurma-Kurma; dhanvantari-Dhanvantari; mohininam-and Mohini-devi; cakshushe-in the reign of Cakshusha Manu; kurmah-Kurma; kalpa-of the kalpa; adau-in the beginning; api-also; dhanvantarih-Dhanvantari; vaivasvate-in the reign of Vaivasvata Manu; api-also; vamana-Vamana; bhargava-Parashurama; raghava-indra-Lord Ramacandra; dvaipayana-Vyasadeva; rama-Balarama; krishna-Krishna; buddha-Buddha; kalkinam-and Kalki; vaivasvate-in the reign of Vaivasvata Manu; manvantara-yuga-avatananam-of the manvantara and yugavataaras; tada tada-at these time periods; eva-certainly; jneyah-may be known.

The purusha-avatars appear before the birth of Brahma and the other living entities. The Four Kumaras, Narada, Varaha, Matsya, Yajna, Nara-Narayana Rishis, Kapila, Dattatreya, Hayagriva, Hamsa, Prishnigarbha, Rishabhadeva, and Prithu appear during the reign of Svayambhuva Manu. Varaha and Matsya appear in both the Svayambhuva and Cakshusha periods. Nrisimha, Kurma, and Mohini-devi appear in the reign of Cakshusha Manu. Kurma appears in the beginning of the kalpa, and Dhanvantari appears in both the Cakshusha and Vaivasvata milleniums. Vamana, Parashurama, Ramacandra, Vyasadeva, Balarama, Krishna, Buddha and Kalki appear in the reign of Vaivasvata Manu. This is the schedule of the Manvantara-avatars and yuga-avatars.

Anuccheda 27

Text 1

atha vibhutih aha

rishayo manavo deva
manu-putra mahaujasah kalah sarve harer eva saprjapatayah smritah

atha-now; vibhutih-the potencies; aha-he describes; rishayah-all the sages; manavah-all the Manus; devah-all the demigods; manu-putrah-all the descendants of Manu; maha-ojasah-very powerful; kalah-portion of the plenary portion; sarve-all collectively; hareh-of the Lord; eva-certainly; sa-prajapatayah-along with the Prajapatis; smritah-are known.

Suta Gosvami now describes the potencies of the Lord (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.3.27):

"All the rishis, Manus, demigods and descendants of Manu, who are especially powerful, are plenary portions or portions of the plenary portions of the Lord. This also includes the Prajapatis."*

Text 2

kala vibhutayah. alpa-shakteh prakashad vibhutihvam. maha-shaktas tv aveshatvam iti bhedah.

kalah-the word "kala"; vibhutayah-means "potencies"; alpa-little; shakteh-because of potency; prakashat-because of manifestation; vibhutihvam-the state of being vibhuti; maha-shakteh-because of great potency; tu-but; aveshatvam-the status of avesh; iti-thus; bhedah-the distinction.

The word "kala" in this verse means "potencies" (vibhuti). Those comparatively less powerful are called vibhuti, and those more powerful are called avesh incarnations.

Anuccheda 28

tad evam paramatmanam sangam eva nirdharya proktanuvada-purvakam shri-bhagvantam apy akarena nirdharayati

ete camsha-kalah pumsah krishnas tu bhagavan svayam iti.

tat-therefore; evam-in this way; paramatmanam-Lord Paramatma; sa-along with; angam-His expansions; eva-certainly; nirdharya-having specifically described; prokta-spoken; anuvada-repeatedly said; purvakam-previously; shri-bhagavantam-Lord Bhagavan; api-also; akarena-with His form; nirdharayati-specifically describes; ete-all these; ca-and; amsha-plenary portions; kalah-portions of the plenary portions; pumsah-of the Supreme; krishnah-Lord Krishna; tu-but; bhagavan-the Personality of Godhead; svayam-in person; iti-thus.

After concluding the description of the various expansions of Lord Paramatma, and His various potencies, Suta Gosvami proceeds to describe the original form (Bhagavan) of the Personality of Godhead in the next verse of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (1.3.28):

"All of the above-mentioned incarnations are either plenary portions or portions of the plenary portions of the Lord, but Lord Shri Krishna is the original Personality of Godhead."*

Text 2

ete purvoktah. ca-shabdanuktash ca, prathamam uddishöasya pumsah purushasya amsha-kalah.

ete-all these; purva-previously; uktah-described; ca-shabda-by the word "ca"; anuktah-those not described; ca-also; prathamam-at first; uddishöasya-of the described; pumsah-of the purusha incarnation; purushasya-of the purusha incarnations; amsha-plenary portions; kalah-portions of the plenary portions.

In this verse the word "ete" (all these) refers to the incarnations previously described in this chapter of Shrimad-Bhagavatam. The word "ca" (and) is meant to include all the incarnations not mentioned in this list. The word "pumsah" means "of the Supreme Personality of Godhead who expands as the purusha-incarnations" and the words "amsha-kalah" mean "plenary portions and portions of the plenary portions".

Text 3

kecid amshah svayam eva amshah sakshad-amshatvenamshatvena ca dvi-vidhah; kecid amshavishöatvad amshah; kecit tu kala vibhutayah.

kecit-some; amshah-expansions; svayam-personally; eva-certainly; amshah-incarnations; sakshat-directly; amshatvena-by the status of incarnation; amsha-amshatvena-by the status of a portion of the plenary portion of the Lord; ca-also; dvi-vidhah-two kinds of incarnation; kecit-some; amsha-by a portion of the Lord; avishöatvat-because of the entrance; amshah-are incarnations; kecit-and others; tu-also; kalah vibhutayah-are the Lord's potencies.

In this way the incarnations of the Lord may be grouped into two categories. Some are plenary portions of the Lord and others are portions of the plenary portions of the Lord. In addition to these there are empowered living entities (avesha incarnations) and incarnations of the Lord's potencies (kala).

Text 4

iha ye vimshatitamavataratvena kathitah, sa krishnas tu bhagavan, purushasyapy avatari yo bhagavan sa esha evety arthah.

iha-in this connection; ye-those who; vimshatitama-twenty; avataratvena-by manifesting as incarnations; kathitah-described; sah-He; krishnah tu bhagavan svayam-but Lord Shri Krishna is the original Personality of Godhead; purushasya-of the purusha incarnation; api-even; avatari-the source of incarnation; yah-who; bhagavan-Lord Bhagavan; sah eshah-that person; eva-certainly; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning.

Someone may protest: Krishna has already been described as the twentieth in the list of incarnations. For this reason, when Suta Gosvami says "Krishnas to bhagavan" the intention is that Bhagavan refers to Lord Vasudeva, the origin of the purusha incarnation.

Text 5

atra anuvadam anuktvaiva na vidheyam udirayet iti vacanat krishnasyaiva bhagavattva-lakshano dharmah sadhyate, na tu bhagavatah krishnatvam ity ayatam.

atra-in this connection; anuvadam-the subject; anuktva-not stating; eva-certainly; na-not; vidheyam-the predicate; udirayet-one should speak; iti-thus; vacanat-from the scriptures; krishnasya-of Krishna; eva-certainly; bhagavattva-status of the original Personality of Godhead; lakshanah-characteristic; dharmah-nature; sadhyate-is conclusively demonstrated; na-not; tu-but; bhagavatah-of Bhagavan; krishnatvam-the state of being Krishna; iti-thus; ayatam-is attained.

To this objection we reply: The following grammatical rule is found in the Ekadashi-tattva:

"One should not state a predicate before its subject."

Therefore it cannot be avoided that in this sentence Krishna is the subject and Bhagavan is the predicate. By word-jugglery no one can change the clear meaning of this verse: that Krishna is the original form of the Personality of Godhead (Bhagavan), and no one can say that Lord Vasudeva assumed the form of Krishna. In this way this verse clearly demonstrates that Krishna is the original form of the Supreme Personality of Godhead, and not merely a form expanded from Vasudeva.

Text 6

tatah ca shri-krishnasyaiva bhagavattva-lakshana-dharmitve siddhe mulavataritvam eva sidhyati, na tu tatah pradurbhutatvam. etad eva vyanakti- svayam iti. tatra ca svayam eva bhagavan, na tu bhagavatah pradurbhutataya, na tu va bhagavattadhyasenety arthah.

tatah-therefore; ca-also; shri-krishnaya-of Lord Krishna; eva-certainly; bhagavattva-the status of the original form of the Personality of Godhead; lakshana-characteristic; dharmitve-nature; siddhe-perfect; mula-avataritvam-the status as the origin of all incarnations; eva-certainly; sidhyati-is conclusively demonstrated; na-not; tu-but; tatah-from Him; pradurbhutatvam-expansion; etad-this; eva-certainly; vyanakti-is manifested; svayam-by the word "svayam"; iti-thus; tatra-in this connection; ca-also; svayam-in person; eva-certainly; bhagavan-the Personality of Godhead; na-not; tu-but; bhagavatah-from the original Personality of Godhead; pradurbhutataya-as an expansion; na-not; tu-but; va-or; bhagavatta-the status of the original Personality of Godhead; adhyasena-by false attribution; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning.

This verse conclusively proves that Krishna is the original Personality of Godhead and the source of all the incarnations, and not simply an expansion of Vishnu. This is emphasized by the use of the word "svayam" (in person). Krishna is the original Godhead in person, He is not merely an expansion of the original Godhead, and the status of the original Godhead is not falsely attributed to Him.

Text 7

na cavatara-prakarane 'pi paöhita iti samshayah; paurvaparye purva-daurbalyam prakritivat iti nyayena.

na-not; ca-also; avatara-of incarnations; prakarane-in the description; api-even; paöhita-mentioned; iti-thus; samshayah-doubt; purva-in the beginning; aparye-and in the end; purva-the beginning; daurbalyam-weakness; prakritivat-by nature; iti-thus; nyayena-by the example.

Someone may object: Has not Krishna already been mentioned in the list of incarnations of Godhead?
To this I reply: The rules of literary composition state:

"More significant facts, and facts meant to be emphasized should be placed at the end of a composition, for the final parts of a composition are naturally considered more important by the reader."

Therefore, because the statement "Krishna is the original Personality of Godhead" is placed at the end of the list of incarnations, that is to be stressed more than the fact that He is also included in that list.

Text 8

yathagnishöome- yady udgata vicchidyad akakshinena yajate, yadi pratiharta sarvasva-dakshinena iti shruteh.

yatha-just as; agnishöome-in the prayers for the agnishöoma sacrifice; yadi-if; udgata-the Udgata priest; vicchidyat-may interrupt; adakshinena-without remuneration; yajate-performs the sacrifice; yadi-if; pratiharta-his assistant, the Pratiharta priest; sarvasv-everything; dakshinena-in remuneration; iti-thus; shruteh-from the Shruti.

In the description of the Agnishöoma sacrifice, the Shruti-shastra explains:

"If the Udgata priest leaves prematurely and does not complete the sacrifice, he becomes ineligible to receive the priestly remuneration. If his assistant, the Pratiharta priest, then completes the sacrifice, that assistant becomes then entitled to receive all the priestly rewards."

This is another example of the great significance of the final statement or the final activity.

Text 9

tayosh ca kadacid dvayor api vicchede prapte viruddhayoh prayashcittayoh samuccayasambhave ca param eva prayashcittam siddhantitam tadvad ihapiti.

tayoh-of the two; ca-also; kadacit-at a certain time; dvayoh-of the two; api-also; vicchede-when the difference; prapte-is attained; viruddhayoh-of opposing; prayashcittayoh-methods of atonement; samuccaya-of reconciliation; sambhave-in the lack; ca-also; param-last; eva-certainly; prayashcittam-method of atonement; siddhantitam-should be considered conclusive; tadvat-in that way; iha-in this; api-also; iti-thus.

When two contradictory methods of atonement are prescribed in the scriptures, and the difference between them cannot be reconciled by learned scholars, the atonement mentioned last is always considered to overrule what was stated previously and is taken as the final conclusion.

In the same way, the inclusion of Krishna in the list of incarnations is overruled by the statement that appears at the conclusion of the description of the incarnations: that Krishna is the original Personality of Godhead.

Text 10

athava krishnas tu iti shrutya prakaranasya badhat, yatha shankara-shariraka-bhashye shruty-adibaliyastvac ca na badhah iti sutre, te haite vidyacita eva iti shrutih, manash-cid-adinam agninam prakarana-praptam kriyanupravesha-lakshanam asvatantryam badhitva vidya-cittvenaiva svatantryam sthapayati tadvad ihapiti.

athava-or; krishnah tu-the phrase "Krishnas tu"; iti-thus; shrutya-by the Shruti-shastra; prakaranasya-of the description; badhat-because of contradiction; yatha-just as; shankara-of Shankaracarya; shariraka-bhashye-in the commentary on the Vedanta-sutra; shruti-of the Shruti-shastra; adi-baliyastvat-because of superiority of evidence; ca-also; na-no; badhah-contradiction; iti-thus; sutre-in the sutra; te-they; ha-certainly; ete-they; vidya-citah-full of transcendental knowledge; eva-certainly; iti-thus; shrutih-the Shruti-shastra; manah-cit-adinam-beginning with the words "manashcid"; agninam-of Agnideva; prakarana-praptam-the description; kriya-anupravesha-lakshanam-in the description of the activities; asvatantryam-lack of independence; badhitva-having refuted; vidya-cittvena-because of transcendental knowledge; eva-certainly; svatantryam-independence; sthapayati-establishes; tadvat-to that extent; iha-here; api-also; iti-thus.

Someone may object: Your Purana may say that Krishna is the original form of the Personality of Godhead, but this conception of God is contradicted by the ultimate scriptural authority: the Shruti-shastra. The actual authority is the Shruti, as confirmed in Vedanta-sutra, which, eloquently explained by Shankaracarya in Shariraka-bhashya, says (Vedanta-sutra 3.3.50) :

shruty-adibaliyastvac ca na badhah

"There is no fault in this statement because the Shruti is the most significant and conclusive evidence."

To this I reply: The Shruti-shastra does not contradict the Bhagavatam's explanation that Krishna is the Original Supreme Personality of Godhead. The Shruti clearly explains:

"The Supreme Personality of Godhead is full of all transcendental knowledge."

The passage in the Vajasaneyi-samhita that begins with the phrase "manashcit" and that recounts the story of Agnideva clearly refutes the misconception that the Supreme Godhead is not independent, and clearly explains that because the Godhead is full of all knowledge, He must therefore also be supremely independent, and free to do whatever He likes.

The Shruti does not deny that Krishna is the Original Supreme Personality of Godhead, but rather, by describing the Lord's supreme independence, supports it.

Text 11

ata etat prakarane 'py anyatra kvacid api bhagavac-chabdam akritva tatraiva bhagavan aharad bharam/ ity anena kritavah. tatash casyavatareshu ganana tu svayam bhagavan apy asau svarupastha eva nija-parijana-vrindanam ananda-vishesha-camatkaraya kim api madhuryam nija-janmadi-lilaya pushnan kadacit sakala-loka-drishyo bhavatity apekshayaivety ayatam.

atah-therefore; etat-this; prakarane-in the description; api-although; anyatra-in another place; kvacit-sometimes; api-although; bhagavat-shabdam-the word "bhagavan"; akritva-not saying; tatra-there; eva-certainly; bhagavan-the Personality of Godhead; aharat-removed; bharam-burden; iti-thus; anena-by this; kritavan-He did; tatah-from this; ca-also; asya-of Him; avatareshu-among the incarnations; ganana-counting; tu-but; svayam-in person; bhagavan-the original Personality of Godhead; api-also; asau-He; svarupastha-in His original form; eva-certainly; nija-own; parijana-vrindanam-of associates; ananda-transcendental bliss; vishesha-specific; camatkaraya-for the wonder; kim api-indescribable; madhuryam-sweetness; nija-own; janma-adi-beginning with His appearance; lilaya-by His pastimes; pushnan-increasing; kadacit-sometimes; sakala-all; loka-by the residents of the earth; drishyah-visible; bhavati-became; iti-thus; apekshaya-for this purpose; eva-certainly; iti-thus; ayatam-arrived.

Although Krishna is sometimes not specifically declared the original Personality of Godhead, when Krishna is counted in this (Bhagavatam, 1st Canto, 3rd Chapter) list of incarnations, He is declared the original Godhead in the phrase "bhagavan aharad bharam (The original Personality of Godhead then removed the burden of the world)".

Therefore, even though counted in the list of incarnations, Krishna is the original Personality of Godhead who, to fill His associates with bliss and wonder, and to expand the sweetness of His birth and other pastimes, sometimes comes to this world and is seen by all.

Text 12

yathoktam brahma-samhitayam ramadi-murtishu kala-niyamena tishöhan nanavataram akarod bhuvaneshu kintu krishnah svayam samabhavat paramah puman yo govindam adi-purusham tam aham bhajami

yatha-as; uktam-described; brahma-samhitayam-in the Brahma-samhita; rama-adi-the incarnation of Lord Rama, etc.; murtishu-in different forms; kala-niyamena-by the order of plenary portions; tishöhan-existing; nana-various; avataram-incarnations; akarot-executed; bhuvaneshu-within the worlds; kintu-but; krishnah-Lord Krishna; svayam-personally; samabhavat-appeared; paramah-the supreme; puman-person; yah-who; govindam-unto Lord Govinda; adi-purusham-the original person; tam-unto Him; aham-I; bhajami-offer obeisances.

This is confirmed in Brahma-samhita (5.50):

"I worship Govinda, the primeval Lord, who by His various plenary portions appeared in the world in different forms and incarnations such as Lord Rama, but who personally appears in His supreme original form as Lord Krishna."*

Text 13

avatarash ca prakrita-vaibhave 'vataranam iti jneyam. shri-krishna-sahacaryena shri-ramasyapi purushamshatvatyayo jeyah. atra tu-shabdo 'msha-kalabhyah pumshash ca sakashad bhagavato vailakshanyam bodhayati.

avatarah-incarnations; ca-and; prakrita-vaibhave-in the material world; avataranam-descent; iti-thus; jneyam-known; shri-krishna-of Shri Krishna; sahacaryena-by the state of being the intimate companion; shri-ramasya-of Lord Balarama; api-also; purusha-of the Purusha incarnation; amshatva-the state of being a partial expansion; atyayah-negation; jeyah-known; atra-gere; tu-shabdah-the word "tu"; amsha-kalabhyah-to the parts and parts of the parts; pumsah-of the purusha incarnation; ca-and; sakashat-in the presence; bhagavatah-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead (Bhagavan); vailakshanyam-difference; bodhayati-teaches.

The word incarnation is defined: "The descent of the Supreme Personality of Godhead into the material world".

Because Lord Balarama is Lord Krishna's constant intimate companion, therefore Lord Balarama cannot be an expansion of the purusha-incarnation, but He must be a direct expansion of Lord Krishna.

By using the word "tu" (but), Lord Krishna is clearly distinguished from the "amsha-kalah" (plenary portions and parts of the plenary portions of the purusha-incarnation). Lord Krishna is not another expansion of the purusha-incarnation.

Text 14

yad va, anena tu-shabdena savadharana shrutir iyam pratiyate. tatah savadharana shrutir balavati iti nyayena shrutyeva shrutam apy anyesham maha-narayanadinam svayam-bhagavattvam guni-bhutam apadyate.

yad va-furthermore; anena-by this; tu-shabdena-word "tu"; sa-avadharana-with emphasis; shrutih-text; iyam-this; pratiyate-is established; tatah-from that; sa-avadharana-with emphasis; shrutih-the text; balavati-is strengthened; iti-thus; hyayena-by the statement; shrutya-by the text; iva-as it were; shrutam-heard; api-even; anyesham-of others; maha-narayana-adinam-of Lord Narayana and other expansions of the Personality of Godhead; svayam-bhagavattvam-the state of being the original Personality of Godhead; guni-bhutam-made unimportant; apadyate-is.

The word "tu" may also be used simply to emphasize a statement, and may mean "certainly" or "indeed". (This is confirmed in the statement "savadharana shrutir balavati" (The word tu is used for emphasis). Taken in this way, the word "Tu" emphasizes that only Krishna is the Original form of the Personality of Godhead, Narayana or any of the other secondary expansions of the Lord, are not the original form of the Lord.

Text 15

evam pumsha iti bhagavan iti ca prathamam upakramoddishöasya tasya shabda-dvayasya tat-sahodarena tenaiva shabdena ca pratinirdeshattav eva khalv etav iti smarayati. uddesha-pratinirdeshayoh pratisthagitata-nirashanaya vidvadbhir eka eva shabdah prayujyate tat-sama-varno va; yatha jyotishöomadhikarane vasante vasante ca jyotisha yajeta ity atra jyotih-shabdo jyotishöoma-vishaye bhavati.

evam-in this way; pumsah-of the purusha incarnation; iti-thus; bhagavan-the Original Personality of Godhead; iti-thus; ca-also; prathamam-in the beginning; upakrama-uddishöasya-of the statement; tasya-that; shabda-of the words; dvayasya-of the pair; tat-His; sahodarena-with the brother (Lord Balarama); tena-with Him; eva-certainly; shabdena-by the word; ca-also; pratinirdeshattau-the two repetitions; eva-certainly; khalu-indeed; etau-the two; iti-thus; smarayeti-causes to remember; uddesha-of the first statement; pratinirdeshayoh-and of the repetition; pratiti-of the conclusion; sthagitata-hidden meaning; nirashanaya-for refuting; vidvadbhih-by the learned; ekah-one; eva-certainly; shabdah-word; prayujyate-is uded; tat-sama-varnah-spelled in the same way; va-also; yatha-just as; jyotishöoma-adhikarane-in the connection with the Jyotishöoma sacrifice; vasante vasante-every spring; ca-also; jyotisha-with the Jyotishöoma ceremony; yajeta-one should offer sacrifice; iti-thus; atra-here; jyotih-shabdah-the word "jyotih"; jyotishöoma-vishaye-in connection with the Jyotishöoma sacrifice; bhavati-is.

The words "pumshah" (the purusha-incarnations) and "bhagavan" (the Original Personality of Godhead) are also used in this chapter of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (Canto One, Chapter Three), in the first verse (jagrihe paurusham rupam bhagavan mahad-adibhih), and in verse 23, where the Lord is described with His brother (rama-krishnav it bhuvo bhagavan aharad bharam). To refute any agrument by the learned that it should be interpreted to have a different, hidden meaning, the word "bhagavan" is used twice in this chapter. This is so just as the word jyotih is repeated in the chapter describing the jyotishöoma-yajna (vasante vasante ca jyotisha yajeta: every spring one should offer a jyotishöoma-yajna).

Text 16

atra tattvavada-guravas tu "ca-shabda-sthane sva-shabdam paöhitvaivam acakshate- ete prokta avatara mula-rupi svayam eva. kim svarupah? svamsha-kalah, na tu jivavad vibhinnamshah.

atra-in this connection; tattvavada-the followers of Shripada Madhvacarya; guravah-the spiritual masters; tu-but; ca-also; shabda-sthane-in place of the word; sva-"sva" (own); shabdam-the word; paöhitva-reading; evam-in the following way; acakshate-declare; ete-these; proktah-mentioned; avatarah-incarnations; mula-rupi-the origin; svayam-in person; eva-certainly; kim-what are; svarupah-His own forms; sva-own; amsha-plenary portions; kalah-and portions of the plenary portions; na-not; tu-but; jivavat-as the individual living entities; vibhinnamshah-eternally distinct parts.

The tattvavada-gurus accept a different reading of this verse, replacing the word "ca" (and) with the word "sva" (own). They say:

"The word `ete' in this verse refers to the incarnations of the Lord and the word `bhagavan svayam' refers to the Lord Himself, whose form is the origin of the incarnations. What is the Lord's form? His forms are mentioned in the words svamsha-kalah (The incarnations, which are His own plenary portions and portions of the portions, are His forms). His forms are not vibhinnamsha (separated parts), as are the jivas."

Text 17

yatha varahe

svamsash catha vibhinnamsha iti dvedhamsha ishyate amshino yat tu samarthyam yat svarupam yatha sthitih svamshah-Personal expansions; ca-also; atha-now; vibhinnamshah-separate expansions; iti-thus; dvedha-two; amshah-expansions; ishyate-are distinguished; amshinah-of the source of all expansions; yat-which; tu-also; samarthyam-ability; yat-which; svarupam-own from; yatha-just as; sthitih-status.

This is confirmed in the Varaha Purana:

"The two kinds of expansions from the Supreme Personality of Godhead are: 1. svamsha (personal expansions) and 2. vibhinnamsha (separate persons). The svamsha expansions are unlimitedly powerful. Their form and personality are the same as the Supreme Personality of Godhead Himself.

Text 18

tad eva nanumatro 'pi bhedah svamshamshinah kvacit vibhinnamsho 'lpa-shaktih syat kincit samarthyamatra-yuk tat-therefore; eva-certainly; na-not; anumatrah-comparison; api-although; bhedah-difference; svamsha-of the personal expansions; amshinah-and the Original Personality of Godhead; kvacit-at all; vibhinnamshah-the separate expansions; alpa-small; shaktih-power; syat-is; kincit-somewhat; samarthyamatra-yuk-with power.

"There is not the slightest difference between the svamsha expansions and the Original Personality of Godhead. The vibhinnamsha expansions are very weak in comparison to Them."

Text 19

atrocyate amshanam amshi-samarthyadikam tad-aikyenaiva mantavyam. tac ca yathavidasina ity adau tasyakshayatvena tasam akshayatvam yatha tadvat, amshamshitvanupapatter eva. tatha ca shri-vasudevaniruddhayoh sarvatha samye prasakte kadacid aniruddhenapi shri-vasudevasyavirbhavana prasajjyeta. tac ca shruta-viparitam ity asad eva. tasmad asty evavaöary-avatarayos taratamyam.

atra-in this connection; ucyate-it is said; amshanam-of the expansions; amshi-of the source of the incarnations; samarthyam-power; adikam-etc.; tat-with Him; aikyena-with equality; eva-certainly; mantavyam-should be considered; tat-therefore; ca-also; yathavidasina iti adau-in the verse beginning "yathavidasina"; tasya-of Him; akshayatvena-with eternity; tasam-of them; akshayatvam-eternity; yatha-just as; tadvat-in the same way; amsha-amshitva-of the stte of the incarnations or the source of the incarnations; anupapatter-of the state of being inapplicable; eva-certainly; tatha-in the same way; ca-also; shri-vasudeva-of Lord Vasudeva; aniruddhayoh-and Lord Aniruddha; sarvatha-always; samye-in equality; prasakte-devoted; kadacid-sometimes; aniruddhena-by Lord Aniruddha; api-also; shri-vasudevasya-of Lord

Vasudeva; avirbhavana-the appearance; prasajyeta-is aspired for; tat-that; ca-also; shruta-viparita-contradicting the Vedic literatures; iti-thus; asat-false; eva-certainly; tasmat-therefore; asti-there is; eva-certainly; avatari-of the source of the incarnation; avatarayoh-and of the incarnation; taratamyam-gradations of higher and lower.

Here it is said that both the Original Personality of Godhead and His expansions (amshas) are equally powerful. In the phrase "yathavidasinah kulyah sarasah syuh sahasrashah" (The incarnations of the Lord are innumerable like rivulets flowing from inexhaustible sources of water) (1.3.26) it may be understood that, because the Lord and His expansions share the same nature, as the original Supreme Personality of Godhead is eternal, so His expansions are also eternal. Although Lord Vasudeva and Lord Aniruddha are equal in all respects, Lord Aniruddha sometimes devotedly meditates on Lord Vasudeva. To argue that this is contradicted by the Shruti-shastra is wrong. For the Supreme Lord, who is the source of all incarnations, and for all His expansions, there are gradations of higher and lower.

Text 20

ata eva tritiyasyashöame

asinam urvyam bhagavantam adyam sankarshanam devam akunöha-sattvam vivitsavs tattvam atah parasya kumara-mukhya munayo 'nvapricchan svam eva dhishnyam bahu manayantam yad vasudevabhidham amananti atah eva-therefore; tritiyasya-of the Third Canto; ashöame-in the Eighth Chapter; asinam-seated; urvyam-in the bottom of the universe; bhagavantam-unto the Lord; adyam-the original; sankarshanam-sankarshana; devam-the Personality of Godhead; akunöha-sattvam-undeterred knowledge; vivitsavah-being inquisitive to know; tattvam atah-truth like this; parasya-regarding the Supreme Personality of Godhead; kumara-the boy-saint; mukhyah-headed by; munayah-great sages; nvapricchan-inquired like this; svam-Himself; eva-thus; dhishnyam-situated; bahu-greatly; manayantam-esteemed; yat-that which; vasudeva-Lord Vasudeva; abhidham-by the name; amananti-acknowledge.

This is confirmed in Shrimad-Bhagavatam (3.8.3-4):

"Some time ago, being inquisitive to know, Sanat-kumara, the chief of the boy-saints, accompanied by other great sages, inquired exactly like you about the truths regarding Vasudeva, the Supreme, from Lord Sankarshana, who is seated at the bottom of the universe. At that time Lord Sankarshana was meditating upon His Supreme Lord, whom the learned esteem as Lord Vasudeva."*

Text 21

ity adau vasudevasya sankarshanad api paratvam shruyate. yat tu tesham tatha vyakhyanam tatra krishnas tu ity anarthakam syat, bhagavan svayam ity anenaivabhipreta-siddheh.

iti-thus; adau-beginning; vasudevasya-of Lord Vasudeva; sankarshanat-from Lord Sankarshana; apieven; paratvam-superiority; shruyate-is heard; yat-which; tu-also; tesham-of them; tatha-in that way; vyakhyanam-explanation; tatra-in that connection; krishnah-Lord Shri Krishna; tu-but; iti-thus; anarthakam-without meaning; syat-is; bhagavan-the Original Personality of Godhead; svayam-in person; iti-thus; anena-by this; eva-certainly; abhipreta-intended meaning; siddheh-because of the perfection.

This verse clearly states that Lord Vasudeva is superior to Lord Sankarshana. These gradations of higher and lower do not refer to Krishna. The phrase krishnas tu (but Krishna) separates Him from them. Krishna is then declared to be "bhagavan svayam" (the original Supreme Personality of Godhead).

Text 22

kim ca, taih svayam eva prakasdivan naivam parah iti sutre sphuöam amshamshi-bhedo darshitah.

kim ca-furthermore; taih-by them; svayam-in person; eva-certainly; prakasha-of manifestations; adi-original source; vat-like; na-not; evam-in this way; parah-superior; iti-thus; sutre-in the Vedanta-sutra; sphuöam-clearly; amsha-of the expansions; amshi-of the Original Personality of Godhead, the source of all expansions; bhedah-the difference; darshitah-is observed.

This is also confirmed in Vedanta-sutra (2.3.45):

"No one is superior to the Original Personality of Godhead, from whom everything has expanded."

In this sutra the difference between the Original Personality of Godhead and His expansions is clearly shown.

Text 23

amshatve 'pi na matsyadi-rupi para evam-vidho jiva-sadrishah.-yatha tejo-'mshasyaiva suryasya khadyotasya ca naika-prakaratety-adina. tasmāt sthite bhede sadhv eva vyakhyatam krishnas tu bhagavan svayam iti.

amshatve-in the matter of being an expansion; api-even; na-not; matsya-adi-rupi-manifest in many transcendental forms such as the forms of Lord Matsya, Lord Varaha, etc.; parah-superior; evam-vidhah-in this way; jiva-the individual living entities (vibhinna-msha expansions); sadrishah-like; yatha-just as; tejah-of effulgence; amshasya-of a small particle; eva-certainly; suryasya-of the sun; khadyotasya-of a □ glowworm; ca-and; na-not; eka-one; prakarata-type; iti-thus; adina-beginning; tasmāt-therefore; sthite bhede-in considering the distinction; sadhu-nicely; vyakhyatam-described; krishnah tu bhagavan svayam iti-"Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead".

As the splendid sun is not like the tiny fireflies, so the svamsha expansions, such as Lord Matsya, are not like the jivas. This difference is clearly enunciated in the statement "Krishnas tu bhagavan svayam" (Lord Shri Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead).

Text 24

indrari iti padyardham tv atra nanv eti, tu-shabdena vakyasya bhedanat, tac ca tavataivakanksha-paripurteh. eka-vakyatve tu ca-shabda ekakarishyata. tatash ca indrari ity atrarthat ta eva purvokta eva mridayanti ity ayati. shri-sutah.

indra-ari-the enemies of Indra; iti-thus; padya-of the verse; ardhham-half; tu-but; atra-here; na-not; anveti-follows; tu-shabdena-by the word "tu"; vakyasya-of the statement; bhedanat-because of difference; tat-therefore; ca-also; tavata-to that extent; eva-certainly; akanksha-paripurteh-because all His desires are automatically fulfilled; eka-vakyatve-as one statement; tu-the word "tu"; ca-shabdena-and the word "ca"; ekakarishyate-become as if one word; tatah-then; ca-also; indrari-the enemies of Indra; iti-thus; atra-here; arthat-from the meaning; te-they; eva-certainly; mridayanti-crush; iti-thus; ayati-goes; shri-sutah-Shri Suta Gosvami.

The word "indrari" begins the second half of this verse (1.3.28). Because the word "tu" here divides the sentence, and because the Lord's desires are always fulfilled, the meaning of this verse is affirmed. The word "tu" has the same meaning as the word "ca". The phrase beginning with "indrari" is followed by the phrase beginning "mridayanti". This verse is spoken by Shri Suta Gosvami.

Anuccheda 29

Text 1

tad evam shri-krishno bhagavan, purushas tu sarvantaryamitvat paramatmeti nirdharitam.

tat-therefore; evam-in this way; shri-krishnah-Shri Krishna; bhagavan-the Original Personality of Godhead; purushah-the Purusha incarnations; tu-but; sarv-antaryamitvat-because they are all-pervading; paramatma-are known as the Supersoul; nirdharitam-concluded.

In this way Shri Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead (Bhagavan). Because He is all-pervading, the Purusha-incarnation is known as the Paramatma (Supersoul).

Text 2

tatrashankyate, nanv idam ekam amsitva-pratipadakam vakyam amsatv-pratipadaka-bahuvakya-virodhe guna-vadah syat.

tatra-in this connection; ashankyate-it may be doubted; nanu-is it not so; idam-this; ekam-one; amshitva-the source of all incarnations; pratipadakam-demonstrating; vakyam-statement; amshatva-as an expanded incarnation; bahu-many; vakya-statements; virodhe-contradicting; guna-vadah-description; syat-is.

Someone may doubt: "You have presented a single quote to demonstrate that Krishna is the original source of all incarnations of Godhead. This single quote, however, contradicts many other quotes that describe Krishna as an expansion of the Personality of Godhead, and not the source of all incarnations."

Text 3

atrocyate. tani kim shri-bhagavatiyani parakiyani va.

atra-in this connection; ucyate-it may be said; tani-them; kim-what?; shri-bhagavatiyani-supporting that Krishna is the original source of all incarnations; parakiyani-the opposite view; va-or.

To this doubt I reply: Let us consider which scriptural verses support the view that Shri Krishna is the original source of all incarnations, and which verses present a different opinion.

Texts 4 and 5

adye janma-guhyadhyayo hy ayam sarva-bhagavad-avatara-vakyanam sutram sucakatvat prathamika-paöhat tair uttaratra tasyaiva vivaranac ca tatra ca "ete camsha-kalah pumsah iti paribhasha-sutram.

adye-in the First Canto of Shrimad-Bhagavatam; janma-guhya-adhyayah-the chapter describing the mystery of the Lord's appearance in this material world (Chapter Three); hi-certainly; ayam-this; sarva-of all; bhagavat-of the Personality of Godhead; avatara-of the incarnations; vakyanam-of the description; sutra-concise explanation; sucakatvat-because of delineating; prathama-first; eka-paöhat-from the first reading; taih-by them; uttaratra-later; tasya-of that; eva-certainly; vivaranat-because of describing; ca-also; tatra-there; ca-also; ete camsha-kalah pumsah iti-the verse beginning "ete camsha-kalah pumsah"; paribhasha-sutram-explanatory aphorism.

This (third) chapter in the First Canto of Shrimad-Bhagavatam tells the secret of the Lord's birth and gives a summary of all the descriptions of the Lord's incarnations. Because it comes at the beginning of the book, and because it describes what will follow later on, its "ete camsha-kalah pumsah" verse (1.3.28) is a is the paribhasha-sutra (definition of terms, or system of abbreviations, placed in the beginning of book, which must be understood in order to properly understand the remainder of the book), for the Shrimad-Bhagavatam.

Text 6

avatara-vakyeshu anyan purushamshatvena janiyat, krishnas tu svayam-bhagavattveneti pratijna-karane granthartha-nirnayakatvat.

avatara-of the Lord's incarnations; vakyeshu-in the descriptions; anyan-others; purusha-of the Purusha-incarnations; amshatvena-as a partial expansion; janiyat-should know; krishnah-Krishna; tu-but; svayam-bhagavattvena-as the Original form of the Personality of Godhead; iti-thus; pratijna-karane-the first description of the truth to be demonstrated; grantha-of the book; artha-the meaning; nirnayakatvat-because of conclusively establishing.

Because in the opening statement of a book the truth (pratijna) the book intends to establish is presented, in these descriptions of the incarnations, one should know that Krishna is the original Supreme Personality of Godhead, and the others are expansions of the purusha-incarnation.

Text 7

tad uktam, aniyame niyama-karini paribhasha iti.

tat-therefore; uktam-it is said; aniyame-in that which appears to be disorganized; niyama-karini-giving the key to the organization; paribhasha-is known as the paribhasha-sutra; iti-thus.

A paribhasha-sutra is defined in the following quote:

"A paribhasha-sutra explains the proper method for understanding a book. It gives the key by which one may understand the actual purport of a series of apparently unrelated facts and arguments."

Text 8

atha paribhasha ca sakrid eva paöhyate shastre, na tv abhyasena; yatha vipratishedhe param karyam iti, tatash ca vakyanam koöir apy ekenaivamuna shasaniya bhaved iti nasya gunanuvadatvam.

atha-now; paribhasha-the paribhasha-sutra; ca-and; sakrit-once; eva-certainly; paöhyate-is read; shastre-in a book; na-not; tu-but; abhyasena-repeatedly; yatha-just as; vipratishedhe-in the situation where two grammatical rules are mutually contradictory; param-the second; karyam-should be done; iti-thus; tatah-from this; ca-also; vakyanam-of statements; koöih-millions; api-even; ekena-by one; eva-certainly; amuna-by this; shasaniya-governed; bhavet-may be; iti-thus; na-not; asya-of that; guna-of the qualities; anuvadatvam-repetition.

The paribhasha-sutra is only stated once in a book, and it is not repeated. A single paribhasha-sutra may govern the contents even of a very large book with millions of statements or arguments. An example of this is the paribhasha-sutra "vipratishedhe param karyam," which governs the entire text of Panini's Ashöadhyayi.

Text 9

praty utaitad viruddhayamananam etad anugunartham eva vaidushi, na ca paribhashikatvat tac-chastra eva sa vyavaharo jneyo na sarvatreti gaunatvam ashankyam.

prati uta-on the contrary; etat-this; viruddhayamananam-of those statements which contradict this; etat-this; anuguna-artham-non-conflicting meaning; eva-certainly; vaidushi-knowledge; na-not; ca-also; paribhashikatvat-because of being a paribhasha-sutra; tat-that; shastre-in the book; eva-certainly; sah-that; vyavaharah-procedure; jneyah-known; na-not; sarvatra-everywhere; iti-thus; gaunatvam-the condition of being a secondary meaning; ashankyam-doubtful.

Someone may object: Many verses in the text of Shrimad-Bhagavatam contradict the statement of your so-called paribhasha-sutra. If this verse contradicts the text of the book it is supposed to explain, then the argument that it is the paribhasha-sutra for Shrimad-Bhagavatam is certainly a very weak and doubtful argument.

Text 10

paramartha-vastu-paratvac ca shri-bhagavatasya tatrapy arthikatvac ca tasyah paribhashayah.

parama-artha-vastu-paratvat-because of presenting the highest goal of life; ca-also; shri-bhagavatasya-of Shrimad-Bhagavatam; tatra api-nevetheless; arthikatvat-because of attaining the state of the town-crier; ca-also; tasyah-of that; paribhashayah-paribhasha-sutra.

To this objection I reply: Shrimad-Bhagavatam describes the ultimate phase of the Absolute Truth and the supreme goal of life. It is not a loose collection of nice stories for casual reading. The weightiness of the subject matter of the Bhagavatam demands that it be prefaced by a paribhasha-sutra to explain the subject matter to follow.

Text 11

kim ca pratijna-vakya-matrasya ca drishyate paratrapi nana-vakyantaopamardakatvam.

kim ca-furthermore; pratijna-vakya-matrasya-of the primary assertion; ca-also; drishyate-is seen; paratra-in other scriptures; nana-various; vakya-statements; antara-within; upamardakatvam-refuting.

The objector continues: In many Vedic literatures your assertion that Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead is emphatically refuted.

Text 12

yathakashasyanutpatti-shrutih prananam ca tac-chrutih sva-virodhini nanya shrutis ca; "atmani vijnate sarvam idam vijnatam bhavati, idam sarvam yad ayam atma ityadinopamardyate.

yatha-just as; akashasya-of the sky; anutpatti-not produced; shrutih-shruti-mantra; prananam-of the life-breath; ca-also; tat-of that; shrutih-the shruti-mantra; sva-virodhini-contradicting this; na-not; anya-other; shrutih-shruti-mantras; ca-also; atmani-when the Absolute Truth; vijnate-is understood; sarvam-everything; idam-this; vijnatam-understood; bhavati-becomes; idam-this; sarvam-everything; yat-which; ayam-this; atma-Supreme Self; iti-thus; adina-by these and other quotes; upamardyate-is refuted.

For example, the Chandogya Upanishad explains that the Abstract Brahman effulgence is the actual feature of the Absolute Truth. This is confirmed in the statement "Akashasyanutpattih" (The primeval Brahman effulgence is without an origin in time). The Brihad-aranyaka Upanishad (4.5.6) explains: "atmani vijnate sarvam idam vijnatam bhavati" (When the Supreme Self is understood, then everything becomes known). The Brihad-aranyaka Upanishad further says (2.4.5): "idam sarvam yad ayam atma" (Everything that exists is nothing but the Supreme Self.) In this way the most authoritative statements of the Shruti describe the Absolute Truth as the Abstract Brahman effulgence, and refute your idea that the Absolute Truth is the Personality Krishna.

Text 13

ata eva shri-svami-prabhritibhir apy etad eva vakyam tat-tad-virodha-nirasaya bhuyo bhuya eva darshitam.

atah eva-for this very reason; shri-svami-prabhritibhih-by the actual Vedic authorities, who accept Shridhara Svami as their leader; api-even; etat-this; eva-certainly; vakyam-statement; tat-tat-these; virodha-contradictions; nirasaya-for rejection; bhuyah bhuyah-repeatedly; eva-certainly; darshitam-explained.

The actual Vedic authorities, who accept Shridhara Svami as their leader, repeatedly refute these arguments.

Text 14

tad evam shri-bhagavata-mate siddhe ca tasya vakyasya balavattamatve shri-bhagavatasya sarva-shastropamardakatvena pratham sandarbhe pratipannatvat, asminn eva pratipatsyamanatvac ca parakiyanam apy etad anugunyam eva vidvajjana-drishöam-yatha rajnah shasanam tathaiva hi tad-anucaranam apiti.

tat-therefore; evam-in this way; shri-bhagavata-of Shrimad-Bhagavatam; mate-in the opinion; siddhe-perfect; ca-also; tasya-of this; vakyasya-statement; balavt-tama-tve-in the position of being the most authoritative evidence; shri-bhagavatasya-of Shrimad-Bhagavatam; sarva-shastra-upamardakatvena-by the condition of being the most authoritative of all the Vedic literatures; pratham sandarbhe-in the first Sandarbha (Tattva-sandarbha); pratipannatvat-because of being established; asmin-in this; eva-certainly; pratipatsyamanatvat-because of being about to be known; ca-and; parakiyanam-of others; api-even; etat-this; anugunyam-non-contradictory nature; eva-certainly; vidvat-jana-by learned scholars; drishöam-seen; yatha-just as; rajnah-of the king; shasanam-the order; tatha-in the same way; eva-certainly; hi-indeed; tat-his; anucaranam-of the followers; api-also; iti-thus.

Because in the first (Tattva) sandarbha the truths that the opinion of Shrimad-Bhagavatam is perfect, and the statements of the Shrimad-Bhagavatam are conclusive and eclipse any scripture that contradicts them, is proven, and because in this book the same truths will again be proven, therefore the wise see that other scriptures all follow Shrimad-Bhagavatam, just as courtiers follow their king's orders.

Text 15

tatra shri-bhagavatiyani vakyani tad-anugatarthataya darshyante. tatramshenavatirnasya iti amshesa shri-baladevena sahety arthah. kalabhyam nitaram hareh iti hareh kala prithvi, abhyam shri-rama-krishnabhyam iti.

tatra-there; shri-bhagavatiyani-of Shrimad-Bhagavatam; vakyani-statements; tat-this; anugata-following; arthataya-the meaning; darshyante-are explained; tatra-there; amshena-with a plenary portion; avatirnasya-descended; iti-thus; amshena-with a plenary portion; shri-baladevena-with Lord Baladeva; saha-accompanied; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; kala-of Hari; iti-thus; hareh-of Hari; kala-part; prithvi-the earth; abhyam-by the two of them; shri-rama-krishnabhyam-by Krishna and Balarama; iti-thus.

Now let us consider whether the verses of Shrimad-Bhagavatam contradict the statement of the paribhasha-sutra ("krishnas tu bhagavan svayam"). The statement "tatramshenavatirnasya" (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.1.2) may be presented as a statement contradicting the assertion of our paribhasha-sutra, and someone may claim that these words mean "The Supreme Godhead appeared in this material world by expanding Himself as Shri Krishna". Actually, however, this is not the proper interpretation of these words. The word "amshena" should be understood to mean "with His plenary portion, Lord Baladeva", and the entire statement should be interpreted: "The Supreme Personality of Godhead, Lord Krishna, appeared in this material world accompanied by His plenary portion, Lord Baladeva."

The statement "kalabhyam nitaram hareh" (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.20.48) may also be presented as a statement contradicting our paribhasha-sutra, and someone may claim that these words mean "The Supreme Godhead appeared in the forms of His two expansions, Krishna and Balarama." Actually, however, this is not the proper interpretation of these words. "Kalabhyam" (by the two plenary portions) is not actually one word, but the two words "kala" and "abhyam", □ joined by sandhi. The phrase "hareh kala" means the earth planet, which is one of Lord Hari's many potencies, and "abhyam" means "by Krishna and Balarama". The actual meaning of this statement is: "The earth planet appeared very beautiful because of the presence of Krishna and Balarama."

Text 16

dishöyamba te kukshi-gatah parah puman amshena sakshad bhagavan bhavaya nah ity atra yo matsyadi-rupena "amshena" eva purvam "nah" asmakam bhavaya abhut; he amba sa tu sakshat svayam eva kukshi-gatah astiti.

dishöysh-by fortune; amba-O mother; te-your; kukshi-gatah-in the womb; parah-the Supreme; puman-Personality of Godhead; amshena-with all His energies, His parts and parcels; sakshat-directly; bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; bhavaya-for the auspiciousness; nah-of all of us; iti-thus; atra-in this verse; yah-who; matsya-adi-rupena-in the form of Lord Matsya, and the Lord's other plenary portions; eva-certainly; purvam-formerly; nah-asmakam-the word "nah" means "of all of us"; bhavaya-for the auspiciousness; abhut-appeared; he amba-O mother; sah-He; tu-indeed; sakshat svayam-the word "sakshat" means "personally"; eva-certainly; kukshi-gatah-in the womb; asti-is; iti-thus.

Someone may claim that the verse "dishöyamba te kukshi-gatah parah puman amshena sakshad bhagavan bhavaya nah" from Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.2.41) contradicts the view presented in our paribhasha-sutra ("krishnas tu bhagavan svayam"). Such a person may interpret this verse from Shrimad-Bhagavatam to mean "O mother Devaki, for your good fortune and ours, the Supreme Personality of Godhead Himself has expanded into His plenary portion known as Krishna. In His Krishna-expansion, He is now within your womb."

This is not the proper way to understand the meaning of this verse. The word "amshena" means "by His appearance as Lord Matsya and other incarnations", and the second line of the verse should be understood in the past tense. In this way one will be able to perceive the actual meaning of the verse: "O mother Devaki, the Supreme Personality of Godhead formerly appeared as Lord Matsya and His many other incarnations just for our good-fortune. He has now appeared within your womb, in His original form of Lord Krishna."

Text 17

tato jagan-mangalam acyutamsham iti tu saptamy anya-padartho bahuvrihih; tasminn amshiny avatarati tesham amshanam apy atra praveshasya vyakhyasyamanatvat.

tatah-thereafter; jagat-mangalam-auspiciousness for all living entities in all the universes of the creation; acyuta-amsham-the Supreme Personality of Godhead, who is never bereft of the six opulence, all of which are present in His plenary expansions; iti-thus; tu-but; saptami-in the locative case; anya-pada-arthah bahuvrihi-an anyapadartha-bahuvrihi-samasa; tasmin-in whom; amshini-the source of all incarnations; avatarati-descends; tesham-of them; amshanam-of His vishnu-tattva expansions; api-also; atra-there; praveshasya-of the entrance; vyakhyasyamanatvat-because of intending to describe.

Someone may claim that the statement of our paribhasha-sutra is contradicted by the following verse from Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.2.18): "tato jagan-mangalam acyutamsham". Such a critic may interpret this statement: "Thereafter, the Supreme Personality of Godhead, who is auspicious for the entire universe, expanded Himself as His plenary portion Krishna, and appeared in this material world."

The word "acyutamsham" in this verse is actually an anyapadartha-bahuvrihi-samasa, and it means "He in whom all the incarnations of Godhead are present." The actual meaning of these words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam is: "Thereafter, the Original Personality of Godhead, Lord Krishna, from whom the various forms of the Personality of Godhead have expanded, and who is auspicious for the entire universe, appeared in this material world, accompanied by all His plenary expansions."

Text 18

purnatvenaiva tatra "sarvatmakam atma-bhutam ity uktam.

purnatvena-as the Original Personality of Godhead; tatra-in that verse; sarva-atmakam-the Supreme Soul of everyone; atma-bhutam-the cause of all causes; iti-thus; uktam-said.

That Lord Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead is confirmed in the third line of this verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.2.18): "sarvatmakam atma-bhutam (Lord Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead, the cause of all causes, and the origin of the all-pervading Supersoul)."

Text 19

tatha natividvajjana-vakye

etau bhagavatah sakshad dharer narayanasya hi
avatirnav ihamshena
vasudevasya veshmani

ity atrapi sarasvati-preritataya "amshena" sarvamshena sahaivety arthah.

tatha-in the same way; na-not; ati-very; vidvat-jana-of intelligent persons; vakye-in the statement; etau-the two of them; bhagavatah-of the Personality of Godhead; sakshat-directly; hareh-of Lord Hari; narayanasya-of Lord Narayana; hi-certainly; avatirnav-descended; iha-here in this material world; amshena-with all the plenary expansions; vasudevasya-of King Vasudeva; veshmani-in the home; iti-thus; atra-here; api-also; sarasvati-by the goddess of learning and eloquence; preritataya-by the inspiration; amshena-by the plenary portion; sarva-amshena-with all the plenary portions; saha-accompanied; eva-certainly; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning.

An unintelligent critic may try to refute the statement of our paribhasha-sutra by pushing forward this verse from Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.43.23):

etau bhagavatah sakshad
dharer narayanasya hi
avatirnav ihamshena
vasudevasya veshmani.

and he may interpret this verse to mean: "Krishna and Balarama, who are both plenary expansions of the Original Personality of Godhead, Lord Narayana, have descended to this material world, appearing in the home of King Vasudeva."

In this verse the word "amshena" does not mean "as an expansion of Lord Narayana", but rather it means "accompanied by all His plenary portions. In this way the actual meaning of the verse is established: "The Original Personality of Godhead, Krishna and Balarama, have descended to this material world accompanied by all Their plenary expansions. They have appeared in the home of King Vasudeva."

Text 20

evam eva

tav imau vai bhagavato
harer amsav ihagatau
bhara-vyayaya ca bhuvah
krishnau yadu-kurudvahau.

ity tra agatau iti kartari nishöha, krishnau iti karmani dvitiya, tatash ca bhagavatah nanavatara-bijasya hareh purushasya tav imau nara-narayanakhhyau amshau kartri-bhutau krishnau krishnarjunau karma-bhutav agatavantau tayoh pravishöavantav ity arthah. krishnau kidrishau? bhuvo bharasya vyayaya cakarad bhakat-sukhada-nana-lilantaraya ca yadu-kurudvahau yadu-kuru-vamshayor avatirnav ity arthah. arjune tu naraveshah krishno narayanah svayam ity agama-vakyam tu shrimad-arjune nara-praveshopekshaya. yas tu svayam ananya-siddho narayanah. narayanah tvam na hi sarva-dehinam ity adau darshitah.

evam-in this way; eva-certainly; tau-both; imau-these; vai-certainly; bhagavatah-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; hareh-of Hari; amshau-part and parcel expansion; iha-here (in this universal); agatau-has appeared; bhara-vyayaya-for mitigation of the burden; ca-and; bhuvah-of the world; krishnau-the two Krishnas (Krishna and Arjuna); yadu-kuru-udvahau-who are the best of the Yadu and Kuru dynasties respectively; iti-thus; atra-in this verse; agatau-the word "agatau"; iti-thus; kartari-performer of the activity; nishöha-the past participle; krishnau-the word "krishnau"; iti-thus; karmani-the receiver of the activity; dvitiya-in the accusative case; tatash-therefore; ca-also; bhagavatah-the word "bhagavatah"; nana-of various; avatara-incarnations; bijasya-of the origin; hareh-of the word "hareh"; purushasya-of the purusha-incarnation; tau imau-the words "tau imau"; nara-narayana-akhyau-named Nara-Narayana Rishis; amshau-plenary expansions; kartri-bhutau-performers of the activity; krishnau-the word "krishnau"; krishna-arjunau-Krishna and Arjuna; karma-bhutau-receiving the action; agatavantau-appeared; tayoh-of the two; pravishöavantau-entered; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; krishnau-the two Krishnas; kidrishau-what were they like?; bhuvah bharasya vyayaya-in order to mitigate the burden of the world; ca-karat-from the word "ca" (also); bhakta-the devotees; sukhada-delighting; nana-lila-antaraya-for performing various pastimes; ca-also; yadu-kuru-udvahau-the word "yadu-kurudvahau"; yadu-kuru-vamshayoh-in the Yadu and Kuru dynasties; avatirnav-appeared; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; arjune-in Arjuna; tu-indeed; nara-of Nara Rishi; aveshah-entrance; krishnah-Krishna; narayanah-Lord Narayana; svayam-personally; iti-thus; agama-vakyam-the statement of the Vedic literatures; tu-also; shrimad-arjune-in Arjuna; nara-of Nara Rishi; pravesha-the empowerment; upekshaya-in regard to; yah-who; tu-but; svayam-directly; ananya-siddhah-perfect and supremely independent; narayanah-Lord Narayana; narayanah-Narayana; tvam-You; na-not; hi-indeed; sarva-dehinam-residing in all living entities; iti-thus; adau-in the beginning; darshitah-revealed.

Attempting to discredit the validity of our paribhasha-sutra, someone may quote the following verse from Shrimad-Bhagavatam:

tav imau vai bhagavato
harer amsav ihagatau
bhara-vyayaya ca bhuvah
krishnau yadu-kurudvahau

Our critic may try to interpret this verse to mean: "Krishna and Arjuna are plenary expansions of Nara and Narayana Rishis, and they have appeared in the Yadu and Kuru dynasties just to remove the burden of the world."

That is not the proper way to interpret this verse. In this sentence, we may note that the past-participle "agatau" is the subject of the sentence, in the nominative case. The word "krishnau" is in the accusative case. The word "bhagavatah" means "The Supreme Personality of Godhead, the origin of all incarnations of Godhead", and "hareh" means "of the purusha-incarnation". The words "tau imau amshau" refer to Nara-Narayana Rishis, and these words are in the nominative case. The word "krishnau", in the accusative case refers to Krishna and Arjuna. The meaning of the sentence is "Nara and Narayana Rishis were present within Krishna and Arjuna." In other words, Nara and Narayana Rishis accompanied Krishna and Arjuna. This verse does not mean that Krishna and Arjuna are expansions of Nara and Narayana Rishis. The remainder of the sentence describes Krishna and Arjuna. Firstly, the verse says that Krishna and Arjuna descended to this world to relieve the burden of the earth. The use of the word "ca" (also) suggests that They also appeared to grant transcendental happiness to the devotees by performing various pastimes. We may also note that the word "yadu-kurudvahau" means "who appeared in the Yadu and Kuru dynasties".

Our interpretation of this verse from Shrimad-Bhagavatam therefore is: "Nara and Narayana Rishis appeared within the bodies of Krishna and Arjuna, who took birth in the Yadu and Kuru dynasties just to relieve the burden of the earth."

The following quote from the Agama-shastra explains that Krishna and Arjuna are not expansions of Nara and Narayana Rishis:

arjuna tu naraveshah
krishno narayanah svayam

"Arjuna is an empowered (shakty-avesha) incarnation of Nara Rishi and Lord Krishna is directly the Supreme Personality of Godhead, Lord Narayana."

That Lord Krishna is the original Lord Narayana is confirmed in the prayers of Lord Brahma (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.14.14):

narayanas tvam na hi sarva-dehinam

"O Krishna, are You not the original form of Lord Narayana, who resides in the hearts of all living entities?"

Text 21

sa punah krishna ity arthantarapekshaya ca mantavyam, yayor eva samam viryam ity-adi-nyayat. tatha vishnu-dharme yas tvam vetti sa mam vetti yas tvam anu sa mam anu abhedenatmano vedmi tvam aham pandu-nandana iti.

sah-He; punah-again; krishnah-Krishna; iti-thus; artha-meaning; antara-another; apekshaya-with reference; ca-also; mantavyam-may be considered; yayoh-of the two of whom; eva-certainly; samam-equal; viryam-prowess; iti-adi-nyayat-from the verse beginning; tatha-in the same way; vishnu-dharme-in the Vishnu-dharma Purana; yah-who; tvam-you; vetti-understands; sah-he; mam-Me; vetti-understands; yah-who; tvam-follows; sah-he; mam-Me; anu-follows; abhedena-without distinction; atmanah-of self; vedmi-I understand; tvam-you; aham-I; pandu-nandana-O son of Pandu.

Our critic may then dispute our paribhasha-sutra by saying that because Krishna and Arjuna are equals, Krishna cannot be the source of all incarnations. They say that friendship is a relationship of equals and they quote these words spoken by Shri Krishna to Rukmini-devi (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.60.15):

"Generally friendship or marriage is contracted between partners who are equal in strength, birth, wealth, and activities, and not between those who are not equally possessing these assets."*

Had Krishna not considered Arjuna His equal, they say, He would not have made friendship with him. This is confirmed in the following words spoken by Lord Krishna to Arjuna in the Vishnu-dharma Purana:

"O Arjuna, O son of Pandu, someone who is able to understand you, is automatically able to understand Me also, and someone who becomes your follower, I consider to be My follower also. O Arjuna, I do not consider that there is any difference between you and Me, for we are equal in all respects."

Text 22

tam prati shri-bhagavad-vakyac carjunasyapi shri-krishna-sakhatvena narayana-sakhan narat purnatvat tatra pravesah samucita eva.

tam prati-to him; shri-bhagavat-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; vakyat-from these words; ca-also; arjunasya; api-also; shri-krishna-with Shri Krishna; sakhatvena-by the friendship; narayana-of Lord Narayana; sakhan-the friend; narat-from Nara Rishi; purnatvat-because of the fullness; tatra-there; pravesah-entrance; samucitah-is known; eva-certainly.

From these statements we may understand the deep friendship between Lord Krishna and Arjuna. By this friendship we may understand that Arjuna is an empowered incarnation of Nara Rishi, the great friend of Narayana Rishi. That is the real meaning of these words.

Text 23

kuhracac camfadi-fhabda-prayodah

naham prakashah sarvasya yogamaya-samavritah

iti shri-gitopanishad-disha purnasyapi sadharana-janeshv asamyak prakashat tat-pratitaveshamsha ivamsha iti jneyam.

kuhracit-on some occasion; ca-also; amsha-partial expansion; adi-beginning with; shabda-of the word;

prayogah-usage; na-not; aham-I; prakashah-manifest; sarvasya-to everyone; yogamaya-by yogamaya; samavritah-covered; iti-thus; shri-gita-upanishat-of the Bhagavad-gita; disha-by the instruction; purnasya-of the complete; api-also; sadharana-janeshu-among the ordinary people; asamyak-incomplete; prakashat-because of manifestation; tat-of them; pratita-believed; avesha-amshah-part; iva-just as; amshah-partial incarnation; iti-thus; jneyam-should be understood.

The reason some people maintain that Krishna is a partial expansion of the Original Personality of Godhead, and not the Original Personality of Godhead Himself, is described by the Lord in Bhagavad-gita (7.25):

"I am never manifest to the foolish and unintelligent. For them I am covered by My eternal creative potency (yogamaya), and so the deluded world knows Me not, who am unborn and infallible."*

Shri Krishna only partially reveals Himself to the ordinary living entities. Because of this partial revelation, ordinary people believe that Krishna is merely an expansion of the Original Godhead.

Text 24

narayana-samo gunaih ity atrapi narayanah paravyomadhipa eva, gunaih samah yasyety eva shri-gargabhiprayah.

narayana-Narayana; samah-equal; gunaih-with qualities; iti-thus; atra api-nevertheless; narayanah-Narayana; paravyoma-adhipah-the monarch of Vaikunöhaloka; eva-certainly; gunaih-with qualities; samah-equal; yasya-of whom; iti-thus; eva-certainly; shri-garga-of Gargacarya; abhiprayah-intention.

The critic of our paribhasha-sutra may push forward the following statement of Gargacarya (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.8.19):

narayana-samo gunaih

Our critic will interpret these words to mean: "Krishna possesses wonderful exalted qualities, just as Lord Narayana does." Because Gargacarya compared Krishna to Narayana, our critic will have it that Krishna must be an expansion of Narayana. Actually, however, these words mean: "Narayana, the ruler of Vaikunöhaloka, possesses transcendental qualities almost equal to the most exalted qualities present in Lord Krishna." Gargacarya's intention in speaking these words was to compare Narayana to Krishna, not to say that Krishna is so wonderful that He possesses great qualities, just as Lord Narayana does.

Text 25

tad evam maha-kalapurakhyane 'pi pratijna-vakyam idam adhikuryat.

tat-therefore; evam-in this way; maha-kala-pura-of Krishna and Arjuna's visit to the Kala-purusha; akhyane-in the account; pratijna-vakyam-our beginning statement; idam-this; adhikuryat-is substantiated.

Our beginning statement (that Shri Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead) is also confirmed in the account of Krishna in the Eighty-ninth Chapter of the Tenth Canto of Shrimad-Bhagavatam.

Text 26

kim ca shastram hi shasanatmakam shasanam copadeshah. sa ca dvidha-sakshat, arthanataradvara ca.

kim ca-furthermore; shastram-scripture; hi-certainly; shasana-orders; atmakam-consisting of; shasana-orders; ca-and; upadeshah-instructions; sah-this; ca-also; dvidha-or two kinds; sakshat-direct; artha-antara-dvara-indirect, with an obscure or allegorical meaning; ca-and.

The statements of scripture may be accepted in two ways: 1. by accepting the direct or literal meaning, and 2. by accepting an indirect, obscure or allegorical meaning.

Text 27

sakshad upadeshas tu shrutih iti paribhashyate.

sakshat-directly; upadeshah-instruction; tu-and; shrutih-shruti-shastra; iti-thus; pribhashyate-spoken in the rules for interpretation.

Among the rules for interpreting the scriptures we find the statement:

sakshad upadeshas tu shrutih

"The instructions of the Shruti-shastra should be accepted literally, without fanciful or allegorical interpretations."

Text 28

sakshattvam catra nirapekshatvam ucyate. tad uktam nirapeksha-rava shrutih iti.

sakshattvam-literality; ca-also; atra-in this connection; nirapekshatvam-independence; ucyate-is described; tat-therefore; uktam-it is said; nirapeksha-rava-independent; shrutih-the Shruti-shastra; iti-thus.

The statements of the Shruti-shastra are always correct and do not need to be substantiated by any external authority. Because the scriptures are thus the supreme authority, they should be taken literally, without imaginative interpretation. Therefore it is said:

nirapeksha-rava shrutih

"The statements of the Shruti-shastra are the supreme independent authority)."

Text 29

tatha ca sati "shruti-linga-vakya-prakarana-sthana-samakhyanam samavaye para-daurbalyam artha-viprakashat" ity uktanusarena caramasya purvapekshaya dura-pratity-arthatve krishnas tu bhagavan svayam iti shri-shaunakam prati shri-sutasya sakshad-upadeshenetihasaatha-tad-viparita-linga-dvaropedesho badhyeta, na ca me kalav avatirnau iti maha-kala-puradhipa eva shri-krishnam sakshad evopadishöavan iti vacyam.

tatha-furthermore; ca-also; sati-being; shruti-the Shruti-shastra; linga-vakya-prakarana-sthana-the stages of logical argument; samakhyanam-the Smriti-shastra; samavaye-in the group; para-following; daurbalyam-weakness of authority; artha-from the actual truth; viprakarshat-because of distance; iti-thus; ukte-spoken; anusarena-in conformance; caramasya-of the last; purva-the previous statements; apekshaya-in regard to; dura-great; pratiti-confidence; arthatve-in the matter of correctness of meaning; krishnah tu bhagavan svayam-the assertion in Bhagavatam 1.3.28 that Shri Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead; iti-thus; shri-shaunakam-Shaunaka Rishi; prati-to; shri-sutasya-of Suta Gosvami; sakshat-direct; upadeshena-by instruction; itihasa-stha-in the Puranas; tat-that; viparita-contradicting; linga-dvara-by various evidences; upadeshah-instruction; badhyeta-is to be rejected; na-not; ca-and; me-My; kalau-plenary portions; avatirnau-descended; iti-thus; maha-kala-pura-adhipah-the Bhuma-purusha; eva-certainly; shri-krishnam-to Shri Krishna; sakshat-directly; eva-certainly; upadishöavan-instructed; iti-thus; vacyam-statement.

The Mimamsa-darshanam (3.3.14) explains: "Scriptural instructions are more authoritative than the logical arguments known as linga, vakya, prakarana, and sthana, and these logical arguments are more authoritative than conclusions drawn from historical accounts." The statement of our paribhasha-sutra (krishnas tu bhagavan svayam) that Krishna is the original form of the Supreme Personality of Godhead appears to contradict the Bhuma-purusha's assertion (in the Bhagavatam, Tenth Canto, Chapter Eighty-nine): "O Krishna and Arjuna, you are both My plenary expansions". The first statement is in the context of a philosophical discussion, and the second in the context of an historical narration. For this reason, according to the description given in the Mimamsa-darshanam, the former statement is more authoritative than the second.

Text 30

shri-krishnasya sarvajnavyabhicarena vaktri-shrotri-bhava-purvaka-sangamaprastavena dvijatmaja me yuvayor didrikshuna iti karyantara-tatparya-darshanena ca tasyaitan maha-puranasya ca tattvopadeshöri-shri-sutadivat-tad-upadeshe tatparyabhavat vakshyamanarthantara eva naikatyena pada-sambandhac ca.

shri-krishnasya-of Shri Krishna; sarvajna-avyabhicarena-because of omniscience; vaktri-of the speaker; shrotri-of the hearer; purvaka-at the beginning; sangama-of their association; aprastavena-without respectful prayers; dvija-of the brahmana; atmajah-the sons; me-by Me; yuvayoh-of the two of you; didrikshuna-with a desire to see; iti-thus; karya-activity; antara-opposite; tatparya-meaning; darshanena-by the revelation; ca-also; tasya-of that; etat-this; maha-puranasya-of the Shrimad-Bhagavatam; ca-also; tattva-of the truth; upadeshöri-teacher; shri-suta-Shri Suta Gosvami; adi-beginning with; vat-possessing; tat-that; upadeshe-in the instruction; tatparya-explanation; abhavat-because of the lack; vakshyamana-about to be spoken; artha-meaning; antarah-contrary; eva-certainly; naikatyena-nearby; pada-of words; sambandhat-because of contact; ca-also.

These words of the Bhuma-purusha are not to be taken very seriously for the following reasons: 1. Shri Krishna, who is omniscient, did not begin His conversation with the Bhuma-purusha by offering respectful prayers, as is customary when one approaches a spiritual superior to receive instruction from him, 2. The Bhuma-purusha's statement is contradicted by His activity of stealing the brahmana's sons just to get the audience of Shri Krishna (The Bhuma-purusha said: "I have taken away the brahmana's sons because I am so eager to see You.") 3. The statement of Suta Gosvami in the beginning of Shrimad-Bhagavatam and the instructions of many other exalted speakers in the Bhagavatam clearly contradict the statement of the Bhuma-purusha, and 4. In this chapter of Bhagavatam, the Bhuma-purusha's assertion is followed by other statements that contradict it.

Text 31

kim ca bhavatu va tushyatu iti nyayena shri-krishnasya tam apekshyapurnatvam, tathapi sarvesham apy avataram nityam eva sva-sthatvena darshayishyamanatvat, keshancin mate tu svayam-purushatve 'pi svatantra-sthititvat yuvam nara-narayanav rishi dharmam acaratam iti tvarayetam anti me iti ca tat-tad-arthatve virudhyate.

kim ca-furthermore; bhavatu-it may be; va-or; tushyatu-as you please; iti-thus; nyayena-by the example; shri-krishnasya-of Shri Krishna; tam-that; apekshya-in reference to; apurnatvam-completeness; tatha api-nevertheless; sarvesham-of all; api-even; avataram-incarnations; nityam-eternally; eva-certainly; sva-sthatvena-by His own position; darshayishyamanatvat-because of being about to reveal; keshancit-of some philosophers; mate-in the opinion; tu-but; svayam-purushatve-directly the purusha-incarnation; api-although; svatantra-independent; sthititvat-because of the status; yuvam-you two; nara-narayanau rishi-Nara-Narayana Rishis; dharmam-pious activities; acaratam-performed; iti-thus; tvaraya-with speed; etam-this; anti-near; me-Me; iti-thus; ca-also; tat-tat-various; arthatve-in the matter of interpretations; virudhyate-is refuted.

Even though Shri Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead, He indulgently accepts the Bhuma-purusha's identification of Him as an incarnation of Narayana Rishi, Shri Krishna will soon reveal that He is actually the Original Godhead, the origin and resting place of the innumerable incarnations of Godhead. The followers of Shripada Ramanujacarya accept that the Original Personality of Godhead is Narayana, and Shri Krishna is an incarnation of the purusha-avatara Karanarnavashayi Vishnu. They quote the verse "yuvam nara-narayanav rishi dharmam acaratam" (My dear Krishna and Arjuna, You are both incarnations of Nara-Narayana Rishis, who formerly performed exemplary activities for spiritual progress) and the verse "tvarayetam anti me" (O Krishna and Arjuna, please quickly come to Me) to support their views, although the actual meaning of the Vedic literatures refutes their conclusion.

Text 32

astu tavad asmakam anya-varta, na ca kutrapi maha-kalo 'yam amshena tat-tad-rupenavatirna ity upakhyayate va. tatash caprasiddha-kalpana prasajjate.

astu-let their be; tavat-to that extent; asmakam-of us; anya-another; varta-interpretation; na-not; ca-also; kutrapi-somewhere; maha-kalah-the Bhuma-purusha; ayam-this; amshena-by a plenary portion; tat-tad-rupena-with various related; va-or; tatak-from this; ca-also; aprasiddha-imperfect; kalpana-concept; prasajjate-clings.

The followers of Ramanujacarya cling to their imperfect conclusion that Krishna and Arjuna are incarnations of Nara-Narayana Rishi and the Bhuma-purusha, even though this view is not supported in any other Vedic literature. Our conclusion is different from theirs.

Text 33

tatraiva ca tvarayetam anti me iti, yuvam nara-narayanav rishi dharmam acataratam ity adesha-dvayasya paramparika-virodhah sphuöa eva.

tatra-there; eva-certainly; tvaraya-quickly; etam-this; anti-near; me-Me; iti-thus; yuvam-you two; nara-narayanau rishi-Nara-Narayana Rishis; dharmam-spiritual activities; acaratam-performed; iti-thus; adesha-instructions; dvayasya-of the pair; paramparika-in the teachings of the bona-fide spiritual masters; virodhah-contradiction; sphuöah-clearly manifest; eva-certainly.

These two statements of the Bhuma-purusha ("My dear Krishna and Arjuna, You are both incarnations of Nara-Narayana Rishis, who formerly performed exemplary activities for spiritual progress," and "O Krishna and Arjuna, You must quickly come to Me") clearly contradict the description of Krishna found in the Vedic literatures and the writings of the great spiritual masters.

Text 34

kim ca, yadi tasya tav amshav abhavishyatam, tarhi karatala-manivat sada sarvam eva pashyann asau tav api durato 'pi pashyann evabhavishyat. tac ca yuvayor didrikshuna iti tad-vakyena vyabhicaritam. yadi svayam eva shri-krishnas tat-tad-rupav atmanau darshayati, tadaiv tena tau drishyeyatam ity ahitam ca, tatha ca sati drishyatabhavad amshatvam nopapadyate. tasmad apy adhika-shaktitvena, praty uta purnatvam evopapadyate.

kim ca-furthermore; yadi-if; tasya-of Him; tau amshau-the two expansions; abhavishyatam-had been; tarhi-then; kara-tala-in the palm of the hand; mani-a jewel; vat-just like; sada-always; sarvam-completely; eva-certainly; pashyan-seeing; asau-He; tau-Them; api-also; duratah-from a great distance; api-even; pashyan-seeing; eva-certainly; abhavishyat-would have been; tat-therefore; ca-also; yuvayoh-of the two of You; didrikshuna-with a desire to see; iti-thus; tat-vakyena-by this speech of the Bhuma-purusha; vyabhicaritam-refuted; yadi-if; svayam-personally; eva-certainly; shri-krishnah-Shri Krishna; tat-tad-rupau-in these two forms; atmanau-His own; darshayati-reveals; tada-then; tena-by that; tau-the two forms; drishyeyatam-may become visible; iti-thus; anitam-brought; ca-also; tatha-in the same way; ca-also; sati-being so; drishyata-visibility; abhavad-because of the non-existence; amshatvam-the state of being a plenary portion; na-not; upapadyate-impossible; tasmad-therefore; api-also; adhika-shaktitvana-because of possessing inconveivable potencies; prati uta-furthermore; purnatvam-the state of being the Original Personality of Godhead; eva-certainly; upapadyate-is confirmed.

If Krishna and Arjuna had been plenary expansions of Nara Narayana Rishis, who were expanded from the Bhuma-purusha, then Krishna and Arjuna would not have been so difficult for the Bhuma-purusha to see. Krishna and Arjuna would have been then very easy for the Bhuma-purusha to see, just as one may very easily see a jewel held in one's own hand. If Krishna and Arjuna had been expansions of the Nara-Narayana Rishis and ultimately the Bhuma-purusha Himself, the Bhuma-purusha would have easily been able to see His own expansions, even if They were performing pastimes far away on the earth planet. Actually, however, the Bhuma-purusha was completely unable to see Krishna and Arjuna, and had to devise an elaborate stratagem to see them. This is confirmed in the Bhuma-purusha's own words "yuvayor didrikshuna" (I have done all this, simply because I desired to see You). Only if Krishna revealed Himself would the Bhuma-purusha have been able to see Krishna and Arjuna. Because it was so difficult for the Bhuma-purusha to see Krishna, it must be concluded that Krishna is clearly not an expansion of Narayana Rishi, and ultimately the Bhuma-purusha. Actually Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead, full of all transcendental potencies. This fact is confirmed in the narration of this pastime found in the verses of Shrimad-Bhagavatam.

Text 35

evam api yat tv arjunasya taj-jyotih-prataditakshatvam tad-darshana-jata-sadhvasam ca jatam, tatra svayam eva bhagavata tat-tal-lila-rasaupayika-matra-shakteh prakashanad anyasyah sthitaya api kunöhanan na viruddham.

evam-in the same way; api-also; yat-because; tu-also; arjunasya-of Arjuna; tat-of the Bhuma-purusha; jyotih-effulgence; pratadita-afflicted; akshatvam-the condition of the eyes; tat-of that; darshana-from seeing; jata-produced; sadhvasam-fear; ca-also; jatam-born; tatra-there; svayam-directly; eva-certainly; bhagavata-by the Original Personality of Godhead; tat-tat-various; lila-of transcendental pastimes; aupayika-remedies; matra-only; shakteh-because of the potency; prakashanat-from the manifestation; anyasyah-of another; sthitayah-situated; api-even; kunöhanat-because of being weaker; na-not; viruddham-contradicted.

When Krishna and Arjuna had pierced the coverings of the material universe, Arjuna became greatly afraid, and his eyes became full of pain when he saw the glaring spiritual effulgence emanating from the body of the Bhuma-purusha. At this time Arjuna's distress became immediately relieved by the pastime-potency of Shri Krishna, the Original Personality of Godhead. Krishna's pastime-potency is here shown to be more powerful than the personal effulgence of the Bhuma-purusha. Because Krishna's potency is thus greater than that of the Bhuma-purusha, it must be concluded that Krishna is not an expansion of Narayana Rishi, who is Himself an expansion of the Bhuma-purusha. If Krishna were expanded from the Bhuma-purusha, Krishna's potency would be less powerful than His.

Text 36

drishyate ca svasyapi kvacid yuddha prakritad api parabhavadikam.

drishyate-is seen; ca-also; svasya-His; api-even; yuddhe-in battle; prakritat-from powerful materialistic demons; api-even; parabhava-adikam-indefeatable.

Shri Krishna's supreme prowess may also be seen in His ability to repeatedly overpower innumerable demons. He is always undefeated in fighting with them.

Text 37

yathatraiva tavat svayam eva vaikunöhad agatanam apy ashvanam prakrita-tamasa bhrashöa-gatitvam.

yatha-just as; atra-here; eva-certainly; tavat-to that extent; svayam-directly; eva-certainly; vaikunöhat-from Vaikunöhaloka; agatanam-arrived; api-although; ashvanam-of the horses; prakrita-of the coverings of the material universe; tamasa-by the darkness; bhrashöa-obstructed; gatitvam-the movement.

Another example of Shri Krishna's supreme prowess may be seen in this account of His visit to the Bhuma-purusha. When Krishna and Arjuna approached the many-layered covering of the material universe, the transcendental horses (who had originally descended into the material world from Vaikunöhaloka) stopped drawing Their chariot, unable to proceed because of the great darkness of the coverings of material universe. Krishna enabled the horses to proceed, and revealed His great power by illuminating the path with His sudarshana-cakra.

Text 38

tad evam eva shri-krishnasya tasmin bhakti-bhara-darshanenapy anyatha na mantavyam, shri-rudradau shri-naradadau ca tatha darshanat. evam atra paratra va tadiya-lilayam tu purva-paksho nasti, tasya svairacaranatvat.

tat-therefore; evam-in this way; eva-certainly; shri-krishnasya-of Shri Krishna; tasmin-for the Bhuma-purusha; bhakti-devotion; bhara-great; darshanena-by displaying; api-even; anyatha-otherwise; na-not; mantavyam-should be considered; shri-rudra-for Shiva; adau-and others; narada-for Narada Rishi; adau-and others; ca-and; tatha-in the same way; darshanat-by the observation; evam-in the same way; atra-here; paratra-and in other circumstances; va-also; tadiya-in His; lilayam-pastimes; tu-also; purva-pakshah-the argument of our opponent; na-not; asti-is substantiated; tasya-of Shri Krishna; svairacaranatvat-because of the supremely independent pastimes.

The critic of our paribhasha-sutra may protest: Krishna approached the Bhuma-purusha with great reverence and devotion. Certainly this shows that Krishna is a subordinate expansion of the Bhuma-purusha, and not the Original Form of the Personality of Godhead.

To this objection I reply: In His earthly pastimes Shri Krishna played the role of a human being and offered respects to Shiva, Narada and others. This polite decorum on Shri Krishna's part does not disprove His actual status as the Original Personality of Godhead. In this pastime, and other pastimes also, we may clearly observe that Shri Krishna is supremely independent, and may do whatever He likes. Krishna's supreme independence in these circumstances sufficiently refutes this objection offered by our critics.

Text 39

atas tadiya-tatparya-shabdotthav arthav evam eva drishyete. tatra tatparyottho yatha-asau krishnah svayam bhagavan api yatha govardhana-makha-lilayam shri-gopa-gana-vismapana-kautukaya kacin nijam divya-murtim pradarshayan taih samam atmanaivatmanam namash cakre, tathaivarjuna-vismapana-kautukaya shri-maha-kala-rupenaivatmana dvija-balakan harayitva pathi ca tam tam ca atkaram anubhavya maha-kala-pure ca tam kam api nijam maha-kalakhyam divya-murtim darshayitva tena samam tad-rupam atmanam namash cakre, tad-rupenaiva sarjunam atmanam tatha babhashe ca.

atah-from this; tadiya-His; tatparya-interpretation; shabda-explanation; utthau-two have arisen; arthau-meanings; evam-in the same way; eva-certainly; drishyete-may be seen; tatra-in this matter; tatparya-utthau-the two interpretations; yatha-as follows; asau-This; krishnah-Krishna; svayam-personally; bhagavan-the Original Personality of Godhead; api-although; yatha-just as; govardhana-makha-lilayam-in the pastime of offering Vedic rituals for the satisfaction of Govardhana Hill; shri-gopa-gana-of the cowherd men; vismapana-tricking; kautukaya-eagerness; kancim-a certain; nijam-His own; divya-transcendental; murtim-form; pradarshayan-displaying; taih-with them; samam-together; atmana-with Himself; eva-certainly; atmanam-to Himself; namah cakre-offered respectful obeisances; tatha-in the same way; eva-certainly; arjuna-of Arjuna; vismapana-for the bewilderment; kautukaya-eager; shri-maha-kala-rupena-with the form of the Bhuma-purusha; eva-certainly; atmana-by Himself; dvija-of the brahmana; balakan-the infants; harayitva-stealing; pathi-on the path; ca-also; tam tam camatkaram-great astonishment; anubhavya-experiencing; maha-kala-pure-in the Bhuma-purusha's palace; ca-also; tam-that; kam api-a certain; nijam-His own; maha-kala-akhyam-known as the Maha-kala-purusha; divya-transcendental; murtim-form; darshayitva-revealing; tena-by Him; samam-accompanied; tat-that; ru/pena-by the form; atmanam-to Himself; namah cakre-offered respectful obeisances; tat-rupena-by His transcendental form; eva-certainly; sa-arjunam-with Arjuna; atmanam-Himself; tatha-in the same way; babhashe-spoke; ca-also.

It may appear that the statement of our paribhasha-sutra, and the statement of the Bhuma-purusha contradict each other, but actually they do not. This may be seen from the following explanation:

Even though Shri Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead, in order to bewilder the residents of Vrajabhumi during the worship of Govardhana Hill, He manifested an expansion of His own transcendental form, and then, along with the residents of Vraja, offered respectful obeisances to this expanded form of Himself. In this way, even though Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead, He offered respectful obeisances to His own expansion, as a part of His transcendental pastimes.

In the same way, Lord Krishna desired to amaze and bewilder His friend Arjuna, and to do this, in His expansion as the Bhuma-purusha, the Lord removed the brahmana's sons, took Arjuna to the Bhuma-purusha's palace and, appearing full of awe and wonder, offered respectful obeisances to His own expanded form of the Bhuma-purusha in the company of Arjuna. Offering obeisances to His expansion, Lord Krishna addressed Him with great respect.

Text 40

tad uktam. tasmai namo vraja-janaih saha cakra atmanatmane itivat. tatrapa vavanda atmanam anantam acyutah iti.

tat-that; uktam-spoken; tasmai-to Him; namah-obeisances; vraja-janaih-by the residents of Vrajabhumi; saha-accompanied; cakre-I offer; atmana-by the self; atmane-to the self; itivat-in this way; tatra-there; api-also; vavande-offered respectful obeisances; atmanam-to Himself; anantam-unlimited; acyutah-the infallible Personality of Godhead; iti-thus.

Offering obeisances to His expansion during the worship of Govardhana Hill, Shri Krishna said (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.24.36):

"Accompanied by the residents of Vrajabhumi, I offer my respectful obeisances to Myself, the Supreme Person."

In the same way the Lord offered His respects to His Bhuma-purusha expansion. This is recorded in the following words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.89.57):

"The infallible Personality of Godhead then offered His respectful obeisances to His own self in the form of the unlimited Bhuma-purusha."

Text 41

ata eva shri-hari-vamshe tat-samipa-jyotir uddishya carjunam prati shri-krishnenaivoktam mat-tejas tat sanatanam iti.

atah eva-therefore; shri-hari-vamshe-in the Hari-vamsha; tat-samipa-jyotih-to the effulgence of the Bhuma-purusha; uddishya-in relation; ca-also; arjunam-Arjuna; prati-to; shri-krishnena-by Shri Krishna; uktam-spoken; mat-My; tejah-splendor; tat-that; sanatanam-eternal; iti-thus.

We may also note the following words spoken by Shri Krishna and recorded in the scripture Hari-vamsha. When Krishna and Arjuna had penetrated the coverings of the material universe, they saw the dazzling Brahman effulgence emanating from the spiritual body of the Bhuma-purusha. At that time Krishna informed Arjuna (Vishnu-parva 114.9):

"That glaring effulgence is the eternal splendor of My own transcendental body."*

By identifying the Bhuma-purusha's effulgence as His own, Lord Krishna affirms that the Bhuma-purusha is an expansion of Lord Krishna.

Text 42

atha shabdottho 'py artho yatha tatra shri-maha-kalam uddishya purushottamottamam iti visheshanasyarthah-purusho jivas tasmad apy tmas tad-antaryami tasmad apy uttamam bhagavat-prabhava-rupa-maha-kala-shaktimayam tam iti.

atha-now; shabda-utthah-the word in this connection; api-although; arthah-meaning; yatha-just as; tatra-there; shri-maha-kalam-the Bhuma-purusha; uddishya-referring to; purusha-uttama-uttamam-the best of best persons; iti-thus; visheshanasya-of the adjectiv; arthah-the meaning; purushah-the word "purushah" (-persons); jivah-individual living entities; tasmad-than whom; api-even; uttamah-superior; tat-antaryami-the all-pervading Supersoul; tasmad-than whom; api-even; uttamam-superior; bhagavat-of the Original Personality of Godhead; prabhava-rupa-Prabhava expansion; maha-kala-shaktimayam-the Bhuma-purusha, who is the controller of maha-kala-shakti potency; tam-Him; iti-thus.

Someone may protest: Krishna Himself addresses the Bhuma-purushas (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.89.54) as "purushottamottamam" (superior to the best of persons). This clearly indicates that the Bhuma-purusha, and not Krishna, is the Original Form of the Personality of Godhead.

To this objection I reply: In the word "purushottamottama" the word "purusha" refers to the individual living entities. The word "uttama" means "superior". Therefore "purusha-uttama" refers to the all-pervading Supersoul expansion of the Personality of Godhead. Superior ("uttama") to the Supersoul expansion is the Bhuma-purusha, who is the prabhava expansion of the Original Personality of Godhead. From this Bhuma-purusha the Supersoul is manifest. For this reason the Bhuma-purusha is addressed as "purushottamottama". By itself this word does not at all establish that the Bhuma-purusha is the Original Personality of Godhead.

Text 43

atha shri-maha-kala-vakyasya

dvijatmaja me yuvayor didrikshuna mayopanita bhuvi dharma-guptaye kalavatinnav avaner bharasuran hatveha bhuyas tvarayetam anti me

atha-now; shri-maha-kala-of the Bhuma-purusha; vakyasya-of the statement; dvija-of the brahmana; atmajah-the sons; dvija-atmajah-the sons of the brahmana; me-by Me; yuvayoh-of both of you; didrikshuna-desiring the sight; maya-by Me; upanilah-brought; bhuvi-in the abode; dharma-guptaye-for the protection of religious principles; kala-with all potencies and expansions, or in the material world, which is one of Your potencies; avatirnau-who descended; avaneh-of the world; bhara-asuran-the heavy load of demons; hatva-having killed; iha-here in the spiritual world; bhuyah-again; tvarayetam-please quickly bring back; anti-near; me-Me.

Now let us consider the statement of the Bhuma-purusha (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.89.58) that some critics think opposes the premise of our paribhasha-sutra (krishnas tu bhagavan svayam). The verse is:

dvijatmaja me yuvayor didrikshuna
mayopanita bhuvi dharma-guptaye kalavatirnav avaner bharasurann hatveha bhuyas tvarayetam anti me

The proper interpretation of this verse is:

"I wanted to see both of You, and therefore I have brought the sons of the brahmana here. Both of You have appeared in the material world to re-establish religious principles, and you have appeared here with all your potencies and the incarnations who have expanded from You. Please kill all the demons, and cause them to quickly return to the spiritual world."*

Text 44

ity asya vyakhya yuvayoh yuvam didrikshuna maya dvija-putra me mama bhuvi dhamni upanita anita ity ekam vakyam.

iti-thus; asya-of the statement; vyakhya-the explanation; yuvayoh-the word "yuvayoh"; yuvam-means "of You two"; didrikshuna maya-by Me who was desiring to see; dvija-putrah-the Brahmana's sons; me-the word "me"; mama-means "My"; bhuvi-the word "bhuvi"; dhamni-means "abode"; upanilah-the word "upanilah"; anitah-means "taken away"; iti-thus; ekam-one; vakyam-statement.

An explanation of these words follows: In the Bhuma-purusha's first statement we may note the following definitions of words: "yuvayoh" means "of You two", "didrikshuna maya" means "by Me, who was desiring to see", "me" means "My", "bhuvi" means "abode", and "upanilah" means "taken away".

Text 45

vakyantaram aha he dharma-guptaye kalavatirnav kala amshas tad-yuktav avatirnau, madhya-pada-lopi-samasah. kim va kalayam amsha-lakshane mayika-prapance 'vatirnav va pado 'sya vishva-bhutani iti shruteh. bhuyah punar api avashishōan avaneh asuran hatva me mama anti samipaya samipam agamayitum yuvam tvarayetam atra prasthapyā tan mocayatam ity arthah tad-dhātānam mukti-prasiddheh maha-kala-pura-jyotir eva muktah pravishanti.

vakya-statement; antaram-another; aha-said; he-O; dharma-guptaye-for the protector of religion; kalavatirnav-the word "kalavatirnav"; kala-the word "kala"; amshah-means part and parcels; tat-yuktau-

along with them; avatirnau-descended; madhya-pada-lopi-samasah-a compound where the middle word is understood; kim va-or; kalayam-the word "kala" understood in the locative case; amsha-lakshane-as the expansion; mayika-prapance-meaning "the material world"; avatirnau-descended; va-or; padah-step; asya-of Him; vishva-bhutani-the material world; iti-thus; shruteh-from the Shruti-shastra; bhuyah-the word "bhuyah"; punah api-means "again"; avashishöan-remaining; avanah-of the earth; asuran-demons; hatva-having killed; me-the word "me"; mama-means "My"; anti-the word "anti"; samipaya-means "to the vicinity"; samipam-to the vicinity; agamayitum-causing to arrive; yuvam-You two; tvarayetam-please hasten; atra-in this context; prasthapy-having established; tan-them; mocayatam-please liberate; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; tat-by the Lord; hatanam-of those who are killed; mukti-of liberation; prasiddheh-celebrated; maha-kala-pura-of the Bhumi-purusha; jyotih-brahmajyoti effulgence; eva-certainly; muktah-liberated; pravishanti-enter.

In the Bhuma-purusha's second statement, He addresses Krishna and Arjuna as "kalavatirnau". In this compound word, the word "kala" means "expansions", and the phrase "along with" is understood. In this way the word is a "madhya-pada-lopi-samasa", and it means "O Supreme Lord, who has descended along with all Your vishnu-tattva expansions". Because the material world is an expansion of the Supreme Lord's energy, the word "kala" may also be interpreted to mean "in the material world". In this interpretation the word "kalavatirnau" means "O Lord who has descended to this material world". That the material world is as expansion of Lord Krishna's energy is confirmed in the Purusha-sukta prayers: "pado 'sya vishva-bhutani" (The material world is one quarter part of the energy of the Supreme Personality of Godhead). The word "bhuyah" means "again".

The last part of the Bhuma-purusha's statement is: "Please kill the demons who still remain on the earth, and liberate them, bringing them quickly back to Me". This means that the demons who are personally killed by the Personality of Godhead become liberated and enter the Brahman effulgence emanating from the transcendental body of the Lord's Bhuma-purusha expansion.

Text 46

brahma-tejomayam divyam
mahad yad drishöavan asi
aham sa bharata-shreshöha
mat-tejas tat sanatanam

prakritih sa mama para
vyaktavyakta sanatani
tam pravishya bhavantiha
mukta yogavid-uttamah.
iti shri-hari-vamshe 'rjunam prati shri-bhagavad-uktash ca.

brahma-tejah-mayam-the Brahman effulgence; divyam-transcendental; mahat-great; yat-which; drishöavan asi-You have seen; aham-I am; sah-that; bharata-shreshöha-O best of the descendents of Bharata; mat-My; tejas-splendor; tat-that; sanatanam-eternal; prakritih-energy; sa-that; mama-My; para-superior; vyakta-manifested; avyakta-and unmanifested; sanatani-eternal; tam-that; pravishya-entering; bhavanti-become; iha-here; muktah-liberated; yogavid-uttamah-the best of yogis; iti-thus; shri-hari-vamshe-in the Hari-vamsha; arjunam prati-to Arjuna; shri-bhagavat-of the Lord; uktah-spoken; ca-and.

This effulgence emanating from the transcendental body of the Personality of Godhead is described to Arjuna by Lord Krishna in the Hari-vamsha (Vishnu-parva 114.9-10) in the following words:

"My dear Arjuna, O best of the descendants of Maharaja Bharata, this splendid Brahman effulgence that you have seen is the glowing light emanating from My transcendental form. I am not different from that splendid effulgence, which is My eternal spiritual potency. This potency of Mine is sometimes manifest and sometimes unmanifest. They who have perfected the practice of ashōanga-yoga may enter this divine effulgence and attain one of the five kinds of liberation."

Text 47

tvarayetam iti prarthanayam hetu nij-antasya lin-rupam anti ity avyayac caturthya luk, caturthi ca edhobhyo vrajatitvat kriyarthopapadasya ca karmani sthaninah iti smaranat. kaōam kritva prasthapayatitvad ubhayor ekanaiḥ karmananvayah prasiddha eva. tasmad esha evarthah spashōam akashōo bhavati arthantare tu sambhavaty eka-padatve pada-cchedah kashōaya kalpyate.

tvarayetam-please hasten; iti-thus; prarthanayam-as a request; hetu-purpose; nij-antasya-of the causative; lin-rupam-in the potential mood; anti-the word "anti"; iti-thus; avyayat-as an indeclineable; caturthya-with the dative; luk-case ending; caturthi-dative case; ca-and; edhobhyah-for increasing; vrajati-goes; iti-thus; vat-like; kriya-action; artha-for the purpose; upapadasya-of a prefix; ca-and; karmani-in action; sthaninah-in the place; iti-thus; smaranat-from the sutras of Panini; kaōam-glorification; kritva-having done; prasthapayati-establishes; itivat-in this way; ubhayoh-of the two of them; ekena-by one; eva-just as; karmana-by action; anvayah-series; prasiddhah-celebrated; eva-certainly; artha-antare-in an alternate meaning; bu-but; sambhavati-arises; eka-padatve-in the state of being one line of a verse; pada-cchedah-division of the word; kashōaya-for difficulty; kalpyate-is considered; tasmad-therefore; esha-this; eva-certainly; arthah-interpretation; spashōam-clearly; akashōah-without difficulty; bhavati-is.

In this verse the word "tvarayetam (please cause to quickly arrive)" is in the causative and the potential mood. The potential is used here to indicate a prayer or appeal. The word "anti" is an indeclineable prefix with a dative sense, and it is used here to mean "for the purpose of" in much the same way as the infinitive is used. It means here "for the purpose of killing the demons, and granting liberation to them (tvarayetam)."

The Bhuma-purusha glorified Krishna and Arjuna, saying "You appear with Your transcendental potencies and various incarnations and expansions (kalavatirṇau). This interpretation of the word "kalavatirṇau" may be accepted if the word is understood as a tritiya-tatpurusha-samasa. This interpretation is very logical and easy to accept. If one wants to interpret "kalavatirṇau" as two words in the nominative case, and interpret the two words to mean "Krishna and Arjuna are My expansions", this interpretation will be difficult for the learned reader to accept.

Text 48

tatha

purna-kamav api yuvam
nara-narayanav rishi
dharmam acaratam sthityai
rishabhau loka-sangraham

tatha-in the same way; purna-fulfilled; kamau-all desires; api-although; yuvam-the two of you; nara-narayanau rishi-Nara-Narayana Rishis; dharmam-principles of religion; acaratam-practiced; sthityai-for the well-being; rishabhau-the best of persons; loka-of living entities; sangraham-of the multitude.

Someone may quote the following verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.89.59):

purna-kamav api yuvam
nara-narayanav rishi
dharmam acaratham sthityai
rishabhau loka-sangraham

in an attempt to show that Krishna and Arjuna are actually expansions of Nara and Narayana Rishis. There is, however, no need to interpret in that way. The actual interpretation of this verse follows:

"My dear Krishna and Arjuna, You are both great transcendental personalities, and all Your wishes are always automatically fulfilled. You have both formerly appeared as Nara-and Narayana Rishis, the best of persons. Appearing as these two sages, you performed exemplary pious activities for the benefit of all living entities."

Text 49

ity asya na kevalam etad-rupenaiva yuvam loka-hitaya pravrittau, api tu vaibhavantarenapiti stauti purneti. svayam-bhagavattvena tat-sakhatvena ca rishabhau sarvavataravatari-shreshöhav api purna-kamav api sthityai loka-rakshanaya loka-sangraham lokeshu tat-tad-dharma-pracara-hetukam dharmam acaratham kurvatam madhye yuvam nara-narayanav rishi ity anayor alpamshatvena vibhutivan-nirdeshah. uktam caikadashe shri-bhagavata vibhuti-kathana eva narayano muninam ca iti. dharmika-maulitvad dvija-putrartham avashyam eshyatha ity ata eva maya tatha vyavasitam iti bhavah.

iti-thus; asya-of this; na-not; kevalam-only; etad-rupena-in this way; eva-certainly; yuvam-the two of you; loka-of the living entities; hitaya-for the benefit; pravrittau-engaged; api-although; tu-also; vaibhava-antarena-with transcendental opulences; api-also; iti-thus; stauti-offers prayers; purna-iti-beginning with the word "purna"; svayam-bhagavattvena-with the position of the Original Personality of Godhead; tat-of Him; sakhatvena-with the position of friend; ca-also; rishabhau-best; sarva-avatara-avatari-of the origins of all incarnations; shreshöhau-best; api-also; purna-kamau api sthityai-the phrase "purna-kamav api sthityai"; loka-rakshanaya-for the protection of all living entities; loka-of living entities and planets; sangraham-multitude; lokeshu-among the living entities; tat-tad-dharma-of the principles of religion; pracara-preaching; hetukam-for the purpose; dharmam acaratham-the phrase "dharmam acaratham"; kurvatam-performing; madhye-in the midst; yuvam-you two; nara-narayanau rishi-Nara-Narayana Rishis; iti-thus; anayoh-of the two; alpa-small; amshatvena-by an expansion; vibhutivat-full of transcendental opulences; nirdeshah-indication; uktam-spoken; ekadashe-in the Eleventh Canto of Shrimad-Bhagavatam; shri-bhagavata-by the Supreme Personality of Godhead; vibhuti-of opulences; kathane-in the description; eva-certainly; narayanah-Narayana; muninm-of the munis; ca-also; iti-thus; dharmika-of saintly persons; maulitvat-because of the status of being the crown; dvija-of the Brahmana; putra-of the sons; artham-for the benefit; avashyam-inevitably; eshyathah-you two will come; iti-thus; atah eva-therefore; maya-by Me; tatha-in that way; vyavasitam-considered; iti-thus; bhavah-the meaning.

In this verse the Bhuma-purusha glorifies Krishna and Arjuna, who are always engaged in furthering the well-being of all living entities. Using the word "rishabhau", the Bhuma-purusha addresses the Original Personality of Godhead (Krishna), the origin of all the incarnations of Godhead. With this word the Bhuma-purusha also addresses Shri Krishna's intimate friend Arjuna. The Bhuma-purusha explains that Shri Krishna and Arjuna formerly appeared among those engaged in spiritual activities as Their partial incarnations Nara and Narayana Rishi to benefit the entire world by preaching the principles of actual religious life. That Narayana Rishi is an expansion of the Original Godhead, Lord Krishna, is confirmed by Lord Krishna Himself in the Eleventh Canto of Shrimad-Bhagavatam, where Lord Krishna says: "narayano muninam ca (Among the sages I incarnate as Narayana Rishi)". Because Krishna and Arjuna had formerly appeared as Nara and Narayana Rishis for the benefit of all living entities, the Bhuma-purusha was convinced that They were the best of all saintly persons. For this reason the Bhuma-purusha stole the brahmana's sons, confident that Krishna and Arjuna would come to rescue them.

Text 50

tatha ca shri-hari-vamshe shri-krishna-vakyam

mad-darshanartham te bala
hritas tena mahatmana
viprartham eshyathe krishno
nagacchad anyatha tv iha iti

tatha-in the same way; ca-also; shri-hari-vamshe-in the Hari-vamsha; shri-krishna-of Shri Krishna; vakyam-the statement; mat-My; darshana-audience; artham-for the purpose of attaining; te-these; balah-boys; hritah-were taken; tena-by Him; maha-atmana-the great soul; vipra-of the Brahmana; artham-for the sake; eshyate-arrived; krishnah-Krishna; na-not; agacchat-arrived; anyatha-otherwise; tu-but; iha-here.

This is also described in the Hari-vamsha (Vishnu-parva 114.8), where Lord Krishna says:

"In order to get the opportunity to see Me, the Bhuma-purusha has stolen these sons of the brahmana. Although ordinarily I would not agree to come here, I have come for the sake of a brahmana."

Text 51

atracaratam ity arthe acaratam iti na prasiddham ity atash ca tatha na vyakhyatam. tasman maha-kalato 'pi shri-krishnasyadhikyam siddham. darshayishyate cedam mrityunjaya-tantra-prakaranena, tad etan mahimanurupam evoktam

ata-in this connection; acaratam-the word acaratam"; iti-thus; arthe-in the meaning; acaratam-the word "acaratam"; iti-thus; na-not; prasiddham-perfect; iti-thus; atah-from this; ca-also; tatha-in the same way; na-not; vyakhyatam-described; tasmad-therefore; maha-kalatah-than the Bhuma-purusha; api-even; shri-krishnasya-of Shri Krishna; adhikyam-superiority; siddham-established; darshayishyate-will be revealed; ca-also; idam-this; mrityunjaya-tantra-prakaranena-in a passage of the Mrityunjaya Tantra; tat-that; etat-this; mahima-glory; anurupam-in connection with this; eva-certainly; uktam-it is said.

In this context we may note that the word "acaratam" in the previously quoted statement of the Bhuma-purusha is a present active participate in the genetive plural ("of those who are engaged in activities"). By identifying Shri Krishna as the best of those engaged in spiritual activities, the Bhuma-purusha has declared that Krishna is superior to everyone, including the Bhuma-purusha Himself. This fact will be confirmed in a quote from the Mritunjaya Tantra to appear later in this book, and it is also confirmed in the following quote from Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.89.62):

Text 52

nishamya vaishnavam dhama
parthah parama-vismitah yat kincit paurusham pumsam
mene krishnanubhavitam iti

nishamya-after seeing; vaishnavam-of Lord Vishnu; dhama-the abode; parthah-Arjuna; parama-vismitah-because greatly astonished; yat-which; kincit-something; paurusham-glory and opulence; pumsam-of the all the vishnu-tattva forms of the Personality of Godhead; mene-considered; krishna-by Shri Krishna; anubhavitam-established.

"When Arjuna saw the opulent abode of Lord Vishnu, he became struck with wonder. Arjuna was able to understand that all the opulences of the various incarnations of Godhead are manifest by the mercy of his own friend, Shri Krishna."*

Text 53

atra maha-kalanubhavitam iti tu noktam. evam eva sacokta-lakshano bhagavan shri-krishna eveti darshayitum akhyantaram aha ekada iti. shri-svami-likhitaitat-prakarana-curnikapi susangata bhavati.

atra-in this passage; maha-kala-by the Bhuma-purusha; anubhavitam-established; iti-thus; tu-but; na-not; uktam-said; evam-in this way; eva-certainly; sah-He; ca-and; ukta-described; lakshanah-qualities; bhagavan-the original Personality of Godhead; shri-krishnah-Shri Krishna; eva-certainly; iti-thus; darshayitum-to reveal; akhya-antaram-in this account; aha-speaks; ekada-the word "ekada"; iti-thus; shri-svami-by Shridhara Svami; likhita-written; etat-this; prakarana-chapter; curnika-explanation; susangata-nicely connected; bhavati-is.

We may note in this connection that this verse does not say "The opulences of the various incarnations of Godhead are manifest by the mercy of the Bhuma-purusha". In his commentary, Shridhara Svami nicely explains the purport of this chapter of Shrimad-Bhagavatam by saying:

"In order to establish that Shri Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead (bhagavan), Shukadeva Gosvami has spoken this account of the visit to the Bhuma-purusha."

Text 54

atha parakiyany api viruddhayamanani vakyani tad-anugatarthataya drishyante.

atha-now; parakiyani-in other Vedic literatures; api-also; viruddhayamanani-refuting; vakyani-statements; tat-to them; anugata-arthataya-with the proper explanation; drishyante-are seen.

Leaving the sphere of Shrimad-Bhagavatam, the critic of our paribhasha-sutra may push forward quotes from other Vedic literatures in an attempt to refute our statement that Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead. In the following section of this essay, we will present the proper explanations of all these verses.

Text 55

tatra shri-vishnu-purane

ujjaharatmanah keshau
sita-krishnau maha-mune iti

tatra-there; shri-vishnupurane-in the Vishnu Purana; ujjahara-taking up; atmanah-from Himself; keshau-two hairs; sita-white; krishnau-and black; maha-mune-O great sage; iti-thus.

For example, our critic may quote the following verse from Vishnu Purana (5.1.59):

ujjaharatmanah keshau
sita-krishnau maha-mune

Our critic may interpret this verse to mean:

"O great sage, Lord Vishnu then plucked a white and black hair from His own transcendental body, and these two hairs became His incarnations known as Balarama and Krishna."

Text 56

mahabharate

sa capi keshau harir uccakarta shuklam ekam aparam capi krishnam tau capi keshav avishatam yadunam kule striyau rohinim devakim ca

tayor eko balabhadro babhuva yo 'sau shvetas tasya devasya keshah krishno dvitiyah keshavah sambabhuva
kesho yo 'sau varnatah krishna uktah iti

mahabharate-in the Mahabharata; sah-He; ca-also; api-even; keshau-two hairs; harih-Lord Hari; uccakarta-snatched; shuklam-white; ekam-one; aparam-the other; ca api-also; krishnam-black; tau-these two; ca api-also; keshau-hairs; avishatam-entered; yadunam-of the Yadu dynasty; kule-in the family; striyau-two pious ladies; rohinim-Rohini; devakim-Devaki; ca-and; tayoh-of the two; ekah-one; balabhadrah-Balarama; babhuva-became; yah asau-who; shvetah-white; tasya-of Him; devasya-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; keshah-hair; krishnah-black; dvitiyah-second; keshavah-Keshava; sambabhuva-became; keshah-hair; yah asau-which; varnatah-because of color; krishnah-as Krishna; uktah-is known.

Our critic may also quote the following verses from the Mahabharata:

"Lord Vishnu snatched two hairs, one white and one black, from His head; These two hairs entered the wombs of Rohini and Devaki, members of the Yadu dynasty. Balarama was born from Rohini, and Krishna was born of Devaki. Thus Balarama appeared from the first hair, and Krishna appeared from the second hair."*

Text 57

atra tatparyam shri-svamibhir ittham vivritam-"bhumeh suretara-varutha ity adi padye. sita-krishna-kesha ity atra sita-krishna-keshatvam shobhaiva, na tu vayah-parinama-kritam, avikaritvat. yac ca ujjaharatmanah keshau ity adi. tat tu na keshamatra-avata-hiprayam, kintu bhu-bharavatarana-rupam karyam kiyad etat? mat-keshav eva tat kartum shaktav iti dyotananartham rama-krishnayor varna-sucanartham ca keshoddharanam iti gamyate. anyatha tatraiva purvapara-virodhapatteh. krishnas tu bhagavan svayam ity etad-virodhac ca.

atra-in this connection; tatparyam-explanation; shri-svamibhih-by Shridhara Svami; ittham-thus; vivritam-presented; bhumeh suretara-varutha-in the verse from Shrimad-Bhagavatam (2.7.26) which begins "bhumeh suretara-varutha"; iti-adi-padye-in the verse beginning; sita-krishna-kesha-the description of Krishna and Balarama as black and white hairs of Lord Vishnu; iti-thus; atra-in this connection; sita-white; krishna-and black; keshatvam-the state of being hairs; shobha-bodily splendor; eva-certainly; na-not; tu-but; vayah-of a certain age; parinama-kritam-produced by a transformation; avikaritvat-because the Supreme is without transformation; yat-which; ca-also; ujjahara atmanah keshau-the quote "ujjaharatmanah keshau" from the Vishnu Purana; iti-thus; adi-beginning; tat-that; tu-but; kesham-hair; matra-only; avatara-incarnation; abhiprayam-intention; kintu-but; bhu-of the world; bhara-the burden; avatarana-rupam-the relief; karyam-activity; kiyad etat-how is this?; mat-My; keshau-"kesa"; eva-certainly; tat-that; kartum-to do; shaktav-able; iti-thus; dyotana-splendor; artham-meaning; rama-krishnayoh-of Krishna and Balarama; varna-complexion; sucana-description; artham-meaning; ca-also; keshu-uddharanam-description of the emanation of the "kesa"; iti-thus; gamyate-is explained; anyatha-another interpretation; tatra-there; eva-certainly; purva-apara-with other passages in the Vedic literatures; virodha-apatteh-because of contradicting; krishnah tu bhagavan svayam-the quote "krishnas tu bhagavan svayam" (Bhag. 1.3.28); iti-thus; etad-virodhac-contradicting; ca-also.

In his commentary on the verse which begins "bhumeh suretara-varutha" (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 2.7.26), Shridhara Svami gives the proper explanation of these passages from the Vishnu Purana and Mahabharata:

"Sometimes in the Vedic literatures Krishna and Balarama are described as white and black 'keshas'. In this context the word 'kesha' does not mean 'hair', but it is used in the sense of 'splendor'. The phrase 'sita-krishna-keshau' means Balarama and Krishna who have beautiful white and black complexions. It does not mean that black and white hairs grew at a certain time on the head of the changless Supreme Person.

"The Vishnu Purana explains: 'ujjaharatmanah keshau'. This phrase means: 'The Personality of Godhead, in His splendid original forms as Balarama and Krishna, relieved the burden of the earth.' If one tries to interpret the word 'kesha' in these passages as hair, and contends that Balarama and Krishna are incarnations of two of Lord Vishnu's hairs, he will contradict the clear statements of many verses in the Vedic literatures, and he will especially contradict the authoritative statement of the verse 'krishnas tu bhagavan svayam' (Shri Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead) found in Shrimad-Bhagavatam (1.3.28)."

Text 58

idam apy atra tatparyam sambhavati nanu devah kim artham mam evavatarayitum bhavadbhir agrihyate, aniruddhakhyapurusaparakasha-visheshasya kshirodashvetadvipa-dhamno mama yau keshav iva sva-shirodharya-bhuta tau tav eva shri-vasudeva-sankarshanau svayam evavatarishyatah. tatash ca bhu-bhara-haranam

tabhyam ishat-karam eveti.

idam-this; api-also; atra-in this connection; tatparyam-explanation; sambhavati-arises; nanu-is it not so?; devah-O demigods; kim artham-why is it?; mam-Me; eva-certainly; avatarayitum-to incarnate; bhavadbhiih-by you; agrhyate-is appealed; aniruddha-akhya-unknown as Aniruddha; purusha-prakasha-visheshasya-of the specific purusha-incarnations; kshira-uda-on the ocean of milk; shvetadvipa-dhamnah-residing in the abode of Shvetadvipa; mama-My; yau-two; keshau-two hairs; iva-like; sv-shirah-dharya-bhatau-growing on My head; tau-They; eva-certainly; shri-vasudeva-Vasudeva; sankarshanau-and Sankarshana; svayam-personally; eva-certainly; avatarishyatah-will incarnate; tatah-from this; ca-and; bhu-of the earth; bhara-burden; haranam-removing; tabhyam-by Them; ishat-karam-reduced; eva-certainly; iti-thus.

Even if one insists that the word "kesha" must mean "hair" and cannot mean anything else, it is not at all necessary that one interpret that Balarama and Krishna are incarnations of Vishnu. One may also interpret that Vasudeva and Sankarshana are incarnations of a black and white hair from the head of Lord Krishna. Understood in this way, we may conceive of the following conversation between Lord Krishna and the demigods, in order to properly understand these two quotes from the Vishnu Purana and Mahabharata. Lord Krishna may have said to the demigods:

"My dear demigods, why do you ask Me to personally appear in the material world? I do not need to personally come, but rather I shall send my expansions of Sankarshana and Vasudeva, who are like white and black hairs on My head. Sankarshana and Vasudeva will certainly fulfill your request by removing the burden of the world."

Text 59

atha ujjaharatmanah keshau ity asyaiva shabdartho 'pi muktaphala-öikayam keshau sukha-svaminau, sito rama atmanah sakashad ujjahara uddhritavan. hari-vamshe hi kasyancid giri-guhayam bhagavan sva-murtim nikshipya garudam ca tatravasthapyaya svayam atragata ity uktam. tad uktam, sa devan abhyanujnaya ity adi.

atha-now; ujjaharatmanah keshau-the phrase ujjaharatmanah keshau" from the Vishnu Purana; iti-thus; asya-of that; eva-certainly; shabda-arthah-the definitions of each word; api-also; muktaphala-öikayam-in the "Muktaphala-öika" commentary by Bopadeva Bosvami; keshau-the word "keshau"; sukha-the blissful; svaminau-Personalities of Godhead; sitah-white; ramah-Balarama; atmanah-the word "ujjahara"; uddhritavan-manifested; hari-vamshe-in the Hari-vamsha; hi-certainly; kasyancit-in a certain; giri-guhayam-mountain cave; bhagavan-the Original Personality of Godhead; sva-murtim-own form; nikshipya-having manifested; garudam-Garuda; ca-also; tatra-there; avasthapyaya-causing to remain; svayam-personally; atra-here; agatam-arrived; iti-thus; uktam-described; tat-that; uktam-said; sa devan abhyanujnaya iti adi-in the verse beginning "sa devan abhyanujnaya".

The statement "ujjaharatmanah keshau" is explained by Bopadeva Gosvami in his commentary "muktaphala-öika:

"The word `keshau' consists of the two words `ka' and `ishau'. `Ka' means `blissful' and `ishau' means the two Personalities of Godhead. In the phrase `sita-krishna-keshau' the word `sita' is a name of Balarama. This phrase therefore means: `Balarama and Krishna who are the two blissful Personalities of Godhead'."

The interpretation that these words mean Balarama and Krishna are incarnations of two hairs of Lord Vishnu is not correct, for it is contradicted by the following explanation found in the Hari-vamsha:

"After thus instructing the demigods, the Supreme Personality of Godhead travelled on Garuda to a concealed mountain cave. In that cave the Lord assumed His Original form as Lord Krishna. Ordering Garuda to wait for Him in that cave, the Lord then descended to earth in His original form."

Text 60

yais tu yatha-shrutam evedam vyakhyatam, te tu na samyak paramrishöavantah, yatah sura-matrasyasi nirjaratva-prasiddhih. akala-kalite bhagavati jaranudayena kesha-shauklyanupapattih. na casya kesheshu naisargika-sita-krishnateti pramanam asti.

yaih-by whom; tu-but; yatha-as; shrutam-heard; eva-certainly; idam-this; vyakhyatam-explained; te-they; tu-but; na-not; samyak-completely; parama-amrishöavantah-pure; yatah-because; sura-matrasya-of only a demigod; api-even; nirjaratva-of freedom from old-age; prasiddhih-perfection; akala-kalite-beyond the bondage of time; bhagavati-in the Original Personality of Godhead; jara-of old-age; anudayena-because of the non-appearance; kesha-of hairs; shauklya-whiteness; anupapattih-non-appearance; na-not; ca-also; asya-of Him; kesheshu-among the hairs; naisargika-by nature; sita-whiteness; krishnata-and blackness; iti-thus; pramanam-transformation; asti-is.

What to speak of the Personality of Godhead, even the inferior demigods are free from the defects of old-age. Because the Personality of Godhead is always free from the symptoms of age, His hairs do not turn gray or white with age, as those of a conditioned human being. The Vedic literatures always describe the hairs of the Supreme Lord as black; there is no description of white hairs, hairs either naturally white, or turned white with age in the spiritual body of the Personality of □ Godhead. For this reason the story of white and black hairs from the head of Lord Vishnu is not very plausible. The learned will not accept it.

Text 61

ata eva nrisimha-purane krishnavatara-prasange shakti-shabda eva prayujyate, na tu kesha-shabdah. tatha hi

vasudevac ca devakyam
avatirya yadoh kule
sita-krishne ca tat-shakti kamsadyan ghatayishyatah iti adina

atah eva-therefore; nrisimha-purane-in the Nrisimha Purana; krishna-avatara-prasange-in the connection with the account of Lord Krishna's incarnations; shakti-shabdah-the word "shakti"; eva-certainly; prayujyate-is employed; na-not; tu-but; kesha-shabdah-the word "kesha"; tatha hi-as it is said; vasudevat-from Vasudeva; ca-and; devakyam-in Devaki; avatirya-having descended; yadoh kule-in the family of the Yadu dynasty; sita-krishne-Balarama and Krishna; ca-and; tat-shakti-full of all transcendental potencies; kamsa-adyan-Kamsa and many other demons; ghatayishyatah-will kill; iti adina-in the passage beginning with these words.

In the descriptions of Krishna and Balarama's descent to this material world, we generally do not find any mention of the word "kesha" to describe them. In the following quote from the Nrisimha Purana, They are described as "sita-krishna" (white and black), without any use of the word "kesha" which our critics are so eager to interpret as "hair":

"Lord Krishna and Balarama, the original black and white forms of the Supreme Personality of Godhead, who is full of all transcendental potencies, appeared in the Yadu dynasty as the two sons of Vasudeva and Devaki. In the future these two transcendental personalities will kill King Kamsa and many other demons."

Text 62

astu tarhi amshopalakshanah 'kesha'-shabdah; no, avilupta-sarva-shaktitvena sakshad adi-purushatvasyaiva nishcetum shakyatvat krishna-vishnu-adi-shabdanam avisheshatah paryayatva-pratitesh ca. naivam avatarantarasya kasya vanyasya janma-dinam jayanty-akhyayati-prasiddham.

astu-there may be; tarhi-then; amsha-as an expansion; upalakshanah-description; kesha-shabdah-the word "kesha"; na-not; u-certainly; avilupta-sarva-shaktitvena-because of being full of all transcendental potencies; sakshat-directly; adi-purushatvasya-the Original Personality of Godhead, the source of all incarnations; eva-certainly; nishcetum-to establish; shakyatvat-because of the possibility; krishna-Krishna; vishnu-Vishnu; shabdanam-of the words; avisheshatah-without distinction; paryayatva-definition; pratitesh-because of faith; □
ca-also; na-not; evam-in this way; avatara-antarasya-of the other incarnations; kasya-of which; va-or; anyasya-of another; janma-of birth; dinam-day; jayanti-"jayanti"; akhyaya-by the name; ati-prasiddham-very celebrated.

Someone may object: Very well then, we shall accept that the word "kesha" means "expansion," and the keshavatara simply is an explanation of how Krishna is an expansion of Lord Vishnu.

To this I reply: No. This should not be concluded. Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead (adi-purusha), full of all transcendental potencies.

Another objection may be raised: Krishna, Vishnu, and other words are used to indicate the Personality of Godhead and no distinction is made between them in the Vedic literatures. Why are you so eager to say that Krishna is the original form and Vishnu is the expansion. All the forms of the Lord should be considered equal, without any distinction.

To this I reply: Actually Krishna is specifically described as the Original Personality of Godhead, and the day when He appeared in this world is especially famous, more famous than the appearance-day of any other form of the Lord.

Text 63

ata evoktam mahabharate

bhagavan vasudevash ca
kirtyate 'tra sanatanah
shasvatam brahma paramam
yogi-dhyeyam niranjanam.

atah eva-therefore; uktam-explained; mahabharate-in the Mahabharata; bhagavan-the Original Personality of Godhead; vasudevah-Krishna, the son of Vasudeva; ca-and; kirtyate-is glorified; atra-in this connection; sanatanah-eternal; shasvatam-eternal; brahma-Brahman; paramam-supreme; yogi-of the yogis; dhyeyam-the object of meditation; niranjanam-free from all material contamination.

This is confirmed in the following verse from the Mahabharata:

"Krishna, the son of Vasudeva, is the eternal Original Personality of Godhead (Bhagavan). He is the supreme Brahman, free from all material contamination, and He is the object of the yogis' meditation. He is glorified in the pages of this book."

Text 64

tasyakala-kalitatvam

yo 'yam kalas tasya te 'vyakta-bandho ceshöam ahuh

ity adau devaki-devi-vakye.

tasya-of Him; akala-kalitatvam-the state of being beyond the influence of time; yah ayam kalah tasya te 'vyakta-bandho ceshöam ahuh iti dau-the verse from Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.3.26 ("yo 'yam kalas tasya te 'vyakta-bandho ceshöam ahush ceshöate yena vishvam nimeshadir vatsaranto mahiyams tam tveshanam kshema-dhama prapadye"); devaki-devi-by Devaki; vakye-in the statement.

That Krishna is beyond the influence of time is confirmed in the following verse spoken by Devaki-devi (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.3.26):

"O Krishna, O inaugurator of the material energy, this wonderful creation works under the control of powerful time, which is divided into seconds, minutes, hours and years. This element of time, which extends for many millions of years, is but another form of Lord Vishnu. For Your pastimes, You act as the controller of time, but You are the reservoir of all good fortune. Let me offer my full surrender unto Your Lordship."*

Text 65

natah sma te natha sadanghri-pankajam virinca-vairincyas surendra-vanditam parayanam kshemam ihicchatham param na yatra kalahprabhavet parah prabhuh

ity adau shri-dvaraka-vasi-vakye ca prasiddham

natah-bowed down; sma-we had done so; te-unto You; natha-O Lord; sada-always; anghri-pankajam-the lotus feet; virinca-Brahma, the first living being; vairincyas-sons of Brahma like Sanaka and Sanatana; sura-indra-the King of heaven; vanditam-worshiped by; parayanam-the supreme; kshemam-welfare; iha-in this life; icchatam-one who so desires; param-the highest; na-never; yatra-wherein; kalah-inevitable time; prabhavet-can exert its influence; parah-transcendental; prabhuh-the Supreme Lord; iti-thus; adau-in the passage beginning; shri dvaraka-of Dvaraka; vasi-of the residents; vakye-in the statement; ca-also; prasiddham-celebrated.

That Krishna is beyond the influence of time is confirmed in the following statement by the residents of Dvaraka-puri (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.11.6)

"O Lord, You are worshiped by all demigods like Brahma, the four Sanas and even the King of heaven. You are the ultimate rest for those who are really aspiring to achieve the highest benefit of life. You are the supreme transcendental Lord, and inevitable time cannot exert its influence upon You."*

Text 66

ato yat prabhasa-khande keshasya balatvam eva ca tat sitimnah kala-krita-palita-lakshanatvam eva ca darshitam, tasya sharirinam shushka-vairagya-pratipadana-prakarana-patitavena sura-matra-nirjarata-prasiddhatvena camukhyarthatvan na svarthe pramanyam.

atah-therefore; yat-because; prabhasa-khande-in the Prabhasa-khanda; keshasya-of hair; balatvam-youthfulness; eva-certainly; ca-also; tat-that; sitimnah-whiteness; kala-by time; krita-produced; palita-white hair of old-age; lakshanatvam-characteristic; eva-certainly; ca-and; darshitam-is revealed; tasya-of Him; sharirinam-of the embodied living entities; shushka-dry; vairagya-renunciation; pratipadana-prakarana-explanation; patitavena-by the fallen status; sura-of the demigods; matra-even; nirjarata-the state of freedom from old-age; prasiddhatvena-by the fame; ca-also; amukhya-arthatvat-because of accepting the secondary meaning; na-not; sva-arthe-in the connection; pramanyam-evidence.

The false notion that Krishna and Balarama are incarnations of a black and white hair of Lord Vishnu is dispelled in the Prabhasa-khanda, which explains that whiteness of hair is produced in old age, and because even the subordinate demigods, what to speak of Lord Vishnu, the controller of the demigods, remain always free from old-age, their hair never turns white with age. It is not possible that Lord Vishnu have white hairs, because He is beyond the influence of time, and therefore this conception of Lord Vishnu's white hair pushed forward by the dry renunciants is not acceptable.

Text 67

brahma yena iti arabhya

vishnur yena dashavatara-gahane kshipto maha-sankaöe rudro yena kapala-panir abhito bhikshaöanam karitah ity adau.

tasmai namah karmene iti garuda-vacanat. kim ca tat-pratipadanaya matsyady-avataranam matsyadi-shabda-samyena chaloktir eveyam.

brahma yena iti arabhya-in the passage beginning "brahma yena"; vishnuh-Vishnu; yena-because of which; dasha-ten; avatara-of incarnations; gahane-in the dark abyss; kshiptah-thrown; maha-great; sankaoe-difficulty; rudrah-Shiva; yena-by which; kapala-carrying a skull; panih-in His hand; abhitah bhiksha-aöanam karitah-begging alms; iti-thus; adau-in the passage beginning; tasmai-to that; namah-I offer my respectful obeisances; karmene-unto karma; iti-thus; garuda-of the Garuda Purana; vacanat-from the statement; kim ca-furthermore; tat-that; pratipadanaya-to establish; matsya-Lord Matsya; adi-beginning with; avataranam-of the incarnations of Godhead; matsya-adi-shabda-of the words "matsya-adi"; samyena-the same; chala-false; uktih-statement; eva-certainly; iyam-this.

Similar other faulty statements may also be found in some portions of the scriptures. For example, the Garuda Purana explains:

"I offer my respectful obeisances unto the law of karma, because of which Shiva carries a skull in his hand and wanders about as a beggar, and because of which Vishnu was hurled into the painful abyss of having to assume ten incarnations within the material world."

The author's intention in this passage was to emphasize the uncheckable power of karma, although in order to do this he had spoken some things that are not actually true. The description of Krishna and Balarama as Lord Vishnu's hairs is a similar untrue story.

Text 68

yatha

aho kanaka-dauratmyam nirvaktum kena shakyate
nama-samyad asau yasya
dhusturo 'pi mada-pradah.

yatha-just as; aho-Oh; kanaka-of gold; dauratmyam-the wickedness; nirvaktum-to be described; kena-by whom; shakyate-is possible; nama-by name; samyat-because of equality; asau-this; yasya-of which; dhusturah-dhustura poison; api-even; mada-pradah-intoxicating.

The following metaphorical statement in the scriptures may also be quoted to illustrate how an author may speak something untrue in order to emphasize a point:

"Alas, who is able to describe the evils of gold? Gold is certainly as intoxicating as the poisonous drink dhutura."

Text 69

iti shiva-shastriyatvac ca natra vaishnava-siddhanta-viruddhasya tasyopayogah. yata uktam skanda eva shanmukham prati shri-shivena

shiva-shastre 'pi tad grahyam
bhagavac-chastra-yogi yat iti

anya-tatparyakatvena svatas tatpramanyad yuktam caitat yatha pankena pankambhah itivat.

iti-thus; shiva-shastriyatvat-the status of being confirmed in the Shaivite scriptures; ca-and; na-not; atra-here; vaishnava-in relation to Lord Vishnu; siddhanta-the conclusion; viruddhasya-opposing; tasya-of that; upayogah-suitability; yatah-because; uktam-spoken; skande-in the Skanda Purana; eva-certainly; shanmukham-to Karttikeya; prati-to; shri-shivena-by Lord Shiva; shiva-shastre-in the Shaivite scriptures; api-although; tat-that; grahyam-acceptable; bhagavat-shastra-in the Vaishnava scriptures; yogi-found; yat-which; iti-thus; anya-another; tatparyakatvena-by interpretation; svatah-in their own scripture; tatra-there; apramanyat-because of not being established; yuktam-suitable; ca-and; etat-this; yatha-just as; pankena-by mud; panka-ambhah-muddy water; iti-thus; vat-just as.

Statements in the Shaivite Puranas should not be accepted unless they are corroborated by the Vaishnava Puranas. This is confirmed in the Shaivite Puranas (Skanda Purana) where Lord Shiva says to Karttikeya:

"Statements in the Shaivite Puranas should be accepted only if they are confirmed in the Vaishnava Puranas."

The followers of Lord Shiva may try to present a different conclusion, but they are simply contradicting the words of their own master, recorded in their own scripture. From this statement of Lord Shiva we may understand that the Shaivite Puranas are not a very reliable source of spiritual information. They are not actually able to purify the conditioned souls, and their position is described in the following statement of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (1.8.52):

"It is not possible to filter muddy water through mud or purify a wine-stained pot with wine."

One should not therefore rely on the impure statements of the Shaivite Puranas.

Text 70

padmottara-khande ca shiva-pratipadakanam purananam api tamasatvam eva darshitam. matsye 'pi tamasa-kalpa-kathamayatvam iti.

padma-uttara-khande-in the Uttara Khanda of the Padma Purana; ca-also; shiva-pratipadakanam-of the followers of Lord Shiva; purananam-of the Puranas; api-also; tamasatvam-ignorance; eva-certainly; darshitam-is delineated; matsye-in the Matsya Purana; api-also; tamasa-ignorance; kalpa-conception; katha-descriptions; mayatvam-consisting of; iti-thus.

The inferiority of the Shaivite Puranas is confirmed in the Uttara Khanda of the Padma Purana, which explains that the Shaivite Puranas are intended for those in the mode of ignorance. The Matsya Purana also confirms that the Shaivite Puranas are full of faulty and ignorant conclusions.

Text 71

yuktam ca tasya vridhha-sutasya shri-bhagavatam apaöhita-vatah shri-baladevavajnatuh shri-bhagavat-tattvasamyag-janajam vacanam

evam vadanti rajarshe rishayah kecananvitah. itivat.

etadrisha-shri-bhagavata-vakyena sva-viruddha-puranantara-vacana-badhanam ca.

yuktam-suitable; ca-also; tasya-of him; vridhha-sutasya-of Romaharshana Suta, the father of Suta Gosvami; shri-bhagavatam-the message of Shrimad-Bhagavatam; apaöhita-vatah-without having properly studied; shri-baladeva-Shri Baladeva; avajatu-offending; shri-bhagavat-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; tattva-the truth; asamyak-incomplete; jnana-from knowledge; jam-produced; vacanam-speech; evam-in this way; vadanti-speak; raja-rishe-O saintly king; rishayah-sages; kecana-some; anvitah-endowed; itivat-in this way; etadrisha-like these; bhagavata-of Shrimad-Bhagavatam; vakyena-by the statement; sva-self; viruddha-contradicting; purana-Puranas; antara-within; vacana-of statements; badhanam-refutation; ca-also.

Without understanding the Shrimad-Bhagavatam, one cannot properly understand the philosophy of spiritual life. An example of this is Romaharshana Suta. Because of not studying the Bhagavatam, Romaharshana had not properly understood the exalted position of Lord Balarama. Because of an offense to Lord Balarama, Romaharshana was killed by the Lord. From this we may understand the importance of Shrimad-Bhagavatam. Without reference to the Bhagavatam, one cannot conclusively understand the nature of the Absolute Truth.

That certain sages may sometimes present false conclusions, which may sometimes even become recorded in the Puranas, is confirmed in the following statement of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.77.30):

"O King, some sages have said that Lord Krishna became bewildered by the mystic jugglery of Shalva. Such conclusions should not be accepted, for they contradict the conclusion of all Vedic literatures, Lord Krishna never becomes bewildered."

From this we may understand supreme authority of Shrimad-Bhagavatam. Any scriptural explanation that contradicts the version of the Bhagavatam should be rejected.

Text 72

yatheha karma-jito lokah kshiyate ity-adi-vakyena.

apama somam amrita abhuma ity-adi-vacana-badhanavaj jeyam.

atrapi yat svavaco virudhyeta nunam te na smaranty uta iti yukti-sad-bhavo drishyate.

yatha-just as; iha-here in the earthly planetary system; karma-jitah-performing the karma-kanda regulations; lokah-persons; kshiyate-become destroyed; iti-adi-beginning with these words; vakyena-by the statement; apama-drinking; somam-soma; amritah-immortal; abhuma-we become; iti-adi-beginning with these words; vacana-statement; badhanavat-contradicting; jneyam-should be understood; atra-here; api-also; yat-what; sva-own; vacah-statement; virudhyate-is contradicted; nunam-certainly; te-they; na-do not; smaranti-remember; uta-indeed; iti-thus; yukti-of logic; sat-bhavah-good condition; drishyate-is seen.

We may sometimes notice contradictions in the instructions of the Shruti. The two quotes which follow may serve as an example of such a contradiction within the texts of the Shruti.

"By performing the karma-kanda rituals of the Vedas one becomes ruined."

-Chandogya Upanishad 8.1.6

"By performing the karma-kanda rituals of the Vedas we have become demigods eligible to drink soma-rasa."

-Rig-mantra 8.48.3

If a speaker contradicts himself, then his words are not very much appreciated by the speaker of Shrimad-Bhagavatam:

"They who are learned are not inclined to accept the statements of one who contradicts himself."

Text 73

tatraivatmanah sandigdhatvam eva tena sutena vyanjitam

acintyah khalu ye bhava
na tams tarkena yojayet iti adina

tatra-there; eva-certainly; atmanah-of the Supreme; sandigdhatvam-doubt; eva-certainly; tena-by him; sutena-by Suta Gosvami; vyajitam-expressed; acintyah-inconceivable; khalu-indeed; ye-which; bhavah-truths of spiritual reality; na-not; tan-them; tarkena-by logic; yojayet-may properly know; iti-adina-by the statement beginning with these words.

Suta Gosvami speaks the following verse to reconcile this apparent contradiction in the statements of the scriptures (Mahabharata, Udyoga-parva):

"The truths of spiritual life are inconceivable to the crippled materialistic brain. Simply by logic and philosophy one cannot expect to properly understand them."

Text 74

kim ca, tatraivottara-granthe candrasya kalankapatti-karana-kathane shri-krishnavatara-prasange svayam vishnur evety uktatvat svenaiva virodhash ca.

kim ca-furthermore; tatra-there; utara-granthe-in the Prabhasa Khanda of the Skanda Purana; candrasya-of the moon-god; kalanka-of the spots; apatti-misfortune; karana-cause; kathane-in the description; shri-krishna-of Shri Krishna; avatara-appearance; prasange-in that connection; svayam-personally; vishnuh-Lord Vishnu; eva-certainly; iti-thus; uktatvat-from the statement; svena-by using the word "sva"; virodhash-contradiction; ca-also.

Also, in the story of Candra-kalankapatti-karana in the Prabhasa-khanda of the Skanda Purana, in the description of Lord Krishna's appearance, Krishna is described as Lord Vishnu Himself. By using the words "svayam vishnuh (Vishnu Himself)", the concocted idea that Krishna is an incarnation of Lord Vishnu's hair is refuted by Vyasadeva.

Text 75

tasman na keshavataratve 'pi tatparyam, kesha-shabdasya balatva-vacanam ca.

tasmat-for this reason; na-not; kesha-of a hair; avataratve-as an incarnation; api-and; tatparyam-the proper understanding; kesha-shabdasya-of the word "kesha"; balatva-of foolish and childish persons; vacanam-the statement; ca-also.

The idea that Krishna is an incarnation of Lord Vishnu's hair should not be accepted, for it is thus refuted by Vyasa. Only foolish persons with a childlike mentality will insist that the word "kesha" in the phrase "keshavatara" from the Vishnu Purana should be interpreted to mean "a hair".

Text 76

chalato bhagavat-tattvajnanato veti sthitam.

chalatah-as a trick; bhagavat-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; tattva-the truth; ajanatah-from ignorance; va-or; iti-thus; sthitam-situated.

Because it is contradicted by so many descriptions in the Vedic literatures, the statement that Lord Krishna is an incarnation of Lord Vishnu's hair must be either a trick to bewilder the atheists, an outlandish playful metaphor, or a falsity spoken in ignorance of the actual nature of the Supreme Personality of Godhead.

Text 77

ato vaishnavadi-padyanam shabdottham artham eva pashyamah

amshavo ye prakashante
mama te kesha-samjnitah
sarvajnah keshavam tasman
namahur muni-sattama

iti sahasra-nama-bhashyotthapita-bharata-vacanat kesha-shabdenamshur ucyate.

atah-therefore; vaishnava-of the Vishnu Purana; adi-and other Vedic literatures; padyanam-of the verses; shabda-the word; uttham-appearing; eva-certainly; pashyamah-we see; amshavah-rays of light; ye-which; prakashante-are manifest; mama-My; te-they; kesha-samjnitah-known as "kesha"; sarvajnah-omniscient; keshavam-Keshava; tasmat-therefore; nama-the name; ahuh-speak; muni-sattama-O best of the sages; iti-thus; sahasra-nama-of the Vishnu-sahasra-nama-stotra; bhashya-in the explanation; utthapita-spoken; bharata-of the Mahabharata; vacanat-from the statement; kesha-shabdena-by the word "kesha"; amshuh-ray of light; ucyate-is spoken.

The actual meaning of the word "kesha" when used in a name of the Supreme Personality of Godhead is explained by the Lord in the Mahabharata in the description of the thousand names of Lord Vishnu. There the Lord Himself says:

"The effulgence of My transcendental body is known by the word `kesha'. O best of the sages, because I am the source of the Brahman effulgence, the learned devotees, who know everything, call Me by the name `Keshava'."

Text 78

tatra ca sarvatra keshetara-shabda-prayogan nana-varnamshunam shri-narada-drishötataya moksha-dharma-prasiddhesh ca. tatha camshutve labdhe tau camsu vasudeva-sankarshanavatara-sucakataya nirdishöav iti tayor eva syatam iti gamyate. tadiyayor api tayor aniruddhe 'bhiviyaktish ca yujyata eva.

tatra-in this place; ca-and; sarvatra-throughout the Vedic literatures; kesha-itara-shabda-prayogat-because of the use of other words; nana-various; varna-colors; amshunam-of effulgences; shri-narada-of Narada Muni; drishöataya-by the observation; moksha-dharma-in the scripture known as Moksha-dharma; prasiddheh-from the conclusion; ca-also; tatha-in the same way; ca-and; amshutve-in the effulgence; labdhe-attained; tau-two; ca-also; amshu-splendors; vasudeva-Vasudeva; sankarshana-Sankarshana; avatara-incarnations; sucakataya-by indicating; nirdishöau-indicated; iti-thus; tayoh-of Them; eva-certainly; syatam-may be; iti-thus; gamyate-is approached; tadiyayoh-of Their expansions; api-also; tayoh-of Them; aniruddhe-in Lord Aniruddha; abhiviyaktih-manifestation; yujyate-is suitable; eva-certainly.

We may also note in this connection that although the word "kesha" is used in the Vishnu Purana, it is not used in the many other descriptions of Lord Krishna's appearance found in the Vedic literatures. That the word "kesha" should mean "effulgence" is supported by Narada Muni's explanation in the Moksha-dharma that the Lord appears in a variety of forms and colors. The explanation of the Vishnu Purana that the Lord appears as "shukla-krishna-keshau" or "white and black keshas" may be understood to mean that the Lord appears in white and black forms. This may be understood to refer to Lord Vasudeva and Lord Sankarshana, or it may also refer to Lord Aniruddha.

Text 79

avatari-tejo-'ntarbhutatvad avatarasya. evam eva sattvam rajas tamah ity adi prathama-skandha-padya-praptam aniruddhakhyā-purushavataratvam

avatari-of the Original Source of all Incarnations; tejah-the effulgence; antarbhutatvat-because of being situated within; avatarasya-of the incarnation; evam-in this way; eva-certainly; sattvam rajas tamah iti adi-in the verse beginning "sattvam rajas tamah"; prathama-skandha-of the First Canto of Shrimad-Bhagavatam; padya-praptam-in the verse; aniruddha-akhyā-known as Aniruddha; purusha-avataratvam-as a purusha-incarnation.

Vishnu-tattva expansions of the Personality of Godhead are manifested from the bodily rays of the Lord. (The complexion of Lord Krishna is blackish, and therefore the direct expansion of Lord Krishna, which is manifested from His bodily rays, is also blackish: Lord Vasudeva. Because Lord Sankarshana is manifested from Lord Balarama, His complexion is also the same as Lord Balarama's: white.)

The Purusha-avatara Lord Aniruddha is described in the Shrimad-Bhagavatam (1.2.23):

"The transcendental Personality of Godhead is indirectly associated with the three modes of material nature, namely passion, goodness, and ignorance, and just for the material world's creation, maintenance, and destruction, He accepts the three qualitative forms of Brahma, Vishnu, and Shiva. Of these three, all human beings can derive ultimate benefit from Vishnu, the form of the quality of goodness."

Text 80

bhavani-nathaiḥ ity adi pancama-skandha-gadya-praptam sankarshanavataratvam ca bhavasya sangacchate.

bhavani-nathaiḥ iti adi-in the verse beginning "bhavani-nathaiḥ" "bhavani-nathaiḥ stri-ganarbuda-sahasrair avarudhyamano bhagavatash catur-murter maha-purushasya turiyam tamasim murtim prakritim atmanah sankarshana-samjnam atma-samadhi-rupena sannidhapyaitad abhigrinan bhava upadhavati"; pacama-skandha-of the Fifth Canto of Shrimad-Bhagavatam; gadya-praptam-in the prose passage; sankarshana-of Lord Sankarshana; avataratvam-the status of an incarnation; ca-and; bhavasya-of Shiva; sangacchate-is manifested.

That Lord Shiva is an expansion of Lord Sankarshana is confirmed in the following prose statement of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (5.17.16):

"In Ilavrita-varsha, Lord Shiva is always encircled by ten billion maidservants of goddess Durga, who minister to him. The quadruple expansion of the Supreme Lord is composed of Vasudeva, Pradyumna, Aniruddha and Sankarshana. Sankarshana, the fourth expansion, is certainly transcendental, but because His activities of destruction in the material world are in the mode of ignorance, He is known as tamasi, the Lord's form in the mode of ignorance. Lord Shiva knows that Sankarshana is the original cause of his own existence, and thus he always meditates upon Him in trance by chanting the following mantra."

Text 81

tatash ca ujjahara ity asyayam arthah. atmanah sakashat shri-vasudeva-sankarshanamsha-bhutau keshau amshu ujjahara uddhritavan prakaöi-kritya darshitavan ity arthah.

tatah-therefore; ca-also; ujjahara iti-of the word "ujjahara"; asya-of it; ayam-this; arthah-the meaning; atmanah-the word "atmanah"; sakashat-understood in the sense of "from Himself"; shri-vasudeva-Vasudeva; sankarshana-and Sankarshana; amsha-bhutau-plenary expansions; keshau-by the word "keshau"; amshu-two splendid appearances; ujjahara-the word "ujjahara"; uddhritavan prakaöi-kritya darshitavan-manifested; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning.

Therefore the statement of the Vishnu Purana (ujjaharatmanah keshau sita-krishnau maha-mune) should be understood in the following way: The word "atmanah" means "from Himself", the word "keshau" means the two incarnations Vasudeva and Sankarshana, who have black and white complexions, and the word "ujjahara" means "manifested." The entire statement means "The Lord then appeared as Vasudeva and Sankarshana, who have black and white complexions."

Text 82

atrayam sumerur ity eka-desha-darshanenaivakhanda-sumeru-nirdeshavat tad-darshanenapi purnasyaivavirbhava-nirdesho jeyah.

atra-here; ayam-this; sumeruh-Mount Sumeru; iti-thus; eka-desha-one side; darshanena-by seeing; eva-certainly; akhanda-the entire; sumeru-Mount Sumeru; nirdeshavat-like the revelation; tat-of that; darshanena-by the sight; api-also; purnasya-of the whole; eva-certainly; avirbhava-appearance; nirdeshah-indication; jeyah-should be known.

Just as by seeing one face of the Mountain Sumeru, one can understand the nature of the entire mountain, in the same way, by properly understanding this verse from Vishnu Purana, one will be able to know the actual nature of Lord Krishna's appearance in the material world.

Text 83

atha sa capi keshau ity adika-vyakhya.

udvavarhe yoga-balenatmanah sakashad vicchidya darshayam asa. sa capi iti ca-shabdah purvam uktam deva-kartrikam nivedana-rupam artham samuccinoti.

atha-now; sa capi keshau iti adika-on the verse beginning "sa capi keshau"; vyakhya-commentary; udvavarhe-the word "udvavarhe"; yoga-balena-by mystic potency; sakashat-near; atmanah-from Himself; sakashat-near; vicchidya-separating; darshayam asa-revealed; sah ca api iti-the words "sa capi"; ca-shabdah-the word "ca"; purvam-formerly; uktam-spoken; deva-by the demigods; kartrikam-done; nivedana-of an appeal; rupam-in the form; artham-meaning; samuccinoti-refers.

An explanation of the verses from Mahabharata quoted in Text 56 follows:

In these verses the word "udvavarhe" means that the Lord appears by His own mystic potency. The word "ca" (also) refers the reader to the demigods' prayers recorded in the previous verses.

Text 84

api-shabdas tad-udvarhane shri-bhagavat-sankarshanayor api hetu-kartritvam sucayati.

api-shabdah-the word "api"; tat-udvarhane-in connection with the word "udvavarhe"; shri-bhagavat-of Lord Vasudeva; sankarshanayoh-and Lord Sankarshana; api-also; hetu-kartritvam-the condition of being the cause; sucayati-indicates.

The word "api" (even) in connection with the word "udvavarhe" (manifested) ("Even if Krishna and Balarama had appeared from Lord Vishnu") indicate that in reality Vasudeva and Sankarshana are emanations of Krishna and Balarama.

Text 85

tau capi iti ca-shabdo 'nukta-samuccayarthatvena bhagavat-sankarshanau svayam avivishatuh. pashcat tau ca tat tadatmyenavivishatur iti bodhayati. api-shabdo yatranusyutav amu, so 'pi tad-amsha apiti gamayati. tayor eko balabhadro babhuva ity adikam tu nara-narayano bhavet. harir eva bhaven narah ity adivat tad-aikyavapty-apekshaya.

tau capi iti-the words tau capi"; ca-shabdah-the word "ca"; anukta-unspoken; samuccaya-arthatvena-with additional meanings; bhagavat-Vasudeva; sankarshanau-and Sankarshana; svayam-personally; avivishatuh-entered; pashcat-afterwards; tau-the two; ca-also; tat-therefore; tad-atmyena-in Their original forms; avivishatuh-entered; iti-thus; bodhayati-teaches; api-shabdah-the word "api"; yatra-where; anusyutau-joined; amu-the two; sah api-the same person; tat-His; amshah-expansions; api-also; iti-thus; gamayati-causes to go; tayoh-from the two; ekah-one; balabhadrah-Balarama; babhuva-became; iti adikam-etc.; tu-also; nara-narayanah-Nara and Narayana Rishis; bhavet-became; harih-Hari; eva-certainly; bhavet-became; narah-Nara; iti adivat-as in the passage beginning; tat-of Them; aikya-oneness; avapti-attainment; apekshaya-with reference to.

An intricate sequence of events is hinted by the use of the phrase "tau capi (the two of them, also, also)" in this passage from the Mahabharata. First: Vasudeva and Sankarshana (the purusha-incarnations) entered the wombs of Devaki and Rohini. Then: Krishna and Balarama (the original forms of Vasudeva and Sankarshana) entered the wombs of Devaki and Rohini "also". Then, within the womb of Devaki, Vasudeva and Krishna joined to become a single Krishna, and within Rohini's womb Sankarshana and Balarama joined to become a single Balarama. In this way the word "api" (also) refers to the joining of Krishna-Vasudeva and Balarama-Sankarshana. In other words, Lord Krishna sent His immediate vishnu-tattva expansions into the material world before He personally came, and when He personally came, He and His vishnu-tattva forms became united into a single form. This is confirmed in the following statements:

1. "taylor eko balabhadro babhuva" (the two of Them then became one Balarama).
2. "nara-narayano bhavet. harir eva bhaven narah" (Nara-Narayana Rishis joined to become a single Lord Hari).

Text 86

keshavah shri-mathurayam keshava-sthanakhya-maha-yoga-piöhadhipatvena prasiddhah, sa eva krishna iti.

keshavah-Kesava; shri-mathurayam-in Mathura; keshava-of Lord Keshava; sthana-the abode; akhya-known as; maha-great; yoga-piöha-sacred place; adhipatvena-as the ruler; prasiddhah-famous; sah-He; eva-certainly; krishnah-Krishna; iti-thus.

Another meaning of this passage from the Mahabharata which explains that Krishna appears as a "kesha" is that "Keshava" is specifically the name of Lord Krishna when He appears as the monarch of Mathura. In this way, the passage from the Mahabharata may be paraphrased: "The original Krishna then appeared in His feature as Keshava (the monarch of Mathura)."

Text 87

ata evodaharishyate bhumeh suretara ity adi. shri-nrisimha-purane tu sita-krishne ca mac-chakti iti tat-tad-varna-nirdeshenamshu-vacaka eva shakti-shabda iti tat-tulya-tatparyopekshaya.

atah eva-therefore; udaharishyate-it may be said; bhumeh suretara iti adi-the verse beginning "bhumeh suretara"; shri-nrisimha-purane-in the Nrisimha Purana; tu-but; sita-white; krishne-and black; ca-and; mat-my; shakti-potencies; tat-tat-various; varna-colors; nirdeshena-by describing; amshu-the effulgence; vacakah-describing; eva-certainly; shakti-shabdah-by the word "shakti"; iti-thus; tat-with that; tulya-equal; tatparya-understanding; upekshaya-with reference to this.

In the Shrimad-Bhagavatam (2.7.26) Lord Krishna is described as "sita-krishna-kesha". This does not mean that Krishna is an incarnation of a black hair from Lord Vishnu. The actual explanation of this word is found in the Nrisimha Purana, where the Lord explains: "sita-krishne ca mac-chakti" (I appear in many vishnu-tattva forms, which have complexions of white, black, and many other colors).

Text 88

shrimad-bhagavatasya tu naisha prakriyavakalita. tasmāt evam vadanti rajarshe ity adivad eva sabhimata. kadacid atma-gopanaya bhagavan yad anyatha darshayati, tad eva rishayo yatha-mati prastuvantīti. tad etad anuvadakasya bhumeh suretara-varutha-ity adau kalaya sita-krishna-keshah ity asya ca yojana.

shrimad-bhagavatasya-of the Shrimad-Bhagavatam; tu-but; na-not; esha-this; prakriya-avakalita-fault; tasmāt-therefore; evam vadanti rajarshe iti adivat-just as the verse beginning with "evam vadanti rajarshe"; eva-certainly; sa-it; abhimata-may be considered; kadacid-sometimes; atma-Himself; gopanaya-for concealing; bhagavan-the Original Personality of Godhead; yat-because; anyatha-otherwise; darshayati-displays Himself; tat-for this reason; eva-certainly; rishayah-the sages; yatha-mati-as far as their realization permits; prastuvanti-offer prayers; iti-thus; tat-therefore; etad-this; anuvadakasya-of the speaker; bhumeh suretara-varutha-ity adau-the verse beginning with the words "bhumeh suretara-varutha"; kalaya sita-krishna-keshah iti-the phrase "kalaya sita-krishna-keshah"; asya-of this; ca-also; yojana-suitable.

Because this phrase from the Bhagavatam (sita-krishna-keshah) is somewhat ambiguous, the Bhagavatam should not be considered faulty. The phrase from the Bhagavatam describing Krishna's bewilderment when Shalva tricked Him (evam vadanti rajarshe) is described as an explanation given by some sages. In other words, although Krishna is never actually bewildered, some sages said that He was bewildered on that occasion. Therefore the statements of the Bhagavatam sometimes contain the opinions of certain sages according to their partial understanding. Sometimes the Original Personality of Godhead chooses to conceal Himself and He appears to be something that He actually is not. Because the Lord sometimes does not reveal His actual nature, therefore it is said that the sages describe Him according to their realization. In other words, the opinions of the sages sometimes present an incomplete view of the Supreme Lord. It is possible to interpret this Bhagavatam verse (2.7.26) (which describes the "sita-krishna-keshah") as such a partial understanding, even though it is recorded in the Bhagavatam.

Text 89

kalaya amshena yah sita-krishna-keshah, sita-krishnau keshau yatra tatha-vidhah, sa eva sakshad bhagavan jata ity evam kartavyeti.

kalaya-the word "kalaya"; amshena-means "with His expansions; yah-who; sita-krishna-keshah-the phrase "sita-krishna-keshah"; sita-krishna keshau yatra tatha-vidhah-who expands as the white and black purusha incarnations (Sankarshana and Vasudeva); sah eva-that very same person; sakshat-directly; bhagavan-the Original Personality of Godhead; jatah-appeared; iti-thus; evam kartavya iti-in this way it should be understood.

Lord Krishna is therefore the Original Personality of Godhead, and the phrase "kalaya sita-krishna-keshah" means "The Supreme Personality of Godhead, who expands as the white and black purusha-incarnations (Lord Sankarshana and Lord Vasudeva)."

Text 90

ata eva purusha-narayanasya tathagamana-pratipadaka-shri-hari-vamshi-vakyam api tat-tejasam akarshana-vivakshayaivoktam. sarvesham praveshash ca tasmin sayuktikam evodaharanyah.

atah eva-therefore; purusha-narayanasya-of Lord Narayana; tatha-in the same way; agamana-Krishna's arrival; pratipadaka-describing; shri-hari-vamsha-vakyam-statement of the Hari-vamsha; api-and; tat-His; tejasam-potency; akarshana-taking; vivakshaya-with an intention to describe; uktam-spoken; sarvesham-of all; pravesah-entrance; ca-also; tasmin-within Him; sa-yuktikam-with good reason; eva-certainly; udaharaniyah-should be described.

According to the description of Lord Krishna's advent found in the Hari-vamsha (and quoted in Text 59 of this anuccheda), all the potencies of Lord Narayana are present within the form of Lord Krishna. Actually, all the forms of the Personality of Godhead are present within the original form of Krishna.

Text 91

atah padmottara-khande nrisimha-rama-krishneshu shad-gunya-paripuranam ity avataram-tara-sadharanyam api mantavyam. kintv avataram prasange teshu shreshöhe vividishite samanyatas tavat sarva-shreshöhas traya uktah. teshv apy uttarottaratradhikya-kramabhiprayena shri-krishne shraishöhyam vivakshitam. ata eva shri-vishnu-purane maitreyena hiranyakashiputvadishu jaya-vijayayos tayor amukti-mukti-karane prishöe shri-parasharo 'pi shri-krishnasyaivaty-udbhaöaishvarya-prakasham aha.

atah-therefore; padma-uttara-khande-in the Uttara Khanda of the Padma Purana; nrisimha-in Lord Nrisimha; rama-in Lord Rama; krishneshu-and in Lord Krishna; shaö-gunya-of the six opulences; paripuranam-fullness; iti-thus; avatara-antara-for all the incarnations of Godhead; sadharanyam-universal feature; api-although; mantavyam-should be considered; kintu-however; avataram prasange-among all the incarnations of Godhead; teshu-among them; shreshöhe-best; vividisite-desired to be known; samanyatah-generally; tavat-to that extent; sarva-of all; shreshöhah-best; trayah-three; uktah-are described; teshu-among them; api-even; uttara-uttaratra-adhikya-krama-of each one superior to the preceding one; abhiprayena-with the intention; shri-krishne-for Lord Krishna; shraishöhyam-superiority; vivakshitam-is desired to be spoken; atah eva-therefore; shri-vishnu-purane-in the Vishnu Purana; maitreyena-by Maitreya; hiranyakashiputva-adishu-in the condition of accepting the forms of Hiranyakashipu and other demons; jaya-of Jaya; vijayoh-and Vijaya; tayoh-of them; amukti-without liberation; mukti-of liberation; karane-when the cause; prishöe-was asked; shri-parasharah-Parashara Muni; api-also; shri-krishnasya-of Lord Krishna; eva-certainly; ati-great; udbhaöa-extraordinary; aishvarya-opulence and prowess; prakasham-manifestation; aha-described.

The Padma Purana Uttara-khanda explains:

nrisimha-rama-krishneshu
shad-gunya-paripuranam

"The six opulences of wealth, strength, fame, beauty, knowledge and renunciation are fully present in the forms of Lord Nrisimha, Rama, and Krishna."

Although all the forms of the Personality of Godhead fully display these six opulences, these three forms are singled out as especially displaying them. Because the most significant word "nrisimha-rama-krishneshu" is a dvandva-compound, and because the most important word is generally placed at the end of a compound-word, we may conclude that because Krishna is placed at the end of this compound, He is the most important of all the forms of the Lord.

This is confirmed in the Vishnu Purana, where Maitreya Muni asks Parashara Muni why Jaya and Vijaya, although killed by the hands of Lord Nrisimha, Lord Varaha, and other forms of the Lord, did not attain liberation, although they both became liberated when killed by the hand of Lord Krishna. To answer this question, Parashara Muni described Lord Krishna's supreme position among all the forms of the Personality of Godhead, and His supreme opulence and power.

Text 92

kim ca shri-krishnam aprapyanyatra tv asuranam muktir na sambhavati.

kim ca-furthermore; ca-also; shri-krishnam-Lord Krishna; aprapya-without attaining; anyatra-otherwise; tu-but; asuranam-of demons; muktih-liberation; na-not; sambhavati-is possible.

Generally speaking, demons cannot attain liberation unless they attain the personal association of Lord Krishna.

Text 93

eva-kara-dvayena svayam eva shri-gitasu tatha sucanat

eva-kara-the word "eva"; dvayena-by twice repeating; svayam-personally; eva-certainly; shri-gitasu-in the Bhagavad-gita; tatha-in this way; sucanat-from the indication.

This is described in the following verses of Bhagavad-gita (16.19-20), where Lord Krishna repeats the word "eva" (certainly) twice to emphasize the point:

Text 94

tan aham dvishatah kruran
samsareshu naradhaman
kshipamy ajasram ashubhan
asurishv eva yonishu

tan-those; aham-I; dvishatah-envious; kruran-mischievous; samsareshu-into the ocean of material existence; naradhaman-the lowest of mankind; kshipami-put; ajasram-innumerable; ashubhan-inauspicious; asurishu-demoniac; eva-certainly; yonishu-in the wombs.

"Those who are envious and mischievous, who are lowest among men, are cast by Me into the ocean of material existence, into various demoniac species of life.

Text 95

asurim yonim apanna
mudha janmani janmani
mam aprapyaiva kaunteya
tato yanty adhamam gatim

asurim-demoniac; yonim-species; apannah-gaining; mudhah-the foolish; janmani janmani-in birth after birth; mam-unto Me; aprapya-without achieving; eva-certainly; kaunteya-O son of Kunti; tatah-thereafter; yanti-goes; adhamam-condemned; gatim-destination.

"Attaining repeated birth amongst the species of demoniac life, such persons can never approach Me. Gradually they sink down to the most abominable type of existence."

Text 96

kutracid bhagavad-dveshinam tat-smaranadi-prabhavena shruyatam va mukti. sarvesham api tad-dveshinam tu mukti-pradatvam anyatravatare 'vatarini va na kaccic ca shruyate. tasmad tesham api mukti-datritvaya shri-krishna evaishvarya-prakashadhikyam darshayati. yuktam eva varnaya asa sa shri-parasharah.

kutracit-sometimes; bhagavat-of the Lord; dveshinam-of the enemies; tat-of the Lord; smarana-adi-by remembrance, or by otherwise rendering service; prabhavena-by the strength; shruyatam-is heard; va-or; mukti-liberation; sarvesham-of all; api-however; tat-dveshinam-of the Lord's enemies; tu-but; mukti-liberation; pradatvam-the status of granting; anya-other; avatare-during the incarnation; avatarini-the source of incarnations; va-or; na-not; kaccit-some; ca-and; shruyate-is heard; tasmad-for this reason; tesham-of them; api-even; mukti-datritvaya-for granting liberation; shri-krishnah-Shri Krishna; eva-certainly; aishvarya-opulence; prakasha-manifestation; adhikyam-superiority; darshayati-reveals; yuktam-properly; eva-certainly; varnaya asa-described; sah-he; shri-parasharah-Parashara Muni.

According to the descriptions of the Vedic literatures, although the enemies of the Supreme Lord attain liberation by constantly thinking of the Lord or by inadvertently serving Him in some capacity, generally they do not all become liberated simply by associating with the Lord or being killed by Him. By killing and liberating these demons, Lord Krishna reveals His transcendental opulence, greater than the opulences of any other form of the Personality of Godhead. These statements are all confirmed by the explanations spoken by Parashara Muni and recorded in the Vishnu Purana.

Text 97

ata eva sarvam aishvarya-sakshat-karasya mukti-hetutvam uktva punash ca putanadi-moksham vicintya kalanemi-adiham ca tad-abhavam ashankya tad apy asahamanas tasya tu shri-krishnakhyasya bhagavatah paramadbhuta-svabhava evayam ity uvaca sarvantima-gadyena

atah eva-therefore; sarvam-completely; aishvarya-opulence; sakshat-karasya-manifesting; mukti-liberation; hetutvam-the condition of being the cause; uktva-having described; punah-again; ca-also; putana-of Putana; adi-and others; moksham-the liberation; vicintya-considering; kalanemi-of Kalanemi; adinam-and others; ca-also; tat-abhavam-the position of not being liberated; ashankya-suspecting; tat-that; api-also; asahamanah-not tolerating; tasya-of Him; tu-but; shri-krishna-akhyasya-named Shri Krishna; bhagavatah-of the Original Personality of Godhead; parama-supreme; adbhuta-astonishing; svabhava-nature; eva-certainly; ayam-this; iti-thus; uvaca-said; sarva-all; antima-at the end; gadyena-by the prose statement.

When Lord Krishna considered how Putana and other demons had already become liberated, He began to suspect that perhaps Kalanemi and the other remaining demons would not attain liberation. This possibility became completely intolerable for the Lord. This astonishing transcendental nature of the Supreme Personality of Godhead, Lord Krishna, is described by Parashara Muni at the end of his prose description of the Lord's opulence. Parashara said (Vishnu Purana 4.15.9):

Text 98

ayam hi bhagavan kirtitah samsmritash ca dveshanubandhenapy akhila-surasuradi-durlabham phalam prayacchati, kim uta samyag-bhaktimatam ity anena.

ayam-He; hi-certainly; bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; kirtitah-glorified; samsmritah-remembered; ca-and; dvesha-anubandhena-with hatred; api-even; akhila-by all; sura-the demigods; asura-demons; adi-and others; durlabham-difficult to attain; phalam-result; prayacchati-grants; kim uta-what to speak?; samyak-bhaktimatam-of the pure devotees.

"The Supreme Personality of Godhead, Lord Krishna, freely gave liberation to the demons who, although full of hatred for Him, somehow became immersed in remembering Him or talking about Him. If the Lord gave to these demons liberation, which is ordinarily very difficult for them, or even for the demigods or anyone else to achieve, then how shall we be able to describe the benediction He gave to the pure devotees full of love for Him?"

Text 99

atah shri-bhagavata-mate taylor janma-traya-niyamash ca shri-krishnad eva tan-mokshah sambhaved ity apekshayaiveti jneyam.

atah-therefore; shri-bhagavata-of the Shrimad-Bhagavatam; mate-in the opinion; tayoh-of Jaya and Vijaya; janma-traya-niyamah-punishment of taking three births as demons; ca-and; shri-krishnat-from Shri Krishna; eva-certainly; tat-their; mokshah-liberation; sambhavet-became possible; iti-thus; apekshaya-in this regard; eva-certainly; iti-thus; jneyam-it should be understood.

The Shrimad-Bhagavatam explains that Jaya and Vijaya were cursed to take three births as demons. We may note in this connection that they were ultimately liberated by Krishna. Their liberation was possible only from the hand of Krishna and not from any other form of the Lord.

Text 100

ata eva shri-naradenapi tam uddishyaivoktam vairena yam nripatayah ity adina, shri-brahmana ca ye ca pralamba-khara-durdara ity adina sarvesham muktidadtvam ca tasya shri-krishnasya nija-prabhavatishayena yatha kathancit smartri-cittakarshanatishaya-svabhavat. anyatra tu tatha svabhavo nastiti nasti muktidadtvam. ata eva venasyapi vishnu-dveshinas tadvad aveshabhavan mukty-abhava iti.

atah eva-therefore; shri-naradena-by Narada Muni; api-also; tam uddishya-in this connection; eva-certainly; uktam-is explained; vairena yam nripatayah iti adina-by the verse (Bhag. 11.5.48) "vairena yam nripatayah shishupala-paundra-shalvadayo gati-vilasa-vilokanadyaih dhyayanta akrita-dhiyah shayanasanadau tat-samyam apur anurakta-dhiyam punah kim"; shri-brahmana-by Lord Brahma ; ca-also; ye ca pralamba-khara-durdara iti adina-by the verse (Bhag. 2.7.34-35) "ye ca pralamba-khara-dardura-keshy-arishöa-mallebha-kamsa-yavanah kapi-paundrakadyah anye ca shalva-kuja-balvala-dantavakra-saptoksha-shambara-viduratha-rukmi-mukhyah/"ye va mridhe samiti-shalina atta-capah kamboja-matsya-kuru-shrijaya-kaikayadyah yasyanty adarshanam alam bala-partha-bhima-vyajahvayena harina nilayam tadiyam"; sarvesham-of all; muktivatvam-the position of granting liberation; ca-and; tasya-of Him; shri-krishnasya-Shri Krishna; nija-prabhava-atishayena-by His great potency; yatha-just as; kathancit-in every way; smaritri-of the meditator; citta-the mind; akarshana-attracting; atishaya-great; svabhavat-because of nature; anyatra-otherwise; tu-but; tatha-in that way; sva-own; bhavah-nature; na-not; asti-is; na-not; asti-is; muktivatvam-the position of granting liberation; atah eva-for this reason; venasya-of King Vena; api-also; vishnu-for Lord Vishnu; dveshinah-full of hatred; tadvat-in that way; avesha-entrance; abhavat-because of the non-existence; mukti-of liberation; abhavah-non-existence; iti-thus.

Even demons who are killed by Lord Krishna, or who think of Him at the time of death in a spirit of enmity, attain liberation. This is confirmed by Narada Muni in the following verse of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (11.5.48):

"Kings like Shishupala, Paundraka and Shalva meditated in envy upon the movements, playful gestures, glances and other attractions displayed by Lord Krishna. Thus fixing their minds while engaged in lying down, sitting, and in all activities, they attained a status equal to His. How then to compare with those whose minds are naturally attached to Him in a favorable mood?"*

It is also confirmed by Lord Brahma in these words (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 2.7.34):

"All demonic personalities like Pralamba, Dhenuka, Baka, Keshi, Arishöa, Canura, Mushöika, Kuvalayapida elephant, Kamsa, Yavana, Narakasura and Paundraka, great marshals like Shalva, Dvividha monkey and Balvala, Dantavakra, the seven bulls, Shambara, Viduratha and Rukmi, as also great warriors like Kamboja, Matsya, Kuru, Shrinjaya and Kekaya, would all fight vigorously, either with the Lord Hari directly or with Him under His names of Baladeva, Arjuna, Bhima, etc. And the demons, thus being killed, would attain either the impersonal brahmajyoti or His personal abode in the Vaikunöha planets."*

By His own transcendental potency, Lord Krishna can grant liberation to anyone, regardless of how they think of Him. It is only Lord Krishna who will always grant liberation to the demons killed by Him. If one is thinking of Lord Krishna, even adversely, at the time of death, he will certainly become liberated. If one hatefully thinks of any other form of the Lord at the time of death, he may not necessarily become liberated. For example, the demon Vena was unable to think of the form of Shri Krishna at the time of his death, and therefore the demon did not attain liberation. One who, at the time of his death meditates on the Personality of Godhead in a spirit of animosity is only assured of liberation if the object of his meditation is specifically the form of Shri Krishna.

Text 101

ata evoktam tasmāt kenāpy upayena manah kṛṣṇe niveshayet iti.

atah eva-therefore; tasmāt-therefore; kenāpi-by any; upayena-means; manah-the mind; kṛṣṇe-in Krishna; niveshayet-one should fix.

Because liberation is attainable even for one who remembers the form of Shri Krishna even in a spirit of animosity, it is said in the Shrimad-Bhagavatam (7.1.33):

"Therefore one must somehow think of Krishna, whether in a friendly way, or inimically."

Text 102

tasnad asty eva sarvato 'py ashcharyatama shaktih shri-kishnasyeti siddham.

tasmat-from this evidence; asti-there is; eva-certainly; sarvatah-completely; api-also; ashcharyatama-most astonishing; shaktih-potency; shri-kishnasya-of Shri Krishna; iti-thus; siddham-the conclusion.

From these statements we may conclude that Lord Krishna is the master of the most wonderful transcendental potency.

Text 103

tad evam virodha-pariharena viruddharthanam apy arthanukulyena shri-kishnasya svayam-bhagavattvam eva dridhi-kritam.

tat-therefore; evam-in this way; virodha-objections; pariharena-by removing; viruddha-arthanam-of the improperly interpreted scriptural passages; artha-anukulyena-by the proper interpretation; shri-kishna-of Shri Krishna; svayam-bhagavattvam-the status of the Original Personality of Godhead; eva-certainly; dridhi-kritam-is conclusively proven.

By answering all objections and by giving the proper interpretation of those scriptural passages, which when misinterpreted cover the actual meaning of the Vedic literatures, I have firmly established the fact that Lord Krishna is the Original Form of the Personality of Godhead.

Text 104

tatra ca vedanta-sutradav apy ekasya maha-vakyasya nana-vakya-virodha-pariharenaiva sthapanaya darshayan napy atraivedrisham ity ashreddheyam. vakyanam durbala-balitvam eva vicaraniyam, na tu bahu-alpata. drishyate ca loke-ekenapi yuddhe sahasra-parajaya iti. evam ca bahu-virodha-pariharenaiva svasmin shri-kishnakhye para-brahmani sarva-vedabhidheyam aha

tatra-in this connection; ca-also; vedanta-sutra-in the Vedanta-sutra; adau-and other Vedic literatures; api-also; ekasya-of one; maha-vakyasya-great statement; nana-various; vakya-statements; virodha-opposition; pariharena-by removing; eva-certainly; sthapanaya-of establishing; darshayan-showing; na-not; api-but; atra-here; eva-certainly; idrisham-in this way; iti-thus; ashreddha-lack of faith; iyam-this; vakyanam-of statements; durbala-of the weak; balitvam-strength; eva-certainly; vicaraniyam-to be established; na-not; tu-but; bahu-of many statements; alpata-weakness; drishyate-is observed; ca-also; loke-in the world; ekena-by one; api-even; yuddhe-in battle; sahasra-of thousands; parajayah-victor; iti-thus; evam-in the same way; ; ca-also; bahu-many; virodha-objections; pariharena-by removing; eva-certainly; svasmin-in Himself; kishna-akhye-named Krishna; para-brahmani-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; sarva-all; veda-of the Vedas; abhidheyam-name-aha-says.

Someone may object: By speaking only a few arguments, you have attempted to refute the great mass of evidence against your theory. I cannot believe your conclusion.

To this I reply: In the Vedanta-sutra and other Vedic literatures many lengthy arguments are refuted in a few words. The length of an argument is not the criterion of whether it is true or not. Even in the material world we may see an example of this, for sometimes a single strong fighter may defeat a thousand soldiers in the battle. In the same way a single strong argument may defeat thousands of illogical words. All of your arguments are defeated by Lord Krishna Himself, for He describes Himself as the ultimate meaning of all the Vedic literatures in the following words (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.21.42-43):

Text 105

kim vidhatte kim acashöe
kim anudya vikalpayet
ity asya hridayam loke
nanyo mad veda kashcana

mam vidhatöe 'bhidhatte mam
vikalpyapohyate hy aham

kim-what; vidhatte-direct; kim-what; acashöe-declare; kim-what; anudya-taking as the object; vikalpayet-may conjecture; iti-thus; asyah-of the Vedic literature; hridayam-intention; loke-in this world; na-not; anyah-other; mat-than Me; veda-knows; kashcana-anyone; mam-Me; vidhatte-they ordain; abhidhatte-set forth; mam-Me; vikalpya-speculating; apohyate-am fixed; hi-certainly; aham-I.

"What is the direction of all Vedic literatures? On whom do they set focus? Who is the purpose of all speculation? Outside of Me no one knows these things. Now you should know that all these activities are aimed at ordaining and setting forth Me. The purpose of Vedic literature is to know Me by different speculations, either by indirect understanding or by dictionary understanding. Everyone is speculating about Me."

Sarva-samvadini Comment

kim vidhatte iti; asya curnika-praghaööake keshha"-shabda-vyakhyane shri-hari-vamsha-vakyani tatra sa parvati nama

guha devaih sudurgama
tribhis tasyaiva vikrantair nityam parvasu pujita

puranam tatra vinyasya
deham harir udara-dhih atmanam yojayam asa
vasudeva-grihe prabhuh iti.

kim vidhatte iti-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.21.42-43 quoted on @ page 234; asya-of this verse; curnika-praghaööake-in the style of composition known as "curnika"; keshha-shabda-of the word "keshha"; vyakhyane-in the explanation; shri-hari-vamsha-of the Hari-vamsha; vakyani-the statements; tatra-there; sa-that; parvati-of the mountain; nama-indeed; guha-the cave; devaih-by the demigods; sudurgama-very difficult to

be approached; tribhih-by three; tasya-of Him; eva-certainly; vikrantaih-powerful; nityam-eternally; parvasu-in that place; pujita-worshipped; puranam-existing from time immemorial; tatra-there; vinyasya-placing; deham-form; harih-Lord Hari; udara-dhih-magnanimous; atmanam-Himself; yojayam asa-manifested; vasudeva-of Maharaja Vasudeva; grihe-in the home; prabhuh-the Supreme Master.

That Lord Krishna is not an incarnation of one of Lord Vishnu's hairs, but is directly the Original Supreme Personality of Godhead is also confirmed in the following statement of the Hari-vamsha:

"The Supreme Personality of Godhead, Lord Hari, Whom even the demigods cannot approach, then appeared in that mountain cave in His primeval original transcendental form. After being worshipped by Brahma , Shiva, and Vishnu, the magnanimous Supreme Lord appeared within the home of Maharaja Vasudeva."

Anuccheda 30

Text 1

ödä evam, krishnas tu bhagavan svayam ity etat-pratija-vakyaya maha-vira-rajayevatmanaiva nirjityatmasat-krita-virodhi-shatarthayapi shobha-visheshena prekshavatam anandanartham chaturanginim senam ivanyam api vacana-shrenim upaharami. tatra tasya lilavatara-kartritvam aha

tat-therefore; evam-in this way; krishnah tu bhagavan svayam iti-the statement "krishnas tu bhagavan svayam (Bhag. 1.3.28); etat-of this; pratija-assertion; vakyaya-for statement; maha-great; vira-of heros; rajaya-for the ruler; iva-just as; atmana-personally; iva-just as; nirjitya-having defeated; atmasat-krita-brought under subjugation; virodhi-of those attempting to refute the arguments; shata-of hundreds; arthaya-meanings; api-even; shobha-with a beauty; visheshena-specific; prekshavatam-of the observers; anandana-artham-for the delight; chaturanginim-consisting of four parts (footsoldiers, cavalry, chariot warriors, and warriors riding elephants); senam-army; iva-just like; anyam-the other; api-even; vacana-of words; shrenim-multitude; upaharami-I bring; tatra-in this connection; tasya-of Lord Krishna; lila-avatara-of pastime incarnations; karitritvam-the status as the original source.

Our paribhasha-sutra (krishna tu bhagavan svayam) now appears as a great heroic king who has just defeated hundreds of enemies in the form of opposing arguments and completely brought them under his submission to the great delight of all onlookers. I shall now bring into view the multitude of arguments that forms the footsoldiers, cavalry, chariot warriors and elephant-riding warriors of his army. The first division of that army consists of the arguments to prove that Shri Krishna is the origin of all lila-avatars (pastime incarnations). At the beginning of this division is the following verse spoken by the demigods to Lord Krishna (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.2.40):

Text 2

matsyashva-kacchapa-nrisimha-varaha-hamsarajanya-vipra-vibudheshu kritavata-rah
tvam pasi nas tri-bhuvanam ca yathadhunesha bharam bhuvo hara yaduttama vandanam te ity adi spashöam devah shri-bhagavantam.

matsya-the fish incarnation; ashva-the horse incarnation; kacchapa-the tortoise incarnation; nrisimha-the Narasimha incarnation; varaha-the Varaha incarnation; hamsa-the swan incarnation; rajanya-incarnations as Lord Ramacandra and other kshatriyas; vipra-incarnations as brahmanas like Vamanadeva; vibudheshu-among the demigods; krita-avatah-appeared as incarnations; tvam-Your Lordship; pasi-please save; nah-us; tri-bhuvanam ca-and the three worlds; yatha-as well as; adhuna-now; isha-O Supreme Lord; bharam-burden; bhuvah-of the earth; hara-please diminish; yadu-uttama-O Lord Krishna, best of the Yadus; vandanam te-we offer our prayers unto You; iti-thus; adi-beginning; spashöam-the meaning is clear; devah-the demigods; shri-bhagavantam-to Lord Krishna.

"O supreme controller, Your Lordship previously accepted incarnations as a fish, a horse, a tortoise, Narasimhadeva, a boar, a swan, Lord Ramacandra, Parashurama and, among the demigods, Vamanadeva, to protect the entire world by Your mercy. Now please protect us again by Your mercy by diminishing the disturbances in this world. O Krishna, best of the Yadus, we respectfully offer our obeisances unto You."*

Anuccheda 31

tatha, sureshv rishishv isha tathaiva ity adi. spashöam, brahma tam.

tatha-in the same way; sureshu rishishu isha tatha eva iti adi-the Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.14.20 ("sureshv rishishv isha tathaiva nrishv api, tiryakshu yadahsv api te 'janasya, janmasatam curmada-nigrahaya, prabho vidhatah sad-anugrahaya"); spashöam-clear; brahma-Brahma ; tam-to Lord Krishna.

This is confirmed in the following verse spoken by Brahma to Lord Krishna (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.14.20):

"O Original Personality of Godhead, O creator of the entire cosmic manifestation, although You never take birth You nevertheless appear among the demigods, sages, human beings, animals, and aquatics, in order to crush the false pride of the demons, and bestow Your mercy to the saintly devotees."*

Anuccheda 32

tatha, bahuni santi namani rupani ca sutasya te ity adi. spashöam. gargah shri-vraja-rajam.

tatha-in the same way; bahuni santi namani rupani ca sutasya te iti adi-the Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.8.15) ("bahuni santi namani rupani ca sutasya te, guna-karmanurupani tany aham veda no janah"); spashöam-clear; gargah-Gargacarya; shri-vraja-rajam-to the king of Vrajabhumi.

This is also confirmed in the following verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.8.15) spoken by Gargacarya to Nanda Maharaja:

"For this son of yours (Krishna) there are many forms and names according to His transcendental qualities and activities. These are known to me, but people in general do not understand them."*

Anuccheda 33

Text 1

evam yasyavatara jnayante sharireshv ashairirinah ity adi. sharirishv ashairirina ity api jnane hetu-garbha-visheshanam. sharirishu madhye 'py avatirnasya satah svayam ashairirinah.

evam-in the same way; yasya avatarah jnayante sharireshu ashairirinah iti adi-in the Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.10.34 ("yasyavatara jnayante sharirshve ashairirinah, tais tair atulyatishayair viryair dehishv asangataih"); sharireshu-among the conditioned souls who have material bodies; ashairirinah-without a material body; iti-thus; api-although; jnane-in knowledge; hetu-of causes; garbha-the origin; visheshanam-distinguishing characteristic; sharirishu-among embodied beings; madhye-in the midst; api-although; avatirnasya-incarnated; satah-of the Absolute Truth; svayam-personally; ashairirinah-without a material body.

This is also confirmed in the following verse spoken by Nalakuvara and Manigriva to Lord Krishna (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.10.34):

"Appearing in bodies like those of an ordinary fish, tortoise and hog, You exhibit activities impossible for such creatures to perform: extraordinary, incomparable, transcendental activities of unlimited power and strength. These bodies of Yours, therefore, are not made of material elements, but are incarnations of Your Supreme Personality."*

This statement explains that the forms of Lord Krishna are always spiritual.

Text 2

natah param parama yad bhavatah svarupam ity adi dvitiya-sandarbhodaharana-praghaööaka-drishöya jivavad deha-dehi-parthakyabhavena mukhyamatvarthayogat. kuveratmajau shri-bhagavantam.

natah param parama yad bhavatah svarupam iti adi-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 3.9.3; dvitiya-sandarbha-in the second Sandarbha; udaharana-praghaööaka-drishöya-by the description; jivavat-like an ordinary conditioned soul; deha-of the body; dehi-and the possessor of the body; parthakya-of separateness; abhavena-because of non-existence; mukhyamatvartha-ayogat-because of the inappropriateness; kuvera-atmajau-the two sons of Kuvera; shri-bhagavantam-to the Supreme Lord.

This is also confirmed in the following verse spoken by Brahma to Lord Krishna (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 3.9.3):

"O my Lord, I do not see a form superior to Your present form of eternal bliss and knowledge."*

In the verse beginning "yasyavatarah" (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.10.34) we should not interpret the word "ashairirinah" to mean "formless". The actual meaning is that because the Supreme Lord does not manifest an external material body different from Himself, He is therefore called "ashairirinah". This has already been explained in the second (Bhagavat) sandarbha. Someone may argue that the word "ashairirinah" should be interpreted as "formless" because that is the direct meaning of the word. To this objection I reply: Because this interpretation ("formless") is contradicted in many Vedic literatures, and the Supreme Lord is affirmed to possess an eternal transcendental form, therefore the primary meaning ("formless") should be rejected, and the secondary meaning of the word ("without an external material body") should be accepted.

Anuccheda 34

aparam

yat-pada-pankaja-rajah shirasa bibharti shrir abjajah sagirishah saha loka-palaih lila-tanuh sva-krita-setu-paripsaya yah
kalo 'dadhat sa bhagavan mama kena tushyet.

spashöam. nagnajit shri-bhagavantam.

aparam-further; yat-whose; pada-feet; pankaja-lotus; rajah-dust; shirasa-on the head; bibharti-carries; shrir-Lakshmi; abjajah-Brahma; sagirishah-with Shiva; saha-with; loka-palaih-the protectors of the planets; lila-for pastimes; tanuh-form; sva-krita-accepted; setu-principles of religion; paripsaya-with a desire; yah-who; kalah-time; adadhat-placet; sah-He; bhagavan-the Supreme Lord; mama-my; kena-by what?; tushyet-may please; spashöam-clear; nagnajit-Nagnajit; shri-bhagavantam-to the Supreme Personality of Godhead.

This is also confirmed in the following verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.58.37) spoken by King Nagnajit to Lord Krishna:

"O Lord who accepts the form of the various pastime-incarnations in order to protect the principles of religion, O Lord, the dust of whose lotus feet is reverentially placed by Lakshmi, Brahma, Shiva, and all the demigods upon their heads, O Supreme Personality of Godhead, what may I do to please You?"

Anuccheda 35

Text 1

param ca

namas tasmai bhagavate
krishnayakunöha-medhase
yo dhatte sarva-bhutanam
abhavayoshatih kalah

param-in another place (Bhag. 10.87.46); ca-also; namah-I offer my respectful obeisances; tasmai-to Him; bhagavate-the Original Personality of Godhead; krishnaya-Lord Krishna; akunöha-medhase-omniscient; yah-who; dhatte-accepts; sarva-of all; bhutanam-living entities; abhavaya-for the liberation; ushatih-auspicious; kalah-forms of His plenary expansions.

This is also confirmed in the Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.87.46), where Narada Muni offers the following prayer:

"I offer my respectful obeisances to Lord Krishna, the all-knowing Original Personality of Godhead who, in order to liberate the conditioned souls, accepts the auspicious forms of His many incarnations."

Text 2

öika namah iti shri-krishnavatarataya narayanam stauti, ete camsa-kalah pumsah krishnas tu bhagavan svayam, ity ukteh ity esha. ata eva shruti-stava-shravananantaram tasma eva namaskarat shruti-stutav api shri-krishna eva stutya ity ayatam.

öika-commentary; ca-also; namah iti-this verse, which begins with the word "namah"; shri-krishna-avatarataya-the appearance of Lord Krishna; narayanam-Narayana Rishi; stauti-glorifies; ete camsha-kalah pumsah krishnas tu bhagavan svayam iti ukteh-from the statement "Krishnas tu bhagavan svayam"; iti esha-the same; atah eva-therefore; shruti-of the personified Vedas; stava-of the prayers; sravana-hearing; anantaram-after; tasmai-to Him; eva-certainly; namaskarat-because of obeisances; shruti-of the personified Vedas; stutau-in the prayers; api-also; shri-krishnah-Shri Krishna; eva-certainly; stutyah-glorified; iti-thus; ayatam-concluded.

Shridhara Svami explains in his commentary on this verse:

"Speaking to Narayana Rishi, Narada glorified the appearance of Lord Krishna by speaking this verse, which confirms the truth of the statement "ete camsha-kalah pumsah krishnas tu bhagavan svayam". In this way, at the end of the Prayers of the Personified Vedas, Narada Muni affirmed that Lord Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead, the source of all incarnations.

Text 3

tathaiva shrutibhir api nibhrita-marun-mano-'ksha-dridha-yoga-yujah ity adi padye nijari-moksha-pradatvady-asadharana-lingena sa eva vyanjitah. spashöam. shri-naradah.

tatha-in the same way; eva-certainly; shrutibhih-by the Personified Vedas; api-also; nibhrita-marun-mano-'ksha-dridha-yoga-yujah iti adi padye-in the Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.87.23 "nibhrita-marun-mano 'ksha-dridha-yoga-yujo hridi yan munaya upasate tad arayo 'pi yayuh smaranat striya uragendra-bhoga-bhuja-danda-vishakta-dhiyo vayam api te samah samadrisho 'nghri-saroja-sudhah"; nija-own; ari-enemies; moksha-liberation; pradatva-giving; asadharana-extraordinary; lingena-by the quality; sah-He; eva-certainly; vyajitah-characterized; spashöam-the rest of the verse is clear; shri naradah-Narada Muni.

Because Lord Krishna grants liberation even to the enemies killed by Him, He is unique among all the forms of the Personality of Godhead. This is confirmed by the following statement spoken by the Personified Vedas and repeated by Narada Muni in Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.87.23):

"By practicing the mystic yoga system and controlling their breath, the great sages conquered the mind and senses. Thus engaging in mystic yoga, they saw the Supersoul within their hearts and ultimately entered into the impersonal Brahman. However, even the enemies of the Supreme Personality of Godhead attain that position simply by thinking of the Supreme Lord."*

Anuccheda 36

Text 1

tatha gunavatara-kartritvam aha

ity uddhavenaty-anurakta-cetasa prishöö jagat-kridanakah sva-shaktibhih grihita-murti-traya ishvareshvaro
jagada saprema-manohara-smitah

tatha-in the same way; guna-of the modes of material nature; avatara-incarnations; karitritvam-the state of accepting; aha-describes; iti-thus; uddhavena-by Uddhava; ati-anurakta-cetasa-in a spirit of unalloyed devotional service; prishöah-inquired; jagat-for whom the universe; kridanakah-is just like a toy; sva-with His own; shaktibhih-potencies; grihita-accepted; murti-trayah-the three forms of the guna-avatars; ishvara-ishvarah-the supreme controller of all controllers; jagada-spoke; sa-prema-affectionate; manohara-enchancing; smitah-with a smile; spashöam-the meaning of the verse is clear.

That Lord Krishna is the source of all the guna-avatars (Vishnu who controls the mode of goodness, Brahma who controls the mode of passion, and Shiva who controls the mode of ignorance) is confirmed in the following verse from Shrimad-Bhagavatam (11.29.7):

"When the great pure devotee Uddhava had asked this question, Lord Krishna, who accepts the forms of the three guna-avatars (Vishnu, Brahma and Shiva), who controls the universe with His various potencies just as a child controls a toy, and who is the supreme controller of all the demigods, smiled in a charming and affectionate way and replied to His devotee's question in the following words."

Text 2

atra ajanatam tvat-padavim ity udahritam vacanam apy anusandheyam. shri-shukah.

atra-in this connection; ajanatam tvat-padavim-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.14.19 ("ajanatam tvat-padavim anatmany atmatma bhasi vitatya mayam shrishöav ivaham jagato vidhana iva tvam esho 'nta iva tri-netrah."); iti-thus; udahritam-said; vacanam-statement; api-also; anusandheyam-should be considered; shri-shukah-Shri Sukadeva Gosvami.

In this connection we may note the following statement spoken by Brahma to Lord Krishna (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.14.19):

"O Lord Krishna, persons who are unaware of Your inconceivable energy cannot understand that You alone expand Yourself as the creator Brahma, maintainer Vishnu, and annihilator Shiva. Persons who are not in awareness of things as they are contemplate that I, Brahma, am the creator, Vishnu is the maintainer, and Lord Shiva is the annihilator. Actually You are alone everything: creator, maintainer and annihilator."*

Anuccheda 37

Text 1

atha purushavatara-kartritvam apy aha

iti matir upakalpita vitrishna

bhagavati satvata-pungave vibhumni

sva-sukham upagate kvacid vihartum

prakritim upeyushi yad-bhava-pravahah

shri-bhishmah uvaca-Shri Bhishmadeva said; iti-thus; matir-thinking, feeling and willing; upakalpita-invested; vitrishna-freed from all sense desires; bhagavati-onto the Personality of Godhead; satvata-pungave-onto the leader of the devotees; vibhumni-onto the great; sva-sukham-self-satisfaction; upagate-onto He who has attained it; kvacit-sometimes; vihartum-out of transcendental pleasure; prakritim-in the material world; upeyushi-do accept it; yat-bhava-from whom the creation; pravahah-is made and annihilated.

That Lord Krishna is the origin of the purusha-avatars, who are the creators of the material universes, is confirmed in the following prayer spoken by Bhishmadeva to Lord Krishna (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.9.32):

"Let me now invest my thinking, feeling and willing, which were so long engaged in different subjects and occupational duties, in the all-powerful Lord Shri Krishna. He is always self-satisfied, but sometimes, being the leader of the devotees, He enjoys transcendental pleasure by descending on the material world, although from Him only the material world is created."*

Text 2

öika ca parama-phala-rupam shri-krishna-ratim prarthayitum prathamam svakritam arpayati iti iti vigato bhuma yasmat tasmin. yam apekshyanyatra mahattvam nastity arthah. tad eva paramaishvaryam aha sva-sukham svarupa-bhutam paramanandam upagate praptavaty eva. kvacit kadacid vihartum kriditum prakritim upeyushi svikritavati, na tu svarupa-tirodhanena jivvat paratantryam ity arthah. vihartum ity uktam prapancayati yad yato bhava-pravahah shrishöi-parampara bhavati ity esha.

öika-commentary; ca-and; parama-ultimate; phala-result; rupam-form; shri-krishna-for Lord Krishna; ratim-attraction; prarthayitum-to pray; prathamam-first; svakritam-accepted; arpayati-offers; iti-thus; iti-thus; vigato-gone; bhuma-the Lord; yasmat-from whom; tasmin-in Him; yam-whom; apekshya-in relation; anyatra-in someone else; mahattvam-greatness; na-not; asti-is; iti-thus; arthah-meaning; tad-this; eva-certainly; parama-supreme; aishvaryam-opulence; aha-said; sva-sukham-own happiness; svarupa-own form; bhutam-manifested; parama-supreme; anandam-bliss; upagate-attained; praptavati-gives; eva-indeed; kvacit-somewhere; kadacid-sometime; vihartum-to play; kriditum-to play; prakritim-nature; upeyushi-attains; svikritavati-accepted; na-not; tu-indeed; svarupa-own form; tirodhanena-by disappearance; jiv-a jiva; vat-like; paratantryam-independence; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; vihartum-to enjoy pastimes; iti-thus; uktam-said; prapancayati-creates; yad-which; yatah-from which; bhava-pravahah-material world; shrishöi-parampara-creation; bhavati-is; iti-thus; esha-this.

The following explanation of this verse is found in Shridhara Svami's commentary:

"In this verse Bhishmadeva prays for attraction to Lord Krishna, which he considers the supreme goal of life, and aside from which there is nothing worth praising. Bhishma also describes the transcendental opulences of the Lord by using the words 'sva-sukham upagate' (full of all transcendental bliss). Bhishma says 'kvacid vihartum prakritim upeyushi' (The Lord sometimes descends to this material sphere to display His transcendental pastimes). The Lord appears in this world and again disappears from it according to His own desire. He is completely independent, and He is not forced to enter the material sphere, as the conditioned souls are. Indeed, Lord Krishna is actually the creator of the cosmic manifestation ('yad-bhava-pravahah')."

Text 3

evam eva tam pratyuktam devair apy ekadashe tvattah puman samadhigatya yayasya viryam, dhatte mahantam iva garbham amogha-viryah. iti.

evam-in this way; eva-certainly; tam-He; pratyuktam-answered; devaih-by the demigods; api-also; ekadashe-in the Eleventh Canto (Bhag. 11.6.16); tvattah-from You; puman-the purusha-avatara; samadhigatya-having attained; yaya-by the material potency; asya-of the universe; viryam-potency; dhatte-places; mahantam-the mahat-tattva; iva-like; garbham-the womb; amogha-infallible; viryah-power.

This is also confirmed in the following prayer spoken by the demigods and recorded in Shrimad-Bhagavatam (11.6.16):

"O Lord Krishna, You are the origin of the purusha-incarnation who is like the father who impregnates the womb of material nature."

Text 4

öika ca tvattah purushah viryam shaktim samadhigatya prapya yaya mayaya saha mahantam dhatte. kam iva asya vishvasya garbham iva ity esha. bhishmah shri-bhagavantam.

öika-Shridhara Svami's commentary; ca-also; tvattah-the word "from You"; purushah-the purusha-incarnation; viryam-the word viryam; shaktih-means "potency"; samadhigatya-"samadhigatya"; prapya-means "having attained"; yaya-"by which"; mayaya-means "by maya"; saha-with; mahantam dhatte-creates the material world; kam iva-to what may it be compared?; asya-of this; vishvasya-universe; garbham iva-like the womb; iti-thus; esa-the commentary; bhishmah-Bhishma; shri-bhagavantam-to the Supreme Personality of Godhead.

This verse is explained by Shridhara Svami in the following way:

"In this verse the word 'tvattah' means 'the purusha-avatara is manifested from You', and the word 'viryam' means 'potency'. 'Samadhigatya' means 'having attained' and 'yaya' means 'by the material creative potency maya'. In this way the Lord manifests the material creation ('mahantam dhatte'). To what may this material world be compared? It may be compared to 'asya garbham iva' (like a womb impregnated by the Supreme Lord)."

Anuccheda 38

ata eva bhava-bhayam apahantum ity adau tasyadi-purushatvam shreshöhatvam apy aha, purusham rishabham adyam krishna-samjnam nato 'smi iti. krishneti samjna tan-namatvenati-prasiddhir yasyeti murty-antaram nishidhyate. tan-murter namaskriyamanatvena ca nitya-siddhatvam darshyate. tatraiva öika-kridbhir api tam vande paramanandam nandanandana-rupinam ity uktam. shri-shukah.

atah eva-therefore; bhava-of material existence; bhayam-the fear; apahantum-to remove; iti-thus; adau-beginning; tasya-of Him; adi-purushatvam-the position of being the Original Personality of Godhead; shreshhatvam-the position of being the best; api-also; aha-describes; purusham-person; rishabham-best; adyam-original; krishna-samjnam-named Krishna; natah asmi-I offer my respectful obeisances to Him; iti-thus; krishna-Krishna; iti-thus; samja-name; tat-namatvena-by this name; ati-great; prasiddhih-fame; yasya-of whom; iti-thus; murti-forms; antaram-other; nishidhyate-are eclipsed; tat-murteh-of that form; namaskriyamanatvena-by offering obeisances; ca-also; nitya-siddhatvam-eternal perfection; darshyate-is revealed; tatra-there; eva-certainly; öika-kridbhih-by the author of the commentary; api-also; tam-to Him; vande-I offer my respectful obeisances; paramanandam-full of transcendental bliss; nanda-of Nanda Maharaja; nandana-the son; rupinam-with the form; iti-thus; uktam-described; shri-shukah-Shri Shukadeva Gosvami.

Shukadeva Gosvami clearly explains that Lord Krishna is the Supreme Original Personality of Godhead in the Shrimad-Bhagavatam (11.29.49), where he says:

"I offer my respectful obeisances to Lord Krishna, the Original form of the Personality of Godhead."

From this it may be observed that Krishna is the most important name of the Lord, and His two armed form as Krishna is His most important form. This eternal supreme status of Lord Krishna is revealed in this verse where Shukadeva Gosvami offers His respects to the Lord. This is also confirmed by Shridhara Svami, the foremost commentator on Shrimad-Bhagavatam in the following words:

"I offer my respectful obeisances unto the supremely blissful Original Personality of Godhead, who is known as the son of Maharaja Nanda."

Anuccheda 39

Text 1

tad evam jagrihe ity adi-prakarane yat svayam utprekshitam tac ca shri-svami-sammatyapi dridhi-kritam.

tat-therefore; evam-in this way; jagrihe iti adi prakarane-in the chapter beginning jagrihe" (Bhagavatam, Canto One, Chapter Three); yat-which; svayam-directly; utprekshitam-indicated; tat-that; ca-also; shri-svami-of Shridhara Svami; sammatya-by the opinion; api-also; dridhi-kritam-confirmed.

In this way Shridhara Svami has confirmed the statement of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (Canto One, Chapter Three) that Shri Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead.

Text 2

punar api tat-sammatir abhyasyate yatha

shrutvajitam jarasandham
nripater dhyayato harih

ahopayam tam evadya
uddhavo yam uvaca ha.

öika ca adyah harih shri-krishnah ity esha. shri-shukah.

punah-again; api-also; tat-that; sammatih-opinion; abhyasyate-is repeated; yatha-for example; shrutva-having heard; ajitam-undefeated; jarasandam-Jarasandha; nripateh-of King Yudhishöhira; dhyayatah-meditating; harih-Hari; aha-spoke; upayam-plan; tam-that; eva-certainly; adyah-the Original Personality of Godhead; uddhavah-Uddhava; yam-which; uvaca-spoke; ha-certainly; öika-Shridhara Svami's commentary; ca-also; adyah-the Original Personality of Godhead; harih-Hari; shri-krishnah-Shri Krishna; iti-thus; esha-the commentary; shri-shukah-spoken by Shukadeva Gosvami.

That Shri Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead is also confirmed in the following verse of Shrimad-Bhagavatam □ (10.72.15):

"When Shri Krishna, the Original Personality of Godhead, heard from King Yudhishöhira that the enemy Jarasandha was almost impossible to defeat, Lord Krishna proposed the following plan, which had already been suggested by Uddhava."

Shridhara Svami explains in his commentary that the word "adyah" (Original Personality of Godhead) clearly refers to Lord Krishna.

Anuccheda 40

Text 1

kim ca

athaham amsha-bhagena
devakyah putratam shubhe prapsyami iti.

kim ca-furthermore; atha-therefore; aham-I; amsha-bhagena-by My plenary expansion; devakyah-of Devaki; putratam-the son; shubhe-O all-auspicious Yogamaya; prapsyami-I shall become; iti-thus.

This is also confirmed by the following statement spoken by Lord Krishna to His internal potency Yogamaya (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.2.9):

"O all-auspicious Yogamaya, I shall then appear with My full six opulences as the son of Devaki."*

Text 2

ammsha-bhagena ity atra purnatocitam evartham bahudha yojayadbhir madhye amshena purusha-rupena mayaya bhago bhajanam ikshanam yasya teneti ca vyacakshanair ante sarvatha paripurna-rupeneti vivakshitam, krishnas tu bhagavan svayam ity uktatvat, ity evam hi tair vyakhyatam. shri-bhagavan yogamayam.

amsha-bhagena-by the phrase "amsha-bhagena"; iti-thus; atra-in this connection; purnata-fullness; ucitam-is described; eva-certainly; artham-the meaning; bahudha-in many ways; yojayadbhih-explaining the meaning of this verse; madhye-in the midst; amshena-by the word "amshena"; purusha-rupena-in the form of a person; mayaya-of material energy; bhagah-opulence; bhajanam-possession; ikshanam-appearance; yasya-of whom; tena-by this; iti-thus; ca-also; vyacakshanaih-by various explanations; ante-at the conclusion; sarvatha-in all respects; paripurna-perfect and complete; rupena-with a form; iti-thus; vivakshitam-intended to be described; krishnah tu bhagavan svayam iti uktatvat-because of the statement "Krishnas tu bhagavan svayam"; iti-thus; evam-in this way; hi-certainly; taih-by them; vyakhyatam-explained; shri-bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; yogamayam-to Yogamaya.

Shridhara Svami explains that in this verse the word "amsha-bhagena" means "accompanied by His expansions, the purusha-incarnations". This description confirms the statement of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (1.3.38): "Krishnas tu bhagavan svayam" (Shri Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead, the source of all incarnations of Godhead).

Anuccheda 41

Text 1

evam

yasyamshamsha-bhagena
vishvotpatti-layodayah
bhavanti kila vishvatmams
tam tvadyaham gatim gata

evam-in the same way; yasya-of whom; amsha-of a portion; amsha-of a portion; amsha-of a portion; bhagena-by a tiniy fragment; vishva-of the universe; utpatti-creation; laya-annihilation; udayah-mannifestation; bhavanti-comes into being; kila-certainly; vishva-atman-O all-pervading Supersoul; tam-to Him; tva-unto You; adya-O Original Personality of Godhead; aham-I; gatim gata-take shelter.

This is also confirmed in the following statement spoken by Devaki to Lord Krishna (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.85.31):

"O Lord Krishna, O all-pervading Supersoul, You are the Original Personality of Godhead. By a tiny fragment of a part of a part of a portion of Your potency the material universes are created and again annihilated. I surrender unto You and take shelter of You."*

Text 2

öika ca yasyamshah purushas tasyamsho maya tasya amsha gunas tesham bhagena paramanu-matra-leshena vishvotpatty-adayo bhavanti tam tva tvam gatim sharanam gatasmi ity esha. shri-devaki-devi shri-bhagavantam.

öika-the commentary; ca-also; yasya-of whom; amshah-the portion; purushah-purusha-avatara; tasya-of Him; amshah-the portion; maya-the maya potency; tasyah-of that; amshah-the parts; gunah-the three modes of nature; tesham-of them; bhagena-by a part; paramanu-matra-leshena-by an atomic fraction; vishva-utpatti-adayah bhavanti-the creation, maintenance and destruction of the universes is manifested; tam-to Him; tva-to You; tvam-to You; gatim-the word "gatim"; sharanam gata asmi-I shall take shelter; iti-thus; esha-the commentary; shri-devaki-devi-spoken by Devaki-devi; shri-bhagavantam-to the Supreme Personality of Godhead.

Shridhara Svami explains in his commentary:

"In this verse the first "amsha" (portion) referred to is the purusha-avatara. The portion of the purusha-avatara is the illusory potency maya, and the portion of maya is the three modes of material nature. By an atomic fragment of the modes of nature, the material universes are created, maintained and destroyed. In this way, by a portion of a portion of a portion of a portion of the Lord's potency the material world is created. In this verse the word `tva' means `unto You' and the phrase `gatim gatasmi' means `I take shelter'".

The proper interpretation of this verse is:

"I wanted to see both of You, and therefore I have brought the sons of the brahmana here. Both of You have appeared in the material world to re-establish religious principles, and you have appeared here with all your potencies and the incarnations who have expanded from You. Please kill all the demons, and cause them to quickly return to the spiritual world."*

Text 44

ity asya vyakhya yuvayoh yuvam didrikshuna maya dvija-putra me mama bhuvi dhamni upanita anita ity ekam vakyam.

iti-thus; asya-of the statement; vyakhya-the explanation; yuvayoh-the word "yuvayoh"; yuvam-means "of You two"; didrikshuna maya-by Me who was desiring to see; dvija-putrah-the Brahmana's sons; me-the word "me"; mama-means "My"; bhuvi-the word "bhuvi"; dhamni-means "abode"; upanitam-the word "upanitam"; anitam-means "taken away"; iti-thus; ekam-one; vakyam-statement.

An explanation of these words follows: In the Bhuma-purusha's first statement we may note the following definitions of words: "yuvayoh" means "of You two", "didrikshuna maya" means "by Me, who was desiring to see", "me" means "My", "bhuvi" means "abode", and "upanitam" means "taken away".

Text 45

vakyantaram aha he dharma-guptaye kalavatir nau kala amshas tad-yuktav avatir nau, madhya-pada-lopi-samasah. kim va kalayam amsha-lakshane mayika-prapance 'vatir nau va pado □
'sya vishva-bhutani iti shruteh. bhuyah punar api avashishöan avaneh asuran hatva me mama anti samipaya samipam agamayitum yuvam tvarayetam atra prasthapyat tan mocayatam ity arthah tad-dhatanam mukti-prasiddheh maha-kala-pura-jyotir eva muktah pravishanti.

vakya-statement; antaram-another; aha-said; he-O; dharma-guptaye-for the protector of religion; kalavatir nau-the word "kalavatir nau"; kala-the word "kala"; amshah-means part and parcels; tat-yuktau-

along with them; avatirnau-descended; madhya-pada-lopi-samasah-a compound where the middle word is understood; kim va-or; kalayam-the word "kala" understood in the locative case; amsha-lakshane-as the expansion; mayika-prapance-meaning "the material world"; avatirnau-descended; va-or; padah-step; asya-of Him; vishva-bhutani-the material world; iti-thus; shruteh-from the Shruti-shastra; bhuyah-the word "bhuyah"; punah api-means "again"; avashishöan-remaining; avanah-of the earth; asuran-demons; hatva-having killed; me-the word "me"; mama-means "My"; anti-the word "anti"; samipaya-means "to the vicinity"; samipam-to the vicinity; agamayitum-causing to arrive; yuvam-You two; tvarayetam-please hasten; atra-in this context; prasthapy-having established; tan-them; mocayatam-please liberate; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; tat-by the Lord; hatanam-of those who are killed; mukti-of liberation; prasiddheh-celebrated; maha-kala-pura-of the Bhumi-purusha; jyotih-brahmajyoti effulgence; eva-certainly; muktah-liberated; pravishanti-enter.

In the Bhuma-purusha's second statement, He addresses Krishna and Arjuna as "kalavatirnau". In this compound word, the word "kala" means "expansions", and the phrase "along with" is understood. In this way the word is a "madhya-pada-lopi-samasa", and it means "O Supreme Lord, who has descended along with all Your vishnu-tattva expansions". Because the material world is an expansion of the Supreme Lord's energy, the word "kala" may also be interpreted to mean "in the material world". In this interpretation the word "kalavatirnau" means "O Lord who has descended to this material world". That the material world is as expansion of Lord Krishna's energy is confirmed in the Purusha-sukta prayers: "pado 'sya vishva-bhutani" (The material world is one quarter part of the energy of the Supreme Personality of Godhead). The word "bhuyah" means "again".

The last part of the Bhuma-purusha's statement is: "Please kill the demons who still remain on the earth, and liberate them, bringing them quickly back to Me". This means that the demons who are personally killed by the Personality of Godhead become liberated and enter the Brahman effulgence emanating from the transcendental body of the Lord's Bhuma-purusha expansion.

Text 46

brahma-tejomayam divyam
mahad yad drishöavan asi
aham sa bharata-shreshöha
mat-tejas tat sanatanam

prakritih sa mama para
vyaktavyakta sanatani
tam pravishya bhavantiha
mukta yogavid-uttamah.
iti shri-hari-vamshe 'rjunam prati shri-bhagavad-uktash ca.

brahma-tejah-mayam-the Brahman effulgence; divyam-transcendental; mahat-great; yat-which; drishöavan asi-You have seen; aham-I am; sah-that; bharata-shreshöha-O best of the descendents of Bharata; mat-My; tejas-splendor; tat-that; sanatanam-eternal; prakritih-energy; sa-that; mama-My; para-superior; vyakta-manifested; avyakta-and unmanifested; sanatani-eternal; tam-that; pravishya-entering; bhavanti-become; iha-here; muktah-liberated; yogavid-uttamah-the best of yogis; iti-thus; shri-hari-vamshe-in the Hari-vamsha; arjunam prati-to Arjuna; shri-bhagavat-of the Lord; uktah-spoken; ca-and.

This effulgence emanating from the transcendental body of the Personality of Godhead is described to Arjuna by Lord Krishna in the Hari-vamsha (Vishnu-parva 114.9-10) in the following words:

"My dear Arjuna, O best of the descendants of Maharaja Bharata, this splendid Brahman effulgence that you have seen is the glowing light emanating from My transcendental form. I am not different from that splendid effulgence, which is My eternal spiritual potency. This potency of Mine is sometimes manifest and □ sometimes unmanifest. They who have perfected the practice of ashōanga-yoga may enter this divine effulgence and attain one of the five kinds of liberation."

Text 47

tvarayetam iti prarthanayam hetu nij-antasya lin-rupam anti ity avyayac caturthya luk, caturthi ca edhobhyo vrajatitvat kriyarthopapadasya ca karmani sthaninah iti smaranat. kaōam kritva prasthapayatitvad ubhayor ekanaiḥ karmananvayah prasiddha eva. tasmad esha evarthah spashōam akashōo bhavati arthantare tu sambhavaty eka-padatve pada-cchedah kashōaya kalpyate.

tvarayetam-please hasten; iti-thus; prarthanayam-as a request; hetu-purpose; nij-antasya-of the causative; lin-rupam-in the potential mood; anti-the word "anti"; iti-thus; avyayat-as an indeclineable; caturthya-with the dative; luk-case ending; caturthi-dative case; ca-and; edhobhyah-for increasing; vrajati-goes; iti-thus; vat-like; kriya-action; artha-for the purpose; upapadasya-of a prefix; ca-and; karmani-in action; sthaninah-in the place; iti-thus; smaranat-from the sutras of Panini; kaōam-glorification; kritva-having done; prasthapayati-establishes; itivat-in this way; ubhayoh-of the two of them; ekena-by one; eva-just as; karmana-by action; anvayah-series; prasiddhah-celebrated; eva-certainly; artha-antare-in an alternate meaning; bu-but; sambhavati-arises; eka-padatve-in the state of being one line of a verse; pada-cchedah-division of the word; kashōaya-for difficulty; kalpyate-is considered; tasmad-therefore; esha-this; eva-certainly; arthah-interpretation; spashōam-clearly; akashōah-without difficulty; bhavati-is.

In this verse the word "tvarayetam (please cause to quickly arrive)" is in the causative and the potential mood. The potential is used here to indicate a prayer or appeal. The word "anti" is an indeclineable prefix with a dative sense, and it is used here to mean "for the purpose of" in much the same way as the infinitive is used. It means here "for the purpose of killing the demons, and granting liberation to them (tvarayetam)."

The Bhuma-purusha glorified Krishna and Arjuna, saying "You appear with Your transcendental potencies and various incarnations and expansions (kalavatirṇau). This interpretation of the word "kalavatirṇau" may be accepted if the word is understood as a tritiya-tatpurusha-samasa. This interpretation is very logical and easy to accept. If one wants to interpret "kalavatirṇau" as two words in the nominative case, and interpret the two words to mean "Krishna and Arjuna are My expansions", this interpretation will be difficult for the learned reader to accept.

Text 48

tatha

purna-kamav api yuvam
nara-narayanav rishi
dharmam acaratam sthityai
rishabhau loka-sangraham

tatha-in the same way; purna-fulfilled; kamau-all desires; api-although; yuvam-the two of you; nara-narayanau rishi-Nara-Narayana Rishis; dharmam-principles of religion; acaratam-practiced; sthityai-for the well-being; rishabhau-the best of persons; loka-of living entities; sangraham-of the multitude.

Someone may quote the following verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.89.59):

purna-kamav api yuvam
nara-narayanav rishi
dharmam acaratham sthityai
rishabhau loka-sangraham

in an attempt to show that Krishna and Arjuna are actually expansions of Nara and Narayana Rishis. There is, however, no need to interpret in that way. The actual interpretation of this verse follows:

"My dear Krishna and Arjuna, You are both great transcendental personalities, and all Your wishes are always automatically fulfilled. You have both formerly appeared as Nara-and Narayana Rishis, the best of persons. Appearing as these two sages, you performed exemplary pious activities for the benefit of all living entities."

Text 49

ity asya na kevalam etad-rupenaiva yuvam loka-hitaya pravrittau, api tu vaibhavantarenapiti stauti purneti. svayam-bhagavattvena tat-sakhatvena ca rishabhau sarvavataravatari-shreshöhav api purna-kamav api sthityai loka-rakshanaya loka-sangraham lokeshu tat-tad-dharma-pracara-hetukam dharmam acaratham kurvatam madhye yuvam nara-narayanav rishi ity anayor alpamshatvena vibhutivan-nirdeshah. uktam caikadashe shri-bhagavata vibhuti-kathana eva narayano muninam ca iti. dharmika-maulitvad dvija-putrartham avashyam eshyatha ity ata eva maya tatha vyavasitam iti bhavah.

iti-thus; asya-of this; na-not; kevalam-only; etad-rupena-in this way; eva-certainly; yuvam-the two of you; loka-of the living entities; hitaya-for the benefit; pravrittau-engaged; api-although; tu-also; vaibhava-antarena-with transcendental opulences; api-also; iti-thus; stauti-offers prayers; purna-iti-beginning with the word "purna"; svayam-bhagavattvena-with the position of the Original Personality of Godhead; tat-of Him; sakhatvena-with the position of friend; ca-also; rishabhau-best; sarva-avatara-avatari-of the origins of all incarnations; shreshöhau-best; api-also; purna-kamau api sthityai-the phrase "purna-kamav api sthityai"; loka-rakshanaya-for the protection of all living entities; loka-of living entities and planets; sangraham-multitude; lokeshu-among the living entities; tat-tad-dharma-of the principles of religion; pracara-preaching; hetukam-for the purpose; dharmam acaratham-the phrase "dharmam acaratham"; kurvatam-performing; madhye-in the midst; yuvam-you two; nara-narayanau rishi-Nara-Narayana Rishis; iti-thus; anayoh-of the two; alpa-small; amshatvena-by an expansion; vibhutivat-full of transcendental opulences; nirdeshah-indication; uktam-spoken; ekadashe-in the Eleventh Canto of Shrimad-Bhagavatam; shri-bhagavata-by the Supreme Personality of Godhead; vibhuti-of opulences; kathane-in the description; eva-certainly; narayanah-Narayana; muninm-of the munis; ca-also; iti-thus; dharmika-of saintly persons; maulitvat-because of the status of being the crown; dvija-of the Brahmana; putra-of the sons; artham-for the benefit; avashyam-inevitably; eshyathah-you two will come; iti-thus; atah eva-therefore; maya-by Me; tatha-in that way; vyavasitam-considered; iti-thus; bhavah-the meaning.

In this verse the Bhuma-purusha glorifies Krishna and Arjuna, who are always engaged in furthering the well-being of all living entities. Using the word "rishabhau", the Bhuma-purusha addresses the Original Personality of Godhead (Krishna), the origin of all the incarnations of Godhead. With this word the Bhuma-purusha also addresses Shri Krishna's intimate friend Arjuna. The Bhuma-purusha explains that Shri Krishna and Arjuna formerly appeared among those engaged in spiritual activities as Their partial incarnations Nara and Narayana Rishi to benefit the entire world by preaching the principles of actual religious life. That Narayana Rishi is an expansion of the Original Godhead, Lord Krishna, is confirmed by Lord Krishna Himself in the Eleventh Canto of Shrimad-Bhagavatam, where Lord Krishna says: "narayano muninam ca (Among the sages I incarnate as Narayana Rishi)". Because Krishna and Arjuna had formerly appeared as Nara and Narayana Rishis for the benefit of all living entities, the Bhuma-purusha was convinced that They were the best of all saintly persons. For this reason the Bhuma-purusha stole the brahmana's sons, confident that Krishna and Arjuna would come to rescue them.

Text 50

tatha ca shri-hari-vamshe shri-krishna-vakyam

mad-darshanartham te bala
hritas tena mahatmana
viprartham eshyathe krishno
nagacchad anyatha tv iha iti

tatha-in the same way; ca-also; shri-hari-vamshe-in the Hari-vamsha; shri-krishna-of Shri Krishna; vakyam-the statement; mat-My; darshana-audience; artham-for the purpose of attaining; te-these; balah-boys; hritah-were taken; tena-by Him; maha-atmana-the great soul; vipra-of the Brahmana; artham-for the sake; eshyate-arrived; krishnah-Krishna; na-not; agacchat-arrived; anyatha-otherwise; tu-but; iha-here.

This is also described in the Hari-vamsha (Vishnu-parva 114.8), where Lord Krishna says:

"In order to get the opportunity to see Me, the Bhuma-purusha has stolen these sons of the brahmana. Although ordinarily I would not agree to come here, I have come for the sake of a brahmana."

Text 51

atracaratam ity arthe acaratam iti na prasiddham ity atash ca tatha na vyakhyatam. tasman maha-kalato 'pi shri-krishnasyadhikyam siddham. darshayishyate cedam mrityunjaya-tantra-prakaranena, tad etan mahimanurupam evoktam

ata-in this connection; acaratam-the word acaratam"; iti-thus; arthe-in the meaning; acaratam-the word "acaratam"; iti-thus; na-not; prasiddham-perfect; iti-thus; atah-from this; ca-also; tatha-in the same way; na-not; vyakhyatam-described; tasmad-therefore; maha-kalatah-than the Bhuma-purusha; api-even; shri-krishnasya-of Shri Krishna; adhikyam-superiority; siddham-established; darshayishyate-will be revealed; ca-also; idam-this; mrityunjaya-tantra-prakaranena-in a passage of the Mrityunjaya Tantra; tat-that; etat-this; mahima-glory; anurupam-in connection with this; eva-certainly; uktam-it is said.

In this context we may note that the word "acaratam" in the previously quoted statement of the Bhuma-purusha is a present active participate in the genetive plural ("of those who are engaged in activities"). By identifying Shri Krishna as the best of those engaged in spiritual activities, the Bhuma-purusha has declared that Krishna is superior to everyone, including the Bhuma-purusha Himself. This fact will be confirmed in a quote from the Mritunjaya Tantra to appear later in this book, and it is also confirmed in the following quote from Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.89.62):

Text 52

nishamya vaishnavam dhama
parthah parama-vismitah
yat kincit paurusham pumsam
mene krishnanubhavitam iti

nishamya-after seeing; vaishnavam-of Lord Vishnu; dhama-the abode; parthah-Arjuna; parama-vismitah-because greatly astonished; yat-which; kincit-something; paurusham-glory and opulence; pumsam-of the all the vishnu-tattva forms of the Personality of Godhead; mene-considered; krishna-by Shri Krishna; anubhavitam-established.

"When Arjuna saw the opulent abode of Lord Vishnu, he became struck with wonder. Arjuna was able to understand that all the opulences of the various incarnations of Godhead are manifest by the mercy of his own friend, Shri Krishna."*

Text 53

atra maha-kalanubhavitam iti tu noktam. evam eva sacokta-lakshano bhagavan shri-krishna eveti darshayitum akhyantaram aha ekada iti. shri-svami-likhitaitat-prakarana-curnikapi susangata bhavati.

atra-in this passage; maha-kala-by the Bhuma-purusha; anubhavitam-established; iti-thus; tu-but; na-not; uktam-said; evam-in this way; eva-certainly; sah-He; ca-and; ukta-described; lakshanah-qualities; bhagavan-the original Personality of Godhead; shri-krishnah-Shri Krishna; eva-certainly; iti-thus; darshayitum-to reveal; akhya-antaram-in this account; aha-speaks; ekada-the word "ekada"; iti-thus; shri-svami-by Shridhara Svami; likhita-written; etat-this; prakarana-chapter; curnika-explanation; susangata-nicely connected; bhavati-is.

We may note in this connection that this verse does not say "The opulences of the various incarnations of Godhead are manifest by the mercy of the Bhuma-purusha". In his commentary, Shridhara Svami nicely explains the purport of this chapter of Shrimad-Bhagavatam by saying:

"In order to establish that Shri Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead (bhagavan), Shukadeva Gosvami has spoken this account of the visit to the Bhuma-purusha."

Text 54

atha parakiyany api viruddhayamanani vakyani tad-anugatarthataya drishyante.

atha-now; parakiyani-in other Vedic literatures; api-also; viruddhayamanani-refuting; vakyani-statements; tat-to them; anugata-arthataya-with the proper explanation; drishyante-are seen.

Leaving the sphere of Shrimad-Bhagavatam, the critic of our paribhasha-sutra may push forward quotes from other Vedic literatures in an attempt to refute our statement that Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead. In the following section of this essay, we will present the proper explanations of all these verses.

Text 55

tatra shri-vishnu-purane

ujjaharatmanah keshau
sita-krishnau maha-mune iti

tatra-there; shri-vishnupurane-in the Vishnu Purana; ujjahara-taking up; atmanah-from Himself; keshau-two hairs; sita-white; krishnau-and black; maha-mune-O great sage; iti-thus.

For example, our critic may quote the following verse from Vishnu Purana (5.1.59):

ujjaharatmanah keshau
sita-krishnau maha-mune

Our critic may interpret this verse to mean:

"O great sage, Lord Vishnu then plucked a white and black hair from His own transcendental body, and these two hairs became His incarnations known as Balarama and Krishna."

Text 56

mahabharate

sa capi keshau harir uccakarta
shuklam ekam aparam capi krishnam
tau capi keshav avishatam yadunam
kule striyau rohinim devakim ca

tayor eko balabhadro babhuva
yo 'sau shvetas tasya devasya keshah
krishno dvitiyah keshavah sambabhuva
kesho yo 'sau varnatah krishna uktah iti

mahabharate-in the Mahabharata; sah-He; ca-also; api-even; keshau-two hairs; harih-Lord Hari; uccakarta-snatched; shuklam-white; ekam-one; aparam-the other; ca api-also; krishnam-black; tau-these two; ca api-also; keshau-hairs; avishatam-entered; yadunam-of the Yadu dynasty; kule-in the family; striyau-two pious ladies; rohinim-Rohini; devakim-Devaki; ca-and; tayoh-of the two; ekah-one; balabhadra-Balarama; babhuva-became; yah asau-who; shvetah-white; tasya-of Him; devasya-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; keshah-hair; krishnah-black; dvitiyah-second; keshavah-Keshava; sambabhuva-became; keshah-hair; yah asau-which; varnatah-because of color; krishnah-as Krishna; uktah-is known.

Our critic may also quote the following verses from the Mahabharata:

"Lord Vishnu snatched two hairs, one white and one black, from His head; These two hairs entered the wombs of Rohini and Devaki, members of the Yadu dynasty. Balarama was born from Rohini, and Krishna was born of Devaki. Thus Balarama appeared from the first hair, and Krishna appeared from the second hair."*

Text 57

atra tatparyam shri-svamibhir ittham vivritam-"bhumeh suretara-varutha ity adi padye. sita-krishna-kesha ity atra sita-krishna-keshatvam shobhaiva, na tu vayah-parinama-kritam, avikaritvat. yac ca ujjaharatmanah keshau ity adi. tat tu na keshamatra-avata-hiprayam, kintu bhu-bharavatarana-rupam karyam kiyad etat? mat-keshav eva tat kartum shaktav iti dyotananartham rama-krishnayor varna-sucanartham ca keshoddharanam iti gamyate. anyatha tatraiva purvapara-virodhapatteh. krishnas tu bhagavan svayam ity etad-virodhac ca.

atra-in this connection; tatparyam-explanation; shri-svamibhih-by Shridhara Svami; ittham-thus; vivritam-presented; bhumeh suretara-varutha-in the verse from Shrimad-Bhagavatam (2.7.26) which begins "bhumeh suretara-varutha"; iti-adi-padye-in the verse beginning; sita-krishna-kesha-the description of Krishna and Balarama as black and white hairs of Lord Vishnu; iti-thus; atra-in this connection; sita-white; krishna-and black; keshatvam-the state of being hairs; shobha-bodily splendor; eva-certainly; na-not; tu-but; vayah-of a certain age; parinama-kritam-produced by a transformation; avikaritvat-because the Supreme is without transformation; yat-which; ca-also; ujjahara atmanah keshau-the quote "ujjaharatmanah keshau" from the Vishnu Purana; iti-thus; adi-beginning; tat-that; tu-but; keshau-hair; matra-only; avatara-incarnation; abhiprayam-intention; kintu-but; bhu-of the world; bhara-the burden; avatarana-rupam-the relief; karyam-activity; kiyad etat-how is this?; mat-My; keshau-"kesa"; eva-certainly; tat-that; kartum-to do; shaktav-able; iti-thus; dyotana-splendor; artham-meaning; rama-krishnayoh-of Krishna and Balarama; varna-complexion; sucana-description; artham-meaning; ca-also; keshu-uddharanam-description of the emanation of the "kesha"; iti-thus; gamyate-is explained; anyatha-another interpretation; tatra-there; eva-certainly; purva-apara-with other passages in the Vedic literatures; virodha-apatteh-because of contradicting; krishnah tu bhagavan svayam-the quote "krishnas tu bhagavan svayam" (Bhag. 1.3.28); iti-thus; etad-virodhac-contradicting; ca-also.

In his commentary on the verse which begins "bhumeh suretara-varutha" (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 2.7.26), Shridhara Svami gives the proper explanation of these passages from the Vishnu Purana and Mahabharata:

"Sometimes in the Vedic literatures Krishna and Balarama are described as white and black 'keshas'. In this context the word 'kesha' does not mean 'hair', but it is used in the sense of 'splendor'. The phrase 'sita-krishna-keshau' means Balarama and Krishna who have beautiful white and black complexions. It does not mean that black and white hairs grew at a certain time on the head of the changless Supreme Person.

"The Vishnu Purana explains: 'ujjaharatmanah keshau'. This phrase means: 'The Personality of Godhead, in His splendid original forms as Balarama and Krishna, relieved the burden of the earth.' If one tries to interpret the word 'kesha' in these passages as hair, and contends that Balarama and Krishna are incarnations of two of Lord Vishnu's hairs, he will contradict the clear statements of many verses in the Vedic literatures, and he will especially contradict the authoritative statement of the verse 'krishnas tu bhagavan svayam' (Shri Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead) found in Shrimad-Bhagavatam (1.3.28)."

Text 58

idam apy atra tatparyam sambhavati nanu devah kim artham mam evavatarayitum bhavadbhir agrihyate, aniruddhakhyapurusaparakasha-visheshasya kshirodashvetadvipa-dhamno mama yau keshav iva sva-shirodharya-bhuta tav eva shri-vasudeva-sankarshanau svayam evavatarishyatah. tatash ca bhu-bhara-haranam

tabhyam ishat-karam eveti.

idam-this; api-also; atra-in this connection; tatparyam-explanation; sambhavati-arises; nanu-is it not so?; devah-O demigods; kim artham-why is it?; mam-Me; eva-certainly; avatarayitum-to incarnate; bhavadbhih-by you; agrhyate-is appealed; aniruddha-akhya-unknown as Aniruddha; purusha-prakasha-visheshasya-of the specific purusha-incarnations; kshira-uda-on the ocean of milk; shvetadvipa-dhamnah-residing in the abode of Shvetadvipa; mama-My; yau-two; keshau-two hairs; iva-like; sv-shirah-dharya-bhatau-growing on My head; tau-They; eva-certainly; shri-vasudeva-Vasudeva; sankarshanau-and Sankarshana; svayam-personally; eva-certainly; avatarishyatah-will incarnate; tatah-from this; ca-and; bhu-of the earth; bhara-burden; haranam-removing; tabhyam-by Them; ishat-karam-reduced; eva-certainly; iti-thus.

Even if one insists that the word "kesha" must mean "hair" and cannot mean anything else, it is not at all necessary that one interpret that Balarama and Krishna are incarnations of Vishnu. One may also interpret that Vasudeva and Sankarshana are incarnations of a black and white hair from the head of Lord Krishna. Understood in this way, we may conceive of the following conversation between Lord Krishna and the demigods, in order to properly understand these two quotes from the Vishnu Purana and Mahabharata. Lord Krishna may have said to the demigods:

"My dear demigods, why do you ask Me to personally appear in the material world? I do not need to personally come, but rather I shall send my expansions of Sankarshana and Vasudeva, who are like white and black hairs on My head. Sankarshana and Vasudeva will certainly fulfill your request by removing the burden of the world."

Text 59

atha ujjaharatmanah keshau ity asyaiva shabdartho 'pi muktaphala-öikayam keshau sukha-svaminau, sito rama atmanah sakashad ujjahara uddhritavan. hari-vamshe hi kasyancid giri-guhayam bhagavan sva-murtim nikshipya garudam ca tatravasthapyaya svayam atragata ity uktam. tad uktam, sa devan abhyanuujnaya ity adi.

atha-now; ujjaharatmanah keshau-the phrase ujjaharatmanah keshau" from the Vishnu Purana; iti-thus; asya-of that; eva-certainly; shabda-arthah-the definitions of each word; api-also; muktaphala-öikayam-in the "Muktaphala-öika" commentary by Bopadeva Bosvami; keshau-the word "keshau"; sukha-the blissful; svaminau-Personalities of Godhead; sitah-white; ramah-Balarama; atmanah-the word "ujjahara"; uddhritavan-manifested; hari-vamshe-in the Hari-vamsha; hi-certainly; kasyancit-in a certain; giri-guhayam-mountain cave; bhagavan-the Original Personality of Godhead; sva-murtim-own form; nikshipya-having manifested; garudam-Garuda; ca-also; tatra-there; avasthapyaya-causing to remain; svayam-personally; atra-here; agatam-arrived; iti-thus; uktam-described; tat-that; uktam-said; sa devan abhyanuujnaya iti adi-in the verse beginning "sa devan abhyanuujnaya".

The statement "ujjaharatmanah keshau" is explained by Bopadeva Gosvami in his commentary "muktaphala-öika:

"The word `keshau' consists of the two words `ka' and `ishau'. `Ka' means `blissful' and `ishau' means the two Personalities of Godhead. In the phrase `sita-krishna-keshau' the word `sita' is a name of Balarama. This phrase therefore means: `Balarama and Krishna who are the two blissful Personalities of Godhead'."

The interpretation that these words mean Balarama and Krishna are incarnations of two hairs of Lord Vishnu is not correct, for it is contradicted by the following explanation found in the Hari-vamsha:

"After thus instructing the demigods, the Supreme Personality of Godhead travelled on Garuda to a concealed mountain cave. In that cave the Lord assumed His Original form as Lord Krishna. Ordering Garuda to wait for Him in that cave, the Lord then descended to earth in His original form."

Text 60

yais tu yatha-shrutam evedam vyakhyatam, te tu na samyak paramrishöavantah, yatah sura-matrasyapi nirjaratva-prasiddhih. akala-kalite bhagavati jaranudayena kesha-shauklyanupapattih. na casya kesheshu naisargika-sita-krishnateti pramanam asti.

yaih-by whom; tu-but; yatha-as; shrutam-heard; eva-certainly; idam-this; vyakhyatam-explained; te-they; tu-but; na-not; samyak-completely; parama-amrishöavantah-pure; yatah-because; sura-matrasya-of only a demigod; api-even; nirjaratva-of freedom from old-age; prasiddhih-perfection; akala-kalite-beyond the bondage of time; bhagavati-in the Original Personality of Godhead; jara-of old-age; anudayena-because of the non-appearance; kesha-of hairs; shauklya-whiteness; anupapattih-non-appearance; na-not; ca-also; asya-of Him; kesheshu-among the hairs; naisargika-by nature; sita-whiteness; krishnata-and blackness; iti-thus; pramanam-transformation; asti-is.

What to speak of the Personality of Godhead, even the inferior demigods are free from the defects of old-age. Because the Personality of Godhead is always free from the symptoms of age, His hairs do not turn gray or white with age, as those of a conditioned human being. The Vedic literatures always describe the hairs of the Supreme Lord as black; there is no description of white hairs, hairs either naturally white, or turned white with age in the spiritual body of the Personality of Godhead. For this reason the story of white and black hairs from the head of Lord Vishnu is not very plausible. The learned will not accept it.

Text 61

ata eva nrisimha-purane krishnavatara-prasange shakti-shabda eva prayujyate, na tu kesha-shabdah. tatha hi

vasudevam ca devakyam
avatirya yadoh kule
sita-krishne ca tat-shakti
kamsadyan ghatayishyatah iti adina

atah eva-therefore; nrisimha-purane-in the Nrisimha Purana; krishna-avatara-prasange-in the connection with the account of Lord Krishna's incarnations; shakti-shabdah-the word "shakti"; eva-certainly; prayujyate-is employed; na-not; tu-but; kesha-shabdah-the word "kesha"; tatha hi-as it is said; vasudevam-from Vasudeva; ca-and; devakyam-in Devaki; avatirya-having descended; yadoh kule-in the family of the Yadu dynasty; sita-krishne-Balarama and Krishna; ca-and; tat-shakti-full of all transcendental potencies; kamsadyan-Kamsa and many other demons; ghatayishyatah-will kill; iti adina-in the passage beginning with these words.

In the descriptions of Krishna and Balarama's descent to this material world, we generally do not find any mention of the word "kesha" to describe them. In the following quote from the Nrisimha Purana, They are described as "sita-krishna" (white and black), without any use of the word "kesha" which our critics are so eager to interpret as "hair":

"Lord Krishna and Balarama, the original black and white forms of the Supreme Personality of Godhead, who is full of all transcendental potencies, appeared in the Yadu dynasty as the two sons of Vasudeva and Devaki. In the future these two transcendental personalities will kill King Kamsa and many other demons."

Text 62

astu tarhi amshopalakshanah 'kesha'-shabdah; no, avilupta-sarva-shaktitvena sakshad adi-purushatvasyaiva nishcetum shakyatvat krishna-vishnu-adi-shabdanam avisheshatah paryayatva-pratitesh ca. naivam avatarantarasya kasya vanyasya janma-dinam jayanty-akhyayati-prasiddham.

astu-there may be; tarhi-then; amsha-as an expansion; upalakshanah-description; kesha-shabdah-the word "kesha"; na-not; u-certainly; avilupta-sarva-shaktitvena-because of being full of all transcendental potencies; sakshat-directly; adi-purushatvasya-the Original Personality of Godhead, the source of all incarnations; eva-certainly; nishcetum-to establish; shakyatvat-because of the possibility; krishna-Krishna; vishnu-Vishnu; shabdanam-of the words; avisheshatah-without distinction; paryayatva-definition; pratiteh-because of faith; ca-also; na-not; evam-in this way; avatara-antarasya-of the other incarnations; kasya-of which; va-or; anyasya-of another; janma-of birth; dinam-day; jayanti-"jayanti"; akhyaya-by the name; ati-prasiddham-very celebrated.

Someone may object: Very well then, we shall accept that the word "kesha" means "expansion," and the keshavatara simply is an explanation of how Krishna is an expansion of Lord Vishnu.

To this I reply: No. This should not be concluded. Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead (adi-purusha), full of all transcendental potencies.

Another objection may be raised: Krishna, Vishnu, and other words are used to indicate the Personality of Godhead and no distinction is made between them in the Vedic literatures. Why are you so eager to say that Krishna is the original form and Vishnu is the expansion. All the forms of the Lord should be considered equal, without any distinction.

To this I reply: Actually Krishna is specifically described as the Original Personality of Godhead, and the day when He appeared in this world is especially famous, more famous than the appearance-day of any other form of the Lord.

Text 63

ata evoktam mahabharate

bhagavan vasudevash ca
kirtyate 'tra sanatanah
shasvatam brahma paramam
yogi-dhyeyam niranjanam.

atah eva-therefore; uktam-explained; mahabharate-in the Mahabharata; bhagavan-the Original Personality of Godhead; vasudevah-Krishna, the son of Vasudeva; ca-and; kirtyate-is glorified; atra-in this connection; sanatanah-eternal; shasvatam-eternal; brahma-Brahman; paramam-supreme; yogi-of the yogis; dhyeyam-the object of meditation; niranjanam-free from all material contamination.

This is confirmed in the following verse from the Mahabharata:

"Krishna, the son of Vasudeva, is the eternal Original Personality of Godhead (Bhagavan). He is the supreme Brahman, free from all material contamination, and He is the object of the yogis' meditation. He is glorified in the pages of this book."

Text 64

tasyakala-kalitatvam

yo 'yam kalas tasya te 'vyakta-bandho
ceshöam ahuh

ity adau devaki-devi-vakye.

tasya-of Him; akala-kalitatvam-the state of being beyond the influence of time; yah ayam kalah tasya te 'vyakta-bandho ceshöam ahuh iti dau-the verse from Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.3.26 ("yo 'yam kalas tasya te 'vyakta-bandho ceshöam ahush ceshöate yena vishvam nimeshadir vatsaranto mahiyams tam tveshanam kshema-dhama prapadye"); devaki-devi-by Devaki; vakye-in the statement.

That Krishna is beyond the influence of time is confirmed in the following verse spoken by Devaki-devi (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.3.26):

"O Krishna, O inaugurator of the material energy, this wonderful creation works under the control of powerful time, which is divided into seconds, minutes, hours and years. This element of time, which extends for many millions of years, is but another form of Lord Vishnu. For Your pastimes, You act as the controller of time, but You are the reservoir of all good fortune. Let me offer my full surrender unto Your Lordship."*

Text 65

natah sma te natha sadanghri-pankajam
virinca-vairincyas surendra-vanditam parayanam kshemam ihecchatam param
na yatra kalahprabhavet parah prabhuh

ity adau shri-dvaraka-vasi-vakye ca prasiddham

natah-bowed down; sma-we had done so; te-unto You; natha-O Lord; sada-always; anghri-pankajam-the lotus feet; virinca-Brahma, the first living being; vairincyas-sons of Brahma like Sanaka and Sanatana; sura-indra-the King of heaven; vanditam-worshiped by; parayanam-the supreme; kshemam-welfare; iha-in this life; icchatam-one who so desires; param-the highest; na-never; yatra-wherein; kalah-inevitable time; prabhavet-can exert its influence; parah-transcendental; prabhuh-the Supreme Lord; iti-thus; adau-in the passage beginning; shri dvaraka-of Dvaraka; vasi-of the residents; vakye-in the statement; ca-also; prasiddham-celebrated.

That Krishna is beyond the influence of time is confirmed in the following statement by the residents of Dvaraka-puri (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.11.6)

"O Lord, You are worshiped by all demigods like Brahma, the four Sanas and even the King of heaven. You are the ultimate rest for those who are really aspiring to achieve the highest benefit of life. You are the supreme transcendental Lord, and inevitable time cannot exert its influence upon You."*

Text 66

ato yat prabhasa-khande keshasya balatvam eva ca tat sitimnah kala-krita-palita-lakshanatvam eva ca darshitam, tasya sharirinam shushka-vairagya-pratipadana-prakarana-patitavtena sura-matra-nirjarata-prasiddhatvena camukhyarthatvan na svarthe pramanyam.

atah-therefore; yat-because; prabhasa-khande-in the Prabhasa-khanda; keshasya-of hair; balatvam-youthfulness; eva-certainly; ca-also; tat-that; sitimnah-whiteness; kala-by time; krita-produced; palita-white hair of old-age; lakshanatvam-characteristic; eva-certainly; ca-and; darshitam-is revealed; tasya-of Him; sharirinam-of the embodied living entities; shushka-dry; vairagya-renunciation; pratipadana-prakarana-explanation; patitavtena-by the fallen status; sura-of the demigods; matra-even; nirjarata-the state of freedom from old-age; prasiddhatvena-by the fame; ca-also; amukhya-arthatvat-because of accepting the secondary meaning; na-not; sva-arthe-in the connection; pramanyam-evidence.

The false notion that Krishna and Balarama are incarnations of a black and white hair of Lord Vishnu is dispelled in the Prabhasa-khanda, which explains that whiteness of hair is produced in old age, and because even the subordinate demigods, what to speak of Lord Vishnu, the controller of the demigods, remain always free from old-age, their hair never turns white with age. It is not possible that Lord Vishnu have white hairs, because He is beyond the influence of time, and therefore this conception of Lord Vishnu's white hair pushed forward by the dry renunciants is not acceptable.

Text 67

brahma yena iti arabhya

vishnur yena dashavatara-gahane kshipto maha-sankaöe
rudro yena kapala-panir abhito bhikshaöanam karitah ity adau.

tasmai namah karmene iti garuda-vacanat. kim ca tat-pratipadanaya matsyady-avatanam matsyadi-shabda-samyena chaloktir eveyam.

brahma yena iti arabhya-in the passage beginning "brahma yena"; vishnuh-Vishnu; yena-because of which; dasha-ten; avatara-of incarnations; gahane-in the dark abyss; kshiptah-thrown; maha-great; sankaoe-difficulty; rudrah-Shiva; yena-by which; kapala-carrying a skull; panih-in His hand; abhitah bhiksha-aöanam karitah-begging alms; iti-thus; adau-in the passage beginning; tasmai-to that; namah-I offer my respectful obeisances; karmene-unto karma; iti-thus; garuda-of the Garuda Purana; vacanat-from the statement; kim ca-furthermore; tat-that; pratipadanaya-to establish; matsya-Lord Matsya; adi-beginning with; avatanam-of the incarnations of Godhead; matsya-adi-shabda-of the words "matsya-adi"; samyena-the same; chala-false; uktih-statement; eva-certainly; iyam-this.

Similar other faulty statements may also be found in some portions of the scriptures. For example, the Garuda Purana explains:

"I offer my respectful obeisances unto the law of karma, because of which Shiva carries a skull in his hand and wanders about as a beggar, and because of which Vishnu was hurled into the painful abyss of having to assume ten incarnations within the material world."

The author's intention in this passage was to emphasize the uncheckable power of karma, although in order to do this he had spoken some things that are not actually true. The description of Krishna and Balarama as Lord Vishnu's hairs is a similar untrue story.

Text 68

yatha

aho kanaka-dauratmyam
nirvaktum kena shakyate
nama-samyad asau yasya
dhusturo 'pi mada-pradah.

yatha-just as; aho-Oh; kanaka-of gold; dauratmyam-the wickedness; nirvaktum-to be described; kena-by whom; shakyate-is possible; nama-by name; samyat-because of equality; asau-this; yasya-of which; dhusturah-dhustura poison; api-even; mada-pradah-intoxicating.

The following metaphorical statement in the scriptures may also be quoted to illustrate how an author may speak something untrue in order to emphasize a point:

"Alas, who is able to describe the evils of gold? Gold is certainly as intoxicating as the poisonous drink dhutura."

Text 69

iti shiva-shastriyatvac ca natra vaishnava-siddhanta-viruddhasya tasyopayogah. yata uktam skanda eva shanmukham prati shri-shivena

shiva-shastre 'pi tad grahyam
bhagavac-chastra-yogi yat iti

anya-tatparyakatvena svatas tatrappamanyad yuktam caitat yatha pankena pankambhah itivat.

iti-thus; shiva-shastriyatvat-the status of being confirmed in the Shaivite scriptures; ca-and; na-not; atra-here; vaishnava-in relation to Lord Vishnu; siddhanta-the conclusion; viruddhasya-opposing; tasya-of that; upayogah-suitability; yatah-because; uktam-spoken; skande-in the Skanda Purana; eva-certainly; shanmukham-to Karttikeya; prati-to; shri-shivena-by Lord Shiva; shiva-shastre-in the Shaivite scriptures; api-although; tat-that; grahyam-acceptable; bhagavat-shastra-in the Vaishnava scriptures; yogi-found; yat-which; iti-thus; anya-another; tatparyakatvena-by interpretation; svatah-in their own scripture; tatra-there; apramanyat-because of not being established; yuktam-suitable; ca-and; etat-this; yatha-just as; pankena-by mud; panka-ambhah-muddy water; iti-thus; vat-just as.

Statements in the Shaivite Puranas should not be accepted unless they are corroborated by the Vaishnava Puranas. This is confirmed in the Shaivite Puranas (Skanda Purana) where Lord Shiva says to Karttikeya:

"Statements in the Shaivite Puranas should be accepted only if they are confirmed in the Vaishnava Puranas."

The followers of Lord Shiva may try to present a different conclusion, but they are simply contradicting the words of their own master, recorded in their own scripture. From this statement of Lord Shiva we may understand that the Shaivite Puranas are not a very reliable source of spiritual information. They are not actually able to purify the conditioned souls, and their position is described in the following statement of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (1.8.52):

"It is not possible to filter muddy water through mud or purify a wine-stained pot with wine."

One should not therefore rely on the impure statements of the Shaivite Puranas.

Text 70

padmottara-khande ca shiva-pratipadakanam purananam api tamasatvam eva darshitam. matsye 'pi tamasa-kalpa-kathamayatvam iti.

padma-uttara-khande-in the Uttara Khanda of the Padma Purana; ca-also; shiva-pratipadakanam-of the followers of Lord Shiva; purananam-of the Puranas; api-also; tamasatvam-ignorance; eva-certainly; darshitam-is delineated; matsye-in the Matsya Purana; api-also; tamasa-ignorance; kalpa-conception; katha-descriptions; mayatvam-consisting of; iti-thus.

The inferiority of the Shaivite Puranas is confirmed in the Uttara Khanda of the Padma Purana, which explains that the Shaivite Puranas are intended for those in the mode of ignorance. The Matsya Purana also confirms that the Shaivite Puranas are full of faulty and ignorant conclusions.

Text 71

yuktam ca tasya vridhdha-sutasya shri-bhagavatam apaöhita-vatah shri-baladevavajnatuh shri-bhagavat-tattvasamyag-janajam vacanam

evam vadanti rajarshe
rishayah kecananvitah. itivat.

etadrisha-shri-bhagavata-vakyena sva-viruddha-puranantara-vacana-badhanam ca.

yuktam-suitable; ca-also; tasya-of him; vridhdha-sutasya-of Romaharshana Suta, the father of Suta Gosvami; shri-bhagavatam-the message of Shrimad-Bhagavatam; apaöhita-vatah-without having properly studied; shri-baladeva-Shri Baladeva; avajnatuh-offending; shri-bhagavat-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; tattva-the truth; asamyak-incomplete; jnana-from knowledge; jam-produced; vacanam-speech; evam-in this way; vadanti-speak; raja-rishe-O saintly king; rishayah-sages; kecana-some; anvitah-endowed; itivat-in this way; etadrisha-like these; bhagavata-of Shrimad-Bhagavatam; vakyena-by the statement; sva-self; viruddha-contradicting; purana-Puranas; antara-within; vacana-of statements; badhanam-refutation; ca-also.

Without understanding the Shrimad-Bhagavatam, one cannot properly understand the philosophy of spiritual life. An example of this is Romaharshana Suta. Because of not studying the Bhagavatam, Romaharshana had not properly understood the exalted position of Lord Balarama. Because of an offense to Lord Balarama, Romaharshana was killed by the Lord. From this we may understand the importance of Shrimad-Bhagavatam. Without reference to the Bhagavatam, one cannot conclusively understand the nature of the Absolute Truth.

That certain sages may sometimes present false conclusions, which may sometimes even become recorded in the Puranas, is confirmed in the following statement of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.77.30):

"O King, some sages have said that Lord Krishna became bewildered by the mystic jugglery of Shalva. Such conclusions should not be accepted, for they contradict the conclusion of all Vedic literatures, Lord Krishna never becomes bewildered."

From this we may understand supreme authority of Shrimad-Bhagavatam. Any scriptural explanation that contradicts the version of the Bhagavatam should be rejected.

Text 72

yatheha karma-jito lokah kshiyate ity-adi-vakyena.

apama somam amrita abhuma ity-adi-vacana-badhanavaj jeyam.

atrapi yat svavaco virudhyeta nunam te na smaranty uta iti yukti-sad-bhavo drishyate.

yatha-just as; iha-here in the earthly planetary system; karma-jitah-performing the karma-kanda regulations; lokah-persons; kshiyate-become destroyed; iti-adi-beginning with these words; vakyena-by the statement; apama-drinking; somam-soma; amritah-immortal; abhuma-we become; iti-adi-beginning with these words; vacana-statement; badhanavat-contradicting; jneyam-should be understood; atra-here; api-also; yat-what; sva-own; vacah-statement; virudhyate-is contradicted; nunam-certainly; te-they; na-do not; smaranti-remember; uta-indeed; iti-thus; yukti-of logic; sat-bhavah-good condition; drishyate-is seen.

We may sometimes notice contradictions in the instructions of the Shruti. The two quotes which follow may serve as an example of such a contradiction within the texts of the Shruti.

"By performing the karma-kanda rituals of the Vedas one becomes ruined."
-Chandogya Upanishad 8.1.6

"By performing the karma-kanda rituals of the Vedas we have become demigods eligible to drink soma-rasa."
-Rig-mantra 8.48.3

If a speaker contradicts himself, then his words are not very much appreciated by the speaker of Shrimad-Bhagavatam:

"They who are learned are not inclined to accept the statements of one who contradicts himself."
-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.77.30

Text 73

tatraivatmanah sandigdhatvam eva tena sutena vyanjitam

acintyah khalu ye bhava
na tams tarkena yojayet ity adina

tatra-there; eva-certainly; atmanah-of the Supreme; sandigdhatvam-doubt; eva-certainly; tena-by him; sutena-by Suta Gosvami; vyajitam-expressed; acintyah-inconceivable; khalu-indeed; ye-which; bhavah-truths of spiritual reality; na-not; tan-them; tarkena-by logic; yojayet-may properly know; iti-adina-by the statement beginning with these words.

Suta Gosvami speaks the following verse to reconcile this apparent contradiction in the statements of the scriptures (Mahabharata, Udyoga-parva):

"The truths of spiritual life are inconceivable to the crippled materialistic brain. Simply by logic and philosophy one cannot expect to properly understand them."

Text 74

kim ca, tatraivottara-granthe candrasya kalankapatti-karana-kathane shri-krishnavatara-prasange svayam vishnur evety uktatvat svenaiva virodhash ca.

kim ca-furthermore; tatra-there; uttara-granthe-in the Prabhasa Khanda of the Skanda Purana; candrasya-of the moon-god; kalanka-of the spots; apatti-misfortune; karana-cause; kathane-in the description; shri-krishna-of Shri Krishna; avatara-appearance; prasange-in that connection; svayam-personally; vishnuh-Lord Vishnu; eva-certainly; iti-thus; uktatvat-from the statement; svena-by using the word "sva"; virodhah-contradiction; ca-also.

Also, in the story of Candra-kalankapatti-karana in the Prabhasa-khanda of the Skanda Purana, in the description of Lord Krishna's appearance, Krishna is described as Lord Vishnu Himself. By using the words "svayam vishnuh (Vishnu Himself)", the concocted idea that Krishna is an incarnation of Lord Vishnu's hair is refuted by Vyasadeva.

Text 75

tasman na keshavataratve 'pi tatparyam, kesha-shabdasya balatva-vacanam ca.

tasmat-for this reason; na-not; kesha-of a hair; avataratve-as an incarnation; api-and; tatparyam-the proper understanding; kesha-shabdasya-of the word "kesha"; balatva-of foolish and childish persons;{.fn □ 2} vacanam-the statement; ca-also.

The idea that Krishna is an incarnation of Lord Vishnu's hair should not be accepted, for it is thus refuted by Vyasa. Only foolish persons with a childlike mentality will insist that the word "kesha" in the phrase "keshavatara" from the Vishnu Purana should be interpreted to mean "a hair".

Text 76

chalato bhagavat-tattvajnanato veti sthitam.

chalatah-as a trick; bhagavat-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; tattva-the truth; ajanatah-from ignorance; va-or; iti-thus; sthitam-situated.

Because it is contradicted by so many descriptions in the Vedic literatures, the statement that Lord Krishna is an incarnation of Lord Vishnu's hair must be either a trick to bewilder the atheists, an outlandish playful metaphor, or a falsity spoken in ignorance of the actual nature of the Supreme Personality of Godhead.

Text 77

ato vaishnavadi-padyanam shabdottham artham eva pashyamah

amshavo ye prakashante
mama te kesha-samjnitah
sarvajnah keshavam tasman
namahur muni-sattama

iti sahasra-nama-bhashyotthapita-bharata-vacanat kesha-shabdenamshur ucyate.

atah-therefore; vaishnava-of the Vishnu Purana; adi-and other Vedic literatures; padyanam-of the verses; shabda-the word; uttham-appearing; eva-certainly; pashyamah-we see; amshavah-rays of light; ye-which; prakashante-are manifest; mama-My; te-they; kesha-samjnitah-known as "kesha"; sarvajnah-omniscient; keshavam-Keshava; tasmatah-therefore; nama-the name; ahuh-speak; muni-sattama-O best of the sages; iti-thus; sahasra-nama-of the Vishnu-sahasra-nama-stotra; bhashya-in the explanation; utthapita-spoken; bharata-of the Mahabharata; vacanat-from the statement; kesha-shabdena-by the word "kesha"; amshuh-ray of light; ucyate-is spoken.

The actual meaning of the word "kesha" when used in a name of the Supreme Personality of Godhead is explained by the Lord in the Mahabharata in the description of the thousand names of Lord Vishnu. There the Lord Himself says:

"The effulgence of My transcendental body is known by the word `kesha'. O best of the sages, because I am the source of the Brahman effulgence, the learned devotees, who know everything, call Me by the name `Keshava'."

Text 78

tatra ca sarvatra keshetara-shabda-prayogan nana-varnamshunam shri-narada-drishyataya moksha-dharma-prasiddhesh ca. tatha camshutve labdhe tau camsu vasudeva-sankarshanavatara-sucakataya nirdishyav iti taylor eva syatam iti gamyate. tadiyahor api taylor aniruddhe 'bhivyaktish ca yujyata eva.

tatra-in this place; ca-and; sarvatra-throughout the Vedic literatures; kesha-itara-shabda-prayogat-because of the use of other words; nana-various; varna-colors; amshunam-of effulgences; shri-narada-of Narada Muni; drishöataya-by the observation; moksha-dharma-in the scripture known as Moksha-dharma; prasiddheh-from the conclusion; ca-also; tatha-in the same way; ca-and; amshutve-in the effulgence; labdhe-attained; tau-two; ca-also; amshu-splendors; vasudeva-Vasudeva; sankarshana-Sankarshana; avatara-incarnations; sucakataya-by indicating; nirdishöau-indicated; iti-thus; tayoh-of Them; eva-certainly; syatam-may be; iti-thus; gamyate-is approached; tadiyayoh-of Their expansions; api-also; tayoh-of Them; aniruddhe-in Lord Aniruddha; abhivyaktih-manifestation; yujyate-is suitable; eva-certainly.

We may also note in this connection that although the word "kesha" is used in the Vishnu Purana, it is not used in the many other descriptions of Lord Krishna's appearance found in the Vedic literatures. That the word "kesha" should mean "effulgence" is supported by Narada Muni's explanation in the Moksha-dharma that the Lord appears in a variety of forms and colors. The explanation of the Vishnu Purana that the Lord appears as "shukla-krishna-keshau" or "white and black keshas" may be understood to mean that the Lord appears in white and black forms. This may be understood to refer to Lord Vasudeva and Lord Sankarshana, or it may also refer to Lord Aniruddha.

Text 79

avatari-tejo-'ntarbhutatvad avatarasya. evam eva sattvam rajas tamah ity adi prathama-skandha-padya-praptam aniruddhakhyā-purushavataratvam

avatari-of the Original Source of all Incarnations; tejah-the effulgence; antarbhutvat-because of being situated within; avatarasya-of the incarnation; evam-in this way; eva-certainly; sattvam rajas tamah iti adi-in the verse beginning "sattvam rajas tamah"; prathama-skandha-of the First Canto of Shrimad-Bhagavatam; padya-praptam-in the verse; aniruddha-akhyā-known as Aniruddha; purusha-avataratvam-as a purusha-incarnation.

Vishnu-tattva expansions of the Personality of Godhead are manifested from the bodily rays of the Lord. (The complexion of Lord Krishna is blackish, and therefore the direct expansion of Lord Krishna, which is manifested from His bodily rays, is also blackish: Lord Vasudeva. Because Lord Sankarshana is manifested from Lord Balarama, His complexion is also the same as Lord Balarama's: white.)

The Purusha-avatara Lord Aniruddha is described in the Shrimad-Bhagavatam (1.2.23):

"The transcendental Personality of Godhead is indirectly associated with the three modes of material nature, namely passion, goodness, and ignorance, and just for the material world's creation, maintenance, and destruction, He accepts the three qualitative forms of Brahma, Vishnu, and Shiva. Of these three, all human beings can derive ultimate benefit from Vishnu, the form of the quality of goodness."

Text 80

bhavani-nathaih ity adi pancama-skandha-gadya-praptam sankarshanavataratvam ca bhavasya sangacchate.

bhavani-nathaih iti adi-in the verse beginning "bhavani-nathaih" "bhavani-nathaih stri-ganarbuda-sahasrair avarudhyamano bhagavatash catur-murter maha-purushasya turiyam tamasim murtim prakritim atmanah sankarshana-samjnam atma-samadhi-rupena sannidhapyaitad abhigrinan bhava upadhavati"; pacamaskandha-of the Fifth Canto of Shrimad-Bhagavatam; gadya-praptam-in the prose passage; sankarshana-of Lord Sankarshana; avataratvam-the status of an incarnation; ca-and; bhavasya-of Shiva; sangacchate-is manifested.

That Lord Shiva is an expansion of Lord Sankarshana is confirmed in the following prose statement of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (5.17.16):

"In Ilavrita-varsha, Lord Shiva is always encircled by ten billion maidservants of goddess Durga, who minister to him. The quadruple expansion of the Supreme Lord is composed of Vasudeva, Pradyumna, Aniruddha and Sankarshana. Sankarshana, the fourth expansion, is certainly transcendental, but because His activities of destruction in the material world are in the mode of ignorance, He is known as tamasi, the Lord's form in the mode of ignorance. Lord Shiva knows that Sankarshana is the original cause of his own existence, and thus he always meditates upon Him in trance by chanting the following mantra."

Text 81

tatash ca ujjahara ity asyayam arthah. atmanah sakashat shri-vasudeva-sankarshanamsha-bhutau keshau amshu ujjahara uddhritavan prakaöi-kritya darshitavan ity arthah.

tatah-therefore; ca-also; ujjahara iti-of the word "ujjahara"; asya-of it; ayam-this; arthah-the meaning; atmanah-the word "atmanah"; sakashat-understood in the sense of "from Himself"; shri-vasudeva-Vasudeva; sankarshana-and Sankarshana; amsha-bhutau-plenary expansions; keshau-by the word "keshau"; amshu-two splendid appearances; ujjahara-the word "ujjahara"; uddhritavan prakaöi-kritya darshitavan-manifested; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning.

Therefore the statement of the Vishnu Purana (ujjharatmanah keshau sita-krishnau maha-mune) should be understood in the following way: The word "atmanah" means "from Himself", the word "keshau" means the two incarnations Vasudeva and Sankarshana, who have black and white complexions, and the word "ujjahara" means "manifested." The entire statement means "The Lord then appeared as Vasudeva and Sankarshana, who have black and white complexions."

Text 82

atrayam sumerur ity eka-desha-darshanenaivakhanda-sumeru-nirdeshavat tad-darshanenapi purnasyaivavirbhava-nirdesho jeyah.

atra-here; ayam-this; sumeruh-Mount Sumeru; iti-thus; eka-desha-one side; darshanena-by seeing; eva-certainly; akhanda-the entire; sumeru-Mount Sumeru; nirdeshavat-like the revelation; tat-of that; darshanena-by the sight; api-also; purnasya-of the whole; eva-certainly; avirbhava-appearance; nirdeshah-indication; jeyah-should be known.

Just as by seeing one face of the Mountain Sumeru, one can understand the nature of the entire mountain, in the same way, by properly understanding this verse from Vishnu Purana, one will be able to know the actual nature of Lord Krishna's appearance in the material world.

Text 83

atha sa capi keshau ity adika-vyakhya.

udvavarhe yoga-balenatmanah sakashad vicchidya darshayam asa. sa capi iti ca-shabdah purvam uktam deva-karikam nivedana-rupam artham samuccinoti.

atha-now; sa capi keshau iti adika-on the verse beginning "sa capi keshau"; vyakhya-commentary; udvavarhe-the word "udvavarhe"; yoga-balena-by mystic potency; sakashat-near; atmanah-from Himself; sakashat-near; vicchidya-separating; darshayam asa-revealed; sah ca api iti-the words "sa capi"; ca-shabdah-the word "ca"; purvam-formerly; uktam-spoken; deva-by the demigods; karikam-done; nivedana-of an appeal; rupam-in the form; artham-meaning; samuccinoti-refers.

An explanation of the verses from Mahabharata quoted in Text 56 follows:

In these verses the word "udvavarhe" means that the Lord appears by His own mystic potency. The word "ca" (also) refers the reader to the demigods' prayers recorded in the previous □ verses.

Text 84

api-shabdas tad-udvarhane shri-bhagavat-sankarshanayor api hetu-kartritvam sucayati.

api-shabdah-the word "api"; tat-udvarhane-in connection with the word "udvavarhe"; shri-bhagavat-of Lord Vasudeva; sankarshanayoh-and Lord Sankarshana; api-also; hetu-kartritvam-the condition of being the cause; sucayati-indicates.

The word "api" (even) in connection with the word "udvavarhe" (manifested) ("Even if Krishna and Balarama had appeared from Lord Vishnu") indicate that in reality Vasudeva and Sankarshana are emanations of Krishna and Balarama.

Text 85

tau capi iti ca-shabdo 'nukta-samuccayarthatvena bhagavat-sankarshanau svayam avivishatuh. pashcat tau ca tat tadatmyenavivishatur iti bodhayati. api-shabdo yatranusyutav amu, so 'pi tad-amsha apiti gamayati. tayor eko balabhadro babhuva ity adikam tu nara-narayano bhavet. harir eva bhaven narah ity adivat tad-aikyavapty-apekshaya.

tau capi iti-the words tau capi"; ca-shabdah-the word "ca"; anukta-unspoken; samuccaya-arthatvena-with additional meanings; bhagavat-Vasudeva; sankarshanau-and Sankarshana; svayam-personally; avivishatuh-entered; pashcat-afterwards; tau-the two; ca-also; tat-therefore; tad-atmyena-in Their original forms; avivishatuh-entered; iti-thus; bodhayati-teaches; api-shabdah-the word "api"; yatra-where; anusyutau-joined; amu-the two; sah api-the same person; tat-His; amshah-expansions; api-also; iti-thus; gamayati-causes to go; tayoh-from the two; ekah-one; balabhadra-Balarama; babhuva-became; iti adikam-etc.; tu-also; nara-narayanah-Nara and Narayana Rishis; bhavet-became; harih-Hari; eva-certainly; bhavet-became; narah-Nara; iti adivat-as in the passage beginning; tat-of Them; aikya-oneness; avapty-attainment; apekshaya-with reference to.

An intricate sequence of events is hinted by the use of the phrase "tau capi (the two of them, also, also)" in this passage from the Mahabharata. First: Vasudeva and Sankarshana (the purusha-incarnations) entered the wombs of Devaki and Rohini. Then: Krishna and Balarama (the original forms of Vasudeva and Sankarshana) entered the wombs of Devaki and Rohini "also". Then, within the womb of Devaki, Vasudeva and Krishna joined to become a single Krishna, and within Rohini's womb Sankarshana and Balarama joined to become a single Balarama. In this way the word "api" (also) refers to the joining of Krishna-Vasudeva and Balarama-Sankarshana. In other words, Lord Krishna sent His immediate vishnu-tattva expansions into the material world before He personally came, and when He personally came, He and His vishnu-tattva forms became united into a single form. This is confirmed in the following statements:

1. "taylor eko balabhadro babhuva" (the two of Them then became one Balarama).
2. "nara-narayano bhavet. harir eva bhaven narah" (Nara-Narayana Rishis joined to become a single Lord Hari).

Text 86

keshavah shri-mathurayam keshava-sthanakhya-maha-yoga-piöhadhipatvena prasiddhah, sa eva krishna iti.

keshavah-Kesava; shri-mathurayam-in Mathura; keshava-of Lord Keshava; sthana-the abode; akhya-known as; maha-great; yoga-piöha-sacred place; adhipatvena-as the ruler; prasiddhah-famous; sah-He; eva-certainly; krishnah-Krishna; iti-thus.

Another meaning of this passage from the Mahabharata which explains that Krishna appears as a "kesha" is that "Keshava" is specifically the name of Lord Krishna when He appears as the monarch of Mathura. In this way, the passage from the Mahabharata may be paraphrased: "The original Krishna then appeared in His feature as Keshava (the monarch of Mathura)."

Text 87

ata evodaharishyate bhumeh suretara ity adi. shri-nrisimha-purane tu sita-krishne ca mac-chakti iti tat-tad-varna-nirdeshenamshu-vacaka eva shakti-shabda iti tat-tulya-tatparyopekshaya.

atah eva-therefore; udaharishyate-it may be said; bhumeh suretara iti adi-the verse beginning "bhumeh suretara"; shri-nrisimha-purane-in the Nrisimha Purana; tu-but; sita-white; krishne-and black; ca-and; mat-my; shakti-potencies; tat-tat-various; varna-colors; nirdeshena-by describing; amshu-the effulgence; vacakah-describing; eva-certainly; shakti-shabdah-by the word "shakti"; iti-thus; tat-with that; tulya-equal; tatparya-understanding; upekshaya-with reference to this.

In the Shrimad-Bhagavatam (2.7.26) Lord Krishna is described as "sita-krishna-kesha". This does not mean that Krishna is an incarnation of a black hair from Lord Vishnu. The actual explanation of this word is found in the Nrisimha Purana, where the Lord explains: "sita-krishne ca mac-chakti" (I appear in many vishnu-tattva forms, which have complexions of white, black, and many other colors).

Text 88

shrimad-bhagavatasya tu naisha prakriyavakalita. tasmāt evaṁ vadanti rājarshe ity adivad eva sabhīmata. kadacid ātma-gopānaya bhagavan yad anyatha darśhayati, tad eva rishayo yatha-matī prastuvantīti. tad etad anuvadakasya bhūmeh suretara-varuṭha-ity adau kalaya sita-kṛṣṇa-keśhah ity asya ca yojana.

shrimad-bhagavatasya-of the Shrimad-Bhagavatam; tu-but; na-not; esha-this; prakriya-avakalita-fault; tasmāt-therefore; evaṁ vadanti rājarshe ity adivat-just as the verse beginning with "evaṁ vadanti rājarshe"; eva-certainly; sa-it; abhīmata-may be considered; kadacid-sometimes; ātma-Himself; gopānaya-for concealing; bhagavan-the Original Personality of Godhead; yat-because; anyatha-otherwise; darśhayati-displays Himself; tat-for this reason; eva-certainly; rishayah-the sages; yatha-matī-as far as their realization permits; prastuvanti-offer prayers; iti-thus; tat-therefore; etat-this; anuvadakasya-of the speaker; bhūmeh suretara-varuṭha-ity adau-the verse beginning with the words "bhūmeh suretara-varuṭha"; kalaya sita-kṛṣṇa-keśhah ity-the phrase "kalaya sita-kṛṣṇa-keśhah"; asya-of this; ca-also; yojana-suitable.

Because this phrase from the Bhagavatam (sita-kṛṣṇa-keśhah) is somewhat ambiguous, the Bhagavatam should not be considered faulty. The phrase from the Bhagavatam describing Krishna's bewilderment when Shalva tricked Him (evaṁ vadanti rājarshe) is described as an explanation given by some sages. In other words, although Krishna is never actually bewildered, some sages said that He was bewildered on that occasion. Therefore the statements of the Bhagavatam sometimes contain the opinions of certain sages according to their partial understanding. Sometimes the Original Personality of Godhead chooses to conceal Himself and He appears to be something that He actually is not. Because the Lord sometimes does not reveal His actual nature, therefore it is said that the sages describe Him according to their realization. In other words, the opinions of the sages sometimes present an incomplete view of the Supreme Lord. It is possible to interpret this Bhagavatam verse (2.7.26) (which describes the "sita-kṛṣṇa-keśhah") as such a partial understanding, even though it is recorded in the Bhagavatam.

Text 89

kalaya aṁshena yah sita-kṛṣṇa-keśhah, sita-kṛṣṇau keśhau yatra tatha-vidhah, sa eva sakśhad bhagavan jata ity evaṁ kartavyeti.

kalaya-the word "kalaya"; aṁshena-means "with His expansions; yah-who; sita-kṛṣṇa-keśhah-the phrase "sita-kṛṣṇa-keśhah"; sita-kṛṣṇa keśhau yatra tatha-vidhah-who expands as the white and black puruṣa incarnations (Sankarshana and Vasudeva); sah eva-that very same person; sakśhat-directly; bhagavan-the Original Personality of Godhead; jatah-appeared; iti-thus; evaṁ kartavya iti-in this way it should be understood.

Lord Krishna is therefore the Original Personality of Godhead, and the phrase "kalaya sita-kṛṣṇa-keśhah" means "The Supreme Personality of Godhead, who expands as the white and black puruṣa-incarnations (Lord Sankarshana and Lord Vasudeva)."

Text 90

ata eva puruṣa-narayanasya tathagamana-pratipadaka-shri-hari-vamśi-vakyam api tat-tejasam akarshana-vivakśhayaivoktam. sarveśham praveśhash ca tasmin sayuktikam evodaharānīyah.

atah eva-therefore; puruṣa-narayanasya-of Lord Narayana; tatha-in the same way; agamana-Krishna's arrival; pratipadaka-describing; shri-hari-vamsha-vakyam-statement of the Hari-vamsha; api-and; tat-His; tejasam-potency; akarshana-taking; vivakshaya-with an intention to describe; uktam-spoken; sarvesham-of all; pravesah-entrance; ca-also; tasmin-within Him; sa-yuktikam-with good reason; eva-certainly; udaharanyah-should be described.

According to the description of Lord Krishna's advent found in the Hari-vamsha (and quoted in Text 59 of this anuccheda), all the potencies of Lord Narayana are present within the form of Lord Krishna. Actually, all the forms of the Personality of Godhead are present within the original form of Krishna.

Text 91

atah padmottara-khande nrisimha-rama-krishneshu shad-gunya-paripuranam ity avatantara-sadharanyam api mantavyam. kintv avatanam prasange teshu shreshöhe vividishite samanyatas tavat sarva-shreshöhas traya uktah. teshv apy uttarottaratradhikya-kramabhiprayena shri-krishne shraishöhyam vivakshitam. ata eva shri-vishnu-purane maitreyena hiranyakashiputvadishu jaya-vijayayos tayor amukti-mukti-karane prishöe shri-parasharo 'pi shri-krishnasyaivaty-udbhaöaishvarya-prakasham aha.

atah-therefore; padma-uttara-khande-in the Uttara Khanda of the Padma Purana; nrisimha-in Lord Nrisimha; rama-in Lord Rama; krishneshu-and in Lord Krishna; shaö-gunya-of the six opulences; paripuranam-fullness; iti-thus; avatara-antara-for all the incarnations of Godhead; sadharanyam-universal feature; api-although; mantavyam-should be considered; kintu-however; avatanam prasange-among all the incarnations of Godhead; teshu-among them; shreshöhe-best; vividisite-desired to be known; samanyatah-generally; tavat-to that extent; sarva-of all; shreshöhah-best; trayah-three; uktah-are described; teshu-among them; api-even; uttara-uttaratra-adhikya-krama-of each one superior to the preceding one; abhiprayena-with the intention; shri-krishne-for Lord Krishna; shraishöhyam-superiority; vivakshitam-is desired to be spoken; atah eva-therefore; shri-vishnu-purane-in the Vishnu Purana; maitreyena-by Maitreya; hiranyakashiputva-adishu-in the condition of accepting the forms of Hiranyakashipu and other demons; jaya-of Jaya; vijayoh-and Vijaya; tayoh-of them; amukti-without liberation; mukti-of liberation; karane-when the cause; prishöe-was asked; shri-parasharah-Parashara Muni; api-also; shri-krishnasya-of Lord Krishna; eva-certainly; ati-great; udbhaöa-extraordinary; aishvarya-opulence and prowess; prakasham-manifestation; aha-described.

The Padma Purana Uttara-khanda explains:

nrisimha-rama-krishneshu
shad-gunya-paripuranam

"The six opulences of wealth, strength, fame, □ beauty, knowledge and renunciation are fully present in the forms of Lord Nrisimha, Rama, and Krishna."

Although all the forms of the Personality of Godhead fully display these six opulences, these three forms are singled out as especially displaying them. Because the most significant word "nrisimha-rama-krishneshu" is a dvandva-compound, and because the most important word is generally placed at the end of a compound-word, we may conclude that because Krishna is placed at the end of this compound, He is the most important of all the forms of the Lord.

This is confirmed in the Vishnu Purana, where Maitreya Muni asks Parashara Muni why Jaya and Vijaya, although killed by the hands of Lord Nrisimha, Lord Varaha, and other forms of the Lord, did not attain liberation, although they both became liberated when killed by the hand of Lord Krishna. To answer this question, Parashara Muni described Lord Krishna's supreme position among all the forms of the Personality of Godhead, and His supreme opulence and power.

Text 92

kim ca shri-krishnam aprapyanyatra tv asuranam muktir na sambhavati.

kim ca-furthermore; ca-also; shri-krishnam-Lord Krishna; aprapya-without attaining; anyatra-otherwise; tu-but; asuranam-of demons; muktih-liberation; na-not; sambhavati-is possible.

Generally speaking, demons cannot attain liberation unless they attain the personal association of Lord Krishna.

Text 93

eva-kara-dvayena svayam eva shri-gitasu tatha sucanat

eva-kara-the word "eva"; dvayena-by twice repeating; svayam-personally; eva-certainly; shri-gitasu-in the Bhagavad-gita; tatha-in this way; sucanat-from the indication.

This is described in the following verses of Bhagavad-gita (16.19-20), where Lord Krishna repeats the word "eva" (certainly) twice to emphasize the point:

Text 94

tan aham dvishatah kruran
samsareshu naradhaman
kshipamy ajasram ashubhan
asurishv eva yonishu

tan-those; aham-I; dvishatah-envious; kruran-mischievous; samsareshu-into the ocean of material existence; naradhaman-the lowest of mankind; kshipami-put; ajasram-innumerable; ashubhan-inauspicious; asurishu-demoniac; eva-certainly; yonishu-in the wombs.

"Those who are envious and mischievous, who are lowest among men, are cast by Me into the ocean of material existence, into various demoniac species of life.

Text 95

asurim yonim apanna
mudha janmani janmani
mam aprapyaiva kaunteya
tato yanty adhamam gatim

asurim-demoniac; yonim-species; apannah-gaining; mudhah-the foolish; janmani janmani-in birth after birth; mam-unto Me; aprapya-without achieving; eva-certainly; kaunteya-O son of Kunti; tatah-thereafter; yanti-goes; adhamam-condemned; gatim-destination.

"Attaining repeated birth amongst the species of demoniac life, such persons can never approach Me. Gradually they sink down to the most abominable type of existence."

Text 96

kutracid bhagavad-dveshinam tat-smaranadi-prabhavena shruyatam va mukti. sarvesham api tad-dveshinam tu mukti-pradatvam anyatravatare 'vatarini va na kaccic ca shruyate. tasmad tesham api mukti-datritvaya shri-krishna evaishvarya-prakashadhikyam darshayati. yuktam eva varnayam asa sa shri-parasharah.

kutracit-sometimes; bhagavat-of the Lord; dveshinam-of the enemies; tat-of the Lord; smarana-adi-by remembrance, or by otherwise rendering service; prabhavena-by the strength; shruyatam-is heard; va-or; mukti-liberation; sarvesham-of all; api-however; tat-dveshinam-of the Lord's enemies; tu-but; mukti-liberation; pradatvam-the status of granting; anya-other; avatare-during the incarnation; avatarini-the source of incarnations; va-or; na-not; kaccit-some; ca-and; shruyate-is heard; tasmad-for this reason; tesham-of them; api-even; mukti-datritvaya-for granting liberation; shri-krishnah-Shri Krishna; eva-certainly; aishvarya-opulence; prakasha-manifestation; adhikyam-superiority; darshayati-reveals; yuktam-properly; eva-certainly; varnayam asa-described; sah-he; shri-parasharah-Parashara Muni.

According to the descriptions of the Vedic literatures, although the enemies of the Supreme Lord attain liberation by constantly thinking of the Lord or by inadvertently serving Him in some capacity, generally they do not all become liberated simply by associating with the Lord or being killed by Him. By killing and liberating these demons, Lord Krishna reveals His transcendental opulence, greater than the opulences of any other form of the Personality of Godhead. These statements are all confirmed by the explanations spoken by Parashara Muni and recorded in the Vishnu Purana.

Text 97

ata eva sarvam aishvarya-sakshat-karasya mukti-hetutvam uktva punash ca putanadi-moksham vicintya kalanemi-adiham ca tad-abhavam ashankya tad apy asahamanas tasya tu shri-krishnakhyasya bhagavatah paramadbhuta-svabhava evayam ity uvaca sarvantima-gadyena

atah eva-therefore; sarvam-completely; aishvarya-opulence; sakshat-karasya-manifesting; mukti-liberation; hetutvam-the condition of being the cause; uktva-having described; punah-again; ca-also; putana-of Putana; adi-and others; moksham-the liberation; vicintya-considering; kalanemi-of Kalanemi; adinam-and others; ca-also; tat-abhavam-the position of not being liberated; ashankya-suspecting; tat-that; api-also; asahamanah-not tolerating; tasya-of Him; tu-but; shri-krishna-akhyasya-named Shri Krishna; bhagavatah-of the Original Personality of Godhead; parama-supreme; adbhuta-astonishing; svabhava-nature; eva-certainly; ayam-this; iti-thus; uvaca-said; sarva-all; antima-at the end; gadyena-by the prose statement.

When Lord Krishna considered how Putana and other demons had already become liberated, He began to suspect that perhaps Kalanemi and the other remaining demons would not attain liberation. This possibility became completely intolerable for the Lord. This astonishing transcendental nature of the Supreme Personality of Godhead, Lord Krishna, is described by Parashara Muni at the end of his prose description of the Lord's opulence. Parashara said (Vishnu Purana 4.15.9):

Text 98

ayam hi bhagavan kirtitah samsmritya ca dveshanubandhenapy akhila-surasuradi-durlabham phalam prayacchati, kim uta samyag-bhaktimatam ity anena.

ayam-He; hi-certainly; bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; kirtitah-glorified; samsmritya-remembered; ca-and; dvesha-anubandhena-with hatred; api-even; akhila-by all; sura-the demigods; asura-demons; adi-and others; durlabham-difficult to attain; phalam-result; prayacchati-grants; kim uta-what to speak?; samyak-bhaktimatam-of the pure devotees.

"The Supreme Personality of Godhead, Lord Krishna, freely gave liberation to the demons who, although full of hatred for Him, somehow became immersed in remembering Him or talking about Him. If the Lord gave to these demons liberation, which is ordinarily very difficult for them, or even for the demigods or anyone else to achieve, then how shall we be able to describe the benediction He gave to the pure devotees full of love for Him?"

Text 99

atah shri-bhagavata-mate tayor janma-traya-niyamash ca shri-krishnad eva tan-mokshah sambhaved ity apeksayaiveti jneyam.

atah-therefore; shri-bhagavata-of the Shrimad-Bhagavatam; mate-in the opinion; tayoh-of Jaya and Vijaya; janma-traya-niyamah-punishment of taking three births as demons; ca-and; shri-krishnat-from Shri Krishna; eva-certainly; tat-their; mokshah-liberation; sambhaved-became possible; iti-thus; apeksaya-in this regard; eva-certainly; iti-thus; jneyam-it should be understood.

The Shrimad-Bhagavatam explains that Jaya and Vijaya were cursed to take three births as demons. We may note in this connection that they were ultimately liberated by Krishna. Their liberation was possible only from the hand of Krishna and not from any other form of the Lord.

Text 100

ata eva shri-naradenapi tam uddishyaivoktam vairena yam nripatayah ity adina, shri-brahmana ca ye ca pralamba-khara-durdara ity adina sarvesham muktidadvam ca tasya shri-krishnasya nija-prabhavatishayena yatha kathancit smartri-cittakarshanatishaya-svabhavat. anyatra tu tatha svabhavo nastiti nasti muktidadvam. ata eva venasyapi vishnu-dveshinas tadavad aveshabhavan mukty-abhava iti.

ata eva-therefore; shri-naradena-by Narada Muni; api-also; tam uddishya-in this connection; eva-certainly; uktam-is explained; vairena yam nripatayah iti adina-by the verse (Bhag. 11.5.48) "vairena yam nripatayah shishupala-paundra-shalvadayo gati-vilasa-vilokanadyaih dhyayanta akrita-dhiyah shayanasanadau tat-samyam apur anurakta-dhiyam punah kim"; shri-brahmana-by Lord Brahma ; ca-also; ye ca pralamba-khara-durdara iti adina-by the verse (Bhag. 2.7.34-35) "ye ca pralamba-khara-dardura-keshy-arishöa-mallebha-kamsa-yavanah kapi-paundrakadyah anye ca shalva-kuja-balvala-dantavakra-saptoksha-shambara-viduratha-rukmi-mukhyah/"ye va mridhe samiti-shalina atta-capah kamboja-matsya-kuru-shrijaya-kaikayadyah yasyanty adarshanam alam bala-partha-bhima-vyajahvayena harina nilayam tadiyam"; sarvesham-of all; muktivatvam-the position of granting liberation; ca-and; tasya-of Him; shri-krishnasya-Shri Krishna; nija-prabhava-atishayena-by His great potency; yatha-just as; kathancit-in every way; smaritri-of the meditator; citta-the mind; akarshana-attracting; atishaya-great; svabhavat-because of nature; anyatra-otherwise; tu-but; tatha-in that way; sva-own; bhavah-nature; na-not; asti-is; na-not; asti-is; muktivatvam-the position of granting liberation; atah eva-for this reason; venasya-of King Vena; api-also; vishnu-for Lord Vishnu; dveshinah-full of hatred; tadvat-in that way; avesha-entrance; abhavat-because of the non-existence; mukti-of liberation; abhavah-non-existence; iti-thus.

Even demons who are killed by Lord Krishna, or who think of Him at the time of death in a spirit of enmity, attain liberation. This is confirmed by Narada Muni in the following verse of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (11.5.48):

"Kings like Shishupala, Paundraka and Shalva meditated in envy upon the movements, playful gestures, glances and other attractions displayed by Lord Krishna. Thus fixing their minds while engaged in lying down, sitting, and in all activities, they attained a status equal to His. How then to compare with those whose minds are naturally attached to Him in a favorable mood?"*

It is also confirmed by Lord Brahma in these words (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 2.7.34):

"All demonic personalities like Pralamba, Dhenuka, Baka, Keshi, Arishöa, Canura, Mushöika, Kuvalayapida elephant, Kamsa, Yavana, Narakasura and Paundraka, great marshals like Shalva, Dvividha monkey and Balvala, Dantavakra, the seven bulls, Shambara, Viduratha and Rukmi, as also great warriors like Kamboja, Matsya, Kuru, Shrinjaya and Kekaya, would all fight vigorously, either with the Lord Hari directly or with Him under His names of Baladeva, Arjuna, Bhima, etc. And the demons, thus being killed, would attain either the impersonal brahmajyoti or His personal abode in the Vaikunöha planets."*

By His own transcendental potency, Lord Krishna can grant liberation to anyone, regardless of how they think of Him. It is only Lord Krishna who will always grant liberation to the demons killed by Him. If one is thinking of Lord Krishna, even adversely, at the time of death, he will certainly become liberated. If one hatefully thinks of any other form of the Lord at the time of death, he may not necessarily become liberated. For example, the demon Vena was unable to think of the form of Shri Krishna at the time of his death, and therefore the demon did not attain liberation. One who, at the time of his death meditates on the Personality of Godhead in a spirit of animosity is only assured of liberation if the object of his meditation is specifically the form of Shri Krishna.

Text 101

ata evoktam tasmāt kenāpy upayena manah kṛṣṇe niveshayet iti.

atah eva-therefore; tasmāt-therefore; kenāpi-by any; upayena-means; manah-the mind; kṛṣṇe-in Krishna; niveshayet-one should fix.

Because liberation is attainable even for one who remembers the form of Shri Krishna even in a spirit of animosity, it is said in the Shrimad-Bhagavatam (7.1.33):

"Therefore one must somehow think of Krishna, whether in a friendly way, or inimically."

Text 102

tasmad asty eva sarvato 'py ashcaryatama shaktih shri-krishnasyeti siddham.

tasmat-from this evidence; asti-there is; eva-certainly; sarvatah-completely; api-also; ashcaryatama-most astonishing; shaktih-potency; shri-krishnasya-of Shri Krishna; iti-thus; siddham-the conclusion.

From these statements we may conclude that Lord Krishna is the master of the most wonderful transcendental potency.

Text 103

tad evam virodha-pariharena viruddharthanam apy arthanukulyena shri-krishnasya svayam-bhagavattvam eva dridhi-kritam.

tat-therefore; evam-in this way; virodha-objections; pariharena-by removing; viruddha-arthanam-of the improperly interpreted scriptural passages; artha-anukulyena-by the proper interpretation; shri-krishna-of Shri Krishna; svayam-bhagavattvam-the status of the Original Personality of Godhead; eva-certainly; dridhi-kritam-is conclusively proven.

By answering all objections and by giving the proper interpretation of those scriptural passages, which when misinterpreted cover the actual meaning of the Vedic literatures, I have firmly established the fact that Lord Krishna is the Original Form of the Personality of Godhead.

Text 104

tatra ca vedanta-sutradav apy ekasya maha-vakyasya nana-vakya-virodha-pariharenaiva sthapanaya darshayan napy atraivedrisham ity ashreddheyam. vakyanam durbala-balitvam eva vicaraniyam, na tu bahu-alpata. drishyate ca loke-ekenapi yuddhe sahasra-parajaya iti. evam ca bahu-virodha-pariharenaiva svasmin shri-krishnakhye para-brahmani sarva-vedabhidheyam aha

tatra-in this connection; ca-also; vedanta-sutra-in the Vedanta-sutra; adau-and other Vedic literatures; api-also; ekasya-of one; maha-vakyasya-great statement; nana-various; vakya-statements; virodha-opposition; pariharena-by removing; eva-certainly; sthapanaya-of establishing; darshayan-showing; na-not; api-but; atra-here; eva-certainly; idrisham-in this way; iti-thus; ashreddha-lack of faith; iyam-this; vakyanam-of statements; durbala-of the weak; balitvam-strength; eva-certainly; vicaraniyam-to be established; na-not; tu-but; bahu-of many statements; alpata-weakness; drishyate-is observed; ca-also; loke-in the world; ekena-by one; api-even; yuddhe-in battle; sahasra-of thousands; parajayah-victor; iti-thus; evam-in the same way; ; ca-also; bahu-many; virodha-objections; pariharena-by removing; eva-certainly; svasmin-in Himself; krishna-akhye-named Krishna; para-brahmani-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; sarva-all; veda-of the Vedas; abhidheyam-name-aha-says.

Someone may object: By speaking only a few arguments, you have attempted to refute the great mass of evidence against your theory. I cannot believe your conclusion.

To this I reply: In the Vedanta-sutra and other Vedic literatures many lengthy arguments are refuted in a few words. The length of an argument is not the criterion of whether it is true or not. Even in the material world we may see an example of this, for sometimes a single strong fighter may defeat a thousand soldiers in the battle. In the same way a single strong argument may defeat thousands of illogical words. All of your arguments are defeated by Lord Krishna Himself, for He describes Himself as the ultimate meaning of all the Vedic literatures in the following words (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.21.42-43):

Text 105

kim vidhatte kim acashöe
kim anudya vikalpayet
ity asya hridayam loke
nanyo mad veda kashcana

mam vidhatöe 'bhidhatte mam
vikalpyapohyate hy aham

kim-what; vidhatte-direct; kim-what; acashöe-declare; kim-what; anudya-taking as the object; vikalpayet-may conjecture; iti-thus; asyah-of the Vedic literature; hridayam-intention; loke-in this world; na-not; anyah-other; mat-than Me; veda-knows; kashcana-anyone; mam-Me; vidhatte-they ordain; abhidhatte-set forth; mam-Me; vikalpya-speculating; apohyate-am fixed; hi-certainly; aham-I.

"What is the direction of all Vedic literatures? On whom do they set focus? Who is the purpose of all speculation? Outside of Me no one knows these things. Now you should know that all these activities are aimed at ordaining and setting forth Me. The purpose of Vedic literature is to know Me by different speculations, either by indirect understanding or by dictionary understanding. Everyone is speculating about Me."

Sarva-samvadini Comment

kim vidhatte iti; asya curnika-praghaööake kesha"-shabda-vyakhyane shri-hari-vamsha-vakyani

tatra sa parvati nama
guha devaih sudurgama
tribhis tasyaiva vikrantair
nityam parvasu pujita

puranam tatra vinyasya
deham harir udara-dhih
atmanam yojayam asa
vasudeva-grihe prabhuh iti.

kim vidhatte iti-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.21.42-43 quoted on @ page 234; asya-of this verse; curnika-praghaööake-in the style of composition known as "curnika"; kesha-shabda-of the word "kesha"; vyakhyane-in the explanation; shri-hari-vamsha-of the Hari-vamsha; vakyani-the statements; tatra-there; sa-that; parvati-of the mountain; nama-indeed; guha-the cave; devaih-by the demigods; sudurgama-very difficult to be approached; tribhih-by three; tasya-of Him; eva-certainly; vikrantaih-powerful; nityam-eternally;

parvasu-in that place; pujita-worshipped; puranam-existing from time immemorial; tatra-there; vinyasya-placing; deham-form; harih-Lord Hari; udara-dhih-magnanimous; atmanam-Himself; yojayam asa-manifested; vasudeva-of Maharaja Vasudeva; grihe-in the home; prabhuh-the Supreme Master.

That Lord Krishna is not an incarnation of one of Lord Vishnu's hairs, but is directly the Original Supreme Personality of Godhead is also confirmed in the following statement of the Hari-vamsha:

"The Supreme Personality of Godhead, Lord Hari, Whom even the demigods cannot approach, then appeared in that mountain cave in His primeval original transcendental form. After being worshipped by Brahma , Shiva, and Vishnu, the magnanimous Supreme Lord appeared within the home of Maharaja Vasudeva."

Anuccheda 30

Text 1

öad evam, krishnas tu bhagavan svayam ity etat-pratija-vakyaya maha-vira-rajayevatmanaiva nirjityatmasat-krita-virodhi-shatarthayapi shobha-visheshena prekshavatam anandanartham chaturanginim senam ivanyam api vacana-shrenim upaharami. tatra tasya lilavatara-kartritvam aha

tat-therefore; evam-in this way; krishnah tu bhagavan svayam iti-the statement "krishnas tu bhagavan svayam (Bhag. 1.3.28); etat-of this; pratija-assertion; vakyaya-for statement; maha-great; vira-of heros; rajaya-for the ruler; iva-just as; atmana-personally; iva-just as; nirjitya-having defeated; atmasat-krita-brought under subjugation; virodhi-of those attempting to refute the arguments; shata-of hundreds; arthaya-meanings; api-even; shobha-with a beauty; visheshena-specific; prekshavatam-of the observers; anandana-artham-for the delight; chaturanginim-consisting of four parts (footsoldiers, cavalry, chariot warriors, and warriors riding elephants); senam-army; iva-just like; anyam-the other; api-even; vacana-of words; shrenim-multitude; upaharami-I bring; tatra-in this connection; tasya-of Lord Krishna; lila-avatara-of pastime incarnations; karitritvam-the status as the original source.

Our paribhasha-sutra (krishna tu bhagavan svayam) now appears as a great heroic king who has just defeated hundreds of enemies in the form of opposing arguments and completely brought them under his submission to the great delight of all onlookers. I shall now bring into view the multitude of arguments that forms the footsoldiers, cavalry, chariot warriors and elephant-riding warriors of his army. The first division of that army consists of the arguments to prove that Shri Krishna is the origin of all lila-avatars (pastime incarnations). At the beginning of this division is the following verse spoken by the demigods to Lord Krishna (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.2.40):

Text 2

matsyashva-kacchapa-nrisimha-varaha-hamsarajanya-vipra-vibudheshu kritavatarah tvam pasi nas tri-bhuvanam ca yathadhunesha
bharam bhuvo hara yaduttama vandanam te
ity adi spashöam devah shri-bhagavantam.

matsya-the fish incarnation; ashva-the horse incarnation; kacchapa-the tortoise incarnation; nrisimha-the Narasimha incarnation; varaha-the Varaha incarnation; hamsa-the swan incarnation; rajanya-incarnations as Lord Ramacandra and other kshatriyas; vipra-incarnations as brahmanas like Vamanadeva; vibudheshu-among the demigods; krita-avatah-appeared as incarnations; tvam-Your Lordship; pasi-please save; nah-us; tri-bhuvanam ca-and the three worlds; yatha-as well as; adhuna-now; isha-O Supreme Lord; bharam-burden; bhuvah-of the earth; hara-please diminish; yadu-uttama-O Lord Krishna, best of the Yadus; vandanam te-we offer our prayers unto You; iti-thus; adi-beginning; spashöam-the meaning is clear; devah-the demigods; shri-bhagavantam-to Lord Krishna.

"O supreme controller, Your Lordship previously accepted incarnations as a fish, a horse, a tortoise, Narasimhadeva, a boar, a swan, Lord Ramacandra, Parashurama and, among the demigods, Vamanadeva, to protect the entire world by Your mercy. Now please protect us again by Your mercy by diminishing the disturbances in this world. O Krishna, best of the Yadus, we respectfully offer our obeisances unto You."*

Anuccheda 31

tatha, sureshv rishishv isha tathaiva ity adi. spashöam, brahma tam.

tatha-in the same way; sureshu rishishu isha tatha eva iti adi-the Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.14.20 ("sureshv rishishv isha tathaiva nrishv api, tiryakshu yadahsv api te 'janasya, janmasatam curmada-nigrahaya, prabho vidhatah sad-anugrahaya"); spashöam-clear; brahma-Brahma ; tam-to Lord Krishna.

This is confirmed in the following verse spoken by Brahma to Lord Krishna (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.14.20):

"O Original Personality of Godhead, O creator of the entire cosmic manifestation, although You never take birth You nevertheless appear among the demigods, sages, human beings, animals, and aquatics, in order to crush the false pride of the demons, and bestow Your mercy to the saintly devotees."*

Anuccheda 32

tatha, bahuni santi namani rupani ca sutasya te ity adi. spashöam. gargah shri-vraja-rajam.

tatha-in the same way; bahuni santi namani rupani ca sutasya te iti adi-the Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.8.15) ("bahuni santi namani rupani ca sutasya te, guna-karmanurupani tany aham veda no janah"); spashöam-clear; gargah-Gargacarya; shri-vraja-rajam-to the king of Vrajabhumi.

This is also confirmed in the following verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.8.15) spoken by Gargacarya to Nanda Maharaja:

"For this son of yours (Krishna) there are many forms and names according to His transcendental qualities and activities. These are known to me, but people in general do not understand them."*

Anuccheda 33

Text 1

evam yasyavatara jnayante sharireshv ashairirinah ity adi. sharirishv ashairirina ity api jnane hetu-garbha-visheshanam. sharirishu madhye 'py avatirnasya satah svayam ashairirinah.

evam-in the same way; yasya avatarah jnayante sharireshu ashairirinah iti adi-in the Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.10.34 ("yasyavatara jnayante sharirshve ashairirinah, tais tair atulyatishayair viryair dehishv asangataih"); sharireshu-among the conditioned souls who have material bodies; ashairirinah-without a material body; iti-thus; api-although; jnane-in knowledge; hetu-of causes; garbha-the origin; visheshanam-distinguishing characteristic; sharirishu-among embodied beings; madhye-in the midst; api-although; avatirnasya-incarnated; satah-of the Absolute Truth; svayam-personally; ashairirinah-without a material body.

This is also confirmed in the following verse spoken by Nalakuvara and Manigriva to Lord Krishna (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.10.34):

"Appearing in bodies like those of an ordinary fish, tortoise and hog, You exhibit activities impossible for such creatures to perform: extraordinary, incomparable, transcendental activities of unlimited power and strength. These bodies of Yours, therefore, are not made of material elements, but are incarnations of Your Supreme Personality."*

This statement explains that the forms of Lord Krishna are always spiritual.

Text 2

natah param parama yad bhavatah svarupam ity adi dvitiya-sandarbhodaharana-praghaööaka-drishöya jivavad deha-dehi-parthakyabhavena mukhyamatvarthayogat. kuveratmajau shri-bhagavantam.

natah param parama yad bhavatah svarupam iti adi-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 3.9.3; dvitiya-sandarbha-in the second Sandarbha; udaharana-praghaööaka-drishöya-by the description; jivavat-like an ordinary conditioned soul; deha-of the body; dehi-and the possessor of the body; parthakya-of separateness; abhavena-because of non-existence; mukhyamatvartha-ayogat-because of the inappropriateness; kuvera-atmajau-the two sons of Kuvera; shri-bhagavantam-to the Supreme Lord.

This is also confirmed in the following verse spoken by Brahma to Lord Krishna (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 3.9.3):

"O my Lord, I do not see a form superior to Your present form of eternal bliss and knowledge."*

In the verse beginning "yasyavatarah" (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.10.34) we should not interpret the word "ashairirinah" to mean "formless". The actual meaning is that because the Supreme Lord does not manifest an external material body different from Himself, He is therefore called "ashairirinah". This has already been explained in the second (Bhagavat) sandarbha. Someone may argue that the word "ashairirinah" should be interpreted as "formless" because that is the direct meaning of the word. To this objection I reply: Because this interpretation ("formless") is contradicted in many Vedic literatures, and the Supreme Lord is affirmed to possess an eternal transcendental form, therefore the primary meaning ("formless") should be rejected, and the secondary meaning of the word ("without an external material body") should be accepted.

aparam

yat-pada-pankaja-rajah shirasa bibharti
shrir abjajah sagirishah saha loka-palaih
lila-tanuh sva-krita-setu-paripsaya yah
kalo 'dadhat sa bhagavan mama kena tushyet.

spashöam. nagnajit shri-bhagavantam.

aparam-further; yat-whose; pada-feet; pankaja-lotus; rajah-dust; shirasa-on the head; bibharti-carries; shrir-Lakshmi; abjajah-Brahma; sagirishah-with Shiva; saha-with; loka-palaih-the protectors of the planets; lila-for pastimes; tanuh-form; sva-krita-accepted; setu-principles of religion; paripsaya-with a desire; yah-who; kalah-time; adadhat-placet; sah-He; bhagavan-the Supreme Lord; mama-my; kena-by what?; tushyet-may please; spashöam-clear; nagnajit-Nagnajit; shri-bhagavantam-to the Supreme Personality of Godhead.

This is also confirmed in the following verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.58.37) spoken by King Nagnajit to Lord Krishna:

"O Lord who accepts the form of the various pastime-incarnations in order to protect the principles of religion, O Lord, the dust of whose lotus feet is reverentially placed by Lakshmi, Brahma, Shiva, and all the demigods upon their heads, O Supreme Personality of Godhead, what may I do to please You?"

Text 1

param ca

namas tasmai bhagavate
krishnayakunöha-medhase
yo dhatte sarva-bhutanam
abhavayoshatih kalah

param-in another place (Bhag. 10.87.46); ca-also; namah-I offer my respectful obeisances; tasmai-to Him; bhagavate-the Original Personality of Godhead; krishnaya-Lord Krishna; akunöha-medhase-omniscient; yah-who; dhatte-accepts; sarva-of all; bhutanam-living entities; abhavaya-for the liberation; ushatih-auspicious; kalah-forms of His plenary expansions.

This is also confirmed in the Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.87.46), where Narada Muni offers the following prayer:

"I offer my respectful obeisances to Lord Krishna, the all-knowing Original Personality of Godhead who, in order to liberate the conditioned souls, accepts the auspicious forms of His many incarnations."

Text 2

öika namah iti shri-krishnavatarataya narayanam stauti, ete camsa-kalah pumsah krishnas tu bhagavan svayam, ity ukteh ity esha. ata eva shruti-stava-shravananantaram tasma eva namaskarat shruti-stutav api shri-krishna eva stutya ity ayatam.

öika-commentary; ca-also; namah iti-this verse, which begins with the word "namah"; shri-krishna-avatarataya-the appearance of Lord Krishna; narayanam-Narayana Rishi; stauti-glorifies; ete camsha-kalah pumsah krishnas tu bhagavan svayam iti ukteh-from the statement "Krishnas tu bhagavan svayam"; iti esha-the same; atah eva-therefore; shruti-of the personified Vedas; stava-of the prayers; sravana-hearing; anantaram-after; tasmai-to Him; eva-certainly; namaskarat-because of obeisances; shruti-of the personified Vedas; stutau-in the prayers; api-also; shri-krishnah-Shri Krishna; eva-certainly; stutyah-glorified; iti-thus; ayatam-concluded.

Shridhara Svami explains in his commentary on this verse:

"Speaking to Narayana Rishi, Narada glorified the appearance of Lord Krishna by speaking this verse, which confirms the truth of the statement "ete camsha-kalah pumsah krishnas tu bhagavan svayam". In this way, at the end of the Prayers of the Personified Vedas, Narada Muni affirmed that Lord Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead, the source of all incarnations.

Text 3

tathaiva shrutibhir api nibhrita-marun-mano-'ksha-dridha-yoga-yujah ity adi padye nijari-moksha-pradatvady-asadharana-lingena sa eva vyanjitah. spashöam. shri-naradah.

tatha-in the same way; eva-certainly; shrutibhih-by the Personified Vedas; api-also; nibhrita-marun-mano-'ksha-dridha-yoga-yujah iti adi padye-in the Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.87.23 "nibhrita-marun-mano 'ksha-dridha-yoga-yujo hridi yan munaya upasate tad arayo 'pi yayuh smaranat striya uragendra-bhoga-bhuja-danda-vishakta-dhiyo vayam api te samah samadrisho 'nghri-saroja-sudhah"; nija-own; ari-enemies; moksha-liberation; pradatva-giving; asadharana-extraordinary; lingena-by the quality; sah-He; eva-certainly; vyajitah-characterized; spashöam-the rest of the verse is clear; shri naradah-Narada Muni.

Because Lord Krishna grants liberation even to the enemies killed by Him, He is unique among all the forms of the Personality of Godhead. This is confirmed by the following statement spoken by the Personified Vedas and repeated by Narada Muni in Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.87.23):

"By practicing the mystic yoga system and controlling their breath, the great sages conquered the mind and senses. Thus engaging in mystic yoga, they saw the Supersoul within their hearts and ultimately entered into the impersonal Brahman. However, even the enemies of the Supreme Personality of Godhead attain that position simply by thinking of the Supreme Lord."*

Anuccheda 36

Text 1

tatha gunavatara-kartritvam aha

ity uddhavenaty-anurakta-cetasa
prishöö jagat-kridanakah sva-shaktibhih
grihita-murti-traya ishvareshvaro
jagada saprema-manohara-smitah

tatha-in the same way; guna-of the modes of material nature; avatara-incarnations; karitritvam-the state of accepting; aha-describes; iti-thus; uddhavana-by Uddhava; ati-anurakta-cetasa-in a spirit of unalloyed devotional service; prishöah-inquired; jagat-for whom the universe; kridanakah-is just like a toy; sva-with His own; shaktibhih-potencies; grihita-accepted; murti-trayah-the three forms of the guna-avatars; ishvara-ishvarah-the supreme controller of all controllers; jagada-spoke; sa-prema-affectionate; manohara-enchanting; smitah-with a smile; spashöam-the meaning of the verse is clear.

That Lord Krishna is the source of all the guna-avatars (Vishnu who controls the mode of goodness, Brahma who controls the mode of passion, and Shiva who controls the mode of ignorance) is confirmed in the following verse from Shrimad-Bhagavatam (11.29.7):

"When the great pure devotee Uddhava had asked this question, Lord Krishna, who accepts the forms of the three guna-avatars (Vishnu, Brahma and Shiva), who controls the universe with His various potencies just as a child controls a toy, and who is the supreme controller of all the demigods, smiled in a charming and affectionate way and replied to His devotee's question in the following words."

Text 2

atra ajanatam tvat-padavim ity udahritam vacanam apy anusandheyam. shri-shukah.

atra-in this connection; ajanatam tvat-padavim-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.14.19 ("ajanatam tvat-padavim anatmany atmatma bhasi vitatya mayam shrishöav ivaham jagato vidhana iva tvam esho 'nta iva tri-netrah."); iti-thus; udahritam-said; vacanam-statement; api-also; anusandheyam-should be considered; shri-shukah-Shri Sukadeva Gosvami.

In this connection we may note the following statement spoken by Brahma to Lord Krishna (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.14.19):

"O Lord Krishna, persons who are unaware of Your inconceivable energy cannot understand that You alone expand Yourself as the creator Brahma, maintainer Vishnu, and annihilator Shiva. Persons who are not in awareness of things as they are contemplate that I, Brahma, am the creator, Vishnu is the maintainer, and Lord Shiva is the annihilator. Actually You are alone everything: creator, maintainer and annihilator."*

Anuccheda 37

Text 1

atha purushavatara-kartritvam apy aha

iti matir upakalpita vitrishna

bhagavati satvata-pungave vibhumni

sva-sukham upagate kvacid vihartum

prakritim upeyushi yad-bhava-pravahah

shri-bhishmah uvaca-Shri Bhishmadeva said; iti-thus; matih-thinking, feeling and willing; upakalpita-invested; vitrishna-freed from all sense desires; bhagavati-onto the Personality of Godhead; satvata-pungave-onto the leader of the devotees; vibhumni-onto the great; sva-sukham-self-satisfaction; upagate-onto He who has attained it; kvacit-sometimes; vihartum-out of transcendental pleasure; prakritim-in the material world; upeyushi-do accept it; yat-bhava-from whom the creation; pravahah-is made and annihilated.

That Lord Krishna is the origin of the purusha-avatars, who are the creators of the material universes, is confirmed in the following prayer spoken by Bhishmadeva to Lord Krishna (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.9.32):

"Let me now invest my thinking, feeling and willing, which were so long engaged in different subjects and occupational duties, in the all-powerful Lord Shri Krishna. He is always self-satisfied, but sometimes, being the leader of the devotees, He enjoys transcendental pleasure by descending on the material world, although from Him only the material world is created."*

Text 2

ōika ca parama-phala-rupam shri-krishna-ratim prarthayitum prathamam svakritam arpayati iti iti vigato bhuma yasmāt tasmin. yam apēkshyanyatra mahattvam nastity arthah. tad eva paramaishvaryam aha sva-sukham svarupa-bhutam paramanandam upagate praptavaty eva. kvacit kadacid vihartum kriditum prakritim upeyushi svikritavati, na tu svarupa-tirodhanena jivvat paratantryam ity arthah. vihartum ity uktam prapancayati yad yato bhava-pravahah shrishōi-parampara bhavati ity esha.

ōika-commentary; ca-and; parama-ultimate; phala-result; rupam-form; shri-krishna-for Lord Krishna; ratim-attraction; prarthayitum-to pray; prathamam-first; svakritam-accepted; arpayati-offers; iti-thus; iti-thus; vigato-gone; bhuma-the Lord; yasmāt-from whom; tasmin-in Him; yam-whom; apēkshya-in relation; anyatra-in someone else; mahattvam-greatness; na-not; asti-is; iti-thus; arthah-meaning; tad-this; eva-certainly; parama-supreme; aishvaryam-opulence; aha-said; sva-sukham-own happiness; svarupa-own form; bhutam-manifested; parama-supreme; anandam-bliss; upagate-attained; praptavati-gives; eva-indeed; kvacit-somewhere; kadacid-sometime; vihartum-to play; kriditum-to play; prakritim-nature; upeyushi-attains; svikritavati-accepted; na-not; tu-indeed; svarupa-own form; tirodhanena-by disappearance; jiv-a jiva; vat-like; paratantryam-independence; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; vihartum-to enjoy pastimes; iti-thus; uktam-said; prapancayati-creates; yad-which; yatah-from which; bhava-pravahah-material world; shrishōi-parampara-creation; bhavati-is; iti-thus; esha-this.

The following explanation of this verse is found in Shridhara Svami's commentary:

"In this verse Bhishmadeva prays for attraction to Lord Krishna, which he considers the supreme goal of life, and aside from which there is nothing worth praising. Bhishma also describes the transcendental opulences of the Lord by using the words 'sva-sukham upagate' (full of all transcendental bliss). Bhishma says 'kvacid vihartum prakritim upeyushi' (The Lord sometimes descends to this material sphere to display His transcendental pastimes). The Lord appears in this world and again disappears from it according to His own desire. He is completely independent, and He is not forced to enter the material sphere, as the conditioned souls are. Indeed, Lord Krishna is actually the creator of the cosmic manifestation ('yad-bhava-pravahah')."

Text 3

evam eva tam pratyuktam devair apy ekadashe tvattah puman samadhigatya yayasya viryam, dhatte mahantam iva garbham amogha-virya. iti.

evam-in this way; eva-certainly; tam-He; pratyuktam-answered; devaih-by the demigods; api-also; ekadashe-in the Eleventh Canto (Bhag. 11.6.16); tvattah-from You; puman-the purusha-avatara; samadhigatya-having attained; yaya-by the material potency; asya-of the universe; viryam-potency; dhatte-places; mahantam-the mahat-tattva; iva-like; garbham-the womb; amogha-infallible; viryah-power.

This is also confirmed in the following prayer spoken by the demigods and recorded in Shrimad-Bhagavatam (11.6.16):

"O Lord Krishna, You are the origin of the purusha-incarnation who is like the father who impregnates the womb of material nature."

Text 4

öika ca tvattah purushah viryam shaktim samadhigatya prapya yaya mayaya saha mahantam dhatte. kam iva asya vishvasya garbham iva ity esha. bhishmah shri-bhagavantam.

öika-Shridhara Svami's commentary; ca-also; tvattah-the word "from You"; purushah-the purusha-incarnation; viryam-the word viryam; shaktih-means "potency"; samadhigatya-"samadhigatya"; prapya-means "having attained"; yaya-"by which"; mayaya-means "by maya"; saha-with; mahantam dhatte-creates the material world; kam iva-to what may it be compared?; asya-of this; vishvasya-universe; garbham iva-like the womb; iti-thus; esa-the commentary; bhishmah-Bhishma; shri-bhagavantam-to the Supreme Personality of Godhead.

This verse is explained by Shridhara Svami in the following way:

"In this verse the word 'tvattah' means 'the purusha-avatara is manifested from You', and the word 'viryam' means 'potency'. 'Samadhigatya' means 'having attained' and 'yaya' means 'by the material creative potency maya'. In this way the Lord manifests the material creation ('mahantam dhatte'). To what may this material world be compared? It may be compared to 'asya garbham iva' (like a womb impregnated by the Supreme Lord)."

Anuccheda 38

ata eva bhava-bhayam apahantum ity adau tasyadi-purushatvam shreshöhatvam apy aha, purusham rishabham adyam krishna-samjnam nato 'smi iti. krishneti samjna tan-namatvenati-prasiddhir yasyeti murty-antaram nishidhyate. tan-murter namaskriyamanatvena ca nitya-siddhatvam darshyate. tatraiva öika-kridbhir api tam vande paramanandam nandanandana-rupinam ity uktam. shri-shukah.

atah eva-therefore; bhava-of material existence; bhayam-the fear; apahantum-to remove; iti-thus; adau-beginning; tasya-of Him; adi-purushatvam-the position of being the Original Personality of Godhead; shreshôhatvam-the position of being the best; api-also; aha-describes; purusham-person; rishabham-best; adyam-original; krishna-samjnam-named Krishna; natah asmi-I offer my respectful obeisances to Him; iti-thus; krishna-Krishna; iti-thus; samja-name; tat-namatvena-by this name; ati-great; prasiddhih-fame; yasya-of whom; iti-thus; murti-forms; antaram-other; nishidhyate-are eclipsed; tat-murteh-of that form; namaskriyamanatvena-by offering obeisances; ca-also; nitya-siddhatvam-eternal perfection; darshyate-is revealed; tatra-there; eva-certainly; öika-kridbhih-by the author of the commentary; api-also; tam-to Him; vande-I offer my respectful obeisances; paramanandam-full of transcendental bliss; nanda-of Nanda Maharaja; nandana-the son; rupinam-with the form; iti-thus; uktam-described; shri-shukah-Shri Shukadeva Gosvami.

Shukadeva Gosvami clearly explains that Lord Krishna is the Supreme Original Personality of Godhead in the Shrimad-Bhagavatam (11.29.49), where he says:

"I offer my respectful obeisances to Lord Krishna, the Original form of the Personality of Godhead."

From this it may be observed that Krishna is the most important name of the Lord, and His two armed form as Krishna is His most important form. This eternal supreme status of Lord Krishna is revealed in this verse where Shukadeva Gosvami offers His respects to the Lord. This is also confirmed by Shridhara Svami, the foremost commentator on Shrimad-Bhagavatam in the following words:

"I offer my respectful obeisances unto the supremely blissful Original Personality of Godhead, who is known as the son of Maharaja Nanda."

Anuccheda 39

Text 1

tad evam jagrihe iti adi-prakarane yat svayam utprekshitam tac ca shri-svami-sammatyapi dridhi-kritam.

tat-therefore; evam-in this way; jagrihe iti adi prakarane-in the chapter beginning jagrihe" (Bhagavatam, Canto One, Chapter Three); yat-which; svayam-directly; utprekshitam-indicated; tat-that; ca-also; shri-svami-of Shridhara Svami; sammatya-by the opinion; api-also; dridhi-kritam-confirmed.

In this way Shridhara Svami has confirmed the statement of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (Canto One, Chapter Three) that Shri Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead.

Text 2

punar api tat-sammatir abhyasyate yatha

shrutvajitam jarasandham
nripater dhyayato harih
ahopayam tam evadya

uddhavo yam uvaca ha.

öika ca adyah harih shri-krishnah ity esha. shri-shukah.

punah-again; api-also; tat-that; sammatih-opinion; abhyasyate-is repeated; yatha-for example; shrutva-having heard; ajitam-undefeated; jarasandam-Jarasandha; nripateh-of King Yudhishöhira; dhyayatah-meditating; harih-Hari; aha-spoke; upayam-plan; tam-that; eva-certainly; adyah-the Original Personality of Godhead; uddhavah-Uddhava; yam-which; uvaca-spoke; ha-certainly; öika-Shridhara Svami's commentary; ca-also; adyah-the Original Personality of Godhead; harih-Hari; shri-krishnah-Shri Krishna; iti-thus; esha-the commentary; shri-shukah-spoken by Shukadeva Gosvami.

That Shri Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead is also confirmed in the following verse of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.72.15):

"When Shri Krishna, the Original Personality of Godhead, heard from King Yudhishöhira that the enemy Jarasandha was almost impossible to defeat, Lord Krishna proposed the following plan, which had already been suggested by Uddhava."

Shridhara Svami explains in his commentary that the word "adyah" (Original Personality of Godhead) clearly refers to Lord Krishna.

Anuccheda 40

Text 1

kim ca

athaham amsha-bhagena
devakyah putratam shubhe
prapsyami iti.

kim ca-furthermore; atha-therefore; aham-I; amsha-bhagena-by My plenary expansion; devakyah-of Devaki; putratam-the son; shubhe-O all-auspicious Yogamaya; prapsyami-I shall become; iti-thus.

This is also confirmed by the following statement spoken by Lord Krishna to His internal potency Yogamaya (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.2.9):

"O all-auspicious Yogamaya, I shall then appear with My full six opulences as the son of Devaki."*

Text 2

ammsha-bhagena ity atra purnatocitam evartham bahudha yojayadbhir madhye amshena purusha-rupena mayaya bhago bhajanam ikshanam yasya teneti ca vyacakshanair ante sarvatha paripurna-rupeneti vivakshitam, krishnas tu bhagavan svayam ity uktatvat, ity evam hi tair vyakhyatam. shri-bhagavan yogamayam.

amsha-bhagena-by the phrase "amsha-bhagena"; iti-thus; atra-in this connection; purnata-fullness; ucitam-is described; eva-certainly; artham-the meaning; bahudha-in many ways; yojayadbhih-explaining the meaning of this verse; madhye-in the midst; amshena-by the word "amshena"; purusha-rupena-in the form of a person; mayaya-of material energy; bhagah-opulence; bhajanam-possession; ikshanam-appearance; yasya-of whom; tena-by this; iti-thus; ca-also; vyacakshanaih-by various explanations; ante-at the conclusion; sarvatha-in all respects; paripurna-perfect and complete; rupena-with a form; iti-thus; vivakshitam-intended to be described; krishnah tu bhagavan svayam iti uktatvat-because of the statement "Krishnas tu bhagavan svayam"; iti-thus; evam-in this way; hi-certainly; taih-by them; vyakhyatam-explained; shri-bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; yogamayam-to Yogamaya.

Shridhara Svami explains that in this verse the word "amsha-bhagena" means "accompanied by His expansions, the purusha-incarnations". This description confirms the statement of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (1.3.38): "Krishnas tu bhagavan svayam" (Shri Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead, the source of all incarnations of Godhead).

Anuccheda 41

Text 1

evam

yasyamshamsha-bhagena
vishvotpatti-layodayah
bhavanti kila vishvatmams
tam tvadyaham gatim gata

evam-in the same way; yasya-of whom; amsha-of a portion; amsha-of a portion; amsha-of a portion; bhagena-by a tiny fragment; vishva-of the universe; utpatti-creation; laya-annihilation; udayah-mannifestation; bhavanti-comes into being; kila-certainly; vishva-atman-O all-pervading Supersoul; tam-to Him; tva-unto You; adya-O Original Personality of Godhead; aham-I; gatim gata-take shelter.

This is also confirmed in the following statement spoken by Devaki to Lord Krishna (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.85.31):

"O Lord Krishna, O all-pervading Supersoul, You are the Original Personality of Godhead. By a tiny fragment of a part of a part of a portion of Your potency the material universes are created and again annihilated. I surrender unto You and take shelter of You."*

Text 2

öika ca yasyamshah purushas tasyamsho maya tasya amsha gunas tesham bhagena paramanu-matra-leshena vishvotpatty-adayo bhavanti tam tva tvam gatim sharanam gatasmi ity esha. shri-devaki-devi shri-bhagavantam.

öika-the commentary; ca-also; yasya-of whom; amshah-the portion; purushah-purusha-avatara; tasya-of Him; amshah-the portion; maya-the maya potency; tasyah-of that; amshah-the parts; gunah-the three modes of nature; tesham-of them; bhagena-by a part; paramanu-matra-leshena-by an atomic fraction; vishva-utpatti-adayah bhavanti-the creation, maintenance and destruction of the universes is manifested; tam-to Him; tva-to You; tvam-to You; gatim-the word "gatim"; sharanam gata asmi-I shall take shelter; iti-thus; esha-the commentary; shri-devaki-devi-spoken by Devaki-devi; shri-bhagavantam-to the Supreme Personality of Godhead.

Shridhara Svami explains in his commentary:

"In this verse the first "amsha" (portion) referred to is the purusha-avatara. The portion of the purusha-avatara is the illusory potency maya, and the portion of maya is the three modes of material nature. By an atomic fragment of the modes of nature, the material universes are created, maintained and destroyed. In this way, by a portion of a portion of a portion of a portion of the Lord's potency the material world is created. In this verse the word `tva' means `unto You' and the phrase `gatim gatasmi' means `I take shelter'".

.mt 3
.mb .5
.rm 6.5 in Set Right Margin to 6.5 in.
.rm 65

..
.. Select font 1
.fa times to Times Roman type style.
.lh 1.25 em
.ch 15.5 pt

.fa timesitl
.lh 1.25 em
.ch 15.4 pt
..

.fa clarendo
.ch 16.2 pt
..

.fa helvetic
.ch 16 pt
..

.fa clarendo
.ch 16.2 pt
..

.fa clarendo
.ch 23 pt
..

.. Lower case Italicized
.de {.px -1.2 en}{.py +0.23 em}{.py -.23 em}
.. ^D = . below letters n - h - normal - italic
.de {.px -1. en}{.py +.23 em}{.py -.23 em}
...de {.ru .06 em, .1 em, -.40 en, -1.4 en}
.de {.px -.6 en}{.py -.55 en}{.fa clarendo}{.ch .8 em}{.sy 180}{.ch}{.fa}{.px +.1 en}{.py +.55 en}

```

.. ^S = ' on s          -   normal - italic
..de {.px -1 en}{.py -.3 em}{.fn}{.px +.1 en}{.py +.3 em}
.. ^T = ' on S
..de {.ru .28 em, .055 em, -.6 en, -1.38 en}
.. ^A = - above long 'a' - 'u' sound 'i non-italic
..de [6] {.ru .28 em, .055 em, -.40 en, -1.40 en}
..^E = - above long 'i'
..de 6 {.px -.6 em}{.py -.65 em}{.py +.65 em}
.. ^V = . above 'm'

..
..de 57 {.px -.5 en}{.py -.7 en}{.fa clarendo}{.ch .5 em}{.sy 180}{.ch}{.fa}{.py +.7 en}
..
.. Upper case Italicized
..de {.px -.8 en}{.py -.73 en}{.fa clarendo}{.sy 180}{.fa}{.px +.2 en}{.py +.73 en}
..de {.ru .06 em, .13 em, -.25 em, -2.05 en}
.. ^T = ' on S
..
.. Lower case non-Italics
.. ^A = - over long 'i'
..de {.ru .28 em, .055 em, -1 en, -1.40 en}
.. ^Q = - above long 'a' - 'u' sound
..de {.lf .7 em}{.up .65 em}{.dn}
.. ^P = . above 'm'
..
.. Upper case non-Italicized
..de {.px -.8 en}{.py -.7 en}{.fa clarendo}{.sy 180}{.fa}{.px +.1 en}{.py +.7 en}
..{.ru .06 em, .13 em, -.35 em, -1.95 en}
.. ^U = ' on S
..
..de - {.lf .15 em}{.lf .15 em}-
.. long '-'
..
..hy
..lh 1.25 em
..bd off
..op
..oj on

```

```

.hee #                Shri Krishna-sandarbha
.heo                  Volume Two                #

```

Anuccheda 42

Text 1

yatha ca

narayanas tvam na hi sarva-dehinam. ity adau.
 narayano 'ngam nara-bhu-jalayanat. iti.

yatha-just as; ca-also; narayanah tvam na hi sarva-dehinam iti adau narayanah angam nara-bhu-jalayanat iti-the following verse from Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.14.14)- "narayanas tvam na hi sarva-dehinam atmasy adhishakhila-loka-sakshi narayano 'ngam nara-bhu-jalayanat tac capi satyam na tavaiva maya

That Lord Krishna is the origin of the Narayana feature of Godhead is confirmed in the following statement spoken to Lord Krishna by Brahma (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.14.14):

"O Lord of lords, You are the seer of all creation. You are indeed everyone's dearest life. Are You not, therefore, my father, Narayana? 'Narayana' refers to one whose abode is in the water born from Nara (Garbhodakashayi Vishnu), and that Narayana is Your plenary portion. All Your plenary portions are transcendental. They are absolute and are not creations of maya."*

Text 2

öika ca narad udbhuta ye 'rthah, tatha naraj jatam yajalam tad ayanat yo narayanah prasiddhah so 'pi tavangam murtih ity esha. atra sa tavangam, tvam punar angity asau tu vishado 'rthah; na tu stuti-matram idam.

öika-in the commentary of Shridhara Svami; ca-also; narat-from Nara; udbhutah-born; ye-those who; arthah-the meanings; tatha-in the same way; narat-from Nara; jatam-born; yat-which; jalam-water; tat-that; ayanat-due to the place of refuge; yah-who; narayanah-as Narayana; prasiddhah-famous; sah api-that same person; tava-Your; angam-part; murtih-form; iti-thus; esha-the commentary; atra-in this explanation; sa-He; tava-Your; angam-part; tvam-You; punah-again; angi-from whom the portion is expanded; asau-He; tu-also; vishadah-clear; arthah-meaning; na-not; tu-but; stuti-praise; matram-only; idam-this.

Shridhara Svami explains in his commentary:

"This verse explains that Lord Narayana rests on the Garbhodaka Ocean which was manifested from His own body. It is further explained that that Narayana is a plenary portion of Lord Krishna."

In this way the meaning of this verse is clear: Krishna is the source of the incarnations of Godhead. Brahma is speaking correctly, and not simply speaking flattering lies.

Text 3

drishövaghasura-mokshanam prabhavatah praptah param vismayam ity ukta-ritya kvacid apy avatary-avantarantreshu tadrishasyapi mokshanam adrishöa-caram drishöva vismayam praptavan brahma.

drishöva-was observing; aghasura-mokshanam-the wonderful killing and deliverance of Aghasura from material tribulation; prabhavatah-of the all-potent Supreme Person; praptah param vismayam-had become extremely astonished; iti-thus; ukta-ritya-by this explanation; kvacit-somewhere; api-and; avatari-of the source of all incarnations; avatara-antareshu-among the incarnations; tadrishasya-of someone like Aghasura; api-even; mokshanam-liberation; adrishöa-caram-unprecedented; drishöva-having seen; vismayam-amazement; praptavan-attained; brahma-Brahma.

That Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead is also confirmed in the following statement of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.13.15):

"Brahma had observed the activities of the most powerful Krishna in killing and delivering Aghasura, and he was astonished."*

Brahma became amazed when he saw that the sinful demon Agha □ had become liberated by the mercy of Krishna. The liberation of Agha could not have been performed by any other form of the Lord. Only the Original Personality of Godhead, Lord Krishna, could have liberated such a sinful person.

Text 4

drashöum manju mahitvam anyad api tad-vatsan ito vatsapan nitvanyatra kurudvahantaradadhat.

ity ukta-ritya tasyaparam api mahatmyam didrikshus tatha-mahatmyam dadarsheti prakarana-svarasyenapi labdham. na capara-mahatmya-darshanam sambhavati-matram.

drashöum-just to see; manju-very pleasing; mahitvam anyat api-other glories of the Lord also; tat-vatsan-their calves; itah-than that place where they were; vatsapan-and the cowherd boystaking care of the calves; nitva-bringing them; anyatra-to a different place; kurudvaha-O Maharaja Parikshit; antaradadhat-kept hidden and invisible for some time; iti-thus; ukta-ritya-by this description; tasya-of Him; aparam-superexcellent; api-also; mahatmyam-glory; didrikshuh-desiring to see; tatha-in the same way; mahatmyam-glory; dadarsha-saw; iti-thus; prakarana-of this chapter; svarasyena by the superexcellence; labdham-attained; na-not; ca-also; apara-ordinary; mahatmya-glory; darshanam-sight; sambhavati-comes into existence; matram-only.

Krishna's supremacy is also described in the following verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.13.15):

"Brahma wanted to show some of his own power and see the power of Krishna, who was engaged in His childhood pastimes, playing as if with ordinary cowherd boys. Therefore in Krishna's absence, Brahma took all the boys and calves to another place. Thus he became entangled, for in the very near future he would see how powerful Krishna was."*

This verse describes Brahma's desire to see more excellent pastimes of the Lord. This chapter (Canto 10, Chapter 13) describes how Brahma actually saw the Lord's extraordinary opulence and glory.

Text 5

tavat sarve vatsa-palah pashyato 'jasya tat-kshanat vyadrishyanta ghana-shyamah pita-kausheya-vasasah

tavat-so long; sarve-all; vatsa-palah-both the calves and the boys tending them; pashyatah-while he was watching; ajasya-of Lord Brahma ; tat-kshanat-immediately; vyadrishyanta-were seen; ghana-shyamah-as having a complexion resembling bluish rainclouds; pita-kausheya-vasasah-and dressed in yellow silk garments.

After Brahma had stolen the boys and calves, Krishna personally expanded to become the boys and calves Himself. The following verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.13.46) describes Brahma's eventual perception that the boys and calves were actually personal expansions of Krishna:

"Then, while Lord Brahma looked on, all the calves and the boys tending them immediately appeared to have complexions the color of bluish rainclouds and to be dressed in yellow silken garments."*

Text 6

ity adina shaktibhir ajadyabhir aishvaryair animadyaish catur vimshati-sankhya-tattvair mahad-adibhis tat-sahakaribhih kala-svabhavadyaish tat-sambhutair brahmandair tad-antar-bhuta-srashöribhir brahmadibhir ijivais ca stamba-paryantaih prithak prithag upasitas tadrisha-brahmandeshvara-koöayah shri-krishnenaiva tat-tad-amshenaivamshenavirbhavya brahmanam prati sakshad eva darshita ity uktam.

ity adina-by the passage beginning with this verse; shaktibhih-by potencies; aja-adyabhih-beginning with aja; aishvaryaih-by various opulences; animadyaih-by Anima and the other mystic perfections; catuh-vimshati-sankhya-tattvaih-by the 24 elements enumerated in the Sankhya philosophy; mahat-adibhih-even by the mahat-tattva and other potencies of the Lord; tat-sahakaribhih-by the Lord's assistants; kala-svabhava-adyaih-by personified time and other potencies; tat-sambhutaih-created by the Lord; brahmandaih-by universes; tat-antah-bhuta-within them; srashtribhih-by the creators; brahma-adibhih-headed by Brahma ; jivaih-by the living entities; ca-and; stamba-paryantaih-down to the blades of grass; prithak prithak-by each of them; upasitah-worshipped; tadrisha-like this; brahmanda-of universes; ishvara-of controllers; koöayah-millions; shri-krishnena-by Shri Krishna; eva-certainly; tat-tad-amshena eva amshena-by portions of portions; avirbhavya-manifesting; brahmanam prati-to Brahma ; sakshat-directly; eva-darshitah-revealed; iti-thus; uktam-described.

This passage from Shrimad-Bhagavatam describes how millions of Lord Krishna's vishnu-tattva expansions were shown to Brahma by Lord Krishna, who manifested Them as merely a portion of a portion of His potency. These vishnu-tattva expansions were all the masters of all the material universes and they were being worshiped by the Lord various potencies, headed by Aja, by all personified opulences, by the mystic perfections, headed by Anima, by the 24 material elements enumerated by the Sankhya philosophy, by the mahat-tattva and other potencies, by the Lord's assistants and associates, by personified time and other potencies of the Lord, by the various material universes manifested by the time potency, by innumerable Brahmas and other demigods entrusted with the details of universal creation, and by all the individual living entities (jivas), even down to the blades of grass.

Text 7

tad idrisham eva krishnas tu bhagavan svayam ity atra vishkrita-sarva-shaktitvad ity etat svami-vyakhyanasyasadhanam bijam bhavet.

tat-that; idrisham-in this way; eva-certainly; krishnah tu bhagavan svayam-Shri Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead; iti-thus; atra-in this context; vishkrita-sarva-shaktitvat-because of being the original source of all potencies; iti-thus; etat-that; svami-vyakhyanasya-of the commentary of Shridhara Svami; asadharanam-extraordinary; bijam-source; bhavet-is.

In His commentary on this verse, Shrila Shridhara Svami confirms that all transcendental potencies are manifested from Lord Krishna, and Lord Krishna is the original source of everything. In order to substantiate these points, Shridhara Svami quotes the "krishnas tu bhagavan svayam (Shri Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead) statement of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (1.3.28).

Text 8

vishva-rupa-darshanadinam tat-tad-brahmandantaryami-purushanam ekatarenapi shakyatvat. tasmad viraö-purushayor iva purusha-bhagavator api jagrihe paurusham rupam ity adav upasanartham eva tair abheda-vyakhya kriteti gamyate. vastutas tu paramashrayatvena shri-krishna eva tair angi-krito 'sti; yatha vishva-rupa-of the Universal Form; darshana-of the sight; adinam-and other extraordinary activities; tat-tat-of the various; brahmamda-universes; antaryami-purushanam-of the all-pervading Supersouls; ekatarena-as one; api-also; shakyatvat-because of being the master of all potencies; tasmad-therefore; viraö-of the Universal Form; purushayoh-and the purusha-avatars; iva-just like; purusha-of the Purusha-avatars; bhagavato-and of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; api-also; jagrihe paurusham rupam-"The Supreme Personality of Godhead accepted the form of the purusha-avatara"; iti-thus; adau-in the passage beginning; upasana-worshipping; artham-for the purpose; eva-certainly; tair-by the learned commentator; abheda-being non-different; vyakhya-explanation; krita-is done; iti-thus; gamyate-is understood; vastutah-actually; tu-but; parama-supreme; ashayatvena-as the shelter of everything; shri-krishnah-Shri Krishna; eva-certainly; tair-by him; angi-kritah-accepted; asti-is; yatha-just as.

Shri Krishna is the all-powerful master of all potencies, and He is not different from His manifestations as the Universal Form and as the all-pervading Supersoul who is manifested everywhere throughout the expanse of innumerable material universes. In his commentary on the verse "jagrihe paurusham rupam (The Original Personality of Godhead then accepted the form of the purusha-avatara) (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.3.1), Shridhara Svami explains that the purusha-avatara is actually not different from the Universal Form, and the Original Personality of Godhead is also not different from the purusha-avatara. Actually, Lord Krishna is the shelter upon whom everything rests. Shridhara Svami confirms this in the introductory verses of his commentary on the Tenth Canto of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (Bhavartha-dipika 10.1.1-2) in the following words:

Text 9

vishva-sarga-visargadinava-lakshana-lakshitam shri-krishnakhyam param dhama jagad-dhama namami tat

vishva-of the material universes; sarga-primary creation; visarga-secondary creation; adi-beginning with; nava-nine; lakshana-characteristics; lakshitam-characterized; shri-krishna-Shri Krishna; akhyam-named; param-the supreme; dhama-abode; jagat-of the universe; dhama-the abode; namami-I offer my respectful obeisances; tat-to Him.

"I offer my respectful obeisances to Shri Krishna, the Supreme Personality of Godhead, the ultimate source of all the universes. That Shri Krishna is described in the first nine Cantos of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (which contain descriptions of nine subjects, beginning with primary and secondary creation of the material universes).

Text 10

dashame dashamam lakshyam ashritasraya-vigraham kridad-yadu-kulambhodhau paranandam udiryate. iti.

dashame-in the Tenth Canto; dashamam-the tenth subject matter; lakshyam-to be seen; ashrita-of the sheltered; ashraya-of the shelter; vigraham-who is the form; kridat-playing; yadu-kula-of the Yadu dynasty; ambhodhau-in the ocean; para-supreme; anandam-bliss; udiryate-is describd.

"The Tenth Canto of Shrimad-Bhagavatam reveals the tenth object, the Supreme Personality of Godhead who is the shelter of the surrendered souls. He is known as Shri Krishna, and He enjoyed transcendental bliss, performing pastimes in the ocean known as the family of Maharaja Yadu."*

Text 11

yady anyesham api paramashrayatvam tan-matam, tada dashama ity anarthakam syat. tasmāt narayano 'ngam iti yuktam evoktam. brahma shri-bhagavantam.

yadi-if; anyesham-of other forms of the Supreme; api-also; parama-ashrayatvam-the ultimate shelter; tat-of them; matam-is considered; tada-then; dashamah iti-Shridhara Svami's introduction to the Tenth Canto beginning with the word "dashame"; anarthakam-useless; syat-may be; tasmāt-from this; narayanah angam; the phrase "narayano 'ngam" from Brahma 's prayers (10.14.14); iti-thus; yuktam-properly; eva-certainly; uktam-spoken; brahma-Brahma ; shri-bhagavantam-to the Supreme Personality of Godhead.

In these verses Shridhara Svami clearly describes Lord Krishna as the Original Personality of Godhead, the supreme shelter of everyone. If one wishes to consider another form of God as the original form, then he must reject these verses of Shridhara Svami as useless and without meaning. That Krishna is the Original Form of the Godhead is confirmed in the following words of Lord Brahma:

narayano 'ngam

"O Krishna, Lord Narayana is Your plenary portion)."

Anuccheda 43

Text 1

avtara-prasange 'pi tathaiva spashöam.

avatara-of the incarnations; prasange-in connection; api-also; tatha-in the same way; eva-certainly; spashöam-clearly.

That Shri Krishna is the Original source of all the incarnations of Godhead is confirmed in the following description found in Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.1.21-23):

Text 2

giram samadhau gagane samiritam nishamya vedhas tridashan uvaca ha gam paurushim me shrinutamarah punar vidhiyatam ashu tathaiva ma ciram giram-a vibration of words; samadhau-in trance; gagane-in the sky; samiritam-vibrated; nishamya-hearing; vedhah-Lord Brahma ; tridashan-unto the demigods; uvaca-said; ha-oh; gam-the order; paurushim-received from the Supreme Person; me-from me; shrinuta-just hear; amarah-O demigods; punah-again; vidhiyatam-execute; ashu-immediately; tatha eva-just so; ma-do not; ciram-delay.

"While in trance, Lord Brahma heard the words of Lord Vishnu vibrating in the sky. Thus he told the demigods: O demigods, hear from me the order of Kshirodakashayi Vishnu, the Supreme Person, and execute it attentively without delay.*

Text 3

puraiva pumsavadhrito dhara-jvaro bhavadbhir amshair yadushupajanyatam sa yavad urvya bharam ishvareshvarah sva-kala-shaktya kshapayamsh cared bhuvi pura-even before this; eva-indeed; pumsa-by the Supreme Personality of Godhead; avadhritah-was certainly known; dhara-jvarah-the distress on the earth; bhavadbhir-by your good selves; amshair-expanding as plenary portions; yadushu-in the family of King Yadu; upajanyatam-take your birth and appear there; sah-He (the Supreme Personality of Godhead); yavat-as long as; urvyah-of the earth; bharam-the burden; ishvara-ishvarah-the Lord of lords; sva-kala-shaktya-by His own potency the time factor; kshapayan-diminishing; caret-should move; bhuvi-on the surface of the earth.

"Lord Brahma informed the demigods: Before we submitted our petition to the Lord, He was already aware of the distress on earth. Consequently, for as long as the Lord moves on earth to diminish its burden by His own potency in the form of time, all of you demigods should appear through plenary portions as sons and grandsons in the family of the Yadus.*

Text 4

vasudeva-grihe sakshad bhagavan purushah parah janishyate tat-priartham shambhavantu sura-striyah vasudeva-grihe-in the house of Vasudeva (who would be the father of Krishna when the Lord appeared); sakshat-personally; bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead, who has full potency; purushah-the original person; parah-who is transcendental; janishyate-will appear; tat-priya-artham-and for His satisfaction; sambhavantu-should take birth; sura-striyah-all the wives of the demigods.

"The Original Supreme Personality of Godhead, Shri Krishna, who has full potency, will personally appear as the son of Vasudeva. Therefore all the wives of the demigods should also appear in order to satisfy Him."*

Text 5

"paurushim purushena shrijami tan-niyukto 'ham ity ady anusarat purushabhinnena vishnu-rupena kshirodashayina svayam evoktam gam vacam. purushasyaiva vacam anuvadati. puraiveti.

paurushim-the word "paurushim"; purushena-means "by the purusha-avatara; shrijami tat-niyuktah aham iti adi-the following verse from Shrimad-Bhagavatam (2.6.32)- shrijami tan-niyukto 'ham haro harati tad-vashah vishvam purusha-rupena paripati tri-shakti-dhrik; anusarat-from this; purusha-from the Purusha-avatara; abhinnena-non-different; vishnu-rupena-in the form of Lord Vishnu; kshirodashayina-resting on the Causal Ocean; svayam-personally; eva-certainly; uktam-spoken; gam vacam-the word (instruction); purushasya-of the purusha-avatara; eva-certainly; vacam-statement; anuvadati-repeats; pura iti-beginning with the word "pura".

In this verse (Text 2) the word "paurushim" means "by the purusha-avatara". In the passage beginning with the word "pura" (Texts 3 and 4) Brahma repeats the message originally spoken by the purusha-avatara. That Shri Krishna appears as the purusha-avatara Lord Vishnu is confirmed in the following statement of Lord Brahma (Bhag. 2.6.32):

"By Krishna's will, I create, and Lord Shiva destroys. Krishna Himself, in His eternal form as the purusha-incarnation maintains everything. He is the powerful controller of these three energies."*

Text 6

pumsa adi-purushena krishnah svayam samabhavat paramah puman yah ity anusarat svayam-bhagavata shri-krishnenety arthah. amshaih shri-krishnamsha-bhutais tat-parshadaih shridama-sudama-shrimad-uddhava-satyaky-adibhih saha. ittham eva pracuryenoktam pumsa-the word "pumsa"; adi-purushena-Original Person; krishnah-Krishna; svayam-personally; samabhavat-is; paramah puman-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; yah-who; iti anusarat-from this passage; svayam-bhagavata-the Original Personality of Godhead; shri-krishnena-by Shri Krishna; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; amshaih-shri-krishna-of Shri Krishna; amsha-bhutaih-portions of the portions; tat-parshadaih-His associates; shridama-Shridhama; sudama-Sudama; shrimat-uddhava-Uddhava; satyaki-Satyaki; adibhih-and others; saha-along with; ittham-thus; pracuryena-elaborately; uktam-described.

We may note, however, that the word "pumsa" in verse 22 means "by Shri Krishna, the Original Supreme Personality of Godhead". This is confirmed in the words of Brahma-samhita (5.39): "Shri Krishna is the Original Supreme Personality of Godhead".

The word "amshaih" used in Text 3 may be understood to mean that Shridama, Sudama, Uddhava, Satyaki, and other associates of the Lord are all actually demigods, who are considered to be like the limbs of the Supreme Personality of Godhead. This is elaborately explained in the following verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.1.62-63):

Text 7

nandadya ye vraje gopa yash camisham ca yoshitah vrishnayo vasudevadya devaky-adya yadu-striyah sarve vai devata-praya ubhayor api bharata

jnatayo bandhu-suhrido ye ca kamsam anuvratah

nanda-adyah-beginning from Nanda Maharaja; ye-all of which persons; vraje-in Vrindavana; gopah-the cowherd men; yah-which; ca-and; amisham-of all those (inhabitants of Vrindavana); ca-as well; as; yoshitah-the women; vrishnayah-members of the Vrishni family; vasudeva-adyah-headed by Vasudeva; devaki-adyah-headed by Devaki; yadu-striyah-all the women of the Yadu dynasty; sarve-all of them; vai-indeed; devata-prayah-were inhabitants of heaven; ubhayor-of both Nanda Maharaja and Vasudeva; api-indeed; bharata-O Maharaja Parikshit; jnatayah-the relatives; bandhu-friends; suhridah-well-wishers; ye-all of whom; ca-and; kamsam anuvratah-even though apparently followers of Kamsa.

"The inhabitants of Vrindavana, headed by Nanda Maharaja and including his associate cowherd men and their wives, were none but denizens of the heavenly planets, O Maharaja Parikshit, best of the descendants of Bharata, and so too were the descendants of the Vrishni dynasty, headed by Vasudeva, and Devaki and the other women of the dynasty of Yadu. The friends, relatives and well-wishers of both Nanda Maharaja and Vasudeva and even those who externally appeared to be followers of Kamsa were all demigods."*

Text 8

adi-purushatvam eva vyanakti sa iti, sarvantaryamitvat. purushah tavad ishvarah, tasyapy amshitvat sa adi-purushah shri-krishnah punah ishvareshvarah, tryadhisha-shabdat. tatha ca dashamasya pancashititama eva shrimad-anakadundubhinoktam adi-purushatvam-the position as the Original Supreme Personality of Godhead; eva-certainly; vyanakti-reveals; sah iti-in the passage beginning with the word "sah (Chapter 85 of the Tenth Canto of Shrimad-Bhagavatam); sarva-antaryamitvat-because of being the all-pervading Supersoul; purushah-Supreme Lord; tavat-to that extent; ishvarah-controller; tasya-of Him; api-also; amshitvat-because of being the origin of all expansions; sah-He; adi-purushah-the Original Personality of Godhead; shri-krishnah-Shri Krishna; punah-again; ishvara-ishvarah-the controller of all controllers; tri-adhisha-shabdat-from the word "tryadhisha (master of the three planetary systems)"; tatha-in the same way; ca-also; dashamasya-of the Tenth Canto; pancasititame-in the 85th Chapter; eva-certainly; shrimat-anakadundubhina-by Vasudeva; uktam-spoken.

In the 85th Chapter of the Tenth Canto of Shrimad-Bhagavatam, Shri Krishna is described as the all-pervading Supersoul. He is addressed as "purusha" and "tryadhisha" which indicate that He is the Personality of Godhead, and He is also addressed as "ishvareshvara" which indicates that He is the original source of all incarnations of Godhead. This is summarized in the following statement of Maharaja Vasudeva (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.85.18):

Text 9

yuvam na nah sutau sakshat pradhana-purusheshvarau. iti yuvam na nah sutau sakshat pradhana purusheshvarau iti-the verse "yuvam na nah sutau sakshat pradhana-purusheshvarau bhu-bhara- kshatra-kshapana avatir nau tathattha ha.

"My dear Krishna and Balarama, I know that neither of You are my sons; You are the original chief and progenitor, the Original Personalities of Godhead, known as Pradhana and Purusha. But You have appeared on the surface of this globe in order to minimize the burden of the world by killing the kshatriya kings who are unnecessarily increasing their military strength."*

Text 10

sva-kala-shaktya sva-shaktya kala-shaktya ca; ishvareshvaratve ca hetuh sakshat svayam eva bhagavan iti. tad alam mayi tat-prarthanayeti bhavah.

sva-kala-shaktya-the phrase"sv-kala-shaktya"; sva-shaktya-His own potency; kala-shaktya-the time-potency; ca-also; ishvara-ishvaratve-in the state of being the supreme controller; ca-also; hetuh-the reason; sakshat-the word "sakshat"; svayam-directly; bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; iti-thus; tat-therefore; alam-there is no need; mayi-to me; tat-prarthanaya-for this appeal; bhavah-the meaning.

In the quote from Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.1.22) found in Anuccheda 43, the word "sva-kala-shaktya" means "by His own potency the time-factor". In that same verse the word "ishvareshvarah" means "the Original Personality of Godhead." By repeating the Supreme Lord's instructions in these verses, Brahma intends to say to the demigods: "There is no need to make any further request in this matter, because the Personality of Godhead will solve the difficulty."

Text 11

tat-priyartham tat-prityai; sura-striyah shrimad-upendra-preyasya-adi-rupah kashcit sambhavantu milita bhavantu, sakshad avataratah shri-bhagavato nityanapayi-maha-shakti-rupas tat-preyasishv apy avatarantishu shri-bhagavati tad-amshantaravat ta api pravishantv ity arthah. tat-priyanam tasam eva dasyadi-prayojanaya jayantam iti va.

tat-priyartham-the word "tat-priyartham"; tat-prityai-for His satisfaction; sura-striyah-the word "sura-striyah"; shrimat-upendra-preyasi-adi-rupah-The consorts of the Supreme Lord's various incarnations, such as the incarnation of Upendra; kashcit-some; sambhavantu-the word "sambhavantu"; militah-assembled; bhavantu-should be; sakshat-directly; avataratah-incarnating; shri-bhagavatah-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; nitya-eternal; anapayi-consort; maha-great; shakti-potencies; rupasu-in the forms of; tat-preyasishu-His consorts; api-also; avatarantishu-incarnating; shri-bhagavati-when the Supreme Lord; tat-amsha-antara-vat-just as His plenary portions; tah-they; api-also; pravishantu-should enter; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; tat-priyanam tasam-of the Lord's consorts; eva-certainly; dasya-adi-of various services; prayojanaya-for the purpose; jayantam-should take birth; iti-thus; va-or.

The word "tat-priyartham" used in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.1.23 (quoted in Anuccheda 43) means "for the Supreme Lord's satisfaction". The word "sura-striyah" in this verse refers to the eternal consorts of the various incarnations (such as Lord Vamana and others) of the Supreme Personality of Godhead. When Lord Krishna, the Original form of the Personality of Godhead appears, then all the plenary expansions of Godhead also appear along with Him, and all the goddesses of fortune, who are the consorts of the Lord's various incarnations also appear along with Him. The word "sura-striyah" may also refer to the wives of the demigods who accompany the Supreme Lord's consorts in order to serve them in various ways.

Text 12

anena tair aprarthitasyapy asyarthasyadeshena parama-bhaktabhis tabhir lila-vishesha eva bhagavatah svayam avatirshayam karanam. bharavataranam tv anushangikam eva bhavishyatiti vyajitam.

anena-by this; tair-by them; aprarthitasya-not requested; api-although; asya-of Him; arthasya-of the purpose; adeshena-by the order; parama-bhaktabhih-great devotees; tabhih-with them; lila-visheshah-a specific pastime; eva-certainly; bhagavatah-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; svayam-personally; avatirshayam-in the desire to descend to the material world; karanam-the cause; bhara-the burden of the earth; avataranam-removal; tu-also; anusangikam-in connection; eva-certainly; bhavishyati-will be; iti-thus; vyajitam-manifested.

The actual reason for the Supreme Lord's appearance in this world is not the reason expressed by the demigods in their prayers. The Lord actually appeared to perform certain specific pastimes with His great devotees, the gopis, and His activity of rescuing the earth from the burden of so many demonic kings was merely incidental to that primary reason for His descent.

Text 13

tad evam shrutinam ca dandakaranya-vasi-muninam cagni-putranam shri-gopikaditva-praptir yat shruyate, tad api purvavad eva mantavyam iti.

tat-that; evam-in the same way; shrutinam-of the Personified Vedas; ca-and; dandakaranya-vasi-residing in the Dandakaranya forest; muninam-of the sages; ca-and; agni-of Agni; putranam-of the sons; shri-gopikatva-the state of beingn gopis in Vrindavana; praptih-attainment; yat-which; shruyate-is heard; tat-that; api-also; purvavat-as before; eva-certainly; mantavyam-should be considered; iti-thus.

The Personified Vedas, the sages residing at Dandakaranya, and the sons of the demigod Agni, all became gopis in Vrindavana.

Text 14

atra prasiddharthe

nayam shriyo 'nga u nitanta-rateh prasadah svar-yoshitam nalina-gandha-rucam kuto 'nyah iti virudhyeta.

atra-in this matter; prasiddha-perfect; arthe-in the meaning; na-not; ayam-this; shriyah-of the goddess of fortune; ange-on the chest; u-also; nitanta-rateh-who is very intimately related; prasadah-the favor; svah-of the heavenly planets; yoshitam-of women; nalina-of the lotus flower; gandha-having the aroma; rucam-and bodily luster; kutah-much less; anyah-others; iti-thus; virudhyeta-praised.

The actual meaning of this phrase (sura-striyah) is explained in the following verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.47.60) which describes the exalted position of the gopis in Vrindavana:

"When Lord Krishna was dancing with the gopis in the rasa-lila, the gopis were embraced by the arms of the Lord. This transcendental favor was never bestowed upon the goddess of fortune or the other consorts in the spiritual world. Indeed, never was such a thing imagined by the most beautiful girls in the heavenly planets whose bodily luster and aroma resemble the lotus flower. And what to speak of worldly women who are very beautiful according to the material estimation."*

Text 15

na ca sura-strinam sambhava-vakyam shri-mahishi-vrinda-param tasam api tan nija-shakti-rupatvena darshayishyamanatvat. shri-shukah.

na-not; ca-also; sura-strinam-the women of the heavenly planets; sambhava-vakyam-description; shri-mahishi-vrinda-than the goddesses of fortune; param-superior; tasam-of them; api-also; tat-His; nija-own; shakti-potency; rupatvena-in the form; darshayishyamanatvat-because of revealing; shri-shukah-spoken by Shri Shukadeva Gosvami.

We may therefore understand that the phrase "sura-striyah" refers neither to the wives of the demigods, nor the goddesses of fortune, nor the queens of Dvaraka, but to the gopis, who are the internal potencies of Lord Krishna.

Anuccheda 44

Text 1

tad evam avatara-prasange 'pi shri-krishnasya svayam bhagavattvam evayatam. yasmad evam tasmad eva shri-bhagavate maha-srotri-vaktrinam api shri-krishna eva tatparyam lakshyate. atra shri-vidurasya tat-that; evam-in this way; avatara-prasange-in the context of the incarnations of Godhead; api-also; shri-krishnasya-of Shri Krishna; svayam bhagavattvam-the position as the Original Personality of Godhead;

eva-certainly; ayatam-is attained; yasmāt-because; evam-in this way; tasmāt-therefore; eva-certainly; śrī-bhagavate-in the Śrīmad-Bhagavatam; maha-great; śrotri-of hearers; vaktrīnam-and or speakers; api-also; śrī-krishna; tatparyam-explanation; lakṣhyate-is observed; atra-in this connection; śrī-vidurasya-the statement of Śrī Vidura (Śrīmad-Bhagavatam 4.17.6-7).

Because Śrī Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead, the source of all incarnations, His glories are heard and described throughout the Śrīmad-Bhagavatam. This is described in the following statement of Śrī Vidura (Śrīmad-Bhagavatam 4.17.6-7):

Text 2

yac canyad api kṛṣṇasya bhavan bhagavataḥ prabhoh śhravah sushravasah punyam purva-deha-kathashrayam bhaktaya me 'nuraktaya tava cadhokṣhajasya ca vaktum arhasi yo 'duhyad vainya-rupena gam imam

purva-dehah prithv-avatara; loka-drishōabhivyakti-ritya purvatvam, tat-kathaivashrayo yasya tat. vidurah.

yat-which; ca-and; anyat-other; api-certainly; kṛṣṇasya-of Krishna; bhavan-your good self; bhagavataḥ-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; prabhoh-powerful; śhravah-glorious activities; su-śhravasah-who is very pleasing to hear about; punyam-pious; purva-deha-of His previous incarnation; katha-ashrayam-connected with the narration; bhaktaya-unto the devotee; me-to me; anurak-taya-very much attentive; tava-of you; ca-and; adhokṣhajasya-of the Lord, who is known as Adhokṣhaja; ca-also; vaktum arhasi-please narrate; yah-one who; aduhyat-milked; vainya-rupena-in the form of the son of King Vena; gam-cow, earth; imam-this; purva-dehah-the word "purva-dehah"; prithu-of King Prithu; avataḥ-incarnation; loka-by the people; drishōa-seen; abhivyakti-ritya-by the description of His appearance; purvatvam-former; tat-of Him; katha-description; eva-certainly; ashrayah-shelter; yasya-of whom; tat-that; vidurah-spoken by Vidura.

"Prithu Maharaja was a powerful incarnation of Lord Krishna's potencies; consequently any narration concerning his activities is surely very pleasing to hear, and it produces all good fortune. As far as I am concerned, I am always your devotee as well as a devotee of the Lord, who is known as Adhokṣhaja. Please therefore narrate all the stories of King Prithu, who, in the form of the son of King Vena, milked the cow-shaped earth."*

In this verse the word "purva-deha" refers to the incarnation of Prithu Maharaja. The word "purva" means that He was previously seen by the people of the world. This verse is spoken by Vidura, who here takes shelter of the description of Prithu Maharaja.

Anuccheda 45

Text 1

atha shri-maitreyasya tad anantaram eva codito vidurenaivam vasudeva-katham prati prashasya tam prita-mana maitreyah pratyabhashata

atha-then; shri-maitreyasya-of Shri Maitreya; tat-anantaram-after tht; eva-certainly; coditah-inspired vidurena-by Vidura; evam-thus; vasudeva-of Lord Krishna; katham-narration; prati-about; prashasya-praising; tam-him; prita-manah-being very pleased; maitreyah-the siant Maitreya; pratyabhashata-replied.

This is also confirmed by the following verse from Shrimad-Bhagavatam (4.17.8) describing a conversation between Maitreya and Vidura:

"When Vidura became inspired to hear of the activities of Lord Krishna in His various incarnations, Maitreya, also being inspired and being very pleased with Vidura, began to praise him. Then Maitreya spoke as follows."*

Text 2

tat-prashamsaya prita-manastvena casyapi tathaiva tatparyam labhyate. ata evatra shri-vasudeva-nandanatvenaiva vasudeva-shabdah prayuktah shri-sutah.

tat-Him; prashamsaya-by praise; prita-pleased; manastvena-with the mind; ca-also; asya-of Him; api-even; tatha-in the same way; eva-certainly; tatparyam-meaning; labhyate-is attained; atah eva-therefore; atra-in this connection; shri-vasudeva-of Maharaja Vasudeva; nandanatvena-because of being the son; vasudeva-shabdah-the name "Vasudeva"; prayuktah-proper; shri-sutah-spoken by Suta Gosvami.

In connection with this verse we may note that by hearing the glorification of the Supreme Lord, Maitreya Muni became pleased at heart. We may also observe that Lord Krishna is known by the name Vasudeva because He is the son of Maharaja Vasudeva.

Anuccheda 46

Text 1

atha shri-parikshitah

atho vihayemam amum ca lokam vimarshitau heyataya purastat krishnanghri-sevam adhimanyamana upavishat prayam amartya-nadyam atha-now; shri-parikshitah-of King Parikshit; atho-thus; vihaya-giving up; imam-this; amum-and the next; ca-also; lokam-planets; vimarshitau-all of them being judged; heyataya-because of inferiority; purastat-hereinbefore; krishna-anghri-the lotus feet of the Lord, Shri Krishna; sevam-transcendental loving service; adhimanyamanah-one who thinks of the greatest of all achievements; upavishat-sat down firmly; prayam-for fasting; amartya-nadyam-on the bank of the transcendental river (the Ganges or the Yamuna).

That Shri Krishna is described throughout Shrimad-Bhagavatam is confirmed in the following statement about King Parikshit (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.19.5):

"Maharaja Parikshit sat down firmly on the banks of the Ganges to concentrate his mind in Krishna consciousness, rejecting all other practices of self-realization, because transcendental loving service to Krishna is the greatest achievement, superseding all other methods."*

Text 2

öika ca shri-krishnanghri-sevam adhimanyamanah sarva-purusharthadhikam janan. ity esha. shri-sutah.

öika-Shridhara Svami's commentary; ca-also; shri-krishnanghri-sevam abhimanyamanah-the phrase "shri-krishnanghri-sevam adhimanyamanah"; sarva-purusha-artha-adhikam-the greatest achievement; janana-understanding; iti-thus; esha-the commentary; shri-sutah-spoken by Suta Gosvami.

Shridhara Svami comments in the following way:

"The phrase `shri-krishnanghri-sevam adhimanyamanah' indicates that Maharaja Parikshit understood that service to Lord Krishna's lotus feet is the real goal of life."

Anuccheda 47

Text 1

na va idam rajarshi-varya citram bhavatsu krishnam samanuvrateshu ye 'dhyasanam raja-kiriöa-jushöam sadyo jahur bhagavat-parshva-kamah na-neither; va-like this; idam-this; rajarshi-saintly king; varya-the chief; citram-astonishing; bhavatsu-onto all of you; krishnam-Lord Krishna; samanuvrateshu-onto those who are strictly in the line of; ye-who; adhyasanam-seated on the throne; raja-kiriöa-helmets of kings; jushöam-decorated; sadyah-immediately; jahuh-gave up; bhagavat-the Personality of Godhead; parshva-kamah-desiring to achieve association.

That Shri Krishna is the subject of the entire Bhagavatam is also confirmed in the following verse spoken by the sages of Naimisharanya to King Parikshit (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.19.20):

"O chief of all the saintly kings of the Pandu dynasty who are strictly in the line of Lord Shri Krishna! It is not at all astonishing that you give up your throne, which is decorated with the helmets of many kings, to achieve eternal association with the Personality of Godhead."*

Text 2

bhavatsu pandor vamsheshu ye jahuh iti shri-yudhishöhira-abhiprayena. ata eva tatra sthitanam sarva-shrotrinam api shri-krishnam eva tatparyam ayati. shri-maharshayah shri-parikshitam.

bhavatsu-the word "bhavatsu"; pandor-of Maharaja Pandu; vamsheshu-in the dynasty; ye jahuh-the phrase "ye jahuh"; iti-thus; shri-yudhishöhira-Maharaja Yudhishöhira; adi-and others; abhiprayena-with the intention; atah eva-therefore; tatra-there; sthitanam-staying; sarva-of all; shrotrinam-the speakers; api-also; shri-krishnam-Shri Krishna; eva-certainly; tatparyam-meaning; ayati-attain; shri-maharshayah-spoken by the great sages; shri-parikshitam-to Maharaja Parikshit.

In this verse the word "bhavatsu" refers to the kings in the Pandu dynasty, and the phrase "ye jahuh" refers to Maharaja Yudhishöhira and other great devotees of the Lord. By speaking this verse the great sages explained the truth about Lord Krishna to Maharaja Parikshit.

Anuccheda 48

Text 1

api me bhagavan pritah
krishnah pandu-suta-priyah paitri-shvaseya-prity-artham tad-gotrasyatta-bandhavah

api-definitely; me-unto me; bhagavan-the Personality of Godhead; pritah-pleased; krishnah-the Lord; pandu-suta-the sons of King Pandu; priyah-dear; paitri-in relation with the father; svaseya-the sons of the sister; priti-satisfaction; artham-in the matter of; tat-their; gotrasya-of the descendant; atta-accepted; bandhavah-as a friend.

In this connection King Parikshit spoke the following words to Shukadeva Gosvami (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.19.35-36):

"Lord Krishna, the Personality of Godhead, who is very dear to the sons of King Pandu, has accepted me as one of those relatives just to please His great cousins and brothers.*

Text 2

anyatha te 'vyakta-gater
darshanam nah katham nrinam nitaram mriyamananam
samsiddhasya vaniyasah

anyatha-otherwise; te-your; avyakta-gateh-of one whose movements are invisible; darshanam-meeting; nah-for us; katham-how; nrinam-of the people; nitaram-specifically; mriyamananam-of those who are about to die; samsiddhasya-of one who is all-perfect; vaniyasah-voluntary appearance.

"Otherwise [without being inspired by Lord Krishna] how is it that you have voluntarily appeared here, though you are moving incognito to the common man and are not visible to us who are on the verge of death?"*

Text 3

tesham paitri-svashriyanam pandu-sutanam gotrasya me attam svi-kritam bandhavam bandhu-kriya yena. te tava shri-krishnaika-rasikasya. vaniyaso 'ty-udarataya mam yacotha iti pravarttakasyety arthah. raja shri-shukam.

tesham-of them; paitri-svashriyanam-of cousins; pandu-sutanam-of the sons of Pandu; gotrasya-of the family; me-my; attam-the word "attam"; svi-kritam-means "accepted"; bandhavam-family relation; bandhu-kriya-making a family relation; yena-by whom; te-the word "te"; tava-means "Your"; shri-krishna-Shri Krishna; eka-rasikasya-always relishing Godhead; vaniyasah-the word "vaniyasah"; ati-udarataya-with great magnanimity; mam-me; yacothah-please ask; iti-thus; pravarttakasya-urging; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; raja-spoken by Maharaja Parikshit; shri-shukam-to Shukadeva Gosvami.

This verse explains that Lord Krishna became the paternal cousin of the Pandavas. The word "te" (Your) in this verse refers to Shukadeva Gosvami, who is always relishing the nectar of Krishna consciousness. The word "vaniyasah indicates that Shukadeva Gosvami is very generously inviting Maharaja Parikshit to ask questions about Krishna consciousness.

Anuccheda 49

Text 1

sa vai bhagavato raja pandaveyo maha-rathah
bala-kridanakaih kridan krishna-kriidam ya adade sah-he; vai-certainly; bhagavatah-a great devotee of the Lord; raja-Maharaja Parikshit; pandaveyah-grandson of the Pandavas; maha-rathah-a great fighter; bala-while a child; kridanakaih-with play dolls; kridan-playing; krishna-Lord Krishna; kridam-activities; yah-who; adade-accepted.

Maharaja Parikshit is described in this verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 2.3.15):

"Maharaja Parikshit, the grandson of the Pandavas, was from his very childhood a great devotee of the Lord. Even while playing with dolls, he used to worship Lord Krishna by imitating the worship of the family Deity."*

Text 2

ya ya shri-krishnasya vrindavanadau bala-krida shrutasti, tat-premaveshena tat-sakhyadi-bhavanan tam tam eva kridam yah kritavan ity arthah. shri-shaunakah.

ya ya-whatever; shri-krishnasya-of Shri Krishna; vrindavana-adau-in Vrindavana and other places; bala-krida-childhood pastimes; shruta asti-were heard; tat-for Lord Krishna; prema-aveshena-full of love; tat-of Him; sakhya-friendship; adi-beginning with; bhavanan-meditations; tam tam-them; eva-certainly; kridam-playing; yah-who; kritavan-performed; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; shri-shaunakah-spoken by Shri Shaunaka Rishi.

In this verse Shaunaka Rishi explains that as a child Maharaja Parikshit would hear the descriptions of Lord Krishna's youthful pastimes in Vrindavana and other places. Prince Parikshit would constantly meditate upon Lord Krishna, who accepts various roles in relationship with His devotees, becoming their friend, or accepting other roles in relation with them, and in this mood, full of love for Lord Krishna, Prince Parikshit would act out the Lord's pastimes as his childhood play.

Anuccheda 50

Text 1

evam-jatiyani bahuny eva vacanani virajante. tatha kathito vamsha-vistarah ity arabhya naishati-duhsaha kshun mam ity antam dashama-skandha-prakaranam apy anusandheyam. kim ca evam-jatiyani-in the same way; bahuni-many; eva-certainly; vacanani-statements; virajante-are; tatha-in the same way; kathitah vamsha-vistarah iti arabhya na esha ati-duhsaha kshut mam iti antam dashama-skandha-prakaranam-the following passage from Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.1.1-13):

kathito vamsha-vistaro bhavata soma-suryayoh rajnam cobhaya-vamshyanam caritam paramadbhutam

yadosh ca dharma-shilasya nitaram muni-sattama tatramshenavatirnasya vishnor viryani shamsa nah avatirya yador vamshe bhagavan bhuta-bhavanah kritavan yani vishvatma tani no vada vistarat nivritta-tarshair upagiyamanad bhavaushadhac chrotra-mano-'bhiramam ka uttamashloka-gunanuvadat puman virajyeta vina pashughnat pitamaha me samare 'maranjayair devavratadyatirathais timingilaih duratyayam kaurava-sainya-sagaram kritvataran vatsa-padam sma yat-plavah drauny-astra-viplushöam idam mad-angam santana-bijam kuru-pandavanam jugopa kukshim gata atta-cakro matush ca me yah sharanam gatayah viryani tasyakhila-deha-bhajam antar bahih purusha-kala-rupaih prayacchato mrityum utamritam ca maya-manushyasya vadasva vidvan rohinyas tanayah prokto ramah sankarshanas tvaya devakya garbha-sambandhah kuto dehantaram vina

kasman mukundo bhagavan pitur gehad vrajam gatah kva vasam jnatibhih sardham kritavan satvatam patih vraje vasan kim akaron madhupuryam ca keshavah bhrataram cavadhrit kamsam matur addhatad-arhanam

deham manusham ashritya kati varshani vrishnibhih yadu-puryam sahavatsit patnyah katy abhavan prabhoh etad anyac ca sarvam me mune krishna-viceshötam vaktum arhasi sarvajna shraddadhanaya vistritam naishatidusaha kshun mam tyaktodam api badhate pibantam tvan-mukhambhoja-cyutam hari-kathamritam.

Many statements of Shrimad-Bhagavatam may be quoted to describe the glories of Maharaja Parikshit, and the following questions spoken by Maharaja Parikshit himself at the beginning of Shrimad-Bhagavatam's Tenth Canto (10.1.1-13) may be quoted to show the greatness of his devotion to Lord Krishna:

"King Parikshit said: My dear Lord, you have elaborately described the dynasties of both the moon-god and the sun-god, with the exalted and wonderful character of their kings.*

"O best of munis, you have also described the descendants of Yadu, who were very pious and strictly adherent to religious principles. Now, if you will, kindly describe the wonderful, glorious activities of Lord Vishnu, or Krishna, who appeared in that Yadu dynasty with Baladeva, His plenary expansion.*

"The Supersoul, the Supreme Personality of Godhead, Shri Krishna, the cause of the cosmic manifestation, appeared in the dynasty of Yadu. Please tell me elaborately about His glorious activities and character, from the beginning to the end of His life.*

"Glorification of the Supreme Personality of Godhead is performed in the parampara system; that is, it is conveyed from spiritual master to disciple. Such glorification is relished by those no longer interested in the false, temporary glorification of this cosmic manifestation. Descriptions of the Lord are the right medicine for the conditioned soul undergoing repeated birth and death. Therefore, who will cease hearing such glorification of the Lord except a butcher or one who is killing his own self?*

"Taking the boat of Krishna's lotus feet, my grandfather Arjuna and others crossed the ocean of the Battlefield of Kurukshetra, in which such commanders as Bhishmadeva resembled great fish that could very easily have swallowed them. By the mercy of Lord Krishna, my grandfathers crossed this ocean, which was very difficult to cross, as easily as one steps over the hoofprint of a calf. Because my mother surrendered unto Lord Krishna's lotus feet, the Lord, Sudarshana-cakra in hand, entered her womb and saved my body, the body of the last remaining descendant of the Kurus and the Pandavas, which was almost destroyed by the fiery weapon of Ashvatthama. Lord Shri Krishna, appearing within and outside of all materially embodied living beings by His own potency in the forms of eternal time—that is, as Paramatma and as viraö-rupa—gave liberation to everyone, either as cruel death or as life. Kindly enlighten me by describing His transcendental characteristics.*

"My dear Shukadeva Gosvami, you have already explained that Sankarshana, who belongs to the second quadruple, appeared as the son of Rohini named Balarama. If Balarama was not transferred from one body to another, how is it possible that He was first in the womb of Devaki and then in the womb of Rohini? Kindly explain this to me.*

"Why did Krishna, the Supreme Personality of Godhead, leave the house of His father, Vasudeva, and transfer Himself to the house of Nanda in Vrindavana? Where did the Lord, the master of the Yadu dynasty, live with His relatives in Vrindavana?*

"Lord Krishna lived both in Vrindavana and in Mathura. What did He do there? Why did He kill Kamsa, His mother's brother? Such killing is not at all sanctioned in the shastras.*

"Krishna, the Supreme Personality of Godhead, has no material body, yet He appears as a human being. For how many years did He live with the descendants of Vrishni? How many wives did He marry, and for how many years did He live in Dvaraka?*

"O great sage, who know everything about Krishna, please describe in detail all the activities of which I have inquired and also those of which I have not, for I have full faith and am very eager to hear of them.*

"Because of my vow on the verge of death, I have given up even drinking water, yet because I am drinking the nectar of topics about Krishna, which is flowing from the lotus mouth of Your Lordship, my hunger and thirst, which are extremely difficult to bear, cannot hinder me."*

Text 2

ittham dvija yadavadeva-dattah ity adi. yena shravanena nitaram grihitam vashi-kritam ceto yasya sah. shri-sutah.

ittham divja yadavadeva-dattah ity adi-the verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.12.40):

ittham dvija yadavadeva-dattah shrutva sva-ratush caritam vicitram papraccha bhuyo 'pi tad eva punyam vaiyasakim yan nigrihita-cetah; yena-by which; shravanena-by hearing; nitaram-constantly; grihitam-accepted; vashi-kritam-enchanted; cetah-mind; yasya-of whom; sah-he; shri-sutah-spoken by Suta Gosvami.

Maharaja Parikshit became intently attracted to hearing the glories of Lord Krishna. This is described in the following verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.12.40):

"Shri Suta Gosvami said: O learned saints, the childhood pastimes of Shri Krishna are very wonderful. Maharaja Parikshit, after hearing about those pastimes of Krishna, who had saved him in the womb of his mother, became steady in his mind and again inquired from Shukadeva Gosvami to hear about those pious activities."*

Anuccheda 51

Text 1

tatha yena yenavatarena ity adi; yac-chrinvato 'paity aratih ity adi ca.

tatha-in the same way; yena yena avatarena iti adi yat-shrinvatah apaiti aratih iti adi ca-in the following verses from Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.7.1-2):

yena yenavatarena
bhagavan harir ishvarah karoti karna-ramyani
mano-jnani ca nah prabho yac-chrinvato 'paity aratir vitrishna sattvam ca shuddhyaty acirena pumsah bhaktir harau tat-purushe ca sakhyam tad eva haram vada manyase cet.

This is also described in the following passage from Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.7.1-2):

"King Parikshit said: My lord, Shukadeva Gosvami, all the various activities exhibited by the incarnations of the Supreme Personality of Godhead are certainly pleasing to the ear and to the mind. Simply by one's hearing of these activities, the dirty things in one's mind immediately vanish. Generally we are reluctant to hear about the activities of the Lord, but Krishna's childhood activities are so attractive that they are automatically pleasing to the mind and ear. Thus one's attachment for hearing about material things, which is the root cause of material existence, vanishes, and one gradually develops devotional service to the Supreme Lord, attachment for Him, and friendship with devotees who give us the contribution of Krishna consciousness. If you think it fit, kindly speak about those activities of the Lord."*

Text 2

öika ca

krishnarbhaka-sudha-sindhu-samplavananda-nirbharah bhuyas tad eva samprashöum rajayad abhinandati.

öika-Shridhara Svami's commentary; ca-also; krishna-Shri Krishna; arbhaka-child; sudha-of nectar; sindhu-in the ocean; samplava-inundation; ananda-bliss; nirbharah-great; bhuyah-again; tat-that; eva-certainly; samprashöum-to ask; raja-the King; anyat-another; abhinandati-greeted.

Shridhara Svami explains this verse in the following way:

"By hearing the childhood pastimes of Shri Krishna, Maharaja Parikshit felt as if he were inundated by a great nectarean ocean of transcendental bliss. In this condition he again questioned Shukadeva Gosvami by speaking these verses.

Text 3

yena yena matsyady-avatarenapi yani yani karmani karoti, tani nah karna-sukhavahani manah-priti-karani ca bhavanty eva. tathapi yac-chrinvatah pumsah pum-matrasya aratih mano-glanis tan-mula-bhuta-vividha trishna capagacchati, tatha sattva-shuddhi-hari-bhakti-hari-dasya-sakhyani ca bhavanti acirenaiva tadeva haram hareh caritram manoharam va vada, anugraham yadi karoshiity esha. raja.

yena yena-the words "yena yena"; matsya-with Matsya; adi-beginning; avatarena-by incarnation; api-even; yani yani-whatever; karmani-activities; karoti-performs; tani-they; nah-of us; karna-to the ears; sukha-happiness; avahahi-carrying; manah-of the mind; priti-delight; karani-causing; ca-and; bhavanti-are; eva-certainly; tatha api-nevertheless; yat-shrinvatah-of one who simply hears these narrations of the Lord; pumsah-of the word "pumsah"; pum-matrasya-of any person; aratih-the word "aratih"; manah-of the mind; glanih-disinterest; tat-of that; mula-at the root; bhuta-born; vividha-various; trishna-thirst; ca-also; apagacchati-goes away; tatha-in the same way; sattva-of existence; shuddhi-purification; hari-of Lord Hari; bhakti-devotion; hari-to Lord Hari; dasya-service; sakhyani-friendship; ca-also; bhavanti-are; acirena eva tat eva haram-the phrase acirena eva tat eva haram; hareh-of Lord Hari; caritram-pastimes; manoharam-enchanted to the mind; va-or; vada-please speak; anugraham-mercy; yadi-if; karoshi-you would perform; iti-thus; esha-the commentary; raja-spoken by Maharaja Parikshit.

"The phrase `yena yena' means `by Lord Matsya and the other incarnations of the Supreme Personality of Godhead'. The word `karoti' refers to the Lord's activities, which are described as bringing joy to the ears and the mind. The phrase `yac-chrinvatah' means `anyone who hears the narration of the Lord's pastimes', and the word "aratih" means `the dirty things within one's mind immediately vanish, and one becomes gradually purified, develops devotional service for the Supreme Lord, attachment for Him, and friendship with devotees.' The phrase `acirenaiva tad eva haram vada' means `If you think it fit, kindly speak about these beautiful pastimes of the Lord'".

Anuccheda 52

Text 1

atha shri-shukadevasya api me bhagavan pritah krishnah pandu-suta-priyah ity adina shri-krishna eva svaratim vyajya mriyamananam srotavyadi-prashnenaivanta-kale shri-krishna eva mayy apy upadishyatam iti rajabhiprayanantaram.

atha-now; shri-shukadevasya-of Shri Shukadeva Gosvami; api me bhagavan pritah krishnah pandu-suta-priyah iti adina-the passage beginning with Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.19.35; shri-krishnah-Shri Krishna; eva-certainly; sva-own; ratim-attraction; vyajya-manifesting; mriyamananam shrotavyadi-prashnena-by the question in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 2.1. ; anta-kale-at the time of death; mayi-to me; api-also; upadishyatam-should instruct; iti-thus; raja-abhipraya-anantaram-the intention of Maharaja Parikshit. (The verses referred to in this passage follow (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.19.35-38):

api me bhagavan pritah
krishnah pandu-suta-priyah patri-shvaseya-prity-artham
tad-gotrasyatta-bandhavah

anyatha te 'vyakta-gater
darshanam nah katham nrinam
nitaram mriyamananam
samsiddhasya vaniyasah

atah pricchami samsiddhim yoginam paramam gurum purushasyeha yat karyam mriyamanasya sarvatha

yac chrotavyam atho japyam yat kartavyam nribhih prabho smartavyam bhajaniyam va bruhi yadva viparyayam.

Maharaja Parikshit was intently attracted to hearing the glories of Lord Krishna and he wanted to hear about the Lord up until the time of his death. This is described in his words to Sukadeva Gosvami (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.9.35-38):

"Lord Krishna, the Personality of Godhead, who is very dear to the sons of King Pandu, has accepted me as one of those relatives just to please His great cousins and brothers.*

"Otherwise [without being inspired by Lord Krishna] how is it that you have voluntarily appeared here, though you are moving incognito to the common man and are not visible to us who are on the verge of death?*

"You are the spiritual master of great saints and devotees. I am therefore begging you to show the way of perfection for all persons, and especially for one who is about to die.*

"Please let me know what a man should hear, chant, remember and worship, and also what he should not do. Please explain all this to me."*

Text 2

variyan esha te prashnah krito loka-hitam nripa atmavit-sammatah pumsam shrotavyadishu yah parah

shri-shukah uvaca-Shri Shukadeva Gosvami said; variyan-glorious; eshah-this; te-your; prashnah-question; kritah-made by you; loka-hitam-beneficial for all men; nripa-O King; atmavit-transcendentalist; sammatah-approved; pumsam-of all men; shrotavya-adishu-in all kinds of hearing; yah-what is; parah-the supreme.

Shukadeva Gosvami then glorified Maharaja Parikshit in the following words (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 2.1.1.):

"Shri Shukadeva Gosvami said: My dear King, your question is glorious because it is very beneficial to all kinds of people. The answer to this question is the prime subject matter for hearing, and it is approved by all transcendentalists."*

Text 3

"te tvaya pumsam shrotavyadishu madhye yah parah shri-krishna-shravanabhiprayena paramah prashnah kritah. esha variyan sarvavataravatari-prashnebhyah parama-mahan, sa ca loka-hitam yatha syat tathaiva kritah. tv astu tatha-bhuta-shri-krishnaika-nirbandha-prematvat kritartha eveti bhavah. tad uktam

te-the word "te"; tvaya-means "by you"; pumsam-of all men; shrotavya-adishu-in all kinds of hearing; madhye-in the midst; yah-what is; parah-supreme; shri-krishna-about Shri Krishna; shravana-hearing; abhiprayena-with the intention; paramah-supreme; prashnah-question; kritah-made; eshah-this; variyan-glorious; sarva-all; avatara-incarnations of Godhead; avatari-the original source of all incarnations; prashnebhyah-for questions; parama-mahan-topmost; sah-that; ca-also; loka-hitam-beneficial for all men; yatha-just as; syat-may be; tatha-in the same way; eva-certainly; kritah-done; tu-also; astu-there may be; tatha-bhuta-in that way; shri-krishna-to Shri Krishna; eka-nirbandha-exclusively in relation to; prematvat-because of pure love; kritarthah-successful; eva-certainly; iti-thus; bhavah-the meaning; tat-therefore; uktam-it is said.

In this verse the word "te" means "by you", and the phrase "pumsam shrotavyadishu" means "among the varieties of subject matters sought to be heard in human society". We may note in this connection that Maharaja Parikshit asked this specific question because he was eager to hear about Lord Krishna, and he wanted to elicit a reply containing descriptions of Lord Krishna. Maharaja Parikshit's question is glorious because it asks about the Original Personality of Godhead Lord Krishna and His many incarnations, and also because it is "loka-hitam", or beneficial for all kinds of people. Because in asking this question Maharaja Parikshit was motivated by pure unalloyed love of Krishna, he became perfectly successful in attaining the actual goal of human life. This is described in the following words (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 2.4.1):

Text 4

vaiyasaker iti vacas
tattva-nishcayam atmanah

upadharya matim krishne auttareyah satim vyadhat sati vidyamaha krishne ya matis tam eva visheshena dhritavan ity arthah. etad eva vyakti-karishyati rajna sutah uvaca-Suta Gosvami said; vaiyasakeh-of Shukadeva Gosvami; iti-thus; vacah-speeches; tattva-nishcayam-that which verifies the truth; atmanah-in the self; upadharya-just having realized; matim-concentration of the mind; krishne-unto Lord Krishna; auttareyah-the son of Uttara; satim-chaste; vyadhat-applied; sati-chaste; vidyamana-being; krishne-upon Krishna; ya-which; matih-mind; tam-that; eva-certainly; visheshena-specifically; dhritavan-manifesting; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; etad-that; eva-certainly; vyakti-karishyati-will be manifested; rajna-by the king.

"Suta Gosvami said: Maharaja Parikshit, the son of Uttara, after hearing the speeches of Shukadeva Gosvami, which were all about the truth of the self, applied his concentration faithfully upon Lord Krishna."*

The words "matim satim" in this verse indicate the purity of Maharaja Parikshit. This purity was manifested in the next quotation (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 2.8.2):

Text 6

harer adbhuta-viryasya katha loka-sumangalah kathayasva mahabhaga yathaham akhilatmani krishne niveshya nihsangam manas tyakshye kalevaram. iti. shri-shukah hereh-of the Lord; adbhuta-viryasya-of the one who possesses wonderful potencies; kathah-narrations; loka-for all planets; su-mangalah-auspicious; kathayasva-please continue speaking; mahabhaga-O greatly fortunate one; yatha-as much as; aham-I; akhila-atmani-onto the Supreme Soul; krishne-unto Lord Shri Krishna; niveshya-having placed; nihsangam-being freed from material qualities; manah-mind; tyakshye-may relinquish; kalevaram-body; iti-thus; shri-shukah-Shri Shukadeva Gosvami.

"Narrations concerning the Lord, who possesses wonderful potencies, are certainly auspicious for living beings in all planets. O greatly fortunate Shukadeva Gosvami, please continue narrating Shrimad-Bhagavatam so that I can place my mind upon the Supreme Soul, Lord Krishna, and, being completely freed from material qualities, thus relinquish this body."*

Anuccheda 53

Text 1

evam eva-"kathito vamsha-vistarah ity ady-anantaram.
samyag vyavasito buddhih ity adi.

evam-in the same way; eva-certainly; kathitah vamsa-vistarah iti adi anantaram-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.1.1-13; samyak vyavasitah buddhih iti adi-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.1.15.

samyag vyavasita buddhis tava rajarshi-sattama vasudeva-kathayam te yaj jata naishöhiki ratih

A description of the Maharaja Parikshit's purity of mind may be found in the Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.1.1-13 (quoted in Anuccheda 50, Text 1) and also in the following verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.1.15):

"Shrila Shukadeva Gosvami said: O Your Majesty, best of all saintly kings, because you are greatly attracted to topics of Vasudeva, it is certain that your intelligence is firmly fixed in spiritual understanding, which is the only true goal for humanity. Because that attraction is unceasing, it is certainly sublime."*

Text 2

purvam maya nanavataradi-kathabhir abhinanditasyapi yac chri-vasudevanandanasyaiva kathayam naishöhiki sthayi-rupa ratir jata, esha buddhih tu samyak vyavasita parama-rasa-vidagdhety arthah. shri-shukah.

purvam-formerly; maya-by me; nana-various; avatara-incarnations; adi-beginning with; kathabhih-by discussions; abhinanditasya-delighted; yat-because; shri-vasudevanandanasya-of Shri Krishna, the son of Maharaja Vasudeva; eva-certainly; kathayam-in the discussion; sthayi-rupa-undeviating; ratih-attraction; jata-was manifest; esha-this; buddhih-intelligence; tu-also; samyak vyavasita-completely fixed; parama-transcendental; rasa-mellows; vidagdha-expert at relishing; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; shri-shukah-spoken by Shri Shukadeva Gosvami.

These words spoken by Shukadeva Gosvami may be paraphrased in the following way: "O Your Majesty, you are certainly pleased by hearing what I have described about the incarnations of the Lord, and you are steadily attracted to hearing the descriptions of Lord Krishna, the son of Maharaja Vasudeva. This is because you are expert at relishing the mellows of spiritual life."

Anuccheda 54

tatha

ittham dvija yadavadeva-dattah shrutva svaratush caritam vicitram ity anantaram.

ittham sma prishöah sa tu badarayanis tat-smaritananta-hritakhilendriyah kricchrat punar labdha-bahir-drishih shanaih pratyaha tam bhagavatottamottama anantah prakaöita-purnaishvarya-shri-krishnah sarvada tena smaryamane 'pi tasmin pratikshana-navyatvenaiva tat-smariteti uktam. shri-sutah.

tatha-in the same way; ittham dvijah yadavadeva-dattah shrutva svaratash caritam vicitram-iti adi anantaram-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.12.40 (which was quoted in Anuccheda 50, Text 2), and the following verses (41, 42 and 43)

brahman kalantara-kritam tat-kalinam katham bhavet yat kaumare hari-kritam jaguh paugandake 'rbhakah tad bruhi me maha-yogin param kautuhalam guro nunam etad dharer eva maya bhavati nanyatha

vayam dhanyatama loke guro 'pi kshatra-bandhavah vayam pibamo muhus tvattah punyam krishna-kathamritam;

shri-sutah uvaca-Shri Suta Gosvami said; ittham-in this way; sma-in the past; prishöah-being inquired from; sah-he; tu-indeed; badarayanih-Shukadeva Gosvami; tat-by him (Shukadeva Gosvami); smarita-ananta-as soon as Lord Krishna was remembered; hrita-lost in ecstasy; akhila-indriyah-all actions of the external senses; kricchrat-with great difficulty; punah-again; labdha-bahih-drishih-having revived his external sensory perception; shanaih-slowly; pratyaha-replied; tam-unto Maharaja Parikshit; bhagavata-uttama-uttama-O great saintly person, greatest of all devotees (Shaunaka); anantah-unlimited; prakaöita-manifested; purna-complete; aishvarya-opulence; shri-krishnah-Shri Krishna; sarvada-always; tena-by him; smaryamanah-remembered; api-also; tasmin-in that; pratikshana-at every moment; navyatvena-with fresh interest; eva-certainly; tat-of Him; smarita-remembrance; iti-thus; uktam-spoken; shri-sutah-by Shri Suta Gosvami.

With unfaltering fresh interest Maharaja Parikshit constantly meditated upon Lord Krishna, the unlimited Supreme Personality of Godhead, who is full of all opulences. This may be seen in the following words of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.12.40-44):

"Shri Suta Gosvami said: O learned saints, the childhood pastimes of Shri Krishna are very wonderful. Maharaja Parikshit, after hearing about those pastimes of Krishna, who had saved him in the womb of his mother, became steady in his mind and again inquired from Shukadeva Gosvami to hear about those pious activities.*

"Maharaja Parikshit inquired: O great sage, how could things done in the past have been described as being done at the present? Lord Shri Krishna performed this pastime of killing Aghasura during His kaumara age. How then, during His pauganda age, could the boys have described this incident as having happened recently?*

"O greatest yogi, my spiritual master, kindly describe why this happened. I am very much curious to know about it. I think that it was nothing but another illusion due to Krishna.*

"O my lord, my spiritual master, although we are the lowest of kshatriyas, we are glorified and benefited because we have the opportunity of always hearing from you the nectar of the pious activities of the Supreme Personality of Godhead.*

"Suta Gosvami said: O Shaunaka, greatest of saints and devotees, when Maharaja Parikshit inquired from Shukadeva Gosvami in this way, Shukadeva Gosvami, immediately remembering subject matters about Krishna within the core of his heart, externally lost contact with the actions of his senses. Thereafter, with great difficulty, he revived his external sensory perception and began to speak to Maharaja Parikshit about krishna-katha."*

Anuccheda 55

Text 1

ata eva sa vai bhagavato raja ity ady anantaram rajna samana-vasanatvenaiva tam aha vaiyasakish ca bhagavan vasudeva-parayanah urugaya-gunodarah

satam syur hi samagame

atah eva-therefore; sah vai bhagavatah raja iti adi anantaram-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 2.3.15 (This verse is quoted on page 296 of this book); rajna-with the king; samana-equal; vasanatvena-state of consciousness; eva-certainly; tam-to him; aha-said; vaiyasakih-the son of Vyasadeva; ca-also; bhagavan-full in transcendental knowledge; vasudeva-Lord Krishna; parayanah-attached to; urugaya-of the Personality of Godhead Shri Krishna, who is glorified by great philosophers; guna-udarah-great qualities; satam-of the devotees; syuh-must have been; hi-as a matter of fact; samagame-by the presence of.

Maharaja Parikshit and Shukadeva Gosvami were both great devotees of the Lord. They are described in the following verses (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 2.3.15-16):

"Maharaja Parikshit, the grandson of the Pandavas, was from his very childhood a great devotee of the Lord. Even while playing with dolls he used to worship Lord Krishna by imitating the worship of the family Deity.

"Shukadeva Gosvami, the son of Vyasadeva, was also full in transcendental knowledge and was a great devotee of Lord Krishna, son of Vasudeva. So there must have been discussion of Lord Krishna, who is glorified by great philosophers and in the company of great devotees."*

Text 2

ca-shabdah prag varnitenam samana-vasanatvam bodhayati. tasmac chri-vasudevanandanenaivatrapi vasudeva-shabdo vyakhyeyah. anyesham api satam samagame tavat urugayasya gunodarah katha bhavanti. tayos tu shri-krishna-carita-pradhana eva ta bhavayur iti bhavah. shri-shaunakah.

ca-shabdah-the word "ca (also)"; prak-formerly; varnitenam-described; samana-equal; vasanatvam-position; bodhayati-explains; tasmac-therefore; shri-vasudevanandanena-as the son of Maharaja Vasudeva; eva-certainly; atra-here; api-also; vasudeva-shabdah-the word "vasudeva"; vyakhyeyah-may be described; anyesham-of others; api-also; satam-of devotees; samagame-by the presence; tavat-to that extent; urugayasya-of the Personality of Godhead, Shri Krishna, who is glorified by great philosophers; guna-udarah-great qualities; kathah-discussions; bhavanti-are; tayoh-of the two of them; tu-also; shri-krishna-of Shri Krishna; carita-about the pastimes; pradhanam-mainly; eva-te-they; bhavayuh-may be; iti-thus; bhavah-the meaning; shri-shaunakah-spoken by Shaunaka Rishi.

The word "ca" (also) in this verse refers the reader to the description of Maharaja Parikshit in the previous verse, and establishes that both Maharaja Parikshit and Shukadeva Gosvami are both equally exalted devotees of the Lord. We may also note that the word "vasudeva" used in this verse means "Shri Krishna, the son of the Maharaja Vasudeva". The words "satam samagame" and "urugayasya gunodarah" indicate that although great devotees are generally engaged in glorifying the various forms of the Supreme Lord, Maharaja Parikshit and Shukadeva Gosvami will converse specifically about the transcendental pastimes of Lord Krishna.

Anuccheda 56

Text 1

kim bahuna, shri-shukadevasya shri-krishna eva tatparye tad-eka-caritamayau granthardhayamanau dashamaikadasha-skandhav eva pramanam. skandhantareshv anyesham caritam sankshepenaiva samapya tabhyam tac-caritasyaiva vistaritatvat. ata evambhata eva tat-prasadam prarthayate kim-what is the need?; bahuna-of further elaborate explanations; shri-shukadevasya-of Shri Shukadeva Gosvami; shri-krishne-about Shri Krishna; eva-certainly; tatparye-explanation; tat-to that; eka-only; caritamayau-consisting of the pastimes; grantha-ardhayamanau-consisting of half of the book; dashama-the Tenth; ekadasha-and Eleventh; skandhau-Cantos; eva-pramanam-evidence; skandha-antareshu-in the other Cantos; anyesham-of others; caritam-the pastimes; sankshepena-in condensed form; eva-certainly; samapya-completing; tabhyam-by the two of them; tat-of Shri Krishna; caritasya-of the pastimes; eva-certainly; vistaritatvat-because of the elaborate explanation; atah eva-therefore; arambhate-begins; eva-certainly; tat-of Shri Krishna; prasadam-for mercy; prarthayate-appeals.

What is the need to explain this point any further? Lord Krishna's pastimes are described, to the exclusion of any other topic, in the Tenth and Eleventh Cantos of Shrimad-Bhagavatam, which constitute half of the entire book. Other forms of the Lord are summarily described in the first Nine Cantos, whereas the pastimes of Lord Krishna are elaborately described in the Tenth and Eleventh Cantos. We may therefore conclude that the description of Lord Krishna is the principal subject matter of the Bhagavatam. We may also note that Shukadeva Gosvami begins the teaching of the Bhagavatam by appealing for the mercy of Shri Krishna (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 2.4.20) in the following words:

Text 2

shriyah patih ity adau patir gatish candhaka-vrishni-satvatam prasidatam me bhagavan satam gatih. spashöam. shri-shukah.

shriyah patih iti adau patih gatih candhaka-vrishni-satvatam prasidatam me bhagavan satam gatih-the following verse from Shrimad-Bhagavatam (2.4.20):

shriyah patir yajna-patih praja-patir dhiyam patir loka-patir dhara-patih patir gatish candhaka-vrishni-satvatam prasidatam me bhagavan satam patih;

spashöam-the meaning is clear; shri-shukadeva-spoken by Shri Shukadeva Gosvami.

"May Lord Shri Krishna, who is the worshipable Lord of all devotees, the protector and glory of all the kings like Andhaka and Vrishni of the Yadu dynasty, the husband of all goddesses of fortune, the director of all sacrifices and therefore the leader of all living entities, the controller of all intelligence, the proprietor of all planets, spiritual and material, and the supreme incarnation on the earth (the supreme all in all), be merciful upon me."*

Anuccheda 57

Text 1

atha shri-vyasadevasya

anarthopashamam sakshad bhakti-yogam adhokshaje lokasyajanato vidvamsh cakre satvata-samhitam

atha-now; shri-vyasadevasya-of Shrila Vyasadeva; anartha-things which are superfluous; upashamam-mitigation; sakshat-directly; bhakti-yogam-the linking process of devotional service; adhokshaje-onto the Transcendence; lokasya-of the general mass of men; ajanatah-those who are unaware of; vidvan-the supremely learned; cakre-compiled; satvata-in relation with the Supreme Truth; samhitam-Vedic literature.

Shrila Vyasadeva also says that Shri Krishna is the primary subject of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.7.6-7):

"The material miseries of the living entity, which are superfluous to him, can be directly mitigated by the linking process of devotional service. But the mass of people do not know this, and therefore the learned Vyasadeva compiled this Vedic literature, which is in relation to the Supreme Truth.*

Text 2

yasyam vai shruyamanayam krishne parama-purushe bhaktir utpadyate pumsah shoka-moha-bhayapaha

yasyam-this Vedic literature; vai-certainly; shruyamanayam-simply by giving aural reception; krishne-onto Lord Krishna; parama-supreme; purushe-onto the Personality of Godhead; bhaktih-feelings of devotional service; utpadyate-sprout up; pumsah-of the living being; shoka-lamentation; moha-illusion; bhaya-fearfulness; apaha-that which extinguishes.

"Simply by giving aural reception to this Vedic literature, the feeling for loving devotional service to Lord Krishna, the Supreme Personality of Godhead, sprouts up at once to extinguish the fire of lamentation, illusion and fearfulness."*

Text 3

adhokshaje shri-krishne

adho 'nanena shayanena shakaöantara-carina
rakshasi nihata raudra shakuni-vesha-dharini

putana nama ghora sa maha-kaya maha-bala visha-digdham stanam kshudra prayacchanti janardane

dadrishur nihatam tatra rakshasim vana-gocarah punar jato 'yam ity ahur uktas tasmad adhokshajah iti hari-vamshe vasudeva-mahatmye tan-namnah shri-krishna-vishayataya prasiddhah.

adhokshaje-by the name Adhokshaja; shri-krishne-Shri Krishna; adhah-beneath; anena-with this; shayanena-bed; shakaöa-antara-carina-in the cradle; rakshasi-demonness; nihata-killed; raudra-terrible; shakuni-vesha-dharini-disguised as a beautiful woman; putana-Putana; nama-named; ghora-ugly; sa-she; maha-with a gigantic; kaya-body; maha-bala-and very strong; visha-with poison; digdham-anointed; stanam-breast; kshudra-base; prayacchanti-janardane-to Krishna; dadrishuh-saw; nihatam-killed; tatra-at that place; rakshasim-the demonness; vana-gocarah-the cowherd mena and gopis; punah-again; jatah-born; ayam-He; iti-thus; ahuh-they said; uktah-spoken; tamsat-because of this; adhokshajah-the name Adhokshaja; iti-thus; hari-vamshe-in the Hari-vamsha; vasudeva-mahatmye-in the section containing the glorification of Lord Vasudeva; tat-namnah-of this name; shri-krishna-vishayataya-in relation to Lord Krishna; prasiddhah-celebrated.

The name "Adhokshaja" in this verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.7.6 second line) is specifically a name of Lord Krishna. The derivation of this name is given in the following words of the Vasudeva-mahatmya section of the Hari-vamsha (Vishnu-parva 101.30-32):

"When infant Krishna was resting in His cradle, a powerful, gigantic and terrible demonness named Putana disguised herself as a beautiful young woman and attempted to kill Krishna by offering her breast, which had been smeared with poison, for the tiny child to suck. When the cowherd men and gopis saw that the gigantic demoness had instead been killed by the tiny child Krishna, they exclaimed: 'Our child is rescued! It is as if He has attained another birth (ja) unseen by us (adhoksha)!' Because of this exclamation by the cowherd men, Lord Krishna is known as 'Adhokshaja' (He who, unseen by the cowherd men, was born again)."

Text 4

ata evottara-padye sakshat krishna ity evoktam. shri-bhagavan-nama-kaumudi-karash ca krishna-shabdasya tamala-shyamala-tvishi yashoda-stanandhaye para-brahmani rudhih iti prayoga-pracuryat tatraiva prathamata eva pratiter udaya iti cuktavantah.

atah eva-therefore; uttara-padye-in another verse; sakshat-directly; krishnah-Krishna; iti-thus; uktam-described; shri-bhagavat-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; nama-name; kaumudi-the moonlight; karah-the author; ca-also; krishna-Krishna; shabdasya-of the word; tamala-as a Tamala tree; shyamala-black; tvishi-splendor; yashoda-stanandhaye-the tiny infant who drank the breast-milk of Mother Yashoda; para-brahmani-the Supreme Brahman; rudhih-fame; iti-thus; prayoga-pracuryena-by elaborate explanations; tatra-there; eva-certainly; prathamatah-from the beginning; eva-certainly; pratiteh-of fame; udaye-in the arisal; iti-thus; ca-also; uktavantah-described.

The author of the Shri-Bhagavan-nama-kaumudi glorifies the Lord by giving the following elaborate derivation of the name "Krishna (Bhagavan-nama-kaumudi 3.6):

"The name `Krishna' may mean: 1. He whose complexion is blackish as a tamala tree, 2. the small child who drank the breast milk of Mother Yashoda, or 3. the Supreme Brahman."

Text 5

samopanishadi ca krishnaya devakinandanaya iti. atra grantha-phalatvam tasyaiva vyaktam iti caikenavahena tat-paripurnata sidhyati. shri-sutah.

sama-upanishadi-in the Upanishad of the Sama Veda (Chandogya Upanishad); krishnaya devakinandanaya-I offer my respectful obeisances to Shri Krishna, the son of Devaki; iti-thus; atra-there; grantha-of the scripture; phalatvam-the benefit; tasya-of that; eva-certainly; vyaktam-manifest; iti-thus; ca-also; ekena-by one; eva-certainly; anena-by this; tat-of that; paripurnata-perfection; sidhyati-becomes completed; shri-sutah-spoken by Suta Gosvami.

The name Krishna is also mentioned in the Chandogya Upanishad of the Sama Veda, which says:

"I offer my respectful obeisances to Shri Krishna, the son of Devaki."

As previously mentioned (in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.7.7, quoted in Anuccheda 57, Text 2), simply by hearing the message of Shrimad-Bhagavatam, one attains devotional service to Lord Krishna, the actual perfection of life.

Anuccheda 58

Text 1

atha shri-naradasya

tatranvham krishna-kathah pragayatam anugrahenashrinavam manoharah tah shraddhaya me 'nupadam vishrinvat priyashravasy anga mamabhavad rucih

atha-now; shri-naradasya-the statement of Shri Narada; tatra-thereupon; anu-every day; aham-I; krishna-kathah-narration of Lord Krishna's activities; pragayatam-describing; anugrahena-by causeless mercy; ashrinavam-giving aural reception; manah-harah-attractive; tah-those; shraddaya-respectfully; me- unto me; anupadam-every step; vishrinvatah-hearing attentively; priyashravasi-of the Personality of Godhead; anga-O Vyasadeva; mama-mine; abhavat-it so became; rucih-taste.

Narada Muni explains the benefit of hearing Shrimad-Bhagavatam in the following words (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.5.26):

"O Vyasadeva, in that association and by the mercy of those great Vedantists, I could hear them describe the attractive activities of Lord Krishna. And thus listening attentively, my taste for hearing of the Personality of Godhead increased at every step."*

Text 2

yena yenavatarena ity etac chri-parikshid-vacana-padya-dvayam apy atra shri-yashoda-stanandhayatve sadhakam shruti-samanya-nyayena. shri-naradah shri-vedavyasam.

yena yenavatarena iti-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.7.1-2, quoted on page 305 of this book; etat-that; shri-parikshit-of Maharaja Parikshit; vacana-statement; padya-verses; dvayam-two; api-also; atra-here; shri-yashoda-stanandhayatve-the son of Yashoda; sadhakam-eligible; shruti-by hearing; samahya-equality; nyayena-by the example; shri-naradah-spoken by Narada; shri-vedavyasam-to Vedavyasa.

This benefit of hearing Shrimad-Bhagavatam is described by Maharaja Parikshit in the following words (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.7.1-2, also quoted in Anuccheda 51, Text 1):

"King Parikshit said: My lord, Shukadeva Gosvami, all the various activities exhibited by the incarnations of the Supreme Personality of Godhead are certainly pleasing to the ear and to the mind. Simply by one's hearing of these activities, the dirty things in one's mind immediately vanish. Generally we are reluctant to hear about the activities of the Lord, but Krishna's childhood activities are so attractive that they are automatically pleasing to the mind and ear. Thus one's attachment for hearing about material things, which is the root cause of material existence, vanishes, and one gradually develops devotional service to the Supreme Lord, attachment for Him, and friendship with devotees who give us the contribution of Krishna consciousness. If you think it fit, kindly speak about those activities of the Lord."*

We may also note in this connection that Maharaja Parikshit and Shukadeva Gosvami were both situated on the same exalted devotional platform, for Shukadeva Gosvami was as eager to speak the glories of Lord Krishna as Maharaja Parikshit was eager to hear them.

Anuccheda 59

Text 1

tac-chabdasyaivabhyaso 'pi drishyate evam krishna-mateh ity adau. anyatra ca tat-shabdasya-of that sound; eva-certainly; abhyasah-continual practice; api-also; drishyate-is seen; evam krishna-mateh iti adau-the following verses (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.6.27-28):

evam krishna-mater brahman nasaktasyamalatmanah kalah pradurabhut kale tadit saudamani yatha

prayujyamane mayi tam shuddham bhagavatim tanum arabdha-karma-nirvano nyapatat panca-bhautikah; anyatra-another place (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 7.10.48-50); ca-also.

By chanting the glories of Lord Krishna, Narada Muni became liberated and attained a spiritual form. This is described in the following verses (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.6.27-28):

"And so, O Brahmana Vyasadeva, in due course of time I, who was fully absorbed in thinking of Krishna and who therefore had no attachments, being completely freed from all material taints, met with death, as lightning and illumination occur simultaneously.*

"Having been awarded a transcendental body befitting an associate of the Personality of Godhead, I quit the body made of five material elements, and thus all acquired fruitive results of work [karma] stopped."*

The transcendental benefit attained by the devotees of the Lord is further described in the following verses (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 7.10-48-50) spoken by Narada Muni to Maharaja Yudhishöhira:

Text 2

yuyam nri-loke bata bhuri-bhaga lokam punana munayo 'bhiyanti yesham grihan avasatiti sakshad gudham param brahma manushya-lingam yuyam-all of you (the Pandavas); nri-loke-within this material world; bata-however; bhuri-bhagah-extremely fortunate; lokam-all the planets; punanah-who can purify; munayah-great saintly persons; abhiyanti-almost always come to visit; yesham-of whom; grihan-the house; avasati-resides in; iti-thus; sakshat-directly; gudham-very confidential; param brahma-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; manushya-lingam-appearing just like a human being.

"Narada Muni continued: My dear Maharaja Yudhishöhira, all of you [the Pandavas] are extremely fortunate, for the Supreme Personality of Godhead, Krishna, lives in your palace just like a human being. Great saintly persons know this very well, and therefore they constantly visit this house.*

Text 3

sa va ayam brahma mahad-vimrigya-kaivalya-nirvana-sukhanubhutih priyah suhrid vah khalu matuleya atmarhaniyo vidhi-krid guruh ca sah-that (Supreme Personality of Godhead, Krishna); va-also; ayam-this; brahma-the impersonal Brahman (which is an emanation from Krishna); mahat-by great personalities; vimrigya-searched for; kaivalya-oneness; nirvana-sukha-of transcendental happiness; anubhutih-the source of practical experience; priyah-very, very dear; suhrit-well-wisher; vah-of you; khalu-indeed; matuleyah-the son of a maternal uncle; atma-exactly like body and soul together; arhaniyah-worshipable (because He is the Supreme Personality of Godhead); vidhi-krit-(yet He serves you as) an order carrier; guruh-your supreme advisor; ca-as well.

"The impersonal Brahman is Krishna Himself because Krishna is the source of the impersonal Brahman. He is the origin of the transcendental bliss sought by great saintly persons, yet He, the Supreme Person, is your most dear friend and constant well-wisher and is intimately related to you as the son of your maternal uncle. Indeed, He is always like your body and soul. He is worshipable, yet He acts as your servant and sometimes as your spiritual master.*

Text 4

na yasya sakshad bhava-padmajadibhi rupam dhiya vastutayopavarnitam maunena bhaktyopashamena pujitah prasidatam esha sa satvatam patih na-not; yasya-of whom; sakshat-directly; bhava-Lord Shiva; padma-ja-Lord Brahma (born from the lotus); adibhih-by them and others also; rupam-the form; dhiya-even by meditation; vastutaya-fundamentally; upavarnitam-described and perceived; maunena-by samadhi, deep meditation; bhaktya-by devotional service; upashamena-by renunciation; pujitah-worshiped; prasidatam-may He be pleased; esha-this; sah-He; satvatam-of the great devotees; patih-the master.

"Exalted persons like Lord Shiva and Lord Brahma could not properly describe the truth of the Supreme Personality of Godhead, Krishna. May the Lord, who is always worshiped as the protector of all devotees by great saints who observe vows of silence, meditation, devotional service and renunciation, be pleased with us."*

Text 5

ōika ca aho prahladasya bhagyam yena devo drishōah; vayam tu manda-bhagya iti vishidantam rajanam praty aha yuyam iti tribhih ity esha. manushyasya drishyamana-manushyasyaiva lingam kara-caranadi-sannivesho yasya tam rupam shri-vigraha; vastutaya nopavarnitam tad-rupasyaiva para-brahmatvena kim idam vastv iti nirdeshōum ashakyatvat; yathoktam sahasra-nama-stotre anirdeshya-vapuh iti. esham eva padyanam saptamante 'pi paramamodakatvat punar avrittir drishyate. sa yudhishōhiram.

ōika-the commentary of Shridhara Svami; ca-also; aho-Oh; prahladasya-of Prahlada Maharaja; bhagyam-good-fortune; yena-by which; devah-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; drishōah-was seen; vayam-we;

tu-on the other hand; manda-bhagya-unfortunate; iti-thus; vishidantam-lamenting; rajanam-to the king; prati aha-replied; yuyam iti tribhih-in these three verses which begin with the word "yuyam"; iti-thus; esa-the commentary; manushyasya-of a human being; drishyamana-appearing; manushyasya-like a human being; lingam-form; kara-hands; carana-feet; adi-and other parts of the body; sanniveshah-touching; yasya-of whom; tam-the; rupam-form; shri-vigraha-form; vastutaya-fundamentally; upavarnitam-described and perceived; para-brahmatvena-because of being the supreme spirit; kim-what; idam-this; vastu-substance; iti-thus; nirdeshöum-to describe; ashakyatvat-because of inability; yatha-as; uktam-said; sahasra-nama-stotre-in the Vishnu-sahasra-nama-stotra; anirdeshya-which cannot be properly described; vapuh-whose form; iti-thus; esham-of these; eva-certainly; padyanam-verses; saptama-ante-in the Seventh Canto of Shrimad-Bhagavatam; api-also; parama-transcendental; amodakatvat-because of bliss; punah-again; avrittih-repetition; drishyate-is seen; sah-spoken by Narada Muni; yudhishöhira-to Maharaja Yudhishöhira.

Shridhara Svami explains this verse in the following way:

"Narada Muni spoke these three verses to Maharaja Yudhishöhira, who had lamented 'Prahlada Maharaja is so fortunate because he directly saw the Personality of Godhead, and we are so unfortunate in comparison to him.'"

We may also note in this verse that even though Lord Krishna is described as "manushya-lingam", which means "appearing just like a human being," He is also "vastutaya nopavarnitam", which means "Even Lord Shiva and Lord Brahma cannot properly describe Him." Because the Lord's form is spiritual, it cannot be completely described. This is also mentioned in the Vishnu-sahasra-nama-stotra, where the Lord is described as "anirdeshya-vapuh", which means "He whose form cannot be completely described." Narada Muni and King Yudhishöhira were so pleased by this description of Lord Krishna, that we find these same verses (7.10.48-50) repeated again at the end (7.15.15-17) of the Seventh Canto of Shrimad-Bhagavatam.

Anuccheda 60

Text 1

atra ca spashöam

deva-dattam imam vinam svara-brahma-vibhushitam murcchayitva hari-katham gayamanash caramy aham

atra-here; ca-also; spashöam-clearly; deva-the Supreme Personality of Godhead (Shri Krishna); dattam-gifted by; imam-this; vinam-a musical stringed instrument; svara-singing meter; brahma-transcendental; vibhushitam-decorated with; murcchayitva-vibrating; hari-katham-transcendental message; gayamanah-singing constantly; carami-do move; aham-I.

Although the Lord cannot be completely described, Narada Muni glorifies Him as far as possible (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.6.33-34):

"And thus I travel, constantly singing the transcendental message of the glories of the Lord, vibrating this instrument called a vina, which is charged with transcendental sound and which was given to me by Lord Krishna.*

Text 2

pragayatah sva-viryani tirtha-padah priya-shravah ahuta iva me shighram darshanam yati cetasi

pragayatah-thus singing; sva-viryani-own activities; tirtha-padah-the Lord, whose lotus feet are the source of all virtues or holiness; priya-shravah-pleasing to hear; ahutah-called for; iva-just like; me-to me; shighram-very soon; darshanam-sight; yati-appears; cetasi-on the seat of the heart.

"The Supreme Lord Shri Krishna, whose glories and activities are pleasing to hear, at once appears on the seat of my heart, as if called for, as soon as I began to chant His holy activities."*

Text 2

devah shri-krishna eva linga-purana upavibhage tenaiva svayam tasya vina grahanam hi prasiddham. atra yad-rupena vina grahita, tad-rupenaiva ca cetasi darshanam svarasya labdham; devadattam iti kritopakaratayah smaryamanatvena tam anusandhayaiva tad-ukteh. shri-naradah shri-vedavyasam.

devah-Personality of Godhead; shri-krishnah-Shri Krishna; eva-certainly; linga-purane-in the Linga Purana; upavibhage-in a chapter; tena-by him; eva-certainly; svayam-directly; tasya-of Him; vina-of the vina; grahanam-acceptance; hi-certainly prasiddham-celebrated; atra-here; yat-rupena-by the form of whom; vina-the vina; grahita-taken; tat-of Him; rupena-by the form; eva-certainly; cetasi-in the heart; darshanam-sight; svarasya-of sound; labdham-is attained; devadattam iti-given by the Personality of Godhead; krita-upakaratayah-with the assistance; smaryamanatvena-by the meditation; tam-Him; anusandhaya-for contact; eva-certainly; tat-of him; ukteh-from the statement; shri-naradah-spoken by Shri Narada; shri-vedavyasam-to Shri Vedavyasa.

We may note that the word "deva" used in this verse refers to Shri Krishna. This same account of Narada's acceptance of a vina from Shri Krishna is also related in the Linga Purana. Lord Krishna, who personally gave the vina to Narada, assumes the form of transcendental sound and appears in the heart of Narada, who is engaged in continually remembering the Lord's glories, and chanting them accompanied by this musical instrument.

Anuccheda 61

Text 1

ata etad evam eva vyakhyeyam tvam atmanatmanam avehy amogha-drik parasya pumsah paramatmanah kalam ajam prajataṁ jagataḥ shivaya tan mahanubhavabhyudayo 'dhiganyatam atah-therefore; etat-this; evam-in this way; eva-certainly; vyakhyeyam-may be explained; tvam-yourself; atmana-by your own self; atmanam-the Supersoul; avehi-search out; amogha-drik-one who has perfect vision; parasya-of the Transcendence; pumsah-the Personality of Godhead; paramatmanah-of the Supreme Lord; kalam-plenary part; ajam-birthless; prajataṁ-have taken birth; jagataḥ-of the world; shivaya-for the well-being; tat-that; maha-anubhava-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead Shri Krishna; abhyudayah-pastimes; adhiganya-tam-describe most vividly.

Vyasa glorifies Narada in the following words (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.5.21):

"Your Goodness has perfect vision. You yourself can know the Supersoul Personality of Godhead because you are present as the plenary portion of the Lord. Although you are birthless, you have appeared on this earth for the well-being of all people. Please, therefore, describe the transcendental pastimes of the Supreme Personality of Godhead Shri Krishna more vividly."*

Text 2

he amogha-drik tvam atmana svayam atmanam svam parasya pumsah kalam amsha-bhutam avehi anusandhehi punash ca jagataḥ shivaya adhunaiva shri-krishna-rupena yash cajo 'pi prajatas tam avehi. tad etat dvayam jnatva mahanubhavasya sarvavatara-vatari-vrindebhyo 'pi darshita-prabhavasya tasya shri-krishnasyaiva abhyudayah lila adhi adhikam ganyatam nirupyatam. svayam ishvaro 'pi bhavan nijajnana-rupam mayam na prakāśyatv iti bhavah. sa tam.

he-O; amogha-drik-one who has perfect vision; tvam-yourself; atmana-by your own self; svayam-personally; atmanam-the Supersoul; svam-personally; parasya-of the transcendence; pumsah-the Personality of Godhead; kalam-plenary part; amsha-bhutam-plenary part; avehi-search out; anusandhehi-search out; punah-again; ca-also; jagataḥ-of the world; shivaya-for the well-being; adhuna-now; eva-certainly; shri-krishna-rupena-in the form of Shri Krishna; yah-who; ca-and; ajah-unborn; api-although; prajataḥ-born; tam-Him; avehi-search out; tat-that; etat-this; dvayam-two; jnatva-having understood; maha-anubhavasya-if the Supreme Personality of Godhead, Shri Krishna; sarva-all; avatara-incarnation; avatari-source of the incarnations; vrindebhyah-multitudes; api-although; darshita-revealed; prabhavasya-opulence and power; tasya-of Him; shri-krishnasya-Shri Krishna; eva-certainly; abhyudayah-the word "abhyudayah"; lila-means "pastimes"; adhi-the word "adhi"; adhikam-means "greatly"; ganyatam-the word "ganyatam"; nirupyatam-means "describe"; svayam-personally; ishvarah-Supreme Controller; api-although; bhavan-you are; nija-your own; ajnana-rupam-form of ignorance; mayam-known as the illusory potency maya; na-not; prakāśyatv-do manifest; iti-thus; bhavah-the meaning; sah-Vedavyasa; tam-to Narada Muni.

In this verse the word "amogha drik" means "One who has perfect vision", the word "atmana" means "by your own self", and the phrase "atmanam parasya pumsah kalam avehi" means "You yourself can know the Supersoul Personality of Godhead because you are present as the plenary portion of the Lord." The phrase "jagataḥ shivaya" means "Although you are birthless you have appeared on this earth for the well-being of all people." The phrase "mahanubhavabhyudayah adhiganyatam" means "Please therefore, describe more vividly the pastimes of Shri Krishna, the Supreme Personality of Godhead, who manifests all the powers and opulences of all the innumerable incarnations of Godhead." It is understood from this verse that Narada Muni may be counted among the incarnations of the Supreme Lord, and for this reason Vyasadeva is praying that Narada withdraw the bewildering potency of the illusory energy maya.

Anuccheda 62

Text 1

ata eva purana-pradurbhavaya shri-vyasam prati shri-naradena caturvyuhatmaka-shri-krishna-mantra evopadishöas tad upasakasya sarvottamatvam ca; yatha atah eva-therefore; purana-of the Purana; pradurbhavaya-for the manifestation; shri-vyasam-prati-to Vyasa; shri-naradena-by Narada; caturvyuha-atmaka-consisting of the four primary Vishnu-expansions; shri-krishna-Shri Krishna; mantrah-mantra; eva-certainly; upadishöh-instructed; tat-of the Lord; upasakasya-of the worshiper; sarva-uttamatvam-superiority; ca-also; yatha-just as.

In order to invoke the Lord's mercy, in the beginning of Shrimad-Bhagavatam, Narada teaches Vyasa a prayer to the four primary Vishnu-expansions. Narada also explains the most exalted position of the devotees of the Lord (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.5.37-38):

Text 2

om namo bhagavate tubhyam vasudevaya dhimahi
pradyumnayaniruddhaya
namah sankarshanaya ca

om-the sign of chanting the transcendental glory of the Lord; namah-offering obeisances unto the Lord; bhagavate-unto the Personality of Godhead; tubhyam-unto You; vasudevaya-unto the Lord, the son of Vasudeva; dhimahi-let us chant; pradyumnaya, aniruddhaya and sankarshanaya-all plenary expansions of Vasudeva; namah-respectful obeisances; ca-and.

"Let us all chant the glories of Vasudeva along with His plenary expansions Pradyumna, Aniruddha and Sankarshana.*

Text 3

iti murty-abhidhanena
mantra-murtrim amurtikam yajate yajna-purusham sa samyag darshanah puman.

spashöam. sa tam.

iti-thus; murti-representation; abhidhanena-in sound; mantra-murtrim-form representation of transcendental sound; amurtikam-the Lord, who has no material form; yajate-worship; yajna-Vishnu; purusham-the Personality of Godhead; sah-he alone; samyak-perfectly; darshanah-one who has seen; puman-person; spashöam-the meaning is clear; sah-Narada; tam-to Vyasa.

"Thus he is the actual seer who worships, in the form of transcendental sound representation, the Supreme Personality of Godhead, Vishnu, who has no material form."*

Anuccheda 63

Text 1

atha shri-brahmanah

bhumeh suretara-varutha-vimarditayah klesha-vyayaya kalaya sita-krishna-keshah jatah karishyati jananupalakshya-margah karmani catma-mahimopanibandhanani atha-now; shri-brahmanah-the statement of Lord Brahma; bhumeh-of the entire world; sura-itarah-other than godly persons; varutha-soldiers; vimarditayah-distressed by the burden; klesha-miseries; vyayaya-for the matter of diminishing; kalaya-along with His plenary expansion; sita-krishna-not only beautiful but also black; keshah-with such hairs; jatah-having appeared; karishyati-would act; jana-people in general; anupalakshya-rarely to be seen; margah-path; karmani-activities; ca-also; atma-mahima-glories of the Lord Himself; upanibandhanani-in relation to.

Now let us consider the following statement of Lord Brahma (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 2.7.26):

"When the world is overburdened by the fighting strength of kings who have no faith in God, the Lord, just to diminish the distress of the world, descends with His plenary portion. The Lord comes in His original form, with beautiful black hair. And just to expand His transcendental glories, He acts extraordinarily. No one can properly estimate how great He is."*

Text 2

asura-sena-nipiditaya bhuvah klesham apahartum paramatmano 'pi paratvaj janair asmabhih anupalakshya-margah api pradurbhutam san karmani ca karishyati. ko 'sau kalaya amshena sita-krishna-keshah yah. yatra sita-krishna-keshau devair drishöav iti shastrantara-prasiddhih, so 'pi yasyamshena, sa eva bhagavan svayam ity arthah. tad-avina-bhavatvat shri-baladevasyapi grahanam dyotitam. nanu purushad api paro 'sau bhagavan katham bhu-bharavatarana-matrartham svayam avatarishyatity ashankyaha atmano mahimanah parama-madhuri-sampada upanibadhyante nija-bhaktair adhikam varnyante yeshu tani karmani ca karishyati. yadyapi nijamshenaiva va nijecchabhasenaiva va bhu-bhara-haranam ishat karam, tathapi nija-caranaravinda-jivatuvrindam anandayann eva lila-kadambinir nija-madhuri-varshanaya vitarishyamano 'vatarishyatity arthah.

asura-of the demons; sena-by the armies; nipiditayah-troubled; bhuvah-of the earth; klesham-suffering; apahartum-to remove; parama-atmanah-the Supersoul; api-even; paratvat-because of being above; janair-by persons; asmabhih-by us; anupalakshya-margah-not understandable; api-even; pradurbhutam-manifest; san-being; karmani-activities; ca-also; karishyati-will perform; kah-who?; asau-is this person; kalaya-by the word "kalaya"; amshena-is meant "along with His plenary expansion"; sita-krishna-keshau-who both have beautiful black hair; yatra-where; sita-krishna-keshau-who both have beautiful black hair; devaih-by the demigods; drishöau-seen; iti-thus; shastra-antara-in other scriptures (such as Vishnu Purana and Mahabharata); prasiddhih-fame; sah api-that same person; yasya-of whom; amshena-by a plenary portion; sah eva-that same person; bhagavan-the Original Personality of Godhead; svayam-directly; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; tat-Him; avina-bhavatvat-because of not appearing without; shri-baladevasya-of Balarama; api-also; grahanam-acceptance; dyotitam-revealed; nanu-why is it then?; purushat-to the Purusha-avatars; api-even; parah-superior; asau-this; bhagavan-Original Personality of Godhead; katham-how is it possible; bhu-of the earth; bhara-the burden; avatarana-removal; matra-only; artham-for the purpose; svayam-personally; avatarishyati-will incarnate; iti-thus; ashankya-doubting; aha-said; atmanah-His own; mahimanah-glories; parama-madhuri-sampadah-very sweet; upanibadhyante-promised; nija-bhaktaih-by His devotees; adhikam-greatly; varnyante-described; yeshu-among them; tanni-these; karmani-pastimes; ca-also; karishyati-will perform; yadi api-although; nija-amshena-by His own plenary portion; va-or; nija-iccha-abhasena-by a dim reflection of His desire; eva-certainly; va-or; bhu-of the earth; bhara-the burden; haranam-removal; ishat-karam-is made insignificant; tatha api-nevertheless; nija-carana-aravinda-jivatuvrindam-the devotees, for whom the Lord's lotus feet are more dear than life; anandayan-delighting; eva-certainly; lila-kadambinih-many pastimes; nija-His own; madhuri-transcendental sweetness; varshanaya-for showering; vitarishyamanah-granting; avatarishyati-will incarnate; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning.

In this verse Lord Brahma says: "The Supreme Personality of Godhead, who is superior to everyone, including even the all-pervading Supersoul, and who cannot be perfectly understood by me or by anyone else, will appear in this material world and perform many transcendental activities in order to lessen the burden of the earth." Lord Brahma also says: "The Lord, who has beautiful black hair, is accompanied by His plenary portion." That the demigods were able to see the Lord and His plenary portion, who both have beautiful black hair is confirmed in the verses from Vishnu Purana and Mahabharata previously quoted. We may also note in this connection that the "plenary portion" mentioned in this verse refers to Lord Balarama, the Supreme Lord's constant companion.

In this connection someone may raise the following doubt: If Shri Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead, superior even to the purusha-incarnations, then why does He descend to the material world to perform such an insignificant activity as the removal of the earth's burden?

To this I reply: Lord Krishna does not appear in this world simply to lessen the earth's burden. The earth's burden may be removed by the Lord's plenary incarnation, or simply by the Lord's wishing it. He does not have to appear in this world to lessen the earth's burden.

Shri Krishna appears in this world in order to manifest His pastimes, with the devotees, which are full of transcendental sweetness. Lord Krishna appears to delight the devotees for whom the Lord's lotus feet are more dear than life, and to shower His own transcendental sweetness in this world.

Text 3

etat eva vyakti-kritam-"tokena jiva-haranam ity adau.

etat-this; eva-certainly; vyakti-kritam-is manifested; tokena jiva-haranam iti adau-in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 2.7.27:

tokena jiva-haranam yad uluki-kayas trai-masikasya ca pada shakaöo 'pavrittah yad ringatantara-gatena divi-sprishor va unmulanam tv itaratharjunayor na bhavyam.

Some of these transcendental pastimes are described in the following verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 2.7.27):

"There is no doubt about Lord Krishna's being the Supreme Lord, otherwise how was it possible for Him to kill a giant demon like Putana when He was just on the lap of His mother, to overturn a cart with His leg when He was only three months old, to uproot a pair of arjuna trees, so high that they touched the sky, when He was only crawling? All these activities are impossible for anyone other than the Lord Himself."*

Text 4

itaratha svayam sva-madhuri-sampat-prakashaneccham antarena madhurataram tokadi-bhavam dadhata tena putanadinam jiva-haranadikam karma na bhavyam na sambhavaniam. tad-amsha-tad-icchabhasadi-matrenaiva tat-siddhir iti vakyarthah.

itaratha-the word "itaratha"; svayam-means "personally performed by Him"; sva-own; madhuri-of sweetness; sampat-opulence; prakshana-manifestation; iccham-desire; antarena-without; madhurataram-extremely sweet; toka-of a child; adi-and other; bhavam-natures; dadhata-manifesting; tena-by Him; putana-of Putana; adinam-and others; jiva-life; harana-removing; adikam-beginning with; karma-actions; na-not; bhavyam-possible; na-not sambhavaniam-possible; tat-His; amsha-plenary portion; tad-His; iccha-desire; abhasa-dim reflection; adi-beginning with; matrena-by merely; eva-certainly; tat-His; siddhih-perfection; iti-thus; vakya-of the statement; artha-the meaning.

Lord Krishna's plenary portion could have performed these actions, or the Lord could have performed them simply by wishing them to be done. He did not have to personally perform them. The charm of these pastimes lies in the fact that although these extraordinary activities cannot be performed by any ordinary person, the Lord performed them as a tiny child. If the Lord had not wished to charm and delight His devotees, He would not have personally performed such activities as a small child. This is the actual reason the Lord performed these pastimes.

Text 5

tatha ca tathayam cavataras te ity adau tair eva vyakhyatam kim bhu-bhara-haranam mad-iccha-matrena na bhavati. tatraha svanam iti iti.

tatha-furthermore; ca-also; tatha ayam ca avatarah te iti adau-in the verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.7.25):

tathayam cavataras te bhuvo bhara-jihirshaya svanam cananya-bhavanam anudhyanaya casakrit;

taih-by Shridhara Svami; eva-certainly; vyakhyatam-explained; kim-is it not?; bhu-of the earth; bhara-burden; haranam-removal; mat-My; iccha-by the desire; matrena-simply; na-not; bhavati-will be; tatra-in this connection; aha-he said; svanam-the word "svanam"; iti-thus; thus the commentary.

That Lord Krishna incarnates for the devotees' benefit is confirmed by Arjuna in the following words

(Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.7.25):

"O Lord Krishna, You descend as an incarnation to remove the burden of the world and to benefit Your friends, especially those who are Your exclusive devotees and are rapt in meditation upon You."*

In commenting on this verse Shridhara Svami says:

"Lord Krishna does not need to personally appear in this world to remove the earth's burden, for He can do that simply by wishing it to be done. The actual reason for the Lord's appearance is given in this verse: `You descend to benefit Your friends, especially those who are Your exclusive devotees and are rapt in meditation upon You.'" jayati jana-nivasah ity atra ceccha-matrena nirasana-samartho 'pi kridartham dorbhir adharmam asyann iti tad evam adibhih shri-krishnasyaiva sarvadbhutata-varnanabhinivesha-prapanco brahmani spashöa eva.

Text 6

jayati jana-nivasah iti-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.90.48:

jayati jana-nivaso devaki-janma-vado yadu-vara-parishat svair dorbhir asyann adharmam sthira-cara-vrijina-ghnah susmita-shri-mukhena vraja-pura-vanitanam vardhayan kama-devam;

atra-here; ca-also; iccha-matrena-simply by desiring; nirasana-to kill the demons; samarthah-able; api-although; krida-artham-for performing pastimes; dorbhih-with His arms; adharmam-irreligiosity; asyan-routed; iti-thus; tat-therefore; evam-in this way; adibhih-beginning with; shri-krishnasya-of Shri Krishna; eva-certainly; sarva-adbhutata-great wonder; varnana-description; abhinivesha-attentive; prapanca-manifestation; brahmani-in Lord Brahma; spashöh-the remainder of the verse is clear; eva-certainly.

The following verse (10.90.48) may also be quoted as a summary of Lord Krishna's pastimes:

"Lord Shri Krishna is He who is known as jana-nivasa, the ultimate resort of all living entities, and who is also known as Devaki-nandana or Yashoda-nandana, the son of Devaki and Yashoda. He is the guide of the Yadu dynasty, and with His mighty arms He kills everything inauspicious as well as every man who is impious. By His presence He destroys all things inauspicious for all living entities, moving and inert. His blissful smiling face always increases the lusty desires of the gopis of Vrindavana. May He be all glorious and happy!"*

We may note in this verse that although Lord Krishna could have killed the demons simply by willing their death, He personally killed them with His own arms in the sporting spirit of His pastimes. We may also note that this verse was spoken by Lord Brahma, who was filled with devotion at hearing the narration of the Lord's astonishing pastimes.

Text 7

astu tavat tad-bhuri-bhagyam iha janma kim apy aöavyam ity adi. shri-brahma shri-naradam.

astu-let there be; tavat-in that way; tat bhuri-bhagyam iha janma kim api aavyam-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.14.34:

tad-bhuri-bhagyam iha janma kim apy aavyam yad gokule 'pi katamanghri-rajo-'bhishekam yaj-jivitam tu nikhilam bhagavan mukundas tv adyapi yat-pada-rajah shruti-mrigyam eva"; shri-brahma-spoken by Brahma; shri-naradam-to Narada Muni.

The following statement of Lord Brahma (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.14.34) confirms the extraordinary nature of Lord Krishna's pastimes and intimate associates:

"My dear Lord Krishna, I am therefore not interested in material opulences or liberation. I am most humbly praying at Your lotus feet for You to please give me any sort of birth within this Vrindavana forest so that I may be able to be favored by the dust of the feet of some of the devotees of Vrindavana. Even if I am given the chance to grow just as the humble grass in this land, that will be very glorious for me. But if I am not so fortunate to take birth within the forest of Vrindavana, I beg to be allowed to take birth outside the immediate area of Vrindavana so that when the devotees go out they will walk over me. Even that would be a great fortune for me. I am just aspiring for a birth in which I will be smeared by the dust of the devotees' feet. I can see that everyone here is simply full of Krishna consciousness; they do not know anything but Mukunda. All the Vedas are indeed searching after the lotus feet of Krishna."*

Anuccheda 64

Text 1

evam catuh-shloki-vaktuh shri-bhagavato 'pi shri-krishnatvam eva; tatha hi tat-purvastham vakyam dadarsha tatrakhila-satvatam patim shriyah patim yajna-patim jagat-patim sunanda-nanda-prabalarhanadibhih sva-parshadagraih parisevitam vibhum vyakhya ca akhila-satvatam sarvesham shatvatanam yadava-viranam patim.

evam-in this way; catuh-shloki-of the four most important verses of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (2.9.33-36); vaktuh-of the speaker; shri-bhagavatah-of the Original Personality of Godhead; api-also; shri-krishnatvam-the state of being Shri Krishna; eva-certainly; tatha-in the same way; hi-certainly; tat-purvastham-situated previously; vakyam-statement; dadarsha-Brahma saw; tatra-there (in Vaikunöhaloka); akhila-entire; satvatam-of the great devotees; patim-the Lord; shriyah-of the goddess of fortune; patim-the Lord; yajna-of sacrifice; patim-the Lord; jagat-of the universe; patim-the Lord; sunanda-Sunanda; nanda-Nanda; prabala-Prabala; arhana-Arhana; adibhih-by them; sva-parshada-own associates; agraih-by the foremost; parisevitam-being served in transcendental love; vibhum-the great Almighty; vyakhya-the commentary of Shridhara Svami; ca-also; akhila-satvatam-the phrase "akhila-satvatam"; sarvesham-of all; shatvatanam-of the Satvata dynasty; yadava-of the Yadu dynasty; viranam-of the heros; patim-the Lord.

Before speaking to Brahma the four essential verses of Shrimad-Bhagavatam, Lord Krishna revealed Himself as the Supreme Personality of Godhead. This is confirmed in the following verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 2.9.15):

"Lord Brahma saw in the Vaikunöha planets Lord Krishna, the Personality of Godhead, who is the Lord of the entire devotee community, the Lord of the Yadu dynasty, the Lord of the goddess of fortune, the Lord of all sacrifices, and the Lord of the universe, and who is served by the foremost servitors like Nanda, Sunanda, Prabala and Arhana, His immediate associates in Dvaraka."*

In this verse the words "akhila-sattvatam patim" mean "the Lord of all the heroes in the Yadu dynasty."

Text 2

shriyah patir yajna-patih praja-patih dhiyam patir loka-patih dhara-patih patir gatish candhaka-vrishni-satvatam
prasidatam me bhagavan satam patih

ity etad-vakya-samvaditvat.

shriyah-all opulence; patih-the owner; yajna-of sacrifice; patih-the director; praja-patih-the leader of all living entities; dhiyam-of intelligence; patih-the master; loka-patih-the proprietor of all planets; dhara-earth; patih-the supreme; patih-head; gatish-destination; ca-also; andhaka-one of the kings of the Yadu dynasty; vrishni-the first king of the Yadu dynasty; satvatam-the Yadus; prasidatam-be merciful; me-upon me; bhagavan-Lord Shri Krishna; satam-of all devotees; patih-the Lord; iti-thus; etad-of this; vakya-of the statement; samvaditvat-because of corroborating.

That Shri Krishna, the master of the Yadu dynasty, is the Supreme Personality of Godhead is confirmed in the following verse spoken by Shukadeva Gosvami (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 2.4.20):

"May Lord Shri Krishna, who is the worshipable Lord of all devotees, the protector and glory of all the kings like Andhaka and Vrishni of the Yadu dynasty, the husband of all goddesses of fortune, the director of all sacrifices and therefore the leader of all living entities, the controller of all intelligence, the proprietor of all planets, spiritual and material, and the supreme incarnation on the earth (the supreme all in all), be merciful upon me."*

Text 3

pura maya proktam ajaya nabhye padme nishannaya mamadi-sarge jñanam param man-mahimavabhasam yat surayo bhagavatam vadanti.

iti tritiye uddhavam prati shri-krishna-vakyanusarena ca.

pura-in the days of yore; maya-by Me; proktam-was said; ajaya-unto Brahma; nabhye-out of the navel;

padme-on the lotus; nishannaya-unto the one situated on; mama-My; adi-sarge-in the beginning of creation; jnanam-knowledge; param-sublime; mat-mahima-My transcendental glories; avabhasam-that which clarifies; yat-which; surayah-the great learned sages; bhagavatam-Shrimad-Bhagavatam; vadanti-do say; iti-thus; tritiye-in the Third Canto of Shrimad-Bhagavatam; uddhavam prati-to Uddhava; shri-krishna-vakya-anusarena-in connection with the words of Shri Krishna.

Lord Krishna personally revealed that He is the Supreme Personality of Godhead in the following words (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 3.4.13):

"O Uddhava, in the lotus millennium in the days of yore, at the beginning of the creation, I spoke unto Brahma, who is situated on the lotus that grows out of My navel, about My transcendental glories, which the great sages describe as Shrimad-Bhagavatam."*

Text 4

yo brahmanam vidadhati purvam
yo vai vidyas tasmai gapayati sma krishnah tam ha devam atma-buddhi-prakasam mumukshur vai sharanam amum vrajet.

iti shri-gopala-tapany-anusarena ca tasyaivopadeshöritva-shruteh.

yah-who; brahmanam-to Brahma; vidadhati-gave; purvam-previously; yah-who; vai-certainly; vidyah-transcendental knowledge; tasmai-to him; gapayati sma-instructed; krishnah-Krishna; tam-to Him; ha-certainly; devam-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; atma-buddhi-spiritual knowledge; prakasam-manifesting; mumukshuh-one who desires liberation; vai-certainly; sharanam-shelter; amum-this; vrajet-should go; iti-thus; shri-gopala-tapani-anusarena-by the statement of the Gopala-tapani Upanishad (1.29); ca-also; tasya-of Him; eva-certainly; upadeshöritva-shruteh-described as the original teacher.

In the following verse from the Gopala-tapani Upanishad (1.29), Lord Krishna is described as the Supreme Personality of Godhead and the original teacher of Vedic knowledge:

"It was Krishna who in the beginning instructed Brahma in Vedic knowledge and who disseminated Vedic knowledge in the past. Those who aspire to become liberated surrender to Him, the Supreme Personality of Godhead who grants transcendental knowledge to His devotees."

Text 5

tad u hovaca brahmanah asav anavaratam me dhyatah stutah parardhante so 'budhyata. gopa-vesho me purastad avirbabhuva. iti shri-gopala-tapany-anusarenaiva kvacit kalpe shri-gopala-rupena shrishöy-adav ittham eva brahmane darshita-nija-rupatvat tad-dhamno maha-vaikunöhatvena sadhayishyamanatvac ca.

tat-then; u-certainly; ha-indeed; uvaca-replied; brahmanah-Brahma; asau-He; anavaratam-continually; me-by me; dhyatah-remembered; stutah-glorified; parardhante-at the conclusion of the parardha; sah-He; abudhyata-became perceived; gopa-veshah-in the form of a cowherd boy; me-me; purastat-in the presence; avirbabhuva-became manifested; tatah-then; iti-thus; shri-gopala-tapani-anusarena-in conformity with the Gopala-tapani Upanishad; kvacit-kalpe-during a certain kalpa; shri-gopala-rupena-in the form of a cowherd boy; shrishöi-adau-in the beginning of creation; ittham-in this way; eva-certainly; brahmane-to Lord Brahma; darshita-revealed; nija-own; rupatvat-because of the form; tat-His; dhamnah-of the abode; maha-vaikunöhatvena-as Maha-vaikunöha; sadhayishyamanatvat-because of demonstrating; ca-also.

At the beginning of a certain kalpa, Lord Krishna revealed His original form as cowherd boy, and His original abode, the best of Vaikunöha planets, to Lord Brahma. This is confirmed in the following verse from the Gopala-tapani Upanishad:

"Brahma replied: I continually glorified the Lord and meditated upon Him for millions of years, and at last I was able to understand the transcendental form of the Lord as Shri Krishna, who appeared before me in the dress of a cowherd boy."*

Text 6

tatha ca brahma-samhitayam tatra brahmabhavad bhuyash catur-vedi catur-mukhah tatha-in the same way; ca-also; brahma-samhitayam-in the Brahma-samhita; tatra-there; brahma-Brahma; abhavad-was born; bhuyah catuh-vedi-versed in the four Vedas; catuh-mukhah-four-faced.

The spiritual practices followed by Lord Brahma, which enabled him to personally meet Lord Krishna, are described in the following verses (22-26) of Brahma-samhita:

"The divine lotus which springs from the navel-pit of Vishnu is in every way related by the spiritual tie with all souls and is the origin of four-faced Brahma versed in the four Vedas.

Text 7

sanjato bhagavac-chaktya tatkala kila coditah sishrikshayam matim cakre purva-samskara-samskritah dadarsha kevalam dhvantam nanyat kim api sarvatah sanjatah-born; bhagavat-of the Lord; shaktya-by the potency; tat-kala-at that time; kila-certainly; coditah-impelled; sishrikshayam-in the matter of creation; matim-his mind; cakre-placed; purva-samskara-samskritah-under the impulse of previous impressions; dadarsha-saw; kevalam-only; dhvantam-darkness; na-not; anyat-other; kim api-anything; sarvatah-in every direction.

"On coming out of the lotus, Brahma, being guided by the Divine potency, turned his mind to the act of creation under the impulse of previous impressions. But he could see nothing but darkness in every direction.

Text 8

uvaca puratas tasmai
tasya divya sarasvati kama-krishnaya govinda
he gopi-jana ity api vallabhaya priya vahner mantram te dasyati priyam uvaca-said; puratah-in the presence; tasmai-to him; tasya-of him; divya-divine; sarasvati-Sarasvati; kama-krishnaya govinda he gopi-jana-iti api vallabhaya priya vahneh mantram-this mantra "klīm kṛṣṇaya govindaya gopijana-vallabhaya svaha"; te-your; dasyati-will grant; priyam-desire.

"Then the goddess of learning, Sarasvati, the divine consort of the Supreme Lord, said this to Brahma, who saw nothing but gloom in all directions: O Brahma this mantra (klīm kṛṣṇaya govindaya gopijana-vallabhaya svaha) will assuredly fulfill your heart's desire."

Text 9

tapas tvam tapa etena
tava siddhir bhavishyati

tapah-austerity; tvam-you; tapa-should perform; etena-by this; tava-your; siddhih-fulfillment of desire; bhavishyati-will be; iti-adi-in the passage thus beginning.

"O Brahma, do thou practice spiritual association by means of this mantra; then all your desires will be fulfilled.

Text 10

atha tepe sa suciram prinam govindam avyayam.

atha-then; tepe-performed austerities; sah-he; suciram-for a long time; prinam-satisfying; govindam-Lord Govinda; avyayam-the eternal Personality of Godhead.

"Brahma, being desirous of satisfying Govinda, practiced the cultural acts for Krishna in Goloka."

Text 11

sunanda-nanda-prabalarhanadibhih ity atra tu dvarakayam prakaöyavasare shruta-sunanda-nandadi-sahacaryena prabaladayo 'pi jneyah.

sunanda-nanda-prabalarhanadibhih iti-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 2.9.14-(this verse is quoted in full on page 355 of the present book); atra-here; dvarakayam-at Dvaraka; prakaöya-having manifested; avasare-for a time;

shruta-with Shruta; sunanda-Sunanda; nanda-Nanda; adi-and others; saha-caryena-as servants and companions; prabala-Prabala; adayah-and others; api-also; jneyah-should be understood.

After performing austerities, Lord Brahma was able to see Krishna as He appears in the spiritual realm of Dvaraka. This is described in the following verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 2.9.14):

"Lord Brahma then saw in the Vaikunöha planets Lord Krishna, the Personality of Godhead who is the Lord of the entire devotee community, the Lord of the Yadu dynasty, the Lord of the goddess of fortune, the Lord of all sacrifices, and the Lord of the universe, and who is served by the foremost servitors like Nanda, Sunanda, Prabala, and Arhana, His immediate associates in Dvaraka."*

Text 12

yathoktam prathame

sunanda-nanda-shirshanya ye canye satvatarshabhah iti.

yatha-just as; uktam-the description; prathame-in the First Canto of Shrimad-Bhagavatam; sunanda-nanda-shirshanyah ye ca anye satvata-rishabhah iti-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.14.32: sunanda-nanda-shirshanya ye canye satvatarshabhah.

The associates of Lord Krishna seen by Brahma at the beginning of the creation are directly mentioned in the description of the Lord's Dvaraka-lila, confirming that Brahma actually saw the Lord Krishna in the Dvaraka portion of the spiritual world. The following verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.14.32) confirms this:

"Sunanda, Nanda, and others are the constant servants of Lord Krishna at Dvaraka."*

Text 13

kim bahunä, nanä-avata-va-ta-rishv äpi satsu maha-purana-prä-mbha eva shäi-shauna-ka-dina-m tad eka-tat-pä-ryam idam. ätra purva-m sa-ma-nyäto 'sma-bhir eka-nta-shre-ya-stve-na sarva-shästra-sä-rä-tve-na-tma-sukha-prä-sä-da-hetut-ve-na ca yat pri-shö-am tad e-tad eva-sma-kam bha-ti. yat shäi-kri-shna-sya lila-var-na-nam ity äbhi-pre-tya-huh kim bahunä-what is the need of further explanation?; nana-of various; avatara-incarnations of Godhead; avatarishu-of the source of incarnation; äpi-also; satsu-eternal; maha-purana-of the Shrimad-Bhagavatam; prä-mbhe-in the beginning (the Third Chapter of the First Canto); eva-certainly; shäi-shaunaka-ä-dina-m-of Shäi Shaunaka Rishi and the other sages assembled at the forest of Naimisharanya; tat-that; eka-sole; tat-pä-ryam-meaning; idam-this; ätra-here; purva-m-before; sa-ma-nyäta-h-in a general way; äsma-bhih-by us; eka-nta-sre-ya-stve-na-as the supreme benediction; sarva-of all; shästra-the Vedic literatures; sä-rä-tve-na-as the essence; ätma-of the spirit soul; sukha-happiness; prä-sä-da-mercy; hetut-ve-na-as the cause; ca-also; yat-which; pri-shö-am-inquired; tat-that; e-tad-this; eva-certainly; äsma-kam-of us; bha-ti-is manifested; yat-which; shäi-kri-shna-sya-of Shäi Krishna; lila-of the pastimes; var-na-nam-description; iti-thus; äbhi-pre-tya-intending; ähuh-said.

What need is there to present more evidence that Shri Krishna is the Original Form of the Personality of Godhead? In the First Canto, Third Chapter of Shrimad-Bhagavatam this has been clearly explained to Shaunaka Rishi and the sages assembled at Naimisharanya. In the beginning of the Bhagavatam Shri Krishna has been described as the essence of all the Vedic literatures, and the merciful source of all spiritual happiness and benediction. Because Shaunaka Rishi desired to hear about Krishna's transcendental pastimes, he asked the following question of Suta Gosvami (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.1.12):

Text 14

suta janasi bhadram te bhagavan satvatam patih devakyam vasudevasya
jato yasya cikirshaya

suta-O Suta Gosvami; janasi-you know; bhadram te-all blessings upon you; bhagavan-the Personality of Godhead; satvatam-of the pure devotees; patih-the protector; devakyam-in the womb of Devaki; vasudevasya-by Vasudeva; jatah-born of; yasya-for the purpose of; cikirshaya-executing.

"All blessings upon you, O Suta Gosvami. You know for what purpose the Personality of Godhead appeared in the womb of Devaki as the son of Vasudeva."*

Text 15

bhadram te iti shri-krishna-lila-prashna-sahodara utsukyenashir-vadah. bhagavan svayam avatari sampurnaishvaryadi-yuktah; satvatam satvatanam patih nuda-bhava arshah; yadavanam ity arthah. jatah jagat-drishyo babhuva.

bhadram te iti-the words "bhadram te"; shri-krishna-of Shri Krishna; lila-of the pastimes; prashna-questions; sahodara-produced at the same time; autukyena-with eagerness; asih-vadah-words of benediction; bhagavan-the word "bhagavan"; svayam-personally; avatari-the source of all incarnations of Godhead; sampurna-aishvarya-adi-yukteh-full of all powers and opulences; satvatam-the word "satvatam"; satvatanam-means "of the Satvata dynasty; patih-the Lord; nuda-bhava arshah-poetic license; yadavanam-of the Yadu dynasty; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; jatah-the word "jatah"; jagat-drishyah-means "visible to the residents of the material universe; babhuva-became.

In this verse the words "bhadram te" (all blessings upon you) indicate that the sages of Naimisharanya, who were very eager to inquire about Shri Krishna's pastimes, offered blessing to Suta Gosvami with these words. The word "bhagavan" indicates the Original Personality of Godhead, who is full of all powers and opulences, and who is the original source of all incarnations of Godhead. The phrase "satvatam patih" means "the Lord of the Yadu dynasty". The unusual grammatical form here is a use of poetic license (arsha). The word "jatah" means "became visible to the residents of the material universe."

Anuccheda 65

Text 1

tan nah shushrushamananam arhasy anganuvarnitum yasyavatara bhutanam kshemaya ca bhavaya ca

tat-those; nah-unto us; shushrushamananam-those who are endeavoring for; arhasi-ought to do it; anga-O Suta Gosvami; anuvarnitum-to explain by following in the footsteps of previous acaryas; yasya-whose; avatarah-incarnation; bhutanam-of the living beings; kshemaya-for good; ca-and; bhavaya-upliftment; ca-and.

Shaunaka Rishi continued (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.1.13):

"O Suta Gosvami, we are eager to learn about the Personality of Godhead and His incarnations. Please explain to us those teachings imparted by previous masters [acaryas], for one is uplifted both by speaking them and by hearing them."*

Text 2

öika ca anga he suta. tan no nuvarnayitam arhasi. samanyatas tavad yasyavatara-matram kshemaya palanaya bhavaya samriddhaye ca iti.

öika-in the commentary of Shridhara Svami; ca-also; anga-the word "anga"; he suta-means "O Suta Gosvami"; tat nah anuvarnayitam arhasi-this phrase; samanyatah-in a general way; tavad-to that extent; yasya-whose; avatara-incarnation; matram-only; kshemaya-the word "kshemaya"; palanaya-means "for protection"; bhavaya-the word "bhavaya"; samriddhaye-means "for the upliftment"; ca-also; iti-thus.

Shridhara Svami explains this verse in his commentary:

"In this verse the word `anga' means `O Suta Gosvami'. The phrase `tan no 'nuvarnayitam arhasi' means `please explain them in a general way', and the phrase `yasyavatarah' means `only with the relation to the Lord and His incarnations'. The word `kshemaya' means `for the good', and the word `bhavaya' means `for the upliftment'."

Anuccheda 66

Text 1

tat-prabhavam anuvarnayantas tad-yashah-shravanautsukyam avishkurvanti.

tat-the Lord's; prabhavam-power and opulence; anuvarnayantah-describing; tat-His; yashah-glory; shravana-to hear; utsukyam-eagerness; avishkurvanti-manifest.

The sages at Naimisharanya began to describe the power and opulence of the Supreme Personality of Godhead, for they were □ very eager to hear His glories. In this connection they said (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.1.14):

Text 2

apannah samshritim ghoram yan-nama vivasho grinan tatah sadyo vimucyeta
yad bibheti svayam bhayam

apannah-being entangled; samshritim-in the hurdle of birth and death; ghoram-too complicated; yat-what; nama-the absolute name; vivashah-unconsciously; grinan-chanting; tatah-from that; sadyah-at once; vimucyeta-gets freedom; yat-that which; bibheti-fears; svayam-personally; bhayam-fear itself.

"Living beings who are entangled in the complicated meshes of birth and death can be freed immediately by even unconsciously chanting the holy name of Krishna, which is feared by fear personified."*

Text 3

vivashah api visheshena paradhinah sann api yasya shri-krishnasya nama, tasya sarvavataritvad avatara-namnam api. tatraiva paryavasana. ata eva sakshat shri-krishnad api tan-nama-pravrittih prakarantarena shrutyate shri-vishnu-purane. tatra tv akhilanam eva bhagavan-namnam karanany abhavann iti. hi tadiyam gadyam. tad idam ca vasudeva-damodara-govinda-keshavadi-namavaj jneyam. tatah samshriteh. tatra hetuh yat yato namnah; bhayam api svayam bibheti".

vivashah-the word "vivashah"; api-even though; visheshena-specifically; para-adhinah-attached to other things; san-being; api-although; yasya-of whom; shri-krishnasya-of Shri Krishna; nama-the holy name; tasya-of Him; sarva-avataritvat-because of being the source of all incarnations of Godhead; avatara-of the incarnations; namnam-of the names; api-also; tatra-there; eva-certainly; paryavasana-atah eva-therefore; sakshat-directly; shri-krishnat-from Shri Krishna; api-also; tat-His; nama-name; pravrittih-chanting; prakara-antarena-in another way; shrutyate-is heard; shri-vishnu-purane-in the Vishnu Purana; tatra-there; tu-also; akhilanam-of all; eva-certainly; bhagavat-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; namnam-of the names; karanani-causes; abhavan-became; iti-thus; hi-certainly; tadiyam-of the Vishnu Purana; gadyam-prose passage; tat-therefore; idam-this; ca-also; vasudeva-Vasudeva; damodara-Damodara; govinda-Govinda; keshava-Keshava; namavat-with the names; jneyam-should be known; tatah-the word "tatah"; samshritieh-means "from the cycle of birth and death; tatra-in this connection; hetuh-the cause; yat-the word "yat"; yatah namnah-means "which holy name"; bhayam-fear; svayam-personified; bibheti-fears.

In this verse the word "vivashah" means "even though absorbed in thinking of other things". Because Shri Krishna is the origin of all the incarnations of Godhead, all the holy names of God actually refer to Him. This is confirmed in the Vishnu Purana, which states:

"Lord Krishna is the origin of all the holy names of God."

For this reason, all the Lord's holy names, such as Vasudeva, Damodara, Govinda, Keshava, and all other names of the Lord should be understood as names of Shri Krishna. In this verse the word "tatah" means "from the cycle of birth and death." The chanter of Lord Krishna's holy name becomes free from the complicated meshes of birth and death because even fear personified fears the holy name of the Lord.

Text 1

kim ca

yat-pada-samshrayah suta munayah prashamayanah sadyah punanty upasprishöah svardhuny-apo 'nusevaya

kim ca-furthermore; yat-whose; pada-lotus feet; samshrayah-those who have taken shelter of; suta-O Suta Gosvami; munayah-great sages; prashamayanah-absorbed in devotion to the Supreme; sadyah-at once; punanti-sanctify; upasprishöah-simply by association; svardhuni-of the sacred Ganges; apah-water; anusevaya-bringing into use.

Shaunaka Rishi continued (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.1.15):

"O Suta, those great sages who have completely taken shelter of the lotus feet of the Lord can at once sanctify those who come in touch with them, whereas the waters of the Ganges can sanctify only after prolonged use."*

Text 2

yasya shri-krishnasya-padau samshrayau yesham, ata eva prashamayanah, shamo bhagavan-nishöha-buddhita, shamo man-nishöhata buddheh iti svayam shri-bhagavad-vakyat, sa eva prakrishöah shamah prashamah sakshat purna-bhagavat-shri-krishna-sambandhitvat, prashama evayanam vartma ashrayo va yesham te shri-krishna-lila-rasakrishöa-citta munayah shri-shukadevadayah, upasprishöah sannidhi-matrena sevita sadyah punanti savasana-papebhyah shodhayanti. svardhuni ganga tasya apah tu.

yasya-of whom; shri-krishnasya-of Shri Krishna; padau-two lotus feet; samshrayau yesham-those who have taken shelter; atah eva-therefore; prashamayanah-absorbed in devotion to the Supreme; samah-equiposed; bhagavat-towards the Supreme Personality of Godhead; nishöha-buddhita-fixed concentration; samah-equiposed; mat-towards Me; nishöhata buddheh-fixed concentration; iti-thus; svayam-directly; shri-bhagavat-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; vakyat-from the statement; sah-He; eva-certainly; prakrishöah-elevated; shamah-equiposed; prashamah-devoted to the Lord; sakshat-directly; purna-bhagavat-the Original Personality of Godhead; shri-krishna-Shri Krishna; sambandhitvat-because of contact; prashamah-devoted; eva-certainly; ayanam-abode; vartma-path; ashrayah-shelter; va-or; yesham-of whom; te-they; shri-krishna-of Shri Krishna; lila-of the pastimes; rasa-by the nectar; akrishöa-attracted; cittah-minds; munayah-sages; shri-sukadeva-adayah-Shukadeva Gosvami and others; upasprishöah-touched; sannidhi-matrena-simply by nearness; sevita-served; sadyah-at once; punanti-sanctify; savasana-papebhyah-from the sins of material contamination; shodhayanti-purify; svardhuni-the word "svardhuni"; ganga-means "the Ganges river"; tasyah-of that; apah-the water; tu-also.

In this verse the word "yat" means "of Shri Krishna" and the word "pada-samshrayah" means "they who have taken shelter of the lotus feet". The word "prashamayanah" means "they whose minds are fixed on the Supreme Lord". That one should continually meditate on Lord Krishna is confirmed in the Shrimad-Bhagavatam (11.19.36) by the Lord Himself, who says:

"Always fix your consciousness upon Me."

Because Shukadeva Gosvami and the other great sages at Naimisharanya had fully taken shelter of Lord Krishna and were greatly attracted to hearing Lord Krishna's pastimes, simply by a little direct service to them, one may become immediately purified from all the sinful contamination of material existence. We may also note that the word "svardhuni-apah" in this verse means "the water of the Ganges." The Ganges river is actually an incarnation of Lord Krishna. This is confirmed in the following verse from the Vedic literatures:

Text 3

yo 'sau niranjano devas cit-svarupi janardanah sa eva drava-rupena gangambho natra samshayah.

yah-who; asau-He; niranjanah-free from all material contact; devah-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; cit-svarupi-who possesses a spiritual form; janardanah-Janardana; sah-He; eva-certainly; drava-rupena-in the form of water; ganga-of the Ganges river; ambhah-the water; na-not; atra-in this connection; samshayah-doubt.

"The Supreme Personality of Godhead, Lord Janardana, whose form is completely spiritual and who is always free from material contact, personally appears in the form of the water of the Ganges river. Of this there is no doubt."

Text 4

iti svayam tathavidha-rupa api, sakshac chri-vamanadeva-caranan nihshrita api, anusevaya sakshat sevabhyasenaiva tatha shodhayanti, na sannidhi-matrena sevaya. sakshat sevaya api na sadya iti tasya api shri-krishnashritanam utkarshat tasyotkarshah. evam eva tatas tad yashaso 'py adhikyam varnyate tirtham cakre nriponam yad ajani yadushu svah-sarit-pada-shaucam.

iti-thus; svayam-personally; tatha-vidha-in this way; rupah-in the form; api-although; sakshat-directly; shri-vamanadeva-of Lord Vamanadeva; caranat-from the lotus feet; nihshritah-flowing; api-although; anusevaya-by service; sakshat-directly; seva-abhyasena-by continual service; eva-certainly; tatha-in that way; shodhayanti-purifies; na-not; sannidhi-by contact; matrena-only; sevaya-by service; sakshat-directly; sevaya-by service; api-although; na-not; sadyah-immediately; iti-thus; tasyah-of that service; api-even; shri-krishna-ashritanam-of those who have taken shelter of Lord Krishna; utkarshat-excellence; tasya-of that; utkarshah-excellence; evam-in the same way; eva-certainly; tatas-therefore; tat-of them; yashasah-of the same; api-even; adhikyam-superiority; varnyate-is described; tirtham-sacred place; cakre-made; nripa-O king; unam-insignificant; yat-which; ajani-was manifested; yadushu-among the members of the Yadu dynasty; svah-sarit-of the Ganges river; pada-feet; shaucam-washed.

Even though the Ganges river is personally the form of the Supreme Personality of Godhead, and even though it flows from the lotus foot of the Supreme Lord Vamanadeva, one must repeatedly bathe in it's waters in order to become purified. However if one once contacts a pure devotee who has taken complete shelter of Lord Krishna, one becomes immediately purified. The pure devotees of the Lord are therefore more glorious even than the Ganges river. This superexcellent quality of the devotees is described in the following verse from Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.90.47):

"O king, because of Lord Krishna's intimate association with the Yadu dynasty, the whole family not only became very famous, but also became more effective in purifying others than the water of the Ganges."*

Text 5

öika ca itah purvam svah-sarid eva sarvato 'dhikam tirtham ity asit, idanim tu yadushu yad ajani jatam tirtham shri-krishna-kirti-rupam etat svah-sarit-rupam pada-shaucam tirtham unam alpam cakre ity esha.

öika-Shridhara Svami's commentary; ca-also; itah-from this; purvam-previously; svah-sarit-the Ganges river; eva-certainly; sarvatah-of all; adhikam-the best; tirtham-sacred place; iti-thus; asit-was; idanim-now; tu-however; yadushu yat ajani-what was manifested among the members of the Yadu dynasty; jatam-manifested; tirtham-sacred place; shri-krishna-of Shri Krishna; kirti-the glories; rupam-consisting of; etat-that; svah-sarit-the Ganges; rupam-in the form of; pada-shaucam-water used to wash the feet; tirtham-sacred place; unam-the word "unam"; alpam-means "insignificant"; cakre-made; iti-thus; esha-the commentary.

Shridhara Svami comments on this verse:

"Although formerly the Ganges river was considered the foremost of all holy places, the holy place of the glorification of Shri Krishna which has now appeared in the Yadu dynasty makes the Ganges appear insignificant."

Anuccheda 68

etasya dashama-skandha-padyasyaiva samvaditam vyanakti ko va bhagavatas tasya punya-shlokedyakarmāṇaḥ śuddhi-kāma na śrīṇuyat yashah kali-malapaham.

śuddhi-kāma 'pi. yataḥ kali-yugasyāpi malapaham. yasmad eva tasmāt.

etasya-of this; dashama-skandha-padyasya-of the verses of the Tenth Canto; eva-certainly; samvaditam-commentary; vyanakti-reveals; kah-who; va-rather; bhagavatah-of the Lord; tasya-His; punya-virtuous; shloka-idya-worshipable by prayers; karmāṇaḥ-deeds; śuddhi-kāma-desiring deliverance from all sins; na-not; śrīṇuyat-does hear; yashah-glories; kali-of the age of quarrel; mala-apaham-the agent for sanctification; śuddhi-kāma-desiring deliverance from all sins; api-also; yataḥ-because; kali-yugasya-of the kali-yuga; mala-apaham-the agent of sanctification.

Shaunaka Rishi's next statement (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.1.16) may be taken as an explanation of the Shrimad-Bhagavatam's Tenth Canto:

"Who is there, desiring deliverance from the vices of the age of quarrel, who is not willing to hear the virtuous glories of the Lord?"*

Anuccheda 69

Text 1

tasya karmany udarani parigitani suribhih bruhi nah shraddadhananam lilaya dadhatah kalah

tasya-His; karmani-transcendental acts; udarani-magnanimous; parigitani-broadcast; suribhih-by the great souls; bruhi-please speak; nah-unto us; shraddadhananam-ready to receive with respect; lilaya-pastimes; dadhatah-advented; kalah-incarnations.

Shaunaka Rishi further explains (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.1.17):

"Lord Krishna's transcendental acts are magnificent and gracious, and great learned sages like Narada sing of them. Please, therefore, speak to us, who are eager to hear about the adventures He performs in His various incarnations."*

Text 2

udarani paramananda-datrini janmadini. svayam paripurnasya lilaya anyah api kalah purushadi-lakshana dadhatah; tat-tad-amshan apy adaya tasyavatirnasya sata ity arthah.

udarani-generous; parama-transcendental; ananda-bliss; datrini-giving; janma-adini-beginning with His birth; svayam-personally; paripurnasya-perfect and complete; lilaya-pastimes; anyah-other; api-and; kalah-incarnations; purusha-the purusha-avatars; adi-beginning with; lakshanah-consisting of; dadhatah-advented; tat-tad-amshan-various incarnations; api-also; adaya-accepting; tasya-of Him; avatirnasya-incarnated; satah-of the Absolute Truth; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning.

In this verse the Lord's pastimes are described as "udara" (gracious) because, from the very beginning of the Lord's appearance in this world, His pastimes give transcendental bliss to the devotees. This verse explains that although Lord Krishna is the perfect and complete Original Personality of Godhead, He performs pastimes in the forms of the purusha-avatars and other incarnations also.

Anuccheda 70

Text 1

athakhyahi harer dhimann avatara-kathah shubhah lila vidadhatah svairam ishvarasyatma-mayaya

atha-therefore; akhyahi-describe; hareh-of the Lord; dhiman-O sagacious one; avatara-incarnations; kathah-narratives; shubhah-auspicious; lila-adventures; vidadhatah-performed; svairam-pastimes; ishvarasya-of the supreme controller; atma-personal; mayaya-energies.

The sages continue (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.1.18):

"O wise Suta, please narrate to us the transcendental pastimes of the Supreme Godhead's multi-incarnations. Such auspicious adventures and pastimes of the Lord, the supreme controller, are performed by His internal powers."*

Text 2

shri-krishnasya tavat mukhyatvena kathaya. atha tad-anantaram anushangikatayaivety arthah. hareh shri-krishnasya; prakarana-balat avatarah purushavatara gunavatarah lilavatarash ca, tesham katha; lilah shrishöy-adi-karma-rupa bhu-bhara-haranadi-rupash ca. autsukyena punar api tac-caritany eva shrotum icchantas tatratmanas tripty-abhavam avedayanti.

shri-krishnasya-of Lord Krishna; tavat-to that extent; mukhyatvena-principally; kathaya-please narrate; atha-therefore; tat-anantaram-afterwards; anusangikataya-in relation to Him; eva-certainly; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; hareh-of Lord Hari; shri-krishnasya-of Shri Krishna; prakarana-balat-because of the description; avatarah-incarnations; purusha-avatarah-purusha-incarnations; guna-avatarah-incarnations who control the modes of material nature; lila-avatarah-pastimes-incarnations; ca-also; tesham-of them; kathah-narratives; lilah-adventures; shrishöi-creation of the material world; adi-beginning with; karma-activities; rupah-consisting of; bhu-of the earth; bhara-the burden; harana-removing; ai-beginning with; rupah-consisting of; ca-also; autsukyena-with eagerness to hear; punah-again; api-also; tat-His; caritani-activities; eva-certainly; shrotum-to hear; icchantah-desiring; tatra-there; atmanah-of the self; tripti-satisfaction; abhavam-lack; avedayanti-appeal.

In this verse the word "atha" may be interpreted to mean "afterwards". In this way the verse means: "First describe to us the pastimes of Lord Krishna, the Original Personality of Godhead. After He has been completely described, you may describe the pastimes of His many incarnations." In this verse the word "avatarah" refers to the purusha-avatars, guna-avatars (the controllers of the modes of material nature), and lila-avatars (pastime-incarnations). The pastimes of the Lord include His creation of the material universes, the removal of the earth's burden, and many other pastimes as well. Very eager to hear the glories of the Lord, the sages of Naimisharanya appeal to Suta Gosvami, explaining that their desire to hear about the Lord is still unsatisfied. They said (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.1.19):

Anuccheda 71

Text 1

vayam tu na vitripyama
uttama-shloka-vikrame
yac-chrinvatam rasa-jnanam svadu svadu pade pade

vayam-we; tu-but; na-not; vitripyamah-shall be at rest; uttama-shloka-the Personality of Godhead, who is glorified by transcendental prayers; vikrame-adventures; yat-which; shrinvatam-by continuous hearing; rasa-jnanam-those who are conversant with; svada-relishing; svadu-palatable; pade pade-at every step.

"We never tire of hearing the transcendental pastimes of the Personality of Godhead, who is glorified by hymns and prayers. Those who have developed a taste for transcendental relationships with Him relish hearing of His pastimes at every moment."*

Text 2

yoga-yogadishu triptah smah; bhagavad-vikrama-matre tu na tripyama eva. tatrapī tirtham cakre nriṇaṁ ity ady ukta-lakṣaṇasya sarvato 'py uttama-shlokaśya śrī-kṛṣṇasya vikrame viśeṣeṇa na tripyamah, alam iti na manyamahe. tatra hetuḥ yad-vikramaṇaṁ shrinvatam yad va, anye tu tripyantu nama, vayam tu neti tu-shabdasyanvayah.

yoga-yoga-adishu-beginning with yoga; triptah-pleased; smah-we are; bhagavad-vikrama-matre-in the power of the Lord; tu-indeed; na-not; tripyamah-we are satisfied; eva-indeed; tatrapī-there; tirtham-holy place; cakre-creates; nriṇaṁ-of kings; iti-thus; ady-beginning; ukta-said; lakṣaṇasya-of the characteristics; sarvatah-all; api-even; uttama-shlokaśya-of the Lord who is glorified in beautiful poetry; śrī-kṛṣṇasya-of Lord Krishna; vikrame-in the prowess; viśeṣeṇa-specifically; na-not; tripyamah-we are satisfied; alam-sufficiently; iti-thus; na-not; manyamahe-we consider; tatra-there; hetuḥ-reason; yad-of whom; vikramaṇaṁ-prowess; shrinvatam-we would hear; yad-which; va-or; anye-others; tu-indeed; tripyantu-may be satisfied; nama-indeed; vayam-we; tu-indeed; na-not; iti-thus; tu-tu; shabdasya-of the word; anvayah-the meanings of the words.

In this verse the sages of Naimisharanya say:

"We have become tired of hearing about the various yoga systems, but we do not become tired by hearing about the transcendental pastimes of the Supreme Personality of Godhead."

This is confirmed in the following verse from Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.90.47):

"By continually glorifying Lord Krishna, the Yadu dynasty became more effective in purifying others than the water of the Ganges."*

For this reason the sages say:

"We never tire of hearing the transcendental pastimes of Shri Krishna, who is glorified by hymns and prayers."*

In other words, they never thought that they had heard enough about Lord Krishna. They said: "But (tu) we never become tired of hearing about the Lord." The word "tu" (but) is used in this context.

Text 1

kritavan kila karmani
saha ramena keshavah atimartyani bhagavan gudhah kapaöa-manushah

kritavan-done by; kila-what; karmani-acts; saha-along with; ramena-Balarama; keshavah-Shri Krishna; atimartyani-superhuman; bhagavan-the Personality of Godhead; gudhah-masked as; kapaöa-apparently; manushah-human being.

The sages continued (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.1.20):

"Lord Shri Krishna, the Personality of Godhead, along with Balarama, played like a human being, and so masked He performed many superhuman acts."*

Text 2

öika ca atah shri-krishna-caritani kathayety ashayenahuh kritavan iti. ati-martyani martyan ati-krantani govardhanoddharanadini, manushyesv asambhavitany arthah. ity esha.

öika-Shridhara Svami's commentary; ca-also; atah-therefore; shri-krishna-of Shri Krishna; caritani-the pastimes; kathaya-please describe; iti-thus; ashayena-with the intention; ahuh-they said; kritavan iti-this verse which begins with the word "kritavan"; ati-martyani-superhuman; martyan-human powers; ati-krantani-surpassing; govardhana-of Govardhana Hill; uddharana-the lifting; adini-beginning with; manushyeshu-among human beings; asambhavitany-impossible to be performed; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; ity-thus; esha-the commentary.

Shridhara Svami explains this verse in his commentary:

"The sages of Naimisharanya spoke this verse to encourage Suta Gosvami to describe the transcendental pastimes of Lord Krishna. The word `ati-martyani' in this verse means `superhuman acts, such as the lifting of Govardhana Hill, which can never be performed by ordinary human beings.'"

Text 3

nanu katham manushah sann ati-martyani kritavan. tatrahuh kapaöa-manushah parthiva-deha-vishesha eva manusha-shabdah pratitah, tasmät kapaöenaivasau tatha bhatity arthah; vastutas tu narakriter eva para-brahmatvenasaty api prasiddha-manushatve narakriti-nara-lilatvena labdham aprasiddha-manushatvam asty eva. tat punar aishvarya-vyaghatakatvan na pratyakhyayata iti bhavah.

nanu-someone may object; katham-how is it possible?; manushah-human; san-being; ati-martyani-superhuman acts; kritavan-performed; tatra-in this connection; ahuh-they said;

```

.mt 3
.mb .5
.rm 6.5 in Set Right Margin to 6.5 in.
.rm 65
..
    Select font 1
.fa times to Times Roman type style.
.lh 1.25 em
.ch 15.5 pt

.fa timesitl
.lh 1.25 em
.ch 15.4 pt
..

.fa clarendo
.ch 16.2 pt
..

.fa helvetic
.ch 16 pt
..

.fa clarendo
.ch 16.2 pt
..

.fa clarendo
.ch 23 pt
..

.. Lower case Italicized
.de {.px -1.2 en}{.py +0.23 em}{.py -.23 em}
.. ^D = . below letters n - h      -    normal - italic
.de {.px -1. en}{.py +.23 em}{.py -.23 em}
...de {.ru .06 em, .1 em, -.40 en, -1.4 en}
.de {.px -.6 en}{.py -.55 en}{.fa clarendo}{.ch .8 em}{.sy 180}{.ch}{.fa}{.px +.1 en}{.py +.55 en}
.. ^S = ' on s                      -    normal - italic
..de {.px -1 en}{.py -.3 em}'{.fn}{.px +.1 en}{.py +.3 em}
.. ^T = ' on S
.de {.ru .28 em, .055 em, -.6 en, -1.38 en}
.. ^A = - above long 'a' - 'u' sound 'i non-italic
.de [6] {.ru .28 em, .055 em, -.40 en, -1.40 en}
..^E = - above long 'i'
.de 6 {.px -.6 em}{.py -.65 em}{.py +.65 em}
.. ^V = . above 'm'
..
.de 57 {.px -.5 en}{.py -.7 en}{.fa clarendo}{.ch .5 em}{.sy 180}{.ch}{.fa}{.py +.7 en}
..
.. Upper case Italicized

```

.de {.px -.8 en}{.py -.73 en}{.fa clarendo}{.sy 180}{.fa}{.px +.2 en}{.py +.73 en}
 ..de {.ru .06 em, .13 em, -.25 em, -2.05 en}
 .. ^T = ' on S
 ..
 .. Lower case non-Italics
 .. ^A = - over long 'i'
 .de {.ru .28 em, .055 em, -1 en, -1.40 en}
 .. ^Q = - above long 'a' - 'u' sound
 .de {.lf .7 em}{.up .65 em}{.dn}
 .. ^P = . above 'm'
 ..
 .. Upper case non-Italicized
 .de {.px -.8 en}{.py -.7 en}{.fa clarendo}{.sy 180}{.fa}{.px +.1 en}{.py +.7 en}
 ..{.ru .06 em, .13 em, -.35 em, -1.95 en}
 .. ^U = ' on S
 ..
 .de - {-{.lf .15 em}-{.lf .15 em}-
 .. long 'l'
 ..
 .hy
 .lh 1.25 em
 .bd off
 .pn 101
 .op
 .oj on

.hee # Shri Krishna-sandarbha
 .heo Volume One #

kapaöa-apparently; manushah-a human being; parthiva-material; deha-body; visheshah-specific; eva-certainly; manusha-shabdah-the word "manusha"; pratitah-celebrated; tasmah-therefore; kapaöena-deceptively; eva-certainly; asau-He; tatha-in the same way; bhata-is manifested; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; vastutah-actually; tu-but; nara-of a human being; akriteh-of □ the form; eva-certainly; para-brahmatvena-as the Supreme Personality of Godhead; asati-in the material world; api-even; prasiddha-famous; manushatve-the status of a human being; nara-of a human being; akriti-in the form; nara-of a human being; lilatvena-with the pastimes; labdham-attained; aprasiddha-incomplete; manushatvam-human nature; asti-there is; eva-certainly; tat-that; punah-again; aishvarya-of transcendental power and opulences; vyaghatakatvat-because of obstructing; na-not; pratyakhyayatah-denied; iti-thus; bhavah-the meaning.

Considering that someone may raise the objection "If Krishna is an ordinary human being, how was it possible for him to perform remarkable superhuman acts?", the sages of Naimisharanya specifically used the words "kapaöa-manushah (disguised as a human being)". Lord Krishna is the Supreme Spirit, and His form is eternal and full of knowledge and bliss. He never accepts a material body. Therefore He simply appeared to be a human being with a body made of the five gross material elements. He did not always appear or act like a human being, however, for at certain times He would display His divine powers and opulences.

Text 4

ata eva syamantaka-harane purusham prakritam matva ity anena jambavato 'nyathajnana-vyanjakena vakyena tasya prakritatvam nishidhya purushatvam sthapyate.

atah eva-therefore; syamantaka-harane-in the story of the taking of the Syamantaka jewel; purusham prakritam matva iti anena-in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.56.22: "sa vai bhagavata tena yuyudhe svaminatmanh purusham prakritam matva kupito nanubhava-vit"; jambavatah-of Jambavan; anyatha-otherwise; jnana-conception; vyanjakena-by the sign; vakyena-by speech; tasya-His; prakritatvam-humanity; nishidhya-rejecting; purushatvam-divinity; sthapyate-in established.

This is described in the story of the Syamantaka jewel recorded in the Shrimad-Bhagavatam. When he first met Lord Krishna, "Jambavan thought the Lord to be an ordinary human being" (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.56.22). When Jambavan saw the Lord's superhuman prowess, however, he understood that Lord Krishna was not an ordinary human being, but the Supreme Person. Jambavan explained this in the many prayers he spoke to the Lord.

Text 5

evam maya-manushyasya vadasva vidvan ity adishv api jeyam. yasmat kapaöa-manushah tasmad eva gudhah svatas tu tad-rupatayaiva bhagavan iti. shri-shaunakah.

evam-in the same way; maya-manushyasya-of the Lord, who appeared as an ordinary human being by His own potency; vadasva-kindly describe; vidvan-O learned speaker (Shukadeva Gosvami); iti-thus; adishu-in the passage beginning; api-also; jneyam-may be known; yasmat-because; kapaöa-manushah-disguised as a human being; tasmad-therefore; gudhah-hidden; svatah-personality; tu-also; tat-His; rupataya-by His transcendental form; bhagavan-the Original Personality of Godhead; iti-thus; shri-shaunakah-spoken by Shaunaka Rishi.

That Krishna appears as an ordinary human being is also described in the following words spoken by Maharaja Parikshit to Shukadeva Gosvami (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.1.7):

"O learned Shukadeva Gosvami, please describe to us the transcendental characteristics of Lord Krishna, the Supreme Personality of Godhead, who appeared as an ordinary human being by His own potency."*

This is the actual meaning of the words "kapaöa-manushah" and "gudhah" in this verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.1.20).

Anuccheda 73

Text 1

atha shri-sutasyapi iti samprashnah samhrshöah ity ady antaram narayanam namaskritya ity ady ante puranam upakramyaivaha munayah sadhu prishöo 'ham bhavadbhir loka-mangalam yat kritah krishna-samprashno yenatma suprasidati

atha-now; shri-sutasya-of Shri Suta Gosvami; api-also; iti samprashnah samhrishöah iti adi antaram narayanam namaskritya iti adi ante puranam upakramya-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.2.1-4:

vyasa uvaca
iti samprashna-samhrishöo vipranam raumaharshanih pratipujya vacas tesham pravaktum upacakrame

suta uvaca

yam pravrajantam anupetam apeta-krityam dvaipayano viraha-katara ajuhava putreti tan-mayataya taravo 'bhinedus tam sarva-bhuta-hridayam munim anato 'smi yah svanubhavam akhila-shruti-saram ekam adhyatma-dipam atititirshatam tamo 'ndham samsarinam karunayaha purana-guhyam tam vyasa-sunum upayami gurum muninam narayanam namaskritya naram caiva narottamam devim sarasvatim vyasam tato jayam udirayet; "

eva-certainly; aha-said; munayah-O sages; sadhu-this is relevant; prishöah-questioned; aham-myself; bhavadbhiih-by all of you; loka-the world; mangalam-welfare; yat-because; kritah-made; krishna-the Personality of Godhead; samprashnah-relevant question; yena-by which; atma-self; suprasidati-completely pleased.

After these questions were spoken by the sages of Naimisharanya, Shrila Suta Gosvami glorified Shukadeva Gosvami in the following words (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.2.1-5):

"Ugrashrava [Suta Gosvami], the son of Romaharshana, being fully satisfied by the perfect questions of the brahmanas, thanked them and thus attempted to reply.*

"Shrila Suta Gosvami said: Let me offer my respectful obeisances unto that great sage [Shukadeva Gosvami] who can enter the hearts of all. When he went away to take up the renounced order of life [sannyasa], leaving home without undergoing reformation by the sacred thread or the ceremonies observed by the higher castes, his father, Vyasadeva, fearing separation from him, cried out, 'O my son!' Indeed, only the trees, which were absorbed in the same feelings of separation, echoed in response to the begrieved father.*

"Let me offer my respectful obeisances unto him [Suta], the spiritual master of all sages, the son of Vyasadeva, who, out of his great compassion for those gross materialists who struggle to cross over the darkest regions of material existence, spoke this most confidential supplement to the cream of Vedic knowledge, after having personally assimilated it by experience.*

"Before reciting this Shrimad-Bhagavatam, which is the very means of conquest, one should offer respectful obeisances unto the Personality of Godhead, Narayana, unto Nara-narayana Rishi, the supermost human being, unto mother Sarasvati, the goddess of learning, and unto Shrila Vyasadeva, the author.*

"O sages, I have been justly questioned by you. Your questions are worthy because they relate to Lord Krishna and so are of relevance to the world's welfare. Only questions of this sort are capable of completely satisfying the self."*

Text 2

öika ca tesham vacah pratipujya iti yad uktam tat-pratipujanam karoti he munayah sadhu yatha bhavati tathaham prishöhah, yato lokanam mangalam etad, yad yatah shri-krishna-vishayah samprashnah kritah. sarva-shastrartha-saroddhara-prashnasyapi krishne paryavasanad evam uktam ity esha.

öika-Shridhara Svami's commentary; ca-also; tesham vacah pratipujya-"thanking them for their words" (a reference to Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.2.1-quoted on page 394 of this book); iti-thus; yat-which; uktam-spoken; tat-of that; prati-pujanam-words of thanks; karoti-did; he-O; munayah-sages; sadhu-justly; yatha bhavati-as it is proper; tatha-in that way; aham-I; prishöhah-questioned; yatah-from which; lokanam-of the worlds; mangalam-welfare; etad-that; yat-which; yatah-from which; shri-krishna-vishayah-in relation to Lord Krishna; samprashnah-relevant question; kritah-made; sarva-of all; shastra-Vedic literatures; artha-meaning; sara-essence; udhara-bringing out; prashnasya-of the question; api-also; krishne-in the subject of Shri Krishna; paryavasanat-from the conclusion; evam-in this way; uktam-spoken.

Shridhara Svami explains these verses in the following way:

"The phrase `tesham vacah pratipujya' in verse 1.2.1 means `thanking them for their words'. In verse 1.2.5, the word `munayah' means `O sages', and the word `sadhu' means `justly' or `properly'. The word `loka-mangalam' means `which bring about the world's welfare', and the phrase `yat kritah krishna-samprashnah' means `questions in relation to Lord Krishna'. The sages at Naimisharanya had previously asked Suta Gosvami to explain the essential truth described in all Vedic scriptures. In this verse Suta Gosvami replies that the description of Lord Krishna is the essence of the Vedic scriptures, and these questions about Lord Krishna directly relate to that essence of all the Vedas.

Text 3

ata evottareshv api padyeshv adhokshaja-vasudeva-satvatampati-krishna-shabdas tat-pradhanya-vivakshayaiva paöhita. atra shreyah-prashnasyapy uttaram loka-mangalam ity anenaiva tavat dattam bhavati, tathatma-suprasada-hetosh ca yenatma suprasidati ity anena. shri-sutah.

atah eva-therefore; uttareshu-in the answers; api-also; padyeshu-in the verses; adhokshaja-vasudeva-satvatampati-krishna-shabdah-the holy names of Lord Krishna, such as Adhokshaja, Vasudeva, and Satvatampati; tat-them; pradhanya-principally; vivakshaya-with a desire to describe; eva-certainly; paöhita-are read; atra-in this connection; shreyah-best; prashnasya-of the question; uttaram-answer; loka-mangalam iti anena-beneficial for the entire world; tavat-to that extent; dattam-given; bhavati-is; tatha-in the same way; atma-of the self; su-prasada-of the happiness; hetoh-the cause; ca-also; yena-by which; atma-self; suprasidati-completely pleased; iti-thus; anena-by this; shri-sutah-spoken by Suta Gosvami.

The verses that form Suta Gosvami's answer to the sages' questions are filled with the description of Lord Krishna and in these verses the Lord's holy names, such as Vasudeva, Adhokshaja, and Satvatam pati, are repeatedly invoked. In this way the "best-question" is answered by Suta Gosvami, and that answer is "loka-mangalam" (relevant to the world's welfare). Such questions and answers are capable of completely satisfying the self (yenatma suprasidati).

Text 4

tad evam shrotri-vaktrinaṁ aika-matyena ca tatparyam siddham. kim caitaśyam aśōadasha-sahasryam samhitayam śhri-kṛṣṇasyaivabhyasa-bahulyam drishyate. tatra prathama-dashamaikadasheshv ati-vistarenaiva. dvitiye śhri-brahma-narada-samvade, tritiye śhri-viduroddhava-samvade, caturthe tav imau vai bhagavato harer amsav ihagatav ity adau yac canyad api kṛṣṇasyety adau ca. pancame rajan patir gurur alam ity adau. shashōhe mam keshavo gadaya pratar avyad govinda aśhangava atta-venur ity atra. saptame narada-yudhishōhira-samvade. aśhōame tan-mahima-vishesha-bijaropa-rupe kalanemi-vadhe tadrisha-shrimad-ajita-dvarapi tasya murtir nabhavat kintu punah kamsatve tad-dvaraiveti tan-mahima-vishesha-kathana-prathamangatvat. navame sarvante dvadashe ca □

śhri-kṛṣṇa kṛṣṇa-sakha-vrīṣṇy-rśabhavāni-dhruḡ rajanya-vamśa-dahananapavarga-viryety adau. śhri-bhagavatanukramanikayam ca.

tat-therefore; evam-in this way; shrotri-of the hearers; vaktrinaṁ-and of the speakers; aika-matyena-with the same conception; ca-also; tatparyam-explanation; siddham-is established; kim ca-furthermore; etasyam-in this; aśōadasha-sahasryam-in 18,000 verses; samhitayam-poem; śhri-kṛṣṇasya-of Śhri Krishna; abhyasa-bahulyam-repeated description; drishyate-is seen; tatra-there; prathama-in the First; dashama-Tenth; ekadasheshu-and Eleventh Cantos; ati-vistarena-very elaborately; dvitiye-in the Second Canto; śhri-brahma-between Lord Brahma; narada-and Narada Muni; samvade-in the conversation; tritiye-in the Third Canto; śhri-vidura-between Vidura; uddhava-and Uddhava; samvade-in the conversation; caturthe-in the Fourth Canto; tau-both; imau-These; vai-certainly; bhagavatah-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; hareh-of Hari; amshau-part and parcel expansion; iha-here (in this universe); agatau-has appeared; iti adau-in the verse beginning with these words (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 4.1.59); yat-which; ca-and; anyat-other; api-certainly; kṛṣṇasya-of Krishna; iti adau-in the verse beginning with these words (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 4.17.6); ca-also; pancame-in the Fifth Canto; rajan-O my dear king; patih-maintainer; guruḥ-spiritual master; alam-certainly; iti adau-in the verse beginning with these words (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 5.6.18); shashōhe-in the Sixth Canto; mam-me; keshavah-Lord Keshava; gadaya-by His club; pratah-in the morning hours; avyat-may He protect; govindah-Lord Govinda; asangavam-during the second part of the day; atta-venuh-holding His flute; iti atra-in the passage beginning with these words (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 6.8.20); saptame-in the Seventh Canto; narada-between Narada Muni; yudhishōhira-and Maharaja Yudhishōhira; samvade-in the conversation; tat-of Lord Krishna; mahima-of the glories; vishesha-specific; bija-of the seed; aropa-planting; rupe-in the form; kalnemi-of the demon named Kalanemi; vadhe-in the killing; tadrisha-like this; shrimat-ajita-dvara-by the unconquerable Original Personality of Godhead; tasya-His; murtih-form; na-not; abhavat-was; kintu-but; punah-again; kamsatve-in the condition of being King Kamsa; tad-dvara-by that; eva-certainly; iti-thus; tat-His; mahima-glories; vishesha-specific; kathana-description; prathama-forest; angatvat-because of possessing a body; navame-in the ninth Canto; sarva-ante-at the end; ca-also; śhri-kṛṣṇa kṛṣṇa-sakha-vrīṣṇi-rśabhavāni-dhruk rajanya-vamśa-dahananapavarga-virya iti adau-in the verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 12.11.26):

śhri-kṛṣṇa kṛṣṇa-sakha vrīṣṇy rśabhavāni-dhruḡ rajanya-vamśa-dahananapavarga-virya govinda gopa-vanita-vraja-bhṛitya-gita tirtha-shravam shravana-mangala pahi bhṛityan; śhri-bhagavata-of the Shrimad-Bhagavatam; anukramanikayam-in the brief table of contents; ca-also.

The many exalted hearers and speakers quoted in the verses of Shrimad-Bhagavatam present a single, unified conclusion: Śhri Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead. Śhri Krishna is repeatedly described in the 18,000 verses of Shrimad-Bhagavatam and He is described at great length in the First, Tenth, and Eleventh Cantos. In the Second Canto, Lord Krishna is described as the Supreme Personality of Godhead in the account of the conversation between Brahma and Narada. In the Third Canto, Lord Krishna is also described in the account of the conversation between Vidura and Uddhava. In the Fourth Canto, Lord Krishna is elaborately described, and the following verses: "That Nara-Narayana Rishi, who is a partial expansion of Krishna, has now appeared in the dynasties of Yadu and Kuru in the forms of Krishna and Arjuna respectively, in order to mitigate the burden of the world."* (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 4.1.59), and "Prithu Maharaja was a powerful incarnation of Lord Krishna's potencies; consequently any narration concerning His activities is surely very pleasing to hear, and it produces all good fortune".* (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 4.17.6) may be presented as evidence to show that Shri Krishna is the actual subject described in the verses of the Bhagavatam.

In this connection we may also quote the following verse from the Fifth Canto of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (5.6.18):

"My dear king, the Supreme Person, Mukunda, is actually the maintainer of all the members of the Pandava and Yadu dynasties. He is your spiritual master, worshipable Deity, friend, and the director of Your activities."*

The description of Shri Krishna is also found in the Sixth Canto. The following verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 6.8.20) may be quoted in this connection:

"May Lord Keshava protect me with His club in the first portion of the day, and may Govinda, who is always engaged in playing His flute, protect me in the second portion of the day."*

That Shri Krishna is the Supreme Personality of Godhead is also described in the conversation between Narada Muni and Maharaja Yudhishöhira recorded in the Seventh Canto of Shrimad-Bhagavatam.

The unequalled power and opulence of Shri Krishna is described in the Eighth Canto of the Bhagavatam. In this Canto we find the story of Kalanemi, a demon killed by Lord Vishnu, who is never defeated by anyone. When killed by Lord Vishnu, the demon Kalanemi did not attain liberation, but again appeared in the material world as King Kamsa. When that same demon was again killed by Lord Krishna, the same demon immediately became liberated. From this account we may understand that demons directly killed by Lord Krishna immediately attain liberation, although demons killed by Lord Vishnu, or other forms of the Lord, do not necessarily attain liberation. By this we may see the singular power and greatness of Lord Krishna.

Shri Krishna is certainly the central theme of the Ninth and Tenth Cantos of the Bhagavatam, and even at the very end of the Bhagavatam we find the following quote (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 12.11.26):

"O Krishna, O friend of Arjuna, O chief among the descendants of Vrishni, you are the destroyer of those political parties which are disturbing elements on this earth. Your prowess never deteriorates. You are the proprietor of the transcendental abode, and You are glorified by the gopis of Vrajabhumi, who have all become Your maidservants. To hear Your transcendental glories brings the supreme auspiciousness. O Lord, please protect us, who are Your dependant servants."*

In this way we have briefly summarized the contents of Shrimad-Bhagavatam, which describes the glories of Shri Krishna.

Text 5

tatha ca yasyaivabhyasas tad eva shastre pradhanam ity anandamayo 'bhyasad ity atraparair api samarthitvatd ihapi shri-krishna eva pradhanam bhaved ititi tasyaiva mula-bhagavattvam sidhyati.

tatha-in the same way; ca-also; yasya-of whom; eva-certainly; abhyasah-by repeated study; tat-therefore; eva-certainly; shastre-in this scripture; pradhanam-most significant; iti-thus; anandamayah-blissful; abhyasat-continually; iti-thus; atra-here; aparaih-by many elevated saintly persons; api-also; samarthitvat-because of being considered; iha-here; api-also; shri-krishnah-Shri Krishna; eva-certainly; pradhananam-most important; bhavet-may be; iti-thus; iti-thus; tasya-of Him; mula-bhagavattvam-the state of being the Original Personality of Godhead; sidhyati-is proved.

By careful study of Shrimad-Bhagavatam, and also by study of the other Vedic literatures (such as Vedanta-sutra which explains "anandamayo 'bhyasat"-The Supreme is by nature eternally full of bliss without any interruption), one cannot avoid concluding that Shri Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead, the source of all incarnations.

Text 6

yat-pratipadakatvenasya shastrasya bhagavatam ity akhya. api ca na kevalam bahutra sucana-matram atrabhyasanam api tv ardhad apy adhiko granthas tat-prastavako drishyate. tatrapi sarvashcaryataya. tasmad sadhuktam ete camsa-kalah pumsah krishnas tu bhagavan svayam iti. tad evam asya vacana-rajasya sena-sangraho nirupitah.

yat-pratipadakatvena-because of this explanation; asya-of this; shastrasya-scriptures; bhagavatam-Shrimad-Bhagavatam; iti-thus; akhya-named; api-ca-furthermore; na-not; kevalam-in a few isolated quotations; bahutra-in many places; sucana-matram-indications; atra-here; abhyasanam-repetition; api-also; tu-but; ardhad-than half; api-even; adhikah-more; granthah-scripture; tat-prastavakah-describing Krishna; drishyate-is seen; tatra api-nevertheless; sarva-to everyone; ashcaryataya-amazing; tasmad-therefore; sadhu-well; uktam-said; ete ca amsha-kalah pumsah krishnah tu bhagavan svayam-iti-Krishna is the Original Supreme Personality of Godhead; tat-therefore; evam-in this way; asya-of this; vacana-of explanations; rajasya-of the monarch; sena-□ sangraha-the multitude of armies; nirupitah-is described.

This scripture is known as the "Shrimad-Bhagavatam" because it specifically explains that Shri Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead (svayam-bhagavan). This Bhagavatam contains not a few isolated descriptions of Shri Krishna, but more than half of its contents describe Him. Even though the Bhagavatam deals almost exclusively with this single theme it is not at all boring or tedious, but it is very wonderful to read. For this reason it may be said that the essence of Shrimad-Bhagavatam is found in the verse "ete camsa-kalah pumsah krishnas tu bhagavan svayam (1.3.28)

The verses of the Bhagavatam may be compared to an army, and this verse (krishnas tu bhagavan svayam) may be considered to be the monarch who commands that army. In this way I have described the army of Shrimad-Bhagavatam and its commander.

Anuccheda 74

Text 1

tatha tasya pratinidhi-rupani vakyanterany api drishyante. yatha ashöamas tu tayor asit svayam eva harih kila iti.

tatha-in the same way; tasya-of the Bhagavatam; pratinidhi-rupani-subordinate commanders; vakya-statements; antarani-others; api-also; drishyante-are seen; yatha-just as; ashöamah-the eighth one; tu-but; tayoh-of both (Devaki and Vasudeva); asit-appeared; svayam-directly, personally; harih-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; kila-what to speak of; iti-thus.

Many other quotations serve as subordinate generals under the jurisdiction of that supreme commander. One of those subordinate generals is the following quotation (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 9.24.55):

"The eighth son of Vasudeva and Devaki was the Supreme Personality of Godhead Himself-Krishna."*

Text 2

kila-shabdena krishnas tu iti prasiddhih sucyate. tato harir atra bhagavan eva. yathoktam. vasudeva-grihe sakshad bhagavan purusha eva iti ca. shri-shukah.

kila-shabdena-by using the word "kila (certainly)"; krishnah tu iti-the statement "krishnas tu bhagavan svayam"; prasiddhih-fulfillment; sucyate-is indicated; tatah-for this reason; harih-Lord Hari; atra-here; bhagavan-means "The Supreme Personality of Godhead"; eva-certainly; yatha-just as; uktam-spoken; vasudeva-of Vasudeva; grihe-in the home; sakshat-directly; bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; purushah-the Supreme Person; eva-certainly; iti-thus; ca-also; shri-shukah-spoken by Shukadeva Gosvami.

The use of the word "kila (certainly)" to emphasize the statement of this verse perfectly corroborates the statement of our paribhasha-sutra (krishnas tu bhagavan svayam-Shri Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead). Our paribhasha-sutra is also corroborated by the following statement of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.1.23):

"The Original Personality of Godhead appeared in the home of Vasudeva."*

Anuccheda 75

yatha va aho bhagyam aho bhagyam ity adi. brahmatvenaiva brihattamatve labdho 'pi purnam ity adhikam visheshanam atopajiviyate. brahma shri-bhagavantam.

yatha-just as; va-or; aho-bhagyam aho bhagyam iti adi-the following verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.14.32):

aho bhagyam aho bhagyam nanda-gopa-vrajaukasam yan-mitram paramanandam purnam brahma sanatanam

brahmatvena-by the position of the Supreme Spirit; brihattamatve-in the status of being the greatest; labdhah-attained; api-even; purnam iti adhikam-the phrase beginning with the word "purnam" ("purnam brahma sanatanam"); visheshanam-describing; atra-in this connection; upajiviyate-is substantiated; brahma-spoken by Lord Brahma; shri-bhagavantam-to Lord Krishna.

Lord Brahma also confirms that Lord Krishna is the Supreme Personality of Godhead in the following words

(Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.14.32):

"How greatly fortunate are Nanda Maharaja, the cowherd men and all the inhabitants of Vrajabhumi! There is no limit to their fortune because the Absolute Truth, the source of transcendental bliss, the eternal Supreme Brahman, has become their friend."*

That Shri Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead is especially confirmed by the phrase "purnam brahma sanatanam" (Lord Krishna is the Absolute Truth, the eternal Supreme Brahman).

Anuccheda 76

Text 1

ata eva

svayam tv asamyatishayas tryadhisah svarajya-lakshmy-apta-samasta-kamah balim haradbhish cira-loka-palaih kiriöa-koöy-edita-pada-piöhah atah eva-therefore; svayam-Himself; tu-but; asamyatishayas-atishayah-greater; tri-adhisah-Lord of the three; svarajya-independent supremacy; lakshmi-fortune; apta-achieved; samasta-kamah-all desires; balim-worshiping paraphernalia; haradbhish-offered by; cira-loka-palaih-by the eternal maintainers of the order of creation; kiriöa-koöi-millions of helmets; edita-pada-piöhah-feet honored by prayers.

That Shri Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead is again confirmed in the following verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 3.2.21):

"Lord Shri Krishna is the Lord of all kinds of threes and is independently supreme by achievement of all kinds of fortune. He is worshiped by the eternal maintainers of the creation, who offer Him the paraphernalia of worship by touching their millions of helmets to His feet."*

Text 2

na samyatishayau yasya; yam apekshyany asya samyam atishayas ca nastity arthah. tatra hetavah tryadhisah trishu sankarshana-pradyumnaniruddheshv apy adhishah, sarvamsitvat. ata eva sva-rajya-lakshmya sarvadhika-paramananda-rupa-sampattyaiva prapta-samasta-bhagah. balim tad-icchanusarana-rupam arhanam haradbhish samarpayadbhish, cira-loka-palaih bhagavad-drishöy-apekshaya brahmadayas tavat acira-loka-palah, anityatvat, tatash ca cira-kalinair lika-palair ananta-brahmandantaryami-purushaih kiriöa-koöi-dvara iditam stutam pada-piöham yasya sah. atyanta-tiraskrita-vacya-dhvanina parama-shreshöha ity arthah. samasta-paöhe 'pi sa evarthah. shri-krishna iti prakarana-labdham visheshya-padam. atra svayam tu svayam eva tatha tathavidha iti krishnas tu bhagavan svayam itivat svayam-bhagavattam eva vyanakti. shrimad-uddhavo viduram.

na-not; samya-equal; atishayau-or greater; yasya-of whom there is; yam-whom; apekshyani-in relation to; asya-of Him; samyam-equality; atishayah-greater; ca-also; na-not; asti-is; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; tatra-in this matter; hetavah-the causes; tryadhisah-Lord of the three; trishu-among the three; sankarshana-Lord Sankarshana; pradyumna-Lord Pradyumna; aniruddheshu-and Lord Aniruddha; api-even;

adhashah-the Lord; sarva-amshivat-because He is the origin of all forms of Godhead, as well as the origin of all individual living entities; atah eva-therefore; sva-rajya-independent supremacy; lakshmya-fortune; sarva-than all; akhika-greater; parama-transcendental; ananda-bliss; rupa-form; sampattya-with the opulence; eva-certainly; prapte-achieved; samasta-all; bhagah-fortune; balim-worshiping paraphernalia; tat-His; iccha-desires; anusarana-in accordance to; rupam-in the form of; arhanam-worship; haradbhih-offered by; samarpayadbhih-offered by; cira-loka-palaih-by the eternal maintainers of the order of the creation; bhagavat-of the Supreme Lord; drishöi-the glance; apekshaya-in reference to; brahma-adayah-Brahma and the other demigods; tavat-to that extent; acira-loka-palah-temporary bureaucrats; anityatvat-because of limited duration of life; tatah-therefore; ca-also; cira-klainaih-actually eternal; loka-palaih-maintainers of the order of creation; ananta-of unlimited; brahmada-universes; antaryami-purushaih-by the Supreme Lord's expansions as the all-pervading Supersoul; kiriöa-koöi-dvara-by millions of helmets; editam-the word "editam"; stutam-means "honored by prayers"; pada-piöham yasya sah-whose feet; atyanta-tiraskrita-vacya-dhvanina-by indirect statement; parama-shreshöhah-the greatest of all; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; samasta-paöha-in every statement of this verse; api-even; sah-that; eva-certainly; arthah-the meaning; shri-krishnah-Shri Krishna; iti-thus; prakarana-labdham-the subject under discussion; visheshya-padam-described in this verse; atra-here; svayam-Himself; tu-but; svayam-Himself; eva-certainly; tatha-in that way; tathavidhah-in that way; iti-thus; krishnah tu bhagavan svayam-the statement "Shri Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.3.28); itivat-just like; svayam bhagavattam-status as the Supreme Personality of Godhead; eva-certainly; vyanakti-reveals; shrinad-uddhavad-Uddhava; viduram-spoken by Vidura.

In this verse the word "asamyatishayah" means "He, than whom no one is superior and to whom no one is equal". This Supreme Person has no equal or superior because He is the origin of all living entities and all forms of Godhead also, and for this reason He is called "Tryadhisha", which means "The master of Lord Sankarshana, Lord Pradyumna, and Lord Aniruddha."

This Supreme Person is described as: "He who has achieved all kinds of fortune". The fortune referred to may be understood to begin with the opulence of possessing a form of transcendental bliss, greater than all other forms. This verse explains:

"That Supreme Person is worshiped by the eternal maintainers of the creation, who offer Him the paraphernalia of worship by touching their millions of helmets to His feet."*

The "eternal maintainers of the creation" described in this verse cannot refer to Lord Brahma and the other temporary demigods who, in the eyes of the Lord, live for a only short time. The "eternal maintainers" must therefore refer to the innumerable forms of the all-pervading Supersoul (antaryami). In an indirect way this verse describes Shri Krishna as the Supreme Personality of Godhead, just as He was more directly described in our paribhasha-sutra (Krishnas tu bhagavan svayam).

Anuccheda 77

tad etat purnatvam drishöanta-dvarapi darshitam asti. yatha

devakyam deva-rupinyam

vishnuh sarva-guha-shayah avirasid yatha pracyam

dishindur iva pushkalah

yatha yathavat svarupenaivety arthah. shri-shukah.

tat-etat-purnatvam-this perfection; drishöanta-dvara-by an example; darshitam asti-is shown; yatha-just as; devakyam-in the womb of Devaki; deva-rupinyam-who was in the same category as the Supreme Personality of Godhead (ananda-chinmaya-rasa-pratibhavitabhih); vishnuh-Lord Vishnu, the Supreme Lord; sarva-guha-shayah-who is situated in the core of everyone's heart; avirasit-appeared; yatha-as; pracyam dishi-in the east; induh iva-like the full moon; pushkalah-complete in every respect; yatha-the word "yatha"; yathavat-just as; svarupena-by her own form; eva-certainly; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; shri-shukah-Shri Shukadeva Gosvami.

In the following verse Shukadeva Gosvami uses an elegant metaphor to explain that Shri Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.3.8):

"Then the Supreme Personality of Godhead, Vishnu, who is situated in the core of everyone's heart, appeared from the heart of Devaki in the dense darkness of night, like the full moon rising on the eastern horizon, because Devaki was of the same category as Shri Krishna."*

Anuccheda 78

yatha ca

akhanda-mandala-vyomni rarajodu-ganaih shashi yatha yadu-patih krishno vrishni-cakravrito bhuvi spashöam. shri-shukah.

yatha-just as; ca-also; akhanda-mandalah-full; vyomni-in the sky; raraja-shines; udu-ganaih-with the stars; shashi-the moon; yatha-just as; yadu-patih-the master of the Yadu dynasty; krishnah-Lord Krishna; vrishni-cakra-avritah-surrounded by the Vrishni dynasty; bhuvi-on the earth; spashöam-the meaning is clear; shri-shukah-spoken by Shri Shukadeva Gosvami.

That Lord Krishna is the Supreme Personality of Godhead is also confirmed by the following statement of Shukadeva Gosvami (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.20.44):

"During autumn the moon looks very bright along with the stars in the clear sky. The Supreme Personality of Godhead, Lord Krishna Himself, appeared in the sky of the Yadu dynasty, and He was exactly like the moon surrounded by the stars, or the members of the Yadu dynasty."*

Anuccheda 79

tatha shri-krishna-pratinidhi-rupatvad asya maha-puranasya shri-krishna eva mukhyam tatparyam ity apy aha
krishne sva-dhamopagate dharma-jnanadibhih saha kalau nashöa-drisham esha puranarko 'dhunoditah
spashöam. shri-shukah.

tatha-in the same way; shri krishna-Shri Krishna; pratinidhi-resembling; rupatvat-because of the form; asya-of this; maha-puranasya-Maha-Purana; shri-krishna-Shri Krishna; eva-certainly; mukhyam-principal; tatparyam-meaning; iti-thus; api-also; aha-said; krishne-in Krishna's; sva-dhama-own abode; upagate-having returned; dharma-religion; jnana-knowledge; adibhih-combined together; saha-along with; kalau-in the Kali-yuga; nashöa-drisham-of persons who have lost their sight; eshah-all these; purana-arkah-the Purana which is brilliant like the sun; adhuna-just now; uditah-has arisen; spashöam-the meaning is clear; shri-shukah-spoken by Shri Shukadeva Gosvami.

Shrimad-Bhagavatam affirms that Shri Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead. The Bhagavatam is primarily devoted to describing Shri Krishna, and indeed, the Bhagavatam is itself considered one of the forms of Shri Krishna. This is confirmed by Shukadeva Gosvami in the following words (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.3.43):

"This Bhagavata Purana is as brilliant as the sun, and it has arisen just after the departure of Lord Krishna to His own abode, accompanied by religion, knowledge, etc. Persons who have lost their vision due to the dense darkness of ignorance in the age of Kali shall get light from this Purana."*

Anuccheda 80

Text 1

tad evam shri-krishnasya svayam-bhagavattvam darshitam. tat tu gati-samanyenapi labhyate; yatha mahabharate sarve vedah sarva-vidyah sa-shastrah sarve yajnah sarva idyash ca krishnah viduh krishnam brahmanas tattvato ye tesham rajan sarva-yajnah samaptah. iti.

atra sarva-samanvaya-siddheh purnatvam eva labhyate.

tat-therefore; evam-in this way; shri-krishnasya-of Shri Krishna; svayam-personally; bhagavattvam-the status of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; darshitam-is revealed; tat-that; tu-also; gati-samanyena-as the goal of living beings; api-even; labhyate-is attained; yatha-just as; mahabharate-in the Mahabharata; sarve-all; vedah-the Vedas; sarva-all; vidyah-knowledge; sa-shastrah-and all scriptures; sarve-all; yajnah-sacrifices; sarve-all; idyah-worthy of glorification and worship; ca-also; krishnah-Krishna; viduh-understand; krishnam-Krishna; brahmanah-Brahmanas; tattvatah-in truth; ye-those who; tesham-of them; rajan-O king; sarva-yajnah-all sacrifices; samaptah-are completed; iti-thus; atra-in this verse; sarva-samanvaya-siddheh-because of possessing all perfections; purnatvam-perfection and completeness; eva-certainly; labhyate-is attained.

Shri Krishna is the perfect and complete Personality of Godhead described in all Vedic literatures. This is explained in the following verse from Mahabharata:

"Shri Krishna is the Supreme worshipable Personality of Godhead, the ultimate goal of all knowledge, all Vedic literatures and all sacrifices. O King, they who understand Shri Krishna in truth are automatically brahmanas, and they obtain the pious results of performing all varieties of Vedic sacrifices, without having to endeavor for them."

Text 2

evam shri-bhagavad-upanishatsu ca vedaish ca sarvair aham eva vedyo vedanta-krid veda vid eva caham. iti.

brahmano hi pratishöham, ity adi ca.

evam-in the same way; shri-bhagavat-upanishatsu-in the Bhagavad-gita; ca-also; vedaih-by the Vedas; ca-also; sarvaih-all; aham-I am; eva-certainly; vedyah-knowable; vedanta-krit-the compiler of the Vedanta; veda-vit-the knower of the Vedas; eva-certainly; ca-and; aham-I; iti-thus; brahmanah-of the impersonal brahmajyoti; hi-certainly; pratishöha-the rest; aham-I am; iti adi-in the verse beginning with these words; ca-also.

In the following verses from Bhagavad-gita, Lord Krishna affirms that He is the Original Personality of Godhead. The Lord says:

"By all the Vedas am I to be known; indeed I am the compiler of Vedanta, and I am the knower of the Vedas."*
-15.15

"I am the basis of the impersonal Brahman."*
-14.27

Text 3

brahma-samhitayam

cintamani-prakara-sadmasu kalpa-vriksha-lakshavriteshu surabhir abhipalayantam ity adikam upakramya.
yasyaika-nishvasita-kalam athavalambya jivanti loma-vilaja jagad-anda-nathah vishnur mahan sa iha yasya kala-vishesho govindam adi-purusham tam aham bhajami brahma-samhitayam-in the Brahma-samhita; cintamani-prakara-sadmasu kalpa-vriksha-lakshavriteshu surabhih abhipalayantam iti adikam upakramya-the 29th verse of Brahma-samhita:

cintamani-prakara-sadmasu kalpa-vriksha-lakshavriteshu surabhir abhipalayantam lakshmi-sahasra-shata-sambhrama-sevyamanam govindam adi-purusham tam aham bhajami;

yasya-whose; eka-one; nishvasita-of breath; kalam-time; atha-thus; avalambya-taking shelter of; jivanti-live; loma-vilajah-grown from the hair holes; jagat-anda-nathah-the masters of the universes (the Brahmas); vishnuh mahan-the Supreme Lord Maha-Vishnu; sah-that; iha-here; yasya-whose; kalu-visheshah-particular plenary portion or expansion; govindam-Lord Govinda; adi-purusham-the original person; tam-Him; aham-I; bhajami-worship.

That Shri Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead is also confirmed in the following statements of Brahma-samhita (verses 29 and 48):

"I worship Govinda, the primeval Lord, the first progenitor, who is tending the cows, yielding all desires, in abodes built with spiritual gems and surrounded by millions of purpose trees. He is always served with great reverence and affection by hundreds and thousands of goddesses of fortune.

"The Brahmas and other lords of the mundane worlds appear from the pores of the Maha-Vishnu and remain alive for the duration of His one exhalation. I adore the primeval Lord, Govinda, for Maha-Vishnu is a portion of His plenary portion."

Text 4

nanu padmottara-khandadau sarvavatari paramavyomadhipatir narayana eveti shruyate; pancaratradau tu vasudevah; na ca sa sa shri-krishna eveti vaktavyam, tat-tat-sthana-parikara-nama-rupanam bhadat; tarhi katham shri-krishnasyaiva sarvavataritvam svayam-bhagavattvam va. atrocyate shri-bhagavatasya sarva-shastra-cakravartitvam prathama-sandarbhe praghaööakenaiva darshitam. purna-jnana-pradurbhavanantaram eva shri-veda-vyasena tat prakashitam iti ca tatraiva prasiddham. sphuöam eva drishyate casminn apara-shastropamardakatvam nanu-someone may object, saying "Is it not so..."; padma-of the Padma Purana; utara-khanda-adau-in the passage taken from the Uttara-khanda; sarva-avatari-the source of all incarnations of Godhead; paravyoma-of the spiritual world; adhipatih-the supreme monarch; narayanah-Lord Narayana; eva-certainly; iti-thus; shruyate-it is heard; pancaratra-adau-in a passage taken from the Pancaratras; tu-also; vasudevah-Lord Vasudeva; na-not; ca-also; sah-He; sah-He; shri-krishnah-Shri Krishna; eva-certainly; iti-thus; vaktavyam-is described; tat-tat-of various; sthana-abodes; parikara-associates; nama-names; rupanam-and forms; bhadat-because of difference; tarhi-therefore; katham-how is it possible?; shri-krishnasya-of Shri Krishna; eva-certainly; sarva-avataritvam-the source of all incarnations of Godhead; svayam-bhagavattvam-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; va-or; atra-to this objection; ucyate-it may be replied; shri-bhagavatasya-of the Shrimad-Bhagavatam; sarva-shastra-of all scriptures; cakravartitvam-the status of supreme monarch; prathama-sandarbhe-in the First Sandarbha (Tattva-sandarbha); praghaööakena-as the first thing to be explained; eva-certainly; darshitam-is shown; purna-complete and perfect; jnana-knowledge; pradurbhava-revelation; anantaram-afterwards; eva-certainly; shri-veda-vyasena-by Vedavyasa; tat-that; prakashitam-is revealed; iti-thus; ca-also; tatra-there; eva-certainly; prasiddham-celebrated; sphuöam-clearly; eva-certainly; drishyate-is seen; ca-also; asmin-in this; apara-of other; shastra-scriptures; upamardakam-refutation of an contradictory statements.

Someone may object: The Uttara-khanda of the Padma Purana says: "Lord Narayana is the supreme monarch of the spiritual world, and the source of all incarnations of Godhead," and the Pancaratra-shastra says that Lord Vasudeva is the origin of all incarnations. These scriptures do not say that Krishna is the origin of all incarnations and the Supreme Personality of Godhead. Krishna is certainly different from Narayana and Vasudeva. His abode, associates, names, and form are all different from those of Narayana. How is it possible, then, that Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead, the source of all incarnations of Godhead? This doctrine is certainly refuted in these quotes from the Padma Purana and the Pancaratra-shastra.

To this I reply: In the first sandarbha (Tattva-sandarbha), I have already demonstrated that Shrimad-Bhagavatam is the most important of all scriptures. The Bhagavatam contains the ultimate perfection of complete transcendental knowledge revealed by Shrila Vyasadeva, and therefore any scriptural statement contradicting the version of the Bhagavatam should be rejected by the wise.

Fallacious conceptions sometimes presented in the scriptures, and the supremacy of the Bhagavatam, are both described in the following verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.57.31):

Text 5

ity angopadishanty eke
vismritya prag udahritam munivasa-nivase kim ghatetarishöa-darshanam. ity adau.

iti-thus; anga-O king; upadishanti-instructed; eke-some people; vismritya-forgetting; prak-formerly; udahritam-what was spoken; munivasa-nivase-in the departure of Akrura; kim-how is it possible?; ghaöeta-there may be; arishöa-of calamity; darshanam-the occurrence; iti-thus; adau-in the passage beginning.

"The citizens of Dvaraka felt themselves threatened with pestilence and natural disturbances due to the absence of Akrura from the city. This was a kind of superstition because while Lord Krishna was present there could not be any pestilence, famine, or natural disturbances."*

This misconception thought by the residents of Dvaraka may be taken as an example of the false ideas which may sometimes find their way into the Vedic literatures. For this reason, the supreme Vedic literature. Shrimad-Bhagavatam, should be always taken as the final authority, and any statement contradicting the Bhagavatam should be rejected.

Text 6

evam vadanti rajarshe ity adau ca.

evam vadanti rajarshe iti adau ca-the verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.77.30):

evam vadanti rajarshe rishayah ke ca nanvitah yat svavaco virudhyeta na nyunam te smaranty amu

This is also described in the following verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.77.30):

"O King Parikshit, although Krishna lamented when Shalva attempted to trick Him into thinking that His father Vasudeva was killed, we should understand that an actuality, Lord Krishna was not at all fooled, and He did not lament. Although some sages may say that the Lord lamented, such statements are not fit to be accepted as truth."*

This verse clearly describes how untrue statements may sometimes be found in the Vedic literatures. The careful reader must be prepared, therefore, to sometimes reject scriptural quotations. The guideline for accepting and rejecting such statements should be the authority of Shrimad-Bhagavatam.

Text 7

ata eva navame 'py uktam hitva sva-shishyan pailadin bhagavan badarayanah mahyam putraya shantaya param guhyam idam jagau tad evam sarva-shastroparicaratvam siddham.

ataheva-therefore; navame-in the Ninth Canto; apy-also; uktam-said; hitva-rejecting; sva-shishyan-his disciples; paila-adin-headed by Paila; bhagavan-the incarnation of the Lord; badarayanah-Vyasadeva; mahyam-unto me; putraya-a son; shantaya-who was truly controlled from sense gratification; param-the supreme; guhyam-the most confidential; idam-this Vedic literature (Shrimad-Bhagavatam); jagau-instructed; tat-therefore; evam-in this way; sarva-shastra-over all Vedic literatures; uparicaratvam-superiority; siddham-is proved.

That Shrimad-Bhagavatam is the best of all Vedic literatures is confirmed in the following verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 9.22.22-23):

"From Vyasadeva, I [Shukadeva Gosvami] was born, and from him I studied this great work of literature, Shrimad-Bhagavatam. The incarnation of Godhead Vedavyasa, rejecting his disciples, headed by Paila, instructed Shrimad-Bhagavatam to me because I was free from all material desires."*

Vyasadeva had instructed the Four Vedas and the Puranas to His disciples, but He did not teach them the Bhagavatam. Only Shukadeva was qualified to study the Bhagavatam, because he was free from all material desires. This shows the superiority of the Bhagavatam to all Vedic literatures.

Text 8

tatra shri-krishnasyaiva svayam-bhagavattvam nirupitam. drishyate ca prashamsitur vaishishöyena prashamsyasyapi vaishishöyam. yatha gramadhyaksha-raja-sabhayoh sarvottamatvena prashamsyamanau vastu-visheshau taratamyam apadyete. tad evam satsv apy anyeshu teshv anyatra prashasteshu shri-bhagavata-prashamsyamanasya shri-krishnasyaiva paramadhikyam sidhyati. ata eva krishnas tu bhagavan svayam iti savadharana shrutir anya-shruti-badhiketi yuktam eva vyakhyatam purvam api.

tatra-there; shri-krishnasya-of Shri Krishna; eva-certainly; svayam-bhagavattvam-the status as the Original Personality of Godhead; nirupitam-is described; drishyate-in seen; ca-also; prashamsituh-of the praiser; vaishishöyena-by the superiority; prashamsyasya-of the praised; api-also; vaishishöyam-the superiority; yatha-just as; grama-adhyaksha-of a village chief; raja-of the king; sabhayoh-in the two assembly halls; sarva-uttamatvena-as the best of all; prashamsyamanau-praised; vastu-visheshau-two things; taratamyam-gradations of excellence; apadyete-attain; tat-therefore; evam-in the same way; satsu-transcendental; api-even; anyeshu-among others; teshu-among them; anyatra-in other places; prashastesu-glorified; shri-bhagavata-by the Shrimad-Bhagavatam; prashamsyamanasya-glorified; shri-krishnasya-of Shri Krishna; eva-certainly; parama-adhikyam-superiority; sidhyati-is proved; atah eva-therefore; krishnah tu bhagavan svayam iti-the quote "Shri Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead" (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.3.28); savadharana-exclusively correct; shrutih-statement; anya-shruti-with other scriptural statements; badhika-contradiction; iti-thus; yuktam-proper; eva-certainly; vyakhyatam-may be said; purvam-formerly; api-also.

Because Shrimad-Bhagavatam is the best of all Vedic literatures, the statement of the Bhagavatam, that Shri Krishna is the Supreme Personality of Godhead, should be accepted as the actual truth. In this context the example of the village-chief and the king may be given. In the village chief's assembly hall a certain thing may be praised as the best of all, and in the king's assembly hall a different thing may be praised as the best of all. The standards of the village chief and the king are not on the same level. What is considered best by the king may be accepted as superior to what is praised by the village chief. In the same way, the Shrimad-Bhagavatam is the best of all scriptures, and because in the verses of the Bhagavatam Shri Krishna is glorified as the Original Personality of Godhead, this must be accepted as truth, even if someone may be able to find some evidence to contradict it in some other Vedic literatures. Any scriptural statement contradicting the Bhagavatam's affirmation "Krishnas tu bhagavan svayam" (Shri Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead) should therefore be rejected, and there is no impropriety in this.

Text 9

tataḥ ca tu te paramavyomadhīpa-narayana-vasudevādayaḥ śrī-kṛṣṇasyaiva mūrtir viśeṣa bhavēyuh, svayam śrī-kṛṣṇas tu, narayanaḥ tvam ity ady uktau maha-narayanaḥ dvarakādi-prasiddho maha-vasudevash ca bhavet. ata eva narayana-vasudevopaniṣadoḥ sa eva vyaktah brahmanyō devakī-putrah iti; devakī-nandano 'khilam anandayat iti ca. tad ittham eva tam vasudevam api vibhūti-nirviśeṣataya svayam eva spāṣhām aha vasudevo bhagavatam iti, spāṣhām.

tataḥ-therefore; ca-also; tu-but; te-they; paramavyoma-of the Vaikunṭha planets; adhipa-monarch; narayana-Lord Narayana; vasudeva-and Lord Vasudeva; adayah-beginning with; śrī-kṛṣṇasya-of Shri Krishna; eva-certainly; mūrtih-form; viśeṣah-specific; bhavēyuh-may be; svayam-directly; śrī-kṛṣṇah-Shri Krishna; tu-but; narayanah-Narayana; tvam-You are; iti-thus; adi-in the verse beginning (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.14.14); uktau-in the statement; maha-narayanah-Maha-Narayana; dvaraka-adi-in Dvaraka and other places; prasiddhah-famous; maha-vasudevah-Maha-Vasudeva; ca-also; bhavet-may be; ata eva-therefore; narayana-vasudeva-upaniṣadoḥ-in the Narayana Upanishad and the Vasudeva Upanishad; saḥ-He; eva-certainly; vyaktah-is revealed; brahmanyah-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; devakī-of Devakī; putrah-the son; iti-thus; devakī-nandanah-the son of Devakī; akhilam-the entire world; anandayat-delights; iti-thus; ca-also; tat-therefore; ittham-in this way; eva-certainly; tam-Him; vasudevam-Vasudeva; api-even; vibhūti-of powers and opulences; nirviśeṣataya-without distinction; svayam-personally; eva-certainly; spāṣhām-clearly; aha-said; vasudevah-I am Vasudeva; bhagavatam-among those who possess opulence and power; iti-thus; spāṣhām-clearly.

In truth these two quotations from the Uttara-khanda of the Padma Purana and from the Mahabharata do not contradict the version of the Bhagavatam, because the forms of Narayana and Vasudeva are manifestations of the original form of Krishna. This is confirmed in the Bhagavatam (10.14.14) where Lord Brahma says:

"O Krishna, You are actually Narayana, for Narayana is expanded from You."

Originally the names "narayana" and "vasudeva" refer to Lord Krishna, who is famous for His pastimes in Dvaraka-puri and other places. Both Narayana and Vasudeva are names of the Supreme Lord Krishna.

The Narayana Upanishad says:

"The son of Devakī, Shri Krishna, is the Supreme Personality of Godhead."

and the Vasudeva Upanishad says:

"Shri Krishna, the son of Devaki, fills the entire world with transcendental bliss."

That Shri Krishna is not actually different from Vasudeva, and that Vasudeva is simply another name of Shri Krishna, is confirmed by Lord Krishna Himself, who said in the Shrimad-Bhagavatam (11.16.29):

"Among those possessing remarkable power and opulence I appear as Vasudeva."

Anuccheda 81

Text 1

tatha

satvatam nava-murtinam
adi-murtir aham para. iti tatha-in the same way; satvatam-of the Lord; nava-nine; murtinam-of forms; adi-original; murtih-form; aham-I am; para-the best.

That "Vasudeva" is simply another name of Lord Krishna is confirmed by Lord Krishna Himself in the following statement found in Shrimad-Bhagavatam (11.16.32):

"Among the nine most prominent forms of the Personality of Godhead, I am the most important form, known as Vasudeva."

Text 2

öika ca satvatam bhagavatanam nava-vyuharcane vasudeva-sankarshana-pradyumnaniruddha-narayana-hayagriva-varaha-nrisimha-brahmana iti ya nava-murtayah, tasam madhye vasudevakhya ity esha.

öika-Shridhara Swami explains in his commentary; ca-also; satvatam-the word "satvatam"; bhagavatanam-means "of the Personality of Godhead"; nava-vyuha-arcane-in the matter of the worship of the nine prominent forms of the Lord; vasudeva-Vasudeva; sankarshana-Sankarshana; pradyumna-Pradyumna; aniruddha-Aniruddha; narayana-Narayana; hayagriva-Hayagriva; varaha-Varaha; nrisimha-Nrisimha; brahmanah-Brahma; iti-thus; yah-which; murtayah-forms; tasam madhye-among them; vasudeva-as Vasudeva; akhya-known; iti-thus; esha-the commentary.

Shridhara Svami explains this verse in the following way:

"In this verse the word `satvatam' means `of the Personality of Godhead'. The nine forms of the Lord referred to in this verse are Vasudeva, Sankarshana, Pradyumna, Aniruddha, Narayana, Hayagriva, Varaha, Nrisimha, and Brahma. Amongst all these forms, Lord Krishna declares that He is Vasudeva."

Text 3

ata eva drishyate cadvaita-vadinam api sannyasinam vyasa-puja-paddhatau shri-krishnasya madhya-simhasanasthatvam vasudevadinam vyasadinam cavarana-devatatvam iti. tathaiva krama-dipikayam ashöakshara-patale shri-vasudevadayas tad-avaranatvena shruyate.

atah eva-for this reason; drishyate-it may be seen; ca-also; advaita-vadinam-among the impersonalists; api-even; sannyasinam-sannyasis; vyasa-puja-paddhitau-according to the regulations for the worship of Shrila Vyasadeva; shri-krishnasya-of Shri Krishna; madhya-simhasana-stha-tvam-the condition of sitting on the throne; vasudeva-adinam-of Vasudeva and the other deities; vyasa-adinam-of Shrila Vyasadeva and others; ca-also; avarana-devatatvam-deity; iti-thus; tatha-in the same way; eva-certainly; krama-dipikayam-in the Krama-dipika; ashöakshara-patale-in the Ashöakshara-patala; shri-vasudeva-adayah-of Vasudeva and the other deities; tat-avaranatvena-with the state of being worthy of accepting worship; shruyante-are understood.

Following the principles of the Vyasa-puja-paddhati, even the mayavadi sannyasis place the forms of Vasudeva and other forms of the Lord on Lord Krishna's throne, and worship Lord Vasudeva as identical with Lord Krishna. In the Ashöakshara-paöala of the Krama-dipika, it is also explained that Lord Vasudeva and other forms of the Lord are worshipable, just as Lord Krishna Himself is.

Text 4

yat tu vrishninam vasudevo 'smi iti shri-bhagavad-upanishadas tatra vasudeva-shabdena vasudevapatyarthena shri-baladeva atrocyate. vakta hi tatra shri-krishna eva.

yat-because; tu-indeed; vrishninam-of the descendants of Vrishni; vasudevah-Baladeva; asmi-I am; iti-thus; shri-bhagavat-upanishadah-from the Bhagavad-gita (10.37); tatra-there; vasudeva-shabdena-by the word "Vasudeva"; vasudeva-of Maharaja Vasudeva; apatya-the son; arthena-by the meaning; shri-baladevah-Shri Baladeva; atra-in this connection; ucyate-is described; vakta-the speaker; hi-certainly; tatra-here; shri-krishnah-is Shri Krishna; eva-certainly.

In the Bhagavad-gita (10.37) Lord Krishna identified Himself as "Vasudeva". The Lord said:

"Of the descendants of Vrishni I am Vasudeva."*

In this statement the word "Vasudeva" means "the son of Maharaja Vasudeva," and refers to the Lord's elder brother Baladeva.

Text 5

tatash ca sva-vibhutim kathayati tasminn api vibhutipvaropo na yjyate, vaktur anyatraiva shrotribhis tat-pratiteh. tato mukhyartha-badhe tathaiva vyakhya samucita. tasmad sadhu vyakhyatam vasudevo bhagavatam ity adi. shri-bhagavan.

tatah-therefore; ca-also; sva-own; vibhutim-opulences; kathayati-describes; tasmin-in Him; api-even; vibhutipva-opulence; aropah-imposition; na-not; yujyate-is appropriate; vaktuh-of the speaker; anyatra-otherwise; eva-certainly; shrotribhih-by the hearers; tat-of that; pratiteh-from the conviction; tatah-therefore; mukhya-principal; artha-meaning; badhe-contradicted; tatha-in the same way; eva-certainly; vyakhya-explanation; samucita-is appropriate; tasmad-therefore; sadhu-properly; vyakhyatam-it should be explained; vasudevah-I am Vasudeva; bhagavatam-among the forms of the Personality of Godhead; iti-thus; adi-in the verse beginning; shri-bhagavan-spoken by the Supreme Personality of Godhead.

In the verses of the Tenth Chapter of Bhagavad-gita, Lord Krishna describes the manifestation of His opulences. In this verse "Vasudeva" is counted among Lord Krishna's opulences, and therefore this word cannot refer to Lord Krishna directly, but must refer to Lord Balarama, who is also a son of Maharaja Vasudeva.

Anuccheda 82

Text 1

yasmad evam sarvato 'pi tasyotkarshas tasmad evanyatas tadiya-namadinam api mahimadhikyam iti gati-samanyantaram ca labhyate. tatra namno yatha brahmada-purane shri-krishnashöottara-shata-namamrita-stotre sahasra-namnam punyanam trir avritya tu tat-phalam ekavritya tu krishnasya namaikam tat prayacchati iti vyakti-kriyate cadhikam phalatvam krishna-namnah.

yasmat-because; evam-in this way; sarvatah-completely; api-also; tasya-His; utkarshah-superiority; tasmad-therefore; eva-certainly; anyatah-otherwise; tadiya-His; nama-adinam-name, form, pastimes, etc.; api-also; mahima-of glory; adhikyam-superiority; iti-thus; gati-samany-antaram-the ultimate goal of all living beings; ca-also; labhyate-is attained; tatra-there; namnah-of the holy name; yatha-just as; brahmada-purane-in the Brahmanda Purana; shri-krishna-ashöottara-nama-amrita-stotre-in the Shri Krishnashöottara-namamrita-stotra; sahasra-of thousands; namnam-of the Lord's holy names; punyanam-purifying; triravritya-reciting thrice; tu-but; tat-that; phalam-result; ekavritya-reciting once; tu-but; krishnasya-of Shri Krishna; nama-name; ekam-once; tat-that; prayacchati-attains; iti-thus; vyakti-kriyate-is manifested; ca-also; adhikam-superior; phalatvam-result; krishna-namnah-of the holy name of Krishna.

Lord Krishna is the Supreme Personality of Godhead, and His holy names, qualities, and pastimes are sublime and unequalled. That no other holy name of the Lord is equal to the name of Krishna is confirmed in the following verse from the Shri Krishnashöottara-shata-nama-stotra, found in the Brahmanda Purana:

"By chanting the holy name of Lord Krishna only once one achieves the same purifying effect obtained by chanting other names of the Supreme Lord three thousand times."*

Sarva-samvadini Comment

Text 1

satvatam iti. etad-antaram gati-samanya-prakarane shri-krishna-nama-mahatmye sahasra-namnam ity adi brahmada-vakyanantaram evam vyakhyeyam. yatha sarvartha-shakti-yuktasya deva-devasya cakrinah yac cabhirucitam nama

tat sarvartheshu yojayet iti vishnu-dharma-drishöya.

satvatam iti-the verse quoted on page 429; etad-antaram-afterwards; gati-samanya-prakarane-in the same place; shri-krishna-nama-mahatmye-in the Shri-Krishna-nama-mahatmya; sahasra-namnam iti adi-in the quote on pages 433-434; brahmada-of the Brahmda Purana; vakya-the statement; anantaram-after; evam-in this way; vyakhyeyam-may be explained; yatha-in the following way; sarva-artha-shakti-with all potencies; yuktasya-endowed; deva-devasya-of the supreme master of the demigods; cakrinah-of Lord Hari who holds the Sudarshana-cakra; yat-when; ca-also; abhirucitam-chanted; nama-the holy name; tat-then; sarva-all; artheshu-benefits; yojayet-are attained; iti-thus; vishnu-dharma-drishöya-by the statement of the Vishnu-dharma.

The verses quoted in Anuccheda 81, Text 1 and Anuccheda 82, Text 1 may be explained by quoting the following verse from the Vishnu-dharma:

"Lord Hari, who holds the Sudarshana-cakra is the master of all the demigods, and He is full of all potencies. Everything worthy of being obtained becomes available for one attached to chanting His holy names."

Text 2

sarvesham eva bhagavan-namnam nirankusha-mahimatve sati samahritanam uccaranam api nanarthaka-samskara-pracaya-hetutvad ekasyaivocara-pracaya-vat iti nama-kaumudi-karair angi-kritam. tatha samahrita-sahasra-nama-trir avritti-shakteh krishna-namocaranam avashyam mantavyam.

sarvesham-of all; eva-certainly; bhagavat-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; namnam-of the holy names; nirankusha-without being dependent on anything else; mahimatve-in the glory; sati-being so; samahritanam-of those who have accepted; uccaranam-an utterance of the Lord's holy name; api-even; nana-various; arthaka-granting benefits; samskara-of samskaras (purificatory rituals); pracaya-of a multitude; hetutvad-because of being the origin; ekasya-of one; eva-certainly; ucara-utterance; pracaya-vat-like a multitude; iti-thus; nama-kaumudi-of the book Nama-kaumudi; karair-by the words; angi-kritam-accepted; tatha-in the same way; samahrita-assembled; sahasra-nama-trih-three thousand holy names of the Lord; avritti-shakteh-of the transcendental potency; krishna-of Lord Krishna; nama-of the name; uccaranam-the utterance; avashyam-inevitable; mantavyam-is considered.

That the chanting of any of the Supreme Lord's names brings all good results and does not depend on any other process for it's effectiveness is confirmed in the following statement of the Nama-kaumudi:

"If one once chants the holy name of the Supreme Personality of Godhead, he attains all the benefits attained by performing a multitude of purificatory rituals."

Text 3

atra deva-devasya yad-abhirucitam priyam nama, tat sarvartheshu yojayet ity adi, kecid vyacakshate; yatha hareh priyena, govinda-namna nihatani sadyah iti.

atra-in this connection; deva-devasya-of the master of the demigods; yat-which; abhirucitam-pleased; priyam-dear; nama-name; tat-then; sarva-all; artheshu-in good results; yojayet-made possible; iti-thus; adi-in the passage beginning; kecit-some persons; vyacakshate-say; yatha-just as; hareh-of Lord Hari; priyena-by the dear; govinda-Govinda; namna-name; nihatani-spoken; sadyah-immediately; iti-thus.

We may note that in the verse quoted in Text 1, the word "abhirucitam" means "dear". In some manuscripts the second half of this verse reads:

hareh priyena govinda-
namna nihatani sadyah

"By chanting the name Govinda, the favorite name of Lord Hari, one immediately attains the ultimate benefit of life."

Text 4

nanu brihat-sahasra-nama-stotram nityam eva paöhantim devam prati

sahasra-namabhis tulyam
rama-nama varanane

ity ady upapattya rama-namnaiva sahasra-nama-phalam bhavatiti bodhayan shri-maha-devas tat-sahasra-namantar-gata-shri-krishna-namnam api gaunatvam bodhayati. tarhi katham brahmamda-vacanam aviruddham bhavati. ucyate prastutasya tasya brihat-sahasra-nama-stotrasyaivaikayavrittya yat phalam, tad bhavatiti rama-namni praudhih.

nanu-is it not so?; brihat-sahasra-nama-stotram-the Brihat-sahasra-nama-stotra; nityam-repeatedly; eva-certainly; paöhantim-reads; devam-to Parvati; prati-in relation; sahasra-namabhih-with thousands of names of Lord Vishnu; tulyam-equal; rama-nama-the holy name of Lord Rama; vara-anane-O beautiful-faced Parvati; iti adi-in this passage; upapattya-by the explanation; rama-namna-by the name of Lord Rama; eva-certainly; sahasra-nama-of one thousand names of Lord Vishnu; phalam-the result; bhavati-is produced; iti-thus; bodyayan-explaining; shri-maha-devah-Lord Shiva; tat-of the Lord; sahasra-nama-thousand names; antah-gata-within; shri-krishna-of Lord Krishna; namnam-of the names; api-even; gaunatvam-a secondary position; bodhayati-reveals; tarhi-then; katham-how is it; brahmannda-of the Brahmannda Purana; vacanam-the statement; aviruddham-not contradicting; bhavati-is; ucyate-to this it may be answered; prastutasya-glorified; tasya-of this; brihat-sahasra-nama-stotrasya-of the Brihat-sahasra-nama-stotra; eva-certainly; ekaya-by one; vrittya-activity; yat-which; phalam-result; tat-that; bhavati-is; iti-thus; rama-namni-in the holy name of Rama; praudhih-the greatness.

Someone may present the following objection: Is it not so that the Brihat-sahasra-nama-stotra in the 96th Chapter of the Uttara-khanda of the Padma Purana, Lord Shiva says to Parvati:

"O beautiful goddess, a single utterance of the holy name of Rama is equal to a thousand utterances of these other names of the Supreme Lord."*

From this we should certainly understand that Rama is the most important name of the Supreme Personality of Godhead, and the name of Krishna is only secondary. Furthermore this same explanation may be found also in the Brahmanda Purana.

To this objection we reply: This statement of Lord Shiva certainly explains the superior position of the name of Rama, but it does not specifically state that the name of Krishna is secondary. We may also note that in other verses from the Vedic literature the primary importance of the name of Krishna is revealed.

Text 5

krishna-namni tu dvi-gav asambhavat sahasra-namnam iti bahu-vacanat tadrishanam bahunam sahasra-nama-stotranam trir avrittya tu yat phalam, bhavatiti tato 'pi mahati praudhah. ata eva tatraiva samasta-japa-yajnanam phala-dam papa-nashanam shrinu devi pravakshyami namnam ashöottaram shatam ity uktvanyesham api japanam vedady-uktanam phalam antarbhavitam.

krishna-namni-in the holy name of Krishna; tu-but; dvi-gau-in a dvigu-samasa; asambhavat-because of not being possible; sahasra-namnam iti-of the word "sahasra-namnam"; bahu-vacana-because of being in the plural number; tadrishanam-like that; bahunam-of many; sahasra-nama-stotranam-of prayers containing a thousand names of the Supreme Lord; trih avrittya-reciting three times; tu-but; yat-which; phalam-result; bhavati-is; iti-thus; tatah-than that; api-even; mahati praudhah-great importance; atah eva-therefore; tatra-in this connection; eva-certainly; samasta-of all; japa-yajnanam-of the chanting of the holy names of the Lord; phala-dam-giving the result; papa-sins; nashanam-destroying; shrinu-please hear; devi-O goddess; pravakshyami-I shall now explain; namnam-of the names; ashöa-uttaram shatam-one hundred and eight; iti-thus; uktva-having spoken; anyesham-of others; api-even; japanam-chanting of the names; veda-adi-beginning with the Vedas; uktanam-of the statements; phalam-the result; antarbhavitam-contained within.

We may note that because the word "sahasra-namnam" is in the plural, we cannot interpret it to be a dvigu-samasa, and thus mean "of thousands of names of Krishna". For this reason the word "sahasra-namnam" should be interpreted to mean "of those prayers containing a thousand names of the Lord". Simply by chanting the holy name of Rama three times, one gets the same benefit of chanting a thousand other names of the Lord, as contained in these groups of a thousand names. One also gets, in the same way, the same result of chanting many Vedic hymns. This is confirmed in the following verse from the Ramacandra-sahasra-nama-stotra found in the 96th Chapter of the Uttara-khanda of the Padma Purana:

"O goddess, please listen, and I shall speak to you one hundred and eight names of the Lord. The chanting of these names purifies one of all sins, and gives the same results which are obtained by reciting all the sets of one thousand names of the Lord."

Text 6

tatah ca praudhyadhikyad uttarasya purvasmad balavattve sati purvasya mahimapi tad-aviruddha eva vyakhyeyah. tatha hi yadyapy evam eva shri-krishnavat tan-namno 'pi sarvatah purna-shaktitaya sarvesham api namnam avayavitvam eva, tathapy avayava-sadharanyena prayoga-lakshanam asamanjasam eva. tatas tadrisha-phala-labhe bhavati pratibandhakam.

tatah-therefore; ca-also; praudhya-adhikyat-from the greatness; uttarasya-of the last; purvasmat-from the former; balavattve-in the strength; sati-being so; purvasya-of the former; mahima-the glory; api-also; tat-aviruddhah-not refuting; eva-certainly; vyakhyeyah-may be explained; tatha hi-moreover; yadyapi-although; evam-in this way; eva-certainly; shri-krishnavat-as Shri Krishna; tat-namnah-of His holy name; api-also; sarvatah-in all respects; purna-shaktitaya-as full of all potencies; sarvesham-of all; api-even; namnam-of the holy names of the Lord; avayavitvam-as the complete whole; eva-certainly; tathapi-nevertheless; avayava-sadharanyena-as a part of the whole; prayoga-lakshanam-usage; asamanjasam-improper; eva-certainly; tatah-therefore; tadrisha-like that; phala-result; labhe-in the attainment; bhavati-is; pratibandhakam-refutation.

As Lord Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead, from whom the various vishnu-tattva expansions of the Lord emanate, so Krishna is the original name of the Lord, and all other names are simply part and parcel of that original name Krishna. The original name Krishna is more powerful than the other names, and the result of chanting the name of Krishna is greater than that of chanting the other names of the Lord.

Text 7

tato namantara-sadharanam eva phalam bhavet; yatha sakshan-mukter api datuh shri-vishnv-aradhanasya yajnatgata-vena kriyamanasya svarga-matra-pradatvam; yatha va veda-japatah tad-antargata-bhagavan-mantrenapi na brahmalokadhika-phala-praptih. yathatraiva tavat kevalam rama-namaiva sakrid-vadato 'pi brihat-sahasra-nama-phalam antar-bhuta-rama-namnaikona-sahasra-namakam sampurnam, brihat-sahasra-namapi paohato brihat-sahasra-nama-phalam, na tv adhi-kam ekona-sahasra-nama-phalam iti. ata eva sadharanam keshavadi-namnam api tadiyata-vailakshanyenagrihyamananam avatarantara-nama-sadharana-phalam eva jneyam.

tatah-therefore; nama-names; antara-other; sadharanam-generally; eva-certainly; phalam-result; bhavet-may be; yatha-just as; sakshat-directly; mukteh-of liberation; api-even; datuh-the giver; shri-vishnu-of Lord Vishnu; aradhanasya-the worship; yajna-angatvena-as the parts of sacrifices; kriyamanasya-performed; svarga-svargaloka; matra-only; pradatvam-granting; yatha-just as; va-or; veda-of the Vedas; japatah-from the chanting; tat-antah-gata-within which; bhagavat-the Personality of Godhead; mantrena-with mantras glorifying; api-even; na-not; brahmaloka-than Brahmaloka; adhika-greater; phala-result; praptih-attainment; □ yatha-just as; atra-in this connection; eva-certainly; tavat-in that way; kevalam-only; rama-nama-the holy name of Lord Rama; sakrit-once; vadatah-of the speaker; api-even; brihat-sahasra-nama-of the Brihat-sahasra-nama-stotra; phalam-the result; antah-bhuta-within which; rama-Rama; nama-the name; eka-una-minus one; sahasra-thousand; namakam-names; sampurnam-complete; brihat-sahasra-nama-the Brihat-sahasra-nama; api-even; paohatah-of one who is reading; brihat-sahasra-nama-of reading the Brihat-sahasra-nama; phalam-the result; na-not; tu-but; adhi-kam-greater; eka-una-minus one; sahasra-nama-of the thousand names; phalam-the result; ata eva-therefore; sadharanam-equal; keshava-Keshava; adi-beginning with; namnam-of the names; api-even; tadiyata-vailakshanyena-as distinctly different; agrihyamananam-accepted; avatara-incarnations; antara-other; nama-the names; sadharana-in common; phalam-result; eva-certainly; jneyam-may be understood.

The result obtained by chanting the name of Krishna is different from that obtained by chanting any other name of the Lord. As by the worship of Lord Vishnu one obtains liberation, and by performing the rituals of the Vedas one only obtains the upper material planets of Svargaloka, and as by chanting the mantras of the Vedas, even though they may sometimes contain prayers to the Supreme Personality of Godhead, one cannot obtain a result greater than residence on the Brahmaloaka planet, so, by chanting the holy name of Lord Rama, one obtains only the same result obtained by chanting the prayers known as the Brihat-sahasra-nama (assuming one omits the name of Lord Rama, which is included within the Brihat-sahasra-nama prayers). The result obtained by chanting the names of the incarnations of the Supreme Personality of Godhead is not equal to the result of chanting the names (such as Krishna and others) that directly refer to the original form of the Lord as Shri Krishna.

Text 8

nama-kaumudyam tu sarvanartha-kshaya eva jnana jnana-vishesho nishiddhah. na tu premadi-phala-taratamye. tad evam tatra krishna-namnah sadharana-phaladatve sati

sahasra-namabhis tulyam
rama-nama varanane

ity api yuktam evoktam. vastutas tv evam sarvavataravatari-namabhyah shri-krishna-namno 'bhyadhikam phalam svayam-bhagavattvat tasya.

nama-kaumudyam-in the Nama-kaumudi; tu-also; sarva-all; anartha-unwanted things; kshayah-destruction; eva-certainly; jnana-knowledge; ajnana-and ignorance; visheshah-specific; nishiddhah-prevented; na-not; tu-but; prema-pure love of God; adi-beginning with; phala-results; taratamye-in the series of gradations; tat-therefore; evam-in this way; tatra-there; krishna-namnah-of the holy name of Krishna; sadharana-in general; phalatve-giving results; sati-being so; sahasra-namabhih-with the thousand names; tulyam-equal; rama-nama-the name of Rama; vara-anane-O beautiful-faced Parvati; iti-thus; api-also; yuktam-proper; eva-certainly; uktam-said; vastutah-in truth; tu-but; evam-in this way; sarva-all; avatara-incarnations of Godhead; avatari-and the origin of the incarnations; namabhyah-of the names; shri-krishna-namnah-of the name of Krishna; abhyadhikam-superior; phalam-result; svayam-bhagavattvat-because He is the Original Personality of Godhead; tasya-of Him.

The Nama-kaumudi explains that, in general, the removal of ignorance and unwanted materialistic habits are the results obtained by chanting the holy name of the Lord. Lord Shiva refers to these results when He says to Parvati:

"O beautiful goddess, by once chanting the holy name of Rama, one obtains the results of chanting the thousand names of the Lord found in the Brihat-sahasra-nama-stotra."

Chanting these names of the Supreme Lord, however does not bring to the chanter the state of exalted pure love of God attained by those who chant the name of Krishna. Because the chanting of Krishna brings pure love of God, it gives the best results among all the names of the Lord. We may also understand that because Lord Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead, the source of all incarnations of Godhead, the chanting of His name brings a better result than the chanting of the names of the various incarnations manifested from Him.

Text 9

nanu yatha darsha-purnamasyady-anga-bhutaya purnahutya sarvan kaman avapnotity adav artha-vadatvam tathaivatrobhayatrapī bhavishyatiti cet. na. brihat-sahasra-nama-stotram paōhitvaiva bhojana-karinim devim prati rama-namaiva sakrit kirtayitva krita-kritya sati maya saha bhunkshva iti sakshad bhojane shri-mahadevena pravartanat. atas tato 'pi praudhyadhikyat krishna-namni tu tathartha-vadatvam durotsaritam eveti.

nanu-is it not so?; yatha-just as; darsha-the ritual performed on the new-moon day; purnamasi-the ritual performed on the full-moon day; adi-beginning with; anga-bhutaya-rituals; purna-ahutya-perfectly offering sacrifice; sarvan-all; kaman-material desires; avapnoti-one obtains; iti-thus; adau-beginning with; artha-vadatvam-speaking this; tatha-in the same way; eva-certainly; atra-here; ubhayatra-in both places; api-also; bhavishyati-will be; cet-if; na-no; brihat-sahasra-nama-stotram-the Brihat-sahasra-nama prayers; paōhayitva-having recited; eva-certainly; bhojana-karinim-bringing sense-gratification; devim-prati-to the goddess; rama-nama-the name of Rama; eva-certainly; sakrit-once; kirtayitva-having chanted; krita-kritya-successful and perfect; sati-pure; maya saha-with me; bhunkshva-you may enjoy; iti-thus; sakshat-directly; bhojane-in enjoyment; shri-mahadevena-by Lord Shiva; pravartanat-by establishing; atah tatah-therefore; api-also; praudhya-adhikyat-because of superiority; krishna-namni-in the name of Krishna; tu-also; tatha-artha-vadatvam-this kind of explanation; dura-utsaritam-cast far away; eva-certainly; iti-thus.

Someone may argue: By performing various Vedic sacrifices such as the darsha and purnamasa, one may obtain all material desires. For this reason, these should be performed, and not the chanting of the holy names of Krishna and Rama.

This argument is answered in the following explanation of the Brihat-sahasra-nama prayers, where Lord Shiva says to Parvati:

"My dear Parvati, by chanting the holy name of Rama even once, you will become successful, pure and perfect. By thus chanting the holy names, you will be able to enjoy transcendental bliss in My association."

The paltry material benefits so eagerly sought by our opponent are thus completely rejected by the chanters of the holy name of Lord Krishna, the best of the Lord's holy names.

Text 2 (Main text of Krishna-sandarbha is again resumed at this point) padme patala-hande shri-mathura-mahatmye shri-mahadevasyaiva vakye tarakaj jayate muktih prema-bhaktis tu pavakat iti. purvam atra mocakatva-prema-datvabhyam taraka-pavaka-samjne rama-krishna-namnor hi vihite. tatra ca rama-namni mocakatva-shaktir evadhika. shri-krishna-namni tu moksha-sukha-tiraskari-premananda-datritva-shaktih samadhiketi bhavah.

padme-in the Padma Purana; patala-khande-in the Patala Khanda; shri-mathura-mahatmye-in the Mathura-mahatmya; shri-mahadevasya-of Lord Shiva; eva-certainly; vakye-in the statement; tarakat-from the liberator; jayate-is generated; muktih-liberation; prema-bhaktih-devotional service in pure love of God; tu-but; pavakat-from the purifier; iti-thus; purvam-previously; atra-here; mocakatva-prema-datvabhyam-of the liberator and the giver of pure love of God; taraka-as the liberator; pavaka-and the purifier; samjne-with the names; rama-of Rama; krishna-and Krishna; namnoh-of the two names; hi-certainly; vihite-ascertained; tatra-there; ca-also; rama-namni-in the holy name of Rama; mocakatva-shaktih-the potency for liberation; eva-certainly; adhika-is greater; shri-krishna-namni-in the holy name of Shri Krishna; tu-but; moksha-sukha-the happiness of liberation; tiraskari-eclipsing; prema-of pure love of God; ananda-bliss; datritva-giving; shaktih-potency; samadhika-greater; iti-thus; bhavah-the meaning.

In the Mathura-mahatmya section of the Patala Khanda of the Padma Purana, in the description of the holy names of Krishna and Rama, Lord Shiva says:

"From one holy name liberation is obtained, and from the other holy name purification and love of God are obtained."

In other words, by chanting the holy name of Lord Rama, one attains liberation, and from chanting the holy name of Lord Krishna, one attains pure love of God, which makes the happiness of liberation seem very insignificant.

Text 3

ittham evoktam vishnu-dharmottarre yac chakti nama yat tasya tasminn eva ca vastuni sadhakam purusha-vyaghra saumya-krureshu vastushu. iti.

ittham-in this way; eva-certainly; uktam-said; vishnu-charma-uttare-in the Vishnu-dharmottara Purana; yat-which; shakti-potent; nama-holy name; yat-which; tasya-of Him; tasmin-in Him; eva-ca-also; vastuni-real; sadhakam-equally effective; purusha-vyaghra-O best of men; samya-on the gentle; krureshu-on the sinful; vastushu-persons; iti-thus.

The potency of the holy name of Shri Krishna is also described in the Vishnu-dharmottara Purana:

"O best of men, both saints and demons attain love of God by chanting the holy name of Krishna."

Text 4

kim ca, shri-krishna-namno mukhyatvam nigadenaiva shruyate prabhasa-purane shri-narada-kushadhvaja-samvade shri-bhagavad-uktau namnam mukhyatamam nama krishnakhyam me parantapa iti.

kim ca-furthermore; shri-krishna-namnah-the holy name of Krishna; mukhyatvam-state of being the most important; nigadena-by description; eva-certainly; shruyate-is heard; prabhasa-purane-in the Prabhasa Purana; shri-narada-between Narada; kushadhvaja-and Kushadhvaja; samvade-in the conversation; shri-bhagavat-of the Supreme Lord; uktau-in the statement; namnam-of names; mukhyatamam-most important; nama-name; krishna-akhyam-the name Krishna; me-My; parantapa-O subduer of the enemies (Arjuna); iti-thus.

That Shri Krishna is the most important of all holy names of the Lord is described by Lord Krishna Himself. As recorded in the conversation between Narada and Kushadhvaja in the Prabhasa Purana, Lord Krishna said:

"O Arjuna, of all My holy names, the name Krishna is the most important."

Text 5

tad evam gati-samanyena nama-mahima-dvara tan -mahimatishayah sadhitah. tatha tadiya-guna-rupa-lila-mathuradi-sthananam api tac-chastra-pratipadyamanaih sarvadhika-mahimabhir apy asav anusandheyah, vistara-bhiya tu nodahriyate.

ittham eva shri-krishnasyaivasamordhva-mahimatvat svayam eva tenapi sakala-bhakta-vrinda-vandita-bhagavat-pranayam shrimad-arjunam prati sarva-shastrartha-sara-bhuta-shri-gitopasamhara-vakye nijakhila-pradurbhavantara-bhajanam atikramya svabhajanam eva sarva-guhyatamatvenopadishöam.

tat-therefore; evam-in this way; gati-samanyena-superexcellent; nama-of the holy name; mahima-glories; dvara-by; tat-His; mahima-of othe glories; atishayah-superior position; sadhitah-is demonstrated; tatha-in the same way; tadiya-His; guna-qualities; rupa-form; lila-pastimes; mathura-adi-sthananam-and of Mathura and other places of His transcendental pastimes; api-also; tat-shastra-by the Vedic literatures; pratipadyamanaih-described; sarva-adhika-superexcellent; mahimabhih-by the glories; api-also; asau-this; anusandheyah-should be considered; vistara-bhiya-with fear of an overly elaborate presentation; tu-but; na-not; udahriyate-is described; ittham-thus; eva-certainly; shri-krishnasya-of Shri Krishna; eva-certainly; asama-urdhva-without equal or superior; mahimatvat-because of possessing glories; svayam-personally; eva-certainly; tena-by Him; api-even; sakala-by all; bhakta-vrinda-the devotees; vandita-worshiped; bhagavat-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; pranayam-devotional love; shrimat-arjunamprati-to Arjuna; sarva-shastra-of all Vedic literatures; artha-of the meaning; sara-bhuta-the essence; shri-gita-of Bhagavad-gita; upasamhara-conclusion; vakye-in the statements; nija-of His own; akhila-of all; pradurbhava-antara-of other incarnations; bhajanam-worship; atikramya-surpassing; sva-bhajanam-the direct worship of Shri Krishna; eva-certainly; sarva-guhyatamatvena-as the most intimate of all kinds of confidential knowledge; upadishöam-is instructed.

That Shri Krishna is the Supreme Personality of Godhead, worthy of the worship and glorification of all living entities is proved by this description of the superexcellent glories of His holy name. His holy transcendental qualities, form, pastimes, and abodes (such as Mathura and other places where He enjoyed pastimes), are also glorified in the same way in all the Vedic literatures, and they are described as superior to the qualities, pastimes, forms, etc. of any incarnation of the Lord. Afraid of unnecessarily increasing the size of this book, we will not present all these quotations now.

At the conclusion of Bhagavad-gita, which is the essence of all Vedic literatures, Lord Krishna, whose glories are unequaled, and who is worshiped by all the devotees, instructed Arjuna, who was full of love for Him, to neglect the worship of the various incarnations of Godhead, and simply worship Shri Krishna. The Lord said that this direct worship of Him is the most confidential of all knowledge. This explanation is recorded in the following verses of Shrimad Bhagavad-gita (18.60-66) where Lord Krishna says:

Text 7

tatha

kartum necchasi yan-mohat karishyasy avasho 'pi tat ity anantaram tatha-in the same way; kartum-to do; na-not; icchasi-like; yat-that; mohat-by illusion; karishyasi-you will act; avashah-imperceptibly; api-even; tat-that; iti-thus; anantaram-afterwards.

"Under illusion you are now declining to work according to My direction. But, compelled by your own nature, you will act all the same, O son of Kunti.*

Text 8

ishvarah sarva-bhutanam hrid-deshe 'rjuna tishöhati bhramayan sarva-bhutani yantrarudhani mayaya

ishvarah-the Supreme Lord; sarva-bhutanam-of all living entities; hrid-deshe-in the location of the heart; arjuna-O Arjuna; tishöhati-resides; bhramayan-causing to travel; sarva-bhutani-all living entities; yantra-machine; arudhani-being so placed; mayaya-under the spell of material energy.

"The Supreme Lord is situated in everyone's heart, O Arjuna, and is directing the wanderings of all living entities, who are seated as on a machine, made of the material energy.*

Text 9

tam eva sharanam gaccha sarva-bhavena bharata tat prasadat param shantim sthanam prapsyasi shashvatam tam-unto Him; eva-certainly; sharanam-surrender; gaccha-go; sarva-bhavena-in all respects; bharata-O son of Bharata; tat-prasadat-by His grace; param-transcendental; shantim-peace; sthanam-abode; prapsyasi-you will get; shashvatam-eternal.

"O scion of Bharata, surrender unto Him utterly. By His grace you will attain transcendental peace and the supreme and eternal abode.*

Text 10

iti te jnanam akhyatam guhyad guhyataram maya vimrishyaitad asheshena yatheccchasi tatha kuru iti-thus; te-unto you; jnanam-knowledge; adhyatam-described; guhyat-confidential; guhyataram-still more confidential; maya-by Me; vimrishya-by deliberation; etat-that; asheshena-fully; yatha-as you; icchasi-you like; tatha-that; kuru-perform.

"Thus I have explained to you the most confidential of all knowledge. Deliberate on this fully, and then do what you wish to do.*

Text 11

sarva-guhyatamam bhuyah shrinu me paramam vacah ishöo 'si me dridham iti tato vakshyami te hitam

sarva-guhyatamam-the most confidential; bhuyah-again; shrinu-just hear; me-from Me; paramam-the supreme; vacah-instruction; ishöah asi-you are very dear to Me; me-of Me; dridham-very; iti-thus; tatah-therefore; vakshyami-speaking; te-for your; hitam-benefit.

"Because you are My very dear friend, I am speaking to you the most confidential part of knowledge. Hear this from Me, for it is for your benefit.*

Text 12

man-mana bhava mad-bhakto
mad-yaji mam namaskuru
mam evaishyasi satyam te pratijane priyo 'si me

man-manah-thinking of Me; bhava-just become; mat-bhaktah-My devotee; mat-yaji-My worshiper; mam-unto Me; namaskuru-offer your obeisances; mam-unto Me; eva-certainly; eshyasi-come; satyam-truly; te-to you; pratijane-I promise; prijah-dear; asi-you are; me-My.

"Always think of Me and become My devotee. Worship Me and offer your homage unto Me. Thus you will come to Me without fail. I promise you this because you are My very dear friend.*

Text 13

sarva-dharman parityajya mam ekam sharanam vraja aham tvam sarva-papebhyo mokshayishyami ma shucah sarva-dharman-all varieties of religion; parityajya-abandoning; mam-unto Me; ekam-only; sharanam-surrender; vraja-go; aham-I; tvam-you; sarva-all; papebhyah-from sinful reactions; mokshayishyami-deliver; ma-not; shucah-worry.

"Abandon all varieties of religion and just surrender unto Me. I shall deliver you from all sinful reaction. Do not fear.*"

Text 1

atha ishvarah sarva-bhutanam ity adi shri-gita-padya-shaökasya krita-vyakhyantaram evam vyakhyeyam. tatha hi atra kashcid vadati ishvarah sarva-bhutanam ity adau sarvam evedam ishvarah iti bhavena yad bhajanam, tatra jnanamsha-sparshah. iha tu man-mana bhava ity adi shuddhaiva bhaktir upadishöety ata eva sarva-guhyatamatvam. kim va, purvena vakyena parokshatayaiveshvaram uddishyaparena tam evaparokshataya nirdishöavan ity ata eva na ca vaktavyam.

atha-now; ishvarah sarva-bhutanam iti adi-beginning with 18.61; shri-gita-of Bhagavad-gita; padya-of the verses; shaökasya-six; krita-done; vyakhyana-antaram-explanation; eva-in this way; vyakhyeyam-may be explained; tatha hi-moreover; atra-here; kashcit-Lord Krishna; vadati-says; ishvarah sarva-bhutanam iti adau-verse 18.61; sarvam-everything; eva-certainly; idam-this; ishvarah-supreme controller; iti-thus; bhavena-with the conception; yat-which; bhajanam-worship; tatra-there; jnana-of actual knowledge; amsha-of a particle; sparshah-the touch; iha-here; tu-but; mat-manah bhava iti adi-in verse 18.65; shuddha-pure; eva-certainly; bhaktih-devotional service; upadishöa-indicated; iti-thus; atah eva-therefore; sarva-guhyatamatvam-the status of being the most secret of all secrets; kim va-or; purvena-with the previous; vakyena-statement; parokshataya-as being difficult to perceive; eva-certainly; ishvaram-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; uddishya-indicating; aparena-by another; tam-Him; eva-certainly; aparokshataya-as easy to perceive; nirdishöavan-indicated; iti-thus; atah eva-therefore; na-not; ca-also; vaktavyam-may be said.

In these six verses from Bhagavad-gita, Lord Krishna explains the worship performed by one situated in a little transcendental knowledge (in verse 18.61, beginning with the words "ishvarah sarva-bhutanam"), and he openly states the supreme secret of pure devotional service (in verse 18.65, beginning with the words "man-mana bhava"). In the first quote the reference to Lord Krishna is remote, but in the second quote the reference to Him is obvious.

Text 2

purvam api

man-mana bhava mad-bhakto
mad-yaji mam namaskuru
mam evaishyasi yuktaivam atmanam mat-parayanah

ity adibhih shuddha-bhajanasyoktatvat.

purvam-previously (Bhagavad-gita 9.34); api-also; mat-manah-always thinking of Me; bhava-become; mat-My; bhaktah-devotee; mat-My; yaji-worshiper; mam-unto Me; namaskuru-offer obeisances; mam-unto Me; eva-completely; eshyasi-come; yuktva evam-being absorbed; atmanam-your soul; mat-parayanah-devoted to Me; iti-thus; adibhih-in the words beginning; shuddha-pure; bhajanasya-of devotional service; uktatvat-from the description.

This same description of pure devotional service was also given previously in almost the same words in the following verse (Bhagavad-gita 9.34):

"Engage your mind always in thinking of Me, offer obeisances and worship Me. Being completely absorbed in Me, surely you will come to Me."*

Text 3

tathapi

adhiyajno 'ham evatra
dehe deha-bhritam varah

ity adau ca svasyantaryamitvena cuktatvat.

tatha api-moreover; adhiyajnah aham eva atra dehe deha-bhritam varah iti adau-Bhagavad-gita 8.4; ca-also; svasya-of Him; antaryamitvena-position as the Supersoul residing in the hearts of all living entities; ca-also; uktatvat-because of the statement.

Lord Krishna also describes Himself as the all-pervading Supersoul present in the hearts of all living entities (Bhagavad-gita 8.4):

"Physical nature is known to be endlessly mutable. The universe is the cosmic form of the Supreme Lord, and I am that Lord represented as the Supersoul, dwelling in the heart of every embodied being."*

Text 4

sarva-guhyatamatva-guhyataratvayor anupapattir iti yad yad eva purvam samanyatayoktam, tasyaivante vivicya nirdishöatvat.

sarva-guhyatamatva-as the most confidential; guhyataratvayoh-and as more confidential; anupapattih-no logical connection; iti-thus; yat yat-whatever; eva-certainly; purvam-previously; samanyataya-in general; uktam-said; tasya-of that; ante-in the end; vivicya-deliberating; nirdishöatvat-because of indicating.

Someone may question: Lord Krishna explains (18.63-64) that the last verses of Bhagavad-gita are the most confidential part of knowledge. This last part of Bhagavad-gita, however simply restates what has already been stated in a general way in the previous verses of the Gita. Why does Lord Krishna say that this last part is more confidential?

Text 5

ucyate na tavad bhajana-taratamyam; atra bhajaniya-taratamyasyapi sambhave gauna-mukhya-nyayena bhajaniya evārtha-sampratiteh. mukhyatvam ca, tasya phalam ata upapatteh iti nyayena, visheshatas tu tac-chabdena na svayam eva tad-rupa iti mat-shabdena svayam evaitad-rupa iti ca bhedasya vidyamanatvad upadesha-dvaye nijenaudasinyenaveshena ca lingenapurnatvopalambhat.

ucyate-to this I reply; na-not; tavat-in that way; bhajana-of worship; taratamyam-higher and lower; atra-here; bhajaniya-of the worshipable object; taratamyasya-of the higher and lower; api-even; sambhave-in the manifestation; gauna-most important; mukhya-and lesser important; nyayena-by the example; bhajaniye-in the worshipable object; eva-certainly; artha-of the meaning; sampratiteh-because of the conviction; mukhyatvam-the most important; ca-also; tasya-of that; phalam-the result; atah-from Him; upapatteh-because of the manifestation; iti-thus; nyayena-by the example; visheshatah-specifically; tu-but; □

tat-shabdena-by the word "tat (His)"; na-not; svayam-personally; eva-certainly; tat-His; rupah-form; iti-thus; mat-shabdena-by the word "mat (My)"; svayam-personally; eva-certainly; etat-this; rupah-form; iti-thus; ca-and; bhedasya-of the division; vidyamanatvat-because of being so; upadesha-of instructions; dvaye-two; nijena-by His own; udasinyena-nuetrality; aveshena-by the entrance; ca-also; linena-by the sign; apurnatva-incompleteness; upalambhat-because of the direct perception.

I answer: It is not that in the later part of Bhagavad-gita Lord Krishna explains a higher method of worship, but rather, in the last part of the Gita He explains a higher object of worship. Earlier in the Gita, the Lord describes the all-pervading Supersoul, the neutral observer of all living entities (8.4) ("tat=Him), and later the Lord describes Himself as the Original Supreme Person ("mat=Me). In this way Lord Krishna is described as the ultimate object of worship, just as in the Vedanta-sutra (3.2.39), the Personality of Godhead (and not the demigods) is described as the ultimate bestower of the results of sacrifice.

Text 6

phala-bheda-vyapadeshena eva-karane ca tat-tad-arthasyaiva pushōatvac ca, sakshad eva bhajaniya-taratamyam upalabhyate. vastutas tu sarva-bhavena ity asya sarvendriya-pravanatayety arthah. gauna-mukhya-nyayenaiva jnana-mishrasya sarvatmata-bhavana-lakshana-bhajana-ruparthasya badhitatvat, sthanam prapsyasi shashvatam iti loka-vishesha-prappter eva nirdishōatvat.

phala-of results; bheda-difference; vyapadeshena-by the delineation; eva-karane-in the word "eva"; ca-also; tat-tat-various; arthasya-of meanings; eva-certainly; pushōatvat-because of the increase; ca-also; sakshat-directly; eva-certainly; bhajaniya-of the object of worship; taratamyam-higher and lower; upalabhyate-may be understood; vastutah-in fact; tu-but; sarva-bhavena-in all respects; iti-thus; asya-of Him; sarva-of all; indriya-the senses; ; pravanataya-in a favorable attitude; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; gauna-secondary; mukhya-and primary; nyayena-by the example; jnana-with knowledge; mishrasya-mixed; sarva-atmata sarva-bhavena"; bhavana-lakshana-meditation; rupa-arthasya-consisting of; badhitatvat-because of the refutation; sthanam prapsyasi shashvatam-"You will attain the eternal abode"; iti-thus; loka-of a planet; vishesha-specific; prapteh-of the attainment; eva-certainly; nirdishōatvat-because of the indication.

That pure devotional service was described by the Lord before 18.63 is confirmed by verse 18.62 ("O scion of Bharata, surrender to Him utterly. By His grace you will attain transcendental peace, and the supreme and eternal abode"). In this verse the word "eva (certainly)" emphasizes the meaning, and the phrase "sarva-bhavena" should be interpreted according to the primary meaning of the words ("in all respects"). The secondary meaning of the words ("by accepting the process of meditation") should not be accepted here. We may also note that the Lord's own planet in the spiritual world is also described in the words "You will attain the supreme and eternal abode." In this way it should be understood that the great secret revealed after verse 18.64 is not the process of pure devotional service, but rather, the ultimate object of that service: Shri Krishna.

Text 7

tasman na ca bhajanavritti-taratamyavakashah. na ca bhajaniyasyaiva parokshaparokshataya nirdeshayos taratamyam. tadaiva taya pracinaya canaya gati-kriyaya sankoca-vrittir iyam kalpaniya. yady antaryaminah sakashad anyaparavastha na shruyate shastre, shruyate tu tad-avasthatah para, tato 'pi para ca sarvatra.

tasmat-therefore; na-not; ca-and; bhajana-of worship; avritti-activity; taratamya-gradations of higher and lower; avakashah-occasion; na-not; ca-and; bhajaniyasya-of the object of worship; eva-certainly; paroksha-directly; aparokshataya-or indirectly revealed; nirdeshayoh-of the indication; taratamyam-higher and lower; tada-then; eva-certainly; taya-by this; pracinaya-previous; ca-and; anaya-by this; gati-kriyaya-by the action; sankoca-vrttih-abridgement; iyam-this; kalpaniya-should be considered; yadi-if; antaryaminah-of the Supersoul; sakashat-from the presence; anya-another; apara-different; avastha-situation; na-not; shruyate-is heard; shastre-in the Vedic literature; shruyate-is heard; tu-but; tat-avasthatah-from that situation; para-higher; tatah-from that; api-also; para-higher; ca-also; sarvatra-everywhere.

It is not, therefore, that in the earlier portions of Bhagavad-gita, the Lord describes an inferior process of worship, and neither does He describe the object of worship in a more indirect way in that portion of the Gita. In the beginning portion of the Gita, therefore, the Lord describes the all-pervading Supersoul, and afterwards He describes Himself as the Original Personality of Godhead, above the Supersoul.

Text 8

atraiva tavat

sadhibhutadhidaivam mam sadhiya jnam ca ye viduh

ity adau bheda-vyapadeshat tatra saha-yukte 'pradhane iti smaranenadhiyajnasyantaryaminah sahartha-tritiantataya labdha-samasa-padasya svasmad-apradhanatvoktes tatah paratvam shri-krishnasya vyaktam eva.

atra-in this connection; eva-certainly; tavat-to that extent; sadhibhuta-adhidaivam mam sa-adhiyajnam ca ye viduh iti-adau-in the passage beginning with these words; bheda-of the distinction; vyapadeshat-from the indication; tatra-there; saha-yukte-in the use of the word "saha"; apradhane-as not the most important; iti-thus; smaranena-by remembrance; adhiyajnasya-of the object of sacrifice; antaryaminah-of the Supersoul; saha-of the word "saha"; artha-the meaning; tritiya-antataya-in the instrumental case; labdha-samasa-padasya-as a compound word; svasmat-than Himself; apradhanatva-as not the most important; ukteh-from the statement; tatah-from that; paratvam-superiority; shri-krishnasya-of Shri Krishna; vyaktam-manifested; eva-certainly.

That the form of Shri Krishna is more important than the form of the Supersoul is confirmed in the following verse of Bhagavad-gita (7.30), where Lord Krishna says:

"The Supersoul form of Mine is the governing principle of the material manifestation, the one underlying all the demigods, and the one sustaining all sacrifices. The devotees know that I am the Original Supreme Lord, and that My form as Shri Krishna is more important than My form as the Supersoul."

We may note the use of the word "sa" (with) in the words "sadhibhutadhidaivam" and "sadhiyajam" in this verse. The word "sa" in these compound words indicates that the word understood to be in the instrumental case in these compounds is considered secondary, and the word expressed by the whole compound is considered primary. This is confirmed in the following sutra of Panini (Ashöadhyayi 2.3.19): "saha-yukte 'pradhane". From this we may understand that the form of Shri Krishna is most important, and the form of the Supersoul is only secondary.

Text 9

adhiyajno 'ham evatra ity adau ca tad eva vyajyate sa esha bhagavan dronah praja-rupena vartate

itivat. tasmad bhajaniya-taratamya-vivaksayaivopadesha-taratamyam siddham.

adhiyajnah aham evatra iti adau-in Bhagavad-gita 8.4:

adhiyajno 'ham evatra
dehe deha-bhritam varah
ca-also; tat-that; eva-certainly; vyajyate-is manifested; sah eshah-he; bhagavan-lord; dronah-Dronacarya; praja-rupena-in the form of his son Ashvatthama; vartate-is existing; itivat-in the same way; tasmadtherefore; bhajaniya-of the object of worship; taratamya-gradations of higher and lower; vavaksaya-with the intention to describe; eva-certainly; upadesha-of instructions; taratamyam-gradations of higher and lower; siddham-are established.

Someone may object to our interpretation of this verse, and claim that Lord Krishna described Himself as the Supersoul present in the hearts of all living entities. This is described in the following words spoken by Lord Krishna Himself (Bhagavad-gita 8.4):

"I am the Supreme Lord, represented as the Supersoul, dwelling in the heart of every embodied being."*

This should be understood to mean that Lord Krishna expands Himself to appear as the all-pervading Supersoul. This does not mean that the original form of Shri Krishna is present as the all-pervading Supersoul. This is something like the following explanation of Dronacarya found in the Shrimad-Bhagavatam (1.7.45):

"He (Dronacarya) is certainly still existing, being represented by his son."*

As Dronacarya was present in his son, so Lord Krishna is present in His personal expansion as the Supersoul.

In this way we have conclusively demonstrated that the latter part of Bhagavad-gita explains a more advanced stage of spiritual life not because of the superiority of the form of worship described there, but because a superior object of worship (the original form of Shri Krishna) is described there.

Text 10

esha tu va ativadati yah satyenativadati itivat. yah satyena brahmanaiva pratipadya-bhutena sarvam vadinam atikramya vadati, esha eva sarvam atikramya vadatity arthah.

eshah-He; tu-certainly; vai-indeed; ativadati-surpasses; yah-who; satyena-Brahman; ativadati-surpasses; itivat-in that way; yah-who; satyena-the word "satya"; brahmana-Brahman; eva-certainly; pratipadya-bhutena-established; sarvam-all; vadinam-speaker; atikramya-surpassing; vadati-speaks; eshah-He; eva-certainly; sarvam-everything; atikramya-surpassing; vadati-speaks; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning.

That Shri Krishna is the ultimate object of worship is also hinted in the following explanation of Chandogya Upanishad (7.16.1):

"The ultimate feature of the Supreme surpasses everything."

Text 11

tad evam arthe yatha tatra vadasyati-shayita-lingena namadi-prana-paryantani tat-prakarana uttarottara-bhumatayopadishöany api sarvani vastuny atikramya brahmana eva bhumatvam sadhyate, tadvad atrapy upadeshadhikyena pratipadyadhikyam iti. atah shri-krishnasyaivadhikyam ity ante 'py uktam dik.

tat-therefore; evam-in this way; arthe-when the meaning; sati-is established; yatha-just as; tatra-there; vadasya-of the statement; ati-shayita-situated beyond; lingena-by the characteristic; nama-the name; adi-beginning with; prana-life; paryantani-culminating in; tat-prakarane-in that explanation; uttara-uttara-higher and lower; bhumataya-with superiority; upadishöani-delineated; api-even; sarvani-all; vastuni-truths; atikramya-surpassing; brahmanah-of Brahman; eva-certainly; bhumatvam-superiority; sadhyate-is established; tadvat-in that way; atra-here; api-also; upadesha-of instruction; adhikyena-with the superiority; pratipadya-of that which is to be established; adhikyam-superiority; iti-thus; atah-from this; shri-krishnasya-of Shri Krishna; adhikyam-superiority; iti-thus; ante-at the conclusion; api-also; uktam-described; dik-direction.

This statement of Chandogya Upanishad explains that the Absolute Godhead is beyond everything existing in the world of material names and forms. The Supreme Godhead is described in His most confidential feature as Shri Krishna. This truth is revealed at the very end of Bhagavad-gita (18.65-66).

Text 14

esham arthah ashocyan anvashocas tvam ity adi grantho na yuddhabhidayakah, yatah kartum ity adi tatah paramarthabhidhayaka evayam.

esham-of these verses; arthah-the meaning; ashocyan-that which is not worthy of lamentation; anvashocah-you are lamenting; tvam-you; iti-thus; adi-beginning with; granthah-book; na-not; yuddha-abhidhayakah-for inciting Arjuna to fight; yatah-because; kartum iti adi-in the explanation of Chapter 18, verse 60 of the Gita; tatah-therefore; parama-artha-abhidhayakah-for teaching about the ultimate goal of life; eva-certainly; ayam-this.

An explanation of these verses follows:

Firstly, although Krishna (beginning with Chapter 2, verse 11: "While speaking learned words you are mourning for what is not worthy of grief. Those who are wise lament neither for the living nor the dead") appears to be speaking the Bhagavad-gita in order to incite Arjuna to fight, this is not Krishna's actual purpose. Krishna does not need to convince Arjuna to fight, for Arjuna will fight anyway (Chapter 18, verse 60: "Under illusion you are now declining to act according to My direction. But, compelled by Your own nature, you will act all the same, O son of Kunti."). Krishna's actual intention in speaking the Gita was to teach the ultimate goal of life.

Text 15

tatrapi guhyataram sarva-guhyatamam bhuyah shrinu ity aha ishvarah ity adi.

tatra api-nevertheless; guhyataram-very confidential; sarva-guhyatamam-the most confidential; bhuyah-again; shrinu-just hear; iti-thus; aha-said; ishvarah iti adi-beginning with Chapter 18, verse 61.

The ultimate goal of life, which is the actual message of Bhagavad-gita, is described as a great secret. Lord Krishna says (18.64):

"Because you are my very dear friend, I am speaking to you the most confidential part of knowledge. Hear this from Me, for it is for your benefit."*

Text 16

ya ekah sarvantaryami ishvarah, sa eva sarvani samsara-yantrarudhani bhutani mayaya bhramayan tesham eva hrid-deshe tishōhati, sarva-bhavena purusha evedam sarvam iti bhavanaya sarvendriya-preranataya va param shantim tadiyam paramam bhaktim samo man-nishōhata buddheh ity ukteh. sthanam tadiyam dhama, guhyat. brahma-jnanad api, guhyataram" dvayoh prakarshe tarap.

yah-who; ekah-sole; sarva-antaryami-all-pervading Supersoul; ishvarah-denoted by the word "ishvarah"; sah-He; eva-certainly; sarvani-all; samsara-made of material energy; yantra-machine; arudhani-being so placed; bhutani-living entities; mayaya-under the spell of material energy; bhramayan-causing to travel; tesham-of them; eva-certainly; hrit-deshe-in the location of the heart; purushah-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; eva-certainly; idam-this; sarvam-everything; iti-thus; bhavanaya-with the conception; sarva-indriya-all the senses; preranataya-engaging; va-or; param-transcendental; shantim-peace; tadiyam-His; paramam-transcendental; bhaktim-devotional service; shamah-peace; mat-nishōhata-faith in Me; buddheh-of intelligence; iti-thus; ukteh-from the statement (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.19.36); sthanam-abode; tadiyam-His; dhama-abode; guhyat-confidential; brahma-jnanat-than knowledge of Brahman; api-even; guhyataram-still more confidential; dvayoh-of the two; prakarshe-superior; tarap-by use of the affix "tara".

The word "ishvarah" in Chapter 18, verse 61, refers to the all-pervading Supersoul, who is situated in everyone's heart and is directing the wanderings of all living entities, who are seated as on a machine, made of material energy.

In verse 62, Lord Krishna says "O scion of Bharata, surrender unto Him utterly."* In this verse "utterly" means: 1. understanding that "the Supreme Personality of Godhead is everything" (Shvetashvatara Upanishad 3.15), and 2. wholeheartedly engaging all the senses in the service of the Lord.

Lord Krishna says (in verse 62):

"By His grace you will attain transcendental peace and the supreme and eternal abode."*

It is understood that one attains transcendental peace by engaging in devotional service to Lord Krishna. This is confirmed in the Shrimad-Bhagavatam (11.19.36), where Lord Krishna says: "By placing one's faith in Me, one attains transcendental peace." The word "guhyat" (in verse 63) refers to knowledge of impersonal Brahman, and the word "guhyataram" refers to the more confidential knowledge of the all-pervading Supersoul.

Text 17

athedam api nijaikanta-bhakta-varaya tasmai na paryaptam ity avadhaya svayam eva maha-kripa-bharenodghaõita-parama-rahasyah shri-bhagavan anyam api pradyumna-sankarshana-vasudeva-paramavyomadhipa-lakshana-bhajaniya-tar atamya-gamyam bhajana-krama-bhumikam atikramyaiva sarvato 'py upadeyam eva sahasopadishati sarva-guhyatamam bhuyah iti.

atha-now; idam-thus; api-even; nija-ekanta-bhakta-varaya-to His pure devotee; tasmai-to him; na-not; paryaptam-fully understood; iti-thus; avadhaya-determining; svayam-personally; eva-certainly; maha-kripa-bharena-with great mercy; udghaõita-unlocked; parama-supreme; rahasyah-secret; shri-bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; anyam-other; api-even; pradyumna-Pradyumna; sankarshana-Sankarshana; vasudeva-Vasudeva; paramavyoma-adhipa-Narayana, the ruler of Vaikunõha; lakshana-characterized; bhajaniya-worshipable; taratamya-gamyam-gradations of value; bhajana-of worship; krama-bhumikam-steps; atikramya-surpassing; eva-certainly; sarvatah-completely; api-even; upadeyam-should be given; eva-certainly; sahasa-emphatically; upadishati-explains; sarva-guhyatamam-the most confidential; bhuyah-again; iti-thus.

At this point in the Gita (18.64), Lord Krishna considered that the actual truth of spiritual life had not yet been completely revealed to His pure devotee Arjuna. Being very merciful to Arjuna, the Lord then unlocked the actual mystery of the Gita by explaining the varying gradations of the forms of the Personality of Godhead (such as Narayana, Pradyumna, Sankarshana, Vasudeva, etc.) and the corresponding varying levels of worship. After considering these different levels of approaching the Personality of Godhead, Lord Krishna said (18.64):

"Because you are My very dear friend, I am speaking to you the most confidential part of all knowledge. Hear this from Me, for it is for your benefit."*

Text 18

yady api guhyatamatvenokter eva guhya-guhyatarabhyam api prakrishõam idam ity ayati, tathapi sarva-shabda-prayogo guhyatamam api paramavyomadhipadi-bhajanartha-shastrantara-yakya-matyeti, tasya yavad artha-vrittikatvat. bahunam prakarshe tamap, ata eva paramam. svakrita-tadrisha-hitopadesha-shravane hetum aha ishõo 'si me dridham iti. iti. paramaptasya mama etadrisham vakyam tvayavashyam shrotavyam ity arthah. svasya ca tadrisha-rahasya-prakashane hetum aha tatah iti. tatas tadrisheshõatvad eva hetoh.

yadi api-although; guhyatamatvena-as the most confidential of secrets; ukteh-from the statement; eva-certainly; guhya-as secret; guhyatarabhyam-and more secret; api-even; prakrishõam-best; idam-this; iti-thus; ayati-attains; tatha api-nevertheless; sarva-shabda-prayogah-the use of words; guhyatamam-the most confidential; api-even; paramavyopadhipa-adi-of Narayana, and other forms of Godhead; bhajana-of worship; artha-for the purpose; shastra-of the Vedic literatures; antara-vakya-matya-by the instructions; iti-thus; tasya-of that; yavat-from what extent; artha-vrittikat-from the meaning of the words; bahunam-of many; prakarshe-in superiority; tamap-the affix "tama"; atah eva-therefore; paramam-supreme; sva-by Himself; krita-done; tadrisha-of this nature; hita-auspicious; upadesha-of instructions; shravane-in the matter of hearing; hetum-the cause; aha-said; ishōah asi-you are very dear to Me; me-of Me; dridham-very; iti-thus; iti-thus; parama-aptasya-about to speak the most important instructions; mama-My; etadrisham-like this; vakyam-statement; tvaya-by you; avashyam-certainly; shrotavyam-should be heard; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; svasya-His own; ca-also; tadrisha-like this; rahasya-of the secret; prakashane-in the revelation; hetum-the cause; aha-said; tatah iti-the phrase beginning with the word "tatah"; tatah-from that; tadrisha-like this; ishōatvat-because of being dear; eva-certainly; hetoh-from the cause.

In these verses Krishna describes "guhya" (confidential), "guhyatara" (more confidential) and "guhyatama" (most confidential) knowledge. The worship of Lord Narayana and other forms of the Personality of Godhead, as recommended in the Vedic literatures, are described as "more confidential". After describing this "more confidential" knowledge, Lord Krishna proceeds to describe the "most confidential" knowledge. Krishna also explains the reason He is instructing this most confidential knowledge to Arjuna, by saying:

"Because you are my very dear friend, I am speaking to you the most confidential part of all knowledge. Hear this from Me, for it is for your benefit."*

Text 19

tad evam autsukyam ucchalayya kim tad ity apekshayam sapranayashru-kritanjalim etam pratyaha man-manah iti. mayi tvan-mitrataya sakshad asmin sthite shri-krishne mano yasya tatha-vidho bhava. evam mad-bhaktah" mad-eka-tatparyakah bhava ity adi. sarvatra mac-chabdavrittya mad-bhajanasyaiva nana-prakaratayavrittih kartavya, na tv ishvara-tattva-matra-bhajanasyeti bodhyate. sadhananurupam eva phalam aha mam evaishyasi iti. anenaiva karenapy atmanah sarva-shreshhōhatvam sucitam. anyasya ka varta, mam eva iti. etad eva phalam shri-parikshita ca vyakti-karishyate kalim prati

tat-therefore; evam-in this way; autsukyam-eagerness; ucchalayya-manifesting; kim-what?; tat-that; iti-thus; apekshayam-in reference to; sa-pranaya-with love; ashru-with tears; krita-anjalim-folding His hands; etam-this; pratyaha-said; mat-manah-thinking of Me; iti-thus; mayi-in Me; tvat-mitrataya-with friendship for you; sakshat-directly; asmin-here; sthite-situated; shri-krishne-in Shri Krishna; manah-mind; yasya-of whom; tatha-vidhah-in that way; bhava-just become; evam-in this way; mat-bhaktah-My devotee; mat-eka-tatparyakah-exclusively devoted to Me; bhava-just become; iti adi-in the verse beginning; sarvatra-everywhere; mat-shabda-avrittya-by use of the word "mat (My)"; mat-bhajanasya-of worship directed to Me; nana-prakarataya-in many ways; avrittih-activity; kartavya-should be performed; na-not; tu-but; ishvara-tattva-the Supreme Lord; matra-only; bhajanasya-of the worship; eva-certainly; bodhyate-is understood; sadhana-anurupam-appropriate for this process of worship; eva-certainly; phalam-result; aha-describes; mam-to Me; eva-certainly; eshyasi-come; iti-thus; anena-by this; eva-certainly; karena-activity; api-even; atmanah-of Himself; sarva-shreshhōhatvam-ultimate superiority; sucitam-is indicated; anyasya-of someone else; ka-what?; varta-the news; mam-to Me; eva-certainly; iti-thus; etat-this; eva-certainly; phalam-result; shri-parikshita-by Maharaja Parikshit; ca-also; vyakti-karishyate-will manifest; kalim-Kali personified; prati-to.

Very eager to explain this supreme secret of the Bhagavad-gita, His eyes full of tears of love for His devotee, Lord Krishna, with folded hands, instructed Arjuna (18.65):

"Always think of Me and become My devotee. Worship Me and offer your homage unto Me. Thus you will come to Me without fail. I promise you this because you are My very dear friend."*

By repeatedly using the word "mam" (unto Me), Lord Krishna has emphasized that we should not just worship the Supreme Lord in a general way, but specifically the Original Form of Krishna should be worshiped. The result of worshipping Shri Krishna is also explained by the Lord: "Thus you will come to Me without fail". By following this instruction one becomes an eternal associate of the Lord, never to be separated from Him. That Arjuna attained this goal, and was an eternal associate of the Lord is hinted by King Parikshit in the following words spoken to the personified Kali (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.17.6):

Text 20

yas tvam krishne gate duram saha-gandiva-dhanvana shocyo 'sy ashocyan rahasi praharan vadham arhasi iti yah-on account of; tvam-you rogue; krishne-Lord Krishna; gate-having gone away; duram-out of sight; saha-along with; gandiva-the bow named Gandiva; dhanvana-the carrier, Arjuna; shocyah-culprit; asi-you are considered; ashocyan-innocent; rahasi-in a secluded place; praharan-beating; vadham-to be killed; arhasi-deserve; iti-thus.

"You rogue, do you dare beat an innocent cow because Lord Krishna and Arjuna, the carrier of the Gandiva bow, are out of sight? Since you are beating the innocent in a secluded place, you are considered a culprit and therefore deserve to be killed."*

Text 21

satyam te ity anenatrarthe tubhyam eva shapo 'ham iti pranaya-vishesho darshita satyam shapatha-tathyayoh ity amarah. punar apy ati-kripaya sarva-guhyatamam ity adi vakyarthanam pushöy-artham aha pratijane iti.

satyam-truly; te-to you; iti-thus; anena-by this; atra-here; arthe-in the meaning; tubhyam-to you; eva-certainly; shapah aham-I vow; iti-thus; pranaya-visheshah-specific affection; darshitah-is revealed; satyam-the word "satyam"; shapatha-the meaning of "vow"; tathyayoh-or "truth"; iti-thus; amarah-the "Amara-kosha" dictionary; punah api-again; ati-kripaya-with great mercy; sarva-guhyatamam-the most confidential; iti adi-in the verse beginning (18.64); vakya-of the words; arthanam-of the meaning; pushöi-artham-for explanation; aha-said; pratijane-I promise; iti-thus.

In this verse (18.65) Lord Krishna shows His special love for Arjuna, and vows (satyam te) that they who become His devotees will return to the spiritual world.

The Amara-kosha dictionary confirms this meaning for the word "satyam". The dictionary says: "the word 'satyam' means 'vow', or 'truth'".

The Lord repeatedly encourages Arjuna, saying: "Because you are my very dear friend, I am speaking to you the most confidential part of knowledge."* (18.64).

The Lord also says: "Thus you will come to Me without fail. I promise you this because you are My very dear friend."* (18.65).

Text 22

nanu nana-pratibandha-vikshiptasya mama katham tvan-manas tv adikam eva sidhyet. tatraha sarva iti. sarva-shabdena nitya-paryanta dharma vivakshitah. pari-shabdena tesham svarupato 'pi tyagah samarthitah. papani pratibandhah. tad-ajnya parityage papanutpatteh. tad eva vyatirekena dradhayati ma shucah iti. atra nanu-someone may object; nana-various; pratibandha-obstacles; vikshiptasya-cast aside; mama-of me; katham-how is it possible?; tvat-manah-mind fixed upon You; tu-but; adikam-beginning with; eva-certainly; sidhyet-may be successful; tatra-to answer this question; aha-He said; sarvah iti-verse 18.66; sarva-shabdena-by the word "sarva (all)"; nitya-paryantah dharmah-prescribed duties according to the varnashrama system; vivakshitah-are intended; pari-shabdena-by the word "pari"; tesham-of them; svarupatah-according to their own natures; api-even; tyagah-renunciation; samarthitah-is intended; papani-sins; pratibandhah-are obstacles; tat-ajnya-by His order; parityage-in renunciation; by exclusion; dradhayati-confirms; ma-not; shucah-worry; iti-thus; atra-in this connection.

Someone may say: "O Lord, how can it be possible for me to give up all obstacles on the path of spiritual realization, and fix my mind upon You, and become Your unalloyed devotee? Surely this is not possible for me."

To answer this objection, Shri Krishna spoke the next verse (18.66):

"Abandon all varieties of religion and just surrender unto Me. I shall deliver you from all sinful reaction. Do not fear."*

The word "sarva-dharman" in this verse refers to the duties prescribed by the varnashrama system, and the word "parityajya" means "having renounced". Sins are considered stumbling blocks on the spiritual path. Lord Krishna reassures Arjuna by saying: "I shall deliver you from all sinful reaction. Do not fear."*

Text 23

atra

ashocyan anvashocas tvam prajna-vadamsh ca bhashase gatasun agatasumsh ca nanushocanti panditah

atra-in this connection; ashocyan-that which is not worthy of lamentation; anvashocah-you are lamenting; tvam-you; prajna-vadan-learned talks; ca-also; bhashase-speaking; gata-lost; asun-life; agata-not past; asun-life; ca-also; na-never; anushocanti-lament; panditah-the learned.

In the very beginning of the Gita (2.11), Shri Krishna also instructed Arjuna not to fear or lament. The Lord said:

"While speaking learned words, you are mourning for what is not worthy of grief. Those who are wise lament neither for the living nor the dead."*

Text 24

ity upakrama-vakye tasyapanditatvam svasya ca panditatvam vyajya shoka-parityagena mat-kritopadesham eva grihaneti vivakshitam. tatash ca taratamya-jnanartham eva bahudhopadishyapi mahopasamhara-vakya-sthasya tasyopadeshasya paramatvam nirdishya shoka-parityagena tam eva tam etam evopadesham tvam grhaneti dvayor vakyayor ekartha-pravrittatvam api spashöam. tatah shri-krishnasyaivadhikyam siddham.

iti-thus; upakrama-vakye-in the beginning statement; tasya-his (Arjuna's); apanditatvam-ignorance; svasya-His own (Krishna's); ca-also; panditatvam-learning; vyajya-displaying; shoka-of lamentation; parityagena-by renunciation; mat-krita-spoken by Me; upadesham-instruction; eva-certainly; bahudha-in many ways; upadishya-instructing; api-even; maha-upasamhara-vakya-sthasya-of the concluding statement; tasya-His; upadeshasya-of the instruction; paramatvam-superiority; nirdishya-revealing; shoka-of lamentation; parityagena-by renunciation; tam-that; eva-certainly; tam-that; grihana-please accept; iti-thus; dvayoh-of the two; vakyayoh-statements; eka-one; artha-meaning; pravrittatvam-determination; api-even; spashöam-clearly; tatah-from this; shri-krishnasya-of Shri Krishna; adhikyam-superiority; siddham-is proven.

In this verse Shri Krishna simultaneously describes His own transcendental enlightenment, and Arjuna's condition of material ignorance. The Lord says to Arjuna: "Please accept My instructions, and give up this lamentation." Someone may argue that Bhagavad-gita presents many different paths of spiritual realization. To this I reply: The Lord describes higher and lower levels of knowledge, in order to distinguish the higher from the lower. The concluding words of a book are understood to contain the essence of the book's instruction, and are the most significant part of it's content. In the conclusion of Bhagavad-gita, Krishna instructs Arjuna to become a Krishna-devotee, and give up all fear and lamentation. This instruction should be taken as the essence of Bhagavad-gita. We may also note that the Lord's instruction to give up all fear is also repeated at the very beginning of His instructions (2.11). In this way the opening and concluding statements both present the same message.

Text 25

ata eva asad-vyapadeshan neti cen na dharmantarena vakya-sheshat iti nyayad upasamharasyaivopakramarthanirnayakatvad upakramopasamhararthasya ca sarva-shastrarethatvat tatroktam vishva-rupam api tad-adhinam eva. tac ca yuktam, tenaiva darshitatvat. tatra ca

ity arjunam vasudevas tathoktva svakam rupam darshayam asa bhuyah iti narakara-caturbhuja-rupasyaiva svakatva-nirdeshat. tad vishva-rupam na tasya sakshat svarupam iti spashöam.

atah eva-therefore; asat-false; vyapadeshat-because of instruction; na-not; iti-thus; cet-if; na-not; dharma-truth; antarena-without; vakya-sheshat-because of the concluding words; iti-thus; nyayat-from the Vedanta-sutra (2.1.17); upasamharasya-of the concluding statement; eva-certainly; upakrama-of the opening statements; artha-the meaning; nirnayakatvat-because of conclusively establishing; upakrama-of the opening statement; upasamhara-of the concluding statement; arthasya-of the meaning; ca-also; sarva-shastra-of all Vedic literatures; arthatvat-from the meaning; tatra-there; uktam-described; vishva-rupam-Universal Form; api-tad-adhinam-subordinate to the Original form of Krishna; eva-certainly; tat-that; ca-

also; yuktam-proper understanding; tena-by this; eva-certainly; darshitatvat-because of manifesting; tatra-there; ca-and; iti-thus; arjunam-unto Arjuna; vasudevah-Krishna; tatha-that way; uktva-saying; svakam-His own; rupam-form; darshayam aza-showed; bhuyah-again; iti-thus; nara-akara-human-like form; catuh-bhuja-four-armed; rupasya-of the form; eva-certainly; svakatva-the status of being His own; nirdeshat-because of the indication; tat-therefore; vishva-rupam-the Universal Form; na-not; tasya-His; sakshat-direct; svarupam-original form; iti-thus; spashöam-the meaning is clear.

That the concluding portions of a book are the most important part of it's contents, and present the author's opinions in a definitive form, is confirmed in the following statement of Vedanta-sutra (2.1.17):

"In the exposition of philosophy false statements must first be stated, in order that they be refuted in the remainder of the explanation."

From this we may understand that the beginning and concluding statements of scripture present the actual truth, and false conclusions are often given in the midst of the book's contents, only to be refuted later. An example of this may be found in the Eleventh Chapter of Bhagavad-gita, where Shri Krishna reveals His Universal Form to Arjuna, only to disclose later that this Universal Form is not His actual form. This is described in the following words, which conclude the Gita's description of the Universal form (11.50):

"The Supreme Personality of Godhead, Krishna, while speaking thus to Arjuna, displayed His four-armed form, and at last He showed him His real two-armed form, thus encouraging the fearful Arjuna."*

We may note in this connection that by identifying His human-like form as "svakam rupam (His real form)", the Lord affirms that His original feature is His own humanlike form, and the manifestation of the Universal Form is not His original feature.

Text 26

ata eva parama-bhaktasyar junasyapi na tad-abhishöam, kintu tadiyam svakam rupam evabhishöam adrishöa-purvam hrishito 'smi drishöva bhayena ca pravyathitam manah ity ady-ukteh.

atah eva-therefore; parama-bhaktasya-by the great devotee; arjunaysa-Arjuna; api-even; na-not; tat-that Universal Form; abhishöam-very much liked; kintu-but; tadiyam-His; svakam-own; rupam-form; eva-certainly; abhishöam-liked; adrishöa-purvam-never seen before; hrishitah-gladdened; asmi-I am; drishöva-by seeing; bhayena-out of fear; ca-also; pravayathitam-perturbed; manah-mind; iti-thus; adi-beginning; ukteh-from the passage.

Even though Arjuna was a great devotee of the Lord, he did not appreciate the revelation of the Universal Form. Arjuna preferred to see the Lord's original, humanlike form. This is described in the following words spoken by Arjuna after Shri Krishna had revealed the Universal Form (11.45):

"After seeing this Universal Form, which I have never seen before, I am gladdened, but at the same time, my mind is disturbed by fear. Therefore please bestow Your grace upon me, and reveal again Your form as the Personality of Godhead, O Lord of Lords, O abode of the universe."*

Text 27

tad-darshanartham arjunam prati divya-drishöi-dana-lingena tasyaiva mahatmyam iti tu bala-kolahalah. narakriti param brahma iti. tad amitam brahmadvyam shishyate iti, yan-mitram paramanandam iti, sa eva nityatma-sukhanubhuty-abhivyudashöa-mayah iti, sa tvam vibho katham ihakshapathah pratitah iti ca, tatha brahmano hi pratishöhaham iti, naham prakashah sarvasya iti ca shravanena prakrita-drishöas tatrapy akaranatvat, bhagavac-chakti-vishesha-samvalita-drishöer eva tatra karanatvat.

tat-the Universal Form; darshana-artham-in order to enable him to see; arjunam prati-to Arjuna; divya-transcendental; drishöi-eyes; dana-lingena-by the gift; tasya-of the Universal Form; mahatmyam-glorification; iti-thus; tu-but; bala-of foolish critics; kolahalah-uproar; nara-humanlike; akriti-whose form; param-the Supreme; brahma-Brahman; iti-thus; tat-that; amitam-unlimited; brahma-Brahman; advayam-non-dual; shishyate-remains; iti-thus; yat-of whom; mitram-friend; parama-anandam-the supreme bliss; iti-thus; sah-He (the Supreme Personality of Godhead); eva-indeed; nitya-always; sukha-anubhuti-anyone thinking of Him immediately enjoys transcendental pleasure; abhivyudashöa-mayah-because all illusion is completely removed; sah-He; tvam-Your; vibho-O all-powerful Lord; katham-how is it possible?; iha-here; aksa-of the eyes; pathah-on the path; pratitah-entered; iti-thus; ca-also; tatha-in the same way; brahmanah-of the impersonal brahmajyoti; hi-certainly; pratishöha-the rest; aham-I am; iti-thus; na-nor; aham-I; prakashah-manifest; sarvasya-to everyone; iti-thus; ca-also; shravanena-by the statements of smriti-sastra; prakrita-by the material senses; drishöhah-seen; tatra-there; api-although; akaranatvat-because of not being so; bhagavat-of the Supreme Lord; shakti-by the potency; vishesha-specifically; samvalita-endowed; drishöhah-from the vision; eva-certainly; tatra-there; karanatvat-because of being so.

At this point a host of foolish critics will certainly raise a great childish commotion as they insist that the Universal Form is the original feature of the Absolute Truth. These critics will support their claim with the explanation that Shri Krishna gave Arjuna divine eyes to enable him to see the Universal Form (11.8). For this reason, they will say, the Universal Form is the original feature of the Godhead.

To answer these objections, I shall now list some verses from the Vedic literature that explain that Shri Krishna is the Original Feature of the Absolute Truth.

narakriti param brahma

"The original feature of the Absolute Truth is His humanlike form."
-Padma Purana

tad amitam brahmadvayam shishyate

"O Krishna, You are the non-dual Absolute Truth who remains unchanged after the cosmic manifestation is annihilated."
-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.14.18

yan-mitram paramanandam

"How greatly fortunate are Nanda Maharaja, the cowherd men and all the inhabitants of Vrajabhumi! There is no limit to their fortune, because the Absolute Truth, the source of transcendental bliss, the eternal Supreme Brahman, has become their friend."*
- Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.14.32

sa eva nityatma-sukhanubhuty-abhivyudasta-mayah

"If even only once or even by force one brings the form of the Supreme Personality of Godhead into one's mind, one can attain the supreme salvation by the mercy of Krishna, as did Aghasura. What then is to be said of those whose hearts the Supreme Personality of Godhead Krishna enters when He appears as an incarnation, or those who always think of the lotus feet of the Lord, who is the source of transcendental bliss for all living entities and by whom all illusion is completely removed?"*

-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.12.39

"sa tvam vibho katham ihaksha-pathah pratitah

"My dear Lord Krishna, You are the Supersoul seated in everyone's heart. There are many great mystic yogis who have eyes to see You through the Vedas and Upanishads. In order to achieve the elevated position of being equal in quality with You, they always meditate on You within their hearts. Although such exalted saintly persons may see You constantly within their hearts, they still can not see You eye to eye; therefore I am very much surprised that I am able to see You personally. Although I was in the midst of luxury and opulence, and was subjected to so much of the happiness and misery of material existence, I am so fortunate to be seeing You personally. As far as I know, when one becomes liberated from material existence, he can see You in this way."*
-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.64.26

"brahmano hi pratishöhamam

"I am the basis of the impersonal Brahman."*
-spoken by Lord Krishna (Bhagavad-gita 14.27)

Actually one cannot see Lord Krishna with material eyes. The sight must be specifically empowered by the Lord's grace before one may be able to see Him in His original form as Krishna. This is confirmed by Lord Krishna Himself in the following words:

naham prakashah sarvasya

"I am never manifest to the foolish and unintelligent. For them I am covered by My eternal creative potency [yoga-maya]; and so the deluded world knows Me not, who am unborn and infallible)."*
-Bhagavad-gita 7.25

Text 28

tatas tasya drishöer divyatvam danam ca narakara-brahma-darshana-hetu-lakshanayas tat-svabhavika-drishöer anyasau deva-vapur-darshana-hetur ity apekshayaiva. tac ca narakriti para-brahma divya-drishöibhir api durdarsham ity uktam tatah-therefore; tasyah-of that; drishöeh-of the sight; divyatvam-divine position; danam-gift; ca-also; nara-human; akara-form; brahma-Absolute Truth; darshana-sight; hetu-cause; lakshanayah-with the characteristic; tat-that; svabhavika-natural; drishöeh-sight; anya-other; asau-that; deva-of the Supreme Lord; vapuh-form; darshana-sight; hetuh-cause; iti-thus; apekshaya-in reference to; eva-certainly; tat-that; ca-also; nara-human; akriti-with a form; para-brahma-Absolute Truth; divya-with divine; drishöibhih-eyes; api-even; durdarsham-difficult to see; iti-thus; uktam-described.

With his ordinary vision Arjuna was able to see Lord Krishna, the humanlike Supreme Person. Arjuna required "divine" eyes (Bhagavad-gita, Chapter 11) to see the Universal Form, although with his own natural vision he was perfectly able to see Lord Krishna, the humanlike Supreme Personality of Godhead. Actually, it is more difficult to see the humanlike Lord Krishna than it is to see the universal form of the Lord. The form of Lord Krishna cannot be seen merely with the "divine" eyes given to see the Universal Form. This is confirmed in the following quote (Bhagavad-gita 11.52) where Lord Krishna again reveals His original humanlike form to Arjuna and says:

Text 29

sudurdarsham idam rupam drishöavan asi yan mama deva apy asya rupasya nityam darshana-kankshinah. ity adina.

sudurdarshana-very difficult to be seen; idam-this; rupam-form; drishöavan asi-as you have seen; yat-which; mama-of Mine; devah-the demigods; api asya-also this; rupasya-of the form; nityam-eternally; darshana-kankshinah-always aspire to see; iti-thus; adina-in the passage beginning.

"My dear Arjuna, the form which you are now seeing is very difficult to behold. Even the demigods are ever seeking the opportunity to see this form which is so dear."*

Text 30

kintu bhaktyaika-sudarshatvam ity apy uktam bhaktya tv ananyaya shakya aham evam-vidho 'rjuna jnatum drashöum ca tattvena praveshöum ca parantapa. ity adina kintu-but; bhaktya-by devotional service; eka-alone; sudarshatvam-the sight of the Lord; iti-thus; api-also; uktam-spoken; bhaktya-by devotional service; tu-but; ananyaya-without being mixed with fruitive activities or speculative knowledge; shakyah-possible; aham-I; evam-vidhah-like this; arjuna-O Arjuna; jnatum-to know; drashöum-to see; tattvena-in fact; praveshöum-and to enter into; ca-also; parantapa-O mighty-armed one; iti-thus; adina-beginning.

The humanlike Supreme Personality of Godhead may be seen only by devotional service. This is confirmed in the Bhagavad-gita (11.54), where Lord Krishna says:

"My dear Arjuna, only by undivided devotional service can I be understood as I am, standing before you, and can thus be seen directly. Only in this way can you enter into the mysteries of My understanding."*

Text 31

na ca sudurdarshanam idam ity adikam vishva-rupa-param. drishövedam manusham rupam ity ader evavyavahita-purvoktatvat vishva-rupa-prakaranasya tad vyavadhanac ca. tatha caikadashe sarvesham devadinam agamane vyacakshatavitriptakshah krishnam adbhuta-darshanam iti. tatraivanyatra govinda-bhuja-guptayam ity adi. saptame yuyam nri-loke ity adi ca. tritiye ca vismapanam svasya ca iti. ata upasamharanubodhena sva-vakya-tatparyena casyapi prakaranasya shri-krishna-paramatvam eva. tasmāt shri-krishna-gitasu ca shri-krishnasyaiva svayam bhagavattvam sidhyeta.

na-not; ca-also; sudurdarsham-very difficult to be seen; idam-this; iti adikam-in the passage thus beginning; vishva-rupa-Universal Form; param-superior; drishōva-seeing; idam-this; manusham-human; rupam-form; iti adeh-from the passage thus beginning; eva-certainly; avyavahita-not interrupted; purva-uktatvat-from the previous statement; vishva-rupa-of the Universal Form; prakaranasya-of the description; tat-from that; tyavadhanat-because of separation; ca-also; tatha-in the same way; ca-also; ekadashe-in the Eleventh Canto of Shrimad-Bhagavatam; sarvesham-all; deva-adinam-of the demigods and other exalted persons; agamane-during the arrival; vyacakshata-saw; avitripta-with unsatiated; akshah-eyes; krishna-Shri Krishna; adbhuta-who was wonderful; darshanam-to behold; iti-thus; tatra-there; eva-certainly; anyatra-in another place; govinda-of Lord Govinda; bhuja-by the arms; guptayam-protected; iti adi-in the passage thus beginning; saptame-in the Seventh Canto of Shrimad-Bhagavatam; yuyam-all of you (the Pandavas); nri-loke-within this material world; iti adi-in the passage beginning; ca-also; tritiye-in the Third Canto of Shrimad-Bhagavatam; ca-also; vismapanam-wonderful; svasya-of His own; ca-and; iti-in the passage beginning; atah-from this; upasamhara-of the conclusion; anubodhena-by recognition; sva-vakya-of His own words; tatparyena-carrying the meaning; ca-and; asya-of that; api-even; prakaranasya-chapter; shri-krishna-of Shri Krishna; paramatvam-superiority; eva-certainly; tasmāt-therefore; shri-krishna-gitasu-in the Bhagavad-gita; ca-also; shri-krishnasya-of Shri Krishna; eva-certainly; svayam bhagavattvam-the status of the Original Personality of Godhead; sidhyate-may be concluded.

By explaining how the humanlike form of Lord Krishna is so rare and difficult to see, the Lord explains that His Original form as Lord Krishna is superior to the Universal Form. This is also confirmed in the following verse (Bhagavad-gita 11.51):

"When Arjuna thus saw Krishna in His original form, he said: seeing this humanlike form, so very beautiful, my mind is now pacified, and I am restored to my original nature."*

We may also note in this connection that these verses immediately follow the Lord's revelation of His original humanlike form, and are distinctly apart from the revelation of the Universal Form. For this reason no one may interpret these verses as descriptions of the Universal Form. The supremacy of the form of Lord Krishna among all the forms of the Personality of Godhead is also described in the following verses from Shrimad-Bhagavatam:

"When Lord Brahma and all the demigods and sages arrived they became astonished to see the wonderfully beautiful form of Lord Krishna, and they constantly gazed upon Him with unsatiated eyes."
-11.6.5

"Very eager to see Lord Krishna, Narada Muni continually remained in the city of Dvaraka."
-11.2.1

"My dear Maharaja Yudhishōhira, all of you [the Pandavas] are extremely fortunate, for the Supreme Personality of Godhead, Krishna, lives in your palace just like a human being. Great saintly persons know this very well, and therefore they constantly visit this house."*
-7.10.48

"The Lord appeared in the mortal world by His internal potency, yogamaya. He came in His eternal form which is just suitable for His pastimes. These pastimes were wonderful for everyone, even for those proud of their own opulence, including the Lord Himself in His form as the Lord of Vaikunōha. Thus His (Shri Krishna's) transcendental body is the ornament of all ornaments."*
-3.2.12

These statements of Shrimad-Bhagavatam, along with Lord Krishna's concluding statements in Bhagavad-gita (18.55-66) clearly show that Lord Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead.

Text 32

ata evoktam

ekam shastram devaki-putra-gitam eko devo devaki-putra eva karmapy ekam devaki-putra-seva mantro py eko devaki-putra-nama atah eva-therefore; uktam-it is said; ekam-one; shastram-scripture; devaki-putra-of Lord Krishna; gitam-the song; ekah-one; devah-deity; devaki-putrah-Krishna; eva-certainly; karma-work; api-also; ekam-one; devaki-putra-of Krishna; seva-the service; mantrah-hymn; api-also; ekah-one; devaki-putra-of Krishna; nama-the holy name.

Because Bhagavad-gita thus contains the most essential message of spiritual life (that Shri Krishna is the Supreme Personality of Godhead), it is glorified in the following way in the Gita-mahatmya:

"Let there be one scripture only, one common scripture for the whole world-Bhagavad-gita. Let there be one God for the whole world: Shri Krishna, and one hymn, one mantra, one prayer-the chanting of His name: Hare Krishna, Hare Krishna, Krishna Krishna, Hare Hare, Hare Rama, Hare Rama, Rama Rama, Hare Hare, and let there be one work only-the service of the Supreme Personality of Godhead."*

Text 33

tatha shri-gopala-purva-tapani-shrutav api munayo ha vai □ brahmanam ucuḥ kaḥ paramo devah ity ady anantaram. tad u hovaca brahmanah krishno vai-paramam daivatam ity adi. upasamhare ca tasmāt krishna eva paro devas tam dhyayet tam rasayet tam yajet ity om tat sat iti.

tatha-in the same way; shri-gopala-purva-tapani-shrutau-in the First Chapter of the Gopala-tapani Upanishad; api-also; paramah devah-is the Supreme Personality of Godhead; kaḥ-who?; iti adi-anantaram-in the passage thus beginning; tat-to them; u-certainly; ha-indeed; uvaca-said; brahmanah-Brahma; krishnah-Krishna; vai-certainly; paramam-the Supreme; daivatam-Personality of Godhead; iti adi-in the passage thus beginning; upasamhare-in the concluding statement; ca-also; tasmāt-therefore; krishnah-Lord Krishna; eva-certainly; parah devah-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; tam-upon Him; dhyayet-one should meditate; tam-Him; raset-one should glorify; tam-Him; bhajet-one should serve; tam-Him; yajet-one should worship; iti-thus; om tat sat iti-pronouncing the sacred syllables om tat sat.

That Shri Krishna is the Supreme Personality of Godhead is also confirmed in the First Chapter of the Gopala-tapani Upanishad. We find the following verses in the beginning and end of that scripture:

"The four Kumaras once approached their father, Lord Brahma, and asked: Please tell us who is the Supreme Personality of Godhead? Whom does death fear? By knowing whom does everything else become known? Who created the spiritual and material worlds? (1.2)

"Brahma replied to them: Krishna is the Supreme Personality of Godhead. Death is afraid of Govinda. By understanding Gopijanavallabha everything becomes known.

-1.2-3

"Therefore, because Lord Shri Krishna is the Original Supreme Personality of Godhead, one should always meditate upon Him. One should glorify Him, serve Him and worship Him always. Pronouncing the sacred syllables om tat sat, the first chapter of Shri Gopala Tapani Upanishad is concluded."

-1.54

Text 34

kim bahuna. sarvavataravatari-lakshana maha-bhagavatta-mudrah sakshad eva tatra vartanta iti shruyate padmadhyaya-trayena. yatha tadiyah kiyantah shloka kim bahuna-what need is there of further explanations; sarva-of all; avatara-incarnations of Godhead; avatara-the origin; lakshanah-with the characteristics; maha-bhagavatta-mudrah-the signs of the Original Personality of Godhead; sakshat-directly; eva-certainly; tatra-there; vartante-are; iti-thus; shruyate-is confirmed in the scriptures; padma-adhyaya-trayena-in three chapters of the Padma Purana; yatha-just as; tadiyah kiyantah shloka-the following verses.

What need is there to provide any further evidence to prove that Shri Krishna is the Supreme Personality of Godhead? Shri Krishna has all the attributes of the Supreme Godhead, and even the markings on His hands and feet confirm this. This is described in the following verses from the Padma Purana:

Text 35

brahmovaca

shrinu narada vakshyami padayosh cihna-lakshanam bhagavat-krishna-rupasya hy anandaika-ghanasya ca

brahma-uvaca-Brahma said; shrinu-just hear; narada-O Narada; vakshyami-I shall describe; padayoh-of the lotus feet; cihna-lakshanam-the signs; bhagavat-full of all opulences; krishna-rupasya-in the form of Krishna; hi-certainly; ananda-of transcendental bliss; eka-ghanasya-full of intense; ca-and.

"Brahma said: O Narada, please listen, and I shall describe to you the transcendental symbols on the lotus feet of the supremely blissful Supreme Personality of Godhead, Lord Krishna.

Text 36

avatara hy asankhyatah kathita me tavagratah

param samyak pravakshyami krishnas tu bhagavan svayam avatarah-incarnations of Godhead; hi-certainly; asankhyatah-innumerable; kathitah-have been described; me-by me; tava agratah-to you; param-supreme; samyak-truely; pravakshyami-I shall say; krishnah-Shri Krishna; tu-but; bhagavan-the Original Personality of Godhead; svayam-personally.

"Now that I have described the uncountable incarnations of Godhead, I shall say to you that Shri Krishna is the Original Form of the Personality of Godhead.

Text 37

devanam karya-siddhartham rishinam ca tathaiva ca avirbhutas tu bhagavan svanam priya-cikirshaya

devanam-of the demigods; karya-of the work; siddha-perfection; artham-for the purpose; rishinam-of the sages; ca-also; tatha-in the same way; eva-certainly; ca-also; avirbhutah-appeared; tu-also; bhagavan-the Original Personality of Godhead; svanam-His pure devotees; priya-cikirshaya-desiring to please.

"Shri Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead, who has descended to this material world in order to please His devotees and fulfill the desires of the sages and demigods.

Text 38

yair eva jnayate devo bhagavan bhakta-vatsalah tany aham veda nanyo 'sti satyam etan mayoditam

yaih-by which; eva-certainly; jnayate-is known; devah-as the Personality of Godhead; bhagavan-full of all transcendental opulences; bhakta-vatsalah-very affectionate to His devotees; tani-them; aham-I; veda-know; na-not; anyah-another; asti-there is; satyam-truthfully; etat-this; maya-by me; uditam-is spoken.

"Please know that I am speaking the truth when I say to you that there is no one who is equal to Lord Krishna. I know very well the transcendental markings on Lord Krishna's lotus feet which reveal Him to be the supremely opulent Original Personality of Godhead, who is very dear to His devotees.

Text 39

shodashaiva tu cihnani maya drishöani tat-pade dakshine cashöa-cihnani

itare sapta eva ca

shodasha-sixteen; eva-certainly; tu-also; cihnani-marks; maya-by me; drishöani-observed; tat-pade-on His lotus feet; dakshine-on the right; ca-and; ashöa-eight; cihnani-marks; itare-on the other; saptah-seven; eva-certainly; ca-also.

"I have personally seen sixteen auspicious markings on Lord Krishna's lotus feet. Eight marks are on His right foot and seven on His left.

Text 40

dhvajam padmam tatha vajram ankusho yava eva ca svastikam cordhvarekha ca ashöa-konam tathaiva ca dhvajam-a flag; padmam-lotus flower; tatha-in the same way; vajram-thunderbolt; ankushah-rod for controlling elephants; yavah-barleycorn; eva-certainly; ca-also; svastikam-svastika; ca-and; urdhva-rekha-an auspicious line going from bottom to top; ca-and; ashöa-konam-eight pointed star; tatha-in the same way; eva-certainly; ca-also.

"On Lord Krishna's right foot there are the signs of a flag, lotus, thunderbolt, rod for controlling elephants, barleycorn, svastika, urdhva-rekha line, and an eight-pointed star.

Text 41

saptanyani pravakshyami sampratam vaishnavottama indracapam trikonam ca kalasham cardha-candrakam ambaram matsya-cihnam ca goshpadam saptamam smritam ankany etani bho vidvan drishyante tu yada kada sapta-seven; anyani-others; pravakshyami-I shall describe; sampratam-now; vaishnava-uttama-O best of the Vaishnavas; indracapam-rainbow; trikonam-triangle; ca-also; kalasham-water-pot; ca-and; ardha-candrakam-half-moon; ambaram-sky; matsya-cihnam-the mark of a fish; ca-and; goshpadam-the hoofprint of a cow; saptamam-seventh; smritam-is remembered; ankani-signs; etani-these; bho-O; vidvan-learned devotee; drishyante-are seen; tu-and; yada kada-whensoever.

"O best of the Vaishnavas, on Lord Krishna's left lotus foot there are the marks of a rainbow, triangle, water-pot, half-moon, sky, fish, and cow's hoofprint.

Text 42

krishnakhyam tu param brahma bhuvi jatam na samshayah dvayam vatha trayam vatha catvarah panca caiva ca drishyante vaishnava-shreshöha avatare kanthancana. ity adi krishna-Krishna; akhyam-named; tu-but; param-supreme; brahma-Godhead; bhuvi-on the earth; jatam-born; na samshayah-without any doubt; dvayam-two; va-or; atha-now; trayam-three; va-or; atha-now; catvarah-four; panca-five; ca-and; eva-certainly; ca-also; drishyante-are observed; vaishnava-shreshöha-O best of the Vaishnavas; avatare-on the incarnation of the Personality of Godhead; kanthancana-from time to time; iti-thus; adi-in the passage beginning.

"O best of the Vaishnavas, Lord Krishna is the Original feature of the Personality of Godhead. Of this there is no doubt. On the lotus feet of the many incarnations of the Lord two, three, four, or five of these auspicious signs may be present, but all sixteen signs are present only on the feet of Lord Krishna.

Text 43

shodasham ca tatha cihnam shrinu devarshi-sattama jambuphala-samakaram
drishyate yatra kutracit. ity uktam.

shodasham-sixteen; ca-and; tatha-in the same way; cihnam-marks; shrinu-please hear; devarshi-sattama-O best of the sages; jambu-phala-gold; sama-equal; akaram-form; drishyate-are seen; yatra-where; kutracit-at certain times.

"O best of the sages, please hear me: On the lotus feet of a certain incarnation of the Lord, who bears a golden complexion, all sixteen signs are also present."

Text 44

tasmad asty eva svayam-bhagavattvam shri-krishnasyaiva. tatha ca brahma-vaivarte bhagavad-avatara-prasange suta-vakyam

.mt 3
.mb .5
.rm 6.5 in Set Right Margin to 6.5 in.
.rm 65
..
Select font 1
.fa times to Times Roman type style.
.lh 1.25 em
.ch 15.5 pt

.fa timesitl
.lh 1.25 em
.ch 15.4 pt
..

.fa clarendo
.ch 16.2 pt
..

.fa helvetic
.ch 16 pt
..

.fa clarendo
.ch 16.2 pt
..

.fa clarendo
.ch 23 pt
..

.. Lower case Italicized

.de {.px -1.2 en}{.py +0.23 em}{.py -.23 em}
.. ^D = . below letters n - h - normal - italic
.de {.px -1. en}{.py +.23 em}{.py -.23 em}
...de {.ru .06 em, .1 em, -.40 en, -1.4 en}
.de {.px -.6 en}{.py -.55 en}{.fa clarendo}{.ch .8 em}{.sy 180}{.ch}{.fa}{.px +.1 en}{.py +.55 en}
.. ^S = ' on s - normal - italic
..de {.px -1 en}{.py -.3 em}{.fn}{.px +.1 en}{.py +.3 em}
.. ^T = ' on S
.de {.ru .28 em, .055 em, -.6 en, -1.38 en}
.. ^A = - above long 'a' - 'u' sound 'i non-italic
.de [6] {.ru .28 em, .055 em, -.40 en, -1.40 en}
.. ^E = - above long 'i'
.de 6 {.px -.6 em}{.py -.65 em}{.py +.65 em}
.. ^V = . above 'm'
..

.de 57 {.px -.5 en}{.py -.7 en}{.fa clarendo}{.ch .5 em}{.sy 180}{.ch}{.fa}{.py +.7 en}

.. Upper case Italicized

.de {.px -.8 en}{.py -.73 en}{.fa clarendo}{.sy 180}{.fa}{.px +.2 en}{.py +.73 en}
..de {.ru .06 em, .13 em, -.25 em, -2.05 en}
.. ^T = ' on S
..

.. Lower case non-Italics

.. ^A = - over long 'i'
.de {.ru .28 em, .055 em, -1 en, -1.40 en}
.. ^Q = - above long 'a' - 'u' sound
.de {.lf .7 em}{.up .65 em}{.dn}
.. ^P = . above 'm'

padyani jneyani

atha-now; shrinu narada vakshyami iti adi-the quotation which begins on page 476; carana-of the Lord's lotus feet; cihna-the markings; pratipadaka-describing; padma-of the Padma Purana; vacana-the statement; ante-at the conclusion; adi-shabdat-from the word "adi" etani-these; api-also; padyani-verses; jneyani-may be understood.

The following verses from the Vedic literatures may be appended to this description of Lord Krishna's lotus feet.

Text 2

madhye dhvaja tu vijneya padmam tryangula-manatah vajram vai dakshine parshve ankusho vai tad-agratah madhye-in the middle; dhvaja-a flag; tu-also; vijneya-should be understood; padmam-a lotus flower; tri-angula-manatah-the measurement of 3 fingers; vajram-a thunderbolt; vai-certainly; dakshine-on the right; parshve-side; ankushah-a rod for controlling elephants; vai-certainly; tat-agratah-before that.

"In the middle of Lord Krishna's lotus foot there is the mark of a flag, and also a lotus flower, three fingers distant from the front of the foot. On the left side of His foot there is the mark of a thunderbolt and before that there is the mark of a rod for controlling elephants.

Text 3

yavo 'py angustha-mule syat svastikam yatra kutracit adim caranam arabhya yavad vai madhyama sthita yavah-a barleycorn; api-also; angustha-of the big toe; mule at the base; syat-is; svastikam-a svastika; yatra-where kutracit-somewhere; adim-beginning; caranam-foot; arabhya- having begun; yavat-to which extent; vai-certainly; madhyama-in the middle; sthita-situated.

"At the base of the Lord's big toe there is the mark of a barleycorn and also the mark of a svastika.

Text 4

tavad vai urdhva-rekha ca kathita padma-samjnake ashöa-konam tu bho vatsa manam cashöangulaish ca tat tavat-in that way; vai-certainly; urdhva-rekha-an auspicious line going from top to bottom; ca-also; kathita-is described; padma-samjnake-in the Padma Purana; ashöa-konam-an eight-pointed str; tu-also; bho-oh; vatsa-o son; manam- measurement; ca-also; ashöa-eight; angulaih-with fingers; ca-also; tat-that.

"There is also an urdhva-rekha line beginning at the junction of the big-toe and fore-toe and extending to the middle of the Lord's lotus feet. This urdhva-rekha line is also described in the Padma Purana. Eight fingers away from the middle toe there is the mark of an eight-pointed star.

Text 5

nirdishöam dakshine pade ity ahur munayah kila evam padasya cihnani
tany eva vaishnavottama nirdishöam-deshribed; dakshine-on the right; pade-foot; iti-thus; ahuh-they have explained; munayah-the sages; kila-certainly; evam-thus; padasya-of the foot; cihnani-the marks; tani-they; eva-certainly; vaishnava-of the devotees; uttama-o best.

"O best of the Vaishnavas, the great sages have described the markings on Lord Krishna's right foot in this way.

Text 6

daksinetara-sthanani samvadamiha sampratam catur-angula-manena
tv angulinam samipatah

indra-capam tato vidyad anyatra na bhavet kvacit tri-konam madhyannirdishöam kalasho yatra kutracit

dakshina-of the right foot; itara-other; sthanani- places; samvadami-Iam explaining; ina-here; sampratam-now; catuh-angula-of four finger; manena-with the measurement; tu-also; angulinam samipatah-near the toes; indra-capam-a rainbow; tatah-then; vidyat-may be; anyatra-in another place; na-not; bhavet-may be; anyatra-in another place; na- not; bhavet-may be; kvacit-anywhere; tri-konam-a triangle; madhya-in the middle; nirdishöam-indicated; kalashah-a water-pot; yatra-where; kutracit-somewhere.

"I have thus described the markings on the Lord's right foot, and now I shall describe the left foot of the Lord. On the Lord's left foot, near the toes, there is a rainbow four fingers in length. In the middle of the foot there are also a triangle and water-pot.

Text 7

ashöangula-pramanena
tad bhaved ardha-candrakam ardha-candra-samakaram nirdishöam tasya su-vrata

ashöa-eight; angula-fingers; pramanena-in measurement; tat-that; bhavet-is; ardha-candrakam-half-moon; ardha-candra-half-moon; sama-akaram-resembling; nirdishöam-indicated; tasya-of the Lord; su-vrata-o pious Narada.

"O pious Narada, on the Lord's left foot there is also the mark of a half-moon, which is eight fingers in length.

Text 8

bindur vai matsya -cihnam ca hy ady-ante vai nirupitam goshpadam teshu vijneyam ady-angula-pramanatah ity adi binduh-a drop; vai-certainly; matsya-of a fish; cihnam-the mark; ca-also; hi-certainly; adi-from beginning; ante-to end; vai-certainly; nirupitam-described; goshpadam-a cow's hoofprint; teshu-among them; vijneyam-may be known; adi-one; angula-finger; pramanatah-in measurement; iti-thus; adi-in the passage beginning.

"There are also a kunkuma spot, the mark of a fish, and the mark of a cow's hoofprint, one finger in diameter. In this way I have completely described the markings on the lotus feet of Lord Krishna."

Text 9

tad-agre ca

shodasham tu tatha cihnam shrinu devarshi-satttama
jambu-phala-samakaram
drishyate yatra kutracit tac-cihnam shodasham proktam ity ahur munayo 'naghah iti tat-agre-in the preceding passage; ca-also; shodasham- 16; tu-but; tatha-in that way; cihnam-signs; shrinu-please hear; deva-rishi-of the great sages; sattama-O beat; jambu-phala-samakaram-with a form like a jambu fruit; drishyate-is seen; yatra-where; kutracit-somewhere; tat-cihnam-those signs; shodasham-16; proktan-described; iti-thus; ahuh- describe; munayah-sages; anaghah-pure; iti-thus.

This description of the Lord's lotus feet begins with the following statement:

"O Narada, O best of the sages, please hear from me about the sixteen markings on the lotus feet of Lord Krishna. These markings are as beautiful as a graceful jambu fruit, and I shall now describe them as they have been previously been described by the pure-hearted devotees."

Text 10

atra vaishnavottama ity adikam shri-narada-sambodhanam. yada kada iti yada kadacid evety arthah. madhyama-parshni-paryantayoh sama-desho madhyah tatra dhvaja dhvajah.

atra-in these verses; vaishnava-of the devotees; uttama-O best; iti-thus; adikam-in the passage beginning; shri-narada-Shri Narada; sambodhanam-addressed in the vocative case; yada kada-the words "yada kda; iti-thus; yada kadacit-"whenever"; eva-certainly; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; madhyama-the word "madhyama"; parshni-paryantayoh- means "culminating in the heel; sama-deshah-middle part; madhyah-"madhyah"; tatra-there; dhvajah-the mark of the flag.

In these verses the word "vaishnavottama" is used in the vocative case to address Narada Muni. The words "yada kada" mean "whenever", "madhyama" means "that part culminating in the heel, "madhyah" means "the middle part", and "dhvaja" means "flag".

Text 11

try-angula-manatah padagre try-angula-pramana-desham parityajyety arthah padmasyadho dhvajam dhatte sarvanartha-jaya-dhvajam iti skande-vacanat.

tri-angula-manatah-the word "try-angula-manatah" pada-of the foot; agre-at the front; tri-for three; angula- fingers; pramana-the measurement; deshah-place; parityajya- having left; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; padmasya-the lotus; adhah-below; dhvajam-the flag; dhatte-is placed; sarva-all; anartha-unwanted material tendencies; jaya-for defeating; dhvajam-the flag; iti-thus; skanda-of the Skanda Purana; vacanat-from the statement.

The word "try-angula-manatah" means "three fingers in distance from the front part of the foot". This is corroborated by the following description of the Lord's lotus feet in the Skanda Purana:

"Below the mark of the lotus is the mark of a flag. This flag represents victory over all that is unwanted."

Text 12

yatra kutracit parita ity arthah. adim angushöha-tarjani-sandhim arabhya madhyama-madhyam yavat tavad urdhva-rekha vyavasthita padma-samjnake puane kathita ity arthah.

yatra kutracit-the words "yatra kutracit"; paritah-mean "everywhere"; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; adim-beginning; angushöha-tarjani-sandhim-the junction of the big-toe and the fore-toe; arabhya-beginning; ; madhyama-madhyam-in the middle; yavat-from there; tavad-to there; urdhva-rekha-urdhva-rekha line; vyavasthita-situated; padma-samjnake-the words "padma-samjake; puane-in the Purana; kathita-spoken; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning.

The words "yatra kutracit" mean "everywhere". The word "adim" means "the junction of the big toe and the fore-toe". The "urdhva-rekha" line begins at that point and extends to the middle of the Lord's foot. The words "kathita padma-samjnake"mean "described in the Padma Purana".

Text 13

Ashöngulair manam tat iti madhyamanguly-agtad ashöangula-manam parityajyety arthah.

ashöa-of eight; angulaih-fingers; manam-measurement; tat-that; iti-thus; madhyama-middli; anguli-toe; agrat-from the beginning; ashöa-eight; angula-fingers; manam- measurement; parityajyety-going away; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning.

The phrase "ashöangulaih manam tat means "eight fingers away from the middle toe".

Text 14

tavad vistaratvena vyakhyayam sthanasamaveshah ata eva purvam api tatha vyakhyatam. evam uttaratrapi jneyam.

tavat-in that way; vistaratvena-with all details; vyakhyayam-in the explanation; sthana-places; asama-extraordinary; aveshah-entrance; atah eva-therefore; purvam-previously; api-also; tatha-in the same way; vyakhyatam-described; evam-in this way; uttaratra-in the next; api-also; jneyam-may be understood.

In this way the elaborate description of the markings on Lord Krishha's right lotus foot is concluded. The description of the left lotus foot follows.

Text 15

indra-capā-tri-konardha-candrakani" kramad adho-'dho-bhaga-sthani. anyatreṭi śhri-kṛṣṇad anyatrety arthah.

indra-capā-rainbow; trikona-triangle; ardha-candrakani-and half moon; kramat-in sequence; adhah adhah-bhaga-sthani-situated one beneath the othet; anyatra-in another place; śhri-kṛṣṇat- except for Śhri Krishna; anyatra-any other place; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning.

On the Lord's left foot, first there is the mark of the rainbow. Below that is the mark of the triangle, and below that is the mark of half-moon. The word "anyatra" means "any place other than the lotus feet of Śhri Krishna."

Text 16

binduh ambaram. adau caranasyadi-deshe tad-anguli-samipe binduh. ante parshni-deshe matsya-cihnam. shodasam cihnam ubhayor api jneyam. daksinadya-niyamenoktatvat. atra dakshinangushōhadhash cakram, vamngushōadhas tanmukham", daram ca skandoktanusarana.

binduh- the word "bindu"; ambaram-kumkuma; adau-in the beginning; caranasya-of the foot; adi-deshe-in the fore-part; tat-anguli-the toes; samipe-near; binduh-the bindu mark; ante-at the end; parshni-deshe-at the heel; matsya-of a fish; cihnam-the mark; shodasham-16; cihnam-marks; ubhayoh-of the two feet; api-also; jneyam-may be understood; dakshina-adya-niyamena-by the description of the right and left feet of the Lord; angushōha-big toe; adhah-below; tat-mukham-tanmuha; daram-dara; ca-also; skanda-of the Skanda Purana; ukta-the statement; anusarana-according to.

The word "bindu" means "kunkuma spot."

This mark is found at the front part of the Lord's sole near the toes. At the Lord's heel there is the mark of a fish. In this way there are sixteen auspicious marks on the right and left feet of the Lord.

The Skanda Purana further describes:

"beneath the big toe of the Lord's right foot there is the mark of a cakṛa, and beneath the big toe of the Lord's left foot there are the marks of a tanmukha and dara."

Text 17

te hi śhri-Kṛṣṇne 'py anyatra śhruyete. yathadi-vaṛahe mathura-maṇḍala-mahatmye yatra Kṛṣṇena sancitnam kṛditam ca yathā-sukham cakrankita-pada tena

sthane brahmamaye śhubhe iti.

te-the two lotus feet; hi-certainly; Śhri-Kṛṣṇne-of Śhri Krishna; api-also; anyatra-in other Vedic literatures; śhruyete-are heard; yathā-just as; adi-vaṛahe-in the Adi-varaha Purana; mathura-maṇḍala-of Mathura maṇḍala; mahatmye-in the glorification; yatra-where; kṛṣṇena-by Śhri Krishna; sancitnam kreditam-pastimes were performed; ca-also; yatha-sukham-as He wished; cakra-with the disc; ankita-marked; pada-with the foot; tena-by Him; sthane-in the place; brahmamaye-spiritual; shubhe-auspicious; iti-thus.

The two lotus feet of Lord Krishna are described in many places in the Vedic literatures. For example in the Mathura-mandala-mahatmya section of the Purana we find the explanation:

"Lord Krishna, whose lotus foot is marked with the sign of the cakra, performed pastimes according to His own desire in the auspicious transcendental place known as Mathura-mandala."

Text 18

shri-gopala-tapanyam

shankha-dhvajatapatraish tu cihnitam ca pada-dvayam iti.

atapratram idam cakradhastaj jneyam. dakshinasya pradhanyat tatraiva sthana-samavesha ca. anguli-parimana-matra-dairghyac-caturdashamshena tad-vistaray shashöamshena jneyam. anyatra dairghye caturdashanguli-parimanatvena vistare shad-anguli-parimansatvena pradiddher iti.

shri-gopala-tapanyam-in the Gopala-tapani Upanishad (2.62); shankha-with the conch-shell; dhvaja-flag; atapatraih-and umbrella; tu-also; cihnitam-marked; ca- also,; pada-lotus feet; dvayam-pair; iti-thus; atapatram- umbrella; idam-this; cakra-the disc; adhasat-beneath; jneyam-should be understood; dakshinasya-of the right foot; pradhanyat-primarily; tatra-there; eva-certainly; sthana-samavesha-from the place; ca-also; anguli-of the fingers; parimana-matra-measurement; dairghyat-by length; caturdasha-fourteen; amsena-by part; jneyam-should be known; anyatra- otherwise; dairghye-in lengthl caturdasha-fourteen; angulu- fingers; parimanatvena-by measurement; vistare-in extent; shash-six; anguli-fingers; parimanatvena-by measurement; prasiddheh-celebrated; iti-thus.

The markings of the Lord's lotus feet are also described in Gopala-tapani Upanishad (2.62):

"Lord Krishna's lotus feet are marked with the signs of the conchshell, flag, and parasol."

The sign of the umbrella is situated fourteen angulis beneath the cakra and six angulis to the right on the Lord's right foot.

(At this point the Sarva-samvadini ends and the Krishna-sandarbha continues.)

Text 46

ity adia prayashah shri-bhagavatavat shri-Krishna-sahitamsh tan ganayitva punar aha narasimhadayo 'nye 'pi sarva-papa-vinashanah

yad-vibhuti-visheshenalankritam bhuvi jayate tat sarvam avagantavyam krishnamshamsha-samudbhavam. iti iti-thus; adina-in the passage beginning; prayashah- for the most part; shri-bhagavatavat-like the bhagavatam; shri-krishna-Shri Krishna; sahitam-including; tan-them; ganayitva-enumerating; punah-again; aha-says; narasimha- Narasimha; adayah-beginning with; anye-others; api-also; sarva-all; papa-sins; vinashanah-removing; yat-whose; vibhuti-opulence and power; visheshena-specifically; alankritam-decorated; bhuvi-on the earth; jayate-is produced; tat-them; sarvam-all of; avagantavyam-should be known; krishna-of Shri Krishna; amsha-of the planetary portion; amsha-of a part; samudbhavam-produced; iti-thus.

After saying these words, Suta Gosvami gave a brief description of the Lord's various incarnations, much like the list found in the First Canto of Shrimad-Bhagavatam, and included Krishna among the incarnations. When the description of the incarnations was completed, Suta Gosvami explained the special position of Krishna in the following words:

"The incarnations of the Lord, including Lord Narasimha and many others, are full of all transcendental opulences and powers, and they appear in this material world to remove the sinful reactions of the conditioned souls. One thing, however, should be carefully understood about them: all the incarnations are simply parts of the plenary portions of Lord Krishna, the Original Personality of Godhead."

Text 47

tad ittham sarvam abhipretya mahapakrama-shloka eva shri-vishnu-puraniya-bhagavac-chabda-niruktivat sakshaö shri-krishnabhidheyatvenapi yojayati: janmady asya iti; narakriti param brahma iti purana-vargat. tasmad krishna eva paro devah iti shri-gopala-tapani-shrutesh ca. param krishna dhimahi. asya svarupa-lakshanam aha satyam iti satya-vratam satya-param tri-satyam ity adau.

tat-therefore; ittham-in this way; sarvam-all; abhipretya-intending; maha-upakrama-shloka-invocation; eva-certainly; shri-vishnu-puraniya-from the Vishnu Purana; bhagavat-"Bhagavan"; shabda-of the word; niruktivat-like the definition; sakshat-directly; shri-krishna-abhidheyatvena-by the name "krishna"; yojayati-is employed; janmady asya iti- Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.1.1: nara-of a human being; akriti-with the form; param-the supreme; brahma-Brahman; iti-thus; purana-vargat-from the Puranas; tasmad-therefore; krishnah-Krishna; eva-certainly; parah-the Supreme; devah-Personality of Godhead; iti-thus; shri-gopala-tapani-shruteh-from the Gopala-tapani Upanishad; ca-also; param-by the word "param"; krishnam-"krishna" is intended; intended; dhimahi- I do meditate upon; asya-of Him; svarupa-the original form; lakshanam-the description; aha-speaks; satyam iti-with the word "satyam"; satya-vratam satya-param tri-satyam iti-adau: Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.2.26)

That Shri Krishna is the Supreme Personality of Godhead is also described in the very beginning of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (1.1.1), where Shri Vyasadeva says:

om namo bhagavate vasudevaya janmady asya yato 'nvayad itarataś cartheshv abhijñāh svarāö

tene brahma hrida ya adi-kavaye muhyanti yat surayah
tejo-vari-mridam yatha vinimayo yatra tri-sargo 'mrisha
dhamna svena sada nirasta-kuhakam satyam param dhimahi

"O my Lord, Shri Krishna, son of Vasudeva, O all-pervading Personality of Godhead, I offer my respectful obeisances unto You. I meditate upon Lord Shri Krishna because He is the Absolute Truth and the primeval cause of all causes of the creation, sustenance and destruction of the manifested universes. He is directly and indirectly conscious of all manifestations, and He is independent because there is no other cause beyond Him. It is He only who first imparted the Vedic knowledge unto the heart of Brahmaji, the original living being. By Him even the great sages and demigods are placed into illusion, as one is bewildered by the illusory representations of water seen in fire, or land seen on water. Only because of Him do the material universes, temporarily manifested by the reactions of the three modes of nature, appear factual, although they are unreal. I therefore meditate upon Him, Lord Shri Krishna, who is eternally existent in the transcendental abode, which is forever free from the illusory representations of the material world. I meditate upon Him, for He is the Absolute Truth."*

These words of Vyasa are also corroborated by the definition of the word "bhagavan" found in the Vishnu Purana ("The Supreme Personality of Godhead, Bhagavan, is He who possesses unlimited wealth, strength, fame, knowledge, beauty, and renunciation"), and they are also corroborated by the following quotations from Vedic literatures:

narakriti param brahma

"The Supreme Godhead has a humanlike form."
-The Puranas

tasmad krishna eva paro devah

"Shri Krishna is the Supreme Personality of Godhead."
-Gopala-tapani Upanishad

We may note that the word "param" in the last line of the invocation of Shrimad-Bhagavatam certainly refers to Shri Krishna. and that the word "satyam (Absolute Truth) gives us the description of Shri Krishna actual nature. This word "satyam" is described in the following verse of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.2.26):

satya-vratam satya-param tri-satyam satyasya yonim nihitam kasatye
satyasya satyam rita-satya-netram
satyatmakam tvam sharanam prapannah

"The demigods prayed: O Lord, You never deviate from Your vow, which is always perfect because whatever You decide is perfectly correct and cannot be stopped by anyone. Being present in the three phases of cosmic manifestation-creation, maintenance and annihilation-You are the Supreme Truth. Indeed, unless one is completely truthful, one cannot achieve Your favor, which therefore cannot be achieved by hypocrites. You are the active principle, the real truth, in all the ingredients of creation, and therefore you are known as antaryami, the inner force. You are equal to everyone, and the beginning of all truth. Therefore, offering our obeisances, we surrender unto You. Kindly give us protection."*

Text 48

satye pratishöhitah krishnah satyam atra pratishöhitam satyat satyam ca govindas tasmāt satyo hi namatah ity udyama-parvani sanjaya-kṛta-shrī-kṛṣṇa-nama-niruktau ca tathā śhrutatvat. etena tadākāśasyavyābhicāritvam darśhitam.

satye-in truth; pratishöhitah-fixed; krishnah-Shri Krishna; satyam-truth; atra-in Him; pratishöhitam-is situated; satyat-from the truth; satyam-the truth; ca-and govindah-Govinda; tasmāt-therefore; satyah-the truth; hi- certainly; namatah-by name; iti-thus; udyama-parvani-in the Udyama Parva of the Mahabharata; sanjaya-by Sajaya; kṛta- spoken; shrī-kṛṣṇa-of Shri Krishna; nama-of the holy names; niruktau-in the definitions; ca-also; tathā-in the same way; śhrutatvat-because of being heard in the scriptures; etena-by this statement; tat-His; ākāśasya-of the form; vyābhicāritvam-eternality; darśhitam-is revealed.

In the Dictionary of Shri Krishna's Names in the Udyama Parva of the Mahabharata, Sanjaya gives us the definition of the word "satya" as a name of Krishna:

"Shri Krishna is the Supreme Reality, and all reality has emanated from Him and is situated within Him. For this reason, He is called 'satya', The Supreme Reality, or the Absolute Truth."

In these words Sanjaya clearly explained that the form of Shri Krishna is eternal and unchanging: the Absolute Truth.

Text 49

taōastha-lakṣhaṇam aha dhamna svena ity ādi. svena sva-svarūpena dhamna śhrī-mathurākhyena sāda nirastam kuhaḥkama māya-kārya-lakṣhaṇam yena tam taōastha-lakṣhaṇam-as aloof from the material world; aha-describes; dhamna svena ity ādi-in the phrase beginning with the words "dhamna" in the last line of Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.1.1 quoted on page 486-487 of this book; svena-the word "svena"; sva-svarūpena-means "with His original transcendental form; dhamna-the word "dhamna"; śhrī-mathurākhyena-means with His abode, known as Mathura; sāda-always; nirastam-negation by absence; kuhaḥkama-illusion; māya-of illusion; kārya-activities; lakṣhaṇam-characterized by; yena-by whom; tam-unto Him.

In the invocation of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (1.1.1), quoted in Text 47, Shri Krishna is described as being free from all material illusion. This is described in the following words:

dhamna svena sāda nirasta-kuhaḥkama param dhīmahi

"I therefore meditate upon Him, Lord Shri Krishna, which is forever free from the illusory representations of the material world. I meditate upon Him, for He is the Absolute Truth."*

In this phrase the word "svena" means "His own transcendental form, the word "dhamna" means "with His abode, known as Mathura", and the word "kuhaḥkama" means "the illusory activities of the material world."

Text 50

mathyate tu jagat sarvam brahma-jnanena yena va tat-sara-bhutam yad yasyam msthuta sa nigadyate

iti shri-gopalottara-tapani-prasiddheh.

mathyate-is churned; tu-also; jagat-universe; sarvam- entire; brahma-the absolute Truth; jnanena-by transcendental knowledge; yena-by which; va-or; tat-sara-bhutam-butter; yat-because; yasyam-in which; mathura-Mathura; sa-it; nigadyate-is named.

iti-thus; shri-gopala-uttara-tapani-in the description of the Second Chapter of the Gopala-tapani Upanishad; prasiddheh-famous.

Mathura, the transcendental abode of Lord Krishna, is described in the following verse of Gopala-tapani Upanishad (2.79):

When the entire universe is churned (mathyate) by the churning rod of transcendental knowledge, the butter produced is the Supreme Personality of Godhead in Mathura. That is why it is called Mathura."

Text 51

lilam aha adyasya nityam eva shrimat-ananakadundubhi-vrajeshvara-nandanataya shri-mathura-gokuleshu virajamanasyaiva svasya kasmaicid arthaya loke pradurbhavapekshaya yatah shrimat-ananakadundubhi-grihat janma tasmad yah putra-bhavatas tad-anugayatvenagacchat.

lilam-pastimes; aha-describes; adyasya-by the word "adyasya"; nityam-eternally; eva -certainly; shrimat- ananaka dundubhi-of Vasudeva; vraja-ishvara-and of Nanda, the king of Vraja; nandanataya-as the son; shri-mathura-in Mathura; dvaraka-Dvaraka; gokuleshu-and Gokula; virajamanasya-manifested; eva-certainly; svasya-for His own; kasmaicid-particular; arthaya-purpose; loke-in the material world; pradurbhava-appearance; apekshaya-with reference; yatah-by the word "yatah"; shrimat-ananakadundubhi-of Vasudeva; grihat-from the home; janma-birth; tasmad- therefore; yah-who; itaratah ca-by the words "itaratah ca"; itaratra-in another place; shri-vraja-ishvara-of the king of Vraja; grihe-in the home; api-even; anvayat-by the word "anvayat"; putra-bhavatah-as the son; tat-anugatatvena- appearing as; agacchat-arrived.

The first verse of the Bhagavatam, quoted in Text 47, gives us a summary description of Lord Krishna's pastimes on this earth. This may be explained in the following way: The word "adyasya" means "the Supreme Lord who eternally remains in Mathura, Dvaraka, and Gokula as the son of Vasudeva and Nanda Maharaja". The word "janma" means that the Supreme Lord appears in the material world to accomplish a specific purpose. The words "yatah anvayat itaratah ca" mean that the Lord was carried from the home of Vasudeva to the home of Nanda, the king of Vraja, who accepted the Lord as his own son.

Text 52

uttarena ya iti padenanvayah. yatah ity anena tasmad iti svayam eva labhyate.

uttarena-by the first; yah iti-beginning with the word "yatah"; padena-line of the verse; anvayah-sequence of words; yatah iti-the word "yatah"; anena-by that; taamsat-the word "tasmad (from Him)"; iti-thus; svayam-by itself; eva- certainly; labhyate-is obtained.

That is the meaning of the first line of the verse. We may also note in this connection that the word "yatah" (from whom) implies the use of an appropriate co-relative pronoun, which need not be expressed, but may be simply understood. In this sentence the pronoun "tasmaö" (from Him) is understood although not expressed.

Text 53

kasmad anvayat. tatraha artheshu kamsa-vancanadishu tadrisha-bhavavadbhih shri-gokula-vasibhir eva sarvananda-kadamba-kadambini-rupa sa sa kapi lila sidhyatiti tallakshaneshu va artheshv abhijnah. tatash ca svaraö svair gokula-vasibhir eva rajata iti.

kasmad-from what? anvayat-reason; tatra-in this connection; aha-he says; artheshu-in the purposes; kamsa-of Kamsa; vacana-deception; adishu-and other reasons; tadrisha-bhavavadbhih-full of intense devotional love; shri-gokula-vasibhih-with the residents of Gokula; sarva-all; ananda-transcendental pastimes; sidhyati-perfectly manifested; iti-thus; tat-lakshaneshu-in the characteristics of which; va-or; artheshu abhijnah-by the words 'artheshu abhijhah'; tatah-from that; ca-also; svaraö"; svaih-with His own friends and relatives; gokula-vasibhih-the residents of Gokula; eva-certainly; rajate-appeared very splendid. iti- thus.

The question may be raised: Why was the Lord carried from Vasudeva's home to the home of Nanda Maharaja in Vraja? The answer is given in the words "artheshv abhijnah" in this verse from the Bhagavatam. These words indicate that Lord Krishna knew very well the purpose of His being carried to Vraja. The Lord was carried to Vraja in order to deceive Kamsa, and also to perform various transcendental pastimes with the residents of Gokula, who were all full of great love for Him. These pastimes seemed like a host of dark monsoon clouds that showered transcendental bliss upon everyone. The word "svaraö" in this verse means that the Lord always remained with His own friends and relatives, the residents of Gokula.

Text 54

tatra tesham prema-vasatam apannasyapy avyahataishvaryam aha tene iti. yah adi-kavaye brahmane brahmanam vismapayitum hrida sankalpa-matrenaiva brahma satya-jnananantananda-matraika-rasa murtimayam vaibhavam tene" vistaritavan.

tatra-in this connection; tesham-of the residents of Vraja; prema-by the love; vashatam-the state of being □

controlled; apannasya-attained; avyahata-unimpeded; aishvaryam- power and opulence; aha-describes; tene iti-with the passage beginning with the word "tene"; yah-who; adi-kaveye-the word "adi-kavaye"; brahmane-means "to Brahma"; brahmanam- Brahma; Vismapayitum-to bewilder and amaze; hrida-the word "hrida"; sankalpa-matrena-means "simply by willing"; brahma-the word "brahma"; satya-transcendental; jnana-full of knowledge; ananta-and unlimited; ananda-bliss; matra- consisting of; eka-rasa-eternal and unchanging; murti-mayam- forms; vaibhavam-opulence and power; tene-the words "tene"; vistaritavan-means "manifested".

Although Krishna remained always conquered by the love of the residents of Vraja, he would occasionally manifest His divine power and opulence. One such occasion is described by Vyasa in the phrase "tene brahma hrida ya adi-kavaye". The word "adi-kavaye" means "to Brahma", "hrida" means "simply by willing", "brahma" means "the manifestation of His divine potency in the form of innumerable eternal, unchanging, transcendental forms of knowledge and unlimited bliss", and the word "tene" means "manifested". Understood in this way, the phrase may be taken to mean "in order to bewilder and amaze Brahma, Lord Krishna, simply by willing to do so, manifested innumerable eternal, unchanging transcendental forms of knowledge and unlimited bliss."

Text 55

yad yatas tatha-vidha-laukikalaukikata-samucita-lila-hetoh surayah tat-tad-bhakta muhyanti prematisayodayena vaivashyam apnuvanti. yad iti uttarenapy anvayat. yad yata eva tadrisha-lilatah tejo-vari-mridam api yatha yathavat vinimayah bhavati. tatra tejasash candrader vinimayo nistejo-vastubhih saha dharma-parivartah; tac-chri- mukhadiruca candrader nistejastvabhidhanan nikatastha-nistejo-vastunah sva-bhasa tejasvita-padanac ca, tatha vari dravas ca kathinam bhavati, venu-vadyena mrit-pashanadis ca dravatiti. yatra shri-krishnah tri-sargah shri-gokula-mathura-dvaraka-vaibhava-prakashah amrisha satya eveti. shri-veda-vyasah.

yat-the word "yat"; yatah-means "because of"; tatha-vidha-like this; laukika-ordinary; aluakika-and extraordinary; samucita-appropriate; lila-pastimes; hetoh-because of; surayah-the word "surayah"; tat-tad-bhaktah-means "the devotees of the lord"; muhyanti-the word "muhyanti"; prema-atishaya-udayena-because of great love; vaivaashyam- helplessness; apnuvanti-attained; yat iti uttarena-by the phrase following the word "yat" anvayat-series of words; yat- the word "yat"; yatah-means "because of"; eva-certainly; tadrisha-lilatah-because of these pastimes; tejah-vari-mridam-the word "tejo-vari-mridam"; api-even; yatha-the word "yatha"; yathavat-means "just like" vinimayah- transformation; bhavati-becomes; tatra-in this connection; tejasah-of the splendor; candra-adeh-of the moon and other luminous objects; vinimayah-transformation; nistejo-vastubhih saha-without spender; candra-adeh-of the moon and other luminous objects; vinimayah-transformation; nistejo-vastubhih saha-without splendor; dharma-of their natures; parivartah-transformation; tat-His; shri-of beauty; mukha-of the face; ruca-by the splendor; candra-adeh-of the moon and other luminous splendor; abhidhanat-because of the description; nikaöastha-nearby; nistejah-dull; vastunah-because of substance; sva-bhasa-bu his own splendor; tejasvita- splendour; apadanat-because of attaining; ca-also; tatha-in the same way; vari-the word "vari"; dravah-means "liquid"; ca-also; kaöhinam-solid; bhavati-becomes; venu-of the flute; vadyena-by the music; mrit-earth; pashana-stones; adhih-and other solids; ca-also; dravati-become melted; iti-thus; yatra-where; shri-krishnah-Shri Krishna; tri-sargah-the word "tri-sargah"; shri-gokula-Gokula; mathura-Mathura; dvaraka-and Dvaraka; vaibhava-opulence; prakasah-manifestation; anrisha-the word "amrisha" satyah- means "reality"; eva-certainly; iti-thus; shri-veda-vyasah- spoken by Vedavyasa.

The phrase "muhyanti surayah" means "the devotees become overwhelmed with love when they hear about the pastimes of Lord Krishna, which are sometimes wonderful and extraordinary, and which sometimes appear like the activities of an ordinary human being. The phrase "tejo-vari-mridam yatha vinimayah" means, "liquids, solids, and effulgent substances all change their natures when the Lord enjoys pastimes. This means that in comparison to the splendor of the Lord's beautiful face, the shining of the moon and other bright things becomes dull. Also, when Lord Krishna plays His flute, the water of the Yamuna river becomes solid, and the earth and rocks begin to melt in ecstasy."

The phrase "yatra tri-sargo "mrisha" means "from Lord Krishna are manifested the eternal, opulent, transcendental abodes of Gokula, Mathura, and Dvaraka."

This concludes the explanation of the first verse of Shrimad-Bhagavatam.

```
.mt 3
.mb .5
.rm 6.5 in Set Right Margin to 6.5 in.
.rm 65
```

```
..
  Select font 1
.fa times to Times Roman type style.
.lh 1.25 em
.ch 15.5 pt
```

```
.fa timesitl
.lh 1.25 em
.ch 15.4 pt
..
```

```
.fa clarendo
.ch 16.2 pt
..
```

```
.fa helvetic
.ch 16 pt
..
```

```
.fa clarendo
.ch 16.2 pt
..
```

```
.fa clarendo
.ch 23 pt
..
```

```
.. Lower case Italicized
.de {.px -1.2 en}{.py +0.23 em}{.py -.23 em}
.. ^D = . below letters n - h - normal - italic
.de {.px -1. en}{.py +.23 em}{.py -.23 em}
...de {.ru .06 em, .1 em, -.40 en, -1.4 en}
.de {.px -.6 en}{.py -.55 en}{.fa clarendo}{.ch .8 em}{.sy 180}{.ch}{.fa}{.px +.1 en}{.py +.55 en}
```

```

.. ^S = ' on s          -   normal - italic
..de {.px -.1 en}{.py -.3 em}{.fn}{.px +.1 en}{.py +.3 em}
.. ^T = ' on S
..de {.ru .28 em, .055 em, -.6 en, -1.38 en}
.. ^A = - above long 'a' - 'u' sound 'i non-italic
..de [6] {.ru .28 em, .055 em, -.40 en, -1.40 en}
.. ^E = - above long 'i'
..de 6 {.px -.6 em}{.py -.65 em}{.py +.65 em}
.. ^V = . above 'm'

..
..de 57 {.px -.5 en}{.py -.7 en}{.fa clarendo}{.ch .5 em}{.sy 180}{.ch}{.fa}{.py +.7 en}
..
.. Upper case Italicized
..de {.px -.8 en}{.py -.73 en}{.fa clarendo}{.sy 180}{.fa}{.px +.2 en}{.py +.73 en}
..de {.ru .06 em, .13 em, -.25 em, -2.05 en}
.. ^T = ' on S
..
.. Lower case non-Italics
.. ^A = - over long 'i'
..de {.ru .28 em, .055 em, -1 en, -1.40 en}
.. ^Q = - above long 'a' - 'u' sound
..de {.lf .7 em}{.up .65 em}{.dn}
.. ^P = . above 'm'
..
.. Upper case non-Italicized
..de {.px -.8 en}{.py -.7 en}{.fa clarendo}{.sy 180}{.fa}{.px +.1 en}{.py +.7 en}
..{.ru .06 em, .13 em, -.35 em, -1.95 en}
.. ^U = ' on S
..
..de - {.lf .15 em}{.lf .15 em}-
.. long '-'
..
..hy
..lh 1.25 em
..bd off
..op
..oj on

```

```

.hee #                Shri Krishna-sandarbha
.heo                Volume Three                #

```

Anuccheda 83

Text 1

evam sarvopasasamhara-vakyam api tatraiva sangacchate kasmai yena vibhasito yam ity adi evam-in this way; sarva-of everything; upasamhara- concluding; vakyam-statement; api-even; tatra-there; eva- certainly; sangacchate-is assembled; kasmai yena vibbhasitah ayam iti adi- Shrimad-Bhagavatam 12.13.19:

kasmai yena vibhashito 'yam atula-jnana-pradipah pura tad-rupena ca naradaya munaya krishnaya tad-rupina yogindraya tad-atmana ca bhagavad-rataya karunyatas tac-chuddham vimalam vishokam amritam satyam param dhimahi.

The explanation given in the first verse of the Bhagavatam, is repeated again at the end in these words (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 12.13.19):

"Formerly Krishna mercifully gave the lamp of transcendental knowledge to Narada, Vyasa Muni, and Shukadeva Gosvami, a great devotee and the best of yogis. I meditate on the Supreme Lord, Krishna, the eternal Absolute Truth, supremely pure, and free from all suffering and lamentation."

Text 2

yo briahtanam vidadhati purvam yo vai vidyas tasmai gapayati sma krishnah
tam ha devam atma-buddhi-prakasham
mumukshur vai sharanam amum vrajet

iti-shri-gopala-purva-tapani-shruteh. vyakritam ca dvitiya-sandarbhhe tasyaiva catuh-shloki-vaktrivam api. shri-sutah.

yah-Who; brahmanam-to Brahma; vidadhati-gave; purvam-previously; yah-who; vai-certainly; vidyah-transcendental knowledge; tasmai-to him; gapayati-sma- instructed; krishnah-Krishna; tam-to Him; ha-certainly; devam-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; atma-buddhi-spiritual knowledge; prakasham-manifesting; mumukshuh-onw who desires liberation; vai-certainly; sharanam-shelter; amum-this; vrajet-should go.

iti-thus; shri-gopala-purva-tapani-shruteh-from the First Chapter of the Gopala-tapani Upanishad (1.26); vyakritam-explained; ca-also; dvitiya-sandarbhhe-in the Second (Bhagavat-) sandarbha; tasya-of Lord Krishna; eva-certainly; catuh-shloki-of the four most important verses of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (2.9.33-36); vaktrivam-status as the speakers; api-also; shri-shutah-spoken by Suta Gosvami.

We have already discussed in the second (Bhagavat) sandarbha how Lord Krishna spoke the four essential verses of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (2.9.33-36) to Brahma. That Lord Krishna is the original instructor of Vedic knowledge is also described in Gopala-tapani Upanishad (1.23):

"It was Krishna who in the beginning instructed Brahma in Vedic knowledge and who disseminated Vedic knowledge in the past.* They who desire liberation surrender to Him, the Supreme Personality of Godhead, who grants transcendental knowledge to His devotees."

Anuccheda 84

Text 1

tad evam abhyasadiny api tasmin vispashöany eva purvodahrita-vakyeshu. tad etac chrimad-gita-gopala-tapany-adi-shashtra-gana-sahayasya nikhiletara-shashtra-shata-pranata-caranasya shri-bhagavatasyabhiprayena shri-krishnasya svayam-bhagavattam karatala iva darshitam. shri bhagavatasya sa eva parama-pratipadya iti puranantarenaiva svayam vyakhyatam. yatha brahmanda-purane shri-krishnashöottara-shata-namamrita-stotre shri-krishnasya nama-vishesha eva-"shukavag-amritabdhinduh iti.

tat-therefore; evam-in this way; abhyasa-adini- beginning with careful and repeated scrutiny; api-even; tasmin- in this matter; vispashöani-clear meaning; eva-certainly; purva-previous; udahrita-spoken; vakyeshu-in the statements; tat-therefore; shrimat-gita-Bhagavad-gita; gapala-tapani-Gopala-tapani Upanishad; adi-beginning with; shastra-gana-in Vedic literatures; sahayasya-with the assistant; nikhila-all; itara-other; shashtra-Vedic literatures; shata-hundreds; pranata-offering obeisances; caranasya-to His feet; shri-bhagavatasya-of Shrimad Bhagavatam; abhiprayena-by the actual meaning; shri-krishnasya-of Shri Krishna; svayam-bhagavattvam-the status as the Original Personality of Godhead; kara-tale-in the palm of the hand; iva-as it were; darshitam-is revealed; shri-bhagavatasya-of [shrimad-Bhagavatam; sah-He; eva-certainly; parama-supreme; pratipadyah-subject of discussion; iti-thus; purana-antarena-by other Puranas; svayam-directly; vyakhyatam-is described; yatha-just as; brahmanda-purane-in the Brahmanda Purana; [shri krishna-ashöottara-shata-nama-amrita-stotre-in "The Nectar of 108 Names of Shri Krishna" prayers; shri-krishnasya-of Shri Krishna; nama-visheshah-specific name; eva-certainly; shuka-ak-of the words of Shukadeva Gosvami; amrita-nectar; abdhi-from the ocean; induh-the moon; iti-thus.

By repeatedly studying these scriptural quotations, the actual truth (that Shri Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead) will become clear to the reader. The actual purport of Shrimad-Bhagavatam. (which has Bhagavad-gita and Gopala-tapani Upanishad as it's assistants, and hundreds of other Vedic literatures as it's servants) will reveal to us the actual truth (that Shri Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead). The Bhagavatam will very clearly place this conclusion within the palm of our hand.

That Shri Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead is the central theme of Shrimad-Bhagavatam. This is also confirmed in other Puranas. For example, Brahmanda Purana explains in the Shri-Krishna-namashöottara-shata-namamrita Prayers:

shuka-vag-amrtabdhinduh

"Shri-Krishna is a moon risen from the nectar ocean of Shrimad-Bhagavatam, which was spoken by Shukadeva Gosvami."

Text 2

atha tasya maha-vasudevavte siddhe shri-baladevadinam api maha-sankarshanaditvam svata eva siddham. yad-rupah svayam-bhagavan tad-rupa eva te bhavitum arhantiti. atah shri-baladevasya yat kashcid avesharatvam manyate, tad asat. drishyate ca shri-krishna-ramayor yugalataya varnanena sama-prakashatvam: tav anghri-yugman anukrishya sarispantau, yad vishveshvarayor yacnam, dadarsha krishnam ramam ca, tau reجاتu ranga-gatau maha-bhujau ity adau.

atha-now; tasya-of Shri Krishna; maha-vasudevatve-the status of being the original Vasudeva; siddhe- has been proven; shri-baladeva-adinam-of Shri Baladeva and other forms of Godhead; api-also; maha-sankarsana-aditvam-the status of the Original Sankarshana and other forms of Godhead; svatah-automatically; eva-certainly; siddham-is proved; yat-rupah- whose form; svayam bhagavan-the Original Personality of Godhead; tat-rupah-His expansions; eva-certainly; te-the other forms of Godhead; bhavitum arhanti-are; iti-thus; atah- therefore; shri-baladevasya-of Shri Baladeva; yat-which; kashcit-someone; avesha-avataratvam-the status of an avesha-avatara (empowered living entity); manyate-may consider; tat-that; asat-is not true; drishyate-may be seen; ca-also; shri krishna-of Shri Krishna; ramayoh-and of shri Rama; yagalataya-by the description; sama-equal; prakasatvam- manifestation; tauanghri-yugman anukrishya sarishripantau-the verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam10.8.22):

tav anghri-yugmam anukrishya satishripantau ghosha-praghosha-ruciram vraja-kardameshu tan-nada-hrishta-manasav anushritya lokam mugdha-prabhitavad upeyatur anti matroh yad vishveshvarayoh yacnam-the verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.23.38):

athanusmrtya te vipra anvatapyan krtagasah
yad vishvesvarayor yacnam ahanma nri-vidambayoh dadarsha krshnam ramam ca-the verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.38.28):

dadarsha krishnam ramam ca vraje go-dohanam gatau
pita-nilambara-dharau sarad-amburuhekshanau

tau reجاتuh ranga-gatau maha-bhujau iti adau- the verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam10.43.19):

tau reجاتu ranga-gatau maha-bhujau vicitra-veshabharana-srag-ambarau yatha naöav uttama-vesha-dharinau manah kshipantau prabhaya nirikshatam.

Now that it is clearly proven that Shri Krishna is the Supreme Personality of Godhead, the origin of Lord Vasudeva, it should also be accepted that Lord Balarama is the origin of the Lord Sankarshana, and other associates of the Lord are the origins of Lord Pradyumna, Lord Aniruddha, and other incarnations. Shri Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead, and His associates are, in some way or other, His expansions.

Although someone may think that Lord Balarama is an avesha-avatara (empowered living entity), this is not true. Lord Balarama is repeatedly described as equal to Lord Krishna. This is explained in the following quotes:

"When Krishna and Balarama, with the strength of Their legs, crawled in the muddy places created in Vraja by cow dung and cow urine, Their crawling resembled the crawling of serpents, and the sound of Their ankle bells was very charming. Very much pleased by the sound of other people's ankle bells, They used to follow these people as if going to Their mothers, but when They saw that these were other people, They became afraid and returned to Their real mothers, Yashoda and Rohini."*

-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.8.22

"The brahmanas engaged in the performance of sacrifices began to regret their sinful activities in refusing food to the Supreme Personalities of Godhead. They said: We are now certainly undone, for we have offended Lord Krishna and Balarama, who are the Supreme Controllers of all the universes, although They appear to be only ordinary human children."*

-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.23.38

"When Akrura entered Vrindavana he saw Krishna and Balarama engaged in supervising the milking of the cows. Krishna was dressed in yellow garments and Balarama in bluish. Akrura also saw that Krishna's eyes were exactly like the beautifully grown lotus flower of the autumn season."*

-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.38.28

"Krishna entered the wrestling arena with Balarama. They both had long hands. They were beautifully dressed, and They were attractive to all the people assembled there. They were dressed as if They were going to act on the dramatic stage, and They drew the attention of all people."*

-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.43.19

Text 3

loke 'pi hi surya-candra-samav eva yugalataya varnyete, na tu surya-shukrau. ata eva hari-vamshe'pi vasudeva-mahatmye rama-krishnayor drishöantah: surya-candra-samav iva iti; tatha dhvaja-vajrankushambho cihnitair anghribhir vrajam, shobhayantau mahatmanau ity evam bhagaval-lakshanany api tatra shruyante. na tv evam prithv-adishu.

loke-in this world; api-also; surya-to the sun; candra- and moon; samau-equal; eva-certainly; yugalataya-as a pair; varnyete-are described; na-not; tu-but; surya-as the sun; shukrau-and venus; atah eva-therefore; hari-vamshe-in the Hari-Vamsha; api-also; vasudeva-mahömye-in the glorification of Lord Vasudeva; rama-krishnayoh-of Krishna and Balarama; drishöantah-an example; surya-the sun; candra-and moon; samau-equal; iva-as if; iti-thus; tatha-in the same way; dhvaja-vajra-ankusha-ambhojaih cihnitaih anghribhish vrajam shobhayantau mahatmanau iti-the verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.38.30):

dhvaja-vajrankushambhojaish cihnitair anghribhish vrajam shobhayantau mahatmanau sanukrosha-smitekshanau;

evam-in this way; bhagavat-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; lakshanani-marks; api-even; tatra-in this quotation; shruyate-are heard; na-not; tu-but; evam-in this way; prithu-adishu-Prithu Maharaja and other incarnations.

Krishna and Balarama are described as equals and compared to the sun and moon. We may note that They never are compared to unequal things, as for instance the sun and the planet Venus (which is much smaller than the sun, and less prominent in the sky). This comparison of Lord Krishna and Balarama to the sun and moon is given in the following quote from the Hari-vamsa:

surya-candra-samav iva

"Krishna and Balarama were like the sun and the moon."

That Krishna and Balarama were equals is also confirmed in the following verse of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.38.30):

"The two great personalities, Krishna and Balarama, had both made the land of Vraja extremely beautiful by decorating it with Their footprints, which had many auspicious markings, such as the flag, thunderbolt, rod for controlling elephants, and lotus flower. With great mercy, They cast Their smiling glance upon Akrura."*

We may note in this verse that both Krishna and Balarama are described as having the markings of the Supreme Personality of Godhead on the soles of Their feet. These auspicious markings are seen only on the feet of the Supreme Personality of Godhead Himself. They are never seen on the feet of shakty-avesha incarnations (empowered living entities) such as Prithu Maharaja and others.

Text 4

tasmad esha tan-mahimapi varnyate naitac citram bhagavati hy anante jagad-ishvare otam protam idam yasmin tantushv anga yatha paöah etat hetuka-badhatmakam karma. shri-shukah.

tasmat-therefore; esha-this; tat-His; mahima-glory; api-also; varnyate-is described; na-not; etat-this; citram- wonderful; bhagavati-in the Supreme Personality of Godhead; hi- certainly; anante-in the unlimited; jagat-ishvare-the master of the universe; otam-lengthwise; protam-breadthwise; idam- this universe; yasmin-in whom; tantushu-in the threads; anga- O king; yatha-as much as; paöah-a cloth; etat-this; hetuka-badha-cause; atmakam-self; karma-action; shri-shukah-spoken by Shukadeva Gosvami.

Recounting the story of Balarama's killing of the demon Dhenuka, Shukadeva Gosvami specifically praised Lord Balarama, and clearly described Him as the Personality of Godhead in the following words (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.15.35):

"As the thread in a cloth spreads both lengthwise and breadthwise, so everything we see within this cosmic manifestation is directly and indirectly existing in Lord Balarama, the Supreme Personality of Godhead. This is not very wonderful for Him."*

kim ca

saptamo vaishnavam dhama yam anantam pracakshate garbho babhuva davakya harsha-shoka-vivardhanah garbhe babhuva na tu garbhe babhuveti saptamy-antanuktya sakshad devavataratvam sucitam. sa eva.

kim ca-furthermore; saptamah-the seventh; vaishnavam-of Lord Vishnu; dhama-a plenary expansion; yam-unto whom; anantam-by the name Ananta; pracakshate-is celebrated; garbhah-embryo; babhuva-there was; devakyah-of Devaki; harsha-shoka-vivardhanah-simultaneously arousing pleasure and lamentation; garbhe babhuva-appeared in the womb; na-not; tu-but; garbhe-in the womb; babhuva-appeared; iti-thus; saptami-seventh; anta-after; anuktya-not describing; sakshat-directly; deva=of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; avararatvam-appearance; sah-He; eva-certainly.

Lord Balarama, The seventh son of Devaki, is described as a vishnu-tattva plenary portion of Lord Krishna in the following quote from Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.2.5) describing His appearance in Devaki's womb:

"Some of their relatives, however, began to follow Kamsa's principles and act in his service. After Kamsa, the son of Ugraasena, killed the six sons of Devaki, a plenary portion of Krishna entered her womb as her seventh child, arousing her pleasure and her lamentation. That plenary portion is celebrated by great sages as Ananta, who belongs to Krishna's second quadruple expansion."*

Text 1

athedam apy evam eva vyakhyeyam vasudeva-kalanantah sahasra-vadavah svaraö agrato bhavita devo

hareh priya-cikirshaya

atha-now; idam-this; api-also; evam-in the same way; eva-certainly; vyakhyeyam-is described; vasudeva-kala anantah-the plenary expansion of Lord Krishna known as Anantadeva or Sankarshana Ananta, the all-pervasive incarnation of the Supreme Lord; sahasra-vadanah- having thousands of hoods; svaraö-fully independent; agratah-previously; bhavita-willappear; devah-the Lord; hareh-of Lord Krishna; priya-cikirshaya-with the desire to act for the pleasure.

That Lord Balarama is the origin of the vishnu-tattva expansion Sankarshana is described in the following verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.1.24):

"The foremost manifestation of Krishna is Sankarshana, who is known as Ananta. He is the origin of all incarnations within this material world. Previous to the appearance of Lord Krishna, this original Sankarshana will appear as Baladeva, just to please the Supreme Lord Krishna in His transcendental pastimes."*

Text 2

shri-vasudeva-nandanasya vasudevasya kala prathamam 'mshah sankarshanah, tasya sankarshanatvam svayam eva, na tu sankarshanavataratveny aha svaraö senaiva rajata iti. ata eva mayaya tasta garbha-samaya akarshanam ca yukta. purnasya vastavarshanasambhavad iti kecit. etad-vidha-karye ca tad-akunöhecchatmaka-cic-chaktyavishöaiva sa maya prabhavet.

shri-vasudeva-nandanasya-of the son of Maharaja Vasudeva; vasudevasya-of Lord Vasudeva; kala-the word "kala" prathamah-first; amshah-plenary part; sankarshanah-Lord Sankarshana; tasya-His; sankarshanatvam-status as Lord Sankarshana; svayam- directly; eva-certainly; na-not; tu-but; sankarshana-avatatvena-as an expansion of Lord Sankarshana; aha- Shukadeva Gosvami describes; svarat-the word "svaraö"; svena-by His own potency; eva-certainly; rajate-appears; iti-thus; atah eva-therefore; anantah-Lord Ananta; kala-of time; desha-and place; pariccheda-of limitations; rahitah- free; atah eva-therefore; mayaya-by the potency; tasya-of Him; garbha-samaye-while in the womb; akarshanam-pulling; ca-also; yukta-engaged; purnasya-of the perfect and complete Personality of Godhead; vastava-actual; akarshana- pulling; asmbhavad-because of impossibility; iti-thus; kecit- some may say; etad-vidha-karye=in this kind of activity; ca-also; tat- therefore; akunöha-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead who is also known as Vaikunöha; iccha-by the desire; atmaka-His own; cit-shaktya-spiritual potency; avishöa-entered; eva-certainly; sa-that; maya-potency known as yogamaya; prabhavet-may be able.

In this verse Lord Balarama is described as "vasudeva-kala" (the first expansion of Lord Krishna, the son of Maharaja Vasudeva). Because Balarama is described as "kala" (the first expansion), it must be concluded that He is the origin of Lord Sankarshana, and not an expansion from Lord Sankarshana. This is confirmed by the use of the word "svaraö (fully independent)".

The word "ananta" (unlimited) is used in this verse to describe Lord Balarama because He is transcendental, beyond the limitations of time and space. In this portion of the Bhagavatam, where Lord Krishna's appearance is described (the First Chapter of the Tenth Canto), Shukadeva Gosvami explains that Lord Balarama, while in Devaki's womb, was transferred to the womb of Rohini. Someone may protest at this point and say that the perfect and complete Personality of Godhead cannot be pulled from one place to another, and therefore we should not consider that Lord Balarama is actually the Personality of Godhead. This is not a very sound argument. If the Personality of Godhead wishes, He can empower His yogamaya potency to carry Him from one place to another. There should be no objection on this point.

Text 3

ukta ca tadanim tadavishöatvam tasyah adishöa prabhunamshena karyarthe sambhavishyati iti.

ukta-described; ca-also; tadanim-at that time; tada-then; avishöatvam-the state of entering; tasyah-of the yogamaya potency; adishöa prabhuna amshena karyarthe sambhavishyati iti-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.1.25:

vishnor maya bhagavati yaya sammohitam jagat adishöa prabhunamshena karyarthe sambhavishyati.

The incarnation of yogamaya within the material world during Lord Krishna's pastimes is described in the following verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.1.25):

"The potency of the Lord, known as vishnu-maya, who is as good as the Supreme Personality of Godhead, will also appear with Lord Krishna. This potency, acting in different capacities, captivates all the worlds, both material and spiritual. At the request of her master, she will appear with her different potencies in order to execute the work of the Lord."*

Text 4

amshena cic-chaktya sambhavishyati milishyatiti tatra hy arthah. ata eva ekamsheti tasya nama. eko 'msho yatreti niruktir iti kecit. ya eva sheshakhyah sahasra-vadano 'pi bhavati. yato davah, nanakarataya divyatiti.

amshena-by the word "amshena"; cit-shaktya-the spiritual potency is meant; sambhavishyati-the word "sambhavishyati"; milishtati iti-means "wo; ; meet"; tatra- there; hi-certainly; eka-amsha iti-"ekamsha (one expansion)"; yatra-where there is; iti-thus; nirukti- definition; iti-thus; kecit-some give; yah eva-that very same person; shea-akhyah-known as Ananta Shesha; sahasra-vadanah- with thousands of mouths; api-also; bhavati-becomes; yatah- therefore; devah-He is the Personality of Godhead; nana-akarataya-in various forms; divyati-performs pastimes; iti- thus.

In this verse the word "amshena" means "by His spiritual potency yogamaya", and the word "sambhavishyati" means "will assemble there". Yogamaya is described as "ekamsha" because she expands herself as mahamaya. We may also note in regard to Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.1.24, quoted in Text 1 of this anuccheda) that Lord Balarama is described as the origin of Ananta Shesha, who has thousands of faces. For this reason it should be concluded that Lord Balarama is certainly vishnu-tattva, the Personality of Godhead, who enjoys transcendental pastimes in many different forms.

Text 5

tad uktam shri-yamuna-devya rama rama maha-baho na jane tava vikramam yasyaikamshena vidhrita jagati jagatah pate

rama-O Balarama; rama-O Balarama; maha-baho-mighty-armed; na-not; jane-I know; tava-Your; vikramam-prowess; yasyaj-of whom; eka-by one; amshena-portion; vidhrita- sustained; jagati-the universe; jagatah-of the universe; pate-o master.

That Lord Balarama is the Personality of Godhead, the origin of the Shesha incarnation is confirmed in the following statement by Yamuna-devi (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.65.28):

"My dear Balarama, You are the most powerful personality, and You are pleasing to everyone. Unfortunately, I forgot Your glorious exalted position, but now I have come to my senses and I remember that You hold all the planetary systems on Your head merely by Your partial expansion as Shesha. You are the sustainer of the whole universe."*

Text 6

ekamshena sheshakhyena iti öika ca. anyatha tad ekavayavaika-desha-ruparthatvenaikamsheneti yacchabdasya kartritva-nirdesha eva yuktah syat. tad-amshavatara-lakshanarthantara-pratiti-nirasavaya mahavidvad-vakyatvat sambandhi-nirdeshena tu öika-vyakhyaiva sphuöatara. ekamshe mukhyasyaiva kartritvasya nirvyaja-pratitir na svaupacarikasyeti. evam shri-lakshmanasyapy antima-dashanukarana-lilayam shruyate skande 'yodhya-mahatmye eka-amshena-"by one expansion"; shesha-akhyena-named Shesha; iti-thus; öika-the commentary of Shridhara Svami; ca-also; anyatha-otherwise; tat-of Him; eka-one; avayava- part; eka-desha-rupa-in one place; arthatvena-by the interpretation; eka-amshena iti-by the word "ekamshena" yat-shabdasya-of which phrase; kartritva-as the agent of the action; nirdeshah-indication; eva-certainly; yuktah- appropriate; syat-may be; tat-of Him; amsha-of an expansion; avatara-incarnation; lakshana-artha-antara-a secondary meaning of the word; pratiti-confidence; nirasana-for dispelling; mahavidvat-of the greatly learned Shridhara Svami; vakyatvat-from the statement; sambandhi-of connection; nirdeshena-by indication; tu-but; öika-of the commentary; vyakhya-explanation; eva-certainly; sphuöatara- more clear; eka-amshe-of the word "ekamsha"; mukhyasya-of the primary meaning of the word; eva-certainly; kartritvasya-of the agent of the action; nirvyaja-non deceptive; pratitih- trust; na-not; sva-aupacarikasya-of the secondary meaning; iti-thus; evam-in the same way; shri-lakshmanasya-of Lakshmana; api-also; antima-dasha-death; anukarana- imitating; lilayam-in the pastime; shruyate-is heard; skande-in the Skanda Parana; ayodhya-mahatmye-in the Ayodhya-mahatmya.

In his commentary on this verse, Shridhara Svami says: "The word 'ekamshena' means 'by Ananta Shesha'".

Someone may say the word "ekamshena" means "with a single hand, Lord Balarama sustains the universe." This interpretation, based on accepting a secondary meaning of the word "amsha", is not as clear as Shridhara Svami's, which depends on the primary meaning of "amsha". Shridhara Svami's explanation of this word should therefore be accepted, and not the alternate interpretation based on accepting a secondary meaning of the word "amsha".

The word "ekamshena" in this verse, interpreted according to Shridhara Svami's explanation, means that Lord Balarama is the origin of Ananta Shesha. Lord Balarama first expands as Lakshmana, the brother of Lord Ramacandra. It is from Lakshmana that Ananta Shesha is expanded. This is confirmed in the following verses from the Ayodhya-mahatmya section of the Skanda Purana, where Maharaja Indra clearly describes Ananta Shesha as an expansion of Lakshmana:

Text 7

tatah sheshatmatam yatam lakshmanam satya-sangaram uvaca madhuraṁ śakruḥ sarvasya ca sa paśyataḥ tatah-then; shesha-of Sesa; atmatam-identity; yatam- attained; lakshmanam-Lakshmana; satya-sangaram-true to His word; uvaca-spoke; madhuraṁ-in sweet words; śakruḥ-Indra; sarvasya-while everyone; ca-also; sa-He; paśyataḥ-was looking on.

"As all the demigods watched, Lakshmana who is always true to His promise, assumed the form of Ananta Shesha. With sweet words king Indra offered the following prayers to the Lord.

Text 8

indra uvaca

lakshmanottishōḥa śighraṁ tvam aroḥasva padam svakam deva-kāryam kṛtam vira tvaya rupu-nisudana

indrah-Indra; uvaca-said; lakshmana-O Lakshmana; uttiśhōḥa-please rise; śighraṁ-quickly; tvam-You; aroḥasva-please ascend; padam svakam-to Your own abode; deva- of the demigods; kāryam-the work; kṛtam-has been done; vira-I hero; tvaya-by You; rupu-nisudana-O destroyer of the enemy.

"Indra said: O Lakshmana, O hero, O destroyer of the enemies, You have fulfilled Your mission of assisting the demigods, Please return now to Your own transcendental abode.

Text 9

vaishnavam paramaṁ sthānam prapnuhi svam sanātanaṁ bhavaṁ-mūrtiḥ samayata śheṣho 'pi vilasat-phanah vaishnavam-of Lord Vishnu; paramaṁ-supreme; sthānam- position; prapnuhi-please attain; svam-Your; sanātanaṁ- eternal; bhavaṁ-Your; mūrtiḥ-form; samayata-has arrived; śheṣhaḥ-Shesha; api-also vilasat-with glittering; phanah- hoods.

O Lord, Your form of Ananta Shesha, who has innumerable glittering hoods, has now arrived. Please now return to Your own eternal abode in the spiritual world.

Text 10

tatash ca

ity uktva sura-rajendro lakshmanam sura-sangatah shesham prasthapyā patale bhu-bhara-dharana-kshamam lakshmanam yanam aropya pratasthe divam adarat

tatah-then; ca-also; iti-thus; uktva-having spoken; sura-rajendra-the king of the demigods; lakshmanam-to Lakshmana; sura-sangatah-accompanied by all the demigods; shesham-Shesham-Shesha; prasthapyā-established; ishing; patale-in the Patala planets; bhu-of the world; bhara-the burden; dharana-holding; kshamam-able; lakshmanam-Lakshmana; yanam-vehicle; aropya-causing to ascend; pratasthe-departed; divam-for the heavenly planets; adarat-with great reverence.

"After speaking these words to Lakshmana, and respectfully placing Him on Lord Shesha who, standing on Patalaloka, easily carries the great weight of all the worlds, King Indra and all the demigods climbed into their airplanes and left for the heavenly planets."

Text 11

tato narayana-varmany api yajñash ca lokat avadat kritantat balo ganat krodha-vashat ahindrah iti shri-baladevasya sheshat anyatvam shakty-atishayas ca darshitah. janantat iti pāḥe jananam nashat iti sa evartah.

tatah-therefore; narayana-varmani-in the Narayana-varma; api-also; yajñah-the Suprem Lord known as Yajna; ca- also; lokat-from the world; avadat-may protect; kritantat- from death; balah-Lord Balarama; ganat-from the multitude; krodha-by anger; vashat-controlled; ahi-indrah-Lord Ananta, the king of serpents; iti-thus; shri-baladevasya-of Lord Balarama; sheshat-the Sesha; anyatvam-other; shakty-potency; atishayah-great; ca-also; darshitah-is revealed; jana-of living entities; antat-from the death; iti-thus; pāḥe-in the text; jananam-of the living entities; nashat-from the death; iti-thus; sah-that; eva-certainly; arthah-is the meaning.

That Ananta Shesha is expanded from Lord Balarama is also confirmed in the following statement of Narayana-varma:

"May Lord Yajna protect me from the dangers of material existence. May Lord Balarama protect me from death. May Lord Ananta Shesha, the king of serpents, protect me from the hands of the angry and envious."

In this prayer Lord Balarama is described as the protector from death and Lord Ananta is described as the protector from the hands of the angry and envious. Because death is a much more formidable opponent than the angry and envious, this prayer shows the superior strength of Lord Balarama. Because Lord Balarama and Lord Ananta are described as identical, because Lord Balarama's strength is superior, He must be the origin, and Lord Ananta must be expanded from Him.

Text 12

atah sheshakhyam dhama mamakam ity atrapi shishyate shesha-samjnah itivad avyabhicary-amsha evoyate. sheshakhya khyatir yasmad iti va.

atah-therefore; shesha-akhyam dhama mamakam iti atra-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.2.8:

devakya jaöhare garbham sheshakhyam dhama mamakam tat sannikrishta rohinya udare sanniveshaya

api-also; shishyate shesha-samjnah-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.3.25:

nashöe loke dvi-parardhavasane maha-bhuteshv adi-bhutam gaveshu vyakte 'vyaktam kala-vegena yate bhavan ekah shishyate 'shesha-samjnah itivat-in this way; avyabhicari-amshah-eternal expansion; eva-certainly; ucyate-is described; shesha; akhya-name; khyatih-fame; yasmad-from which; iti-thus; va-or.

That Lord Ananta Shesha is an expansion of Lord Balarama and ultimately of Lord Krishna is described in the following verses, the first spoken by Lord Krishna to Yogamaya , and the second by Devaki-devi to Lord Krishna:

"Within the womb of Devaki is My partial plenary expansion known as Sankarshana or Shesha. Without difficulty, transfer Him into the womb of Rohini."*
- { } Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.2.8

"After millions of years, at the time of cosmic annihilation, when everything, manifested and unmanifested, is annihilated by the force of time, the five gross elements enter into the subtle conception, and the manifested categories enter into the unmanifested substance. At that time, You alone remain, and You are known as Ananta Shesha-naga."*
- { } Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.3.25

Text 13

shrimad-anakadundubhina ca krishna-samyenaiva nirdishöam: yuvam na nah sutau sakshat pradhana-purusheshvarau ity atra sakshad eveti tv adhikam upajivyam.

shrimad-anakadundubhina-by Maharaja Vasudeva; ca-also; krishna-with; krishna; samyena-with equality; eva-certainly; nirdishöam-is taught; yuvam na nah sutau sakshat pradhana-purusheshvarau iti-

Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.85.18:

yuvam na nah sutau sakshat pradhana-purusheshvarau bhu-bhara-kshatra-kshapane tv avatirnau tathatha ca atra-here; sakshat-directly; eva-certainly; iti-thus; tu-but; adhikam-additional; upajivyam-evidence.

That Krishna and Balarama are equals is confirmed in the following verse spoken by Maharaja Vasudeva (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.85.18):

"My dear Krishna and Balarama, I know that neither of You are my sons; You are the original chief and progenitor, the Personalities of Godhead, known as Pradhana and Purusha. But You have appeared on the surface of this globe in order to minimize the burden of the world by killing the kshatriya kings who are unnecessarily increasing their military strength."*

Text 14

atha yadi prayo mayastu me bhartur nanya 'pi vimohini iti tad-vakyanusarenaveshavataratvam mantavyam, tada purva-grantha-balat shri-baladeva-svamshatvam eva.

atha-now; yadi-if; prayah maya astu me bhartuh na anya me api vimohini iti-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.13.37:

keyam va kuta ayata daivi va nary utasuri prayo mayastu me bhartur nanya me 'pi vimohini

tat-vakya-this statement; anusarena-in confirmity with; avesha-avataratvam-that Lord Balarama is an empowered living entity (avesha-avatara); mantavyam-may be considered; taka- then; purva-previous; grantha-scriptural quotations; balat- on the strength of; shri-baladeva-of Lord Balarama; sva-amshatvam-directly the Personality of Godhead; eva-certainly is.

Someone may say: Actually Balarama cannot be vishnu-tattva, but He must be an empowered living entity (avesha-avatara). He is not the Personality of Godhead. This is confirmed in the following statement spoken by Balarama who, when He noticed that the cowherd boys and calves of Vraja were actually direct expansions of Krishna, described Krishna as His master (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 13.37):

"Who is this mystic power, and where has she come from? Is she a demigod or a demoness? She must be the illusory energy of My master, Lord Krishna, for who else can bewilder Me?"

To this objection I reply: By quoting many verses from Shrimad-Bhagavatam I have clearly proven that Lord Balarama is the Personality of Godhead (vishnu-tattva). If this quotation is properly understood it will not be seen to contradict that conclusion.

Text 15

kintu sheshakhya-tad-avishöa-parshada-visheshasya tad-antah-patat tad-amshenaiva tad-vyavahara iti mantavyam. tad evam eka-rupatve 'pi: prayo mayastu me bhartur nanya me 'pi vimohini ity adau yat tasmims tasya bhaktih shruyate, tat tu lakshmya iva drishöavyam. shri-brahma devan.

kintu-but; shesha-akhya-named Shesha; tat-that; avishöa-entered; parshada-assembly; visheshasya-specific; tat-antah-patat-because of insertion; tat-amshena-as an expansion; eva-certainly; tat-vyavaharah-His pastimes; iti- thus; mantavyam-may be considered; tat-therefore; evam-in the way; eka-rupatve-in the status of havint a single form; api- even; prayah maya astu me bhartuh na anya me api vimohini iti adau-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.13.37, quoted in full in the previous text; yat-which; tasmin-in which; tasya-His; bhaktih-devotion; shruyate-is heard; tat-that; tu-by; lakshmya-with opulence; iva-justas; drishöavyam-may be seen; shri-brahma-Lord Brahma; devan-to the Lord.

Lord Balarama appears in this world and enjoys pastimes as an associate of Lord Krishna. This statement of Lord Balarama may be seen as a display of His great devotion for His friend Krishna. This devotion of Lord Balarama is a display of His spiritual opulence. It does not mean that Lord Balarama is not directly a vishnu-tattva expansion of Lord Krishna.

Anuccheda 87

Text 1

atha shri-pradyumnasyapi shiva-netra-dagdah smaro jato 'yam iti yac chruyate, tad apy eka-desha-prastava-matram. tasya shri-gopala-tapani-shruty-adau atha-now; shri-pradyumnasya-of Shri Pradyumna; api- also; shiva-of Lord Shiva; netra-by the eye; dagdah-burned; smarah-cupid; jatah-born; ayam-this; iti-thus; yat-which; shruyate-is heard; tat-that; api-al; so; eka-desha-in one place; prastava-reference; matram-only; tasya-of that; shri-gopala-tapani-shruti-adau-beginning with the Gopala-tapani Upanishad.

Now we shall describe Pradyumna, who in His previous life as Cupid was burned to ashes by the anger of Lord Shiva. This Pradyumna is described in the following verse from the Gopala-tapani Upanishad (2.40):

Text 2

yatrasau samsthitah krishnas tribhih shaktya samahitah ramaniruddha-pradyumn rukminya sahito vibhuh

yatra-where; asau-He; samsthitah-situated; krishna- Krishna; tribhih-by the three; shaktya-with His potency; samahitah-accompanied; rama-by Lord Balarama; aniruddha- Aniruddha; pradyumnaih-and Pradyumna; rukminya-and by Shrimati Rukmini-devi; sahitah-accompanied; vibhuh-the all powerful Supreme Personality of Godhead.

"Lord Krishna, accompanied by His three potencies, and by Balarama, Pradyumna, Aniruddha, and Rukmini, stays in delightful Mathura-puri."

Text 3

ity adina nitya-shri-krishna-catur-vyuhantah-patitaya prasiddhes tatha sambhavabhnat. tasya smarasyapi sadharana-devata-vishesha-matratvena prasiddhatve catur-vyuhantah-patitayam ayogyatamatvat. tasmad vakshyamanabhiprayenaivaitad aha iti adna-by the passage beginning with these words; nitya-eternal; shri-krishna-catuh-vyuha-of the fourfold expansion of Vasudeva. Sankarshana, Pradyumna and Aniruddha; antah-patitaya-counted as a part; prasiddhehhj-fame; tatha-in that way; sambhava-of birth; abhavad-because of non-existence; prasiddhatve-in fame; catuh-vyuha-patitayam-in the matter of being part of the four primary expansions of Lord Krishna; ayogyatvat-because of inappropriateness; tasmad- therefore; vakshyamaana-about to be spoken; abhiprayena-with the actual meaning; eva-certainly; etat-this; aha-he says.

This Pradyumna, however, cannot be considered to be the same Pradyumna who is one of the four original expansions of Lord Krishna (Vasudeva, Sankarshana, Pradyumna, and Aniruddha). This Pradyumna is simply the demigod Cupid, who is an ordinary living entity, and not the Personality of Godhead. This is described in Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.55.1):

Text 4

kamas tu vasudevamsho
dagdhah prag rudra-manyuna dehopapattaye bhuyas tam eva pratyapadyata

kamah-cupid; tu-also; vasudeva-of Vasudeva; amshah-directly part and parcel; daghah-burned to ashes; prak- formerly; redra-of Lord Shiva; manyuna-by the anger; deha-upapattayte-for attaining a body; bhuyah-again; tam-that; eva-certainly; pratyapadyata-attained.

"It is said that Cupid, who is directly part and parcel of Lord Vasudeva, was formerly burned to ashes by the anger of Lord Shiva. In order to get his body again, he took birth as the son of Krishna."*

Text 5

avedajnasyapi brahmanye saty eva brahmanas tu vedajna itivat. tu-sabdo 'tra mudhyatam sucayati. tatah kamas tu vasudevamshah ity asya asudevamsho yah kamah sa eva mukhya ity arthah. tu-sabdo 'yam bhinnopakrame va. tatah vasudevamshas tu kamah ity anvayo 'pi purvavad evarthah. tad evam sati yah prag rudra-manyuna dagdhah devata-vishesha indra-bhritya ity ekadasha-prasiddhah damah sa dehopapattaye tat-kopa-dagdhataya nityam evanangatam praptasya tasya svato dehopapatty-abhavad deha-prapty-artham. tam eva vasudevamsham pradyumnyakhyam mukhyam kamam eva pratyapadyata pravishöavan. bhuyah-shabdena pradyumnad eva purvam apy udbhuto 'sav iti bodhyate. yad va yas tu kamah prag rudra-manyuna adugdho na dugdhah; sa bhuyah prakaöapilayam dehopapattaye sva-murti-prakasanartham tam shri-vasudevam eva pravishöavan. adagdhathve hetuh vasudevamshah iti.

aveda-jnasya-of one ignorant of the Vedas; api-even; brahmanye-brahminical status; sati-may be; eva-certainly; brahmanah-a brahmana; tu-but; vedajnah-one learned in the Vedas; itivat-just as; tu-shabdahj-the word "tu(but)"; atra-in this context; mukhyatam-preminence; sucayati- indicates; tatah-therefore; kamah tu vasudeva-amshah-the phrase "kamas tu vasudevamshah (cupid is directly part and parcel of Lord Vasudeva)" iti-thus; asya-of him; vasudeva-of Lord Vasudeva; amshah-as part and parcel; yah-which; kamah-cupid; sah-he; eva-certainly; mukhyah-prominent; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; tu-shabdah-the word "tu (but)"; ayam-this; bhinna-of distinction; upakrame-in the beginning; va-or; tatah-for this reason; vasudevamshah tu kamah iti anvayah-the words are given in the order "vasudevamshah tu kamah"; api-even; purvavat-as before; eva-certainly; arthah-the meaning; tat-theefore; evam-in this way; sati-being so; yah-who; prak rudra-manyuna daghah-the phrase "prag rudra-manyuna daghah"; devata- demigod; visheshah-as a specific; indra-of Indra; bhrityah- the servant; iti-thus; ekadasa-among the eleven Rudras; prasiddhah-famous; kamah-cupid; sah-he; deha-upapattaye- for attaining a body; tat-of Shiva; kopa-by the anger; daghataya-because of being burned; nityam-continual; eva- certainly; anangatam-state of being disembodied; praptasya- attained; tasya-of him; svatah-of His own; deha-upapatti- attainment of a body; abhavad-because of the lack; deha-of a body; prapti-of attainment; artham-for the purpose; tam-him; eva-certainly; vasudeva-of Lord Vasudeva; amsham-expansion; pradyumna-Pradyumna; akhyam-named; mukhyam-original; kamam- cupid; eva-certainly; pratyapadyata-the word "pratyapadyate"; pravishöavan-means "entered"; bhuyah-shabdena-by the word "bhuyah (again)"; pradyumnat-from Lord Pradyumna; eva-certainly; purvam-formerly; api-even; udbhutah-born; asau- he; iti-thus; bodhyate-may be known; yat-va-or else; yah tu kamah prak rudra-manyuna-by the phrase "yas tu kama prag rudra-manyuna"; adagdhah-not burned; na-not; dagdhah- burned; sah-he; bhuyah-again; prakaöa-manifested; lilayam-in pastimes; deha-upapattaye-for attaining a body; sva-His own; murti-form; prakashana-manifesting; artham-for the purpose; tam-Him; shri-vasudeva; eva-certainly; pravishöavan-entered; adagdhathva-in the status of not being burned by Lord Shiva's anger; hetuh-the casue; vasudeva- amshah iti-the statement that cupid is the direct part and parcel of Lord Vasudeva.

The word "tu" (but) is very significant in this verse. This word is used to specifically distinguish a certain person or thing from another or others. For example, if we say "but he is a brahmana", a certain person is distinguished from others, as for example if we say "there may be many who although born in a brahmana family remain ignorant and uneducated, but he is a brahmana", the word "but" distinguishes the learned brahmana from others who are less qualified.

In this verse the phrase "kamas tu vasudevamshah" (but that Cupid who is directly part and parcel of Lord Vasudeva) indicates that there are two Cupids, and one of them is directly part and parcel of Lord Vasudeva. If it were otherwise, and the intention of the author had been to say "but Cupid is directly part and parcel of Lord Vasudeva", the order of the words (in Sanskrit) would have been "vasudevamshas tu kamah".

The other Cupid (who is not directly part and parcel of Lord Vasudeva) is described in the second part of this verse. He is the material Cupid, an ordinary demigod, one of the eleven Rudras, and a servant of Maharaja Indra. Burned by Lord Shiva's anger, this material Cupid lost his body and became disembodied. In order to get his body again he entered the body of Lord Pradyumna, the original Cupid, who is directly part and parcel of Lord Vasudeva. The material Cupid was then born again from the body of Lord Pradyumna.

Interpreted in this way, this verse from Shrimad-Bhagavatam may be translated in the following words:

"It is said that Cupid was formerly burned to ashes by the anger of Lord Shiva. In order to get his body again he entered the body of Lord Pradyumna, the original Cupid, who is a direct expansion of Lord Vasudeva."

Another explanation of this verse may be given by dividing the first two lines in the following way:

kamas tu vasudevamsho
'dagdhah prag rudra-manyuna

By accepting the word "adagdhah" to replace "dagdhah", we may translate this verse in this way:

"The original Cupid, who is directly part and parcel of Lord Vasudeva (and different from the material Cupid), was not burned to ashes by the anger of Lord Shiva. This original Cupid entered the body of Lord Vasudeva to appear with Him as He manifested His transcendental pastimes within the material world."

In this way we have described the original Cupid, Lord Pradyumna, who, because He is directly the expansion of Lord Vasudeva, must be different from the material Cupid, who was burned to ashes by the anger of Lord Shiva.

Anuccheda 88

Text 1

purvoktam eva vyanakti

sa eva jato vaidarbhyam krishna-virya-samudbhavah pradyumna iti vikhyatah sarvato 'navamah pituh

purva-former; uktam-statement; eva-certainly; vyanakti- manifests; sah-he; eva-certainly; jatah-born; vaidarbhyam-in the womb of Rukmini-devi; krishna-samudbhavah-as the son of Lord Krishna; pradyumhah iti-by the name Pradyumna; vikhyatah-famous; sarvatah-in all respects; anavamah-just like; pituh-his father.

This distinction between the material and spiritual Cupids is confirmed by the following verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.55.2) which describes the appearance of the material Cupid:

"Cupid was born as the son of Lord Krishna in the womb of Rukmini and he became celebrated by the name Pradyumna. Because he was begotten by Lord Krishna directly, his qualities were most similar to those of Krishna."*

Text 2

yah krishna-virya-samudbhavah yash ca pradyumna iti vikhyatah sa eva prakaöa-lilavasare 'pi vaidarbhyam jatah avirbhutah, na tv anyah prakrita-kama eva. tatra hetuh: sarvatah guna-rupadishv ashesesv eva dharmeshu pituh shri-krishnat anavamah tulya eveti. anyatha tadrishanavamatvam na kalpata iti bhavah, tasmad yatha mahabharate sarvatra shrimad-arjunasya naratva-prasiddhav api pancendropakhyana indratva-prasiddhir indrasyapi tatra pravesha-vivakshaya ghaöate, tadvad atrapi. atah shri naradena ratyai tathopadeshas taya tat-praptis ca na doshaya. purva-padyasyottarasminn arthe 'pi shri-naradopadesha-balenaiva dagdha-kamasya praveshas tatra gamyah. tatah sakshat pradyumna-sangamayogyata tasyah sparsa-manivat-tat-samipyga-gunad eva mantavya, shri-pradyumnasya nija-shaktis tu shrimad-aniruddha-mataiveti jneyam. atas tapani shruti-labdho 'rtah samanjasah. shri-shukah.

yah-who; krishna-samudbhavah-as the son of Lord Krishna; yah-who; ca-also; pradyumnah iti-by the name Pradyumna; vikhyatah-famous; sah-he; eva-certainly; prakaöa-manifest; lila-pastimes; avasare-at the time; api-even; vaidarbhyam-in the womb of Rukmini-devi; jatah- born; avirbhutah-appeared; na-not; tu-but; anyah-someone else; prakritam

.mt 3
 .mb .5
 .rm 6.5 in Set Right Margin to 6.5 in.
 .rm 65

..
 .. Select font 1
 .fa times to Times Roman type style.
 .lh 1.25 em
 .ch 15.5 pt

.fa timesitl
 .lh 1.25 em
 .ch 15.4 pt
 ..

.fa clarendo
 .ch 16.2 pt
 ..

.fa helvetic
 .ch 16 pt
 ..

.fa clarendo
 .ch 16.2 pt
 ..

.fa clarendo
 .ch 23 pt
 ..

.. Lower case Italicized
 .de {.px -1.2 en}{.py +0.23 em}{.py -.23 em}
 .. ^D = . below letters n - h - normal - italic

```

.de { .px -1. en } { .py +.23 em } { .py -.23 em }
...de { .ru .06 em, .1 em, -.40 en, -1.4 en }
.de { .px -.6 en } { .py -.55 en } { .fa clarendo } { .ch .8 em } { .sy 180 } { .ch } { .fa } { .px +.1 en } { .py +.55 en }
.. ^S = ' on s          -      normal - italic
..de { .px -1 en } { .py -.3 em } { ' } { .fn } { .px +.1 en } { .py +.3 em }
.. ^T = ' on S
.de { .ru .28 em, .055 em, -.6 en, -1.38 en }
.. ^A = - above long 'a' - 'u' sound 'i non-italic
.de [6] { .ru .28 em, .055 em, -.40 en, -1.40 en }
.. ^E = - above long 'i'
.de 6 { .px -.6 em } { .py -.65 em } { .py +.65 em }
.. ^V = . above 'm'
..
.de 57 { .px -.5 en } { .py -.7 en } { .fa clarendo } { .ch .5 em } { .sy 180 } { .ch } { .fa } { .py +.7 en }
..
.. Upper case Italicized
.de { .px -.8 en } { .py -.73 en } { .fa clarendo } { .sy 180 } { .fa } { .px +.2 en } { .py +.73 en }
..de { .ru .06 em, .13 em, -.25 em, -2.05 en }
.. ^T = ' on S
..
.. Lower case non-Italics
.. ^A = - over long 'i'
.de { .ru .28 em, .055 em, -1 en, -1.40 en }
.. ^Q = - above long 'a' - 'u' sound
.de { .lf .7 em } { .up .65 em } { .dn }
.. ^P = . above 'm'
..
.. Upper case non-Italicized
.de { .px -.8 en } { .py -.7 en } { .fa clarendo } { .sy 180 } { .fa } { .px +.1 en } { .py +.7 en }
.. { .ru .06 em, .13 em, -.35 em, -1.95 en }
.. ^U = ' on S
..
.de - - { .lf .15 em } - { .lf .15 em } - { }
.. long '-'
..
.hy
.lh 1.25 em
.bd off
.pn 31
.op
.oj on

.hee #                      Shri Krishna-sandarbha
.heo                      Volume Three                      #
{ } the Gopala-tapani Upanisad; arthah-meaning; samanjasah-correct; shri-sukah-spoken by Shri Sukadeva Gosvami.

```

This verse describes the vishnu-tattva Lord Pradyumna, the direct expansion of Lord Krishna, who took birth in the womb of Rukmini. That this verse describes the vishnu-tattva Pradyumna, and not the material demigod Cupid may be inferred by the phrase "sarvato 'navamah pituh" (His qualities were most similar to those of His father Krishna).

The material Cupid, who appeared in Lord Krishna's pastimes, is an empowered incarnation of Lord Pradyumna. Cupid was granted the powers of Lord Pradyumna, just as Arjuna was granted the powers of Indra by his father, who was Indra himself (this story is related in the Mahabharata).

Because this person was actually the material demigod Cupid, who was granted extraordinary powers by Lord Pradyumna, Narada informed Rati-devi (Cupid's wife) that her husband had appeared in Lord Krishna's pastimes. For this reason, when Rati-devi was reunited with Pradyumna, there was no fault on her part, for she simply regained the association of her husband.

Someone may raise the question how it was possible for Rati-devi, a material demigoddess, to associate with an empowered incarnation of Lord Pradyumna. The answer to this question is that by contact with the empowered incarnation of Pradyumna she became purified and qualified to associate with him, just as ordinary metals become turned to gold by contact with a touchstone.

The actual vishnu-tattva Lord Pradyumna, however, is not associated with Rati-devi, who is the potency of the material Cupid. Lord Pradyumna's potency is Lord Aniruddha. This is confirmed in the verse from Gopala-tapani Upanishad quoted in Anuccheda 87, Text 2.

Anuccheda 89

Text 1

evam aniruddhasyapi sakshac caturvyuhatve lingam aha apisvid aste bhagavan sukham vo yah satvatam kama-dugno 'niruddhah yam amananti sma shabda-yonim mano-mayam sattva-turiya-tattvam evam-in the same way; aniruddhasya-of Aniruddha; api- also; sakshat-directly; caturvyuhatve-in the state of being a part of the caturvyuha expansions of Godhead; lingam- characteristic; aha-describes; api-as also; svit-whether; aste-does He; bhagavan-the Personality of Godhead; sukham- all happiness; vah-of you; yah-one who; satvatam-of the devotees; kama-dughah-source of all desires; aniruddhah-the plenary expansion of Aniruddha; yam-whom; amananti-they accept; sma-from yore; hi-certainly; shabda-yonim-the cause of the /Rg Veda; manah-mayam-creator of the mind; sattva- transcendental; turiya-the fourth expansion; tattvam- principle.

That Lord Aniruddha is one of the caturvyuha expansions of Godhead is described in the following verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 3.1.34):

"May I inquire whether Aniruddha is doing well? He is the fulfiller of all the desires of the pure devotees and has been considered from yore to be the cause of the Rig Veda, the creator of the mind and the fourth plenary expansion of Vishnu."*

Text 2

shabda-yonim nishvasa-vyanjita-veda-vrindam evam va are 'sya mahato bhutasya nishvasitam etad yad rig-vedah ity adi shruteh. mano-mayam citte vasudevavan manasy upasyam. sattvam shuddha-sattvatmakah shri-vasudevavadi-rupo bhagavan yatra turiyan rupam. ato bana-yuddhadau bandhananukaranadikam atmeccha-mayi lilaiva, shri-ramacandraivat.

sabda-yonim-the word "sabda-yonim"; nisvasa-from the breathing; vyanjita-manifested; veda-vrindam-the Vedas; evam-in this way; vai-certainly; are-O Maitreyi; asya-of Him; mahatah bhutasya-of the Supreme Lord; nisvasitam-the breathing; etat- this; yat-which; rk-vedah-the Rg Veda; iti-thus; adi-in the passage beginning with; sruteh-from the Brhad-aranyaka Upanisad; manah-mayam-the creator of the mind; citte-in the mind; vasudevavat-like Vasudeva; manasi-in the mind; upasyam- worshipping; sattvam-the word "sattvam"; suddha-tattva-atmakah-means "situated in the transcendental stage of pure godness"; shri-vasudeva-adi-beginning with Vasudeva; rupah-forms of the caturvyuha expansions; bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; yatra-where; turiyam-the fourth expansion; rupam-in the form; atah-therefore; bana-with Banasura; yuddha-in the fight; adau-in these and other pastimes; bandhana-bondage; anukarana-imitation; adikam-beginning with; atma-iccha-mayi- according to His own desire; lila-pastime; eva-certainly; shri-ramacandra-adi-vat-as Lord Ramacandra and other incarnations of the Personality of Godhead.

The statement "shabda-yonim" (Lord Aniruddha is the cause of the Rig Veda) in this verse is confirmed in the following statement of Brihad-aranyaka Upanishad (2.4.10):

"O Maitreyi, the Rig Veda is manifested from the breathing of the Supreme Personality of Godhead."

The word "mano-mayam" means "the creator of the mind". Each member of the catur-vyuha expansions is the predominating Deity of one of the subtle elements. Lord Vasudeva is the Deity of the heart, Lord Sankarshana is the Deity of the false-ego, Lord Pradyumna is the deity of the intelligence, and Lord Aniruddha is the deity of the mind. Lord Aniruddha is worshiped within the mind, just as Lord Vasudeva is worshiped within the heart.

The word "sattvam" means "He who is situated in the transcendental stage of pure godness."

The word "turiyam" (fourth) means that of the catur-vyuha expansions of the Lord, Lord Vasudeva is the first expansion, Lord Sankarshana the second, Lord Pradyumna the third, and Lord Aniruddha the fourth expansion.

Someone may raise the following objection: If Aniruddha is actually the Personality of Godhead, then why was He defeated in fighting with Banasura?

This objection may be answered by saying: By His own wish the Supreme Lord sometimes pretends to be a limited human being in His pastimes. There are many examples of His acting in this way in His appearance as Lord Ramacandra and in other incarnations also.

Text 3

asya padma-brihat-sahasra-namni-mahatmya-namani caitani aniruddho brihad brahma pradyumnir vishva-mohanah catur-atma catur-varnash catur-yuga-vidhayakah

catur-bhedaika-vishvatma sarvotkrshöamsha-koöishuh ashrayatma iti.

asya-of Lord Aniruddha; padma-from the Padma Purana; brhat-sahasra-namni-in the 1000 names; mahatmya-namani- glorification of His holy names; ca-also; etani-these; aniruddhah-Lord Aniruddha; brhat-the great; brahma-Brahman; pradyumnih-the son of Pradyumna; visva-the universe; mohanah-enchancing; catuh-atma-of the quadruple expansions of Lord Vaudeva, Sankarsana, Pradyumna, and Aniruddha; catur-varnah-who appears in four colors; catuh-yuga-the four yugas; vidhayakah- who establishes; catuh-bheda-of the four kinds of living entities; eka-visva-atma-the Supersoul; sarva-utkrsta-superecellent; amsa-expansions; koti-of millions; suh-parent; asraya-atma-the supreme shelter.

Lord Aniruddha is glorified in the following verses from the Brihat-sahasra-nama prayers of the Padma Purana:

"Lord Aniruddha, the son of Pradyumna, is the Supreme Brahman. He enchants the entire universe. He is the fourth member of the four catur-vyuha expansions of Godhead. He appears in four colors (white, red, yellow, and black) in the four yugas (Satya, Treta, Dvapara, and Kali) to establish the principles of religion. He is the all-pervading Supersoul who remains in the hearts of the four kinds (those born from the womb, from eggs, seeds, or perspiration) of conditioned souls. From Him millions of living entities are manifest, and He is the shelter within whom everything rests."

Text 4

atah shri-krishna-vyuhatvena mahaniruddhatvad asyaivavirbhava-visheshah pralayarnavadi-dhama purusha iti jneyam. ata evabhedena jagrihe paurusham rupam bhagavan ity ady-uktam. mula-sankarshanady-amshair eva. hitara-sankarshanady-avastha-trayam purusham prakashayatiti.

atah-therefore; shri-krishna-vyuhatvena-as one of the catur-vyuha expansions; maha-aniruddhatvat-as Maha Aniruddha; asya-of Him; avirbhava-incarnation; visesah-specific; pralaya-of devastation; arnava-on the ocean; adi-beginning with; dhama- whose abode; purushah-Purusha incarnation; iti-thus; jneyam-should be understood; atah eva-therefore; abhedena-as not-different; jagrhe paurusham rupam bhagavan iti adi uktam-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.3.1; mula- original; sankarsana-of Lord Sankarsana; amsaih-by the expansions; eva-certainly; hi-certainly; itara-othe; sankarsana-adi-beginning with Lord Sankarsana; avastha-trayam- three expansions; purusham-the purusha-incarnation; prakasayati- manifests; iti-thus.

Aniruddha (who appeared as the son of Pradyumna) is therefore the original Maha-Aniruddha who remains in the spiritual sky. It is this Lord Aniruddha who stays on the waters of devastation at the time when the material universe is destroyed. The Lord's expansion as the catur-vyuha purusha-incarnations within the material world is described in Shrimad-Bhagavatam (1.3.1):

"In the beginning of the creation, the Lord first expanded Himself as the universal form of the purusha-incarnation, and manifested all the ingredients for the material creation."*

Four catur-vyuha expansions (Vasudeva, Sankarshana, Pradyumna, and Aniruddha) are manifested in the spiritual world, and from these another series of catur-vyuha expansions is manifested within the material world.

Text 5

tathaivabhedena vishnu-dharmottare 'pidam. tatra vajra-prashnah kas tv asau bala-rupena kalpanteshu punah punah drishöo yo na tvaya jnatas tatra kautuhalam mama

tatha-also; eva-certainly; abhedena-as not different; visnu-dharma-uttare-in the Vishnu-dharmottara Purana; api-also; idam-this; tatra-there; vajra-of Vraja; prashnah-the question; kah-who?; tu-indeed; asau-is he; bala-rupena-in the form of a child; kalpa-of the kalpa; antesu-at the conclusions; punah punah-again and again; drstah-is seen; yah-who; tvaya-by you; jnatah-known; tatra-in this matter; kautuhalam-curiosity; mama-my.

That the Maha-Aniruddha who remains in the spiritual world appears within the material worlds in Lord Krishna's family is confirmed in the following passage from Vishnu-dharma Purana, Uttara-khanda, in the question of Vrajanabha and the answer of Markandeya Muni. Vrajanabha asked:

"At the end of each kalpa a small child always appears. Although I repeatedly see this child I do not know His identity. Please tell me who this child is, I am very eager to know the answer to this question."

Text 6

shri-markandeyottaram ca

bhuyo bhuyas tv asau drishöo maya devo jagat-patih kalpa-kshayena vinatah sa maya-mohitena vai

kalpa-kshaye vyatite tu tam devam prapitamahat aniruddham vijanami pitaram te jagat-patim. iti.

shri-markandeya-of Markandeya Muni; ottaram-the reply; ca- also; bhuyah-again; bhuyah-and again; tu-indeed; asau-He; drstah-is seen; maya-by me; devah-the Supreme Lord; jagat-of the universe; patih-the master; kalpa-of the kalpa; kshayena- with the termination; vijnatah-understood; sah-He; maya-by the illusory potency; mohitena-bewildered; vai-certainly; kalpa-ksaye-at the end of the kalpa; vyatite-elapsed; tu-indeed; tam-Him; devam-the Supreme Lord; prapitamahat-from your grandfather, Lord Krishna; aniruddham-Aniruddha; vijanami-I know; pitaram-father; te-your; jagat-of the universe; patim-the master; iti-thus.

Markandeya Muni replied:

"Although I myself am not free from the influence of the Lord's illusory potency (maya), I have repeatedly seen the Personality of Godhead appear as a small child at the time of partial cosmic annihilation (kalpa-kshaya). That same form of the Personality of Godhead appears in Lord Krishna's family as your father, Aniruddha. That your father Aniruddha is the Personality of Godhead is known to me without any doubt."

Text 7

bhishma-parvani duryodhanam prati bhishma-shikshayam shri-krishnasyavatararambhe gandha-madanam agatasya brahmanas tad-avirbhavam manasi pashyatas tu balasya tad idam vacanam.

bhishma-parvani-in the Bhishma-parva of the Mahabharata; duryodhanam prati-to Duryodhana; bhishma-of Bhishma; siksayam-in the instructions; shri-krishnasya-of Shri Krishna; avatara-of the incarnation; arambhe-in the beginning; gandha-madanam-to the Gandha-madana mountain; agatasya-gone; brahmanah-of Lord Brahma; tat-of the Lord; avirbhavam-incarnation; manasi-in the mind; pasyatah-seeing; tu-indeed; balasya-of the child; tat- therefore; idam-these; vacanam-words.

In the Mahabharata, Bhishma-parva, in the instructions of Bhishma to Duryodhana, Lord Brahma's arrival at Gandhamadana mountain at the beginning of Lord Krishna's appearance in this material world is described. While Brahma was at Gandhamadana mountain he saw the Supreme Personality of Godhead appear in his heart in the form of a small child. Brahma spoke the following words to the Supreme Lord who had thus appeared before him:

Text 8

shrishöva sankarshanam devam svayam atmanam atmana

krishnatvam atmanasrakshih pradyumnam hy atma-sambhavam pradyumnac aniruddham tu yam vidur vishnum avyayam aniruddho 'shrijan mam vai brahmanam loka-dharinam vasudeva-mayah so 'ham tvayaivasmin vinirmitah. iti.

srstva-having created; sankarsanam-Lord Sankarsana; devam-the Personality of Godhead; svayam-personally; atmanam-Your own self; atmana-by Your self; krishnatvam-the state of being Krishna; atmana-by Your self; asraksih-you created; pradyumnam- Lord Pradyumna; hi-certainly; atma-from Your own self; sambhavam-generated; pradyumnat-from Lord Pradyumna; ca-also; aniruddham-Lord Aniruddha; tu-indeed; yam-whom; viduh-they know; visnum-to be Lord Vishnu; avyayam-the imperishable; aniruddhah-Lord Aniruddha; asrjat-created; mam-me; vai- certainly; brahmanam-Brahma; loka-of the planets; dharinam-the maintainer; vasudeva-mayah-descended from Lord Vasudeva; sah- that person; aham-I; tvaya-by You; eva-certainly; asmin-in this universe; vinirmitah-created; iti-thus.

"O Lord Vasudeva, You expanded Yourself as Lord Sankarshana and He then expanded Himself as Lord Pradyumna. Lord Pradyumna expanded Himself as Lord Aniruddha, whom the sages know to be the eternal Personality of Godhead, Lord Vishnu, and Lord Aniruddha created me, Brahma, the maintainer of the universe. O Lord, because I am thus created by You, I am certainly Your part and parcel."

Text 9

ata eva ca purvam api jagrihe ity atra shri-krishnasyaniruddhavatarantah-patitvam na vyahyattam. shri-vidurah shrimad-uddhavam.

atah eva-therefore; ca-also; purvam-previously; api- also; jagrhe iti atra-in the Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.3.1; shri-krishnasya-of Shri Krishna; aniruddha-of Lord Aniruddha; avatara-incarnation; antah-patitvam-inclusion within; na-not; vyakhyatam-is explained; shri-vidurah-spoken by Vidura; shrimat-uddhavam-to Uddhava.

We may note that in this quotation, and also in the previously quoted verse from Shrimad-Bhagavatam (1.3.1) "jagrihe paurusham rupam" (in the beginning of creation the Lord first expanded Himself as the universal form of the purusha-incarnations) it has been clearly described that Lord Aniruddha is an expansion of Lord Krishna. Lord Krishna is not described in these verses as an incarnation of Lord Aniruddha.

Anuccheda 90

Text 1

tad etat tasya catur-vyuhatmakasyaiva purnatvam vyakhyatam. shri-gopalottara-tapanyam api tathaivayam pranavarhatvena darshitah tat-therefore; etat-this; tasya-of Him; catuh-vyuha-atmakasya-the origin of the catur-vyuha expansions of Godhead; purnatvam-completeness; vyakhyatam-is described; shri-gopala-uttara-tapanyam-in the Second Chapter of the Gopala-tapani Upanisad; api-also; tatha-in the same way; eva-certainly; ayam-this; pranava-of the syllable om; arthatvena-in definition; darsitah-is revealed.

That Shri Krishna is the original Personality of Godhead, the origin from who the catur-vyuha expansions of Godhead have emanated, is confirmed in the Gopala-tapani Upanishad's (2.68-69) definition of the sacred syllable om:

Text 2

rohini-tanayo rama
akarakshara-sambhavah

taijasatmakah pradyumna ukarakshara-sambhavah

rohini-of Rohini-devi; tanayah-the son; ramah-Balarama; akra-aksara-from the syllable "a"; sambhavah-manifest; taijasa-atamakah-the origin of sleep; pradyumna-Pradyumna; ukara-aksara-from the syllable "u"; sambhavah-manifest.

"The sacred syllable om consists of three letters: a,u, and m. Balarama, the son of Rohini, is the letter a. Splendid Pradyumna is the letter u.

Text 3

prajnatmakō 'niruddho vai makarakshara-sambhavah ardha-matratmakah kṛṣṇo yasmin viśvam pratishōhitam. iti.

prajna-atmakah-the deity of deep sleep; aniruddhah- Aniruddha; vai-certainly; makara-aksara-from the syllable "ma"; sambhavah-manifest; ardha-matra-atmakah-kṛṣṇah- Krishna; yasmin-in whom; viśvam-the universe; pratishhitam- rests; iti-thus.

"Intelligent Aniruddha is the letter m. Lord Krishna, in whom the entire universe rests, is the ardha-matra letter (m), which complete the syllable om."

Text 4

atha śrī-kṛṣṇe 'vatarati tat-tad-amśhavataranam api praveśa iti yad uddiśhōam tad yatha tatra kṛṣṇas tu bhagavan svayam ity adikam siddham eva, tatha tasya tad-rupenaiva śrī-vrindavanadau sarvavasthayitvam pratipadayiśyamah.

atha-now; śrī-kṛṣṇe-when Lord Krishna; avatarati-appears in the material world; tat-tad-amśhavataranam-of His various expansions; api-also; praveśah-entrance; iti-thus; yat- because; uddiśtam-described; tat-that; yatha-just as; tatra- in this matter; kṛṣṇah tu bhagavam svayam iti adikam-the passage "Shri Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead" (Bhag. 1.3.28); siddham-corroborated; eva-certainly; tatha-in the same way; tasya-of that; tat-rupena-in that form; eva- certainly; śrī-vrindavana-adau-in Vrindavana and other sacred places; sarva-avasthayitvam-eternal residence; pratipadayiśyamah-I shall demonstrate.

By quoting the verse "kṛṣṇas tu bhagavan svayam" (Shri Krishna is the Supreme Personality of Godhead) (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.3.28) and many other verses also, it has been clearly demonstrated that Shri Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead, and when He appears in the material world, all other forms of Godhead appear within His form.

Just as this fact has been clearly demonstrated, I shall now establish the fact that Shri Krishna eternally resides in the holy abode of Vrindavana, and the other places where He enjoyed pastimes. It is not that He temporarily appears, and then after His appearance in this world He is no longer manifest. He eternally remains in these spiritual abodes.

Text 5

atha ca shri-hari-vamsha-mate upendra evavatatareti. jaya-vijaya-shapa-prastave ca

yasyami bhavanam brahman etat ante tavanagha" ity atra ca.

pahi vaikunöha-kinkaran ity atra ca.

svami-vyakhyanusarena vikunöhasuta eveti, kvacit kshirodakashayy eveti. kvacit purusha eveti. kvacin narayanarshir eveti, brihat-sahasra-namni lakshmanasyaiva balariamatva-kathanena shri-raghava eveti, kvacin narayana-kesha evety adikam nanavidhatvam shruyate. evam caikam sandhitsato 'nyat pracyavate, atra satyam ca sarva-vakyam. tasmad vidvadbhir eva vicaryatam: svayam-bhagavati tasmin pravesham vina katham tat sambhaved iti. drishyate-ca tasmad kesha/cid amshanam avirbhavah. yatha pradyumnadinam.

atha-now; shri-hari-vamsa-of the Hari-vamsa; mate-in the opinion; upendrah-Vamanadeva; eva-certainly; avatata- descended; iti-thus; jaya-vijaya-of Jaya and Vijaya; sapa-of the curse; prastave-in the explanation; ca-also; yasyami-I shall go; bhavanam-to the abode; brahman-O Brahma; etat-of this; ante-at the end; tava-your; anagha-O sinless one; iti- thus; atra-in this verse (Bhag. 1.6.27):

idanim nasha aradbha kulasya dvija-shapajah
yasyami bhavanam brahman
etat ante tavanagha

pahi vaikuntha-kinkaran iti atra ca-and also in the verse (Bhag. 11.6.27):

tatah sva-dhama paramam vishasva yadi manyase sa-lokan loka-palan nah pahi vaikunöha-kinkaran svami-of Shridhara Svami; vyakhya-the commentary; anusarena-in conformity to; vikuntha-of Vikuntha-devi; sutah-the son; eva-certainly; iti-thus; kvacit-in another place; kshirodakasayi-Kshirodakasayi Vishnu; eva-certainly; iti-thus; kvacit-in another place; purushah-the purusha incarnation; eva-certainly; iti-thus; kvacit-in another place; narayana-rsi-Narayana Rsi; eva-certainly; iti-thus; brhat-sahasra-namni-in the "Brhat-sahasra-nama" prayers; laksmanasya-of Lakshmana; eva-certainly; balaramatva-the position of Balarama; kathanena-with the description; shri-raghavah-Lord Ramacandra; eva-certainly; iti-thus; kvacit-in another place; narayana-of Lord Narayana; kesha-a hair; eva-certainly; iti-thus; adikam-beginning; nana-vidhatvam-various expansions; srutyate-are heard; evam-in this way; ca-also; ekam-one; sandhitsatah-anyat-another; pracyavate-falls away; atra-here; satyam-true; ca-also; sarva-all; vakyam-statements; yatha-just as; sva-mati-of the mind; anubhava-of the experience; anurupat-according to; nana-various; vakya-statements; eka-one; vakyata-statement; ca-also; tasmad-therefore; vidvadbhih-by the learned; eva-certainly; vicaryatam-it may be concluded; svayam-bhagavati-in the Original Personality of Godhead; tasmin-in Him; pravesam-entrance; vina-without; katham-how is it possible?; tat-that; smabhavet-may be; iti-thus; drsyate-is observed; ca-also; tasmāt-from that; kesancit-of some; amsanam-of His plenary expansions; punah-again; avirbhavah-incarnation; yatha-just as; pradyumna-adinam-of Pradyumna and others.

At this point someone may object, saying that the Hari-vamsha describes Lord Krishna as an incarnation of Lord Upendra (Vamana). This false conception is refuted by the following words spoken by Lord Krishna in the Shrimad-Bhagavatam, which describe Lord Krishna's return to His own eternal abode in the spiritual world (11.6.31), and which are spoken in connection with the story of the Kumara's cursing of Jaya and Vijaya. Lord Krishna said (to Brahma and the other demigods as He was about to leave the earth planet to return to the spiritual world):

"O Brahma, now that the Yadu dynasty has been destroyed by the curse of the brahmanas, I shall visit your planet, known as Brahmaloka, and from there I shall return to My own abode in the spiritual world."

"Shridhara Svami explains this verse in his commentary:

vaikunöham yasyan tava bhavanam yasyami

"O Brahma, I shall visit your abode and then return to the spiritual world of Vaikunöha."

That Lord Krishna, after leaving the earth planet, returned to His own abode in the spiritual world is also confirmed in the following statement of Brahma (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.6.27):

"O Lord, Your mission in this world is now completed. Please return, if You will, to Your own abode in the spiritual world. O Lord, please also protect us, the controllers of the planets, along with all our subjects, for we are all Your sincere servants."

In some places in the scriptures it may say that Lord Vaikunöha, the son of Vikunöha-devi, appeared as Lord Krishna; in other places it may say that Kshirodakashayi Vishnu appeared as Lord Krishna; in other places in the scriptures it may say that the purusha-incarnations appeared as Lord Krishna; in other places in the scriptures it may say that Narayana Rishi appeared as Lord Krishna; in the Brihat-sahasra-nama Prayers in the description of the identity of Lord Balarama and Lord Lakshmana, it may say that Lord Ramacandra appeared as Lord Krishna; in other places in the scriptures it may say that a hair of Lord Narayana appeared as Lord Krishna; and in other places in the scriptures there may also be other descriptions of how other forms of Godhead have incarnated as Lord Krishna. How are these contradictory statements to be resolved? Actually all these statements are true, for all forms of the Personality of Godhead are simultaneously present in the form of the Personality of Godhead, Shri Krishna, and when Shri Krishna descends to this material world, all other forms of Godhead also descend with Him.

Text 6

ata eva vikunöha-sutasya pravesabhiprayenaiva shishupala-dantavakrayoh shri-krishna-sayujyam eva tadanim jatam. punar avatara-lila-samaptau shri-vikunöha-sute sva-dhama-gate prasadatva-praptih. yathoktam shri-naradena atah eva-therefore; vikuntha-sutasya-of Lord Krishna; pravesa-entrance; abhiprayena-by the intention; eva-certainly; sisupala-of Sisupala; dantavakrayoh-and Dantavakra; shri-krishna-sayujyam-merging into Krishna; eva-certainly; tadanim-then; jatam-came into being; punah-again; avatara-descend; lila-pastimes; samaptau-concluded; shri-vikuntha-sute-when Lord Krishna; sva-dhama-to His own abode; gate-went; parsadatva-the status of associates; praptih-attainment; yatha-just as; uktam-it is described; shri-naradena-by Narada Muni (in the following verse from Shrimad-Bhagavatam).

When Shishupala and Dantavakra were killed by Lord Krishna, they attained sayujya-mukti, merging into the body of the Lord. However, when the Lord's earthly pastimes were concluded, and the Lord had returned to His own abode in the spiritual world, Shishupala and Dantavakra also returned with Him, and resumed their original posts as personal associates of the Lord. This is described by Narada Muni in the following words (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 7.1.46):

Text 7

vairanubandha-tirena
dhyanenacyuta-satmatam nitau punar hareh parshvam jagmatur vishnu-parshadau. iti.

vaira-anubandha-bond of hatred; tivrena-consisting of acute; dhyanena-by meditation; acyuta-satmatam-to the effulgence of the infallible Lord; nitau-attained; punah- again; hareh-of Hari; parshvam-the proximity; jagmatuh-they reached; vishnu-parshadau-the gatekeeper associates of Vishnu; iti-thus.

"These two associates of Lord Vishnu-{ }Jaya and Vijaya-{ }maintained a feeling of enmity for a very long time. Because of always thinking of Krishna in this way, they regained the shelter of the Lord, having returned home, back to Godhead."*

Text 8

tatha hari vamshe ca kshirodashayino mukuöe daityapahrite daitya-maranaya garudo yavat krita-vilambas tavat shri-krishno tvatatara. tatash casau mukuöam ahritya tatra cordhva-loke ca kutrapi bhagavantam adrshöva gomanta-shirasi shri-krishnayaiva samarpitavan iti prasiddhih.

tatha-in the same way; hari-vamse-in the Hari-Vamsa; ca- also; kshirodashayinah-of Kshirodashaya Vishnu; mukute-when the crown; daitya-by the demons; apahrte-was stolen; daitya-of the demons; maranaya-for killing; garudah-Garuda; yavat-while; krita-vilambah-spending his time; tavat-then; shri-krishnah-Shri Krishna; avatara-incarnated; tatra-then; ca-also; asau-He; mukutam-crown; ahritya-taking; tatra-there; ca-also; urdhva-loke-in the spiritual world; ca-and; kutra api-anywhere; bhagavam-the Personality of Godhead; adrshöva-not seeing; gomanta-shirasi-on the peak of Gomanta Mountain; shri-krishnaya-to Shri Krishna; samarpitavan-offered; iti-thus; prasiddhih-the famous quotation.

That Lord Kshirodashaya Vishnu entered the body of Lord Krishna when He incarnated on this earth just as Jaya and Vijaya did when they were killed by the Lord is confirmed in the following celebrated passage from the Hari-vamsha (Vishnu-parva, Chapter 41):

"Observing that Lord Kshirodakashayi Vishnu's crown had been stolen by the demons, Garuda attacked the thieves, killed them, and recovered the Lord's crown. As all this was happening, Lord Kshirodakashayi Vishnu descended to the earth where Lord Krishna was performing His pastimes, and entered Lord Krishna's body. In this way Lord Kshirodakashayi Vishnu appeared during Lord Krishna's incarnation. Garuda, trying to return the crown, was unable to find his master in the spiritual world. He finally found Kshirodakashayi Vishnu manifested within the form of Lord Krishna (who was then enjoying pastimes on the peak of Gomanta Mountain). Garuda then returned his master's crown."

Text 9

ato yatha krama-mukti-marge 'rcir-adi-krama evangi nadi-rashmy-adi-vividha-kramas tu tad-angatvenaiva prastuyate tadvad ihapiti. arcir-adina tat-pratitkeh ity esha nyayo 'tra drishöantayitavyah.

atah-therefore; yatha-just as; krama-mukti-marge-on the path of liberation; arcir-the sun's rays; adi-beginning with; kramah-path; eva-certainly; angir-the living entity; nadi- subtle passages; rasmi-beams of light; adi-beginning with; vividha-various; kramah-paths; tu-also; tat-angatvena-having these paths; prastuyate-is glorified; tadvad-in this way; iha- here; api-also; iti-thus; arcir-beams of sunlight; adina-beginning with; tat-pratitkeh-the manifestation; iti-thus; esah-this; nyayah-the Vedanta-sutra; atra-in this matter; drstantayitavyah-may be given as an example.

How the different forms of Godhead appear in the transcendental body of Lord Krishna may be understood from the following statement of Vedanta-sutra (4.3.1):

arcir-adina tat-pratitkeh

"At the time of death, the perfect yogis can travel to any planet using the sun's rays, the subtle nadi passages extending throughout the universe, the passages of air, or celestial airplanes, as their means of transport."

Just as the yogis may travel in this way to attain liberation or residence in a higher planet, in the same way the various forms of the Personality of Godhead may easily enter the body of Lord Krishna, and appear with Him as He displays His pastimes on earth.

Text 10

tad etad evaha

tvam brahma paramam vyoma
purushah prakriteh parah avatirno 'si bhagavan svecchopatta-prithag-vapuh

tat-therefore; etad-this; eva-certainly; aha-he says; tvam-You; brahma-spirit; paramam-supreme; vyoma-the master of the spiritual world; purushah-the Supreme Person; prakriteh-to touch of material nature; parah-above; avatirnah asi-You have descended; bhagavan-O Original Personality of Godhead; sva-iccha-of Your devotees to fulfill the desires; apatta- accepting; prthak-various; vapuh-forms.

That all forms Godhead are manifested from the body of Lord Krishna is confirmed by the following statement of Uddhava (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.11.28):

"O Lord Krishna, You are the Original Personality of Godhead, the master of the spiritual world of Vaikunöha. You appear in this material world, assuming the forms of Your many incarnations just to fulfill the desires of Your devotees."

Text 11

sakshad bhagavan eva tvam avatirno 'si. bhagavata eva vaibhavam aha brahma tvam paramavyomakhyo vaikunöhas tvam prakriteh parah purushah api tvam iti. bhagavan api katham-bhutam sann avatirnah svecchamayasya ity anusarena svesham sarvesham eva bhaktanam ya iccha purayitum upattani tatas tatah svata akrishöani pthag-vapumsi nija-tat-tad-avirbhava yena tatha-bhutam sann iti.

saksat-directly; bhagavan-the Original Personality of Godhead; eva-certainly; tvam avatirnah asi-is meant by the phrase "tvam avatirno 'si"; bhagavatah-of the Personality of Godhead; vaibhavam-the opulence; aha-he describes; brahma tvam-"You are the Supreme spirit; paramavyoma-akhyah-who is known as the master of the spiritual sky; vaikunthah-the master of Vaikunthaloka; tvam-You are; prakrteh parah-beyond the touch of material nature; purushah-the Supreme Person; api-also; tvam- You are; iti-thus; bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; api-although; katham-bhutam-in what manner?; san-being so; avatirnah-descended to the material world; sva-iccha-mayasya- according to His own desire; iti-thus; anusarena-in accordance; svesam-of His own; sarvesam-of all; eva-certainly; bhaktanam- His devotees; ya-which; iccha-desire; tam-that; purayitum-to fulfill; upattani-accepted; tatah tatah-in various places; svatah-from Himself; akrstani-manifested; pthak-various; vapumsi-forms; nija-His own; tat-tat-various; avirbhavah- appearance; yena-by that; tatha-bhutam-in that way; san-being; iti-thus.

In this verse the phrase "tvam avatirno 'si" means "O Supreme Personality of Godhead, You have now descended to this material world." The Supreme Lord's glories and opulences are described in the following words: "brahma tvam (You are the Supreme Spirit), "vyoma" (You are the master of the spiritual world of Vaikunöha), and "prakriteh parah purushah" (You are the Supreme Person, beyond the touch of material energy).

Someone may ask: Why does the Supreme Personality of Godhead descend to this material world?

The answer is given in the word "svecchopatta-prithag-vapuh" (You appear in many forms in order to fulfill the desires of Your devotees).

By describing Lord Krishna in this way, Uddhava affirms that Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead, who assumes many forms to please His devotees.

Anuccheda 91

Text 1

tatha

sva-shanta-rupeshv itaraih sva-rupair abhyardyanamashv anukampitatma paravaresho mahad-amsha-yukto hy ajo 'pi jato bhagavan yathagnih tatha-in the same way; sva-shanta-rupeshu-onto the peaceful devotees of the Lord; itaraih-others, nondevotees; sva-rupaih-according to their own modes of nature; abhyardyanamashu-being harassed by; anukampita-atma-the all-compassionate Lord; para-avara-spiritual and material; ishah- controller; mahat-amsha-yuktah-accompanied by the plenary portion of mahat-tattva; hi-certainly; ajah-the unborn; api-although; jatah-is born; bhagavan-the Personality of Godhead; yatha-as if; agnih-the fire.

That Shri Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead from whom all other forms of Godhead emanate is confirmed in the following statement of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (3.2.15):

"Lord Krishna, the Original Personality of Godhead, the all-compassionate controller of both the spiritual and material creations, is unborn, but when there is friction between His peaceful devotees and persons who are in the material modes of nature, He takes birth just like fire, accompanied by His plenary expansions."*

Text 2

tac ca janma nija-tat-tad-amshany adayaivety aha mahad-amsha-yuktah mahatah svasyaivamshair yuktah. mahantam vibhum atmanam ity adi shruteh: mahadvac ca iti nyaya-prasiddhesh ca, mahanto ye purushadayo 'mshas tair yuktah iti va. loka-natham mahad bhutam itivad atmatvavyabhicarah. mahadbhir amshibhir amshaish ca yukta iti va. viduram shrimad-uddhavah.

tat-therefore; ca-also; janma-birth; nija-own; tata-tat-various; amsani-expansions; adaya-accepting; aha-he says; mahat-amsha-yuktah-the word "mahad-amsha-yuktah"; mahatah- from the supremely great Personality of Godhead; svasya-from Yourself; eva-certainly; amsaih-by the expansions; yuktah-accompanied; mahantan-the supremely great; vibhum-all-powerful; atmanan-Personality of Godhead; iti-thus; adi-in the passage beginning with; sruteh-from the sruti-sastra (Kaöha Upanishad 2.22); mahadvat-supremely great; ca-also; iti-thus; nyaya-in the Vedanta-sutra (1.4.8); prasiddheh-in the celebrated quotation; ca-also; mahantah-great; purusha-adayah-the purusha-avatars and other forms of Godhead; amsah-expansions; tair-by them; yuktah-accompanied; iti-thus; va-or; loka-of all planetary systems; natham-the master; mahat-bhutam-the supreme living entity; itivat-in this way; atmatva-form; avyabhicarah- eternal and unchanging nature; mahadbhih-by great; amsibhih- original expansions; amsaih-secondary expansions; ca-also; yuktah-accompanied; iti-thus; va-or; viduram-to Vidura; shrimat-uddhavah-spoken by Uddhava.

This verse describes how Lord Krishna, accompanied by His expansions, takes birth in the material world. The word "mahat" in this verse means "the supremely opulent Personality of Godhead", and the phrase "mahad-amsha-yuktah" means "accompanied by the expansions of the supremely opulent Personality of Godhead". This use of the word "mahat" may be seen in the following quotations from Vedic literature:

mahantam vibhum atmanam

"The Personality of Godhead is full of all powers and opulences."

-{ }Kaöha Upanishad 1.2.22

mahad-vac ca

"The Absolute Truth is the reservoir of all transcendental opulences."

-{ }Vedanta-sutra 1.4.8

loka-natham mahad bhutam

"The Personality of Godhead is the master of all planetary systems. He is the supreme living being, full of all powers and opulences."

-{ }Vishnu-sahasra-nama-stotra

Understood in this way, the word "mahat" may refer to the purusha-incarnations of the Lord, or the Lord's primary or secondary expansions.

Anuccheda 92

Text 1

athaivam athaham amsha-bhagena ity adav apy evam vyakhyeyam. amshanam bhago bhajanam pravesho yatra tena paripurna-rupena bhajanena lakshito va. prapsyami iti prakaöa-lilabhiprayena bhavishyan nirdeshah. ata eva tad-avatara-samaye yugavatarash ca sa evety abhipretyaha atha-now; evam-in this way; atha aham amsha-bhagena-iti-adau-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.2.9; api-also; evam-in this way; vyakhyenam-should be understood; amsanam-of the expansions; bhagah-the word "bhagah"; bhajanam-means "part"; pravesah- entrance; yatra-where; tena-with that; paripurna-perfect and complete; rupena-form; amsanam-of the expansions; bhajanena- with a part; laksitah-characterized; va-or; prapsyami iti-the word "prapsyami"; prakata-manifests; lila-pastimes; abhiprayena-with the meaning; bhavisyat-future; nirdeshah- instruction; atah eva-therefore; tat-of the Lord; avatara-of incarnation; samaye-at the time; yuga-avatahar-incarnations of the various ages; ca-also; sah-He; eva-certainly; iti-thus; abhipretya-intending; aha-said.

That the various incarnations of Godhead appear within the body of Lord Krishna gives us the key to properly understand the following verse spoken by Lord Krishna to Yogamaya (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.2.9):

athaham amsha-bhagena
devakyah putratam shubhe prapsyami tvam yashodayam nanda-patnyam bhavishyasi

"O all-auspicious Yogamaya, accompanied by My plenary expansions, I shall then appear as the son of Devaki, and you will appear as the daughter of mother Yashoda, the queen of Maharaja Nanda."

In this verse the word "amsha-bhagena" means "with some of My plenary expansions". The word "prapsyami" (I shall become the son of Devaki) shows us the Lord's plan for performing pastimes in the material world.

When Lord Krishna appears in the material world, all the yuga-avatars also appear within His body. This is confirmed in the following statement of Gargacarya in Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.8.13):

Text 2

asan varnas trayo hy asya grihnato 'nuyugam tanuh shuklo raktas tatha pita idanim krishnatam gatah

asan-were assumed; varnah trayah-three colors; hi- indeed; asya-of your son Krishna; grihnatah-accepting; anuyugam tanuh-transcendental bodies according to the different yugas; shuklah-sometimes white; raktah-sometimes red; tatha-as well as; pitah-sometimes yellow; idanim krishnatam gatah-at the present moment He has assumed a blackish color.

"Your son Krishna appears as an incarnation in every millennium. In the past, He assumed three different colors-{ }white, red and yellow-{ }and now He has appeared in a blackish color. [In another Dvapara-yuga, He appeared (as Lord Ramacandra) in color of shuka, a parrot. All such incarnations have now assembled in Krishna]."*

Text 3

asya tava putrasya pratiyugam tanuh prakaöayato yadyapi shukla-adayah trayah apy anye varna asan tathapi idanim asya pradurbhavavaty asmin dvapare tu sa shuklah yugavataras tatha raktah pitah apy etad apy upalakshanam anya-dvapara-yugavatarah shuka-paksha-varno 'pi krishnatam eva gatah etasmin antarbhuta ity arthah. tasmāt krishni-kartritvat svayam-krishnatvat sarvakarshakatvac ca krishna ity ekam asya nameti prakaraniko 'py arthah shreyaṁ tatha ca śrī-karabhajanena yugavataropasanayam uktam asya-the word "asya"; tava-of you; putrasya-of the son; pratiyugam-in each yuga; pratayatah-appearing; yadyapi- although; sukla-adayah-beginning with a white form; trayah- three; api-also; varnah-colors; asan-were assumed; tathapi- nevertheless; idanim-at the present moment; asya-of Him; pradurbhavavati-manifested; asmin-during this; dvapare- Dvapara-yuga; tu-but; sah-He; suklah-white; yuga-avatah- incarnation of the age; tatha-in the same way; raktah-red; pitah-yellow; api-also; etad-this; api-also; upalakshanam- characteristic; anya-other; dvapara-yuga-during Dvapara-yuga; avatah-incarnation; suka-paksha-varnah-the color of a parrot's feather; api-although; krishnatam-a blackish color; eva- certainly; gatah-assumed; etasmin-in this; antarbhute- separately considered; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; tasmāt- therefore; krishni-kartritvat-because of appearing with a blackish complexion; svayam-krishnatvat-because He is originally known as "Krishna"; sarva-akarsakatvat-because He is all-attractive; ca-also; krishnah iti-"Krishna"; ekam-sole; asya-of Him; nama-name; iti-thus; prakaranikah-in this matter; api-also; artha- meaning; sreyam-best; tatha-in the same way; ca-also; śrī-karabhajanena-by Karabhajana Muni; yuga-avatah-of the yuga-avatars; upasanayam-in the matter of worshipping; uktam-spoken (Bhag. 11.5.27-29).

This verse may be paraphrased in the following way: "Your son Krishna appears as an incarnation in every millenium. In the past He assumed three different colors-{ }white, red, and yellow -{ }and now He has appeared in a blackish color. In another Dvapara-yuga He appeared (as Lord Ramacandra) in the color of shuka, a parrot. All such incarnations have now assembled in Krishna."*

Because the Original Personality of Godhead has a blackish complexion (krishna), and because He is all-attractive (krishna), He is therefore known as "Krishna".

In the course of describing the worship of the yuga-avatars, Karabhajana Muni gives the following description of Lord Krishna (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.5.27-29):

Text 4

dvapare bhagavan shyamah pita-vasa nijayudhah
shri-vatsadibhir ankaish ca lakshanair upalakshitah dvapare-in Dvapara-yuga; bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; shyamah-blackish; pita-vasah- having yellow clothes; nija-own; ayudhah-having weapons; shri-adibhih-such as Shrivatsa; ankaih-by bodily markings; ca-and; lakshanaih-by external characteristics such as the Kaustubha jewel; upalakshtitah-characterized.

"In the Dvapara-yuga the Personality of Godhead appears in a blackish hue. He is dressed in yellow, He holds His own weapons, and He is decorated with the Kaustubha jewel and marks of Shrivatsa. This is how His symptoms are described.*

Text 5

tam tada purusham martya maha-rajopalakshanam
yajanti veda-tantrabhyam param jijnasavo nripa

tam-Him; tada-in that age; purusham-the supreme enjoyer; martyah-mortal men; maha-rajaa-a great king; upalalshanam- playing the role of; yajanti-they worship; veda-tantryabhyam- according to both the original Vedas and ritual tantras; param- the Supreme; jijnasavah-those who want to gain knowledge; nripa-O king.

"O king, following the Vedas and Tantras, seekers of the truth worship the Supreme Personality of Godhead, who then appears as a great king.

Text 6

namas te vasudevaya
namah sankarshanaya ca
pradyumnayaniruddhaya

tubhyam bhagavate namah

namah-let me offer my respectful obeisances; te-unto You; vasudevaya-Lord Vasudeva; namah-respectful obeisances; sankarshanaya ca-also to Lord Sankarshana; pradyumnaya-to Lord Pradyumna; aniruddhaya-unto Aniruddha; tubhyam-unto You; bhagavate-unto the Supreme Personality of Godhead; namah-my respectful obeisances.

"I offer my respectful obeisances unto the Supreme Personality of Godhead, expanded as

.mt 3
.mb .5
.rm 6.5 in Set Right Margin to 6.5 in.
.rm 65

..
Select font 1
.fa times to Times Roman type style.
.lh 1.25 em
.ch 15.5 pt

.fa timesitl
.lh 1.25 em
.ch 15.4 pt

..
.fa clarendo
.ch 16.2 pt
..

.fa helvetic
.ch 16 pt
..

.fa clarendo
.ch 16.2 pt
..

.fa clarendo
.ch 23 pt
..

.. Lower case Italicized
.de {.px -1.2 en}{.py +0.23 em}{.py -.23 em}
.. ^D = . below letters n - h - normal - italic
.de {.px -1. en}{.py +.23 em}{.py -.23 em}
...de {.ru .06 em, .1 em, -.40 en, -1.4 en}
.de {.px -.6 en}{.py -.55 en}{.fa clarendo}{.ch .8 em}{.sy 180}{.ch}{.fa}{.px +.1 en}{.py +.55 en}
.. ^S = ' on s - normal - italic
..de {.px -1 en}{.py -.3 em}{ }{.fn}{.px +.1 en}{.py +.3 em}
.. ^T = ' on S
.de {.ru .28 em, .055 em, -.6 en, -1.38 en}

.hee # Shri Krishna-sandarbha
.heo Volume Three #

Text 7

atra-here; shri-krishnatve-in the position of Lord Krishna; lingam-the characteristic; maha-raja-upalakshanam iti-the passage beginning "maharajopalalakshanam"; vasudeva iti adi-the passage beginning "vasudeva"; ca-also; shri-hari-vamsha-in the Hari-vamsha; ukta-described; raja-of Lord Krishna; raja-abhishekat-because of the coronation; dvarakayam-in Dvarka; catur-vyuhatva-as the four catur-vyuha expansions; prasiddheh-because of fame; gargah-spoken by Gargacarya; shri-nandam-to Nanda Maharaja.

In the verses Karabhaana Muni describes (maharajopalakshanam) the appearance in the Dvaara-yuga of Lord Krishna, who was crowned king of Dvaraka (Hari-vamsha, Vishnu-parva, Chapter 50), and who remained in Dvaraka with His catur-vyuha expansions. The verse under discussion (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.8.13, quoted in Text 2) was spoken by Gargacarya to Nanda Maharaja.

Anuccheda 93

Text 1

tad evam shri-krishnasya svayam-bhagavatte sushöhu nirdharite nityam eva tad-rupatvenasthitir api svayam eva siddha. tathapi tavat-aradhanavakyenaiva sa sidhyati. aradhyasyabhava aradhananodanaya vipralipsa-janyatvatteh. tac ca paramapte shashtre na sambhavati. sambhave ca purusharthabhavat shastranarthakyam.

tat-therefore; evam-in this way; shri-krishnasya-of Shri Krishna; svayam-bhagavatte-in the position of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; sushöhu-properly; nidharite-determined; nityam-eternally; eva-certainly; tat-His; rupatvena-manifestation as form; avasthitih situation; api-also; svayam-automatically ; eva-certainly; siddha-is established; tathapi-still; manda-dhiyam-of those who are unintelligent; bhranti-mistake; hana- refutation; artham-for the purpose; idam-thus; vivriyate-is explained; tatra-in this connection; tavat-to that extent; aradhana of worship; vakyena-by the description; sa-that; sidhyati is proven; aradhyasya-of the worshipable; abhave-in the non-existence; aradhana-worship; nodanayah-because of encouraging; vipralipsa-cheating; janyatva-because of being produced from; apatteh-because of the calamity; tat-that; ca- also; parama-apte-which contains the description of the ultimate goal of life; shashtre-in the scripture; na-not; sambhavati-is possible; sambhave-in the arisal; purusha-artha-of the ultimate goal of life; abhavat-because of non-existence; shastra-of the book; anarthakyam-uselessness.

Although we have clearly proven that Shri Krishna is the Supreme Personality of Godhead and His form is eternal, doubt may linger in the minds of the less intelligent, to eradicate these doubts we shall continue this description of Shri Krishna. That the form of Krishna is eternal is proven by the Vedic literatures' repeated order that Krishna be worshiped. If the form of Krishna were only a temporary manifestation, then what is the use of worshiping Him? If the scriptures advise us to worship that which is temporary, then the scriptures are defective and are cheating us. In truth the Vedic literatures teach us the supreme goal of life, and they are free from all defect. If they instruct us to worship Shri Krishna, then the form of Shri Krishna is certainly eternal and spiritual. Krishna is not a temporary manifestation of material energy.

Sarva-samvadini Comment

Text 1

atha dvi-navatitama-vakyanantaram nityatva-prakarane "shastranarthakyam ity asyanantaram idam vivecaniyam "nanu balaturady-upacchanda-vakyavat taj-jnana-matrenapipurushartha-siddhir drishyate; tato narthantara-sambhave tat smaraka-vakyam karanam ; kintu prathamatas tad-abhirucite tadanim asaty api vastu-visheshe tadiya-hita-vastv-antara-cittavatataraya baladin iva matradi-vakyam sagua-visheshsadhakam pravartayati shastram; pashcad yatha svahite kramenasvayam eva pravartante baladayas tatha balavac chastrataramdrishtva nirgune va nitya-prakaöya-vaikunöhanatha-lakshanasagune va pravartsyante iti.

atha-now; dvi-navatitama-vakya-the 92nd Anuccheda; anantaram-after; nityatva-of the eternity; prakarane-in the explanation; shastra-anarthakyam iti-the passage ending with the word "shastranarthakyam" (Text 1); asya-that; anantaram-after; idam-this; vivecaniyam-may be considered; nanu-is it not so?; bala-child; atura-sick; adi-beginning with; upacchandana-coaxing; vakya-the statement; vat-like; tat-that; jnanamatrena-by that knowledge; api-also; purusha-artha-of the benefit of human life; siddhih-the perfection; drsyate-is seen; tatah-from that; na-not; artha-meaning; antara-another; sambhave-in the manifestation; tat-that; smaraka-vakyam-as a remainder; karanam- cause; kintu- however; prathamatah-at first; tat-abhirucite-pleasing; tadanim- then; asati-unreal; api-although; vastu-substance; visese- specific; tadiya-in relation to him; hita-welfare; vastu- substance; antara-another; citta-consciousness; avataraya-for bringing; bala-adin-to children and others; iva-just like; matra-adi-vakyam-statement; sa-guna-with qualities; visese- specific; sadhakam-spiritual aspirants; pravartayati-teaches; shastram-the knowledge of the Vedic scriptures; pascad- afterwards; yatha-just as; sva-hite-in that which is beneficial; kramana-gradually; svayam-directly; eva-certainly; pravartante- are manifest; bala-adayah-strength of the arguments; tatha-in the same way; balavat-as strong; shastra-the Vedic scriptures; antaram-other; drishötva-having seen; nirgune-in the qualityless Absolute; va-or; nitya-eternal; prakatya- manifestation; vaikuntha-natha-of Lord Narayana, the master of Vaikuntha; lakshana-characteristics; sa-gune-with qualities; va-or; pravartsyante-will be manifest; iti-thus.

After reading the argument of Anuccheda 93, Text 1, someone may raise the following objection: When a child is stricken with a disease, one may speak many untrue words to coax him to take a medicine which will cure him. In the same way, the Vedas instruct the conditioned souls to worship the Personality of Godhead. This is certainly beneficial for the conditioned souls who become purified by that worship and enabled to understand the actual nature of the Absolute, which is formless and without qualities.

Text 2

tan na ananta-guna-rupadi-vaibhava-nityaspadatvattad-rupenavasthithir nasambhaviteti yad bhutam bhavac ca bhavishyac ca iti shruteh, sambhavitayam tu tasyam avatara-vakyam cavatarasya prapanca-gata-tadiya-prakasha-matra-lakshanatvat. narayanadinam ca tatraivavatara pravesha-matra-vivakshato na virudhyate.

tat-that; na-is not so; ananta-unlimited guna-qualities; rupa-and forms; adi-beginning with; vaibhava-opulence and power; nitya-eternal; aspadatvat-because of being the abode; tat-rupena-with his form; avasthithi-situation; na-not; asambhavita- unworthy of being accepted; iti-thus; yat-what; bhutam- was; bhavat-is; ca-also; bhavishyat-will be; ca-also; iti-thus; shruteh-from the Brhad-aranyaka Upanishad 3.8.3; sambhavitayam- accepted; tu-also; tasyam-when this; avatara-about the incarnations of the Lord; vakyam-the statement; ca-also; avatarasya-of the Lord's incarnation; prapanca-to the material universe; gata-travelled; tadiya-His; prakasha-manifestation; matra-only; lakshanatvat-because of the characteristic; narayana-adinam-of Lord Narayana and the other forms of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; ca-also; tatra-there; eva-certainly; avatare-in the incarnation; pravesha-entrance; matra-only; vivakshatah-because of the intention to describe; na-not; virudhyate-is contradicted.

To this objection I reply: The Supreme Personality of Godhead is an eternal reservoir of unlimited transcendental qualities, opulences and forms. The Supreme Personality of Godhead and His various incarnations such as Lord Narayana and others, are eternally present in the spiritual world, although they enter this material world as incarnations for a certain limited period of time. Because they are present in the spiritual world, the Brihad-aranyaka Upanishad explains (3.8.3):

{,sy 168}The Absolute Truth exists eternally. He was in the past. He is in the present. He will be in the future."

This describes the eternal form of the Lord.

Text 3

kim cottara-mimamsayam tat-tad-upasana-shastrokta ya ya murtis tadvatya eva devatah iti siddhanta-grahah.

kim ca-furthermore; utara-mimamsayam-in the Uttara-mimamsa; tat-tat-of various; upasana-methods of worship; shastra- literature; uktah-statements; ya ya-whatever; murtih-form; tadvatyah-in that way; eva-certainly; devatah-dieties; iti-thus; siddhanta-graha-acceptance of the conclusion.

The eternality of the form of the Supreme Personality of Godhead is also described in the following statement of the Uttara-mimamsa: "The Supreme is manifest in many forms".

Text 4

tatash ca

tam piöhagam ye tu yajanti dhiras tesham sukham shashvatam netaresham ity adika gopala-tapany-upanishad api yenanyatha manyate tasya tu mahad eva sahasam.

tatah-then; ca-also; tam-Him; pitha-gam-in His abode; ye-those who; tu-certainly; yajanti-worship; dhirah-advanced saintly persons; tesam-of them; sukham-happiness; sasvatam-eternal; na - not; itaresam-of others; iti-thus; adika-in the passage beginning; shri-gopala-tapani-upanishat-Gopala-tapani Upanishad (1.23); api-also; yena-by which; ayatha-artha-to think otherwise; manyate-is considered; tasya-of that; tu-but; mahat-great; eva-certainly; sahasam-crime.

The eternality of the form of the Personality of Godhead is also described in the following statement of the Gopala-tapani Upanishad (1.20)

"They who are intelligent worship Lord Krishna. They, and not others, attain eternal transcendental bliss."

This verse clearly describes the Lord's form as eternal. They who would interpret it in another way are committing a great violence to the meaning of the scriptures.

Text 5

atra ca shashvata-sukha-phala-prapti-shravanat tat-piöhasya yajanam vinajnanam sahasamayam janan mokshah iti smriteh. atraiva dhira iti visheshanad balaturavad bhavas tesham dura evotsaritah. netaresham iti nirdharanena tad-yajanasya parampara-hetutvam api nishidhyate.

atra-here; ca-also; sasvata-eternal; sukha-of happiness; phala-of the result; prapti-the attainment; sravanat-because of hearing; tat-pithasya-of that place; yajanam-worship; vina- without; ajnanam-ignorance; sahasa-mayam-violence; jnanat-from knowledge; mokshah-there is liberation; iti-thus; smrteh-from the Smrti shastra; atra-here; eva-certainly; dhirah-saintly persons; iti-thus; visesanam-description; bala-child; atura-afflicted with disease; vat-like; bhavah-nature; tesam-of them; dure-far away; eva-certainly; utsaritah-cast away; na-not; itarsam-of others iti-thus; nirdharanena-by ascertainment; tat-yajanasya-of the worshiper; parampara-of sequence; hetutvam-origin; api-also; nishidhyate-is refused.

In this verse the worshipers of Lord Krishna are described as the possessors of eternal happiness. This means they are liberated from material entanglement, for as long as one remains in the clutches of matter his position is continuously changing, and he cannot attain eternal happiness. Because the devotees of Lord Krishna are thus liberated, one cannot say that they are ignorant of the actual nature of things, for knowledge is a prerequisite for liberation. This is confirmed by the Smriti-shastra, which says:

"When one attains transcendental knowledge he becomes liberated."

Our opponent says the devotees of the Lord are in a lesser position, and he pushes forward the example of cajoling the sick child to convince him to take the medicine. This example is not very appropriate, for the devotees of the Lord are described as "dhira", advanced saintly persons. They are not at all like ignorant children. Our opponent would have it that there are different stage of spiritual advancement, and the devotees are in the lower stage, while the impersonalists are on the higher stage. This view is rejected by this statement of Gopala-tapani Upanishad, which considers the devotees of the Lord the best of transcendentalists ("Only such devotees of the Lord, and not others, are able to attain eternal transcendental bliss").

Text 6

ata eva nama brahmety upasita itivad atraropo 'pi na mantavyah. tasmad aradhana-vakyena tasya nityatvam sidhyaty eva. svadhyayad ishöa-devata-samprayogah iti smaranam catropastambhakam iti.

atah eva-therefore; nama-certainly; brahma-Brahman; iti- thus; upasita-worship; itivat-in this way; aropah-imposition of the qualities of one thing upon another; api-also; na-not; mantavyah-should be considered; tasmad-therefore; aradhana-of worship; vakyena-by the statement; tasya-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; nityatvam-the eternality; sidhyati-is established; eva-certainly; svadhyayaat-by study; ista-devata- the Supreme Personality of Godhead; samprayogah-connection; iti- thus; smaraman-from the Patanjali Yoga-sutra, Sadhana-parva, sutra 44; ca-also; atra-here; upastambhakam-evidence; iti- thus.

The Chandogya Upanishad (7.1.5) explains

"One should worship the Supreme Brahman".

From this we may understand that the Supreme Brahman is a person, and He is eternal, for if this conclusion is rejected, and the theory of the impersonalists is accepted, there is no need to worship Brahman. That the Chandogya Upanishad mentions worship of Brahman supports the actual conclusion, that the Supreme Brahman is a person and His form is eternal. This conclusion is also supported by the Patanjali Yoga-sutra, which explains (Sadhana-parva, Sutra 44):

"By study of Vedic literature one understands the Supreme Person."

Text 2

arohanash ca paricchinna-guna-rupa eva vastuni kalpyate nananta-guna-rupe. shri-svami-caranair apidam eva pushōam ekadasha-samaptau dharana dhyana-mangalam ity atra dharanaya dhyanasya ca mangalam shobhanam vishayam itaratha tayor nirvishayatvam. drishyate cadyapy upasakanam sakshat-karas tat-phala-praptish ceti bhavah.

arohanah-imposition of the qualities of one thing upon another; ca-also; paricchinna-limited; guna-qualities; rupe- form; eva-certainly; vastuni-in the substance; kalpyate-is considered; na-not; ananta-unlimited; guna-qualities; rupe- and form; shri-svami-carana-h-by the followers of Shridhara Svami; api-also; idam-this; eva-certainly; pustam-is elaborately explained; ekadasha-of the Eleventh Canto of Shrimad-Bhagavatam; samaptau-at the conclusion; dharana-dhyana-mangalam-iti-in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 11.31.6:

lokabhiramam sva-tanum dharana-dhyana-mangalam yoga-dharanayagneyadagdha-dhama visat svakam";

atra-in this verse; dharanayah-dhyanasya-of devotional meditation; ca-also; mangalam-the word "mangalam"; shobhanam- means "beautiful"; visayam-field of experience; itaratha-on the other hand; tayoh-of the two; nirvisayatvam-imperceivableness; drishyate-is observed; ca-also; adya-now; api-even; upasakanam-of the worshipers; sakshat-karah-direct manifestation; tat- that; phala-result; praptih-attainment; ca-also; iti-thus; bhavah-the meaning.

At this point the mayavadis may object: The ultimate truth is the formless impersonal Brahman. In order to make itself perceived by the unintelligent, Brahman may sometimes assume a temporary form, such as the form of Krishna, but the ultimate truth cannot actually have forms or qualities, for the ultimate is unlimited, and a form is always limited within a certain space, and qualities are also limitations. Therefore, because it is unlimited, the Absolute Truth cannot have a form or qualities.

To this objection the followers of Shridhara Svami reply by quoting the following verse of Shrimad Bhagavatam (11.31.6):

"By performing agneyi-yoga, mystics burn the material body in the fire of mystic yoga, and by giving up the body in this way, attain the upper planets or the spiritual world. When Shri Krishna left the material world, however, He did not burn His beautiful body which is so pleasing to the devotees who continually meditate upon it, but without changing His body directly returned to His own abode in the spiritual world."

If the body of Lord Krishna is only a temporary manifestation, then the devotees' meditation described in this verse is empty and useless. Actually such meditation is not at all useless, for by continually meditating on the form of the Lord Krishna, one may eventually see Him face-to-face.

Text 3

shrutyate caivam pancame navasu varsheshu tat-tad-avataropasanadi yathoktam navasu api varsheshu bhagavan narayano maha-purushah purushanam tad-anugrahayatma-tattva-vyuhena-atmanadyapi sannidhiyate.

shrutyate-is heard; ca-also; evam-in the same way; pancame-in the Fifth Canto of Shrimad-Bhagavatam; navasu-in the nine; varsesu-tracts of land known as varsas; tat-tat-of the various; avatara-incarnations; upasana-adi-forms of worship; yatha-just as; uktam-it is said; navasu-in the nine; api- certainly; varsheshu-tracts of land known as varsas; bhagavan- the Supreme Personality of Godhead; narayanah-Lord Vishnu; maha-purushah-the Supreme Person; purushanam-unto His various devotees; tat-anugraha-to show His mercy; atma-tattva-vyuhena-by expansions of Himself in the quadruple forms Vasudeva, Sankarshana, Pradyumna and Aniruddha; atmana- personally; adya api-until now; sannidhiyate-is near the devotees for accepting their services.

The direct appearance of the Lord and the worship of Him by the devotees residing in the nine varshas is described in Shrimad-Bhagavatam (5.17.14):

"To show mercy to His devotees in each of these nine tracts of land, the Supreme Personality of Godhead known as Narayana expands Himself in His quadruple principles of Vasudeva, Sankarshana, Pradyumna and Aniruddha. In this way He remains near His devotees to accept their service."*

Text4

sannidhanam cedam sakshad-rupena shri-prasyumnadau gati-vilasader varnitatvat. tatra catmana svayam evety uktam. tatha nityatva eva shalagrama-shiladishu narasimhatvadibhedah ca sangacchate. tat-tad-avatarana-sannidhyat eva hi tat-tad-bhedah.

sannidhanam-nearness; ca-also; idam-this; sakshat-rupena- by direct appearance; shri-pradyumna-adau-in the form of Lord Pradyumna and other vishnu-tattva-expansions; gati-vilasa-adeh-of pastimes; varnitatvat-because of description; tatra-there; ca- also; atmana-by using the word "atma (Himself)"; svayam- Himself; eva-certainly; iti-thus; uktam-is described; tatha- in the same way; nityatve-in eternity; eva-certainly; shalagrama-sila-adisu-in Salagrama-sila and others forms of the Lord; narasimhatva-adi-in Lord Nrsimhadeva and others forms of the Lord; bhedah-distinction; ca-also; sangacchate-meet; tat-tat-various; avatara-incarnations; sannidhyat-may join; eva- certainly; hi-indeed; tat-tat-various; bhedah-distinctions.

This passage describes how, in the presence of His devotees, the Lord personally appears in the form of Pradyumna and other vishnu-tattva expansions. This passage describes the direct appearance (atmana) of the Lord. The Lord also appears eternally in the form of the Deity, such as the form of Lord Nrsimha and other forms manifested among the Shalagrama-shilas. In this way the Lord incarnates in many forms.

Text 5

tatha shri-krishnam adhikrityapi gitam shri-krishna-sahasra-nama-prarambhe shri-vishnu-dharmottare tasya hrishöashayah stutya vishnur gopanganavritah tapincha-shyamalam rupam pinchottamsam adarshayat iti.

tatha-in the same way; shri-krishna-Shri Krishna; adhikritya-in regard to; api-also; gitam-glorified; shri-krishna-sahasra-nama- the thousand names of Lord Krishna; prarambhe-in the beginning; shri-vishnu-dharmottare-in the Vishnu-dharmomttara Purana; tasya- his; hrishöa-delighted; asayah-at heart; stutya-by this prayers; vishnuh-Lord Vishnu; gopa-angana-by the gopis; avrtah- accompanied; tapincha-like a tamala tree; syamalam-dark; rupam-form; pincha-with a peacock feather; uttamsam-in His hair; adarsayat-revealed; iti-thus.

The direct revelation of Lord Krishna to His devotee is described in the Krishna-sahasra-nama prayers of the Vishnu-dharma Purana, Uttara-khanda:

"Pleased at heart by these sincere prayers, Lord Vishnu revealed the form of Shri Krishna. whose dark form was the color of a tamala tree, whose hair was decorated with a peacock feather, and who was accompanied by the gopis.

Text 6

agre ca tad-vakyam

mam avehi maha-bhaga krishnam kritya-vidamvara purah-krito 'smi tvad-bhaktya purnah santu manorathah iti.

agre-in the beginning; tat-His; vakyam-statement; mam-me; avehi-please know; maha-bhaga-o fortunate one; krishnam-Krishna; kritya-vidam-of the learned; vara-O best; purah-kritah-directly appearing before you; asmi-I am; tvad-bhaktya-because of your devotional service; purnah-fulfilled; santu-may be; manorathah-your desires; iti-thus.

"Lord Krishna addressed that devotee in the following words: O fortunate one, O best of the wise, know that I am Shri Krishna, the Supreme Personality of Godhead, and I have now appeared before you because of your great devotion. I grant you the benediction that all your spiritual desires will become perfectly fulfilled."

Text 7

tatha padme nirmana-khande

pashya tvam darshayishyami svarupam veda-gopitam iti.

tatha-in the same way; padme-in the Padma Purana; nirmana-khande-in the Nirmana-khanda; pasya-just see; tvam-you; darsayisyami-I shall now reveal; svarupam-My original form; veda-for the Vedas; gopitam-very confidential; iti-thus.

The revelation of the eternal form of Shri Krishna is also described in the Padma Purana, Nirmana-khanda, where Lord Krishna says to Brahma :

"O Brahma, see My original form as Lord Krishna, which I now reveal to you. This form is very confidential and difficult to see. It cannot be known simply by studying the verses of the Vedas."

Text 8

shri-bhagavad-vakyanantaram brahma-vakyam

tato 'pashyam aham bhupa
balam kalambuda-prabham
gopa-kanyavritam gopam
hasantam gopa-balakaih.

kadamba-mula asinam
pita-vasasam adbhutam vanam vrindavanam nama nava-pallava-manditam. iti adi.

shri-bhagavat-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; vakya- the statement; anantaram-after; brahma-of Lord Brahma; vakyam- the statement; tatah-them; apasyam-saw; aham-I; bhupa-O king; balam-the boy; kala-dark; ambuda-cloud; prabham-with the splendor; gopa-kanya-by the gopis; avrtam-accompanied; gopam-cowherd boy; hasantam-laughing; gopa-balakaih-with the cowherd boys; kadamba-of a kadamba tree; mula-at the base; asinam-seated; pita-with yellow; vasanam-garments; adbhutam-wonderful to see; vanam-the forest; vrindavanam-Vrindavana; nama-named; nava-with fresh; pallava-sprouts; manditam-decorated; iti-thus; adi-in the passage of the beginning.

After speaking this words, the Lord revealed His original form to Brahma, who described this revelation in the following words:

"O king, I then saw the form of Lord Krishna, who was a cowherd boy with a complexion like a dark rain-cloud. He was accompanied by many gopis, and was laughing and joking with His cowherd friends. He was arrayed in yellow garments and was very handsome and wonderful to see. He was seated at the base of a kadamba tree in the forest of Vrindavana, which was decorated with many blossoming plants and trees."

Text 9

tarilokya-sammohana-tantre shrimad-ashöadashakshara-japa-prashange ahar-nisham japet yas tu mantri niyata-manasah

sa pashyati na sandeho
gopa-vesha-dharam harim iti.

trailokya-sammohana-tantre-in the Trailokya-sammohana Tantra; shrimat-astadasa-akshara-japa-of the chanting of the eighteen syllable Krishna mantra; prasange-in connection with; ahah-day; nisam-and night; japet-may chant; yah-who; tu- indeed; mantri-properly initiated in the chanting of the mantra; niyata-with a controlled; manasah-mind; sah-he; pasyati- will see; na-without; gande-hah-doubt; gopa-vesa-dharam-in the form of cowherd boy; harim-Lord Hari; iti-thus.

That the form of Shri Krishna is eternally manifested and may be seen at any time by the sincere devotee is confirmed in the following verse from the Trailokya-sammohana Tantra:

"A properly initiated devotee who continually chants this eighteen-syllable Krishna mantra with a controlled mind will certainly see this form of Lord Hari as a cowherd boy. Of this there is no doubt."

Text 10

gautamiye ca sad-acara-prasange ahar-nisham japen mantram mantri niyata-manasah

sa pashyati n sandeho
gopa-vesha-dharam harim iti.

gautamiye-in the Gautamiya Tantra; ca-also; sat-saintly; acara-conduct; prasange-in connection with; ahah-day; nisam- and night; japet-may chant; mantram-the Krishna Mantra; mantri- properly initiated in chanting the mantra; niyata-with a controlled; manasah-mind; sah-he; pasyati-will see; na- without; sandehah-doubt; gopa-vesa-dharam-in the form of a cowherd boy; harim-Lord Hari; iti-thus.

This eternal form of Lord Krishna is described in the same words in the following passage from Gautamiya Tantra in a passage describing the proper conduct of saintly persons:

"A properly initiated devotee who continually chants this Krishna-mantra with a controlled mind will certainly see this form of Lord Hari as a cowherd boy. Of this there is no doubt."

Text 11

shri-gopala-tapani-shrutis caivam tad u hovaca brahmanah 'asav anavaratam' me dhyatah stutah parardhante so 'budhyata. gopa-vesho me purastad avirbabhuva.

shri-gopala-tapani-shrutih-in the Gopala Tapani Upanishas; ca-also; evam-in the same way; tat-then; u- certainly; ha- indeed; uvaca-replied; brahmanah-Brahma; asau-He; anavaratam- continually; me-by me;

dhyatah-remembered; stutah-glorified; parardhante-at the conclusion of the parardha; sah-He; abudhyata-became perceived; gopa-vesah-in the form of a cowherd boy; me-me; purastat-in the presence; avirbabhuva-became manifested.

The revelation of the eternal form of Shri Krishna is also described in the following statement of the Gopala-tapani Upanishad (1.29)"

"Brahma replied: I continually glorified the Lord and meditated upon Him for millions of years, and at last I was able to understand the transcendental form of the Lord as Shri Krishna, in the dress of a cowherd boy."*

Text 12

siddha-nirdesho 'pi shruyate yatha vande vrindavanasinam indirananda-mandiram

iti brihan-haradiyarambhe mangalakaranam.

siddha-perfect; nirdesah-instruction; api-also; shruyaate-is heard; yatha-just as; vande-I offer my respectful obeisances; vrindavana-in Vrindavana; asinam-remaining; indira- of the goddess of fortune; ananda-bliss; mandiram-palace; iti- thus; brhat-naradiya-of the Brhan-naradiya Purana; arambhe-in the beginning mangala-acaranam-the invocation of auspiciousness.

That the form of Krishna is eternal and eternally remains in the spiritual abode of Vrindavana is confirmed in the following verse from the introduction (mangalakaranam) of the Brihan-naradiya Purana:

"I offer my respectful obeisances to Lord Krishna, who is like a transcendental palace that delights the goddess of fortune, Shrimati Radharani. Lord Krishna eternally remains in the spiritual abode known as Vrindavana."

Text 13

dyarakayah samudbhutam snnidhyam keshavasya ca rukmini-sahitah krishno nityam nivasate grihe

iti skande dvaraka-mahatmye balim prati shri-prahlada-vakyam.

dvarkayah-of Dvarka; samudbhutam-manifested; sannidhyam- presence; kedavasya-of Lord Kesava; ca-also; rukmini-by Rukmini-devi; sahita-accompanied; krishnah-Krishna; nityam- eternally; nivasate-resides; grhe-in the palace; iti-thus; skande-in the Skanda Purana; dvaraka-mahatmye-in the glorification of Dvarka; balim-prati-to Bali Maharaja; shri-prahlada-of Prahlada Maharaja; vakyam-statement.

That the form of Shri Krishna is eternally manifested is also confirmed in the following verse from the Dvaraka-mahatmya section of the Skanda Purana, where Prahlada Maharaja tells Bali Maharaja:

"Accompanied by Queen Rukmini, Lord Krishna eternally remains in the palaces of Dvaraka."

Text 14

vratinah karttike masi snatasya vidhivan mama grihanarghyam maya dattam radhaya sahito hare

iti padme-karttika-mahatmye tat pratah-snanarghya-mantrah.

vratinah-following the vow; karttike masi-in the month of Karttika; snatasya-bathing; vidhivat-according to the regulations; mama-of me; grhana-please accept; arghyam-arghya; maya-by me; dattam-offered; radhaya-by Shrimati Radharani; sahitah-accompanied; hare-O Lord hari; iti-thus; padma-of the Padma Purana; karttika-mahatmye-in the section glorifying the month of Karttika; tat-therefore; pratah-in the early morning; snana-bath; arghya-offering of arghya; mantrah-mantra.

That the form of Shri Krishna is eternal is also confirmed in the following verse in the Karttika-mahatmya of the Padma Purana:

"O Lord Hari, who eternally stays with Shri Radha, I have carefully followed the rules and regulations of Karttika-vrata, and I have carefully taken my early bath. In this purified condition I am offering this gift of arghya. Please accept it."

Text 15

evam ca shrimad-ashöadashaksharadayo mantras tat-tat-parikaradi-vishishöatayaivaradhyatvena siddha-nirdesham eva kurvanti. tadavarana-puja-mantrash ca. kim bahuna karma-vipaka-prayascitta-shastre 'pi tatha shruyate. yad ahaumhomas tu purvavat karyo govinda-pritaye tatah ity ady anantaram.

govinda gopijana-vallabhesha kamsasuraghna tridashendra-vandya go-dana-triptah kuru me dayalo arsho-vinasham kshapitari-varga iti.

evam-in this way; ca-also; shrimat-astadasa-akshara-adayah-beginning with the 18 syllable Krishna-mantra; mantrah-mantras; tat-tat-various; parikara-corrolaries; adi-beginning with; visistataya-with specific description; eva-certainly; aradhyatvena-by the worshipableness; siddha-perfect; nirdesa- instruction; eva-certainly; kurvanti-they do; tat-therefore; avarana-concealing; adi-beginning with; puja-for worship; mantrah-mantras; ca-also; kim bahuna-what more need to be said; karma-vipaka-the reactions of work; prayascitta- atonement; shastre-in the scriptures; api-also; tatha-in the same way; shruyate-is heard; yatwhich; aha-he says; homah-the homa sacrifice; tu-also; purvavat-as before; karyah-should be performed; govinda-of Lord Govinda; pritaye-for the satisfaction; tatah-therefore; iti-thus; adi-beginning; anantaram-after; govinda-O Govinda; gopijana-to the gopis; vallabha-dear; isa-O Supreme Controller; kamsa-asura-the demon Kamsa; ghna-killing; tridasa-of the demigods; indra-by the king; vandyathe proper person to be worshiped; go-dana-by the cows; trptah-pleased; kuru-please create; me-my; dayalo-o merciful one; arsa-of piles; vinasam-cure; kshapita-by whom are destroyed; ari-of enemies; varga-the host; iti-thus.

In this mantra, the eighteen-syllable Krishna-mantra, and other mantras, the supreme worshipableness of Lord Krishna is described. These mantras present the actual conclusion of the Vedas, and not whatever verses may be found to encourage the worship of the limited demigods who control the lighting and heating of the material universe. What need is there to speak more elaborately on this point? Lord Govinda is glorified in all the Vedas. Even the scriptures prescribing various atonements for various sins describe the supremacy of Lord Krishna. For example, in the Bodhayana-shastra it is said:

"The homa-sacrifice should be performed for the satisfaction of Lord Govinda."

We also find this quote in the Bodhayana-shastra:

"O Lord Govinda, O beloved of the gopis, O Supreme Controller, O killer of Kamsa, O Lord worshiped by the demigods, O merciful Lord pleased by the cows and calves of Gokula, O Supreme Lord who kills the demons, please cure me of arsha (piles)".

Text 16

anyatra ca yatha

govinda gopijana-vallabheshah vidhvasta-kamsa tridashendra-vandya govardhanadri-pravaraika-hastah samrakshitasheshah-gava-pravina go-netra-venu-kshapana prabhutam andhyam tathograh timiram kshipasu iti.

anyatra-in another verse from the Bodhayana-shastra; ca- also; yatha-just as; govinda-O Lord Govinda; gopi-jana-of the gopis; vallabha-dear; isa-O Supreme Controller; vidhvasta- by the king; vandyaworshiped; govardhana-Govardhana; adri-of mountains; pravara-best; eka-with one; hasta-hand; samrakshita-protected; asesa-all; gava-cows; pravina-expert; go-netra-O protector of the cows; venu-stick; kshapana-tossing; prabhutam- produced; andhyam-blindness; tatha-in that way; timiran- darkness; kshipa-please cure; asu-quickly; iti-thus.

Lord Krishna is also described in the following verse of the Bodhayana-shastra

"O Lord Govinda, O beloved of the gopis, O Supreme Controller, O killer of Kamsa, O supreme object of worship for the demigods, O Lord who expertly lifted the great Govardhana Hill with one hand and protected all the cows, calves, and cowherds of Vraja, O best of the gopas, please cure the blindness in my eyes."

Text 17

spashöam ca tathatvam shri-gopala-tapanyam tam ekam govindam sac-cid-ananda-vigraham panca-padam vridavana-sura-bhuruha-talasinam satatam samarud-gano 'ham paramaya stutya toshayami.

tam-Him; ekam-alone; govindam-Lord Govinda; sat-eternal; cit-full of knowledge; ananda-and bliss; vigraham-whose form; panca-padam-this mantra consisting of five words; vrindavana-in Vrindavana; sura-bhuruha-tala-under a desire tree; asinam- continually; sa-accompanied by; marut-ganah-the demigods; aham-I; paramaya-with eloquent; stutya-prayers; toshayami-I please.

That Shri Krishna is the eternal Supreme Personality of Godhead is also clearly described in the Gopala-tapani Upanishad (1.38):

"With eloquent prayers I and the Maruts please Lord Govinda, whose form is eternal and full of knowledge and bliss, who stays in Vrindavana, and who is the five-word mantra."

Text 18

ata eva puras-krito 'smi tvad-bhaktya ity evoktam iti.

atah evah-therefore; purah-kritah-manifested; asmi-I am; tvat-bhaktya-because of your devotional service; iti-thus; eva-certainly; uktam-spoken; iti-thus.

That Lord Krishna is pleased by devotional activities, and that He appears before the devotees to reciprocate the devotees' love is described in the Vishnu-dharma Purana (already quoted in Text 6):

"O fortunate one, I have now appeared before you because of your great devotion."

Sarva-samvadini Comment

Text 1

trailokya-sammohana-tantra-vacananantaram caivam vyakhyeyam yadi va shri-krishnadinam svayam-bhagavattadikam ananusandhayaiva pralapibhir upasananusarenanyad api kashcin mula-bhuta eva bhagavan tat-tad-rupenopasakebhyo darshanam dadatiti mantavyam, tathapi shruty-adi-prasiddhanam tat-tad-upasana-pravahanam trailokya-sammohana-tantra-of the Trailokya-sammohana Tantra; vacana-the statement; antaram-after; ca-also; evam- in this way; vyakhyeyam-may be explained; yadi-if; va-or; shri-krishna-adinam-forms of the Supreme Lord, beginning with the original form of Shri Krishna; svayam-bhagavata-the status of the Original Personality of Godhead; adikam-beginning with; ananusandhaya-not having considered; eva-certainly; pralapibhih-by those who are talking; upasana-worship; anusarena-by following; anyat-another; api-even; kascit- someone; mula-bhuta-source of everything; eva-certainly; bhagavan-O Supreme Personality of Godhead; tat-tat-rupena-with various forms; upasakesbhyah-to the worshipers; darsanam- audience; dadati-gives; iti-thus; mantavyam-may be considered; tatha api-nevertheless; shruti-in the Sruti-shastra; adi-and other Vedic literatures; prasiddhanam-of those who are famous; tat-tat-various; upasana-worship; pravahanam-of the series.

After reading this quotation from the Trailokya-sammohana Tantra (Text 9), and the other quotations which follow it, some garrulous critics may protest that Shri Krishna is not the Original Personality of Godhead, but some other, lesser deity is the Original Supreme Lord. This conclusion is not held by the Shruti-shastra or the other Vedic literatures, where the supremacy of Shri Krishna is strenuously asserted.

For example, the assembled demigods affirm the supremacy of Lord Krishna in the following words (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.2.31):

Text 2

svayam samuttirya sudustaram dyuman bhavarnavam bhimam adabhra-sauhridah bhavat-padambhoruha-navam atra te nidhaya yatah sad-anugraho bhavan svayam-personally; samuttirya-perfectly crossing; su-dustaram-which is very difficult to cross; dyuman-O Lord, who appear exactly like the sun, illuminating the darkness of this world of ignorance; bhava-arnavam-the ocean of nescience; bhiman-which is extremely fierce; adabhra-sauhridah-devotees who are incessantly friendly to the fallen souls; bhavat-pada-ambhoruha-Your lotus feet; navam-the boat for crossing; atra- in this world; te-they (the Vaishnavas); nidhaya-leaving behind; yatah-on to the ultimate destination, Vaikunöha; sat-anugraha-who are always kind and merciful to the devotees; bhavan-You.

"O Lord, who resemble the shining sun, You are always ready to fulfill the desire of Your devotee, and therefore You are known as a desire tree [vancha-kalpataru]. When acaryas completely take shelter under Your lotus feet in order to cross the fierce ocean of nescience, they leave behind on earth the method by which they cross, and because You are very merciful to Your other devotees, You accept this method to help them."

Text 3

ity anusarenavicchinna-sampradayatvenanadi-siddhatvat anantatvat keshancit tac-caranaravindaika-seva-matra-purusharthanam ye yatha mam prapadyante iti nyayena nitya-tad-ekopalabdhatvac chri-bhagavatah sarvadaiva tat-tad-rupenavasthitir gamya ta eva. ata eva bhavat-padambhoruha-navam atra te nidhaya ity uktam.

iti-thus; anusarena-in accordance with this; avicchinna- unbroken; sampradayatvena-by the principle of the disciplic succession; anadi-from time immemorial; siddhatvat-because of being established; anantatvat-because of being unlimited; kesancit-of some persons; tat-His; carana-feet; aravinda- lotus; eka-exclusive; seva-by service; matra-only; purusha-arthanam-taking as the ultimate goal of life; ye yatha mam prapadyante iti-Bhagavad-gita 4.11; nyanena-by the example; nitya-eternal; tat-Him; eka-only; upalabdhatvat-because of being understood; shri-bhagavatah-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; sarvada-always; eva- certainly; tat-tat-rupena-in various forms; avasthiti- situation; gamyate-is manifest; eva-certainly; atah eva- therefore; bhavat-padambhoruha-navam atra te nidhaya iti uktam- as explained in this verse (10.2.31).

Understanding the definitive conclusion of the unbroken disciplic succession of bona-fide spiritual masters, that Shri Krishna is the unlimited, eternal Personality of Godhead, some fortunate persons make the service of Lord Krishna's lotus feet the only goal of their lives. Shri Krishna appears in this world in many different forms for the benefit of these pure devotees (Bhagavad-gita 4.11). This action of the Lord is described in this verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.2.31 quoted above).

(Here the Sarva-samvadini Commentary ends and the main text of the Sandarbha continues.)

Text 19

alam caivam-vidha-pramana-sangraha-prapancena. yatash cic-chakty-eka-vyanjitaḥ tat-paricchadadinam api tatha nityavasthititvenavirbhava-tirobhavav eva dvitiya-sandarbhā sadhitau stah. sarvathotpatti-nashau tu nisiddhau. tatas tad-avataram, kim uta svayam-bhagavato va tasya kim utataram iti.

alam-what is the need?; ca-also; evam-vidha-of this nature; pramana-of evidence; sangraha-of the collection; prapancena-with the manifestation; yatah-because; cit-shakti-eka-vyanjitanam-manifested by the spiritual potency; tat-His; praicchada-adinam-associates and paraphernalia; api-also; tatha-in the same way; nitya-avasthititvena-with the eternal manifestation; avirbhava-appearance; tirobhavau-and disappearance; eva-certainly; dvitiya-sandarbhā-in the second (Bhagavat-) sandarbha; sadhitau-proven; stah-is; sarvatha- in all respects; utpatti-coming into existence; nashau-ceasing to exist; tu-indeed; nisiddhau-prohibited; tatas-therefore; tat-of the Lord; avataram-of the incarnations; kim uta-what to speak of; svayam-bhagavatah-of the Original Personality of Godhead; va-or; tasya-of Him; kim utataram-what to speak of; iti-thus.

What need is there to present more evidence to prove that Shri Krishna is the eternal Supreme Personality of Godhead? That the eternal Supreme Lord, accompanied by His associates and paraphernalia (who are all manifested from His cit-shakti, spiritual potency) is eternally manifested and that He simply appears and disappears from the sight of the conditioned souls in the material world, has already been clearly proven in the second (Bhagavat-) sandarbha. The Lord's associates are all eternal, and certainly the Original Personality of Godhead, Shri Krishna, is eternal.

Text 20

yatha ca vyakhyatam jagrihe pauruṣam rūpam ity atra tattvavada-gurubhiḥ vyakty-apekṣaya jagrhe. tatha hi tantra-bhagavate aheyam anupadeyam yad-rūpam nityam avyayam sa evapekṣya-rūpanam vyaktim eva janardanam

agrihad vyashrijac ceti rama-krishnadikam tanum paöhyate bhagavan isho mudha-buddhi-vyapekshaya tamasa hy apagudhasya yat-tamah-panam ishituh

etat purusha-rupasya grahaham samudiryate
krishna-ram-adi-rupanam loke vyakti-vyapekshaya. iti.

yatha-just as; ca-also; vyakhyatam-is explained; jagrhe paurusham rupam iti atra; in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.3.1; tattvavada-gurubhih-by Shripada Madhvacarya; vyakti-apekshaya-in relation to manifestation; jaghre-the word "jagrhe" is used; tatha-in the same way; hi-certainly; tantra-bhagavate-in the Tantra-bhagavata; aheyam-never given up; anupadeyam-accepted; yat- whose; rupam-form; nityam-eternal; avyayam-unchanging; sah evah-that same person; apeksya-rupanam-of these forms; vyaktim-manifestation; eva-certainly; janardana-Lord Janardana; agrhat-accepted; vyasrjat-abandoned; ca-also; iti-thus; rama-of Rama; krishna-of Krishna; adikam-beginning with; tanumy-form; pathyate-is read; bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; isah-the Supreme Controller; mudha-budhi-vyapekshaya-by the foolish; tamasa-by ignorance; hi- certainly; apagudhasya-hidden; yat-tamah-panam-to remove that ignorance; isituh-able; etat-this; purusha-rupasya-of the form of the purusha-avatara; grahanam-acceptance; samudirayate-is described; krishna-of Krishna; rama-Rama; adi-beginning with; rupanam-of the forms; loke-in the material world; vyakti-vupaekshaya-in relation to manifestation; iti-thus.

That the forms of Lord Krishna and His plenary expansions are eternal, and not limited to the time of their temporary appearance in the material world, is confirmed in the following verses from Tantra-bhagavata quoted in Shripada Madhvacarya's commentary on Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.3.1:

"It appears that the forms of Lord Krishna, Rama, and the purusha-avatars appear at a certain time, and then again, after a certain time they cease to exist. Actually these forms of the Lord are all eternal and unchanging, and they are the controllers of the ignorance that covers their actual nature and convinces the conditioned souls that the Supreme Lord is born at a certain time, and then again dies at a certain time. The appearance and disappearance of the Lord is only with reference to the material world, for the Lord is eternally manifest in the spiritual world."

Text 21

evam eva prathame dvadashadhyaye vidhuya ity adi padye svamibir api vyakhyatam yatra drishöas tatraivantarhitah na tv anyatra gatah yato vibhuh sarvagatah iti evam-in the same way; prathame-in the First Canto of Shriimad-Bhagavatam; dvadasa-adhyaye-in the Eleventh Chapter; vidhuyah iti adi padye-in the verse beginning "vidhuya"; svamibhih-by Shridhara Svami; api-also; vyakhyatam-is explained; yatra-where; drishöah-seen; tatra-there; antarhitah-dissappeared; na-not; tu-but; anyatra-in another place; gatah-gone; yatah-because; vibhuh-the word "vibhuh"; sarvagatah-means "all-pervading"; iti-thus.

That the Supreme Personality of Godhead is both eternal and all-pervading is described by Shridhara Svami in his commentary on Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.12.11):

"This verse describes how Lord Krishna was manifest before Parikshit, and then again, disappeared from his sight. It is not however, that Lord Krishna was present before King Parikshit, and then He travelled to another place. The Lord is simultaneously present everywhere. Sometimes He is visible, and sometimes not. This is the actual meaning of the word `vibhuh' (all powerful) used in this verse."

Text 22

tatha madhyva-bhashya-pramanita shrutish ca vasudevah sankarshanah pradyumno 'niruddho 'ham matsyah kurmo varaho narasimho vamano ramo ramo ramah buddhah kalkir aham shatadhaham sahasradhaham amito 'ham ananto 'ham naivaite jayante, naite mriyate naisam ajnana-baddho na mukti, sarva hy ete purna ajara amrita paramah paramahandah iti catur-veda-shikshayam.

tatha-in the same way; madhya-bhashya-by the commentary of Shripada Madhvacarya; pramanita-quoted; shrutih-Sruti-mantra; ca-also; vasudevah-Vasudeva; sankarsanah-Sankarsana; pradyumnah-Pradyumna; aniruddhah-Aniruddha; aham-I am; matsyah-Matsya; kurmah-Kurma; varahah-Varaha; narasimhah-Narasimha; vamanah-Vamana; ramah-Parasurama; ramah-Ramacandra; ramah-Balarama; krishnah-Krishna; buddha-Buddha; kalkih-Kalki; aham-I am; satadha-hundred of times; aham- I am sahasradha-thousands of times; aham-I am amitah- without measure; anantah-unending; na-not; eva-certainly; ete-these forms; jayante-are born; na-not; ete-these forms; mriyante-die; na-not; esam-of them; ajnana-of ignorance; bandhah-bondage; na-not; mukti-liberation; sarve-all; eva-certainly; hi-indeed; ete-these forms purnah-perfect and complete; ajarah-free from old-age; amrtah-without death; paramah-transcendental; parama-anandah-full of transcendental bliss; iti-thus; catur-veda-sikshayam-in the Catur-veda-siksha.

That all the forms of the Personality of Godhead are eternal is confirmed by the following passage from the Catur-veda-shiksha, quoted in the commentary of Shripada Madhvacarya:

"The Personality of Godhead said: I appear as Vasudeva, Sankarshana, Pradyumna, Aniruddha, Matsya, Kurma, Varaha, Nrisimha, Vamana, Parashurama, Ramacandra, Balarama, Krishna, Buddha, and Kalki. I appear in hundreds and thousands of forms. All these forms of Mine are unlimited and immeasurable. They are never born, and neither do they ever die. Because they are never bound by the ignorance of material existence, they are always liberated, and therefore the prospect of their becoming liberated at a future time is meaningless. They are perfect, complete, full of transcendental bliss, and always free of old-age and death."

Text 23

tatha ca nrisimha-purane yuge yuge vishnur anadi-murtim asthaya vishvam paripati dushöaha iti. tatha ca nrisimha-tapanyam tad-bhashya-kridbhir vyahyatam etan nrisimha-vigraham nityam iti. shrutish ca seyam ritam satyam param brahma purusham nri-keshara-vigraham iti.

tatha-in the same way; ca-also; nrsimha-purane-in the Nrsimha Purana; yuge yuge-millennium after millenium; vishnuh-Vishnu; anadi-without beginning; murtim-form; asthaya-manifesting; visvam-the material world; paripati-protects; dustaha-the killer of the demons; iti-thus; tatha-in the same way; ca-also; nrsimha-tapanyam-in the Nrsimha-tapani Upanishad; tat-bhasya-krdhbhih-by the commentator; vyakhyatam-explained; etat-this; nrsimha-of Nrsimha; vigraham-form; nityam-is eternal; iti- thus; shrutih-the Sruti-shastra; ca-also; sa iyam-this explanation; rtam-real; satyam-eternal; param-transcendental; brahma-spiritual; purusham-Supreme Person; nr-kesara-half-man half-lion; vigraham-form; iti-thus.

The eternality of the Lord's form is also confirmed in the following quotations from Vedic literature:

"Millenium after millenium Lord Vishnu manifests His eternal form within this material world, killing the demons and protecting the devotees."

-{ }Nrisimha Purana

"The form of the Lord Nrisimha is eternal"

-{ } Commentary on the Nrisimha tapani Upanishad

"The Supreme Personality of Godhead appears in the eternal, transcendental form of Lord Nrisimha."

-{ }Shruti-shastra

Text 24

evam ca brahma-padmottara-khandav api shri-matsyadevadinam prithak-prithag-vaikunöhalokah shruyante. evam eva jaleshu mam rakshatu matsya-murtih iti narayana-varmady-uktam api sangacchate.

evam-in the same way; brahma-the Brahma Purana; padma-uttara-khandau-and in the Uttara-khanda of the Padma Purana; api-also; shri-matsyadeva-adinam-of Lord Matsya and other incarnations of the Lord; prtak prtak-variously; vaikunthalokah-of the spiritual planets; shruyante-the descriptions are heard; evam-in this way; eva-certainly; jalesu-in water; mam- me; rakshatu-may protect; matsya-murtih-Lord Matsya; iti-thus; narayana-varma-adi-beginning with the statemetn of the Narayana-varma prayers; uktam-statement; api-also; sangacchate- confirms.

In the Brahma Purana, the Uttara-khanda of the Padma Purana, and many other Vedic literatures, many verses explain that Lord Matsya and the other transcendental forms of Personality of Godhead are eternally manifested in the spiritual world of Vaikunöha.

For example, it is said in the Narayana-varma prayers:

"May the eternal form of the Lord Matsya protect me when I am in the water."

Text 26

tasmat svayam-bhagavati krishne 'py anyatha-sambhavanam anadi-papa-vikshepa eva hetuh. tad evam abhipretya tan durbuddhih api bodhayitum tasya svopasyatvam pratipadayann aha tasmat-therefore; svayam-bhagavati-in the Original Personality of Godhead; krishne-Lord Krishna; api-also; anyatha- another; sambhavanam-conception; anadi-beginningless; papa- sins; viksepah-purification; eva-certainly; hetuh-the cause; tat-that; evam-in this way; abhipretya-intending; tan-them; durbuddhih-the unintelligent; api-even; bodhayitum-to enlighten; tasya-of Him; sva-upasyatvam-worshipableness; pratipadayam-establishing; aha-said.

From all this evidence we may conclude that the form of Lord Krishna, the Original Personality of Godhead, is eternal. To consider the Lord's form a temporary material manifestation is a grievous sin for the living entities, and to dispel the illusion that is the cause of this sin, and thus enlighten the living entities about the truth that Lord Krishna is the supreme object of worship, Shukadeva Gosvami glorified the Lord in the following words (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 2.4.20):

Text 27

patir gatish candhaka-vrishni-satvatam
prasidatam me bhagavan satam patih

iti. spashöam. shri-shukah.

patih gatish candhaka-vrishni-satvatam prasidatam me bhagavan satam patih iti Shrimad-Bhagavatam (2.4.20)

shriyah patir yajna-patih praja-patir dhiyam patir loka-patir dhara-patih
patir gatish candhaka-vrishni-satvatam
prasidatam me bhagavan satam patih

spashöam-the meaning is clear; shri-sukah-spoken by Sukadeva Gosavami.

"May Lord Shri Krishna, who is the worshipable Lord of all the devotees, the protector and glory of all kings like Andhaka and Vrishni of the Yadu dynasty, the husband of all goddesses of fortune, the director of all sacrifices and therefore the leader of all living entities, the controller of all intelligence, the proprietor of all planets, spiritual and material, and the supreme incarnation on the earth (the supeme all in all), be merciful upon me."*

The meaning of this verse is clear.

Anuccheda 94

tatha deve varshati yajna-viplava-rusha ity-adau prinayann indro-gavam iti spashöam. shri-shukah.

tatha-in the same way; deve varsati yajna-viplava-rusa iti adau prinayan indro gavam iti-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.26.25:

deve varshati yajna-viplava-rusha vajrashma-varshanalaih sidat-pale-pashu-striyatma-sharanam drishövanukampy utsmayan utpatyaika-karena shailam abalo lilocchilindhram yatha bibhrad goshöham apan mahendra-mada-bhit priyan na indro gavam"; spashöam-the meaning is clear; shri-sukah-spoken by Shukadeva Gosvami.

That Shri Krishna is the eternal Personality of Godhead is also confirmed in the following statement of the cowherd residents of Vrindavana (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.26.25):

"Let Krishna, who is so kind, beautiful and merciful, protect us. When angry Indra sent torrents of rain, accompanied by showers of ice blocks and high wind, He immediately took compassion upon us and saved us and our families, cows and valuable possessions by picking up the Govardhana Hill, just as a child picks up a mushroom. He saved us so wonderfully. May He continue to mercifully glance over us and our cows. May we live peacefully under the protection of wonderful Krishna."*

This verse is spoken by Shukadeva Gosvami.

Anuccheda 95

tatha

shri-krishna krishna-sakha vrishny-rshabhavani-dhrug rajanya-vamsha-dahanapavarga-virya govinda gopa-vanita-vraja-bhritya-gitatirtha-shravah shravana-mangala pahi bhrityan

spashöam.shri-sutah.

tatha-in the same way; shri-krishna-O Shri Krishna; krishna-sakha-O friend of Arjuna; vrishni-of descendants of Vrishni; rsabha-O chief; avani-the earth; dhruk-rebellious; rajanya-vamsa- dynasties of the kings; dahana-O annihilator; anapavarga- without deterioration of; virya-prowess; govinda-O proprietor of Goloka-dhama; gopa-vanita-by the gopis; vraja-of Vrajabhumi; bhritya-by Your servants; gita-sung; tritha-sravah- Your glories; sravana-mangala-whose glories are auspicious to hear; pahi-please protect; bhrityan-Your servants.

That Shri Krishna is eternal is also confirmed by the following verse spoken by Suta Gosvami (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 12.11.25):

"O Krishna, O friend of Arjuna, O chief among the descendants of Vrishni, You are the destroyer of those political parties which are disturbing elements on this earth. Your prowess never deteriorates. You are the proprietor of the transcendental abode. The gopis and Your other servants in Vrajabhumi continually chant Your transcendental glories, which are auspicious to hear. O Lord please protect us, who are Your servants."*

Anuccheda 96

Text 1

api ca svayam eva sva-vigraham eva lakshyi-krityaha tada vam paritushoo 'ham amuna vapushanaghe tapasa shraddhaya nityam bhaktya ca hridi bhavitah pradurasam varada-rad yuvayoh kama-ditsaya vriyatam vara ity ukte madrisho vam vritah sutah

api ca-furthermore; svayam-personally; sva-His own; vigraham-form; eva-certainly; lakshyi-krita-revealing; aha- said; tada-then (after the expiry of twelve thousand celestial years); vam-with both of you; paritushah aham-I was very much satisfied; amuna-by this; vapusa-in this form as Krishna; anaghe-O My dear sinless mother; tapasa-by austerity; shraddhaya-by faith; nityam-constantly (engaged); bhaktya-by devotional service; ca-as well as; hridi-within the core of the heart; bhavitah-fixed (in determination); pradurasam-appeared before you (in the same way); vara-da-rat-the best of all who can bestow benedictions; yuvayoh-of both of you; kama-ditsaya-wishing to fulfill the desire; vriyatam-asked you to open your minds; varah-for a benediction; iti ukte-when you were requested in this way; madrishah-exactly like Me; vam-of both of you; vritah-was asked; sutah-as Your son (you wanted a son exactly like Me).

This also confirmed in the following words (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.3.37-38) spoken by Lord Krishna when He revealed His Original form to Vasudeva and Devaki within Kamsa's prison:

"O sinless mother Devaki, after the expiry of twelve thousand celestial years, in which you constantly contemplated Me within the core of your heart with great faith, devotion and austerity, I was very much satisfied with you. Since I am the best of all bestowers of benediction, I appeared in this same form as Krishna to ask you to take from Me the benediction you desired. You then expressed your desire to have a son exactly like Me."*

Text 2

ity upakramya

adrishtvanyatamam loke shilaudarya-gunaih samam aham suto vam abhavam prishnigarbha iti shrutah

iti-thus; upakramya-adrishtva-not finding; anyatamam- anyone else; loke-in this world; shila-audarya-gunaih-with the transcendental qualities of good character and magnanimity; samam-equal to you; aham-I; sutah-the son; vam-of both of you; abhavam-became; prishni-garbha-celebrated born as Prishni; iti-thus; shrutah-I am known.

The Lord further explained (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.3.41-43):

"Since I found no one else as highly elevated as you in simplicity and other qualities of good character, I appeared in this world as Prishnigarbha, or one who is celebrated as having taken birth from Prishni."*

Text 3

tayor vam punar evaham adityam asa kashyapat upendra iti vikhyato vamanatvac ca vamanah

tayoh-of you two, husband and wife; vam-in both of you; punah eva-even again; aham-I Myself; adityam-in the womb of Aditi; asa-appeared; kashyapat-by the semen of Kashyapa Muni; upendrah-by the name Upendra; iti-thus; vikhyatah- celebrated; vamanatvat ca-and because of being dwarf; vamanah-I was known as Vamana.

"In the next millennium, I again appeared from the two of you, who appeared as My mother, Aditi, and My father, Kashyapa. I was known as Upendra, and because of being a dwarf, I was also known as Vamana."*

Text 4

tritiye 'smin bhava 'ham vai tenaiva vapushatha evam jato bhuyas tayor eva satyam me vyahritam sati iti.

tritiye-for the third time; asmin bhava-in this appearance (as Krishna); aham-I Myself; vai-indeed; tena-with the same personality ; eva-in this way; vapusha-by the form; atha-as; vam-of both of you; jatah-born; bhuyah- again; tayoh-of both of you; eva-indeed; satyam-take as truth; me-My; vyahritam-words; sati-O supremely chaste; iti- thus.

"O supremely chaste mother, I, the same personality, have now appeared of you both as your son for the third time. Take My words as the truth."*

Text 5

amuna shri-krishnasya mama pradurbhava-samaye 'tra prakashamahenaitena shri-krishnakhyenaiva. tritiye iti tenaiva purvam varartham pradurbhavitenaiva.

amuna-by this form; shri-krishnasya-of Shri Krishna; mama-My; pradurbhava-of appearance; samaye-at the time; atra-here; prakashamanena-appearing; etena-with this; shri-krishna-akhyena- named Shri-Krishna; tritiye-in the third appearance; iti-thus; tena-with the same personality; eva-in the same way; purvam- formerly; vara-benediction; artham-for the purpose of fulfilling; pradurbhavitena-manifested; eva-certainly.

In this last verse the Supreme Personality of Godhead explains that He has now appeared in His original form as Lord Krishna before Vasudeva and Devaki in order to fulfill the benediction formerly granted to them. This is the third time He had appeared as their son.

Text 6

ata eva prishnigarbhaditvenaiva vapusha ity uktatvat, na tu tadanim adhunaiva svayam eva babhuva, kintv amshenaiveti gamyate.

atah eva-therefore; prishnigarbha-aditvena-as the origin of Lord Prishnigarbha and other expansions of Godhead; eva-certainly; vapusa-by using the word "vapusa"; iti-thus; nukatatvat-because of speaking; na-not; tu-but; tadanim-then; adhuna-now; eva- certainly; svayam-personally; eva-certainly; babhuva-has appeared; kintu-but; amsena-as an expansion; eva-certainly; iti-thus; gamyate-is intended.

In these verses the word "vapusha" (personally) is used by the Lord to describe His appearance as Krishna, and it is not used to describe His appearance as Lord Vamana or Lord Prishnigarbha. From this we may conclude that Lord Vamana and Lord Prishnigarbha are immediate expansions of the Original Godhead, and Lord Krishna is the Original Form of the Personality of Godhead, the origin of Lord Prishnigarbha, Vamana, and all other incarnations of Godhead.

Text 7

prishnigarbhas tu te buddhim atmmanam bhagavan parah ity atrapy etad eva gir-devya sucitam asti.

prishnigarbhah-Lord Prishnigarbha; tu-indeed; te-your; buddhim-intelligence; atmanam-your soul; bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; parah-transcendental; iti-thus; atra- in these words; api-also; etat-this; eva-certainly; gih-devya-by Sarasvati, the goddess of learning; sucitam-indicated; asti-is.

That Lord Prishnigarbha is an expansion of Godhead, and not the Original Form of the Godhead is described in the following eloquent prayer, which clearly distinguishes Lord Prishnigarbha from the original Personality of Godhead (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.6.25):

"May Lord Prishnigarbha protect your intelligence, and may the Supreme Personality of Godhead protect your soul."*

Text 8

ata eva tritiye eva bhava tat-sadrisha-prapti lakshana-varasya parama-purnatvapekshaya 'tatraiva satyam me vyahritam ity uktam catur-bhujatvam cedam rupam shri-krishna eva krishnavatarotsava-ity-adibhis tasyatyanta-prasiddheh. shri-bhagavan shri-devaki-devim.

atah eva-therefore; trtiye-for the third time; eva- certainly; bhava-in the appearance; tat-sadrsa-like Himself; suta-son; prapti-attainment; lakshana-characterized; varasya- of the benediction; parama-purnatva-supreme perfection and completeness; apeksaya-in relation to; tatra-there; eva- certainly; satyam-take as truth; me-My; vyahrtam-words; iti- thus; uktam-spoken; catuh-bhujatvam-status as the four-handed Lord Vishnu; ca-also; idam-this; rupam-form; shri-krishnah-Shri Krishna; eva-certainly; krishna-avatara-utsava-iti-adibhih-by Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.3.11 sa vismayotphulla-vilocano harim sutam vilokyanakadundubhis tada krishnavatarotsava-sambhramo 'sprishan muda dvijebhyo 'yutam apluto gavam tasya-of Him; atyanta-great; prasiddheh-because of fame; shri-bhagavan-spoken by the Supreme Personality of Godhead; shri-devaki-devim-to Devaki-devi.

When the Supreme Lord appeared for the third time as the son of Vasudeva and Devaki, He appeared in His complete original form, and thus fulfilled His promise that He would appear as the son of Devaki and Vasudeva. Because the Lord's promise was thus fulfilled, He said "satyam me vyahrtam" (take My words as truth).

At this point someone may doubt that the two-handed form of Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead. After all, in these verses Krishna is speaking to Vasudeva and Devaki in His four-armed Vishnu-form. The Lord first appeared to Vasudeva and Devaki in this four-armed form. Is not the four-armed form of Vishnu the original Godhead, and Shri Krishna only a later and temporary expansion?

Actually the four-armed form of the Personality of Godhead who appeared as the son of Vasudeva and Devaki was not Lord Vishnu, but a four-handed manifestation of Lord Krishna. This is specifically described in the following verses from Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.3.11):

"When Vasudeva saw his extraordinary son, four-handed Lord Krishna (krishnavatara), his eyes were struck with wonder. In transcendental jubilation, he mentally collected ten thousand cows and distributed them among the brahmanas as a transcendental festival."*

Anuccheda 97

evam ca devakyam deva-rupinyam ity adi. spashöam. shri-shukah.

evam-in the same way; ca-also; devakyam deva-rupinam iti adi-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.3.8:

nishithe tama-udbhute jayamane janardane
devakyam deva-rupinyam
vishnu sarva-guha-shayah avirasid yatha pracyam
dishindur iva pushkalah";

spashöam-the meaning is clear; shri-sukah-spoken by Sukadeva Gosvami.

The same son of Devaki described as Krishna (krishnavatara) in this verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.3.11) is described as Vishnu in the following verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.3.8):

"Then the Supreme Personality of Godhead, Vishnu, who is situated in the core of everyone's heart, appeared from the heart of Devaki in the dense darkness of night, like the full moon rising on the eastern horizon, because Devaki was of the same category as Shri Krishna."*

Anuccheda 98

Text 1

nanu satyam tasya catur-bhujakara-rupasya tadrishatvam, kintu rupam cedam paurusham dhyana-dhishnyam ma pratyaksham mamsa-drisham krishishöhah nanu-is it not; satyam-truth; tasya-His; catuh-bhuja-akara-rupasya-of the four handed-form; tadsatvam-in this way; kintu-but; rupam-in Your Vishnu form; ca-also; idam-this; paurusham-as the Supreme Personality of Godhead; dhyana-dhishnyam-who is appreciated by meditation; ma-not; pratyaksham-directly visible; mamsa-drisham-to those who see with their material eyes; krishishöhah-please be.

Someone may raise the following objection:

Is not this four-handed form of Vishnu the original, eternal form of the Personality of Godhead, and the two-handed form of Shri Krishna only a temporary expansion from that four-handed form? This is certainly confirmed by these words spoken by Devaki after the Lord appeared as her son in His four-armed Vishnu-form (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.3.28):

"My Lord, because You dispel all the fear of Your devotees, I request You to save us and give us protection from the terrible fear of Kamsa. Your form as Vishnu, the Supreme Personality of Godhead, is appreciated by yogis in meditation. Please make this form invisible to those who see with material eyes."*

Text 2

matr-vijnapananusharena

etat vam darshitam rupam prag-janma-smaranaya me
nanyatha mad-bhavam jnanam
martya-lingena jayate

etat-this form of Vishnu; vam-unto both of you; darshitam-has been shown; rupam-My form as the Supreme Personality of Godhead with four hands; prak-janma-of My previous appearances; smaranaya-just to remind You; me-My; na-not; anyatha-otherwise; mat-bhavam-Vishnu's appearance; jnanam-this transcendental knowledge; martya-lingena-by taking birth like a human child; jayate-does arise; matri-mother; vijnapana-anusarena-by the instruction.

That Lord Vishnu is the original Personality of Godhead is also confirmed in the following words spoken by the Lord to mother Devaki (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.3.44):

"I have shown you this form of Vishnu just to remind you of My previous births. Otherwise, if I appeared like an ordinary human child, you would not believe that the Personality of Godhead, Vishnu, has indeed appeared."*

Text 3

iti pratyuttaryya

ity uktvashid dharis tushnim bhagavan atma-mayaya
pitroh sampashyatoḥ sadyo babhuva prakritāḥ shishuḥ. ity ukta-disha.

iti-thus; pratyuttaryya-responding; iti-uktva-after instructing in this way; asit-remained; harih-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; tushnim-silent; bhagavan-Lord Vishnu, the Supreme Personality of Godhead; atma-mayaya-by acting in His own spiritual energy; pitroh sampashyatoḥ-while His father and mother were factually seeing Him; sadyah- immediately; babhuva-He became; prakritāḥ-like an ordinary human being; shishuḥ-a child; iti-thus; ukta-spoken; disha- by the direction.

By the following verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.3.46) we may also see that Lord Vishnu is the original Personality of Godhead, and Lord Krishna is expanded from Him:

"After thus instructing His father and mother, the Supreme Personality of Godhead remained silent. In their presence, by His internal energy, He then transformed Himself into a small human child."*

Text 4

yan-manushakara-rupam svi-kritavan,tatra sandigdham iva bhati. atra ca bhavatu va harir api tatyaja akritim tryadhishah iti, tyakshyan deham iti ca tantra-bhagavatanusarentardhapanarthatvad asahayam.

yat-which; manusa-human; akara-rupam-form; svi-kritavan- accepted; tatra-there; sandigdham-materially influenced; iva- appearing as if; bhati-manifested; atra-in this matter; ca- also; bhavatu-may be; va-or; harih-the Personality of Godhead; api-also; tatyaje-abandoned; akritim-the form of Krishna; tryadhisah-the Lord of the three worlds; iti-thus; tyakshyan- giving up; deham-His form; iti-thus; ca-also; tantra-bhagavata-of the passage from Tantra-bhagavata; anusarena-in accordance; antardhapanadissappearance; arthatvat-because of the significance; asahayam-alone.

From these verse of Shrimad-Bhagavatam it appears that transcendental Lord Vishnu accepted the form of Krishna, a temporary and material (prakritah shishuh) form. The argument that the form of Krishna is temporary and material is supported by the following statements from Shrimad-Bhagavatam:

harir api tatyaja akritim tryadhishah

"After His pastimes on earth were completed, the Lord gave up the form of Krishna and assumed His original form."

-{ }3.4.28

tyakshyan deham

"The Supreme Lord then gave up the form of Krishna."

-{ }3.4.29

Text 5

yayaharad bhuvo bharam
tam tanum vijahav ajah
kanöakam kanöakeneva
dvayam capishituh saman

yaya-that by which; aharat-took away; bhuvah-of the world; bharam-burden; tam-that; tanum-body; vijahau- relinquished; ajah-the unborn; kanöakam-thorn; kanöakena- by the thorn; iva-like that; dvayam-both; ca-also; api- although; ishituh-controlling; samam-equal.

That the Original Personality of Godhead is Lord Vishnu, who assumess the temporary material form of Krishna, is substantiated in the following verses of Shrimad Bhagavatam (1.15.34-35)

"The supreme unborn Lord caused the members of the Yadu dynasty to relinquish their bodies, and thus He relieved the burden of the world. This action was like picking out a thorn with a thorn, though both are the same to the controller.*

Text 6

yatha matsyadi-rupani
dhatte jahyad naöah
bhu-bharah kshapito yena
jahau tac ca kalevaram"

iti tu pariposhakam.

yatha-as much as; matsya-adi-incarnation as a fish, etc.; rupani-forms; dhatte-eternally accepts; jahyat-apparently relinquishes; yatha-exactly like; naöah-magician; bhu-bharah-burden of the world; kshapitah-relieved; yena- by which; jahau-let go; tat-that; ca-also; kalevaram-body; iti-thus; tu-indeed; pariposhakam-substantiating.

"The Supreme Lord relinquished the body which He manifested to diminish the burden of the earth. Just like a magician, He relinquishes one body to accept different ones, like the fish incarnation and others."*

Text 7

etat eva shri-vasudeva-vacane 'pi labhyate

suti-grihe nanu jagada bhavan ajo nau sanjajna ity anuyugam nija-dharma-guptyai nana-tanur gagana-vad vidadhaj jahasi ko veda bhumna urugaya vibhuti-mayam ity atra etat-this; eva-certainly; shri-vasudeva-of Maharaja Vasudeva; vacane-in the statement; labhyate-is attained; suti-grhe-in the maternity room; nanu-is it not?; jagada-spoke; bhavan-Your Lordship; ajah-unborn; nau-to us; sanjajne-take birth; iti-thus; anuyugam-in every yuga; nija-Your own; dharma-principles of religion; guptyai-in order to protect; nana-various; tanuh-with forms; gaganavat-like the sky; vidadhat-accepting; jahasi-you give up; kah-who? veda-knows; bhumna-Lord; urugaya-glorified by devotees; vibhuti-mayam- glories and opulence; iti-thus; atra-here.

That the Supreme Personality of Godhead accepts the temporary and material form of Krishna may also be substantiated by quoting the following prayer spoken to Krishna by Maharaja Vasudeva (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.85.20):

"My dear Lord, at the very moment when You first appeared in Kamsa's prison house, I was informed that You were the Supreme Personality of Godhead and that You descended for the protection of the principles of religion as well as the destruction of the unfaithful. Although unborn, You descend in every millenium to execute Your mission. My dear Lord, as in the sky there are many forms appearing and disappearing, so You also appear and disappear in many forms. Who, therefore, can understand Your pastimes or the mystery of Your appearance and disappearance? Our only business should be to glorify Your supreme greatness."*

Text 8

atrocyate tat-tad-vacanam anyarthatvena drishyam iti. ekasminn eva tasmin shri-vigrahe kadacic catur-bhujatvasya kad acid dvi-bhujatvasya ca prakasha-shravanenavisheshapatad bhu-bhara-kshapane dvayor api samanyat. suti-grihe ity-adi-vakasyasya catur-bhujavishayatvac ca. kim ca yair vidvad-anubhava-sevita-shabdasiddhair nityatvadibhir dharmaih shri-vigrahasya parama-tattvakaratvam sadhitam. te prayasho narakaram adhikrityaiva hy udahriyante sma dvitiya-sandarbhe. tathatraiva copasakeshu sakshat-karadi lingena siddha-nirdeshena ca tad-akarasypa nitya-siddhatvam dridhi-kritam. udaharishyate ca nityam eva mam keshavo gadaya pratar avyad govinda asangatvam atta-venuh iti. sampraty anyad api tatrodahriyate.

atra-in this matter; ucyate-it is said; tat-tat-various; vacanam-statements; anyarthatvena-with a different interpretation; drishyam-may be seen; iti-thus; ekasmin-ekasmin- in one; eva-certainly; tasmin-in this; shri-vigrahe-in the form of the Lord; kadacit-sometimes; catur-bhujatvasya-of the nature of being four-handed; kadacit-sometimes; dvi-bhujatvasya-of the nature of being two-handed; ca-also; prakasha-manifestation; sravanena-by hearing; avisesapatat-because of non-difference; bhu-of the earth; bhara-the burden; kshapane-in the matter of removing; dvayoh-of the two; api-also; samanyat- because of equality; suti-grhe-iti-adi-vakyasya-of this verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.85.20) beginning with the words "suti-grhe"; catur-bhuj-the four-armed form; visyativat-because of being in relation; ca-also; kim ca-furthermore; yai-by which; vidvat- of the learned devotees; anubhava-sevita-directly experienced; sabda-by sound; siddhaih-conclusively proven; nityatva-adibhih-beginning with eternity; dharmaih-with attributes; shri-vigrahasya-of the form of the Personality of Godhead; parama-tattva-supreme truth; akaratvam-the state of having form; sadhitam-is demonstrated; te-they; prayasah-generally; nara-akaram-the human-like form; adhikritya-with reference to; eva- certainly; hi-indeed; udahriyante-sma-were described; dvitiya-sandarbh-in the Second (bhagavat-) sandarbha; tatha-in the same way; atra-here; eva-certainly; ca-also; upasakesu-among the worshipers; sakshat-kara-adi-beginning with direct manifestation; lingena-characterized by; siddha-nirdesena-by perfect instruction; ca-also; tat-His; akarasya-of the form; api-also; nitya-siddhatvam-eternal manifestation; drdhi-kritam- established; udaharisyate-is described; ca-also; nityam- eternal; eva-certainly; mam-me; kesava-Lord Kesava; gadaya- by His club; pratah-in the morning hours avyat-may He protect; govindah-Lord Govinda; asangatvam-during the second part of the day; atta-venuh-holding His flute; iti-thus; samprati-at present; anyat-otherwise; api-even; tatra-there; udahriyate- is described.

Although these verses seem to support the view that the Supreme Godhead assumes various forms, and all these forms (including the form of Krishna) are temporary, when properly understood these verses do not at all support such a view. The actual fact is that the Supreme Personality of Godhead has a form which may sometimes manifest four-hands, and then again appear as two-handed. When the Lord appear on this earth, both of these four-handed and two-handed features appeared equally powerful in the matter of killing the demons and removing the burden of the earth. If one accepts this verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.85.20, quoted in the previous text) to mean that the form of Krishna is a temporary manifestation, then one must accept that the four-handed form of Lord Vishnu is also a temporary manifestation, for both two-handed and four-handed forms are clearly described to be equally powerful. This is not an acceptable conclusion, for the four-handed form of Lord Vishnu is described as eternal throughout all the Vedic literatures.

The revelation of the Vedic literatures is the most reliable source of knowledge, and throughout the Vedic literatures the forms of the Lord, and especially the form of Shri Krishna, are described as eternal. This scriptural evidence has been elaborately presented in the second (Bhagavat) sandarbha, and therefore we will not repeat the evidence previously presented, evidence that described the direct appearance of Lord Krishna before His devotees and proved the eternity of the form of Shri Krishna.

For example, the following verse, spoken by Vishvarupa to Maharaja Indra long before Lord Krishna appeared in the material world, and clearly describing the form of Lord Krishna, may be taken as conclusive scriptural evidence for the eternity of the form of Krishna:

"May Lord Keshava protect me with His club in the first portion of the day, and may Lord Govinda, who is always engaged in playing His flute, protect me in the second portion of the day."*

Text 9

kamso batadyakrita me' ty-anugraham drakshye 'nghri-padmam prahito 'muna hareh kritavatarasya duratyayam tamah purve 'taran yan-nakha-mandala-tvisha kamsah-Kamsa; bata-certainly; akrita-has performed; me-to me; ati-a great; anugraham-mercy;

draksye-I shall see; anghri-padmam-the lotus feet; prahitah-sent; amuna-by him; hareh-of Lord Hari; krita-avatarasya-incarnated; duratyayam-difficult to overcome; tamah-darkness of material existence; purve-formerly; ataran-transcendental; yat-of whom; nakha-mandala-of the nails; tvisha-by the effulgence.

The following verses (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.38.7-8), which describe the worship of Lord Krishna in ancient times, are further evidence for the eternity of the form of Shri Krishna:

"Akrura reflected: I am very much favored by Kamsa, who is sending me to bring Krishna and Balarama, and thus enabling me to see the Lord. Formerly great sages and saintly persons became liberated from the material world simply by seeing the shining nails of the lotus feet of Krishna.*

Text 10

yad arcitam brahma-bhavadibhih suraih shriya ca devya munibhih sa-satvataih go-caranayanucaraish carad vane yad gopikanam kuca-kunkumankitam yat-which; arcitam-are worshiped; brahma-by Brahma; bhava-Siva; adibhih-beginning with; suraih-by the demogods; shriya-by Laksmi; ca-and; devya-the goddess; munibhih-by the sages; sa-satvataih-with the devotees; go-the cows; caranaya- for herding; anucaraih-with His associates; carat-wandering; vane-in the forest; yat-which; gopikanam-of the gopis; kuca- of the breasts; kunkuma-by the kunkuma powder; ankitam-marked.

"I shall soon see Lord Krishna's lotus feet, which are worshiped by great demigods like Brahma, Narada, and Lord Shiva, which traverse the ground of Vrindavana while herding the cows with the gopas, and which touch the breasts of the gopis, covered with tinges of kunkuma."*

Text 12

atra purve-ity-adi-dyotitam go-caranaya-ity-adi labdhasya sphuöam shri-narakasyaiva nityavasthayitvam labhayate, shrinad-akrurah.

atra-in these verses; purve-iti-adi-dyotitam-demonstrated by the word "purve(formerly)"; go-caranaya-iti-adi-labdhasya- described as "go-caranaya(herding the cows); sphutam-clearly; shri-nara-akarasya-with a human-like form; eva-certainly; nitya-avasthayitvam-eternally; labhayate-is demonstrated; shrinad-akrurah-spoken by Akura.

In these verses the words "purve" (formerly great sages and saintly persons became liberated from the material world simply by seeing the shining nails of the lotus feet of Krishna), and "go-caranaya" (I shall soon see Lord Krishna's lotus feet, which are worshiped by great demigods like Brahma, Narada, and Lord Shiva, and which traverse the ground of Vrindavana while herding the cows with the gopas) clearly indicate the eternity of the form of Lord Krishna.

Text 1

yatha

ya vai shriyarcitam ajadibhir apta-kamair yogeshvarair api sadatmani rasa-goshöhyam krishnasya tad bhagavatash caranaravindam nyastam staneshu vijahuh parirabhya tapam yatha-just as; yah-who; vai-certainly; shriya-by the goddess of fortune; arcitam-worshiped; aja-by Brahma; adibhih-and others; apta-kamaih-whose desires are fulfilled; yoga-isvaraih-by the masters of yoga; api-also; sada-continuously; atmani-in the heart; rasa-gosthyam-in the arena of the rasa dance; krishnasya-of Lord Krishna; tat-that; bhagavatah-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; carana-feet; aravindam-lotus; nyastam-placed; stanesu-on the breasts; vijahuh-gave up; parirabhya-embracing; tapam-distress.

The eternality of the form of Shri Krishna is described in the same way in the following verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.47,62):

"The gopis relieved themselves of all kinds of material contamination by placing on their high, beautiful breasts the lotus feet of Krishna, which are not only eternally worshiped by the goddess of fortune, but by such exalted demigods as Brahma and Lord Shiva, and which are eternally meditated upon by great yogis within their hearts."*

Text 2

sada bhuta-vartamana-bhavishyat-kaleshu shry-adinam sarvadavasthayitvena prasiddheh, sada-ity-asya tathaiva hy artha-pratitih, sankoca-vrittau kashöatapatteh, shri-bhagavati tadrshatva-bhavabhavac ca.

sada-the word "sada(continuously)"; bhuta-past; vartamana-present; bhavishyat-kalesu-and in the future; shry-adinam-of Lakshmi-devi and the other demigods; sarvada-eternal; avasthayitvena-by existence; prasiddheh-because of fame; sada-ity-asya-of the word "sada"; tatha-in that way; hi-certainly; artha-pratitih-the meaning; sankoca-vrittau-in a more limited interpretation; kastata-apatteh-because of accepting an indefensible interpretation; shri-bhagavati-in the Supreme Personality of Godhead; tvadrsatva-in the state of being in this way; bhava-existence; abhavat-because of the non-existence; ca-also.

In this verse the word "sada" (continuously) means that Lakshmi and others worship Krishna eternally in all phases of time: past, present, and future. In other words: because the demigods eternally worship Lord Krishna, therefore Lord Krishna must be eternal.

Someone may say that the form of Krishna is temporarily manifested, and during the time of His manifestation the demigods continuously worship Him. This argument is simply jugglery of words to create a different meaning out of the clear statement of this verse. We do not take it very seriously, for it contradicts the Vedic description of the eternal nature of the Personality of Godhead.

Text 3

tatha ca shrutau tam ekam govindam sac-cid-ananda-vigraham panca-padam vrindavana-sura-bhuruha-talasinam satatam samarud-gane 'ham paramaya stutya toshayami. shrimat-uddhavah.

tatha-in the same way; ca-also; shrutau-in the Gopala tapani Upanishad (1.37); tam-Him; ekam-alone; govindam-Lord Govinda; sat-eternal; cit-full of knowledge; ananda-and bliss; vigraham-whose form; panca-padam-this mantra consisting of five words; vrindavana-in Vrindavana; sura-bhuruha-tala-under a desire tree; asinam-seated; satatam-continually; sa-accompanied by; marut-ganah-the demigods; aham-I; paramasya-with eloquent; stutya-prayers; tosayami-I please; shrimat-uddhavah-spoken by Uddhava.

The eternality of the form of Shri Krishna is described in many Vedic literatures. For example, in the Gopala-tapani Upanishad Lord Brahma (1.38) explains:

"With eloquent prayers I and the Maruts please Lord Govinda, whose form is eternal and full of knowledge and bliss, who stays in Vrindavana, and who is this five-word mantra."

Anuccheda 100

evam ca

yat-pada-pamsur bahu-janma-kricchato dhritatmabhir yogibhir apy alabhyah sa eva yad-drig-vishayah svayam sthitah kim varnyate dishöam ato vrajaukasam.

atra svayam ity anena badham evanyatha-pratitir durdhiyam nirasta. shri-shukah.

evam-in the same way; ca-also; yat-whose; pada-pamsuh-dust of the lotus feet; bahu-janma-in many births kricchratah-from undergoing severe austerities and penances as a way of practicing yoga, meditation, etc.; dhrita-atmabhih-by persons able to control the mind; yogibhih-by such yogis (jnana-yogis, raja-yogis, dhyana-yogis, etc.); api- indeed; alabhyah-cannot be achieved; sah-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; eva-indeed; yat-drik-vishayah-has become the object of direct vision, face to face; svayam- personally; sthitah-present in front of them; kim-what; varnyate-can be described; dishöam-about the fortune; atah-therefore; vraja-okasam-of the inhabitants of Vrajabhumi, Vrindavana; atra-in this verse; svayam iti-anena-by the word "svayam (personally)"; badham-affirmed; eva-certainly; anyatha-the other; pratitih-explanation; durdhiyam-of the faulty logicians; nirasta-is rejected; shri-sukah-spoken by Sukadeva Gosvami.

The eternality of the form of Shri Krishna is also confirmed by Shukadeva Gosvami in the following verse from Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.12.12):

"Yogis may undergo severe austerities and penances for many births by practicing yama, niyama, asana and pranayama, none of which are easily performed. Yet in due course of time, when these yogis attain the perfection of controlling the mind, they will still be unable to taste even a particle of dust from the lotus feet of the Supreme Personality of Godhead. What then can we describe about the great fortune of the inhabitants of Vrajabhumi, Vrindavana, with whom the Supreme Personality of Godhead personally lived and who saw the Lord face to face?"*

In this verse the word "svayam" (personally) indicates that Shri Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead. For this reason it should be accepted that His form is eternal, and not simply manifested for a short time to serve a particular purpose.

Anuccheda 101

TYext 1

ata eva svabhava-siddhatvam purnaishvaryady-ashrayatvam ca gopyas tapah kim acaram yad amushya rupam lavanya-saram asamordhvam ananya-siddham drigbhih pibanty anusavabhinavam durapam ekanta-dhama yashasah shriya aishvarasya ananya-siddham anyena tat siddham iti na, kintu svabhavikam evety-arthah. anyatrasiddham iti tu vyakhya. pishöa-peshanam. asamordhvam iti by uktam eva. mathura-pura-striyah parasparam.

atah eva-therefore; svabhava-by nature; siddhatvam- perfection; purna-of complete; aisvarya-power and opulence; adi-beginning with; asrayatvam-as the abode; ca-also; gopyah-the gopis; tapah-austerities; kim-what; acaram-performed; yat-from which; amushya-of such a one (Lord Krishna); r-upam- the form; lavanya-saram-the essence of loveliness; asama-urdhvam-not paralleled or surpassed; ananya-siddham-not perfected by any other ornament (self-perfect); drigbhih-by the eyes; pibanti-they drink; anusava-abhinavam-constantly new; durapam-difficult to obtain; ekanta-dhama-the only abode; yashasah-of fame; shriyah-of beauty; aishvarasya-opulence; ananya-siddham-the word "ananya-siddham (self-perfect)"; anyena-by another; tat-therefore; siddham-perfected; iti-thus; na- not; kintu-but; svabhavikam-naturally; eva-certainly; iti- thus; arthah-the meaning; anyatra-asiddham-with imperfections; iti-thus; tu-but; vyakhya-interpretation; pista-pesanam-a waste of words; asama-urdhvam-by the word "asamordhvam (not paralleled or surpassed)"; iti-thus; hi-certainly; uktam-spoken; eva- certainly; mathura-pura-striyah-spoken by the women of Mathura; parasparam-among themselves.

That Shri Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead, self-perfect, and full of all opulences is confirmed in the following words spoken by the women of Mathura among themselves (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.44,14):

"What austerities must the gopis have performed? With their eyes they always drink the nectar of the face of Lord Krishna, which is the essence of loveliness and is not to be equaled or surpassed. That loveliness is the only abode of beauty, fame and opulence. It is self-perfect, ever fresh and extremely rare."*

The word "ananya-siddham" (self-perfect) in this verse indicates the Shri Krishna is perfect by nature. He does not require anyone else to award Him perfection. If someone wants to divide this word "an-anyasiddham" (without other perfections), his interpretation is useless, for it is contradicted in this very verse by the word "asamordhvam" (not equalled or surpassed).

Text 1

atha vibhutvam na cantar na bahir yasya-ity adau. prakrita-vastv-atiriktatvam tvak-smashru-kesha-nakha-roma-pinaddham-ity-adau spashöam.

atha-now; vibhutvam-all-pervasiveness; na ca antah na bahih yasya iti adau-in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.9.13:

na cantar na bahir yasya na purvam napi caparam purvaparam bahish cantar jagato yo jagac yah

tam matvatmajam avyaktam martya-lingam adhokshajam gopikolukhale damna babandha prakritam yatha prakrita-vastu-matter; atiriktatvam-superiority; tvak-smashru-kesa-nakha-roma-pinaddham iti-adau-in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.60.45):

tvak-smashru-roma-nakha-kesha-pinnadham antar mamsasthi-rakta-krimi-viö-kapha-vitta-vatam jivac-chavam bhajati kanta-matir vimudha ya te padabja-makarandam ajighrati shri spashöam-the meaning is clear.

That Shri Krishna is all-pervading is confirmed in Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.9.13):

"Lord Krishna, the Supreme Personality of Godhead, has no beginning and no end, no exterior and no interior, no front and no rear. In other words, He is all-pervading. Because He is not under the influence of the element of time, for Him there is no difference between past, present and future; He exists in His own transcendental form at all times. Being absolute, beyond relativity, He is free from distinctions between cause and effect, although He is the cause and effect of everything. That unmanifested person, who is beyond the perception of the senses, had now appeared as a human child, and mother Yashoda, considering Him her own ordinary child, bound Him to the wooden mortar with a rope."*

That the form of Shri Krishna is not material is confirmed in the following words spoken by Rukmini-devi to Lord Krishna (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.60.45):

"A man within this material is just a dead body. In fact, superficially, the living entity is covered by this body, which is nothing but a bag of skin decorated with beards and moustaches, hairs on the body, nails on the fingers and hairs on the head. Within this decorated bag there are bunches of muscles, bundles of bones, and pools of blood, always mixed up with stool, urine, mucus, bile, and polluted air, and enjoyed by different kinds of insects and germs. A foolish woman accepts such a dead body as her husband and, in sheer misunderstanding, loves him as her dear companion. This only possible because such a woman has never tasted the ever-blissful flavor of Your lotus feet."*

The meaning of this verse is clear.

Text 2

sva-prakasha-lakshanatvam

asyapi deva vapusho mad-anugrahasya svecchamayasya na tu bhutamayasya ko 'pi neshe mahi tv avasitum manasantarena sakshat tavaiva kim utatma-sukhanubhuteh

sva-prakasha-form; lakshanatvam-the characteristic; asya-of this; api-indeed; deva-O my Lord; vapushah-this form which appears just like a small child; mat-anugrahasya-merciful to me; sva-icchamayasya-which appears to fulfill the desires of the devotees; na-not; tu-but; bhutamayasya-composed of material elements; kah-Brahma; api-although I am; na-not; ishe-I am able; mahi-the transcendental potencies; tu-indeed; avasitum- to ascertain; manasa-by my mind; antarena-within; sakshat- directly; tava-Your; eva-certainly; kim uta-and what to speak of; atma-sukha-anubhuteh-the happiness You experience in Your transcendental pastimes.

That Krishna's form is spiritual and not composed of material elements is confirmed in the following prayer spoken by Lord Brahma (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.14.2):

"My dear Lord Krishna, people may say that I am the master of all Vedic knowledge, and I am supposed to be the creator of this universe, but it has been proved now that I cannot understand Your personality, even though You are present before me just like a child. You are playing with Your boyfriends, calves and cows, which might imply that You do not even have sufficient education. You are appearing just like a village boy, carrying Your food in Your hand and searching for Your calves. And yet there is so much difference between Your body and mine that I cannot estimate the potency of Your body. Your body is not material."*

Text 3

asya naumidya te ity-adina varnita-lakshanasya shriman-narakarasya tava samprati balaka-vatsadyamshair darshiteshv ekam api deva-rupam catur-bhujakaram yad vapus tasyapi. evam ca sati sakshad etad-rupasyamshinas tava kim uta vapushah visheshanam mad-anugrahasya ity adi, mamanugraho yasmat tasya tad-darshanenaiva bhavan-mahima-jnanat. katham-bhutasya tava atma-sukhanubhuteh. atmana svenaiva na tv anyena sukhasyanubhutir anubhavo yasya tasyananya-vedyanandasyety arthah. brahma shri-bhagavantam.

asya-of this; naumi idya te iti adina-in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.14.1:

naumidya te 'bhra-vapushe tadid-ambaraya gunjavatamsa-paripiccha-lasan-mukhaya vanya-sraje kavala-vetra-vishana-venulakshma-shriye mridu-pade pashupangajaya

varnita-described; lakshanasya-characteristics; shrimat-nara-akarasya-of the Personality of Godhead, appearing in a human-like form; tava-of You; samprati-at the present time; balaka-boys; vatsa-calves; adi-beginning with; amsaih- expansions; darsitesu-revealed; ekam-one; api-even; deva-of the Personality of Godhead; rupam-form; catuh-bhuja-with four arms; akaram-form; yat-which; vapuh-form; tasya-of Him; api- also; evam-in the same way; ca-also; sati-being so; sakshat- directly; etat-rupasya-of this form; amsinah-the origin of the expansions; tava-of You; kim uta-what to speak?; vapusah- of the form; visesanam-attribute; mat-to me; anugrahasya- merciful; iti-adi-thus beginning; mama-to me; anugraha-merciful; yasmat-from whom; tasya-of Him; tat-of that darsanena-by the sight; eva-certainly; bhavat-of Your Lordship; mahima-glories; jnanat-because of knowing; katham-bhutasya-what is He like?; tava-of You; sukha-of transcendental happiness; anubhuteh-experiencing; atmana-by His self; svena-own; na-not; tu-but; anyena-by any other source; sukhasya-of happiness; anubhutih-experience; anubhavah- experience; yasya-of whom; tasya-of Him; ananya-not by another; vedya-knowable; anandasya-bliss; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; brahma-spoken by Lord Brahma; bhagavantam-to the Supreme Personality of Godhead.

The form of Shri Krishna is described in the following prayer spoken by Lord Brahma (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.14.1):

"My dear Lord, You are the only worshipful Supreme Lord, Personality of Godhead; therefore I am offering my humble obeisances and prayers just to please You. Your bodily features are of the color of clouds filled with water. You are glittering with a silver electric aura emanating from Your yellow garments.

"Let me offer my respectful repeated obeisances unto the son of Maharaja Nanda who is standing before me with conchshell, earrings, and peacock feather on His head. His face is beautiful; He is wearing a helmet, garlanded by forest flowers, and He stands with a morsel of food in His hand. He is decorated with cane and bugle, and He carries a buffalo horn and flute. He stands before me with small lotus feet."*

Shortly before speaking this verse, Brahma had directly seen that all the cowherd boys and calves were expansions of Krishna, and they all had manifested four-handed forms of Lord Narayana. In this way Krishna revealed that He is the original source of all vishnu-tattva expansions. Brahma states that he is able to directly see Krishna and know something of His glories because of Krishna's mercy upon him (mad-anugrahasya). Brahma also says that no one is able to understand the full extent of the transcendental happiness experienced by Krishna. (kim utatma-sukhanubhuteh).

Anuccheda 103

kaimutyena svayam-rupatva-nirdeshash ca sakrid yad-anga-pratimantar-ahita manomayi bhagavatim dadau gatim sa eva nityatma-sukhanubhuty-abhivyudasta-mayo 'ntar-gato hi kim punah

spashöam. shri-shukah.

kaimutyena-by the same argument of "what to speak of"; +svayam-original; rupa-form; nirdeśa-description; ca-also; sakrit-once only; yat-whose; anga-pratima-the form of the Supreme Lord (there are many forms, but Krishna is the original form); antah-ahita-placing within the core of the heart, somehow or other; manah-mayi-thinking of Him even by force; bhagavatim-which competent to offer devotional service to the Lord; dadau-Krishna gave; gatim-the best destination; sah-He (the Supreme Personality of Godhead); eva-indeed; nitya-always; atma-of all living entities; sukha-anubhuti-anyone thinking of Him immediately enjoys transcendental pleasure; abhivyudasta-mayah-because all illusion is completely removed by Him; antah-gatah-He is always present within the core of the heart; hi-indeed; kim punah-what to speak; spāṣṭam-the meaning is clear; śrī-sukha-spoken by Sukadeva Gosvami.

The argument ("If even the demons attain salvation by the mercy of Krishna, then what is to be said of the devotees") presented by Shukadeva Gosvami in the following verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.12.39) also indicates that the form of Krishna is the original aspect of the Personality of Godhead:

"If even only once or even by force one brings the form of the Supreme Personality of Godhead into one's mind, one can attain the supreme salvation by the mercy of Krishna, as did Aghasura. What then is to be said of those whose hearts the Supreme Personality of Godhead enters when He appears as an incarnation, or those who always think of the lotus feet of the Lord, who is the source of transcendental bliss for all living entities and by whom all illusion is completely removed?"*

Anuccheda 104

Text 1

ata eva sakṣat para-brahmatvam eva darśitam adyaiva tvad-rite 'sya ity adau.

atah eva-therefore; sakṣat-directly; para-brahmatvam-the status of the Supreme Godhead; eva-certainly; darśitam-is revealed; adya eva tvad-rite asya-iti-adau-in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.14.18:

adyaiva tvad-rite 'sya kim mama na te mayatvam adarśitam me 'ko 'si prathamam tato vraja-suhrid-vatsah samasta api tavanto 'si catur-bhujas tad-akṣhīṇaḥ sakam mayopasitaḥ tavanty eva jaganty abhūḥ tad amitam brahmadvayam śiṣyate.

The revelation that Śrī Krishna is the Supreme Personality of Godhead is found in the following verses from Shrimad-Bhagavatam and other Vedic literatures:

"My dear Lord Krishna, leaving aside all other things and just considering today's happenings- { } what I have seen- { } are they not all due to Your inconceivable energies? First of all I saw You alone; thereafter You expanded Yourself as Your friends, the calves and all the existence of Vrindavana; then I saw You and all the boys as four-handed Vishnus, and They were being worshiped by all elements and all demigods, including myself. Again They were all wound up, and You remained alone as You were before me. Does this not mean that You are the Supreme Lord Narayana, the origin of everything, and from You everything emanates, and again everything enters unto You, and You remain the same as before?"*

- { } Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.14.18

Text 2

aho bhagyam aho bhagyam ity-adau ca.

aho bhagyam aho bhagyam iti-adau ca and also in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.14.32:

aho bhagyam aho bhagyam
nanda-gopa-vrajaukasam
yan-mitram paramanandam
purnam brahma sanatanam

"How greatly fortunate are Nanda Maharaja, the cowherd men and all the inhabitants of Vrajabhumi! There is no limit to their fortune because the Absolute Truth, the source of transcendental bliss, the eternal Supreme Brahman, has become their friend."*

-{ }Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.14.32

Text 3

ata evoktam gudham param brahma manushya-lingam iti.

ata eva-therefore; uktam-it is described; gudham-very confidential; param-transcendental; brahma-the Parabrahman, Krishna; manushya-lingam-as if an ordinary human being; iti- thus.

"The Supreme Godhead is Shri Krishna, whose form resembles that of a human being, and who is very difficult to understand."

-{ }Shrimad-Bhagavatam 7.15.75

Text 4

vaishnave ca:

yador vamsham narah shrutva sarva-papaih pramucyate yatravatirnam krishnakhyam param brahma narakritih iti.

vaisnave-in the Vishnu Purana (4.11.2); ca-also; yaduh vamsam-the Yadu dynasty; narah-a person; shrutva-having heard about; sarva-from all; papaih-sins; pramucyate-becomes delivered; yatra-where; avatirnam-descended; krishna-Krishna; akhyam-named; param-the supreme; brahma-Godhead; nara-of a human being; akritih-in the form; iti-thus.

"The Supreme Godhead, who has a humamlike form, and whose name is Shri Krishna, descended to this material world, appearing in the dynasty of Maharaja Yadu. For this reason, simply by hearing about the activities of the great souls who appeared in Maharaja Yadu's family, one can become delivered from all sinful reactions."

-{ }Vishnu Purana 4.11.2

Text 5

narakriti param brahma iti brihat-sahasra-nama-stotre ca.

nara-of a human being; akriti-form; param brahma-the Supreme Godhead; iti-thus; brhat-sahasra-nama-stotre-in the Brhat-sahasra-nama prayers; ca-also.

"The form of the Supreme Personality of Godhead resembles that of a human being."

-{ }Brihat-sahasrama-nama-stotra

Text 6

etena shri-krishnasya narakrititvam eveti. dvibhujatva eva shri-krishnatvam narakriti-kaivalyan mukhyam. caturbhujatve tu shri-krishnatvam narakriti-bhuyishohatvat tad-anantaram eva. ata eva caturbhujatve 'pi manushya-rupatvam tenaiva rupena catur-bhujena sahasra-baho bhava vishva-murte ity uktva;

drishövedam manusham rupam tava saumyam janardana idanim asmi samvrittah. iti uktatvat.

evam-jatiyakani bahuni vakyani santi, tani ca drashöavyani.

etena-by this description; shri-krishnasya-of Shri Krishna; nara-akrititvam-the nature of having a humanlike form; eva- certainly; iti-thus; dvibhujatve-in the state of having two hands; eva-certainly; shri-krishnatvam-the nature of Shri Krishna; nara-akriti-kaivalyat-because of being most like a human form; mukhyam-principal; caturbhujatve-in the state of having four hands; tu-but; shri-krishnatvam-the nature of Shri Krishna; nara-akriti-of the human like form; bhuyistavat-because of being most prominent; tat-anantaram-afterwards; eva-certainly; atah eva- therefore; caturbhujatve-in the state of having four hands; api-even; manusya-rupatvam-the state of having a humanlike form; varnitam-is described; shrimat-arjunena-by Arjuna; tena eva-by that; rupena-with form; catur-bhujena-four-handed; sahasra-baho-O thousand-handed one; bhava-just become; vishva-murte- O universal form; iti-thus; uktva-having spoken; drishöva- seeing idam-this; manusham-human being; rupam-form; tava- Your; saumyam-very beautiful; janardana-O chastiser of the enemies; idanim-just now; asmi-I am; samvrittah-settled; iti-uktatvat-from these words; eva-jatiyakani-similar; bahuni- many; vakyani-statements; santi-are; teni-they; ca-also; drastavyani-should be seen.

These verses confirm that the primary feature of Shri Krishna is His two-handed humanlike form, although He may also manifest His humanlike form in an only-slightly-changed four-armed feature. This four-armed feature of the humanlike form of Krishna is described by Arjuna, who desired to see it and who spoke the following request (Bhagavad-gita 11.46):

"O universal Lord, I wish to see You in Your four-armed form, with helmeted head and with club, wheel, conch and lotus flower in Your hands. I long to see You in that form."*

Arjuna was very pleased to see Lord Krishna's original, humanlike form. He said (Bhagavad-gita 11.51):

"Seeing this humanlike form, so very beautiful, my mind is now pacified, and I am restored to my original nature."*

Let us now examine some of the many scriptural passages that describe the humanlike form of the Supreme Personality of Godhead.

Text 7

ata eva sa narakara-murtir eva parama-karanam vastu-tattvam ity aha narayane karana-martya-murtau iti.

atah eva-therefore; sah-He; hara-akara-murtih-with a human like form; eva-certainly; parama-karanam-the ultimate cause of everything; vastu-tattvam-the Absolute Truth; iti-thus; aha-he describes; narayane karana-martya-murtau iti-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.46.33 tasmin bhavantav akhilatma-hetau narayane karana-martya-murtau bhavam vidhattam nitaram mahatman kim vavashishöam yuvayoh sukrityam

Speaking to Maharaja Nanda and Mother Yashoda, Uddhava said (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.46.33):

"My dear Yashoda and Nanda Maharaja, you are always absorbed in ecstatic thought of Krishna and Balarama, who, although their transcendental forms resemble those of ordinary human beings, are actually Lord Narayana, the Personality of Godhead who is the cause of all causes. Because you are always absorbed in ecstatic love for Them, what activity remains to be performed by you?"*

Text 8

sarva-karanam yat tattvam tad eva martyakara murtir yasya. tad uktam tattvam param yoginam iti, sarva-karanam-the cause of everything; yat-which; tattvam-Absolute Truth; tat-that; eva-certainly; martya-akara- humanlike; murtih-form; yasya-of whom; tat-that; uktam- described; tattvam param yoginam iti-in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10, 43.17):

mallanam ashanir nrinam nara-varah strinam smaro murtiman gopanam svajano 'satam kshiti-bhujam shashöa sva-pitroh shishuh mrityur bhoja-pater ivada-vidusham tattvam param yoginam vrishninam paravateti viditor angangatah sagrajah".

The humanlike form of Shri Krishna is the ultimate cause of all rasas, or relationships. This is confirmed in the following verse from Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.43.17):

"When Krishna entered the wrestling arena with Balarama and Their friends, He appeared differently to different people according to their different relationships (rasas) with Him. Krishna is the reservoir of all pleasure and all kinds of rasas, both favorable and unfavorable. He appeared to the wrestlers exactly like a thunderbolt. To the people in general He appeared as the most beautiful personality. To the females He appeared to be the most attractive male, Cupid personified, and thus increased their lust. The cowherd men who were present there looked upon Krishna as their own kinsman, coming from the same village of Vrindavana. The kshatriya kings who were present saw Him as the strongest ruler. To the parents of Krishna, Nanda and Yashoda, He appeared to be the most loving child. To Kamsa, the king of the Bhoja dynasty, He appeared to be death personified. To the unintelligent, He appeared to be an incapable personality. To the yogis present, He appeared to be the Supersoul. To the members of the Vrishni dynasty He appeared to be the most celebrated descendant. Thus appreciated differently by different kinds of men present, Krishna entered the wrestling arena with Balarama and His cowherd boy friends."*

Text 9

drishövatihrishöo hy abhavam sarva-bhushana-bhushanam gopalam abala-sanga-muditam venu-vadinam

tato mam aha bhagavan vridavana-carah smayan yad idam me tvaya drishöam rupam divyam sanatanam

nishkalam nishkriyam shantam sac-cid-ananda-vigraham purnam padma-palashaksham natah parataram mama

idam eva vadanty ete vedah karana-karanam ity adi uddhavah. shri-vrajeshvaram.

tatha-in the same way; ca-also; padma-of the Padma Purana; nirmana-khande-in the Nirmana-khanda; shri-veda-vyasa-of Vedavyasa; vakyam-the statement; drishötva-seeing; ati-very; hrishöah-jubilant; hi-certainly; abhavam-I became; sarva-bhusana-of all ornaments; bhusanam-the ornament; gopalam-the cowherd boy, Shri Krishna; abala-of the gopis; sanga-by the associattion; muditam-delighted; venu-His flute; vadinam- playing; tatah-then; mam-to me; aha-spoke; bhagavan-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; vrindavana-in Vrindavana; carah- wandering; smayan-smiling; yat-which; idam-this; me-of Me; tvaya-by You; drishöam-seen; rupam-form; divyam- transcendental; sanatana-eternal; niskalam-complete; niskriyam-without any material activities; santamj-peaceful; sat- eternity; cit-knowledge; ananda-bliss; vighram-form; purnam- perfect; padma-lotus; palasa-petals; aksham-with eyes; na-not; atah-that this; parataram-superior; mama-My; idam-this; eva- certainly ; vadanti-describe; ete-they; vedah-the Personified Vedas; karana-karanam-the original cause of all causes; iti- thus; adi-in the passage beginning; uddhavah-spoken by Uddhava; shri-vraja-isvaram-to Nanda Maharaja, the king of Vraja.

That the humanlike form of Shri Krishna is the original cause of all causes is also confirmed in the following statement of Vedavyasa (in the Nirmana-khanda of the Padma Purana):

"Lord Krishna was playing His flute, and enjoying the company of the gopis. He was very handsome, and He was like a splendid ornament that beautified the ornaments He wore. When I saw Him I became very happy. As we walked together in the forest of Vrindavana, the Lord smiled and said to me: You are now seeing my eternal transcendental form, which is perfect and complete, eternal, full of knowledge and bliss, and free from all material activities. There is nothing superior to this lotus-eyed form of Mine, which you are now seeing, and which all the Vedas declare to be the Original Personality of Godhead, the ultimate cause of all causes."

Anuccheda 105

Text 1

ata eva bahums catur-bhujan drishrivan api narakarasyaiva visheshatah stuty-artham pratijanite naumidya te 'bhra-vapushe tadid-ambaraya ity adi. idam eva tava paramam tattvam ity ajatva purvam aham bhrantavan, adhuna te adyaiva tvad-rite 'sya ity adi-darshitaya bhavatah kripaya jnaöavan ity atra tatra tad-akaram evaa tvam labdhum staumiti tatparyam. brahma shri-bhagavantam.

atah eva-therefore; bahun-many; catur-bhujan-four-handed forms; drishöavan-seen; api-although; nara-akarsya-of the humanlike form of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; eva- certainly; visesatah-specifically; stuti-prayer; artham-for the purpose; pratijanite-affirms; naumi idya te abhra-vapuse tadit-ambaraya-iti-adi-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.14.1):

naumidya te 'bhra-vapushe tadid-ambaraya gunjatamsa-paripiccha-lasam-mukhaya vanya-sraje kavala-vetra-vishana-venu-
lakshma-shriye mridu-pade pashupangajaya

idam-this; eva-certainly; tava-Your; paramam-supreme; tattvam-position; iti-thus; ajnatva-not understanding; purvam-before; aham-I; bhrantavan-was bewildered; adhuna-now; te-of You; adya eva tvat-rte asya iti adi-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.14.2

asyapi deva vapusho mad-anugrahasya
svecchamayasya na tu bhutamayasya ko 'pi
neshe mahi tv avasitum manasantarena
sakshat tavaiva kim utatma-sukhanubhuteh

Although Lord Brahma has many times seen the four-armed form of Lord Vishnu, he specifically glorifies the two-armed form of Lord Krishna (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.14.1):

"My dear Lord, You are the only worshipful Supreme Lord, Personality of Godhead; therefore I am offering my humble obeisances and prayers just to please You. Your bodily features are of the color of clouds filled with water. You are glittering with a silver electric aura emanating from Your yellow garments.*

"Let me offer my respectful repeated obeisances unto the son of Maharaja Nanda who is standing before me with conchshell, earrings and peacock feather on His Head. His face is beautiful; He is wearing a helmet, garlanded by forest flowers, and He stands with a morsel of food in His hand. He is decorated with cane and bugle, and He carries a buffalo horn and flute. He stand before me with small lotus feet."*

Anuccheda 106

Text 1

tad evam sadhuktam tat-tad-vacanam anyarthatvena drishyam iti. tatha hi purva-ritya caturbhujatva-dvibhujatvayor dvayor api dhyana-dhishnyatve sati yat purvasya jananya niguhana-prarthanam tat tu tasya prasiddhataya sarva eva jnasyatiti janma te mayy asau papo me vidyan madhusudana-ity-ady-ukta-lakshanaya kamsa-bhiya, vishvam yad etat sva-tanau nishante-ity-ady-ukta-lakshanaya mamsa-drik-shabdokta-bhagavat-svarupa-shakti-vilasa-taj-janmadi-lila-tattvanabhijna-prakrita-drighbhyo lajjaya ca, na punar aparasya gudham param brahma manushya-lingam-ity-adau gudhatvena kathitasya dhyana-dhishnyatvabhava-vivakshaya.

tat-therefore; evam-in this way; sadhu-well; uktam- described; tat-tat-various; vacanam-statements; anya-arthatvena-with a different subject; drishyam-may be seen; iti- thus; tatha hi-for example; purva-previous; ritya-be exposition; caturbhujatva-the fourhanded; dvibhujatvayoh-and of the two-handed form of Krsna; dvayoh-of the two; api-also; dhyana-dhishnyatve-sati-meditated; yat-which; purvasya- previous; jananya-by Mother Devaki; niguhana-concealment; prarthanam-prayer; tat-therefore; tu-certainly; tasya-of Him; prasiddhataya-with fame; sarve-everything; eva-certainly; jnasyati-you will understand; iti-thus; janma ta mayi asau papah na vidyat madhusudana-iti-adi-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.3.29:

janma te mayy asau papo ma vidyan madhusudana samudvije bhavad-dhetoh kamsad aham adhira-dhih uktya-by the statement; lakshanaya-characterized; kamsa-of Kamsa; bhiya-by fear; visvam yat etat sva-tanau nishante-iti-adi-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.3.31 vishvam yad etat sva-tanau nishante yathavakasham purushah paro bhavan bibharti so 'yam mama garbhago 'bhud aho nri-lokasya vidambanam hi tat ukta-the statement; lakshanaya-characterized; mamsa-material; drk-eyes; sabda-word; ukta-described; bhagavat-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; svarupa-of the original form; sakti-potency; vilasapastimes; tat-His; janma-birth; adi-beginning with; lila-of the pastimes; tattva-the truth; anabhijna-ignorant; prakrita-material; drgbhyah-for the eyes; lajjaya-with embarrassment; ca-also; na-not; punah-again; aparasya-of the inferior; gudham-hidden; iti-thus; adau-in the passage beginning; gudhatvena-by the position of being concealed; kathitasya-described; dhyana-dhisnyatva-the position of being the proper object of meditation; abhava-state of not-being; vivakshaya-with a desire to describe.

We have now clearly proved the eternality of the form of Shri Krishna and answered all doubts and objections. We shall now proceed to another topic: the transcendental opulences of Shri Krishna.

Let us consider now the two forms of Shri Krishna: the two-handed and four-handed forms. Lord Krishna first appeared before mother Devaki in His four-handed form. Fearing what Kamsa might do to her son, Devaki requested that Krishna conceal His four-handed form. She said (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.3.29):

"O Madhusudana, because of Your appearance, I am becoming more and more anxious in fear of Kamsa. Therefore, please arrange for that sinful Kamsa to be unable to understand that You have taken birth from my womb."*

Fearing the ridicule of ordinary persons who are unaware of the transcendental nature of the appearance, pastimes, and potencies of the Personality of Godhead, and who see Him with materially contaminated eyes, Devaki gave another reason for Lord Krishna to conceal His four-handed form (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.3.31):

"At the time of devastation, the entire cosmos, containing all created moving and nonmoving entities, enters Your transcendental body and is held there without difficulty. But now this transcendental form has taken birth from my womb. People will not be able to believe this, and I shall become an object of ridicule."*

Actually the two-handed form of Lord Krishna is a very confidential form of the Personality of Godhead, and it is very difficult to understand it. This is confirmed in the following explanation of Narada Muni (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 7.15.75):

"The two-handed form of Shri Krishna, who appears like an human being, is the Supreme aspect of the Personality of Godhead. This feature of the Lord is very confidential and difficult to understand."*

Texts 2-4

shri-gopala-tapani-shrutav apy ubhayor api dhyana-dhishnytvam shruyate mathurayam visheshena

mam dhyayan moksham ashnute ashōa-patram vikasitam hrit-padmam tatra samsthitam ity-adishu madhye. caturbhujam sankha-cakra-ity-adikam uktva. sarvante shringa-venu-dharam tu va ity-apy uktam.

shri-gopala-tapani-shrutau-in the Gopala-tapani Upanishad (2.61-62); api-even; ubhayoh-of both; api-also; dhyana-dhisnyatvam-proper object of meditation; shruyate-is heard; mathurayam-in Mathura; visesena-specifically; mam-upon Me; dhyayan-meditating; moksham-liberation; asnute-attains; asta-with eight; patram-petals; vikasitam-blossoming; hrt-of the heart; padman-lotus flower; tatra-there; samsthitam-situated; iti adisu madhye-in this passage; caturbhujam sankha-cakra-ity-adikam-uktva-having spoken these words; sarva-of everything; ante-at the conclusion; srnga-venu-dharam tu va iti api uktam-in these words.

That the devotees should meditate on Shri Krishna in both His two-handed and four-handed forms is described by Lord Krishna Himself (Gopala-tapani Upanishad 2.74-78):

"He who meditates on Me as I appear in Mathura attains liberation. In his mind one should meditate on Me standing on the blossomed eight-petaled lotus of the heart, My two feet marked with conchshell, flag and umbrella, My chest marked with Shrivatsa and splendid with the Kaustubha gem, My four arms holding the conch, cakra, mace, and sharnga bow, My arms decorated with armlets, My neck splendid with a flower-garland, My head circled by a splendid crown, My ears decorated with glistening shark-shaped earrings, and My form splendid and handsome, holding a flute and buffalo-horn bugle, and granting fearlessness to the devotees."

Text 5

evam agame 'pi dvibhuja-dhyanam shruyate. tasman nigudhatva-vivakshaiva samicina. tathaiva tad-vivakshaya nanyatha mad-bhavam jnanam martya-lingena jayate iti shri-bhagavatoktam.

evam-in this way; agame-in the shruti-shastra; api-even; dvibhuja-of the two-handed form of Shri Krishna; dhyanam- meditation; shruyate-is heard; tasmat-for this reason; nigudhatva-concealment; vivaksha-the desire to request; samicina-is proper; nanyatha mat-bhavam jnanam-martya lingena jayate iti shri-bhagavata uktam-by the Lord's statement in the Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.3.44:

etad vam darshitam rupam
prag-janma-smaranaya me
nanyatha mad-bhavam jnanam
martya-lingena jayate.

Meditation on the Lord's two-handed form is described in the Vedic literatures in this way. Devaki's request that the Lord conceal His four-handed form and assume the feature of a human child was not simply inspired by a certain dangerous circumstance, but was actually the Lord's intention from the very beginning. This is confirmed by the Lord Himself in the following words (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.3.44):

"I have shown you this form of Vishnu just to remind you of My previous births. Otherwise, if I appeared like an ordinary human child, you would not believe that the Supreme Personality of Godhead, Vishnu, has indeed appeared."*

Text 6

tatha ca padma-nirmana-khande shri-bhagavad-vakya-vyasa-vakye

pashya tvam darshayishyami

svarupam veda-gopitam
tato 'pashyam aham bhupa
balam kalambuda-prabham
gopa-kanyavritam gopam
hasantam gopa-balakaih. iti.

tatha-in the same way; ca-also; padma-of the Padma Purana; nirmana-khande-in the Nimana-khanda; shri-bhagavat-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; vakya-the statement; vyasa-vakye-related by Vyasa; pasya-just see; tvam-you; darsayisyami-I will reveal; svarupam-original form; veda-in the Vedas; gopitam-hidden; tatah-then; apasyam-saw; aham-I; bhupa-O king; balam-a young boy; kala-like a dark; ambuda-cloud; prabham-splendid; gopa-kanya-by the gopis; avrtam- surrounded; hasantam-laughing; gopa-balakaih-with the cowherd boys; iti-thus.

That the form of Shri Krishna is very confidential is also confirmed in the following statements of Lord Krishna and Vyasadeva in the Padma Purana, Nirmana-khanda:

"The Personality of Godhead then said to me: `O Vyasa, please look, and I will show you My original form, which is very confidential, and not openly described in the Four Vedas.' O king, at that moment I saw a boy splendid as a dark monsoon cloud. He was surrounded by gopis, and laughing with many gopa boys."

Text 7

evam ity uktvasid dharis tushnim ity adau ca vyakhyeyam. atma-mayaya svecchaya atma-maya tad-iccha syat iti maha-samhitokteh. prakritya svarupenaiva vyaktah prakritah. na tv aupadhikataya, shaishiko na.

evam-in this way; iti uktva asit harih tusnim iti adau-in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.3.46; ca-also; vyakhyeyam-may be explained; atma-mayaya-the word "atma-mayaya"; sva-icchaya- means "by His own wish"; atma-maya-the word "atma-maya"; tat-iccha-"one's own wish"; syat-be interpreted; iti-thus; maha-samhita-of the Maha-samhita; ukteh-from the statement; prakritya-the word "prakritah"; svarupena-in one's original form; vyaktah-manifested; prakritah-"prakritah"; na-not; tu-but; aupadhikataya-as a designation; saishikah-

Someone may object, saying that the form of Shri Krishna is material, and not the original feature of the Godhead. This person may quote the following verse of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.3.46) to support his argument:

ity uktvasid dharis tushnim
bhagavan atma-mayaya
pitroh sampashyato sadyo babhuva prakritah shishuh

"After instructing His father and mother, the Supreme Personality of Godhead, remained silent. In their presence, by His illusory energy, He then transformed Himself into a small human child."

Our objector will say that the word "atma-mayaya" in this verse means that the Lord became a small child by the agency of His illusory potency "maya". Actually the word "atma-maya" also means "own-wish". This is confirmed in the following definition given in the Maha-samhita: "The word atma-maya means own wish."

Therefore, in this verse the word "atma-maya" indicates that the Lord assumed the form of a small child "by His own desire". That is the actual meaning of the word in this verse.

Our objector will also say that the word "prakritah" means material, and therefore the form of Shri Krishna is described in this verse as material. The word "prakritah" also means "natural", or "original". The actual meaning of the word "prakritah" in this verse is that by appearing as the child Krishna, the Personality of Godhead assumed His original form.

For these reasons the proper interpretation of this verse should be:

"After instructing His father and mother, the Supreme Personality of Godhead, Krishna, remained silent. In their presence, by His own wish, He transformed Himself into His original form as a small human child."

Text 8

tatra hi bhagavad-vigrahe shishutvadayo vicitra eva dharmah svabhavikah santiti ko vetti bhuman ity asya vyakhyena dvitiya-sandarbhe darshitam eva.

tatra-in this connection; hi-certainly; bhagavat-of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; vigrahe-in the form; shishutva-adolescence and youth; vicitra-wonderful; eva-certainly; dharmah-characteristics; svabhavikah-natural; santi-are; iti-thus; kah vetti bhuman iti-in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.14.21:

ko vetti bhuman bhagavan paratman yogeshvarotir bhavatas trilokyam kva va katham va kadeti vistarayan kridasi yoga-mayam asya-of Him; vyakhyena-by the explanation; dvitiya-sandarbhe-in the Second (Bhagavat-) Sandarbha; darsitam-demonstrated; eva- certainly.

The form of Shri Krishna is not ordinary or material, for even in the earliest childhood, and also throughout His entire life, Shri Krishna manifested extremely wonderful qualities and powers. This is described in the following prayer of Lord Brahma (10.14.21), which we have already discussed in the second (Bhagavat) sandarbha:

"O supreme great one! O Supreme Personality of Godhead! O Supersoul, master of all mystic power! Your pastimes are taking place continuously in these worlds, but who can estimate where, how and when You are employing Your spiritual energy and performing Your pastimes? No one can understand the mystery of these activities."*

Text 9

atra shri-ramanujacarya-sammatir api. shri-gitasu prakritim svam avashöabhya sambhavamy atma-mayaya

ity atra svam eva svabhavam ashöhaya atma-mayaya sva-sankalpa-rupena jnanenety arthah maya vayunam jnanam iti nighanöukah.

atra-in this connection; shri-ramanuja-acarya-of Shri Ramanujacarya; sammatih-agreement; api-also; shri-gitasu-in Shrimad-Bhagavad-gita (4.6); iti-thus; atra-in this matter; svam-own; eva-certainly; sva-bhavam-own nature; ashaya- manifesting; atma-mayaya-the word "atma-mayaya"; sva-sankalpa-rupena-means "by My own desire"; jnanena-with knowledge; iti- thus; arthah-the meaning; maya-the word "maya"; vayunam- wisdom; jnanam-knowledge; iti-thus; naighantukah-the Naighantuka dictionary.

This description of the spiritual nature of Lord Krishna's form is confirmed by Shripada Ramanujacarya in his commentary on Bhagavad-gita. In the Gita the Lord said (4.6):

ajo 'pi sann avyayatma bhutanam ishvaro 'pi san prakritim svam adhishöhaya
sambhavamy atma-mayaya

"Although I am unborn, I am full of transcendental knowledge, and My transcendental body never deteriorates, and although I am the Lord of all sentient beings, I still voluntary appear in every millennium in My original transcendental form."

Shripada Ramanujacarya comments on this verse in the following way:

"In this verse the word 'svam' means 'own nature', and therefore the phrase 'svam avashöhabya' means 'appearing in His original form'. The word 'atma-mayaya' means 'by My own desire' or 'with transcendental knowledge'. Therefore, the phrase 'atma-mayaya' means that Lord Krishna, who is full of transcendental knowledge, voluntary appears in this material world. This definition of the word 'maya' as 'knowledge' is corroborated by the following statement of the Naighanöuka dictionary: 'The word maya means wisdom or knowledge'."

Text 10

mahabharate cavatara-rupasyapy aprakritatvam ucyate na bhuta-sangha-samsthano deho 'sya paramatmanah iti.

mahabharate-in the Mahabharata; ca-also; avatara-rupasya-of the forms of the Personality of Godhead; api-also; aprakritatvam-non-material nature; ucyate-is described; na-not; bhuta-sangha-samsthanah-made of material elements; deha-the form; asya-of Him; parama-atmanah-the Personality of Godhead.

That the forms of the Personality of Godhead are not material is also confirmed in the following verse from the Mahabharata:

"The form of the Personality of Godhead is completely spiritual. It is not an assemblage of various material elements."

Text 11

tato brihad-vaishnave 'pi yo veti bhautikam deham krishnasya paramatmanah sa sarvasmad bahih karyah shrauta-smarta-vidhanatah mukham tasyavalokyapi sa-celam snanam acaret pashyet suryam sprished gam ca ghritam prashya vishudhyati iti.

tatah-therefore; brhat-vaisnave-in the Vishnu Purane; api- also; yah-one who; veti-considers; bhautikam-constructed of material elements; deham-the body; krishnasya-of Shri Krishna; parama-atmanah-the Supreme Personality of Godhead; sah-he; sarvasmat-completely; bahih-karyah-bereft of pious activities; sruta-of the shruti; smarta-and smrti; vidhanatah-from the instructions; mukham-the face; tasya-of him; avalokya-seeing; api-even; sa-celam-with clothing; snanam-bath; acaret-should perform; pasyet-should see; suryam-the sun; sprset-should touch; gam-a cow; ca-also; ghritam-ghi-prasya-should drink; visudhyati-becomes purified; iti-thus.

That the form of Shri Krishna is not material is confirmed in the Vishnu Purana:

"One who thinks that the form of Shri Krishna is composed of material elements becomes an offender and falls away from the pious life recommended in the shruti and smriti. If one accidentally sees the face of such an offender, he should immediately take bath with all his clothing, glance at the sun, touch a cow, and drink ghi, in order to become purified."

Text 12

atha yayaharad bhuvo bharam ity adau caivam mantavyam tanu-rupa-kalevara-shabdair atra shri-bhagavato bhu-bhara-jihirsha-lakshano devadi-pipalayisha-lakshanash ca bhava evocyate, yatha tritiye vimshatitame tat-tac-chabdair brahmano bhava evoktah. yadi tatraiva tatha vyakhyeyam tada sutaram eva shri-bhagatiti. tatash ca tasya bhavasya bhagavati tad-abhasa-rupatvat kanohaka-drishtahtah susangata eva. tatha dvayam eveshituh samyam api. tat tu tritiya-sandarbha eva vivritam.

atha-now; yaya aharat bhuvat bharam iti adau-Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.15.34-35; ca-also; evam-in this way; mantavyam- may be considered; tenu-rupa-kalevara-sabdaih-by the words "tanu", "rupe" and "kalevara"; atra-in this connection; shri-bhagavatah-of the Personality of Godhead; bhu-of the earth; bhara-of the burden; jihirsha-desire to remove; lakshanah- characteristic; deva-the demigods; adi-and others; pipalayisa-desire to protect; lakshanah-characteristic; ca-also; bhavah- condition; eva-certainly; ucyate-is described; yatha-just as; tritiye-in the Third Canto of Shrimad-Bhagavatam; vimshatitame-in the Twentieth Chapter; tat-tat-these; sabdaih-by words; brahmanah-of Lord Brahma; bhavah-condition; eva-certainly; uktah-is described; yadi-if; tatra-there; eva-certainly; tatha-in the same way; vyakhyeyam-may be described; tada-then; sutaram-even more so; eva-certainly; shri-bhagavati-in the Supreme Personality of Godhead; iti-thus; tatah-therefore; ca- also; tasya-of this; bhavasya-condition; bhagavati-in the Supreme Personality of Godhead; tat-abhasa-rupatvat-because of resemblance; kanthaka-of the thorn; drishöantah-example; susangatah-appropriate; eva-certainly; tatha-in the same way; dvayam-the two thorns; eva-certainly; isituh-of the controller; samyam-equal; api-even; tat-that; tu-but; trtiya-sandarbh-in the Third-(Paramatma-) sandarbha (85-87); eva- certainly; vivrtam-demonstrated.

At this point someone may insist that Shri Krishna's body is material, and push forward the following verses of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (1.15.34-35) as evidence:

yayaharad bhuvo bharam
tam tanum vijahav ajah
kanöakam kanöakeneva
dvayam capishituh samam

"The Supreme unborn, Lord Shri Krishna, caused the members of the Yadu dynasty to relinquish their bodies, and thus He relieved the burden of the world. This action was like picking out a thorn with a thorn, though both are the same to the controller.*

yatha matsyadi-rupani
dhatte jahyad yatha naöah
bhu-bharah kshapito yena
jahau tac ca kalevaram

"The Supreme Lord relinquished the body which He manifested to diminish the burden of the earth. Just like a magician, He relinquishes one body to accept different ones, like the fish incarnation and others."*

Actually these verses do not show that the Supreme Personality of Godhead accepts the form of Krishna, and then abandons it at a certain point. The words "tanu", "rupa", and "kalevara", do not only mean "body". They may also mean "condition", "nature", or "mental conception". For example, in the Third Canto, Twentieth Chapter of Shrimad-Bhagavatam, we find a description of Lord Brahma repeatedly abandoning various "tanus", "rupas", and "kalevaras". In this context, however, it is clearly explained that Lord Brahma did not accept and reject many bodies one after another, but he accepted and rejected various mental stages or conceptions. The same

.mt 3
.mb .5
.rm 6.5 in Set Right Margin to 6.5 in.
.rm 65

..
Select font 1
.fa times to Times Roman type style.
.lh 1.25 em
.ch 15.5 pt

.fa timesitl
.lh 1.25 em
.ch 15.4 pt
..

.fa clarendo

.ch 16.2 pt

..

.fa helvetic

.ch 16 pt

..

.fa clarendo

.ch 16.2 pt

..

.fa clarendo

.ch 23 pt

..

.. Lower case Italicized

.de { .px -1.2 en } { .py +0.23 em } { .py -.23 em }

.. ^D = . below letters n - h - normal - italic

.de { .px -1. en } { .py +.23 em } { .py -.23 em }

...de { .ru .06 em, .1 em, -.40 en, -1.4 en }

.de { .px -.6 en } { .py -.55 en } { .fa clarendo } { .ch .8 em } { .sy 180 } { .ch } { .fa } { .px +.1 en } { .py +.55 en }

.. ^S = ' on s - normal - italic

..de { .px -1 en } { .py -.3 em } { } { .fn } { .px +.1 en } { .py +.3 em }

.. ^T = ' on S

.de { .ru .28 em, .055 em, -.6 en, -1.38 en }

.. ^A = - above long 'a' - 'u' sound 'i' non-italic

.de [6] { .ru .28 em, .055 em, -.40 en, -1.40 en }

.. ^E = - above long 'i'

.de 6 { .px -.6 em } { .py -.65 em } { .py +.65 em }

.. ^V = . above 'm'

..

.de 57 { .px -.5 en } { .py -.7 en } { .fa clarendo } { .ch .5 em } { .sy 180 } { .ch } { .fa } { .py +.7 en }

..

.. Upper case Italicized

.de { .px -.8 en } { .py -.73 en } { .fa clarendo } { .sy 180 } { .fa } { .px +.2 en } { .py +.73 en }

..de { .ru .06 em, .13 em, -.25 em, -2.05 en }

.. ^T = ' on S

..

.. Lower case non-Italics

.. ^A = - over long 'i'

.de { .ru .28 em, .055 em, -1 en, -1.40 en }

.. ^Q = - above long 'a' - 'u' sound

.de { .lf .7 em } { .up .65 em } { .dn }

.. ^P = . above 'm'

..

.. Upper case non-Italicized

.de { .px -.8 en } { .py -.7 en } { .fa clarendo } { .sy 180 } { .fa } { .px +.1 en } { .py +.7 en }

.. { .ru .06 em, .13 em, -.35 em, -1.95 en }

.. ^U = ' on S

..

.de - -{.lf .15 em}--{.lf .15 em}--{ }

.. long 'l'

..

.hy

.lh 1.25 em

.bd off

.pn 145

.op

.oj on

.hee #

Shri Krishna-sandarbha

.heo

Volume Three

#

meaning of the words "tanu", "rupa", and "kalevara" applies in this verse in relation to the Personality of Godhead. This verse does not, therefore, describe the Lord's abandonment of His form, but His rejecting a certain condition of mind. Lord Krishna descended to relieve the burden of the earth and protect the demigods and devotees. When these purposes were accomplished, the Lord gave up the desire to relieve the earth and protect the pious. It is these desires that are intended by the words "tanu", "rupa", and "kalevara" in this verse.

This interpretation of Lord Krishna's abandonment of His "tanu" is especially appropriate in relation to the example of the thorn being used to remove the thorn. These two thorns (the devotees and the demons) are closely related to the "tanu" (the two desires) given up by the Lord.

This particular point has been more elaborately described in the third (Paramatma) sandarbha (Anucchedas 85-87), and we refer the reader to that passage for more information.

Text 13

matsyadi-rupani matsyady-avatareshu tat-tad-bhavan. atha naöa-drishöante 'pi naöah shravya-rupakabhineta. vyakhyatam ca öika-kridbhih prathamasyaikadashe naöa nava-rasabhinaya-chaturah iti. tato yatha shravya-rupakabhineta naöah svarupena svaveshena ca sthita eva purva-vrittam abhinayena gayan nayaka-nayikadi-bhavam dhatte jahati ca tatheti.

matsya-adi-incarnation as a fish, etc.; rupani-forms; matsya-adi-avatareshu-among the incarnations of Godhead, such as Lord Matsya and others; tat-tad-various; bhavan-states of being; atha-now; naöa-of the actor; drishöante-in the example; api-also; naöah-the word natah"; shravya-rupaka-in a drama; abhineta-an actor; vyakhyatam-explained; ca-also; öika-kridbhih-by Shridhara Svami; prathamasya-of the First Canto of Shrimad-Bhagavatam; ekadashe-in the Eleventh Canto; naöah-actors; nava-nine; rasa-in the mellows; abhinaya-in the dramatic presentation; chaturah-expert; iti-thus; tatah-therefore; yatha-just as; shravya-rupaka-of a drama; abhineta-an actor; naöah-actor; svarupena-by his form; svaveshena-by his costume; ca-also; sthitah-is situated; eva-certainly; purva-previous; vrittam-nature; abhinayena-by dramatic performance; gayan-singing; nayaka-of the hero; nayika-and of the heroine; adi-beginning with; bhavam-nature; dhatte-accepts; jahati-rejects; ca-also; tatha-in the same way; iti-thus.

{ }At this point someone may quote the phrase "matsyadi-rupani" in the previously quoted verses from Shrimad-Bhagavatam, and claim that this phrase clearly shows that the Supreme Personality of Godhead accepts and rejects various temporary material forms such as the form of Lord Matsya and the other incarnations of Godhead.

I reply that in this phrase, also, the word "rupa" does not mean "form", but "condition of mind". The phrase therefore means that the Personality of Godhead accepts and rejects the desire to protect the devotees and kill the demons as the need arises. In other words, when the devotees require protection, the Lord thinks about their protection, and when the demons cause a disturbance, at that time the Lord thinks about their destruction.

Our objector may also quote the example of the actor given in these verses and claim that this shows that the Personality of Godhead accepts and rejects various material forms, just as an actor plays a role on the stage. The actual intention of the example of the actor is that the actor accepts the different sentiments and emotions of the hero or heroine, and then rejects those emotions also in the course of the drama. In the same way the Supreme Personality of Godhead accepts different emotions to protect the devotees and vanquish the demons, and the Lord also rejects those same emotions at another time in order to fulfill the same purpose. That is the actual meaning of the example of the actor, and it is confirmed by the following definition of the word "actor" found in Shridhara Svami's commentary on Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.11.21:

"Actors are those expert at representing the nine rasas (emotional relationships)."

Text 14

ata eva tritiye

pradarshyatapta-tapasam avitripa-drisham nrinam adayaantar adhat yas tu sva-bimbam loka-locanam

atah eva-therefore; tritiye-in the Third Canto of Shrimad-Bhagavatam; pradarshya-by exhibiting; atapta-without undergoing; tapasam-penances; avitripa-drisham-without fulfillment of vision; nrinam-of persons; adaya-taking; antah-disappearance; adhat-performed; yah-He who; tu-but; sva-bimbam-His own form; loka-locanam-public vision.

{ }That the form of Shri Krishna is eternal, and that the Lord appeared on this earth for a certain time and then returned to His abode in the spiritual world, is confirmed by the following statement of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (3.2.11):

"Lord Shri Krishna, who manifested His eternal form before the vision of all on the earth, performed His disappearance by removing His form from the sight of those who were unable to see Him [as He is] due to not executing required penance."*

Text 15

atrapa loka-locana-rupam sva-bimbam nija-murtim pradarishya punah adaya eva ca antar adhat, na tu tyaktvety uktam shri-sutena yatha matsyadya-rupani ity anantaram api tathoktam yada mukundo bhagavan imam mahim jahau sva-tanva iti. tyage 'tra svatanu-karanaka iti na tu svatanva saheti vyakhyeyam. adhyaharyapeksha-gauravat. upapada-vibhakteh karaka-vibhaktir baliyasi iti nyayac ca.

atra-here; api-also; loka-locana-public vision; rupam-form; sva-bimbam-the word "sva-bimbam"; nija-His own; murtim-form; pradarishya-by exhibiting; punah-again; adaya-taking; eva-certainly; ca-also; antah-dissappearance; adhat-performed; na-not; tu-but; tyaktva-having abandoned; iti-thus; uktam-spoken; shri-sutena-by Shri Suta Gosvami; yatha-as much as; matsya-adi-incarnation as fish, etc.; rupani-forms; iti-thus; anantaram-afterwards; api-also; tatha-in the same way; uktam-described; yada-when; mukundah-Lord Krishna; bhagavan-the Personality of Godhead; imam-this; mahim-earth; jahau-left; sva-tanva-with His selfsame body; iti-thus; tyage-in abandonment; atra-here; sva-His own; tanu-form; karanakah-the instrumental case; iti-thus; na-not; tu-but; sva-tanva saha-with His own form; iti-thus; vyakhyeyam-may be explained; adhyaharya-apeksha-gauravat-with reference to grammatical agreement; upapada-vibhaktah-by use of a word which governs a particular form; karaka-vibhaktih-the case; baliyasi-is established; iti-thus; nyayat-from nyaya-sastra; ca-also.

{ }This verse explains that the Personality of Godhead manifests His form within this world, and then again makes His form disappear from this world. It is not that He rejects His form or that it ceases to exist. That the Lord's form is eternal, although staying the material world for a certain time, is confirmed by the following verse of Shrimad-Bhagavatam (1.15.36, which follows 1.15.15 quoted in Text 12):

"The Personality of Godhead, Lord Krishna, left this earthly planet in His selfsame form."*

That the Supreme Lord Krishna returns to the spiritual world in His original transcendental form is confirmed in this verse by the use of the word "sva-tanva" (in His selfsame form). This is supported by the following statement of Nyaya-shastra: "upapada-vibhaktah karaka-vibhaktir baliyasi."

Text 16

atha suti-grihe ity asyarthah. etat-proktana-vakyeshu shri-bhagavan-mahjima-jnana-bhakti-pradhano 'sau vishuddha-sattva-pradurbhavasyapy atmano manushya-lilam eva dainyatishayatah prakrita-manushatvena sthapayitva shri-bhagavat-apatya-buddhim akshiptavan. tatash ca nanu tarhi katham apatya-buddhim kurusha iti shri-bhagavat-prashnam ashankya tatra tad-vakya-gauravam eva mama pramanam, na tupapattir ity aha suti-grihe iti; nah avayoh anuyugam. ata eva bhavan ajah api sanjajne avatirnavan iti suti-grihe bhavan nanu jagada.

atha-now; suti-grihe iti asya-of Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.85.20 (quoted on page 633 of this book); praktana-previous; vakyeshu-in statements; shri-bhagavat-of the Personality of Godhead; mahima-of the opulence; jnana-with knowledge; pradhanah-primarily; asau-he; vishuddha-sattv-pure goodness; pradurbhavasya-appearing; api-also; atmanah-of Himself; manushya-humanlike; lilam-pastimes; eva-certainly; dainya-atishayatah-with great humbleness; prakrita-manushatvena-as an ordinary human being; sthapayitva-having established; shri-bhagavati-towards the Supreme Personality of Godhead; apatya-as his son; buddhim-the conception; akshiptavan-rejected; tatah-therefore; ca-also; nanu-is it not?; tarhi-then; katham-how is it?; apatya-as a son; buddhim-conception; kurushe-you do; iti-thus; shri-bhagavat-of the Personality of Godhead; prashnam-enquiry; ashankya-suspecting; tatra-in this matter; tat-that; vakya-of the statement; gauravam-significance; eva-certainly; mama-my; pramanam-evidence; na-not; tu-but; upapattih-birth; iti-thus; aha-he said; suti-grihe-in the maternity room; iti-thus; nah-the word "nau"; avayoh-means "of us"; anuyugam-in every yuga; atah eva-therefore; bhavan-Your Lordship; ajah-unborn; api-although; sanjajne-take birth; avatirnavan-incarnate; iti-thus; suti-grihe-in the maternity room; bhavan-Your Lordship; nanu-is it not?; jajada-spoke.

{ }This point, that the form of the Personality of Godhead is eternal, and the Lord does not abandon His form when He leaves His pastimes in the material world, may be more clearly seen by examining the following verse spoken by Maharaja Vasudeva in Shrimad-Bhagavatam (10.85.20, quoted in Anuccheda 98, Text 7):

suti-grihe nanu jagada bhavan ajo nau
sanjajna ity anuyugam nija-dharma-guptyai nana-tenur gagana-vad vidadhaj jahasi ko veda bhumna urugaya vibhuti-mayam

"My dear Lord, at the very moment when You first appeared in Kamsa's prison house, I was informed that You were the Supreme Personality of Godhead and that You had descended for the protection of the principles of religion as well as the destruction of the unfaithful. Although unborn, You descend in every millenium to execute Your mission. My dear Lord, as in the sky there are many forms appearing and disappearing, so You also appear and disappear in many forms. Who, therefore, can understand Your pastimes or the mystery of Your appearance and disappearance. Our only business should be to glorify Your supreme greatness."*

Even though aware of the transcendental greatness of Lord Krishna, who is always situated in the position of shuddha-sattva (transcendental purity), Maharaja Vasudeva, because of his great humbleness and love for Lord Krishna, still tends to think of Him as his own son: an ordinary person, and not the Supreme Personality of Godhead.

Vasudeva considers that perhaps Lord Krishna may ask: "Why do you think I am your son?"

To this question Vasudeva may reply: "You Yourself have told me that You are my son, and I have described this in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.85.20 (My dear Lord, at the very moment when You first appeared in Kamsa's prison house You informed me that You were the Supreme Personality of Godhead who descends in every millenium, and who has now appeared as my son)".

Text 17

maya tad api bhavad-adi-tanu-pravesha-nirgamapekshayaiva sajajna ity uktam, na tu mama pravesha-nirgama-lingenaiva janma vacyam. jiva-sakhena vyashöeh samashöer vantaryami-rupena tam durdarsham gudham anupravishöam guhahitam gahvareshöham puranam ity adau tat shrishöva tad evanupravishat ity adau ca tat-tad-anupraveshadi-darshana-samanyat.

maya-by Me; tat-that; api-also; bhavat-adi-beginning with you; tanu-the bodies; pravesha-entrance; nirgama-and exit; apekshaya-with reference to; eva-certainly; sanjaje-I manifested; iti-thus; uktam-it is described; na-not; tu-but; mama-My; pravesha-entrance; nirgama-and exit; lingena-by the characteristic; eva-certainly; janma-birth; vacyam-should be said; jiva-of the living entities; sakhena-as the friend; vyashöeh samashöeh-of all living entities; va-or; antaryami-rupena-as the Supersoul dwelling within the heart; tam-Him; durdarsham-difficult to see; gudham-hidden; anupravishöam-entered; guha-in the heart; ahitam-situated; gahvarashöham-most confidential; puranam-the oldest; iti-adau-in the Katha Upanishad 1.2.12; tat-the universe; shrishöva-having created; tat-it; eva-certainly; anupravishta-entered; iti adau-in the Taittiriya Upanishad 2.6.2; tat-tat-these various; anupravesha-entrances; adi-beginning with; darshana-sight; samanyat-because of the sameness.

{ }To this Lord Krishna might reply in the following words:

"My dear Vasudeva, simply because I entered within your body, and then again have come out from it does not mean that I have taken birth as your son. In My form as the all-pervading Supersoul (the friend of all living entities) I have entered within everyone. This is explicitly described in the following verses from the Upanishads:

"The Supreme Personality of Godhead is very difficult to see, and He is the oldest of all persons. He is the all-pervading Supersoul who has entered the hearts of all living creatures."
- { }Kaöha Upanishad 1.2.12

"The Supreme Lord created the material universes and then entered within them."
- { }Taittiriya Upanishad 2.6.2

Text 18

tatas tadvad idam upacaritam eveti manyatam tatraha nana iti, svakrita-vicitra-yonishu vishann iva hetutaya ity adi shravanad gaganavat asanga eva tvam yaj jivanam nana-tanur vidadhat pravishan jahasi muhuh pravishasi tyajasi cety arthah.

tatah-therefore; tadvat-in this way; idam-this; apacaritam-worshiped; eva-certainly; iti-thus; manyatam-may be considered; tatra-in this connection; aha-Vasudeva may reply; nana iti-the phrase beginning with this word in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.95.19; svakrita-performed; vicitra-various; yonishu-in species of life; vishan-entering; iva-as if; hetutaya-for this reason; iti adi shravahat-in the Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.87.15; gaganavat-like the sky; asangah-without contact; eva-certainly; tvam-You; yat-which; jivanam-of the living entities; nana-tanuh-various bodies; vidadhat-manifest; pravishan-entering; jahasi-you give them up; muhuh-constantly; pravishasi-you enter; tyajasi-you abandon; ca-also; iti-thus; artha-the meaning.

{ }To this, Maharaja Vasudeva might respond: O my Lord, You are certainly not my son, but the Supreme Personality of Godhead. This has already been explained by me in the following words (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.87.15): "My dear Lord, as in the sky there are many forms appearing and disappearing, so You also appear and disappear in many eternal forms". In these words I have confirmed that although You remain aloof from everything You are simultaneously present everywhere, just as the sky is simultaneously aloof and everywhere present. O Lord, You are always aloof from all living entities, and at the same time You always reside within them. This is also confirmed in the following statement of the Personified Vedas (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.87.15): "Appearing as the Supersoul, the Personality of Godhead has entered within the hearts of all living entities in various species of life".

Text 19

tat bhumnah tava vibhuti-vishesha-rupam mayam ko veda bahu-manyate, na ko 'pity arthah. idam tv avabhyam janma sarvair eva stuyata ity bhavah. tato vidvad-adaro 'py atrastu pramanam, mama tu tat sarvatha na buddhi-gocara iti vyanjitam.

tat-therefore; bhumnah-of Your Lordship; tava-of You; vibhuti-glories and opulence; vishesha-rupam-specifically consisting of; maya-potency; kah-who?; veda-knows; bahu-manyate-greatly considered; na-not; kah-api-anyone; iti-thus; arthah-the meaning; idam-this; tu-but; avabhyam-from us; janma-birth; sarvaih-by everyone; eva-certainly; stuyate-is glorified; iti-thus; bhavah-the meaning; tatah-therefore; vidvat-of the learned devotees; adarah-faith; api-even; atra-in this matter; astu-let it be; pramanam-evidence; mama-my; tu-but; tat-therefore; sarvatha-completely; na-not; buddhi-gocara-in the range of being understood by the intelligence; iti-thus; vyanjitam-manifested.

{ }When Maharaja Vasudeva said: "Who, therefore can understand Your pastimes of the mystery of Your appearance and disappearance?" (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.85.20), he intended to say: "O Lord, no one is very important or powerful in comparison to You".

Maharaja Vasudeva might have also presented the following argument to Lord Krishna: O Lord, Your birth as the son of Devaki and Myself is glorified by all the saintly sages and Vaishnavas. Because they all believe that You are my son, this is certainly very convincing evidence that this is actually true. Nevertheless, whatever You are, You are completely beyond the power of my mind and intelligence to understand. I cannot understand You at all.

Text 20

atra vidadhateh pravesartho nanupapannah. yathoktam sahasra-nama-bhashye shishöan karoti palayati iti. samanya-vacano dhatu vishesha-vacane drishöah. kuru kashöhani aharaṇe yatha tadvat iti.

atra-in this verse (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.95.19); vidadhateh-from the word "vidadhat"; pravesha-entrance; arthah-meaning; na-not; anupapannah-is inappropriate; yatha-just as; uktam-is described; sahasra-nama-bhashye-in the commentary on the Sahasra-nama-stotra; shishöan-the saintly persons; karoti-does; palayati-protects; iti-thus; samanya-equality; vacanah-statement; dhatuh-verb; vishesha-specific; vacane-in the word; drishöah-is observed; kuru-do; kashöhani-wood; iti-thus; aharaṇe-in bringing; yatha-just as; tadvat-in the same way; iti-thus.

{ }In Maharaja Vasudeva's prayer (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 10.95.19) the phrase "nana-tanur gaganavad vidadhaj jahasi" may also be interpreted to mean "You enter into the bodies of all living entities" because the word "vidadhat" may also mean "to enter". Someone may object that this is an obscure usage of this word, but actually this interpretation is very appropriate. We see many examples of the usage of obscure meanings of words. For example in the Sahasra-nama-bhashya we find the explanation:

"In this verse the statement 'He does the saintly devotees' actually means 'He protects the saintly devotees' for in this context the verb 'to do' (kri) means 'to protect'".

Another example of an obscure usage of a word is the phrase "kashöhani kuru". Although the verb "kri" generally means "to do", in this phrase it means "to bring", and therefore "kashöhani kuru" means "please bring some wood".

Text 21

tad evam shri-krishnasya svayam-bhagavattvam. tad-rupenavasthayitvam ca darshitam. tatha prathame prithivyapi satyam shaucam daya kshantih ity adina tadiyanam kanti-saha-ojo-balanam svabhavikatvam avyabhicaritam ca darshitam.

tat-therefore; evam-in this way; shri-krishnasya-of Shri Krishna; svayam-bhagavattvam-the status of the Supreme Personality of Godhead; tad-rupena-in this form; avasthayitvam-eternality; ca-also; darshitam-is revealed; tatha-in the same way; prathame-in the first Canto of Shrimad-Bhagavatam; prithivya-by the Earth personified; api-even; satyam shaucam daya kshantih iti adina-in Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.16.27:

satyam shaucam daya kshantis tyagah santosha arjavam shamo damas tapah samyam titikshoparatih shrutam jnanam viraktir aishvaryam shauryam tejo balam smritih svatantryam kaushalam kantir dhairyam mardavam eva ca pragalbhyam prashrayah shilam saha ojo balam bhagah gambhiryam sthairyam astikyam kirtir mano 'nahankritih ete canye ca bhagavan nitya yatra maha-gunah

iti-thus; adina-by the passage beginning; tadiyanam-of the Lord; kanti-beauty; saha-determination; ojah-perfect knowledge; balanam-proper execution; svabhavikatvam-natural position; avyabhicaritam-eternality; ca-also; darshitam-is revealed.

{ }All this evidence clearly prroves that Shri Krishna is the Original Supreme Personality of Godhead and His form is eternal. His eternal handsomeness, gentleness, determination, and strength are shown in the following statement of the Earth Personified (Shrimad-Bhagavatam 1.16.27):

"In Lord Krishna reside (1) truthfulness, (2) cleanliness, (3) intolerance of another's unhappiness, (4) the power to control anger, (5) self-satisfaction, (6) straightforwardness, (7) steadiness of mind, (8) control of the sense organs, (9) responsibility, (10) equality, (11) tolerance, (12) equanimity, (13) faithfulness, (14) knowledge, (15) absence of sense enjoyment, (16) leadership, (17) chivalry, (18) influence, (19) the power to make everything possible, (20) the discharge of proper duty, (21) complete independence, (22) dexterity, (23) fullness of all beauty, (24) serenity, (25) kindheartedness, (26) ingenuity, (27) gentility, (28) magnanimity, (29) determination, (30) perfection in all knowledge, (31) proper execution, (32) possession of all objects of enjoyment, (33) joyfulness, (34) immovability, (35) fidelity, (36) fame, (37) worship, (38) pridelessness, (39) being (as the Personality of Godhead), (40) eternity, and many other transcendental qualities which are eternally present and never to be separated from Him, the Personality of Godhead, the reservoir of all goodness and beauty, Lord Shri Krishna."*

Text 22

ata eva brahmande cashöottara-shata-nama-stotre narakrititvam prakrityaivoktam nanda-vraja-jananandi

sac-cid-ananda-vigrahah navanita-viliptango navanita-naöo 'nagha iti.

atah eva-therefore; brahmande-in the Brahmanda Purana; ca-also; ashöottara-shata-nama-stotre-in the 108 Names of Shri Krishna; nara-akrititvam-humanlike form; prakritya-by nature; eva-certainly; uktam-is described; nanda-of Nanda Maharaja; vraja-jana-and the residents of Vrajabhumi; anandi-the delight; sat-with an eternal; cit-full of knowledge; ananda-and bliss; vigrahah-form; navanita-with butter; vilipta-annointed; angah-form; navanita-butter; naöah-the actor; anagha-O sinless one; iti-thus.

{ }That the original aspect of the Personality of Godhead is the humanlike form of Shri Krishna is confirmed in the following verse from the Shri-Krishnashöottara-shata-nama-stotra in the Brahmanda Purana:

"The Supreme Personality of Godhead is the delight of Nanda Maharaja and the residents of Vrajabhumi. The Supreme Person's form is eternal, full of knowledge and bliss. He is the tiny child whose limbs are smeared with butter, and who jubilantly dances to earn some butter as a reward."

Text 23

shri-gopala-purva-tapanyam api tathaiva nityo nityanam cetanas cetananam eko bahunam yo vidadhati kaman tam piöhagam ye 'nuyajanti vipras tesham siddhih shashvati netaresham

shri-gopala-purva-tapanyam-in the Gopala-tapani Upanishad (1.28); api-also; tatha-in the same way; eva-certainly; nityah-eternal; nityanam-among the eternal; cetanah-living entity; cetananam-among living entities; ekah-one; bahunam-among the many; yah-who; vidadhati-grants; kaman-desires; tam-unto Him; piöha-gam-situated in His own abode; ye-those who; anuyajanti-worship; viprah-devotees; tesham-of them; siddhih-perfection; shashvati-eternal; na itaresham-of others.

{ }This is also descibed in the Gopala-tapani Upanishad (1.21):

"The brahmanas who worship, as He stands on His altar, the one who is greatest among the eternal and greatest among conscious persons, and who fulfills the desires of the many, they, and not others, attain eternal perfection."

Text 24

tam ekam govindam sac-cid-ananda-vigraham ity adi ca.

tam-Him; ekam-one; govindam-Lord Govinda; sat-eternal; cit-full of knowledge; ananda-and bliss; vigraham-form; iti-thus; adi-beginning; ca-also.

{ }Shri Krishna is also described in the following verse (Gopala-tapani Upanishad 1.38):

"The Supreme Personality of Godhead is Govinda. His form is eternal and full of knowledge and bliss."

Text 25

tasmac caturbhujatve ca dvibhujatve ca shri-krishnasyavyabhicaritvam eveti siddham.

tasmat-from this evidence; caturbhujatve-as fourhanded; ca-and; dvibhujatve-as two-handed; ca-also; shri-krishnasya-of Shri Krishna; avyabharitvam-eternality; eva-certainly; iti-thus; siddham-conclusively demonstrated.

{ }In this way it is proved that Shri Krishna's two-armed and four-armed forms are both eternal.

Text 26

atha katamat tat padam yatra-sau viharati tatrocya ya yatha bhuvi vartante purya bhagavatah priyah tas tatha santi vaikunöhe tat-tal-lilartham adritah iti skanda-vacananusarena vaikunöhe yad-yat-sthanam vartate, tat-tad eveti mantavyam.

atha-now; katamat-which; tat-that; padam-abode; yatra-where; asau-Lord Krishna; viharati-performs pastimes; tatra-there; ucyate-is described; yah-which; yatha-just as; bhuvi-on the earth; vartante-are; puryah-towns and cities; bhagavatah-to the Supreme Personality of Godhead; priyah-dear; tah-they; tatha-in the same way; santi-always exist; vaikunöhe-in the spiritual world; tat-tat-various; lila-pastimes; artham-for the purpose; adritah-taken notice of; iti-thus; skanda-of the Skanda Purana; vacana-the statement; anusarena-with regard to; vaikunöha-in the spiritual world; yat-yat-whatever; sthanam-place; vartate-exists; tat-tat-they; eva-certainly; iti-thus; mantavyam-should be considered.

{ }Someone may ask about the nature of the places where Shri Krishna performed His pastimes. We answer by saying that the places on this earth where Lord Krishna enjoyed pastimes are replicas of the same places in the spiritual world. This is confirmed in the following verse from the Skanda Purana:

"The towns and cities on this earth which were dear to Lord Krishna, and where He stayed and enjoyed pastimes, eternally exist in the spiritual world. In those places in the spiritual world, Lord Krishna eternally enjoys pastimes."

Text 27

tac cakhila-vaikunöhoparibhaga eva. yatah padmottara-khande dashavatara-ganane shri-krishnam eva navamatvena varnayitva kramena purvadeshu tad-dashavatara-sthananam paramavyomadhipa-maha-vaikunöhasyavaranatvena gananya shri-krishnalokasya bhrama-dishi prapte sarvoparishöhayitvam eva paryavasayitam. agamadau hi dik-kramas tathaiva drishyate. atrasmabhis tu tat-tac-chravanat.

tat-that; ca-also; akhila-all; vaikunöha-spiritual planets; upari-bhagah-above; eva-certainly; yatah-because; padma-in the Padma Purana; utara-khande-in the Uttara-khanda; dasha-avatara-of the ten incarnations of Godhead; ganane-in the enumeration; shri-krishnam-Shri Krishna; eva-certainly; navamatvena-as the ninth; varnayitva-having described; kramena-one after another; purva-adishu-in the previous; tat-His; dasha-ten; avatara-of the incarnations; sthananam-of the abodes; paravyoma-adhipa-of the master of Vaikunöha; maha-vaikunöhasya-of the spiritual world; avaranatvena-as concealing; gananya-by the description; shri-krishna-lokasya-of the planet of Shri Krishna; brahma-dishi prapte-in the spiritual world; sarva-upayi-shöhayitvam-superior position; eva-certainly; paryavasayitam-concluded; agama-in the Agama-sastra; adau-in the beginning; hi-certainly; dik-kramah-geographical position; tatha-in that way; eva-certainly; drishyate-is seen; atra-here; asmabhih-by us; tu-certainly; tat-tat-sravanat-from the smriti-shastras.

{ }The planet of Shri Krishna (Krishnaloka) is situated in the highest part of the spiritual world. This is described in the Uttara-khanda of the Padma Purana, where Lord Krishna is described as the ninth of the ten incarnations of Godhead. In this description the incarnations, the planet of Shri Krishna is described as situated in a separate place, beyond the view of the rest of the spiritual world. From this we may understand that Krishnaloka is in the highest part of the spiritual world. This description of the smriti-shastra is confirmed by similar descriptions in the Agama-shastras.

Text 28

shri-krishnalokasya svatantreva sthitih. kintu paramavyoma-paksha-patitvenaiva padmottara-khandena tad-avaraneshu praveshto 'sav iti mantavyam. padmottara-khanda-pratipadyasya gaunatvam tu shri-bhagavata-pratipadyapekshaya varnitam eva. svayambhuvagame ca svatantratayaiva sarvopari tat sthanam uktam. yatha ishvara-gauri-samvade caturdashakshara-dhyana-prasange pancashititame patale shri-krishnalokasya-of Krishnaloka; svatantra-independent; iva-as if; sthitih-situation; kintu-but; paramavyoma-paksha-patitvena-as partial; padma-uttara-khandena-by the Uttara-khanda of the Padma Purana; tat-avaraneshu-in that concealment; praveshtah-entered; asau-Krishnaloka; iti-thus; mantavyam-is considered; padma-uttara-khanda-of the Uttara-khanda of the Padma-Purana; pratipadyasya-of the conclusion; gaunatvam-secondary; tu-but; shri-bhagavata-of Shrimad-Bhagavatam; pratipadya-to the conclusion; apekshaya-with reference; varnitam-described; eva-certainly; svayambhuva-agame-in the Svayambhuva-agama; ca-also; svatantrataya-with independence; eva-certainly; sarva-upari-in the topmost position; tat-that; sthanam-place; uktam-is described; yatha-just as; ishvara-of Lord Shiva; gauri-and Parvati; samvade-in the conversation; caturdasha-akshara-in the fourteen syllable mantra; dhyana-meditation; prasange-in relation to; pancashititame-patale-in the Pancasititama-patala.

{ }We may note that the Uttara-khanda of the Padma Purana states that Krishnaloka as situated in a separate place beyond the vision of the rest of the spiritual world, but not specifically in the highest part of the spiritual world. Actually, this description in the Padma Purana presents the view of those who consider Lord Narayana the ultimate aspect of the Godhead, and His abode, Vaikunöhaloka, to be the topmost place in the spiritual world.

The Padma Purana is not the most conclusive source of evidence. The ultimate scripture, Shrimad-Bhagavatam, on the other hand, presents the conclusion that Shri Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead, the origin of Lord Narayana. From this description in Shrimad-Bhagavatam (which presents the most authoritative conclusions, in comparison to the Padma Purana, whose conclusions are less authoritative) we may understand that because Shri Krishna is the Original Personality of Godhead, His abode in the spiritual world must be situated in the highest part of the spiritual world. This is confirmed in the following verses of the Pancashititama-patala in the Svayambhuva-agama, where Lord Shiva says to Gauri (in the course of describing meditation on the fourteen-syllable Krishna-mantra):

Text 29

dhyayet tatra vishuddhatma idam sarvam kramena tu nana-kalpa-lata-kirnam vaikunöham vyapakam smaret dhyayate-should meditate; tatra-there; vishuddha-pure; atma-soul; idam-this; sarvam-everything; kramena-gradually; tu-also; nana-various; kalpa-desire-fulfilling; lata-with creepers; kirnam-filled; vaikunöham-the spiritual world known as Vaikunöha; vyapakam-unlimitedly expanded; smaret-should remember.

{ }"A pure soul should meditate on the unlimitedly expanded spiritual world known as Vaikunöha, which is full of transcendental vines that fulfill all the desires of the devotees.

Text 30

adhah samyam gunanam ca prakritim sarva-karanam prakriteh karanany eva gunams ca kramashah prithak adhah-below; samyam-in equality; gunanam-of the modes of material nature; ca-also; prakritim-the material energy; sarva-of everything material; karanam-the original cause; prakriteh-of the material nature; karanani-causes; eva-certainly; gunan-the modes of nature; ca-also; kramashah-one after another; prithak-variously.

{ }"Below this spiritual world is the original feature of material energy, which is the origina of everything material, and where the three modes of nature remain equipoised and suspended. Below this original matter are the three modes of nature (goodness, passion, and ignorance), which become the causes of variety in the material sphere.

Text 31

tatash ca brahmano lokam brahma-cihnam smaret sudhih urdhve tu simni virajam nihsimam vara-varnini

tatah-from that; ca-also; brahmanah-of Lord Brahma; lokam-the planet; brahma-cihnam-the marks of spirituality; smaret-should remember; sudhih-an intelligent person; urdhve-above; tu-also; simni-on the border of the spiritual and material worlds; virajam-the Viraja river; nihsimam-unlimited; vara-varnini-O fair-complexioned Parvati.

{ }Below this original feature of the three modes of nature is the planet of Lord Brahma, which is full of all symptoms of spiritual awareness. O fair-complexioned Parvati, an intelligent person should meditate on this planet, and also on the unlimited Viraja river, which forms the boundary of the spiritual and material worlds.

Text 32

vedanga-sveda-janitatoyaih prasravitam shubham imash ca devata dhyeya virajayam yatha-kramam

veda-of the personified Veda; anga-from the limbs; sveda-from the perspiration; janita-produced; toyaih-with water; prasravitam-flowing; shubham-auspicious; imah-she; ca-and; devata-demigoddess; dhyeya-should be meditated upon; virajayam-in the Viraja river; yatha-kramam-one after another.

{ }"One should meditate on goddess Viraja, the controlling deity of the Viraja river, which is produced from the perspiration of the Personified Vedas.

Text 33

ity ady-anantaram

tato nirvana-padavim muninam urdhva-retasam smaret tu parama-vyoma yatra devah sanatanah

iti-thus; adi-in the passage beginning; anantaram-in the following passage; tatah-from this; nirvana-of liberation; padavim-the position; muninam-of the sages; urdhva-retasam-whose semina moves upwards (to the brain); smaret-may remember; tu-also; parama-vyoma-the spiritual sky; yatra-where; devah-the demigods; sanatanah-are eternal.

{ }Lord Shiva continued: "Beyond this is the liberation attained by the great sages who strictly follow the rules of celibacy, and beyond that is the spiritual world, where all the residents are eternal. An intelligent person should meditate on all these different stages of existence."

Text 34

tato 'niruddha-lokam ca pradyumnasya yatha kramam sankarshanasya ca tatha vasudevasya ca smaret

tatah-from this; aniruddha-of Lord Aniruddha; lokam-the planet; ca-and; pradyumnasya-of Pradyumna; yatha kramam-one after another; sankarsanasya-of Sankarsana; ca-also; tatha-in the same way; vasudevasya-of Lord Vasudeva; ca-and; smaret-should meditate.

{ }"Within the spiritual world is situated the planet of Lord Aniruddha, and above that is the planet of Lord Pradyumna. Above Lord Pradyumna's planet is the planet of Lord Sankarshana, and above that is the planet of Lord Vasudeva. One should meditate on the spiritual world in this way."

Text 35

lokadhipan smaret ity ady-anantaram ca loka-of the planets; adhipan-the dieties; smaret-one should meditate; iti-thus; adi-the passage beginning; anantaram-the passage following; ca-also.

{ }After the passage beginning "lokadhipan smaret", a description of the highest part of the spiritual world is spoken by Lord Shiva in the following words:

Text 36

piyusha-latika-kirnam
nana-sattva-nishevitam sarvartu-sukhadam svaccham sarva-jantu-sukhavaham

piyusha-of nectar; latika-with creepers; kirnam-filled; nana-sattva-with various transcendental qualities; sevitam-decorated; sarva-all; rtu-seasons; sukhadam-bringing happiness; svaccham-pure; sarva-all; jantu-living entities; sukha-avaham-full of happiness.

{ }"A wise man should meditate on the Kalindi river, which is filled with nectar vines, served by many virtues, blissful in every season, splendid, delightful to everyone, . . .

Text 37

nilotpala-dala-shyamam vayuna calitam mridu vrindavana-paragais tu vasitam krishna-vallabham nila-utpala-of blue lotus; dala-petals; shyamam-dark; vayuna-by the breeze; calitam-moved; mridu-gently; vrindavana-of Vrindavana; paragaih-by the pollen of flowers; tu-also; vasitam-fragrant; krishna-to Lord Krishna; vallabham-dear.

{ } . . . dark with blue lotus petals, filled with gentle breezes, fragrant with the pollen of Vrindavana's flowers, dear to Lord Krishna, . . .

Text 38

simni kunja-latam yoshitkrida-mannapa-madhyagam kalindim samsmared dhimah suvarna-lata-pankajam

simni-on the shore; kunja-groves; latam-and creepers; yoshit-for the young girls of Vrindavana; krida-for pastimes; mandapa-pavillions; madhyagam-in the midst; kalindim-the daughter of Mount Kalinda; samsmaret-one should meditate; dhiman-an intelligent person; suvarna-with golden; tata-shore; pankajam-and lotus flowers.

{ }. . . surrounded by groves of vines and pavilions where gopis enjoy pastimes, and filled with golden lotus vines.

Text 39

